It will provide reclaimed water service for the college, its access road, the new County Safety complex, Lake Mary Boulevard medians, and the Groveview Village as well as the planned Sterling Woods subdivision. The expectation is to be online by early June.

Attempted escape

SANFORD — John Hendrickson, 47, of Daytona Beach was to make his initial court appearance this afternoon at the John E. Palk Correctional Facility. He is charged with one count each of attempted escape and criminal mischief.

According to Sheriff's spokesman Ed McDonough, Hendrickson, a federal inmate, had been held at the jail since December 1996 on bank robbery charges.

Hendrickson is accused of attempting to escape from the jail Sunday. The attempt began at approximately noon when he reportedly removed the metal water chase panel from the wall in cell block C-3. He also removed the metal reinforcement slats from his bed.

He then is said to have begun carving the molding around the window of his cell at attempting to remove the plexiglass window. The window however, also had steel bars which are extremely close together, and no escape could be made.

He has now been moved to a constitutional minimum cell for security reasons.

Ambulance service: County's costly matter of life and death

By RUSS WHITE
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — The response time was more than five hours before the Board of Seminole County Board of Directors came up with some big decisions at its emergency medical transport work session Tuesday.

The board approved the formation of an evaluation Request for Approval (RFA) to be conducted by Deloitte & Touche, a management solutions and services firm.

The RFA addresses a First Response and First Response Transport plan that may or may not replace the present two-tiered system in which the county's fire departments are the first responder to arrive on the scene, but transport of the patient is done by a private ambulance that also responds to the scene and bills the patient.

The RFA does not include a certificate of need or ONI classification. Regarding the cost, each call costs the county as the major transport provider, usually via for-profit contract with various vendors.

In the existing two-tiered system, EMTs load all the ambulance if request work is made by the hospital and transferred to an ambulance company. The county EMS unit had to keep the ambulance but will have to be able to transport a patient.

County's Department of Public Safety, and various fire departments, at the various in conference, the "three day" of the County Safety Building, Wednesday.

Lake Mary airs incentive money plan for Dual Inc.

By NICK PFEIFAU
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — Dual Incorporated wants to invest $5 million into the Lake Mary area relocate its headquarters from Virginia, and take on an additional 125 new employees during the next five years.

Dual is presently leasing a 40,000 square foot building on Skyline Drive in Technology Park, but reportedly wants a permanent location of possibly 80,000 square feet, with plans to move its headquarters to Lake Mary from Arlington, Va.

In December of 1995, the Seminole County Commission granted approval of an economic incentive request in the amount of $171,000. The request was reauthorized in November of this past year.

As with previous projects, the Seminole County award is contingent on the participation of Lake Mary which would pay 50 percent ($85,000) of the amount.

In a letter sent to Robert A. Turk, Seminole County manager for economic development last October, Dual vice president and chief financial officer Thomas J. Wilke explained, "We anticipate that within the next two to five years the company will increase its work force in Lake Mary from its present level of approximately 90 employees to over 200 fulltime employees. Between 80 and 90 percent of this growth will be

Having your kids shot for school

By VICKI DeGONNER
Herald Senior Staff Writer

SANFORD — A new state statute requires that students show proof of their final immunizations against childhood and other disease before they enter the seventh grade.

While the majority of parents are able to take their youngsters to either the doctor or to the public health department for their shots, some parents have problems with transportation or other difficulties in getting their children in for the required immunizations. The health department and others are planning to offer immunizations at a variety of locations around the county at times that are more convenient for those people who are unable to make it to the doctor or to the health department.

The Seminole County Public Schools have joined forces with the health department, the Seminole County Department of Public Safety's EMS/Fire Rescue Division, McDonald's of Lake Mary, the Kiwanis Club and the Seminole County Council of PTAs to bring immunizations to those who need them.

"We want to ensure that every child who needs to be immunized has the opportunity," Mary Ann Kalsburg, zone administrator for Seminole County Public Schools. "It is essential that these students are immunized and we are trying to make it more convenient."

According to Chief Norm Miller of the department of public safety, his EMS/fire rescue employees will help make the immunization process as painless for the children and as convenient for the parents as possible.

"That's our goal," he said. The shots given at the remote locations will only be available to current sixth grade students enrolled in public schools in Seminole County. Kindergartners looking to get their pre-first grade shots will have to use more traditional locations for their immunizations.

A parent or guardian must accompany each sixth grader who goes to the remote location to get his or her shots. The adult must sign the permission forms before the shots can be administered. The child's previous immunization rerecords must be presented at the time of the immunizations.

The youngsters will need a series of three shots for their Hepatitis B immunization.

The dates and times of the remote locations are:

● Lakeview Middle School, 21 Lakeview Dr. Sanford.

March 8, April 5 and Sept. 6.

