

Bless Those Phils

United Press International
Every night, just before they go to sleep, the grateful Cincinnati Reds give thanks that the Southern Philadelphia Phillies are still in the league.

The floundering, last-place Phils happen to be 2 1/2 games off the pace, but principally because of them the rebounding Reds are back in first place again today by one game.

So far this season, the Reds have knocked over the Phillies 14 times in as many tries.

"We do pretty good against them," concedes Cincy manager Freddie Hutchinson.

Pretty good, nothing, the Reds are perfect against the Phils, but you'll never catch Hutchinson asking whether they're still in the league.

The 4-2 and 3-2 victories over Philadelphia in a two-night doubleheader Wednesday night marked Cincinnati's eighth doubleheader sweep of the current National League campaign and rather confused some of those critics who said the Reds were through after they dropped out of first place just before the recent All-Star break.

Vada Pinson's ninth homer and Garry Coleman's 21st helped southern Jim O'Toole post his 11th victory in the opener, with ninth inning help from rubber-armed Bill Henry.

Joey Jay won his 15th in the nightcap although Sherman (Roadblock) Jones preserved the victory by blanking the Phillies on one hit over the last 3 2/3 innings.

Frank Robinson's two-run single off loser Chris Short in the third inning provided the winning margin.

The San Francisco Giants snapped the Los Angeles Dodgers' eight-game winning streak, 6-0, the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-2, and the Milwaukee Braves defeated the Chicago Cubs, 4-2, with the second game ending in a 7-7 tie, called by darkness after 11 innings.

In the American League, the New York Yankees widened their lead to 2 1/2 games by taking two from the Kansas City Athletics, 6-5 and 12-8; the Detroit Tigers beat the Washington Senators, 4-3, then lost the 11-inning nightcap, 6-2; the Minnesota Twins topped the Baltimore Orioles, 4-3, but lost the nightcap by the same score; the Cleveland Indians defeated the Chicago White Sox, 3-2, then lost the second game, 8-4, and the Boston Red Sox swept a pair from the Los Angeles Angels, 7-2, and 8-7.

Felipe Alou drove in four of the Giants' runs against the Dodgers with his 10th and 11th homers of the year, and Juan Marichal pitched a one-hitter while striking out 11 to win his eighth game. Tommy Davis' fifth inning single was the Dodgers' only hit. Johnny Rodgers (13-3) was the loser.

Joe Cunningham's three-run homer in the seventh inning off Bobby Shantz enabled the Cardinals to take over fifth place from the faltering Pirates, who now have lost five straight. Larry Jackson (7-8) was the winner.

Frank Thomas' two-run single in the eighth inning brought the Braves their victory over the Cubs. Carlton Willey was the winner although he gave up homers to Ron Santo and Billy Williams. Williams hit two more for the Cubs in the nightcap. Ernie Banks, Jack Curtis, Hank Aaron and Thomas each hit one.

Coch Frank Crosetti, who says he never wants to be a manager, piloted the Yankees to their sweep over the A's as Ralph Houk, beginning a five-day suspension, watched the games on TV in the clubhouse.

The Yanks won the opener on catcher Joe Pignatano's ninth-inning error, which gave them their fifth unearned run of the game. Whitey Ford, only three outs away from his 20th victory, was kayoed in the ninth when Heywood Sullivan tied the score at 3-all with a two-run homer. Reliever Luis Arroyo won his eighth game against three defeats. Ralph Terry won his seventh compared with only one loss in the nightcap, the Yankees making it easy for him with a 17-hit barrage that included Mickey Mantle's 40th homer.

The average length of life of small common birds, such as the robin, is approximately 10 to 15 years.

The fisherman must take the responsibility for knowing the law pertaining to fresh water fish in Florida, the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission warned again today.

A. D. Aldrich, director of the commission, sent out a memorandum to news media stressing that ignorance of the law is no excuse for violations.

He also said that Florida wildlife officers will begin "a stepped-up patrol program on the fresh waters of Florida."

The increased enforcement activity by the commission is a part of an all-out effort against possible violations of fishing rules and regulations, Aldrich said. Commission records indicate that one fisherman out of every 300 checked by wildlife officers will probably violate one of the following Florida fishing laws: fishing without license, fishing with illegal gear, exceeding the legal bag limit, or fishing with illegal fishing devices. The stepped-up enforcement program is designed to apprehend the individual who would violate rules without concern for his fellow fisherman.

Fishermen are reminded that everyone 15 through 64 years of age must possess a valid fishing license when using a rod and reel or an artificial lure in fresh water. All non-residents except children under 15 years of age must buy a non-resident license to fish by any method. Residents using cane poles outside home county must possess a resident license.

The daily bag limits for fresh water game fish are as follows: 10 black bass, 35 panfish, 15 pickerel, and 30 white bass. Total possession limit is two days bag after first day of fishing.

Copies of the fishing laws and regulations may be obtained from the office of any county judge, any Florida wildlife officer, the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission at Tallahassee or any of the five regional offices located in Panama City, Lake City, Ocala, Lakeland and West Palm Beach.

Don't Count Grid All-Stars Short

CHICAGO (UPI) — Don't be too surprised if the 1961 College All-Stars upset the Philadelphia Eagles, 10 point favorites, in Friday's 29th game between the best of the collegians and the pro champions.

In the past the All-Stars always have looked best when they've had breakaway backs who could get clear on their own speed, or on passes, and outrun the pro defense.

Buddy Young was the sparkplug for one of these victories and three years ago Bobby Mitchell, on similar plays, led the All-Stars to a win in Otto Graham's first year as coach of the collegians.

