Teen Planted Pipe Bomb For Revenge, Say Police

Two teenaged boys have been arrested in connection with a powerful pipe bomb that was placed near the deputies in connection with vandalism, sheriff's home of a Fern Park doctor.

Daniel Huguenard, 16, of 330 Spartan Drive, Fern Park, was arrested late Monday and charged with possession and placing a destructive device. He was booked at the Seminole County Correctional Facility at Sanford and turned over to juvenile authorities.

Sanford To Invest In Marina Isle

Calling Lake Monroe Isle, site of the Lake Monroe Holiday Inn and Sanford Marina, "the focal point of Sanford," the city commission Monday night voted unantmously to invest $157,000 more for improvements of the property.

City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles was instructed to search the budget and come up with a method of borrowing the money and a way to pay it back.

The project is to include $50,000 to perform maintenance dredging of the west basin and $107,000 to stop beach crosion which in less than 10 years, according to Knowles, will completely eliminate the beach of the isle unless something is done.

The city earlier this year agreed to guarantee payment of $67,000 to dredge the east basin by deferring $10,000 of the annual lease payments for seven years from Charles Volk who operates the marina. Knowles indicated a similar arrangement may be worked out with Volk to pay for the new dredging. The east basin dredging, currently underway is expected to be completed by Sept. 15.

At the same time, Knowles announced that Volk plans to build new plers at the marina as well as add 150 new boat slips requiring an investment of $500,000.

Knowles said from an engineering said that the original premise for building standpoint there is no question that the maintenance dredging is needed in the east - and projected that the financial break even basin to remove silt and muck. He added, however, that a decision on whether to undertake the project is a political one. Mayor Lee P. Moore said, while the decision to build the isle was made as well as the $1 million bond issue floated 'before my time," the intent never was to pay the issue payments from rental fees received from businesses at the isle.

He said it was intended to pay the bond issue from electrical franchise taxes and this has been done.

He was responding to a report from Knowles that the revenues received from the motel and marina operations combined at the isle are not sufficient to pay even the interest on the bond issue.

Moore said since the 20-year bond issue was floated in 1965 the city has paid out $1.07 million, about half toward the principal and half toward the interest of the bond issue, while the city has received only $272,749 in revenues from the enterprises.

Knowles told commissioners Monday night that Moore is correct on the repayment of the bond issue. The city manager the isle was that it would benefit the city point in the marina's operation as far as the city is concerned would come in 12 to 13 years, if no further funds were invested by

He added that a major factor in the investment of new money by the city is the fact that Volk is also willing to invest a sizeable sum —the $500,000.

Knowles said if something isn't done to stop the beach erosion, the lake will be up to the motel in eight to 10 years.

Commissioner David Farr, saying he has lately become a sailor, said that "boaters know Sanford because of the marina."

"The marina is a focal point for Sanford," he said, and boaters come here and spend money at local restaurants and for gaso-

Of the additional investment, he said it would be money well spent for Sanford to upgrade and maintain the isle.

Knowles was instructed to prepare plans and accept bids on work to halt the beach erosion and at an upcoming commission meeting to suggest where the funds for the work will come. - Donna Estes

City Gets List For Spending Gas Tax Funds

By Donna Estes

Herald Staff Writer A Sanford city commissioner struck out at the state of Florida for taking a chunk of the estimated revenues from the county's 4 cent per gallon gasoline tax to be levied beginning Sept. 1 as the commission was handed a proposed three level list of suggestions for using the city's share of those funds over the next decade. Commissioner Milton Smith, pointing to the fact that the state under the law will take 6 percent ($205,200) of the $3.4 million annual revenues generated from the tax in Seminole County for administrative fees, asked why the state should get any of the money. City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles said "the legislature has a cute little from all money that is returned by the sizic to the local governments, such as the city and county share of revenues from sales taxes.

Knowles submitted a three level program of needs in the areas of city-county joint projects, intra-city streets and transportation equipment replacement as proposed uses for the $3 million the city expects to receive from the local gasoline tax receipts over the 10-year life of the tax.

He urged the commission to consider the recommendations for the next two weeks, perhaps scheduling a workshop thereafter before coming to a final

Knowles also said he purposefully did not include cost estimates with the projects because too often road priorities are set by cost rather than need. He cautioned the commission that expected revenues from the tax are only

IN BRIEF

Civil Rights Marchers Direct Message To Reagan

WASHINGTON (UPI) - President Reagan will be out of town, but organizers of this weekend's 20th anniversary "jobs, peace and freedom" march on Washington say he had better mind their message if he wants to stay in office.

Tracing the footsteps taken by Martin Luther King, Jr. in 1963, marchers will converge on the Lincoln Memorial Saturday to demand not only equal rights, but also peace, jobs and aid for the poor, the national director of the anniversary march said Monday.

Del. Walter Fauntroy, D.D.C., said short-term goals for this decade's march include only one piece of pure civil rights legislation - toughening the Fair Housing Act.

But he said one reason behind the demonstration is that key civil rights laws passed in the 1960s "are being undermined and not being enforced by those at the command control of government today."

George E. Johnson, 34, of Pasco, appeared Monday at a preliminary hearing to hear his rights and the charges against him of stabbing to death two neighbors and critically wounding a third.

He was arrested Saturday night after a 90-minute standoff with police at his mother's home, during which he turned the home into a shambles, Francis said. Friends and family of Johnson said he often used both cocaine and PCP, an animal tranquilizer that works as a powerful and unpredictable hallucinogen in

Military Flexes Muscles

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Six Navy warships from a training exercise beginning today in the Western Atlantic and Caribbean will join the U.S. military maneuvers aimed at intimidating Nicaragua.

The training exercise, which will involve 32 ships and 35,000 troops and last until Sept. 17, was described by Pentagon officials Monday as separate from the "Big Pine-2" Joint military maneuvers with Honduras.

"It's a routine exercise the Navy conducts," a spokesman said in announcing the operations. Similar exercises are conducted about twice a year, he said.

The Labor Department measures the July Consumer Price Index today with most analysts agreeing on an estimate of a 0.3 percent increase, nearly the same as June's 0.2 percent gain.

The 1983 inflation rate through June was just 2.9 percent when figured yearly. Leading analysts expect the year to finish with a rate of around 4.2 percent to 5 percent.

Meat is such a large component of the overall price index that the effect is to counterbalance increases in prices in many other areas.

"Then the whole thing turns around in 1984 when you have fewer animals to slaughter," he said, with the result food prices will go up more than if there had been no weather problem.

DETROIT (UPI) - The typical General Motors car will cost about $11,600 in 1984, an increase of about 2 percent or $232 from current 1983 models, the company says.

In other industry developments Monday, American Motors Corp. introduced the first new versions of its Jeep in 20 years and unveiled the Renault Encore hatchback version of the Renault Alliance.