Students from Lakeview Middle should be there from 9 to 10:30 a.m.; students from Sanford Middle should be there from 10:30 a.m. until noon; students from Greenwood Lakes Middle should be there from noon until 1:30 p.m.; and students from Crooms Academy should be there from 1:30 to 3 p.m.

A rather bleak day in our history

Today isn't one of the happiest days in the history of our nation. In fact, it was a rather bleak day back during World War II when our nation showed signs of panic.

It was Feb. 19, 1942 when President Franklin Roosevelt signed executive order 9066. As a result, an estimated 110,000 Japanese-Americans living in the coastal Pacific area, were placed into concentration camps in remote areas of Arizona, Arkansas, inland California, Colorado, Idaho, Utah and Wyoming.

The people were placed in the camps because U.S. officials were concerned that some of the people of Japanese descent may be sympathetic to the Japanese who had attacked Pearl Harbor slightly more than two months earlier. No such loyalty was ever proven.

Statistics however, showed that nearly two-thirds of the people placed in the camps were legal American citizens.

When they put these people into the concentration camps, our nation also confiscated their property, estimated at $400 million in value.

During this same time period, in the areas near the defense plants, especially Detroit where all of the auto plants were turning out tanks, aircraft and other military vehicles, persons of German descent were being ordered to move out of the state. Only a few were allowed to remain.

Even in events planned to be happy, there were problems caused by the war. On Feb. 19, 1949, the first Bollingen Prize for poetry was awarded to Ezra Pound, for his collection, The Pisan Cantos. There were demonstrations against the award however, as Pound had been accused of making pro-Fascist broadcasts from Italy, during World War II.

To change the subject, birthday anniversaries from history include Nicolaus Copernicus, who promoted a revolutionary theory that our planetary system rotated around the sun, not around Earth as had previously been believed. Copernicus was born in Poland in 1473.

Today's birthdays include: Prince Andrew, Duke of York, who turns 37; sportscaster and jockey Eddie Arcaro is 81; singer/songwriter Smokey Robinson is 57.

Speaking of birthdays and this not being a happy day, I made a goof last Friday and haven't heard the end of it. I erroneously said, on the date of Jack Benny's birth, that he had married Gracy Allen. I bet George Burns, if he was still with us, would have been surprised. Benny married Mary Livingstone, nee Sadie Marks in 1927.

Franklin D. Roosevelt

I had the opportunity to spend a number of hours with Benny many years ago, and I assure you, he would have been extremely angry at the error. He was a perfectionist, as are most people who reach the top of a profession.

Seminole County wins second place in the county exhibit at Florida State Fair

By VICKI DeGONNER
Herald Senior Staff Writer

TAMPA — As the constructors of the Seminole County exhibit at the Florida State Fair took down their handiwork earlier this week, they added a red ribbon to their collection.

In addition to the second place award, the exhibit creators from the Cooperative Extension Service also earned $1,000 in prize money.

The Seminole County Commission charged the Cooperative Extension Service with the task of creating the exhibit extolling the virtues of the natural beauty of the county.

The colorful leaf green and sky blue was given the second place ribbon at the state fair and will be recycled for use at the Central Florida Fair in Orlando later this month.

According to county extension director Barbara Hughes-Gregg, the county has entered the State Fair competition on several occasions, but this is the first time the county has won an award at any level.

The theme for this year's Florida State Fair exhibits was "Florida's Environment — It's Your Future."

Seminole County's interactive exhibit depicts the ways in which the different departments in the county have made themselves environmentally friendly while saving taxpayer dollars.

The colorful exhibit brings together the many aspects of how the county government is working to preserve the natural beauty of the region. Hughes-Gregg said.

The display shows off the various programs and invited visitors to see what the county was able to do to save money and to be on the cutting edge of what the state is doing to conserve resources. Hughes-Gregg said.

It is an interactive exhibit in which visitors enter and are greeted by music and environmentally-friendly lighting that is turned on by sensors that detect motion.

Around the display of hydroponic area, which represents the lettuce and other vegetables grown by inmates at the John E. Polk Correctional Facility, frogs croak and recycled papers are displayed in a moving bin.

According to Hughes-Gregg, everything in the exhibit was made of recycled materials and will be recycled again once the Central Florida Fair concludes its run next month.

Seminole County's earth friendly exhibit won a state award at the Fair.

from new hires, with an average annual salary of $39,000.

The company predicted between 10 and 15 of the Virginia employees will be relocated, requiring the purchase of new homes in the Lake Mary area, which would add even more to the economic impact of Dual's relocation.

U.S. Congressman John Mica has sent a letter to Lake Mary urging consideration of the Dual request. "As you know," he wrote, "Dual, Inc. has been an integral part of the simulation and training community of Central Florida. I am working with federal agencies to make Central Florida the leader in simulation and training for the country."

