Police nab 8 in drug roundup

By Bill Kerns Staff Writer

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Drug agents investigating the self-named "Forest City Mob" made eight arrests Tuesday in Seminole and Orange counties.

Six of those arrested were at their homes in Seminole and Orange counties when agents started the sting at 6:30 a.m. A seventh was already in the Orange County Jail, and an eighth turned himself in to Orange County deputies. Drug agents issued 13 warrants Tuesday, and are searching for the five who eluded arrest.

This is the third phase of an investigation into the street gang that law enforcement officials claim sold the majority of drugs to area schools. The first phase resulted in the arrest of 16 key members of the gang on Sept. 4. Officers made 32 additional arrests on April 14, for sale and possession of narcotics. Nine were Seminole County high school students.

The people arrested Tuesday were dealing primarily in cocaine and marijuana. Sgt. John Negri of the Seminole County Sheriff's Office said they were mid-to-high level local drug dealers.

"A few have been a problem in Seminole and Orange counties for years," Negri said. "Hopefully, those we haven't arrested yet are running scared."

More arrests are expected, as investigators question those nabbed Tuesday.

"Phase four will, quite frankly, depend on the cooperation we receive from the people we just arrested," Negri said. "We have other people to identify, and you never know where an investigation can reach."

The arrests since September have essentially shut down the Forest City Mob, investigators

Although loosely organized and plagued by internal problems, the gang once controlled the most territory in Seminole County, according to the Sheriff's Office gang suppression unit.

The gang was responsible for distributing large quantities of marijuana, cocaine, crack cocaine, and various designer drugs including LSD and ecstasy, investigators said. See Police, Page 2A Lillokalani M. Rivera was one of eight people arrested by the Seminole County Sheriff's Office.

County OKs funds for AIG

Lake Mary vies with Baltimore for corporate headquarters

By Russ White

SANFORD — It appears Lake Mary can be a winner over Baltimore.

The two cities are competing to have AIG Warranty Services, Inc. build its corporate headquarters in its location.

AIG, a subsidiary of the insurance giant American International Group, could make a decision between the two cities with the next twoweeks. AIG officials told Seminole County Economic Development Director Bob Turk they are extremely pleased at the support from a County officials.

On Tuesday, four of the five Seminole County Commissioners approved $165,000 in county funds to match the city of Lake Mary's $165,000 investment.

School board approves stricter policies on drugs

SANFORD - Seminole County middle and high school students will face more rapid expulsions next school year.

Students next year will receive automatic expulsions for possessing even a small amount of marijuana, cocaine, or other controlled substances.

The school board on Tuesday approved a change in the Zero Tolerance policy relating to drugs in schools.

Students will be subject to expulsion for a minimum of one semester from attending Seminole County public schools for possession of a controlled substance, such as narcotic or hallucinogenic drugs, amphetamines, barbiturates, and marijuana.

Fire fighters give the 'boot' to Muscular Dystrophy By Joe DeSantis

Staff Writer

SANFORD — Seminole County fire fighters will be out in force this weekend to give the boot, literally, to Muscular Dystrophy. On the line are bragging rights between the state of Florida and Texas and a bet between the gubernatorial Bush brothers is also at stake. We missed the fund drive last year because of the tornadoes and brush fires," said Tim Nicholson of the Seminole County Professional Fire Fighters Association. "We're really looking forward to hitting the streets again and knocking Texas from the top of the heap."

This year's annual "boot"

drive is scheduled for Friday through Sunday, June 25 - 27. About 150 county fire fighters are expected to split collection shifts at two locations: Highway 434 and Wekiva Springs Road; and Red Bug Lake Road and Tuskawilla

"Our big visibility push comes about 7:30 each morning, lunch time, and of course afternoon drive time," Nicholson said. "But depending on the availability of off-duty fire fighters, we'll be collecting just about all day long over the three day period."

Efforts by local fire fighters have resulted in steadily increasing funds for the Muscular Dystrophy Association. Regional spokesperson Carol Burkett indicated Seminole County efforts yielded more than $2,800 in 1997 and more than $3,600 in "Our goal in Seminole County this year is to hit $5,600," she said.

State-wide, Florida's fire fighters raised $1.3 million for MDA a year ago, ranking Florida as the second best fund raiser behind Texas.

"We've got a healthy competition going between Florida and Texas," explained Nicholson. "And now with a Bush brother as governor of both states, its our challenge to be number one again. It's my understanding the Bush brothers have a bet on which state raises the most money."

In the early 1990's the gang began with people dealing in stolen property and selling small amounts of marijuana in the Forest City area.

"They were just punk kids initially," Negri said. "In time they became strong and really dangerous."

One key to the Forest City Mob's growth was its location at the edge of Seminole and Orange counties, centrally located near Altamonte Springs and Apopka, Negri said.

Those arrested Tuesday and charged with conspiracy to sell cocaine include Walker Newton Hobbs, 26, of Altamonte Springs, who is also charged with solicitation to traffic in cocaine; Robert R. Fritsch, 22, of Sanford; John Richard Yohman, 19, of Altamonte Springs, also charged with conspiracy to commit armed home invasion; and Jonathan J. Williams, 21, of Sanford.

Also arrested for conspiracy to sell cocaine were Jason A. Cichon, 23, who is being held in the Orange County Jail waiting transfer to Seminole County; Lillokalani M. Rivera, 29, of Winter Park; and Timothy W.

Murphy, 22, of Winter Park. Henry Richards, 27, turned himself in to Orange County deputies, and is charged with conspiracy to sell marijuana. He was transferred to the Seminole County Jail.

