B-12 Essential To Prevent Anemia Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB—I am taking folic acid and my doctor prescribed B-12 shots with it. I have read a report by the American Medical Association that B-12 wasn't necessary for people of advanced age, but B-12 is more essential, as are the other B vitamins. Could you please enlighten me?
DEAR READER—I feel fairly confident that members of the American Medical Association would rapidly disassociate themselves from your quote. We all need B-12. We should get it in sufficient quantities in our diet not to need anymore.
But, if your system does not absorb B-12 you must have B-12 shots or you will develop pernicious anemia. A frequent reason for failure to absorb B-12 is an absence of intrinsic factor. This substance is manufactured by the stomach. In some people, particularly as they get older, the stomach does not produce enough intrinsic factor and B-12 absorption is inadequate.
By taking a B-12 shot the medicine is absorbed into your circulation and you are not dependent upon the action of the stomach.
We all need an appropriate amount of all the B vitamins. Again, it is best to get these from a good nutritional program. Those who do not eat a proper diet, however, absorb food or have increased demands because of illness will need supplements.
Your prescription of both folic acid and B-12 suggests your doctor is concerned about the possibility of your having pernicious anemia. I strongly recommend that you follow his advice.
To help you understand the full consequences of this, I am sending you The Health Letter number 45, Vitamin B-12, Folic Acid, Pernicious Anemia. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.
Finally, when you feel sleepy I hope you can be physically active. Physical activity stimulates your biological system and helps keep people alert. That is why I recommend that people should not exercise shortly before going to bed if they are having a problem sleeping.
The second is, while you are trying to stay awake at night to use coffee then. The caffeine in coffee is a brain stimulant and if used sensibly could be a help. I'd rather you take the pills. Vitamins won't help.

HOROSCOPE By BERNICE BEDE OSOL For Wednesday, April 15, 1981

YOUR BIRTHDAY April 15, 1981
Success in your chosen field is likely this coming year, but you may have to work harder than usual in order to attain it. Be prepared to pay the price. ARIES (March 21-April 19). Coworkers are likely to have their own problems today, so be careful not to lay any extra burdens on them. Yours may be the straw that breaks the camel's back. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph, Mail #1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. Dec. 21) In social situations today it may prove unwise to appoint yourself chairman of the entertainment committee. Friends won't like to be told how to have a good time.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Don't take too seriously today things meant to be fun. Making a few humorless remarks shouldn't be allowed to spoil your whole day.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your staying power may not be up to par today. Too many distractions will get you off course and inhibit your ability to finish what you start.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Stand up for what you believe in today, but don't deliberately introduce controversy into your discussions. The less said the better.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Normally you are very generous, but today you may not be too eager to share with others things that have a hand in helping to bring about.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Be very careful today

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) For one who is usually tactful and diplomatic, you could find yourself in frustrating situations today because of a failure to use these assets.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Serious repressive situations should not be shelved today in hopes they'll care for themselves. That which you neglect may compound itself and cause new complications.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) In social situations today it may prove unwise to appoint yourself chairman of the entertainment committee. Friends won't like to be told how to have a good time.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Competitive situations today may be to your cube of tea today. If at all possible, try to avoid them. Let challenges be taken up by others.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Be careful today when dealing with persons who hold opposing views. They won't appreciate your trying to make them over into your own mold.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Even prettily smooth running financially up until now, don't take matters for granted today. There may be a fly in the ointment.

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI) The space shuttle Columbia dived from space so fast it seemed to materialize like magic just above the dry lake bed, awing thousands of spectators whose delighted cheers rang for miles across the barren Mojave Desert.

From the man-in-the-desert to the celebrities in their special tent, from Roy Rogers to "Mr. Spock" of the "Star Trek" TV series, they hailed the landing as an American victory, the beginning of a new age.

"Eat your hearts out, Russians," was the slogan on a T-shirt worn by one female spectator.

Although TV cameras picked up the shuttle 100 miles away, it was moving so fast, more than 200 mph, most spectators did not sight the Columbia until it loomed overhead, nose down and diving for the surface of hard packed dry mud. It seemed to be falling from the sky.

Cheers filled the air as the rear wheels touched, raising a trailing plume of dust.

In Houston, jubilant over the space shuttle Columbia's near-perfect performance on its shakedown cruise, project officials quickly picked a two-week mission to fly its next mission, possibly in September.

Just hours after John W. Young and Robert L. Crippen glided in to the softest of landings on the California desert Tuesday, it was announced astronauts Joe H. Engle, 48, and Richard H. Truly, 43, will next to take the world's first reusable space ship up.

Today, Young and Crippen started filling in shuttle managers on what they learned during their 54½-hour, 36-orbit mission — an exhaustive process that will take eight to nine days.

That information, along with an inch-by-inch inspection of the spacecraft, will determine how quickly Columbia can be "turned around" for another test flight aimed at putting the shuttle into operation as "the space workhorse of the future," as test chief Donald K. Slayton put it.

Crippen, arriving with Young to a rousing welcome in Houston Tuesday evening, summed up how everyone connected with the program now feels about the shuttle's future: "We are really in the space business to stay."

"The space shuttle Columbia is a phenomenon," Young told the cheering crowd of thousands on the astronauts' arrival at Ellington Air Force Base near the Houston space center.

"Any time you can take something that big and launch it into space and land it, you've done nothing short of a miracle, I believe. I think Americans are going to get their money's worth out of this baby."

Crippen, whose sheer joy at being weightless during the voyage was seen by millions on television, said: "As the rookie of the group, I can say that waiting 12 years to get my flight in space was well worth it. And I'll stand in line for another 12 years if that's what it'll take — but I don't think it will."

From their breathtaking blastoff Sunday at Cape Canaveral, Fla., until

Columbia Landing Gets Shuttle Off The Ground Thousands Cheer Successful Flight

Touchdown! ...Inches To Go ...Leveling Off ...Approach

Young bailed Columbia onto the sand runway at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., at 1:21 p.m. EST Tuesday, the astronauts were bothered only by minor malfunctions aboard. Afterwards, only some discoloration of the shuttle's heat shield was noted by ground crews.

A crowd estimated at up to 250,000 people, including everybody from local residents to celebrities like Roy Rogers and Leonard Nimoy of TV's "Star Trek" series, watched the 80-ton shuttle glide to Earth and hailed it as an American victory, the beginning of a new age of space travel. President Reagan issued an invitation to the astronauts to visit the White House soon.

The "100 percent" success, as test boss Slayton called, blew away the frustration built up over 2½ years as problem after problem cropped up in development and construction of the shuttle.

Project managers obviously were anxious to take quick — but careful —

Spacecraft Set Many Records

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — The space shuttle Columbia is the world's first reusable spacecraft, but that's only the latest of its half a dozen space firsts.

When it was launched Sunday morning from Cape Canaveral, the Columbia became the first spaceship to carry a human crew on its maiden flight. All previous manned spacecraft have first been tested in Earth orbit without humans aboard.

The Sunday launch also made the space shuttle the world's first spacecraft to ride piggyback on its main fuel tank — until the 154-foot-tall cylinder was jettisoned into the Indian Ocean just before reaching orbit.

The Columbia's twin booster rockets, blasted loose from Columbia and parachuted into the Atlantic Ocean to be recovered and reused.

They were the first solid-fuel rockets ever used for a manned space flight.

They also were the biggest solid-fuel rockets ever used in the space program, with a total thrust of 5.3 million pounds.

Columbia also became the first winged spaceship, with a wing span of 78 feet and a tail 46.3 feet tall.

The space shuttle is about the size of a DC-9 airliner and has a cargo capacity about 1½ times as great as an Air Force C-130 cargo plane. The entire package that blasts off stands 184 feet tall and, counting fuel, weighs 2,227 tons.

Although the shuttle's two-deck cabin is built to accommodate a crew of seven astronauts, it could carry as many as 10 in an emergency. The 60-foot-long cargo bay is big enough to hold a Greyhound bus.

It landed within a minute of the scheduled time. And despite the fact it's as big as a DC-9 jet, but has no engines to help adjust its landing approach, it smoothed onto the sand with less of bump than most airline passengers experience.

The one big worry about the Columbia's searing return through the atmosphere was dispelled by a post-landing inspection.

The insulating tiles on the nose and underside of the craft withstood the jolt and buffeting of launch, and during re-entry successfully deflected heat predicted to reach up to 2,600 degrees.

But in light of the fact some of the tiles on the upper aft section of Columbia were knocked off under the stresses of Sunday's blastoff, the entire insulation system is certain to get a thorough going-over.

Christopher C. Kraft, director of the Houston space center and an old hand in the space business, had a very summation of what the Columbia's sterling performance meant: "We just became infinitely smarter."

Meanwhile, Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger today rejected Soviet charges that the space shuttle's main mission is military, saying such uses are "really secondary" to civilian and scientific applications.

"It has a great deal of scientific goals that can be translated into civilian applications of great value," Weinberger said of the reusable shuttle.

Renovation, No Expansion For Sanford Library

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County applied today to Secretary of State George Firestone's office for a $50,000 grant to aid in the renovation of the county branch library in downtown Sanford.

The county's application for the money, which was set aside by the Legislature for library construction or renovations for Seminole County a year ago, is expected to be approved and forwarded to the county in the next 30-60 days, Commission Chairman Bob Sturm said today.

Actual construction is expected to begin in late September or early October, Sturm said. He said after receipt of the funds, an architect will be selected to prepare plans for the renovations and then bids will be let for the construction.

The majority of the commissioner Tuesday opted for renovations to the 1917-vintage building at a cost of $110,000 to $140,000.

The former U.S. Post Office building serving as library is leased to the county under a long-term arrangement with the city of Sanford.

The commissioners considered several options for renovations and expansion of the facility ranging from renovations alone at $110,000 to renovations and expansion by building a two-story facility on a lot adjacent to the 64-year-old structure at a cost of $762,000.

The options were contained in a special study done by the Altamonte Springs architectural and engineering firm of Greenleaf-Telesca.

That study was turned over to the county on Monday and discussed during a work-shop Monday afternoon. Cost of the study was $5,000.

Commissioner Robert G. Feather voted against spending any additional county money on the library service now.

He said he prefers to wait until voters decide in a future referendum whether they want more county money spent on priorities he designated for other projects, such as a "frill."

Commissioners Sandra Glenn and Bill Kirchhoff said their preference was to renovate the current facility and to construct a two-story building on an adjacent lot, owned by the city of Sanford, but offered to the county at no cost.

Kirchhoff and Mrs. Glenn said they felt the best course with the adjacent building would be to build a two-story building but to provide interior finishing for only one of the floors.

Nelive believed the second floor space is necessary now and neither was sure that administrative office space, warehouse and binding operations for library books should be located in Sanford. But, both said constructing the building now would save money when the building does need expansion.

Kirchhoff said such a plan removes the necessity of removing a roof to expand a one-story building later to two floors.

Asked if any county money would be available for a $400,000 project — renovation and construction of the additional building — Eleanor Anderson, management and budget director, said the county has $50,000 set aside for library capital reserves. This money is to be used to match the state grant.

In addition, she said, the county has another $142,000 set aside for capital improvements and none of this money is expected to be designated for other projects. She said the county also has some $118,000 in federal revenue sharing funds which are unspent.

Ms. Anderson, cautioned, however, if construction the county will have to abide by rules which can be expensive — such as a requirement to pay union wages to persons used in the construction work.

Kirchhoff argued against the idea a Sanford library should be in a more central location. He said another study shows that library patrons from all over Sanford, Lake Mary and from as far away as Geneva and Oviedo use the Sanford library at its current location.

Kirchhoff said it would be more cost effective to expand the current downtown library than to build a new one in another location. He and Mrs. Glenn said the city of Sanford and the citizens of Sanford had indicated strongly they wanted the facility to stay downtown.

"The people of Sanford have given a lot of support," Mrs. Glenn said. "The people have indicated what they want done."

Winter Springs Manager 'Outstanding'

By BRITT SMITH
Herald Staff Writer

Winter Springs City Manager Richard Rozansky got his report card Tuesday night and was rated "outstanding." As a reward, the city council gave him a pay raise.

While councilmen gave Rozansky high marks for his overall job performance, what in common terms would amount to a 'B' (he could have received the one higher rating of 'superior'), they were somewhat hesitant to couple the pay recommendation that Rozansky be given a $1,500 merit increase and a 10 percent cost-of-living raise.

Even with the extra money, Trencher said Rozansky will still be underpaid, noting that the average salary paid city managers in cities the size of Winter Springs is $25,000 a year.

But council members John Torcaso, Jim Hartman, and Martin Trencher said the city has to keep its salaries competitive with those paid in other similar municipalities in order to attract and retain competent employees. They went along with Mayor Troy Piland's

Tax Deadline Is Midnight

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Americans have until midnight to file their 1980 income tax returns or face the possibility of being assessed a penalty by the Internal Revenue Service.

Any taxpayer unable to file a return by the deadline may have a 60-day extension for the asking, but it is not exactly a free ride. They must file Form 4868, estimate their tax bills and pay today.

The extension is for filing out the return, not for paying the tax.

Polish Officials Retreat

From Rationing Statement

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — Polish authorities said today an announcement of drastic food rationing was premature and the Solidarity union labeled the move a government retreat in the face of labor opposition.

One day after the official news agency announced emergency rationing of butter, flour, rice and other cereals starting May 1, a spokesman for the government said the "information spread by the mass media was a simple misunderstanding" and had not yet been approved.

LONDON (UPI) — A court charged a member of the voluntary euthanasia society EXIT with murder for helping a 90-year-old woman commit suicide by giving her brandy and sleeping pills and putting a plastic bag over her head.

Prosecutor Roy Amiot said Tuesday EXIT member Mark Lyons, along with the group's Secretary General Nicholas James Reed, also faced charges of aiding and counseling suicides or conspiring to do so in the deaths of eight other people.

Amiot said Lyons was charged with killing Isabella Ward, 90, by giving her brandy and sleeping pills and then putting a plastic bag over her head.

Reed allegedly referred Mrs. Ward and eight other suicides to Lyons, who, often using false names, used his "suicide kit" to help them take their own lives, officials said.

Coke Invades Mainland China

PEKING (UPI) — The guest raised red paper cups of Coca-Cola today to mark the opening of the American soft drink's first bottling plant in the People's Republic of China.

