Possible kidnap attempt foiled

LONGWOOD — Seminole County sheriff's department investigators are looking into an alleged attempted kidnaping that occurred in the Wekiwa subdivision on Monday morning.

According to sheriff's spokesman George Proechel, the woman was walking along an exercise trail in the subdivision at about 10:40 a.m. when a man driving an older model car turned in front of her and began talking to her. She ignored him and continued walking away and then began to run. When she ran, Proechel said, the man allegedly got out of his car and began to chase after her shouting, "Don't run from me baby. Come back here baby."

After a few minutes, however, sheriff's department reports indicate the man abandoned the chase.

According to investigators, the man is described as a white male, about 38 years old with long brown hair. He is about 5'8" tall and weighs about 180 pounds. He was wearing a dark shirt and black jeans. He had a gold pinky ring on his left hand.

The car is described as a dark two-door, early model 1970s vehicle, possibly a Chevrolet Monte Carlo or Oldsmobile Cutlass, bearing a possible Florida tag number JUF 30Q.

Proechel said the investigation into the case is continuing.

All Souls classes begin tomorrow

SANFORD — While public school students in Seminole County who are attending school on the traditional calendar have a few more days of rest and relaxation to look forward to, those enrolled at All Souls Catholic School, 810 Oak Ave., will be hitting the books at 8 a.m. Thursday.

Though principal Margaret Curran likes to keep the schedule at her school pretty close to that of the public schools, she felt the extra couple of days were needed to help students get back into the swing of things before buckling down for work next week.

"We're preparing for another strong year of hard work," Curran said.

The first classes will get underway at 8 a.m. on Thursday.

All Souls Catholic School is a private school affiliated with All Souls Catholic Church in Sanford.

Judge rules in favor of teen

SARASOTA — A judge ruled today that Kimberly Mays' biological parents should have no contact with the teen-ager swapped at birth in 1978 and declared the man who raised her to be her legal father.

Circuit Judge Stephen Dakan stopped short of granting Kimberly's wish of getting a "divorce" from birth parents Ernest and Regina Twigg because the man who raised her, Robert Mays, is the legal father, according to Judy Lee, legal assistant to Kimberly's attorney Arthur Ginsburg.

The effect of this judgment is that the plaintiffs (the Twiggs) have no legal interest in or rights to Kimberly Mays," the ruling said. "Robert Mays' legal status as father of Kimberly Mays remains unchanged."

The decision came a week and a day after a civil trial in which 14-year-old Kimberly sought to "divorce" the Twiggs so she could preserve her life with Mays, the man who raised her since the switch at a rural Florida hospital.

Armed robbers strike

Lake Mary bicyclist assaulted; one home invaded

By NICK PFEIFAU
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — A gun-wielding robber and his three companions may be responsible for a home invasion and for the robbery of a bicyclist in Lake Mary, a sheriff's spokesman said.

Seminole County sheriff's department spokesman George Proechel said there may be a connection between the two cases reported early Tuesday.

Lake Mary Police Capt. Sam Bellone explained, "At approximately 2:35 a.m. Tuesday, a man was making a phone call in front of a convenience store at Country Club Road and Lake Mary Blvd. when four men drove up in a low rider vehicle."

"One man got out and went to the person on the phone demanding money," Bellone said.

When the man said he didn't have any, the person from the car reportedly told his companions, "Let's go, he ain't got no money," and got back inside the vehicle.

Then another man got out of the car wearing a black ski mask and carrying a semi-automatic pistol," he continued. "This man wanted the victim's bike and when the victim refused, the robber hit him in the head with the pistol, pulled the bike in the car, and the four drove off."

The victim, whose name was not revealed, was a 20-year-old Lake Mary resident. He was hospitalized for injuries and released from the hospital.

County aids low-income homebuyers

Agency grants focus on Sanford housing

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald Senior Staff Writer

SANFORD — Seven agencies are seeking nearly $1 million from a county affordable housing program which has $460,000 to distribute.

Many of the nine proposals are for low- and very-low-income homebuyer assistance in Sanford-area neighborhoods. The applications will be reviewed by a selection committee in September, said Buddy Balagala, county community development planner.

The grant ceiling set by the county was $290,250 for owner housing and $169,750 for rental housing and must provide housing assistance for either low- or very-low-income families.

A very-low-income family of four in Seminole County earns no more than $20,000 annually under county guidelines, which are established by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. A low-income family of four could earn no more than $32,000 during a year.

Of the agencies submitting grant proposals Monday, one notable exclusion was GoldenRule Housing and Community Development Corp. County contracts analyst Linda Jones said GoldenRule president Amelia Geuka turned the application in nine minutes after the 2 p.m. cutoff time Monday.

Geuka said he accepted the disqualification due to lateness, but said his primary concern was that very-low-income families would be served by the prospective grant recipients.

"My only real concern is that the very-low-income people are served," said Geuka.

Calling Orlando gets easier

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald Senior Staff Writer

SANFORD — Beginning at midnight Thursday night, residents of Sanford, Lake Mary and Geneva will join the greater Orlando community by telephoning each other without first punching 1-407.

Seven-digit Orlando calling drops to north Seminole County Sunday night but not for a while. Each call will cost residents of Southern Bell customers a penny, regardless of the duration of the conversation. Business customers will pay a dime for the first minute and six cents for each additional minute.

Currently, both business and residential customers pay 18 cents for the first minute and 12 cents for additional minutes.

Residential customers who call Orlando more than 20 times a month can save with Southern Bell's Premium Local Plan. They'll pay $16 a month, plus a charge that amount is more than four times the $3.50 rate. Southern Bell offers proposed last year for unlimited toll-free calling.

Southern Bell area director Larry Strickler said residential and business customers will be notified by mail. See Phone, Page 5A

Once just an idea, Sanford mall gains form

An artist's rendering of the main entrance to Seminole Towne Center Mall, Sanford.

SANFORD — The first artistic renderings of the Seminole Towne Center Mall have been revealed. With ground-breaking set for Sept. 9, promotion of the mall has started.

In addition to the exterior, another drawing has been made depicting the interior at the center of the mall, with modern architecture and many trees and plants under a clear skylight-type roof.

Todd Persons Communications Inc. of Orlando has been awarded the public relations contract for the original ground-breaking.

According to Bud Brewer of the firm, ground-breaking will be Sept. 9, at 8:15 a.m. on the site of the grand opening scheduled for Sept. 7, 1993.

The mall will be a two-level, enclosed regional mall, developed by Melvin Simon & Associates of Irving, Texas. Simon is also associated with retail projects in Florida including Fashion Mall in Planting, West Town Corners, Altamonte Springs, Royal Eagle Lakes, Coral Springs and Gateway Plaza, Ocala.

Five major department stores are currently under contract. They include Dillard's, Fatsion, J.C. Penney, Burdines, and Sears.

At one time, discussions were reportedly had with Montgomery Ward, but nothing has been revealed. Billie Scott, at the Simon's Indianapolis office, commented, "That's something about which we have to wait and see. Nothing has been agreed to."

Baptist church plans major expansion downtown

By NICK PFEIFAU
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — The First Baptist Church of Sanford plans a massive expansion program downtown.

Requests for needed variances will be presented to the Sanford Planning and Zoning Commission this Thursday night.

At the core of the expansion, is plans to build a new sanctuary, which would be near the corner of 5th Street and Park Avenue. Immediate plans call for the present sanctuary to remain and be used as a chapel or for other purposes.

The overall plan involves modernization and enlargement of the Sunday School educational building which may eventually hold a pre-school learning center in addition to more classrooms.

Fellowship Hall, which has been determined to be too small for the church membership, approximately 600, will eventually undergo a major expansion program.

Among considerations for variances to be discussed by P&Z are several setback distances along 4th and 5th Streets, which at times are listed as narrower than the 25 feet normally required.

Some variances are also being suggested in order to preserve four large live oak trees along Park Avenue, ranging in diameter from 32 to 50 inches.

The Historic Preservation Board meeting on Aug. 5 did a courtesy review of the proposed plans. Askinging to BBP Secretary, Dennis Turner. They felt that it was worth having a large church in that area of Sanford that brings people to the area.

She indicated the board also included the church committee in their efforts, but expressed some concern over several matters of design and the massive scale of brick on the building.

Betty Sonnenberg, Land Development coordinator, has been named. See Church, Page 5A

American admits to bombing

MIAMI — An American who worked for the secret police under then-military ruler Gen. Augusto Pinochet has blamed the feared security service of ordering the assassination of former Foreign Minister Orlando Letelier.

In a Miami interview, Michael Vernon Townley admitted to Chilean television that he planted the bomb that blew up Letelier's car in Washington on Sept. 21, 1976. Letelier, a prominent foe of Pinochet, and an American aide, Ronni Moffitt, were killed in the blast.

Townley said Pinochet was not aware of the plot to assassinate the socialist leader.

Townley said Gen. Manuel Contreras, head of Pinochet's secret police known as DINA, and his second in command, Col. Pedro Espinoza, ordered the assassination.

Both Espinoza and Contreras were indicted in 1978 by a Washington court in the Letelier killing, but the Chilean Supreme Court turned down requests for their extraditions.

Credit union robbed

PENSACOLA — A man wearing tan coveralls similar to those of employees robbed the credit union just inside a gate at a Monsanto chemical plant and then vanished, a company spokeswoman said.

Two of the plant's four gates were shut after the robbery and vehicles were searched as they entered and left through the remaining gates, said spokeswoman Lisa Adams.

The plant returned to normal operations at 4:15 p.m. CDT Tuesday after authorities concluded three hours after the robbery took place the suspect apparently had left the grounds.

