

RACE RIOTS IN NORTH MANY NEGROES KILLED IMPORTED LABOR CAUSE

Southern Negroes Going North For Work Are Menaced.

East St. Louis, Ill., July 3.—Two negroes were taken from a street car here today, shot and killed and a white man, standing in front of his store was killed by a stray bullet.

The turbulence of the mobs increased during the afternoon. Rioters took the rifles away from 16 national guardsmen. White women and white girls are participating in the violence.

The work of dragging negroes off street cars began at 1:30 o'clock when a crowd surrounded an Edwardsville car which goes through the heart of East St. Louis, and pulled the trolley from the wire.

While this riot was going on a Belleville car appeared. White men and white women boarded it. White women and girls seized negro women and when they were landed in the street the mob struck and kicked them.

Illinois National Guards at noon patrolled East St. Louis with fixed bayonets as a result of a renewal of race riots.

The trouble broke out anew when a negro appeared at a street car transfer point where a crowd of white men had assembled. A white man struck the negro in the face and others knocked him down and kicked him.

Despite the patrols, attacks on negroes continued and at noon eight were in hospitals. The attacks usually took the form of a bombardment of single negroes with stones.

Local Exemption Board Sheriff E. E. Brady, Clerk E. A. Douglass and County Physician Dr. J. T. Denton were last week named by President Wilson to constitute the local exemption board for Seminole county.

These are the same gentlemen who constituted the county registration board and for that reason are somewhat posted on the line of the work that the War Department expects of them at this time. The board met Saturday and organized and got down to business immediately.

FLORIDA WOMAN KILLED

When Street Car Slips Into Niagara Falls Rapids Niagara Falls, July 2.—The death of a woman in the accident when a street car plunged into the whirlpool yesterday shows ten with four missing, who are believed dead. Mrs. J. W. Dale of Arcadia, Fla., has been added to the list of the dead.

A belt line car on the Great Gorge route left the rails, plunged down a 20-foot embankment and tumbled over in ten feet of water on the edge of the whirlwind rapids at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. A washout, due to recent heavy rains was the cause of the disaster which occurred just below the cantilever bridge and 60 feet below the point where the smooth water of the upper reaches of the Niagara river break into the turbulent waters of the Whirlpool Rapids.

The car had all but completed the circuit of the gorge, having crossed from the Canadian side of the river on the trolley line at Lewiston. There were more than fifty passengers on board, according to general estimates.

The car was one of the open type, the seats extending from side to side, with steps on both sides the full length of the car.

The car was running at a speed of about twenty miles an hour when it struck the washout. It rolled over less than a minute elapsed from the time the motorist felt the car starting away until the car was tumbling side up in the edge of the rushing rapids.

As it slipped down the 20 foot incline from the tracks to the edge of the river screaming men and women fought to escape and some of them were able to get free. Others were unable to get a footing on the steep bank. There was a mad scramble in the shallow water. From the riverside two of the passengers were seen to be caught in the swirling water and were carried down to the whirlpool. Members of a National Guard regiment who were on guard at the cantilever bridge, saw the accident and were the first to the rescue.

Exemption Regulations

Washington, July 2.—The exemption regulations issued by the food boards will pass upon all claims except those based on industrial or agricultural occupations. The date will be soon set for a meeting of the boards. After the order of priority is determined the boards will post the list of those registered. They will then prepare a list of those designed in order of priority to service. Within three days, notification by mail will be given each person designated. When they appear first they will be physically examined. Then comes the question of exemption. Exemption because of dependents may be made on account of wife or other dependents. The claims of husband must be supported by an affidavit from the wife and the head of some family whose residence is in the same vicinity.

Dr. Neal Will Address Gathering

Dr. T. A. Neal will address the gathering at the Presbyterian church on July 14th at 7:30 p. m. Plans are being made for an interesting and helpful meeting in the line of a safe and sane celebration of the Fourth. The announcement of the speaker for the evening assures us of something good.

At a special meeting of the county commissioners held in Bartow, recently E. C. Lawrence representing the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company of Baltimore was present and stated that the company would take over and finish the contract of the Continental Public Works Company. The Continental Company recently stopped work on the asphalt in Winter Haven, on the Florence Villa Eagle Lake portion of their contract due to bankruptcy proceedings in New York City.

More than 100,000 hampers of potatoes have been shipped from the Moore Haven country so far this season, and the farmers there are still digging spuds. Clark Mounts of the South Florida Farms Company, reported recently. In addition to the potato crop Moore Haven-growers are beginning to harvest peanuts, which at the present market prices are bringing twelve cents per pound to producers. Several hundred acres more of peanuts are now being planted and Moore Haven is expected to become one of the leading peanut centers of the state.

FOOD CONTROL RUSS RESUMES PROHIBITION BATTLE LINE IN THE EAST

Occupy The Attention of Congress This Week

Congress will be a busy body this week with food control, revenue and prohibition measures before it. Compromises are looked for in the prohibition measures but the food control is receiving careful consideration and the people "back home" are having something to say to the congressman about it.

A formidable midsummer legislative program with food, prohibition and revenue the major measures, still confront congress in its war session, which began three months ago. With business congested in the senate and the house marking time in recess senate leaders hoped to make rapid progress on the food control bill with the prohibition program the manufacture of distilled spirits, and send it to conference by the end of the week.

Launching of the war revenue bill, practically re-written from the budget draft and reduced from $1,000,000,000 to $1,652,176,000 by the senate finance committee, also is planned this week. Several weeks of debate are expected. A bill for the relief of the food control program, committee and Herbert C. Hoover, food administrator, discussed today amendments and measures to expedite the food control legislation.

Except for a sharp but probably brief fight expected this week, the prohibition issues seem virtually settled. Administration leaders are positive the senate will adopt Senator Chamberlain's substitute of the house's "bone dry" system. The Administration compromise would stop manufacture of distilled beverages, only allowing President Wilson to permit the manufacture of medicinal wine. The committee tomorrow before the senate convenes.

Mark of the prohibition campaign, will make a fight for Senator Gore's amendment to empower the President to suspend manufacture of malt, fermented and vinous beverages and limit their alcoholic content as well as absolutely prohibiting distillation for beverage purposes.

Prohibition was discussed at today's informal meeting of the committee, but with Mr. Hoover taking no part. He is said to feel that war prohibition is simply a question of foodstuff conservation.

Russian Artillery Attacks Have Been Severe

RUSS RESUMES—The soldiers of New Russia have assumed the aggressive. For the first time since the revolution last March Russian troops have begun an attack on an extensive scale.

Along a front of eighteen and one-half miles in the region of Brozay, Gallela, Russian troops have stormed the German positions. Berlin says the Russians suffered heavy losses and were compelled to retire before the German fire. The attack was made between the upper Stripa and the Narayuvka river, tributary of the Gzela Lopa, in the section southeast of Lemberg, the Galician capital where the artillery struggle has been heavy recently.

The Russians also made night attacks on both sides of Brozay and near Zhyvotz and Berlin reports that assaults between the Zjota Lopa and the Narayuvka have brought on new battles between the opposing forces. The artillery arm of the Russian force has been active and from the Berlin report it is believed that an assault has been made on the Gzela Lopa, about the middle of Stockhol, in Volhynia, a distance of about 175 miles.

Berlin declares the Russian attacks, which it says were powerful, were brought about through the pressure of the leading entente powers. The text of the official statement says:

The Russian government, having been constrained to yield to the pressure of the leading entente powers, part of the army has been directed to attack.

The region of the Narayuvka and Upper Stripa rivers has been the scene of much bitter fighting since General Brusiloff's victory in his campaign last year, and Brozay and is one of the keys to Lemberg.

Field Marshal Haig continues to tighten his grip on Lene. On the north bank of the river, British troops have captured German positions on a front of a half mile west of Lene.

The British army during June captured 8,986 German prisoners, including 175 officers and 67 guns, including two heavy guns as well as much other war material.

The French and Germans continue to battle at various points on the east from Cerny to the Vardun re-dun. East of Cerny the French have repulsed German attacks, and in the region of Prunay, east of Rheims, German surprise attack was thrown back with heavy loss. On the left bank of the Meuse the fighting has brought no change in position.

