Happy is the man who believes that the training of his children in the way of truth and righteousness will secure for his nation the stability that is so needed in this modern day. The puritans and the Pilgrims built a nation centered about the family, and no matter what may be said about the blue laws of New England, America has not suffered by them. It is the laxness of all law that is filling our reformatories and prisons with lawbreakers scarcely out of their teens. Maybe we should take a long look at "old-fashioned"

Longwood Council Action

By DONNA ESTES

The rezoning of properties west of north SR 427 to the city's highest residential classification (R-1) was delayed again. The item, petitioned by the majority of the property owners and left hanging for the past four to five months, was rescheduled for public hearing on Sept. 28.

Council Chairman Eugene Jaques told the board the city attorney informed that under state law property owners within the area must be sent notices of the impending action. Councilman E. E. Williamson questioned whether property owners in areas to be rezoned in the past have been notified and Jaques answered, "no." He explained, however, that city law does not require the personal notice, but since court litigation by an owner in that area is being contemplated, the state law should be adhered to. City Clerk Onnie Shomate said the chore of determining the legal descriptions and current owners of land in the large Ned Julian Jr., sitting in for City Attorney S. Joseph Davis Jr., was instructed to prepare a resolution requested by the Central Florida Historic Preservation Society indicating the city's cooperative spirit and endorsement of the organization's efforts.

Mrs. Betty Jo McLeod, president of the organization, said the resolution, when prepared and adopted, will assist the society with its funding. She again explained the 100 by 100 feet lot to the rear of the wrought iron shop and across the street from the hotel will be sufficient in size as a site for the old Bradlee-McIntyre (Grant) House. The inside-outside house, considered the first pre-fabricated structure in the area, built in the 1880's will be moved to the city at the same time and be placed on the lot between Christ Episcopal Church and the Civic League Building, she said.

Williamson said the historic zoning, adopted for the downtown section of the city last year, was done in good faith to build up and improve the city. But, he added, he would like to have a definite date set for completion of restoration of the outside of the Grant House when it is moved from its original site in Altamonte Springs. Approval for the location of an artist's retail gift shop in the building next to the Hattaway real estate office on SR 434 was given by the City Council. A major sales item in the store is to be plaster of paris sculptures made on the site.

Budget Work Begins

City Council is to begin work in earnest beginning Sept. 28 on the budget for the fiscal year which starts Nov. 1. Copies of all department requests were made available to each of the councilmen last night. Councilman Williamson asked that the individual members of the board be given plenty of time to study the requests to determine where fat can be cut from the budget. Development of the last three play grounds for the city's children was approved by the board with authorization for purchase of $975 worth of equipment for the Church Street

Rate Hike Studied

Adoption of an ordinance raising the water rates for residents of the city from 21 per cent for minimum users to 80 per cent for certain commercial users was delayed for further study by the Council. The increase in rates for users of 5,000 to 10,000 gallons monthly under the ordinance is 66 per cent. According to attorney Julian, City Engineer William Palm reports the rates set forth are compatible with his suggestions. Williamson, is urging the ordinance be tabled, agreed the rates should certainly be raised a little, but indicated he needed time to read and study the ordinance.

Charter Vote Planned

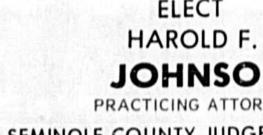

The proposed new charter for the city may be unveiled in its entirety at the Sept. 14 meeting of the City Council, it was announced. Under the homerule provisions of the state constitution, the charter must be adopted by ordinance prior to being placed on the ballot for approval of the electorate, attorney Ned Julian informed the board.

However, Mayor Kenneth Brown's hopes that the charter could be placed on the ballot in mid-September appeared dashed when Councilman William Klosky said Supervisor of Elections Camilla Bruce's office requires 30-days notice before any item can be put on the ballot. A mid or late-October date for a referendum on the Little could that oldtime craftsman Peter J. McGuire, who proposed establishment of an annual Labor Day ninety years ago, have dreamed of the great advances, the trials and tribulations, the chameleon like change of nature which his beloved labor movement would en-

For the America in which his carpenters' union made this daring proposal to the New York City Central Labor Union would itself be subjected to such basic challenges in the nature of its business, civic, industrial and political life that almost anything could have and did happen. This year the emphasis on the celebration in which labor's great contribution to the nation's good is emphasized, must be placed on the fact that "Big Labor" has emerged as "Big Politics" with a struggle for identification taking place within its leadership and its ranks.

