

Girk Looks For Players To Fill Open Positions

Padgett Is Released To Leave Only 4 Sanford Hurlers

Manager Charlie Girk of the Sanford Seminoles is looking for players to fill the gaps in the line-up due to the release of Bill Whitlock Monday night and of Albert Padgett this morning.

Clarence Pelt, out fielder, reported he was no completely well last night but Manager Girk explained this morning that he would have to see him in the field for the Bill Duganbury a rest so he can pitch Thursday. Duganbury played in the right field area last night with Jim Booth switched to left.

The Whitlock has promised to leave out for ball players when he leaves here today and will contact the team if he finds any prospects. Girk said this morning.

In addition Girk has a small scout friend in the North and intends to wire him today to send down some ball players.

Girk is trying hard to recruit players and still keep his short handed team playing ball last night the boys showed more spirit in the game than they have exhibited in several weeks. The new skipper is a driver and is not afraid to tell his players what to do.

Padgett was given his release this morning after Dr. L. T. Doss examined his arm yesterday and advised a rest. Padgett will probably leave with Whitlock today for the North.

Nettie is slated for the mound position in Daytona tonight and Duganbury will face the same bat. Girk has four pitchers with the release of Padgett and absence of Ray Ashton who is down with the measles.

Hustling But Weak Seminoles Lose To DeLand 11-3 Through 16 Hits Collected Off Hudson

A hustling but weak Sanford team lost to DeLand last night by the score 11-3 as the Red Hats gathered 16 hits from Frank Hudson and had nine men down before the pitcher by the three strike route.

With well placed hits in each inning they scored the DeLand team made runs while the ball flew. Handicapped by a lack of play the Seminoles fought back but were unable to catch the Red Hats who made three tallies in the opening inning and kept the lead all the way.

Sanford looked good to tie the score in the third inning as Hudson worked and came in on a double by Gillespie. LaValley hit a single to right to place Rick onto third and he came in on a hit by Justice. Justice made second on McRaney's ball and Booth got on first on a fielder's choice that putout McRaney on second to retire the side.

The other Sanford runs came in the seventh frame when LaValley walked to first, made third on a double by Justice and came in on a hit by McRaney. Justice was putout on a play to home plate on the hit and the next man up flied out to end the rally.

Hudson pitched good ball in spots, totaling nine strikeouts but the Red Hats reached him when the hits counted for runs.

Stewart Says:

G. O. P. Aims at Gaining Majority in House in 1942

By CHARLES F. STEWART, Central Press Columnist

AS CHAIRMAN of the Republican national committee, Congressman Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, who also is minority leader in the house of representatives, is concentrating on the job of getting a G. O. P. majority into the lower branch of the national legislature at the 1942 election of the country's 18 members.

He can't possibly get such a majority into the senate. The senators term expire only one-third of them at a time, and the chance is so great at present that the Republicans still will be narrowly outvoted in that chamber even if they win every seat at stake next year, which, of course, they can't do. However, it's at least theoretically possible for them to gain control of the representative house, since those there all are chosen or reelected biennially.

And it will be a rare feather in Joe Martin's cap if he can get his party into just one of Capitol Hill's two majorities for the last half of President Roosevelt's third term.

In an odd way the latest congressional elections, especially for Pennsylvania, may come to be known as a deciding factor in the contest. Why so and why in Pennsylvania particularly calls for some words of explanation.

With non-voting members of various shifts in local representation, there isn't much change anywhere, but some shifts are being made. Pennsylvania's 18 seats will be divided as follows:

DELAND		ab	h	o	a
Sehon 3b	4	1	5	3
Tram'l as	5	1	6

SANFORD		ab	h	o	a

Totals	34	7	27	5

ly it elects 43 of its representatives by district, with two at large; the whole state votes on 'em. Now, under the most recent census, the Empire commonwealth gains another seat. It is still doesn't redistrict, it'll have three congressmen-at-large. But a lone congressman, added or subtracted, out of a total of 43, doesn't greatly matter. The same census times Massachusetts' delegation of 18 to 14. The Codfish state, though, will redistrict itself, so a certainty.