The robber, wearing dark glasses, claimed he had explosives and threatened a teller with them, but no one was injured, Adams said. The suspect also said he had the virus that causes AIDS and had planted bombs around the plant, according to FBI Agent Fred McFaul.

A check of the plant by the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms turned up no explosives.

Target gets a new home

PENSACOLA — A new home has been found for a stray dog that animal shelter workers dubbed Target because he had been shot through the nose with an arrow.

"I thought that any dog that had suffered like that deserved a little fun," Saralyn Englert said upon adopting the dog Monday at the Escambia County Animal Shelter.

The mixed-breed dog, white with brown spots, was found July 30. The arrow had been shot into his nose, passing through his soft palate and then out one side of the neck.

A veterinarian at the Pensacola Animal Emergency Clinic removed the arrow and stitched the wounds closed.

Hundreds of people called to ask about him after news reports of his injuries. Ms. Englert and a friend, Carl Varney, waited at the shelter for 3 1/2 hours before it opened so they could claim Target.

Rock guitarist arrested in dispute

MIAMI — Swedish heavy metal guitarist Yngwie Malmsteen, barefoot and in a bathrobe, was arrested and charged with aggravated assault after a domestic dispute involving his 19-year-old girlfriend and her mother.

"I have no idea what's up," said a handcuffed Malmsteen as he was led Tuesday to a waiting police car in front of his suburban Miami Shores home.

The incident began after Elaine Potter reported that her daughter, Amber Landin, was being held against her will by the artist, who has a big following in Europe.

"He has some obsession with her," said Potter, who police say lives in Phoenix. "Whoever tries to get her out away from him, he's going to kill them."

Potter said Malmsteen took out a shotgun and said if she tried to take back her daughter to Arizona, "you are going to find out how this gun works."

SHDWA hears Chamber plans

By NICK PFEIFAU
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Dave Farr was the guest speaker at Tuesday's meeting of SHDWA, Sanford Historic Downtown Waterfront Association. He presented his view of Sanford's future potential.

Several dozen business owners and operators were on hand to hear his talk on "challenges and opportunities for downtown merchants." The meeting was held at the First Street Gallery, 203 E. First Street.

As he began his remarks, Farr said, "I want to challenge you to a new paradigm of thinking."

He repeatedly challenged the merchants to think differently in their approach to business.

Early in his talk, Farr asked the audience to quickly name five businesses which had closed in the past 60 days. Receiving no response, he expanded the time period to 90 days.

Eventually, five were named which had closed during the past five to six months.

"OK," he said, "then how many new businesses have opened in the same period?" Nine were mentioned.

"Sanford is not going to hell in a handbasket," he pointed out. "Don't dwell on the negative. When I hear some less than positive remarks, I ask where did they hear that. They invariably say, from the merchants."

"You are your own worst

enemy," he told the audience. Farr also gave suggestions on different approaches to business, and put it to an advantage. "For example the Celery City Cruisers staging a rally every month downtown. If you can't sell shoes, sell popcorn, but be there," he said.

Farr listed the good things which he sees happening such as the expansion of Second Image, the future expansion of Colonial Room, the Main Street Program, and the Seminole Towne Center Mall, expected to produce many new jobs.

"Although I realize I'm preaching to the choir," he said, "I challenge you to look at things differently, get involved, and change," he concluded.

Dial-a-map available to Florida motorists this year

By Associated Press

ORLANDO — An innovative service guiding motorists from one location to another will soon be available through pay telephones in metropolitan areas throughout Florida, company officials say.

The TeleMap system is hooking up with United Telephone Co. in Orlando within a month. The service will be offered later this year with other partners in Miami, Fort Lauderdale and Palm Beach.

The American Automobile Association conducted a successful test in Orlando earlier this year of the TeleMap concept created by Wayfinder Inc., of Chestnut Ridge, N.Y.

Motorists will be able to dial pay telephones to get explicit "doorknob-to-doorknob" directions for $1.95 a call within the Orlando area, officials said Tuesday.

Users will dial the computerized, 24-hour service, enter the telephone number of the desired destination and receive detailed narrative driving instructions, including driving distances between each segment of the trip.

"TeleMap gives everyone the advantage of having an efficient, interactive electronic service at their fingertips so they can find out exactly how to get where they're going before they even start the car," said Charles Savage, president of Wayfinder.

In addition to the point-to-point service within metropolitan areas, TeleMap will be offered on a national highway network — providing directions from a section of one city to that in another city — later this year, said Anthony Volpe, Wayfinder's executive vice president.

Wayfinder, in partnership with firms in rental cars, lodging and the communications industry, will also expand its metropolitan service to Chicago, Detroit, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Washington and Baltimore by the end of 1993, Volpe said.

Wayfinder has signed an agreement with Sprint/United Telephone-Florida, a subsidiary of Sprint Corp., to provide TeleMap service in Orlando. Fifty sites will offer printed route instructions utilizing a public phone-facsimile device.

Mas Canosa suspected of using black as front

By Associated Press

MIAMI — Dade County officials suspect the leader of a powerful Cuban exile organization used a black contractor to serve as a front for his company to secure millions of dollars in public contracts.

County inspectors have refused to grant a special status to MBL Paving, the company hoping to obtain county contracts as a black-owned contractor. The Miami Herald reported in a story for today's editions.

Inspectors suspect the company is a minority front that helped the family of Jorge Mas Canosa, chairman of the Cuban American National Foundation. Mas and the exile group have been an effective lobby both in the White House and in Congress on the United States' policy toward Cuba.

The Mas family controls Church & Tower of Florida and Church & Tower Inc. in Miami.

"MBL is effectively controlled by another company, Church and Tower," said Greg Owens, director of Dade County's economic development office. "MBL has not demonstrated that it is a truly independent business operation."

Additional lawsuits filed against freighter

By Associated Press

TAMPA — While testimony continued into the causes of the fiery collision among two barges and a freighter in Tampa Bay, two federal lawsuits accused the freighter and its crew caused the accident.

Maritrans, owners of the Ocean 255 barge, and Bouchard Transportation Co., which owns the Bouchard barge and tug involved in the crash, alleged incompetence and neglect on the part of the crew of Balsa 37.

Both lawsuits filed Tuesday alleged that the Balsa crew did not maintain a proper and alert lookout; that the ship was going too fast; that those in charge of the ship allowed it to be piloted in a negligent and careless manner.

Both companies already have filed lawsuits against the owners of the Balsa. Bouchard filed its lawsuit in anticipation the Balsa owners will begin limitation of liability proceedings, which could limit their liability in the crash to the value of the freighter, said Carl Nelson, attorney for Bouchard.

Also Tuesday, testimony before the Marine Board of Investigation said Balsa's engines weren't thrown into reverse until nine minutes after the initial collision, according to records from the ship.

That contradicts earlier testimony from Capt. Thomas Baggett, who had told the board that he ordered the engines "full astern" while trying to maneuver between two oncoming barges.

Records from the Balsa 37, an outbound Philippine freighter loaded with phosphate, surfaced during hearings into the cause of the Aug. 10 accident. The crash left one barge in flames and another leaking oil that officials still are trying to clean up.

C. Steven Yerrid, Baggett's

attorney, downplayed the significance of the logged times, saying the accuracy could be questioned because they were written down during a confusing and hectic time.

Earlier in the day, Baggett wrapped up his testimony by reiterating that the three vessels — the Balsa, Seafarer and the tugboat Capt. Fred Bouchard and its barge, B155 — shouldn't have been in the same area of the channel at the same time.

POLICE BRIEFS

Open container violation charged

Sheriff's deputies arrested Arthur Wilber Bimbo, with no local address, in a parking lot on Lake Emma Road near Lake Mary on Saturday. Deputies discovered two opened bottles of vodka in his pockets. He was charged with disorderly intoxication and possession of an open container of alcohol.

Disorderly conduct charged

Eddie Randolph Bush, 34, 1105 First Drive, Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police early Monday. Police said he refused to leave when asked to do so, during a dispute between his brother and another man. Bush was charged with disorderly conduct.

Double arrest

Dwight David Long, 40, 668 E. Seminole Avenue, Longwood, was arrested on Highway 17-92 in Longwood by sheriff's deputies Sunday. He was found to be wanted on a Leon County warrant for violation of parole on a conviction of sale/purchase of cocaine. During a search, deputies said they uncovered a silver pipe in his possession. He was also charged with possession of drug paraphernalia.

Cops say gun found under seat

Sanford police arrested Edwin Earl Whatley, 30, 2404 Cedar Avenue, Sanford, in front of a store in the 2000 block of S. French Avenue. Police said they were responding to a call about a man seen sitting in his car loading a gun. When Watley drove away, he was stopped by police at 9th Street and Oak Avenue. He was found to have a Derringer handgun under the driver's seat of the vehicle. He was charged with carrying a concealed firearm, and carrying a concealed firearm by a convicted felon.

More charges against Smith

Sanford police have placed more charges against Kevin Lee Smith, 19, of 2545 Park Avenue. Smith has already been charged in a number of burglaries in the Sanford area during the past few months, and is being held in the John E. Polk Correctional Facility. In the latest cases, police filed charges against Smith on Monday, related to two break-ins. One was at the Dairy Queen, 2523 S. Orlando Drive on July 29, in which $40 was reportedly taken. The other was nearby at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, 2525 S. Orlando Drive. Although nothing was taken at the church, damage was reportedly done.

In each case, Smith has been charged with burglary and theft.