Lake Mary City Planner Matt West said the request from Dual is different than most economic incentive requests in that Dual has not officially announced any specific site location for the new facility.

West is recommending the city approve the award, with the requirement that Dual have an approved site plan before the city within one year of the, and the CO (certificate of occupancy) be issued within two years after the agreement.

The matter is scheduled for discussion and/or consideration during this Thursday night's Lake Mary City Commission meeting, beginning at 7 p.m. at Lake Mary City Hall, 100 N. Country Club Road.

The case for double jeopardy of O.J. Simpson

Boaters, take note

Points to ponder:
There is a buoy immediately north of the entrance to the Monroe Harbour marina. People who know how to operate a boat and know the rules of the road, will keep the buoy to the left (port), when exiting the harbour. When entering, it is to be kept to the right. Those are the rules.

During the past year, with high water, people in-the-know often traveled closer to the shore, knowing that their boats wouldn't run aground. It wasn't right, but people being people were prone to take the shortest route out onto the lake.

But with water levels getting lower and lower in Lake Monroe and the St. Johns River once again, we are seeing an increase in boats getting stuck. Boaters ignore the buoy warning, and end up getting stuck in the lake bottom.

Long timers know, Lake Monroe isn't as deep as it looks. People are plowing their props into the earth causing their boats to become stuck, and often damaging the props. They sit there gunning their motors or attempting to back up, hoping their actions will break the boat free. Most do, but no doubt there are a few unpubliahable words expressed during the effort.

But there is no one to blame. The buoy is there to give a warning. If it's ignored, there may be some boat repairs in your future, or at least a delay while you try to get your boat unatuck.

It's worth giving it some thought, to avoid problems and make a boating trip less stressful.

Change of subject

We brag that Sanford is "The City Beautiful," but people toss cans, paper cups, hamburger and french fry bags, and trays full of ashes out onto the sides of our streets and at intersections.

Let's blame the visitor. He or she doesn't care about the cleanliness of our local communities. WRONG. Check who is doing it, and you will find most people who are vehicular litterbugs have Seminole County license tags.

Our guests don't know if they can get away with it or not, so they don't dare do this. Our local people however, know that they won't be punished for littering and toss everything out of their vehicles.

What will it take to alleviate this situation, a law enforcement crackdown? No, we believe it only requires our own people to be more considerate of others and of their communities. If you have trash, take a trash bag with you and empty it out after you get home. It's the kind thing to do.

Stuarts, of frequently discharging a jury during the course of a trial if the prosecution saw the proof was deficient, so that better evidence could be secured for a second trial."

Douglas considered this form of double jeopardy "abhorrent" and noted it was finally condemned by British judges in 1748. Justice Hugo Black, moreover, stated with his customary vigor that "the State should not be allowed to make repeated attempts to convict an individual ... thereby subjecting him to embarrassment, expense and ordeal and compelling him to live in a continuing state of anxiety and insecurity."

Yet O.J. Simpson, acquitted of murder in a criminal trial, has now been held liable for the deaths of Nicole Simpson and Ronald Goldman in a civil trial. While there were no state prosecutors in the second trial, the state provided the judge and the rules of procedure. The verdict does not send Simpson to prison, but it effectively -- for most of the nation -- condemns him as a murderer despite the verdict in the first trial.

Although it was a civil trial, he has been tried for the same crimes twice, and very few of the legal experts and other commentators seem concerned by this basic violation of due process, even though it is permitted.

And certainly the huge number of non-lawyers rejoicing at the second verdict had no due process qualms. They were convinced of Simpson's guilt, regardless of the first trial, and were now delighted that at last, as a New York Daily News front-page headline put it, "O.J. Must Pay."

One of the few who brought up the subject of double jeopardy before the verdict was Bruce Morton, a political analyst for CNN: "Yes, this is a civil trial, not a criminal trial. It takes a preponderance of evidence, not evidence beyond a reasonable doubt, to vote (him) 'responsible'... This jury can't sentence him to death or imprisonment, but it can sentence him to being in debt for the rest of his life. "This is a second trial for the same offense with real penalties ... in that sense, this is double jeopardy."

And because the civil trial has lower standards of proof, it is obviously easier to convict the second time around.

Yale Kamisar, a professor of constitutional law at the University of Michigan, told the New York Times: "It's really a second crack at O.J. The reason most people don't mind is because most people, or most white people, think that O.J. did it. It's so easy to forget about principles."

Not only Simpson has been placed in double jeopardy by a second bite of the apple. Among others have been the police who were seen beating Rodney King and Bernhard Goetz (acquitted of criminal assault in the shooting of four teen-age attackers on the subway but then held liable for $43 million in a civil suit).

In Simpson's ordeal -- to use Justice Black's term -- he was held liable and punishable for these crimes even though the prosecutors in the first trial could not convince that jury he did it. This isn't double jeopardy? What makes these second trials all the more diminishing of due process is the fact that if the jury verdict in the first is widely unpopular, it can be very difficult for juries in the second trial to resist the popular pressure that they must now do "justice."