Take the 'six pound challenge' at Cattle Ranch Steakhouse

One of the best kept secrets in Sanford is a little restaurant nestled on Sanford Avenue.

Cattle Ranch Steakhouse has been in business since 1984. The reason for the longevity is the quality of the steaks and dinners served.

Family owned and operated by Hansford and Marilyn Gallagher, Cattle Ranch Steakhouse prides itself on serving only the best possible meals at the best possible price in the best possible atmosphere.

Walking into Cattle Ranch is like stepping onto the old frontier. The decor makes you want to sit at a bonfire, eat a steak cooked over an open pit and tell terrain stories.

From the large selection of appetizers to daily dessert specials, no one will go hungry at Cattle Ranch. Each meal is served with salad, choice of potato and fresh baked bread. Appetizers aren't ordered very often due to the huge portions and many extras.

Speaking of large portions, is anyone brave enough to tackle the six pound challenge? If anyone can finish the six pound steak (yes, six pounds!) in one sitting, the meal is free and you get your picture on the wall. Not an easy task, for sure.

If six pounds is a little much for you, you can choose one of the slightly smaller steaks. Each steak is aged and cut on the premises. You will never be served a frozen steak at the Cattle Ranch. Even if steak isn't your thing, there is a full compliment of chicken entrees to choose from as well.

Instead of heading out to one of those big steak houses, check out the Cattle Ranch. You won't be disappointed.

Finding out more about those in jail

A warden once was asked how many inmates at his jail admitted to the crimes of which they were charged. He said that all but one claimed innocence. The warden immediately released this man. It wasn't right, the war- prisoners are mentalden reasoned, for hundreds of innocents to be corrupted by an obvious nut case.

On Tuesday, Sheriff Don Eslinger told the Seminole County Commissioners that he is concerned about the number of mental-Russ ly ill prisoners arriving daily at the county jail. The sheriff wants to contract a mental health team to screen the jail's new residents.

This inmate mental health service will cost $250,000 annually. The money is available from revenues the sheriff collects from inmate telephone calls. The office collects more than $700,000 per year in prisoner phone calls. (Haven't the inmates heard of 10-10-321?)

Eslinger said he wants to know who's mentally ill and who isn't. He said studies show that 10 percent of those who commit a crime are mentally ill.

The sheriff continues to seethe over a deadly shoot-out last July between a Geneva man and half the law enforcement officers in the county.

"Alan Singletary (the armed man) shouldn't have been on the loose," the sheriff said. "He shouldn't have been able to purchase guns and ammunition. He had mental problems and was dangerous but no one did anything."

Singletary killed Deputy ... Eugene Gregory and wounded two others before being shot down after a 13-hour debade.

"Many law enforcement agencies perform mental health testing on each inmate. Los Angeles has been doing it for sometime. Orange County has begun its testing. More than 16,000 come to our jail each year. We want to know more about them. To know how dangerous they really are."

It took the sheriff more than a half hour to arm wrestle the commissioners into submission. Yeah, they said he was right about finding out which > ly disturbed. But for the sake of being just nasty, some of the commissioners hemmed and hawed. They wanted to know why he also wanted to beef up jail security by updating cameras and wiring.

"Why are you giving the sheriff so much trouble?" District 5

Commissioner Daryl McLain finally demanded to know. "Why this micro-management?

This caused Chairman Carlton Henley to bristle. "I'm not trying to micro-manage anything." Commissioner Randy Morris had tried to break the tension with a quip that the 10- percent of inmates who might be mentally ill was nothing compared to the percentage of county commissioners. "That 10-percent is lower," he said. In the end, the sheriff came up with an annual appropriation of $250,000 for a mental health team at the jail, and $300,000 this current year to tighten security at the facility. The commission voted, 5-0, for each measure

The sheriff wanted $180,000 more to replace or repair a number of deputy's vehicles again, all the money being taken from the telephone revenues from calls by the inmates.

Outside the Commission Chambers, Eslinger took a deep

"You know," someone told him, "your 10-percent estimate may be low. Isn't just about anyone who commits a crime little nuts?

The sheriff did not disagree.

Russ White's column appears in the Seminole Herald Tuesday through Saturday.

Schools

Suspension for possession of controlled substances had been at the discretion of school administrators. Students were automatically expulled for the sale, purchase, or distribution of a controlled substance, but not for possession.

In addition to the changed Zero Tolerance policy, the school board took an addition step to crack down on student discipline.

Under the student conduct code for secondary students, which received final approval Tuesday, any student suspended out-of-school for a third time in a school year will be recommended for expulsion. Students were previously allowed four out-of-school suspensions.

Students who are expelled after three suspensions must appeal to the school board to be admitted back to the same school on a behavior contract.

The school board made the change in the Zero Tolerance policy while reviewing final adoption of the Secondary Student Conduct and Disciple Code for 1999-2000. The code was adopted without changes.

"We should say point-blank that you do not bring drugs to school, period," said board member Bob Goff, who proposed the policy change.

Out of 65 middle and high school students found in possession of controlled substances this year, 67 percent either went to an alternative school or received full exclusion from school, said Ron Pinnell, executive director of secondary education.

"The principals do take possession very seriously," Pinnell

Jeanne Morris voted against the policy change, saying that expulsion for possession of a controlled substance should be left to the discretion of principals. The change was approved

Students will still be able to appeal expulsions to the school board. The change in Zero Tolerance policy will take effect after it is advertised.

