BROOKLYN, Apr. 21.—(AP)—Brooklyn's durable Dodger, champions of the National League, lost their undoubted possession of first place Monday by losing to the Boston Braves, 9 to 5.

The defeat, third in three days for the Braves, knocked them out of a first place tie along with the Pittsburgh Pirates, who lost to the Chicago Cubs.

Kirby Higbe chalked up his first pitching triumph of the season, limiting the Braves to seven hits, while his mates landed on three Boston batters for 11 runs and scored in every odd inning in which they batted.

In the third, Dixie Walker's double scored Pete Reiser and another two-bagger by Billy East scored Walker and Camilli who had walked.

Bookie Warren Spahn followed Farley and got into trouble in the fifth by yielding a single to Reiser and walking Camilli and Wilker to load the bases. Cliff Depper batted for Sullivan and jumped a single into left field for two runs.

Billy Herman walked to fill the bag again with one out, but Pete Reiser scored this inning by hitting into a double play.

Two Brooklyn errors helped the Braves score their first run in the seventh on one hit. East scored the last Boston marker in the eighth when he led off with a double and came home on a single by Tommy Holmes.

Graham Selects Byron Nelson As Leading Golfer

By DILLON GRAHAM
NEW YORK, Apr. 21. (W.W.)—Although Ben Hogan is the most consistent money winner and also—perhaps themselves—the Sammy Snead as tops, when the blue chips are down you can just give me Byron Nelson, the new Augusta Master's golf champion.

He may not score as well all along the route as Ben and perhaps his game isn't as stylishly perfect as Sammie's but he's tough Texan shoots when there's really something to shoot for.

Let's check over his record for the last three and a half years, remembering that the four most coveted golf championships of the year are the United States Open, The Professional Golfers' Association, the Western Open and the Augusta Masters'.

Here it is:
 YEAR PGA OPEN AUG. WEST.
 1938 2 1
 1940 1 5 1 0
 1941 2 17 2 2
 1942 1 11

In those fourteen major tournaments—the 1942 PGA hasn't been held and the U.S. Open has been cancelled—Nelson has finished in the first three nine times. And he has won four crowns.

No other professional can touch that record.

These two aces—Hogan and Nelson—who learned the game while caddyding together on the same course in Texas, are golf's current scoring twins. It's a pretty safe bet that one or the other, or both, will be up front, challenging for any pro tournament in the land.

It was just two years ago that Hogan won his first tourney—and that triumph set him off on one of the hottest streaks in golf history. He won the North and South, then went on to capture the Open, then went on to capture the Open in rapid succession. At Asheville he completed his amazing feat of shooting 216 holes of golf in 34 under par while breaking 70 no less than 10 times in twelve rounds for an average of a little better than 11 under par.

Since then no one has been able to cool him off. He was "in the money" in 66 straight tournaments and won the Vardon low scoring trophy in 1940 and 1941. He was also the leading money winner has outscored Byron over a season's play and was able to knock off the big ones.

Smith Beats Browns For Cleveland, 4-3

CLEVELAND, Apr. 21.—(AP)—Ken Keltner and Rookie Orin Hockett led Cleveland Indians' 10th attack Monday to give veteran Al Smith a 4 to 3 victory in his first start of the season against the St. Louis Browns.

Keltner's homer in the third was good for two runs, Hockett having tripled ahead of him, and the Indians went ahead, 3 to 2.

The Browns tied it up in the fourth on a walk, a fielder's choice, and pitcher Denny Galehouse's single, which scored Walter Johnson, who had scored in the fifth, when Jeff Heath's single brought in Hockett, who had doubled.

Here is a general view of the Jacksonville Associated Press Bureau in operation. In the foreground: Judson Bailey (left), of the AP's New York staff of sports experts, who comes to Florida each year to cover spring training activities of the major league baseball clubs and other outstanding winter sports, and Bureau Chief Oliver S. Morton, (right) who directs the AP's comprehensive coverage of Florida news. In the background: Wayne Oliver (left), day editor; G. J. Roessler (center), traffic bureau chief who directs actual transmission of Florida news over the AP's two 60-words-a-minute news circuits in the state; and William A. Guber (standing, right), night editor. In the battery of fast teletype printers are included a special racing news wire and two machines for receiving the stock market and other financial news. Nearby is a wirephoto transmitter for sending Florida news pictures by wire to all parts of the country.