Shoplifting reported

Sanford police arrested John Edward Powell, 26, 631 Rose Cliff Circle, Sanford, on Monday. According to the police report, Powell reportedly attempted to remove three rolls of border wallpaper from a retail store in the 3600 block of Orlando Drive. A store security guard said Powell had placed the items in a boxed toy, that he had paid for the toy but not the wallpaper. The police report said the store security guard "forceably subdued" Powell in the parking lot. He was charged with retail theft, and resisting a merchant without violence.

Fight arrest

Longwood police arrested Thomas E. Winterer, 40, of 391 Palmetto Avenue in Longwood, on Monday. Police said Winterer apparently entered a man's home in the 400 block of Palmetto, and struck him with a beer can. The police report said Winterer apparently returned, at which time the homeowner attempted to defend himself with a baseball bat, but the bat was taken away from him and he was struck with it. Winterer has been charged with burglary and battery.

Domestic violence

Citrus industry cans Reynolds over publicity

By The Associated Press

LAKELAND — Burt Reynolds is out as a television spokesman for Florida orange juice as a result of the recent tabloid publicity surrounding his impending divorce.

The citrus industry cannot afford to let its image "get lost in all the hoopla," said member James Huff of the Florida Citrus Commission.

The Florida Department of Citrus this week yanked Reynolds' nationwide TV ads touting the virtues of the Sunshine State's principal product.

The publicity surrounding the actor's marital problems is "overshadowing the message we are trying to get through," said department spokesman Eric Boomhower.

Reynolds' one-year, $500,000 contract will not be renewed in November, and his TV spots are being replaced with others that have run earlier, Boomhower said.

The state agency had dropped one of Reynolds' four commercials in June after the actor filed for divorce because it featured the voice of his wife, Loni Anderson.

Reynolds, who lives in Martin County and attended Florida State University, and Anderson have been at the center of a media blitz since their separation.

Tabloids have featured stories about an extramarital affair reportedly carried on by Reynolds with a cocktail waitress in Tampa.

The Florida Citrus Commission, which runs the department, may hire someone else later this year, Boomhower said.

Lake Mary hot line proving successful

By NICK PFRIFAPUP
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — A citizens hot line providing Lake Mary residents with an avenue to voice complaints has proven highly successful. To date, over 90 percent of the calls have been resolved.

The hot line telephone was established at the Lake Mary City Hall, at the beginning of the year. From a central receiving point for complaints, calls are routed to various departments which may be responsible for handling the problems.

Since the beginning of the year, the city has recorded 122 calls. Of that number, 114 have been declared resolved.

Of the 15 hot line calls received during the month of July, the largest number of complaints to the city regarded a change in cable television programming in the Lake Mary area.

One complained about the removal of the comedy channel. Another objected to the line-up of programming.

As the city has no direct control over specific cable TV programming, the calls were turned over to cable company officials for response.

Other calls regarded such matters as drainage, requests for fencing and street lighting, and trash pickups.

Commissioners are presented with a report each month on all the calls, and what action has been taken, or the response given.

Administrative Assistant Susan Thorne who operates the hot line phone said most of the people who call are very polite. "While I'm sure they are sincerely concerned," she said, "hardly any of them have been impolite. They just want to inform us of their problems and needs, and that's the purpose of the hot line."

The phone number is 324-3058 and is manned during regular city hall operation hours. On off hours or during weekends, the phone has an answering machine on which messages are recorded.

The next hot line report will be forwarded to the commission for information at this Thursday's City Commission meeting.

After school care critical

With school ready to resume, many parents are once again concerned about what their younger children will do during off-hours. Luckily, we have an active YMCA in the area.

Each year, we hear of youngsters who are ordered to stay at home, unsupervised, between the close of school and the parents' arrival from work.

Problems often occur when children are left at home alone. Not in every case, but frequently enough to produce a serious concern.

Most parents do whatever they can to prevent their youngsters from running the streets during these time periods. In a few cases, a relative or baby sitter may be available to keep an eye on the children. However, these instances are rare.

The time when parents are unavailable for those after-school hours is most critical. These are the hours when even a "good" youngster can become involved in trouble, possibly stirred by others of his or her age group.

We are fortunate to have an organization such as the Central Florida YMCA for after-school programs.

Located on Longwood-Lake Mary Road, south of Lake Mary, transportation may seem to be a problem.

The YMCA however, is conducting these afternoon classes at almost all elementary schools within the Sanford, Lake Mary and Longwood areas.

The classes begin when school is out, and continue until as late as 6 p.m. on all school days.

In this way, after-school programs are available to all.

YMCA officials have indicated the programs are not baby-sitting. There are outdoor activities, a time period for homework, and free play indoors.

The schools are providing the facilities. The YMCA is supplying the programs and supervision.

There is a fee, but for the services provided, it is minimal.

The YMCA deserves a round of applause for providing a program designed to serve area families during this new school year.

Keep this in mind whenever the call goes out to support your YMCA. It's an outstanding organization and well worth our help.

Lift up your voice

I'm appalled that the citizens of Seminole County would let our commissioners control them and their thinking without lifting up their voices or at least do something to prove their care. Don't you realize they are trying to take our tax dollars and give it to Orlando for things that Orlando could have taken care of themselves. But, no, they build courthouses, ballparks. Million dollar men to play ball taking taxes from the homeowner but are afraid to go farther so they (mayor) strokes Seminole County commissioners to get our hard-earned money.

All their buildings and that Science building and the Arts building I know has been there since 1970. Now why didn't they say that was first, no, they went after everything else. And they also want us to help with their zoo with how much money? per year, a million dollars, did I hear? We have our own zoo and are trying to build our area up. That million dollars could buy our land to expand on our own, but frankly, I like our small zoo. The animals learn to know us and they feel trusting with us. What is behind the sudden urge to give our money away. The people work very hard to earn their money. Maybe our state attorney should take a look at such a move.

Now leave our money in our county alone. God knows we have plenty of needs here and if anyone is going to be stroked, it better be in Seminole County. We people may have to have our own Boston Tea Party, southern style, right here in the Sanford area. Now, fill the meeting halls and start a partisan's drive to remove the "Big Daddies" out of office.

Now watch the raises start up in the commissioners' salaries. They have enough salary now, no more! England is the only one left with a queen parasite, we don't need one here that does nothing but cuts ribbons and spades up some sand.

Budget bill: Pin the tail on a dinosaur

There is something sad to say about the budget bill, but let's talk first about stupid and silly.

There are conservatives who announce, with certitude, that the deal will drive the economy into a brick wall. There are liberals who trumpet, with surety, that the same deal will restore economic vigor.

This is "economic illiteracy." The budget plan runs for five years. The current Gross Domestic Product amounts to about $6 trillion per year. Over five years it will amount to an aggregate estimated $36 trillion, very big bucks.

By contrast, the deficit reduction allegedly amounts to $496 billion, 1.4 percent of the $36 trillion. Big leverage it ain't. Surety and certainty it ain't. It's a little tail on a big mother dinosaur, which is currently galumphing through the forest on its own, as is its habit.

There has been a serious contest about whether Republicans or Democrats win the booby prize for overstated political rhetoric in this matter. And the winner is ... the Republicans!

After all, the likeliest scenario is that the $6 trillion economic dinosaur, barely impacted by the Washington bipartisan liars club, will continue to crunch forward, just as it has been doing. What then will Republicans, who have predicted recession, say on the hustings in 1994? Perhaps: "We were wrong! Vote Democratic!"

Depend on it. Still, the GOP can clean up in 1994. They will claim it's the biggest tax increase in history (false, if measured in uninflated dollars and/or related to the GDP). Of course, Democrats will claim it is the biggest deficit reduction in history (false, for the same reason). But the taxes (even though mostly hitting the well-to-do) roll through the entire economy, while the deficit reduction is slim, and invisible for a long time.

There has been other silliness. I loved the part about "reversing Reaganism." Oh, really. The zero tax rate for poor people was of Reagan vintage, and remains unreversed. And I did not expect a prominent rationale for a "Yes" vote to be "saving Clinton's presidency." Say what? Wasn't the idea to save America's economy?

Beyond silly and stupid, there is sadness. Clinton ran on "change." Granted, that means different things to different people. But the best of Clinton's language captured most of us. It will be a long time until we hear again words as radical and right as the trumpet calls to "end welfare as we know it" and to stop "something for nothing."

This deal hardly touches that. It is partly because the entire political establishment chickened out on "entitlements," those ravenous programs that grow without specific congressional appropriations, driving deficits skyward. Deficit hawks believe that a real change in attitude is in the air and that gutsy political leadership could have put a lid on things.

But the biggest problem can be refined down further than that. Deficit hawks don't often differentiate between entitlements. Yet, the trouble with some entitlements are only that they cost more than we want to pay.

There is something sad to say about the budget bill, but let's talk first about stupid and silly.

For a moment, military lost track

BOSTON — You have to give them stars for consistency. The military regularly manages to resolve matters of human relationships with the delicacy, the finesse, the sheer sensitivity of an assault vehicle on enemy terrain.

This time the Marine Corps looked deeply into the problems of young military marriages and came up with a family policy: No Family. Or at least no marriage.

The edict came down from Marine Corps Commandant Carl Mundy that as of 1995, the Marines would be looking for a few good singles. They would stop recruiting married civilians. No husbands or wives need apply. Moreover, if Marines on their first tour of duty wanted to marry they would have to consult with their commanding officers for a dose of discouragement.

What a simple solution to a complex situation. It harks back to the old saying that if the military wanted you to have a family they would have issued you one.

It was also evidence that the Marine Corps has learned astoundingly little from the flap over gays in the military. Imagine, if you will, a policy that forbids recruiters from asking about sexual orientation but forces them to ask about marital status.