Chrysler announced a five-year, 100,000 mile warranty on 1984 pickup trucks and utility vehicles. The No. 3 automaker also is recalling about 1,300 workers at its Warren. Mich., truck

The 2 percent price increases announced by GM are about the same as last year, when GM cut or froze prices on more than half its models. Most 1984 models will appear in showrooms at the end of September. Before the industry's recent downturn, automakers used to raise prices about 5 percent at the start of a model year. In 1981, GM raised prices about that amount only to incur the wrath of buyers who went into what was termed "sticker shock" when they saw the $11,000-plus prices. The biggest GM price increase is $997, or 4.5 percent, on the 1984 Corvette, which was introduced this spring. This raises the base price of the fiberglass sportscar to $22,155.

Among other increases, the Chevrolet Caprice goes up $129 to $9,399. The Buick Skyhawk four-door is up $148 to $7,353 while the top-seling Oldsmobile Cutlass Supreme coupe goes up $268

GM said it is cutting the price of its Pontiac Firebird and Chevrolet Camaro sports cars by an average $165. The price of new front-wheel drive versions of Chevrolet Celebrity, Pontiac 6000, Oldsmobile Cutlass Ciera and Buick Century station wagons will be more than $300 below current rear-wheel drive versions of those vehicles.

Psychiatric Tests Ordered For Sanford Man

Seminole Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor has agreed to order a psychiatric evaluation of a 19-year-old Sanford man who is accused of breaking into a home, removing his clothes and climbing into bed with a 12-year-old girl.

Phillip O'Neal Ford, of 1206 Lincoln Court, was identified by the girl and members of her household as the intruder and was arrested May 31.

Ford is a recent graduate of Seminole High School. A man removed a screen from a kitchen window of a Sanford home at about 2:30 a.m. on May 29 and entered the girl's room, according to court records.

He took off his clothes and got in bed with her and the girl woke up screaming, records say. The girl kicked him out of the bed and bit his finger. records say. He gathered up his clothes and left the house after being seen by adults, records show.

The lierald incorrectly misspelled the name of a Sanford woman who was mugged as she was walking in the 400 block of West First Street at 1 a.m. last Friday.

Ann Bever, 37, of 1021 West First St., said two men approached her from the rear, hit her on the head with their hands, grabbed her purse and fled.

Mrs. Bever said she was treated at Central Florida Regional Hospital for a concussion and released. She said her purse contained $40 in cash.

Communists Deny Part In Aquino Assassination

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) - Communist leaders today denied President Ferdinand Marcos' charge they assassinated opposition leader Benigno S. Aquino Jr. and said their military wing, which is fighting the regime, had offered to protect him.

Metropolitan police chief Maj. Gen. Prospero Olivas said Aquino's assailant, gunned down within seconds of Aquino, had the name Rolly embroidered on his underwear and wore a gold ring engraved with the letter "R," providing a possible clue to his name.

Pictures of Aquino's assailant were published in Manila newspapers and Olivas urged the public to come forward if they have any information on him.

Tens of thousands of mourners flocked for a third day to the Aquino family home in suburban Quezon City to pay their last respects and view the slain political leader's bloodstained body, on display in the living room.

French Gear Up In Chad

NDJAMENA. Chad (UPI) - French troops made final preparations today to shore up the government against possible new attacks by Libyan-backed rebels, but a French official said efforts to negotiate an end to the civil war remained "wide open."

Diplomatic sources said the deployment of an estimated 2,000 French troops, mobilized in a little more than a week, was expected to be finished by Wednesday.

The sources also said a team of U.S. negotiators had arrived in Ndjamena for consultations on resuming American aid to President Hissene Habre's government. Less than half of the $25 million in assistance pledged by the Reagan administration has been supplied in a U.S. airlift.

IN BRIEF

73-Year-Old Bank Guard Fires On Co-Workers

MIAMI (UPI) - An enraged 73-year-old bank guard shot and killed another guard who questioned his masculinity and then fired at other bank employees before sitting down to wait for police, authorities said.

Elpidio Gonzalez Rodriguez was charged with first-degree murder and attempted murder

Rodriguez fired at several employees at Totalbank but the only person hit was Jorge Constantino Lacayo, 51, who "had been calling Rodriguez names" for about a month, said homicide detective David Rivero.

Lacavo died instantly from one .38-caliber bullet in the neck, police said.

"He (Rodriguez) couldn't take it any more," Rivero said. "He didn't like it. It just built up. You might call it the last straw.

Homicide detective Harvey Wasserman said Rodríguez also believed Lacayo "was putting hexes on him" that caused a rash on his arms

"He thought there was a voodoo conspiracy against him," Wasserman said.

Purge Reported In China

ST. LOUIS (UPI) - Millions of people will be cast out of the Chinese Communist Party in a carefully controlled purge to remove any remaining opposition to Deng Xiapoing's reform programs, a newspaper reported.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch Monday said the Chinese expect the nonviolent, three-year purge will rid the party of as much as a third of its 39 million members.

The targets will be aging officials, opponents of gov-ernment modernization and supporters of the Cultural Revolution.

Unlike the turmoil created by the Cultural Revolution in the 1960s, the latest purge is to be methodical and closely controlled to avoid excesses, the newspaper

The party's main goal is eliminating any lingering opposition to Deng's farreaching reform programs. the Post-Dispatch said. The chief punishment for party members will be expulsion or loss of official position, with some being given the option of voluntary retirement.

Since gaining power in 1978, Deng has filled the top levels of Chinese gov-Altamonte Springs AA, 8 p.m., closed, Altamonte ernment with men of his choice.

FPL will pay you up to $1,450 to have a participating contractor install these energysavers in your home:

Up to $600 to replace your money wasting old air conditioning system with an energyefficient central air conditiones in the at pump.
Up to $300 to install delines replation or add to your existing insulation to bring it up to FPL's recommended level.

Up to $150 to install solar film, solar screens and certain types of awnings and shutters for your windows or glass door.
Up to $400 to install a solar water heater, or up to $186 for a water heating heat pump, or $177 for a heat recovery unit, any of which can be added to your existing water heat five incentives you get money back on your installation now, and also lower your energy casts for years to come. And an FPL representative will personally check to see that the completed lob meets ally check to see that the completed job meets our rigid standards.
This program benefits you and all our customers. Because it costs less than the oil necessary to generate the extra electricity wasted by inefficient homes.

U.S. Schools Set Tough New Policies

United Press International

When students return to school in Seattle this fall; they will be given mandatory homework under a new! hit-the-books mandate.

In Virginia, the State Board of Education is overhaul. ing its curriculum with tougher graduation require: ments, fewer electives and greater emphasis on math. science and English.

And Florida is raising $227 million in new taxes to. underwrite merit pay for teachers, a longer school day, beefed up courses and summer computer training:

Nationwide, there is a mounting drive to upgrade. America's schools, which the National Commission on Excellence in Education last spring found to be engulfed, by a "rising tide of mediocrity that threatens our very

Biggest Since Sputnik

Education Secretary Terrel Bell, who created the panel, believes the report is helping create the biggest; education reform movement since the Soviet satellite. Sputnik rattled U.S. classrooms a generation ago.

