

TV viewer feels left out in cold

By TOM HORTON
Copley News Service

A nagging disturbance that something is terribly wrong with the sewing circle style of reporting local news on television has suddenly been crystallized and confirmed, alarming-ly by a prominent psychologist who recently conducted an exhaustive study on the psychological effects of today's free-form television news on the viewer.

Dr. P. Lucifer Diddlethacker, a noted expert on media influence over the masses, discussed his most recent findings in an article published in the Natamas Medical Journal.

"How Television's Chitchat News Is Giving Viewers Inferior Complexes."

Dr. Diddlethacker argues that today's ad-libbing newscasters are having such a ball joshing with each other on the air, the viewer subconsciously feels rejected. The result, he says, is often mass disillusionment, loss of self-importance and guilt.

"Today's viewer," explained Dr. Diddlethacker, "easily develops a growing sense of guilt because the men broadcasting the news are always chuckling among themselves and he, the lonely viewer, can never figure out what's so funny." Dr. Diddlethacker said this can cause the viewer to question his own sense of humor.

"It is not uncommon," the psychologist writes, "for today's viewer to watch the evening news and ask himself, 'How come they're laughing and I'm not?' He feels frustrated, even inferior, by his inability to get as big a kind of the news as the men reading it."

The respected psychologist revealed that he had his wife lock him in a room where he forced himself to watch 500 hours of local television news in the last year. This and extensive interviews with other viewers led him to believe that serious psychological damage is being done by the local "viewer" "infernal wisecracking" presentation of the news.

"More and more," writes Dr. Diddlethacker, "the viewer of television news has the feeling there's a nifty party going on and he hasn't been invited."

Dr. Diddlethacker said today's so-called "news teams" who gather around little tables and chitchat, leave the impression that their attention is directed toward each other and not the viewer. Dr. Diddlethacker provided the following comparison between the opening of a local television news show in 1965 and one from 1971 own fascinating chitchat. Naturally, this makes the viewer feel they've forgotten all about him."

Dr. Diddlethacker says he once watched a local television news show for 90 minutes and never once had a newscaster look him straight in the eye.

The psychologist said this trend toward a cozy round-table presentation of the day's news is based on the theory that the viewer will enjoy the news more if it is presented in a relaxed atmosphere. "The problem with this," Dr. Diddlethacker argues, "is that the viewer may become so relaxed during the opening and intervening periods of chitchat, he will be asleep by the time they get to the news."