Graham returns this season, for a fourth time, aiming to end a two-game losing streak by the Stars. While he is concerned about depth in the line, both on offense and defense, he admits he has "offensive backs coming out our ears."

Among them is one who might be the same type of sparkplug Young and Mitchell were, Navy's Joe Bellino. Bellino, at 173 pounds the smallest man on the squad, has shown well in workouts.

Graham has put in a variety of offensives, even the single and double wing, to give all three of his quarterbacks, Norm Snead of Wake Forest, Bill Kilmer of UCLA and Tom Matie of Ohio State, a chance to shine under the best possible circumstances.

The line, for a change, won't have to yield an advantage to the pros in size. The offensive line, for example, will range from 225 pounds up to 250 or 265 pounds compared to a range from 250 to 250 for the pros. On defense, the Stars are well supplied with 240 and 250 pounders, equalling the top pro weights.

"Physically," Graham said, "this squad is the best we've had in three years, and they've worked hard during training."

While under the best of conditions, we don't have a 50 per cent chance to win, this year, we're better off than usual."

Littler Favored In Eastern Play

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—National Open champion Gene Littler today was off and running again over one of his favorite golfing tracks — Municipal Pine Ridge, home of the Eastern Open. It is nothing short of amazing how Littler, a sweet swinger from Singing Hills, Calif., dominated play in the Eastern Open ever since it was moved to the Pine Ridge fairway.

In the past two tournaments, Baltimore golf fans have seen Littler's name on top of the board for seven out of eight rounds.

And they expect more of the same from Gene as play in the $35,000 1961 event got underway today.

Title Bout

OGDEN, Utah (UPI) — Here in this railroad and military city of 85,000, Cuba's Florentino Fernandez expressed confidence today he had achieved sufficient "space-man" effectiveness to wrest the middleweight championship from Gene Fullmer in their nationally televised fight at Ogden's Municipal Stadium Saturday night.

Fullmer, recognized as world champion by the National Boxing Association, is training at West Jordan, a mink-ranching center that might be called a suburb of Salt Lake City, which is 37 miles south of Ogden.

Banana-nosed Florentino, 25, speaks no English; but he has learned to hum that once-popular Western ballad "Don't Fence Me In," because that song truly reflects the strategy of the six eyes that have been guiding the Cuban knockout specialist in his preparations.

Those six eyes of Cuban manager Higinio Ruis and American trainers Angelo Dundee and Chickie Payton attained deepest concentration Wednesday during the brawny Cuban's final boxing drill when his long-range smashes to body and head caused sparmate Johnny Payne of San Francisco to quit after two rounds.

"I've had enough of him," declared 185-pound Payne as he climbed down from the ring at Weber College gymnasium. Weber, the name of the county here, is pronounced "wee-ber."

Payne added, "He's the hardest hitter I ever boxed. And very clever along with it."

Trainer Dundee of Miami Beach explained the space-man program today. He stressed that champion Fullmer is a rusher and a "buller." He described him as a persistent mauler at close quarters where opponents have difficulty hitting him because of lack of punning room.

Altamonte Holds Hearing On New Zoning Proposal

Plan Calls For 12 Districts

By MOSA GRINSTEAD

Altamonte Springs residents packed the Town Hall Monday night for a public hearing on the proposed new zoning plan which divides the town into 12 geographical zoning districts and calls for reclassifications in each.

Luther Hart Jr., in the absence of Jeff Hodges, chairman of the Planning and Zoning Board, itemized the divisions stating that in the plan, opinions of the board had been presented and that it now sought opinions from the citizens. Other members of the board are Leslie Winters and B. D. McInosh Jr.

Most objections to the recommended plan involved residential areas with a number of the townspeople speaking out against the inclusion of their properties in multiple dwelling zones.

A Maitland Ave. resident asked "why must all duplexes be confined to Maitland Ave." He further protested that "it looks like one person can cheat in a district if the board says so and businesses can be kept out of town if just one person gets agreement from the board. There has been less building in this town than in any other city or village in the state of Florida because two or three people can go to the board and get it to agree with them," he added.

It was explained that zoning officials had worked to keep general construction of a type in a given area and that the recommendations had been drawn on the basis that they would be of use to the town for some time to come.

"Any ideal zoning laws within a town has certain areas set aside for one type of construction and they are passed with the idea of putting all of the land to the best economical use," Mayor Wilbur Hawkins said.

Objections to, also, were the minimum lot requirements for all future construction of the RIA and RIAA zones which call for at least 70 feet frontage and a total of 7,000 square feet.

Areas presently platted and re-zoned will not come under the new requirement, however, the board was advised that "most building lots in Altamonte Springs now have 50 foot fronts and this matter should be given long thought before any change is made."

Attorney S. J. Davis Jr., legal representative for the town, explained that it was the board's purpose in recommending that minimum lot requirements be increased to encourage persons not to build upon the smaller lots rather than to enforce them to refrain from doing so.

Another complaint heard involved the inclusion of property along the railroad track southeast of the business district in the residential classification. "No one would want to build a home along that strip bordering the tracks and the property would be more desirable for business houses or offices," the objector stated.

Residents also complained of travel through a residential area by heavy trucks and equipment of the Winter Park Telephone Co. and were told that the "company doesn't like this situation any better than you do."

It was suggested to the board that property along SR 438 should be zoned commercial "from one end to another and a good idea would be to start at both ends and work toward the town."

One resident, R. D. Masten of Lake Florida Ave., had a bouquet for the board, saying "This is the time to do something and I think the zoning board has done an excellent job. The members have worked hard and it would be impossible to please everyone in such a plan. Of course, changes and exceptions will have to be made when the council meets to take action on the matter."