'This is going to bring about enormous changes." said Bell, who has criss crossed the country rallying for reform. "There is a great readiness for change, it's going, to happen.

To various degrees, a lot already is.

Seattle, Virginia and Florida, along with Los Angeles,. Nebraska and New York, are among the increasing number of cities and states pressing to boost education with more homework, tougher classes and higher-paid

To fuel the drive, several states are raising taxes and others, from Idaho to Delaware, are forming blue-ribbon. study panels. Major education packages are expected tobe introduced in most legislatures next year.

President Reagan has embraced the reform movement, but says already financially strapped states and b localities - not Washington - have primary responsiblity to pay for it.

Federal Intervention Blamed

Reagan blames educational woes, in part, on increased federal intervention in public schools over the past 20. year, during which there has been a steady decline in student achievement scores.

Reagan is pushing merit pay as a way to attract top. educators. Teachers are now among the nation's lowest-paid professionals with an average salary of $17,000, a figure that is prompting the country's bestyoung minds to seek other work.

Citing these figures and trends. Reagan has denounced teacher unions for opposing merit pay. Unions have argued that all teachers deserve a raise and complain that merit pay plans would likely be ripe for abuse and benefit only a few.

Earlier this year, Florida became the first state with a merit-pay plan. Education Secretary Bell predicts half of the legislatures will consider the concept this winter and that it will be commonplace by 1990.

Kids Can Write Better With Parent Tutoring

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI) - Children can become better-than-average writers if their parents spend and little as once a week tutoring them, a University of Florida researcher has found.

"Children whose parents helped them with theirs writing could write significantly more words after two months than children who weren't helped," Connie Green, who conducted the research on kindergartent children, said Monday.

When asked to write all the words they knew after, working at home with their parents for eight weeks, thes tutored group averaged about eight words and thes untutored group about five.

Children in the parent-assisted group also could write longer sentences and stories than children in the other-

Ms. Green also found that the parent-tutored group better understood concepts, such as where to start's reading on a page and the meaning of punctuation marks, than those who were not helped. A kindergarten teacher herself at UF's P.K. Yonge Laboratory School, Ms. Green said she saw in her classes how children whose parents helped them: seemed to learn to read and write sooner. So, she decided to prove her theory scientifically.

For her study, she tested four classes of 5- and, 6-year-olds at P.K. Yonge and another Gainesville elementary. Half were tutored up to six times a week by their parents. The others were not helped by their parents any more than usual.

For eight weeks, parents wrote notes back and forth to. their children, took dictation from them as they made up stories and encouraged their children to write letters. stories and poems on their own. Some worked with their children only once a week; others more often. When talking with parents after the study, Ms. Greenfound that they, too, saw rapid changes in their, children's writing habits.

For Your Eyes Only

The case of the Milwaukee youths who tapped into a computer at the Los Alamos laboratory looks less serious today than it originally had. There was no compromise in security it appears.

The Los Alamos computer was designed for access by telephone, woth a password that was easy to guess, and the computer file contained only unclassified abstracts of scientific papers.

Still, this whole affair leaves us wondering about the case with which these computer hobbyists were able to poke around in the files of a nulcear laboratory halfway across the country.

They may have been guilty of no crime more serious than an electronic form of "trespassing." But whatever it's called, is our computer-happy society prepared to cope with it?

Government officials assure us that unauthorized snoopers could not gain access to truly sensitive computer systems - those containing classified information pertinent to national security, or those involved with weapons systems or other dangerous materials. Moreover, we are also assured that computers used by the Internal Revenue Service and other agencies dealing with confidential information about Americans also cannont be penetrated from the outside.

The Los Alamos computer was like an unlocked filing cabinet in an unguarded office. Those responsbile for it had no reason to lock the drawer or guard the premises. Indeed, the computer file had been made accessible by telephone so scientists elsewhere could obtain data from it conveniently.

What we are faced with, then, is the fact that a computer system which can be called on the phone is vulnerable to intrusion by people who can bluff their way through a password drill. The Milwaukee incident seems to carry a warning to companies or government agencies maintaining computer systems accessible by telephone. For genuine privacy, such computers must be protected by security measures more effective than unlisted phone numbers or simple passwords.

Meanwhile, to charge the clever young men in Milwaukee with trespassing or breaking and entering sounds a little extreme. After all, the people in Los Alamos left the door unlocked.

Full Disclosure

Navy skippers, like the rest of us, sometimes make mistakes. Typically, the Navy disciplines its own and there is little need for an exhaustive accounting to the public. But when the mistake in question involves live firing at sea in waters frequented by civilian vessels, the Navy owes the public a full explanation.

Last July 21, the San Diego-based guided missile frigate, USS George Philip, fired a round from its main gun battery that may have gone in the general direction of a Mexican merchant ship. We say "may" because the Navy's account of what happened contradicts what several members of the crew told The San Diego Union.

Accounts of what happened next also differ in important respects. Did the Mexican vessel attempt to signal the George Philip, as crew members suggest? Or, was the merchant ship so far away that it may not even have noticed the shot, as the Navy suggests?

And finally, there is the matter of whether the George Philip's captain tried to preclude any official record of all this by not filing reports required by Navy regulations.

The discrepancies in this affair need to be resolved. And the Navy needs to offer the public the fullest possible accounting. While we cannot be sure of all the facts, it would appear that the Navy has so far provided something less than full disclosure.

In addition to being a training ground for young musicians, there is probably no other high school organization that is more visible in the community and representative of school spirit than the school band. Seminole High School's band, under the direction of Bandmaster Bob Maguire, adds much to the excitement at local events, parades, and football games.

Most instruments are owned by band members, but in the case of the larger more expensive ones it is necessary for the band to raise the money to purchase them with the help of the community.

The SHS Band is now in need of four tubas, which cost about $1,000 each, four melophones at $700-$800 apiece, and four baritone horns at $700-$800 each.

The SHS Band Parents will kick off the fund raising drive at their meeting Thursday at 7 p.m. in the newly renovated band room with county and SHS school administrators as their guests. Band Parents President Jeannette Stiffey says new band parents are especially welcome.

They are looking for support from individuals and businesses to help sponsor the needed band instruments. Thomas Lawson will be helping Maguire with the band this year.

The auxiliary, composed of the dance team, flag team and majorettes, and the band having had their separate band camps during the last two weeks are holding a combined pre-school band camp at the school this week from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. each day working on their halftime shows for the fall football season.

The Humane Society of Seminole County is offering a new VIP (Very Important Pet) service for its members. A registration and identification service will be provided free to all members commencing with the opening of the new shelter located next to Flea World on Highway 17-92 and County Home Road.