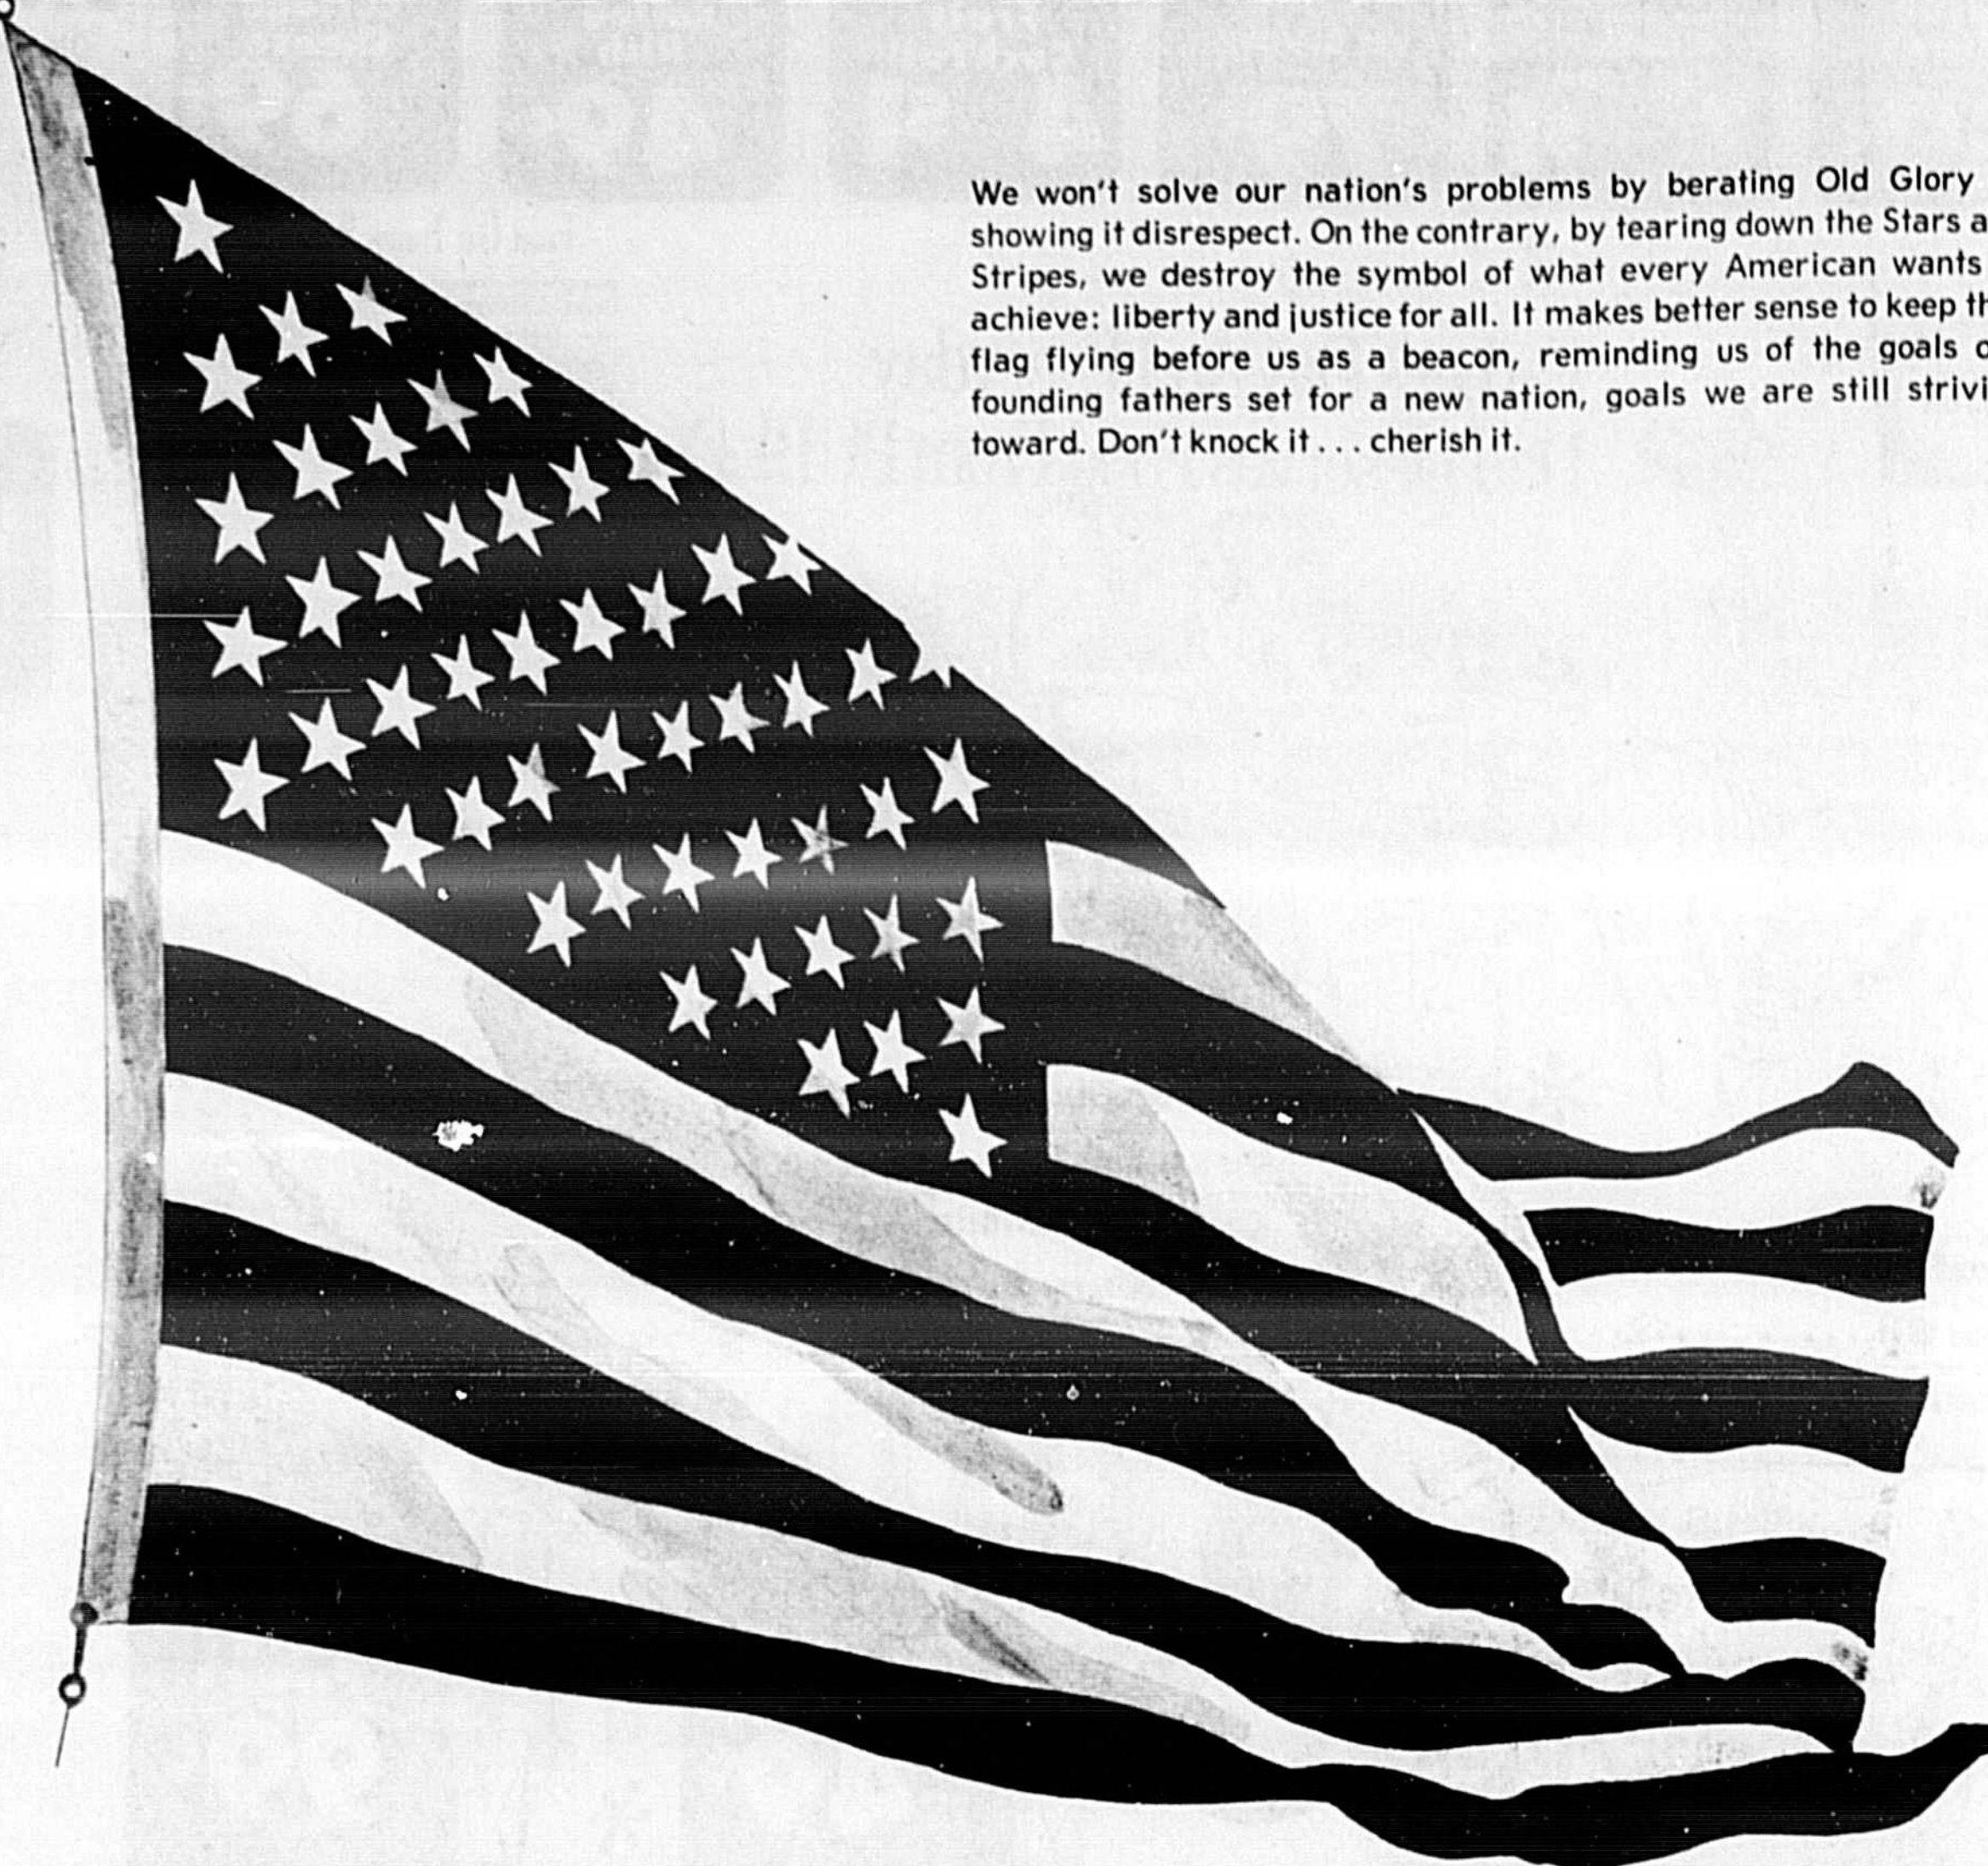

He further cites a growing problem of identification: some people can no longer identify between the evening news and the Dick Cavett show.

Almost as psychologically harmful to the viewer as the "Hi Tom, Dick and Harry syndrome," says Dr. Diddlethacker, is the "What-do-YOU-think-about-that-Gary?" — Gee-I-don't-know. "What-do-YOU-think-about-it-Bill?" syndrome.

Charges Dr. Diddlethacker: "Today's newscasters are forever asking each other what they think about something, but nobody ever asks the viewer what he thinks about anything." — at least not since they dropped Vote-A-Phone. Or, for that matter, nobody has ever asked the viewer if he cares what the men reading the news think about anything."

Dr. Diddlethacker said the viewer too often feels left out while newscasters engage in raging debates over the price of haircuts.

TRY A LITTLE TENDERNESS...

We won't solve our nation's problems by berating Old Glory or showing it disrespect. On the contrary, by tearing down the Stars and Stripes, we destroy the symbol of what every American wants to achieve: liberty and justice for all. It makes better sense to keep that flag flying before us as a beacon, reminding us of the goals our founding fathers set for a new nation, goals we are still striving toward. Don't knock it... cherish it.

Pact Sealed In Private Talks Allies To Study NATO Principles

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—France has agreed with the United States and their allies to undertake a study of a possible new declaration of principles for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, an informed source said today.

