Mattingly Lived Here For Three Years

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

Astronaut Thomas "Ken" Mattingly, commander of the Columbia space shuttle, once lived in this area and was stationed in Sanford. He probably was not thinking of those days today.

A few Sanford friends who remember him when he was stationed at Sanford Naval Air Station (SNAS) in the 1960s recalled he was conscientious and a good pilot.

Ken Mattingly, now a Sanford real estate broker, was Mattingly's commanding officer during his tour at SNAS (now the Sanford Airport), says Mattingly was typical of all the men chosen to be astronauts.

"He was a well qualified engineer and a good and able aviator," Sandon said. "It's obvious he had high potential and high capability. He was a fine officer then and is a fine officer now."

Sandon also said that Mattingly during his Sanford years met people extremely well. He was well respected and well liked, Sandon said.

Kay Bartholomew, marketing and public relations director at Central Florida Regional Hospital in Sanford, also remembers when Mattingly was stationed at the old SNAS from July 1963 to July 1965.

Mattingly was in VAH-11, a heavy attack squadron, and Mrs. Bartholomew's late husband, Bart, was his squadron commander.

In those days, Mattingly was the pilot of an A-1H. He was deployed aboard the USS Franklin D. Roosevelt,

"I knew him slightly, but not well," Mrs. Bartholomew said. "My husband and I went to a party at Mattingly's home in Maitland on one occasion." Mattingly was a bachelor in those days.

Lake Mary Councilman Ray Fox, a retired Navy commander, recalls knowing Mattingly when he was deployed aboard the USS Saratoga before his Sanford tour.

"He had the reputation of a good and conscientious airplane driver," said Fox, himself a former Navy pilot. Fox is also an alumnus of Auburn University as is Mattingly.

"He was a small man, quiet, slightly balding," said Fox.

Fox also recalls seeing Mattingly at Cecil Field in Jacksonville after Fox left SNAS in late 1963. "I remember him well at Cecil Field," he said.

It was only nine months after Mattingly left his Sanford tour that he joined the space program with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in April 1969.

The astronauts successfully closed and latched Columbia's belly cargo bay doors today after they were warned by the sun, clearing the way for the Fourth of July landing in California.

"Okay, they closed normally," said Mattingly as controllers in Houston watched the seven-minute operation on television from the spacecraft.

"Everything looks good to us," replied Brewster Shaw in mission control. A control center spokesman confirmed the door latches worked as planned.

The difficulty marked the only significant problem of the seven-day flight of Mattingly and Hartsfield.

An 81-year-old Sanford woman was critically injured and her daughter received minor injuries when their car and a truck collided at Sanford Avenue and 25th Street Wednesday afternoon.

Sanford May Handle Bug Killing Program On Its Own

If the Seminole County Commission turns down the city of Sanford's request for a joint mosquito control program, the city may go it alone.

At least that's how Mayor Lee P. Moore sees it.

Moore today said, "I assume we will go ahead and organize our own program if the county turns it down."

Meanwhile, Assistant County Administrator Jim Easton said the County Commission has not turned down Sanford's request for cooperation as such. But, the board recently cut a proposed $200,000 countywide mosquito control program out of its proposed budget.

"The board took that action before a request was received from Sanford," Easton emphasized.

"Mosquito control didn't come high on the priority list during the budget sessions," Easton said, adding that the commission will consider the Sanford request after the county staff has looked into it.

He added that there is no timetable for the issue to be taken before the commission. Sanford City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles today said the city's major interest is the $15,000 available from the state to assist in mosquito control programs.

He noted state officials told the City Commission earlier this week the state would assist Sanford with $15,000 in funding if it began a mosquito control program.

The officials warned, however, that if the county started a program thereafter, the money would be taken away from the city and given to the county.

"The city didn't want to do a program one year and get the $15,000 and the county to decide the next year that it would do a program and the city lose the money," Knowles said.

"We didn't want the program to become a yo-yo, moving back and forth. The county staff appeared to be receptive," the manager said.

Knowles said he suggested Sanford, county and staff members from the other county cities get together to discuss the possibilities of a countywide cooperative program. "I wanted the meeting held to consider whether a mosquito control program is needed and the costs and then get the Council of Local Governments in Seminole County involved."

"I hoped we could see if there was unanimity of thought before the issue was taken to the elected bodies," Knowles said.

Moore said if a mosquito control program can't be started before October, "forget it."

He said the Sanford city commissioners sound like they wanted to do something about the pesky insects. "This is a problem we have to come to grips with," Moore said.

"What I and the other commissioners had in mind was that the program would be a community project with the county commission only a participant," the mayor said.

Knowles said if the city starts up a mosquito control program immediately, the state money will not be available.

Woman Critically Hurt In Crash

By TENI YARBROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

Police are continuing their investigation of Wednesday's two-vehicle accident at Sanford Avenue and 25th Street which left one Sanford woman critically injured and another hospitalized in satisfactory condition.

Corinne Rye, 81, was being treated for severe head injuries and a broken neck at Florida Hospital-Orlando today after the Buick, which her daughter Valerie Weld, 39, both of 600 E. 20th St., was driving Wednesday collided with a truck which was hauling about 10 cows at about 1:37 p.m., officials said.

