Mussolini Pleads For More Aid For Italy From Hitler

Adolf Flies To Rome But Sicily Is Seen As Lost Cause With Italy Next On List

BERN, July 21, (AP)—Informed diplomatic circles believe Mussolini made an urgent appeal to Hitler for more help for gravely threatened Italy when the Axis leaders met Monday.

Informed sources agreed the battle of Sicily prompted the conference, but most felt the situation in Italy itself was the main topic of discussion.

Germany and Italy regarded Sicily a lost cause, and if so, the next line of defense must be on the Italian mainland.

LONDON—July 21, (AP)—Adolf Hitler flew into Rome yesterday for a conference with Premier Mussolini, the Axis announced last night, indicating the Nazis are gravely concerned over the fate of their junior partner, trembling under Allied attack.

London sources said the conference, held at an unnamed town in northern Italy, apparently was a last-minute attempt to whip up the flagging spirits of Italy, whose empire has been lost, but European soil invaded and her capital bombed.

Choice of yesterday as the meeting day was a curious one for Mussolini. While the dictators were discussing military questions, Rome was being pounded by more than 500 bombers in the biggest raid to come in Italy's history.

The meeting first time the dictators conferred at Salzburg April 7-10 while the position of Sicily was becoming serious.

Mussolini has wild ideas. The fact that Hitler went into Italy was interpreted in some quarters here as an indication that Mussolini is holding the whip hand at the moment—and over Hitler would be a threat to make a separate peace.

Four Local Scouts Are Inducted Into Honorary Society

Four Sanford Scouts and Scouters have been inducted into the Tippecanoe Honor Society at Camp Wawa. It was announced by Harold W. Pack, Scout Executive, at a meeting of the Seminole District Committee held at the home of Ralph A. Smith, district chairman, last Monday night.

Walter Smith, Billy Merritt, and Scoutmaster Jack Russell and Asst. Scoutmaster E. L. Taylor were so honored. All represent local Troop 5 which had a sizeable number of boys in camp.

Plans were discussed at the meeting last night to hold a combination Field Day, Picnic and outdoor Court of Honor here in Sanford on Monday, Aug. 16. Francis Merritt, Scoutmaster, and King and the Scoutmasters comprise the committee to plan and execute the event.

F. W. Lawton announced that he would begin a course of leadership training at the September meeting of the committee. Ned Smith reported that he planned to use about 15 local Scouts as Official Dispatch Messengers of the O. W. I. for the distribution of letters to approximately 100 Sanborn men during every two weeks beginning next Tuesday. The project will last for the duration.

General progress of the Scout movement was reported by Ralph A. Smith, district chairman, as a result of his observations made at a meeting of the Executive Board of the Central Florida Council, held at Camp Wawa last week.

He also reported that eight Negro Eagle Scout members of Troop 21 will receive their badges in the Court of Honor to be held at Emmerford School at Maitland Aug. 2 as a closing event of a Council-wide Negro Camp to take place at the Wawa Camp.

A. Holly is the Scoutmaster of Troop 21.

Widening Of Park Avenue Is Protested

Demurrers Are Filed In Circuit Court To Block State Road Department Work

A number of owners of property on Park Avenue between the A.C.L. tracks at Fifteenth Street and Twenty-first Street, have through their attorney, G. W. Spencer, filed a demurrer protesting the action of the City of Sanford in starting condemnation in Circuit Court for five foot strips of property causing the widening of the street, in order that the State Road Department may widen the pavement from 24 feet to 44 feet, from Tenth to Twenty-third Street.

Those protesting the City's action include: Mr. and Mrs. C.P. Proctor, Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Redding, Mr. and Mrs. P. Hagan, Mr. and Mrs. W.D. Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Long, Mr. and Mrs. A. Derby, George Mann, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Houston Spencer, G.W. Spencer, as executor and trustee of the estate of Carl Evans Spencer, deceased; Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Redfarm, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Hardin, Miss Enma Virginia Spencer, Charles Evans Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Marko Galbraith, Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Kerney and A.J. Smythe, Jr.

