

Five Homes Burn As Firemen Stand By And Watch

By Larry Vershell and Det Higginbotham

A routine news story should say that five homes in Roseland Park were destroyed by fire late Tuesday afternoon and 28 persons including 14 youngsters were left homeless.

However, a survey by two Herald reporters revealed that this was not just an ordinary news story.

The fire, aided by wicked raving winds ripped through the homes, partially destroyed a number of fire trucks from Sanford stood by two blocks away.

Deputies from the Sheriff's office reported that Lake Mary volunteer crews were called and no one from the Naval Air Station fire crew turned down the call because new orders said they could not any longer aid in any home fires.

So the homes just burned. An old man of 60 was seen vainly trying to extinguish one blaze with a garden hose while another poured bucket upon bucket on the blaze from a 10 gallon can.

A woman screamed, "My baby is inside help me, help me" A neighbor said "I've got the child." The woman fainted. . . . A woman ran into the flames, snatched out what looked to be a wedding album (and was). . . . Men stood around in the freezing weather . . . some squatted on the ground, helpless, asking a reporter and photographer, "What can we do, what can we do?"

The fire, in the Roseland Park Negro area, is two blocks from the Sanford City limits between Celery and SR 46.

City Manager W. E. Knowles reported that it was city policy that no fire truck can go outside the limits and extinguish a fire.

Mrs. Alice Ivers, executive secretary of the Red Cross, and John McCloskey, president, have appealed for clothing, food, money and household goods for the disaster-struck families.

Mrs. Ivers reported that A. B. Peterson Jr. disaster chairman immediately purchased jackets, shoes and socks for those who were unable to salvage even these items of clothing for protection from the biting cold. Baby diapers, and medicine were also purchased. Some families have been housed in the Henry McAllister motel on Southwest Rd.

The children appear about average for their ages and include girls age two, four, six, eight, 12, 14 and 16 and boys, six months, nine, 11 and 15 years of age.

And the people watched the burning rubble, watched walls collapse, saw a child with diapers on clutching a doll screaming for her mother. . . . "Never saw anything like it," said one resident from Sanford who drove out to see what was going on. "How can I sleep tonight knowing what happened here. . . . Is there anything we can do?"

"There's nothing," the reporters said and walked away to their warm and comfortable homes.

AROUND THE CLOCK

By LARRY VERSHELL

Mack Cleveland Jr. will again be unopposed for the Group 1 legislative race . . . qualifications closed at noon Tuesday . . . as one prospective candidate, Al Quinby of Bear Lake, said, "You got to be crazy to run against Mack . . . His record speaks for itself." Amen.

Race for Group 2 will be between Joe Davis, Al Lormann and Pat McKinney.

City Manager W. E. Knowles said this morning that four years ago the city asked the county to go along with some fire protective measures on fringe areas. "They laughed in our faces," Knowles said. . . . Received seven calls from residents in the area. "Why should this go on?" they said. . . . "Do something about it," they begged . . . What can I do but emphasize the need for additional fire districts. . . . City firemen sat two blocks away and watched the homes destroyed . . . "Just not city policy to cross city lines," said Mr. Knowles. . . . We asked chairman of the County Commission J. C. Hutchison about the tragedy and he said, "This has been worrying me for some time. I'll bring it up to the board soon." . . . Perhaps someone cares after all!

SOME LEFT OVER NOTES FROM THE COUNTY COMMISSION MEETING:

Chairman Hutchison urged the board to eliminate closed door sessions. "If we have confidence in the press they will have confidence in us," said the general. . . . Board said okay. . . . The commission backed up the chamber's long-range road planning committee on surveys of SR 436, 44 and SR 426 . . . Now the chamber will back up the county to a "united front" at DeLand Thursday. A motorcade will leave here at 3:30 p.m. . . . Only a few citizens showed up for the important meeting on roads . . . about nine including Tom McDonald, Al Lormann and Doug Stenstrom. . . . Ted Williams asked that the access road to Seminole High School be called "Jim's Lane." Hutchison queried why Jim, and Williams said for all the Jims at the High School.

County Attorney Harold Johnson read that long awaited attorney general's report on whether the county can use road and bridge funds for financing a water control plan . . . "After two pages of double talk" Johnson said he would have to speak to Mack (State Rep. Mack Cleveland Jr.). Need for more legislation likely.

The local Moose Lodge, in the throws of a massive membership drive, plans an extensive project of working with county officials on needed equipment at the County Home. Watch for an announcement soon on their project.

Two dentists have volunteered to work at the health clinic and the Business and Professional Women's Club will work on a program for extra equipment.

Ed Jordan will wind up 27 years on the school board . . . a thankless job well done.

Lenten season starts today and the Herald next week will start running a series of articles on the meaning of Lent from laymen of various churches.

Look for an announcement soon from Seminole County's four Golf and Country Clubs concerning a rotating tournament for next Fall. Play will involve the Mayfair, Casselberry, Mid-Florida and Rolling Hills Clubs.

Record 65 GOPs Qualify

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A record field of 65 Republicans, seeking offices from utilities commissioner to U. S. senator, were signed up today to challenge the Democratic Party's traditional hold in Florida in this year's elections.

The Democrats had qualified 312 candidates for state and national offices by deadline time at noon Tuesday, providing the largest total of candidates in modern state history for an off-year election.

State Republican Chairman G. Harold Alexander of Fort Myers sounded the challenge to Democrats when he said the GOP is not only interested in winning more state and national offices from Florida, but local posts as well.

Alexander said GOP candidates for local offices will be qualifying "as soon as county qualifying books are open.

The Republicans qualified 15 candidates for Congress in 10 of the state's 12 districts, one candidate to oppose U. S. Sen. George A. Smathers, 36 candidates for the State House of Representatives and six for the State Senate. This compared with a total of 25 candidates for the Republicans in the 1960 election.

Republican primaries will be necessary in the 3rd and 11th congressional districts. Only the 8th District around Gainesville was without a Republican candidate.

The only incumbent among the state's present eight congressmen to escape with no opposition at all, even from his own party, was Democratic Rep. Charles E. Bennett of the 2nd District around Jacksonville.

Full-Time Health Director Urged

Dr. Leonard Munson, in a strongly worded letter to the County Commission Tuesday urged the board to hire a full-time health director and stressed that his "medical opinions and convictions should not be subverted to those lay members of the commission and the threat of loss of employment should not be influenced by his professional attitude."

County Commission Chairman J. C. Hutchison asked Clerk Arthur Beckwith Jr. to make copies of Munson's letter to all members of the board.

In his letter to the commission, Dr. Munson, Seminole County medical examiner, emphasized that "physicians of Seminole County urgently request that the county employ a capable full-time medical health officer."

"We are deeply concerned that the rapidly expanding population in this area could produce various crises. This could be in the form of epidemics in overcrowded schools, contamination of water supply, smallpox, typhoid, polio epidemics resulting from inadequate supervision of vaccinations and immunizations."

"There are many other duties which cannot be enumerated here," Dr. Munson added, "but which are of vital concern to the general health, growth and even industrial expansion of this community."

Part-time Health Director Dr. W. N. Sisk made his first public appearance Tuesday afternoon before the County Commission and right off encouraged the board to employ a full-time health director.

Dr. Sisk, Orange County health director, has been working here on a part-time basis since the commission fired Dr. Clyde D. Brothers last fall.

The board took no action on Sisk's recommendation, even though Sisk said that he would not be able to continue that arrangement after June.

Commissioner John Fitzpatrick told the board that state health officials were "putting the pressure" on the county to employ a full-time man and Sisk cited a letter from Dr. W. N. Stephens, director of community health administration study which declared that the department is "in the process of putting a little pressure on the commission to employ a health officer."

Sisk appeared before the board to point out that a home nursing service, supported by federal funds, is available to this county but added that such service should not be started until a full-time man is employed to direct added nurses and clerical help.

State officials agreed that the nursing service could not be started without a full-time health officer.

Commissioner Vernon Dunn, who said he favors hiring a full-time man said the board should do everything in their power to take advantage of this nursing service. "I'll even put that in a motion," but it died for lack of a second.