Prime purpose of this new program is to help ensure prompt return of your pet should it become lost. Heavy duty brass tags will be given to members, including those who adopt animals from the shelter. which will be coded to identify the pet and its owner in permanent society files.

The telephone strike has temporarily delayed the move from the present shelter on E. 25th St., because the society was unable to get a phone installed at the new facility.

If you are wondering what to do with your old newspapers you can recycle them and help the Humane Society at the same time. No minimum amount is required. Just bundle them up and deliver them to the Fairway Plaza, corner of 27th Street and Orlando Drive (17-92) between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday. Be sure to tell them to credit the amount to the Humane Society of Seminole County.

Views Against Capitalism

By Jane Casselberry

Almost unnoticed by the public has been the extent to which Marxistoriented political scientists have found secure bases in American college faculties in recent years. U.S. News & World Report discussed this in the past year, but otherwise there has been little attention devoted to this disturbing development.

If one wants to get an idea of current Marxist thinking on domestic and foreign issues, it is necessary to read the Monthly Review, a self-styled socialist journal published in New York City. From reading this publication, one gains insight into the hostility that a sizeable band of acdemics evidence

In reading the June issue of the magazine, I was struck by a lengthy book review written by Lawrence T. McDonnell, who was described as a Research Associate, Institute For Southern Studies, University of South towards the capitalist system.

The review dealt with the nickel mining operations of Inco Metals Ltd. in Sudbury, Canada. What was most fascinating about the review was the way the author treated the company as an oppressor of labor. He said that labor was "In the grasp of capital," and charged that there is "nothing natural, sacred, or beneficial in capitalist control of the workplace." He asserted that the landscape of the Sudbury area "testifles that here profits come first," and asserted that "Inco learned this first rule of capitalism from a master." He compared inco with a "ruling class" and said that new technology was introduced to "undermine workers" freedom.'

Mr. McDonnell also referred to the author's call for nationalization of Inco. adding that "Capital's technological onslaught forces labor from trade unionism into the political arena."

Mr. McDonnell certainly has a right to an anti-capitalist bias. One wonders, however, given the failure of nationalization and socialism in so many countries, how he imagines such a change would lead to greater prosperity for the workers in the lead mines. Beyond that question, one wonders whether Mr. McDonnell speaks solely for himself or whether his review reflects views prevailing at the Institute For Southern Studies at the University of South Carolina.

Mr. Mcdonnell also neglects consideration of the vital role private capital plays in developing the mineral resources of Canada. The Canadian government lacks the means to develop these resources. Huge investments are involved in order to take mineral wealth from the ground in an inhospitable climate and bring them to market. The sale of minerals also is a difficult business because of enormous fluctuations in price. As a result, there is simply no workable and efficient alternative to investor-owned mining companies in Canada.

Mayor Koch's Warning

"Well, Mr. Big Shot Station Manayer,

If you don't like our faces, F!RE US!"

NEW YORK (NEA) - New York Mayor Edward Koch is one of the nation's shrewdest politicians, and when he warns his fellow Democrats that they are headed for defeat by Ronald Reagan in 1984 unless they change their tacties. they would do well to heed him.

Beginning at San Francisco's Commonwealth Club. Hizzoner (as he is called in New York) is embarking on a series of speeches around the country to Democratic and civic groups. His message, he disclosed in an interview with a political reporter for The New York Times, will be blunt: By "pandering to every special interest," the Democratic Party has put itself "on a path to destruction." It must turn away from "left wing," special-interest groups and start addressing the concerns of the middle class, or it will lose the presidential election of 1984 just as it did in

A glance at the campaigns currently being waged by the various Democratic presidential candidates makes it very clear what Koch is criticizing. Without a single exception, they are aiming their appeals at the highly organized pressure groups: blacks, Hispanics, gays, women, the education lobby, the anti-nuclear protesters, etc. A speech by Mondale, or Glenn, or Cranston, or Hart is rarely more than a laundry list of the things the speaker promises to do for these bloes of voters. The most spectacular recent example was the piedge of both Cranston and Hart to the National Women's Political Caucus that, if elected, they would use the power of the federal Treasury to coerce states into passing the Equal Rights Amendment.

The advantage of pitching to such blocs is that it produces an immediate sensation of benefit to the candidate rather like the "rush" or "high" experienced by a drug user. The groups in question are represented (or at least allegedly represented) by intensely mobilized left-leaning organizations that are forever holding widely publicized meetings. The candidate appears before one of these meetings, promises to fulfill all the demands of the group in question, and is cheered to the rafters. As a sort of bonus, every reference to President Reagan is roundly booed. The media report the event as a love-feast

(which of course it was), and the candidate dashes on to the next meeting. By adding up all the women. blacks, Hispanics, gays and teachers in America he can easily demonstrate that he will out-poll Mr. Reagan by four or five votes to one.

What Mayor Koch wants to know is: Who, amid all this excitement, is paying attention to the basic concerns of the great American middle class? "I don't find a single candidate who is heading in the direction I'm talking about." he warns, "They're starting to pander again."

The basic question is how a voter thinks of himself when he (or she) enters a voting booth. The voter may, in fact, be a female teacher, middle-class, heterosexual and Hispanie; but which attribute will predominate? Perhaps none. More likely her attitude toward the listed candidates will be an amalgam - the product of a combination of impulses in varying directions. She may be proud of her Hispanie background, a supporter of ERA, a firm anti-communist, and vaguely distrustful of gays. Does that make her anti-Reagan?

Koch is well aware that most people, most of the time, are primarily concerned with the state of the economy, above all in its relation to their own personal interests. In addition, the middle class, with more "stake in the system" than the poor but without the ability of the rich to ride out bad weather, are concerned over such collateral problems as street crime, immigration and the perceived decline in the family values." What Koch is saying to the Democrats is that their presidential candidate in 1984 - whoever he may be - must be able to appeal more powerfully than Mr. Reagan to this huge, central bloc of voters.

Not even the officially certified "minorities" are all safely in the Demoeratic bag. Some 10 percent of blacks, perhaps 30 percent of gays, 35 percent or more of Hispanies, and (according to recent polls) about 45 percent of all women are already in Mr. Reagan's corner. If middle-class voters next year are broadly satisfied with him, where shall the Democrats look for victory? The battle, Mayor Koch is warning, will be won there or not at all.

What Natural Gas Costs

WASHINGTON (NEA) - It's an issue that has been debated in every session of Congress for the past 20 years. At times, opponents have nearly come to blows over it: it cuts across party lines. and it probably will tie the current Congress into knots this fall.

The issue: natural gas deregulation. Congress is debating yet another bill to deregulate the price of natural gas something it has done every year since the early 1960s. Natural-gas pricing bills have become law four times in those two decades, but they established a pricing system so complicated and convoluted that few can understand it.

The present pricing system was adopted in 1977, went into effect in 1978 and has been amended several times since then. This system established two price tiers: "Old gas" gas from wells in production prior to April 1, 1977 - was kept under federal price control. However, all price controls were lifted from "new gas," which was obtained from wells drilled after that

As a result, "old gas" now sells for about $1.40 per 1,000 cubic feet (mcf). while "new gas" sells for about $3.40 per mcf.