Imagine a policy that accepts closeted gays and rejects openly marrieds. A policy for young soldiers that forbids homosexual sex and discourages married sex, leaving open the possibilities of celibacy, non-marital relations or in Congresswoman Pat Schroeder's phrase, "cold showers."

Not surprisingly it turned out that Gen. Mundy had some relationship problems of his own. Not with his wife whom, by the way, he married before he joined the Marine Corps at 22 years old. His problems were with Defense Secretary Les Aspin. Mundy had apparently neglected to share his, uh, feelings with Aspin. Who apparently freaked out.

(Dear Gen. Mundy: Have you ever tried therapy? Can this professional marriage be saved? Are you suffering from that old familiar lament of troubled couples: a breakdown of communications?)

Within hours of hearing about the singles order, Aspin overruled it. But a Pentagon spokesman said only that the secretary hadn't had a chance to "consider" it.

What's really worth considering is the reasoning behind the No Family Policy. As a commandant, Gen. Mundy is not all that different from CEOs or branch managers who sometimes wish they could rid themselves of the messy human problem of family attachments. Or should I say, encumbrances.

Mundy's stated concerns were about "readiness." He said that military life was tough on marriage and shaky marriages were tough on military life. Only 10 percent of married marines re-enlisted, he lamented. The pressures of the job, such as long separations, strained families and those strains meant troubled soldiers.

"Eventually," he wrote, "the weight of family-related problems can disrupt the individual's concentration level, result in decreased performance and require command attention."

In short, families are nothing but potential distractions from the job at hand. They are time-consuming, energy-consuming sources of anxiety that can lower productivity and divide attention.

Not to mention that families also cost money. They tend to occupy houses, use medical plans, eat something besides C rations, and nibble the budget.

There are company heads as well as commandants who wish for a staff of unattached workers they could deploy at a moment's notice to Akron as well as Mogadishu. There are fresh recruits in every line of work who are warned that it's better to have a one-track mind than a mommy-track schedule.

In a competitive, downsizing, cost-cutting world, we are at one of those crossroads. In one direction is a more balanced life; in the other is a room at the top that's a bachelor pad. In one direction is a workplace struggling to become family friendly. In the other is a workplace looking for employees who are — or will act as if they are — family free.

In the past decades, there's been a move in the volunteer armed services to strengthen troops and their marriages. For one not-so-shining moment, the Marines sent out a different message that said no couples need apply.

They wanted young fighters without families. They forgot that families are worth fighting for.

The military regularly manages to resolve matters with the finesse of an assault vehicle on enemy terrain.

The mythology of new budget

WASHINGTON — Sen. Bob Kerrey, D-Nebr., who gave the administration fits two weeks ago, may not have won many friends in either political party with his last-second grandstanding on the budget deal. Unfortunately, the man who White House personnel reportedly call "Cosmic Bob" also stands as the lone voice of reason in an otherwise shameful budget debate.

"Get back on the high road, Mr. President," Kerrey recently told his colleagues in a stirring speech on the Senate floor. Minutes earlier, he had provided the margin of victory needed for passage by agreeing to vote yes on the budget. But first, Kerrey felt his colleagues deserved a little lecture.

Rarely has a budget that does so little become the subject of so much demagoguery, misinformation and political bitterness. Both parties are to blame. The budget, which passed the Senate on Aug. 6, will not cure our economy, nor will it plunge us back into recession. Instead, it represents a broken promise made to the electorate in 1992 — a year when voters said they were tired of the status quo, tired of "feel good" politics and ready to assume the shared sacrifice needed to set the economy back on track.

In the course of political posturing, several myths evolved about the 1993 budget which deserve to be set straight. The first is that the president's budget will soak the rich. In theory, it does — the top income tax rate jumps from 31 to 36 percent.

In reality, any taxpayer with a decent accountant can minimize the blow simply by reducing taxable income by about 10 percent. Even the retroactive feature, which nearly spawned a constitutional challenge from frustrated Republicans, may not have much of an effect — many wealthy taxpayers acted months ago to protect themselves from changes in the tax code. In either case, revenue projections from the soak-the-rich initiative are bound to fall short.

The second myth is that Clinton's tax package will hurt the middle class. In fact, the middle class will not notice a difference. After shelving plans for a middle-class tax cut, Clinton changed course by proposing the infamous Btu tax. When that proved too much for rural and Northern lawmakers, Clinton was forced to settle for a 4.3 cent per gallon gasoline tax hike. This is the only tax hike the working middle class will suffer. As any car owner knows, gas prices can fluctuate by more than 4.3 cents on the same city block. The gas tax is an insignificant one.

The third major myth is that Clinton's budget restored "fairness" to the tax system. If fairness means the continuation of tax loopholes for any interest group that screams loudly enough, then perhaps this budget is fair. Otherwise, it's a continuation of a tax system where the general public is taxed more to pay for the breaks we grant to groveling industries with powerful Washington lobbies. Methanol producers, hotel and restaurant owners, even the dreaded Washington lobbyist establishment were all granted last-minute concessions. Each one of these breaks, and there were many more in the fine print, had a name behind them.

This budget was not about shared sacrifice; it was about sacrificing too little and gaining almost nothing in return. While much of it can be attributed to political cowardice, some of the blame must fall on the American people. Everyone seems to agree that government spending must be cut, yet no one seems willing to take the hit. Spending is evil when it benefits someone else, but it becomes suddenly worthwhile when it lands close to home.

'Cosmic Bob' also stands as the lone voice of reason in an otherwise shameful budget debate.

False alarm 'service fee' considered

By NICK PFEIFAU
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — The City of Lake Mary is considering some changes to the ordinance regarding control over false alarms. The proposed plans would lower the fines and provide for waivers.

The matter will be presented for first reading during this Thursday's city commission meeting. It has been prepared by Police Chief Richard M. Beary.

"The City Manager (John Litton) asked if I would look over the ordinance and determine if any changes should be made," Beary said. "So I met with the Business Advisory Board and a number of home owners to find out what they saw as alarm problems and how they felt about the fees for false alarms."

"The aim of these changes," he said, "is that we want people to be responsible for maintaining their alarm systems, but we don't want to fine them out of business. That's generally what I heard from the BAB members and a number of citizens."

Beary said there had not been many series of false alarm reports from individual establishments. "We have to look at the cost involved in responding to false alarms," he said. "It costs quite a bit to start up those large fire units and dispatch our crews to the scene, so we want to compensate for that, but at the same time, be fair to the public."

One of the changes is the amount, and identification of fines to be levied for false alarms. Under the present ordinance, no charges are made until the fourth response during a six month period, for which $50 is charged. The service fees have increased the amount to $100 for the fifth response and over, during a six month period.

With the change, the fine of $50 would be levied for the fourth and each additional false alarms within six months, eliminating the $100 charge.

To smooth the identification, the wording of the new ordinance changes the word "fines" to "service fees."

After a third false alarm within six months, the police or fire department will issue a warning notice to the owner or lessee or management of the premises involved. A response must be made within five working days indicating any and all measures taken to reduce false alarms.

The new ordinance also grants some leeway to false alarm reports.

A property owner may, within 30 days, submit documents to demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Police Chief or Fire Chief that the alarm system has been properly repaired, the fine will be waived, providing the alarm was not set off through human error.

ness customers with automatic dialing features such as Speed Calling, alarm systems, PBX and other services will need to reprogram Orlando numbers to have only seven-digit numbers. After midnight, calls to Orlando using the area code will not be connected.

The toll charge comes at the January order of the Florida Public Service Commission in response to requests from commissioners and businessmen in Lake Mary, Sanford and the county. The local officials told PSC commissioners the rates were unfair and toll-charges should be abolished between the two areas.

Orlando-area customers can call more than 530,000 numbers without a toll for $10.30 each month, compared to the 250,000 numbers local customers can call for $9.50 a month.

In May last year, the full PSC conducted a rare, out-of-Tallahassee hearing in Lake Mary to consider the issue.

Local officials told PSC commissioners a "community of interest" had blossomed with Orlando, which could be seen in the high rate of commuting — and telephone calls — between the two areas. They said long-distance calls were hampering economic development in the northern sections of the county because of the added expenses to trade with "downtown."

Commuters told the commissioners it was costly for them to touch base at home during the day because of the tolls.

But Southern Bell officials said they could lose up to $3 million in revenues if the toll-free Orlando calling area were expanded to north Seminole County. They said there wasn't enough telephone traffic between the two areas to justify the local calling area.

To make up the losses, phone company officials told the commissioners monthly bills for residences should be raised by $3.50 for two to three years before dropping back to the rate paid by Orlando customers.

Local officials were outraged at the proposed $2.70 difference between Orlando and north Seminole County bills. They said they would rather have no change than pay the increased rate. PSC commissioners ordered a survey of the 31,774 local customers and 55 percent of the 13,377 responses favored the $3.50 increase.

PSC rules required more than 50 percent support from all customers, not just survey respondents, and ordered the 25-cent plan as a default.

Two additional matters are listed on the agenda for Thursday night's P&Z meeting: Amending the master plan regarding signage for the Seminole Towne Center Mall, and a request to allow barbed wire and chain link fencing for security purposes in a front yard of Dixon's Automotive Repair, 1109 Sanford Avenue.

The P&Z meeting is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m., Thursday, Aug. 19, in the commission chambers of the Sanford City Hall, 300 N. Park Avenue.

can't say that we haven't looked into it."

In addition, approximately 130 specialty stores are planned for the facility.

Brewer predicted the mall would have an economic impact of $200 million in retail sales per year, provide 2,000 permanent jobs, and produce $2 million in taxes annually.

The Seminole Towne Center Mall will be located on the southeast corner of the intersection of Interstate-4 and S.R. 46, within the Sanford city limits. Main access will be from a realigned Oregon Road.