BOARD OF TRADE TAKES GREAT PRIDE IN RECENT SUCCESS

Two German submarines were fired on by the gun crew of an American liner during a voyage from the United States to England and sailors believe one periscope was shattered. A third submarine was sighted, but the American gunners had no opportunity to fire, as it was immediately submerged.

The American people have been quick to appreciate the value of great aerial fleets of battle and scouting planes, the air service appealed at once to their imagination. But after all is said and done it has been the air and still more guns, shells and still more shells that have turned the tide of war in favor of the Entente Allies.

The artillery has solved most of the problems of modern warfare. It was the artillery that blew the Germans from their grim grip on Vimy Ridge; it was the artillery that shod them loose from their nearly three years' imprisonment about Meuse. It was the artillery that has been the most effective and powerful factor in the complete defense of the Hindenburg line from Arras nearly all the way to Cambrai. It is the artillery today that is harassing and bounding the Germans until they are fairly dazed when the infantry attacks begin.

The limited depth of the battles today is due to the fact that the infantry must not get beyond the protecting cover of their artillery. It was with their enormous guns, which no other possessed, that the German expected to blast their way to a quick victory in 1914. Now their military ambitions and their military prowess are being dashed to pieces against the rocks of skilled supremacy in guns and gunners. Gun airplanes and infantry from the great east to modern war, they are only move hand in hand.

The life of high velocity guns at the rate of fire is necessary to maintain is very short, necessitating constant replacements and reloadings of barrels. It is one of the most significant phases of the war as it approaches the end of the third year that the allies, including America, with a wealth of raw materials at their disposal can make these replacements, while the Germans are becoming more and more desperately in need in that respect. Their artillery is very strong at times, but the shelling in which they indulge is nothing compared with what must be endured by the Germans from the allied guns.

SEMINOLE MILLAGE REDUCED

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS SHOULD BE COMMENDED FOR ACTION

The board of county commissioners met yesterday as according to law to fix and assess the millage for the year 1917, and in their wisdom they reduced the millage 6 mills as compared with last year. This act of the board is certainly commendable and shows that the commissioners of Seminole county are really of and for the people, and while this act of six mills will not be as noticeable, owing to the fact that the state of Florida, under the management and wisdom of the great board has seen fit to raise the millage 2 1/2 mills as compared with last year's assessment. Nevertheless the total millage for Seminole county will be 3 mills less this year than it was last year, which is quite a saving to the taxpayers, and our commissioners should be commended for the position they have taken on the matter.

Following is the rate of millage as fixed by the commissioners, the votes of the people within the school district For County at Large:

Table with 2 columns: Item and Millage. Items include State Millage (9 mills), General Revenue fund (4 mills), General Road fund (5 mills), Fine & Forfeiture fund (1 mill), General School fund (7 mills), Road Board fund (7 mills), Total (33 mills).

Table for School District No. 1: School District No. 1, Total County Millage (33 mills), School Bond fund (3 mills), Special School fund (3 mills), Total for Dist. No. 1 (39 mills).

Table for School District No. 2: School District No. 2, Total County Millage (33 mills), Special School fund (2 mills).

Table for School District No. 2: Total School Dist. No. 2 (35 mills), School Districts Nos. 3, 4, 5 and 6 (6 mills), Total County Millage (33 mills), Special School fund (3 mills).

Table for School Districts: Total for School Districts (36 mills), Nos. 3, 4, 5 and 6 (36 mills).

The county commissioners do not fix the state millage as that is fixed in Tallahassee, nor do they fix the special school district millage as that is fixed each two years by the direct vote of the people within each of the special tax school districts. The millage fixed by the commissioners is the General Revenue, the Fine and Forfeiture and the General Road fund.

The millage for the bond funds is fixed so that enough money will be raised to pay interest, and sinking fund. The general school millage is recommended by the school board. The budget as prepared by the commissioners will be published in The Herald Friday.

TRAGEDY AVERTED

Two Well Known Railroad Men Almost Killed a Thief

What might have been a killing occurred in the freight yards a few nights ago when a prominent pair of railroad officials in fact they have charge of the freight depot here almost killed a thief.

It seems that a quantity of cigarettes had been stolen from the freight depot and finding some of them hidden under part of the floor these men who we will call John and Jess for short decided they would hide and when the miscreant came for his ill gotten gains they would pounce on him and capture him double handed. Well, they hid and shortly after midnight they heard a noise and the head of a negro appeared above the flooring. They called upon him to halt but he had business at home and ducked. One of the home guard fired point blank at him and missed him clean. He says he does not understand it for he saw the negro plain enough and fired right at him and by all the rules of civilized warfare that negro should now be filled with lead but he is not, and moreover John and Jess do not even know his name. All of which leads their friends to believe that John and Jess will never be drafted into the army until they have more small arm practice. It is also true that the negro has never been back to get the cigarettes he had hidden.

Resolutions Adopted Respecting The Recent Rate Increase

Without doubt the value of a Commercial Union has never been better demonstrated than in the recent success of effort on the part of Sanford Board of Trade members, who, by their union in a common cause, so aligned themselves in Washington before the Interstate Commerce Commission, as to turn apparent failure into a tremendous success. All railroads of the country had united in asking for a fifteen per cent advance in freight rates. Many people even in conversation with us, remarked when the question of opposing the rate increase was mentioned. "What's the use, they usually get what they want anyway," and taking things for granted failed to even be interested in an undertaking that has resulted in saving annually $115,000.00 to Seminole county producers and shippers and is a direct financial saving of many dollars to every man who has a freight bill to pay.

Local members, growers, shippers, business men, believing in the fairness of the undertaking, gathered together for the purpose of taking in at least making a fight and guided rightly, these men have won. These men have also paid the price for a common good, and if the man you know is a member of the Sanford Board of Trade, then that man has, by his membership and financial support, brought a valuable protection to your own as well as his interest. If the Board of Trade never in its history performs another deed, this one all is ample and is such that pays back many times over, the membership fee invested.

At a meeting of the Board of Governors Monday night the following resolutions were adopted: At the regular meeting of the Board of Governors of the Sanford Board of Trade, in session, July 2nd the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, Our secretary, D. C. Marlowe, has performed valuable service to our members, as well as to the entire shipping interests of Seminole county, in his preparation and successful cooperation with the other members of the Southeastern Shippers Association, in defeating the proposed Interstate Freight Increase of 15 per cent; and

Whereas, The success of Secretary Marlowe's efforts in said rate case reflects great credit as to his knowledge, ability and initiative in the preparation and handling of a subject of such vital importance to the citizens of Seminole county, and including the shipping interests of the entire state of Florida, therefore,

Be it Resolved, That a vote of thanks be extended Mr. Marlowe, by this board and that a copy of this resolution be spread upon the minutes of this meeting and also published in the Sanford Herald, that all members of the Sanford Board of Trade, as well as the citizens of our community may know the favor with which we look upon the work done by Mr. Marlowe, in this case, as well as the commendable manner in which he represents our county generally.

Among The Theatres

Peggy Hyland's Dance
 "Americans who have observed the Ballet Russe with unbounded interest," says Peggy Hyland, the Vitagraph star, "will I suppose, be surprised to realize that the Russian Ballet was entirely due to an American girl, Isadora Duncan."

"Miss Duncan was always a worshipper of the beautiful and of nature. She believed that real dancing should be based upon the movements of the waves, the clouds and of rinate her school of dancing. Her first exhibition was given in 1899 in a little theatre of a dramatic school in Chicago. Even then it was unappreciated. She crossed to the continent, dancing in Paris, Berlin and Vienna. Her reception was puzzling, opinions being widely varied. It was not until she came to St. Petersburg that she achieved her real triumph."

"The Imperial Russian Ballet has always been a government maintained institution. Until the coming of Miss Duncan its technique was of the old fashioned ballet school. The directors of the ballet welcomed Miss Duncan with open arms."

"The early hours of the Imperial ballet were tremendously successful. Paris went wild over the new art. So Anna Pavlova, Waslaw, Nijinsky, Lydia Lopokova, Mikail Mordkin and others came into fame."

