Sanford To Study 101 Applications

Committee Names Top 10 Contenders For City Manager

Sanford city commissioners, shooting for an April 1 deadline to have a city manager hired and in city hall, will review all 101 applications for the post with special attention to ten recommended by a special advisory committee. The commission will begin the review at a 3 p.m. work session Wednesday. City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles resignation and retirement is scheduled for April 30. Sara Jacobson, chairman of the committee, turned over to the commission at its workshop Monday, the committee's recommendations of 10 men from 10 different states.

Miss Jacobson also noted that two committee members "feel the present assistant city manager (Steven Harriett) should also be considered..." because he is a career employee having served the city with progressive responsibility and experience for 10 years — five years with the police department and five years as assistant city manager.

The 10 recommended, listed in alphabetical order are:

● Robert C. Brigman, city manager of Kinston, N.C., a city with a population of 26,700.

● Richard Burnette, 57, city manager of Meridian, S.C. Burnette noted that he would like a salary of $47,000 annually.

● Edwin Carlstrom, city manager of Hazelwood, Mo., a city of 16,000. Carlstrom in his job application asked for a salary of $52,000.

● William R. Cook, 54, city manager of Kingsport, Tenn., a city of 85,000. His salary request is $50,000.

● Edwin Daley, 36, city manager of Fairmont,

W. Va., a city of 24,000.

● Anton Harwig, city manager of Colorado Springs, Colo., a city of 48,000. His salary request is $55,000.

● Robert Kufirin, city manager of Niles, Mich., a city of 14,000.

● William Snell, 41, city manager of Coffeyville, Kan. He said his current salary is $47,000.

Parking Crackdown Planned

A crackdown on motorists who park their vehicles on publicly-owned property to repair them is in the offing as the Sanford commission moves to improve the city's appearance.

City Attorney Bill Colbert was instructed by the commission to move forward to draft the ordinances that also set regulations on peddlers and for the placement of signs in the community.

The proposed ordinances include:

● Prohibition of parking of any vehicle or trailer on any street, alley, sidewalk or parkway for the purpose of repair. Any vehicles left over 24 hours on any street, alley, sidewalk or parkway shall be removed.

● Prohibition of any vehicle from being driven over city curbs.

● Prohibition of any vehicle from being parked on any parkway or sidewalk, but allowing proper parking within the right-of-way on the street pavement next to the curb, parking on a paved driveway or parking on a paved parking area designated for the purpose. Vehicles must not be on the sidewalk, which must remain clear at all times.

● Prohibition of the placement of all type signs or placards within the public right-of-way, including real estate, yard sale, directional, advertising, trailer type and all other temporary signs.

Dagg To Retire

Theodore "Dan" Dagg, assistant superintendent for instructional services for Seminole County schools, will retire in April after 16 years with the school system. He began as an assistant principal at Lyman High School. Dagg said he will return to his first love — fishing.

Smoke billowed from a semi-dry lake bed in Geneva Monday as fire fighters, hampered by mucky ground, fought flames only when they approached the banks.

Brush Fires Char Over 100 Acres

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

A meandering fire pushed by shifting winds burned about 100 acres of an old lake bed in Geneva and threatened several houses Monday.

There were three fires in Sanford, and seven elsewhere in the county Monday. Dry ground covering caused by recent cold weather provided fuel for the blazes, but all were minor except the blaze across the semi-dry bed of Geneva's Lake Cochran, according to Battalion Chief Joe Walters.

Besides acreage destroyed, the only damage reported by the county was the total destruction of a greenhouse adjacent to the lake bed. Walters said the building was close to a large amount of brush and firefighters could not get their equipment into the area to save the building. No estimate of the structure's value was available today.

Walters said among the small fires were burns in Paola, Chuluota and Forest City. The county assailed Sanford during one fire and Lake Mary assailed the county in the Paola fire.

In Sanford, firefighters were setting off a controlled burn of a house for training purposes when they began to receive calls of fires, according to Assistant Chief Ron Neel.

He said they city firefighters fought blazes at the Sanford Airport, between the Juvenile Detention Center and Shenandoah Village, and in the Hidden Lake subdivision near Live Oak Avenue and Airport Boulevard.

No property damage nor injuries were report, Neel said, though the fire at one point did creep close to the Seminole County jail he said. Two county units assisted in that fire, he said.

Walters said the fires, especially the large burn in Geneva, were caused in part by the cold weather.

"The Geneva fire was the kind of fire that burns like a fuse," Walters said.

"It moves very rapidly," he explained, saying such fires are fueled by dead undergrowth that has dried following cold snaps.

District Commander Mike Millard, at the scene of the lake bed fire which started in the late morning and burned more than four hours, said a number of conditions hampered efforts to extinguish the blaze.

The lake bed, he said, was too damp to drive equipment on and the wind kept shifting, pushing the fire in different directions across the dead tops of plants rooted in the muck.

Millard said the fire fighters' plan was to contain the blaze to the lake bed, and move equipment to various locations when a structure was threatened.

Residents in the area were advised by Millard to leave their homes but no one was ordered to evacuate, he said. Most of the homes were on Cochran Road that followed the old lake's bank.

In one such incident Monday afternoon, a small fire driven by gusts of wind roared into a large blaze in a matter of two or three minutes and raced within 40 feet of two homes on Cochran owned by Harold and Joan Goodnough.

Two of four firefighting units on the scene protected the houses and a Division of Forestry fire-break plow cleared a swath through the brush to protect another nearby houses.

"I just happened to look out my window a couple of hours ago and saw the flames," said Mrs. Goodnough who with her husband and grandchildren moved a car and personal items as the fire suddenly shifted towards her two homes.

"It sure came fast. I think the firefighters are doing a good job," she said as the unit beat the flames down with water.

The fire, skirting the top of the bed, barely scorched the ground but did clear away brush.

"I couldn't see our lot line," said Goodnough pointing towards a green stake in the former lake. "I can see it now."

The Goodnoughs said they didn't pay attention to the smoke at first because they thought it was a controlled burn of brush at a nearby housing development area, Seminole Woods.

In total, 10 firefighters with four units, plus two forestry tractors and their personnel were on the scene. No injuries were reported.

Battalion Chief Joe Walters, right, and District Commander Mike Millard, center, inspect an aerial real estate photograph of the area burning in Geneva Monday. Millard said the real estate plat map gives commanders a better idea where the fire is, where it may go, and what structures could be threatened. It is just one of several "tools" used to control brush fires. He said they also use a tracking chart, left near a firefighter, which is used to record unit locations, wind speeds and directions, agencies called, and actions taken.

American, Japanese Vets Gather On Iwo Jima

IWO JIMA (UPI) — Hundreds of American and Japanese veterans still haunted by painful memories returned to Iwo Jima today to mark the 40th anniversary of one of the bloodiest Pacific battles of World War II.

Nearly 200 former U.S. Marines and about 100 Japanese veterans gathered on the 11.7-square-mile speck of an island to dedicate a memorial to the battle that took the lives of more than 6,000 Americans and 20,000 Japanese.

The gray marble slab monument will overlook the black, volcanic ash beaches where 30,000 U.S. Marines stormed ashore at 9 a.m. on Feb. 19, 1945, and fought the heavily defended Japanese for 35 straight days before finally capturing the strategic island 680 miles southeast of Tokyo.

The marble slab, with English and Japanese inscriptions, was financed by the Japanese Association of Iwo Jima and the family of the late actor John Wayne, who starred in the 1949 movie, "The Sands of Iwo Jima."

The island was a strategic airbase between the Marianas and the Japanese home islands, and U.S. military leaders determined the island had to be captured to clear the way for a U.S. invasion of Japan.

Despite three days of intense shelling by U.S. warships off shore, the assault by the 3rd, 4th and 5th Marine divisions met stiff resistance from Japanese defenders who were dug in on Mount Suribachi, a 546-foot extinct volcano that overlooks the entire island.

The raising of the American flag on the island by a group of bloodied, battle-weary Marines, captured on film by a photographer, became a symbol of the courage and determination of U.S. forces in World War II.

The nearly 200 U.S. veterans arrived in Tokyo Sunday and had lunch with about 100 of their former enemies Monday.

One of the American veterans, Jack Lucas, 87, a native of Plymouth, N.C., said of the battle with the Japanese: "They paid their price and we paid ours. I hope somebody learned a damn lesson from it."

Lucas won a Medal of Honor for saving three buddies from certain death by smothering two Japanese grenades with his own body. He still carries 100 pieces of shrapnel in his right arm.

"I saw a lot of people get killed around me," Lucas said. "The only thing you could do to survive was to keep fighting. You were there to stay and that's what we did — we stayed."