In other news, the school board also named the new elementary school in Oviedo John W. Evans Elementary School. The school is planned to open in time for the 2000-2001 school

The board voted 3-2 to name Oviedo's new elementary school on Chapman Road after the Oviedo community leader and businessman.

Evans, who died in 1982, helped to establish the Seminole County Hospital and served on its board for 23 years. He also helped to organize Boy Scout troops and taught Sunday School for a Methodist Church. For eight years, he served on the Seminole County School Board. He also served in the US Army during WWII.

The 800-student school is planned to open in time for the 2000-2001 school year. It will be located on Chapman Road, east of State Road 434.

The school board is using Highlands Elementary School in Winter Springs as a prototype for the new school.

Board members Sandra Robinson and chairman Larry Furlong voted in favor of naming the new school Century Elementary School. On the first ballot, Century and Evans were tied with two votes, while Morris initially voted to name the school after Everglades environmentalist Marjorie Stoneman Douglas.

In other action, the school board also:

$135,000. In comparison, last year's salary for the President of Seminole Community College was $132,500. Last fall's average Superintendent's base salary nationally in districts of more than 25,000 students was $133,702.

 Approved final adoption of the revised Citizenship Standards for participation in extra-curricular activities, the tentative budget for 1999-2000, the Elementary Student Conduct and Discipline Code, the Pupil Progression Plan, and School Improvement Plans, without amendments.

Editorial & Opinion

Our View

Kudos to Bronson

Ray Bronson could have kept the status quo when he took over as interim Sanford Police Chief. He didn't, and Sanford is much better for it.

Sanford streets will look the same on Friday. No crime spree is likely to break out. But, looks can be deceptive. The City will not be the same.

Acting Sanford Police Chief Ray Bronson is retiring Friday. Since the fall of 1998, Bronson guided Sanford's once-embattled police department through difficult times with the poise that comes from 25-years of service as a commander and investigator.

Since taking over as acting police chief, Bronson implemented many recommendations that a private consultant said would make the department more efficient. The department has stepped up its community policing efforts, most notably in the Goldsboro area.

The department has increased its Community Oriented Policing program throughout the city. The program is designed to increase police visibility throughout the city, and to help rebuild neighborhood watch programs.

Sanford police officers now make a two-year commitment to their community service areas to form a relationship with the people in the neighborhoods where they serve.

The department's D.A.R.E. program in elementary schools continues to flourish.

Crime is down in most major categories for 1998. Arrests for "victimless" crimes such as prostitution have increased, but community policing has a way of increasing the number of arrests.

The department is regaining respect and credibility that had been degraded by years of poor reviews.

Regrettably, Bronson felt unappreciated when his application for Chief of Police did not receive stronger consideration. He lacks a college degree, and the search committee wants a chief with more education.

Bronson earned respect throughout his 25 years with the department. He certainly earned our gratitude.

At 47, Bronson is too young to leave law enforcement. He will serve as a volunteer reserve deputy with the Seminole County Sheriff's Office, investigating drugrelated cases.

The department is in good hands. Comdr. Mitch Tindel will serve as acting chief until a permanent chief is chosen. City Manager Tony VanDerworp said the search is likely to last into late July. Bronson said he expects the transition to be smooth.

The credit for the smooth transition lies with Bronson. As the new chief continues to make improvements in the future, Bronson was the one who laid the stable groundwork for the improvements.

Speaker Hastert wants reinforcements

The rap on Speaker Dennis Hastert is that he's not Newt Gingrich. For conservatives, that's a shame. For moderates, that's just fine. For those who like a politician to be something he is not, they have Bill Clinton.

A visit with the Speaker last week reveals a kind of principled pragmatism. It is founded on Republican core beliefs, but tempered with the realization that, given a six-seat majority with no philosophical unity on which to construct a voting bloc, there is a limit on what he and his majority can do without reinforcements.

"We'll have a tax cut bill on the floor of the House by the 26th of July. We'll have a tax cut bill out of the Senate Finance Committee by the 26th of July. I think that's what the people want. I don't know what the formula is, but we'll be looking at the marriage penalty and inheritance and death taxes which hurt small business and farmers."

Hastert suspects the reason for the angst among his critics is the difficulty in getting the Republican message through the post-Monica, post-impeachment and now post-Kosovo

Washington. About criticism of his leadership, the former wrestling coach and teacher of the Constitution says, "The only way to win is to bring people together. Whether you're a moderate or conservative, our margin is too small not to pull together to get things done. We don't have the luxury to be fractionalized so that 15 or 20 people can go off at their leisure and do their own thing. But in order for us to add to our majority, the people are going to have to see that this Congress and the Republicans are doing good for the country. It's to the advantage of our adversaries not to let us do anything. Their game plan will divide us, drive wedges, slow us down. They'll pick off six peotle whenever they can."

The Speaker offered new details about his dealings with Hillary Rodham Clinton which might be of interest should she decide to run for the Senate-

New York. Six years ago, Mrs. Clinton and a staff that met in secret were attempting to nationalize health care. "In June, 1993, we had a dinner," Hastert recalls. "It was Mrs. Clinton, Rep. John Kasich, four or five other people, and me. I was the last one to ask a question. I said, 'Mrs. Clinton, have you thought about medical savings accounts (MSAs)?" She said, 'They won't work.' I said, 'Why not?' She said, Well, for two reasons. People are greedy. They'll want to take that money and won't get the services for their family — the screenings, preventive care."

Hastert says he told Mrs. Clinton that part of it is an educational process to inform people that if they do certain things they'll be healthier. He recalls her saying, "No, no. The government will tell them when to get the screenings, when to get the preventive care. That's how we're going to do it in my health care plan."