Last year, the price of natural gas went up very sharply for consumers. Natural-gas producers say this was a result of the two-tiered pricing system and that the way to lower gas prices is to deregulate all gas. But critics of the big energy companies refute this, claiming that gas prices would be lowered by re-establishing price controls over new gas.

There is an added complication: After the natural-gas shortages of the mid-1970s, many natural-gas supply companies, which sell gas directly to consumers or to local utilities, signed extremely long-term contracts with gas producers. At the time, the suppliers' only concern was to insure an adequate supply of gas at any price.

These "take-or-pay" contracts locked the gas-supply companies into paying whatever the market price was for gas. and they guaranteed that the suppliers would buy the gas they had contracted for - whether they needed it or not.

As a result, the gas producers are, for the most part, filling these contracts with high-priced new gas. The take-or-pay contracts have locked the supply companies into buying this higher-priced gas, even though a large amount of old gas is going begging at much lower prices.

The current congressional debate has been set off by a bill submitted by the Reagan administration that would deregulate all old gas over a 36-month period. The administration and the gas producers contend that if the government gets out of the picture, normal market forces will bring down gas prices. However, opponents say that the only solution is to re-establish controls over all gas.

And so the annual natural-gas debate is again under way.

Synfuels Execs Spend $$ Like Water

WASHINGTON - The U.S. Synthetic Fuels Corp. hasn't yet found a practical replacement for fossil fuels, but it's not for lack of looking. Synfuels executives have been diligently exploring golf courses, sauna baths and nightclubs around the world.

As I've reported earlier, the Synfuels brass are exceedingly well paid for their unproductive efforts; some of them earn more than Cabinet secretaries. Their offices in downtown Washington are elegantly furnished. And when they junket all over the map, they take their taste for life's luxuries with them.

The publicly funded corporation's travel expenses amounted to almost $600,000 for 1981-1982. My associates John Dillon and Corky Johnson combed through hundreds of pages of Synfuels travel records. Here are just a few examples of the corporation executives' sybaritic extravagance at the expense of the American taxpayers:

- Four members of the board and five corporation executives took a two-week trip to South Africa last year to visit a synthetic fuel plant. The bill for recently retired Synfuels President Victor Schroeder alone came to $4,290. Both he and Board Chairman Ed Noble flew first class to and from South Africa. Before the junketeers left, the corporation's inspector general wrote a memo criticizing the unseemly size of the South Africa party, but the criticism was ignored.

Leonard Axelrod, vice president for technology and engineering, is clearly the Marco Polo of Synfuels. Some months he is away from his office for more than 10 work days. He flies to energy industry meetings, conferences and synthetic fuel sites - and a surprising number of the get-togethers are held in posh resorts.

In April 1982, for example, Axelrod spent four days in a $160 a day room at the Americana Canyon Hotel in Palm Springs, Calif. He played two rounds of golf and attended a National Council of Synthetic Fuels Production meeting. In August 1982, he spent two days at the Tamarron resort in Durango, Colo., at $103.95 a day. While there, he played golf and attended a Midwest Gas Association conference. - Schroeder and his wife, Kathryne, a Synfucls employee, spent eight days in Japan last fall. Among the items in their expense files were bills for a massage, a health spa, camellia plants for their hotel room and use of a hotel "mini-

Two of the eight days were set aside for sightseeing. The purpose of the trip was to confer with Japanese bustnessmen and energy officials. The tab for the Synfuels president's trip was 89,082. A spokesman said Mrs. Schroeder took vacation time for the trip and paid her own way.

In October of both 1981 and 1982, the peripatetic Axelrod took two-week trips to London, Brussels and Dusseldorf to attend annual symposiums. His wife, Karen, accompanied him on the 1981 trip, but Axelrod said he paid her fare and lodging. He pointed out that taking his wife along saved the corporation money, because he got a better deal on a

- In May 1982, Axelrod and his wife took the train to New York and back, billing Synfucls $272 for the tickets. An alert staffer wrote a note with the expense voucher regarding Mrs. Axelrod's ticket: "Shouldn't Mr. A. be paying for this one?"

- One notation on an Axelrod expense form listed "entertainment "atthe Four Seasons Lounge in Houston and described the reason for the expenditure as "technical discussion." The lounge does dispense alcohol, of course, though generally not of high enough octane to be used for fuel.

- A four-day trip by Axelrod to the American Petrolestitute's midyear meeting in New York cost the taxpayers $840.45, including a $121-a-night room at the Hotel Madison.

Footnote: A Synfuels spokesman explained that Axelrod's job requires extensive travel to visit sites and gather "baseline", which is often too voluminous or confidential to be shipped to

Evening Herald, Sanford, Fl.

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI) - There are 25 sports at the Pan American Games. On Monday, the 26th, and perhaps most important, was introduced: drug testing.

In the most far-reaching drug scandal in the history of international amateur athletics, four weightlifters were stripped of their medals and three others reprimanded for taking anabolic steroids.

And more sanctions may follow today as results arrive from the urine samples of others.

Pan Am Games

"There are going to be about a dozen new names mentioned, maybe more," said a top official with COPAN, the governing body of the Pan Am Games.

The U.S. Olympic Committee has called a news conference for 11 a.m. EDT in connection with the drug expose which has rocked the Games, thus far dominated by the supremacy of the American swimming team. Dr. Roy Bergman, chief physician of the U.S. squad, said one unidentified American weightlifter, whose urine sample requires further testing, may be named. And with track and field competition beginning today it was expected some athletes might be dropping out in the wake of possibly more drug revelations. Those weightlifters stripped of their medals Monday were Olympic champion Daniel Nunez and Alberto Blanco of Cuba and Michel Viau and Guy Greavette of Canada, Guillermo Lopez of Argentina, Jose Lozada of Puerto Rico and Cabalerro Dolcey of Colombia also were charged with having taken anabolic steroids - an illicit muscle-building substance.

All seven athletes will be reported to the International Weightlighting Federation and to their national Olympic committees for any further sanctions.

Nunez, one of the world's best, won three gold medals in the 132-pound category and Blanco won three gold in the 220-pound class. Greavette captured two golds and one silver in the 180-pound division and Viau won two bronze in the 149-pound class.

Nunez set a world record in the snatch with a lift of 304 pounds last week but Mario Vasquez Rana, head of ODEPA, the governing body of the Pan Am Games, said records set by disqualified athletes will not be honored.

Manuel Gonzalez Guerra, head of the Cuban Olympic Committee, said Monday night Nunez and Blanco would never represent their country again.

"They are banned from all competition," said Manuel Gonzalez Guerra. "At this price we don't want any

"It's a real tragedy," William Simon, president of the USOC, said of the sanctions. "But it's no surprise to those in the Olympic movement. This was a time bomb waiting to explode."