The City in its petition, maintained that its authority under which the property is to be acquired is embodied in resolution No. 660, passed by the City Commission, June 14 providing for the widening of Park Avenue from its intersection with the A.C.L. right of way to the intersection of Tenth Street and Twenty-first Street and for the acquisition by right of eminent domain of additional land for such purpose.

It is maintained by the City through its attorney, Fred R. Wilson, that Park Avenue, a link between the Seminole and the Florida State roads, is a public highway and that the widening of the street is in the public interest.

The right of way is 24 feet wide from the Boulevard to Fourth Street, 40 feet wide from Tenth Street to Twenty-third Street, and 44 feet wide from Tenth to Twenty-third Street. It is only 50 feet wide.

Pavement of Park Avenue from the Boulevard to Fourth Street is 60 feet wide; from there south to Tenth Street, 44 feet wide. However, from Tenth to Twenty-third Street it is only 24 feet wide, a fact which causes traffic to be congested in that strip, and therefore it is for the best interest of the City and public that the widening be made.

The defendants in their petition, deny that the 24 width of Park Avenue from Tenth to Twenty-third Street causes traffic to be congested, and also deny that it is expedient or necessary for the City Commission to have adopted the resolution providing for the widening of the street.

Seedmen Are Taken On Boat Trip By City

Convention Gets Under Way Tomorrow Morning With Prominent Men Present

The City of Sanford and the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce are today giving a boat trip on behalf of the Florida Seedmen's Association, who will hold their convention here tomorrow.

Those participating are the City Commission, representatives from several of the growers' associations, the Mayor of Orlando and his guests and the Mayor of DeLand and his guests. Members of the American Legion have volunteered to assist in serving the barbecue.

This barbecue was scheduled to be held at Blue Springs in Volusia county, and the guests were transported by boat from the Municipal Pier to the Blue Springs Run, leaving Sanford shortly after noon. They are due to return about 8:00 o'clock this evening.

The Seedmen's Association will convene at 10:00 o'clock this morning in the Commissioners' Room at the City Hall. It is anticipated about 100 members will be present. Headquarters for the convention is the Volusia Hotel.

Before noon today some 60 members had registered for the convention, according to J. J. Rocco of W. Altee Bursee Co., vice president of the Florida Seedmen's Association. Among these are: J. J. Rocco, secretary of the American Seed Trade Association, and at one time secretary to the late Senator Charles E. Taylor, who is also present is H. B. Bingham of the Ensign Seed Company, of Jacksonville, president of the Florida Seedmen's Association.

Why Civic Clubs? Is Discussed By Local Kiwanians

Why have civic clubs? This was the question discussed by Fred H. Wilson at the meeting of Kiwanis Club today at the Hotel Madison and a round table discussion in which a number of members expressed their views on the subject.

I can speak out of my own experience when I say that civic clubs are not only a source of information but also a source of inspiration and energy for the individual.

Soldier's Medal Won By Woman For First Time

Army Nurse Honored For Fire Heroism; Another Gets Award

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—Heroism of an army nurse in a fire which destroyed a ward in a station hospital at Yuma, Ariz., five minutes has been recognized by the War Department with announcement of award of the Soldier's Medal to Second Lieutenant Edith E. Greenwood of North Dartmouth, Mass. She is the first woman ever to receive this decoration, which was instituted in 1926 for heroism not involving actual conflict with the enemy.

At the same time, the department announced that another army nurse, Second Lieutenant Dorothy P. Shikoki, of Greenlake, Wis., has received an air medal for heroism for meritorious achievement on April 27, during an airplane flight in the South Pacific area.

Lieutenant Greenwood saved her patients in the early morning of April 17, when a stove in the diet kitchen of the Yuma hospital exploded. She was duty nurse in charge of fifteen bed patients. She gave the alarm and with a ward attendant, Private (first class) James J. Ford, of Madrid, Iowa, tried to extinguish the flames. Finding that impossible, she removed all her patients to safety with the aid of the soldier, who suffered burns on the face and hands. Not a patient was injured. The nurse then gave first aid to Private Ford, who also received the Soldier's Medal.