Hastert says he thought to himself, "That's dictatorial." Asking her the second reason for her doubts about MSAs, he says she responded, "All that money goes to the private sector and the federal government will spend that money better than the private sector will."

For Hastert, this crystallized the difference between the parties. Democrats believe government can spend people's money better than the people who earn it. Republicans think "the individual is at the center of the decision-making process and we are accountable for our decisions, not gover,men$."

Hastert plans to take that message national and ask for additional Republica. troops. To do what? To do more of what he p"omises his limited majority has planned for the current sessio.

Many conservatives confuse loudnes0 with Idadership and personality with policy, whether one wins or not. Speaker Hastert says he knows the House and how Democrats play the game. He's betting that not making himself a target and staying focused on what is doable will be enough to widen the GOP majority next year.

We'll know in 16 months.

"Is it a done deal?" Turk said. "Not yet. But we're very optimistic and so is AIG. We ought to know in two weeks. The state has to act, and then AIG make its decision.

"The fact that 9 of 10 commissioners in Lake Mary and the county approved the incentive measure is a huge plus," Turk said. "AIG was forewarned that Commissioner Grant Maloy would be opposed. The Maloy, who is opposed to what he calls "corporate welfare," was the nay vote on Tuesday.

"I still don't believe we should pay for a corporation to come here when growth is as fast as it is," Maloy said.

The other commissioners agreed with Turk that AIG Warranty Services, Inc., satisfies the requirement for a target industry and satisfies the qualifications for inclusions in the incentives program.

County officials say the potential impact upon employment within Seminole County is favorable. AIG will hire as many as 550 people at salaries averaging $36,000 a year.

"This is exactly the kind of business we've been eager to attract to Seminole County," Commissioner Daryl McLain said. "If we did not have the incentive program like this, we would not get the select corporations. This helps eliminate tax increases for our residents. Instead of their paying higher taxes, the new businesses chip

McLain said he was against having more strip malls and industrial parks spring up in Seminole County but was all for corporations such as AIG setting up their corporate headquarters.

"Without our incentive program, there would be those who were not as desirable."

Turk was pleased with the result. He said that AIG proposes to add 212 jobs in the next two years and a total of 550 within the next four years.

The total capital investment for the 140,000-square-foot Class A facility is $11.2 million.

Nothing beats barbecue on July 4

A Fourth of July celebration calls for an old-fashioned American feed. It calls for food - plenty of it - that can be eaten outdoors by people wearing shorts and T-shirts and flip-flops, who don't care a hoot about whether they make a mess. It calls for piles of corn and biscuits and hot dogs and burgers and watermelon and ice cream. It calls nay, screams — for barbecue. So, in honor of the Fourth of July, try making your own barbecue sauce. You can get as fancy as you want: Dig a barbecue pit, burn only pecan wood and onion skins, hire a pit boss. Or you can go the simple hibachi or oven route. But when you slather your meat with your homemade sauce, everyone will think you were born in barbecue country.

RB "Q" SAUCE

- 1 cup cola 1 cup tomato sauce 1 can tomato paste
- 1/2 stick butter
- 1/2 cup Worcestershire sauce 1/2 cup packed brown sugar 1/2 cup molasses
- 1/2 cup cider vineger
- tablespoon chill powder
- teespoon onion powder
- teespoon garlic salt 2-1/2 teespoons belsamic vineger 1 healthy desh hot sauce

Mix the ingredients in a cast-iron skillet and cook over low heat, partially covered, until sauce is thick enough to coat the back of a metal spoon. Store, covered, in the refrigerator. Yield:

about 3 cups. Note: Maple pepper can be purchased from Vermont Highland Products, Alna, Maine. A 3-ounce jar is $4, plus shipping and handling. Call (207) 586-5399 to order. It can also be purchased at specialty food stores and through the Mo Hotta - Mo Betta catalog, which you can obtain by calling (800) 462-3220.

Swift response does not guarantee life

DEAR ABBY: The letter from Eileen in Port Angeles" about CPR and the people who judge the careivers hit home. As a volunteer fire-ighter and emergency medical technician for 18 years, I have enswered many calls where a person has died from cardiac arrest.

It's hard when a stranger dies in your hands, and even harder when it's someone you know.

The evolution of CPR and defibrillation has made it possible to "save" a percentage of these people, but it's a very small percentage. Most cardiac arrests result in the patient remaining dead. Therefore it's important that anyone rendering care remember that once the heart stops, the person is clinically dead. Nothing they do is going to make that worse. If all of the resuscitation efforts fail, the care provider has not "killed" the person. nor contributed to his death, and it is never the provider's fault that the Potential rescuers must have the motivation to learn CPR. Second, they must be willing to get involved and take control in an emergency. Third, they must be able to exert the physical strength and emotional stamina. These challenges must be met before the actual CPR process begins. Most individuals are not prepared to go this far. Thankfully, "Mary Helen" was. Heroes never

We are excited by the entry of new technology and improved CPR skills that will allow us to substantially increase resuscitation rates. I am referring to the introduction of the Automated External Defibrillator (AED) and newly enhanced courses offered by national training entities for the general public. In the near future this device will be readily available in stadiums, airports, shopping centers, businesses, churches and homes. The challenge is to train as many people as possible in the operation of this user-friendly medical marvel. I encourage your readers to contact their nearest CPR training facility and inquire about the AED and the latest courses available in its application.