"Thus we see the tremendous debt the Russian ballet and the new art of stage settings owe to America. It was with these thoughts in mind that I portrayed the role of an American dancer in the Russian ballet in 'The Sixteenth Wife'."

The story:

A pretty Kentucky girl who poses as a Russian danseuse, thereby winning the plaudits of the world, is the heroine of the Greater Vitagraph's Blue Ribbon Feature, "The Sixteenth Wife," in which Peggy Hyland and Marc MacDermott are presented. "The Sixteenth Wife" comes to the Lyric Theatre on Monday.

"The Sixteenth Wife" was adapted by A. Van Buren Powell from Molly Elliott Seawell's romance, "Mary Ann and the Grand Duke." Mlle. Olette, heading the Russian Ballet is really a shrewd American girl who poses as a Russian to make success easier. She is a wonderful dancer and the idol of Petrograd. One of her admirers is Kadir El Raschoud, a high Turkish official, who wishes to make her Mrs. Sixteen of his harem.

Through craft he decoys her to Turkey and ultimately makes her a prisoner in his harem. But she escapes and comes to America, where new triumphs await her. The Turkish nobleman follows but Mlle. Olette, alias Mary Ann, promises to become Jimmie's circlet wearer forever and evermore.

"The Sixteenth Wife" is a brisk and lively photo-adventure along picturesque lines. There is plenty of humor, largely due to Mary Ann's old negro servant, Aunt Zula, who during the masquerade, become Zula, fresh from the Nubian desert.

"The Sixteenth Wife" calls for a colorful staging of the scenes switching from Petrograd to Constantinople and back to America, presenting a number of elaborate ballet scenes.

Peggy Hyland plays the American girl who poses as a Russian danseuse and Marc MacDermott appears as the Turkish gentleman so undisturbed by the high cost of living that he is willing to add another wife to his harem.

George J. Forth plays the young newspaperman, Warburton, and Tem Saxe is seen in the role of Mlle. Olette's impressario.

Lyric Tonight

"It looks very much like it. It must be a fact. All the evidence points to Ramsdell being a dope fiend."

The father of Ramsdell's sweetheart gasped at the apparent conclusive evidence of Ramsdell's degradation came into his hands.

"You must give up Ramsdell at once. He must never see you again" cried the father to his daughter.

And when Ramsdell recovered from the stupor which had come over him when his rival in love gave him a dose of morphine, he was turned almost unceremoniously out of the house where he had been a welcome visitor and suitor.

Soon Ramsdell dropped lower and lower in the scale of humanity. Heartbroken by the unwarranted accusations against him, broken in business and with his hope and ambition stifled, he frequented the lowest gin mills and sought to drown his sorrow in drink.

But there was too much manhood in him to be content with such a life. "I'll brace up. I'll show them all that I'm still a man!" he cried, leaping to his feet and rushing out of a saloon one day.

And Fate led him back to his sweetheart and guided him in exposing the villain of the false friend who had betrayed him.

This gives you an idea of part of the action in "The False Friend," the newest World Picture Brady Made in which Robert Warwick and Gail Kane are the stars and which will be the attraction at the Lyric tonight.

A "palindrome" not only may be a phrase, but also "a word, verse, or sentence that means the same whether the letters composing it are taken in direct or in reverse order, as the answer attributed to Napoleon when he was asked whether he could have invaded England: "Able was I ere I saw Elba."

The only mention of a bridge in the canonical Scriptures is indistinctly in the principality of Geshur, a district to the northeast of the sea of Galilee. At this place a bridge is said to exist still which is called by the Arabs "the Bridge of the Sons of Jacob." The Romans are credited with being the first constructors of arched bridges over streams.

An Unaccountable Prosperity

By ALAN HINSDALE

I had reached the age of thirty-five and had not made any success in life. Indeed, I was out of a position and had nothing in the world to prevent starvation. To add to my melancholy I was in love with a girl who was supporting herself by teaching. She loved me, but of course marriage between us was out of the question. One afternoon I was sitting on a bench in a park with other homeless, workless men. A man sitting beside me got up, leaving a newspaper behind him. I took it up mechanically and tried to read some of the items in it, principally to relieve my mind from gloom. Suddenly my eye caught sight of my own name. It was among a few personals. It said that if I would send my address to Murray & Field, agents, I would hear something to my advantage. I would have concluded that the ad. was for some other person of similar name, but my name is an odd one and my two surnames are also unusual.

I lost no time in calling on Murray & Field and found that they were agents for a wooden mill in New England. I handed in the ad, which I had taken from the newspaper and was shown into Mr. Field's office. Without saying anything to me he took down a letter file, withdrew a letter and read it over. Then he put it back in its place and said to me:

"Do you want a position?" I said that I most assuredly did want a position very badly. He told me that he had been directed by an officer of the mills to represent to send me to them. Opening a drawer in his desk, he took out $20 and handed it to me. I asked some questions, but he said he knew nothing about the matter except that he had been instructed to advertise for me. I took the $20 and spent one of them for a meal. With the rest I paid my way to the mills.

When I got there I was received by the secretary and put in a room by myself, the door standing open. After remaining there about half an hour I was conducted to the office of the secretary, who told me that if I wanted work I could have it. I asked him questions, with the same result as before.

I was given a job on a small salary, but the salary was increased rapidly. Within six months after being employed I was receiving $100 a month, and then my salary was doubled. I did all I could to earn it, but I am not an unblinded judge as to whether I succeeded.

However, I liked my work and felt that I was fitted for it. One day I asked if I might consider my salary permanent, and on being told that it was I wrote my sweetheart that I was ready to marry her if she was ready to marry me. She replied that she was, and I obtained leave to go and get married.

Before leaving I was handed a check for $1,000, which I was told was for immediate use. I was given everything I desired except information as to why I was favored. To my questions on this point I received only silence. Before my return from my honeymoon I was informed that a house had been provided for me, and on my arrival one of the employees of the mills conducted me to it, and when we were inside he handed me a deed for the property, which was worth about $10,000.

My wife insisted that there was a fairy godmother who was showering on me all these blessings, but I did not believe any such thing.

One day the secretary of the company told me that I was wanted at a certain house, to which he would conduct me. I felt it in my bones that I was to receive an explanation of my good luck or kind treatment, and while being driven to my destination I was forming theories to account for it. I was driven up to a handsome dwelling, alighted, and when in the house was taken upstairs to a room where an old man lay in bed. He looked at me steadily as I approached him, motioned me to take a chair close by him, and then said to me:

"I am your father's brother. You probably never heard of my existence, for I ran away from home when a boy, and I have understood that my name was never mentioned in the family. You are the only living person sprung from that stock. I am unmarried and have no children. I advertised for you through you to find some attorney for my description when I was a boy. I own the controlling interest in the mills where you are employed. I have but a short time to live, and at my death you will inherit my stock in the company. It occurred to me that you should be trained to manage the property, and I took my own way of training you."

State Forests.

State forests, with a total of over 3,000,000 acres, have been established in thirteen states. Of these New York has the largest forests, which comprise 1,826,000 acres; Pennsylvania is second, with 1,008,000 acres, and Wisconsin third, with 400,000 acres.

Potted Foods.

There is much probability in the suggestion that we owe our system of potted foods to the North American Indians, who for many years have dried venison, pumped it into a jar and pressed it into cakes for winter food.

of the advisory commission created to aid the Council of National Defense, undertook their further development. In Washington, he was made chairman of the committee on transportation and communication.

It was W. G. Besler, president of the Central Railroad of New Jersey and a member of the executive committee of the American Railway association, who proposed turning the undertaking over to the association. Said he:

"It is the only machinery which exists in this country for co-ordinating and handling the various phases of this problem, the only piece of machinery which can make itself felt throughout the country, the only organization whose voice will be heard and obeyed. Through it the situation in the far west, the far south and the north can be controlled as easily and as readily as can that of the east. Through it we can be assured that there will be no conflict of motives or of efforts."

"It is the obvious solution of the problem," continued Mr. Besler. "There will be a tremendous lot of detail work to be done, and I don't know how else we could do it. I have never had any faith in associations of citizens, however patriotic and energetic, when they undertake work of which they have no knowledge. This work is work that needs the greatest planning by expert traffic men. Every move must be thought out in detail, and there is none to do it so well as the association."