Ms. Weld, co-founder of the Ballet

Guild of Sanford-Seminole, is being held for observation at the Central Florida Regional Hospital, Sanford, officials added.

The truck was driven by Douglas Tabor, 21, of Mariner's Village, Sanford, police said. Neither Tabor, nor his livestock were injured in the crash, police added.

No charges have been filed pending investigation, police said.

Meanwhile, traffic was stalled nearly three hours after a semi-tractor-trailer hauling auto parts jackknifed in the eastbound lane of Interstate 4 one mile south of State Road 46 at about 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.

No charges will be filed against driver Curtis L. Davis, 31, of E. St. Louis, Ill., who suffered minor back injuries in the crash and was treated and released from the Central Florida Regional Hospital, according to Florida Highway Patrol officers.

"A fifth wheel and quick thinking on his (Davis') part, kept that rig from going over the edge into the orange grove below," said Trooper Jim Brazee. "According to witnesses, he was going about 45 mph. It was raining pretty heavily, he wasn't cutting up and just went off the roadway onto the median then jumped back on the road sideways and into the guardrail."

Traffic along Interstate 4 near State Road 46 was held up nearly three hours after a semi-tractor trailer jackknifed across both east-bound lanes, Wednesday afternoon.

Wilson Will Leave County Housing Firm

Thomas Wilson III, a partner in the firm which has been managing property of the Seminole County Housing Authority, has left that position to take a job in Arizona, a member of the authority, Glen McCall, said today.

McCall said Wilson's departure will not affect the operation of the authority.

He said the firm, Dynamic Program Planning, which Wilson operated along with his partner John Colbert, will continue to manage the property under the direction of Colbert.

Wilson had been executive director of the Sanford Housing Authority but was fired in November 1980 by the board of that agency following a no-confidence vote.

The following year he was a finalist for the director's position after the director who was named to replace Williams resigned from the post.

Several To Enjoy Holiday Monday

All local, county, state and federal offices will be closed Monday, except for emergency services, giving employees an extended weekend holiday for the Fourth of July.

Financial institutions and post offices also will be closed.

In Sanford, garbage collection will be on the usual schedule, but in Altamonte Springs there will be no refuse pick-up Monday.

Transportation Authority coaches will be operating on a holiday schedule on Monday. The TA offices and information center will be closed on Monday. Persons who desire additional information may call 841-8240.

Maitland-Altamonte Springs Route 14 buses will run once an hour, 15 minutes after the hour, from 6:15 a.m. to 5:15 p.m. But Sanford buses will not be running at all.

Economic Slump Over, What Happens Next?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There is wide, but not total, agreement the recession has hit bottom. The question is, what happens now?

President Reagan told his televised news conference Wednesday night, "Interest rates and unemployment may remain stubbornly high for a time. Too many Americans are still hurting economically, but we are beginning to make progress."

"If we stick to our plan and keep the Congress from going back to its runaway spending," the president said, "the recovery will take hold, strengthen and endure."

The government's index of leading indicators, updated Wednesday to show three monthly increases in a row, lent support to what government and many private economists have been saying for weeks — the economic decline that began last July essentially is over. Some believe the bottom was hit in

May. Another indicator released Wednesday showed orders for new manufactured goods up $2.4 billion, or 1.5 percent, in May. The strength was in consumer goods orders. Those for capital goods were down.

The discussion now is over how strong recovery will be and whether it will be sustained.

Administration officials have toned down recent speeches to leave out glowing descriptions of the coming recovery. Deputy presidential press secretary Larry Speakes said Wednesday's leading indicator report "shows what appears to be the beginning of a slow recovery."

Lawrence Chimerine, head of Chase Econometrics, an economic forecasting firm, says the economy "is now bottoming out." He believes the recovery will be "relatively slow" and uneven for different industries.

Consumer spending, already increased, will be boosted further by the 10 percent income-tax cut that starts today, but housing activity will not change greatly from current low levels, he says.

Chimerine says another force for recovery is that the recent decline in business inventories is about at an end, so new orders must be filled from new production.

But he also believes many businesses will put high priority on rebuilding their dwindling profits, so that many of them will be slow to hire new workers, to place new capital orders, or to rebuild inventories.

Inflation, which dropped to practically nothing early this year, then rebounded to double digits, is likely to settle at around 6 percent to 7 percent for the year, according to Chimerine's forecast. He sees a "modest" decline in interest rates.

Michael Evans, head of Evans Economics, sees no economic recovery until 1983. He says the new tax cut will have little effect on the economy, since the average worker will gain only $4 a week from it. Evans also believes continued double-digit inflation and rising interest rates will kill any immediate hope of recovery.

Somewhere between these views, Jerry Jasnowski, chief economist National Association of Manufacturers, says the economy is in a "no man's land" between recession and recovery.

"On balance," he said, "the figures show there is a very slow recovery under way, but it's going to be a very difficult and painful process, and we're still in that period between the end of the recession and what could really be termed a sustained recovery."

