

Republicans Concede Kennedy, Muskie Re-elections

publicans have all but abandoned hope of defeating the Senate re-election bids next year of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy and Minn. Sen. Edmund S. Muskie. But GOP observers anticipate with ill-concealed glee the possibility that former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy will wage a damaging Democratic primary battle for McCarthy's Minnesota Senate seat, leaving an opening for the Republicans. In Massachusetts, an adviser to GOP Gov. Francis W. Sargent told reporters the Republicans are looking for a candidate who can make a "respectable" showing against Kennedy while losing. This would be calculated to salvage GOP candidates for state offices. He explained the Republican dilemma this way. "If we put up a very heavy hitter then the Kennedy machine loses up with all of the Kennedy girls and money, and the juggernaut is rolling. The White House wants to see Kennedy scared but Gov. Sargent doesn't want to get scored." The Republicans have battered Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and his son, George Lodge, former Gov. John A. Volpe, now secretary of transportation and a list of Republican members of Congress. But thus far they haven't found an acceptable volunteer for the honor of losing to Kennedy. In Maine the Republicans are in search of suitable candidates that some of them are talking about endorsing Muskie and letting it go at that. Their problem, observers say, is to find someone who "wouldn't mind looking ridiculous" running against the 1968 Democratic vice presidential candidate in his bid for a third Senate term.

Nobody, including the principals, seems to have any clear idea of what is going to happen in the Minnesota Democratic Farmer-Labor primary. No sane politician professes to be able to guess whether McCarthy will change his mind about not running again for his party's nomination. There are clear signs, however, that Humphrey is getting a bit restive about all of this uncertainty. He wants to come back to the Senate, a job he enjoyed greatly. He will certainly go for it if McCarthy doesn't try again and probably will even if his former colleague does. "If we put up a very heavy hitter then the Kennedy machine loses up with all of the Kennedy girls and money, and the juggernaut is rolling. The White House wants to see Kennedy scared but Gov. Sargent doesn't want to get scored." The Republicans have battered Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and his son, George Lodge, former Gov. John A. Volpe, now secretary of transportation and a list of Republican members of Congress. But thus far they haven't found an acceptable volunteer for the honor of losing to Kennedy. Court Ruling Provides $396,000

State Aides To Draw Overtime

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The State of Florida, which has not been in the habit of paying a lot of overtime to employees, currently is making up a batch of overtime checks totaling $396,000. The money will go to some 7,200 present and former employees covered by the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act now extended to some state governmental employees. "We have a liability going back to Feb. 1, 1967," said State Personnel Director Jay McGinn. He said the congressional act, which was upheld by the Supreme Court last year, extended the coverage to some 15,000 employees of state educational institutions and hospitals. "Most agencies did a pretty good job of keeping this thing under control," McGinn said. "The $396,000 is a lot of money."

Sub To Drift With Gulf Stream

By JIM STROTSMAN
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Six ocean scientist-engineers headed by Dr. Jacques Piccard hope to begin a four-week expedition in the Gulf Stream Monday—two days before three other explorers blast off for a landing on the moon. Continued inside the new business research submarine Ben Franklin, Piccard and his international crew plan to plunge into the Gulf Stream off West Palm Beach and drift submerged with the current possibly as far as a point about 200 miles southeast of Boston, Mass. By coincidence, the drift is expected to place the underwater researchers east of Cape Kennedy on Wednesday, when Apollo 11 astronaut Neil A. Armstrong, Michael Collins and Edwin S. Aldrin Jr. plan to descend for a quarter-million-mile trip to the moon. Officials of the Gulf Stream mission say next week's test is planned only as a four- or five-day dress rehearsal of the four-week adventure. However, "if all goes well, the mission will continue for an extended period," said a spokesman for Grumman Aerospace Corp., owner of the Ben Franklin.

Health Act Wins Support

By LIZ MATHEUX

Oviedo City Council adopted unanimously a motion to endorse the comprehensive public health Ordinance 189 of the state sanitary code. Inspections will be made and failure to comply may result in a $500 fine or 90 days in jail. The ordinance includes regulations regarding outdoor, rendering plants, restaurants, among other things. Algenon Speer, city attorney, presented the city with a check returned by Mrs. T. W. Lawton, who refused to be reimbursed for the removal of a fire hydrant on her property.

A committee from Winter Park Memorial Hospital, headed by John Turner, assistant administrator, and consisting of John Perkins, Jean Stringfield, Dorothy Goldsmith and Steve Allen, students working during the summer at the hospital, presented a request to the council. The group asked that it be allowed to hold baseball games in Oviedo with the proceeds to help provide playground equipment for all children in the city to use. Teams would be composed of the students vs. hospital personnel. C. D. Bucklew objected from the audience stating that there already was a recreation program with playground facilities available if students wanted to use them. W. L. Hamilton, principal of Midway School, stated that they are trying to promote an arts and crafts program open to all children. Mayor C. D. Thompson and Eddie Kassell were appointed to find a building where baseball equipment could be stored.

Under the policy, each agency has been told to arrange work schedules to "get the job done in a 40-hour work week." McGinn noted that the provisions do not apply to executives, administrators and law enforcement officers and did not necessarily mean an 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. day for other employees. He said some employees may be scheduled to work later hours to cut down on overtime for let jobs that must be finished that day. "We are not rigidly tied to a 5 p. m. cutoff, where everybody will just get up and leave," McGinn said. He also said the provisions will not be as strict for other agencies as for those covered by the federal law and employees may work 15 minutes for extra sometime.

Action Ends Hours-Long Chase By Hundreds Of Police

Hostage Holds Convicts With Own Gun

NATCITOCHES, La. (AP) — A daring man whose family was terrorized by three armed convicts held two of them at bay and shot a third with their own submachine gun Sunday night to end an hours-long chase by hundreds of police.

The action capped more than 11 hours of freedom for the trio, who had held and released 12 hostages in several parts of the state.

The three were James Marion Sumner, 28; Garry Robert Williams, 22; and Luther Robert Williams, 22.