"For instance, I have friends who have told of seeing in Germany huge fan shaped stretches of track just within the German border. No trains were on them. No factories were near. They lay in waste stretches of country or country that had been leveled to let these masses of track lie in a plain. They were the termini by aid of which Germany has been enabled to move great masses of troops speedily and without confusion."

"These stretches of track were laid at places which the German board of strategy has conceived to be turning points in the event of the war that came. Now our military experts will discover just such strategic points for the concentration of troops without doubt and will demand the installation there of these fan shaped termini. There is no trouble moving freight or troops. We can move all we shall ever be asked to move. The trouble will be at the terminals."

Stanley Sprague Lived Thirty-three Years With Fracture of Skull.

New York.—Stanley Sprague, seventy-six years old, of East Meadow, N. Y., is dead after having lived, more than thirty-three years with a compound fracture of the skull, received when a negro attempted to murder him for his money. The nature of his injury was such he was compelled to undergo a slight operation every two months, but this did not deter him from working daily on his farm.

Sprague was attacked by William Rugg, who a few months before shot and killed Mrs. Walter Maybee and her daughter, in the same neighborhood. He robbed the house, but did not harm Mr. Maybee, who was blind.

Rugg was captured by a posse and put in the Long Island City Jail, from which he escaped. He was recaptured and hanged at Mineola.

THEIR VOLUNTARY OPINION OF THE SAN- FORD BOARD OF TRADE

Trade, it is a pleasure to have the opportunity of saying that no other organization has done or can do Seminole county as much good as the Board of Trade. The time I consume in attending the governors' meetings in Sanford, the trip from and to Geneva is time well spent and produces the satisfaction of knowing that I am at least doing

A Practicing Physician's Prescription

When you wake up in the morning with a coated tongue, sick headache or dizziness; when you suffer with sour stomach, constipation or indigestion, you may be sure your system is loaded with impurities and waste matter. You had better get rid of it as soon as possible, or you'll be taking a chance with your health. Take a few doses of Martin's Liver Medicine, a purely vegetable, non-poisonous compound made according to a prominent physician's prescription and it will make you feel like a new man. This Medicine is far superior to calomel and has been in use for years. Besides being adapted to relieving stomach and liver disorders in grown persons, Martin's Liver Medicine also has the distinctive advantage of being suitable for children and babies. It has an agreeable sweet taste, does not gripe and acts gently but effectively on the bowels. Try a bottle of it and if it does not give satisfaction, you can get your money back. what I can to further a progressive cause.

L. A. SHELDON.

Viewing the Sanford Board of Trade from the angle of an out-of-town citizen, I feel that in the Board of Trade, Geneva has an able, efficient directory. Sanford being a gateway to Seminole county must necessarily represent the various sections and certainly we cannot expect representation unless we cooperate with an organization that is looking after our local interests along with their own. I am thoroughly satisfied with my membership and the results obtained.

E. M. REHBINDER.

Altamonte Citizen

I am very much interested in the success of the Sanford Board of Trade. I deem it an honor to be a member and although a resident of Altamonte Springs I thoroughly realize the impartial service being rendered this community at the hands of the Board of Trade. A membership card tells "Who's Who" to the newcomers and places one among the leaders. If you are a progressive citizen and one who wants to see his county forge ahead, you can demonstrate it best by aligning yourself with your Board of Trade.

H. C. LYMAN.

Real Estate

The united thought of 400 of our best citizens, expressed through our officers and especially our efficient secretary in extending a hearty welcome, giving of information or advice, in publicity through press or by correspondence, the constant watchfulness for improvements to be made or wrongs to be righted, this is the seed being sown from which Seminole county must reap a big harvest. The Sanford Board of Trade stands for SERVICE. I am much pleased with the progress made and results attained.

J. O. PACKARD.

Postmaster

As a member of the Board of Trade, and being in touch with the work being done, I know that as an organization it is invaluable not only to Sanford but to Seminole county. It is a clearing house for inquiries that are increasing and an impartial representative of the city and county. The organization deserves the support of all progressive citizens.

P. M. ELDER.

A Minister

I make no apology to anyone for being a member of the Sanford Board of Trade, rather, I am proud of the fact and take occasion to say so wherever I am. I consider that the Sanford Board of Trade is doing a progressive work, the value of which cannot be estimated by the most optimistic person. I especially appreciate the consideration given city. I am sure that the Board has the religious development of our city at heart as well as development along other lines.

GEORGE HYMAN.

Shoe Store

I am much impressed with the belief that the Board of Trade is the greatest factor for developing progressive business ideas, town loyalty and civic pride in Sanford. The efficient officers have already accomplished many good things for our city, and the cooperative spirit will bring to pass all that is hoped for Sanford's betterment.

J. W. DICKINS.

Celery Growers

Although a busy man attending the many details incident to the production of 100 or more cars of celery and vegetables annually, I make it a part of my business to affiliate with the Sanford Board of Trade, financially and morally. I do this because of my belief in it as an organization that is doing more than has ever been done before toward advertising and building our city and county.

G. F. SMITH.

Our Board of Trade is not merely an organization existing simply to afford something for us to belong to, but instead, is an organization that you and I helped plan, advocated and promised to support. Like a few hundred others, I am doing my share and in one instance alone, whether we succeed or fail, the Board of Trade demonstrated its value to the farmer in taking his appeal against an increase in freight rates direct to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

B. E. SQUIRES.

Coast Line Official

Along with our agricultural and immigration work, the Company I represent is always glad to have its representatives affiliate with all progressive organizations. Not alone for this reason, but because I am a citizen of Sanford, it is a real pleasure for me to be a member of the Sanford Board of Trade and assist by doing my share in advocating the wonderful possibilities of Sanford and Seminole county.

J. G. HURLEY.

Clyde Line Official

Through its system of advertising, the Clyde Steamship Line has been materially benefited by the Sanford Board of Trade. At the hands of the officers and secretary of this organization we have always found ready assistance when their aid was asked for. I heartily recommend the Board of Trade for its general progressive work and expect to remain allied with the members who represent the majority and who are so planning as to get what they go after.

J. B. CALDER.

Better Sauerkraut

The following information has just been issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and will be of interest to those who have cabbage yet in garden or field.

C. M. Berry,
County Agent,
Sanford, Florida.

That sauerkraut can be made only from late or fall cabbage is a belief general in many parts of the country. In connection with the recent announcement of the fermentation method of preserving vegetables, a food bacteriologist of the United States Department of Agriculture declares that sauerkraut of excellent quality can be made from cabbage maturing at any season of the year. The essential points under the revised method recommended by the specialist, which, it is believed, also makes a superior product are the use of only mature, sound cabbage, scrupulous cleanness throughout the process and proper care of the surface of the brine after fermentation is completed. This is the process:

Remove the outer green leaves of the cabbage, just as in preparing for boiling. If an instrument for chopping is not available, quarter the heads and slice off the part of the core remaining on each quarter. Inexpensive shredding machines are now sold upon the market, but if these are not available the quarter heads may be cut into thin slices with a large knife. Pack the shredded cabbage immediately in a clean, water-tight receptacle such as a cider or wine barrel, keg, or tub. Except in the case of large families, 4 or 5 gallon earthenware crocks are preferable. This quantity after opening can be used up before spoilage begins.

As the cabbage is packed, salt at the rate of 1 pound to 40 pounds of cabbage should be added and distributed evenly. When the barrel or crock is nearly full the cabbage should be pressed down as firmly as possible and covered with a clean board. It is desirable, but not essential, that a cloth be placed over cabbage before the cover is put into place. The salt soon extracts a considerable amount of the cabbage brick or stone should be added to cause the brine to rise above the wooden cover. Do not use limestone or sandstone for weights as the action of the acid produced by fermentation on these substances destroys the keeping quality of the brine. Tubs and covers made of yellow or pitch pine should not be employed, as such woods cause disagreeable flavors.

The container then is set aside and fermentation allowed to proceed undisturbed. If the weather is cool or a cold cellar is used, 3 to 5 weeks may be necessary for the fermentation to be completed; if in a warm room, 10 days to 2 weeks. Scum should not be allowed to grow on the surface of the brine. As soon as gas bubbles cease to rise the scum should be removed and a layer of hot melted paraffin about one fourth to one half inch thick should be poured upon the brine while very hot.