Chinatown's Ghost Shadows Mobsters Face Arraignment

NEW YORK (UPI) — Investigators searched today for seven members of Chinatown's notorious Ghost Shadows gang, compared to the Mafia in its early days and blamed for robberies, extortion, kidnappings and at least 13 murders.

Eighteen gang members were arrested Monday and await arraignment today in the largest sweep of Asian gangsters ever made in the city.

A federal indictment named 25 people, but seven suspects, including several of the gang's leaders, remain fugitives.

Authorities said the gang was headquartered on Chinatown's Mott Street and protected gambling houses and extorted money from restaurants and other Chinese businesses in the area.

Most of the members of the gang are immigrants from Hong Kong who live here legally, U.S. Attorney Rudolph Giuliani said.

The indictments would not wipe out the gang, which has members in other cities including Boston, Chicago, and in Canada, Giuliani said.

Thumbs Up For Haydon

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Murray Haydon waved and gave a thumbs up in a "fantastic" recovery one day after receiving an artificial heart, and fellow bionic heart patient Bill Schroeder was improving from a troublesome fever.

Dr. Allan Lansing, medical director of the Humana Heart Institute, said Haydon "has had an excellent postoperative course" since Sunday's surgery.

Haydon was able to speak his first words Monday, but could only respond to questions with a "yes" or "no" because of soreness from a respirator tube that had helped his breathing after the operation.

Haydon, 58, a retired autoworker from Louisville, began eating ice chips late Monday, the first step in resuming his intake of liquids or food by mouth, Humana Hospital Audubon officials said Monday night.

The hospital said Haydon continued "to recover without any major or even minor complications" from the implant.

Servicemen Rip Off Uncle Sam

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Taxpayers footed $49 million for two years of unnecessary military housing expenses in a program for servicemen who live off base in Hawaii and Alaska, Pentagon auditors found.

Some Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps violators in Hawaii have been discharged for bad conduct, court-martialed and sentenced to hard labor, a spokesman for the services in the Pacific said. No criminal charges have been filed against civilians.

The Defense Department pays $245 million a year to servicemen living off base in overseas and foreign posts and Alaska for their rent, mortgages and utilities.

In most cases, auditors could not prove servicemen and landlords falsified housing records to collect excessive payments because documents were missing or destroyed, sources said.

Court: Graham, Cabinet Improperly Levied Fine

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Bob Graham and the Cabinet must seek legislative approval if they wish to impose fines and penalties on violators of state submerged lands law, an appeal court has ruled.

The unanimous ruling by a three-judge panel of the 1st District Court of Appeal came in the case of the Continental Construction Company, which Graham and the Cabinet determined had built two boat docks and slips without a permit.

Graham and the Cabinet sit as the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund and must approve all applications to lease or build on submerged lands, which are considered state property. They fined the company $32,242 for failing to ask for a permit to extend a docking facility.

The judges said the trustees were permitted by the state constitution to assess retroactive lease payments on the property in question, but could not assess additional fines or penalties.

The judges wrote in their opinion that the Legislature must specifically grant the trustees permission to assess fines or penalties.

Jet Seized In Coke Bust Returned

MIAMI (UPI) — Avianca Airlines agreed to post a $1.98 million bond and was given back the jumbo jet that Customs officers seized last week after finding 2,478 pounds of cocaine aboard.

Customs released the Colombian airline's jet Monday afternoon, shortly after an agreement was reached in Washington between U.S. Customs Commissioner William von Raab and the Colombian ambassador to the United States. It is the largest jet ever seized for carrying drugs, Customs officials said.

The airline faces fines of up to $60 for each ounce of cocaine aboard the plane — for a maximum penalty of $1.98 million.

The Boeing 747 was seized Friday. Customs officers at Miami International Airport had discovered the drugs hidden in a flower shipment that arrived on a flight from Bogota, Colombia.

Dog Paddling

In need of a refreshing dip on a warm afternoon, or maybe just playing tag with a fish; whatever the reason, this blue tick hound found himself in Lake Monroe Monday with no way out. To the rescue came Sanford policeman Bill Combs, below left, who collared the water-logged canine and dragged him ashore. Below right, Combs helps A.R. Westmoreland, CBS Both Claim Victory

NEW YORK (UPI) — Critics of the Vietnam War urged the United States to claim victory and get out. CBS newsmen Mike Wallace says that's what Gen. William Westmoreland did by dropping his $120 million libel suit against the network.

Westmoreland, who commanded U.S. forces in Vietnam, proclaimed himself the winner Monday and dropped the litigation in exchange for a CBS statement he says clears his name.

"CBS respects General Westmoreland's long and faithful service to his country and never intended to assert and does not believe that General Westmoreland was unpatriotic or disloyal in performing his duties as he saw them," the statement said.

The out-of-court settlement called for no apology or retraction from CBS. The network also agreed not to press Westmoreland for its legal fees.

U.S. District Judge Pierre Leval, who accepted the settlement Monday, said further details would be presented in court today and the jury of six men and six women would be released.

Appearing on ABC-TV's Nightline Monday night,

Westmoreland called the 1982 CBS documentary, "The Uncounted Enemy: A Vietnam Deception," a "full-blooded hatchet job."

"They accused me of trying to deceive the president," he said. "I was defamed."

Three defendants — Wallace, producer George Crile, and CIA analyst Samuel Adams — said the general dropped his suit because testimony by CIA and military intelligence analysts crippled his case.

Wallace called the outcome a victory for the press and likened the general's withdrawal of his suit to the late Sen. George Aiken's prescription for a victory in Vietnam. Aiken, a longtime opponent of the war, said the United States should withdraw all of its forces and declare victory.

"I think that was what Westmoreland did," Wallace said.

"We feel now as we did three years ago — that this issue should never have been brought to court," said CBS News President Van Gordon Sauter. "Nothing has surfaced... that in any way diminishes our conviction that the broadcast was fair and accurate."

The documentary charged Westmoreland intentionally distorted enemy troop-strength estimates in Vietnam just prior to the devastating 1968 Tet offensive, a battle that caught U.S. forces by surprise.

The estimates presented by Westmoreland showed about 300,000 enemy soldiers in South Vietnam late in 1967. A CIA estimate at the same time was closer to 800,000. The documentary accused Westmoreland of lowering the enemy soldier counts to make it appear the United States was winning the war.

Wallace and Adams said testimony last week of two of the general's wartime subordinates as the reason Westmoreland dropped the case.

Housing Starts Go Through The Roof

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An enormous increase in apartment projects made housing starts soar 14.9 percent in January, the strongest surge since April, while single family housing suffered a setback.

Aided by tax breaks, starts of multi-family buildings soared 81.8 percent in January while the starts of single family houses dropped 4 percent, the Commerce Department said.

The January housing activity amounted to an annual rate of 1.833 million units, the highest level since June and a faster pace than for last year when 1.747 million houses were built.

The Western and Midwestern states accounted for most of the growth but the South, already at a high level, hardly changed from December. Western states reported a 53.2 percent increase in January starts while Midwestern states were up 22.9 percent.

In contrast Northeastern states gained 2.6 percent while the area with 44 percent of all building activity, the South, managed only a 0.6 percent expansion in starts.

Building permits were up 2.3 percent in January after a revised 0.9 percent increase in December.

The 1980's Bank ShakeUp: How's It Going To Shake Out?

In five years of deregulation, we've seen more changes in the American financial system than in all the other years put together.

Today, banks offer discounts on commissions when you trade stocks and bonds. Stock brokers offer services that seem like bank accounts.

S&Ls no longer have their legal "1/4% edge" in interest rates. On the other hand, they can offer more kinds of loans.

Even department stores and insurance companies can get in the act. Now, most places are going to "wait and see" before they make a move; but, at NCNB, we're not.

We'll keep working to deliver the best possible service. It may not always mean the lowest price, but we'll work to see that it means the best value. For example:

More For Less.

Lots of places offer you money market rates, but only one offers them along with other bank services at special rates or no charge.

We call it Deluxe Banking[®] and we've made it easier to get. Now you can qualify by depositing just $1000; keep a $15,000 balance and there's no charge.

High Rates For More People.

Maybe you've thought about investing in Certificates, but you haven't wanted to commit a $2500 lump sum. Now you can invest in any certificate we offer with a minimum deposit of only $1000.

Until this year, you've had to deposit $2500 in an account to earn money market rates. Now, on personal accounts, we've cut our minimum deposit to just $1000.

More IRA Flexibility.

A lot of people like the IRA idea, but would like more control over their investment situation.

That's what our new Investor Option IRA is all about. It lets you combine fixed-rate certificates, a money market account, stocks, and bonds-whatever works for you. So come in and let's talk it over.