Village Calls Special Session

A special meeting of the North Orlando Village Council was called for 8 p. m. Friday at the Village Hall after only two council members showed up Tuesday night for the regularly scheduled meeting.

Councilman Reggie Webster announced the special meeting in the absence of Mayor Frank Pasula.

Webster also advised that only 150 persons had registered to vote in the March 20 election and that at least 250 registrations would be needed before the County Commission would donate a voting machine for village use.

The office will be open from 7 p. m. until 9 p. m. Friday for the convenience of residents who cannot register during the day, he said.

Books close on March 15.

Geneva R. F. D. Meeting Tonight

An open meeting at the Geneva Community Hall will be held at 7:30 p. m. today to advise the community of its ability to have rural free mail delivery if the residents want it.

C. D. Perry, leader of the move, has urged a representative from every household to be present to discuss the issue.

Political Talks Open To Public

Mrs. Hope Bennett, president of the South Seminole Democratic Women's Club, announced today that Thursday's talks by Mayor A. R. Lormann and Attorney Joe Davis, candidates for the State Legislature in Group 2, will be open to the public.

The meeting will be held at the Howell Park Recreation Center Civic Hall on SR 436 with the candidates scheduled to peak at 11 a. m. after adjournment of the club's monthly session, Mrs. Bennett said.

TED WILLIAMS
Ted Williams Qualifies For Re-Election

Ted Williams, County Commissioner from District 2, was the first candidate to qualify Tuesday at noon as the race for two County Commission, three school board and Democratic executive committee posts opened.

Williams, seeking re-election will be rounding out his first term on the board.

He has been a resident of the county since 1928 and lives with his wife and five children in Sanford on Plumosa Drive.

Williams, in his announcement, said that he has constantly voted for progress although he led the battle on the board to "keep a level millage."

He said that he has fought against hiring an administrative aide because "I was hired by the voters to do the job." He also added, that he had opposed any pay raise for the board during a straw poll last year.

Other candidates who qualified were J. D. Wright and A. W. Epps Jr. for the school board and James Stowell for the precinct 4 Democratic executive committee race.

Qualifications close March 20.

Church Sued By Wife Of Priest

MINEOLA, N. Y. (UPI)—A 41-year-old mother, who identified herself as the wife of a Roman Catholic priest, has filed a $2,375,000 suit against the church, Francis Cardinal Spellman and other individuals, charging they kidnaped her husband.

The woman, Mrs. Alice Belaskis Ryan, mother of four daughters aged 10 to 3 years, said in the Supreme Court suit the defendants used "force . . . and intoxicating beverages" to kidnap her husband from his Long Island home.

The suit, filed Tuesday, claimed she and her husband, Walter A. Ryan, 57, were secretly married in 1950 while he was assistant pastor of St. Patrick's Church in Glen Cove, N. Y.

The suit charged that Ryan was abducted and "forcibly detained at the home of Kieran Fitzpatrick . . . then removed to monasteries." It said the church and its officials had full knowledge of the marriage and children.

Mrs. Ryan's attorney, Philip Pflieger, said he had been negotiating with the defendants for two years but that they proved unsatisfactory.

Oviedo Taxes Due By April 1

Oviedo city taxes will be delinquent April 1 and property on which taxes have not been paid by that date will be put up for public sale, the Town Council has decided.

The town clerk, Mrs. John Courier, urges all property owners to pay their taxes by the April 1 deadline to avoid the possible loss of their property.

The scheduled tax sales are the first for Oviedo in many years and are tentatively set for the second Monday in June. The definite date will be announced later.

County Highway Program Adopted

The County Commission, in less than 10 minutes Tuesday approved its 1962-63 road program which will be presented to the State Road Department Thursday.

The program had been drawn up at a two-hour closed door session of the commission two weeks ago.

Four primary and 11 secondary project requests were included in the program which will be presented at all-day hearings Thursday. Seminole will present its program at 4:30 p. m.

The four primary projects are SR 436 east from Altamonte Springs to the Orange County Line; SR 46, four lanes with parking from French to Mellonville; New Eastern Bridge and SR 413 east of Sanford city limits to the St. Johns River.

The first five projects on the secondary project requests are all leftovers from previous bond issues that have not been accomplished.

These primary projects were also included in the secondary list and are in the county's $500,000 bond issue program for purchase of rights of way.

Other secondary projects requests include paving S. 427 from SR 436 to S 434; four-laning SR 436 from the Orange County Line through Oviedo to SR 44; a one mile link between SR 613 and SR 46; four laning SR 46 from Sanford to the Volusia line surveys and rights of way for projects on SR 436, S 464, S 13 and S 427 and construction of 0.3 mile on S 427 near Maitland Ave.

C Of C Submits Audit

The Chamber of Commerce audit for 1961 was turned over to the County Commission Tuesday showing some $39,636 was spent during the year with $9,001 used for advertising and industrial promotion.

The chamber had slightly under $3,000 at the start of 1962 left over from the previous year.

Other expenses included Christmas parade; $1,197 for the merchants and slightly over $14,000 for salaries.

In other business, the commission heard a complaint from Col. James Dyson's attorney threatening legal action unless something were done to reduce the flow of water through his property on SR 419 at Howell Creek. Attorney Bill Hutchison, said in his letter that water had damaged the property. However, Chairman J. C. Hutchison explained that he felt the county was not negligent and that Dyson was advised on the water control plan for Howell Creek.

Heard a letter from the United Brotherhood of Carpenters to employ local help on construction jobs.

Heard a protest from Mr. and Mrs. William Bridge of Concord Drive protesting the removal of a "No Truck" sign which had been placed on the road two years ago. They said the signs were removed recently.

Heard County Engineer Carlton Bliss report that the SRD has said that there were no change in road plans of SR 434 regardless of complaints in the area and that his office had received complaints regarding open ditches on Maitland Ave.

Power Line Cut; Grass Flames Up

The Casselberry Volunteer Fire Dept. was called out to a fire late Tuesday afternoon which started when power lines were felled by a tree blown down at the corner of Old Lake Howell Rd. and Melody Ln.

The blaze, fanned by extreme high winds, spread rapidly through the dry grass into fern sheds of Vaughan, Inc., and threatened several nearby homes before firemen could get it under control.

Storm-Shocked Area Tries To Pick Up Pieces

HATTERAS, N. C. (UPI)—Tides reported as high as eight feet swept ocean waters through this Outer Banks village today, flooding streets and homes.

The pounding sea, whipped up by a wintry storm which dumped snow and sleet over the Eastern Seaboard, washed away piers and damaged beach cottages along the upper North Carolina coast and in the Hampton Roads, Va., area.

Communications were lost with the Outer Banks where the highway patrol reported "extensive damage."

NEW YORK (UPI) — Storm-shocked families, some of whom were mourning their dead, return to oceanfront homes today to face the wreckage caused by gale-driven floods which poured over the Eastern Seaboard from Virginia to Massachusetts.

The storm—the most violent to strike the East this winter — began to subside early today when the savage winds abated out to sea, leaving behind death and destruction.

The gale-force winds, accompanied in some areas by heavy snow, sent enormous Atlantic waves crashing over seawalls. The floods, sweeping through city streets and highways, forced scores of families to flee inland.

Other storms were reported elsewhere in the nation and the death toll mounted to at least 26, including 9 in Wisconsin, 5 in Delaware, 4 in New Jersey, two in California and one each in Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Virginia, New York and Pennsylvania.

The Atlantic floods were responsible for at least seven drownings and four other persons were washed out to sea and presumed drowned, although their bodies had not been recovered.

27 More Days

Every day there is one less day to register. Don't let the time run out on you. The Registration office in the C. C. Building is open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. and from 9 a. m. to noon on Saturdays. Registration closes April 7.

School Funds Sought Through 3 Sources

School Superintendent R.T. Milwee, discussing way and means of obtaining monies to build new schools without raising millage told school board members Tuesday that a tax of one mill brings in approximately $175,000.