Lieutenant Greenwood entered the Army in September, 1942, having received her training as a nurse at St. Luke's Hospital, New Bedford, Mass., from which she was graduated in 1941. She was graduated from Dartmouth High School in 1938.

Mussolini Pleads For More Aid For Italy From Hitler

He pointed out that of their five meetings since Italy entered the war, two were held at Salzburg, in German territory, one at the Russian front and two at Brenner pass on the German-Italian frontier.

British observers said they believed the announcements of similar German and Italian communications were discussed, but then doubted whether Germany was in position to send much help to Italy.

As soon as the terse Rome and Berlin communications were broadcast simultaneously, Berlin commentators began threatening dire consequences for the Allies. For the moment Rome confined itself to the communique.

The DNB (German news agency) commentator in a broadcast repeated by the Associated Press said the dictators discussed the military situation resulting from the desperate onslaught of huge Soviet masses against the European defensive front in the east and the Anglo-American landing attempt in the Mediterranean.

U.S. and Canadian Soldiers Capture Key City Of Enna

(Continued From Page One) Japanese defense positions under pressure in the Kurile Islands of the North Pacific and at Celebes Island in the Dutch East Indies, nearly 1000 miles to the south. The first American raid against the Northern Japanese islands was announced yesterday by the navy department.

Big American Liberators struck at Paramushiro in the Kurile Islands on Monday, just a day after other Liberators bombed Celebes in a 2000-mile round trip flight from Australia. The North Pacific flight was made from Anchorage, Alaska, and the Kurile Islands are 661 nautical or 1077 land miles from there. The raid started from Anchorage, it would have required a round trip flight of almost 2000 miles.

In long distance bombing attacks the two flights rank second only to the 2400-mile round trip bombing of Wake Island by crews based in Hawaii. Both distances are almost double the London to Berlin mileage. Paramushiro is 661 nautical or 1077 land miles from there. The raid started from Anchorage, it would have required a round trip flight of almost 2000 miles.

Huge Fires at Macassar—Pilots returning from the Celebes and reported huge fires were started at the big Macassar base. Some could be seen 80 miles away. The attack apparently caught the enemy by surprise because the town was well lighted when the first bombers arrived.

John L. Lewis Has Conference With A. F. L. Leaders

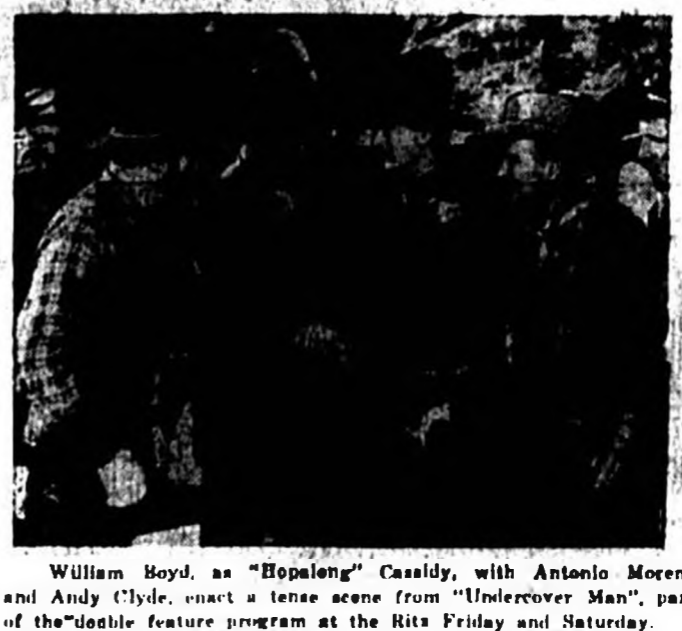

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—Reaffirmation of the United Mine Workers of America with the American Federation of Labor appeared a step nearer today following a three-hour conference between John L. Lewis and executive officers of the AFL.

Lewis and his United Mine workers left the AFL more than five years ago when the mine union leader started the CIO. His recently-filed application for reaffiliation is to be acted on by the AFL executive council when it meets next month in Chicago.