For the first time since the grand political coalition was forged by the Democrats under the persuasive, strong and brilliant vision of Franklin D. Roosevelt the leadership has wavered, indeed, in the words of George Meany president of AFL-CIO it will stand neutral.

This decision has not been accepted meekly by other AFL-CIO leaders nor by many of the blue-collar workers who are the members.

There is Joseph A. Beirne, president of the Communications Workers, who has termed the Nixon administration "almost a rerun of Herbert Hoover." He has urged that his union withold contributions to the AFL-CIO political action funds and to support the presidential drive of Senator George McGovern, Democratic standard-bearer.

While this action is important it is not as important as what Mr. Beirne had to say about an election when labor leaders sit on their hands. "I think it impossible for any labor leader to sit out an election. There can be no real neutrality in the political process of America." As the presidential campaign gets under full steam the role of the labor unions will get a lot of attention. Indeed, there may be some who can remember the hostility of Mr. Meany towards the man in the White House a year or so ago when he was bold and, with cigar clenched in his teeth, called for the full force of labor to be thrown against any second term for President

Perhaps there will be those who will hail this Labor Day as a date when the laborer, the workers, the craftsmen and the unskilled will show just how wide and how deep is this middle class of middle America who carry no union magnetic fields. The Bicentennial is conceived as an occasion not only for looking back over past events but, more importantly, for looking to the challenges of the future - as President Nixon stressed when he told Congress:

"Improving the quality of life is, in a sense, a more compelling concept in this era of advanced technology than it was in the time of Jefferson. I believe that this is the area in which we will lind the fundamental theme for our anniversary observance of the continuing revolution that is the United States of America."

Apart from what it might achieve in the way of new knowledge, a Mars landing would also be a further spectacular reminder of U.S. scientific progress, particularly in aviation and space travel, since the Wright Brothers first flew on Dec. 17, 1903. The history of manned flight in this country in fact goes back further - to Jan. 9,1793. On that day, Jean Pierre-François Blanchard, a Frenchman, made the first manned flight in the United States. He took off in a balloon from the old prison yard on Walnut Street in Philadelphia, with "a morsel of biscuit, a glass of wine," a little black dog, and the first piece of American airmail - a letter from President George

He soared across the Delaware on a 15-mile, 46-minute journey, and landed in a swamp on the north side of Clement Bridge in what is now Deptford Township.

Moderates don't command anything in the Republican party any more because they neither have a tough leader nor the kind of collective political skills which might help them offset that lack.

About half the 20 GOP governors classify as attractive moderates, some with real backbone. The roster: Govs. Walter Peterson of New Hampshire, Francis Sargent of Massachusetts, Nelson Rockefeller of New York, Russell Peterson of Delaware, Linwood Holton of Virginia, William Milliken of Michigan, Robert Ray of Iowa, John Love of Colorado, Tom McCall of Oregon, Daniel Evans of Washington.

Among the Republicans' 45 U.S. senators, the pickingsare slimmer. The moderates of real "name standing" don't go much beyond Sens. Charles Percy of Illinois. Robert Taft of Ohio, Edward Brooke of Massachusetts Howard Baker of Tennessee, Jacob Javits of New York, Clifford Case of New Jersey, Mark Hatfield of Oregon It is pipe-dreaming to imagine that this little posse of men, fewer than a score, is going to put any sort of dominant imprint upon the GOP in the years just ahead, It is equally wild to predict that they are going to make the 1976 Republican convention a conservative-moderate death struggle

They don't have the talent for strategy, they don't have the weapons, and they don't have the manpower-even assuming there might be some augmenting of their num; bers this fall and in 1974. The governors on that list are often real whipcrackers in their own states. Yet, except for Rockefeller the Perennial, none has any genuine national status nor has demonstrated the capacity to lead the others. Rockefeller in New York has become one of the tought est old boys in the business. But his political future, including his possible role as a leader of moderates, is beset by dilemma. Should he choose to seek a fifth term in 1974 and win it, he will be a very strong party figure, a potential 1974 presidential contender even though he will be 68 by that

If, however, he should go after the 1976 nomination then he would almost surely crimp his possible usefulness as a leader who might bang moderate heads together. Such an undertaking could in those circumstances only seem self-serving.