More than this amount is available through the state for construction but the law states that the county must have matching funds on hand before the state money can be obtained.

"The state controls all expenditures of school monies," Milwee said, "and funds are allotted for construction only."

The county will undergo a survey next week, Milwee stated, by a representative from the national department of Health, Education and Welfare, to see if the county qualifies for Federal-ly impacted area funds.

Milwee said that the impact of school children whose parents are directly connected with the Nova project will not be felt heavily here until the 1963-64 school year.

Other plans which will be taken under consideration are the "stripping down" of schools and the use of portable housing. John Burton, architect, presented plans to the school board which he said compared with the portable classrooms, by using the same amount of floor space and equipment and construction on concrete block. Burton told the board that the "stripped down" rooms could be constructed of block for less than the portables.

North Orlando Civic Group Hears Officer Nominations

By Ginny Skielek
Candidates for offices in the North Orlando Civic Assn. were named by a nominating committee at Monday night's meeting of the group in the Village Hall.

Suggested for president were Henry Ward Jr. and George Worth; for first vice-president, Robert Darnon and Robert Stephenson; for second vice president, W. W. Anderson and Arthur Rhodes; for secretary, Mrs. Mary Campbell and Mrs. Rose Murphy and for treasurer, Mrs. Ann Sutton and Mrs. Harvey Coyle.

Ward and Mrs. Campbell declined the nominations and a floor nomination of Dave Tilson for president was made. Nominations will remain open until the April meeting.

Anderson, president of the association and presiding at the meeting, announced that those men who are seeking council seats in the Village Election on March 20 had agreed among themselves to resign from the association if elected but will continue to give it support and cooperation.

In other business, Dave Tilson, chairman of the recreation building committee, reported that the building offered for use to the association by the North Orlando Co. has been moved to the area and placed on a foundation. Tilson also advised that Florida Power Corp. has agreed to have current in the building in time for the planned St. Patrick's Day Dance which will be sponsored by Our Lady Circle of the Church of the Nativity.

The Civic Assn. will ask for cooperation of all residents in remodeling and painting the building.

Anderson displayed one of the new membership cards and issued the first to Henry Ward. It was agreed to continue the drive for new members.

Under the heading of new business, the association approved an Easter Egg Hunt for the community and various fund raising plans were turned over to committee chairmen for further progress and reports.

Casselberry Church Group Attends Study

By Jane Casselberry
Fourteen persons from the Casselberry Community Methodist Church attended the Greater Orlando Methodist Christian Workers' School held Feb. 26 through March 1 at the First Methodist Church in Orlando. There were 244 registrations representing 24 churches.

Courses of study were on "The Use of the Bible with Children," "The Use of the Bible in Teaching Youth," "The Use of the Bible in Adult Groups," "How to Read and Study the Bible," "Your Home Can Be Christian" and "Christian Social Concerns." Primary and Senior High Observation Laboratory Classes were held for Church School teachers.

Attending the course from Casselberry were Rev. Oscar C. Poole, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Swafford, Mr. and Mrs. James Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Finney Haynes, Mrs. Mary Mohley, Mrs. William Young, Mrs. Arthur Putnam, Mrs. Nelson Rummel, Dan Blacksmith, Leonard Casselberry and Harold Wood.

School Board Plans Meetings

The Seminole County School Board Tuesday voted to join the national association of school boards in order to gain knowledge of the status and plans of school building and maintenance all over the U. S.

James Birkenmeyer was appointed to attend the state school board association meeting in Miami, April 23-26 in conjunction with the state FEA meeting at the Algiers Hotel.

Milwee revealed his plans to attend a hearing on educational television in Washington, D. C., on April 9 to testify in behalf of the program for this area.

Walter Teague advised board members that bids would begin coming in in April, May and June for school supplies for next year. Milwee stated that 12 applicants had been interviewed for the job of South Seminole Junior High and Bear Lake Elementary School principal's positions.

"It's going to be mighty hard to make a choice," he said.

Students' Original Play Scores Hit

What might happen to life on earth if atomic explosions knocked the earth out of its orbit, so that it was farther away from the sun and became covered with ice and snow?

A hypothetical question to be sure, but if such a thing should happen, the boys and girls of Mrs. Cathleen Lee's sixth grade at Pinecrest School are ready with the answer.

In their play, "Walking on Seaweed" presented Monday at Pinecrest School, they showed what life might be like under the sea, 100 years from now.

Sparked by Brent Armstrong and guided by Mrs. Lee, the students wrote the play and the dialogue, designed the stage sets and built them, designed the costumes and made them and Brent produced and directed the play with the assistance of Mrs. Ernest Boliek, music teacher and James Motheral and his sixth grade room.

Narrator Frank McCann explained to the audience that scientists, confronted with a world frozen wasteland for a world, resorted to a last desperate chance and chose to try to live on the bottom of the sea.

With amazing scientific knowledge, partly accurate and partly only intended to be humorous, the students unfolded their play. Scene one was a classroom which was said to be junior high, senior high and college, where students worked on formulas and plans to make life under the sea better and better. On this day the teacher allowed the students to mix their own waterproofing formulas, warning that if they didn't mix it right, they'd have to wear their aqua-lung home.

Naturally one boy did not heed the advice of his teacher and the other students and caused a laugh later in the play as he came home late with his aqua-lung on his back.

Scene Two was laid out home with father and mother discussing whether daughter should marry the boy chosen for her by the school's Unimating machine. After it was decided that the machine knew best, an engagement party was held.

For this neighbors and friends were invited in to see a special "live" television show, complete with clever, witty undersea commercials given by the announcer. The show was to be a special one about the old-time dance that they used to do on earth, a hundred years ago.

It was, of course, the Twist, ably and nimbly performed to the proper music by Carol Wyatt and Jimmy Higginbotham.

The show concluded with the modernistic, interpretive dancing of a group of girls and boys called Dance of the Sands. This was a rippling, swaying, floating type of movement, done with scarfs and nets under flickering lights.

Seen in the classroom devotional number with the hymn, "The Old Rugged Cross" sung softly in the background, while the "Devotional Girls" interpreted the feeling in long white robes, were Debbie Rowland, Linda Russell, Janice Lott, Kathy Evans and Jane Hale.

Starring as the Professor was Eddle Broadway; the Teacher, Dale Bromberger; the Mother, Darlene Almond; the Father, Joe Markham; Daughter, Colleen Gay; Little Sister, June Hutchinson; Little Brother, Jeff Simpson; the Boy Friend, David Williamson; the TV Announcer, Bob Jepp.

The students who answered questions on scientific problems for the professor in the classroom scene were John Smith, James Hamilton, Billy Shepherd, Sharon Wagner, Sharon Whitaker, Elaine Valenti, Don Ethell, Melinda Graham, Mike Spain, Mike Nix, Sharon Woods and Melissa McAllister.

Stage scenery was very realistic and the outstanding background depicted a picture window, through which the bottom of the sea could be seen with colorful fishes and sea horses swimming about as they peered in the window. In front of the window, a tinkling fountain flowed over colorful water lilies.

A tall, wide, specially constructed screen, made by the class out of vari-colored pieces of paper, shellacked to background paper, appeared on stage with a light behind it, to be an oiled silk screen, and added a special effect to the stage setting.

After the second showing of the play, the cast presented a corsage to Mrs. Lee, in appreciation of her work and guidance.

The consensus of opinion as expressed by the student body audience and overheard by a reporter was:

"A pretty cat show!"

Popular children's games, such as hide-and-stick and blindman's bluff, were played by adults as late as the 15th century.

You big catfish catchers have just 10 more days to enter your best exaggerations in the Fish Liars Contest.

J. R. Norton of Lake Mary got his story in last week and here it is.

"Last fall when the blue fish came down from the north, I was fishing at the Jaycee beach when I hooked what I thought was a kingfish.

"I backed toward the beach and that blue jumped and when it came down it grabbed the shark by its fin and headed for the deep water.

"Who am I to argue with a Yankee woman with a movie camera?"