Concluding statements of the hearing by Mayor Hawkins advised that the recommendations would have to go before the council for final action and, if not accepted in their present form, would go back to the zoning board.

The next meeting of the Altamonte Springs Town Council is scheduled for Aug. 14 in the Town Hall.

Fire District Valuations Over $8 Million

Tax Assessor Mary Earle Walker estimated the 1961 valuations for property in the Lake Mary Fire District at $8,138,010.

Last year's millage rate for the district was .5 of a mill and district officials are asking for the same levy this year.

A breakdown of the $8 million figure reveals tangible personal property, $310,870; Non-exempt real estate, $3,778,030; railroad and telegraph, $348,340 and homestead, $1,670,730.

Circuit Court Clerk Arthur Beckwith said today that one half of one percent of the collected revenue figure would go to the tax assessor and the same amount to the tax collector.

Casselberry Legion Petition Gets Approval

Permission to circulate a petition to gain sufficient signatures to obtain a temporary charter for an American Legion Post in Casselberry has been granted by Kenneth Moyer, sixth district area commander of Orlando, with approval by Ernest Rowden, adjutant for the State of Florida American Legion, originators of the move reported today.

The petition, approved by Legion officials at a recent meeting, gives the Casselberry group authority to proceed with its plans for which the ultimate goal is to establish a permanent Post in the town.

It has been reported that a property site was offered for the construction of a clubhouse if enough of the local veterans indicate that they would support a Casselberry Post.

Survival Courses Resume

Personal Survival Courses for Seminole County will resume Monday when members of the CPD Wives Club, in conjunction with the Adult Education Program and the local Civil Defense Dept., sponsor classes at Seminole High School.

Four consecutive three-hour classes, to be held at 7 p. m. each Monday, will constitute the course and upon completion of the 12 hours, certificates will be presented to those meeting the necessary requirements.

On Tuesday at 7 p. m. Richey will begin instruction in North Orlando at the first class to be offered in this area. Village residents who wish to make reservations for the course to be held in the Fire Hall may contact A. D. Rhodes, 171, N. Cortez Ave., FA 2-1732, who also will provide details to those who wish additional information on the survival training.

No registration fees are charged and materials furnished for the course are given to students at the end of the four week period. Registration for Monday night's class may be made by phoning FA 2-6189 or FA 2-1929 and any group or organization desiring to sponsor a survival course also may make arrangements by a call to these numbers.

At the present time, Richey is the only qualified instructor in the county, however within a short time, an additional instructor for Seminole High classes and one for Croom's Academy are expected to qualify.

Altamonte Sale Nets $921.75

By ATLANTA MCGINNIS

The Altamonte Springs Library Assn. reported a total net profit of $921.75 from the month-long rummage sale which closed Monday.

Sale headquarters in the old post office building were provided by Dick Hanks, manager of Bradshaw Enterprises, Mrs. Glenn Humes, chairman of the association's ways and means committee, said.

She advised that the disposal unit, only remaining item from the sale, still is available as are two keys found in front of the building by contacting her at her home on Hattaway Dr., Orienta Gardens.

She also announced that items for a Fall rummage sale now are being collected and requests that persons who wish to donate such articles contact her or other members of the association.

Lake Mary Scout Troop Holds Court Of Honor

More than 40 rank advancements and merit badge awards were made at Lake Mary's Boy Scout Troop 242 Court of Honor last Friday night at a Campfire Circle in the community Scout Park.

Capt. R. E. Stustman, troop chairman, opened the ceremony, briefly outlining progress and success of the scouting year which began last September.

Immediately following, presentations to the scouts began to continue almost two hours. Receiving advances in rank were Russell Avery to Life Scout and Billy Halback to Star Scout.

Scoutmaster Harold Keen made the Life badge presentation to James P. Avery Jr. who in turn presented it to Mrs. Avery who did the pinning honors for their son.

Randall Chase Sr. officiated at the Star Scout presentation. In other honors, second class awards were presented by Vaughn Knight, assistant scoutmaster, to Robert Knight, Tom Colley and Michael Gibbo and a first class award, presented by Avery, went to Daniel Bousquet.

Billy Halback was the outstanding receiver of merit badges, taking, in a single presentation, those of pioneering, woodcarving, reading, personal fitness, nature, citizenship, stamp collecting, basketball, public health, cooking, animal industry, citizenship in the community, painting, lifesaving, fishing, public speaking and citizenship in the home.

Others went to Robert Knight, pioneering; Topper Avenel, swimming, music and cooking; Russell Avery, citizenship in the nation, nature, first aid and animal industry; Daniel Wireman, first aid.

Eddie Winkler, swimming; Daniel Bousquet, first aid and cooking; Jay McCracken, swimming and first aid; John Blakemore, swimming and Charles Scott, pioneering.

All merit awards were made by Bradley Thayer, troop advancement chairman. Patrol leader warrants were presented to Billy Halback and Robert Knight and a troop scribe warrant to Russell Avery by Syd Winkler.

In conjunction with the Court of Honor, Scoutmaster Keen conducted the tenderfoot investiture for Bobby Halback and installed Bill Halback as a den chief for Cub Scout Pack 543.

Garden Of Month Award To Rowells

The first Garden of the Month selection chosen by the North Orlando Garden Club's new Judging Committee went to Mrs. C. E. Rowell of 41 N. Devon Ave.

The Committee is composed of Mrs. James Black, chairman and Mrs. Malvin Campbell and Mrs. Hoberia Maupin.