Florida Plays Major Role In News Reports

town and village of the state furnish a large proportion of Florida news for AP wires.

The Sanford Herald, for instance, sends a reporter to cover an important story. His story goes not only to the paper's composing room to be put into type for the next edition, but also is telephoned or telegraphed to the Associated Press for leased wire transmission to other member papers throughout the state and in the case of major stories—over the 285,000-mile news wire network to the nation.

Riding the wires with news of Florida are pictures transmitted over the Associated Press' 20,000-mile wirephoto system. These pictures, which speed from the sending point simultaneously to receiving points over the country at a rate of only eight minutes for each picture, come back quickly to Florida member papers not on the network in the form of prints and mats.

Wirephoto transmitters are located at Miami and Jacksonville and, during the winter sports season, at Tampa and Jacksonville. The Associated Press' 20,000-mile wirephoto system is carried to the scene of a big news story like a suitcase and set up wherever a telephone is available. A year-round staff of 15 editors and staff reporters, traffic technicians and photographers handles the flow of news from Florida. This number is increased considerably in the winter as The AP sends many nationally-known sports experts to assist in covering major league baseball, golf and horse racing.

Special AP reporters in Washington keep on the alert for news of particular interest to Florida. The controlling Florida Bureau of the Associated Press is at Jacksonville, from which Bureau Chief Oliver S. Morton directs news to the world.

ALEX R. JOHNSON
Plans are now under way for the starting of a new class in Radio Repairing on May 4. This class will be for beginners and for advanced trainees. There is an urgent need for this type of worker in our national defense efforts. We can place all trainees who successfully complete the course under civil service with salaries ranging from $1440 to $2600 per year.

Anyone who is interested in this type of training is advised to contact the office at once, as there is room for only a limited number in the class. Registration is now being taken for the new class. New equipment is being secured and things are being set up for a very successful class.

Mr. W. D. Hoffmann, the instructor in Radio Repairing, is a local merchant and has made Sanford his home for over 20 years. He married a Sanford girl and with their son, Dale, lived at 1515 Valencia Drive, San Lanta. He has been communication officer for the Florida National Guard for 15 years and now holds a second class commercial operator's radio license. He has had over 20 years actual experience in radio repairing through the operation of his own business.

A group of welding trainees with Mr. Litchfield, one of the instructors, and the writer drove to Daytona Beach yesterday for the Navy welding tests. Five passed the test and were immediately hired as special apprentice welders by the Gulf Shipbuilding Corporation of Mobile, Ala. This company and its workers come under the wage and hour laws. Each welder works 40 hours per week at regular salary and then is allowed to work 18 hours over time at time and a half pay.

Those who passed the tests and their wage scale follows: Charles Dunn, Jr., 85c per hour; Otto Stigart, 75c per hour; George Stigart, 65c per hour; E. J. White, 65c per hour.

Defense Shop News

These trainees have been under a serious handicap because of the lack of welding rods. This shortage of rods is due to the vital need of this material for war production. The local shop has been dependent entirely on bars rods. The tests were given with a high grade rod of another type. The instructors were very proud of the showing that the local trainees made. Other tests for small groups will be given in the very near future.

Laval, Disciple of Hitler, Has Had Up-Down Life

Wide World Features
Laval, Hitler's leading disciple, has experienced a roller coaster ride of ups and downs since he entered politics nearly 30 years ago.

Now he's up again—tapped for the political leadership of Vichy's reorganized governing body, although Marshal Petain hangs on to the title of chief-of-state. Laval stepped out ahead of his collaborationist colleague, Admiral Jean Darlan, and now the Vichy regime may be steered into new and stranger channels in the next few weeks.

In a land noted for the tempestuousness of its politics, Laval's career has been spectacular; he rose from a humble beginning to the premiership of France, saw his cabinet crumble because of internal dissension, finally went into an eclipse until after the Nazis had hammered his country into submission.

Then he burst into the spotlight again, became Petain's right-hand man and designated successor.

With far less ceremony, he was benched six months later because he pushed his collaborationist enthusiasms too far. The world might have heard little of him thereafter, but he stopped a bullet from the gun of a young French patriot, and for days lay gravely ill.

The pudgy former peasant of Auvergne hung on stubbornly and a few months later was back and working ceaselessly to bring Vichy closer to the political concepts of Adolf Germany.