"To Sino-American friendship," the toasts rang out. The American guests, including Coca-Cola Chairman of the Board Roberto C. Goizueta and Charge d'Affairs J. Stapleton Roy, downed the Coke with gusto — straight from the 6½-ounce bottle.

The Chinese, still strangers to the American soft drink, took cautious sips.

"It's okay," said one food official. "Not bad," another Chinese remarked politely.

Despite the potential market of 1 billion people in China, the 48 million bottles of Coke that the plant is capable of producing yearly will initially be sold almost exclusively to foreign visitors.

Suicide Helper Charged

LONDON (UPI) — A court charged a member of the voluntary euthanasia society EXIT with murder for helping a 90-year-old woman commit suicide by giving her brandy and sleeping pills and putting a plastic bag over her head.

Prosecutor Roy Amiot said Tuesday EXIT member Mark Lyons, along with the group's Secretary General Nicholas James Reed, also faced charges of aiding and counseling suicides or conspiring to do so in the deaths of eight other people.

Baffling Case Closed

Death Ruled Suicide

The case baffled Casselberry police from the very beginning: a classic whodunit.

They had a 26-year-old woman shot to death at her 1501 Carlisle Drive home and no apparent motive. At the time of the shooting, the woman's 71-year-old husband of eight months lay in a hospital bed with a malfunctioning pancreas.

The death weapon — a .32-caliber pistol containing only one cartridge — was discovered under the mattress of the bed where the victim was found by officers who were admitted to the mobile home by a 24-year-old male friend of the dead woman.

In a supreme bit of understatement, Casselberry Police Chief George Karcher described the circumstances surrounding the slaying as "very peculiar." But after nearly four months of probing the Dec. 28 death of Louise Poe, Karcher is closing the case as a suicide.

"There is no evidence to suggest foul play," he said today.

There was no suicide note, "but in the face of her own statement — she said something like 'I shot myself,' or 'I did it' — there was nowhere else to go with the case," Karcher said.

"It could have been suicide or an accident. We have nothing to prove otherwise."

The decision to close the case did not come easy. Disturbed by the peculiarities of the case — "we still haven't figured out how that gun got under the mattress" — Karcher requested the State Attorney's office enter the investigation in February "to make sure we had no stone unturned."

"We turned them all over, but nothing crawled out," he said.

POLICE ARE CONTINUING their probe into the shooting death of a 76-year-old Lake Mary woman who was found on his living room floor with a bullet wound in the head.

ATLANTA (UPI) — FBI Director William Webster's remarks at a Washington press lunch on the investigation into Atlanta's 29 child murders have incurred the wrath of the police, the mayor and the City Council, who viewed them as an "attack on the credibility of our government."

As a small crowd gathered Tuesday to bury Larry Rogers — the 22nd victim and second consecutive mentally retarded black youth slain, Mayor Maynard Jackson fired off an angry letter to Webster.

The FBI director's remarks the day before seemed to indicate the FBI had "substantially solved" three or four of the killings — each an isolated case. It was not reported, however, Webster and investigators in Atlanta have been saying that for months.

Richard Kleindienst Indicted For Perjury

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Former U.S. Attorney General Richard Kleindienst, who resigned at the height of the Watergate scandal, was indicted on 14 counts of perjury for statements he made to a Bar Association committee investigating his dealings with a convicted racketeer.

Kleindienst, former President Richard Nixon's law enforcement chief for 14 months until May 1974, could be sentenced to up to 14 years in prison on each of 14 felony counts handed down Tuesday by a Maricopa County grand jury.

In 1974, Kleindienst made the first federal attorney general to plead guilty to criminal charges for giving false testimony to a Senate committee investigating an International Telephone & Telegraph payoff scandal.

The indictment Tuesday alleged Kleindienst lied in appearances before state bar committees investigating his ties with a convicted racketeer.

ATLANTA (UPI) — FBI Director William Webster's remarks at a Washington press lunch on the investigation into Atlanta's 29 child murders have incurred the wrath of the police, the mayor and the City Council, who viewed them as an "attack on the credibility of our government."

As a small crowd gathered Tuesday to bury Larry Rogers — the 22nd victim and second consecutive mentally retarded black youth slain, Mayor Maynard Jackson fired off an angry letter to Webster.

The FBI director's remarks the day before seemed to indicate the FBI had "substantially solved" three or four of the killings — each an isolated case. It was not reported, however, Webster and investigators in Atlanta have been saying that for months.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Prison Escapees Are Gunned Down
ZEPHYRHILLS, (UPI) — A dash for freedom took one inmate just a few feet from the 100-foot-high fence of the Zephyrhills Correctional Institution and another about a quarter of a mile, prison officials say.

Guards with shotguns downed both Wayne Emory, 28, and Vincent Figley, 22, as they tried to flee Tuesday night. Both were treated at the Dade City Community Hospital, a hospital spokesman said.

Vernon Bradford, Florida prisons system spokesman in Tallahassee, said the men made a run for the chain-link fence, topped by barbed wire, while walking in the prison yard after dinner.

Another Robbery
MIAMI (UPI) — Another Briton fell victim to Miami's crime Tuesday while area tourists worried about losing 360,000 British tourists this year because of four assaults this month on British tourists.

In the attack Tuesday afternoon in the restroom of a beachfront park, Neville Ash, 40, of Wembley-Middlesex, England was robbed at knifepoint.

Police say a young white man walked up behind Ash and said "Ok buddy I have a knife in your back — give up your wallet — I'll not hesitate to kill you." Ash surrendered an undetermined amount of cash and the assailant fled.

Wrongful Death Bill
TALLAHASSEE, (UPI) — The Senate has sent the House a liberalized wrongful-death bill and warned that it won't accept too much tampering with it.

The wrongful-death bill SB 150 by Sen. Paul Steinberg, D-Miami Beach, would allow relatives of a person killed in an accident to file suit even if they were not financially dependent on the victim. It would also raise from 21 to 25 the maximum age for parents to sue for the loss of a daughter or son.

Casselberry Approves $50-Per-Day Race Track Tax

By SYBIL MITCHELL GANDY
Herald Staff Writer
Casselberry City Council voted unanimously Monday night to impose a $50-a-day tax on the Seminole Greyhound Park as expected, but continued the maximum building height controversy at least until May 4.

A motion which supports lowering the city's building height ordinance from 100 feet to 35 feet, would have obviously passed with a majority vote from Councilman Frank Schutte, Tom Embree, and John Leighy.

But a minor technicality in the language of the amended ordinance prevented the formal adoption. City Attorney Kenneth McIntosh will rewrite the document and submit it for vote at the council's regularly scheduled meeting on May 10.

Mayor Owen Sheppard, who has adamantly opposed the amended ordinance, said he expects passage in formal vote whenever it is put before council.

"I'm not in favor of building high-rise condominiums in Casselberry, but I am opposed to lowering the maximum building height to 35 feet. Such action closes our options in looking at other projects that may be beneficial to us in the future," Sheppard said.

Joined by council members Bill Grier and James Lavigne in denouncing the proposed amendment, Sheppard denies favoring construction of the 100-ft. condominium structures proposed by Bonair.

In the last few weeks, the Casselberry building height ordinance has become a major issue with city officials since they rejected the Bonair building project.

With the unanimous adoption of the $50-a-day tax on racing facilities within their boundaries, Tax on dog racing "is not to exceed $150," according to the ordinance.

Agent Backs Webster

ATLANTA (UPI) — Four of the 23 Atlanta black children found slain were killed by their parents because they were "nuisances," an FBI agent claimed Tuesday night.

Agent Mike Twibell told a Macon, Ga., civic club that his boss, FBI Director William Webster, was correct Monday when he said there were suspects in four of the slayings.

Twibell said some of the children were from broken homes and that their slayings were domestic killings.

Miner's Reject Offers
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nationwide strike by 160,000 soft coal miners, now in its 20th day, is expected to drag on without progress until at least Friday.

After five hours of new negotiations Tuesday, United Mine Workers President Sam Church Jr. said industry officials "rejected everything we gave them."

"There's been no progress," said chief industry negotiator Bobby R. Brown, president of Consolidation Coal Co. The two sides agreed to return to the bargaining table, but not until Friday.

Bradley Wins Again
LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Mayor Tom Bradley won a landslide victory Tuesday to a third term as chief executive of Los Angeles and moved into an excellent position for a possible race next year to become the nation's first black elected governor.

Defeating former Mayor Sam Yorty by a 2-1 margin, Bradley, one of the nation's highest ranking black officials, became the first mayor in Los Angeles history to win a third term without being forced into a run-off election.

Hostage Workshops
WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (UPI) — America's publicity-shy former hostages enjoyed horseback and tennis at their reunion at the posh Greenbrier Hotel but today's agenda are workshops about possible legacies of their ordeal as martial stress.

Workshops dealing with such subjects as marital stress and encountering another hostage crisis were planned for today.

Natural Mom Turns Him Down

Leukemia Patient Needs Bone Marrow

MIAMI (UPI) — Maria Pinos is 16 and James George is 33, and both must have a bone marrow transplant from a blood relative if they are to conquer their leukemia.

The difference is, Maria's sister is willing to be her donor. George's business in Tampa have come up with the money to pay for the operation. But George — an orphan given up for adoption by his unwed mother — cannot find any relatives willing to donate their bone marrow.

George heard from his natural mother Tuesday for the first time in his memory — through a Kansas City judge who forwarded to her affidavits from George's doctors saying his best chance to survive leukemia is a bone marrow transplant from a genetic relative.

The judge refused to break Missouri law by opening his adoption records, but passed on a message from George asking his mother to let him contact his half-sister, who doctors say would be the most compatible donor.

His mother, in a letter to the judge, said she couldn't cooperate.

"The letter said she had a very difficult decision to make, and had decided not to cooperate because people would be hurt if she did," George said.

Kick The Iranians Out, Say Florida Legislators
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Two legislators said today 1,200 to 1,300 Iranians should be kicked out of state colleges and universities to protect the holding of the 53 American hostages in Iran.

Rep. Ted Ewing, R-Sarasota, and Sen. Dick Langley, R-Clermont, said they have introduced bills banning Iranians from public educational institutions.

The proposal (HB 835) would force between 1,200 and 1,300 Iranians to drop out of state colleges and universities, Ewing said. He doesn't know how many Iranian children are attending public schools, but doesn't believe the number is high.

"We see no reason why the taxpayers should continue to underwrite and pay for the education of students from a nation that has treated American citizens in such a shameful manner," the two men said in a statement.

"Many of us endured the disgraceful treatment of American hostages in silent anger, knowing full well that this Iranian action against American citizens ... was, in fact, symbolic of their hostile feelings toward all of us Americans, and our nation."

The proposal no doubt will face substantial opposition in the Legislature from lawmakers who don't think it is constitutional. If the bill does become law, it certainly will be challenged in court and probably will withstand the challenge, Ewing said.

"I don't see any reason why the Legislature can't do this. We set policies for education," he said. "It's constitutional until the appropriate court says it is not."

The proposal probably should be worded so that Iranians who have fled their country and want to become American citizens can attend public educational institutions, according to Ewing.

"I'm sure some provision could be made for a genuine refugee. It is not our intent to ban genuine refugees, people who don't want to go back."

Thousands of Cuban and Haitian refugees have fled to Florida in recent months, straining already overcrowded public schools. Gov. Bob Graham and other officials are complaining bitterly about the federal government's failure to provide money to help Florida handle the refugee influx.

"I don't know what to think. It's sort of a combination of understanding that it could be a messy situation, and she could be making what she thought was a correct moral decision. But I don't know the other side of it. I don't know what she thinks is the problem, who would be hurt. I'd like to know, so I could make my own decision."

"I don't want to hurt people, but it's in the hands of the Missouri Legislature, it's in the hands of the judge, it's in the hands of my mother. But it's my life."

George, a computer systems accountant who lives in Miami Shores with his wife Marilyn and two young sons, said he will now set out to find his father. The problem is he doesn't even know if there is a father listed in his sealed adoption records.

"He could have 18 children with another woman," George said. "They would be half-siblings. They all say no, then I will start living my life differently."

George's disease is dormant now but could erupt at any time, his doctors have told him — either ravaging his body itself or destroying enough protective white blood cells that some other disease would kill him.

No Hassles For Recruits

But Can Marginal Soldiers Win Wars?

By TOM TIEDE
(Last of Two Parts)

U.S. Army recruits today are guaranteed seven hours of sleep a night, and spit-shined boots are no longer necessary. Knee braces have been dropped from the physical training activity, and the men may wear mustaches.

The recruits are even allowed passes to "facilitate the military socialization process."

The Army says it does not want basic training to discourage trainees. That's why all activity must now be modified, or halted, when outside temperatures get too hot or too cold.

One training commander has told his men to treat recruits with the dignity they would give members of their own families.

"This means no harassment. No 'unnecessary stress.' It also means severely limited verbalization. Drill sergeants are not allowed to 'curse or defame' recruits, or to touch them in any way. If a sergeant orders a trainee to do pushups, he must make sure it is not done on rocky or otherwise injurious soil."

And webelos are the sergeants who disengage. Capt. Barlotta says recruits at Fort Jackson once received questionnaires on which to grade their cadets. Basically, the trainees were asked if they liked their drill sergeants, and the answers were then passed on to the training school's commander.

Barlotta says the questionnaire was insane. And others here think that such nonsense destroys authority and morale. "A leader has to be in control," says Drill Sgt. Ricky Gibson, "but we no longer are in this Army. I don't think there is any way we can train good soldiers under these conditions."

So here is the nut of it. The Army may no longer be training good soldiers. The Pentagon insists the average recruit — 5 foot 8, 150 pounds, 11.6 years of schooling and almost 20 years old — is bigger, better educated and more mature than ever before, but, sigh, does he know what he's doing?

Sam Nunn is one who thinks not. He's a U.S. senator from Georgia, a Democrat who says flatly that many people trained in the modern Army are turkeys. He claims almost 35 percent of the people who enter service drop out before completing their enlistments, and many of those who stay in are no prizes either.

Nunn says that the Army's own figures for troop efficiency are "appalling." In 1979, for instance, the results of the Army Skill Qualification tests indicated that 43 percent of those examined failed as combat engineers, 67 percent failed in communications, and 83 percent failed at transportation.