More Retirement Benefits.

If you're retired with pension and/or Social Security payments, have them deposited direct with us. We'll give you free regular checking, free personalized wallet checks, a free 24-hour banking card and a free 2x5 safe deposit box for a year.

NCNB Extra Checking[®]: some places offer some of these things, some offer others, but no place that we know of offers all of them.

A Changing Neighborhood.

What you see here is just the beginning. We'll keep working on better ways to handle your money.

So, if you're not sure where your bank, broker or S&L is shaking out, come see us.

This year, next year, and long after the dust has settled in the shakeup of 1985, we'll still be here working harder than ever to be the best bank in the neighborhood.

New Zealand Hurts U.S. Ties

The refusal by New Zealand to allow U.S. warships into its harbors because the vessels may be carrying nuclear weapons is regrettable.

We don't question the New Zealand government's right in the matter, but we do question its judgment.

Obviously, the United States cannot guarantee its fighting ships carry only conventional weapons when four out of five of them carry nuclear arms. And the Navy properly refuses to tell which of its ships are nuclear-armed.

New Zealand's Prime Minister David Lange knew this when he banned from his country's ports the conventionally powered destroyer Buchanan unless the Navy would certify that the Buchanan is not nuclear-armed. Lange said his country will become a nuclear target if he allows U.S. nuclear weapons into its ports.

In reality, Lange is the one placing New Zealand in jeopardy. Preparedness is the best way to prevent nuclear attack, and Lange's order has brought a halt to preparedness training. His ban has caused the cancellation of Exercise Sea Eagle — maneuvers which were to take place in March with elements of the U.S., Australian and New Zealand fleets.

The exercise was set up because the three countries are joined in the ANZUS Treaty, signed in 1951, which makes it clear an attack on any of the three is an attack on all. The treaty was negotiated at the request of New Zealand and Australia.

New Zealand's ban is more serious than it appears and calls for a strong response. There are anti-nuclear movements in Japan and the NATO countries. As State Department spokesman Bernard Kalb said, "Our response to New Zealand would signal that the course these movements advocate would not be cost-free in terms of security relationships with the United States."

For better or worse, our Navy is armed with thousands of nuclear weapons, for all kinds of offensive and defensive purposes. We cannot allow each of our allies to review these weapons to decide which, if any, they approve of. That would hinder the main purpose of our military alliances, which is to deter the use of any force by the other side.

A Loose Cannon

The choice of Patrick Buchanan to replace David Gergen as communications director for the White House does not speak well for the judgment of Donald T. Regan, the new White House chief of staff.

Buchanan, a conservative columnist and television commentator, has served at the White House before. In the Nixon administration, he did notable duty as speech writer for Spiro Agnew, leading the charge against the press.

The press is not sacrosanct and does not consider itself immune from criticism. But Buchanan went beyond responsible criticism to irresponsible denunciation. His style as a columnist has shown the same tendency to extremes. He takes sensational positions, regardless of the consequences.

Buchanan's appointment may placate conservatives but it's a slap at the media. And President Reagan doesn't need another James Watt type, rolling like a loose cannon on the deck.

Rising Prices Seen For 2nd Half Of '85

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The idea that overly rapid growth in the economy or in money and credit aggregates will eventually lead to higher inflation plays to an empty house these days.

The monetarists had their shot at it in late 1984, and they lost — big. The inflation argument is devolving back to what used to be called the supply-side argument before that became a perjorative term: the rate of inflation is determined primarily by costs, not by the level of aggregate demand.

That includes productivity, the rate of taxation, the value of the dollar, and uncontrollable changes in food and energy prices.

Oil prices are well on their way down to $25 a barrel, and there is little of anything OPEC can do about it. Having ruled the roost for so long OPEC has failed to act rationally when confronted with a genuine crisis.

If they had moved to reduce the benchmark price in line with the general transactions price, they would have forestalled the major move to the spot market and hence could have retained a much greater degree of control over orderly market pricing.

However, by unrealistically clinging to the $29 a barrel benchmark price — even through Saudi Arabia itself was selling oil at $27 a barrel — OPEC simply encouraged other buyers and sellers to gravitate toward the spot market, which at last count represented almost two-thirds of all international oil transactions.

The resulting chaotic market pricing has tended to depress prices more than would be explained by strictly economic factors alone; that is why some bounceback is a likely possibility if speculative forces carry prices below $25 a barrel.

Once oil prices stabilize — which could be any time this spring — we think that the mammoth upsurge in the dollar will also come to an end. Stable instead of plummeting oil prices and a slightly weaker dollar — will be enough to raise the rate of inflation significantly in the second half of the year.

Even if inflation does return to 5 percent late this year, the question naturally arises as to whether the Fed might just not let things ride; keep that ever-vigilant scowl on the front page of the papers, but essentially permit the economy to continue to advance at above-average growth rates. If that were to be the case, the recovery probably could continue for at least another two to three years.

However, it is much more likely that the Fed will see the current economic situation as the ideal time to bury inflationary expectations once and for all.

Once inflation starts to reaccelerate after midyear, and the Fed is also faced with (a) above-average real growth, (b) insufficient improvement on the deficit front, and (c) excessive growth in money and credit aggregates, it will move to tighten once again.

ANTHONY HARRIGAN

Who's Invited To Party?

LONDON, England — A great controversy has arisen here over the 40th anniversary of VE-Day, the victory of allied arms over Nazi Germany.

Whether or not to invite the Germans to participate is one question. It makes sense as the defeat of Hitler, after all, marked the beginning of a new democratic Germany.

An even bigger problem is the role of the Soviets. They were wartime allies of the Western powers, but they have devoted the past 40 years to the repression of free peoples and the destruction of democratic governments. The Left in Britain is all for including the Soviets.

It also has to be borne in mind that Britain went to war against Hitler because Nazi Germany invaded Poland. The Soviets made common cause with Hitler and seized half of Poland. They murdered almost the entire Polish Officer corps in the Katyn Forest massacre. Today, Poland is a Soviet satellite. The Polish people are captives of a communist regime.

Any celebration of VE-Day has to take note of the tragic ending of World War II in Europe. It ended with the Yalta agreement, to which President Roosevelt was a party.

Under this agreement, Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia were surrendered to Stalin. The people of Eastern Europe, half of ancient Christendom, were sacrificed. They have had 40 years of tyranny, not 40 years of peace. The enslavement of these peoples is a disturbing mark on the conscience of the West. The United States and Britain had the power in 1945 to roll back the Soviet occupation. They didn't have the will and wisdom to do so.

Here in Britain, anti-Americans refer to the great Soviet "sacrifices" in World War II. They fail to mention that the Soviet leadership killed more Russians in the purges of the 1930s and 1940s than Hitler did in his attacks. Western countries should not forget for a minute the bloody record of the Soviets. The Soviets weren't allies in a normal sense. Even as they fought Hitler on the Eastern front, they were busy stealing America's atomic secrets. The Soviets have devoted the past 40 years to repression, nuclear blackmail, subversive warfare and terrorist acts.

VE-Day is an important date in history. But it's very important that it be celebrated in terms of the full truth, not with half truths. The Western countries should aim at celebrating the extraordinary courage, unity, and nobility of purpose manifested by their people from 1939 to 1945. These qualities should be understood by a new generation and honored in appropriate ways.

Questions Surround Agent's Death

WASHINGTON — Long-suppressed evidence sheds new light on the mysterious death of a decorated Drug Enforcement Administration agent six years ago — and on the dubious techniques the drug agency used to go after him.

The agent, Santa Barrio, suffered a seizure in a San Antonio, Texas, jail cell in 1979, lapsed into a coma and died several months later without regaining consciousness.

He had been arrested and was awaiting trial after a DEA informant charged that he had paid Barrio $9,000 to be allowed to keep 5 kilos of cocaine involved in an undercover operation.

According to the official account of his death, Barrio choked on a peanut butter sandwich. But initial tests reportedly showed traces of poison in his system.

Barrio's widow, Joanne, told my associate Donald Goldberg that her husband was merely holding the money as a favor for the informant, who was afraid his girlfriend would get it. The widow will tell her story in a book, Fatal Dreams, that is to be published this month.

The case against Barrio depended entirely on the informant's word. A tape recording he claimed to have made of the bribe transaction turned out to be blank. The marked bills remained intact in Barrio's safe, according to the widow.

A federal judge ordered Barrio's posthumous reinstatement, thus securing the widow her survivor benefits, but she wants to clear her husband's name once and for all. New documents, uncovered by her attorney, former Watergate prosecutor Richard Ben-Veniste, point to self-serving motivation on the informant's part to set Barrio up for a fall. He was not only paid generously by DEA, but was promised help in gaining American citizenship.