Donald Straszheim, chief economist at Wharton Economic Forecasting Associates, believes the tax cut will tend to promote recovery.

The tax cut, plus Social Security cost of living increases that also take effect today, together represent about $40 billion in additional money for the economy during the next year.

Reagan Supports Lebanon; Will Stick With Donovan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan says the United States wants a strong Lebanon, including a secure border with Israel the Palestine Liberation Organization and others could not use to "create acts of terror."

On another topic, Reagan said, "I'm certainly sticking with" Labor Secretary Raymond Donovan, the subject of an investigation into possible ties with organized crime. The special prosecutor in the case did not find credible evidence to indict Donovan, and "that case is closed," Reagan said.

Hanky Panky On The Hill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal authorities are investigating allegations of homosexual activity between congressmen and teenage pages, focusing on whether sex was swapped for favors.

A Justice Department official confirmed the investigation Wednesday night, after two unidentified pages said on national television they and other pages had been the object of congressmen's advances.

IBM Espionage Indictments

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI) — The Hitachi Co. of Japan, 14 of its employees and three people accused of being go-betweens in the one of the largest industrial espionage conspiracies in history were indicted on charges of trying to steal secrets from IBM Corp.

More indictments may be issued later this month against five employees of the Nitsubishi Electric Corp. of Japan.

At-Large Voting Blasted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court issued a 6-3 ruling today in a crucial voting rights case that could make it easier to abolish at-large election systems that dilute the black vote and keep white officials in power.

The justices upheld a ruling condemning the at-large system used by Burke County, Ga., to elect its five commissioners based on county-wide votes.

The high court's decision could trigger repercussions in efforts — particularly in the South — to eliminate voting systems that discriminate against minorities.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: Bruising storms scoured Colorado with tornadoes, rain and hail, delaying the hunt for a missing boy. Street-swamping rain flooded the Plains and powerful winds swept Atlanta and western Tennessee. Tornadoes touched Burlington and a Denver suburb Wednesday. Hail rattled parts of Denver and 2 inches of rain inundated the Horseshoe Reservoir near Fort Collins in 30 minutes. Authorities kept "a close watch" on Pine Slope Reservoir above Idaho Springs, Colo., after heavy rains. Officials in Fayette County in western Tennessee said high winds twisted trees, ripped roofs off houses and moved one barn "something like 100 yards away from its foundation." Atlanta was brushed by 60-mph winds. June probably will rank "in the top five" coldest ever in Chicago, said National Weather Service meteorologist Bob Somrak. September cold chilled the lower Great Lakes and Texas on the last day of June, plunging Minnesota temperatures to record low 30s. Duluth, Minn., had 37 degrees, Madison, Wis. posted 45 and Midland, Texas, 56. Abrupt thunderstorms dumped 3 inches of rain on Grand Island, Neb., flooding some streets with 3 feet of water. Up to 4 inches fell in other places and two twisters dipped into the state. Heavy rain showers ramed through north-central Kansas and unloaded more than 2 inches on White Church, Mo., in 45 minutes. New Jersey Gov. Thomas H. Kean inspected the wreckage at Berkeley Township from a tornado that slammed the Holiday City and Silver Ridge retirement communities. The storm cut a 3-mile swath through the communities about 50 miles east of Philadelphia.

Faces Up To 5 Years In Prison

Ex-Cop To Be Sentenced In Theft Case

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

A former Lake Mary police lieutenant, who faces up to five years in prison after pleading guilty in April for stealing a handgun from a police evidence locker is expected to be sentenced today in Circuit Court in Sanford.

David E. Higginbotham, 34, of 205 Hays Drive, Sanford, is scheduled to appear for sentencing before Circuit Judge Robert B. MacGregor at 2:30 p.m. in Courtroom C.

Although originally charged with seven criminal counts, including grand theft, trafficking in stolen property and official misconduct, state prosecutors agreed to drop those charges in exchange for Higginbotham's guilty plea.

Higginbotham was arrested Jan. 8, three months after he was indicted on 10 criminal charges. His arrest was delayed because he was undergoing treatment for a gunshot wound to his left leg following an Aug. 28 shooting in which he reportedly was wounded with his own gun.

Higginbotham had reported he was involved in a scuffle with burglary suspects he encountered while on routine patrol at the Southward Orange Groves off County Road 46A. During the scuffle, his gun discharged, wounding him in the leg. The shooting occurred a few days prior to his resignation from the police department. The alleged gunmen were never found.

The state's charges against Higginbotham stemmed from an internal investigation of missing pistols from the Lake Mary Police Department. The probe began after several handguns, seized as evidence in criminal cases, were missing from an evidence locker and sold to area gun shops or auctions. Higginbotham had been custodian of the locker.

PATRIOTIC THIEVES?

Someone stole the American flag from atop its perch at a Mailand service station between 12:30 and 5:50 a.m. Tuesday.

Employees of the Fina service station at 2510 Semoran Blvd. near Howell Branch Road, told deputies the thieves stole the 6-by-12-foot flag from the flagpole in the station's parking lot. The flag is valued at about $500, deputies said.