Sumner, Williams and Williams were charged with the armed robbery of Mrs. Jesse Bressett. He said the fleeing men took $17 and shot gun shells from the woman's home north of Natcicoches.

The FBI said federal charges of kidnapping, interstate transportation of a stolen car and violation of the federal firearms law were lodged against them at Longview.

The three led Texas Rangers, state police, the FBI and deputy sheriffs of eight parishes (counties) on a chase through north and central Louisiana.

At one point, Gov. John McKeithen hopped in his private plane to try to meet with them. By phone, he talked them into releasing five hostages.

The manhunt ended about 11 p.m. at the frame house of Leo Martin at Flatwoods, in the Kisatchie National Forest.

"They stormed the house," said a shaken Martin, 66. "They rammed a gun into my girl's back and came in."

He said the escapees were eating dinner with him, his wife and 16-year-old daughter when

Youth Group Slates Public Auction Aug. 8

By MILDRED HANEY

Mrs. Howard Ledgerwood, chairman of the Adults for Youth Committee in Deltona has announced plans for a public auction to be held at 7 p.m., Aug. 8, at the Deltona Shopping Center. Residents are asked to donate items such as furniture and household goods. Contact Mrs. Ledgerwood to have them picked up. The Deltona Youth, Inc., building fund will benefit from the sale.

A Teen Style Show is to be held in mid-September at Mrs. Paula Schuller, coordinator together with Mrs. Henry S. Rock, stated that the response of the community has been so good that the list of models has been filled. Fashion shows are being provided by local merchants and some of the models are sewing their own. A final date will be announced later.

The Adults For Youth was originally formed with the thought that mothers get together informally to discuss ways and means of making money toward a building fund for the young people. However, many persons attended the first meeting who do not have children in Deltona, but are interested in assisting with the fund.

Lollipop Brigade May March

Labor Board Picketed?

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board, which tries to settle labor disputes, may be picketed by a group of anti-labor activists known as the Lollipop Brigade.

"I don't know," said Greco, explaining he wanted to close his door before talking with a reporter.

Greco hopes for a negotiated settlement, but he said, "Some of the membership wants to take immediate action now. However, we'll wait a week or two to see if the board comes up with a new offer to break the impasse."

The labor board, whose task is to rule in thousands of union-management quarrels every year, doesn't want any outsiders such as federal mediators involved in the negotiations.

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service rejected the request of Greco's Professional Association for a mediator to step into the dispute. The mediation service said it declined because the NLRB refused to join in the request for such voluntary mediation assistance.

"There is no impasse," Healy said in disputing Greco's letter to the Mediation Service that said negotiations were stalled.

The attorneys want to speed up promotions in their lower pay grades ranging from $11,233 a year to $15,812, which now takes an average of about three years. They also want to panel outside arbitrators to settle grievances.

The lawyers' union rejected a labor board offer to begin a study of the arbitration question next October. The union said other labor board proposals amounted to leaving the promotion schedule virtually the same.

NEARLY A CENTURY separates these two schools. The rural schoolhouse, built around 1869, passed a modern high school under construction near Dubuque, Iowa, on its way to becoming a museum piece along with a log cabin and a wooden railroad caroose. The Dubuque County Historical Society plans to restore the interior and exterior of the antique building.

No. 2 Beauty In 1968

No. 1 Beauty In 1969

OHIAWADO, Fla. (AP) — That old adage "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again" was put to one of its lowest applications yet this weekend when petite brunette Lynne Topping was named Miss Florida.

Lynne, a University of Miami drama student representing Dade County, was runner-up in 1968 when Linda Pitts of Panama City won the Miss Florida title and subsequent entry in the Miss America pageant.

In 1969 Lynne took a backseat to no one.

As in 1968, the Marco Island beauty won the swimsuit competition. But this year she performed her talent specialty, a ballet to the "Florida Drum Song" overture, on a foot still weakened from a recent injury.

"I had to change my talent act this year somewhat because I strained my ankle two weeks before the pageant," Lynne said. "I wasn't real confident of my talent."

The ankle and a weak crammed full of competition rehearsals, parades and appearances left Miss Florida exhausted.

"I'm awfully tired now," said 19-year-old Lynne, "but it was worth it."

Not so tired, however, that she couldn't speculate on her chances in still another beauty contest—the one at Atlantic City where they pick, symbolically at least, America's most beautiful miss.

"I don't know," Lynne said, "you really can't tell till you get there. I'll work as hard as I can ... and we'll see how it turns out."

How To Keep Anguish Out Of Big Experience

By CARLTON SMITH and RICHARD PUTNAM PRATT

If you are planning to move and tend to cry easily, the next few months may be a tough time for you. Summer is the peak period for moving from one home to another and friends and neighbors who undergo the experience are bound to fill your ears with tales of woe.

Anyone who moves seems to come away from the experience with a sad tale to tell. Some of the stories are positively heart-breaking.

The most heart-breaking of these are being repeated in Washington these days and are getting a sympathetic hearing from congressional committees and the Interstate Commerce Commission. There is pretty general agreement that the frequently shoddy treatment offered to the citizen on the move has deteriorated even further of late.

There's no guarantee that either is going to be able to make much of a dent in the practices of those who transport household goods. And even if they do, the effects are not apt to be felt for some time.

Meanwhile, if you have to move your family from one home to another, you'll have to do the best you can to defend yourself under current conditions. Here are a few tips you should find helpful:

• Pick a slow season. All other things being equal, the worst time to move is during the summer months, particularly in those weeks just before school begins.

• Discount estimates. There is great confusion about cost estimates in interstate moves. Inexperienced customers tend to regard them as bids, and the mover who submits the lowest figure. Estimators, of course, know better, but do little to educate the customer since it may only lose them a contract.

• The only purpose of the estimate is to provide you and the shipper with some idea of the size and cost of the shipment. Since all interstate carriers levy identical charges for shipping, based on the weight of the shipment, the figure is apt to be a bid.

• Be adequately insured. While it is true that damage to your goods is only one of the many hazards you face when you hire a mover, it is the only one you can insure yourself against, so it's wise to do so. You can't, however, simply rely on the carrier's coverage.

• His liability is limited to 60 cents per pound for items lost or damaged.