"(The informant) was paid a reward of $60,000 for the Barrio investigation," states an internal DEA memo dated March 1, 1979.

"The Office of Internal Security had also agreed ... to obtain necessary immigration documents in order that he could reside in the United States. However, it is apparent that (the informant) has committed serious violations of the law, and because of this, Internal Security is not under obligation to obtain these immigration documents...."

Despite the evidence of the informant's illicit behavior, the U.S. attorney in Puerto Rico, where the informant lived, told the DEA he "did not feel there was sufficient evidence to indict."

As to why the DEA was out to get one of its top agents, the speculation is that Barrio knew too much about certain questionable DEA practices that were under investigation at the time.

VIEWPOINT

Acid Rain Reality

By Robert W. Savage

Acid Rain. The phrase strikes fear in the heart of many Americans, with the media image of blighted forests and dead fish. To the environmental extremist and the modern Luddite, acid rain is synonymous with imminent catastrophe — another conspiracy of technology and big business. But this view of acid rain and the reality are vastly different.

"Acid rain" has always existed. Water in the atmosphere naturally combines with sulfur dioxide and other compounds to form various acids. Acid rain only becomes a potential problem when the acidity of rain is higher than that of lakes, streams and soil. The causes of acid rain are clear: any form of combustion including cars, coal-burning plants, and wood fires. Other processes like plant and animal decay also affect water acidity. The effects of acid rain, however, are not clear. Countless studies of it have led to conflicting conclusions.

The importance of acid rain does not arise from its actual environmental impact, but rather its political play. In the early eighties acid rain became a hot political issue. Stanted media stories spread the catastrophic image of acid rain.

The success of the media blitz on acid rain is unquestionable. Before the 1984 elections, a Harris Poll showed that 90 percent of Americans thought acid rain to be a serious threat to the nation. In response, Sen. John Glenn of Ohio proposed a 50 percent reduction in sulfur dioxide emissions in 31 midwestern and southern states by 1988. The estimated cost to those states was a whopping $12 billion and a loss of over 100,000 jobs.

But Sen. Glenn's proposal was moderate compared with Sen. Alan Cranston's plan, which called for a 90 percent reduction at a cost of $100 billion. These drastic proposals did not pass Congress. Instead a compromise was reached: a doubling of funds for acid rain research to $55.5 million in 1985. Besides, law and regulation already stipulate reductions in sulfur dioxide emissions over a reasonable period of time.

But with the new 99th Congress acid rain is bound to stir debate once again. Already, Sen. Stafford (R-VT) has submitted a bill similar to Sen. Glenn's 1984 proposal.

Politics have tainted the research of acid rain to the detriment of science and truth. The public image of acid rain has led to biased research and rash remedies for a complex global problem. The solution to ending the blight of forests and lakes will come from study and diplomacy, unhurried and untainted by the fashionable politics of the day.

JEFFREY HART

Frost Country

About half the time this columnist is in Washington, D.C., New York City and other centers of politics, crime and culture. The rest of the time I spend with my wife in a remodeled one-room school house in Lyme, New Hampshire that was built during the second half of the nineteenth century.

We have had only about a foot of snow so far this year, but tonight the wind is howling, the snow is a white sheet outside the now black glass of the sliding doors, and it is good to have a roaring fire in the wood stove.

Our great poet of winter is of course Robert Frost, appropriate last name.

Gazing out at that swirling snow the poem I think of is Frost's "Storm Fear," which appeared in 1913.

The poet, his wife and their young child are in an isolated New England house in the midst of a violent New England snow storm, like the one we have tonight. Nature is in a formidable mood.

When the wind works against us in the dark,

And pelts with snow

The lower chamber window on the east,

And whispers with a sort of stifled bark,

The best,

"Come out! Come out!" —

It costs no inward struggle not to go,

Ah, no!

Nature here is utterly hostile, a savage beast, but the human spirit rallies against the forces of the storm:

I count our strength,

Two and a child,

That is all there is, in the isolated farm house. But it is a lot more than nothing. Defeat is far from inevitable.

Something formidable, however you read those lines, is resisting the awful power of brute nature. The poem continues:

Those of us not asleep subdued to mark

How the cold creeps as the fire dies at length —

How drifts are piled,

Dooryard and road ungraded,

Till even the comforting barn grows far away...

The cold has invaded the house, creeping under the door. Outside, the storm is triumphant, closing the roads and occupying even the poet's dooryard. The human spirit has been pushed back into the last trenches, as at Bataan or Dunkirk. The poet could not even reach his own barn, now "far away." And the poet has a moment of "storm fear," really a fear, I think, about the indifference — even the utter hostility — of nature:

And my heart owns a doubt

Whether 'tis in us to rise with day

And save ourselves unaided.

That is not really a "doubt" that they will live through the storm, though there were no snow plows or telephones in 1913. It is really a spiritual doubt — about whether the human spirit can survive in an indifferent, or apparently indifferent, cosmos. Characteristically for Frost, it is a "doubt," not a negation. He leaves the question open.

He also leaves open the question of whether they are indeed "unaided." They may indeed have to "rise with the day" and save themselves unaided. Do it alone. But they may not be alone. They are, of course, "two and a child," a human family, more than the sum of its parts.

Welcome to Northern New England, Frost country.

Burglary Suspect Nabbed In $24,000 Jewelry Heist

Seminole County sheriff's investigators, reportedly with the aid of a suspect, have recovered more than $24,000 in jewelry taken in a Fern Park burglary earlier this month.

The jewelry, belonging to Angie M. Rocchio, 71, of 481 Meadow Wood Blvd., was found in the same lake in which the suspect was nabbed after Mrs. Rocchio, her neighbors and a Florida Power and Light Co. workman saw a suspect run from her home with her jewelry, sheriff's investigator Marion Matthews said today.

FP&L's Lee Thompson, 49, of Winter Park, pursued the suspect and captured him in Prairie Lake, Fern Park, shortly after the 2:30 p.m. burglary on Feb. 9, a sheriff's report said.

The man was charged with burglary to an occupied dwelling and grand theft and accompanied deputies to the crime scene Friday. The jewelry, including several rings set with various stones — diamonds, pearls, amethysts, sapphires, and rubies — were found in the water inside a jacket, Matthews said.

Matthews was charged Feb. 12 with grand theft, burglary and dealing in stolen property after he was reportedly linked through a fingerprint on a pawn ticket to a Feb. 5 jewelry heist at 158 Carol Wood Drive, Fern Park. The suspect allegedly pawned $2,000 worth of jewelry from that home at Connie's Pawn Shop, Fern Park, on the same day the burglary occurred, a sheriff's report said.

Alvin Lee Fitzgerald Jr., 21, of Orlando, has been charged in connection with the burglaries. He was being held today in the Seminole County jail in lieu of $14,500 bond.

COKE TIP FOR TOPLESS
A man who was reportedly trying to tip women workers at a Fern Park topless bar with cocaine has been charged with possession of the drug.

Seminole County sheriff's deputies reported responding to a complaint at the House of Babes, U.S. Highway 17-92, at about 3:35 a.m. Sunday and were told a patron had offered women cocaine as tips. A suspect was taken outside and searched, a sheriff's report said.

A vial containing what a test reportedly showed to be cocaine was found in the man's pants pocket, the report said.

L. Trevette Weeks, 31, of Orlando, was arrested at 3:51 a.m. Sunday. He has been released on $5,000 bond.

NABBED AT MALL
A 21-year-old Orlando man has been charged with burglary and grand theft after witnesses who reportedly saw a suspect take a coat from a car at the Altamonte Mall called police.

Altamonte Springs police nabbed the suspect in a van at the mall and charged him with the theft of a coat which also held a pair of eyeglasses that had been taken from the car of John Evan Drummer, 25, of Lakeland.

Police were alerted to the theft by two witnesses who reportedly witnessed the crime and told them where the suspect might be, a police report said.

The items stolen have a combined value of $125, the report said.
David Drwin Miller was arrested at 7:38 p.m. Saturday. He was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

GUN CONFISCATED
A south Seminole County resident had his gun confiscated following the reported shooting of his Doberman pinscher.

According to a deputy's report, witnesses said they saw a man chasing a red Doberman and shoot it in the nose. They said the man then took the dog into his back yard and then they heard two more shots.

The deputy located the man, Gene Jeter, 43, of 2312 Dunbury Court, who said the dog was "mean" and that he shot it because it appeared to be getting ready to attack him. After he shot it in the nose, he said the dog was in "bad shape" so he killed it with two more shots. He said he put the dog's remains in a trash bag and put it in a dumpster behind Butler Plaza.