And who are the fishermen to argue with the past three days of chill bumps? Well, there are some who don't let anything interfere with their shad fishing, cold and winds included.

Nobody reported any outstanding catches, but two regular shad season visitors, J. W. H. Parker of Buckroe Beach, Va., and William Blakeley of Wilmington, Del., shivered in with 16 Monday.

There's a big rocking chair at Cruze's Camp and it was getting a good workout Tuesday. Several groups were alternating between the rocker and the river, but some North Carolina people arrived Tuesday morning and headed right out in their boat.

"This is good weather compared to what we just left north of here," they said. "It's real sticky all over—snow, ice and cold."

No—we're still well off with our three days of cool, cool. Look for warmer, even though breezy, weather and good fishing about Friday.

And while you're writing, now is a good time to write your fishing lie for the contest—indoor sport, you know. Remember, we're going back on a truth kick March 17.

Teams Wage Torrid Battle For NCAA Tourney Berths

The playoffs before the playoffs are making things interesting for those teams seeking the last available tickets to the NCAA basketball tournament.

Southern Methodist and Texas Tech finished in a tie for first place in the Southwest Conference Tuesday night and will meet at Fort Worth Friday night for one of the four remaining berths in the NCAA championship.

Another berth will go either to St. Joseph's of Temple, which clinch in a Middle Atlantic Conference playoff at Philadelphia Friday night. The loser of this game won't wind up in the cold, for officials of the National Invitation Tournament are saving a bid to their show for the conference runner-up.

Southern Methodist and Texas Tech wound up in a dead-heat for the Southwest Conference crown when the Mustangs turned back Arkansas, 84-81, at Dallas and Tech edged Rice, 60-58, at Houston.

St. Joseph's rallied from a 16-point deficit in the second half in downing Lafayette, 78-68, at Easton, Pa. The victory gave the Hawks an 8-1 record in the Middle Atlantic Conference. Temple completed its season with the same mark last Saturday.

Arkansas outshot SMU from the floor, 30-28, but the Mustangs connected on 28 of 32 free throws to post their 11th victory in 24 games. Jan Loudermilk's 22 points also helped.

Texas Tech got quite a scare from Rice. The lead changed hands 11 times in the first half and Rice pulled within one point of Tech three times in the last five minutes. But Del Ray Mounts who led both teams with 19 points, kept pulling Tech out of the danger with key baskets.

Sophomore Steve Courtin, who totaled 20 points, sparked the St. Joseph's comeback against Lafayette. The Hawks, after trailing by 36-24 at halftime, went ahead, 39-38, on a bucket by Billy Hoy with six minutes remaining. Courtin and Bob Dickey then added quick baskets to wrap it up.

Southern Miss Coach Resigns

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (UPI)—Fred Lewis, head basketball coach at the University of Southern Mississippi, resigned Tuesday to accept the head coaching job at Syracuse University.

USM Athletic Director Reed Green and President William D. McCain issued a joint statement announcing Lewis' resignation effective April 30.

At Syracuse, Athletic Director Lew Andreas said the new Orange coach would begin immediately rebuilding the university's basketball program.

Syracuse finished its recent season with a 2-22 record, winning the last two games to end a 27-game losing streak.

Lewis' teams amassed 89 wins against 38 losses in his five seasons here.

Men's Golf Association Organizes

By Jane Casselberry

Members of the Casseberry Country Club met Saturday night at the Clubhouse to organize and name officers of a Men's Golf Assn.

The group, which also enjoyed a steak fry, elected Fred Hennig, president; George McKinnon, vice president; Gordon Hulbert, secretary and Paul Anderson, treasurer.

Ralph Park, new owner of the club and nine hole golf course, announced that construction of the back nine holes on the course, which began Monday, is expected to be completed this summer.

Spring Exhibition Season Nears Opener

United Press International

The spring exhibition season starts this weekend and guess who'll be one of the first on the firing line for the Milwaukee Braves.

That's right, none other than 40-year-old Warren Spahn, who has rounded into pitching form as fast as any eager young rookie on the citrus or cactus circuit. The Braves believe in nothing but the best for their Bradenton, Fla., fans, so Manager Birdie Tebbets has named Spahn to start Sunday's game against the Detroit Tigers

Some veteran pitchers require a "little extra time to get ready" but not Spahn, whose remarkable arm has enabled him to win 309 games in the major leagues.

"He's truly an amazing athlete," said Tebbets. "He was throwing hard the first day in camp last Thursday."

Spahn, who achieved his 12th 20-victory season with a 21-13 record in 1961, is scheduled to go three innings and will be followed by Tony Cloninger and Bob Shaw. Carl Wiley, Ron Piche and rookie Dennis Ribant will pitch for the Braves on Sunday when they play the Tigers at Lakeland, Fla.

The Braves got some other good news when relief ace Don McMahon agreed to terms. The 210-pound right-hander had rejected the Braves' terms three times and is believed to have signed for a token raise.

Elu Grba, who pitched the Los Angeles Angels' 1961 opener, was picked by Manager Bill Rigney to start their exhibition opener Saturday against the Houston Colt 45s. Rookie Al Neiger and Johnny James (0-2) also were named to pitch for the Angels.

High winds and temperatures that dipped into the 40s suspended or curtailed activity throughout Florida Tuesday so there was only a sprinkling of news from the camps.

At St. Petersburg, Fla., World Series hero Ello Chacon checked in and signed with the New York Mets. Chacon, who scored the key run of the Cincinnati Reds' only series victory over the New York Yankees last October, had been delayed in Venezuela because of illness in his family. His signing completed the Mets' roster.

Other camp news: St. Louis Cardinal pitching coach Howie Pollet tabbed Ray Washburn, right-hander up from Charleston of the International League, as the outstanding new pitcher in camp. . . Detroit Tigers' walking wounded include Charley Maxwell, 15 pounds underweight after a bout with the flu, and Al Kaline, nursing a sore left shoulder.

Relief pitcher Turk Lown, who was the only Chicago White Sox holdout, reported at Sarasota, Fla., and said he is ready to work three innings. . . The Philadelphia Phillies were encouraged when they learned regular shortstop Ruben Amaro had received a 60-day extended leave from the Army and will report at Clearwater, Fla., today. . . Righthander Jack Sanford worked out with the San Francisco Giants for the first time and weighed in at 194 pounds.

SHOOTING FOR THE TOP

Winningest Octet Set For SOKC Feature

The eight greyhounds going to the post in the featured ninth race at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club tonight make up the winningest octet assembled this season. It's the big midweek race and the victory scores of the entries add up to 52.

Competing in this all-star contest will be Excelling, Features Fair, Mac Tray, Hurry Now, Wonderon, Upstage, Topeka Rose and Mary McMain.

McMain Moses' Excelling has the highest victory score of the current campaign. She has ten firsts in the bag and will try to make it 11 tonight. Among her triumphs was the winning of the final in the recent Racing Queen Stakes.

Jack Herold's Features Fair and C. H. Lovely's Hurry Now are both eight-time winners. Upstage has accounted for seven firsts and Topeka Rose for six.

Fred Whitehead's Mac Tray has registered just four firsts to date but rates as a 5 to 2 favorite on the morning line. His small win score is due to the fact that he was campaigning in Miami and got a late start here. At West Flag,

Plenty Of Woes Loom For Casey, 'Mets'

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—Gristed Casey Stengel looking every one of his 71 years, pointed at Charlie Neal today and said he was the only player sure of a job with the New York Mets this season.

"I'd have to say he's got second base nailed down," old Casey exclaimed. "For the other positions it is a wide open scramble. We are going to give every player we have here in spring training a chance to prove that he's a major leaguer."

Stengel won't come out and say so, but it is obvious he doesn't think too highly of the material he has to work with in his return to the majors after sitting on the sidelines for a year.

"They tell me a lot of the players we have claim they are major leaguers but never got a fair chance," he said. "Well, we will give them a chance to prove themselves. But no player has won a job with his club outside of that second baseman. I've just got to think he will do the job for us."