William O. Douglas told of a woman in Lancashire, England, who had been acquitted of witchcraft at trial. She had been charged with summoning Satan to help her murder Christopher Nutter. She and her ingenious associate allegedly turned a clay image into an instrument of his death.

The acquittal was wildly unpopular and so, in 1612, she was tried again, convicted, and hanged. O.J. Simpson was lucky.

and several hard-drives," he said. "They will be turned over to the Florida Department of Law Enforcement for investigation."

The warrants were reportedly issued to the companies for their part in an allegedly fraudulent investment scheme involving the potential loss of over $5 million by over 90 investors, the majority of whom reside in Central Florida.

Seminole County Judge Ralph E. Eriksson found probable cause for the issuance of a warrant to search the ECN offices for evidence relating to the offer and sale of unregistered high interest securities, sold in the form of promissory notes.

Gibson stressed that the warrants were only served on the main operations in Heathrow and Deltona, and not at branch offices. "They are normally not involved in such activities," he said.

The allegations contained within the civil complaint include that the companies, along with President and owner Charles F. Esakuchen, engaged in the sale of unregistered securities, the sale of securities by unregistered broker/dealers, and the fraudulent sale of securities through the operation of a "Ponzi" scheme, whereby new "investor" funds are used to pay the principal and interest of existing "investors."

According to the lawsuit, ECN and Esakuchen instead, misrepresented the purchase of the notes as an investment and told investors that the investments were safe and that their funds would be invested into mortgages.

Any investors that hold notes issued by ECN should contact the Office of the Comptroller, Banking and Finance at (407) 245-0760 or toll free at (800) 342-2247.

relationship. He allegedly threatened her job and harassed her on the telephone on at least nine occasions since last October.

She is a teacher in Seminole County, district officials said, but she does not work at Greenwood Lakes.

Most of the calls occurred soon after the relationship ended and ceased off during the holidays. The woman reported that they resumed in January.

She filed a complaint with law enforcement officials when the calls began again.

She filed a complaint with Seminole County school officials about two weeks ago, they noted.

Francis was arrested by Seminole County sheriff's deputies on Friday and taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility where he spent the weekend. On Monday, he was transferred to the Orange County Jail.

He was held there on $100,000 bond before being released.

Big Apple traces history to racetrack

DEAR ABBY: I can help out your reader who asked why New York City is called "The Big Apple."

Attorney/word sleuth Barry Popick spotted two 1920s articles which clarify that John J. FitzGerald, racing editor for the New York Morning Telegraph — a leading horse-racing newspaper of the day that later became the Daily Racing Form — heard "the big apple" mentioned in a conversation between two African-American stable hands in New Orleans (January 1920). The term referred to the New York City racetracks as the big time in horse-racing.

FitzGerald picked up the term and popularized it in his newspaper, still in reference to the NYC racetracks.

In the 1930s, black jazz musicians then applied the term to Harlem specifically, and New York City in general, as the big time in jazz.

In 1971, Charles Gillett, president of the New York Convention and Visitors Bureau, revived the term as part of a public relations campaign on behalf of New York City.

By the 1980s, the term "The Big Apple" from the 1930s jazz scene.

The term itself goes back ultimately to the big red 16-ounce apples developed in Iowa in the 1870s. They were regarded as something special. And for pokeys active in the "bushes," the New York City tracks represented the big time, the big treat they looked forward to, i.e., "the big apple."

ADVICE

GERALD COHEN, PROFESSOR OF FOREIGN LANGUAGES, UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI-ROLLA P.S. I am the former president of the American Name Society. Your 1988 column on "The Big Apple" was the stimulus that led to my research on the term: a book (1991) and two updates.

DEAR PROFESSOR COHEN: Thanks for straightening this out. I heard from several readers offering varied explanations about the origin of the title name for New York City. Helen Toyev of Summerville, S.C., described a Harlem nightclub called the Big Apple that she had seen in 1936 and which had a big red apple over the entrance. She included a Roxy Theater program, dated Sept. 3, 1937, in which was featured a new dance called "The Big Apple — introduced by the contest winners from the colleges of North and South Carolina."

I also heard from Barry Popick, author of the article on the Big Apple published in the January/February issue of Irish America magazine, which is fitting since the name originated with an Irishman. Mr. Popick related that on Jan. 29, he appeared before the New York City Council in support of a permanent "Big Apple Corner" street sign at West 54th Street and Broadway, John J. FitzGerald's address for the last 30 years of his life. (The measure was approved.)

If anybody has any information about Mr. FitzGerald, Mr. Popick can be contacted at: bpopick@aol.com. Mr. Popick also mentioned that my original 1988 "Big Apple" column was what got everything started. Howda ya like them apples!