The day's events overshadowed another marine assault by U.S. swimmers, who claimed four more gold medals, including one in a world record time of 3 minutes, 40.42 seconds in the 4 x 100 individual medley relay. That last triumph on the final day of the swim program gave the American team 25 gold medals in 29

Others hauling in the gold were Mary Meagher of Louisville, Ky., in the women's 200-meter butterfly. Susan Walsh of Hamburg, N.Y., in the 200-meter backstroke and Jeff Kostoff of Upland. Calif., in the 1,500-meter freestyle.

Only Brazil's Ricardo Pardo, who won the men's 200-meter individual medley, spoiled the American pool party. Prado also won the 400-meter individual medley earlier in the Games.

The 4 x 100 relay team features four swimmers holding individual world record in their specialties: Rick Carey, Steve Lundquist, Matt Gribble and Rowdy Gaines. They improved on their own mark of 3:40.84 set In Ecuador in the World Championships a year ago.

When you have four world record holders on one team. I think my grandmother could have jumped in and swam and we still would have had the record." Gaines said. "When I got three guys ahead of me like this what can I say?"

In boxing, the United States won two fights to give the Americans 11 boxers in the semifinals.

Pernell Whitaker of Norfolk, Va., in his first fight at the Pan Am Games, stopped Kenworth Minus of the Bahamas at 1:50 of the first round in a lightweight bout. And Jerry Page of Columbus, Ohio, scored a unanimous decision over Jose Maganelles of Venezuela in a junior welterweight fight.

In cycling, David Grylls of San Diego set an American and Pan Am record in 4,000-meter individual pursuit. In women's softball, Lort Stoll of Chilicothe, Mo., extended her scoreless inning streak to 19 in a 3-0 victory over Canada. In other results, the water polo team won the gold medal by beating Cuba 8-6, the baseball team defeated Venezuela 10-3, the men's softball team beat the Dominican Republic 3-2 in eight innings and the U.S. women downed Argentina in straight sets in volleyball.

Early Start Questioned

ATLANTA (UPI) - Television and an expanded season have pushed football into the summer months and some college coaches in the South are questioning the early start following the death of Auburn fullback Greg Pratt.

Altamonte '83 It Was The Best Of Times...

By Chris Fister Herald Sports Writer

Altamonte Little League Baseball in 1983 had its shares of ups and downs, but, for the most part, the elevator went up many more times than it went down. Altamonte had one team finish second in the World while another made it as far as the state tournament before bowing out gracefully.

The best finish of an Altamonte team in '83 was turned in by manager Frank Messina and coach Terry Hagen's "Dream Team," also known as the Junior League (13-year old) All-Stars. The Juniors gathered up a head of steam when the District 14. Division I tournament got underway in Eusits. The Juniors started its majestic quest for a berth in the World Series with a 19-0 romp over Mt. Dora in which lefthander Greg Ebbert hurled his first of four tournament shutouts.

Another pitching gem, this time by Anthony aszaic, enable Altamonte to roll over Oyledo, 7-1, in its second game. However, Laszaic (see below) was lost for the next 11 games with a broken wrist.

Oviedo became the first thorn in Altamonte's side after they scratched through the loser's bracket to get into the division finals against the Juniors (Oviedo needed two victories for the title while Altamonte needed just one).

Ron Veres hurled a six-hit shutout as Oviedo claimed a narrow 1-0 victory to force a second game. The second game was no contest though as Altamonte cruised to a 11-0 victory. Ebbert again got the pitching win as he hurled a four-hit shutout. his second whitewashing in a row.

The District 14 title game was more of a breeze for Altamonte then the division. A 10-run third inning carried the Juniors to an easy 18-4 rout of Winter Garden. Cory Prom. who didn't see much action in the division, picked up the pitching win. Prom would later play a very important role for the

Altamonte breezed through the Sectional tournament without losing a game as Ebbert twirled a no-hit masterpiece at Jacksonville Highlands as Altamonte earned a borth in the state tourney with a 12-0 victory. # Goldberg Rides To 50-Lap Title;

NEW SMYRNA BEACH — Besting a strong 30-car field, young Kart racing graduate Mike Goldberg. 21. won the hotly disputed 50-lap thunder car championship on Saturday night at New Smyrna Speedway. For rookie Goldberg. It was his first win ever in a stock car.

Veteran late model pilot Bob Eggert, filling the seat for regular shoe LeRoy Porter in Lewis Green's No. 7, won the late model heat and feature. Finishing second was Homer Williams who is making a strong come back, proving more convincingly week after week that the reflexes and the strong desire to win are still there. Rounding up the top five were regulars Harold Johnson. Phil Dorman and Mike Bailey. Lee Faulk of RaceCo Racing, won the first heat but electrical problems forced him out of the main.

Auto Racing

Another rookie, second generation pilot David Snodgrass, drove the Car Land Used Auto Parts Camaro to victory in the street stock main, narrowly topping second heat winner Casey Hawthorne.

Third and fourth were Rick Lokey and two-time State Champ Wild Bill Kinley who brought the crowd on its feet when they crossed the finish line wheel to wheel.

The Fifth Annual Street Stock Championship of Florida has been scheduled for September 17th, and Kinley is the defending Champion.

W.G. Watts took the four cylinder finale, with spectator drags going to Mike Fritts and Jeff "Yogi" Martin who drove Jim Leventis' "Blue Thunder"

Another early thunder car feature leader Bruce Lawrence was black-flagged for smoking on lap six. division's points leader Barry Ownby inherited the lead.

Five laps later, first place runner Ownby was flyiing around turn one and two with Chuckie Lee and Joe Coupas right behind him, when the left rear wheel studs sheared off. The mishap sent Ownby in orbit and caused the top three runners to become involved in a spectacular chain-reaction bone-jarring crash.

The only one who made it back on the track was Barry Ownby who borrowed Lawrence's radiator and finished the race in order to protect his slim points lead.

At the restart, Glenn Smith moved up to the point, with 1982 rookie of the year Mike Fitch squeezing inside to take over first place on lap 21, but Fitch's rear wheels kept breaking loose coming off the turns.

Showing his stuff in his superbly handling machine set up at the Raceco shops was Goldberg, back in the runner-up spot after an early race spin sent him to last place on the restart.

Moving right up on the leader. Goldberg made his winning move on lap 30 and went on to a well deserved victory. Fitch held on for second followed by John Cochran, Ricky Wood who had to come back up from last three times and Pine Hills' own Glenn Smith.

...Banner Year For Altamonte

Continued from 7A Altamonte wasn't intimidated though and came back in the final to crush North County, 20-4. Jeff Hagen and Prom combined on a two-litter while Chris Brock, Randy Green and Eric Birle clubbed three hits apiece as Altamonte advanced to the Southern Regionals In

The first game of the Southern Regionals proved to be the most important. Lake Charles, Louisiana gave Altamonte all it wanted and then some. But, a stellar relief performance by Prom, in which he struck out the side with the tying and winning runs in scoring position, enable the Juniors to pull out a 6-4 thriller.