Overall, Army statistics suggest that 45 percent of its recruits are just barely able to pass qualification testing. This means that in recent years, almost half of the basic trainees going into the regular service are marginals, and Sen. Nunn says marginals aren't the people who win wars.

Many officers here agree. One tells of commanding a unit in Europe where "every other troop was out of condition, and most of them lacked some of the skills they needed to fight. I remember with horror that 10 to 20 percent of my men and women did not know how to properly zero their rifles."

Win wars? The latter officer said an all-ethnic command could not beat an all-white orchestra. "They just weren't motivated. They wanted higher pay and less work, and most of them lacked some of the skills they needed to fight. I remember with horror that 10 to 20 percent of my men and women did not know how to properly zero their rifles."

World Watches Shuttle's 'Unforgettable' Landing

By United Press International
In the European evening and the middle of the Asian night, the world gathered around television sets to watch a new era in space exploration dawn with the return to Earth of the Columbia space shuttle — the first covered wagon on a new American frontier.

"Touchdown!" an Italian commentator shouted as Columbia's wheels met the California ground Tuesday. "A stupendous landing. Unforgettable. Incredible images. A perfect conclusion."

Most of the world agreed. Live TV coverage was carried across Western Europe and much of Asia. Newspapers splashed their front pages with pictures and headlines hailing America's triumph.

Viewers of the Japan Broadcasting Corporation's "space show" from Edwards Air Force Base at 2:30 a.m. heard a commentator exclaim, "The success of space shuttle Columbia is Lindbergh's first flight across the Atlantic."

Australians saw the Columbia land at 4:20 a.m. and stations ran saturation coverage through the morning peak viewing period, with one Sydney station showing the landing four times in an hour.

A Critical Look At National Parks

While the Reagan administration is laboring to scale down the federal budget, the National Park Service remains awash in unspent money from a trust fund bestowed by a negligent and magnanimous Congress.

The availability of almost limitless funds for the asking during the last 10 years has led the park service into a vast acquisition program.

The park service's bonanza is the Land and Water Conservation Fund established by Congress in 1964 to pay for expansion of the National Park System.

The fund receives a share of the government's income from the sale of oil and gas leases, a modest $200 million in 1968, but this year with a windfall from the intensified search for energy, nearly a billion dollars.

With all that money to spend, and with the nation's prime scenic treasures long ago locked up in the park system, the National Park Service has been investing increasingly in second-class real estate. Its money has gone into scenery that is merely pleasant, rather than noble, and into urban parks that big city dwellers should be expected to provide for themselves.

The park service bought 2.8 million acres of such land in the last decade. But even with this unprecedented level of acquisition, there remains an unspent $1.1 billion in the Land and Water Conservation Fund.

Worried about the cost of improving and maintaining new parks, Interior Secretary James G. Watt has wisely halted the purchase of additional parkland. And, quite properly, he wants to divest the government of some urban parks.

Moreover, the Reagan administration wants Congress to unlock the Land and Water Conservation Fund and put those surplus millions to work in the general fund, or at least to permit some of this idle reserve to be used for park maintenance and operation.

Although some ardent conservationists are objecting, the state of the economy requires Congress to terminate this trust fund that has outlived its purpose. If and when more parks are needed in the future, Congress can always appropriate the money to buy them.

Meanwhile, Watt shows an admirable, pioneering spirit in seeking to give private business a larger role in the management of national parks where they already operate guest facilities. We trust he will show the same boldness in examining closely the restrictions on access to some parks that should be open to everyone, rather than a few hardy backpackers.

Gavin Road Clear

Retiring Ambassador to Mexico Julian Nava has some advice for his successor.

The United States' role in Mexico, Nava said, must be that of a partner, not a tutor. Enlightened self-interest, he added, demands that we join hands with Mexico to meet the needs of its burgeoning population.

And Nava believes that actor John Gavin, President Reagan's choice for the post, is well-prepared. "I think the road is clear for John," he said.

"If the United States wants to get belligerent and militaristic, we can start playing that game, too."

Around

The Clock

By JANE CASSELLBERRY

There is a lot of alarm these days about the number of lives taken as the result of violent street crime being on the upswing.

More than 41,000 people have died on Florida's streets and highways in motor vehicle crashes during the last 20 years, according to Florida Highway Patrol records.

"When the other 2,700 persons who were injured during the same 20 years are added, the result is staggering."

The patrol's records show that traffic deaths in 1981 are running about 20 percent ahead of 1980, which had 2,878, an all-time high record.

"It has been estimated that half of the people who die in traffic crashes die as a result of one of the drivers using excessive amounts of alcohol," he added.

"Possibly a better warning would be for people to learn their limit. With the body burning up about one ounce of alcohol per hour, drinkers should pace themselves up to their limit."

It has been proven that some people are physically affected with only one or two drinks while others can handle more. A beer is usually compared to a one ounce drink.

Funding for the arts is expected to feel the squeeze under President Reagan's proposed budget. Grassroots culture has been flourishing in the last few years mainly because of government grants and matching funds from the community, local governments and businesses.

An eighty six percent to nine percent majority feels that it is important to the business and economy of their communities to have such facilities.

Fifty one percent of Americans favor paying an additional $25 a year in federal taxes to help support the arts, an overwhelming 70 percent are willing to pay $5 additional.

A New Insulin For Diabetics

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — A new type of synthetic insulin, the product of genetic engineering, may soon be available to help many of America's 10 million diabetics who suffer allergic reactions to the animal insulin currently on the market.

The new drug will be tested on diabetic patients at the University of Tennessee Center for the Health Sciences.

The biosynthetic insulin was developed by researchers from Eli Lilly and Genentech Inc., who used a special technique to splice an insulin-producing gene into bacteria.

The University of Kansas School of Medicine conducted pilot tests of the new insulin in five diabetics last year and a handful of clinics and hospitals have already begun additional testing.

The University of Tennessee center is applying for a contract with Lilly to compare the biosynthetic insulin with beef and pork insulin — the types commonly used today — in a three-way test using about 30 diabetic volunteers.

"We hope to get started in April," said Dr. Abbas E. Kitabchi, program director of the Clinical Research Center at the center.

Volunteer diabetics will be periodically examined at the center and reactions to the new and old types of insulin will be studied and compared for at least a year, Kitabchi said.

The tests could have a special meaning for more than 10 million Americans who suffer from diabetes, a disease in which the body cannot make use of sugars and starches in a normal way.

With diabetes, the pancreas either cannot produce enough insulin or the body cannot properly use the insulin that is present.

An injectable mixture of pork and beef insulin is the most common treatment for diabetes, but there are sometimes problems with side effects and allergic reactions.

"One of the problems with non-synthetic insulin is that it is coming from animal tissue. It's a foreign substance," said Kitabchi, a past president of the Tennessee Diabetes Association who heads the department of diabetes and endocrinology at the center.

"We think, but we're not sure, that these animal insulins may inhibit your own pancreatic insulin," the doctor added.

One solution would be for diabetics to use human insulin, but that is not practical, Kitabchi explained in a recent interview.

He said there is "no way to get it (insulin) from humans."

"It breaks down very quickly after death. That's one of the reasons we've had trouble with it," he said. "Only those samples where patients have died and the pancreas was immediately removed could be used. And we only got small amounts then."

Kitabchi explained how the biosynthetic insulin was produced.

"Scientists in California were able to train bacteria to make the units of insulin," he said. "You grow two types of bacteria. One bacteria has a message for the A-chain (of DNA). The other for the B-chain. Then you break the cell, separate the A-chain and B-chain. Then put them together by a chemical reaction."

ROBERT WALTERS

Time For Reform, Again...

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Because this year marks the 10th anniversary of the effort to overhaul federal laws governing the financing of political campaigns, it's an appropriate time to assess the success of those reforms.

Prior to the passage of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, the financing of campaigns for the presidency and seats in the House and Senate was governed by a pair of statutes dating back to the early 1900s.

Because those laws were riddled with loopholes and seldom enforced, enactment of the FECA — and the 1974 amendments establishing the Federal Election Commission — offered the promise of a new era of full disclosure, vigorous enforcement and the elimination of "fat cat" influence in politics.

To a very substantial extent, those hopes have been fulfilled — especially in comparison with the pre-FECA years when wealthy donors seeking to "buy" (or "rent") politicians could make five- and six-figure contributions to office-seekers that never were even disclosed to the public.

But the same members of Congress who never have been especially reluctant to pass legislation establishing regulatory agencies to oversee the work of assorted industries and professions have been notably unenthusiastic about the commission that supposedly regulates their conduct.

Noting that Congress repeatedly "has undermined the integrity and independence of the FEC," a new study produced by Common Cause aptly describes the commission as "an agency born of necessity but truly unloved by its parents."

An earlier study, conducted by the highly respected Administrative Conference of the United States, suggests that "if the FEC can be analogized to an automobile, any consideration of the law must conclude that more legislative attention was lavished on the brakes than on the engines."

My associate Tony Capaccio has searched the records and found some of the most flagrant examples of mobsters being let off the hook by federal bloodhounds who track petty tax cheaters to their financial graves. Here they are:

—Joe Valenzuela's organization raked in $10 million to $15 million a year from its heroin operations, which extended from laboratories in Mexico to the sidewalks of New York. Valenzuela lived high off the hog; he spent $63,000 in cash on luxury cars during one three-year period, and put down $300,000 — mostly in cash — to buy and redecorate a mansion in San Marino, Calif. Valenzuela and 69 members of his dope ring were convicted,

Through constant oversight of the FEC that has, on numerous occasions, bordered on harassment, Congress has attained what it sought from the commission — an agency that treats wayward members of the House and Senate (and the president) with deference and delicacy not accorded to others.

"That situation has produced a commission with the characteristics of the neighborhood bully who regularly picks on the little kids unable to defend themselves but scrupulously avoids confrontations with those who can fight back.

The refusal of those who wield power in this capital to properly insulate the FEC from the pressure of politics was vividly demonstrated by the metamorphosis earlier this year of Max L. Friedersdorf.

After serving as a member of the FEC for two years, he abruptly resigned as its chairman and was immediately installed as the chief congressional lobbyist for the country's most highly politicized institution — the White House.

Like too many FEC members, Friedersdorf came to the agency from Congress, where he held a variety of staff position. Indeed, the commission has long been a haven for retired or defeated legislators and their aides.

The president and Congress can remedy the situation by appointing and confirming future commissioners on the basis of the standards explicitly set forth in the law. "Members shall be chosen on the basis of their experience, integrity, impartiality and good judgment."

Congress should abandon its insistence upon holding veto power over FEC regulations and should surrender its privilege of having two non-voting FEC seats reserved for representatives of the Clerk of the House and Secretary of the Senate.

potential forfeitures in narcotics cases prosecuted under the two statutes amounted to a piddling $3.5 million. Yet law enforcement officials figure that the illicit drug trade generates about $64 billion a year.

My associate Tony Capaccio has searched the records and found some of the most flagrant examples of mobsters being let off the hook by federal bloodhounds who track petty tax cheaters to their financial graves. Here they are:

—The "Black Tuna" marijuana-smuggling ring headed by Robert Malinzer and Robert Palishorn handled more than a million pounds of dope, earning gross receipts conservatively estimated at $300 million. The gang spent thousands on yachts and executive jets — and even ran up a $60,000 restaurant tab in a single night. Yet when the feds attempted to seize two residences worth $750,000, five yachts and an auction business that was used as a front, they wound up with $18,000 worth of assets.

—In his prime, Leroy "Nicky" Barnes ran the biggest heroin operation in the United States, according to the Justice Department. He and his gang earned millions pushing junk at the retail level in the streets of Harlem and the South Bronx.

Barnes himself had five Mercedes Benzes, a Cadillac, a Corvette and a Citroen Maserati. His 1974 and 1975 tax returns listed a total of $327,000 in "miscellaneous" income. He had $11.5 million invested in Michigan real estate.

The G-men put Barnes away for life and fined him — are you ready? — $128,000. There were no criminal forfeitures.

A convicted associate of Barnes, Joseph "Jazz" Hayden, listed $394,140 in miscellaneous income on his 1973-74 tax return. He got a 18-year sentence, a $25,000 fine — and forfeited not a penny.

—Jaime Araujo headed a heroin syndicate based in Los Angeles and Mexico before federal agents brought him in. He was sentenced to 35 years in prison and fined $1,000,000. He had to forfeit only $260,000 in vehicles and real estate, though it was established that his dope ring had earned $33 million and had invested $1.9 million in real estate in the United States.

Warm Thoughts, Cold Door

Someone had his head on straight when he invented the refrigerator door.

Not only does it keep the food cold and the flies out; it provides a nifty place to put things that you would otherwise lose.

I feel secure all summer knowing that the dry-cleaning claim ticket for our winter clothes is safely anchored under a butterfly magnet on the refrigerator door.

I would have to spend an entire weekend looking for it if it were to float around the house from May to September.

The refrigerator door provides a multitude of services. It is a place to praise the children, for example. My friend Carol has posted son Andy's special spelling paper — the one with two stars and a smile sticker from the teacher.

"But Carol," I said the other day, "this paper is from January. Isn't that kinda old?" "It's never too old until there's one to replace it," she said.

Carol, you see, is really a philosopher in housewife disguise. She doesn't dig the neatness bit that most homemakers are expected to emulate. To measure herself, she asks, "Is it OK anyhow, she keeps on her refrigerator door a New Yorker magazine cartoon showing two people on a heavenly cloud. One is dressed in the usual immaculate white robe. The other, hair aye, eyes aye, is wearing a plaid, spotted garment with the hem falling out. The immaculate one is saying to the messy one: 'Well, you were right. Neatness didn't count!'"

A lot of friends keep diets on the refrigerator door to halt themselves when tempted to reach inside for a goodie. But one who has given up the fight, has a cartoon character eating a gooey sundae and chirping smugly, "Man should not live by bread alone."

"Perform a death-defying act. Quit smoking!" That message was found on the door of a friend in the midst of her anti-weed struggle.

Joanne, who runs a travel agency, has posted the itinerary for her upcoming trip to Malaya. Handy for the stay-at-home, she says, "also the police if they come looking for me and the burglars if they're going through the house."