Will change help Magic?

Maybe Brian Hill wasn't the greatest coach in the history of the NBA. Maybe he didn't have a team to work with. Hill was fired yesterday after a classy organization acted without class, leaving Hill dangling in the wind like a Dennis Scott airball.

All the usual soundbites came out of yesterday's press conference. Things about a lack of chemistry. Lack of respect from Hill's players. Time for a change.

To what?

Hill coached the Magic for three full seasons and led them to the playoffs, NBA finals and semi-finals during his run.

Front office bumbling forced his franchise player out of town and injuries depleted what was left.

Now, Richie Adubato has the unenviable task of trying to guide this lifeless bunch through the remainder of the regular season. If all goes well, the team may even earn the honor of getting swept by Chicago in the first round of the playoffs.

After the sweep, Adubato will most likely turn over the keys to someone else. Who's out there capable of doing better than Hill?

Hmm.

Popular opinion lists the usual suspects - Chuck Daly, Rick Pitino and a host of the other NBA rebrands who turn up every year.

Can anyone do better than Hill?

Daly is one for three in his coaching career, falling miserably in Cleveland in the early 80s and putting everyone to sleep in New Jersey in the 90s after taking a team of future hall-of-famers to an NBA championship in Detroit.

Pitino never made it in New York and has only succeeded on the college level with the most talent of anyone in college basketball.

Hill could have gone undefeated with Pitino's ponies.

Don Nelson? Doug Moe? Dick Motta?

Why not just bring back Cotton Fitzsimmons?

Hill did the best job possible considering the circumstances. He started the season with Felton Spencer at center and Amil McCaskill and Danny Schayes as a key part of the rotation.

Let's see Chuck Daly win with Amil McCaskill in the pivot.

For that matter, let's see Red Auerbach win with that lineup. He'd have a nicotine fit from not being able to light his victory cigar.

Sure, Hill made mistakes. He tried to run the same offense as last season despite having a completely different team.

With Shaquille O'Neal, the offense was, toss it to Shaq, let him slam or pass it to the snipers at three-point land.

It worked.

Rony Seikaly took over after Shaw took the money and ran, but Seikaly is a different player than Shaq. With him, the post offense wasn't as effective and relied too much on stone cold Nick Anderson and Dennis Scott from long range.

Against teams like Milwaukee and Boston - typical opponents during the Magic's recent 12-2 tear - it worked.

Against the next tier of Chicago, Detroit and Charlotte this past week, it was embarrassing.

But the fault rests with the players, not with Hill. Maybe Don Nelson has the right idea. Nelson took over the Dallas Mavericks two weeks ago, saw dissonance between the players and new coach Jim Cleamons and sided with the coach.

He then fired the team.

In two weeks, the whole team was sent packing. There's a lesson there. This is clearly a Magic team on the decline. Orlando clearly isn't going to the conference finals this year or anytime soon. Penny Hardaway is a star. Rony Seikaly is a very good center.

After that?

Not a pretty picture. A lot of grumbling malcontents who quit playing last week.

Don't feel sorry for Brian Hill. He'll be a head coach somewhere in the NBA next season. He's a smart man who put a bunch of kids into the NBA finals just two years ago.

Instead, feel sorry for Richie Adubato, trying to take the remnants of what used to be a good NBA team and trying to get them through the remainder of the NBA season.

Last second shot: Spring training started for major league baseball teams this week. Is there anyone left who cares?

Former Magic head coach Brian Hill

Lake Mary hammers DeLand

By JEFF BERLINICKE
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — Two weeks ago, Lake Mary girls basketball coach Carl Brown had a message for his sophomore forward Mary Leah Sutton.

Sutton was working on a decent, if unspectacular season, and Brown knew he needed someone to step up as the Lady Rams approached post-season play.

"I told her she needed to know she could do it," Brown said. "She had to make her mind up to get it done."

Whatever it was, Sutton has done it since district play began last week and she continued last night, leading the Lady Rams to an easy 74-30 win over an undermanned DeLand team.

Sutton wasn't the only hero, but she scored over 20 points for the second straight game, taking pressure off Lauren Bradley and adding yet another weapon to an already loaded arsenal.

See Lake Mary, Page 3B

Sophomore Mary Leah Sutton (No. 35) continues to make her presence felt in post season play as she tallied 20 points for the second consecutive game to lead Lake Mary past DeLand 74-30 Tuesday night.

Seminole boys rally in fourth

By DEAN SMITH
Herald Sports Editor

ST AUGUSTINE — Invariably in post-season play someone unexpected steps up and saves the day for his team.

Such was the case Tuesday night as Mequal "Magic" Bush came off the bench to hit the game-winning shot with 11 seconds left as Seminole Arrow Force V upset District 3 champion St. Augustine 58-56 in Class 5A-North 1 Regional Quarterfinal action at St. Augustine High School Tuesday night.

