

Canal Proponents Still Hopeful Of Obtaining Funds

Bloc Wants $700,000 Relief Money earmarked For Ditch

WASHINGTON, Apr. 22.—Members to force congressional approval of the Passamaquoddy Dam and Florida ship canal projects, through changes in the $1,500,000,000 work-relief program, are underway.

Sponsors of the two projects—already turned down by Congress this session—considered union with the House bloc seeking earmarking of $700,000,000 in the relief measure for non-federal construction purposes.

No definite decision as yet has been made, but a coalition of this type, it was admitted by leaders, would forge a powerful weapon toward amending the Administration measure.

Rep. Simeon Hamlin, Maine Democrat, said he planned to confer with Rep. Alfred F. Bester, New York Democrat, leader of the PWA bloc. Meanwhile, the Maine congressional delegation called another conference to decide on strategy.

The Administration through the President, as well as Works Progress Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, has announced it would not use any of the requested relief funds for the two big projects, in view of congressional action disappointing them.

The breakdown of the $1,500,000,000 work-relief fund planned expenditures as submitted to the House appropriations committee failed to provide funds for either project.

Rep. Robert Green, Florida Democrat, who has been instrumental in obtaining signatures to the Better bloc "earmarking" petition, said he personally disapproved reducing the $1,500,000,000 fund to provide for the ship canal project.

"I am not trying to do that," he said, "but I favor an additional appropriation of $700,000,000 for public works."

Green said he was "still hopeful" that Congress would approve $12,000,000 for the canal. Maine representatives likewise asserted they did not believe the Passamaquoddy tidal project is dead.

Canal Completion Urged
KISSIMEE, Apr. 22.—(AP)—Early completion of the Florida ship canal was urged in a resolution adopted today by the Osceola county board of commissioners. Adoption followed a lengthy discussion of the advantages to Central Florida from a system of internal waterways to connect with the canal.

The board said its action was predicated upon reports of Army engineers and geologists assuring President Roosevelt the waterway would not affect the fresh water supply of the state.

To Cruise Around Cape Horn In Outboard Motorboat

Having completed a run of nearly seven hundred miles around the Gulf Coast of Florida, the "Eltorod" Crystal River, Florida, eighteen foot outboard powered adventure boat which recently cleared the Port of Pensacola, is berthed at Mobile, from whence to cruise down the eastern shorelines of the Southern States, in an attempt to make the first board passage around Cape Horn.

The "Eltorod" is driven by Commodore Karl Acton and wife, of Chicago and Crystal River. During their two-year voyage these adventurers propose to sleep either aboard their tarpaulin-covered craft or under a tent ashore, one condition of their undertaking, being that they are not to sleep in any sort of dwelling while cruising. Cooking is done on a gasoline stove which also provides warmth in chilly weather for this small floating "home."

At Pensacola the "Eltorod" was equipped with more powerful motors, two Lightfour engines of Hooded Power design being substituted for the two Lightwings which had heretofore been driven, this for the purpose of providing more reserve power with which to run the hazardous waters of the Caribbean Sea.

The Actons are making motion pictures as they voyage, a Pictorial Log, which will record twenty thousand miles of coastal outboard cruising. Commodore Acton states that this motion picture has already incorporated many interesting Florida coastal scenes, including wild game in natural surroundings. These scenes are detailed in a series of stories under the title, "Kicking Around the Horn," which are being written for a magazine of national circulation.

Flood Control Bill Passed By Senate

WASHINGTON, Apr. 22.—(AP)—Without an opposition vote, the Senate yesterday passed the $272,000,000 Overton bill for flood control on the lower Mississippi River and sent it to the House.

The bill was passed for passage when Senator Vandenberg withdrew his opposition to consideration of the measure ahead of a national survey of flood control needs he said had been suggested by President Roosevelt.

Vandenberg had warned against "pork barre" flood control appropriations.

MRS. M* knows Electric Cookery and Water Heating are cheap and TIME SAVING!

*MRS. M. is the Modern Housewife

Mrs. E. S. Rockey of Sanford is a Modern Housewife. She says:

"I am using an electric range, water heater, refrigerator and several other small appliances in my home, and my average monthly electric bill is only $11.50. I am well pleased with this service."

(Signed) Mrs. E. S. Rockey

What wouldn't you give for a few added hours of leisure every day? Mrs. M. is enjoying them now and she is saving money, too. She has found that electric cooking and water heating are cheap.