She says the refrigerator door is the must place for must messages to the family, things such as: "There is no laundry service here for 10 days beginning April 25. Please make other arrangements."

Parents of teens say they have to leave warnings to scavengers on the door: "Don't eat the chicken. It's for dinner."

And kids who get up late in the morning are nagging take more kindly to unspoken but posted reminders. I read this note under an owl magnet: "Betty, you must write Grandma a thank you for the birthday gift and tell her how you've been doing at school."

Still others use refrigerator doors for new business of family members, magazine photos of dogs that look like theirs and newspaper clippings with locations of auto license bureaus, antique stores, etc.

Yes, the refrigerator door is a must in every home. If I ever design my own house, I'm going to have one wall of the kitchen done in refrigerator door.

The author of "Ring: Biography of Ring Lardner," Yardley said he is now in the early stages of preparing a biography of H.L. Mencken.

His area of special interest and expertise is contemporary American fiction, "more narrowly southern fiction. But as a book editor and a general circulation newspaper, I have to touch base on a lot of different writers and styles."

Yardley said he drifted into criticism while working as an editor on the Great Smoky Mountains National Park. He later was a book critic for the Miami Herald before coming to the Star 2 1/2 years ago.

Yardley said he may buy some furniture for his front home with the $1,000 dollar prize that the companies the award.

Superstars Dance Together

Ballet superstars Mikhail Baryshnikov and Rudolf Nureyev danced in the same ballet for the first time Tuesday evening. They were joined by Hersones Glyngold and Gwen Verdon.

The two Russians have danced previously in works by fellow choreographer Taylor, but this was the first time they've appeared in the same ballet. It was Taylor's comic "From Sea to Shining Sea," which has opportunities for guests whether they can dance or not.

Hero Describes Feat

Secret Service agent Timothy McCarthy said he moved in front of President Reagan when the president was shot March 30 in a "kind of mindless reaction I had been trained for ... I reacted to the sound where the shots were coming from. I knew we were being fired upon and, I was pretty sure, by one person," says the nine-year Secret Service veteran.

'Titanic' Worth Gigantic

Millionaire Texas oilman Jack Grimm has even more reason now to mount his search for the ill-fated Titanic. The only piece of china to be removed from the giant ship before it sank on that "Night to Remember" in 1912 is valued at about $20,000. But the small treasure was stolen in Los Angeles over the weekend during an annual remembrance of the disaster.

Grimm, however, thinks more Titanic artifacts will be found from the ship's watery grave in the icy North Atlantic. He has already sunk $1.25 million to finance efforts by a team of crack oceanographers to locate and photograph the ship. He says he hopes his quest will be achieved this summer and said the recovered artifacts alone should repay the costs.

Joe Kerwin, a physician who spent 26 days in space aboard Skylab, says in Omni magazine of the space shuttle Columbia: "I think of the shuttle as a railroad, but we sorely need a station at the other end."

Jerry Lewis Is 'Hardly Working'

By DAVID HANDLER
NEW YORK (NEA) — The signs are all there. His total suite is hopping, crammed with assistants, cases of photo equipment, sound equipment, jars of jelly beans, dishes of hard candy and the French cigarettes he chain-smokes, novelty lighters, a mammoth electric typewriter, piles of stationery. Tom Snyder is calling. The dog is barking. Jerry's back. Fresh from an audience with the president of the United States — his eighth. After a 10-year absence from the big screen, an admitted addiction to prescription drugs, a busted marriage, bankruptcy — Jerry's back. Decked out in a black silk monogrammed shirt, black slacks, black boots, slick black hair and pancake make-up — Jerry Lewis at age 66 is back in business.

"Hardly Working," the film he directed and starred in for a Florida combine and released last year in Europe, is being distributed here by 20th Century Fox now. In June, he starts filming "The King of Comedy," director Martin Scorsese's new film in which he co-stars with Robert De Niro. The big time. Not that Jerry Lewis would tell you that he's ever been anywhere but on top of the heap. Not that he'd ever tell you that abating the screen with Dean Martin had anything to do with that string of box office winners in the 1950s. Or that the string of critical and financial flops Lewis wrote, starred in and directed after he established his solo career had anything to do with self-indulgence. Or that his career for the past 10 years has been confined to nightclub, talk shows and his annual muscular dystrophy telethon. But he knows he's been out of circulation. "Hardly Working," a low-budget comedy about an unemployed clown who finds true love and happiness in the U.S. Postal Service, opens with a five-minute compilation of his funniest bits from his old films — "The Belboy," "The Errand Boy," "Cinderella," "Who's Minding the Store," "The Patsy." Quick bits of the young Jerry, the hyperactive burrhead, the innocent moron, the kid who could spend 10 minutes trying to get out of a pullover sweater and keep you howling with laughter the whole time. "It's very important to re-establish Jerry after a 10-year absence," he explains into the tape recorder. His tape recorder. He has every interview he's ever given on tape — some 25,000 cassettes, along with an archive of 15 million feet of film, every newspaper story, every photograph. "Jerry has to come on correct right away. I also figured I've got a lot of young people out there who don't know that fella. So I established his demeanor fast. And create Jerry in a clown setting. It works. He'll excel. "I have a great love for clowns. There's a sadness that pervades their lives. I've studied that whole world. We actually know so little about it. The Barnum and Bailey clowns once let me make up with them and go on with them. It was a great honor. I appeared in front of 75,000 people and they didn't know who I

...More Fun Than

Just Hiding Eggs'

MARKSVILLE, La. (UPI) — While the rest of the nation dyes gaily colored Easter eggs and reads jelly bean trails leading to baskets of chocolate bunnies, French-speaking Avoyelles Parish prepares for Easter by laying bets of $100 and more on the annual eggknock.

Thousands will gather around the Marksville courthouse square Easter Sunday morning to "knock eggs," a tradition traced back to their French ancestors. Once an Easter morning ceremony for the home, eggknocking has gone big time in organized contests with stiff competition, wagering and prizes for adults.

"It's more fun than just hiding eggs," said Brent Scallan, organizer for this year's knock. "We're like kids again. I wouldn't miss one if I had to."

The idea of egg knocking is to find a chicken egg hard enough to survive a knock from a competitor's egg without cracking. The pastel-colored eggs are boiled and knocked point-to-point until the weaker one cracks. At the contest in Marksville, Scallan said three rounds of 50 contestants each will knock-off Easter morning until a winner is found in each group. The three finalists knock for first, second and third prizes. Contests also are scheduled for a knock-off of guinea eggs — smaller and harder than chicken eggs — and a match for children.

Forgotten People Helped To Survive Without Preaching

By DAVE SCHWEISBERG
DETROIT (UPI) — The forgotten people line up in the late afternoon amid the dingy shadows of industry, awaiting the man whose free bread and meat will help them survive another week.

The men wear frayed overcoats and stubbled beards. The women, some with children in tow, wear stained kerchiefs and anguished expressions. They wait each Saturday on a corner in a rundown factory neighborhood of Detroit, clutching dog-eared bags and boxes. They are unnoticed by most passers-by and quickly forgotten by everyone else.

Everyone, that is, except the man they know only as Tom. Tom always remembers. He shows up every Saturday, as he has for the past six years, to hand them perhaps their only good fortune of the week — food, free of charge with no sermons.

"I used to eat at the mission, but I couldn't stand all that religion stuff," said a wizened woman who is a regular at the corner. "But Tom don't put us through that. He just gives us our food."

"I don't know if I could make a go of it without him," the Good Samaritan is Clarence M. Dunkle, 76, a World War II veteran and retired steelworker who likes to be called just "Clarence." He is just the man they need. "But it really became an obsession. Once I started, I had to keep at it."

With classic humility, Dunkle dislikes discussing himself. And when he does, he is deliberately contradictory. He believes in Christ, but does not call himself a Christian. He is a fervent Bible reader, but shuns organized religion. He will not admit to being "born again," but describes an Epiphany he experienced years ago as a "mind resurrection."

He allows he served in the artillery in Europe during the war, and toiled in a Great Lakes Steel mill for 39 years until he retired in 1971. But then he retreats. "The Good Book says you should give to the man that asks without hoping to receive," Dunkle explained. "It isn't that I'm a wealthy person, but I have enough to get by. And this gives me peace of mind."

What brings the people doesn't matter much to Dunkle. Some drink too much, others work too little, but most are just down on their luck. "If they'll stand in the cold for what little I can give them, they've got to be hungry," he said.

Parker Chop Scores Two In 8th

Red-Hot Raiders Kayo VCC

By BENTON WOOD
Herald Sports Writer

"I guess we don't start playing until the eighth inning."

Once again, Jack Pantellas' Seminole Community College's baseball crew felt out its prey before delivering the knockout blow in the eighth round. A three-run rally helped the Raiders to their 18th TKO in their last 18 bouts as they dumped Valencia 6-4 at home Tuesday afternoon.

The win marks the 11th division victory in a row for SCC, who is now the number one contender in the division for the title. The Raiders have already earned a slot in the state JoCo tournament in a couple of weeks.

"I'm really proud of 'em; they've fought back all year," said winning trainer Pantellas whose fighters have knocked out 21 opponents in 36 outings including Valencia three out of four. "I feel like we'd beat 'em if we'd stay close."

The Raiders were even on the scorecard until the seventh when Matador first baseman Larry Hernandez answered reliever Steve Birchmeier's fastball by lining it off the scoreboard over the right field fence for a solo home run and a 4-3 Valencia edge.

Seminole catcher Jim Mee answered the bell for the eighth round by drilling a curve into left field for a single off loser John Fawbush.

Mee moved to second on an infield out before designated hitter Tom Clarke tied the game with an RBI single to left-center.

Pinch hitter Mike Ripa sent Fawbush to the showers with a single, and right-fielder Jim Melland greeted reliever Jack Dietrich with an infield hit to load the bases for lead-off hitter Bob Parker.

Parker chopped a one hopper to second base, but the speedy redhead forced Valencia shortstop Jeff Keith to throw scoring pinch runner Loren Levy and Ripa with the winning runs.

"We almost threw the game away," Pantellas said afterwards. "It's not like us to throw the ball around the way we did today."

The Matadors scored first in the second inning when Mee moved Scott Matthews into scoring position when his pickoff attempt sailed into right field. A two-out single up the middle by catcher Ron Bunnell gave Valencia an early 1-0 lead.

SCC answered in the bottom of the inning when Mee led off with a walk before designated hitter Tom Clarke tied the game with an RBI single to left-center.

With two on and no one out in the Matador sixth, Mee pounded on a sacrifice attempt in front of the plate but his throw to third was high loading the bases. Keith tied the game for Valencia with an RBI fielder's choice, but Birchmeier came on in relief of starter Kevin Smith and shut down the rally.

Clarke's two-hit, three-RBI day led the SCC attack. Melland and third baseman Vince Riva each had two hits in four trips while Hernandez and leftfielder Jim Ople had a pair of hits each for Valencia.

Triple I Sinks Flagship To Forge 3-Way Deadlock

Triple I.L.I. Trucking pounded Flagship Bank Tuesday night, and in the process threw the race for first place in the Sanford Little American League into a three-way tie.

Atlantic Bank topped Butch's Chevron 8-4 and Seminole Petroleum nipped Jack Prosser Ford 5-2 in other Tuesday games.

Triple I.L.I. Trucking, Atlantic Bank and Seminole Petroleum are all 3-1, while Flagship Bank is 3-2.

In today's action in the Sanford Little National League, Sanford D.A.V. plays the Railroaders at 5 p.m. at Fort Mellon Park, while Cardinal Industries plays Suniland Corporation at the same time at Westside Field. Poppa Jay's plays Clem Leonard Shell at 7 p.m. at Fort Mellon Park.

After falling behind 3-0, Triple I.L.I. scored three runs on three hits in the bottom of the second to tie the score. Flagship Bank bounced back with three runs in the top of the third, but the Truckers charged into the lead with a four-run third inning.

Triple I.L.I. then pushed seven runs across the plate in the fourth while winning pitcher Mike Edwards blanked Flagship the rest of the way.

Edwards and Keith Denton led the winners with three hits apiece and they each hit safely in the second, third and fourth frames. Denton finished the game with a home run and double and Edwards had a double.

Anthony Davis pounded a pair of doubles for the losers.

Clay Hickman pitched no-hit ball for the first four innings against Butch's Chevron, while he and his teammates were piling up eight runs.

Butch's Chevron bats finally came alive in the last two frames, but the four hits was too little, too late. Three of the four hits were for extra bases.

Hickman, who finished with a dozen strikeouts, also paced his team at the plate with a home run and single.

Steve Warren hammered for Butch's Chevron, while teammates Ronnie Hayes and Gary Derr legged out triples.

Seminole Petroleum broke open a close game with three runs in the top of the fourth and edged winless Jack Prosser Ford behind the hitting of Tommy Mitchell and Rodolfo Orsini. Both had a

Marvin Killingsworth was the winning pitcher, with relief help from Mitchell. They climbed for 12 strikeouts, including five by Mitchell in the last two innings.

Junior League season is scheduled for 5 p.m. today at Chase Park, when Moose and Knights of Columbus collide.

Knights of Columbus, the pre-season favorite after finishing second last year, and Moose are both 2-0. The winner of today's game will move into a tie for first place with defending champ Kiwanis.

In tonight's other game, Rotary and Elks tangle at 7 p.m. Regardless of which team ends up in the tie with Kiwanis, it won't last for long. Kiwanis plays Moose at 5 p.m. Friday and then meets Knights of Columbus at 7 p.m. Monday.

Two minutes later, Louis was shaking hands with Schmeling and making arrangements for a big dinner together in a Chicago restaurant to celebrate Max's visit after all those years. They were good friends at the end.

Few people I ever met in sports were more honest than Louis.

He had his opinion of the modern day fighters but generally kept it to himself and rarely downgraded any of them. The best fighter he ever saw, he told me, was Henry Armstrong, who won three different titles, and he also said Jack Dempsey was his idol.

Louis thought Muhammad Ali was an outstanding fighter. I don't think he thought Ali was better than he was, and having seen them both, I know I would pick Joe Louis.

One of the saddest sights I ever saw in connection with Louis was the way he was knocked out by Rocky Marciano in 1951 when he was 37. He was just a punching bag for the tough-fisted 28-year-old Marciano and shouldn't have even been in the same ring with him.