"We had been getting on Magic about his turnovers lately," said Seminole head coach Bob Traina. "He could have wilted when Zeke (point guard Zeke Seymour) hauled out, but I told him he had to step up and do the job. We didn't know he was going to have to hit the big shot, but he did it. I hope this convinces him that we have not given up on him."

Arrow Force V (14-20) fell behind.

Lions put it on Bulldogs

OVIDO — The Harlem Globe Trotters played the Washington Generals at Oviedo High School Tuesday night. At least that's the way it looked to the casual observer as the Oviedo Lions made quick work of the DeLand Bulldogs, 86-58, in the Boys Basketball Regional Tournament.

The only thing missing was Curly Neal spinning the basketball on his finger as the court trotting Lions controlled the ball, and the pace of the game, while the Bulldogs struggled to make sure that the orange object they were shooting for was the rim of the basket and not the orange jerseys on the Oviedo players.

Oviedo clearly held a height advantage over DeLand and they did not shy away from capitalizing on it. At times it seemed like Oviedo was playing keep away from DeLand. Oviedo picked off the DeLand passes at will. In addition, the Lions proved to be quite the intimidator under the boards swatting down numerous Bulldogs' shots like mosquitoes.

The Lions never trailed in the game and converted a 10-point halftime lead into a 28-point final margin and an invite to the next round on the way to a State title. The Lions won the state-basketball title in 1992.

Darren Rogers paced Oviedo and led all scorers with 27 points, including four shots from downtown. Jason Dangerfield finished with 17 points for the Lions.

Senior guard Darren Rogers (white uniform) scored a game-high 27 points as the Oviedo Lions pummeled the DeLand Bulldogs 86-58 Tuesday night.

Four-way tie at Lyman Baseball Invitational

LONGWOOD — If Tuesday night's performance is an accurate indication, the Lyman High School baseball team possesses the unique and lethal blend of aggressiveness and patience on offense.

Slashing Oviedo pitching for 10 hits (including five doubles) and waiting on Oviedo pitching for 14 walks (one intentional), the Greyhounds rallied from an early 3-1 deficit to dump the Lions, 12-6, in the Lyman Invitational.

Earlier in the day, Winter Park knocked off Spruce Creek, 6-1.

Through the first two days of the tournament, each of the four teams has a 1-1 record. The final games of the round-robin stage will be played Thursday, Oviedo facing Spruce Creek at 4 p.m. with Lyman playing Winter Park at 7 p.m.

The winners of Thursday's games will meet in Friday night's championship game at 7 p.m. The two losers will play for third place at 4 p.m. Friday.

Lyman scored first, winning pitcher Tyler Carr singling home Kevin Naas in the top of the first inning. The lead was short-lived. Oviedo using its speed on the basepaths to plate three runs in the bottom of the first.

From there, the Greyhounds slowly worked their way back, scoring a run in the third and two in the fourth to go back ahead, 4-3. Again Oviedo rallied, tying the score as Troy Boutwell tripled and scored on Jeremy Frost's double to tie the game at 4-4 in the bottom of the fifth.

Sutton isn't one for the take-it-one-game-at-a-time approach. She's thinking about a trip to Lakeland, site of the State Gymnasium.

"Of course, we're thinking about it," Sutton said. "That's where we expect to be."

Her confidence is the mark of a player who has stepped up her game since the middle of the season when Bradley was posting the big numbers every night and Brown was trying to incorporate the rest of the team.

"This is a new season right now," Sutton said. "The first part was a learning experience but now is a time I have to step up."

The whole Lake Mary team stepped it up last night. Sutton led the way with 20 points and point guard Ashlee Ballance added 14 to go with a pile of assists. Bradley's 13 meant nothing compared to her rebounding which afforded Lake Mary third and fourth shots all night.

At one point late in the third quarter, Ballance and Sutton put up a light-drift, slight before getting one to drop as the Bulldog rebounders were to press.

Brown's only nervous part of the evening was watching his players throw themselves all over the court for loose balls, even as they led by over 30 late in the game.

"We came out and tried to make a statement with our defense tonight," Brown said. "We wanted to force turnovers. We didn't have the best practice yesterday (Monday) but we came ready to play defense."

Lake Mary had help. Deland was passing the ball all over the gym and several of the Lady Rams' steals came as self-defense as errant passes flew right at them.

It was over early. Lake Mary led 13-2 as Sutton outscored the entire Deland team in the first quarter. Brown was able to empty his bench early and the backups came through. Becky Pedro came all the way to fill a pair of three pointers and Carissa Sica was also hot from the outside.

Now the easy part is over. There are two games between Lake Mary and Lakeland starting Friday night when the Rams host Ft. Walton Beach Choctawhatchee, which edged Tallahassee Lincoln 52-47 Tuesday night.