There are various other changes that don't materially signify. But Pennsylvania?

The Quaker realm, next after New York the most populous subdivision in the land, is pared down from 24 to 23 representatives. Unless it redistricts itself the entire 23 will be chosen at large—by a state-wide vote, all of 'em.

Now, 23, even out of a 436 total, is a pretty large minority. If the political party who the entire outfit, added to what it can pick up elsewhere, it's liable to make a sizable dent in the seat house of representatives.

And both parties in Pennsylvania, I hear from Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and throughout, have a notion that they can swing the state in 1942.

At present, with 18 Democrats in 18 Republican representatives in Washington, it looks like Democrat. Nevertheless, it surely is a Republican commonwealth.

So much for Pennsylvania.

Back group in the politicians, from all accounts is bound to make a grab for the state delegation, rather than to deal with the situation by changing the other side's seats.

But Pennsylvania's seat change decision that it would be better to redistrict, than what? All there's another redistricting? It's a Republican commonwealth, but that doesn't mean it's a Republican commonwealth. It's a Republican commonwealth, but that doesn't mean it's a Republican commonwealth.

Mrs. Mudge Catches Good Size Bone Fish

MIAMI, May 21 — (AP) — Mrs. Leonard Mudge of Pittsburgh and Palm Beach, victor in the women's division of the Cal Cay Tuna Tournament last year, has earned laurels angling for a much smaller species.

Mrs. Mudge reported yesterday the catch of a 9 3/4 pound bonefish off Knight's key south of here. It was one of the largest bonefish caught in these waters in recent years. The world record, 13 2/3 pounds, has stood since 1919.

Red Cross Marks 60th Anniversary Throughout U. S.

NEW YORK, May 21 — (Special) — On a mild Spring evening 60 years ago, a small group of dead-in-earnest men and women met at Clara Barton's home in Washington and founded the American Association of the Red Cross. The 60th anniversary of his memorable occasion was observed today by Red Cross Chapters throughout the country.

The three-score years since 1881 many things have come to pass. Disasters have taken their toll, wars wrought destruction, famine and epidemic come and go. And in all these catastrophes the American Red Cross has played its part — clothing, feeding, sheltering the homeless and ministering to those who were ill.

Members of the group that met at Mrs. Barton's unpretentious residence on that historic occasion could not possibly have known to what extent their pioneer efforts were to benefit humanity. In 1905 the fast-growing society was reorganized under a new congressional charter to enable its leaders and membership to carry forward more effectively its humanitarian tasks.

From 1914 to 1919 the American Red Cross proved the practical worth of Dunton's idealism; and today, under the leadership of its chairman, Norman H. Davis, the organization is moving swiftly on countless fronts to relieve suffering abroad and strengthen defenses at home.

Again the die is cast and again we man the frontlines of mercy, mustering a multi-million dollar program to bring sorely needed relief to many nations, many peoples.

The great things that have been accomplished in these crowded 50 years have been made possible not only by the driving power of those in the vanguard of Red Cross activity, but by the united efforts of the American and people who, upon all occasions, ideals.

Secretary Hull Says Nazis Control France

WASHINGTON, May 21 — (AP) — Secretary of State Hull told the French ambassador in strong language yesterday the United States is convinced pro-fitter elements are in supreme control in the Vichy government and that France has gone beyond the armistice terms in "collaborating" with Germany.

This, it was authoritatively reported, was Hull's reaction when the envoy, Gaston Henry-Haye, called at the State Department to seek an explanation of what he termed an "explosion of emotions" in the United States concerning the "collaboration." Henry-Haye contended the French were acting only in accordance with the armistice between them and Germany and Italy. He also protested against the "United States' unfriendly action" in taking French merchant ships into protective custody.

Civilian Defense Plan Is Set Up

WASHINGTON, May 21 — (AP) — President Roosevelt established today an executive order for the office of civilian defense to be headed by Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York.