DEAR BILL: That's exciting news. About five years ago, I had my staff certified in a "heart-saver" course offered by the American Heart Association. Thank heavens we have never encountered an emergency, but it's better to be safe than sorry. Thank you for the reminder to call the association and ask, "What's new?"

HOROSCOPES

Do everything possible in the year ahead to maintain cordial relationships within your social circles, because good things could happen to you through those you know on a fellowship basis.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) False bursts of enthusiasm created for the purposes of pretending to go along with the crowd may only cause disruptions in activities with friends today. Be sincere in your participation. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) If you hope to get anything done today, try to organize your hours. Poor scheduling will cause you much needless waste of time that could be devoted to meaningful endeavors. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You'll be talked about later if you don't show a willingness to reciprocate in kind today with friends who treat you in a generous fashion. They'll think you're just a taker. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Extravagant, wasteful spending could plague you unless you exercise discipline in your buying habits. What could add to the insult is that you won't even feel gratified by the end of the day.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) The trick is to put your drive on what your mind is focused on today. All the good intentions in the world can't bring about what determination to see your ideas through to completion can do. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Unfortunately, you may not have your mind on what you're doing today and cause a number of complications that should have been avoided simply by paying attention to the details. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Strive to be fair and considerate today, but don't be foolish about it. Placating others is fine, but only if it isn't done to the detriment of your own best interests. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Be extremely selective as to your associa-tions today. If you link up with those who have no direction nor care about the concerns of others, your reputation could get

AT BRIDGE

The no-win play that appeals

By Phillip Alder

Back in 1975, this graffito was spot-ted in Balliol College, Oxford: "One hundred thousand lemmings can't be wrong."

Well, there are some plays at the bridge table that remind one of lem-mings, and all 100,000 who make them are wrong!

You are in four spades. The defenders begin with three rounds of diamonds. After ruffing, how would you continue?

South's two-spade rebid promises at least a six-card suit. With only five spades, South ought to be able to show another suit, raise partner, or rebid in no-trump. (Never rebid in a five-card suit unless you have nothing else sensible to do.) So, North's raise on a doubleton is recommended.

South can afford one spade loser, but not two. There is a natural inclination to lead the queen (or jack) for a fi-nesse. No problem if the five missing cards are dividing 3-2, but what hap-pens when there is a 4-1 break with a singleton king? Then, taking the finesse condemns declarer to two trump losers, whether West covers or East scoops up the trick with the stiff monarch.

The right play is low to dummy's ace. When the king appears, declarer claims, conceding one spade trick. But if the king doesn't drop, South continues with dummy's remaining spade and hopes for a 3-2 split.

The key guideline is to lead an honor for a finesse only if you are happy—and will at worst break even—for the next opponent to cover with the higher missing honor. Here, when West covers the spade queen with his West covers the spade queen with his singleton king, it costs South a trick, making the play incorrect.

ASK DR. GOTT

Faint X-ray lines show bone structure

DEAR DR. GOTT: Is a doctor required to tell a patient what an X-ray shows? Last autumn, I had a slight misstep that caused pain in my pelvis. After an orthopedic specialist X-rayed the area of discomfort, he showed the films to me. I saw faint lines in each of the pelvic bones, which the doctor dismissed. Now I'm afraid that I'm walking around (with difficulty) with hair-line fractures. If I am, why don't they tell me?

DEAR READER: I think perhaps they have. Linear shadows are the rule in the X-ray studies of bones. Such faint lines are normal; they simply represent the structure of the bones. Your orthopedic consultant probably dismissed the lines as a normal configuration. missed the lines as a normal configu-ration. In any case, even if you had hair-line fractures of your pelvis, there is nothing to be done. In four to six weeks they would heal anyway and you'd be none the worse for wear.

If you are genuinely interested in whether a fracture is present, you should have a bone scan — a specific test that will show tiny fractures, which are often nearly invisible on regular X-ray films. In your situation, a bone scan is not vital to your health and independence. I believe that the cost of the scan could be put to better use in the form of physical therapy to keep your joints limber and your mus-

Although doctors are not required by law or ethical standards to discuss X-ray findings with patients, most physicians that I know are more than willing to do so. This seems to me to be an appropriate action that is consistent with good medical practice because it gives patients more information to help them make sound judgments about future therapy. I don't believe that your orthopedist's believe that your orthopedist's approach was in any way an attempt to mislead you.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My 60-year-old sister has had arthritis for many years. Recently, her doctor told her that she has hemochromatosis. What's the relation?

DEAR READER: Hemochromatosis, the most commonly inherited metabolic abnormality in the Western world, is a basic disorder related to how the body handles iron. In patients with the disease, excessive amounts of dietary iron are absorbed and deposited in the tissues, leading to the diagnostic triad of cirrhosis, diabetes and skin pigmentation. Recently, doctors discovered that more than 64 percent of such patients suffer from arthritis, which — far from being a late manifestation of the disease — may actually be one of its first signs. Specialists are now urging physicians to check iron levels (the serum ferritin test) in all patients with arthritis. DEAR READER: Hemochromaritin test) in all patients with arthritis.
Once diagnosed in this manner, treatment is straightforward and universally successful: the periodic removal of a pint of blood, to reduce the body's iron stores. Your sister's doctor has admirable diagnostic skills.

Getting off the deck

Altamonte Springs All-Stars rebound from opening game loss to win Bambino Commissioners Tournament title

Scotty Rodman and the Oviedo All-Stars gave it their best shot, but they were eliminated in two games as the Altamonte Springs and Longwood All-Stars battled to the Championship Game of the Babe Ruth Baseball Bambino Commissioners Tournament at Roy Holler Field Tuesday night with Altamonte Springs prevailing.