Electric cooking will save on your food bill by preventing excessive meat shrinkage. The nourishing properties of your vegetables will be preserved in instead of being boiled out. You will have fewer cooking failures, too.... electric cookery is certain. And it cuts costs, too, because the clean heat is concentrated on the food and not wasted heating up the kitchen.

Automatic electric cooking and water heating give Mrs. M. her added hours of leisure. She merely sets the timer and her time is her own until dinner.

The cost of operating an electric range and water heater on the Tappan-Turner rate is well within your budget. See us or your favorite dealer and plan your modern kitchen today.

Our Country, Unprotected?

Thousands of college students from all over the country to the other left their classrooms yesterday to participate in a nation-wide strike against war. "We will not fight," is the substance of their protest, "no matter what happens. We believe in peace at any price and we intend to remain at peace with the world. We are against preparedness and the spending of huge sums of money for armaments which will only serve to get us into another war. If Uncle Sam gets into trouble with a foreign power, he needn't come around trying to draft us because we won't fight."

One can sympathize with the natural antipathy which young men have toward the prospect of being drafted for service in the Army. It is not pleasant to contemplate the necessity of leaving comfortable college dormitories for the pup tents of the field, or abandoning the pursuits of arts and letters for the more sordid task of logistical support, or sacrificing the security of the class room for the hazardous ordeals of the battlefield. And of course, it is primarily the men of college age who will be called upon to go to war if there is a war.

The question naturally arises, however, whether the method which these college students are pursuing is the one most likely to keep us out of war. It must be remembered that their attitude does not find similar expression in certain other countries of the world. You find no demonstrations against wars among the students of Japan, Germany, Russia or Italy. The impression which one gets from those countries is that they are looking for a fight. Certainly the utterances of their political leaders, and the activities of their military men, would lead one to believe that they want war.

Now if you were in a rough and tumble mining camp where the usual number of bullets made life miserable for the weaker members of society, would it make you lot any the easier if you should announce to all of them that no matter what they did you would not resent it, you would not fight? Or would it be better if you served notice on them, as quietly and as decently as you could, that the first man who stepped on your toes would be carried out of town on a stretcher, and then maintained the necessary physical condition, or armament, to carry out your ultimatum?

We may be wrong, but we rather imagine that a man who was known as ready to fight, and yet who didn't go out of his way to pick a fight, would have less trouble under such circumstances, than one whom everyone could pick on with impunity. And we believe that a nation which keeps its armaments ready and its powder dry, and has for its motto, "Don't Tread On Me," and which serves notice to the world that it will fight if necessary, while minding its own business at home, is not likely to be disturbed by foreign enemies.

The trouble with these student strikes against war is that they give the wrong impression to certain greedy foreigners. They get the impression that our young men mean it, that they really won't fight, no matter to what extent they are insulted, or imposed upon. That encourages these foreigners to take chances with us, to kick us gently in the pants occasionally, just for the fun of it, believing that we will not resent it. Of course, they are wrong. American men, college men included, will fight as quickly as anyone if the occasion arises.

Maryland Index To Strength Florida Exhibit At Great Lakes

By MARK SULLIVAN
WASHINGTON, Apr. 23.—In Maryland, the Democratic party managers are so busy preparing for the primary election that they have not had time to register any of the anti-Roosevelt votes which are being cast in the state.

It was to effect the anti-Roosevelt feeling among Maryland Democrats that Mr. Roosevelt delivered in that state last Monday, the first of a series of speeches which are being given in the nation leading up to the November election. Some observers of Mr. Roosevelt's demonstration in Baltimore felt that it was not to the audience as effective as Mr. Roosevelt's speeches usually are. One observer thought it apparent that Mr. Roosevelt had to be exceptionally histrionic at points in his speech where he expected applause. The speech, however, was not expected. On the day following the address, the Democratic "Ballgame" was printed a symposium of comments by party leaders who had been present. Many of these expressed disappointment. Some stated they were disappointed because Mr. Roosevelt, speaking in ex-Governor Ritchie's state, had made no allusion to the recently dead leader. So far as there is any substance in the judgment that Mr. Roosevelt's Maryland speech was disappointing to the audience present, it may be due to the fact that the speech was aimed not to the audience before his eyes but rather to the radio listeners. It was not primarily a political speech in the ordinary sense—though a most effective one in a larger sense. It was a speech in which he made an appeal to youth.