A Socialist when he started his political career as a provincial mayor, Laval gradually swung toward Fascism. He's a "democracy-in-death" calmly howler. He made this assertion after the fall of France.

But he's no prophet. At the same time, he said Germany would win the war in 1941.

Law Ayres, 33, film star and ex-husband of Ginger Rogers will be seen happily in a new picture, "The Sign of the Cross," which is announced by the Los Angeles Selective Service Board. Ayres says he doesn't believe in fighting.

Stengel Sees Trouble For "Bums"; Praises Fernandez, Klutz, Sain

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK, Apr. 22 (AP)—Southpaw trouble is due to start happening to the Brooklyn Dodgers almost any day now, and it will be a painful affliction, in the opinion of Casey Stengel.

He bases his prediction on the fact that the National League champions have a line-up bursting with left-handed batters—more so than last year—and the certain knowledge that the Dodgers' pennant rivals are going to throw left-handed pitchers at them in a steady stream, as from a hose. Left-hand hitters, except the truly great ones, have difficulty with the portlanders.

"I'm sorry to say we can't do much about it," said Casey, "I haven't got much left-hand pitching, and anyway, we've been counting on these bums for a couple of seasons. But wait until they bump into that southpaw staff of the St. Louis Cardinals, and Cliff Nelson of the Giants and Johnny Vander Meer of Cincinnati. They're going to find it tough.

"Don't get me wrong, Brooklyn's still a strong club. But it's hitting power is practically all left-handed. Arky Vaughan at third and Augie Galan in the outfield give Durocher a couple more bums than he had last season. Galan's a switch-hitter, but he's not so good right-handed. Yeah, Leo can change it some by putting Joe Medwick and Johnny Mize in his outfield. They're right-handers, but they're not the hitters they used to be. Leo's right-hand lineup hasn't been able to win a game yet, I notice."

It is possible for the Dodgers to field a team—perhaps their strongest combination—with only three players, Powee Reese, Billy Herman and the pitcher, hitting right-handed. Billy Sullivan, the catcher they obtained from Detroit this spring, bats left. Stengel merely is pointing to a weakness in the champs that probably has been more obvious to Managers Billy Southworth of the Cards and Billy McKinzie of the Reds.

As for his own club, which has been widely picked to finish a stomp or two out of the cellar, Casey is more than a little optimistic at this early stage. He thinks maybe he has come up with three exceptionally fine rookies, and there is nothing an old-timer manager can do to help them. Froilan Fernandez, his new third baseman from San Francisco; Clyde Klutz, a catcher from Sacramento; and John Sain, young, unheralded pitcher from Nashville who has looked like a wonder in relief roles.

"I don't want to say so too soon," said Stengel, "but all three of them look like big leaguers. Fernandez is holding down third like a veteran and hitting .300 in his country. Klutz hasn't had much chance yet, with Ernie Lombard having first call on the catching, but the kid looks to me like natural. If he gets in there regularly for a while Ernie might have trouble getting him out again. Klutz is one of the smartest young catchers I ever saw come out."

"This Sain—you won't even find him on our roster. We picked him up sort of accidentally from Nashville and he's learned since that another club or two had the same idea. He has one of the widest curves you ever saw. He took Johnny Mize of the Giants out with the bases loaded, and he also struck out Jimmy Fox of the Red Sox in an exhibition game."

Brooklyn Routs Al Javery For Easy 13-2 Win

BROOKLYN, Apr. 22 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers mauled the Boston Braves 13 to 2 Tuesday, getting all of their 13 hits and nine runs in the first two innings to make the going easy for Rookie Ed Head on the mound.

The National League champs started off like a whirlwind, sending 12 men to bat for six runs in the opening frame and routing Al Javery at the height of their hilarity.

Dick Erickson, who came on the scene to quiet the party, was himself knocked out in the three-run second inning and big John Hutchings merely slowed the Dodgers down, giving four more runs after the second inning.

The game was so one-sided, that with Brooklyn's violent offensive and Head pitching eight-hit ball for his second triumph, that Manager Leo Durocher substituted freely in the late innings to give his veterans a rest.

In their opening flurry the Dodgers three times loaded the bases.

Camilli led off in the second with a double against the right-field screen and four more hits followed before Hutchings came on duty.