The President separated the new civilian defense agency into two general divisions. One will be the head of civilian protection with LaGuardia as chairman. On it will be representatives of the War, Navy and Justice.

In terms of history 60 years is a short period. But it has been sufficient to test the Red Cross time and again in the crucible of emergency. Upon each occasion the organization has emerged stronger in ability and stronger in purpose and ideals.

Higher Auto Tags Okeyed By Senators

Bill Goes To Holland, Who Suggested It; Licenses On Most Cars To Be Up $5

Citrus Measures Will Be Studied

Senate, House Dissagree On Standards For Colored Fruit

TALLAHASSEE, May 22.—(AP)—The Florida Legislature today voted overwhelmingly to increase the cost of 300,000 auto license tags from $10 to $15 a year. The bill, which the Legislature passed a week after Governor Holland recommended its passage to raise $1,500,000 for the school replacing the money to be lost through expected repeal of the one-half percent gross receipts tax.

It took the Senate less than an hour to approve the bill 25 to 11. Sponsors shouted down all attempts to attach amendments or consideration in the House, which passed it Tuesday by a top-lavvy vote. The bill goes to the governor.

Final action on the tag bill came one day after the House had passed a three-cent tax on each package of cigarettes—a tax that was promptly killed 10 to 1 by the Senate finance committee.

Old age pension advocates, who want the pension rate raised to $4,000 a year for persons, threatened to prevent action on other legislation until something was done for the aged. They attacked the cigarette tax in the House today's session, but were blocked by a shouted vote of the House membership.

The auto license tag bill increases the $10 to $15 on cars in the low-price brackets, chiefly Ford, Chevrolet and Plymouth. It leaves the Model A Ford at $10 and permits a $5 tag for Model T's, Austins and similar sized cars. It also provides $5 increases on cars in the higher-weight brackets.

Conference committees will be appointed to seek settlement of the disagreements between the Senate and House on a series of citrus commission bills.

The House refused to withdraw the amendments to the bill. The Senate declined to concur in the changes. The Senate voted to raise the oranges advertising tax to two cents a box. The House refused to concur. It is retained at the present one cent.

The Senate voted to authorize the Citrus Commission to buy printed advertising material for the Florida citrus industry. The House insisted upon keeping the business in Florida. The Senate voted to increase the maturity standards on color-added fruit.

The Florida Senate's finance committee late yesterday killed a bill to permit a three-cent cigarette tax. The bill had passed the House overwhelmingly earlier in the day.

With the support of old age pension advocates, the bill was brought up in the House and passed through by a vote of 70 to 21. It was designed to raise $4,000,000 a year for pensions.

Proponents for the pension bill in the Senate insisted on general appropriations bill until the Senate took some action to provide more money for the aged.

The Senate Committee voted to amend the cigarette tax bill. It cannot be considered in the Senate unless two-thirds of the members vote to bring it up.

Two members, Senator Butler of Jacksonville and Senator Johnson of Orlando, said they might later support the cigarette tax, if other bills for financing pensions and general State government should collapse.

In the Senate the members of the general appropriations bill approved $1,500,000 a year for all age pensions. Final passage of the bill was delayed.

Arrives At Murder Trial

Four Charter Changes Still Not Introduced

One Representative For Referendum; 2 Ask No Change

Four charter changes submitted by the City Commission have not yet been introduced in the Legislature, Edward Higgins, member of the Commission, said today upon his return from Tallahassee, adding that "it is not certain whether they will be introduced with or without a referendum."

One of the district's representatives in the Legislature declined to introduce the bills, while the other two were willing for the measures to be passed without a referendum, Mr. Higgins explained.

The four bills, which have been advertised by the City Commission, would (1) authorize the establishment of a port authority to construct port facilities on the St. Johns River and Lake Monroe, and to collect taxes for the maintenance of the district, (2) enable the City to borrow $40,000 from the "operating fund" for municipal purposes, (3) establish a sewer system, and (4) authorize the City to charge for the collection and disposition of garbage.