To a special degree Maryland is a state in which it is necessary for Mr. Roosevelt to have strong support. It has an exceptionally intelligent electorate and a strikingly independent one. More than any other state, Maryland distinguishes between local issues and national ones. In local issues, elections for governor and the like, it commonly goes Democratic in national elections, however, it rather frequently goes Republican. And Maryland chooses

Florida Exhibit Will Be Better Than Show In New York In Home Respects

DELAND, Apr. 23.—In many respects the Florida exhibit at the Great Lakes Exposition in Cleveland this summer will surpass the material shown at the World's Fair in 1923 and Chicago World's Fair in 1923 and 1924 in its scope. The exhibit, according to a statement made by Earl W. Brown, state director of agriculture, will have charge of the agricultural and horticultural displays. Lawrence A. Wilson, and Edward Bell, respectively president and vice president of Florida National Exhibits, Inc., and other leaders in the business, industrial and professional life of the state, Mr. Brown will manage the Cleveland exhibit as he did the exhibits made at Chicago and New York.

The management of the Cleveland exposition guarantees an attendance of 4,000,000 during the 180 days of the show, with a potential attendance of 8,000,000. In addition to the millions who will visit the exposition and be given a visualization of Florida's attractions and wonders, other millions will be made aware of them through newspapers and magazines, by news reels in theaters and over the air. An exhibit opens up possibilities for publicity not otherwise attainable, as witness the vast amounts of publicity of all kinds given the Florida exhibits at New York and Chicago, as shown by our clipping file.

"We have found the executives of the Great Lakes Exposition ready to co-operate with us in every way calculated to make the Florida participation a signal success. We have found the newspapers of Cleveland not only willing but anxious to give space to stories covering various features and phases of the Florida show, which (1) four big radio broadcasting stations of the city have given assurance of giving Florida talent much time on the air. The show is ideal and my associates and myself as well as others with whom we have conferred are agreed that an exhibit at the Great Lakes Exposition this summer will be of inestimable value to the state."

Health In The United States

When the influenza pandemic of 1918 swept the country, taking a death toll of 230 per 100,000 in New York City alone, it was regarded as a national calamity. And yet in Fortaleza, Brazil, a comparable death rate from this disease is experienced year after year, the influenza mortality during the period 1928-31 ranging from 216 to 260 per hundred thousand, according to experts of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

The fortunate health situation of the United States as compared with many other countries has been highlighted by a study along these lines made by health statisticians, who attribute it almost entirely to the efforts of this country's medical and public health services. The statisticians found that death rates for many diseases are reported year after year from many sections of the world, which if they prevailed in this country, would be considered major epidemics.

For instance, Americans have only a medical or historical interest in cholera and plague, but in the British provinces of India, these diseases are still major causes of death. In 1931, the statisticians report, British India reported more than 200,000 deaths from cholera and nearly 40,000 deaths from bubonic plague.

Only one death from smallpox was reported for 1933 in 18 states of the United States bordering the Atlantic Ocean. In British India, on the other hand, there were 108,641 smallpox deaths that year in a population only five times as great.

How would you like to knit on 420 needles?

Yes... 420 all at once! That's the way your stockings are knit on a whole row of 420 needles set up through in a needle-bed like the teeth on a comb. If you're wearing a 42-ounce stocking, there were 42 needles to every 1 1/2 inches of stocking width. That would make 420 needles to knit the regulation width of stocking.

But also it is easy to set off a few needles at each end of the needle-bed. This gives hand and money for the manufacturer. But it also makes the stocking shirter. You don't actually set the shirter in the same groove after the 42-ounce the stocking was knit. It's a little bit wider. So you get a little bit of extra width.

2 Trapped Men Released From Wrecked Mine

Robertson, wealthy co-owner of the mine, was carried out of the rescue shaft at 12:44 A. M. Atlantic standard time.

He tried to smile and wanted to stand, but the effort was too much for him. He had to lie down on a stretcher. Mrs. Robertson rushed to him crying for joy.

Scadding, who apparently was in the worst physical shape of the two, was brought up at 12:54. He also was placed on a stretcher.

Magill's body will be taken to Halifax where an inquest will be held.

"Thank you boys," was all Dr. Robertson said as he was placed on the stretcher and carried to the ambulance to be taken to the hospital.

Robertson and Scadding were taken out by the rescue workers from the Stellarton mine, who have been taking an active part in the heroic digging.