"Of all my fights, that one gave me the least pleasure," Marciano told me.

Louis had not complained of feeling poorly before his death last Sunday. On the contrary, he seemed to be doing well after having had a pacemaker implanted four months ago. So well, in fact, that Sommers, dropping by his house in Las Vegas a week or so ago, had said to him:

"Champ, you look so good, when are you gonna make a comeback?"

Sitting in his wheelchair, Joe flashed that familiar smile of his, the one he used when he didn't want to let anyone know what he was really thinking.

Freddie Sommers, a boxing publicist and one of Louis' closest friends, arranged to have Schmeling visit this country to referee some bouts in 1954. It was Schmeling's first trip back here since Louis had flattened him 18 years before.

Seeking to effect a reconciliation, Sommers brought the former German champion to Louis' home in Chicago.

When Louis had been out playing golf, returned, Sommers got up to greet him and inform him Schmeling was in the living room.

"I don't wanna talk to him," Louis said. "Get rid of him."

"Joe, the war is over," Sommers

reminded him.

Working Mom: 'I Find It Hard To Cook'

By JANE AKERS Herald Correspondent

"As a working mother, I find it hard to cook. There just aren't enough hours in the day," says Pat Shaver. "I have to plan and schedule in order to provide good meals for my family."

This is the era of working women—who have husbands, children, and interests of their own. Pat Shaver is no exception.

Pat and David Shaver have a 15-month-old son, Geoffrey, both work and both have interests and hobbies of their own. Like most young women, Pat keeps herself busy. She is employed by Seminole County where she is secretary to the county librarian. Pat is a member of Theta Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority where she is vice-president elect.

As a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Sanford, she is kindergarten Sunday school teacher. Her hobbies are plants, sewing and family.

"Pat does a lot of meal preparation ahead of time. "I set things out I need for breakfast the night before," says Pat. "When possible, she says she prepares meats and vegetables in the morning and places them in the refrigerator. After work, she just adds them into the oven. The crock pot is a great way to prepare a meat and main vegetables while at work, Pat says.

"David usually gets home before I do," admits Pat. "So he sets the table and gets things started."

When two people work, it takes team work. "David and I like to enjoy ourselves, hobbies and each other. If we work together we have more time for the things we enjoy and love, especially Geoffrey."

Pat suggests the following recipes and most can be prepared ahead of time.

LASAGNA

- 1 lb. ground beef
Small onion
Salt, pepper
2 cup Ragù sauce with meat
6 oz. can tomato paste
1 carton (1 lb.) ricotta cheese
1 lb. sliced Mozzarella cheese
Parmesan cheese
Lasagna noodles

Brown beef with chopped onion, salt and pepper. Mix Ragù, tomato paste and ricotta cheese with meat and simmer until hot. Meanwhile, cook 1/2 lb. lasagna noodles. When ingredients are hot, grease 9x13 pan. Reserve 1 cup Ragù or cheese and sprinkle with parmesan cheese. Bake at 350 degrees for 25-30 minutes.

BARBECUED SPARRERIS

- Place 3 lbs. spareribs in baking pan. Bake 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Pour off fat. Meanwhile, combine 1 cup tomato sauce, 1/2 cup vinegar, 1/2 cup Worcestershire, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 2 tsp. salt, and 1/2 cup celery seed. Baste spareribs with half of sauce. Bake 1 hour uncovered. Turn baste with rest of sauce and continue baking 30-45 minutes or until tender.

'Curry' Leftover Pork, Apples

All cuts of pork are reasonable buys. But, what does one do with leftover pork? Turn it into a very special curried pork with apples. To do this you'll need merely a cup of cubed, cooked pork. Combine this with apple wedges, green beans and cream of chicken soup, plus seasonings for a special dish to serve with rice. Add such condiments as toasted coconut, chopped pepper and sliced green onions to pass.

For a light dessert, serve fresh fruit and almond cookies.

CURRIED PORK WITH APPLES

- 1/2 cup sliced onion
1/4 cup diagonally sliced celery
1 tablespoon cupy powder
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed cream of chicken soup
1/2 cup water
1 cup apple wedges
1 cup cooked cut green beans
1 cup cubed cooked pork
1 teaspoon lemon juice
Cooked rice

In saucepan, cook onion and celery with meat in butter until tender. Add remaining ingredients except rice. Heat; stir occasionally. Serve over rice. 4 servings.

Pat Shaver prepares Black Bottom Pie.

MACARONI BAKE

- 1 cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons margarine
1 can tomato soup
1/2 cup water
1 cup shredded cheese
2 cups cooked macaroni
2 tablespoons butter
Bread crumbs

In pan, cook onion until tender. Stir in soup, water 1/2 cup cheese. Heat until cheese melts. In qt. casserole, mix sauce and macaroni. Top with bread crumbs and rest of cheese.

RUM CUSTARD LAYER

- 3 egg whites
1 cup granulated sugar
cream of Tartar
2 1/2 teaspoons rum
Beat eggs with cream of tartar until moist peaks are formed. Add sugar gradually. Beat until stiff. Carefully fold in rest of custard and rum. Pour on chocolate as much as will hold. Chill. Add rest of rum custard. Top with shaved bitter chocolate.

BLACK BOTTOM PIE

- 1 cup vanilla wafer crumbs
6 teaspoons melted butter
Blend together. Line 9" pie plate. Bake 300 degrees 10 minutes, then chill.
Chocolate Layer:
2 1/2 teaspoon Knox gelatin
1 1/3rd cup milk
2 tablespoons cold water
3 egg yolks
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 1/2 square bitter chocolate
2 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
salt
Sprinkle gelatin on cold water and let soften 5 minutes. Scald milk in double boiler. Beat egg yolks lightly, stir in sugar, cornstarch, salt. Slowly stir in milk. Return to double boiler, cook, stirring over hot, not boiling water until custard coats spoon. Remove from heat, add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Melt chocolate, remove from heat. Stir in slowly half of the custard, add vanilla. Beat until smooth. Cool until little custard drops from spoon moments. Pour into crust. Chill.

Chance Meeting With Shaw Led To Play

It was only a chance meeting with George Bernard Shaw, but it changed the course of Jerome Kilty's life. Kilty, whose play about Shaw, "Dear Liar," starring Jane Alexander and Edward Herrmann airs on PBS tonight, tells it this way.

"During the war, I was a navigator in the U.S. Air Force stationed north of London near Shaw's cottage. Shaw was then near 90 and on a whim one day, a buddy of mine and I bicycled over to his house and knocked on the door. We were told he liked Yanks."

"An ancient gentleman with a walking stick and a long white beard, wearing plus-fours and a Norfolk jacket, appeared. 'He took us around back to show off his studio,' Kilty remembers. 'It was a portable shed on wheels that could be rotated to face the sun as it moved across the sky. It reminded me of a gypsy caravan.'"

Kilty described the interior as an austere, little cell with a high window. Shaw told the visitors he preferred a window without a view because he hated to be distracted.

Kilty admits he knew little about the famous playwright and critic at the time — he was someone from another planet — but he made an impression on the 19-year-old serviceman.

Their meeting was the first in a series of events that led Kilty to write his best known play, "Dear Liar," the story of the correspondence between Shaw and Mrs. Patrick Campbell, the woman he loved and the actress for whom he wrote "Pygmalion," later popularized as "My Fair Lady."

"During the war I met the woman who had smuggled the correspondence between Shaw and Mrs. Patrick Campbell, the woman he loved and the actress for whom he wrote 'Pygmalion,' later popularized as 'My Fair Lady.'"

The letters were eventually returned to Mrs. Patrick Campbell's heirs, but in the early '50s, they were published and Kilty got the idea of writing his play.

It took a lengthy court battle, but Kilty was finally given the rights to produce "Dear Liar."

Kilty and his wife performed readings of the work in progress at first. Later he mounted a big production of the play at the Studebaker Theater in Chicago.

But when Katharine Cornell read the script, she called Kilty and said, "I've read your play and I'm going to do it." Cornell and Brian Aherne toured in it for one year including a three month run in New York.

Since then "Dear Liar" has played all over the world, including 40 different productions in Russia where it's still in the repertory of the Moscow Art Theater.

"In Russia, they say the play illustrates the tragic situations in which we let our artists deteriorate in capitalistic countries," Kilty quips.

Jerome Kilty reviews the script of his play "Dear Liar."

This special production of "Dear Liar," made possible by a grant from Hillmark Curtis Inc., was produced by David Susskind in conjunction with WGBH-Boston.

Easter Is A Time Of Worship, Feasting

Easter is a movable feast and ranks in the Christian world with the celebration of Christmas. Centuries ago, conflicting calendars (lunar and solar) led to our current problem of when this most holy of times will be observed.

The pagan tradition dictated a festival of spring at the vernal equinox, March 20. The Passover or Jewish Pasch is also celebrated during this season of the year.

And it was during the feast of Passover that Jesus, a Jew, was crucified and rose from the dead.

The Christian calendar does not follow the Jewish calendar. There were ancient disputes over ecclesiastical authority, and we learn that the Christians wanted a Holy Week beginning with Palm Sunday, proceeding to Good Friday and ending on Easter Sunday commemorating the resurrection. Thus, Easter may fall anywhere between March 22 and April 25.

However Christian the worship services may be in churches throughout the world at Easter time, pagan elements linger. These are a bow to spring and rebirth following the winter months. The bunny rabbit comes to the forefront as a non-religious symbol at Easter representing, from ancient times, fecundity, and eggs "colored like rays of the returning sun" about.

In many families, the baking of the "hot cross bun" repeats the Christian symbol, the "boon distributed among the faithful," and it would not be Easter without such a bread.

Easter is a time for looking forward. A time of feasting... and one that calls for a gathering of family and friends for a traditional Easter feast, following worship services heralding "Christ is Risen."

PARMESAN CRUMB TOPPING
In small amount of boiling water, separately cook and drain artichoke hearts, carrots, mushrooms and onions. In 1 1/2-quart casserole, toss together cooked vegetables and zucchini. Pour Herb and Lemon Sauce over vegetables. Sprinkle with Parmesan Crumb Topping. Bake, uncovered, in 350-degree oven 30 minutes or until zucchini is tender. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 servings.

HERB AND LEMON SAUCE
In small saucepan, gradually stir 1 cup milk into 1 tablespoon corn starch until smooth. Add 2 tablespoons margarine, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Stirring constantly, bring to boil over medium heat and boil 1 minute. Remove from heat. Stir in 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon dried dill and 1 tablespoon chopped parsley. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 1 1/3 cups sauce.

PARMESAN CRUMB TOPPING
In small bowl, stir together 1/2 cup soft bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons chopped fresh parsley, 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese and 1 tablespoon melted margarine. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 2/3 cup.
(Note: Recipes may be doubled.)

Low Sodium Dish High In Taste Appeal

Table salt, chemically sodium chloride, is about 40 percent sodium. While it plays an active role in many important physiological functions, many health professionals believe Americans consume far too much sodium.

In the past year, the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services issued joint dietary guidelines advising Americans to "avoid too much sodium." The Senate Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs proposed a dietary goal of 5 grams of salt per day, the equivalent of 2 grams of sodium. Americans currently consume 6 to 18 grams of salt per day, much greater than the physiological need.

Cutting down on our sodium consumption does not mean that our diet will become bland and lifeless. Judicious use of spices, herbs and other low-sodium ingredients means that we can keep the sparkle in our meals.

The Cashew Chicken recipe suggested here is a good example of a low-sodium dish that is high in taste appeal. Dry roasted unsalted cashews add their own distinctive flavor to make Cashew Chicken anything but bland.

CASHW CHICKEN
Makes 4 servings

- 2 eggs
  - 1/4 cup unsifted flour
  - 1 tablespoon sugar
  - 1 tablespoon water
  - 2 teaspoons dry sherry
  - 2 whole chicken breasts, skinned, boned and divided
  - 1 cup finely chopped dry roasted unsalted cashews
  - 1 cup peanut oil
- Beat eggs slightly. Add flour, sugar, water and dry sherry; beat until smooth.
- Dip chicken pieces in egg mixture and then coat with chopped dry roasted unsalted cashews. Place on wax paper. Chicken may be covered and refrigerated until just before serving.

Heat peanut oil in a large skillet over high heat to 375 degrees F. Brown chicken in hot oil for 2 to 3 minutes, or until lightly browned. Drain on paper towels. Transfer to shallow baking pan and bake at 325 degrees F. for 20 to 25 minutes, or until done.

DUCKLING GRECIAN STYLE

- 3 lbs. fresh lemon juice
- 1/4 tsp. ground cumin seed
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. ground black pepper
- 1 Wisconsin duckling 4 to 5 lbs.
- 3 lbs. olive oil
- 12 oz. dry red wine
- 13 oz. long grain rice, uncooked
- 1/4 tsp. coriander
- 1 pkg. frozen peas

Blend lemon juice, cumin, salt and pepper. Brush duckling with mixture. Cover with foil. Leave at room temperature 3 hours, or refrigerate for six. Heat oil. Brown duck rapidly over high heat in Dutch oven. Add wine. Simmer for one hour or until tender. Remove duck and strain stock. Return 1 1/2 pints of liquid to pan and bring to boil. Stir in rice. Return to boil. Reduce heat. Cover. Simmer 20 minutes. Stir in coriander, peas and additional salt and pepper. If desired, arrange duckling on top of rice. Cover. Return to heat for 10 minutes (to warm duckling through). Serve with green salad and fresh fruit. Serves 4.

Heat peanut oil in a large skillet over high heat to 375 degrees F. Brown chicken in hot oil for 2 to 3 minutes, or until lightly browned. Drain on paper towels. Transfer to shallow baking pan and bake at 325 degrees F. for 20 to 25 minutes, or until done.

Pears team well with skillet chicken.

Bosc Pears Add A Tang To Entree

There are many ways to prepare chicken and it makes an excellent base for a one-skillet dish.

A different lemony chicken is made with Bosc pears added in the last few minutes of cooking. In this way the pears remain crisp-tender and juicy and add a tang to a simple chicken entree.

Make a sauce from the drippings to spoon over the chicken and fruit. Serve with rice or noodles and a green salad. The russet-toned Bosc are an excellent choice for this dish and for baking since they hold their shape well.