Asked what he thought about the outlook, Lewis handed reporters a brief statement, asserting that "in the interest of unifying the policies of organized labor" the UMW has proposed reaffiliation and "in doing so it accepts the American Federation of Labor as it now exists, and expects the American Federation of Labor to accept the United Mine Workers of America as it now exists."

Neither Lewis nor Tobin would say whether jurisdictional obstacles had been settled, or even discussed, or whether another meeting would be necessary before the Chicago session.

The UMW, Lewis said in his statement, "under present conditions has no interest in questions of hypothetical jurisdiction," and "after the fact of reaffiliation, any and all questions of jurisdiction having a factual or realistic premise can be considered procedurally by the AFL."

Wyoming Called Beef Bowl of U.S. Has Plenty Beef

By ROBERT E. GRIGER, AP Features Writer CHEYENNE, Wyo.—Beef! On the hoof, it roams the Great Plains from Canada to Mexico, growing sleek and fat with thick, marbled steaks.

One chunk alone at Wyoming Hereford Ranch is worth more than $20,000, without benefit of direct market. Beef! This is the beef bowl of America, but try and buy more than your share of two pounds a week in any of the cow country's "little Dodge City or any point north or south of Powder River."

At the 65,000-acre Wyoming Hereford breeding stock, Robert L. Lazer, the manager, wrinkles his forehead over these questions: "What is the beef situation today? Can't ranchers increase production quickly, like pork? Is America running short of beef? Will there be sufficient for American diets until victory?"

"Raising beef isn't the same as raising pork," says Lazer. "Cows don't have litters like pigs. Usually they have only one calf a year."

At the start of the war America had a beef cattle herd of 57 million in its history, around 75,000,000 head compared with a normal population of from 66,000,000 to 68,000,000.

"In addition, the rancher's turnover of cattle is faster now than it used to be. It was the custom to hold steers until they were about six years old. Then they were marketed, weighing around 1000 pounds. Now cattle either are put in feed lots, right after they are weaned, and fattened in the corn belt or they are held in the west and fattened on grass. The corn fed animals reach market about 20 or 22 months of age; the grass feds at about 15 to 18 months. The corn feds weigh up to 1,050 or 1,150 pounds; the grass feds around 750."

Half Of Public Held Unable To Read Properly

Chicago Meeting Told Many Can't Comprehend Printed Matter

CHICAGO, July 21 (Special)—In effective ability to understand adult reading matter, the American people are more than 50 percent illiterate, William S. Gray, professor of education at the University of Chicago, told the university's sixth annual Conference on Reading last week. More than 100 educators from all parts of the country attended the conference, devoted to "Adjusting Reading Programs to War-Time Needs."

"Millions of adults today have attended school for only a limited period of time and therefore do not have an opportunity to learn to read well," Dr. Gray said. "What happened to them is matched in the experience of hundreds of us who took French or German in high school or college. Whatever ability we acquire to read these languages soon disintegrated through disuse."

"According to the 1920 census, more than 25 percent of persons twenty-five years of more old had less than five years of school. At least half of the population is unable to read any printed material above the seventh grade level."

"The Army Complainants' Army officials of the high percentage of men inducted who not only were unable to do the reading required in learning certain military skills, but were unable to read accurately even simple instructions."

Teachers should try for the maximum reading improvement of which a child is capable, rather than being content with the minimum required to pass to the next grade, Dr. Gray said. "Emphasis on technical reading should not be to the exclusion of reading which will improve the understanding of why the war is being fought, Dr. John J. DeBoer, director of student teaching at the Chicago Teachers College, said at the session."

"So-called work-type reading dominates the program in many schools which are earnestly seeking to correct the illiteracy revealed in Army tests," Dr. DeBoer said. "The teacher, especially completely misunderstood the administration's intention as to forbid children to read any poetry or fiction in order that they might concentrate on factual matter."

"No 'Book on Freedom'—Leading book lists for children fail to recommend a single book on freedom, Dr. DeBoer told the conference. "What the lists include is excellent, but can it be that the literature of freedom is still controversial in the mind of the free?" he asked.