If the sauerkraut is made during the fall and stored in a cool place, there is no absolute necessity for a layer of paraffin. The low temperature will prevent decomposition. The popular idea that sauerkraut made from early cabbage will not keep is based upon the fact that the fermentation occurs in warm weather and the rapid growth of scum soon destroys both brine and kraut, if the surface is not properly protected. Vinegar at the rate of 1 quart to 25 pounds of cabbage will prevent decomposition which sometimes takes the form of a soft and slippery product.

The Denarius.

The denarius, translated penny, was a Roman silver coin in the time of Jesus and his apostles. It was the principal silver coin of the Roman commonwealth. From the parable of the laborers in the vineyard, in the twentieth chapter of Matthew, it would appear that a denarius was then the ordinary pay for a day's labor.

Yellow Pine in California.

The yellow pine in California ranges from 100 feet above sea level to 7,000 feet, and its variety, the Jeffrey pine, is found at 9,000 feet, the most remarkable range of any species of pine in the world.

Lover's Quarrel.

"Hallo, Fitzzy, where did you get that black eye?" "Oh, it was only a lover's quarrel!" "Lover's quarrel! Why, your girl didn't give you that, did she?" "No, it was her other lover."

Economy Can Be Carried Too Far.

It doesn't pay to save a penny at the expense of several pennies' worth of time and effort. All economy is not economy. Some of it costs more than it is worth.

Some Consolation.

Even if a woman is sorry she married a man, she can find some consolation in the thought that she kept some other woman from getting him.

Protecting Venetians From . . .

To protect Venetians from being run into by automobiles at night, an inventor has patented a prism that catches rays from lights and deflects them through a pane of red glass.

Hospitality.

Sometimes a fellow will extend a hospitality that savors of robbing the pig.

HOW FAR TO YOUR STOVE?

Seven Miles carrying a hot iron

It is a conservative estimate that, in ironing the weekly wash for an average family, a woman walks seven miles a year between ironing board and stove. This distance, of course, may be less or greater for you depending upon the distance between the two in your kitchen.

The G-E Electric Flat Iron will save all this waste effort. It furnishes its own heat and stays hot until the ironing is finished. You don't have to leave the ironing board and you can work wherever there is an electrical connection.

How much would a G-E iron save for YOU?

Cities and towns on waterways ought in their own interests to take steps to encourage water transit and to extemporize, if need be, means to extemporize, if need be, means for bringing it quickly into service. Public bodies like chambers of commerce and boards of trade should also take the matter up actively where conditions make it possible to do so, and give their support to the men who endeavor to develop transportation by water on a temporary or permanent basis. It is encouraging to note the proposed formation of companies to conduct transportation on the Mississippi river. Such organizations today do a patriotic and most helpful service. They should be helped forward wherever they may be started, in every reasonable way.

If, as is quite possible, the war shall last more than a year, our Nation may find itself a year hence with its industries of all kinds driven to the full and with special energy devoted to more extensive as well as more intensive cultivation. At the same time our troops will have to be moved and the regular flow of supplies maintained for the armies abroad. It will be difficult, if not impossible, to expand the railroad system in time to meet the additional demands upon it which these circumstances may bring. Many of the great waterways of the land, however, are almost unused and a great opportunity for national service is open by means of them to those who have the energy and foresight to take the matter up and develop water transportation into a practical fact. Every river, lake and canal should be used. Every enterprise, large or small, looking toward their practical use should have encouragement. The president of one of the greatest railway systems has recently said: "So long as the war lasts the railroads of the United States will cooperate to the fullest possible extent with the waterways of the country in order that the needs of the country may be served."

Grabbed by Old Ocean.

An average of 65 tons of soil and loose rock is washed into the ocean every year from every square mile of the United States. This estimate does not include the great basin. The immensity of this contribution may be better comprehended when it is realized that the surface of this country covers 8,083,500 square miles.

Can it! is no longer slang but good, sound, motherly advice.

This is the Board of Trade issue, made possible by the progressive management of a live newspaper.

The Prosperity family have moved to Sanford and state that they expect to make this city their future home.

We favor a ten dollar tax on the fellow who sits around two hours waiting for you to buy a paper so he can borrow it.

Ten million Americans have volunteered to fight for you and yours. Have you volunteered a Red Cross dollar to bring a little comfort to these men?

Appoint us recruiting officer and we know where we can enlist a squad of mother-in-laws that will go right on into Germany and ketch the Kaiser.

The largest individual Red Cross subscription in Seminole county was produced by an officer of the Sanford Board of Trade. Oh, well, that's the reason the Board of Trade is what it is.

The southeastern states will furnish 55,500,000 feet of lumber for army encampments. It requires 1,500 car loads of lumber for each encampment and sixteen are to be built.

That little play, "The Silver Bullet" produced by Uncle Sam and being so successfully staged by France and England is making a tremendous HIT in Germany and is booked to play in Berlin shortly with a star named Pershing as the leading man.

Along with the various officers being holsted by Gov. Catts, we respectfully lay before him the case of Mr. Non Progressive, and earnestly solicit his speedy removal from earth, if possible, and further ask that his office be declared vacant for all time to come.

It is wonderful, the lesson in efficiency being taught us—particularly in the past three months. Always progressive but lacking needed efficiency, the cost of war is the price we must pay for a much needed lesson, together with a Liberty diploma thrown in for the whole world. A righteous bargain and Uncle Sam grabbed it.

Two undesirables: The food speculator and the fellow, who to boost his own interests splits fifty fifty with the Red Cross, on net profits on an article that otherwise wouldn't appeal to a cigar Indian.

Our greatest trouble is our failure to advertise. Seminole county was the first in the state to make a preparedness campaign, the first to organize a Home Guard and Sanford, the first city to put in motion a city market, whereby the producer could sell direct to the consumer.

Holly and Haynes are the gentlemen's names. Who to Jugsonville have gone for a trip. Press meeting excuse—come clean tell the truth. Cause your both took a Davis package low grip.

Been looking for the Tribune to unearth another poem with a languishing air like:

"Let me march under the Red, White and Blue.

Please, mother, let me, do." Suppose you call on Miss Sally Hoskins of Bingville, for a classic on Spring.

AN APPRECIATION

This issue of The Herald is the Sanford Board of Trade edition, a progressive act made possible by Editor Holly and his efficient staff. Unusual possibly to the casual man, but entirely usual and characteristic of The Herald management, who considers no act too great that tends to build and boost the city and county that is home to them. One of the originators of the Board of Trade Mr. Holly's arduous in continually advocating the value of the organization to Seminole county, has never ceased, whether it be money, time or printers' ink, an ample share of either can always be found at The Herald office and instead of getting what you go after with a grouch behind it, it is passed to you quith a good wish and a smile that would make Douglas Fairbanks work overtime trying to excel.

THEIR GIFT

Not satisfied with liberal donations of time and money to the Red Cross and every patriotic cause, one Sanford home has given their three only sons to fight for the cause of justice and democracy. Although needed at home to assist in the support of mother, father and sisters, these parents have shouldered the burden of livelihood and in true American style have bade their boys answer the call. Unlike the sons of fortune favored parents who aspire to rapid rise because of that fact, these boys expect nothing but the life of a soldier, playing their part in the game of death because it's right. They look for nothing but the fortunes of war, their greatest hope, the final return home. In this case, not only is praise due the boys—and too much cannot be said of them, but unstinted praise is only a weak reward for the noble parents of such noble boys.

