Celery As Aid To Health Pictured On Menus Given By Pennsylvania Railroad

Through the efforts of J. L. Wells, commercial agent of the Atlantic Coast Line...

Following is the description, which appears on page two of the menu: "Crisp, succulent celery is recognized as a valuable adjunct to every well regulated dinner."

After entertaining a crowd of visitors, surpassing by a large number the attendance of the preceding day...

Hundreds passed through the doors of the Hotel Forrest Lake last night following an afternoon exhibition...

Services at the church began at 11 o'clock. They were brief but most impressive.

Surviving Mr. Robinson are: Mrs. H. M. Papworth, a daughter, and Mrs. L. M. Hammond, a niece, both of whom had been making their home with him for several years.

Following the awarding of $25 in gold to four persons, the distributors were the guests of G. H. Schlosser, manager of the hotel...

Mr. Robinson had made Sanford his home for 39 years, coming here from Seville, where he established a bank and lived for three years.

Mr. Robinson represented the same company in this section of Florida and later severed his connections with it...

Mr. Robinson became identified with the citrus industry and subsequently enjoyed the distinction of being the largest individual grower in the state.

Mr. Robinson served Sanford for 12 years as a member of the old city council and was chairman of the board of trustees when the first paved streets were laid.

Mr. Robinson was born at Meadville, Pa., in 1843 and was 84 years old when he died.

Managers Of Cabinet Member Jubilantly Proclaim Winning Southern Supporters To Bolster His Candidacy

Opposition Admits Truth Grudgingly Report Based Upon 5 Year Experiment

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(INS)—Unless the forces that are opposing the presidential candidacy of Herbert Hoover bestir themselves...

The Hoover managers jubilantly claimed them today, and the anti-Hoover people rather grudgingly admitted the fact.

Deputies of the party are at large in the city and are in a state of excitement.

The combined mortality of all classes of population declined from 16 deaths per thousand in 1900 to an average of 15.13 in 1917—on a basis of 15.13 per thousand population.

But the prohibition period, 1920-1926 inclusive, revealed a different and lower level.

The southern patronage bosses claim that they have been "bushwhacked" into supporting Hoover.

Mr. Robinson's friends gathered to pay final tribute to one of Sanford's oldest and most prominent citizens.

Swami Yogananda, Hindu Mystic, Continues Lesson Despite Action Of Court

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 9.—(INS)—The public does not want the Swami and if he stays, they will convince him," Chief Quigg said today.

At the circuit court hearing yesterday, relatives of a local woman testified that a mother had been driven insane and is now held in an institution because of the Swami's teachings.

The court, after hearing testimony from several witnesses, ordered the Swami to leave town.

Judge Rose said that he did not know when he would hand down a decision in the appeal for an injunction. The federal court turned down a similar plea earlier in the week and the Hindu filed action in the state courts.

The newspaper today was filled with editorial comments on the achievement of the French aviators.

Following their presentation to President Coolidge at the White House this morning by Ambassador Gifford, they will be guests at a luncheon given by the "Air Club," composed of the three aviation societies of the War, Navy and Commerce Departments.

Sanford Boxer To Clash With Moberg Tonight At Armory

Larry Levitt In Fine Trim And Expects Victory In Feature Fight Of Program

Beckham-Jerry In Semi-Final

Thirty Rounds To Be On Bill Which Is Declared Best Of Year

Larry Levitt, Sanford scrapper, was declared in excellent trim for his bout tonight with Henry Moberg. Kissimmee battler, who is expected to furnish Levitt with the toughest opposition that he has yet encountered. Levitt has been training faithfully at the armory in preparation for tonight's scrap which will be the headline attraction of a bill of 30 rounds.

Levitt and Moberg are scheduled to mix it in a ten-round affair and from all reports it should be a fast and furious affair which will draw the house to capacity. Levitt has set the pace by his knockout of Kid Beckman, a local favorite, and is expected to be in top form.