Conservative book-buying policies of some educators and librarians waste the time of students and fail to encourage the urge to study caused by the war, Helen Butler, research specialist of the American Library Association, said at another session. "The dominant note of the new curriculum materials since the war came to the American schools is that of unity of ideals, of goals and of time. The time element is of the present, now, not yesterday, and not tomorrow. Yet many librarians and administrators still maintain that instructional materials must be permanent in value; that any book on their library shelves must retain its usefulness until it is worn out."

Municipal Court Cases Increase in Number

In City Court Friday afternoon there was an increase in the number of cases over those of the preceding Friday, notably due to a number of charges of gambling and drunkenness.

F. B. I. Reports 147 Convicted Of War Crimes

Hoover Sums Up Work To Protect Country From Spy, Saboteur

WASHINGTON, July 21. Arrest and conviction of 147 persons for the high war crimes of espionage, sabotage, sedition and failure to register as foreign agents was announced the other day by the Department of Justice in a resume of the work of the Federal Bureau of Investigation during the year ended June 30, 1943.

"The keynote of F. B. I. war work," said J. Edgar Hoover, director of the bureau, "has been the safeguarding of the American home front against the spy, saboteur and foreign agent. Spy rings have been broken up and efforts of foreign directed saboteurs have been thus far ineffective."

The 147 persons arrested and convicted received sentences totaling 688 years in prison, one life sentence, and six death penalties, which were meted out against the saboteurs landed from Nazi U-boats on Long Island and the coast of Florida. The sentences were carried out in July of last year.

The report disclosed that the F. B. I. took into custody during the last twelve months 11,432 alien enemies, of whom 3,085 were Germans, 2,211 Japanese, 3,490 Italians and twenty three either Hungarian, Rumanian or Bulgarian. Many of these have since been referred to Federal or State courts for trial on the custody of alien enemy hearing boards. Spot checks by F. B. I. agents for contraband material banned by Presidential proclamation in the homes of alien enemies turned on 4,222 guns of all descriptions, 260 rounds of ammunition, 2,340 stocks of dynamite, 3,300 cameras of all types, 2,625 short wave radio receiving sets, and more than 1,200 swords, bayonets and similar weapons.

There were twenty-two convictions of espionage or failure to register as foreign agents during the fiscal year with other cases under investigation and prosecution as the period closed. Sabotage convictions numbered ninety, but the F. B. I. report emphasized that there was no evidence of a sabotage "Redition" conviction, totaling 146 years in prison, were obtained against twenty-two persons.

In its investigations of selective violations, the F. B. I. obtained 3,071 convictions on a handling of a quarter of a million cases, in addition to the convictions, 100,000 men were located and made available to the armed forces for military service. Mr. Hoover, in his report, pointed out that the

Hoarded Corn

Lack of corn is closing a large corn refinery near Chicago which has been producing starch and other derivatives for makers of textiles, paper, explosives, and other products, including castings for aluminum, iron and steel.

Where is all the corn? Some is going into hogs. Farmers are finding it more profitable to feed what they have than to sell it for industrial uses.

Not all of the corn is available for hogs, however, nor for poultry, also one of the nation's needs. Much of it is stored in terminal elevators.

The ordinary citizen who buys food at high prices, pays high taxes, buys bonds and goes without many comforts, wonders about this.

EVENTUALLY,

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By RUSSELL KAY

I don't know whether Mr. Lou R. Maxon, deputy administrator of the OPA, thought he was talking us anything we didn't know when he issued his timely blast at this Frankenstein bureau or not, but most any guy on the street for the corner bootblack to the banker has known in his heart for a long time that the whole screwy setup was nothing short of a grand and glorious mess.

Admitting the need for some regulatory body to curb inflation and granting that Congress was sincere in its effort to create one, it is nevertheless apparent to-day that the one we are attempting to operate is a dismal failure.

The agency got off on the wrong foot at the start under Leon Henderson, who attempted to set up a sort of cross between a Gestapo and Kangaroo Court.

From the dawn of history it has been recorded that only SLAVES can be driven, while FREEMEN must be led.

Now the unholy id has been blown off in the form of a scathing indictment from within by an official thoroughly familiar with every detail of its operations and fully qualified to speak with unquestioned authority.