IS THERE ANY DIFFERENCE

Recently the Tampa Tribune told of the attitude of the ship builders of that city toward their manager who had refused to buy a Liberty Bond. Characteristic of the Tribune it offers praise where praise is due and does not hesitate at the reverse if occasion demands it. Justly, the Tribune considers motive in many cases supreme to an act and while it has never sympathized with strikes, in this case, as it appeared at the time, the motive being that of patriotism, that paper, heartily in sympathy with everything patriotic, did not stint its measure of appreciation for the men who had acted so gallantly. The scene changed, however. In an instant the spirit shifted from patriotism to commercialism and the halo of the spirit of '76 regenerated, being painted for the man was dashed by themselves into the whirlpool of grab and gain and the pen of the writer raised to complete the story of their greatness, succeeded only in falling, to silently proclaim an unwritten story of shattered idols. When the threatened railroad strike was brewing, the patriotism of the men was called to time, and in answer they told the nation that if their demands would in any way conflict with the government plans that when the time came they would offer methods of prevention that would insure safety and efficiency on their part. At least they did not mix their demands.

What a contrast between these men and the ship builders, assuming that the case of the former, has been correctly told, and what a close resemblance between the shipbuilders and the present attitude and demands of the railroads. They too declare their patriotism and we believe them true, but in the same breath that proclaims them patriots they demand a national increase in freight rates that equals more than $360,000,000.00 and from the throne of would-be-heroinism cry out "pay me or I'll be compelled to come down"—we can't do the work. Investigating their case it was found that their various reserves ran from $1,000,000 to $35,000,000 in the southeastern states, that the tonnage for the past year had never before been equaled and that such dividends as 12 and 19 per cent were not uncommon and that the asked for increase of fifteen per cent at the hands of the government would not only pay for all forms of increases in price and pay incurred by the Adamson law, but would leave a bountiful margin for more dividends—where the carriers had millions, the producers had less than hundreds. Can it be said then, that as Hessians, they are patriotic and true for the sake of a handsome price. Truly if the pot of the ship builders presents a cloud dark hue, then the railroads kettle is the picture of night.

SWATTING THE SHERIFFS

This seems to be the open season for Florida sheriffs. Dowling of Duval lost his official head and a soft place was thus provided for Hayes Lewis. Now Carter of Citrus is put out on the usual charges of the two kinds of "feasance," "mal" and "mis," and B. O. Bowden, editor of the Inverness Chronicle gets the place. Probably with the idea of saving the governor the trouble of removing him, the Sheriff of Clay county has "removed" himself and has disappeared without the customary explanations.

Conditions are said to be patricky in the offices of many of the sheriffs and the governor seems to be as skilful a marksman when gunning for official scapals as he claimed, during the campaign, to be in case of tin cans. We would advise those sheriffs who feel that they are in line to emulate the example of the Clay county man and "beat it" while the beating is good. Then their removal can be effected on the ground of disappearance without the unpleasantness of having these "mis" and "mal" things attached to their names.

In the Citrus county case, without any knowledge of the situation or of what foundation may exist for the charges filed against the recent incumbent, we are glad that Editor Bowden has been selected for the place, because he was a newspaper man and because he has been distinguished in several political aspirations in the past few years. He ought to make a good official, and the Tribune believes he will.

Another newspaper man has landed in public office in the appointment of Robert J. Holly, editor of the Sanford Herald, as probation officer of Seminole county. Holly is efficient in everything he undertakes, and the people of Seminole are to be congratulated that he has consented to take on the duties of this office. —Tampa Tribune.

TEACHING THE FARMER

It seems that everybody is telling the farmer what to plant and when to plant it. Numbers of these advisers, while sincere in their efforts and intentions deal only in theory and profess amazement when friend farmer, at the business end of a McCormick patent goes blithely on doing the things that years of experience tells him is proper. What we need is less advice along this line and more advice about preparing the product for shipment and about a profitable market for its reception. We will have no trouble with production on the part of the farmer if we but only aid him in disposition. It must be remembered that the farmer is like every other American, except in most cases better; he is ready to increase his business if he finds it profitable. Until this year, the rank and file of farmers have spent ten years or more merely making a living. There is not now such a vast difference in the quality or quantity of his output compared to a few years back, but due to a few men who have practiced rather than preached, better marketing conditions have been arranged, packing instructions have been afforded the farmer and he has found at least one channel that will provide him more for his product and resultantly these having paid him has encouraged him to renewed effort. We can't expect a soldier to go to war smiling when we solemnly assure him that his speedy death has been pre-arranged, neither can we expect the farmer to dig, toil and produce when we have demonstrated to him that while he is performing a wonderful service, we hardly see where he is going to make anything out of it.

Red Cross Shore Dinner One of the main Fourth of July attractions at Daytona Beach, will be the Red Cross Shore Dance, arranged by Parker & Towns, the efficient proprietors of the Hotel Neptune. Their efforts are solely patriotic as the entire net proceeds will go to the Red Cross Fund. Attention is directed to their ad in this issue of The Herald.

A Sane, Safe and Sacred Fourth

How wise of our great administration to counsel restraint on the coming Fourth—this new Fourth born under strained and undreamed of conditions—not the old Fourth with its sky rockets and feux de joiies and blarney trumpets, as innocent as they may be; but a big, broad, world wide Fourth.

A Fourth with memories of glorious achievement yet pregnant with grand possibilities. A Fourth with a past of brave and tender memories, but a Fourth with a future of splendid capabilities!

How wisely it should be spent! A time for thought—a time for retrospection—a time for meditation—a time for confession—a time for humiliation—a time for gratitude—a time for repentance—a time for reformation.

What a Fourth! How shall we spend it? In patriotic pageants? In the trappings of troops? In reviewing the epochs of our brilliant past?

Is there not a better way in view of the momentous prospect before us—the solemn issues that face us—the awful struggle in which we are called upon to participate—and the fateful consequences into which our countrymen may be plunged!

Suppose we should resort to the churches on this strange Fourth with its wide eyes of wonder and courage that will not see dismay nor disaster!

Suppose we go! Suppose we open God's word and take the plummet of His righteousness and see, as a nation, if we are justified before Him.

Through fifty years we let the serpent's trail of a legalized liquor traffic drag its slime of horrors across the homes of our nation!

We have permitted capital to oppress labor until the cry of the laborer has ascended to the Lord of Sabbath.

We have formulated and enacted loose divorce laws contrary to the word of God.

We have permitted heathen temples to be erected in a Christian land—the greatest stench in the nostrils of the Almighty!

We have oppressed childhood in its helplessness.

We have violated the Sabbath day with its opportunities for worship and the culture of our higher natures.

Suppose on this new Fourth we should do the strange thing of sincerely confessing our sins, humiliating ourselves, praying for forgiveness and asking the God of Nations to hear our call and our cry for overturning the powers in Europe that are causing this awful war, and for establishing peace—a wholesome, broad, and righteous peace among the nations.

Suppose we did do this—would we not have the right to claim His rich, consoling promise that the nation THAT REPENTED should be forgiven and spared?

What a Fourth like this might bring to the world!

What a burst of sunshine after the thunders of the storm!

Presbyterian Sunday School Sunday will be Patriotic Day and a suitable program will be given at the close of Sunday school.

Last Sunday was Memory Day on John. Several interesting things developed about this wonderful gospel. The fourteenth chapter was voted the most popular chapter by a good majority, though chapters ten and three were in the race. John 3:16 was unanimously elected the favorite verse.

The following are the Sunday services at the Presbyterian church Sunday school, 9:45 a. m. Morning worship at 11 a. m. Intermediate Christian Endeavor, 6:45 p. m. Evening service at 7:30 p. m. The pastor will preach at each of the preaching services.

It has long been known that such plants as "Venus fly-trap" actually catch and squeeze to death flies and other insects alighting on their leaves, but the discovery is comparatively recent that the plants digest the softer parts of their prey by means of a peptic ferment secreted by the leaves.

Being an Editor

(By D. C. Marlowe.)
Ever since I first sized up Hon. Ben. Franklin's first product, in my home town in Liberty county, Ga., many years ago, the realization of the necessity of my being an editor has constantly grown upon me—until today, I didn't know then, nor until today that the first lesson in the print shop was the language of the business. I can say a few words in French and once learned to manufacture a Chinese laundry ticket for my own collars.

my violation of the "No Smoking Allowed" signs. What I learned of the above took only a few minutes, what I would have to learn as a first lesson in the newspaper business would require fourteen years. Characteristic of the average man, I have always considered the editor as having an easy job and many a time, I have grabbed the idea—and only one of his many hundreds, and after spending 'steen hours over my typewriter have transformed his prose into my way of thinking and in doing so proclaimed to my wife the sad loss these United States was sustaining on account of my energies being turned in other directions.