17-12 after one period as it tried several different defenses to get an idea on what was going to work.

"We went to our 'variety defense' in the first quarter then went with what worked," added Trauma.

Seminole battled back to take the lead at intermission, 29-27, as the guards did a good job of getting the ball inside to Cornelius Blue, Sean Whitman and Mike Evans. Arrow Force V did not have a three pointer in the game.

The Yellow Jackets (15-11) regained the lead in the third period behind some good three-point shooting, but Seminole did not abandon its game plan.

"They did hit some threes," said Trauma. "But we showed the team at halftime that we were getting good shots and while they were making some three pointers that was not a very high percentage shot."

Arrow Force V kept its poise in the fourth period and held St. Augustine to only 10 points and finally got the win when Bush came through with his heroics.

The kids played hard and could have talked several times but didn't," said Trauma. "I think our hustle got better as the game went on. They would steal the ball and we would take it right back. We lost some rebounds that I think we should have gotten, but overall we played well."

"We're getting better. Like we talked about all season, I think our schedule helped us tonight. We played the Cyclones, Lake Howell's and Lake Mary's tough late in the year and that helped when we played a team like St. Augustine tonight. But at this time of year it comes to breaks and tonight we got some breaks."

Whitman led Seminole in scoring with 13 points, while Evans added 10. Also con-

John Randolph netted a game high 21 points for the Yellow Jackets.

Arrow Force V will next play in the Regional semifinals on Friday night against an opponent to be determined today.

Trauma had praise for his assistant coaches after the game.

"We have five guys working as a team," said Trauma. Bill Whalen and P.Z. Shelton are working with the perimeter players and Alex Holcomb and John Brown are working with the post players. They give me ideas all during the game. I don't know if the fans notice, but we always discuss things together during timeouts before we talk to the team.

It's really a team effort. It is not just me.

NO LUCK IN OCALA

OCALA - Things did not go as well for the Seminole Athletic Conference's other two representatives in the Regional Quarterfinals as the Lake Howell boys were edged by Ocala Forest 58-50 and the Lyman girls also fell to the Wildcats by the score of 71-51. Both games were played at Forest High School as part of a double header.

Raiders bats go ice cold at Indian River

From Staff Reports

FT. PIERCE - The Seminole Community College baseball team ran into the second coming of Nolan Ryan and Christy Johnson Tuesday afternoon as they were held to three hits in a 4-2 loss to Indian River Community College in Ft. Pierce.

And one of the hurlers was a very familiar face to Seminole County fans.

Carmey hurled the first seven innings, hurling a perfect game for three innings and allowing only one hit before being lifted for former Lyman High School star Danny Bogeais.

The big freshman right-hander allowed one run on two hits over the last two innings as the Trojans strove to extend the lead.

Two more ex-Lymaners also played for Indian River as freshman Freddie Young was one for one and scored a run as the starting right fielder and freshman Jason Gronert made an appearance as a defensive replacement at first base late in the game.

The contest was scoreless for three innings as Raiders starter Jesse Marlo (1-1), a freshman from Pompano, matched Carmey pitch for pitch.

SCC (2-1) took the lead in the top of the fourth inning as Ryan Withey led off with a single, moved to second on an errant pick-off attempt and advanced to third on a wild pitch from where he scored on a groundout by Jesse DeBrowner.

The Pioneers tied the game with a run in the bottom of the fourth inning and then took the lead for good in the fifth inning as Young led off with a walk, stole second, advanced to third on a sacrifice bunt and scored on an infield single by Shammell.

Indian River added insurance runs in the seventh and eighth innings before Seminole plated its final run in the ninth inning off Bogeais.

Withey doubled with one out and scored when Marlo forces singled to left center. Bogeais doubled further damage as he got a double play to end it.

Withey, a freshman from Daytona Beach Manland High School, was two for three in clinching his third double of the season and scored both of the Raiders' runs. Torres, a freshman from West Orange, had SCC's other hit and was one for four with an RBI. DeBrowner added the local squad's other RBI.

Shammell led Indian River, going four for four, including the double, scored one run and drove in a run. Also contributing to the Pioneers' 12 hit attack were Fafard (2 for 3), Trujillo (2 for 4, RBI), Dewey (1 for 3, double), Young (1 for 1, run, stolen base), former Key West and Big Blue Baseball Invitational MVP Craig Larz (1 for 3, RBI), Castellano (1 for 1) and Spezio (1 run).

Seminole begins its four-game homestand tomorrow against Hillsborough Community College starting at 3 p.m.

Discuss impotence with the doctor

DEAR DR. GOTT: At age 70, I have problems with impotence. More important, my semen has taken on a pinkish color. My prostate blood test was slightly high, but I had a biopsy that was normal. Is the semen problem part of the aging process?