Because of the favorable recommendation given the airport by the War Department recently, the City is particularly anxious for the bill authorizing it to borrow $40,000, to be passed, Mr. Higgins declared.

"The government may want to take over the airport at any time for its own use," he explained, "and in that case the City would have to exercise its rights under the option to purchase additional lands enlarging the airport."

It was explained that the $40,000 bill would not increase City taxes, because the amount borrowed would be paid back out of the money now being received from the referendum.

In case the City needs an amount up to $40,000 for municipal improvements, such as the airport, the sum could be obtained immediately under the provisions of the measure, Mr. Higgins explained, whereas at present the amount could only be obtained over a longer period by putting aside small amounts.

Crops Suffer More Damage From Drought

No Rain Is In Sight To Relieve Serious Heat In Southeast; Texas Has Showers

By Associated Press Sun-parched crops in the Southeast suffered additional damage today as skies remained generally cloudless and no rain was in sight.

Forecasters said a high pressure area there blocked off thunderheads which brought heavy showers to parts of Texas and New Mexico. Corpus Christi, Tex., had an overnight fall of four inches.

Crops feeling the effects of the long dry spell include pastures, gardens and truck crops. Most field crops in the region seemed to be doing well so far but the danger to them is imminent.

In the Tennessee valley the TVA was forced to draw yesterday on water stored in Norris lake on the Clinch River to swell downstream stages and contribute to power production.

Florida, Arkansas and Louisiana have not been seriously affected by a shortage of moisture although young truck crops have been damaged somewhat.

Temperatures in the nineties or above hastened the loss of the little moisture remaining in the soil.

Oscar Toler Elected Head Of Lions Club

Delegation To Jacksonville Convention Is Planned

Oscar R. Toler was unanimously elected president of the Lions Club for the coming year at a meeting last night at the Valdez Hotel, and together with other officers named, will be installed May 28.

In addition to Mr. Toler, the following officers were also unanimously elected: H. Glenn Lingle, first vice-president; W. A. Adams, second vice-president; John Ivry, third vice-president; F. D. Scott and Porter Lansing, tall twisters; Maxwell Stewart, lion tamer; C. E. Adams, secretary; James Rowland, treasurer; John L. Galloway and J. C. Cole directors for two years, and W. B. Ellerbee, director for one year.

Holdover directors are Joseph A. Meisch, a past president, and John Meisch, Jr. In memory of the late Dr. A. W. Knox who was a member of the club, a resolution was adopted expressing the sympathy of the club for the family. In the resolution, drawn up by a committee headed by Lloyd F. Boyle, it was declared that Dr. Knox "has received the highest honor that man can bestow upon man; the confidence, trust and reliance of his community."

Plans were discussed by the members to send a delegation to the Lions convention in Jacksonville June 8, 9 and 10 with headquarters at the Seminole Hotel. The annual boat trip will be held Wednesday, June 11, it was decided, and Maxwell Stewart was named chairman of the committee to arrange this.

The annual junior baseball league play-off game will be played at the ball park next night of June 8. It was announced. The committee handling this is composed of E. J. Meyer, chairman; F. D. Scott, A. L. Collins and John Meisch, Jr.

An entertainment program was given by the students of the Ruth Gordon Wright Studio. The program included a waltz rhythm, Christine Stendermeier; songs, Harriette Lee Brown; rhythm tap, Mary Grace Dora; and piano selections, Grace Gillespie Dora.

W. V. Bittling, manager of the Truett Drug Store, who has just recently moved to Sanford from Lakeland, was welcomed to the club as a new member, transferred from Lakeland.

No Official Word Is Received On Army Airport

Higgins Says Prospects Favorable But Not Definite

Chamber of Commerce officials, commenting on a story carried in this morning's Orlando Morning Sentinel stating that "Sanford is in line to get a 1200-man basic Army Air Corps training school," said today they had received no official announcement that such a school would be established.

Edward Higgins, secretary of the trade body, declared that prospects were "favorable" for defense expenditures of some kind at the new municipal airport, though he had not been advised yet as to any projects.