Meaning Of Attendance At City Hall Meeting

This is a plea for a full and free-speaking attendance at the meeting of the Sanford City Commission in City Hall tonight.

Whether or not those who attend are in favor of the move to the Sanford Airport Naval barracks or whether they oppose such a move on either a temporary or permanent basis is not paramount.

But such a gathering as should be seen in City Hall tonight, with those in attendance listening carefully, being told hard facts and offered logical conclusions would be more than a single event.

It also seems regrettable that moving the City Hall and security complex comes into this sharp focus before the legal determination has been made that Sanford is, in law, what she has been in practice for decades, the county seat of Seminole County.

Summertime Scenes

There's a soothing, calm, encouraging and yet inspiring scene that is being staged every morning along Seminole Boulevard where summer is in its director.

Domestic Comment:

Kremlin Has Own Vietnam

By RAY CROMLEY NEA Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON (NCA) - Reports from contacts in Hong Kong and Europe indicate that without a war ever starting, the Red China border could be for Moscow as deep a quagmire as Vietnam has been for the United States.

In past months, the Soviet Union has almost doubled its China border divisions from 15 to an estimated 26, including a goodly representation of armored units. These troops are believed backed up with some 350 medium-range nuclear missiles and contingents of modern combat aircraft.

Border incidents, reported and unreported, have grown steadily worse in the two years since August, 1967, when Red Guard posters claimed Chinese troops had annihilated a Soviet cavalry unit "invading" Suiyiang Province. (But there had been had been major troubles before, too.)

Even assuming the border clashes remain just that, the situation could tie up Moscow's attention and divert so many of her troops to the border and to border reserve areas that Russia's effectiveness would be lessened in other parts of the world.

That is, despite Moscow's invasion of Czechoslovakia, her new naval activity in the Mediterranean and her fast-track missile build-up, Russia may be a threat that it would have around in the years immediately ahead in trouble around the world.

The troops tied to the Chinese border in themselves do not seriously hobble Moscow. It is those border troop increases on top of requirements in Czechoslovakia and in other Western areas resulting from increased Soviet problems in Eastern Europe. It is also the unknown threat of what might happen next. The suspicion of simultaneous fighting on two fronts gives Soviet military planners cold chills. The situation is made worse by Moscow's requirement for considerable numbers of troops as well as for political controls at home. To understand the Soviet difficulty, it is helpful to look at our own dilemma. In becoming so heavily committed in Vietnam, Korea, Thailand and Taiwan (Formosa), the United States lost credibility as a force elsewhere. Yet a unilateral withdrawal would have led to an even greater credibility loss.

It is the resulting worry over whether in such circumstances the United States could meet its commitments elsewhere in the world that has caused such great concern in Europe, Japan, the Middle East and in some countries in Africa and Latin America. A conviction that the United States could not now expand its commitments was in part responsible for the capture of the Pueblo.

The Soviet problem with Communist China is intensified because Moscow can do little to stop the Chinese from border raids. Moscow can no more afford to get bogged down in a major land war with China than the United States.

Practical nurses, secretaries, electronic assemblers, farmers—all are educated in a sophisticated series of courses through the high school and adult education program in the county for jobs in needed skills. They put their knowledge to work while they attend school through a co-operative program, and are ready to meet the challenges of a business world immediately upon graduation.

Although most of the programs are offered while the student attends high school, there are also courses of study for those who have left high school. The practical nursing program is open only to those under 18.

About 80 per cent of the graduates of these programs are placed in jobs, says E. S. Douglas, director of vocational, technical and adult education for the county School Board. "This figure is higher

Voc-Tech School Ready In 1970

By CHARNER LEONE The vocational and technical course offered in Seminole County include far more than just the "shop" that is remembered by those who graduated more than a few years ago.

In 1968 the State Department of Education gave the county the designation for an area vocational technical center. This enabled the county to participate in state and federal construction funds for vocational facilities—to the tune of almost $600,000 for the first phase of construction.

Although the $1.5 million center will be located adjacent to the new Seminole Junior College campus, the facilities are entirely separate. Sited to open in 1970, the school will offer courses in skills needed by local industry.

High school students will be trained in secretarial, science, electronic assembly, electronic technology, air conditioning and refrigeration, sheet metal, mechanics, welding, graphic arts, cosmetology, motor appliance repair, building trades and farm implement repair.

MORE THAN A DREAM

This youngster dreams a boy's dream of adventure to far away places, to outer space. Yet even as he gazes past the toy rocket, man's greatest adventure has unfolded—the landing of the first human being on the moon.

To chronicle this most fantastic, first-time event in all history, The Associated Press has produced for readers of this newspaper "Footprints On The Moon." It is the complete story of how man forged the tools to free himself from the bonds that hold him to his native planet, and of the moon landing itself.

"Footprints On The Moon," written by AP space specialist John Barbour, chronicles the saga of America's space race—and how it was won—in 70,000 words and more than 100 of the most exciting color photographs ever taken.

"Footprints On The Moon" provides a master countdown on the final day, hour and second of the final shot—and the first moon landing.

Mooning About?

Yes sir! This is the lunar week. Prepare for all sorts of moon-associated information. One such crossed our desk from the Florida State Chamber of Commerce. Ronald S. Spencer Jr., general manager of the chamber, bears the credit for this pamphlet.

Likening the miles travelled by all vehicles on the roads of Florida in 1968 (84.8 billion vehicle miles) to a moon-shot says he: "Incredible as it may seem, this distance is equal to 76,000 round-trips to the moon."

There are times on J-4 and US 17-92 that it seems as though all these vehicles were either trying to get on or off or challenging our right to be on any road at all. Moon-struck, indeed!

Crane's Worry Clinic:

Students Rating Professors?

By GEORGE W. CRANE, PH.D., M.D. CASE 540: Norman J., aged 20, is a university senior. "Dr. Crane," he began, "my first year professor of psychology used your college textbook, 'Psychology Applied.'"