DEAR READER: Usually not. I suspect that you are experiencing bleeding into your semen. This may be caused by something as trivial as a low-grade prostate infection or it may have more ominous overtones, such as cancer.

I am further concerned about your high PSA level. This blood test is useful in diagnosing prostate cancer. Possibly your urologist's biopsies missed such a malignancy, but it's more likely that the abnormal test (and the bleeding) is coming from prostatitis (a prostate infection).

In my opinion, you should return to your urologist and discuss this situation with him. You probably need to undergo cystoscopy, a test during which the specialist examines your lower urinary tract for tumors, polyps or signs of infection. Further, at the time of your visit, the doctor can address the problem of impotence, which is an issue unrelated to your prostate gland.

DEAR DR. GOTT: During several visits to my doctor, he discovered that my blood pressure was lower in my left arm (88/52) than in my right arm (130/70). He gave me no explanation for this, saying only that my blood pressures are normal. At age 73, should I be concerned about this?

DEAR READER: Although the arterial circulation is a hydraulic system and the pressure within it should be the same throughout, in practice this may not be true, especially in the elderly. As older folks develop inevitable arteriosclerotic plaques, the pressure may be lower in arteries that are partially blocked. If, for example, you had some obstruction to the blood flow in your left arm, the pressure might well be significantly lower than on the right side.

In your case, both pressures are low and normal, therefore, you can ignore the discrepancies. Nonetheless, in some patients, discordant blood pressures associated with hypertension (blood pressures above 150/90) can be serious and require therapy. This is the reason that doctors routinely check the blood pressures in both arms when examining patients with hypertension.

However, given your normal blood pressures, I believe that the higher value is probably the valid figure, about which you need to do nothing.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a healthy 35-year-old woman who experiences a dull aching in my left chest when I exercise. There is no shortness of breath, just this peaky sensation that test. You're probably aware that many doctors fail to consider coronary heart disease in pre-menopausal women with chest discomfort, despite warnings by distinguished cardiologists that premature heart disease may be present — especially in sedentary, overweight female smokers.

Do I believe that you are experiencing angina or heart pain? Not on your life. But it is, after all, your life; and without suitable testing, no doctor can be absolutely sure that your heart is sound.

The results of the stress test would tell the tale. Then, if necessary, your family physician can address the problem of stress in your life — or look for other causes of chest pain, such as lung disorders or digestive complaints, including hiatal hernia and peptic disease.

bothers me. Could the pains be related to stress?

DEAR READER: Yes, they could in a healthy, active middle-aged man or woman. Yet the prudent doctor would also consider a cardiac cause, no matter how unlikely. Thus, I urge you to bring this symptom to your doctor's attention. You need an exam, a cardiogram and (quite possibly) a stress

What would you have done?

By Phillip Alder

When you play in a world championship, you can see only one opponent, as a screen runs diagonally across the table. To make a bid, you put a card from a bidding box onto a tray. After both players on one side of the screen have bid, the tray is pushed under the screen.

Imagine that when the bidding tray comes under the screen, you see that your left-hand opponent has opened with an artificial one club, promising any hand with at least 16 high-card points, and your partner has passed. With his mind on the previous deal, your right-hand opponent passes his partner's forcing bid. What should you do? As no one else would be any the wiser, do you let him take his "misbid" back, or do you pass, leaving them in one club?

It is a difficult decision. Sportsmanship tells you to let him replace his pass; the desire for victory tells you to pass. In Rhodes, the Italian Andrea Buratti let his Bulgarian opponent retract his pass on this deal. How did it work out, do you think?

It looks bad, doesn't it? Instead of being perhaps minus 130 against one club, suddenly Buratti appears booked for minus 1430 against six spades. Declarer only has to lead hearts twice from the dummy toward his hand. If East ducks his ace twice, South loses just one club trick. However, if East takes his ace, both dummy's club losers disappear on South's heart winners. But declarer misplayed, leading a heart honor from hand: one down.

Do you think he felt guilty and did it intentionally?

You might experience minor delays in what you hope to accomplish. Be patient, because when you make your move it will be significant.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Occasionally doing things in a routine manner is better than experimenting with untested methods. Time could be wasted today by departing from established patterns. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Someone who has no business prying into your personal affairs might do so today. His or her clever probing could get you to reveal more than you should.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Do not discuss something you hope will happen too freely with others today. If it doesn't happen as you intended, detractors might make a big thing of it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You are able to cope relatively easily with major impediments today. Be very careful, however, not to blow petty annoyances out of proportion.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your criticism will not be well received. If you can't say something complimentary today about another's ideas, change the subject or say nothing at all.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If you purchase anything of significance today, be sure the guarantee and warranties are in writing. Verbal promises will not mean very much.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) You are a quick thinker today, but you might be inclined to jump around too much for your own good. Focus on a purpose.