Officials of the Orlando Army Air Base last week made an inspection of the airport as a possible location for another air base or a flight training school, and the report they made to War Department officials in Washington was described as favorable.

The Orlando Sentinel said its information came "from highly authoritative sources." Reports on the Sanford airport are in the hands of General H. H. Arnold, chief of the air corps, the Sentinel stated, adding that "if the general looks with approval upon this survey the immediate erection of the air training school at Sanford will be ordered." The Sentinel's article was carried on the front page under an eight-column streamer headline.

It is further stated by the Orlando paper that: "According to information reaching this newspaper Sanford's facilities, met with all requirements of the investigating personnel from the War Department. The study of Sanford included housing facilities, recreation, the location of the town in relation to Florida military bases and the availability of large tracts of land for a central airport as well as for emergency and practice landing fields.

A basic air training school encompasses the fundamentals of the art of flying. This includes ground work as well as flying in its early stages, the study of present and future meteorology and primary navigation.

"Schools of this type, carrying a personnel of 1200 men are known to be in demand by the air corps. The figure is put at generally the number of men at 1200 men simply because this is those schools now established.

Bill Empowering City To Borrow Money Supported

Leffler Terms Need For Fund 'Great'; Backing Is Urged

Urging passage of a bill to enable the City to borrow up to $40,000 for municipal improvements, W. A. Leffler, president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, declared today in a letter to The Sanford Herald that "if authority is not had by law for the City to get this needed money, then we may lose valuable opportunities."

The letter, in which Mr. Leffler expresses the hope that "all interested will get behind this" is as follows: "Mr. R. L. Dean, Editor "The Sanford Herald "Sanford, Florida "Dear Mr. Dean:

"Our City Commission has asked our legislators and senator to pass a bill to permit the City to borrow $40,000.

"I am told that the City has spent, from its own operating funds, about $15,000 acquiring lands for a new air field. The government has a large force at work on the airport now. Money is needed by the City to pay for the balance of the lands in the airport area, and to do other things necessary to keep this work going.

"The amount that the City proposed to borrow is not great, but the need for this money is great now. If authority is not had by law for the City to get this needed money, then we may lose valuable opportunities.

"For the past 10 years, the City has been engaged in the business of paying old debts. They need some fresh money to do those things that the people of Sanford want done.

"I hope that all interested will get behind this. Certainly, we can't expect the government to do it all. We must be ready, willing, and able to do what is required of us.

With the three-day-old battle mounting in violence, Prime Minister Churchill acknowledged that Nazi parachute troops had defeated the town of Candia in central Crete.

Foreign secretary Anthony Eden warned the Vichy government that Britain will strike the enemy wherever he may be found and some qualified sources took that to mean an undeclared state of war against France. Eden said the Vichy government had embarked on a policy of placing French resources at the disposal of Germany.

Hitler's aerial invaders stormed at the Isle of Crete with unabated fury today but the British, predicting a more violent phase of the struggle was still to come, declared that all key positions remained intact.

Unconfirmed reports said General Charles De Gaulle's British-led Free French troops are advancing into Syria from Palestine. If true this would mean the Allies had seized the initiative on land, striking before the expected arrival of German troops.

Counter in the British maneuvers, the French troops were reported on the march in Syria and adjacent French-occupied Lebanon.

The German High Command said Stukas and Italian torpedo planes had hit a battleship, six cruisers and a destroyer in attacks on British naval units in the Mediterranean yesterday.

Red Cross Gives Fifty Million To War Torn Nations

During the past year a total of $50,000,000 has been given to countries suffering from the ravages of the war by 477 welfare organizations in the United States.

Mrs. J. G. Sharon, Jr., chairman of the Seminole county chapter of the Red Cross, said at the regular board meeting Thursday.

Of the $50,000,000 total, about half was given by the Red Cross, Mrs. Sharon said.

The Red Cross is allotted 85 to 90 percent of all available shipping space on boats going abroad, the chairman stated, for the transportation of relief supplies. One half of the money raised during the roll call last year has been sent for relief, Mrs. Sharon said.