The ground-breaking ceremony, to be held near what will eventually be the front entrance, is being spearheaded through cooperative efforts of the City of Sanford, Sanford City Commission, Community Redevelopment Agency, Seminole County, and Seminole Towne Center Limited Partnership.

Robbers

Several hours later, at approximately 6 a.m., four men allegedly robbed a home in the 300 block of Friars Lane, in the Canterbury subdivision, just outside Lake Mary city limits.

"This also involved four men," Proechel said. He explained, "The husband had gone to work, when the four men broke into the home wearing ski masks, long sleeve dark shirts and jeans. One had a semi-automatic handgun."

"They tied up the wife with plastic handcuffing," Proechel continued, "and took numerous items out of the house including the stereo, TV, and other equipment. Then they left in an unkn.own vehicle."

"All this time," he added, "three children, between the ages of 10 and 18 were sleeping and didn't wake up until after the robbery, when the mother yelled for them."

In the case of the armed robbery at the convenience store, Lake Mary police said the four were identified as three white men and one black man.

In the home invasion, the four were described as being Hispanic.

Similarities however, were in the use of masks, one man with a dark colored semi-automatic handgun, and clothing.

"Our investigators will be working closely with Lake Mary police in this case," Proechel said, "and right now, we are pursuing the possibility that both crimes may have been committed by the same four persons."

Coffee drinkers say cartel price hikes won't slow flow

By ELISABETH DUNHAM Associated Press Writer... It's enough to give you caffeine jitters: The world's major coffee-producing nations are forming a cartel to cut supply and raise prices. What's next? Bean rationing? Lines at the coffee shop? Odd- and even-numbered days on which you can fill up your mug? Whatever the outcome, American coffee lovers say, they'll keep drinking.

suffered from the sharp decline in prices that followed the 1989 demise of an export quota system. Producers earned $5.6 billion from coffee last year, down from $11 billion in 1987, Uganda President Yoweri Museveni said. The cartel actually might stabilize the market, said Niki Zuckerman of Tulsa, Okla. She and her husband own the Gold Coast Coffee Roasting Co., a bean seller and cafe.

Prospect of Kevorkian trial intrigues experts over society's hostilities, fears

By JULIA PRODIS Associated Press Writer... DETROIT — Society's fears, hostilities and sympathies about death and dying will also go on trial if Dr. Jack Kevorkian takes his case to a jury. The issues in the assisted-suicide case are volatile, the key players passionate. Whatever the outcome, one thing is certain: "You'll have one hell of a trial," said Arthur Caplan, an authority on medical ethics.

Michigan's law against assisted suicide needs to be challenged and the issue put to rest, he said. Wayne County Prosecutor John O'Hair agreed on Tuesday, making Kevorkian the first person charged under the law, which took effect in February. O'Hair said he believes assisted suicide should be legal under certain circumstances. But he said, "If it takes a criminal prosecution or trial of Dr. Jack Kevorkian to bring this issue to full discussion and resolution, so be it."

Toucan Willy's, Mice take lumps

From Staff Reports

WINTER SPRINGS — It must have been something in the water.

For one of the few times in memory, both of the Oviedo slowpitch softball teams coached by Mickey Norton suffered losses in the same week.

After watching their sister team, the Paddy McGee's Mice, suffer a 17-2 loss to league-leading Lewis Drywall Monday night, Toucan Willy's tried to save the week for the Oviedo squads. But the men came up short, dropping a 7-6 decision to On The Rocks in the Winter Springs Recreation Department Men's Tuesday Night Class C Summer Slowpitch Softball League at Central Winds Park.

"Last night (in the women's game), we couldn't hit and we couldn't field," said Norton. "Other than that, we did OK."

"Tonight, we hit the ball pretty well, but the hits were spread out. We just couldn't put them together. Oh well, that's the way it goes."

The men were down 7-2, but came back with four runs in the fifth inning to get within one run, but could get no closer.

Former Oviedo High School star Ryan Alkire had the big blow in the fifth inning for Toucan Willy's, cracking a three-run home run.

Alkire also made the defensive play of the game, running into the left field fence to make a run-saving catch in the bottom of the fourth inning. For his effort, Alkire ended up with a cut on his chest that ran almost from shoulder to shoulder.

Former Lake Howell and Seminole Community College baseball player Billy Stripp also had a big game on defense, turning two catches in the outfield into double plays.

Providing the offense for Toucan Willy's were Bob York (three hits), Alkire (home run, three RBI), Kenny Tuttle (single, two RBI), Eddie Norton (single, RBI) and Stripp, Ronnie Gardner, John McKay, Chuck LaPeters and Dennis Codrey (one single each).

The loss dropped Toucan Willy's to 6-3, while On The Rocks improved to 5-4. Willy's will finish its season next Tuesday with a 7:30 p.m. against the Broadway Bombers and must win to insure a second place finish and a trophy.

For the Mice on Monday night, Terri Mann and Tammi Chesser had two hits each as Paddy McGee's fell to 4-5. The Mice will also finish their season next Monday with an 8:30 p.m. against the Bruisers and must win to finish with a 500 record and a third place finish.

Elder Anderson wins race as son takes series

By PAUL MARSEOLIA
Special to the Herald

ORLANDO — Friday night's final leg of the Late Model Triple Crown at Orlando Speedway turned into a father-son shootout between Dick and Wayne Anderson.

Dick Anderson, the father, went green flag to checkers to win the 100-lap event. However, the overall Triple Crown champion was Wayne Anderson, who had three top-five finishes in the series.

Wayne Anderson took the title with a two-point advantage over Oster's Marc Kinley.

"This is my first championship and I'm really thrilled," said Wayne Anderson, who was piloting the Allan Meeks car. "My dad also won the crown, along with a bunch of other great drivers. Now, I'm proud to be in their company."

Dick Anderson set the evening's fastest qualifying time and, by the luck of the draw, started the race from the inside pole. Daniel Keene, who won the first two races of the series, started on the outside of the first row.

"I knew I had my work cut out for me tonight," said Dick Anderson, who won the 1989 Triple Crown championship. "With Daniel (Keene) starting next to me, I knew I had to jump out front early, hold my line, and stay out of trouble."

My Citrus Chrysler Dodge Daytona for the job done. It wasn't perfect, but it gave me enough to win.

Crossing the stripe several car lengths behind Anderson was his son Wayne, who was trailed by Pete Orr, Ed Meredith, and Kinley.

"I'm real proud of Wayne's finish tonight, but most of all, with the progress he's made this season." See Andersons, Page 3B

Russell dedicates victory

By PAUL MARSEOLIA
Special to the Herald

SAMSULA — Apopka's David Russell cruised to victory in the Late Model feature event Saturday night at New Smyrna Speedway and then dedicated the victory to the memory of 30-year-old David Mobley, who passed away last week.

David assisted his father, Carl "Captain Video" Mobley, the video technician at Orlando SpeedWorld and New Smyrna Speedway. In victory lane ceremonies, Russell presented the winner's trophy to Carl.

"New Smyrna Speedway has always been more than a race track to me. We're not only competitors, we're all friends and family," said Russell, who also celebrated his birthday Saturday. "David was a real super guy that we will all miss. More than anything I wanted to win the race for Mr. M (Carl Mobley) and his wife."

"I hope that this trophy will somehow convey our deep feelings and sincerity for their loss."

Carl Mobley added, "My wife and I appreciate this very much. We know everyone here is sincere in their feelings and we appreciate it very much."

Russell, driving the Horseshoe Around Farms Pontiac Firebird, led every circuit to claim his sixth win of the season. He was

Improved defense key for Gators in '93

By FRED GOODALL
AP Sports Writer

GAINESVILLE — Steve Spurrier peruses the numbers and wonders how his team ever won nine games.

Sure, Florida led the Southeastern Conference in passing for the third consecutive season in 1992 and was the only team in the nation to feature a 3,000-yard passer and a running back who gained more than 900 yards.

Spurrier's aggressive Fun 'N

Gun offense was both exciting and intimidating, but the shortcomings of the normally tough Gators defense left the coach scratching his head, even after a first-place finish in the SEC East.

"When you look at our statistics as a team — they were lousy," Spurrier said. "You wouldn't think we won nine games."

One of the SEC's strongest defenses for a decade, Florida slipped to ninth in total defense, ninth in scoring defense and last (12th) in pass defense.

The 343 yards per game that opponents gained were the most since 1982. And you have to go back to 1976 to find a Florida team that gave up 274 points.

Still, Spurrier's team battled back from a 1-2 start to win seven consecutive games and claim the SEC East. After losing to Florida State in the regular-season finale and Alabama in the inaugural SEC championship game, Florida finished 8-4 by beating North Carolina State in the Gator Bowl.

The team's 28-8 record under Spurrier, including 19-4 in the SEC and a sparkling 18-0 at home, is the best three-year stretch in school history. And, the young but experienced Gators should be even better this season.

Dean's chances for success are good considering six of the Gators' top seven receivers are back, including Harrison Houston and Willie Jackson, who led the SEC in touchdown receptions the past two seasons.

The running game was less productive a year ago, but Errett Rhett is healthy again after gaining 1,109 yards in 1991 and 903 yards in 1992.

And, Spurrier looks for continued improvement from an offensive line anchored by sophomores Reggie Green and Jason Odom, who started 13 and 10 games, respectively, as true freshmen.

the elder Anderson said. "He realizes now that it's not only important to go fast, but that you have to be around to finish the race."

Wayne Anderson currently has 13 FASCAR (Florida Association of Stock Car Automobile Racing) Late Model feature wins on the season and is leading the overall Late Model point standings.