Mr. Maxon in one clear-cut, straightforward, fearless statement has verified what most of us have long realized but could not prove. America is indebted to Lou R. Maxon, and is regrettable that his courageous statement had to be accompanied with his letter of resignation.

In terminating his association with the OPA and refusing to accept the offered post of manager, Maxon bluntly tells why. He charges that the agency has become so bound up in legalistic red tape that Houdini himself couldn't untangle it.

Admitting the need of an intelligent, sensible and workable program, Maxon says: "The OPA must not fail—and states that if it fails it will be because of its own inherent weakness, confusion, indecision, compromise, miles of legalistic red tape and the presence of theorists in policy-making positions."

He pointed to the need of a "drastic reorganization, a strong clear direction and a liberal transference of common sense."

His views will, perhaps alarm a few busybodies in OPA who believe that government should manufacture and distribute all commodities. They are using their narrow vision and will continue to see more men in OPA as a threat to their efforts.

He charged that the agency has become so bound up in legalistic red tape that Houdini himself couldn't untangle it.

Miss Carolyn Talley Weds R.J. Hickson, Jr.

An event of June 21 of interest to a wide circle of friends was the marriage of Miss Carolyn Talley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Talley of Adel, Ga. to Richard G. Hickson, Jr. which took place at 6:00 o'clock in the evening at the First Methodist Church in Adel.

The impressive ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. S. Brinson before an altar backed with palms and ferns against which were arranged large flower baskets of gladioli interspersed with candelabra holding burning white tapers. The pews were marked with white satin ribbons.

The nuptial music was presented by Newton Tison at the organ and Alva Kitchens at the piano. Mrs. Marion Smith, sister of the bride, sang "Because All for You" and "The Prayer Perfect Liebetraum" was played during the ceremony.

Serving as usher groomsmen were Ralph Taylor, E. J. Whidden and W. G. Talley, E. J. Nelson, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man.

Mrs. Heysa McEachern, matron of honor, was gowned in a combination of orchid lace and marquisette, made with sweetheart neckline, basque bodice, long sleeves and a full flared skirt. Her flowers were an arm bouquet of roses and orchids, gladioli tied with orchid satin ribbon. Her hair dress was of orchid veils fastened in a large bow worn in back of her hair.

Miss Sylvia Talley, sister of the bride and maid of honor, wore pale blue fashioned after the matron of honor's gown. Her hairdress was blue and her arm bouquet was of roses and orchids.

The bridesmaids, Miss Beulah James of Jacksonville, and Miss Gloria Wimberly of Savannah, Ga., wore gowns of yellow fashioned after the matron of honor. Their flowers were arm bouquets of roses and gladioli.

The little flower girls were Miss Marianne Talley, niece of the bride and Miss Correll Jean Nelson, niece of the groom. Their gowns were of tulle, importance and marquisette fashioned after the bride's. They carried French baskets of rose petals. All the bride's attendants wore strings of pearls which were gifts of the bride. Beulah Talley, nephews of the bride, carried bouquets. He wore white satin and carried the ring in an Easter Lily.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and they were met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man. The bride gave for her gown a flesh color, imitation of "marquisette" lace and marquisette, made with a sweetheart neckline, basque bodice, long tight sleeves and a full flared skirt terminating in a train. Her finger tip veil of illusion was fastened to a coronet of lace edged with flesh seed pearls. Her only ornament was an old gold brooch, that had been her maternal grandmother's. The bride carried a white prayer book with a spray of orchids tied with white satin ribbons and snowed with swags of white.

Mrs. Talley, mother of the bride, was gowned in a combination of pink lace and chiffon made with a fitted waist and full skirt. Her corsage was red roses. Mrs. Hickson, mother of the groom, was gowned in a combination of aqua taffeta and chiffon, her corsage was yellow gladioli.

Mrs. W. G. Talley, sister-in-law of the bride was gowned in a combination of aqua Jersey and chiffon. Her corsage was red roses. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal couple was honored with an informal reception at the home of the bride.

After her wedding trip to Asheville, N. C. the bride chose a Bill Wrage ensemble composed of a black silk shantung suit, a white mist blouse, black silk bag, white hat and gloves she also wore a corsage of orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Hickson will make their home in Sanford.