The study, urged by the Nixon administration, would be made by the permanent NATO council in Brussels.

The agreement was said to have been sealed in private talks between U.S. and French officials attending the semi-annual session of the 15 NATO foreign ministers ending today.

On Thursday, Foreign Minister Michel Jobert of France had questioned the value of any new statement of principles, U.S. officials had been seeking a final statement that would declare a need for what Henry A. Kissinger has called a "new Atlantic charter."

Informed sources said the last-minute U.S.-French agreement caused some surprise when it was brought into a drafting committee working on the final statement of the two-day meeting. All countries accepted the draft, the sources added.

Officials were also reported to have agreed that all 15 NATO nations will be represented July 3 at Helsinki for the first meeting of the conference on European security and cooperation. It will bring together ministers from 34 countries—East, West and neutral. Some of the NATO countries had hesitated because the Soviet Union has not yet been pinned down to a date for a conference on force reductions in Western Europe.

It was hoped that this will be settled during the visit to Washington next week by Washington's Foreign Minister Leonid I. Brezhnev. The West has been pressing for a

State Pays Lawyers For Convention Trips

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—The state Board of Architecture paid more than $3,500 in legal fees and travel expenses to send two attorneys to three national conventions in one year, Auditor General Ernest Ellison said today.

Ellison said the board paid $2,281 for travel expenses of the two to conventions July 13-18, 1971 in San Francisco, April 20-23, 1972 in Hilton Head, S. C., and June 27-July 2, 1972 at Seattle, Wash.

The board also paid legal fees to its Jacksonville attorney of $725 to go to Hilton Head and $600 for the Seattle convention.

Board President Harry Burns of Tallahassee said it was necessary to send the attorneys, James Rinaman of Jacksonville and Selig Golden of Gainesville, because the board has reciprocal agreements with other states to allow their architects to practice in Florida.

This requires all state to have uniform architecture licensing tests and "the only way we can keep current is to be very active in the national association," Burns said.

In the audit for July 1, 1971 to June 30, 1972, Ellison said also the board bought $3,816 worth of new furniture while it had $1,855 worth of furniture in a warehouse where it had been paying storage for nearly two years.

Burns said he was unaware this had been done but would look into it.

He also said he was unaware why the architecture board failed to include with the audit the usual detailed reply to Ellison's questions and also would look into that when Director Herbert Coons Jr. returned to govt.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A 90-year-old widow of a policeman, insists she's innocent of narcotics possession charges.

"I just don't want to die before I clear my name," says Mrs. Kelly of last weekend's bust that occurred as she walked to a playground to pick up a neighbor's child.

"The officer came up to me and told me to put up my hands. He had his gun out. I thought it was a joke and I laughed. But he searched me all over..."

He found $16 in my purse and he said I'd been selling two bags of dope. I said the six dollars were from my Social Security and the ten belonged to the lady that has the water ice stand."

Mrs. Kelly was arrested by Patrolman Herschel Vandiver after police said she dropped something and began to run.

Neighbors in the blue-collar neighborhood where Mrs. Kelly lives in a $72-a-month second floor flat are coming to her support.

"I'd trust Kelly with my life," says one young mother of seven. "She's everybody's mother and granny on the block."

Mrs. Kelly says she outlived her eight children and it glad she did—"that way they don't have to see the kind of world we're living in."

Mrs. Kelly says she does a lot of babysitting, and that many young people come to her apartment to watch television.

"You think these people are hardworking and honest. But maybe the police caught on to her two drugs on them. Maybe they thought I was giving them the stuff."

Heaven have mercy. I was a nurse for many years. I hate dope. I know what it does to people. I've been telling the kids on the block to stop buying poison."

On behalf of our Herald staffers who contributed to yesterday's front page dedication to Flag Day...we do thank you for your kind comments on same.

Proof positive that we do bring "good news."

Permit me to try an Archie Bunker puzler on you... "Where were all of those guys with a bunch of patriotic rah-rah's--how 'cum did you have Old Glory proudly waving in the pure American breeze yesterday?"

If you missed the special marking on your calendar, it was Flag Day yesterday! Now if you're all set to tell me "you forgot," let me remind you to dust off the flag and get it ready... cause we'll be doing it again on the Fourth of July... THAT'S ONLY 19 DAYS AWAY!

I'm ashamed to report that the "unholy trio"—Sanford Police Chief Ben Butler, City Manager Pete Knowles and yours truly took a half-hour drive through the thriving (but flagless) streets of Sanford... AND COUNTED ALL OF '72 FLAGS FLYING!

There are plenty of places locally which are selling flags. And I'll betcha there'll be more than a few flags flying (I hope) at the dedication of Altamonte Springs City Hall this Saturday at 11 a.m.

'Frozen' Food May Price Itself Off Grocer's Shelf

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The farmer's basic need to sell his product may keep unfrozen agricultural prices in line with frozen wholesale and retail prices, according to a number of food processors and wholesalers expressed the opinion that should the farmer attempt to sell his product for a price so high that they couldn't make a profit, the farmer might find himself without a buyer.