The officer called animal control for a further investigation and confiscated Jeter's .22 caliber gun.

Saturday charged a man in the car with possession of cocaine and drug paraphernalia.

The deputies reported seeing the suspect close the glove box of the car when they approached the vehicle outside Fern Park Station, Fern Park Boulevard, at about 5 a.m. Saturday.

They asked to see the vehicle's registration and when the man opened the glove box the officers said they saw two syringes.

The car was searched and a bottle of what a test showed to be cocaine was found on the floorboard, the report said.

David Larry Traniello, 22, of Orlando, was charged in the case. He was released on $5,000 bond.

SECOND ARREST

A man being held in the Seminole County jail on charges of burglary and grand theft had an additional charge of grand theft booked against him Friday when prints taken from a separate burglary matched his.

According to a sheriff's report, the inmate, who was jailed Feb. 8 on charges stemming from a Fern Park burglary and theft, was connected by fingerprints to a Maitland burglary Feb. 7. In the Maitland burglary $5,000 worth of gold jewelry was taken. During the Fern Park burglary, $16,000 worth of jewelry was taken.

Being held in lieu of $5,000 bond Saturday was Alvin Lee Fitzgerald Jr., 21, of Orlando.

FALSE ALARM

School officials said they want to prosecute the case of a 16-year-old boy who is accused of setting off a fire alarm at Lake Howell High School.

The incident occurred Wednesday at 10:30 a.m.

The boy has been suspended. According to a sheriff's report, school officials said the boy was in a shop class when his friends offered him money to pull the alarm.

There was no fire.

Democrats Fare Worst On Moral Report Card

WASHINGTON (UPI) — More than half the members of Congress flunked a moral report card "on key moral or family issues" released by a conservative religious group, but Democrats fared the worst.

Christian Voice, a lobby of 350,000 conservative Christians, said that 50 senators and 236 House members received failing grades of 50 percent or less, based on 12 votes in each house during the 1984 session.

The group said 197 members received passing grades by scoring 70 percent or better. Perfect scores were earned by 84 members, while 95 received ratings of zero for consistently failing to agree with Christian Voice stands.

The report card said Republicans outscored Democrats, with Republicans averaging 82 percent and Democrats collectively failing with 27 percent. In the Senate, Republicans earned 72 percent and Democrats 35 percent. House Republicans got 85 percent and Democrats falled 26 percent.

The scorecard rates members of Congress on the number of times they voted in accordance with Christian Voice's positions on such issues as support of school prayer, capital punishment in some specific cases, a balanced budget, foreign aid to El Salvador, and in opposition to forced busing, abortion and infanticide.

To score 100 percent, members had to vote against spending federal funds for abortions or abortion counseling.

All four senators who ran for the 1984 Democratic presidential nomination received failing grades. Gary Hart of Colorado and Alan Cranston of California earned zeros. John Glenn of Ohio got 18 percent and Ernest Hollings of South Carolina 50 percent.

Lady Rams Derail Brantley's Dream

Stone, DeShetler Make Free Throws For Victory

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer
ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Many of the 1,200 fans at Lake Brantley High Monday night would have thought Liz Stone and Karen DeShetler unlikely to be Lake Mary's main characters down the stretch.

For most of the season, the Rams have gone inside with success to Courtney Hall or Aileen Patterson or outside with Kim Averill in key situations. Meanwhile, Stone and DeShetler quietly, but steadily performed well all year long.

When Lake Brantley's defense closed off the inside game of the Lady Rams Monday night, Lake Mary called on DeShetler and Stone and they came through in a big way.

DeShetler swished a pair of free throws with 20 seconds left to tie the score at 41-41 and, after coming up with a steal, Stone connected on two free throws with 15 seconds left to give Lake Mary the victory, 43-41, over the Lady Patriots in a crucial Five Star Conference and 4A-9 District clash.

"It seems we can't make free throws unless we're under pressure," Lake Mary coach Bill Moore said. "We missed quite a few in the first half."

With the win, Lake Mary tied Seminole for the top spot in the district and the two will flip a coin to decide the top seed in the 4A-9 Tournament which starts Thursday night. The first round of the tournament will be played at the sites of the top four seeds while the semifinals and finals will be held at Lake Brantley High.

The Lady Rams, 15-3 in the conference and 14-2 in the district, also improved to 20-7 overall marking the fourth year in a row Moore's club has won 20 or more games.

Lake Brantley went into Monday's game tied for first in the conference and district but the loss gives Seminole the Five Star title outright — also an unlikely gift from Lake Mary to

Basketball

Seminole. The Lady Patriots stand at 15-3 in the conference and 13-3 in district play. Lake Brantley also stands at 23-5 overall, its best season ever.

DeShetler, a 5-7 junior, and Stone, a 5-3 senior, combined to score the last 12 of Lake Mary's 14 fourth-quarter points Monday. DeShetler wound up with 12 points, including 4 of 4 free throws, while Stone tossed in eight points, had four steals and also came up with four rebounds.

Senior center Courtney Hall led the Rams' inside game with 12 points and a game-high 12 rebounds. Averill, a 5-8 senior point guard, was held to five points but dished out six assists and collected three steals.

While it was the fourth-quarter performances of Stone and DeShetler that carried Lake Mary, the Lady Patriots were led in the second half by the excellent play of 5-7 point guard Sherry "Ice" Asplen.

The junior guard scored all 12 of her points in the second half and added five rebounds, six assists and four steals. Senior forward Michelle Brown led the Patriots with a game-high 13 points and senior forward Cami Twaddell had a fine game inside for Brantley with eight points and seven rebounds.

Both teams spent the entire first quarter working patiently for a good shot on offense while playing intensely on defense. Brown's six points in the quarter led the way as Brantley took an 8-7 lead into the second.

Lake Mary jumped out with six straight points to open the second quarter for a 13-8 lead. The first two buckets were scored inside by Hall on precision passes from Averill. Stone then came up with a steal and converted a layup to make it 13-8 with 6:03 left in the first

Tribe Wins Conference

APOPKA — Mona Benton poured in 21 points and Catherine "Kitty" Anderson pumped in 20 as Sanford's Lady Seminoles upended Apopka's Lady Blue Darters, 75-59, in Five Star Conference action at Apopka High.

Seminole's win, coupled with Lake Mary's win over Brantley, gave the Lady Tribe the Five Star Conference title outright for the second year in a row. Seminole improved to 23-5 overall, 18-2 in the conference and 14-2 in the district.

The flip of a coin will decide whether Seminole or Lake Mary (both finished with 14-2 district records) gets the top seed in this week's district tournament. The coin toss will be held at Mainland High by 4A-9 District Administrator and Mainland principal Jack Surrence.

"It's time for us to win a coin flip," Seminole coach Ron Merthie said. "Last time we lost it. The top seed gives a team a chance to run into less opposition but I think you have to be ready to play no matter who the opponent is. You have to be prepared mentally whether you're playing Spruce Creek, Lake Mary or whoever."

Also joining Benton and Anderson in double figures Monday were Anzell "Soul" Smith with 12 points and Temika Alexander with 10. Anderson also pulled down 10 rebounds and collected eight steals. Benton added five boards, six assists and two steals while Smith, a 5-4 guard, pulled down eight boards and handed out two assists.

Junior forward April Peterson was out sick for the second game in a row. "I haven't seen her since she's been out," Merthie said.

Baseball Club Goes Indoors To Teach The Art Of Hitting

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

Johnny is known as a "singles hitter." He just concluded a year in Little League with a .212 average. One year later, however, Johnny comes back to tear the cover off the ball. He doubles his batting average and slams five homers. His coaches, teammates and opponents are wondering what could be the cause of this metamorphosis.

The explanation could be one of the following:

1. — The kid is taking steroids.
2. — He spent all year in the batting cage.
3. — He went to the Central Florida Baseball Club.

Instructors at the Central Florida Baseball Club say the smart Little Leaguer would have chosen number three. Steroids would only make him a muscular .212 hitter while spending all year in the batting cage might add a few points to his average, but it would bring more blisters than hits.

"Ninety-nine percent of the kids who come in don't have the fundamentals to play at higher levels (high school, college)," the club's co-owner, Tom Emanaki said. "We specialize in the basic fundamentals in hitting that allow them to play at a higher level."

Emanaki, a member of the Pittsburgh Pirates scouting staff, and Garry Ridge, a former college coach, opened the Maitland-based club in December. It is the first indoor facility of its kind in the Southeast. That is, the first to offer professional training.

"Golf and tennis have always had professional instruction but there has never been anything for baseball," Ridge said. "And that's surprising because baseball is supposed to be the national pastime."