Levitt's manager and trainer, who believe that way, Louis Roberts, thinks the boy is just right to win in five or six rounds. But Moberg's handlers think differently. However, local fans are assured a good entertainment in the main.

Both boys are punchers of no mean ability and each has an attack that is appealing to the fans. It should be a good fight from the first going.

As his semi-final attraction, Henry Godale, a youngster, has matched Kid Beckman of Sanford against Kid Jerry of Cleveland.

Here is another bout that is likely to furnish plenty of action. The winner has been promised a fight with some of the toughest boys and each will be out to win the decision.

Godale had the advantage as good as the main bout. Kid M. Abster and Jimmy Peterson will fight it out in one of the preliminaries while those who are also on the program.

Together it is given a complete bill of boxing cards of the best. The attendance is expected to be even better than last time.

German Track Star Refuses To Discuss Fines Of American

Dodder, who has been fined $500 by the American Athletic Union, is expected to fight the fine.

New Football Rules To Make Game Open

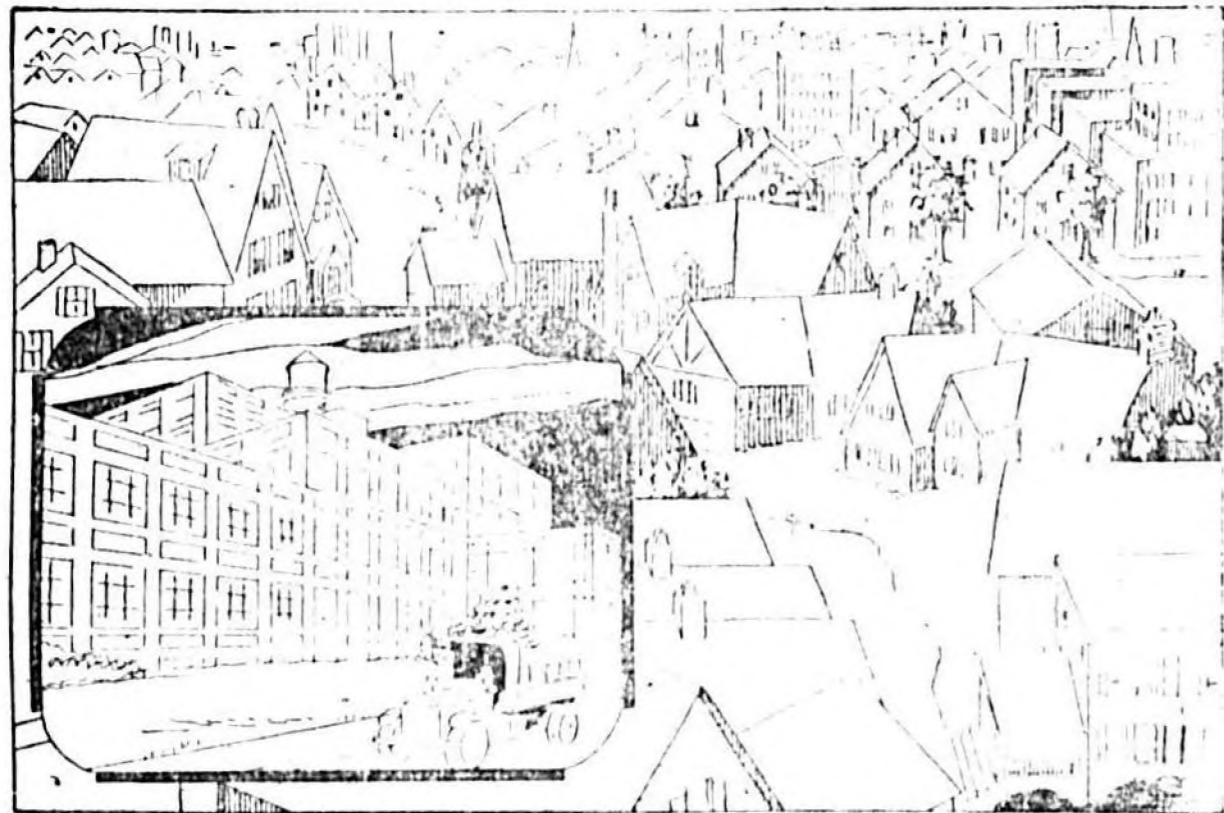

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—(INS)—The new football rules, adopted by the Intercollegiate Football Rules Committee, are intended to make the game open and safe, and to increase the possibility of scoring, according to E. K. Hall, chairman of the committee. The backward pass, which is developed to put more action into football, was one of the new rules. "We intend to have a fast game, but that is based on the fact that the new rules will make it possible to play in a faster, more open style. We are not interested in the kind of game that is played today, but in the kind of game that we want to play."

Thinking In Billions

IFIGHT billion, three hundred million tin cans were made in the United States last year, and a few hundred million more will be made this year. That is some indication of what the American housewife thinks of canned goods. It is due to her predilection for these foods, prepared in the most sanitary fashion, that the canned food industry has to do its thinking in billions.

Strange to say, these billions of tin cans are only one-sixteenth tin. The rest of them is sheet steel which is merely coated with the tin. But they are called tin cans in the beginning and tin cans they will remain for all time. Even the word "can" is a misnomer, since it was not originally connected with metal, but with cane or reed out of which baskets were made.