"We are going to take a long look at the situation, and if we can't make money on our products, then we are not going to produce," said Frank Montgomery, general manager of H.A. Johnson Co., a major Boston food processor.

"Last week we paid $10 a hundredweight for potatoes. This week we have to pay $13 and next week we will have to pay $15," said Bill Reust, vice president and division manager of Associated Grocers in Kansas City. "We can't pay more for them than we can sell them for. So it sounds like if this is going to be the way, then there just won't be any potatoes on the grocery shelves."

The Nixon administration has said that concurrent efforts to increase food supplies should tend to hold prices down and prevent higher prices for raw agricultural products. One method of fighting such a price rise announced by Nixon is a

ATLANTA (AP)—Economy in the Deep South is beginning to show signs of a slowdown, according to the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta.

However, the bank says in its latest report on the region's economy that the slowdown is only a "pause."

The bank's report covers the 6th District, made up of Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana.

The bank's economists said their conclusion is based partially on the following:

—Softness appearing in both residential and nonresidential construction during April. "The value of contract awards was at its lowest level in 10 months."

—The flow of deposits in institutions such as savings and loan associations also shows some weakness, but these institutions have not slowed mortgage lending.

—After more than 30 months of steady gains, nonfarm employment dipped slightly in April. All the states showed declines except Florida. The unemployment rate moved up to 12.7 per cent.

—Consumer installment credit at commercial banks slowed during April, while banks were making more use of borrowed funds to offset weak gains in customer deposits.

—Prices for farm products rose less rapidly during April but most crop prices increased through early May because of heavy rains and record floods in the Mississippi Valley.

Local Hold-Ups Appear Similar

Four armed men made a clean getaway after a bold daylight robbery at the Jiffy Food Store, SR 434 at E. Lake Brantley Road west of Longwood Thursday morning.

Detective Robert Kunkler said the four blacks apparently are the same ones who robbed a clerk at the MajikMarket on SR 419 on Oviedo Friday afternoon.

In both robberies, a clerk was assaulted by one of three men who entered the store. A customer entered the store Thursday while the robbery was in progress and was beaten and threatened with a knife held to his throat, according to Kunkler.

Store clerk, Karen King, 22, of Apopka, told Kunkler that while the men entered the store and went to different sections of the building. One man, with a gun in his hand, jumped over the counter, demanding the money and striking Miss King in the head and face.

The man, described as 24-26 years of age, approximately five feet, 11 inches, 200 pounds, was armed with a .32 or .38 caliber blue steel revolver. He ordered Miss King to get money from the safe, but she told the robber that she didn't have a key.

Miss King was made to lie face-down on the floor, and about that time J. R. Armentrout, 35, of Casselberry, walked into the store and one of the men walked up to him and placed a knife to his throat. According to Deputy P. J. Riggins, a struggle ensued before both Miss King and Armentrout were forced to lie face down on the floor while the three men left.

The men took the store's cash drawer containing almost $400 and also took $19, a watch and car keys from Armentrout. Both Miss King and Armentrout were threatened by the men, according to Riggins. The robber who jumped over the counter told Miss King, "Shut up or I'll kill you right here," while the man who put a knife to Armentrout's throat told him "I'll kill you. I'll kill you," during their struggle. The third man, 35, struggled with Armentrout.

Some children in the area of the store told authorities they saw three men run to a purple Pontiac GTX, driven by a fourth man. The car raced away east-bound on Old Palm Springs Road and then east on SR 434, witnesses told Riggins.

Lottery Trials Reset

Trials for three men arrested May 9 on lottery charges in a raid at Altamonte Springs have been rescheduled for the week of July 9 at Sanford.

Clayton Thomas, 58, Altamonte Springs; and Tammie Anderson, 53, and Willie Charles Campbell, 37, both of Apopka, are charged with aiding or assisting in a lottery, possessing lottery tickets and transmitting lottery tickets.

State and county agents raided a house near Club 406 after a two-month undercover investigation. Court records allege Thomas was the "banker" for the lottery operation and the other two men were "writers and pickup men."

Thomas has a record of Central Florida lottery arrests dating back to 1954 and three convictions with sentences totaling 29 months in jail, according to court records.

Other cases docketed for trial this week before Circuit Judge J. William Woodson but continued to the week of June 25 were:

—Dorothy Postell, 39, Midway, charged with aggravated assault and use of a firearm in commission of a felony in the April 17 wounding of Johnny Lee Cummings.

—Robert Lee Banks, 19, and Charles Maxwell Jr., 24, both of Oviedo, charged in the May 12 robbery of Alvin Rievel.

—Jerry Leslie Hauk, charged with breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony and grand larceny.

—J. E. Donovan, charged with aggravated assault.

By McIntire Head Red's Visit Protested

By GEORGE W. CORNELL AP Religion Writer NEW YORK (AP)—"Every American who loves his liberty and fears his God should now protest," says long-time radio preacher, the Rev. Carl McIntire. "It is our time to go into action. Do not be afraid of the Communists."

An organizer of a long line of varied opposition demonstrations, he issued his latest call in exhorting followers to challenge the June 18-26 visit to the United States of Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev. The Rev. Mr. McIntire, who for a quarter century has fought the major Christian denominations and their cooperative organizations and urged members to separate from them, will simultaneously be pressing that cause.