LEMON-PEARLED CHICKEN SUPREME

- 1 (1 1/2 to 3 pound) chicken fryer, cut up
- 1/2 lemon
- Salt, as needed
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 1/4 cup sherry (or chicken stock or water)
- 1 Western Bosc pear, cored and sliced
- 1 or 2 teaspoons flour
- 1/4 to one-third cup water

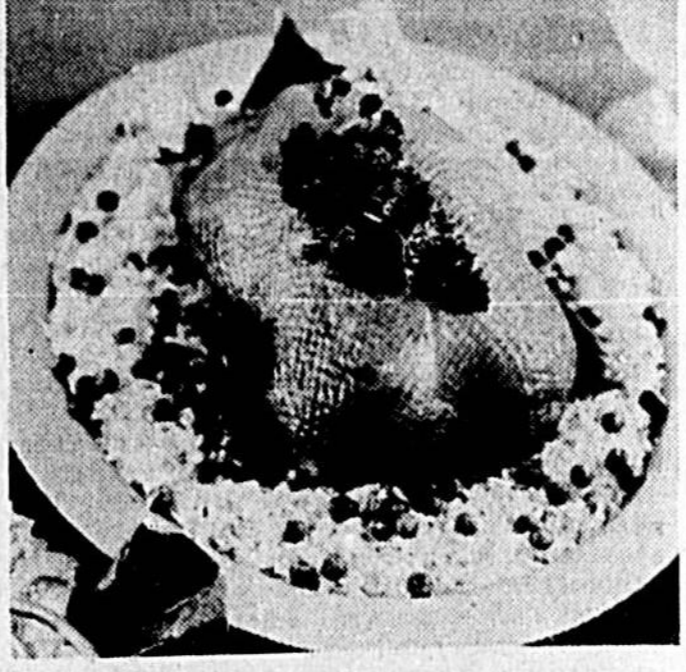

Paprika, if desired

Rub chicken with lemon, squeezing juice onto chicken; sprinkle with salt to taste. Let stand 15 minutes. In skillet, brown chicken well in butter or margarine. Drain excess fat; pour sherry over chicken. Simmer, covered, 30 to 40 minutes or until chicken is tender; turn once during simmering. Add pear, simmer, covered, 5 to 10 minutes or until pear is cooked but firm. Remove chicken and pear to warm serving platter. Blend flour into drippings; cook until thickened. Add water to desired consistency. Spoon sauce over chicken and pear; sprinkle with paprika, if desired. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 3 or 4 servings.

Roasted cashews add their own distinctive flavor to make Chicken Cashew, left, anything but bland.

Braised duckling, Grecian style, right, lightly touched with fragrant cumin, is a one-dish meal with coriander rice and peas.

Set The Passover Table Proudly

Dietary Rules Limit Foods But Not Imagination

The eight-day Passover holidays, which this year begin with sundown April 18 and end April 26, challenge the most creative in Jewish cookery.

This Jewish celebration, commemorating the liberation of the Hebrews from Egyptian slavery more than 3,000 years ago, is unique in its emphasis on the table.

Even with strict dietary rules, some of the most beautiful of Jewish religious ceremonies take place around the dinner table. This makes times preceding the holidays busy for those planning and preparing the Seder and accompanying meals.

Despite these dietary observances, each Passover table is set proudly with an array of tempting dishes. Many will include the traditional gefilte fish (ground fish), tzimmes and potato kugel or pudding during the lovely Passover gatherings.

SPINACH BORSCHIT OR SCHIY
1 pound fresh spinach
6 cups water

- 1 onion, cut in half
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 3 tablespoons freshly squeezed lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon sugar
- 2 eggs, lightly beaten
- 1 cup sour cream (optional dairy)

Suggested Garnishes:
boiled potato, diced hard-cooked-egg, diced-cucumber, sliced scallion, chopped radish

Wash and trim spinach; chop coarsely. In large saucepot or kettle, combine spinach, water, onion and salt. Bring to a boil; simmer 10 minutes. Add lemon juice and sugar; simmer 15 minutes longer. Remove from heat. Remove onion. Add small amount of hot soup to eggs, stirring constantly; return mixture to kettle; mix well. Serve immediately or chill and serve cold. Garnish with sour cream, if a dairy meal, and any or all of the suggested garnishes. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 to 8 servings.

- 2 Granny Smith Apples, unpared, cored, sliced into wedges
- 1 zucchini, unpared, cut into 3-inch strips
- 1 cucumber, sliced
- 2 cups raw broccoli flowerets
- 1 large green pepper, seeded, cut into strips
- 1 small bunch scallions, cut into 3-inch lengths
- 3 ribs celery, cut into 3-inch sticks

ANTIPASTO VERDE:
Arrange apple wedges and vegetables on large serving platter. Garnish with fresh parsley. Serve chilled. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 to 8 servings.

SAVORY APPLE CHEESE:
DIP (Dairy)
1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, softened at room temperature
1/2 cup sour cream
3 tablespoons minced scallions
2 tablespoons minced parsley

BEST RELISH
2 tablespoons lime juice
1 Granny Smith apple, pared and shredded
Beat cream cheese until fluffy; beat in sour cream, scallions, parsley, lime juice and salt. Fold in shredded apple. Cover. Chill 1 hour before serving. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 1 1/2 cups dip.

STUFFED SEDER CHICKEN BREASTS
2 cups small pieces broken matzo
1/2 cup orange juice
1/4 cup parve margarine divided
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped celery
2 eggs, beaten
1/4 cup finely chopped fresh parsley
1 teaspoon salt
4 large whole chicken breasts, boned, split
Orange Sauce

Place broken matzo in large bowl; add orange juice; set aside. In a large skillet, over medium-high heat, melt 2 tablespoons margarine. Sauté onion and celery until tender; add to matzo mixture.

Add eggs, parsley, and salt, mix well. Place chicken breasts, skin-side-down, between two sheets of waxed paper. Pound until 1/4-inch thick. Place about 1/4 cup matzo stuffing in center of each breast. Fold sides over and fasten with food picks. Melt remaining 2 tablespoons margarine in same skillet, sauté chicken breasts until lightly brown. Place in shallow baking pan. Cover with aluminum foil. Bake in a 350-degree oven 40 to 45 minutes or until tender. Remove food picks. Serve with Orange Sauce. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 8 servings.

ORANGE SAUCE:
2 tablespoons parve margarine
1-3rd cup chopped onion
1/2 cup orange juice
2 tablespoons potato starch
1 can (1 1/2 ounces) chicken broth
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
3 oranges, sectioned

In medium saucepan, melt margarine; sauté onion until tender. Combine orange juice and potato starch, stir into onion mixture. Add chicken broth, salt and paprika. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring constantly. Boil 1 minute. Add orange sections. Serve immediately. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 3 cups.

CARROT SOUFFLE:
2 cups lightly packed grated raw carrots
2 tablespoons matzo meal
1/2 cup sugar
8 eggs, separated
1/2 cup potato starch
Grated rind of 1 orange
1/2 cup orange juice

In a large bowl, mix carrots, matzo meal, sugar, egg yolks, potato starch, orange rind and juice. In a small bowl, beat egg whites until peaks form that are stiff but not dry. Fold egg whites into orange-carrot mixture. Turn into a well-greased 3-quart casserole and bake, uncovered, in 350-degree oven for 40 minutes, until a knife inserted in center comes out clean. Serve hot or cold. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 to 8 servings.

GOLDEN TZIMMES
2 cups sliced carrots
1 cup pared, cubed white potatoes
1 cup pored, cubed winter squash (butternut, acorn or Hubbard)
1 1/2 cups pored, cubed sweet potatoes
1-3rd cup frozen concentrated orange juice, thawed, undiluted
1 cup honey
1/4 cup water
1/4 cup parve margarine, melted
1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg
Dash ground cinnamon

In large saucepan, steam carrots and white potatoes 10 minutes; steam 10 minutes longer. (Add more water if needed.) Drain vegetables; arrange in a 2-quart casserole. In a small bowl, combine concentrated orange juice, honey, water, margarine, salt, nutmeg and cinnamon; pour over vegetables; mix well. Bake in a 350-degree oven 50 minutes. Baste often with orange mixture during baking. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 servings.

SWEET POTATO AND PRUNE TZIMMES (Makes 8 servings)
1 package (12 oz.) pitted dried prunes
2 cups boiling water
2 tablespoons peanut oil
2 pounds lean beef cubes
1/4 cup chopped onion
3/4 cup water
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
1/4 cup honey
2 whole cloves
1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 tablespoon potato starch

Place prunes in a small bowl. Cover with boiling water; set aside. Heat 2 tablespoons peanut oil in a Dutch oven over medium high heat. Brown beef cubes, in several batches, removing from pot when done. Add remaining oil to pot and sauté onion until tender. Return meat with water, salt and pepper to Dutch oven. Bring mixture to a boil, cover, 1 1/2 hours more, or until meat is tender. Remove 1 cup broth from stew and combine with potato starch until smooth. Return mixture to pot; cook and stir until stew is thickened.

Make Main Dish Salad Day Ahead

If you're looking for an entree that requires no last-minute preparation, try Make-Ahead Dinner Salad. You can make this satisfying main dish salad early in the day or a day ahead. When supper time arrives, it will be ready and waiting in the refrigerator.

This time-saving salad is a great way to include plenty of protein and vitamins in a meal. It's a colorful collage of hard-cooked eggs, chicken and a variety of crisp vegetables. Mandarin orange slices and a zesty curry dressing top it off tastefully.

For family or guests serve Make-Ahead Dinner Salad with your favorite bread and beverage to complete an appetizing meal.

This fresh-as-spring salad won't wilt your budget, either. That's because the main ingredient — eggs — are always an economical protein buy.

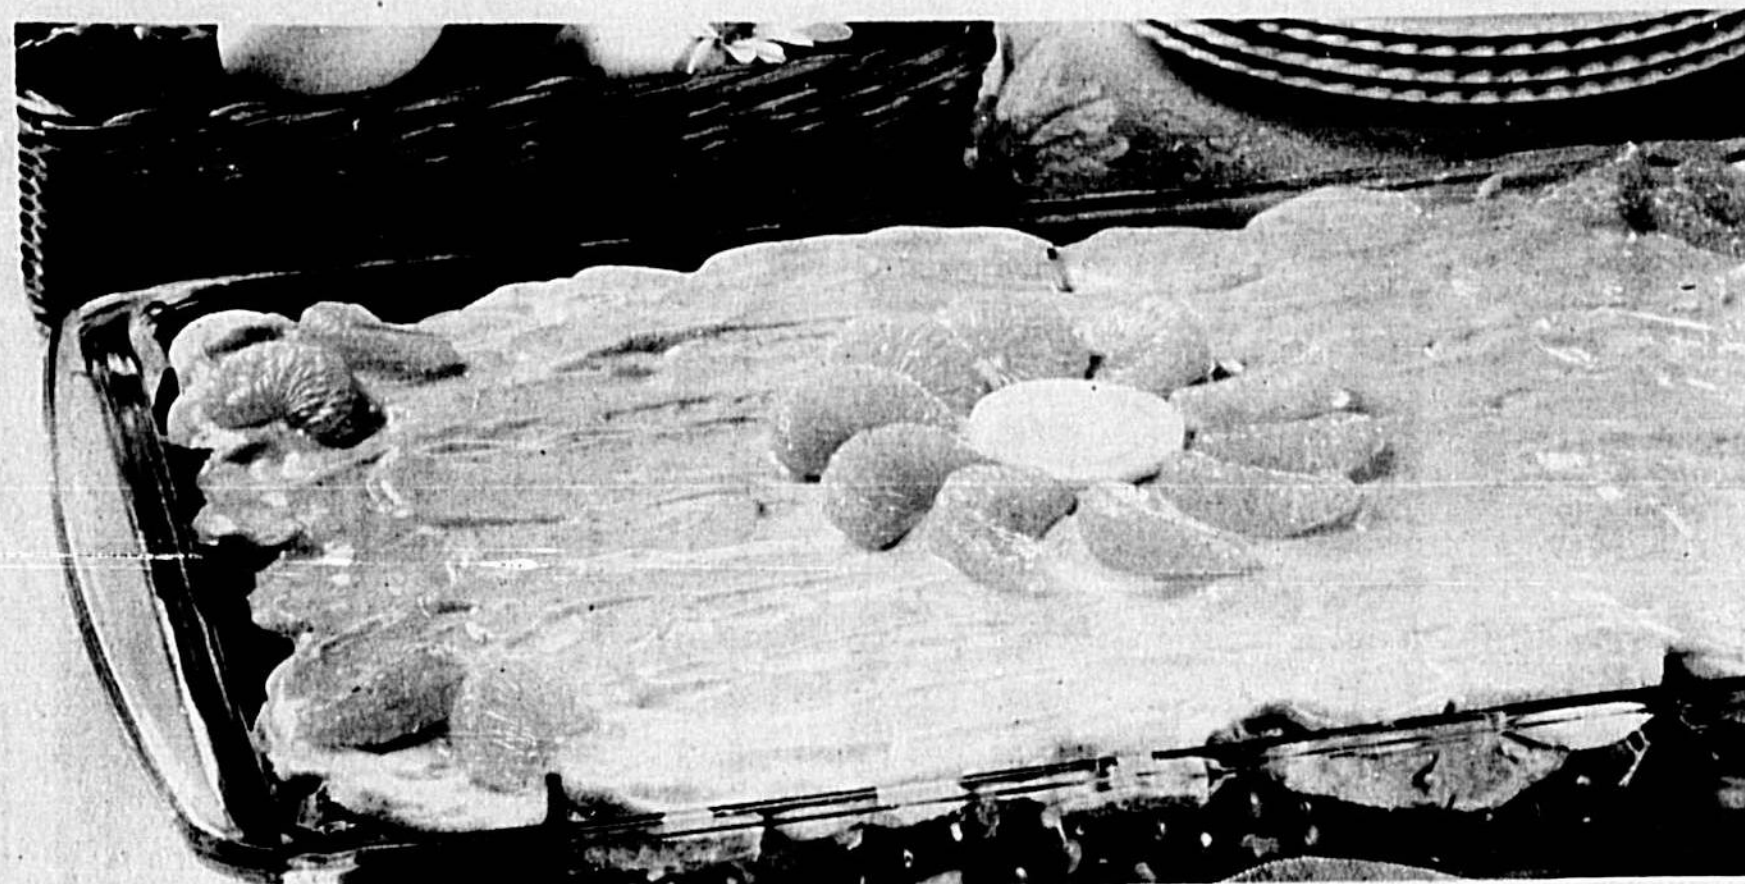

If you want to save both time and money, prepare Make-Ahead Dinner Salad tonight... and enjoy it tomorrow!