How Tin Cans Are Made The first tin cans were made by tinning sheets with shears, soldering iron and mallet. Sixty cans was an amazing number for one man to make in a day. It has taken over a century of inventions to produce the modern sanitary can. By 1876 two men and two boys, with machinery for cutting and shaping the tin, could make more than a thousand cans a day. By 1900 the output had increased to nine hundred cans. Today can-making machinery can turn out 300 cans a minute.

To prepare the material for tin cans, steel bars are heated and rolled into thin sheets. Thirty two layers together, the layers are separated and impregnated with oil and lard, and then dipped into a solution of molten tin. This coating of tin is called "tinplate".

Where Tin Comes From The tin supplies are reported diminishing rapidly. Large quantities of tin are mined in Malaya, the Malay Peninsula, the Philippines, and the Dutch East Indies. In Malaya, tin is mined in the form of sand, which is washed and the tin is separated from the sand by means of a table.

Expert Opinions Differ On Whether Dempsey Will Be Able To Fight Gene Tunney

By Davis J. Walsh, International News Service, Sports Editor, NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—(INS)—Disregarding the view of Gene Tunney and Tex Rickard as being so peculiarly adverse to their own game as to merit dismissal, there was a sharp divergence of opinion existing today among the few men who really should know whether Jack Dempsey will fight again or never more. Rickard already has declared him out of boxing, that can't happen for months, just as though Dempsey doesn't change his color and mood every morning before breakfast.

The situation hardly admits of an opinion until he starts. Neither do the statements of Tunney, who stands for a hundreds of thousands of dollars, and is bragging about it as far as an opinion in no prompt opinion of his motives.

The minority opinion among sport writers and boxing men in general is that Dempsey will be in there swinging away the time comes. However, only the opinion of Dempsey's intimates is worthy of consideration, in this connection, it may be noted that Senator Bill Ives was around town today, hissing in a demagogue's style that Dempsey was a tough.

N. Y. NOT TO GET FIGHT BETWEEN JACK AND GENE

Tunney Will Battle Elimination Contest Winner, Then Fight Dempsey Elsewhere

By Davis J. Walsh, International News Service, Sports Editor, NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—(INS)—If there is to be a third episode of the Dempsey-Tunney serial, and the betting man is right, it will be held as far as possible from the jurisdiction of the boxing fathers of New York, boxing, the writer was indicated today at Madison Square Garden, New York, it seems, is to get the class AA championship fight between Tunney and the Stacker-Dempsey-Honey-Rickard scuffle in June in order to panicle a practical insistence that Rickard hold up in the town where he does his ordinary business.