"The students all liked it, 'down-to-earth' slant. "And our teachers have of ten been poor speakers. They even resent innocent questions from the class and will not tolerate any disagreement. "One of my profs this term almost had a stroke of apoplexy when I suggested using your 'Test For Good Teachers.' To make my course 'fascinating,' I connected 77 brief classroom demonstrations, not over 5-minute duration, to illustrate the topic of each day's lecture.

Interpretive Report:

By RICHARD WILSON WASHINGTON, D. C. - J. Edgar Hoover said so much in recent testimony before Congress, and so little of it was reported, that reviewing the material and logical support to help overthrow existing regimes in Latin-American countries.

Here, in capsule form, are a few of his findings: Students for a Democratic Society and the new left have openly turned to violent plans and tactics to achieve their ends. "Now is the time to seek your fortune in Nebraska, Wyoming, Arizona... Idaho, Nevada, and California."

The astronauts of today and the railroads of 100 years ago have one thing in common. They show that the spirit of the pioneer is an undying human trait. Where freedom to exercise the pioneering instinct exists, we may continue to look forward to great moments of national achievement and progress.

Garden Club Members Participate In Course

By MILDRED HANEY

Four Deltona Garden Clubs, Mrs. Al Croninger, president; Mrs. Walter Sellman, beautification chairman; Mrs. Harry Darand, Assistant Director; District VI and Mrs. Carl Johnson, president of Iris Circle, have returned from Gainesville where they had a few days of fun as well learned more about Florida Gardening.

The Twenty-Fifth Annual Garden Club Short Course was held at the University of Florida, Gainesville, July 9-11, 1969. The course was conducted by the University of Florida and sponsored by the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs.

The purpose of the program was to enable Garden Club members and other interested persons to continue their education so they will know good horticultural practice and better understand the art of low-cost arrangement and civic beautification.

Workshop instructors included Mrs. A. R. Mullins of Deland who held a class on flower arranging. She is a nationally accredited flower show instructor in flower show practice and flower arrangement. Mrs. Earl W. Lau of Winter Park will teach a Crafts workshop. She taught crafts at the 1968 Short Course and by popular demand is back again. Mrs. J. L. Price, of Jacksonville, is a Master Florist show judge, as well as having accreditation in advance course work, and in orchid and rose arranging. She will be the instructor in Cottage Crafts.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Our marriage is about to break up over a silly matter like my own HAIR!

This is the second marriage for both of us. We are both 40, each has three children, and have been very happily married for four years.

My son (I'll call him John) is 21. He's a responsible boy, holds down a good job, and has never given us any trouble. He lives at home and pays room and board. (He's not eligible for service because of a knee injury.)

John wears his hair in the new "moo" style, longish, shaggy, and quite full. I can't say I'm crazy about it, but I feel that as long as he's a good citizen, and keeps it clean, he can wear his hair the way he wants to.

My husband and I are at war over this. He says if John doesn't cut his hair we're finished. He can't kick John out of the house because it's MY house, but he can leave me, which he is now threatening to do. Imagine! He says, "It's either John or me."

Abby, I love my husband. This is our first serious conflict. He respects your opinion. Can you help me?

DISTURBED IN MASS. DEAR ABBY: My husband strikes me as being childish, unrealistic, and narrow-minded. Since he respects my opinion, please

Oswald: "What do you think of South's six-spade opening bid?"

Jim: "There is really no scientific way to bid this sort of freak hand. Six spades has to be a good gamble. There is always a good chance this line of bidding will cause the defense to go wrong, assuming that there is some way to defeat the contract."

Oswald: "As a matter of fact, if East opens a trump and holds onto all his clubs, he will beat the hand."

Jim: "That's true, but if South had bid scientifically, bidding spades a couple of times and then showing clubs, an alert West might well have opened a trump. As it was, you can't blame him for putting the king of hearts on the table."

Beauty after Forty

by Edyth Thornton Midwood

"I am overweight, not much fat, but enough so that my friends say, 'You have changed' or 'You have gained weight.' I am forty and feel a mess. What should I do? Could I starve for a week or so and get rid of some pounds?" Edyth Thornton Midwood.

The answer to starvation dieting is NO. You must diet carefully and properly. But if you just sit and think about it, you will change and for the worse. Diet now and protect your health as well as your good looks. If you will use my Figure Control diet will do what you need, so send me a long self-addressed envelope and enclose twenty-five cents in coin. Follow the diet and you will get results. Take it NOW!

"I have a very attractive neighbor, a widow. She is always making me if my husband can fix this and that for her. He goes willingly, almost too much so. I am far too heavy and look a bit faded at forty six. Should I put my foot down and tell my husband he cannot go next door to do chores?" Stella.

Be smart, Stella, and diet. Follow instructions as above. Tell your neighbor that you feel the she should hire a handy man, that you and your husband are very busy on a project (get one). If you tell her that he is the average man, he will go just to prove that he is "his own man." Make yourself more attractive by slimming down and taking care of your face and then perhaps your husband will just refuse to aid the attractive lady.

"I am invited to a shower for a bride-to-be, daughter of my friend. Her mother is giving the shower and the invitations say, 'MONEY, no gifts.' I am very short of money just now, should I stay at home?" Reader.

It is very bad taste for a member of the family to give a shower. And asking for money is not to me. Get a little bank put in a dollar and that's it!

Horoscope Forecast

TUESDAY, JULY 15, 1969

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until late afternoon you find a considerable number of delays and obstacles are apt to be in your path. But by evening you find the most enjoyment in a good mood to get out and to have a good time. Romance and recreations can both bring release from worries. Plan to fun this evening for yourself and others.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Be amusing with others and you find that this can be a most happy day and evening for you as well. Get those routine duties handled early last. You have a particular talent that can be expressed very nicely now.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You need the approval of kin for some plan you have in mind, but wait until evening before you approach them. The mood is better then. Get busy with dull routines and get them out of the way.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Your regular work seems a little difficult but if you persevere, all clears up very nicely. Wait for a better day to take that shopping trip. You couldn't find a better evening than this to collect authentic case histories of wives of television baseball fans. Quite a few files bear the name "Club those Tigers!" Mother, several say Went Home to Father. Father was home because HE was watching a doubleheader which probably explains why mother was not at home.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Blowing can be frustrating but later everything goes smoothly. You then can have a happy evening with those you like. Spruce up house, appearance and let your spirits soar. Be witty.