The Rowells have chosen for their lawn the new Tidawn grass which is very fine in texture and according to Mrs. Rowell, very definitely is resistant to chinch bugs.

Along the front walk Alamanda, periwinkles and ivy are used in colorful plantings while fronting the house, Spanish bayonet, wandering Jew, exoria, hibiscus, croton and evergreens are interspersed with chrysanthemums and periwinkles.

Landscaping around the carport included a blooming evergreen and yellow-tipped ligustrum and a nearby trellis is covered with moon plant.

Plantings around the house are in poinsettias, gardenias, night blooming jasmine, shrimp plants, chrysanthemums, devil's back and Turk's cap. An unusually attractive climbing vine, a gift from Mrs. Rowell's mother-in-law, is featured in the landscaping bordering the home.

On either side of the fence, annuals have been used and zinnias, petunias, periwinkle and coleus provide a colorful trim.

In the back yard, larger specimens including bananas, orange trees and Japanese plums have been spaced advantageously.

The Rowells came to North Orlando in April of 1929 from Guam to make their home while he is stationed at the Sanford Naval Air Base. They have two sons, Dan, three and Eddie, six.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Looking Ahead

The Town of Altamonte Springs held a public hearing Monday night on a plan drawn up by the Planning and Zoning Board for setting up 12 definite zoning districts in the town and calling for reclassifications in each.

The hearing culminated a great deal of hard work and many hours of thought for the four-member board and, as is to be expected in a democratic way of life, upon its first presentation brought forth a number of objections from residents of the municipality.

Granted, there perhaps will have to be changes made and exceptions allowed before an ordinance is passed which will adopt the board's plan as law. We think, however, that Altamonte Springs officials and residents should be commended and recognized for taking a "giant step forward" in preparing for a well organized growth, both residentially and commercially, in the predicted population increases.

Even though the matter may be returned to the Planning and Zoning Board for further work, the idea of embracing an entire municipality through a single action which provides for demands to come, is a good one.

Such a plan, we believe, in the years ahead will warrant the labor that already has gone into its formation and will stand as a fine example of the interest today's Altamonte Springs citizens have in those of tomorrow.

Oviedo Women's Club Gets New Building

The Oviedo Women's Club organized in 1906 and federated 10 years later, last Thursday night officially initiated its brand new building on King St. at an Open House for more than 100 members and friends.

The original clubhouse, constructed in 1913, was in continuous use until the summer of 1959 and although the club was without its own building it played an active part in civic and social life of the town during the intervening years.

The new building, costing approximately $16,500, is 80 feet by 33 feet, exclusive of porches and is fronted by an eight foot concrete walk leading to the main entrance where the double jalousie doors are flanked by decorative side panels and brick planters. All trim and the ornamental wrought iron columns are painted white to contrast with the soft, all-over gray of the exterior.

Awning type aluminum windows are used throughout the clubhouse. Interior features include terrazzo floors, central heating, heavy acoustical tile, formica table tops, hanging lantern-style light fixtures and built-in tables which appear to be decorative wall panels. Paint is in light green.

Mrs. W. J. Lawton, 1913 club president, was the first guest to receive a personally conducted tour of the new building in an advance visit on Thursday afternoon. Escorting her were Mrs. B. W. Estes, 1961 president and Mrs. W. H. Martin, chairman of the building committee.

Other members of the building committee include Mrs. B. G. Smith, Mrs. R. I. Croom, Mrs. R. F. King, Mrs. A. A. Myers and Mrs. W. T. Walker.

Greeting guests at the reception were Mrs. C. T. Niblack and Mrs. James Parin, former presidents, while Mrs. Estes, Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Croom formed the receiving line and Mrs. B.F. Wheeler, Jr. kept the guest book.

Mrs. Milton Gore and Mrs. Max Leinhardt presided at the punch bowl and board members and other club members served as floating hostesses.

Mrs. George Means, in charge of table decorations, chose for the occasion to feature a floral arrangement of pink, red and yellow roses for the refreshment table with a silver punch bowl, crystal candelabra and white tapers completing the appointments.

The stage, where a stereo set provided soft background music, was decorated with yellow chrysanthemums, crepe myrtle and philadelphium.

Mrs. J. R. Battle, house and grounds chairman, with volunteer assistance, moved all club equipment into the kitchen and storage room before the Open House so that, with the first event, the new building would be ready to begin its service to the community.