Newspapers Reveal Gain in Circulation

NEW YORK, July 21, (AP)—Daily newspapers are hitting a new high record for subscription and newsstand sales with a gain of 1,679,170 daily buyers—a rise equal to 3.9 percent over previous sales—according to a survey by the audit bureau of circulation.

The ABC report shows that 48,789,861 newspapers were sold by the total 1763 United States dailies (English language) in the six months' period ended Sept. 30, 1942—showing that 104 fewer newspapers are averaging bigger daily sales.

At the same time, newspapers were forced to cut their slim 20 percent order curtailment of the use of newsprint.

Further populists of the daily newspaper was indicated by the fact that average circulation "rebounded" to go up this year when the price of approximately 18 percent of the nation's dailies was raised to 5 cents per copy.

Years ago he has appeared in several moving pictures, among them being "On Your Toes," in which he teamed with the famous "Gingie" and "Adventures."

His home is at 250 West 85th Street, New York City. His wife, known professionally as Gladis Cavalliana, also is a ballet dancer and has been with the Metropolitan Opera. One of his brothers, also a dancer with the San Francisco Opera.

Mrs. Carolyn Talley, bride, and Richard G. Hickson, Jr., groom, are shown with their bridesmaids and attendants. Most of the guests are shown in the background.

Basic Rules Listed For Planning Diets Rich In Proteins
 BY MRS. ALEXANDER LEWIS
 With most people, the diet is made up of meat, eggs, milk, and fish. These are the proteins. Proteins are the building blocks of the body. They are essential for life. They are found in meat, eggs, milk, and fish. They are also found in some plants, such as beans and lentils. It is important to eat a diet rich in proteins to keep the body healthy.

Three good basic rules are:
 (1) Buy your proteins fully (2) Buy your proteins every day (3) Buy your proteins in a variety of ways.

A meat-based diet is the most plentiful, richest in vitamins, and most palatable. It is also the most expensive. It is also the most difficult to digest. It is also the most likely to cause heart disease and cancer.

Remember that pork is the most plentiful, richest in vitamins, and most palatable. It is also the most expensive. It is also the most difficult to digest. It is also the most likely to cause heart disease and cancer.

Railroads Ask To Be Freed Of Rules On Hiring

WMC Asked For Exemption From Stabilization Vacancies

The National Railroad Laborers' Union (NRLU) has asked the War Relocation Authority (WRA) for an exemption from the rules governing the hiring of war relocation camp inmates by the railroad industry.

The NRLU claims that the current rules, which require that a certain percentage of war relocation camp inmates be hired by the railroad industry, are unfair and discriminatory. The union claims that the railroad industry is not in a position to hire war relocation camp inmates because of the shortage of labor in the industry.

The WRA has agreed to consider the NRLU's request for an exemption. The WRA has also agreed to consider the request of the War Relocation Authority (WRA) for an exemption from the rules governing the hiring of war relocation camp inmates by the railroad industry.

People are very nice about it

Sure! I'll be glad to limit my Long Distance calls to 5 minutes

FLIT BUMPS 'EM OFF!

SOMETIMES, when you make a Long Distance call the operator will say—
'Please limit your call to 5 minutes. Others are waiting.'
This doesn't happen all the time because many Long Distance calls go through almost as usual. But whenever we have had to ask that you be kept to 5 minutes, there has been a fine crowd of co-operation from the public.

We want to say thanks for that. Your help and understanding count down to better service.

OPA Predicts Egg Shortage By December

WASHINGTON, July 22, (AP)—President Roosevelt said today the Administration is considering new plans for price control and general economic stabilization but that no idea has yet been agreed on. He said he would welcome any bright suggestions as to how the price rollback can be carried out under the present law.

WASHINGTON, July 22, (AP)—OPA spokesman said today the United States will see a critical egg shortage by December. "It will be the worst egg shortage in the nation's history," he added. "It will be accompanied by a bad black market. No plan for mid-winter egg rationing is being considered. I don't see how we could do it, the problem is a huge."