"Our car ran pretty good tonight, but Dad's Dodge Daytona was just awesome," said the younger Anderson. "I don't feel bad at all about finishing second to him. He's a real tough competitor. He's the Dale Earnhardt of short-track racing."

"One day soon, I'll turn it around and break this habit of finishing behind him."

Keene, the 1984 All-Pro Rookie of the Year, had to withdraw from competition on lap 25 with mechanical problems.

"I just can't believe it," said Keene, who drives the Victor Powell Lumina. "We were real strong the first two nights, and now a clutch knocks us out of action."

"The clutch started to slip on the first lap. I tried to baby it, but before long, it just went out on us completely. It would have been a simple thing to change before the race if we only knew about it."

Editor's note: Saturday's results from Volusia County Speedway will appear in Thursday's Sanford Herald.

Orr, who set the evening's fourth-fastest time, also encountered mechanical gremlins but was able to complete the race.

"With six laps to go, I started to smell smoke," said Orr, who won the Triple Crown back-to-back in 1991 and 1992. "It was the rear end tearing up. With two laps to go, it just went. Fortunately, I had enough to cruise across the line."

For his trip to victory lane, Dick Anderson, who was the only driver on the lead lap, received $2,000.

The race took 33 minutes to complete and had just one caution period, brought out when Orr looped the car in turn two.

Keene, who finished in 15th place, placed third overall in the Triple Crown series with 272 points. Trailing him in the Triple Crown standings were Dick Anderson (268), Meredith (266), David Russell (258), and Ronnie Burkett (232).

Other division feature winners were Ron McCreary (Limited Late Models); Rick Johns (Sportsman); Kenny Heckle (Florida Modifieds); Bobby Sears (Mini Stocks); Glen Castro (Bombers); and John Witt (Run-Abouts).

trailed by Wayne Anderson, Ed Meridith, Chuck Abell and John Kennedy.

After the trophy presentation, Russell received a cream pie in the face by track officials to celebrate his birthday.

"Now, didn't I tell you were family," Russell said. "Where else can you get this kind of treatment. On a serious note, though, our thoughts are with Duke Southard. I hope tonight's injury isn't serious and he'll be back racing with us again."

After tangling with another car, Southard crashed head-on into the outside retaining wall in turn one. He was transported to Halifax Hospital in Daytona Beach where he was diagnosed as having a crushed L-1 vertebra.

A hospital official stated that Southard would be hospitalized for three to six weeks and it would be at least a year until he could resume racing.

Southard conducts a racing school in New Smyrna Beach which is considered to be one of the best in the country. On a regular basis he travels throughout the country and abroad to give driving and chassis set-up seminars.

"I hated that yellow flag to come out," said current FASCAR Late Model points leader Wayne Anderson. "But the caution closed the field and allowed me to close on David (Russell). As usual, he was real strong and I couldn't run him down. I've only had this car two weeks and I've started to adjust to it. We have a few more bugs to work out and we'll be real competitive."

With a last lap pass Osteen's Bobby Sears slipped to the inside of Conrad Grenier to score a victory in the Mini-Stock Division. In tow behind the lead duo were Ted Vulpius, Bob Doxte and J.D. Duncan.

Gary Salvatore led all but the first lap to take top honors in the Modified feature event.

Salvatore, who has two wins on the season, led Dave Savicki, Danny Keintz, Tom Hall and Danny Bancroft to the finish line.

Tommy Johnson held off a late race challenge by Jerry Smith and David LeBeau to win his third consecutive Sportsman main event.

In a post race inspection Smith and LeBeau were disqualified, Smith for having an over-sized tire and LeBeau for being underweight.

Rounding out the corrected top five were Dale Howard, Bill Loomis, Don Tracey and Barbara Pierce.

Johnny Mitchell Jr. went from green flag to checkers with the lead to win the slam-bang Bomber event. Wally Semrow, the current points leader, was second, followed Bob Filliger, Bob Richardson and George Spears.

Allan Rhodes went wire-to-wire to claim the checkers in the Limited Late Model feature. Rhodes was chased to the line by John Michalowski, Michael Williams, Rob Lyon and Gary Schleicher.

Chuck Vola was the winner of the Action Performance Run-About feature. Steve Prater won the Go-Kart event and, after the smoke settled, Gary Hinkle was crowned the winner in the 19 car Demo-Derby smash-up.

a pair of runs with a one-out, bases-loaded double.

Jane White led off the bottom of the first inning with a walk. Linda Kenny followed with a single and Mary Wilson walked to load the bases. After Debbie Ziegler lined out to third base, Forstner doubled in White and Kenny.

Kenny made the score 4-0 when she delivered two runs in the second inning with a bases-loaded single. Dolores Gallo reached base when she hit into a fielder's choice. Lisa Clark and White followed with singles to load the bases for Kenny, who brought in Gallo and Clark with her hit.

It was Debbie Riley's turn in the third inning, as she also drove in two runs with a bases-loaded hit. This time, Ziegler and Forstner singled and Robin Baggett walked to load the bases. Riley then singled home Ziegler and Forstner.

Myers added three runs in the fourth inning. Gallo and Clark led off with singles and advanced a base on White's fly ball. Kenny followed with a sacrifice fly to score Gallo and send Clark to third. Wilson plated Clark with a double and Ziegler singled home Wilson.

Hopkins scored its only run in the top of the sixth inning, when Renee Lanza doubled and scored on Teri Quick's single.

Clark got the run back for Myers in the bottom of the sixth inning as she reached base on a fielder's choice and scored on a triple by Kenny.

Kenny led Myers 15-hit attack with a triple, two singles, one run, and four RBI. Forstner doubled, singled, scored a run, and drove in two runs. Clark hit two singles and scored three runs. Gallo singled twice and scored twice.

Ziegler added two singles, a run, and an RBI. Wilson had a double, one run, and an RBI. Riley contributed a single and two RBI. White singled and scored a run. Baggett also hit a single.

For Hopkins, Lanza had a double, single, and an RBI. Quick singled twice and scored the only run. Hitting one single each were Terry Hirt, Jen Ingram, Nora Lissy, Joy Weaver, and Cindy Perry.

NASCAR showcases competitiveness at Indy

By STEVE HERMAN
AP Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS — While the NASCAR crowd can't match the blurring speeds of Indy cars, drivers point to another reason for the increasing popularity of stock car racing in the United States.

It's more competitive, says Mark Martin, the hottest driver on the Winston Cup circuit with victories in the past two races.

"Our cars are conducive to smoking the tires and rubbing the doors and running inches apart," he said. "They're built to do that."

Martin was one of more than 30 NASCAR drivers who tested at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Monday and Tuesday, the last formal sessions before next year's inaugural Brickyard 400 on Aug. 6. It will be the first non-Indy car race at the world's most famous track in more than 80 years.

Tuesday's crowd, between 35,000 and 50,000, was down from Monday's estimate of more than 50,000. Ticket orders for the race will be accepted beginning Wednesday, and a sellout crowd is expected to rival the 400,000-plus that attend the Indy 500.

Martin was the first driver on the track Tuesday and one of three involved in a crash during an impromptu race late in the day. John Andretti lost control in the first turn and triggered a collision with Martin and Jimmy Spencer. None of the drivers was hurt.

Recently retired Richard Petty drove four ceremonial laps and presented his No. 43 Pontiac to the Speedway Hall of Fame Museum.

"They're not built to run 230 mph around this place, and won't do it," Martin said of the difference between stock cars and Indy cars. "And if they would, we couldn't get near each other."

"For competitiveness' sake, it doesn't matter if we're going 165 or 160, or 230, if they're all in there smoking and gouging and going for it."

"It's going to be really, really exciting. But it won't be 230 mph, which is a whole different thing."

Fifteen cars were on the lead lap of Sunday's Michigan 400, which Martin won by 1.69 seconds over Morgan Shepherd. Normally, only two or three Indy cars are still in contention on the final lap.

"We're not any threat to the Indy 500 at all," Martin said. "We're going to come and put on our show, and there's definitely room for us to come and do our deal and for them to do theirs. The Indy 500 will be alive and well forever, I'm sure of that. We're just going to get a chance to come up and showcase what we do, which is quite a bit different than what they do."

The NASCAR-Indy marriage doesn't necessarily have to have a dominant partner, said Rusty Wallace, whose car owner Roger Penske also owns the cars of Indy drivers Emerson Fittipaldi and Paul Tracy.

"Everybody's going to take their side, whether they like Indy-car racing or stock car racing better," Wallace said. "That's normal. That's human nature. All I can say is I love to come to the Indy 500 and watch the race. And I love watching the Coke 600 (at Charlotte, N.C.). I really like being involved in it more than I do watching it. But I guess I'm a fan of both types of racing."

"I think it would really be neat if all the fans can get together and say, boy, this is great that we have two big races instead of one big race," Wallace said.

Bill Elliott was the fastest during the two days of testing, turning a top lap of 167.467 mph Tuesday. Martin was next at 165.905, followed by rookie Jeff Gordon of nearby Pittsboro, Ind., at 165.868, Greg Sacks at 165.856 and Wallace at 164.429. Andretti's top speed was 161.964 mph.

"I just made a rookie mistake, I guess," Andretti said of his spin into the first-turn wall. "Brett Bodine was right behind me and he got real close. I went into the corner real easy because I didn't want to make any mistakes. It got the air off the rear spoiler and it got loose."

"I thought I was going to be able to save it, but it kept going round and round. I feel really bad, not just for this team but for all the guys who got tangled up in it," said Andretti, who is scheduled to take over Terry Labonte's car next season for owner Billy Hagan.