The Central Florida Baseball Club is located off Highway 17-92 on Atlantic Avenue in Maitland, between the Little 500 Go Carts and Little Annie's Barbeque.

Ridge, who has been an instructor in outdoor camps the past three years, was the one who came up with the idea for the indoor facility.

"I just happened to think of it one night," he said. "We weren't really satisfied with the outdoor camps."

The outdoor camps have offered professional instruction, but not as personalized as the Central Florida club.

"We were never happy with the outdoor camps because the groups were too large for the number of instructors," Emanaki said. "So we sat down and came up with a more personal approach. We have two kids to an instructor per session."

Since it opened, the club has sold out in every month of operation. In December it had 68 students. In January, after adding an instructor, it had 78. In February, 80 more came through the door. Emanaki said there are still some openings for March sessions.

"We've had kids come from as far away as Titusville, Merritt Island and Webster," Emanaki said. "And we've had junior varsity and varsity high school players along with the Little Leaguers."

Instruction

For $99, students get six, one-hour sessions which includes three 20-minute stations. They include, soft tosses, quick-hands work and hitting off the tee. The club also has a batting cage in its indoor facility and a pro shop which sells bats and gloves.

Students who are really serious about the game and working out in the club are encouraged to have their eyes examined, for an additional $15 fee, before their sessions begin.

"Dr. Richard Ross (who used to work with the Houston Astros) brings in a computer to test for depth perception and tracking ability," Emanaki said. "The eye test is important because someone with 20/15 vision would be able to pick up the ball 10 feet sooner than someone with 20/30 vision. The guys with worse vision are usually late swingers because they're not identifying the ball until it's halfway to the plate."

Emanaki said the eye exam has been very valuable to a number of students in the club.

"We took our top five hitters and our worst five hitters and had them tested," Emanaki said. "It turned out three of the worst hitters had eye problems. One of them, 13-year-old Tom Sloan, had 20/50 vision when he came to us. Now he has corrective lenses and is one of our best hitters."

When the students come for their first session, right away the instructor can usually point out a number of things he is doing wrong.

"There are five or six things Little Leaguers do wrong that we try to correct," Emanaki said. "A lot of things they do wrong have to do with their stride into the pitch. They have a tendency to commit to soon, especially on a change or curve. They have terrible balance and their feet are usually too far apart or too close together. And they don't seem to have any kind of hip rotation. They hit mostly with their upper body or arms."

But, through the various exercises with instructors, Emanaki said he can see results after two or three sessions.

"Hitting is a reaction," Emanaki said. "You don't think, you react. And you can't learn how to hit correctly with people throwing live balls at you. You need constant, supervised repetition."

"A lot of people know the mechanics of hitting but it's the fine points that make a kid be able to drive the ball instead of just make contact," Ridge said.

Along with the other exercises at the club, one of the most entertaining and effective is the known 30-94 which is a large square with about 100 or so small, numbered squares. You put a quarter in and numbers start blinking. After you

Doug Holmquist, a coach for the New York Yankees and an instructor at the Central Florida Baseball Club, instructs Willie hit one number, another lights up and so on. Emanaki said the machine builds hand-eye coordination and depth perception. It is also good for fielders on ground ball bad hops.

Daunic on the proper method of striding into the ball. Daunic played on Maitland's successful Junior League team last year.

Along with Ridge and Emanaki, the other instructors in the club include Doug Holmquist, a manager for the New York Yankees minor league, and former major leaguer Earl Battey (starting in March). Steve Christmas, a catcher for the Chicago White Sox, was an instructor in January.

"I didn't learn any of the things we're teaching when I was a kid," Ridge said. "That's why I take such personal pride in teaching the kids. I know it's something I never had.

"If you're serious and dedicated the odds are a lot better for playing college ball," added Ridge. "But it's something the kids have to work at at home."

To a lot of youngsters, hitting the baseball comes naturally. Some are good hitters from the moment they pick up the bat. But the Central Florida Baseball Club may provide the difference between a good hitter and a great hitter, one with a future in college and maybe even professional baseball.

Patriots Tangle With Winter Park

Lake Brantley's Patriots and Winter Park's Wildcats will decide the sectional championship tonight when they meet tonight at 7 at Lake Brantley High School.

Lake Brantley, 30-2-1, nipped Lake Mary, 1-0, Saturday night to capture the 4A-9 District while Winter Park surprised Evans, 1-0, in the District 4A-10 contest at Showalter Field.

The Patriots trounced Winter Park, 6-1, in a meeting earlier this year but coach Jim Brody expects the Wildcats will be much improved. "Winter Park is like Lyman," said Brody. "They're a tournament team. It will be much closer this time around."

Brody has gotten splendid goal keeping from junior Aaron Kindel but he would like to see his powerful offense get cranked up again tonight. Lake Brantley, ranked No. 4 in the state, scored just two goals against Lyman and one against Lake Mary in regulation.

Raiders Host Matadors

By Sam Cook

Valencia Community College has lost 13 consecutive Mid-Florida Conference basketball games. The Matadors won just five of 29 games for the season.

But coach Bill Payne and his SCC Raiders will never under-rate them. Not even if they were 0-29. So tonight at 7:30 when the Raiders host VCC in the first round of the Mid-Florida Conference post-season tournament, don't expect anything but a top-notch effort.

Payne and his two assistants — Terry Woods and Dean Smith — don't need a very long memory. Just 382 days ago, Valencia, behind its two standout shooters, Clev Williams and Tony Fluker, deprived the Raiders of a trip to the state tournament with an upset victory in the post-season tournament final.

Basketball

Williams and Fluker are gone but VCC still has a potent shooter in 6-5 Tony Wright, who leads the MFC with a 23.3 points per game average. Moses Gordon is averaging nine boards per game. They are joined in the starting lineup by Timmy Garcia, 6-3 Tom Wheeler and 6-1 Ted Brown.

"There's got no pressure on them," said Smith. "If they get beat, they're supposed to get beat. Everything is to their advantage."

Smith said the Raiders were also leery of what coach Tom Garcia might pull. "They're a free-spirited team. You never know how Garcia will play. They might get a lead and hold the ball."

SCC, which lost to Daytona Beach Saturday, is 20-10. A victory tonight will advance the Raiders into Thursday's semifinals at Daytona Beach. They will play the winner of tonight's Santa Fe-Central Florida game. In tonight's third game, Lake City hosts St. Johns River. That winner plays Daytona Thursday.

Hersey Blanks Edgewater — Livernois Whiffs 17

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Most ballplayers will tell you Mondays are tough enough without having to face a couple of laser beams like Lyman's Derek Livernois and Seminole's James Hersey.

Two of the county's hardest throwers brought out their best beat Monday as Seminole improved to 3-2 with a 2-0 victory over Edgewater and Lyman kept its spotless record (5-0) intact with a 5-0 win over Evans.

At Orlando, Hersey, a senior, handcuffed Edgewater on two hits. He struck out 11, walked three and hit a batter. "Give the credit to Hersey and Powers took care of the pitching strategy. Ferrell pulled two tricks out of his coaching hat to produce the runs. After Hersey singled and moved up to second on a wild pitch in the second, Tony Cox grounded out moving him to third. Joey Corsi then walked and allowed himself to be picked off. Corsi stayed in the rundown long enough for Hersey to break for the plate. Edgewater's throw home was too late to catch him.

At Longwood, Livernois paralyzed Evans with 17 strikeouts in six innings. The senior righthander allowed just four hits while going six innings. He walked just one and threw 93 pitches. The only batter to go down via strikeout bunted for an out in the fifth inning. Craig Meyer finished up.

Kyle Brubaker and Livernois were the hitting heroes. Livernois drove in three runs with a trio of singles while Brubaker tripled and singled. John Bane singled twice and drove in a run while Paul Alegre doubled and singled.

Spencer's Final Night Victory Run Outpoints Evans

NEW SMYRNA BEACH — Jim Spencer won the 50-lap modified feature on the final night of the World Series on Saturday night at New Smyrna Speedway. The win was just what Spencer needed to grab the Series overall championship by the slim margin of eight points over Series defending champion Richie Evans.

Spencer's Hutter-powered Troyer Cavalier was the class of the field and performed to perfection, as lap after lap, Spencer held off the challenges of second place finisher Richie Evans.

During the hot lap session, just before the main, Jeff Fuller, in Evans' back-up machine, made contact with Bill Kimmel, forcing both cars out of the event. Misfortune also struck on lap 10, as Doug Hewitt, who enjoyed a 16-point lead going into the event, lost a right front tire which was hit by Dick Trickle. Both cars were severely damaged.

Finishing third was Reggie Ruggiero. Once again, Ruggiero was the only car to pit and change three tires without losing a lap. Fourth was Tom Baldwin in Doug Hewitt's back up car. Moose Hewitt finished a strong fifth.