Once they got by Lake Charles, Altamonte was World Series bound. The Juniors demolished West University. Texas, 19-0 and 12-1 to claim the Southern Regional crown. And, the Juniors received more good news when Laszaic made it back into the starting lineup in the final

The Aliamonte Juniors' dream had become a reality. Taylor, Michigan was the sight of the 3rd annual Little League Junior World Series.

Altamonte got off to the best of starts as Green and Brock smashed two homers aplece and Scott Stiles added a three-run shot, his first career homer, to lift the Juniors to a 23-7 trouncing of West Madison, Wisconsin. In game two, Ebbert hurled another gem, this one a three-hitter and Green turned a 1-0 Altamonte deficit into a 3-1 lead with a three-run homer in the top of the seventh against Seaford, Delaware.

Altamonte's win streak was then halted, at six games, by powerful Manati, Puerto Rico. Efrain Vazquez grand slam homer in the bottom of the seventh crased a 11-8 Altamonte lead and gave Manati a 12-11 win.

The Juniors came back with another strong performance by Ebbert in a 6-2 victory over Northridge. California. Brock provided a three-run homer in the fifth after Northridge had taken a 2-1 lead. The victory put the Juniors into the championship against Manati in which Altamonte needed two victories while the Puerto Ricans needed only one.

Martinez, Cey Lift Cubs; Cruz' Homer Helps Chisox

CHICAGO (UPI) - Chicago manager Lee Elia and rookie first baseman Carmelo Martinez both made the transactions list Monday. Only one did so voluntarily.

Martinez, recalled earlier in the day from Des Moines of the American Association, homered into a stiff Wrigley Field wind on his first official at-bat in the majors to spark the Cubs to a 2-0 triumph over Cincinnati. Elia, under pressure for much of the season since a celebrated tirade against Chicago fans, was fired by long-time friend and club general manager Dallas Green in the morning and replaced by Charlie Fox.

"I didn't want to put any more pressure on myself," said Martinez about breaking into the majors on the day Elia was fired. "I just want a chance to go up there and play. The wind was blowing in so I wasn't sure it would go out.'

Martinez, who was walked in his first plate appearance, hit a 1-1 pitch off Frank Pastore, 6-12, into the left-field bleachers in the fifth inning to make it 2-0. Ron Cey drove in Chicago's first run with a two-out single in Dickie Noles, 5-7, combined with Lee Smith on a five-hitter. Noles gave way to Smith in the seventh and the All-Star reliever shut the Reds out on one hit to earn his league-leading 20th save.

Dodgers 4, Expos 1

At Los Angeles, Mike Marshall drove in two runs with a single and a homer to back the six-hit pitching of Jerry Reuss as the Dodgers won their sixth straight. In pulling within three games of idle first-place Atlanta in the West, Los Angeles jumped on Steve Rogers, 15-8, for seven hits and four runs in five innings. Reuss, 8-10, posted his second triumph after seven straight losses and took a shulout into the ninth.

Padres 4, Mets 3

Eric Show and Luis DeLeon combined on a six-hitter at San Diego and Luis Salazar and Ruppert Jones homered to lead the Padres despite a pair of homers by New York rookie Darryl Strawberry.

Glants 11, Phillies 5

At San Francisco, Jeff Leonard's two-run homer capped a five-run first inning and a two-run single by Tom O'Malley highlighted a six-run sixth that paced the Giants' Bill Laskey to his 13th triumph. Leonard's 17th homer came off Charles Hudson, 7-6, who yielded hits to the first five batters he faced. All of them scored as the Phillies fell into a tie with idle Pittsburgh atop the National League East.

KANSAS CITY (UPI) - The Kansas City Royals went through thick and thin Monday night in dropping nine games behind the front-running Chicago White Sox in grand slam and Puerto Rico rode Lopez' homer to a 4-2 victory and the Junior World Series title. Chris Waxler each slugged homers as Altamonte sailed

In the five games, Brock had 11 hits in 18 at bats including three homers and a World Series record 12 RBL Green was 7 for 17 with three homers and eight RBI while Stiles, Hagen and Ernest Martinez la grand slam) also had homers. Eric Martinez turned in a 8 for 15 performance while Ernest was 8 for 19, Laszaic was 7 for 18 and Ebbert was 4 for 8.

For the Altamonte Sentor League All-Stars, 1983 was also a productive campaign. The Seniors, managed by Clayton Garrison, played impressively in winning the Division, District and Sectional titles before bowing out in the state tourney with two straight one-run losses.

Altamonte's toughest competition, up until state, was in the Division against Eustis. A home run by Mike Pinckes lifted Altamonte over Eustis in an earlier round game, but Eustis clawed its way back through the loser's bracket for a rematch.

Eustis won the first game behind the pitching of Dave Westgate. The second game was a nail-biter. But, big of Laszaic, Manati's ninth hitter, Jose Lopez, drilled a Kevin Bass broke a 1-1 tie with a solo home run in the District 14 commissioner Don Crawford intervened and insisted the game be played on the regulation field. It was and Kevin Bass hit a home run to break a 1-1 tic and lead Altamonte to victory.

While the Eustis officials couldn't put a damper on the Seniors parade, frequent thunderstorms plagued the tournaments throughout the Summer. At the Senior League State Tournament in Bradenton, heavy rains cancelled the opening day games and, a day later, it rained so hard the field was unplayable and the remainder of the tourney was moved to a different field. The Seniors don't have very good luck when they change fields, they were 0.3.

The most disgruntling rain storm came during the final game of the Junior League Southern Regional in Eusits. With Aliamonte leading, 10-0, the rains came down and the game was suspended in the fifth luning.

Schools Set Open House Prior To Opening Day

"We are eagerly looking forward to the first day of school, and expect 1983-1984 to be a very exciting. interesting and productive school year for Longwood Elementary School," said David Scott, the newly assigned principal.

David has a special type of understanding and concern for young children that is evident in his background. In 1955 he moved to Florida and attended Lake Mary Elementary School, Following his junior high years at Sanford Middle School, he went on to gradute from Seminole High School. He later attended Seminole Community Collece, receiving his AA degree, then on to Florida State to earn his Bachelor's degree.

David's teaching career began with his position as coach of baseball and basketball at a high school in Clewiston. He soon went out to receive his teaching certification.

For the last 14 years, David has worked in the education field at English Estates and Red Bug Elementary. He trained in administration and he was previously assistant principal of Sabal Point Elementary Alabama Gov. George Wallace refused to comment on thaying of Paraquat, but an Alabama agricultural official said "tons of it" are used by farmers in the state.

Evening Herald, Sanford, Fl. Tuesday, Aug. 23, 1983-3B

A Cloud Of Fear Is Over Georgia

By G.G. Rigsby United Press International

Under a cloud of secreey, government helicopters swoeped down on a Georgia federal forest last week and put Southerners under a cloud of fear of a chemical that once only scared marijuana smokers.