Elliott, who also was fastest when nine NASCAR drivers tested at the track last year, improved his top speed more than 5 mph from Monday.

"We sure did go a lot quicker," he said. "That lets you leave this place feeling pretty good."

"It's only testing, but anything you do at Indy just takes on a lot of significance. The people here were great to us again and the crowds were pretty amazing. You've just got to wonder just how big of a deal this thing is going to be next year. It sure will be fun to be a part of it."

Devoted teacher retires to dedicate time to family and church

Clodene Richards has found the greatest joy and fulfillment in her life is teaching children. And she should know as her career spans over 26 years doing just that.

Richards has spent the last 21 years as a teacher assistant with all 21 of those years at the same school, Pinecrest Elementary School, in Sanford. With a strong feeling of sadness she went on to explain her feelings regarding her retirement on June 16 of this year. "I really hated to retire," she said "I just love to work with children and I miss all of them so much."

Clodene, keeping within the teaching trend, has also been a Sunday School teacher for the past 26 years. And with consistency prevailing all 26 years have been and still are at the same church, the Church of Christ, in Sanford.

Originally from Indiana, Richards has made her home in Sanford for over 25 years. She is the mother of two grown daughters, Dianne and Susan, and has four grandchildren, Jennifer, 20, and her brother Jason, 17, as well as Zachary, 6, and his sister, Tiffany, who is 3.

When she is not teaching, Clodene, enjoys sewing and crocheting all sorts of things. She has used her "craft" ability and creativity with her students. "Craft work has really paid off many a time with the school children," she said. Kids truly love that feeling of accomplishment. And one of the most rewarding ways to achieve that special feeling, is being able to say, "I made this myself." Richards also crochets afghans. "I give them to friends and family as keepsakes," she said.

Over the years, Clodene has cooked many different meals and desserts for just as many different occasions. Of course, her family seems to be her most important critics. Chocolate Gravy "has been in the family since I can remember," says Richards. "So often, people will kind of raise their eyebrows when they hear the name of this gravy." "But," she added, "it's really good. My kids to this day love it and say there is nothing like it."

Now, if you want to bake the most incredibly moist cake you can, then according to Clodene, Fruit Cocktail Cake is the recipe to try. "This is one moist cake," said Clodene. "When there is a church social, for instance, this cake will no doubt be the one item I am asked to bring," she concluded.

CHOCOLATE GRAVY

3-4 Tbsp. flour
6-8 Tbsp. sugar

1/4 cup sugar

1-6 oz. package strawberry Jello
2 cups hot pineapple juice
2-10 oz. packages frozen strawberries
Mix pretzels, sugar and margarine and bake in a 9x13-inch pan for 10 minutes. Cool. Meanwhile, mix cream cheese, 1 cup sugar and 2 cups Cool Whip and spread over crust. Dissolve Jello in hot pineapple juice. Add strawberries. Let partially jell, then pour over cheese mixture. Chill.

Peak of peach season brings delicious, quick recipes to mind

This season peaches have been of better quality and more plentiful than they have been for several years. I recently enjoyed a delicious dessert at a friend's home in Mt. Dora which was a wonderful West Virginia peach cobbler made in an iron skillet. What a treat! I've had peaches and ice cream and fresh peach pie and these microwave recipes have all been tested in my home kitchen. Try any and all while this long awaited fruit is at its peak.

Peach Crisp is quicker to prepare than peach pie and microwaves very well.

PEACH CRISP

6 medium peaches
2 Tbsp. sugar
Topping:
1/2 cup rolled oats
1/4 cup packed brown sugar
3 Tbsp. all-purpose flour

1/4 tsp. nutmeg
3 Tbsp. butter
Dash of salt
Combine topping ingredients and cut in butter with pastry blender. Set aside.

Peel, seed and slice peaches in a 10 x 6-inch baking dish. Sprinkle with sugar. Microwave uncovered on 100 percent power for 6 minutes. Stir several times during cooking. Sprinkle with the oat mixture. Microwave uncovered on 100 percent power 3-6 minutes. Serve warm.

This peach pie is made with a microwave graham cracker crust and a glaze poured over the fresh peaches. Top it with whipped cream, or ice cream when served.

GRAHAM CRACKER CRUST

(1 9- or 10-inch crumb crust)
1/4 cup + 1 Tbsp. butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups fine graham cracker crumbs
2 Tbsp. brown or granulated sugar

Melt butter in 9- or 10-inch pie plate on 100 percent power for 50-60 seconds. Stir in crumbs and sugar. Press crumbs firmly and evenly against bottom and side of plate.

Microwave on 100 power 1 1/2 minutes. Cool.

PEACH GLAZE PIE

5 cups sliced, peeled fresh peaches (divided)
1/2 cup sugar
2 Tbsp. cornstarch
1/4 cup water
2 Tbsp. lemon juice
Mash 1 cup peach slices with fork. In 4-cup measure, combine sugar and cornstarch. Stir in water, lemon juice and mashed peaches. Microwave on 100 percent power 2-5 minutes or until thickened and clear, stirring after 2 minutes, then every minute. Place remaining peach slices in shell. Pour peach glaze over peach slices, carefully covering all the peaches. Refrigerate until chilled.

FRESH PEACH COBBLER

Combine 1 1/2 pound fresh peaches, peeled and sliced with 1/2 cup brown sugar in a 8x8-inch square microwave-safe container. Cover and microwave on 100 percent power for 3-5 minutes or until tender. Stir in:
3 Tbsp. all-purpose flour
1/2 tsp. lemon juice
1/4 tsp. nutmeg
1/4 tsp. cinnamon

Garden's bounty: Indulge the diet with fresh vegetables

By MARIALISA CALTA

There's nothing like fresh-from-the-garden produce, especially if it's from someone else's garden. This year we gave our garden and ourselves a rest and joined a kind of cooperative farm, known as Community Supported Agriculture. It works this way: For a fee paid in late winter, we receive deliveries of fresh, organic produce each week, from May through October. Our neighbor, Wendy Martin, owns the CSA garden to which we belong; the Peace and Carrots Organic Farm of Calata, Vt.

There are a lot of good reasons for joining a CSA farm, not the least of which is supporting local agriculture and people like Wendy. But for the purely selfish reasons of taste and variety, it's a great deal. Our weekly deliveries, which I have come to regard as treasure chests full of tasty surprises, include not just the usual run-of-the-garden vegetables such as green beans and broccoli, but wild mushrooms, jalapenos, arugula, Jerusalem artichokes, herbs, cut flowers and berries. If we want more of something, we are free to go and pick it ourselves. Wendy encourages her shareholders to picnic on her farm, to hike, to work or to just hang out.

The experience has broadened my cooking repertoire: When faced with a delivery of kale, you either figure out how to cook it or watch guiltily as it turns to compost. And it has broadened our palate by introducing us to foods we would never have grown or purchased ourselves (kale, in fact, turned out to be a real surprise, and a new favorite; we boil it for about 6 minutes, drain and chop it, then saute it in oil and chopped garlic seasoned with salt and pepper.)

Such cooperative farms, Wendy tells me, are popping up throughout the country. Check out your area and think seriously about joining. The recipes below will help you put some of the bounty you reap to good use.

GRILLED SUMMER SQUASH WITH REDUCED BALSAMIC VINEGAR
Balsamic vinegar, at least 1 cup
8 medium summer squash -- golden and green zucchini, yellow crookneck, sunburst or pattypan

2 cloves garlic, chopped, or more, to taste
1-2 tablespoons olive oil, as you like
Salt and pepper

In a non-reactive saucepan over high heat, heat the balsamic vinegar, and cook until 1/2 of its volume has been boiled away. Be careful not to cook away all the vinegar. The idea is to have a thin syrup. You can make this well in advance and refrigerate it, covered, in a sterilized jar.

Preheat the grill or broiler. Wash all vegetables. Cut the zucchini or crookneck in half lengthwise, leaving the stem on, and score the flesh with a crosshatch design to help it cook more quickly and evenly. If using sunburst or pattypan, cut them through the stem in thick wedges.

Put the squash in a large bowl and toss with garlic and olive oil. Sprinkle liberally with salt and pepper. The zucchini and crookneck can go directly on the grill -- for easier grilling, place pattypan and sunburst on metal or bamboo skewers. Grill until the flesh softens and brown marks appear, then turn to grill on other side. Grilling will take about 10-15 minutes, total.

Brush with reduced vinegar, season with additional salt and pepper, if needed, and serve immediately.

Yield: 4-6 servings.
Recipe from "Fields of Greens," by Annie Somerville (Bantam Books, 1993).

CORN AND TOMATO SALAD

3 ears fresh sweet corn, husks removed
1 small red onion
4 1-inch-thick slices of country bread

1 large clove garlic, peeled
7 tablespoons olive oil
8 medium summer tomatoes
3 tablespoons balsamic vinegar
1/2 teaspoon kosher salt
8 basil leaves, cut into thin strips

Bring a large pot of water to a boil. Drop corn into boiling water and cook 4 minutes. Remove from pot and run corn under cold water. Drain. With a sharp knife, cut kernels from the cobs and place them in a bowl. Peel the onion and cut it in half vertically. Cut out a V on the bottom of each onion to remove the roots. Slice each half vertically into thin slivers and toss them in with the corn.

Toss both sides of each piece of bread on a charcoal grill or under a broiler and rub them with the garlic clove. Drizzle the bread with 2 tablespoons of oil, cut each piece into croutons 1-inch-square, and set aside.

Core the tomatoes, cut them into chunks.

Add to the bowl with the remaining oil, vinegar and salt. Toss to combine. Add the basil and croutons. Serve the salad immediately while the croutons are still warm. Yield: 6 servings.
Yield: 6 servings.