The regular meeting of the Branch on Monday afternoon was very well attended, as was also the meeting of the sewing committee on Wednesday, all day, at the club house. The members are showing that they mean business, and that they intend to keep up the good work, despite the statement that has been made that this community was too small to maintain an independent Branch of the North Florida Chapter.

Scrawny Calves

What makes a calf scrawny on its feet? Germs parasites in the intestines. Why not free them of this trouble? If you will give the calf some B. A. Thomas Stock Remedy in its feed, within a week you will see it brighten up and in four or five weeks you won't know the calf. Costs you but a few cents and we will refund that if it doesn't do as we say.

240 Pound Pigs

With corn above 50 cts. hogs eat their heads off very quickly. The hog that takes two or three months to get on full feed never brings you a profit.

When you are ready to put your shoats on feed, begin with the B. A. Thomas Hog Medicine. Use regularly and watch your shoats round out into fat hogs in nine months—hogs going well over 200 pounds and as high as 240 pounds. Figure the average feeding and you will see why the B. A. Thomas medicine is a good investment. Try feeding out your hogs on this plan and if you are not more than pleased, we will refund the cost of the medicine.

Oviedo Branch, A. R. C.

The Oviedo Branch has had quite a busy week, as in addition to its regular work, which was not interfered with in the least, it had its finance committee busy raising subscriptions to the Hundred Million Dollar Fund, asked for by President Wilson.

The sewing committee completed and shipped to the North Florida Chapter last week the first lot of bandages, and they hope to be able to ship a like quantity every week from now on. They have already worked up two bolts of muslin, and two bolts of gauze into bandages, and are now working on the third bolt of each, and also a bolt of flannel, which is being made up into hospital garments.

This branch is impressed with the idea that bandages and hospital supplies are more necessary at present than the comfort kits and sets, and the energies of the branch are directed especially to that work, although a number of the ladies have volunteered to make the comfort sets in addition, at their homes.

An entertainment committee was appointed two weeks ago, and the results of their labors were shown last Friday evening by a special social at the school house. A very entertaining program was rendered, consisting of songs by some of the children, songs by a local quartet, a flag drill by the children, some readings and a violin solo, the latter being given by Miss Sheldon of Geneva, who kindly helped us out. After the program was completed two cakes were auctioned off and refreshments were served the net proceeds of the evening being over $39.00, which is to be used in purchasing material for the sewing committee.

The finance committee, under the able leadership of Mr. O. P. Swope set out in the early part of the week to raise Oviedo's share of the Hundred Million Dollars. Knowing that this amount represented, in rough figures, about ninety cents per capita for the whole United States, and knowing that some other sections, less favored by Nature and Providence, would be able to come up to this amount per capita, the committee set out to double the amount expected of it, and thus do its part toward helping up the rest; and the generous people of Oviedo, as always, came up to expectations, with the result that $832.50 was subscribed by Monday night, and quite a little of this amount was, paid in cash.

The colored element in this community being very anxious to help out also, knowing that many of their boys have registered and are going to fight for their country asked to be enrolled in the Red Cross and on Monday night they were enrolled as an Auxiliary of the Oviedo Branch. They expect to have about thirty-five members, and have their own officers elected, but will work under the Oviedo Branch. They subscribed $114.50 to the War Fund.

It is estimated that in calm weather a carrier pigeon can fly at the rate of 1,200 yards a minute; with the help of a moderate wind it will attain a speed of 1,500 yards, and before a strong wind, 2,000 yards.

Strange Indeed.

Strange that when a man labels his religion there are so many voluntary inspectors.

Reception in Honor of Bride

The Woman's Club was never prettier than on the occasion of the afternoon reception on Tuesday given by Mrs. J. E. Pace in honor of Mrs. Mahlon Wright, a recent June bride. In the reception hall where the guests were greeted by Mrs. A. E. Hill the decorations were beautiful in the colors of red, white and blue, effectively carried out with the American flags and flowers in these colors. Over the door of the library hung a large flag, while above the windows, perfectly shaped leaves of the palmetto were crossed. The walls were screened with graceful, trailing vines of Southern Smilax. In one corner, resting upon a tall stand, a brass basket was filled with red, white and blue flowers and on the library table a huge jardiniere held an exquisite mass of red and white lilies. In the auditorium, where the reception was held, Mrs. W. L. Morgan ushered and introduced. It was here that Mrs. Pace received, attractively gowned in white lace net, with Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Ralph Wight, charming in their wedding dresses of white, and Mrs. W. C. Hill prettily gowned in blue silk taffeta.

In this room the wall and window adornment was similar to that of the reception hall. Above the rostrum was draped a big American flag, while a unique arrangement of palmetto leaves was very attractive. In keeping with the color scheme there were bowls of red carnations, jardiniere of white crepe myrtle and jardiniere also of blue flowers were placed about the room. The punch table which was presided over by Miss Nellie Elder and Miss Muriel Harold was lovely in white and green.

Assisting with refreshments were Mrs. Allan Jones, Mrs. Grovenstein, Miss Ruth Roberts, Miss Margaret Davis and Miss Katherine Bollinger of Macon. Refreshing ice cream was served in dainty kisses and the small cakes were ornamented with tiny flag pins, souvenirs of the charming occasion.

Mrs. Henry McLaughlin assisted in looking after the pleasure of the guests who called continuously from four to six.

An interesting and attractive program of music was rendered by Mr. Clarence Mahoney, pianist, and Mr. Young, violinist.

Beautiful in all the charming appointments, beneath the softened glow of shaded lights, the dainty evening gowns of those assisting and the pretty afternoon toilettes of the guests completed a scene of charm and grace offset by the brilliant colors of the Red, White and Blue.

Proctor—Nicholson

Early last Monday morning, June 25th, a marriage of much interest to Geneva friends took place at the parsonage of the First Baptist church of Sanford, when Miss Roberta E. Nicholson, daughter of Mrs. O. A. Nicholson of Geneva and Mr. Troy Proctor of Forsyth, Georgia were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by the pastor, Rev. George Hyman. The bride was very attractive in her going away gown of navy blue taffeta with becoming little hat to match. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Proctor left for their future home in Philadelphia, where congratulations and best wishes of their many friends go with them.

Ladies of the Macabees

There will be a business meeting of the Ladies of the Macabees on Monday evening at 7:30 at the Woman's Club. The tent will hereafter meet always in the evening on the first and third Mondays of each month.

Navy League

Mrs. A. E. Hill is still actively engaged in securing members for the auxiliary to the Navy League that will be organized in Sanford and earnestly solicits the cooperation of Sanford women in the worthy cause. There are several ways in which the work can be done—make and give one outfit; pay for the materials if you cannot make the outfit or make the outfit for some one else who cannot knit but will furnish the necessary materials. Mrs. Hill and her committee are meeting with a generous response to the appeal but it is their earnest hope to send at least one hundred outfits for the battleship Florida for which the Florida women are urged to give. It is hoped by next week to have a membership large enough to perfect the organization of the auxiliary.

Priscillas Meet

The Priscillas were very pleasantly entertained by Mrs. D. A. Caldwell on Wednesday afternoon with a goodly number of the members present. The congenial little company of friends always meet, rain or shine, hot or cold. Even snow in Sanford would not daunt the gay Priscillas.

Cecilian Music Club

Unusually interesting was the delightful program rendered at the Cecilian Music Club on Saturday afternoon at the studio of Mrs. Fannie Stenbridge Munson. A group of charming English and Spanish songs were rendered by Mrs. Joseph Allo who is here on a visit from the Isle of Pines. The last meeting of the club for the summer season will be held at the studio on the fourth Saturday in July. The following program was rendered last Saturday: Old Mother Hubbard Roger Tullie Benjamin

Charming House Dance

In honor of her attractive daughter, Miss Abbie Gaudney, Mrs. Alexander Vaughan entertained with an enjoyable house dance on Wednesday evening at her home on Sanford Heights. Quite a gay company of young people enjoyed the pleasures of the dance and tripped the light fantastic until a late hour.