Robertson's arm was in a sling. Scadding's feet were infected. Both men were weak from hunger and ill from exposure. Both had heavy beards. Their clothes were torn, wet and filthy.

The dragsmen, or tunnelers, broke through the last barrier to the chamber where Robertson and Scadding were crouching, at 12:27 A. M. Atlantic time. The men were on a ledge.

MIND AND SKIN
Does not ordinary think the mental and emotional play any significant part in the production of skin disease, and yet Dr. Stokes, of the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine, has clearly demon-

In fact, there is a special group of skin affections called the neurodermatoses, in which the so-called nervous element predominates.
The technique Dr. Stokes employs for bringing the underlying trouble to light and for its relief should be as applicable and as effective in other cases as it has been in treating the neurodermatoses.

The patient amenable to such handling is not disoriented or frankly insane. The personality dealt with is, though handicapped, still able to carry on the individual process as best he can and does not need treatment in a hospital or institution.

Upon examination the patient frequently is found to be suffering from the common manifestations of personal life due to the stress of the domestic and social responsibilities.
Among these that underlie the personality type is a neurotic character factor in the individual's character.

Petteway Agrees To Keep Faith If Trusted To Him

Only One Promise Is Made By Candidate In Sanford Address

Expressing the opinion that people are "fed up" on promises, Judge Raleigh Petteway, of Tampa, candidate for governor, addressing an audience in Sanford last night made only one promise—to keep the faith of the people in him if they elect him to the office. He made the assertion at the outset of his address, and repeated it at the close, with the further request that his hearers make a written note of the promise.

Judge Petteway said that he has good government if it is administered by good men, bad government if administered by bad men, and quoted Grover Cleveland's statement that a public office is a public trust. If elected, he said, he would treat government of the state as a public trust and would see to it that all officers are trustees, giving a fair, impartial, honest and fearless enforcement of the law.

No candidate can promise to cut expenses by any stated figure, he declared, until after inspection into offices and by investigation can find where savings to the taxpayers can be made, but as indicative of what can be expected of him if he is elected, Judge Petteway called attention to the fact that he had voluntarily reduced his salary as judge in Hillsboro county in order to help balance the budget. "I claim the right to be believed," he said, "when I say that I will lead the way in real economy in the government of our state in all its departments over which the governor has any control."

In his brief address Judge Petteway pointed to his 17 years of law enforcement in his home county, and declared that as governor he would "insist on fair, honest and fearless law enforcement." He declared for full-term schools, old age security and making home exemption "real" for all home owners, including widows and others who cannot qualify as heads of a family under existing laws.

The point the speaker stressed, however, was faith, and quoted from his pamphlet, copies of which were distributed among the crowd: "I am convinced that the people of Florida this year are not interested so much in promises as they are in a man they can trust. I do not want to make a lot of promises to do a lot of things that cannot be done just to fool the people into voting for me. One thing I do promise is that the people can trust me to keep faith with them."

MEXICO CITY, Apr. 24.—(Copyright by Associated Press)—Travelers arriving by air from Nicaragua reported today a bloody revolt has broken out in the Central American republic of Honduras with the rebels moving toward Tegucigalpa, capital of President Tiburcio Carías' government.

Senora Anita Lagos de Lopez Gutierrez, widow of a one-time president of Honduras, General Rafael Lopez Gutierrez, who lives here, said she received information indicating the insurgents were successful in their first engagement.

Travelers arriving by plane said no word of the revolt had come out of the country because of strict censorship.

Riots in India

BOMBAY, Apr. 24.—(AP)—Telephone messages from Poona today said troops have been called out following communal rioting between Hindus and Muslims in which 85 persons were reported injured. Reports stated that attempts were made to burn temples and mosques.

Telephone advices were that riots occurred both in the morning and afternoon, and that 200 soldiers armed with machine guns had been posted on a bridge in the center of the city. Soldiers and police were ordered to guard the famous Khatap mosque.

The trouble started in a dispute over music being played in front of a Hindu temple. A crowd estimated at 6000 and composed of both Hindus and Mohammedans gathered and rioting soon began.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 24.—(AP)—Representative Everett M. Dirksen, Illinois, declared war today on the capital's marble generals and bronze admirals. His aim was to make the statues retreat from the city parks to the suburbs and convert the space into automobile parking lots. He believes this would relieve congestion and reduce traffic deaths.