Tactics he recommended for opposing the Brezhnev visit include flying American flags up side down "wherever patriots have access to flagpoles," protest vigils in front of national shrines and post offices and the swearing of black prisoners stripes saying, "No slavemaster to the U.S."

The Rev. Mr. McIntire says it's incongruous for President Nixon to honor returned American prisoners of war and then a little later give "a 21-gun salute and red-carpet accolades" to the No. 1 Communist.

Count Not Filed Tenant Chief Charge Out

A disorderly conduct charge against the Rev. Goldie M. Eubanks, 60-year-old chairman of the Seminole Joint Tenants Council, was dismissed today by County Court Judge Wallace Hall.

The action came at arraignment when the state failed to file a formal charge in the case. Eubanks was arrested June 1 at the Sanford Housing Authority office by sheriff's detective Sgt. Oscar Rodden after an SBA employee complained Eubanks was causing a disturbance.

Tenants Hit Eubanks Oust

Angry recriminations and table banging characterized Thursday night's meeting of the Sanford Housing Authority, when members of the grievance committee of the joint tenants council protested eviction of the Rev. Goldie Eubanks from his apartment by June 30.

Eubanks was arrested June 1 on charges of interfering with a sheriff's investigation when he refused to answer questions.

Slippery situation over who scrubs dad's back

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are in disagreement about something. He wants my two well-developed teen-age daughters (his stepdaughters) to come into the bathroom and wash his back while he is in the tub. I would be happy to wash his back, but Dad prefers that they do it. They reluctantly, have done so in the past but I have told them that they don't have to do it anymore. This has caused ill-feelings on my husband's part. He thinks that because he has provided them with a lovely home they should show their appreciation by washing his back when he requests it.

Your answer will decide. AGAINST IT DEAR AGAINST: I'm afraid it, too. The girls can show their appreciation to Dad on Father's Day, by providing him with a lovely long-handled brush with which to wash his own back.

DEAR ABBY: After my mother died 15 years ago, my oldest sister got all the family pictures. Among them was my mother's wedding picture which was in a beautiful antique frame. I always loved that picture.

Six months ago my sister died and left everything to her daughter. I asked that daughter for my mother's wedding picture and she refused to give it to me. This girl hardly KNEW my mother. I think she just wanted to keep it because of the frame.

She offered to have a duplicate made for me, but I want the original. Who do you think the picture rightfully belongs to? And how should I get it?

DEAR ABBY: Since the daughter inherited all of her mother's possessions, and the picture was among them, it belongs to her. Quit fighting, and ask that the duplicate be made by an expert. It could be very bit as good (or better) than the original.

DEAR ABBY: I am getting married soon and everything is going smoothly except for one thing. My grandmother is going to wear a white dress. From what I understand from knowledgeable friends, it is an unwritten rule of etiquette that only the bride may wear white. Have you ever heard of this rule? And where did it come from?

My grandmother is getting on in years and I don't want to upset her or hurt her feelings, so how do you suggest I approach her — if at all?

DEAR ABBY: That rule originated years ago to discourage anyone who might try to upstage the bride. It's quite old. But it's not likely that your grandmother has that in mind, so simmer down and don't mention it.

DEAR ABBY: I sent 22 "R. S. V. P." invitations and received only 6 responses!

Obviously a hostess has to know how many guests to prepare for. After waiting two weeks, would it be appropriate for me to telephone those from whom I have not heard and ask if they are coming or not?

This strikes me as being somewhat pushy and I am reluctant to do it. FRUSTRATED HOSTESS

DEAR FRUSTRATED: On the outside chance that some of them did not receive your invitation, telephone them.

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.
Rex is the pioneering type of teacher who will teach a course on "Practical Medicine" — the talk of the entire school. For students' relief, useful information, so do their parents! And local doctors will gladly donate an hour's lecture, too!

CASE X-535: Rex P., aged 28, is a teacher. "Dr. Crane," he began, "I want to follow your advice and schedule a high school class in 'Practical Medicine.'"

"Have you any suggestions about what I should cover?" "And are there any simple experiments or classroom demonstrations that would appeal to students and yet be relevant?"

PRACTICAL MEDICINE
Parents, as well as the students, will relish such a course, which may include these among other innovations: (1) Ask students to come to the front and strike a safety match.

Most of them violate the safety rule of the Japanese and thus pull the match TOWARD them as they strike it. You can later let a student try to whittle with a pocket knife, using a small stick of wood. Again, be sure he pushed the knife AWAY from himself.

(2) Employ the "Dieting Booklet" below and have the pupils try to get their plump parents to stay on that diet for at least 10 days. Let them learn the approximate caloric values of various food portions, such as a slice of bread, a hot dog, a banana, an egg, etc.

And teach them about the "specific dynamic action of protein," which loses 15 percent of its calories in the process of digestion. No other food does this! (3) Warn them, too, that there is no storage of protein, so their hearts need fresh protein every day!

There is plenty of sugar, fat and starches in the body, even when you are quite slender. (4) Demonstrate artificial respiration techniques, including both mouth-to-mouth resuscitation as well as the Schaefer method.

The latter, if you place a folded coat or pillow under the abdomen, is still an excellent method. (5) Explain that oxygen is the main remedy for heart attacks.