"One great work of the Red Cross," she told board members, "has been answering inquiries regarding relatives and friends in countries where war has spread. Of the many thousands of inquiries, 65 percent have been answered with full information," she added.

Mrs. S. O. Chase, Jr., knitting chairman, announced that the quota of knitted articles through Dec. 31 is 158 items, or a monthly average of 84 articles. This is the largest quota this county has had and those desiring to help are asked to contact Mrs. Chase.

C. W. Isbill of Lake Mary was welcomed as a new member of the board. His work will be organizing the Junior Red Cross chapters in the county.

The Convoys Get Through

If, as the experts tell us, the battle of the North Atlantic is the decisive one between England and Germany, then the recently cabled report of Quentin Reynolds...

Mr. Reynolds, who returned from London last winter after experiencing the heaviest air raids on that city, said he wanted to prove to himself whether or not ships from Canada and the United States were getting through...

And yet with all these ships sailing in one group, carrying the precious necessities for existence, not a single one failed to reach its destination and not a ship suffered so much as the loss of "a bit of paint."

During the entire voyage, Reynolds reports, "the convoy was in danger of attack only by one submarine, and endangered once by a floating mine. The submarine was destroyed by one of several ex-American destroyers guarding the convoy and the mine was sunk by machine-gun fire."

Mr. Reynolds' conclusion is very reassuring to Americans who see in England's survival their best chance of defeating the Nazi menace. He says: "I came to England by convoy to find out. The answer is that I am writing this in the messroom of a freighter that has just crossed from Canada and now lies in an English port. I know that more than 50 of us left and I know that by late this afternoon every single one of those ships had arrived in British harbors. We would have been unable to do that had 600 German submarines been lurking beneath the surface of the Atlantic."

They Know What They Talk About

It is striking to note how many of those who are calling for a bold and vigorous foreign policy, for acting now even at the risk of war rather than waiting at the risk of a more onerous war and ultimate defeat, are men who know what they are talking about from actual battle experience. It is the perennial, if misguided, argument of the isolationists that their policy will preserve the country from the horrors of war; one might, therefore, expect to find in their ranks the people who had seen those horrors at first hand. Yet the facts show just the contrary to be the case.

Wendell Willkie was a lieutenant of field artillery in the A. E. F.; Secretaries Stimson and Knox were both combat officers in the A. E. F. (the latter was also a Rough Rider in 1898), and Assistant Secretary of War Patterson won the D. S. C. for "extraordinary heroism in action." Colonel Donovan, Mayor LaGuardia, Maury Maverick are all believers in action who know what action means.

On the other side of the argument one can also find war records—Hamilton Fish was in the A. E. F. and President Hutchins was in the American Ambulance Corps and the Italian Army. But on the fairest view one cannot fail to be struck by the number among the representative spokesmen of the passive policy who, whether because they were too young (like Mr. Lindbergh) or too old, or otherwise employed in the national service or for some other reason, had no first-hand experience of war.

To say that they did not see service is in no way a criticism of any of these figures; while it is obviously impossible to make any statistically precise comparison of the two groups. But such lists are sufficiently indicative of the really arresting fact that in general those most swayed by fears of war are those with the least personal knowledge of it; those with the best reason to know what war is are, in general, those who are calling for action now. Having seen it, they know that there are things worse than war.—New York Herald Tribune.

Crete's Capital Is Captured By Invading Forces

Crete's capital, Chania, was captured by German forces after a fierce battle. The city was surrounded and the invaders entered after a long struggle.

The air-borne invasion, reinforced by more and more well-armed Nazi troops dropped on the mountain-studded island for the second night and day, was accompanied by savage aerial warfare.

German Stuka dive-bombers smashed unopposed at Crete's ports, airbases and anti-aircraft defenses attempting to pierce the opposition and force the way for more landings of troops.

A British plane report said that some Axis planes were downed near the British base on Crete. The report also mentioned the capture of the island's capital.

TIME MARCHES ON!