VIRO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Spend the morning taking care of annoying chores so that you can then have a happy evening. You can start an uprising after 8 p.m. Show that you have patience and wisdom.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Find a better way of handling personal affairs than in the past. Do not rely on friends too much during day, but by evening Jim: "A good example of being penny wise and pound foolish. He should have seen that his going to make his contract if the first or second club were ruffed. Therefore, he has no power over the club to his king at trick three, ruffed a low club at trick four, ruffed back to a club with a heart, drawn trumps and conceded a diamond in the cool of the evening."

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Be careful not to take any risks with those who have power over you. Today you are an intelligent person.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You made new acquaintances lately and showed powers to make him feel the full force of gravity.

We The Women:

By Betty Canary

Often have I said that I would never stop to tell mean anecdotes about men who spend their summers staring at television baseball games. No, I've said to my husband—he's the one with tunnel vision — I wouldn't think of it. You have your castle, that's what I've told him. Here's a cold beer and may your throat runneth over.

Actually, I've never minded our summer separation because I keep busy with my own hobbies. There's cutting the grass and polishing the windows and, however, all clears up very nicely. From The Bench

It's Almost That Time

Seminole High's new athletic director and head football coach Tom Perrin started meeting some of his supporters today as he was the guest speaker at the Sanford Rotary Club luncheon.

Perrin, a veteran pitcher took over from Hlesable Ralph Stump in April. Perrin is a tall, muscular individual with a wry smile that makes anyone meeting him for the first time think he has known him for quite a while.

His new job is going to be a long and possibly end each night at 7 a.m. and possibly end each night at 8 p.m. During this time he will be preparing a young but seemingly hard working football team. You'll have to admit, taking over a team that lost its entire backfield via graduation is not the most enjoyable thing to do, especially for a coach who used to prove himself. Perrin does have the credentials and many eyes will be focused on the Seminole training ground, next month.

If you will remember, last week I spoke about my disagreement with charging the public to get on the beach at New Smyrna. I was glad to find out that I was not the only person that felt this way. My telephone started ringing at home Monday night and when I came to work Tuesday the same thing happened. I didn't realize how many people in the town's action of charging admission to the beach.

If you feel strongly against this charging procedure, suggest you send a letter to the city council, New Smyrna Beach and tell them of your dissatisfaction with this operation.

The other morning my telephone rang, I answered and on the other end was special Lyman Coach Dick Copeland. Dick wanted to let me that the Lyman Gym is open each day Monday through Friday from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. for anyone who wishes to workout. Copeland also asked that all Lyman football players be at the gym tonight at 7 p.m.

After talking to the head Lyman mentor the subject as always got around to Greyhound All-State football Ricky Browne. Browne is probably one of the most dynamic players to come up through Seminole County prep ranks in years. The 195 pounder had led with leading Lyman to its first undefeated season last year and this year he is expected to be one of the prize catches in the South for some major college.

The powerful youngster has already been approached by the University of Florida, FSU, and Miami plus various other major powers outside the Sunshine State. Browne is undoubtedly one of the hardest running players I've ever seen and for his size is agile enough to be a halfback.

One player that Copeland will be missing this year is little Greg Stults who moved to Allanta, Ga. Stults was probably the smallest player on the Lyman squad last year but what he lacked in size he made up with desire. Stults played at halfback and flanker.

All eyes are also on speedy and devilish Charlie Mathews. Mathews is a quick popping halfback, but is almost always in the backfield. Mathews was one of the main keys in the cog for Copeland last year and is sure to be of lot more assistance this season.

Wikes Coaching Clinic

South Carolina's Frank Matlock, Daytona's Don Demetrius, and Army's Ben Knight, headline the seventh annual Stetson Basketball Coaching Clinic underway on the Deland campus, Thursday, July 17. More than 250 coaches from over the Southeast are expected to be on hand at what has rapidly become the South's premier basketball coaching clinic, according to Stetson Head Basketball Coach Glenn Wikes, Clinic Director.

Joining the three headline coaches on the clinic staff are Jacksonville University's Joe Wilkinson, Indiana State's Junior College's Art Telle, and Wyandotte (Kansas) High School's Walt Shulten, headlined as the most successful high school coach in the nation.

McGuire, dean of the talent-laden staff, captured the NCAA national championship while coaching at North Carolina and earning NCAA National Coach of the Year honors. After a highly successful stint as head coach of the Philadelphia Warriors of the NBA, McGuire joined the Carolina Gamecocks and brought their ACC cellular-winning program rapidly into championship status. Many experts predict a national championship for the Gamecocks in the not-too-distant future.

Demetrius has enjoyed fabulous success at Daytona with five consecutive twenty-game winners in a five year coaching tenure. A trip to the NCAA finals against UCLA and an NIT championship highlight his Daytona career.

Knight has become known as "Mr. Defense" in national collegiate basketball circles. His 1968-69 Cadet defensive average was 52.5 points per game, an amazing feat in this era of high scoring basketball. Army has enjoyed seasons of 18-5, 18-4, 20-5, and 18-10 and earned NIT berths three times under his guidance.

Williams has brought Jacksonville University from a mediocre small college team to a winning major college team. His 1965-66 team won 17-1. All five 21 starters returned and are joined by seven newcomers for the 1968-69 season. Many basketball knowledgeable predict his Dolphins will be the top independent NCAA team in the South this winter.

Telle is the coach of the Indian River Junior College team that gained widespread national publicity in 1968-69 with a 17-1 points per average, which ranked them as the nation's highest scoring collegiate team.

Shubon has a high school basketball coaching record that can only be termed "fantastic." His fourteen year coaching record at Wyandotte High School is an amazing 296-26 and includes ten Kansas State championships.

Coach Knight tips off the three-day clinic Thursday, July 17, with a lecture on "Tactics." His fourteen year coaching record at Wyandotte High School is an amazing 296-26 and includes ten Kansas State championships.