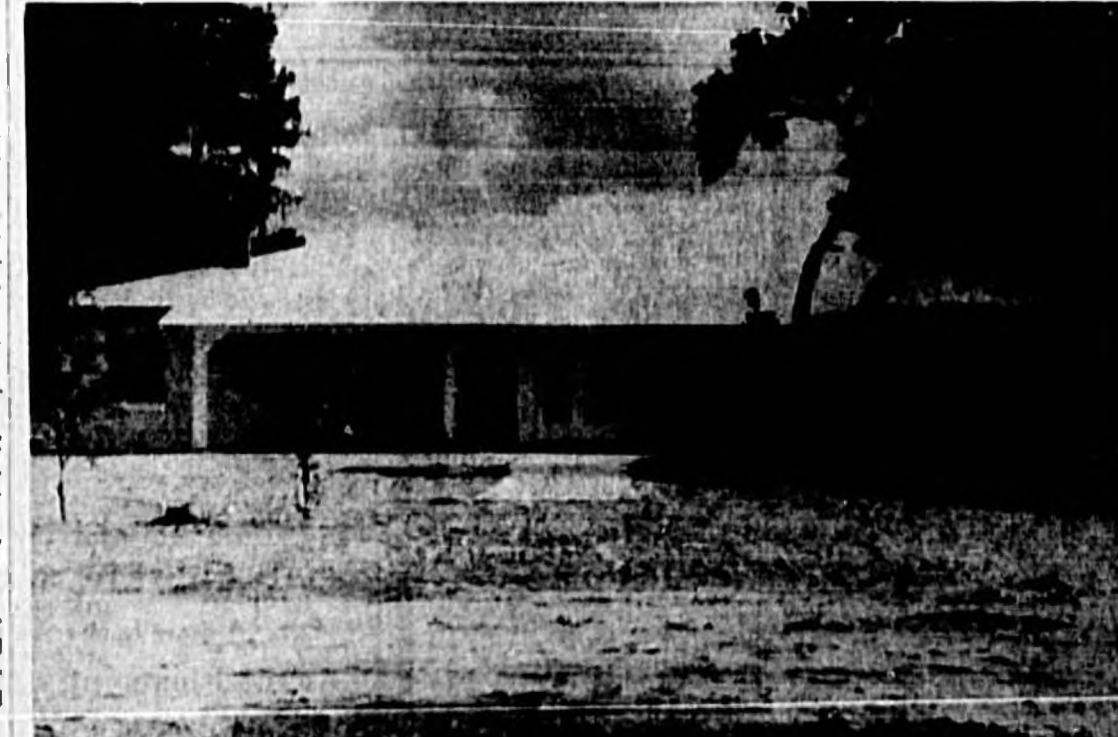

Facilities offered in addition to the storage room with its half bath and the kitchen also include a raised stage flanked by two-half baths at the west end of the building.

North Orlando Mayor and Mrs. Frank Fasula celebrated their wedding anniversary last Thursday at a quiet family dinner just for the two of them.

Their marriage two years ago was the first to be held in the North Orlando Village Hall.

MRS. E. L. JOHNSON

Wello There, so glad to be with you again. Our trip to the nation's capital was just wonderful. And I'll let you in on a little secret, it was hotter up there, believe it or not. It is a different kind of hotness. Our first day there we were taken to a restaurant on the Potomac River where we enjoyed a crab boil. Our hosts were my brother Bill, his wife (whom I have adopted as my sister) and a man who was born in Italy and came over here to become a famous chef, Emilio Crocci. He made a mammoth veal out of sugar and gave it to the president. Emilio now owns a big and beautiful restaurant on the outskirts of Washington. At the grand opening of his place he had dinner plates especially made with the name of the restaurant on them and a big wide band around the edge in gold. These were given to special guests at that time and he gave me a set of six and am I proud of them. Our next day there we visited the Museum of Natural History, Smithsonian Institute. For the benefit of those who have never been there, it would take you several days to go through every section of the Institute. While the men were interested in Lindburgh's plane, the old cars, even Colonel Mooby's uniform, General Lee's pistol that he carried through all his battles. The thing they liked the best was the first flag made by Betsy Ross. And to me, well I was entranced by the President's inaugural gown. The way they are arranged you would think you were out on Fifth Ave. window shopping. From Martha Washington on down to Mamie Eisenhower it is really something to see. The widows were fine to represent a room of the White House. The purse on the arm of Martha Washington was made by her. It was of a damask material. High buttoned shoes, fancy handbags, no fancy jewelry. One of the gowns had a very long train and was made of a very thick material. In a separate showcase was Mamie Eisenhower's wedding dress. It was made in 1913. Made real plain and straight out of material that looked like pongee. For the space-age minded youngsters there was one building with nothing but the space age material. Standing outside of the building was the first Polaris rocket. Inside was a replica of Shepherd's ship and you could look inside in three dimension form and see just how he occupied the ship. There is also one that carried the monkey into space. Just imagine that in all these buildings there is everything that makes up this world. From the minerals to the stars it can be found there. For anyone who goes there, prepare to stay all day and then come back the next. The largest elephant on record is in the center of the Natural History exhibit. It was killed in Africa in 1933. Weighing 12 tons, it stands 13 feet and 2 inches at the shoulder. Our next visit was to Arlington Cemetery. The United States acquired this estate in 1864 for non-payment of taxes. There are 200 acres in this National Cemetery. We missed seeing the change of the Honor Guard by about 15 minutes. This is a high honor to do this and it is a volunteer job of the Army boys to do it. They undergo rigid training for this job and sometimes it requires three years to take the training. We were told that sometimes there are as high as 300 burials a day there. By the side of the cemetery is the most interesting place of all to see. That is, it was to me. This was the Custis-Lee Mansion. In 1955 it was made a permanent memorial to Robert E. Lee. It was originally the home of George Washington Parke Custis, the foster son of the first president. Here Lee married Mary Custis, the great-granddaughter of Martha Washington. Lee was at that time a lieutenant in the U.S. Army. They raised seven children and a niece. There are five rooms on the first floor, five bedrooms and a playroom upstairs and on each bed the children's clothes are laid out just as if they were coming in to put them on. And in their playroom there are toys laying on the floor and also a small pair of boots. The dining room table was set and on the small tables in the playroom were silver tea services. The kitchen was downstairs in the cellar. The floor is made of bricks. Corn husks hung from the ceiling, and even the bath tub set out in the middle of the floor. The next room to the kitchen was the wine cellar. The wine bottles were stacked all around the room. There is also a souvenir counter where you can purchase gifts after you have been through the whole house. You can stand out on the balcony and look over into Washington. I am certainly going back to see this mansion next summer. Our last stop was to the mammoth Zoo. On the grounds of the zoo are picnic tables, a large cafeteria and gift shop. By the time we had taken in the animals I had two aching feet. But it was worth it. The Leon Keels, have Mrs. L. D. Allen and children, Beverly, Jean and L. D. Jr. visiting them for a few days from Climax, Ga. The C. E. Little and family spent a few days in Jacksonville last week. They are planning to go to Palm Beach next week. Had you noticed that you can see the Bank Building in Sanford now from Monroe Corner since the trees have been taken down? Tommy and Ruth Swagerly have gone to New Smyrna Beach for a week of sunning and fishing. Ruth's sister, Thelma Sikes probably will join them over the weekend. Hope they catch a lot of fish but sure hope they leave some so I can go over and catch them. Bet you could never guess who we ran into in a restaurant in Orangeburg, S. C. last Friday evening? Mrs. Mae Fort, the beloved Dean of Girls at Seminole High School. She was trying to make up her mind it was me and I was trying to decide it was her. She and Mr. Fort were on their way to Williamsburg, Va. It was sure a strange coincidence meeting someone from your home town that you know. Had a postcard from Annie McArthur, our former Monroe Postmaster. She is visiting in Santa Ana, Calif. I bet she is having a wonderful time! Said she expects to return can be burned, buried, or put in to an airtight can containing a few tablespoonful of carbon tetrachloride. Used on cotton wadding, carbon tetrachloride slows down the activity of these pests and lessens your chance of being stung. In an airtight can, this insecticidal fumigant kills the wasps in 24 hours or less.