Current Comment

By AGNEW WELSH

The opening gun in the Revolutionary war was designated by the historians as "the shot that was heard around the world." The impact caused by Hess's falling on a Scottish moor may also go down in history as he one that shook the earth.

Bluff old Gen. Hugh Johnson says the present crisis has made Washington a "bedlam of crackpot theorists. Aren't we all ready and willing, say office holders, to help solve the nation's problems and bring it new ones?"

And so old "Batting Dixie" Dean is through with professional baseball. Men of his type of mind are no credit to the sport anyhow. They remind one of those cheapest "guys" on earth, the political hecklers.

Damon Runyon, famous columnist, wants a sanity test for all candidates and office holders. Great Scott, man, are you trying to destroy our entire government fabric?

In the old days a man paid a good price to see a "leg show" now all he need do is scan the Miami papers.

The Glasgow farmer who, with a pitchfork, "captured" the crippled Hess had a willing partner and says he would like to do the same with Hitler. Maybe so, but "ain't" so easy a job, no he.

Combat airplane production is speeding up at a rapid rate, the record being as follows: December production, 700; January, 1038; March, 1206; this month it is to exceed 1600 and go on 2,000 by mid-summer. Quite some targets for the "air-grass" powers.

That is a foolishly fantastic idea that Hess was carrying from Hitler's flight to the island of Crete. Anyhow, it will be a long time before he can report to the home office.

If the governor signs a bill just passed, there will be no more fireworks sold in Florida after next New Year's day. Another blow at China, the small boy and at a fire hazard; anyhow, we need the powder for other purposes.

Many English people regard the Hess flight a Nazi trick. I cannot believe the German high command would consent to sending a member of its inner councils on a foolhardy venture time will tell.

Upon reading a news item that they are going to strengthen the schools next fall the hurtle forth with this diatribe: "Let's be so, but they'll never get 'em to the place where they can make a mill purse out of a cow's tail!"

Cogburn Pupils Offer Program At High School

M. R. RACKETT
An enthusiastic audience of local and out-of-town persons enjoyed the program offered by the pupils of Marjorie Rosa Cogburn Tuesday night at the Sanford High School Auditorium. Sponsored by the S. H. S. Journalists Club, the entire performance demonstrated striking ability on the part of Miss Cogburn's pupils, ranging from the four-year-old Ann Hailey to the young ladies of the class.

Outstanding was the ballet, "Evening," presented in a beautiful woodland setting under realistic moonlight effects. Heather and sister, represented by Jimmie Ludwig and Mary Margaret Herndon, entered the enchanted woodland and fell asleep. Sam Fames, Rosemary Garner, Ann Hailey and Connie Ludwig, dressed in fairy costumes with glittering fairy wings, discovered the sleeping children. Under their enchantment the little sister dances in her dreams and pretends her father is a cat who with her Fairy With The Moonbeam, danced. They had their entrance and gave a beautifully finished performance of "The Fairy With The Moonbeam," danced by the other Moon Fairies, portrayed by Jane Chapman, Phyllis Bach, Jo Haden, Emilee Meyers and Dorothy Sackett.

Following the ballet, a group of dancing ballet ensemble of ten times of the Moon Fairies were yellow tarlatan tutu skirts speckled with glittering moons and yellow satin bodies. They called her fairy music, the Fairy of the Trees, danced by Norma Jean Sayer, and the Fairy of Spring Flowers, danced by Joyce Whiston, entered. Their first ballet routine was beautifully rhythmic and made a great impression on the audience. Norma Jean's costume was a full ballet skirt of green with green bodies trimmed with flowers. Joyce Whiston was a black costume of a full skirt.