For Rockefeller to have any real chance would require a coalescing of moderate forces behind him, which didn't happen in 1964 or 1968. Who would do the coalescing? Sargent? Milliken? Evans? Able men, these, but lacking

Among the moderate senators, only Percy appears to have any real drive for the top job. A big re-election win for him in Illinois this November would enliven his prospects, but he has done far less than Rocky t achieve respect broadly throughout the party. He would have a hard row to cut even with his moderate fellows. A Rockefeller-Percy struggle probably would weaken the moderates' outlook beyond imagining. They need unity, not division. Their conservative opposition is not likely to be badly torn. The guessing among some party experts is that by 1975 the conservatives will have settled upon either Vice President Agnew or John Connally but will not be jockeying between the two. They will be

A Case of the Job Finding the Man By DON OAKLEY

If the nation could be balanced on a pin, it would be seen tilting toward the South and West in terms of homes

Seventy per cent of the housing starts in the first half of 1972 were in these two regions, where less than half the population lives. So were 66 per cent of the new jobs These are findings of a semi-annual survey, "U.S. Housing Markets," by Advance Mortgage Corp. of Detroit. It compares housing trends and associated economic factors in 22 major markets in the United States. Of the record total of 1,161,000 housing starts in the first half of 1972, 532,000 were in the South and 282,000 were in the West. Florida alone, thanks largely to the impact of Disney World, issued more housing permits than the populous Northeast.

It is expected that the 70 per cent combined share of the South and West should decline very slightly in the

"This greatest of all housing booms," says Advance Mortgage president Irving Rose, "is based on something more than a bumper supply of mortgage funds. It rests on a massive national shift of population and employ-

Some of the hottest markets in the boom, such as Houston, Phoenix, Denver and most of Florida, never experienced the recent recession, he says. On the other hand, some of the industrial centers in the East and Midwest have never emerged from the recession, at least in terms of employment. And this is reflected in their housing starts. Employment shifts, however, are seen as only part of the explanation for the current migration. Many people are choosing the climate or environment they want to live in and are taking a chance the jobs will follow them. More and more, the jobs are doing just that,

AKRON, Ohio (AP) - George McGovern formally opened his full-time come-frombehing bid for the presidency today, echoing his party's traditional Labor Day appeal to the working man's pocketbook.

The South Dakota senator, who trailed President Nixon by 34 points in the latest Gallup Poll, told labor gatherings in the Akron-Canton area the administration favors oil millionaires, large corporations and other "special interests."

Miss Myra Ann Doudney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Doudney, 167 Juniper, The Springs, and Robert Thomas Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Anderson. Roanoke, Va. where united Holy Matrimony, Aug. 11, at 7:30 p.m., in First Baptist Church, of Sanford. The Rev. Jay T. Cosmato, pastor, was officiating clergyman at the candlelight. louble ring ceremony. Mrs. Marvin Milam, organist, presented an appropriate program of nuptial selections and accompanied Mrs. G. B. Drake, soloist, who sang "More," "The Song of Ruth" and "Because." An all white massive fan shaped floral arrangement of gladioli, stock, majestic daisies and pom pon daisies was placed at the center back of the altar and was centered with a gold cross. Four standard white wrought iron candelabra, each holding nine white cathedral tapers entwined with trailing smilax, flanked the altar and potted palms were placed throughout the sanctuary. Each window was adorned with eucalyptus, jade and leather leaf fern centered with one white cathedral taper. Family pews were marked with nosegays of white daisies, vellow gypsophilia and fern.

The bride was escorted down the aisle by her father and as the stood at the altar by her father and the groom, Mrs. Drake sang the prayer, "Ave Maria." from Bach with text from St. Luke. Questionable Officials

There must be a better way judging Olympic events that is. One thing's for sure, you never know what to expect out of the officials. The boxing judges have really been bad. One incident that really pointed out the questionable judges was the platform diving competition. An Italian was about to make his dive and the ABC commentator said that the Russian judge was doing everything he could to keep that diver from winning and the Italian judge was doing his best

So the dive was over and the scores were posted. Every judge, except two, gave the diver about eight points on his dive. The two differences were the Russian judge, scored a 7.5 and the Italian judge, who awarded the diver a nine point

Gator Football

Understand all the University of Florida home games will be shown over cable television in this area. According to former Herald Sports Editor Tom Alexander, an official with Seminole Cablevision, the hookups are ready from 13th Street south in Sanford, and just need Federal approval. It is hoped that the hookups will be approved and ready by the first Gator football game. These football telecasts will be shown in Orange and Seminole Counties, probably on the Sunday following the game. Ray Graves will do the halftime show and a person whose name is well-known to readers of The Herald might also be connected with the shows.