Italian Officials Leave For Moscow

ROME (UPI) — Premier Amintore Fanfani and Foreign Minister Antonio Segni of Italy left today for a three-day visit to Moscow that may have implications for the West.

Segni and the Christian Democrat leader conferred Tuesday night with the president of the republic, Giovanni Gronchi, who paid a state visit to Russia last year.

Bridge Club Plans Deland Meetings

Members of the DeBary Duplicate Bridge Club, which meets on Tuesday of each week at the Community Center, this week voted to move their playing headquarters to Deland.

Miss Ethel Johnson, club reporter, said that renovations are being made to the Center and the meetings probably will be held in Deland at the Moose Club, 614 S. Alabama Ave., through September.

"Since the new meeting place will be air conditioned," she added, "it is hoped that we have a good representation from DeBary."

Six tables were in play at Tuesday's session with winners, first, Mrs. G. Black and J. J. Vander-schaal; second, Mrs. M. L. Patterson and Mrs. Frank Holder; third, H. Guy Chase and Harry M. Brown and fourth, Mrs. Frank Austin and Mrs. Hugh duVal.

Yardner's Corner

By ERNIE LUNDBERG

Miniature dive bombers — carrying a powerful poison in their bomb bays — may be attacking you in your own back yard this summer.

Of course these attackers will be wasps who have built their nests too close for comfort to your outdoor living areas. But if you make after-dark counter attacks on these pests in their nests with chlordane or DDT, you can control them with very little risk of being stung.

At least 2,500 different kinds of wasps live in North America, 50 only about 50 species annoy man. Hornets, yellow jackets and mud daubers are among the wasps that can be controlled with these insecticides.

I recommend that you apply chlordane or DDT to the nests at night because wasps are less active then, and more likely to be in the nest. Use the commercial 5 per cent solution of household spray in deodorized kerosene. Concentrate your spray on the nest openings.

to Miami next week. We sure do miss her here. Gini Taylor certainly a pretty bride at her wedding to Carl Stubbings last week. Her attendants were so dainty in their matching green gowns. And Joy Wester was as cute as a button when she sang a solo. Was talking to Richard Boyd Tuesday. He was that crazy Rufus in the Minstrel Show. That speech of his was a riot. He is a natural born comedian. Dick is from a musical family. His Dad plays the violin, brother Phil sings and writes music, and Richard plays guitar. Talent sure runs in the family.

Taxpayers: New High In Waste Nears

WASHINGTON (UPI)—If the taxpayers knew or even suspected the score, they would seize a lot of gold braid yard birds in the Pentagon and shake 'em out a window, like a rug.

So doing, the taxpayers might shake some stars off some broad shoulders. Not a bad idea, that. Someone or several someones are responsible in the Pentagon for an outrageous waste of the taxpayers' money. How much is wasted, nobody knows. Who are the wasters? Nobody seems to know much about that, either.

Every newspaper office in the United States has filed away a fat folder of clippings telling of waste in the Pentagon. The master file, however, is in the general accounting office presided over by the comptroller general, Joseph Campbell. Congress should require Comptroller Campbell to add up the wastage each week so that the taxpayers might know.

President Kennedy will have more than $47 billion to spend for national defense in this fiscal year. Too many of those dollars will go down the drain. The House Appropriations Committee protested in early summer that dollar waste was rampant in the military.

The committee reported shocking examples of waste and inefficiency and a disgraceful abuse of laws and regulations. Here are some random samples.

The Air Force paid $41,000 for a screw-making machine even though the Navy had two idle machines in storage.

The military brass permitted defense contractors to overcharge the Navy and Air Force by $60.8 million on 53 fixed-price contracts in the past four years.

There was a waste of $13 million when the Defense Department and the civilian space agency independently developed missiles so similar to the other that one finally had to be scrapped.

When the Army transferred a man from San Antonio, Tex., to Karachi, Pakistan, his household goods were shipped by commercial airplane. That cost $14,830. By surface ship, the cost would have been $1,749 and would have arrived a week earlier.

The Navy spent $997 million for airplanes and radar equipment that were incapable of carrying out their military missions.