They, vivacious Ann Whittaker danced the part of the Blue Bird. Her costume of blue with yellow trim set off the impression of her flight. She danced "The Blue Bird" and brought the first routine of the program to a close. The last ballet, "The Blue Bird," was beautifully danced by the ensemble. Following the first routine, the ensemble, which included Jack Ludwig and Douglas, dressed as farmer boys, and Ann Whittaker, Connie Ludwig, and Joyce Whiston, entered with a clever ensemble. The first routine, "The Blue Bird," was followed by the ensemble, which included Jack Ludwig and Douglas, dressed as farmer boys, and Ann Whittaker, Connie Ludwig, and Joyce Whiston, entered with a clever ensemble. Seminole Lose To Daytona 10-9 In 13 Inning Game

All Kettles Pitches All-the-way in Endurance Contest Fanning 9 Batters Two Teams Meet Again Tonight

Hindy Hits 5 In Six Trips To Plate To Drive In 2 Runs

Sanford's Seminoles lost an endurance contest against Daytona Beach last night as the two teams took 13 innings to reach a break in a tie and finish the game with a 10-9 score.

"Al" Kettles pitched the whole way though the Islanders had to change hurlers in the 10th inning replacing Therolf with Hilbert crediting the latter with the win.

Diminutive Kallid Hindy, Sanford pitcher playing left field in the absence of the regular fielder, Clarence "Pop" Pfeil, made the best record of the game in the hit column, registering five hits out of six times at bat, knocking two runners across home plate. In the field he ran down two fly balls for two out-outs. Joe Justice whipped out three singles for his six times up to score a run himself and bat in two. Williams got one hit of the game but drummed it out for a triple, scoring two men and later reaching the home bag himself. Both made two runs after getting a single and a triple, bunting in two runs.

Al Kettles struck out nine men during the game and only walked four. The winning run was scored off of him with two men out as Simmons singled to drive in a baserunner.

2 Pass Red Cross Life Saving Exam; Regular Classes Scheduled For June

Herbert Starr, manager of Sanlando Springs, and Olive Chapman, high school student, passed their life saving tests. Miss Eleanor Morrison, instructor in Red Cross life saving, first aid and water safety, announced today.

The classes were held at Sanlando Springs as a special session, but regular classes in beginners, junior and senior life saving will start in June, Miss Morrison said. A special swimming class for ladies is also expected to start soon.

As part of the swimming program of the City Recreation Department the classes in swimming and life saving are to include the Red Cross part progressive method of instruction and will be carried out with groups of beginners and experienced swimmers.

Six stages of swimming tests are to be conducted by Miss Morrison including beginners, intermediate, advanced swimmer, life saving and senior life saving. Tests will be given in each event and certificates indicating the ability of the swimmer at the end of the tests. Beginners must pass the following requirements to receive a certificate: enter deep water and swim 15 yards and back, and dive into deep water, swim 15 yard rest on back and return to shore. Intermediates must pass the following tests: 1. Three types of leg strokes; 2. Three types of arm strokes; 3. 50 yards swim with elementary back stroke; 4. 100 yards with any selected stroke; 5. CHIMNEY ROCK CAMP FOR BOYS

In the Land of the Sky Near Asheville, North Carolina 24th SEASON JULY 1st to AUGUST 25th

After a winter in school your boy should be given the opportunity to get away from the artificiality of man-made surroundings. Camp today offers a safe and wholesome freedom from the smoke and grime, brick and mortar of the city. It solves the problem of the parent whose son faces a long, tedious and aimless vacation and the mischief that idleness provokes.

In camp the boy learns how to get along with other people and to make friends by being a friend. This is a value that cannot be over estimated in later years of life.

Parents choose Chimney Rock because of the definite and direct results in character development that has been produced in the lives of the boys whose privilege it has been to attend. The distinct aim is to prepare youth for a richer living. Ideals of self-control, unselfishness, loyalty, self-reliance, and social adjustment are stressed.

The spirit of achievement is an inner force in every boy. Chimney Rock seeks to promote this force. Campers are taught how to achieve by doing things with their own hands, thus awakening new sources of joy by actual accomplishment.

At Chimney Rock your boy will find plenty of adventure without danger, romance without artificiality and thrills with freedom from restraint of ordinary living.

Thoughtful parents will consider the cost of their boys' summer at camp as an investment in his future and not an expense.