WOMAN TAKES WOMAN'S MAIL

A Longwood woman told deputies she saw a woman driving a blue Buick stop in front of her home, back the car to the mailbox, steal the mail from the box, then drive away at about 4:30 p.m. Thursday.

Sharon L. Sullivan, 54, of 1999 Lake Emma Road, told deputies she does not know what mail was stolen.

Since The Vietnam War

First American Indicted For Draft Evasion

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The first American indicted since the Vietnam War for refusing to register for the draft insists he "cannot act against my conscience" and will not be intimidated by the threat of a five-year prison term.

Benjamin H. Sasway, 21, a Humboldt State University student from Vista, Calif., was indicted Wednesday by a federal grand jury on one count of failure to register — a felony that carried a maximum five-year prison sentence and a $10,000 fine.

U.S. Attorney Peter K. Nunez said Sasway, who calls his refusal to register a protest against "reckless militarism," was expected to surrender today for arraignment. The prosecutor said he would seek $10,000 in bail.

"I regret that the Justice Department has chosen to prosecute me for performing to the dictates of my conscience," Sasway told UPI late Wednesday. "I must stand against the kind of military misdirection that involved us in Vietnam 15 years ago.

"I must defend vital human rights. I'm not looking forward to trial and possible imprisonment, but I cannot act against my conscience," he added.

"I will not register, and if I have to — I will go to jail." Nunez had "no comment" on why Sasway was chosen as the first person in the nation to be prosecuted for failing to register since registration was resurrected in July 1980 under the Carter administration.

Although young men born in 1960 or later are required to register with Selective Service when they reach 18, there currently is no draft.

"The man has committed a crime, so just like any other criminal, he will be prosecuted," Nunez said.

The Justice Department has referred 160 of 252 cases of non-registration to federal prosecutors nationwide, Nunez said. He

CLERK'S PURSES STOLEN
Someone stole the purses of two Burger King restaurant clerks between 3:30 p.m. Monday and 10:36 a.m. Tuesday, netting about $290.

Trevis Elkins Parsons, 70, and Peggy Ann Acker, 38, who are employed by the Burger King restaurant, at 295 U.S. Highway 17-92, Fern Park, told deputies someone took their purses and stole about $270 and $20, respectively, from them.

Ms. Parsons' purse was later discovered in a grease barrel in a garbage dumpster near the restaurant. Ms. Acker's purse was not recovered, deputies said.

CABINET SHOP HIT

Thieves broke into the Formitex Inc. cabinet warehouse at the Port-of-Sanford and stole a cash box containing an undetermined amount of cash and a $1,000 check.

Manager Harry R. Stiffler, 41, told deputies the thieves apparently pried open the warehouse door and then stole the box sometime between 10 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. Sunday.

SWISS WOMAN CHARGES RAPE

A 45-year-old woman, who told deputies she was raped here from Switzerland and lists a motel off Orlando's South Orange Blossom Trail as her temporary address, said a man forced her into a foreign car and raped her at gunpoint late Wednesday night.

The woman, who speaks little English and relayed the story to deputies with her husband acting as translator, said her attacker forced her into a Japanese model car near the Circus Circus bar on U.S. Highway 17-92, Fern Park, at about 11:30 p.m.

She said the man, brandishing an automatic pistol, drove her to a nearby dead-end street, wrapped a motorcycle chain around her neck and raped her, reports show.

The woman also told deputies that the man copied information from her passport and told her he was a motorcycle gang member and that if she notified police about the rape, he would find her. He also said that he had killed two females whom he raped in recent weeks, deputies reported.

However, deputies said they were confused that the woman understood her attacker but could not understand deputies questions concerning the incident. Deputies also said the woman showed no signs of a chain being wrapped around her neck, did not appear distraught, and that she and her husband gave conflicting information about their last names, reports show.

New Kindergarten Admission Rules Will Be No Problem For Seminole

By MICHAEL BEHA
Herald Staff Writer

Statewide regulations on testing children for early admission to kindergarten should create few problems in Seminole County, according to Mary Groome, county director of elementary education.

Mrs. Groome said today the number of children participating in early testing may increase slightly because of another state law setting the cutoff date Oct. 1 for admission to schools in the state.

Children who are five years old by that date are eligible for kindergarten admission. Children who have their fifth birthday between Oct. 1 and Jan. 1 would have to meet requirements for early admission.

"There probably will be an increase in the number of parents seeking early admission for their children," she said.

Mrs. Groome explained Seminole County schools have a roundup each spring to judge how many new students there will be and how many parents want to have their children tested for early admission.

Although no written standards have been sent to local school administrators yet, Groome said she felt the standards adopted Tuesday will have very little effect on early admission here.

State regulations require children seeking early admission score in the top 20 percent on a test administered by the county, Mrs. Groome said. She added there will be some provision in the rule to consider social and emotional development.

Mrs. Groome said the new setup will be similar to one the state had several years ago for early admission into the first grade.

"Some years ago the state had early admission to first grade," she said. They had tests. You could select one and if you passed you could go into first grade.

"Then we watched them for 20 days. If after that they did okay, they could continue. If not, we consulted with the parents."