Once this feature is accomplished and the great expense for gene Tunney will look elsewhere for a place to clean up with Dempsey's fight, it was stated.

If, in fact, it is just a rehearsal of the original compromise with Rickard, which called for the boxing and Dempsey to make the boxing as early as possible, then Tunney could discharge an alleged obligation by boxing with Rickard in June.

Begin to flutter,
All the pond
Grow bright and utter Ripples, and
The quacks and shriek
Underneath the
Quivering brake.

Suddenly
Across the meads
Zesty patch
Of fine blue doors
Lichened fountains
Make lutes through

Two hundred and twenty-eight persons in the United States showed by their income taxes in comes of over one million dollars. All of which goes to show what Republican prosperity means.

Colonel Lindbergh on his great will flight through Central and South America has rarely failed to arrive on scheduled time. He takes off, flies, and arrives with almost uncanny precision. We venture to guess that no one in all history has ever travelled so many miles in the same length of time.

Two thousand persons went down to the automobile show on the opening night. Perhaps many of these people had never been in the Forest Lake hotel before. That's good advertising for the hotel. And the show, not only a great success in itself, will prove a big boon to the automobile business in Sanford.

The Highway Purchase

An act of the last session of legislature, which provided for the purchase and maintenance of the Conners Highway, has been declared a violation of the state constitution in a decision rendered Wednesday by the Florida Supreme Court. The ruling terminates litigation which has been pending since the legislature adjourned last Spring and definitely precludes any possibility of the road ever becoming a part of the state's highway system.

Justice J. B. Whitfield handed down the decision without a dissenting opinion from his colleagues. It has the effect of sustaining a ruling by Judge Love in granting an injunction restraining the state comptroller from carrying out the provisions of the act in issuing warrants for purchase of the road and overruling demurrers and motions to quash other proceedings against members of the engineering board and commission created to appraise and purchase the highway.

The court contended that the terms of the legislative act and the "proceedings sought to be authorized by it" would in effect create a binding continuing interest bearing contract obligation of the state to pay money in the future that would violate the intent of section six of the constitution. As the Conners Highway act is in essential respects repugnant to applicable provisions of the constitution, the enactment is inoperative.

The Conners Highway is a toll road constructed several years ago by W. J. Conners, wealthy land owner of West Palm Beach. The road has been found to be of inferior construction and deteriorating rapidly. It is not built in conformity with state specifications and if the supreme court had upheld the legality of its purchase, the highway would have had to undergo extensive changes before becoming a useful part of the state-owned system. The last session of legislature passed the purchase bill over some heavy opposition. It was recognized by many lawmakers as an effort to "unload" a poor road on the state.

Though these things have not entered into the supreme court's consideration of the case, they have been highly controversial with the public. The people have been impressed with the folly and extravagance of the purchase and the courts have recognized its invalidity. That makes it unanimous and all that is necessary.

When It Does Not Pay

The success of Wiggley's, Henry Ford, and various cigarettes, amply attests that—but there is a certain class of advertisers which apparently is unaware that it does NOT pay to advertise when advertisements are misleading, insincere, or exaggerated.

Newspapers as a class have done all in their power to prevent the pollution of advertising. Advertisements are their stock in trade, without which they perish. Their very existence depends upon their keeping this stock upon a healthy basis. Most newspapers today refuse to accept advertising copy containing statements about which there is any question.

Commenting upon the position of newspaper editors in this regard, Wilfred W. Fry, senior partner of the advertising firm of N. W. Ayer & Son, says: "I commend the attitude of those publishers who have refused great contracts because of inaccuracy of statements, and take this occasion to urge upon those who are advertising, those who produce advertising and those whose livelihood depends upon advertising to fight against its prostitution. We regard truthful advertising as an indispensable with education and a chief contributor to the enlightenment of present and future generations. The greatest peril in the path of advertising is that those who know its power but who have no regard for the principles upon which that power rests, will abuse advertising by the use of misleading statements, insincere testimonials, and exaggerated claims. The very cornerstone of advertising is threatened by those who willfully deface it."