POLLY'S POINTERS Should Be Identified

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—Pictures, particularly family ones, are priceless and to be treasured for years to come but they lose their real interest if the names, dates and where taken is not written on the backs. When you take a picture do take time to jot down these things on the back. The day will come when the photographs will not be recognized. I recently received a box of photographs from an elderly aunt who is in bad health and lives far away. There are no names and dates on any of them but I know some are members of my family but who, when and where I do not know and probably will never know. What a priceless treasure if I could just identify those people.—VELMA

Polly's Problem DEAR POLLY—I have a very old piece of slate (black) that is carved in the shape of a book but it is very dull looking. How can I brighten the surface to make this piece more attractive so it can be put out for display?—JAYNE

DEAR POLLY—My Pet Peeve is with those who make disposable baby bottles. There is no way of knowing whether or not you are near the end of a roll unless the box is opened. Then it is still a guess. Why can't they put some mark on, say the 13th from the end, a person would know right off there are only a dozen bottles left?—SANDY

DEAR POLLY—This is for Jean who wants to help her elderly neighbor remove ink spots from her pink rug. If the spots have not been washed since the accident, she could soak them with turpentine, let it stay overnight and then wash out and rinse well.—EDITH

DEAR GIRLS—While turpentine should not harm fabrics there are so many new fibers in clothes and rugs that I would recommend ALWAYS test an inconspicuous spot first. Do remember that an old spot is far harder to remove than a fresh one. Also, be careful of fire when using turpentine.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—When doing crewel work or needlepoint the easiest way to thread a needle with wool is to cut a piece of heavy paper about 1 1/2 inches long and 1/4 inch wide and fold it in half lengthwise. Then you have a needle threader that can be used on any thread. Place the end of the yarn inside the fold and slip the paper through the needle's eye.—MARY ANN

Testimony 'Most Crucial' Dean To Face Grilling

Makes It All Worthwhile

WASHINGTON (AP) — John W. Dean III, whose testimony about his relationship with President Nixon could be the most crucial of the Senate Watergate hearings, planned a meeting with Senate committee lawyers today to prepare for his televised appearance before the panel.

Senate sources said the fired White House counsel would be questioned intensively—probably under oath—at the staff session. He is scheduled to be interrogated by the full committee at an executive session Monday, a year and a day after the 1972 Watergate break-in.

The public hearings resume with Dean at the witness table Tuesday morning. The proceedings prior to that will be secret.

Dean reportedly met with 30 times this year before Nixon was dismissed in March, after he and other top White House aides had been implicated in the Watergate scandal.

Published reports have said Dean discussed the Watergate cover-up with the President during those sessions. Nixon has denied that.

Observers here view Dean's testimony as crucial because he probably is the only former member of the President's inner circle who might be able and willing—to link Nixon to the scandal.

Meanwhile, lawyers for two other former close associates of the President indicated their clients are sticking by earlier denials of any involvement in the affair despite the testimony of a top campaign aide that he and they are implicated.

Plato Cacheris, who represents former Atty. Gen. and Nixon campaign chief John N. Mitchell, said Mitchell plans to defend himself against all charges but will wait until he has "an appropriate forum."