Mrs. Groome said that plan was defunct after the state adopted regulations requiring children to pass kindergarten before admission into first grade.

Proposed Lake Mary Budget Calls For Tax Cut, Pay Raises

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

A proposed 1982-83 fiscal year budget, calling for a 4.3 percent cut in property taxes, a 16.8 percent increase in departmental spending and a 10 percent across-the-board pay raise for city employees will be presented to the Lake Mary City Council tonight.

City Manager Phil Kulbes will present the budget message at the 7:30 p.m. meeting of the City Council at City Hall, 150 N. Country Club Road.

Kulbes said today the budget totals $852,563 for the general operation of government and utilities, a 7.5 percent increase over this year's $792,458 spending plan.

The new fiscal year begins Oct. 1.

The general operating budget totals $678,998, up 16.8 percent from the current year's $580,553.

Meanwhile, the proposed water department budget of $148,083 is down by 20 percent over last year's $185,516. The proposed sewer department budget is up slightly from $26,389 to $27,482.

And the rate of property taxation may be reduced from the current $4.35 per $1,000 assessed valuation to $4.16, a 4.3 percent drop.

Kulbes said, however, he will caution the council about the estimated sales tax revenue from the state. He said he is "really scared" of the state estimates, adding that one state official said the estimates could be off by as much as 25 percent.

While the state is estimating Lake Mary will receive $72,000 from that source, only 95 percent, or $68,000, can be budgeted. If the revenues are off by 25 percent that could create a real problem for the city, Kulbes said.

The proposed budget detail is as follows: public works, $47,589, up from $42,965, with the new money used for a mechanic's salary and a new truck; fire department, $47,356, down from $49,142 with a reduction in maintenance due to a new mechanic on the payroll; communications, $55,632, up from $44,026, with the increase used to buy recorders, a new typewriter and salary increases; building and zoning, $5,585, down from $9,850, with less money budgeted for supplies; parks and recreation, $23,502, up from $23,729 with additional money for picnic tables and shelters; administration, $122,235, up from $110,850 with the additional money for salary increases and new furniture; central services, $56,000 up from $46,431, with additional money used to publish the new zoning ordinance and a new amplifying and recording system for City Hall; police, $218,033, up from $202,632, with additional money used for salary increases, new radios, a new vehicle and other supplies.

Freedom For Refugees Coming No Time Soon

MIAMI (UPI) — It may be weeks before any of the nearly 2,000 Haitians being held in detention camps across the country and in Puerto Rico are given their freedom, despite a federal judge's refusal to stay his order releasing the refugees.

Immediately following U.S. District Judge Eugene Spellman's refusal to stay his order Wednesday, government attorneys gave notice they will appeal to the 11th Circuit Court of Appeals in Atlanta in an attempt to block the release order.

FPC Wants A Rate Hike

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Florida Power Corp. says it needs a $169 million rate increase because of inflation, construction costs and high interest rates.

The St. Petersburg-based utility formally filed with the Public Service Commission for the hike Wednesday, joining the state's three other major investor-owned power companies in seeking or intending to seek higher rates this year.

Graham Will Run Again

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Bob Graham and Lt. Gov. Wayne Mixson formally announced their reelection plans at a Tallahassee mens conference this morning and then set off on a four-day, 22-city campaign swing through the state.

White House political advisors said last month that high-ranking national Republican figures would campaign in Florida in an effort to replace the Democratic governor with U.S. Rep. Skip Bafalis, a Republican from Fort Myers Beach.

Israel: Time For PLO Is Quickly Running Out

United Press International

The PLO has agreed in principle to leave Beirut, sources say, but negotiations to solve the Lebanese crisis peacefully were bogged down and a senior Israeli official warned "we are running out of time."

Publicly, the PLO vowed it had no intention of leaving Lebanon, its last sanctuary.

Some observers speculated the Palestinians were merely playing for time, hoping pressure in Israel and around the world would build to a point where an attack on Beirut was politically impossible.

Hijacker Frees Hostages

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI) — A Sri Lankan drug trafficker ended a 33-hour ordeal aboard a hijacked jumbo jet today, freeing the last of 259 hostages and stripping off the explosives wired to his chest in exchange for $300,000 and a flight home.

The pill-popping hijacker, winning his demand to have his Italian wife and 3-year-old son accompany him, was given permission to fly to his homeland seven hours after surrendering to Thai authorities.

Court Ruling May Spur Anti-Busing Campaigns

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A pair of Supreme Court desegregation rulings may spur anti-busing referendums, supporters and opponents of court-ordered school busing predict.

In separate decisions Wednesday, the justices declared voters can limit state court power over desegregation, but cannot ban busing to achieve racial balance.

The court voted, 8-1, to uphold the constitutionality of California's "Proposition 1," but split, 5-4, to strike down Washington's "Initiative 350."

Both ballot measures were approved by voters in statewide referendums.

The cases, which pitted the Reagan administration and anti-busing forces against civil rights groups, resulted in victories and defeats for both sides.

But, in reacting to the California decision, both sides seemed to agree the outcome may spawn new anti-busing ballot drives.