Butch Miller scored a wire to wire win in the 50-lap late model feature. As for Dick Trickle, he had problems and could not do better than seventh at the finish. But that position was good enough for him to successfully defend his World Series late model title.

Back to the feature, local hot shoe David Rogers was second, followed by Joe Shear, Jack Cook and young Steve Grissom.

Thundercar feature winners were Mike Todd and talented 18-year old driver Stan Eds who dominated the Series with seven wins out of eight starts in the beautiful Humphreys and Watts, Jack Tant-powered machine.

half. The Lady Rams maintained their five-point lead, 18-11, at the half.

The two rivals traded baskets to open the third quarter but, with the Rams holding an 18-13 lead, Asplen found the shooting touch and took over for the Lady Patriots.

"Sherry (Asplen) had to play that way for us to do what we did in the second half," Lake Brantley coach Renny Betris said. "She played an excellent floor game."

The smooth-shooting southpaw swished (try to say that three times fast) a jumper, then came back to hit a nice, driving layup to pull Brantley within one, 18-17. Asplen's outside accuracy seemed to rub off on the other shooters on the floor as the teams took turns hitting from the outside and Lake Mary hung on to its one-point lead, 28-25, with three minutes left in the quarter.

Lake Brantley had a chance to take the lead, but missed the front end of an one-and-one from the line. Hall grabbed the rebound for the Rams but Asplen snuck in for a steal and fed Kirsten Dellinger for a layup and a 27-26 lead.

Dellinger, who finished with six points, six rebounds and five blocks, dropped in another layup with 2:18 left in the third for a 29-26 Lake Brantley lead. Asplen came through with another steal moments later, made a nice move in traffic and finished it off with a short jumper that gave the Patriots a 31-26 lead with 2:08 left in the quarter.

"I felt it in the third quarter," Asplen said of her shooting touch. "And once I get going, I really get going."

Lake Mary battled back within two before the quarter was over though as Hall made one of two free throws and Cynthia Patterson, playing in place of Aileen Patterson who had four fouls, banked in a shot to cut Brantley's lead to 31-29 going into the final period.

The Rams fought back to tie the score at 33-33 on a jumper by DeShetter early in the fourth quarter. Asplen then came up with another steal and with 1:59 left, Asplen hit a 35-33 lead. After a Lake Mary turnover, Asplen hit again from the outside for a 37-38 Lake Brantley lead with 4:39 remaining.

DeShetter pulled the Rams within two again, 37-35, but Asplen delivered a nice pass to Dellinger for a layup and a 39-35 Brantley lead with 2:21 left. Brown then picked up a steal and headed downcourt for an open layup. Averill fouled Brown from behind, though, and prevented her from making the easy layup. Brown missed both free throws with 2:13 left and Stone drilled in a jumper with 2:02 remaining to bring Lake Mary back within two, 39-37.

Stone came right back with a steal and DeShetter hit a jumper from inside the foul line to tie the score at 39-39 with 1:30 left to play. "This is the only game I felt really good shooting," DeShetter said. "I was following through pretty well."

Brown then drove inside with 51 seconds left but was fouled and the senior standout converted both free throws to give the Patriots a 41-39 lead.

Lake Mary came back and worked the ball around for a good shot but DeShetter was fouled when Brown tried to take a charge. Lake Brantley then called a timeout with 20 seconds left to make DeShetter think about the one-and-one situation.

The blonde-haired junior came back after the timeout and hit nothing but net with the first shot. The second shot rolled tantalizingly around the rim for a second and then dropped in to tie the score at 41-41.

"I was really nervous," DeShetter said about the free throws. "I just tried to block out all the noise. I felt good on the shots and made sure to follow through."

Lake Mary then put full court pressure on defensively and, after Brantley crossed halfcourt, Stone came up with her biggest steal of the night, in a diving attempt to get the ball back. Brantley's Kim Lubnow was called for a foul, sending Stone to the line with 15 seconds remaining.

"I knew I had the steal," Stone said. "And I thought for sure she (Lubnow) fouled me after I got the ball."

Stone, one of the top free throw shooters in the county the past three years, stepped up to the line and sank both free throws for a 43-41 Lake Mary lead.

"When I went to the line I was scared," added Stone. "Really, really scared. But I didn't hear any noise when I was shooting. It felt great after I made the shots."

Averill, a four-year starter for the Lady Rams, and a 70 percent free throw shooter, gave both DeShetter and Stone encouragement on their pressure

"I went up to Karen and told her to relax and that we still had time," Averill said. "I said the same thing to Lis. We just have a knack for coming back."

"That last foul hurt us," Asplen said. "Lake Mary shoots free throws very well. And we missed a lot of one and ones that really hurt."

IN BRIEF

Fears Of Mass Evictions Spark Riots In Which 5 Die

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (UPI) — At least five people were killed in clashes with police in a day of rioting triggered by fears the government planned to evict tens of thousands of blacks from a squatter camp outside Cape Town.

Police Capt. Jan Calitz said 29 people were wounded in the rioting Monday at the 11-year-old Crossroads settlement, but Dr. Ivan Toms, head of the camp's only clinic, said at least 60 people were treated for injuries.

The violence erupted early Monday as gangs of youths stoned commuters and police quickly surrounded the dense concentration of wood, tin and plastic shanties built on a muddy clearing about 12 miles outside Cape Town.

Five men died when police armed with shotguns opened fire with rubber bullets and light buckshot in repeated battles with blacks roaming the muddy lanes of the squalid settlement, he said.

Many of the squatters come from distant tribal homelands in defiance of South Africa's laws of "apartheid" — or discrimination against the nation's 22 black majority — that govern the movements of blacks. Others are migrant workers officially forbidden to have their families with them in the city.

Over 100 Die In Jet Crash

BILBAO, Spain (UPI) — An Iberia Airlines 727 jetliner with 147 people aboard crashed into a mountainside in northern Spain today, killing more than 100 passengers and crew members, authorities said.

Civil aviation authorities said there were between 30 and 40 survivors among the 141 passengers and six crew members.

The Iberia flight, en route from Madrid to Bilbao, a major city in northeastern Spain, crashed into Oiz Mountain about 18 miles from Bilbao's Sondica Airport at approximately 9:25 a.m. (3:25 a.m. EST).

Authorities said the weather was overcast but did not impair visibility in the area. The airplane was flying at an altitude of some 3,000 feet and preparing to land when it crashed, aviation authorities said.

Witnesses said it appeared the plane hit a television antenna on top of the mountain just before it crashed.

Tanker War Claims Victim

KUWAIT (UPI) — A Japanese crewman was killed in an air attack on a Kuwaiti cargo ship that was struck by a missile and set ablaze in the Persian Gulf, authorities said. The ship arrived safely at Rasheed Port in Dubai today.

The sailor earlier had been reported missing in what shipping sources said was apparently an attack by an Iranian warplane in retaliation for a recent spate of Iraqi attacks on ships trading with Iran.

Neither Iraq nor Iran claimed responsibility for the Monday afternoon attack in the southern Persian Gulf Monday on the 35,324-ton ship.

$44 Million For Malpractice Fund

78 Hospitals Agree To Pay Up

From Staff, Wire Reports
Sanford's Central Florida Regional Hospital is one of 78 Florida hospitals that have reached a $44 million settlement with Insurance Commissioner Bill Gunter over assessments to the Patients Compensation Fund.

CFRH will pay $500,000 as its part of the settlement, according to the hospital's public relations director, Kay Bartholmew.

Gunter last year threatened to challenge licenses of five hospitals which balked at paying assessments to the fund.

Gunter said Monday the settlement would resolve most of a $58 million backlog of medical malpractice judgments against doctors and hospitals once covered by the defunct PCF. He said the settlement brings to $88 million the total amount collected through the Patients Compensation Fund, but that some future assessments will still be necessary to settle claims still pending for patients injured through negligence of doctors or hospitals.

The fund set up in 1975 to protect patients against medical costs and non-financial damages in excess of malpractice insurance carried by their doctors and hospitals. Rising rates levied by the fund caused many doctors and hospitals to drop out, and the last hospital quit the PCF in 1982 — followed a year later by its last physician member.

CFRH dropped out of the program in 1981 after being in it two years. During the 1978-79 fiscal year, CFRH paid about $47,000 into the fund and in 1979-80 it contributed $42,000, Ms. Bartholmew said.

The Florida Supreme Court last year upheld the validity of state assessments against the hospitals for excess judgments incurred while they were members.

Last October, Gunter threatened to have licenses lifted from hospitals hit by final judgments and still refusing to pay their overdue PCF assessments.