Subscription Dance

There was another of the delightful subscription dances at the Woman's Club on Tuesday evening which included the three sets of society young people and their chaperone. Punch was served throughout the evening and music was furnished by the Lyric Orchestra.

Every Week Bridge

A pleasant game of the Every Week Bridge Club was played on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. W. J. Thigpen the gracious hostess. Mrs. Norma King McLaughlin made high score. Substitutes were Mrs. E. M. Galloway, Mrs. R. R. Deas, Mrs. A. P. Connelly and Miss Katherine Wilkie. Mrs. Margaret Barnes will be hostess next Wednesday.

Ladies Aid Entertained

An attractive afternoon party was given by Mrs. J. B. Calder on Tuesday to the Ladies Aid Society of the Baptist church at her pretty little bungalow on Sanford avenue. The rooms were lovely with quantities of pink roses and ferns from the rose gardens of Mrs. W. A. Ginn. Refreshments were served at two long tables prettily adorned with pink roses nesting in their beds of agaves fern. The hours were spent informally in pleasing conversation. Ten dollars in silver offering was added to the sum that will pay for the first car load of Tapestry brick (the obligation of the Ladies Aid) for the new church building.

Personal Mention

Mrs. Geo. Speer has returned from Formosa.

Mrs. J. B. Lawson and her attractive little daughter, Dorothy are visiting friends in Atlanta for several weeks.

Of all the pesky critters that conspire to make a decent man's home uncomfortable there are none more repulsive than that filthy member of the insect family, commonly known as the Cockroach. The angry housewife may grab her broom and make short work of a single roach, but she could save her temper and energy and do a thousand times more damage to the roach family if provided with a can of Fenole and a Sprayer. Fenole Spray gets right into the hiding and breeding places of roaches, slays them, destroys their eggs, and breaks up their nests, stops the breed.

(MEMBER SANFORD BOARD OF TRADE)

THEIR VOLUNTARY OPINION OF THE SANFORD BOARD OF TRADE

F. F. Dutton, Inc.
Certainly the Board of Trade is worthy the loyal support of every citizen of Seminole county regardless of whatever interest he may represent. The organization is unselfish and advertises every section impartially. As president of the organization I wish to thank our many members for their support and in turn assure them that our duty efforts are showing in the growth of the community. We want a larger membership and we want you to assist us in obtaining that which will benefit you and show you to be a progressive citizen.

F. F. DUTTON.

Chase & Co.
We are members of the Sanford Board of Trade because we believe that the cooperative effort is good for Sanford and for Seminole county. There are numerous things that can be accomplished for the good of the community if steady force is applied. The Board of Trade has been active and alert and deserves the support of the citizens of Seminole county.

CHASE & CO.

County Clerk
Since it's beginning, I have been a member of the Sanford Board of Trade and I thoroughly appreciate its value as a progressive, community building organization. I expect to remain a member and in doing so, lend every effort to further its interest because such interests are also mine. It is astonishing, the publicity our city and county has received because of the Board of the Board of Trade activities within the past six months. This publicity cannot help but result in our financial and moral betterment as the days go by, as it has to my personal knowledge in the past.

E. A. DOUGLASS.

Tax Collector
I have been a member of the Board of Trade for a number of years and thoroughly believe in the work it is doing, and one of the very best things that has been done was to employ a live, wide awake, competent man for secretary to give his whole time and thought to the betterment of Seminole county. The good that is being done in getting our resources before the world is bound to be far reaching in results.

JNO. D. JINKINS.

Seminole Bank
The Seminole County Bank through its officers have joined the Sanford Board of Trade, and we have always felt that an organization of this kind is most important to assist in the upbuilding of any city and county.

The local organization has done much good work, and if every citizen will lend a part of his time and help in the work, it will be possible to make Seminole county one of the most prosperous and live counties in the state.

A. R. KEY, Cashier.

First National Bank
The First National Bank and its officers believe thoroughly in the Board of Trade, both for what is accomplished already for the city, and for the possibilities that are just ahead of it.

Its usefulness would be multiplied many times if EVERY man in the county would become a member and be a live wire in the organization.

The combined push of the whole bunch would accomplish those things that we sometimes dream of as too good to be for us.

Let us one and all "go to it", in earnest.

B. F. WHITNER, Cashier.

Peoples Bank
For its efficient work, the Sanford Board of Trade deserves the loyal support of every citizen. To make a bigger Sanford and a more prosperous Seminole county, no better means can be had than a live Board of Trade.

Q. L. TAYLOR.

Physician
The country's greatness and relative standing among the nations of the earth is largely reflected through the officers at its head. The Sanford Board of Trade will stand or fall through the efforts of its president and secretary. Fortunately we have two live wires who work unceasingly and very intelligently for the ultimate good of Sanford and Seminole county. They need the moral and financial support of every citizen of the county and deserve it.

Dr. T. A. NEAL.

Attorney
As a member of the Board of Governors, I am in a position to know that every effort is being made by the Sanford Board of Trade to advance in every way the material welfare of this community, and that along every line. I know the Board has done already a great deal, and with the loyal support of all the progressive people of the county it will accomplish wonders for Sanford and Seminole county. The Board is entitled to this support and should have it.

GEORGE G. HERFING.

Yowell Speer
Not only does the Yowell-Speer Company find its membership in the Sanford Board of Trade a profitable investment, but appreciate the opportunity to be able to advocate the excellent progressive work being done by this organization.

A. E. YOWELL.

Farm Supplies
Absolutely, the Board of Trade is indispensable to this community. I am a member because I feel it my duty to be one and I find sincere pleasure in the feeling that I am "doing my bit" toward the advancement of this city and Seminole county. It is an honor to be asked to join the Board of Trade and we appreciate you more when we know you are a member.

C. R. WALKER.

Contractor
Since the active organization of the Board of Trade it has been a pleasure to me to see on all sides definite work being done, definite plans being laid, and definite results secured for Seminole county through its instrumentalities, and I consider that no business man of the town can make an investment quite equal to a year's paid up subscription to this organization.

S. O. SHINHLISER.

Haberdasher
Not only has the Board of Trade repaid me many times for my investment in a membership, but has brought to me the satisfaction of knowing that I am lined up with many other progressive citizens who are helping to advance the moral and commercial interest of our city and county.

B. L. PERKINS.

Furniture Dealer
I am a member of the Sanford Board of Trade because of the fact that the organization is advertising the city and county in a way that makes membership a paying investment. I am glad to be a member, expect to remain one and do not hesitate to advocate all of our citizens to affiliate.

F. I. MILLER.

Real Estate
It gives me great pleasure to commend the Sanford Board of Trade, because I realize that it has been the most potent agency for the development of this town and county that has yet been organized in our midst. I hope for and expect great things to be brought to pass by its efforts.

Yours very truly,
H. C. DuROSE.

The Herald
My opinion of a Board of Trade is that it supercedes everything else in the city as one of the most important factors in city building and that no village, hamlet, town or city ever grew into importance or amount ed to anything without a good live Board of Trade. The activity of a Board of Trade is always gauged by its officers and without throwing any bouquet I would like to remark here that the Sanford Board of Trade has a bunch of officials that are of the best and they are giving this great work their best and undivided attention at all times. No Board of Trade can be a live body without FIRST a good executive head and governing board and paid secretary; SECOND, the cooperation and active participation of every live and energetic and public spirited man of the town and county, and THIRD, the dues of the members and a publicity tax as the sinews of war with which to advertise and foster and carry out the plans of the Board of Trade. You can judge a citizen of any town by his attitude toward the Board of Trade and you can judge the citizenship of any town by the activity of the Board of Trade and this being the fact well known it should require no persuasion and coaxing to induce every real citizen to join the Board of Trade and keep his dues paid, for he cannot spend money for a better purpose and like the bread upon the waters it will return to him before many days and in many ways.

R. L. HOLLY.

Real Estate
What do I think of the Board of Trade?

First, I think that the Board of Trade needs the moral and financial support of about two hundred and fifty or three hundred more of our good citizens, many of whom are now looking on and waiting to see some big thing done. I think our Board of Trade is doing more for the general betterment of conditions in the community than any other organization, and that it will accomplish great things just as soon as all pull together. "In union there is strength."