"I think it is definitely possible as a result of this decision other states may try to enact similar statutes," said Rita Walters, the only black member of the Los Angeles school board.

A busing opponent on the same board, Roberta Weintraub, argued the ruling, "signals a national change in policy toward mandatory busing."

"Hopefully other places like Florida and Virginia and other states that have to endure the destruction of the school system will have the same opportunity as California to restore sanity and stability to schools," she added.

The narrow vote in the Washington case also could give indirect encouragement to busing opponents, since a further change of justices during the Reagan administration would likely be in their favor.

Wednesday's outcome drew a strong protest from the court's only black justice, Thurgood Marshall, the lone dissenter in the California case. He argued the rulings are inconsistent because both cases involve attempts "to substantially curtail, if not eliminate, the use of mandatory student assignment or transportation" for desegregation.

Justice Lewis Powell wrote for the majority in the California case. "Proposition 1 does not inhibit enforcement of any federal law or constitutional requirement."

He concluded the state previously had "gone beyond" constitutional requirements to prohibit racial bias in schools and in passing Proposition 1, voters merely "chuse to pull back" by limiting state court power to order busing and pupil reassignments.

Reagan And Brezhnev May Meet This Fall

GENEVA, Switzerland (UPI) — Diplomatic sources said progress in the new round of U.S.-Soviet strategic arms talks could lead to a meeting this fall between President Reagan and Kremlin leader Leonid Brezhnev.

There was no indication a summit was discussed by American and Russian arms negotiators at the first full session of the START arms reduction talks held in secret Wednesday.

But sources reported considerable behind-the-scenes activity on both sides for such a face-to-face meeting. One report said the Soviet foreign minister would visit the conference in Salzburg, Austria, in early October.

Reagan requested a meeting with Brezhnev earlier this month at the United Nations. But the 75-year-old Soviet president, whose lack of public appearances for a month between March and April caused rumors of serious illness, rejected the proposal on grounds a summit requires extensive preparation.

Brezhnev's last meeting with an American president was in 1979 in Vienna, when he and Jimmy Carter signed the SALT II agreement.

The Russians are known to prefer Austria for a summit because its proximity to Soviet territory would mean a less arduous trip for Brezhnev. The Reagan administration reportedly has ruled out Vienna — to avoid recalling the Carter trip — but is willing to consider other locations in the neutral nation.

The United States' failure to ratify the strategic arms limitation pact that Carter signed was one of the Soviets' deepest diplomatic disappointments in recent years.

They entered the new round of arms reduction talks this week still complaining bitterly about the Americans' alleged unreliability in signing a treaty.

Reagan's proposals on START will not be easy for the U.S.S.R. to swallow, since they call for Moscow to dismantle more than half its 5,900 intercontinental ballistic missile nuclear warheads.

Graham Demands Immigration Reform

ORLANDO (UPI) — Gov. Bob Graham says it's about time the nation starts controlling its borders, or be prepared for another massive influx of refugees on the scale of the 1980 Cuban boatlift.

Speaking at the Florida Bar convention Wednesday, Graham called for a lobbying effort to convince Congress to act quickly to reform immigration laws to prevent another "devastating influx" of refugees similar to the Mariel sealift that brought 125,000 Cubans to south Florida.

The governor lamented the "near total breakdown of America's ability to insure the integrity of her border from uncontrolled immigration."

He noted a federal judge in Miami has ordered that 1,910 Haitians be freed from detention centers across the United States and Puerto Rico, and said the state has joined the federal government appealing the order.

Graham also said the U.S. Senate was scheduled to bring floor action on immigration reform legislation in July, but added he had "seen no clear sense of urgency in Congress to act on the issue of immigration reform. And yet, Florida suffers from the failures of our immigration system which became so apparent during the 1980 influx of illegal aliens."

"Under these circumstances, it is imperative that Congress separate the issue of asylum and exclusion from its comprehensive immigration reform measure and put the issues of who can stay, and who must return to their own country, on a fast track."

Warning Issued For New Arthritis Drug

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — A Ralph Nader consumer group that wants to ban the popular new arthritis drug Oralflex — linked to a dozen deaths in Great Britain — says patients should quickly switch to other drugs.

Drug manufacturer Eli Lilly recommended smaller doses of Oralflex for elderly patients in letters to 240,000 physicians. Dr. Sidney Wolfe, director of Nader's Public Citizen Health Research Group, said Wednesday that Lilly's letter was "a very frantic thing for the company to be doing."

"Any patient taking benoxaprofen (the generic name for Oralflex) should go to their doctor and ask to be switched to another drug," Wolfe said.

In letters mailed Tuesday, Eli Lilly recommended physicians prescribe only one-half to two-thirds the usual 600 milligram a day dose of Oralflex for elderly patients. It said such patients should be watched closely for signs of liver or kidney trouble and Oralflex should be discontinued if such problems arise.

"Recent reports in British medical publications have linked Oralflex to cases of hepatic (liver) dysfunction, frequently associated with acute renal (kidney) failure," the letter said.

There are reports of a dozen deaths linked to Oralflex in Britain. Wolfe's group asked June 17 for a federal ban on Oralflex as "an imminent hazard to the public health."