Two trophies have been scheduled to select 16 Central Florida beauties to represent the Continental Football League Champion at the eight home games this year.

Girls must be between the ages of 18 and 25 and single. Edith Royal Studios have agreed to help in the selection of the Panther Girls. Trophies will be in shorts.

All-Stars Battle Sanford Americans At Kissimmee Park

The Sanford American Little League All-Stars, paced by its powerful offensive team and strong pitching staff, will travel to St. Cloud tonight to take on the St. Cloud All-Stars at 8 p.m.

The Sanford American Little League All-Stars are paced at the bat by David Lott, who led the league in home runs and boasted a near 500 hitting average. Also pacing this team of favorites are Randy Brown, Kevin Denton, Marty Foster, Charlie Taylor, Charlie Getzen and John Whigham. Their well-balanced pitching staff is headed by Randy Brown, John Whigham, Mark

Simcoe, Charlie Taylor, and Charlie Getzen.

The Sanford National Little League Nationals win, they will play the Sanford American Little League All-Stars at 8 p.m. tonight at Fort Mellon Park in Sanford.

If the Sanford Americans win tonight they will play in Sanford tomorrow night at 8 p.m. against the winner of the Tavares vs. Clermont game. The game will be at 8 p.m. in Sanford.

Sanford Post Nudged 10-9

The Sanford American League Post 85 diamond nine couldn't overcome Bishop Moore's 10-run attack in the second inning, falling one short as they lost 10-9. Bishop Moore scored 10 runs on eight hits in the second inning and only got one other hit in the game, a double in the fourth inning. The highlight of Bishop Moore's big inning was a three-run homer by Dave Cos-

TONY JACKLIN

Come On Joe

Associated Press Sports Writer HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP) — The Joe Namath mystery case had another chapter today following an "automatic" call by the unpredictable quarterback at the line of scrimmage delays for at least 7 or 36 hours any revelation of his plans.

The line of scrimmage, manned by some 36 news media representatives, and hundred of interested onlookers, was set Sunday at the Tower C dormitory on the Hofstra University campus here, where the New York Jets veterans were required to report by 6 p.m.

Persistent reports had speculated that Namath might show, but he slept through a noon celebration ceremony, at which the Jets of the American Football League received their championship rings, finally rose, drove out to pick up his girl friend at the airport and then stepped off at Central Park for a softball game.

But, at 4 p.m., Namath changed the play, and Tower C buzzed with the news that he put in a call to Coach Weeb Ewbank.

"He states he has a business deal to finalize and he will do that, then get back to me Tuesday night or Wednesday," Ewbank explained. "It was apologetic that he wasn't here and I got the impression that when he finished his business he would be ready to go."

Ewbank, however, said he did not know whether the business involved concerned Bachelor III, the swinging East Side night spot reportedly frequented by gamblers, that is the center of the dispute between Namath and pro football commissioner Pete Rozelle.

A call to Namath's East Side apartment elicited the response from a friend that Namath was going to Miami to take care of some business concerning Broadway Joe's a food franchise in which the quarterback has a financial interest.

Namath would not talk to reporters, thus maintaining the mystery surrounding the ultimate intentions of the shaggy-haired Super Bowl star, who announced his retirement rather than sell his interest in Bachelor III as ordered by Rozelle.

However, by placing the call to Ewbank and getting the coach's tacit approval to take care of his business, Namath technically had permission to be AWOL at camp and, therefore, did not violate the contract reportedly paying him $500,000 over a three-year period.

Associated Press Sports Writer
EDINA, Minn. (AP) — Frank Beard, spurred on by a common fly, was elated at last, weary and far from satisfied in the wake of his victory in the $110,000 Minnesota Golf Classic.
"You have certain goals," the articulate, intelligent man from Louisville said after his resounding triumph. "One win doesn't do it. You have a lot to prove. You win one and you want to win two or three more before the year is over.
"I never had any doubts about my game or about myself. But I was beginning to wonder when I was going to win again."
He referred to a two-year victory drought — he'd finished second six times since the last title in June 1957 — that was broken Sunday

THE WASHINGTON Redskins got their first kick at new coach Vince Lombardi when he invited 20 of them to skull sessions and drills at Georgetown University. Lombardi talked with the press first (top two photos), then went to work demonstrating backside (bottom). That's quarterback Sammy Jepperson in background.