SANFORD - When the Longwood All-Stars clobbered Altamonte Springs 10-3 in its opening game on Saturday there probably weren't many people that gave Altamonte Springs a chance to win the Babe Ruth Baseball Bambino Commissioners Tournament at Toy Holler Junior Field.

But Altamonte Springs kept the faith and battled back to win four games, including sweeping a doubleheader from Longwood on Tuesday, to claim the Championship.

Longwood had scored seven runs in the third inning to halt Altamonte Springs in the opening game for both teams and advanced to the finals by scoring six runs in the top of the sixth inning to break a 7-7 tie and hold off Sanford 13-8.

Altamonte Springs then began its comeback, holding Oviedo to two hits while Ricky Tormos and Kevin Catanzaro hit two home runs, each, in a 14-2, four-inning triumph.

The teams then returned on Sunday and Altamonte Springs stayed hot, holding Sanford to one hit and getting home runs from Tormos, Jimmy Rodriguez and P.J. Peterson to advance to the championship round with a 14-0, four-inning romp.

Rain then ended the day and the field was still unplayable on Monday, forcing the finals to

Altamonte Springs proved right off the bat that it was going to challenge Longwood as Tormos blasted a two-run home: run in the bottom of the first inning and the home team inning to build a 6-0 lead. Longwood tried to rally, scoring four runs in the fourth inning and staying within striking distance the rest of the game, but another home run by Tormos and a round-tripper from Casey French kept Long-wood at bay as Aliamonte Springs remained alive, 11-6. The first four innings of the winner-take-all final was a pitcher's duel with Altamonte Springs holding a 3-1 lead on the strength of a run-scoring double by Tormos and a solo home run by Daniel Kava.

Altamonte Springe then broke the game open in the fifth inning, scoring five runs with a two-run double by French and a run-scoring single by Mike Morro being the big hits. Longwood tried to come back, scoring two runs in the bottom of the fifth inning, but it was too little, too late as Altamonte Springs claimed the title with a 9-4 victory.

Tormos had a huge tournament for the champions, going 10-for-17 with six home runs and two doubles, scoring nine runs and driving in 15 in the five games.

Altamonte Springs was managed by Rudy Callahan and the coach was Ken Newman. Making up the roster were Kevin Calanzaro, Jason Heinrichs, Michael Morro, P.J. Peterson, Ricky Tormos, Roy Morse, Casey French, Daniel Kava, Shawn Newman, Jimmy Ro-driguez and Keith Wissig.

Providing the offense in the Saturday-through-Tuesday games were: Longwood over Altamonte Springs: two hits _ Mark Cahill (double, run, two RBI), Anderson Schreiber (two runs); one run, RBIJ, Patrick Cahill, Gary Offiett and Brian Amberg fone Strader and Mark Kolo'a jone run each); one run scored _ Devon Barnes.

Bombats, I.S. widen lead in AAA Softball

LAKE MARY - League leaders Bombats and I.S. romped to victory as the two teams remained tied for first place in the City of Lake Mary Depart-ment of Parks and Recreation AAA Spring Slow Pitch Softball League at the Lake Mary Sports Complex last Wednesday.

I.S. was down 2-0 in the top of the first inning, but took the lead for good by scoring five runs in the second inning to break a 3-3 tied and cruised to a 16-9 triumph over Cross/Bones behind a 4-for-4, four RBI night from Steve Dono-

The Bombats had an even easier time of it, taking a 3-0 lead in the top of the first inning and then tacking on 11 runs in the top of the second inning before coasting to a 20-8 victory over third place Liberty Mutual II behind a six RDI game from Danny Johannes.

No score was received from the other scheduled game be-tween Map Attack and Liberty Mutual I.

The Bombats and I.S. are both 5-1, while Liberty Mutual Il fell to 3-3. Completing the Piesse see Softball, Page 23

RAINES GAUGE

Tim Raines is a Sanford native and Seminole High School graduate now playing for the Oakland Athletics. His statistics for the 1999 season is in the first column, personal-best season totals in the second column and career totals (including 1999) in the third column.

Raines led off the ninth inning with a pinchhit single and later scored the tying run and Miguel Tejada ripped a two-run triple as the A's railied for three runs in the top of the ninth inning off relief ace John Wetteland to knock off the American League Western Division leading Texas Rangers, 5-3, Tuesday night.

With the win Oakland, which is in second place in the division behind Texas, moved to within three games of the division lead.

Lake Mary Summer

LAKE MARY . You have one chance left.

The final night of the 19th Annual Lake Mary High School Summer Track Series will take place next Monday evening (June 28th) at the Lake Mary High School Track Complex at Don T. Reynolds Stadium.

After two very successful evenings, the third week in the scheduled four week series was washed out on Monday by the thunderstorms and rain that have plagued the area over the past week.

The meets are open to any and all age groups, both male and female, and has become a regular family affair with several members of a family taking Pield events (long jump and high jump) will begin at 5:30 p.m. and running events (60-yard low hurdles, 100-meter dash, mile and 400-meter run) will start at 6:30 p.m.

The cost is $1 per person.

per meet and each competitor may enter four events (1/8-inch or SMM spikes allowed).

Ribbons will be awarded to the top three finishers and top three male and top three female finishers in each age group in each event.