In Japan, the U. S. Army ordered more than $55 million worth of tires and tubes but had no place to store them. It was a four-year supply.

With $47 billion of new money to spend, the Pentagon should be able to hit a new high in wasting the taxpayers' dough.

Reds Ready To Talk On Germany

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union in relatively mild notes to the Western Powers made public today said it is ready to negotiate with them on a German peace treaty.

If the United States, Britain and France will not negotiate such a treaty, the notes stated, the Soviet Union will conclude a separate peace treaty with East Germany.

This restatement of the Soviet position was contained in notes of some 6,000 words delivered to the Western powers Thursday and made public here today. They were similar in content but not identical.

Tenor of the notes, observers here felt, was somewhat milder than previous Soviet statements of Germany.

The notes said the Soviet Union did not propose to restrict the freedom of West Berlin nor encroach on western rights there.

But they left vague the nature of the guarantee for rights of access to Berlin. Nor did the notes give any specific clue as to how negotiations on a peace treaty should be held.

A previous six-month deadline—until the end of 1961—for a settlement on Germany was not mentioned.

Informed sources reported today that East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht had asked Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev for permission to seal the West Berlin border against the flight of refugees. The report could not be confirmed.

The sources said Ulbricht made a secret flight to Moscow to tell Khrushchev that an immediate settlement of the Berlin problems was necessary.

The sources said they did not know Khrushchev's answer but believed he recommended caution until possible East-West talks on Berlin take place.

Despite the lack of official confirmation, weight was given to the report by the fact that Ulbricht was absent from East Berlin early this week.

EVEN THE CHILDREN are interested in the bargains being offered by the Downtown Sanford merchants in their advertisement of Friday Night Specials in Thursday's Sanford Herald. These two local youngsters are looking for the toy ad, no doubt. (Herald Photo)

Christmas In August ? No, Just (Specials) Galore Here Tonight

If the rumors hold true that have been circulating around town on a wave of excitement, tonight's big Friday Night Open-Till-9 p. m. promotion is going to have Sanford looking like the week before Christmas with throngs of downtown shoppers taking advantage of the new hours.

With all the stores advertising bargains, free parking, free tickets on a chance of a trip to Nassau for two, a good child appeal movie at the Ritz, and banks open to cash pay checks, it is expected that shopping will be a pleasure.

Many stores are featuring up to 50 percent off on summer merchandise and there are many other sales with first quality articles marked down 20 and 30 percent.

Now is the time to buy needed items for school and early bird Christmas gifts that will put the shopper well ahead of the rush.

Specials are being featured on home appliances at various stores downtown. Toasters, electric irons, fans, clothes hampers, antennas, transistor radios, serving carts, refrigerators and pianos are some of the bargains that are featured.

Starting at one o'clock, the Nassau for two will be held at the corner of First St. and Magnolia Ave. shortly after 9 p. m. when the tickets from all the stores will be placed in one big bowl and the lucky winner will be drawn. You must be present to win.

The County Commission, meeting all week on informal budget hearings has not set aside any funds for hiring an administrative aide . . . Not for next year anyway? Hearings on the budget are tentatively set for early September.

By the way, the commission hopes to wrap up most of the budget requests today with one more informal meeting.

Police Chief Roy Williams has ordered his men to arrest any Greyhound Bus drivers still using Park Ave. south of Third St. to get out of the city. It seems some of the drivers are not following company orders rerouting the vehicles.

County Service Officer Karlisle Housholder has invited a representative of the State Service office of the Florida Department of Veterans Affairs to serve as a consultant on matters concerning benefits for vets. Personal interviews will be available on Tuesday Aug. 22 from 3:30 p. m. until 4:30 p. m. Appointments can be made by contacting Housholder.

The Sanford Library has just received a cumulative index Medicus, published by the American Medical Assn. for 1960. It combines the best resources available and employs the most labor saving methods of medical indexing.

The city firemen were left out in the cold again this year. In the proposed city budget no appropriations have been set aside for Kelly Days. The only way for the firemen to get these days will be for them either to take from the contingency fund . . . increase revenue or slash the budget another place.

District 3 County Commissioner John Fitzpatrick who doesn't mind a few "needles" once in awhile from us—called this morning to suggest we get an English grammar book. Mr. Fitzpatrick was referring to a headline in Wednesday's paper which was grammatically incorrect. Thanks Joan!

Gen. John K. Rice, of Clermont, president of the Florida Lycher Growers Assn., will be the featured speaker at the Rotary meeting, Monday, 12:15 at the Civic Center.

Longwood Citizens Plan To Continue Paving Requests

The Longwood City Hall again was filled to capacity at the monthly council meeting last night with residents . . . most of them there to seek advice on how best to continue their appeals to the Seminole County Commission for paving of Orange Ave. from Hwy. 17-92 to the Longwood city limits.

The City of Longwood two weeks ago awarded the bid for its part of the paving which does not include the strip running in front of the new Longwood Elementary School.

A petition bearing 161 signatures was presented at the July 25 commission meeting by residents of the Longdale area asking that the county do something about getting it paved.

They reported to the councilmen Thursday night that "the commissioners were very polite to us but nothing was done about it."

During the following open discussion, the Longdale group made plans to again appear before the county board in the near future and to "get every man, woman and student who is interested in the school and in Longwood to go with us for as many times as it takes to get something done!"

"If the county can't pave the road," one resident said, "then we want to know why and just what good we are getting out of our tax money if none of it is spent in our area."

"This isn't any new problem. I understand it's been coming before the commissioners repeatedly during the past few years," he added.