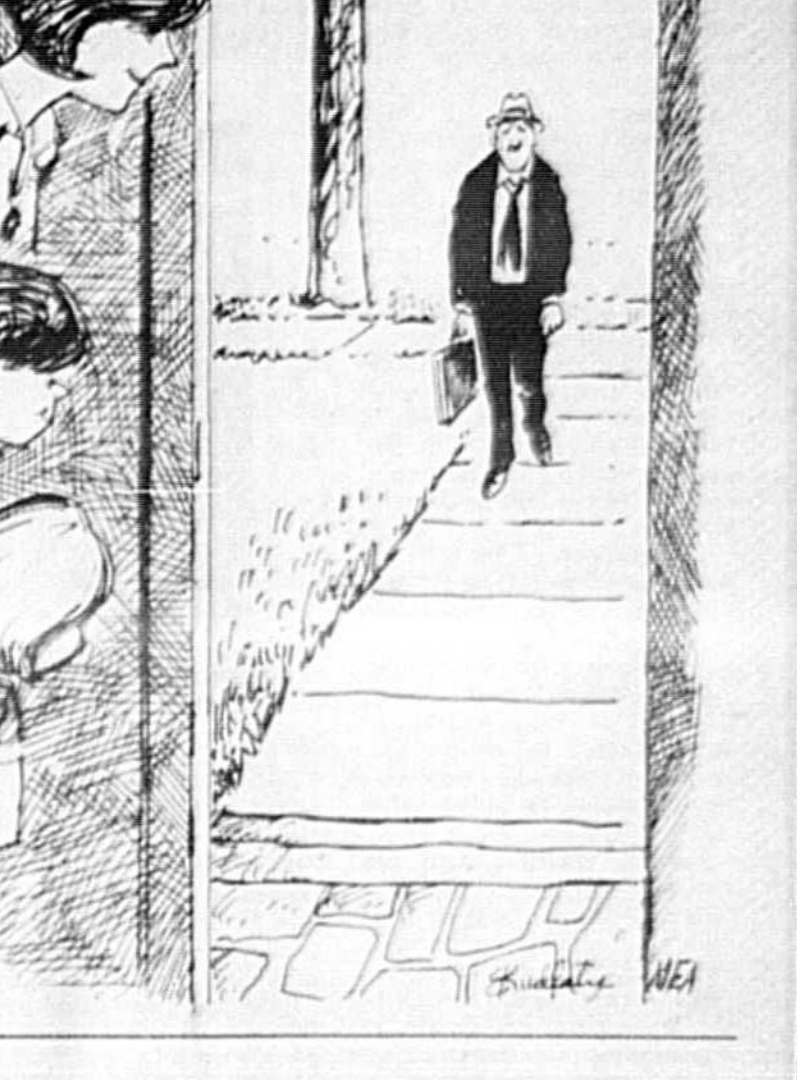

Meanwhile, lawyers for two other former close associates of the President indicated their clients are sticking by earlier denials of any involvement in the affair despite the testimony of a top campaign aide that he and they are implicated.

Mims Man Charged With 1972 Robbery

The second of two men accused in a 1972 armed robbery of a Sanford grocery store was returned to Seminole County Saturday after being picked up by Trenton, N.J., police.

Jimmy Edwards Peters, 25, of Mims, was jailed by Sgt. Tony Calangiano at 3:45 a. m. under $30,000 bond on charges of robbery, using a firearm in committing a felony and possessing a gun.

Mud Did What Obstacles Couldn't

BUFFALO, Okla. (AP) — It took the mud of the Cimarron River to do what fences, nailboxes and road banks and stop signs couldn't: halt Luther Nutter and his bulldozer.

Authorities said Nutter carved a swath for 20 miles across a northern Oklahoma county into Kansas on Friday, leaving a trail of broken signs and fences before bogging down in riverbank mud.

Sheriff Lee Hargus said Nutter, 20, found the 10-ton machine after having an argument with his father. He took out across country, the sheriff said. "He took every-thing bulldozing things up as he went," the sheriff said, adding: "I don't think he ever got it out of low gear. If he had got it into high gear, there's no telling what would have happened. He might have bulldozed in half of Kansas."

The sheriff said the bulldozer went through an old service station first, then took down a few stop signs and nailboxes along the road.

"Finally he cut through the edge of a wheat field and then took out across country," the sheriff said. "He took everything bulldozing things up as he went," the sheriff said, adding: "I don't think he ever got it out of low gear. If he had got it into high gear, there's no telling what would have happened. He might have bulldozed in half of Kansas."

Brezhnev-Nixon Meet For Peace

By BARRY SCHWEID Associated Press Writer
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Communist leader Leonid I. Brezhnev was expected to arrive in the nation's capital late this afternoon for a second round of summit conferences that President Nixon says may reduce the danger of war.

Nixon was at the Florida White House preparing for the talks.

Brezhnev's airplane from Moscow was due at Andrews Air Force Base, Md., at about 4:30 p.m. U.S. officials discouraged crowds and attention by calling it a "private arrival."

Pot Pulverized

When the owners of a small "garden" in a wooded area off SR 434 near Little Wekiva Springs Road come to cultivate their crop, they'll find it gone to "pot."

Instead of 10 to 12 small marijuana plants, they'll find an "official card left at the site with an appropriate slogan printed there," according to Deputy D. M. Lane.

Lane, working on an anonymous tip that there was a "suspicious garden" in the area, found the plants Thursday growing inside a cylindrical shaped wire cage, covered with moss.

According to Lane's report, the marijuana plants, about one to two weeks old, were "picked from the earth, gently pulverized and destroyed." Lane also destroyed a watering can near the garden.

Protocol Probed

MOSCOW (AP) — Members of the Moscow diplomatic corps expressed surprise today at what they said was a serious breach of protocol by President Nixon in connection with the visit of Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev to Washington.

Protocol, said many of the veteran diplomats here, required that the American ambassador to Moscow accompany Brezhnev when he left Moscow today on the trip to Washington.

But the post has been vacant since the last U.S. envoy, Jacob D. Beam, left on Jan. 24 as Brezhnev's trip approached. Grant would have been expected to select a nominee who could satisfy the rules of diplomatic courtesy and be present at the summit.

Not only did Nixon name a successor to Beam, he did not invite the chief of mission, Charge d'Affaires Adolph Dubois, to make the trip with the Soviet leader.

One diplomat from Western Europe said he had never heard of such a case while another added that it was "absolutely without precedent in my experience."

 Kirby Grant is the kind of a man who makes you feel it's good to be alive.
 And for that matter (even though he is a comparative newcomer to this area), makes you proud to be a resident of this county!
 After having a delightful lunch with him this week, I was amazed at his broad and varied background. He's very knowledgeable ... has many contacts in various parts of this county ...
 Just the kind of a guy you'd be proud to have in your Chamber of Commerce!

 He is available ... is willing ... and only needs to be hired.

Remember our former sports scribe Tommy Alexander?
 Perhaps you now associate him with Seminole Cablevision (plus being a wheel for the cablevision network throughout the Southeast).
 Well, he's making a name for himself in this field and has since been hired by Tele Prompter ... with a fantastic salary going along with his increased national responsibilities.