Tigers Go Wild, Thump Red Sox

United Press International
Before Wednesday night's game the Detroit Tiger's batting coach Charles Brown sat down with the players and told them to tone down their homerun swings and take it one base at a time. It evidently took.

American League

The Tigers went out and produced 17 hits Wednesday night, to snap a four-game losing streak with a 12-3 thumping of the Boston Red Sox.

"He told us to concentrate on what you want to do at the plate," said Tom Brookens who, along with Lance Parrish and Kirk Gibson, had three hits in the game.

Mike Ivie drove in four runs with a home run and a single, Alan Trammell hit a two-run homer and Parrish and Tom Brookens collected three hits apiece in Detroit's most prolific offensive display of the season.

Dan Petry worked the first seven innings and gave up five hits to raise his record to 7-5.

"Lately we've been getting away from our game plan and that's to score one run at a time," said Lynn Jones, who replaced Chet Lemon in right field and reached base in each of his first three at-bats.

Boston Manager Ralph Houk was philosophical about the loss.

"I guess they had it coming," Houk said. "They've been having a rough time."

Mariners 10, Blue Jays 4
At Toronto, Richie Zisk slammed a pair of two-run homers and Al Cowens went 4-for-5 to pace a 16-hit attack that carried the Mariners'

New Petty Revs Up For Firecracker 400

DAYTONA BEACH (UPI) — A member of the Petty family will start in the Firecracker 400 this Sunday, marking the first time a Petty drives a car not built by Petty Enterprises in a NASCAR Winston Cup Grand National race.

Kyle Petty, 21-year-old son of Grand National racing's all-time win leader, Richard Petty, will be driving a Buick owned and prepared by Hoss Ellington.

It was announced last week in Chicago that Kyle would part from Petty Enterprises for the eight remaining races on the Winston Cup circuit's super speedways — those more than one mile in length.

The elder Petty has said that fielding two cars out of the same shop in Randleman, N.C., was putting too much of a strain on the team. Neither Petty has won a race this year.
"It's not like I'm leaving Petty Enterprises," Kyle said. "I'm only running eight races in Hoss' car, so it's not like I'm picking up and really leaving. In the other seven (short track) races, I'll still be in my regular No. 42 car."

Pocoroba Singles In 2 Runs For Win

Comeback Braves Do It Again

United Press International
The Atlanta Braves seem to be making come-from-behind victories a standard feature.

"We know we can win in any situation," Bob Horner said Wednesday night after his home run aided an improbable four-run comeback in the ninth inning to give the Braves a 5-4 victory over the Houston Astros.

"This team doesn't have anything to prove anymore about coming from behind," continued Horner, who hit two homers in the game. "We've come from behind in the early innings and the late innings."

Pinch-hitter Biff Pocoroba capped the outburst with a two-run single, making seven times the Braves have rallied to win in the ninth inning or later.

Atlanta Manager Joe Torre said, "(Phil) Niekro pitched well tonight. When you only give up three runs you expect to have a chance to win."

With Atlanta trailing 4-1, Dale Murphy and Horner led off the ninth with solo homers on consecutive pitches off loser Bob Knepper, 2-9. Rufino Linares singled to left and Chris

America's Team

Chambliss had an infield single, knocking out Knepper in favor of Randy Moffitt. Bruce Benedict forced Linares while trying to sacrifice. Brett Butler ran for Chambliss and Jerry Royster ran for Benedict. Pinch-hitter Larry Whitson walked to load the bases before Pocoroba singled to right, giving Carlos Diaz the victory in his first major-league appearance.

Pocoroba is 13 for his last 25 over nine games and appears to be enjoying the winning atmosphere.

"It's an attitude that hasn't been here in the eight years I've been in Atlanta," he said. "I think we've got it this year if everybody stays healthy."

The start of the game was delayed one hour and 52 minutes by rain.

In the American League, it was: Milwaukee 9, New York 7 in 12 innings; Seattle 10, Toronto 4; Detroit 12, Boston 3; Cleveland 9, Baltimore 0; Texas 5, California 3; Oakland 4, Kansas City 0; and Minnesota 4, Chicago 3.

Phillies 6, Cardinals 3

At Philadelphia, Larry Christenson, winless since May 15, stroked a two-run double to highlight a three-run second inning and the Phillies regained first place in the East Division.

Pirates 7, Cubs 3

At Chicago, Johnny Ray snapped a 2-2 tie with a fifth-inning single and pinch-hitter Willie Stargell hit a three-run homer, his first since August 1980, to lead the Pirates.

Expos 4, Mets 1

At Montreal, Tim Wallach and Gary Carter hit solo homers in support of Bill Gullickson, 5-7, who struck out 10 batters in 7 1/3 innings before Jeff Reardon earned his 13th save.

Giants 7, Reds 6

At San Francisco, Johnnie LeMaster scored from third base on a wild pitch by Charlie Liebbrandt with two out in the bottom of the 12th to lift the Giants.