Another petition for the paving has been placed on the desk of Mrs. Onnie R. Rockett clerk, in the City Hall and officials have requested that every citizen who comes in to the office add his signature. This petition will be brought by the citizens' delegation when it next appears before the county board.

School Aid Hopes Dim

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senators expected to repeal a GOP move to tack on federal aid to impacted school districts today before approving a giant $46.8 billion defense budget bill.

The GOP-backed amendment was made the pending order of business.

Proposed Democratic action was met with gloom in Seminole County where the Sanford Naval Air Station has thrust staggering student loads onto county schools.

If the aid is federally impacted areas is not extended, the county school board will be faced with a staggering money problem.

A similar maneuver failed Tuesday when the provision was offered to a $3.1 billion labor and welfare appropriation bill.

Hopes for quick passage of the defense money bill Thursday were abandoned when the Senate dug down into a scrap over funds for long-range manned bombers.

The Senate defeated, 87-4, an amendment by Sen. William Proxmire, (D-Wis.) which would have eliminated $525 million added to the President's budget by the Senate Appropriations Committee for B52 and B58 bombers.

Sen. Stephen M. Young, (D-Ohio), also served notice he would seek to cut $207.6 million sought by President Kennedy for civil defense to protect civilians from surprise nuclear attacks.

Congress Moves To Crackdown On Sky Pirates

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress moved swiftly today to provide stiff prison terms for sky pirates, and the federal government authorized arming of airline flight crews.

The double-barreled attack to prevent further seizure of U. S. airliners followed the abortive father-son hijacking of a Continental Airlines Boeing 707 jetliner Thursday at El Paso, Tex.

The Senate aviation subcommittee met to consider legislation to provide tough criminal penalties for aerial hijackers. Chairman A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) predicted approval of the measure by nightfall.

Monroney said he expected the subcommittee to approve a modified version of a proposal by Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.) which would make hijacking punishable by life imprisonment. The bill would broaden the penalties against piracy on the high seas to cover commercial flights.

Boys Charged In Break-Ins

Two Sanford youngsters, ages 12 and 14, were turned over to Juvenile authorities today after they were arrested for breaking into the Radio Hospital at 317 W. First St. Thursday night.

Police said that the pair of boys used a crow bar to pry open the door and stole four radios and 10 radio batteries.

Hearing Set

MIAMI (UPI)—Charles Carpt was scheduled to go before a U. S. Commissioner today for a hearing on charges of receiving and transporting stolen securities valued at more than $5,000.

Knowles Asks $26,500 For Street Projects

City Manager W. E. Knowles, in his budget request for the City Commission, has asked for $26,500 to carry out a street resurfacing program.

The top priority projects in the program are 24th St. from French to Park Ave.; Myrtle Ave. from 24th to 25th St.; Sanford Ave. from First to Fifth St.; First St. from Sanford to Park Ave.; Magnolia from the railroad tracks to 20th St. and Palmetto from Seventh to 20th St.

Other projects that Knowles suggested include Court St. from Washington to Adams; Palm Way from Court to Crescent; Adams Ave. from 20th to Crescent; Crescent from Mellonville to Summerlin; Catalina from Mellonville to Locust; Escambia from Vernango to Locust; Vernango from Catalina to Rossia and Seventh St. from Pine St. to Sanford Ave.

Mayor Reports 500 New Homes

By MONA GRINSTEAD
North Orlando Mayor Frank Faulstich said today that conferences were held last week by Village officials with Jack Gellis of the Gellis Construction Co. on a new home development in the community.

Gellis, headquartered in Atlanta, has vast experience in the construction business, Faulstich said, and in recent years has built a total of 15,000 homes in Long Island and in Puerto Rico.

He is expected to return to North Orlando late next week to begin work on a reported 500 home subdivision in the area between Moss Rd. and Sherry Rd. which adjoins the property site set aside for the Village Shopping Center.

LONDON (UPI)—A Soviet newspaper charged today that an American ship rammed and seriously damaged a Soviet tanker bound for Cuba with a shipment of oil.

Animal Ready To Orbit Around Earth, Jayces Told

There will be an animal put into orbit around the earth in the very near future," Major Walter E. Brewer told the Jaycee audience at the Civic Center Thursday.

This follows the National Space Agency's policy of first using animals to test each new step of the man in space program.

"In every phase, animals are used to determine the feasibility of the manned flights, to determine the stress that man will encounter and to train support personnel, in order to have the right personnel in the right place at the right time," stated Major Brewer, who is the veterinarian in charge of recovery of the space animals at the Cape.

"Ham, the chimpanzee who made a recent historic flight into space, batted 1,000," Major Brewer said.

"We learn performance capabilities through these intelligent animals, when we expose them to space conditions."

In the two orbital flights scheduled before the end of this year, it is expected that the capsule will circle the earth three times, each complete circle taking 32.5 minutes for a total of four and one half hours.

Animals are now in training for the much advanced work and conditioning that a four-hour flight will take, as compared to the 15 minutes it took Shepard and Grissom to complete their recent 350 mile down-range flight.

VANDENBERG AFB, Calif. (UPI)—Two straight Discoverer satellite failures did little today to halt speculation that a monkey might ride into space in one of the next satellites.

Discoverer No. 28, carrying an instrument-filled recoverable capsule similar to the one a monkey would ride, failed to go into orbit Thursday.

The Air Force, which was using this attempt to figure out what caused No. 27 to blow up two weeks ago, said the 81-foot rocket did not achieve enough speed—18,000 miles an hour—and fell into the Pacific.

If the rocket had boosted the 25-foot-long satellite into polar orbit, an attempt would have been made in one to four days to recover the capsule off Hawaii.