Recipe from "Cucina Simpatica" by Johanne Killen and George Germon (HarperCollins, 1991).

SNOW PEAS WITH MINT
2 tablespoons unsalted butter
1 pound snow peas, ends trimmed, rinsed

2 tablespoons chopped mint, or more, to taste

Salt and pepper, to taste
In a saucepan, melt the butter over medium high heat. Add the snow peas and cook until tender crisp -- 3-5 minutes. Add mint and cook 30 seconds more. Season with salt and pepper and serve immediately.
Yield: 4 servings.

Recipe from Laurie Lipp, Calata, Vt.

Mustache causes seven-week itch

DEAR ABBY: When I married my wife 10 years ago, I had a mustache. I kept it for two years, and she never complained about it. Then I shaved it off, and she told me to please leave it off because she never liked it. OK, so I left it off, but here's the problem:

Every year for the last six years, we have had a celebration in town called "Frontier Days," which lasts for a whole month. Nearly every man in town grows a beard, mustache or goatee just to get into the spirit of the celebration.

Every year I go through the same thing. It takes me three weeks to get my mustache grown out, and I wear it for a month because I want to be "one of the guys," and I enjoy it.

As soon as I start growing the mustache, my wife refuses to kiss me, love me or have anything to do with me at bedtime.

Well, seven weeks is a long time for a fun-loving, healthy guy like me to go without a kiss. Any suggestions?

MISSING SOMETHING
DEAR MISSING: Get a false mustache that can be glued on and removed easily. That way you can participate in "Frontier Days" without missing anything at night.

DEAR ABBY: If the husband is all dressed up in a pale blue jacket and light slacks and looks like he's going to Hawaii, shouldn't the wife dress accordingly, instead of wearing a black gabardine suit like she's going to New York?

ADVICE

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

How can I tell these friends of ours that they look like they don't belong together? It's odd, and people talk.

Should I mention this to the wife? Or should my husband mention this to the husband?

A FRIEND
DEAR FRIEND: I don't recommend talking to either one about it. More important than whether people "look" like they belong together is whether they feel like they belong together.

DEAR ABBY: A male co-worker of mine has a habit of calling all his women clients "dear."

I told him that I thought he was being presumptuous, and I was sure that some women found it offensive.

He insists that all women feel complimented to be called "dear" -- even by a stranger. Do they?

WOMAN REALTOR
DEAR REALTOR: No one can speak for all women, but in my opinion, "dear" has no place in a business conversation. And that goes for "honey," too.

toothpick comes out clean after insertion.

30 DAY FRIENDSHIP CAKE

First day: Combine 1 1/2 cups starter juice, (2 1/2 cups sugar and one large 20 ounce can sliced peaches with juice.) Mix together and stir daily.

10th day: Add 2 1/2 cups sugar. 1 large 20 oz. crushed pineapple with juice and stir daily.

20th day: Add 2 1/2 cups sugar, 2-10 oz. jars Maraschino cherries (drained). Mix well and stir daily.

30th day: Drain the fruit, saving all the juice. This is the starter for more cakes. Divide this into three equal parts. Bake the cake as follows:

1 box Duncan Hines Deluxe Orange Cake mix (without pudding)

1/2 of drained fruit (save the fruit)

1/2 cup salad oil
4 eggs
1 cup chopped nuts

1 box vanilla pudding (4-serving size)
1 cup raisins (plumped) or 1 1/4 cups coconut.

Mix all ingredients well. Batter will be stiff to beat. Bake in a greased and floured tube pan at 350° F. for 1 hour or until toothpick inserted comes out clean.

A pan of water can be placed in the oven while baking the cake if desired for moisture.

Let cool in pan for 25 minutes, then turn out onto cake plate to finish cooling.

Note: This recipe will make 3 cakes using 1/2 of the fruit for each cake. There will be enough starter juice to give to 4 or 5 friends. You will need a gallon size container to hold the fruit and juice during the 30-day period. It is not necessary to refrigerate during this time unless you want. Cake will freeze well.

You can also bake in a loaf pan if desired.

Microwave

1/4 cup butter or margarine, softened

2 Tbsp. hot water
Stir until dough pulls away from sides of bowl and forms a ball. Gently spread topping over filling. Sprinkle with additional cinnamon. Microwave on 85 percent power (medium high) for 8-11 minutes or until topping is set.

Fresh peaches, in a tart shell, can be served at breakfast as a special treat.

BREAKFAST PEACH TART

1 1/4 cups all-purpose flour

1/2 cup oil
2 Tbsp. milk
1 Tbsp. sugar
1 tsp. salt

1/2 cup peach or apricot preserves

3 cups fresh peach slices
Combine flour, oil, milk, sugar and salt. Pat into bottom and sides of a 9-inch glass pie plate. Pierce with fork. Microwave on 100 percent power 4-6 minutes. Cool. Arrange peach slices on tart shell. In glass measure heat preserves 30-45 seconds or until melted. Pour over the fruit. Cut into wedges to serve.

Protein disorder damages organs

DEAR DR. GOTT: My 49-year-old brother has been diagnosed with amyloidosis. He's been athletically inclined all his life, never sick, and I'm having difficulty understanding why he would acquire this condition.

DEAR READER: Amyloidosis is marked by the progressive accumulation of various proteins in many of the body's tissues. Eventually, these proteins impair organ function, leading primarily to heart and kidney failure. The cause is unknown, but amyloidosis is often associated with other chronic diseases, such as myeloma (a type of blood cancer), tuberculosis (and other infections), Hodgkinson's disease and rheumatoid arthritis. Some forms of amyloidosis appear to be inherited; others appear during aging.

Amyloidosis is diagnosed by biopsy. Treatment of an underlying disease may arrest the progression of amyloid deposits. Also, cortisone is often used in patients whose organs rapidly deteriorate.

However, for the most part, amyloidosis is incurable. The poor prognosis notwithstanding, most cases of amyloidosis progress slowly. In addition, the complications, such as heart failure, can be treated with medication, thereby extending the patient's life and independence.

Amyloidosis is not brought on by exercise, diet or any known (and controllable) environmental factor.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a 59-year-old male with an embarrassing scrotal itch caused by small white pimples. The skin is too tough to squeeze, and a dermatologist has suggested I have them surgically removed.

Is there an alternative?

DEAR READER: You are probably suffering from a common condition: small sebaceous cysts of the scrotum. Although they are harmless, they can be annoying. Surgical removal is simple and curative.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Phillip Alder

In the Bridge Federation of Asia and Middle East Championships, held last June in Mauritius, the finishing order of the first four teams was the same in the Open and Women's Series: South Africa, India, Egypt and Pakistan. The first two teams qualify for the world championships that are about to be held in Santiago, Chile.

The Indian Open Team led most of the way, being passed near the finishing post by newcomers from South Africa (which has just returned to the international bridge fold). During the India hot streak over the first seven days, this deal occurred.

South was the Indian player Avinash Gokhale. His opening bid of two hearts showed a three-sutter short in diamonds. His hand had to have one of four distributions: 4-4-1-4, 4-4-0-5, 4-3-1-5 or 3-4-1-5.

North, Rajesh Dalal, hating the whole business, passed. So there was Gokhale in a 3-3 fit.

West, who had read all the textbooks, led a trump. (When you know declarer has a three-sutter hand, usually a trump lead will be best.)

After South called for a low heart from dummy, East won with the king and returned a heart. Declarer won with dummy's ace and cashed his A-K of spades, dropping West's jack. Now came a spade to dummy's 10. West being unable to ruff, a club to the ace allowed Gokhale to cash the spade queen and discard dummy's last club. A club ruff in dummy brought South's total to seven tricks, and he still had the good heart queen in his hand.

When you're sizzling, you're sizzling.

HOROSCOPE

By Bernice Bede Osol
YOUR BIRTHDAY
Aug. 19, 1993

There could be numerous pleasant surprises in the offering for you in the year ahead. You must be careful, however, that self-defeating thoughts don't spoil them. It's imperative you look for the positive side in all your endeavors.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) If you feel like you are being pulled in two different directions today, that might be true and it could also be your own fault. You must be firm when you make a decision, not indecisive. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Astro-Graph Matchmaker can help you to understand what to do to make the relationship work. Mail 82 and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Matchmaker, P.O. Box 4465, New York, N.Y. 10163.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Be careful about making commitments today without first having a clear understanding of what you're getting into. There's a chance you'll bite off more than you can chew.

ANNIE

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Steer a middle course today if you find yourself among friends with conflicting views. It's okay to arbitrate, but not to show partiality.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Where your reputation is concerned the end does not justify the means today. Don't use tactics to advance your interest that could tarnish your image.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) There is a friend of yours who always takes an opposing position to the one you hold. If you encounter one another today, neither is apt to have any patience for the other. Be careful.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be careful in transactions today where there is something of material value at stake. If you don't know what you're doing, you might suffer a costly loss from your lack of knowledge.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Stall for time today if you feel like you're being pressured into making a decision of which you're unsure. Poor judgment could cause you to make an error with lingering ill effects.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You might have to contend with a heavier work load than usual today, so be careful what you volunteer to do that could make this condition worse.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Don't impose yourself on any social situations today where you are not warmly welcomed. If you aren't invited, it's their loss, not yours.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Important developments must not be taken for granted today. For instance, don't assume a critical situation is firmly secured, when it may be held down just with a paper clip.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Nothing advantageous will be gained today by trying to impose an unpopular suggestion on unresponsive listeners. If you don't scrub the idea, they might.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Better put a lock and key on your money belt today, because you might be lacking in financial discipline. It won't be hard to spend more than you should.