Dirksen, representing Abraham Lincoln's congressional district, claims Lincoln would have approved his plan. "Abe always was an advocate of hitching posts."

Merchants To Get Refund Of Over A Quarter Million

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 24.—Checks totaling more than a quarter of a million dollars will be mailed tomorrow to retailers throughout the state as refunds of their percentage taxes paid prior to Feb. 25. State Comptroller J. M. Lee announced. His forces will be working three shifts to complete auditing the accounts and mailing the checks following yesterday's order of the Supreme Court granting Comptroller Lee's plea for permission to refund these monies.

Percentage Taxes To Be Sent Back Under Supreme Court Rule

It is said to be the first time in the history of Florida taxation that the real taxpayer has received refunds without real top or waiting for the legislature to pass relief bills.

The Supreme Court yesterday granted Comptroller J. M. Lee's motion for authority to refund gross receipts taxes paid by Florida retailers under the chain store tax law prior to Feb. 25.

Preparation was started of 2,534 checks, which will return $278,000.00 but the courts debated constitutionality of the law. Several days will be required to get them into the mails. J. V. Keen, assistant to Attorney General Cary D. Landry, presented the comptroller's motion to the Supreme Court Wednesday and it was approved at the court's conference yesterday.

Feb. 25 was fixed as the effective date of the gross receipts tax of one-half percent, because of litigation which required judicial interpretation of which sections of the law would be constitutional and effective. The Supreme Court's decision was announced on that date.

Two Killed, One Hurt In Headon Collision

BRADENTON, Apr. 24.—(AP)—Two persons were killed and another seriously injured yesterday in a head-on automobile collision on the Tamiami Trail near here.

The occupants of one car—A. Bartell, about 60, of Manatee, and Mrs. Nemo Lee Griffin, about 60, of Sarasota—died instantly.

Henry Martin, manager of a Bradenton hotel, driver of the other car, was brought to a hospital here with a scalp wound, a broken shoulder and possible concussion.

Deputy Sheriff F. N. Theriot said Bartell apparently attempted to turn off the Tamiami Trail to a side road.

Justices of the Peace J. A. Chentham convened a coroner's jury, which recessed until Saturday afternoon viewing the bodies and the wreckage.

Italian Drive On Capital Is In Full Swing

Fascist Forces Near Addis Ababa, About 70 Miles Away Says Italian Commander

Ethiopians To Fight To Last

Selassie In Control Of Troops, Report Of Mutiny Denied

(By The Associated Press) The drive of the Italian army on the Ethiopian capital was reported to be in full swing today, but spokesmen for the East African government declared that Emperor Haile Selassie is still in control of his army and all of Ethiopia except those portions already taken by the Italians. This spokesman emphatically denied reports of mutiny in the native army.

Marshal Badoglio, head of the invading army, reported to Rome his troops had taken Uorra Iru, a town about 38 miles south of Dessye where the Italians now have their headquarters. These reports said the advance guard of the Italian army is now about 70 miles from Addis Ababa, the Ethiopian capital. Italian airplanes continued to bomb Ethiopian defense in Harar, the second largest city of the land.

The Ethiopian spokesman said his countrymen are prepared to fight to the last man and even if the capital fell to the invaders the Ethiopians would continue to fight.

The soldiers plan a democratic stand in the lowering panic to prevent the Fascists from taking the capital. (Dispatches to Italian newspapers said blackshirt aviators were bombing the Ethiopian capital to prevent them from destroying the Dessye-Addis Ababa road.)

The government's report on recent heavy fighting in southeastern Ogaden province claims a severe blow was dealt a new Italian thrust toward Harar.

The columns of Gen. Rodolfo Graziani, commander of the southern Italian forces, were said to be still more than 100 miles south of the important Jijiga-Harar caravan route, which is believed to be their next objective.

College Dean Sees Much For Florida In Next 20 Years

GAINESVILLE, Apr. 24.—In the opinion of Blake R. Van Liew, dean of the College of Engineering, University of Florida, the following will happen in Florida within 15 or 20 years:

The population will double. All public buildings will be air-conditioned.

The state will be mapped topographically. The highway system will be adequate.

Branches will be adequately protected. No more malaria or mosquitoes. A Cross-State Canal.

Grade schools will move up from thirty-ninth place. These things, says Dean Van Liew, are fated to take place.

Florida, he says, knows nothing as yet about population. The air conditioning of public buildings will mean that private buildings will come first to the required level.