Gridiron Festival

Morgan State and Tennessee State, who'll clash in the first Atlanta Gridiron Festival September 15 at Atlanta Stadium, have proved a spawning ground for professional football standouts. And this year's clubs might just con-Aribute their fair share to the pro draft once again. Morgan State has sent such exceptional athletes as Willie

Lanier to the Kansas City Chiefs, Leroy Kelly to the Cleveland Browns, Roosevelt Brown to the New York Giants and Roy Chester to the Oakland Raiders. Two of Tennessee State's best-known products are the Atlanta Falcons' Claude Humphrey, regarded as one of the premier defensive ends in the business, and the Chief's Jim Marsalis, an outstanding defensive back.

This season the Bears and Tigars are again loaded with talent. Two of Morgan State's better prospects, both for All-America recognition and as pro draft possibilities, are tight end Ron Mayo and defensive tackle John (Tiny) Andrews. Injuries forced Mayo to miss 1971, but the 6-3, 220pounder is back at full strength. Andrews, 6-5, 270 threw enemy backs for a total of 114 yards in losses last fall.

Defense, led by huge Ed Jones and Larry and James Pettus, will be a key factor at Tennessee State. The Tigers have lost just one game in the past two years. Tickets are available for the festival at all metro-Atlanta Braves and Ticketron outlets. Game time will be 8 p.m.

Innocent victim

denies rumor

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem I have never seen in your column. I am a 38-year-old woman who was married for 10 years and bore two children. My husband died four years ago. Thank God I was equipped to take a high-paying position in order to support myself and children.

I am reasonably attractive, but am not the type who goes to bars alone looking for male companionship. I've dated some, but not much, because as soon as a man learns that I am not so sex-starved that he can head for a motel on the second date, he looks for hungrier women.

My problem: Because I am not actively looking for a man, and have refused to be rushed into bed by all the socalled eligible bachelors who've dated me, the rumor is rampant that I prefer women. [This was told to me by two friends, one woman and the other a man.]

Of course, it's a lie, but I have become so self-conscious about it that I don't dare call a single woman and suggest we have dinner or go to a movie together. The fact that I was married and bore two children doesn't seem to matter. The rumor, I'm told, persists.

Now, you're supposed to be a wise woman, Abby. How does an innocent victim deny such a rumor? PERSECUTED

DEAR PERSECUTED: The rumor may not be as rampant as you were led to believe it is. I would question the motives of one who would bring such a rumor to my attention. [Could a male be attempting to persuade you to "prove" the rumor false?] Or could a woman, who herself preferred women, be "testing" you? Don't refrain from socializing with women. Forget the rumor, and continue to behave as you always have.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a husband who sleeps with a smile on his face? CURIOUS IN ARLINGTON

DEAR CURIOUS: He could be lucky he doesn't TALK in his sleep.

DEAR ABBY: I have a bone to pick with you! Last April my wife wrote to you, asking if she should accompany me to my 20th high school graduation reunion. She told you that she didn't come from my hometown, and wouldn't know a soul there.

You advised her as follows: "Go anyway! Let your husband enjoy himself reminiscing with old friends. You'll find plenty of other mates who won't know a soul either." than I did. In fact, when it came time to go home, I had to practically drag her away from "Red," the best looking guy in the class, who majored in football and girls. His wife decided not to come because she wouldn't know a soul either! Now my wife is looking forward to the next class reunion. Thanks for complicating my life. CLASS OF '52

DEAR CLASS: And thanks for answering [in advance] a question I am asked by hundreds every year. "Should I ecompany my mate to his class reunion? I won't know a

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: There considerable confusion present in the early morning, so take nothing for granted. Later beneficial influences come into being that make it possible to take a long-standing condition and improve it. In addition, you can add various kinds of improved conditions and make it

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) A perfect day for enjoying the company of friends and getting ahead socially. Do only the work that is necessary. Don't neglect to pay an important bill. Relax at home tonight.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Taking kin out for the pleasures they enjoy can add to harmony within the home. Those creative ideas you have are good. Do some work on them instead of procrastinating. GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Join with those who are talented and you can get the inspiration you need for advancement. Make new arrangements that will help you to produce more. Show you have ability. MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You can easily have new conditions working in your favor now so that you become more successful and happy in the future. Others have good ideas that are helpful. LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You can mix with people socially now and enjoy the recreations that please while obtaining information and ideas you want. You can whittle your aims down to a practical basis. VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Talk with a very successful person you know and get good ideas for your own advancement. Be of assistance to one who is temporarily having a difficult time. Show kindness. LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) It is possible now to visit with fascinating friends and state your aims. They can be helpful. Talk with experts about a problem you may have.