He went on to predict that

Foodmarkettes Hold Loop Lead

The Foodmarkettes of the Midget Food Mart Country Club Manor League remains in first place with the record of 68 1/2 wins and 27 1/2 losses. Holders of second place are the Corals with 57 1/2 wins and 38 1/2 losses.

Jean Adams' game of 202 was high for the week. Louise Caldenhead had high series of 488.

Other high games were rolled by Betty Allen 178, Louise Caldenhead 178, Peggy Mashburn and Marilyn Bailey 170.

Turkeys were made by Betty Allen, Peggy Mashburn and Kitty Ferguson. Jean Adams had four.

Mary Jane Gorton and Moda Huddleston picked up the 2-10 split. Other splits were picked up by Betty Dennis 5-6-10, Faith Gidding 4-5-7, Flora Scholz 2-7, Mickey St. Clara 2-7-10, Dot Johnson 5-6, Ann Hollis, Linda Bagnall, and Katherine Dyson all got the 3-10.

Softball Teams To Organize

There will be a softball organization meeting at the Civic Center March 12 at 7:30 p.m.

This meeting will be for both fast and slow pitch teams. Anyone interested in coaching or playing please be present at this meeting. Deadline for entry will be March 30 and play will begin April 16.

San Diego Owner Set To Testify In Suit

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Barrow Hillon, owner of the San Diego Chargers, is expected to testify in federal court today in the American Football League's $10 million anti-trust suit against the National Football League.

Hilton initially was scheduled to testify Tuesday, but his arrival in Baltimore was delayed by the snowstorm sweeping much of the country.

The 1962 Stengel is a far cry from the manager who led the Yankees to 10 pennants in 12 years before he was let go for being too old. That still ranks Stengel and probably is the prime reason he came back to the game.

He made it plain, however, that his stay this time is limited.

"I'm only aiming to manage this year," he said. "I might change my mind if my health is good and the club does all right, but I don't think so."

Famed Woman Pro To Give Exhibit Here

By Ronnie Broadway

Mary Ann Reynolds, famous woman professional golfer, will conduct a golf clinic sponsored by Walter Hagen Golf, this Thursday at 1:30 p.m. at the Mayfair Country Club. She will be assisted by Miss Kathy Whitworth.

The clinic will be held at 1:30, with a nine hole exhibition match to be held at 2 p.m. Miss Reynolds and Miss Whitworth will demonstrate techniques which have won them places in the professional golfer ranks. This clinic will be one of the most interesting golf clinics in the country. They both appear through the courtesy of Walter Hagen Golf. Both are also members of the Walter Hagen Golf Advisory Staff.

The public is invited to attend the clinic and to see these two girls in action. It should prove to be an experience for all, and who knows, you may improve your score considerably.

CAROL LANE

A REALLY LONG RANGE GAL is Carol Lane, woman's travel director for the Shell Oil Company, who recently paid a visit to Sanford to talk to Navy wives here and show them easier, faster, better and more efficient ways to pack more into less space.

Her ad agent says she is the most widely traveled woman in the nation, covering over 60,000 miles each year to test and investigate ideas and plan ways to increase vacation enjoyment and make moving easier.

Carol writes a newspaper column about her experiences, lectures, writes articles and booklets and gives interviews.

We had lunch with this traveling lady and her public relations man, A. J. Huska, on her flying trip through Sanford and found her attractive, modest and talented, with a keen sense of humor and best of all, she loves her job.

She is not married and has no family, so her traveling life does not inconvenience anyone, and brings help and service to many people all over the country.

Even though she travels thousands of miles and often has several hundred miles to go from one engagement to another, she prefers to travel by car whenever possible so that she can really see the country, and will go out of her way to take a different route on her next trip through so that she can see different places.

Women's achievements in the field of traffic safety are given recognition through the Carol Lane Awards, which carry a $1,000 savings bond and beautiful bronze sculpture symbolizing "woman's protective instinct" to the national first place winners each year.

Miss Lane works out of her New York office, which has her name on the door, but she says, "I'm only there two months out of the year, the rest of the time I'm on the road."

She finds the most interesting thing about her job is the people that she meets, and shared several humorous little anecdotes with us, proving once again that people are the same everywhere, in so many ways.

CAROL OXFORD, Seminole B Squad cheerleader was honored on the occasion of her 16th birthday Monday with dinner at the Imperial House, by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Oxford, and brothers, Lamar and Jimmy.

While being serenaded by the Imperial House organist and presented with a gay little individual cake, Carol and her family enjoyed a delicious dinner. Later, when they returned home she found a mound of birthday gifts waiting for her.

A LONG RANGE VISIT to their daughter was accomplished recently by Mr. and Mrs. Sumner H. Lusk of Five Points, whose daughter Janice is an airline stewardess with the new Eastern Jets.

Leaving from Orlando, the Luskens flew to New York and then flew to San Antonio with Janice on her regularly scheduled flight. They remained in San Antonio until her return trip and then flew back to New York with her and later flew home.

While on their long-range trip they experienced wide changes of weather with 21 degrees and snow in New York and 68 and sunshine in Texas. While in San Antonio, the Luskens visited Breckenridge Park, rode a miniature train, wandered through sunken gardens and a zoo, dined in a Chinese tea garden, pedaled down the San Antonio River in pedal boats and went to see the ruins of the famous Alamo.

Back in New York they attended the famous Calvary Baptist Church on 5th St. and visited with their daughter.

Janice graduated from Seminole High in 1958, attended Shoad Junior College and then went through flight school, earning her stewardess's wings last July. She recently flew on the maiden Eastern Jet flight from McCoy with Orlando dignitaries who made the first trip up to New York.

ETTA DORMAN

PRESIDENT-ELECT of the Sanford Federation of Garden Clubs is ETTA (Mrs. D. K.) Dorman, who is presently president and a charter member of the Woodrose Circle.

"Gardening started out as a hobby, but has just about become my whole existence," says Mrs. Dorman. Her only other hobby is bowling and she evidently does that as thoroughly as she does her gardening since she lists a 140 average (which for you non-bowlers is very good).

Mother of two active young sons, Jeff, five, and Greg, three, Mrs. Dorman and her family make their home at 200 Collins Drive in Sunland. Her husband is a field engineer with Philco Corporation, with headquarters at the Sanford Naval Air Station.

Mrs. Dorman is a native of Birmingham, Ala., but has just about lost her Alabama drawl in the busy life of moving around in the service with her husband. She has a wide background of secretarial work in the fields of advertising, legal and insurance work, as well as a stint with General Electric.

Obviously a natural leader and accomplished at all she does, Mrs. Dorman will take over the direction of the Sanford Garden Clubs at the official installation in May, succeeding the present president, Mrs. Eric Vihlen.

Milam - Mange Wedding Plans Announced

Final plans are being announced for the wedding of Miss Joyce Elizabeth Milam and Fred Mange Jr. Miss Milam is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Milam, Sanford, and Mr. Mange is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Mange of Jacksonville.

The wedding is scheduled for March 10 at 8 p.m. at the First Baptist Church with Rev. W. P. Brooks Jr. officiating.

Miss Betty Carpenter will be maid of honor and Ernest Bennett will be best man. Miss Joan Wilke, organist, will present a program of wedding music and accompany Mrs. G. B. Drake, soloist.

No formal invitations are being extended and all friends of the couple are invited to attend the wedding and reception which will follow in the Educational Building of the Church.

New York Residents Visit In DeBary

By Mrs. Adam Muller
Mr. and Mrs. Howard Green of Bonita Dr. recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bell of DeBary and Dr. and Mrs. Harold R. Brennan of Rockville Centre, Long Island, N. Y.

They all attended the Methodist Church of Rockville Centre where Dr. Brennan was their former pastor.

Other guests of the Greens last weekend include Mrs. Gabriela Carabateas and her sister Lillian Whittemeier also of Rockville Centre, N. Y.

Thompsons Enjoy Visit In Ft. Lauderdale

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Thompson of Lake Mary drove to Fort Lauderdale last week and spent the weekend with their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bland.