Dodgers 5-4, Padres 1-6

At Los Angeles, Dusty Baker smashed a grand slam in the fifth to propel the Dodgers. In the nightcap, Terry Kennedy's pinch-hit, three-run homer in the fifth brought San Diego from behind to lead the Padres.

We know we can win in any situation.

Braves Option Butler

ATLANTA (UPI) — The Atlanta Braves optioned outfielder Brett Butler and first basemen-outfielder Kenny Smith to their Richmond Class AAA farm team today and activated outfielder Terry Harper and recalled outfielder Bob Porter.

Harper had been on the disabled list since breaking his thumb May 30 two games after being called up from Richmond. Porter was hitting .299 at Richmond with seven homers and 42 runs batted in.

For Friday, July 2, 1982

YOUR BIRTHDAY
July 2, 1982
A hobby or avocation in which you're interested looks like it will be turned into something profitable this coming year. You will find a co-worker who will help make this possible.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
Your productivity can be enhanced today if you don't lock yourself in on tedious methods and procedures. Look for new ways to do the job better. Predictions of what's in store for you for each season following your birth date and where your luck and opportunities lie are in your Astro-Graph, Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
If you are getting together with friends for a social activity today, try to steer them away from going to their usual haunts. New places will be more fun.

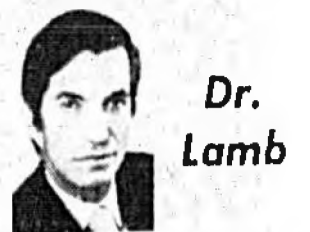

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
If your house is a bit cluttered today, it's best to put things in order early. Unexpected dropins could disrupt what you planned to do.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 21)
You're likely to be rather restless today, so try not to involve yourself with things which tie you down to a fixed base. You'll be happiest moving about freely.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
Should you decide to go shopping today, take along a little extra cash. There's a possibility that you could spot an unusual bargain.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
You're fun to be around today, because others

Exercising Stomach? Protect Back, Too

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am a 60-year-old female who has been dieting for four months and I have lost 30 pounds. I wanted to firm up my abdomen so I decided to try the leg lifts as you suggested in your Health Letter. I got on my back, on the floor and raised my knees to my chest and then straightened my legs. I could do this only about five times. Tonight I had such pain in my back that I could hardly walk.

I have decided to lay off the exercises for a couple of days and then go back to lifting one leg at a time to reduce the lower abdomen. Any help you can give me will be appreciated.

DEAR READER — Congratulations on losing 30 pounds. I think you did it a bit too rapidly; I prefer people to lose about one pound a week, particularly if it is a long-term project. No doubt your rapid weight loss caused you to lose some muscle and some muscle strength. That may have made it more difficult for you to do leg lifts.

You are correct in using leg lifts to firm up the lower abdomen. Sit-ups only help the upper abdomen. And your story should warn people that overdoing it can give you a sore back. Anyone who has back trouble should consult with his doctor before doing any exercise program.

You need to help protect your back by being sure to pull in and hold your lower abdominal muscles taut when you straighten your knees. Don't hold your legs straight out and strain your back muscles.

It is wise to use just one leg if you have very weak muscles or have difficulty in doing leg lifts. Another alternative is not to straighten the knees but simply lift the knees to the chest and then let your feet return to the floor with the knees still bent until you start to strengthen those lower abdominal muscles. But I want to emphasize again the importance of tightening those lower abdominal muscles when you straighten your knees.

Other who want the program for decreasing an expanding waistline can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for The Health Letter number 17-12, Winning the Battle of the Bulge. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Do you have anything on gaining weight? There are lots of ads on losing it but I want to gain. I smoke two packs a day. I don't drink any longer. I eat regular meals but I'm 6 feet tall and weigh between 140 and 150. I can't seem to get over 150.

DEAR READER — Rejoice! You may live longer because you are not overweight. There is one point in your letter that disturbs me, though, your smoking. Some reports in recent years have suggested that people who were thin did not live as long as people who were a little more plump. The catch is that the thin people were also smokers. And we know that smoking can decrease a person's life span by 14 years, sooner in some instances.

You don't want to add fat to your body. It won't do a thing except decrease your level of health. If you really want to gain weight, stop smoking entirely. Then keep a food diary and see how many calories you are consuming. If you find that your calorie intake is too low you may need to change your foods. And start an exercise program that will help you develop an average amount of body muscle, so you won't just add fat.

WIN AT BRIDGE

North had responded two no-trump to show weakness and then bid five hearts to invite a slam and South had accepted.

West's failure to open a diamond had indicated that he just did not hold a diamond to lead.

South had been careful not to cover that queen of clubs lead with dummy's king. You also know that South must hold the ace-deuce of diamonds among his collection of good cards. What is the rest of his hand?

Probably no clubs at all, but possibly just one. Then a long heart suit headed by ace-king-queen and almost surely ace-queen and some other spades.

Now that you have thought like the declarer you put your ace of clubs on your partner's queen. If declarer ruffs you may have allowed him to get an eventual diamond discard on the club king. But that discard will merely be giving him an overtrick.

As it is, declarer held a singleton club. You get your club ace and give your partner the all-important diamond ruff.