But the net result of the opening round of a campaign to spray Paraquat on marijuana growing on federal land was 100 dead pot plants, a lawsuit and a storm of protests that included charges of "police state tactics."

"Technically, we do not need the permission of state officials to spray on federal lands," said David Hoover, a Drug Enforcement Administration spokesman in Washington. "If state and local authorities choose not to participate in the spraying, legally and technically we can proceed on our own. But we would not proceed with any spraying program without informing state and local authorities. Paraquat can be fatal if ingested or inhaled. And some health officials have said smoking marijuana sprayed with the controversial herbicide may cause serious health problems. The DEA said marijuana farming is replacing moonshining in Dixie's mountains and back woods and defended Paraquat spraying as an efficient way to destroy the illegal weed in remote areas. "They're operating in the same type of area as we used to find moonshine stills," said DEA agent Ray Vinsik. "They're planting it on federal land and they rain when you come to get the plants. It's the same as moonshine stills."

The DEA said it will continue to spray Paraquat and plans to do so soon, but declined to say where or when.

Since the DEA's marijuana eradication program began in 1979, all but 10 states - Nevada, Alaska, New York. Vermont, New Hampshire, Maine, Massachusetts. Connecticut, Rhode Island and New Jersey - have

In the past, federal agents just pulled up marijuana plants by hand. That changed Aug. 12 when the agency sprayed Paraquat on six spots in the Chattahoochee National Forest in mountainous north Georgia.

Two days later, about 150 area residents formed a group called "North Georgia Citizens Opposed to Paraquat Spraying" and won a temporary restraining order preventing additional spraying in the forest. A hearing is pending on the order issued by U.S. District Judge Charles A. Moye.

The residents complained they were not notified of what seemed to be a "senseless" spraying. They were opposed to the aerial Paraquat spraying on a windy day and said the soaked marijuana pulled up by agents could have simply been pulled up without spraying.

In their federal court complaint, the residents asked for at least $15 million in compensatory and punitive damages, maintaining some people in the area suffered eye irritation, digestive problems "and other symptoms associated with Paraquat poisoning." They also claimed about 250 acres of vegetation were dying from the chemical defoliant.

Georgia congressmen Elliott Levitas and Ed Jenkins also criticized the spraying and called for a congressional investigation of the $2.4 million program. Levitas called the spraying a "dingbat idea."

Georgia Lt. Gov. Zell Miller said the cost of sending a "symbolic message" to officials of Colombia, who the DEA is trying to persuade to use Paraquat on marijuana. may be some "symbolic verdicts" in court cases brought by people sickened by the spraying Georgia health officials, however, reported no illnesses stemming from the Paraquat spraying.

'We had a few calls from people who were scared, but none were related to the spraying," said state epidemiologist Dr. Keith Sikes. Lab tests on one family suffering from some of the symptoms of Paraquat poisoning showed they had a virus, he said.

The DEA said the Georgia restraining order will not hamper its future spraying plans.

DEA agents announced last week they were going to spray in Tennessee, but they left without doing so. saying the pot patches they found were too small or too near homes or streams. And some marijuana patches. the DEA said, had been harvested just before they arrived.

Residents near Georgia's Chattahoochee National Forest didn't learn of the Paraquat spraying until the squadron of helicopters arrived. "People probably thought some kind of war was going on," said Vinsik.

The plants were sprayed from about 20 feet in the air and Vinsik said at most, the Paraquat could have drifted only a few hundred feet and killed a total of one acre of vegetation.

Georgia Agriculture Commissioner Tommy Irvin said he had urged the government to spray the herbicide from the ground. But since it was sprayed at low levels. Irvin said it couldn't have drifted more than several hundred feet even if the wind were high.

About 15 agents guarded the soaked marijuana for three days while the chemical took effect. After the plants died. Vinsik said agents pulled them up "because of the hysterical feeling going on in White County."

Vinsik said marijuana sprayed with Paraquat in other states will be guarded, but probably not pulled up. because "the primary purpose of the program is to give us another viable way to get rid of marijuana in rugged arcas."

The second aim of the project is to persuade South American governments to spray their marijuana fields with Paraquat. DEA agents filmed the Georgia spraying from the ground and air.

"We want to show them we are doing what we asked them to do," Vinsik said.

Georgia Gov. Joe Frank Harris was convinced the spraying was proper and held a news conference to say so. Later, he said he was "somewhat surprised" at the controversy raised by the spraying, and he thought there should be more concern that illegal marijuana is being grown in Georgia. Harris said if he had it to do over again, he might contact the Georgia Conservancy "and others to let them be aware before any action took place. We will do a better job in the future."

But the issue is far from settled.

As federal agents continue to search for suitable plots to spray - they won't say where they're looking officials in other Southern states are taking sides.

Tennessee Gov. Lamar Alexander says he is opposed the spraying, but might reconsider after receiving the results of a state study on its safety. Arzo Carson, director of the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation, said, "We will probably ... consider it next year as a possible method of eradicating marijuana." The Florida Department of Law Enforcement sprayed Paraquat on an 80-acre field of marijuana in Walton County a year ago, marking the first government use of the herbicide on marijuana in the country Paraquat was sprayed on the Florida field from the ground and officers guarded the marijuana until it died. Then they burned it.

FDLE administrator Jim Harley said Paraqual may not be used again in Florida. "We're a little sensitive to criticism when it comes to using Paraquat, so we're conservative," he said.

Fifth Multiple Slaying Terrifies Joliet Area

JOLIET, III. (UPI) - Authorities are maybe rightfully so," said Will County trying to calm fearful residents and say the area's fifth multiple slaying of the summer - a couple found with their throats slashed - is not related to the other unsolved killings.

The latest slayings were the 15th and 16th in Will County, a quiet, working class area southwest of Chicago in the past two months, and apparently were drug-related, authorities said Monday.

Ralph Dixon, 40, and Crystal Knight, 25, were found Sunday night in Dixon's Park Forest apartment. They had been stabbed and their throats were slit.

State's Attorney Edward Petka said they likely were slain early Saturday. Their slayings were probably not related to the others, Petka said, because they appeared to be drug-related.

People seem to be randomly selected and killed." he said.

Four women had been stabbed and shot to death Saturday in a Joliet ceramics shop. Will County Coroner Robert Tezak urged area residents to be careful. "I'd certainly ask everybody not to panic and not to stop in isolated places or do anything foolish," he said. "I'm amazed to say the least. That's something I never dreamed of happening in this short a period of time." "People certainly are scared and Chief Deputy Ted Kelly, whose team of six investigators is working jointly with investigators assigned by Gov. James R.

Mayor John Bourg said police were unable to find a motive for the latest slavings and wondered at first if the killings were the work of the same person.

Frightened residents also expressed