Sunday, they all went to Coral Gables to visit the Sea Aquarium. They report that it is a very interesting place, and is built like a park. On the grounds are two huge tanks, one containing the large fish and the other the smaller varieties. The weather there was very nice during their stay.

DeBary

By Mrs. Adam Muller
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lohof left DeBary early Thursday morning for their home in Montana after spending the winter here. They will be leaving soon on a European tour, where Mrs. Lohof will gather material to speak before the Civic and International Department of the DeBary Women's Club when she returns next fall.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cole entertained Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Willis of Stroudsburg, Pa., this past weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Donaldson had as their guests recently Rev. and Mrs. Franklin Artley, a retired minister from the Presbyterian Church in Elizabeth, N. J., now living in Bloomsburg, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Glynn Reeder have as their houseguests, Mrs. Reeder's uncle, Guy Wiles of Winnebago, Ill., and his son, Paul Wiles, of Rockford, Ill.

"Any woman who tries to drive like a man will probably get a ticket."

Vigilantes Have Busy Schedule For March

The Vigilante Navy Wives Club 211 has a busy social calendar for March. The recent covered dish supper held at the NAS Ballroom was a huge success.

The group enjoyed the surprise dishes prepared by the wives but everyone agreed, including the judges who were husbands of the members, that Joyce Edwards's "porcupine" meat balls topped the list. Baked beans, prepared by Betty Smith, was a close second.

At another enjoyable event, sponsored by the group, Carol Lane, a very attractive travel director and world adventurer-in-a-car, proved her point by unpacking her six weeks wardrobe including cocktail dresses, camera, sun glasses and many other items.

Following the lecture Mrs. William Huddell and her group served delicious baked pastries. During the social hour Carole repacked her wardrobe, proving that it really could be done.

OES Members Plan To Attend DeLand Meeting

Twenty-six members and six visitors attended a recent meeting of Seminole Chapter 2, Order of Eastern Star in Sanford. First-time visitor was Mrs. John E. Williams of Vesta Chapter 204, North Arlington, N. J.

Plans were made for three of the members to participate in Friendship Night March 16 in DeLand.

Mrs. Elizabeth Huff and Mrs. Eunice Turner served as substitute officers in the absence of Mrs. Hope Bennett and Mrs. Virginia Anderson.

February birthday honoree was Mrs. Irving Pryor who contributed to the rainbow fund while the chapter sang "Happy Birthday."

The dining room was decorated with an arrangement of azaleas and gerbera daisies on the serving table and refreshments of cookies and coffee were served by hostesses, Mrs. Joe Linhart, Mrs. Harvey Dunn, Mrs. John Carver, Mrs. Billie Schnabel and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Peurifoy.

Smorgasbord Was A Huge Success

The Smorgasbord sponsored by the Ethel Root Circle of the Congregational Christian Church was a huge success. Over 400 attended the Swedish-American event in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

This year marked their 10th year for this outstanding affair. It takes lots of preparation to make these events such a success, but the ladies don't mind as this is their only big project for the year.

It all began ten years ago when several wanted to do "something different" for a supper. So it was tried among the members and their guests. Those that attended were so carried away with the variety of dishes, that it was suggested as a yearly project and has been put on each year ever since with continued success.

Since then many improvements have been made. Last year an ice table was added so that the wonderful seafoods and many different congealed molds could be kept at their tempting best.

This year door prizes were given away every half hour during the serving hours. The following were the lucky winners of lovely plants: Mrs. Martha Tinsley, DeBary; Mrs. Helen Pendry, Longwood; Louis J. Jadin, Longwood; Mrs. J. Oakes and Mrs. E. B. Randall, both of Sanford.

Flourishing hostess was Mrs. Edward Simpson, assisted by Mrs. Clyde Stinson, Mrs. Maurice Corbett was floor supervisor and Mrs. Helen Remusat was in charge of the ticket table during the evening. Proceeds from the event will go toward the purchase of new tables and chairs.

Waiting until the last minute to cancel a party engagement is an insult to the person who invited you.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband tends bar in a cocktail lounge that hires only shapely waitresses who wear as little as the law allows. One girl started to work there last month and my husband came home and told me what a "swell kid" she was. He couldn't stop talking about her. He met her husband and said they acted very much in love. Then he added that the husband reminded him of HIMSELF when he was about 30!

DEAR MOTHER: The decision should be your daughter's. Perhaps her friend is trying to do your daughter a favor and give her an incentive to lose weight. If I were your daughter, I would accept the challenge—and win!

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a mother who calls a relative to thank her for a Christmas gift she sent her daughter? She said her daughter was "too busy" to write thank-you notes and I should excuse her. Do you think this is a proper "thank you" from a 17-year-old girl?

DEAR DISGUSTED: I do not. But don't blame the girl. Her mother obviously hasn't taught her better manners. And if you want to do a real service wise up the mother.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MAZIE: Just because there's a crown on the dome doesn't mean there's no power under the hood. Many a man of 66 is still hitting on all cylinders.

Still worrying about the same old problem? Write to Abby for a personal reply. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Easter Lily Ball Slated March 24

The Society for Crippled Children and Adults will hold their annual Easter Lily Ball at the Mayfair Inn, March 24, with an evening of dancing beginning at 9 p. m. Each year at Easter time the society asks help for the crippled people of Seminole County. Easter seals provide direct care for all types of crippled persons whether born crippled or through diseases and accidents. Special entertainment has been scheduled for the ball with door prizes awarded. Reservations for the ball can be made by calling Kenneth Mcintosh, Philip Logan, Mrs. A. D. Payne, Mrs. Laymond Goodman, Mrs. James Felner, or Mrs. James G. Taylor of Sanford and Mrs. L. B. Carr in Geneva.

A widow must divorce her dead husband before she is allowed to remarry among the Tanala people of Madagascar.

Powell's Leads Mixed League

Powell's Office Supply climbed up into the top spot of the Thursday Nite Mixed League, after last week's play, and tied the rotating first place team, Appleby's Restaurant. Both teams have 64 wins to lead the league. Pryor's State Farm Insurance holds second with 62 1/2 wins, followed by Stone's All-Stars, Wilson-Maier, Team Seven, Stone's Machinery, Team Two, Perry's and Steinmeyer Roofing. Although Ralph Betts led the men with a 508 series, and Margie Woods had a 555 to top the women, some games that would do justice to the pros were rolled. Dave Denroth racked up a 233 scratch, Buddy Bass had 232, and Don Brumfield rolled a 231. Brumfield also did well in the split division, picking up the mean 6-7-10. Bass also made a nice pair, the 5-7 and 5-10. Jean McCullough, Gary Folds, Roger Jones, Clyde Ptery, Doug Baker, Dwight Blackwelder and wife Jan, Jimmy Anderson, and Joy Thomson all converted the 3-10. Ellen Betts made the 5-8-10, Gloria Accardi, Alberta Warner and Lil Ogden felled the 5-7, with Lil also getting the 4-5-7, as did Marie Blake. Ken Stone picked up the 5-10 to add to the long list of conversions this week.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

East had two correct ways to bid his diamond suit. One would have been to jump to four diamonds at his first turn and force South to decide what to do at the four level. The other would be to pass steadily and hope for the best. With either campaign North and South might have reached seven spades or they might have stopped at six or even missed the slam entirely. Of course, when you look at all the cards you can see that any two fair players should work their way up to seven with those nice North-South cards but my experience has been that at any time a partnership holds only 27 points in high cards it is not likely to out a bid that helped North and South as much as possible. He passed the first time because as he pointed out, "All I had was that long diamond suit." This gave South a chance to show his tremendous spade support and North to invite a slam by his quiet four-heart bid. So far so good, but now East decided to act and he stuck in a five-diamond bid. This would have allowed South to double with a somewhat different hand, but in this case it gave South a real opportunity with his actual holding. South simply bid six diamonds to show his void. This made it a real clinch for North to go to seven spades.