MAKE-AHEAD DINNER SALAD

- 1 can (11 oz.) mandarin orange segments
- 1 1/2 cups mayonnaise
- 2 teaspoons curry powder
- 1/4 teaspoon ground coriander
- 4 oz. fresh spinach, washed and drained (about 4 cups)
- 8 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
- 1 medium cucumber, peeled, halved lengthwise and sliced 1/4 cup chopped red onion
- 1 can (8 oz.) sliced water chestnuts, drained
- 1 1/2 cups chopped cooked chicken OR 2 cans (5 oz. each) boned chicken, undrained
- 1 package (10 oz.) frozen peas (separated by rapping on counter)

Drain oranges, reserving 2 tablespoons of syrup. Set aside. Blend together mayonnaise, curry powder, coriander and reserved syrup. Set aside. Tear spinach into bite-sized pieces and place in 13 x 9 x 2-inch casserole or serving dish. Reserve 1 center egg slice for garnish. Layer remaining ingredients over spinach, ending with egg layer. Spread reserved mayonnaise mixture evenly over salad and garnish with reserved orange segments and egg slice. Cover and refrigerate several hours or overnight. For each serving, serve a portion of all layers.

To hard-cook, put eggs in single layer in saucepan. Add enough tap water to come at least 1 inch above eggs. Cover and quickly bring just to boiling. Turn off heat. If necessary, remove pan from burner to prevent further boiling. Let eggs stand covered in the hot water 15 to 17 minutes for Large eggs. (Adjust time up or down by about 3 minutes for each size larger or smaller.) Immediately run cold water over eggs or put them in ice water until completely cooled. To remove shell, crackle it by tapping gently all over. Roll egg between hands to loosen shell, then peel, starting at large end. Hold egg under running cold water or dip in bowl of water to help ease off shell. YIELD: 8 servings.

This time-saving salad is a colorful collage of hard-cooked eggs, chicken, a variety of crisp vegetables, Mandarin orange slices and zesty curry dressing.

1 pound fresh mushrooms
6 tablespoons butter or margarine, divided
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup diced celery
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
1 1/2 teaspoons salt, divided
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper, divided
1 pound fish fillets

Rinse, pat dry and slice mushrooms (make about 3/4 cups). In a large skillet, melt 4 tablespoons of the butter. Add onion and celery; saute until tender, about 3 minutes. Add mushrooms; saute until golden about 5 minutes. Add tomato sauce, 1/2 teaspoon of the salt and 1/4 teaspoon of the black pepper. Bring to boiling point; reduce heat and simmer, uncovered, for 5 minutes.

Preheat oven to 350-degrees. Sprinkle fish with remaining 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon black pepper; dot with remaining 2 tablespoons butter. Roll up; secure with toothpicks if necessary. Spoon half of the tomato-mushroom sauce in bottom of a greased 10-by-4-by-2-inch baking pan. Place fish rolls on top; pour remaining sauce over fish. Cover and bake until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork, about 20 minutes. (If a thicker sauce is desired, bake uncovered for last 10 minutes.) Serve with rice and bread sticks. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 portions.

Mushroom Sauce

"Fish dinners will make a man spring like a flea," went the line of a 17th-century song once dear to Sir Henry Morgan's buccanera.

The buccanera were on the right track, because fish Morgan can make a diner feel energetic. Savoring such homemade delicacies as fish turbans with mushroom celery sauce or fish steaks with mushroom caper sauce may not have you bounding up the Matterhorn immediately, but fish is an important ingredient in a healthful diet.

These are practical dishes since both the fish and the sauce cook quickly. Use fresh or canned mushrooms; in either case they're cooked in a couple of minutes, ready for completing the sauce. If you like, you may add other vegetables such as peas, diced zucchini or diced eggplant. If capers are not readily available in your area, substitute a finely diced sour pickle for that extra tang.

FISH TURBANS WITH MUSHROOM CELERY SAUCE

1 pound fresh mushrooms
6 tablespoons butter or margarine, divided
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup diced celery
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
1 1/2 teaspoons salt, divided
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper, divided
1 pound fish fillets

Rinse, pat dry and slice mushrooms (make about 3/4 cups). In a large skillet, melt 4 tablespoons of the butter. Add onion and celery; saute until tender, about 3 minutes. Add mushrooms; saute until golden about 5 minutes. Add tomato sauce, 1/2 teaspoon of the salt and 1/4 teaspoon of the black pepper. Bring to boiling point; reduce heat and simmer, uncovered, for 5 minutes.

Preheat oven to 350-degrees. Sprinkle fish with remaining 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon black pepper; dot with remaining 2 tablespoons butter. Roll up; secure with toothpicks if necessary. Spoon half of the tomato-mushroom sauce in bottom of a greased 10-by-4-by-2-inch baking pan. Place fish rolls on top; pour remaining sauce over fish. Cover and bake until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork, about 20 minutes. (If a thicker sauce is desired, bake uncovered for last 10 minutes.) Serve with rice and bread sticks. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 portions.

MUSHROOM CAPER CAUSE FOR FISH STEAKS

1 pound fresh mushrooms
6 individual fish steaks (cod, halibut, etc.)
4 tablespoons butter or margarine, divided
1/2 teaspoon salt, divided
1/4 teaspoon ground white pepper
About 1 cup milk
3 tablespoons capers, drained

Preheat oven to 350-degrees. Rinse, pat dry and slice mushrooms (make about 3/4 cups); set aside. Place fish in a greased 10-by-4-by-2-inch baking pan. Dot with 1 tablespoon of the butter; sprinkle with 1 teaspoon of the salt and the white pepper. Cover and bake until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork, about 20 minutes. Pour fish stock from baking pan into a 2-cup measuring cup. Add enough milk to the fish stock to make 2 cups liquid. Cover fish and keep warm.

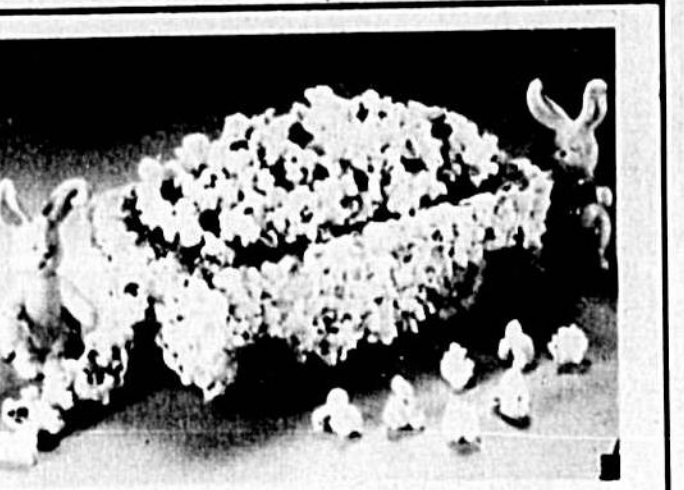

In a large saucepan, melt remaining 3 tablespoons butter. Add sliced mushrooms; saute for 3 minutes. Add flour; cook and stir for 1 minute. Blend in fish stock mixture, capers and remaining 1/2 teaspoon salt. Bring to the boiling point. Cook and stir until sauce is thickened, about 1 minute. Pour over fish steaks; serve with lemon wedges, if desired. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 portions.

Create An Edible Wagon For Easter

We all enjoy spring with its special symbols. Daffodils, crocuses and azaleas burst into bloom; Easter bunnies appear everywhere along with new spring wardrobes. Children especially relish a chance to enjoy sweet treats. Here's an edible Easter wagon sculptured from popcorn. We've used the easy pop-in-the-pan kind, then filled it with popcorn, raisins and colored coconut... everything is edible and delicious.

EASTER WAGON

- 1 pan (5 oz.) popcorn
  - 1 cup sugar
  - 1/2 cup corn syrup
  - 1/2 cup water
  - 1 to 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
  - 1 cup dry raisins
  - 1 cup dry roasted peanuts
  - 1 can (3 1/2 oz.) flaked coconut
  - green vegetable dye
- Prepare popcorn according to package directions. Save out two popped cups; pour remainder into large bowl or pan. Heat sugar, corn syrup and water in saucepan to 245-degrees - 250-degrees F, or until a drop of syrup forms a hard ball in cold water. Save some syrup for attaching decorations; pour remaining syrup over popcorn and mix thoroughly with two large spoons.

The coated popcorn is now ready to form into a wagon. Grease the insides of a 3"x9" baking pan. Grease hands also. Pack the popcorn around the insides of baking pan to form a 1" thick shell. Form a handle by rolling popcorn into a rope, curving slightly. Allow popcorn to sit for 15 to 20 minutes. Meantime, follow directions on can for coloring coconut. Allow coconut to dry. Remove wagon from baking dish. Attach legs for wheels. Place dyed coconut in bottom to resemble grass. Mix remaining popcorn, raisins and peanuts. Four over coconut.

Lemon Glaze Tops Banana Cheesecake

Cheesecake, for some reason, is thought of as an Italian delicacy. Actually, it stems from a traditional dish of 17th and 18th century Britain and Ireland. Open tarts were made with pastry filled with a blend of cream, egg yolks, lemon or orange juice or pureed fruit, and were all referred to as "cheesecakes." The homemade version soon gave way to pastry shop versions in later eras. Would familiar?

Homemade cheesecakes today are made quickly with a shell or crust that is not baked. This version has bananas folded into the body of the cake and bananas used as a topping. The cheesecake is topped with a special lemon glaze.

BANANA CHEESECAKE SUPREME

- 1 cup graham cracker crumbs, divided
  - 2 1/2 cup sugar, divided
  - 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
  - 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
  - 2 eggs, separated
  - 1/2 cup milk
  - 2 teaspoons lemon juice
  - 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
  - 3 cups (24 ounces) cottage cheese
  - 5 medium bananas, divided
  - 1 cup heavy cream, whipped
- Combine 1/4 cup cracker crumbs and 2 tablespoons sugar; blend in butter. Press mixture evenly on the bottom of a 9-inch springform pan. Chill.
- Mix gelatin and remaining sugar in medium saucepan. Beat together egg yolks and milk; stir into gelatin mixture. Stir over low heat, until gelatin is completely dissolved, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat, stir in lemon juice and rind. Beat cottage cheese on high speed of electric mixer until smooth, 4 to 5 minutes; gradually beat in gelatin mixture. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry; fold into gelatin mixture. Peel 2 bananas and dice; fold into gelatin mixture. Fold in whipped cream. Pour into prepared pan. Chill until firm, about 3 hours. Remove sides of pan. Press remaining 1/4 cup crumbs around sides of pan.
- Peel 3 bananas and cut into slices; dip in Lemon Glaze. Arrange slices in rings on top of cheesecake starting at outside rim of cake and working toward the center. Chill 30 minutes before serving. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 12 servings.

Bananas make cheesecake supreme.

This Cornbread Needs Kneading

There is no mystery involved in turning out loaves of crusty, fragrant bread, just a little time and practice. Once your kitchen takes on the aroma of homemade yeast breads, and after you've sampled that first tender bite, you may never go back to store-bought again.

Basically, yeast breads contain six simple ingredients; yeast makes the dough rise; flour provides the structure; liquids give moistness and a warm environment for dissolving the yeast; sugar provides food for the yeast to grow; salt slows down the action of the yeast and adds flavor; fats give bread its tenderness, taste and moist texture.

From those basic six ingredients, a whole host of breads can be prepared by simply changing the proportions and type of flour used. Add extra ingredients such as herbs, spices, cheese, nuts, seeds, dried fruit or ripe olives, and the variations are endless.

HEARTY OLIVE CORNBREAD

- 1 1/4 cups very hot water
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1 package active dry yeast
- 1 1/2 cups pitted ripe olives, drained
- 1 1/4-ounce can chopped green chilies
- 1/2 cup yellow cornmeal
- 4 1/2 to 5 cups all purpose flour

In large mixing bowl, add hot water to butter, sugar and salt. Stir until butter melts. Let mixture cool to about 110 degrees, then stir in yeast; cover and let rise in warm place until bubbly, about 15 minutes.

Chop olives coarsely. Stir in olives, chilies, yellow cornmeal and enough flour to make a thick dough (about 3 cups). Turn dough onto heavily floured board and knead until dough is smooth and elastic and has lost most of its stickiness (10 to 20 minutes), adding more flour as needed. Shape dough into a ball, place in greased bowl, cover and let rise until double, about 1 1/2 hours.

Punch dough down; knead several times. Shape into two loaves and place each in a greased 8 1/2-inch pan, cover, let rise in a warm place until almost doubled, about 45 minutes.

Bake in 375 degree oven for 30-35 minutes or until loaves are browned and sound hollow when tapped. Cool on racks before serving or storing. Makes 2 loaves.

Variation: Add 1 cup shredded cheddar cheese to yeast mixture along with olives and chilies.

HOROSCOPE

By BEHNICE BEDE OSOL

For Thursday, April 16, 1981

April 16, 1981
You're the type who strives to be independent and doesn't like to rely upon others. Fortunately, however, this coming year you will have the right people to lean on when you need them.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
Your understanding of propositions brought to you today may not initially be accurate. Pause to gather all the facts, then your judgment will be wise. Romance travel, luck, resources, possible pitfalls and careers for the coming months are all discussed in your Astro-Graph which begins with your birthday. Mail #1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10101. Be sure to specify with date.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
Take time to think your steps through before tackling complicated projects today. You're a good worker once you get everything organized.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
You may have some annoyances to contend with early in the day, but things should smooth out by afternoon. Hang loose for fun times ahead.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
Ways can be found today to resolve a situation which has been disturbing you. Luck may have a hand in bringing about a happy ending.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
Something unexpected may develop today which could spell personal gains. It has more potential than is obvious at first glance, so study it carefully.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
You're likely to be cleverer and more fortunate than usual today in turning unproductive situations around into something more to your liking.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Conditions are taking a turn for the better. Unmanageable situations will be back in your control once again. Assert yourself.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
Everything comes into who suits in your favor today. Others will be busy shifting things around for your ultimate benefit.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
Business and pleasure tend to blend well for you today. If you're trying to swing a big deal, discuss it in other than a commercial atmosphere.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
You may not be able to achieve all you hoped to today on your first effort, but don't let this disappoint you. Marshal your forces. Charge a second time for victory.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
This should be a successful day because of your ability to treat disturbing situations philosophically. Your attitude is a winner.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
You could be in for a pleasant surprise today when someone usually not supportive of you rallies to your banner. You've gained a valuable ally.