Henry Ford recently conducted a color advertising campaign in practically all of the newspapers in the country, running into millions of dollars. His slogan, "We are getting a new car which was soon to appear. We ask our readers in all fairness if they think Mr. Ford would have obtained beneficial results if the statements contained in his advertisements had not later been found out by the facts pertaining to his car.

His money would have been wasted.

GENTLEMEN OF THE JURY

The jury system in the country is frequently criticized for its shortcomings. Yet it seems to be true that no one has a better system to suggest.

On the whole, perhaps the best way to improve the jury system is to have the general public, through a committee of laymen and lawyers, to select the members of the jury. This should be completely understood about the case in hand. If it is a big case, then the only person of qualified intellect and interest in current affairs.

In England, where the jury system appears to work better than here, the selection of juries is made by a committee of laymen and lawyers.

THE MAYOR OF NEW YORK

Admirers of our distinguished Mayor, the Hon. James J. Walker, will be pleased to learn that when he attended a dinner given recently in Flushing he was on time. He was on time because the dinner committee, by an ingenious stratagem, made it almost impossible for him to be late. It was the hour for his appearance at "anywhere from 8 to 11 o'clock." So that when he showed up at 10 he was on time to the dot, and perhaps, by one way of figuring, an hour ahead of time.

It seems to us that the most considerate on the part of the Flushing dinner committee, a piece of courtesy that others might do well to emulate. The Board of Estimate, for example, could hold its meetings "anywhere from noon until midnight," and thus be sure of having the Mayor or present on time, or at least,

BRITAIN DISCARDS THE LANCE

Lance was more fortunate in September, 1914, and charged and scattered a squadron of the 5th Buffs, and although the utility of the lance will not be disputed, a sigh for the picture-que may not be out of place. In this country the lance as a weapon of war lasted barely two years. The 6th Pennsylvania Volunteer Cavalry, Rush's Lancers, raised in December, 1861, was armed with the saber and lance, but the latter proved somewhat unmanageable in the heavily wooded terrain of Virginia and was discarded in the spring of 1863, the regiment being re-armed with saber and carbine.

It was after Waterloo, where Napoleon's lancers proved so formidable, that British soldiers first were equipped with this beautiful weapon, and thereafter, though the dashing lancers did their bit on many battlefields, the dispute of the respective merits of lance and sword as military weapons engaged military minds for years. French lancers charged in Champagne in 1915, and not one survived to reach the enemy. A troop and a half of the British 9th

COUGHING, VOMITING AND CONSTIPATION

How To Be Happy
I have a friend who is in the habit of sending me a letter weekly. He usually writes me of his latest ailments. This came to me one day through the mail. When I walked with him, I saw that he was very thin and that his face was very pale. I told him that he was in need of a good change of air and that he should go to the mountains. He said that he would do so, but he would not go until he had seen a doctor. I told him that he should go at once, and that he should not wait until he was too late. He said that he would do so, but he would not go until he had seen a doctor. I told him that he should go at once, and that he should not wait until he was too late. He said that he would do so, but he would not go until he had seen a doctor.

Watch me roll a great cigarette

HERE'S the little finger gesture that I use on my morning with some Prince Albert and the makin's papers — that's all you need. P.A. is crimped and stays put. Just the right combination for smooth rolling and smooth smoking! P.A. burns even and cool. It is fragrant in the package and fragrant as you smoke it. And then the taste! Mild and mellow, yet with plenty of rich, satisfying body. I'll say P.A. makes a cigarette! So will you. Get some Prince Albert now and the makin's papers. If you like a pipe, try P.A. this way, too. It's great tobacco, Men.

Here are your "dial papers"

They're O.C.B.—made in France for Le J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. by the celebrated Bolleré Mills. Skill cannot produce and money cannot buy better cigarette-papers. Roll your own with O.C.B. 150 leaves. 5c, at the store that sells P.A.