We The Women: By Ruth Millet

An expert on speech points out that while most of us take our speaking voice for granted, never bothering to try and hear just how our own voices sound to others, with "one anxious, tense, harsh phrase the voice can destroy an illusion." Since we've all heard other women's voices stridently or winnily or cruelly destroy illusions maybe we all ought to try listening to our own with more attention. Especially should a woman listen to her own voice, when she's: —In a group of women and is determined to hold forth on a pet topic. Then it is that her voice becomes loud, arrogant and opinionated. —Annoyed with a child and her voice sounds mean and bullying. —Trying to impress someone who is serving her and her voice becomes coolly arrogant. —In such a hurry that her voice shows impatience or irritability at being bothered. —Disinterested in a conversation and her voice sounds flat, dull, and listless. —Running someone down or ridiculing another person and her voice sounds gleefully vindictive. Most women can make their voices soft and pleasant when they are on their best behavior. And that is how they think they sound all of the time. But a little listening to themselves would convince most women there are times when their own voices can and often do make them sound like the kind of person they never want anyone to credit them with being.

Highlights TV Time Previews

7:30 - 8:30 p. m. (NBC) Wagon Train. "The Charley Shutup Story." Tonight's episode is not overladen with action, but it is a good story, done in the fine style of this series, and enjoyable TV fare. 8:30 - 9:30 p. m. (CBS) Window On Main Street. With more of a meaty plot than is usually evolved on this series, Cousen (Gay shines as an innocent college teacher who is involved in a scheming student's (Bill Tennant) plan to win school office. Cameron Brooks (Robert Young) lectures her class and his views are attacked by the student. 9:30 - 9:50 p. m. (CBS) Checkmate. "The Heart Is A Handout." Jed Hills (Doug McClure) adopts trampy couple to ferret out why a rich man's son (Myron McCormick) prefers the life of a hobo to living in the lap of luxury. 9:40 p. m. (NBC) The Perry Como Show. Perry is back after ter a week's layoff and there are millions of fans who are glad of it. Guests tonight include musical star Carol Lawrence and Don Herbert, TV's "Mr. Wizard." 9:50-10 p. m. (CBS) The Dick Van Dyke Show. Some good laughs in a courtroom, but don't look for any resemblance to "Perry Mason," as Bob (Dick Van Dyke) is the only juror convinced of a defendant's innocence. The defendant's (Sue Ann Langdon) visual appeal alone would be enough to turn any man's head, but that is not Bob's reason for holding out on other frustrated jurors. 10-10:30 p. m. (NBC) The Bob Newhart Show (Color). Tune in and see if you don't agree that tonight's show is the best of the series. The reason is neither Newhart himself nor this talented guest, Carl Reiner (you'll remember him from "The Bid Casert Show"). Real reason is Ralph Levy, the show's new producer, who has also been the top man for such shows as "I Love Lucy" and "Burns and Allen." 10-11 p. m. (CBS) The U. S. Steel Hour. "Who Is This Woman?" Gloria De Haven stars in a dual role in an hour-long drama about the struggle of a woman to identify herself as a wife who had supposedly died two years earlier.

Perpetual Task

The federal government's role in health programs is always controversial.

Wide public sympathy seems likely, however, for President Kennedy's new proposal to use federal funds to help immunize millions of United States youngsters against such infectious diseases as polio, whooping cough, tetanus and diphtheria.

Nevertheless, as presented in the President's health message and argued for by administration officials, the immunization program is fuzzy at a couple of points.

The President says the aim is to "stamp out" the four diseases mentioned. Underlining this, a spokesman for Health, Education and Welfare calls it a "once for all" program. It is officially estimated that outlay of $35 million in federal money over a three-year period would achieve this objective.

Children under 5 are the main target, since health experts believe that no more than half the 25 million in this category has protection against the four diseases.

Yet it is misleading to describe such a program as "once for all," even if, under federal financial spur, local communities should succeed in vaccinating all the unprotected in the next three years.

The reason: Some four million new children come along every year, and millions who are or may be vaccinated need booster shots to keep their guard up. Millions of adults, of course, can use the same protection.

The President does indeed state the aim of keeping children and adults immunized and protecting those yet to be born. But it is not sufficiently stressed that the three-year plan is a "catchup" effort and that certain regular outlays will be needed thereafter to hold the gains.

Some health experts make a further point. The less prevalent a disease, the harder it may strike an unprotected person. When it is "going the rounds" on a fairly common basis, countless people build up partial immunization from suffering mild attacks. When it has been stamped out, extraordinary effort must be made to keep it that way. Early immunization for all becomes a "must."

Today there is wide variance in the incidence of the four diseases aimed at in the Kennedy program. Tetanus struck 368 persons in the U. S. in 1960, 445 in 1959. Diphtheria cases annually range just above 900. Polio totals in 1961 were down to a remarkable low of 864. Whooping cough cases totaled 15,000 in 1960, but generally run 30,000 to 40,000 a year.

The experts agree with the President that the suffering these figures represent is needless, since protective vaccines exist. But they emphasize, as he did not, that immunization, once launched on a big scale, is not a crash effort but an endless and inevitably costly endeavor.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

CASE L-357: Myrtle R. aged 36, is a vivacious grandmother.

"Dr. Crane, my husband and I like to go to Canada on a fishing trip each summer," she began.

"Since I hadn't received a medical check-up for several years, I decided it might be well to see my physician prior to our trip."

"For we go way back into the wild country of Canada. And if I might suffer an attack of appendicitis, I don't know how we would ever find a doctor."

"Well, my physician immediately sent me to the hospital for my medical check-up."

"He kept me there for several days. Meanwhile my friends learned about it from a squib in the newspaper, saying I was one of the new patients admitted on the medical service."

"So they sent flowers and sympathy cards and even candy. They expressed great concern, yet my doctor found nothing wrong with me."

"Why do so many doctors clutter up our hospitals with patients who should be examined in their private offices?"

Myrtle's question explains the jammed hospitals and the constant demand on you taxpayers for additional millions to add new wings to old hospitals or to build newer and larger "Cathedrals of Healing."

Actually, any good GP (General Practitioner) could have handled Myrtle's medical check-up in his own office.

And without subjecting her insurance company to several days' hospital expenses. Furthermore, the room that Myrtle occupied would then have been available for surgical or pregnancy cases that acutely needed it.

If you readers require surgery or if you expectant mothers are ready to deliver your baby, there is a hospital in an excellent location for such medical and surgical care.

But if you need X-rays, blood counts, urinalyses, and all the other expert medical services involved in a good medical check-up, then why go to the hospital?

If your doctor can't use his eyes, ears and palpating fingers to make a diagnosis in your own home or his private office, then he is abusing his proper medical duties to lab technicians in hospitals.

Too many modern medical men are thus relinquishing their duties to hospital nurses, lab and X-ray technicians and externs from the junior or senior classes of local medical schools.

But part of the fault for this mad epidemic of "hospitalitis" that affects America lies at the feet of you laymen.

You INSIST on going to the hospital, even before you want a doctor to look into your mouth and ask you to say "Ah."

"But we have hospital insurance," you may argue, "so we might as well get some money back again to offset those insurance premiums we've been paying."

A vicious circle is thus started. The more you go to hospitals for needless services, the higher your hospital insurance premiums.

And the more you pay for health insurance, the more you insist on going to the hospital on any flimsy excuse, just to get a return on your premiums.

Get hep. Watch us doctors. We rarely submit to surgery or lie abed in hospitals.

Yet physicians are under probably more strain than anybody else. So vaccinate against "hospitalitis" with this newspaper "horse sense."

DeBary Legion To Celebrate

By Mrs. Adam Muller

Last Thursday's meeting of DeBary's Herbert D. Gibb American Legion Post at the Community Center was highlighted by two colorful ceremonies.

During the regular business session, Fred McLaren, first vice commander, announced in his report of membership that the goal of 175 members had been attained. At his request a number of members were called to the rostrum to receive the American Legion Citation for Meritorious Service for their outstanding work which helped make possible achievement of the goal. Included were G. Fred Smith, Alfred Newell, Fred Kammerer, Harry Lyons, P. L. Watson, Thomas Lawson, Nicholas Kahoe and Earl Walker.