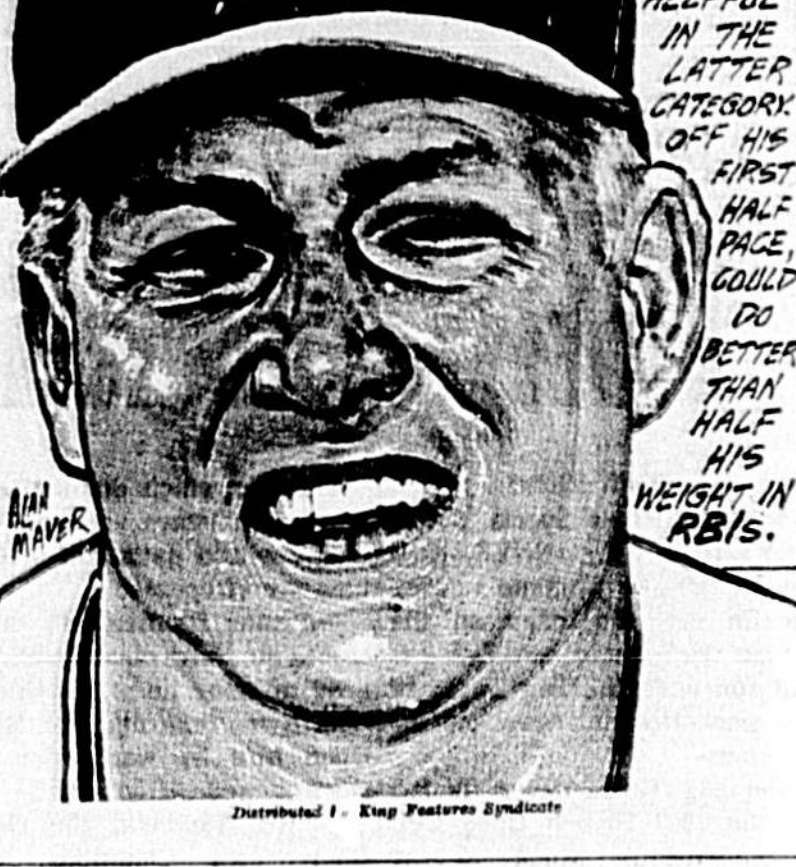

Another Key Bout
Frazier Now Prepares For Ellis

By LEE MUELLER
NEA Sports Editor
NEW YORK — (NEA) — The odds of Muhammad Ali-Cassius Clay bounds back into the picture, a fight between Joe Frazier and Jimmy Ellis is inevitable.
Frazier is the champion of six states and a handful of foreign countries. Ellis is recognized as top dog in 44 states and in other lands where the memory of Ali has been pigeon-holed.
Frazier is the more impressive puncher, Ellis is a boxer. Ellis managed to finish Jerry Quarry in the finals of the World Boxing Association elimination tournament, while Frazier, in his recent championship defenses, beat Quarry to a frazzle, scoring a TKO after the seventh round.

Mystery Around Morrall

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — The mystery around the retirement of quarterback Earl Morrall remains up in the air.
After conferring with Coach Don Shula, Morrall said Sunday night he would decide in a few days whether he would continue his career in the National Football League.
"it's still a tough decision," said Morrall, who has been named a vice president of Trans National Communications, Inc., which includes the ownership of the Oakland Seals of the National Hockey League in its interests.
The 35-year-old Morrall took over at Baltimore's No. 1 quarter-back last season after veteran John Ules was injured, and directed the Colts to the NFL title and was named the league's Player of the Year — an honor Ules won in 1957.

Sports In Brief

NEW RECORD
CHORZOW, Poland (AP) — Natalia Chibova of Russia, who won the bronze medal at the Mexico Olympics, raised her own world record for the women's shot put from 44 feet 8 1/2 inches to 61-1/2 Sunday.
NEW YORK (AP) — Morris Birnstein, a bantamweight fighter who later made his mark as a second in the corner of such fighters as Gene Tunney, James J. Braddock and Rocky Marciano, died last Saturday at the age of 72.

Skeet Victory

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Bob Schuebler of Roselle, Ill., won a 25-bird shoot of Sunday and captured the final trophy for the U.S. international skeet team which will compete in the World Moving Target Championships in Spain in October.

Our Well-Fed Reporter Visits Sanford's Ghetto

By BILL SCOTT

Just off Williams Street in Sanford's Goldshore section is a six-room house inhabited by 10 children, their 27-year-old mother and 17-year-old father.

This is the Williams family and this is their story . . . of poverty hunger and hope! John Williams, the father, is a white-whiskered cripple who spends his time just sitting the natural way since the stroke. A table is placed in front of the man and there several times a day, depending on how much food is in the house, his meager share of the family's remains is placed by Mary, his wife.

On the day this reporter called at the home (which required walking a board across a nearby drainage ditch) the folks were eating well. It was around the first of the month and the reporter's welfare check had just arrived.

I entered the shanty through the remains of a screen door, which long ago had tired of stopping unwanted guests from flying into the abode.

A torrent of children, in all shapes, sizes and ages, flooded my feet as I walked cautiously into the living room with camera at the ready to capture this domestic example of poverty—Sanford style! A woman holding a baby greeted my arrival with a smile and began introducing her family. . . . This is David, this is Minnie, this is Masha, and this is . . . (she continued rattling off a list of names, but I didn't hear her because my thoughts and attention had centered on the woman's husband.)

John Williams reminded me of a picture from a travel book on Africa. His eyes peered through the slits of a doorway that brought to mind such scenes of "The Scaves of Kilmacree" and "King Solomon's Mine."

On his face were lines drawn by years of worry and doing without for his wife, himself and the multitude of small, dust-bodies that stirred beside him.

From somewhere in the room, never land of my mind, I heard the tane from the Elvis Presley song and the words sprang at me . . . In the ghetto . . . a baby born and a mother cries . . . In the ghetto . . . a young boy dies and a mother cries . . . in the ghetto.

Here before me was the ghetto and these were the inhabitants! This is the house where Mary Williams, sits in a rocking chair to fight the large rodents who slip nocturnally into the house from the outside.

The woman, armed with a black, wavy wig on "sals" costs, she is to be seen in the streets as they sleep.

This is also the woman who killed a snake that had crawled between the decaying floor boards into a bed where Minnie and Maria, ages four and five, slept.

And this is the house that has in school next term, seven capable school-age boys. Head Start, Mary Williams said, with the pride of a woman whose offspring had just discovered a cure for cancer.

At one time the woman worked at a local nursing home, but this was before her husband's stroke. Now she cannot take employment as his condition requires she remain home.

The Williams children and their mother were preparing to eat the noon meal consisting of beans and bread, washed down by Kool Aid, when an overfed newspaper man intruded.

Bus Trip Slated By Empires

The Empire State Club of Deltona is sponsoring a five-day bus trip to New Orleans, Louisiana, beginning Monday, October 20.

The group leaves Deltona, Fla., arriving in Pensacola at 8 a.m. There will be a tour of the Naval Air Station with an overnight stay.

The various tours are available throughout Wednesday. They leave New Orleans, La., on Thursday, arriving at Tallahassee 6:15 p.m. for overnight stay.

Leaving Tallahassee 8 a.m. Friday they arrive at Rainbow Springs 11 a.m. and back to Deltona at 6 p.m.

Cost of the trip, including bus and motel accommodations is $67.00, based on double occupancy in motels. Meals and tips are not included in this cost.

Residents of Deltona are invited to join the Empire State Club members and may obtain reservations or further information by contacting Jerry Amundson, club president.

All interested Deltona residents are reminded of the beach party to be held Tuesday at New Smyrna Beach. The group will leave from the parking area in front of Neisner's at 10 a.m. Bring beach chairs, bathing suits and lunch.

Poor Little Seminole Gets Problem By Dade

Big old mean Dade County has caused little old Seminole County to have a big problem.