"I felt, as long as the hospitals continued bargaining in good faith, we should try to resolve the issues through negotiation," said Gunter. "Our intent has always been to pay malpractice victims what is owed to them."

James Turner, city manager of Grenada, Miss. He said his salary requirement would be in the $40,000 range.

Some of the candidates did not include on their job applications or resumes their ages, sizes of the communities they serve, or the salaries they expect.

Miss Jacobson explained the involved process the committee went through to separate out the applications of the ones they considered most qualified.

And Eddie Keith, former commissioner and a member of the committee, urged the commissioners to get in touch with people from the communities each of the applicants are serving before anyone is selected for the job. "If you don't, you could make a mistake from which Sanford would never recover," he said.

Shirley Schilke, another committee member, said the 10 recommended applications look good on paper, supporting Keith's recommendation that the commission dig deep into the backgrounds of the applicants.

Mayor Bettye Smith commended the committee for a "superb" job, saying she has never seen a more efficient report from an advisory group.

Prohibition of all peddlers from displaying their materials, except upon their licensed vehicle, and from displaying their materials upon the ground, platforms, tables and other structures. Peddlers shall be required to move to a new location every two hours and that new location must be at least 1,000 feet away. They would be prohibited from using the same location more than once in any 24-hour period.

City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles recommended the drafting of the ordinances for consideration by the commission at its Jan. 14 commission meeting and brought the proposed ordinances up again at Monday's workshop session.

City Commissioner John Mercer said he believed the commission intended to approve the recommendation and his commission colleagues agreed.

Before the proposals become law, public hearings must be held and the ordinances adopted at two separate meetings.

Seabrook Owner Seeks Guarantee On Bonds

CONCORD, N.H. (UPI) — Opponents of the Seabrook nuclear plant Monday blasted a move by the project's principal owner to have the New Hampshire Supreme Court guarantee a proposed $525 million bond sale to complete Seabrook.

If successful, the move by Public Service Co. of New Hampshire would protect the bonds from appeals by Seabrook opponents. The company also claims the move would help keep the estimated $4.6 billion cost of the reactor from rising.

The proposed sale of $525 million in deferred interest bonds is under review by the Public Utilities Commission and represents the company's 35.6 percent share of finishing Seabrook's first reactor, rated at 83 percent complete.

Kirk Stone, a spokesman for the Campaign for Ratepayers' Rights, said the request by Public Service Co. is an attempt to deprive Seabrook opponents of their right to appeal.

"Even if a court appeal was successful ... it would be worthless," Stone said. "The PUC decision would be the final place."

In an objection filed with the Supreme Court, Robert Backus of the Seacoast Anti-Pollution League said the company's problem is "the inability of its own counsel to provide sufficient legal opinion to assure marketability" of the bonds.

"This situation does not justify tampering with the New Hampshire system of appellate justice," Backus said.

Last year, the Supreme Court overturned regulator approval of a $425 million financing by Public Service Co. on an appeal by opponents. Although the company eventually closed the $425 million deal, it was delayed more than three months.

During the delay, the company tried to have the Supreme Court guarantee the bonds. The court refused, saying the judiciary was confined "to deciding cases and not to serve as a super law firm no matter how high the stakes."

Final testimony on the $525 million bond sale is scheduled this week. Regulators are expected to approve or deny the sale next month.

If the deal is approved and the bonds are sold, Public Service Co. estimates Seabrook I will be operating by October 1986. Seabrook II has been conditionally canceled.

Housing Aid Halt Will Hurt Families

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan's proposed moratorium on housing aid for low and moderate-income people will mean more families living in overcrowded and substandard conditions, the National Leased Housing Association said Monday.

"By calling for a moratorium on all assisted housing programs for the next two years, the administration's budget shatters the last remaining hope hundreds of thousands of low and moderate income Americans for obtaining decent, affordable shelter, and effectively ends a 50-year-old national commitment to that goal for all Americans," said Donna Denman, president of the group.

The association represents more than 800 organizations, including public housing agencies and private companies engaged in the construction, financing and managing of multifamily rental housing.

Denman, in a statement, said that since 1981 new budget authorizations for assisted housing programs for the poor has been cut by 68 percent.

Hormones Can Help Prevent Bone Loss

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am very worried and upset. I had a complete hysterectomy and both ovaries removed when I was 42 and was put on hormone pills until I was 48. Then the doctor took me off.

My neighbors told me that if I don't get back on the hormones, my bones will get paper-thin and crack. The doctor won't give me any hormones, since she is afraid they might cause cancer.

DEAR READER — If your doctor really believes that giving you female hormones will cause cancer, she is out of date. You can't get cancer of the uterus, since you don't have one. In addition, studies sponsored by the national Centers for Disease Control failed to show any relationship between taking female hormones and developing breast cancer. Ask your doctor what cancer she is talking about.

A very large study of 1,610 women with breast cancer and 1,606 without breast cancer, conducted by the Boston University School of Medicine, was reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association (Volume 252, page 63, 1984). It showed that there was no relationship between taking estrogen and developing breast cancer. Taking estrogen didn't make any difference in those women who had a special risk of developing cancer, either. Doctors who are still concerned about estrogen and breast cancer should familiarize themselves with this report.

Women who have taken combined estrogen-progestin birth-control pills have about half the risk of endometrial cancer of the uterus as women who have not used these medicines. I have discussed these changes in thinking, based on more modern investigation, in The Health Letter, Special Report 12. Oral Contraceptives and Postmenopausal Estrogens.

Yes, there is ample evidence that estrogen helps to prevent bone loss in women near and after the menopause. Women who do not take estrogen need a significant increase in calcium intake, perhaps 1,500 milligrams a day.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Six weeks ago I developed floating things in my eyes. They used to just float around the eye area, but now they are directly over the pupil, causing blurring of my vision.

Would vitamins get rid of these? When I am reading, I have to move my eyes, and the floaters disappear for a few seconds, but they come back.

DEAR READER — See an ophthalmologist without delay. Your eyeballs are filled with a material that is a lot like gelatin. As one gets older, part of it may liquefy. This may leave strands of material that cause floaters, or the change in refraction of light rays that occurs may cause floaters.

The more serious problem is when floaters signal a condition leading to retinal detachment. This is why such a symptom should not be ignored. If it is the onset of a detachment, it needs immediate treatment.

Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y., 10019.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

So much that is brilliant in bridge depends upon an opponent's error. That takes nothing away from the ingenuity and resourcefulness of the player who capitalizes upon and encourages that error.

In the World Team Olympiad in Seattle last fall, Canadian Allan Graves found himself in a sticky contract of three no-trump. He could probably make it with tricks to burn if he could win all six spade tricks, but first he had to get to dummy. The opening lead of the nine of hearts was an ill omen, since it appeared that the king might be sitting over the queen. Still, if that were the case, nothing much could be done anyway. Declarer won the heart ace and played the king of spades. Then he played the king of diamonds.

East won the ace and returned the jack of hearts. West took the king and continued a heart. The queen won in dummy as Allan Graves discarded — you guessed it — the ace of spades. When the spades and diamonds both behaved, declarer ran home with 11 tricks.

The play by West was clearly wrong, but he had perhaps been lulled into a false sense of security by declarer's first playing only the spade king before attacking diamonds.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY FEBRUARY 20, 1985

You will be fortunate in the year ahead because others will be doing all they can to help you gratify your ambitions. You can assist by showing you're worthy of their concern.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Little of value will be accomplished today if you attempt too much at one time. You'll score better if you shoot fewer targets.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You may be easily angered today, not so much by a present happening, but by irritations that you remember from the past.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Do not be reluctant about telling friends you can't afford to do certain things with them today if it is true. Be prudent and practical, not pretentious.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Unless you are able to appreciate the other guy's point of view today, support could be withdrawn from people who are usually your allies.

CANCER (June 21-July 21) A poor attitude today will make things seem much harder for you than they really are. Don't let your mind work against you.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Disappointment is likely today if you are counting on others to bail you out of your present problems. It's necessary that you fend for yourself.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Indecisiveness is something you must guard against today. If you over-analyze situations, you might begin to believe there are only two choices available: bad and worse.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your agenda must be carefully organized today or you might not take care of a number of tasks requiring immediate attention.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You could be a trifle reckless and impulsive today in the finance department. If you must spend, be sure you get value received.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Harmony in your household could be extremely fragile today, so don't rehash volatile issues with your mate unless you're spooling for a fracas.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Do not have a heavy foot on the gas pedal if you are driving about today. Also, remind those with whom you may be riding to do the same.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Make it a point to put a limit on non-essential expenditures today. Be watchful or you'll spend more than you intend.