Show you have wisdom. SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Friends who are experts in their fields can be of great help to you now, so contact them early, but avoid a higher-up who wants you to work extra with little compensation.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) New situations can be most helpful now, but make sure you first complete a career matter before you act on them A new friend has fine ideas Listen carefully and benefit.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) It is best to handle a matter of importance early today before you go to new places and meet interesting people. You have a hunch that should be followed. It will lead you rightly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb 19) You can handle association metters efficiently now, but do it in a pleasant fashion. You can become reconciled with one who had strong opinion. Show you are a reasonable person.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Talk over with interested persons those aspects of your work and get excellent results thereby. Put more more color and comfort into your surroundings. Relax tonight.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be one of those delightful young people who appears constantly trying to get the idealistic concept of life. There could be periods of disappointment because some of the high expectations are out of reach. Don't try to get your progeny to do things your way, but permit to carry on the search to his or her own satisfaction. Much success is then possible

Sweaters Come Through In the Stretch

DEAR POLLY-Mrs. H. G. F. who has trouble with her Orlon ski sweaters stretching should put them in a bag (a pillowcase will do) and wash in the washing machine in cool water and then dry in a cool dryer. I take out while still damp, pat into shape and let them

DEAR POLLY-To be sure that Orlon sweaters do not stretch, Mrs. H. G. F. should always be sure they are THOROUGHLY dry. Wash in the machine, toss in the dryer but do make sure they are absolutely dry before removing. I find they stretch if just a wee bit damp. Above all wash and dry according to the manufacturer's instructions but always make sure a sweater is bone dry before wearing it.-LAVERNE

Polly's Problem Later Control of the Problem

DEAR POLLY .- I have a "mother-in-law tongue" plant that blooms. My mother-in-law has one but hers has never bloomed nor has any other I have seen. I wish someone would enlighten me as to whether or not this is a usual thing or if I have a freak or extraordinary plant. Hope someone can satisfy my curiosity.—MRS. P. R. H.

DEAR POLLY-My Pet Peeve is with manufacturers and dressmakers who put tiny fasteners at the back neckline of dresses instead of having the zippers go all the way to the top. Those who live alone and have no one to fasten them often have to change to another dress when they cannot reach the fastener. It is either that or go out feeling half-dressed and having to remember to ask a friend to do it before making an entrance at a party or some other place.-FLOSSIE

DEAR POLLY—I have found that it is possible to re-move water marks from wood furniture by rubbing the spot with a piece of felt that has been dipped in dark staining furniture polish. (Polly's note-The kind I use is labeled "Scratch removing polish" and looks almost like iodine.) If the whiteness does not disappear after several minutes of firm rubbing with this. apply the polish with the finest steel wool. Rub very gently and with the grain of the wood. Our mahogany piano had such a spot and this is what the piano tuner recommended for it. I hope you like my hint as much as I liked so many of yours that have benefited me so frequently.-SANDRA

The Aldas had lost a car to thieves a short time before, so, when Mrs. Alda awakened to find a strange automobile in their garage, she thought prowlers were on the premises again and called the police. Wayne and Alan got back from work just in time to find a police tow truck hauling Rogers' car away. To complicate the situation further, when the fellows explained there had been a mistake, L. A.'s finest concluded they were dealing with a couple of crazy actors who had cooked up a publicity stunt to plug their show. Come to think of it, they did get some publicity out of the fiasco, didn't they? The day after Elvis opened his current engagement at the Las Vegas Hilton, his estranged wife, Priscilla, was taking pictures at a karate exhibition in Long Beach, enjoying more freedom and privacy than she's known since she was the Presleys' 17-year-old house guest attending high school in

Candidate Reports 'Power Play'

MIAMI (AP) - Public

Service Commission candidate Gerald Lewis today revealed what he said were secret papers of a major Florida utility which showed how the firm "conspired to takeover an American town" in 1961.

At a news conference in Miami, the 38-year-old state senator identified the firm as Florida Power Corp. of St. Petersburg and town as Winter