It seems that state used to allocate intangible tax moneys collected in a given county toward that county's state retirement and social security obligations for county employees.

Policy changed however, after Dade County took over operation of transportation systems which make the intangible receipts insufficient for the two funds. Policy now is to return the moneys to the counties with no matching funds.

The change in policy, according to Frugality HAVANA (AP) — The Committee for Defense of the Revolution, CDR, whose tanks are on parade, reports that through April the CDR had collected: 5,223,763 used bottles; 2,636,000 pounds of scrap paper and 5,060 ounces of oil postage stamps.

The CDR, to which an estimated one of every four of the 8.2 million Cubans belongs, has as its main duties keeping tabs on those who don't belong to the CDR, and running about 50,000 small businesses the government nationalized in 1960.

Keep It Beautiful

If America hired people for the job, it would take the largest sort of army to keep our country free of litter. But there's no need to hire anyone. It's a job we can do for ourselves.

You'll enjoy electric reverse-cycle air conditioning, for coolness and humidity control in summer, cozy warmth in winter.

You'll cook the clean, fast, flameless way on a modern electric range. Plenty of hot water will flow from a super-fast, super-safe flameless electric water heater.

Other monthly bills include food, two doctors, paying the hospital, a loan, utilities, etc. Mary Williams said, after paying the bills, there's not much of the $174 welfare check left.

Doctors hold no hope for her husband ever working again and now the construction laborer just sits and stares . . . at the world.

Nine of the 10 children will be in school next term, seven capable school-age boys.

Head Start, Mary Williams said, with the pride of a woman whose offspring had just discovered a cure for cancer.

At one time the woman worked at a local nursing home, but this was before her husband's stroke. Now she cannot take employment as his condition requires she remain home.

Police Chief Beary In State Position

Winter Park Police Chief Raymond E. Beary today was named director of the Beverage Division of the new Department of Business Regulation.

Beary, 37, succeeds A. R. Brautigam who headed the Beverage Department until he was named executive director of the department created by governmental reorganization.

Roger Doyle of Pensacola, department board chairman, called Beary "a crackjack law enforcement administrator" and said he was exactly the type of man the department had been seeking for the $19,500-a-year job.

A native of Williamsville, N.Y., Beary served as a deputy sheriff and a police chief in New York State before coming to Florida in 1961 as chief of police for Maitland. He had been chief in Winter Park since 1965.

Opposition Kills Proposal City Hall Move Dead Issue

By BILL SCOTT
The curtain has fallen on the city hall controversy with the unanimous vote of the City Commission to cease any further consideration of moving the municipal government to Sanford Airport.

The action followed a turnout of approximately 100 persons who packed the small commission chambers to stand firm only last night and applauded G. Algebron Siper as he confronted Mayor Lee P. Moore with a 15-minute verbal blast aimed at keeping the city hall in the downtown area.

Moore, who has been away on vacation since the city hall removal was being discussed and can be seen by merchants and residents, opened the four-hour session at 7 a.m. at the city hall, where he was joined by a group of about 100 persons who had gathered outside the building. Moore, who has been away on vacation since the city hall removal was being discussed and can be seen by merchants and residents, opened the four-hour

City Mgr. Named To SIC Board

Sanford City Commissioners last night approved a Sanford Industrial Commission recommendation to name W. E. Knowles, city manager, as the ninth member of the SIC board of directors.

The commission action followed a discussion of the ordinance setting up the SIC, which set membership at more than five but no more than 11.

The group, which operates the Sanford Airport property leasing of former Navy industrial is composed of persons from banking, real estate, construction, public utility and industrial management is represented.

By adding Knowles, the city will have two representatives on the board as Commissioner W. Vincent Roberts is also a SIC member.

In dealing with other SIC issues, the commission discussed the future of the industrial department of the city.

Commissioner Earl Higginbotham maintained that Roberts' law would mean the people would not have the opportunity to vote for a commissioner as the bill lets a commissioner run for mayor and, if elected, then he can resign his commission seat and a successor is appointed by the commissioners, thus taking the power away from the people to elect.

Roberts discounted some of Higginbotham's claims by saying, "If you read the law, you will see it clearly."

In other actions, the commission: Tabbed action on a proposal by a fraternal group to have city agree to pave streets and lay a water line until tax status is known.

instead of putting it "out in the bushes in the down woods." "Sper's bill at keeping the 'monkey house,' saying the city taxpayers about $10,000 a year to keep a zoo, which could not be justified. "If we can spend such money on the zoo, we ought to be able to spend a little money to maintain city hall," he added.

HARRY SKOP . . . demands resignations

Mockery?

A Sanford merchant has asked for the resignation of Mayor Lee P. Moore and City Commissioner W. Vincent Roberts after the City Council last night with written resignation of three patrolmen and the oral resignation of another.

When the promotion to sergeant of Patrolman Harold Peck was announced, Patrolman Richard Hamm marched to the Council table, slammed his badge down and resigned.

Hamm declared he had given more time, more tickets and made more arrests than Peck as a patrolman in 90 days.

4th Policeman Would Resign

Wirtz, attempting to set the record straight, reported he had talked with the mayor and Chief of Police Donald Brumley and found the men had resigned for personal reasons.

"Some found better jobs, other had to move and these are the reasons for their dismissal," Wirtz said.

When Councilman Louis Kirby tried to whisper a correction to the chief of police about it, Wirtz, he was ignored and the remark went uncorrected.

In other police matters, Council approved the appointment of Peter Roland Tambura as a patrolman on 90 days probation pending receipt of favorable FBI clearance.

Authorized the mayor to proceed in his best judgment with purchase of a new short block and air-conditioner for one of the police cars. Costs mentioned were $550 for the engine and $200 for the air-conditioner.

Referred to the chief of police for study and recommendation instead that action on the resignation be tabled. "I'd like to talk to the chief of police about it. I'd like to check into this," Wirtz motion was unanimously approved.

Earlier in the meeting, Wirtz made a slip of the tongue following the acceptance of the resignations of Allan Hatch, W. T. Jones and Ross Zell from the department.