Irregular Period Common In Teens

DEAR DR. LAMB — My daughter is 16 years old. She has never had sex or been involved with pills. She has had her period since she was 14, but all of a sudden it stopped. She hasn't had it for three months. We took her to a gynecologist and she was examined for cysts or tumors or pregnancy. All results were negative. Now he wants her back in a month if her period does not come.

My daughter refuses to have any more examinations. Will her periods begin again anyway? What kind of treatment would the doctor give her? I don't want her to get involved with pills as I understand most pills are cancerous. I have raised her to keep away from all kinds of pills and drugs.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have dark circles under my eyes. I understand this results from being thin skinned. Is there any way besides makeup to eliminate this problem? I am about 10 pounds overweight. I wish I could get rid of this problem for good.

DEAR READER — There are many reasons for a young woman to stop having menstrual periods. It is common for a girl to be irregular at the beginning of sexual maturity. Starting and then stopping is not unusual.

You were correct in having an examination. Sometimes a hormone imbalance will cause this. Depending upon the nature of the imbalance, the doctor may want to prescribe some hormones. If he did prescribe medicines you could be fairly certain they would be some form of hormones to stimulate the onset of menstruation or to help to regulate her. These are not cancerous in the amounts needed for such purposes.

I can't say if she needs them. She may not. Many young girls stop menstruating or delay the onset because they are too thin. We see that in women athletes and in ballet dancers who have very scant fat deposits.

Airman's Medal For Heroism Given Former Sanford Man

By SYBIL MITCHELL GANDY
Herald Staff Writer

A former Sanford resident has become the latest hero in Washington after his daring attempt to save a man whose truck had just plunged 50 feet from a bridge into the Potomac River.

And last Tuesday's award ceremony to present Staff Sergeant Peter J. Stankiewicz with the U.S. Air Force Airman's Medal For Heroism was just one in a constant stream of honors and distinctions he's received since the March 17 rescue.

Residents in the nation's capital will long remember how Stankiewicz endangered his own life in an attempt to save Arthur B. Wright, a 56-year-old truck driver.

Stankiewicz was driving to work that morning when a tractor-trailer suddenly jack-knifed through the safety rail of the Cabin John Bridge, sending the cab of the truck and its driver plunging some 50 feet into the Potomac River.

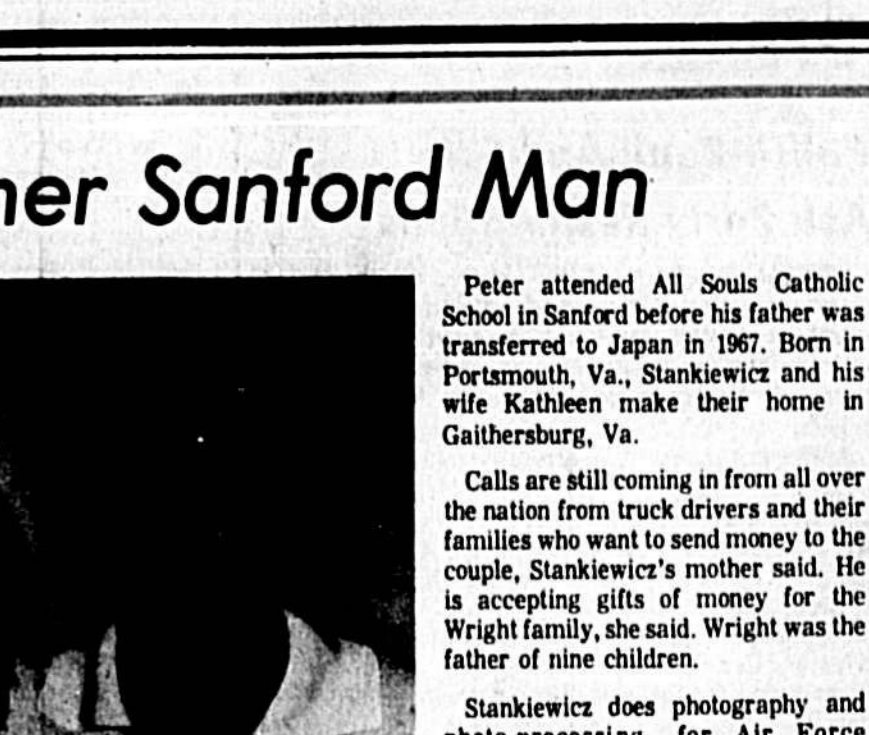

Stankiewicz was near the Great Falls, Va., side of the bridge, going in the opposite direction when he stopped his car and scrambled down the river's embankment, initiating a four-man rescue attempt to save Wright's life.

The truck driver was trapped and unconscious in the partially submerged cab. With winds of 28 to 46 miles per hour, Stankiewicz was the first rescuer into the 35-degree water, officials said.

Three unidentified motorists who had also stopped on the bridge, followed Stankiewicz down the embankment, and the four worked Wright free of the wreckage in minutes.

But the driver, who was submerged at the time rescuers got to him, never regained consciousness, despite efforts by Stankiewicz and the others to revive him with mouth-to-mouth and cardiopulmonary resuscitation methods.

PETER J. STANKIEWICZ

Peter attended All Souls Catholic School in Sanford before his father was transferred to Japan in 1967. Born in Portsmouth, Va., Stankiewicz and his wife Kathleen make their home in Gaithersburg, Va.

Calls are still coming in from all over the nation from truck drivers and their families who want to send money to the couple, Stankiewicz's mother said. He is accepting gifts of money for the Wright family, she said. Wright was the father of nine children.

Stankiewicz does photography and photo-processing for Air Force Defense Intelligence.

Katherine Williams, 6, of Sanford, proudly displays her first prize for finding more eggs, (32 of 'em) than anyone else in her age group during an Easter egg hunt held for families of Sentinelle Memorial Hospital employees. Sixty dozen eggs were hidden for the hunt staged for children 1 to 10-years-old. Prizes were given those who found the most eggs or a silver egg and each child received a candy-filled plastic egg. ## State Can Block Land Development Without Buying Property, Court Says

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — The Florida Supreme Court said today the state can block the development of private land to protect valuable wetlands and prevent water pollution without having to condemn and buy the property.

The court overruled the 1st District Court of Appeal, which ordered the Cabinet to approve the construction of a multimillion-dollar condominium city on a mangrove-wetlands area near Fort Myers or purchase the property.

The justices did order the Cabinet to take another look at the case and tell the developer, Estuary Properties Inc., exactly what it could do to minimize environmental damage and proceed with construction.

15 Trapped By Explosion Rescuers Trying To Reach Miners

REDSTONE, Colo. (UPI) — Rescue teams fighting to reach 15 miners trapped more than a mile underground by a violent mountain coal mine explosion were reported making slow progress and were still at least 1,400 feet away from the accident site shortly after dawn today.

The blast, believed caused by methane gas at the MidContinent Resource Inc. Dutch Creek No. 1 Mine, occurred shortly before the end of the day shift late Wednesday afternoon.

Seven other miners walked out or were rescued.

"There really isn't much new to report at this time," said mine accountant Jeff Lyle at 9 a.m. (EST). "The situation is progressing. The last we heard, the rescue teams were about 1,400 feet away."

Mine officials said the work of the rescue teams had been extremely slow because of the need to restore ventilation as they moved down the tunnel. They have been no signs of life from the missing miners since the explosion, and authorities have refused to speculate on the men's chances.

"They're rotating crews and working their way slowly to the place where the accident occurred," said company spokesman and attorney Bob Delaney. "They're restoring ventilation as they go and that's what is taking so long."

The miners who were able to escape were all closer to the surface when the blast occurred. Three were taken to Valley View Hospital at Glenwood Springs, about 30 miles to the north, where one was in serious condition.

Delaney said there was no apparent cave-in caused by the explosion, but said the main worry for the missing miners — if they survived the blast — was the possibility of asphyxiation by deadly methane or carbon monoxide gas. He said methane is common in mines in the area.

"Those are very gassy mines," Delaney said, explaining the company uses large fans outside the mine to suck

Officials Pampering Panda Pair

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ling-Ling, the National Zoo's female panda, was too tired Wednesday night to meet her cousin, Chia-Chia, so staff members (UPI) said she would try to bring the two together today.

Ling-Ling is ready for mating and zoo spokesman Michael Morgan said she may stay in heat for only another 24 hours or so. He said it would be necessary "to make hay while the sun shines."

Morgan said Ling-Ling was too tired Wednesday to even leave her den, which disappointed zoo officials who hoped the pandas "would pick up where they left off (Tuesday) and maybe get a little further."

The two growled and cuffed at each other in their first encounter Tuesday.

Chia-Chia was brought over from London Zoo this spring, because Ling-Ling and her American partner, Hsing-Hsing, had failed to produce a cub after six years of trying.

County Will Make Park Improvements

Construction is to begin immediately on a water plant and two sports fields at Sylvan Lake Park south of W. State Road 46 off Lake Markham Road in the Paola area.

County Commissioners agreed to spend $40,000 in budgeted county funds to build the water plant and the ball fields with the hope that a federal grant will reimburse the county for half the cost.

County Administrator Roger Neiswander said today the work has to begin immediately if the fields are to be in operation by fall. "For the fields to be useable, grass has to be planted and the grass to grow we had to have available water," Neiswander said, explaining the need for the water plant.

The county administrator said a grant to pay a good portion of the costs of this project is being sought from the state and federal government. Neiswander said the grant is approvable by the federal authorities, but is currently hung

Heathrow On Lake Mary Agenda

It's on the agenda, but there's no guarantee an ordinance to annex the 1,600-acre Heathrow planned unit development will come up for discussion at the Lake Mary City Council meeting tonight.

The matter was set for a vote at the council's March 12 and 26 meetings, but was tabled when City Attorney Gary Massey asked for a delay, but would not publicly reveal his reasons for so doing.

The city lost its initial effort to annex the property when a circuit court ruled the move would create enclaves — pockets of county land surrounded by city property — which are prohibited by state law. That case is under appeal.

Also tonight, the council is scheduled to rearrange the city's water rate structure, a move which could result in slightly higher water bills for some users.

And Seminole County Administrator Roger Neiswander will outline plans for the widening of several roads in and around Lake Mary.

The council will meet at 7:30 p.m. in city hall, 165 E. Crystal Lake Avenue.

Judiciary Needs Entire Courthouse, Judges Say

The entire Seminole County courthouse at Sanford, including the old jail, parking areas and grounds, will be needed for county and circuit court functions and the offices of the clerk, the state attorney and public defender by October, 1985.

Seven of the county's eight resident county and circuit judges sent to the county commission a resolution citing this need.

In the interim four years the judges are asking the commission to hire an architect or planning group to determine whether the space which is available is suitable and adequate for conversion of:

- Existing county commission chambers to a jury trial courtroom with jury room, conference room and two witness rooms.
- Remaining space to a two and possibly three judge suite with chambers, hearing rooms, secretarial rooms, a shared waiting room and offices for court administrative personnel.

The entire east side for the orderly move of the clerk's present personnel and uses from this area to the same or additional areas on the first floor of the north wing. Judicial needs here would be either the law library or domestic relations commissioner's office, the trial clerk's office and official court reporter.

The area now occupied by the law library, Judge Joe Davis' chambers and the trial clerk's office to an additional jury trial courtroom and judge's suite with chambers, hearing room, secretarial room, waiting room and provisions for receptionist, access, passageways and toilet. Law library to be the subject of a lawsuit.

The area in the old jail which was occupied by the kitchen to a grand jury room, offices for court personnel, juvenile coordinator, juvenile secretary, criminal division secretary, juvenile arbitration coordinator, guardian ad litem coordinator.

In the resolution the judges declared the conversion of the entire courthouse to judicial functions and renovations in the interim are "determined to be necessary for the operation of the circuit and county courts of this county."

The judges submitted their recommendations as part of the on-going hearings the county commissioners have been having with various county departments where each department was asked what it believes is a first priority in their area.

The commissioners have taken all the recommendations under advisement, and are to make decisions on whether the items can be budgeted in the 1982 fiscal year.

When construction of the new county courthouse was planned in the mid and late 1960s, an architect said the structure should be adequate for 10 years.

However, construction was delayed while the project was the subject of a lawsuit.

The lawsuit questioned whether Sanford was the legal county seat. In 1971 the lawsuit was resolved with a Florida Supreme Court ruling that Sanford is the county seat and the courthouse had to be built in Sanford.

In December, 1972, county and court offices were moved into the courthouse.

Clerk of the Court Arthur H. Beckwith Jr. pointed out today that two events after the new courthouse opened had devastating results as far as space in the facility was concerned.

First article V of the Florida Constitution went into effect consolidating the court systems into two tiers — circuit and county — placing all responsibility for providing space for the restructured system on county government. Secondly, he said, Seminole's population grew by 115 percent between 1970 and 1980.

Signing the resolution were Circuit Judges Kenneth M. Laffler, chief judge; S. Joseph Davis Jr., Vernon Mize Jr. and Dominick J. Sall and County Judges Alan Dickey, Wallace Hall and Harold F. Johnson, all resident judges in Seminole. Only Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor did not sign the resolution.

Laffler said today the need for additional space for court functions has been there for sometime. He pointed out that currently new Judge Vernon Mize Jr. has only a hearing room and does not have a chambers.

"When Judge Davis and I determined not to participate in sentence negotiations with criminal defendants, the result was that we were compelled to try more cases. The case load has been building," Judge Laffler said.

"We would like to switch some other judges to trying criminal cases, but we do not have the courthouses to do this," Laffler said.

Commissioners have discussed moving county administrative operations to the Five Points area.