Following are the age groups and individual events offered in each. All categories are offered to both males and females.

festivities on Thursday, June 24 in the Universal Studios area, will focus on the Florida Sports Foundation anti-smoking campaign Sports for Life" program. In support of the anti-smoking campaign, the Dot Richardson Softball Association, local high school students, celebrity athletes, an author (Ms. Bunnie Straub) of children's books from Boca Raton, and possibly Miss Florida Pageant contestants will stress to the young softball players the need to never smoke.

An estimated 50 teams from Florida and Alabama will converge on Orlando over the four day period. Any girls' fast pitch team registered with the Amateur Softball Association (ASA) in the two states, from ages 10 & under through 18 & under, may enter the tournament. For more information, please contact Rocky Ellingsworth Jr. at (407) 321-7389 or (407)-933-

The tournament-format will be a combination of pool play and double elimination. The top finishing team in each age category will advance to the USA Softball National Championship Finals in August.

Check-in time, registration and a mandatory managers' meeting is Thursday, June 24, at 1 p.m. at the "Sports for Life Jamboree."

A Cure For The Summertime Blues!

The Diamond Players Club in Weldva offers a variety of summer golf programs designed to allow kids to play golf at one of the best courses in Seminole County.

The City of Oviedo has a pool available to kide looking forward to splashing away in the summertime. Admission is just $1.50 for Oviedo residents, but everyone is invited.

Karate classes are offered by the City of Casselberry at Wirz Park throughout the summer. All ages are welcome to learn from instructor Steve Keshvari who has over 37 years of experience.

Hangin' Out

The ?Why?

Raise in parking fees is just a reaction

By Amy Guenther Herald Stall Writer

Parking fees are scheduled to sky rocket. The school board of Seminole County recently approved an increase in parking fees to $35 per semester, the money will go toward paying for an extrasecurity guard.

I'm sure that on paper this looks like a good idea, let me personally inform advocates of this raise in fees, this is a

Why do schools need extrasecurity guards to patrol the parking lot when they already have 2-3 that are supposed to patrol the parking lots and usually

What good is this going to bring? None, it is simply a knee jerk reaction to Columbine and other school shootings.

School officials terrifled, but an extra security guard is not going to be any more effective than the current number of security guards.

The support for the extra security guard is that school officials are maintaining that violence typically starts in the parking lot. This is untrue.

Fights and other violent acts are plotted long before students arrive in the parking lots. Often times fights start in the classroom and migrate out into the hallways and parking lots.

Some teachers are oblivious to student scuffles that occur while they are in class. At that point peer mediation may help, but just because a teacher breaks up a scuffle it doesn't mean that the problem has been solved,

The next time the individuals come across one another they are bound to Raising parking fees and hiring additional security is not going to help anything. Most people are quick to jump to the conclusion that schools need more security and that gun laws need to be tougher.

The problem is deeper than that. If a weed grows in the flower bed, and someone pulls of its leaves, the weed still grows, but if that person pulls it out at the root, the weed dies. The root of the problem has not been touched.

No one has even gotten close to it, but adding more security is just like pulling off a leaf, it does not affect the problem.

Knee Jerk reactions are boundless at this day and age, and a perfect example of a knee jerk reaction law that has affected thousands are the bicycle helmet laws.

They are essentially useless, besides preventing many children from having or rather from being able to use their bicycles, sure the upper class parents thought it was great.

They never stopped to think about the parents who had to save for months to buy their kid a bike for their birthday, and then the kid has to wait until

Are you ready for some football?

The Sanford Recreation Department recently hosted for Pop Warner football. A group of kids gathered at its annual play-day in cooperation with the sign-ups

Sanford Middle School to start a little early.

Christmas to ride it so that their parents can afford the

This bill will put people in a similar predicament. Teens who saved for years to buy their cars, and then use most of the money they make every month to pay for car insurance, and then use the rest to pay for gas, cannot afford to pay $70 a year to be able to park on campus.

That is a good thing right. keep teen drivers off the road, wrong. That also prevents teens from playing sports and participating in clubs after school. After school study groups would die out completely.

Many disgruntled parents would have to drive their kids to school at 7:00 AM because they live two miles from the school and in order for a bus to come they must live at least two and a half to three miles away.

It sounds like a bitter reality, but the school probably wouldn't make enough money to pay their new security guards because not enough students would be able to afford the new

Oh and by the way, did I mention that attendance rates would drop, some students would refuse to pay the outrageous fee and just wouldn't bother to come to school.

A $70 parking fee is not only outrageous and unfair to students, it is unfair to parents too.

Amy Guenther is a senior at Lyman High School.

Fun in the Sun at Oviedo Recreation Center

By Summer Copeland Herald Intern

The city of Oviedo has found a cure for your summer time blues! Feeling tired of the same old summertime stuff? Are you hot and bored? Well listen up to the fun that Oviedo Recreational Center has planned to perk up your hot days of summer.

The city of Oviedo's public pool is put to great use to help you stay cool and have fun this summer. The pool is open to all swimmers at varying hours, depending on the day, for an admission fee of $1.50 for Oviedo residents and $2.50 for non-residents, or you can buy a "pool pass", good for two or six months.

If you are not the strongest of swimmers, then perhaps swim lessons would be a great way for you to pass the summer time. Summer swim sessions run throughout the summer, at varying times. The fees are $20.00 city residents and $35.00 for all non-residents. For the experienced swimmer, perhaps a morning of water aerobics is more your style, every Tuesday through Friday, 8:30-9:30 a.m.

The pool fun does not stop when the sun goes down. Friday, June 25th, the pool will host a middle school dance, poolside, from 7-10 p.m. The center will host two more poolside dances in August, a fifth grade dance Friday, August 20th, and a middle school dance Friday, August 27th. Each dance is $3.00 per person to participate.

If dancing isn't your bag, then the city has planned nights of family fun.
Saturday, July 24 is Family Fun Night at the pool from 7-10 p.m., this night is a fun-filled time of DJ dancin', games and prizes! On Saturday, August 21, the city sponsors Family Movie place to enjoy a few months out of school. Admission is only $1.50 for Night at the pool; bring you rafts and float around while you watch a movie on a big outdoor screen. All Family Night activities are $3,00 per person.

The City of Oviedo is also planning a big boom celebration on Saturday, July 3rd, free of charge. The city has planned a day of fun-filled events including Cassanova's Band (poolside), Moxie the Clown, moonwalk, cake and ice pops, and activities (tennis, racquetball, board games, art, and more). Food will be for sale, so make it an all day family outing.

City of Altamonte Springs hooks kids on golf

By Summer Copeland Herald Intern

The City of Altamonte Springs, paired with the Diamond Players Club, is helping local kids learn the game of golf, absolutely free. John Robb, the Altamonte Springs coordinator of "Hook a Kid on Golf," arranged this National Program Into three summer sessions that will lead into a Golf League in July.

The program is based on heavy sponsorship through local businesses, Taylor Made and a three thousand dollar grant from the tobacco industry.

The "golfers" will receive, free of charge, a week long clinic taught by PGA pro Jeff Jones of the Diamond Players Club. They will also receive a complimentary set of Taylor Made starter golf clubs, a golf shirt, golf balls, instructional video and magazine, all provided by Taylor Made. Individual sponsors of the new golfers will have the opportunity at the end of the clinic to tee up with their sponsored student for a golf outling.

"Hook a Kid on Golf," gives sports loving kids, who would not usually get to learn golf, a chance to tee up and take a swing at the little white ball. The clinic is being taught at the Wekiva Golf Club, who is donating their golf course for the clinic.

John Robb spoke of the clinic as, "We are excited about the opportunity to host this program. Most youngsters have unlimited opportunities to play sports such as baseball, basketball and football but only a select few get the opportunity to learn about

The Wekiva Golf Club, in partnership with the City of Altamonte Springs will begin a golf league in July for children who love to play the game of golf. Contact John Robb for golfing information at 830-3883.

The Diamond Players Club at Welkiva, operated by several current and former major league baseball players, offers a summer program designed to teach kids the game of golf.

4-H: It's not all about raising chickens

The 4-H Club isn't all about milking cows and raising chickens.

The Seminole County chapter of the club is actually about teaching leadership and organizational skills and has over 50 special programs designed to teach Seminole County kids all about things ranging from agriculture to most any other skill imaginable.

Kids come from all over the county to make the 4-H Club a big part of summer and year-round activities for everyone.

It is designed for kids aged 5-18 and no membership fees are required although there may be small dues for certain programs.

For everyone, it's a great way to make friends and learn new things. Kids can learn new skills and better ways of doing things they already know. On some projects, kids go out on field trips, compete in contests, give speeches and work with animals.

In fact, the most popular of all 4-H activities is the project involving horses where kids maintain and care for their horses.

"We're not all about cows." sald 4-H Coordinator Shelda Wilkens. We develop leadership and citizenship skills. It provides an opportunity o get along with kids from various backgrounds."

The 4-H also involves families. Parents and children are given the chance to learn and share their talents with each other and the club always encourages kids to have family members participate and help with transportation.

Plenty of volunteers - over 20,000 nationwide - help out with the program to provide supports and guidance to ensure a iriendly and safe atmosphere.

The highlight of the year is the 4-H Summer Camp which is open to kids ranging from 8-13. Spots are limited but it's a traditional summer camp setting with canoeing, games, archery, arts and crafts and campers will stay in block cabins while meeting with kids from all over Seminole County.

The club also maintains its focus on kids during the summer. There are workshops for the kids covering a variety of topics. It's not who you expect from a typical 4-H club, is it? "We meet the needs of the entire county," Wilkens said.

"We know we're in an urban area and there just aren't a lot of cows and chickens around here."

Want to take a stab at what the 4-H's represent?

My head to clearer thinking; my heart to great loyalty; my hands to larger service and my health to better living for my community, my country and my world.

The Altamonte Springs Recreation Department offers a summer program called ASAP (Altamonte Summer All day Program) which offers different events and field trips every day of the summer. You can call 869-2616 for details.

Once there were two girls that were listening to a radio station in a cold and windy blizzard too see if they had won the lotto. Their names were Keesha and Meesha Their mother was at work and their father was in jail because of being a drunk driver and had almost run over an innocent child. The child was a twin, she was happy no harm was done.

The police jumped and pushed the children out of the road then he flattened one of the tires. The next day a limostopped in front of the sister's house. The girls went outside to see who and what honked the horn. When they got out they started shouting saying "Who, what, when, why, and how did this limousine get here. The girls looked at their mom. Their mom said, "You get tickets to see Destiny's

The girl's were soo-oo excited they jumped into the car. It was time to go home, so they waved good-bye. Then when they got to school the next morning they said in there report card, 'We got to see our favorite singing group yesterday." There were the same two girls listening to a radio station this time they were for the Destiny's child song.

Pine Crest Field Day

School is finally over at Pine Crest and Midway Elementary Schools but the kids made the best of their extended school years. Pine Crest held its annual Field Day just before the final bell rang. Basketball, field events and other games were held all day and the kids had plenty of fun.