Edward Patterson, a team captain, will receive his award at the Lake City Veterans Hospital where he is recuperating from major surgery.

At this point, Auxiliary members were invited to join those of the Post to witness induction of new members by G. Fred Smith, County Executive Committee commander and his committee members.

Receiving the obligation and induction into full membership were William H. Buntin, William H. Buntin, Woodford Chaney, Louis Kenyon, Pharoah McCartney, Harry W. Bell, Douglas D. Drysdale Sr., Nelson A. Goodreau, William G. Williams, Frank H. Maher, Joseph M. Sweeney, William A. Koster, Thomas P. Lawton, Paul Letton, John J. Strang and William Walker.

Commander Smith, in his charge to the candidates, stressed the four American Legion attributes of Justice, Freedom, Democracy and Loyalty and its great principles of Service, reminding them that the obligations as citizens must not be forgotten and that each must always strive to redeem those obligations.

WISHFUL WAR SCARE

Peter Edson

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—One stated goal for the 18-power United Nations Disarmament Conference opening in Geneva March 14 is to keep it going till something constructive comes out of it.

The American delegation at the outset will be headed by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Director William C. Foster of the new, independent Arms Control and Disarmament Agency and chief U. S. atomic test ban negotiator Arthur H. Dean. The full delegation with many technicians, advisers and experts will go prepared for everything but not knowing what to expect.

President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will not be there, insuring that the talks will not start off as a summit conference, which Russian Chairman Nikita Khrushchev wants to be. Khrushchev and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko may or may not be there if they're not, Russia's test ban and disarmament monkey wrench thrower Seymour K. Tsarapkin is apt to be their head man.

What the other delegations will do—including the eight new neutral members added since the 10-nation West-East disarmament conference was wrecked by the Russians in 1960—is equally up in the air. Still, the outlook is not hopeless.

There have been some significant steps toward disarmament since the Russians broke up the three-power test ban talks with the Americans and British and resumed atmospheric tests last Aug. 31.

On Sept. 25 President Kennedy presented a six-point disarmament plan to the United Nations. Two days later the Russians presented an eight-point proposal for general and complete disarmament, without inspection or controls. On Nov. 9 the former U. S. director of disarmament, John J. McCloy and Russian UN ambassador Valerian A. Zorin agreed to five general principles of disarmament which both countries could accept.

This progress was set back when the Russians broke up the Geneva test ban talks on Dec. 21, after 349 fruitless sessions. But on Jan. 16, the U. S. and Britain agreed to a former Russian proposal to merge test ban and disarmament talks. This background, the coming talks, but there are a few other factors.

Both Russia and the West, in powers openly admit that in a nuclear war there can be no winner—only mutual destruction.

The cost of nuclear weapons and missile delivery is so great that neither side can really afford it. Both admit the money should be used for more constructive purposes.

The U. S. delegation goes to Geneva with some new starting proposals which it hopes the Russians will accept.

—One is to open initial zones of inspection for both sides, these zones to be gradually enlarged. This was included in the Soviet plan submitted last Sept. 27.

—Another is for the use of inspection techniques for spot checks on compliance with agreed-upon stages of disarmament. This involves some risk, but it opens the door to inspection.

After a period of general debate in plenary sessions, to educate the new members, the United States hopes that several working committees can be set up to tackle other specific areas:

—How to limit vehicles for nuclear weapons delivery.

—How to establish exchange of information on existing armaments, subject to verification by ground control posts on both sides.

Specific proposals may be submitted on reduction of nuclear materials production, reduction of the dangers of surprise attack, limitation on distribution of nuclear materials and weapons know-how to other countries.

The greatest handicap to reaching an agreement at Geneva is that it may be necessary to settle the Berlin, Viet Nam and other crises before there can be any disarmament.

Also, no disarmament agreement can be made effective unless it is made binding on Communist China.

The possible resumption of nuclear weapons testing in the atmosphere by the United States is not regarded here as a block to disarmament while the Geneva conference is in session.

The explanation given is that a resumption of U. S. testing should only convince the Russians that this country does not intend to allow the Russians to hold any advantage. If Khrushchev wants disarmament as he says he does, he has no alternative to accepting it with full inspection and controls.

Phil Newsom Says . . .

Nehru's Prestige To Rise

(UPI)—As is common practice in the United States, Indian politicians have been assessing results of the general elections which returned Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru's Congress Party to power by its usual comfortable margin.

Greatest surprise of the election was the North Bombay vote which returned V. K. Krishna Menon, Nehru's controversial defense minister, to Parliament by the greatest margin ever recorded in India.

Bryant To Visit Japan In April

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. Farris Bryant will join eight other governors on a State Department visit to Japan April 5-19.

Gov. Wesley Powell of New Hampshire, chairman of the National Governors' Conference which is co-sponsoring the trip with the State Department, invited Bryant and emphasized that all sections of the United States, especially the South, should be represented.

Powell called the trip "important not only to our individual states but to better relations between the United States and Japan." The State Department will foot the bill for the visit.

The governors will visit a dozen Japanese states and confer with Japanese officials and citizen study groups. Economic operations of both countries will be stressed during the meetings.

Other governors scheduled to make the trip are Govs. Elmer L. Anderson of Minnesota, Edmund G. Brown of California, Paul Fannin of Arizona, David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania, Edwin L. Mechem of New Mexico, Gaylord A. Nelson of Wisconsin, and John H. Swainson of Michigan.

old Ghandi follower, A. Kripalani, by more than 100 thousand votes was greater than any ever achieved by Nehru himself.

The campaign was one of the bitterest in the history of Indian elections, and at one stage threatened to split the Congress Party itself.

Kripalani played heavily on the theme that a vote for Krishna Menon was a vote for Communism, and even brought up a 10-year-old charge of misappropriation of public funds.

The latter arose from the so-called $100,000 "prep scandal" in which Krishna Menon was a central figure although never accused of personal profit.

Also campaigning for Kripalani were most of Bombay's newspapers, industrialists who donated time as well as money to the campaign and a half dozen or so smaller political parties.

Politicians—concluded—that Kripalani had overplayed his hand.

His campaign touched the peaks of invective while Krishna Menon held to a high intellectual level.

Politicians also believed that the voters reacted against rightwing conservatism as represented by the entrenched wealth which supported Kripalani.

Nehru went all out to assure his chief lieutenant's political victory and now is expected to profit by it

Cub Pack 560 Has Open House

By Mrs. Adam Muller
DeBary Cub Scout Pack 560 held open house on the evening of Feb. 26 at the DeBary Fire House with Scoutmaster Don Drach presiding.

Handwork displayed by the boys included Tom Hatchett with coins of different countries and a collection of rocks, shells and leaves; Richard Gerling with a chart of the stars and planets; Forest Nutt, a moth chart and an interesting scrap book; Keith Drach, books on trees and shrubs; Scotty Pio, a book on animals; Jimmy Randall, a scrapbook on astronauts; Jimmy Magenhelmer, a stamp book and Billy Heneghan, Indian Lore. The boys also presented a skill on Americanism.

Following the program, Scoutmaster Drach presented awards to parents of the boys who, in turn, presented them to the Cubs.

Picked to enter the Chariot Race at the forthcoming Scout Circus in DeLand were Billy Senegiani, Keith Drach and Herman Heinie.

Mothers served as hostesses during the refreshment period.

DeBary Fire Auxiliary Sets Meeting

By Mrs. Adam Muller
The Auxiliary of the DeBary Volunteer Fire Dept. will meet at 2 p. m. Thursday to complete final plans for events to take place in the near future and for the monthly business session.

First of these events will be the dedication of the new recreation building by the Volunteer Firemen's Assn. Inc., next Sunday at 2:30 p. m.

The next event is scheduled for March 16 at 12:30 p. m. in the Fire House when the Auxiliary will sponsor a luncheon. Those planning to attend will be expected to bring their own table service and a minimum donation will be requested.

On March 17, St. Patrick's Day, the annual Fireman's Dance will be held in the new recreation building. Tickets for this event are now on sale in various DeBary business houses.

Glee Club Meeting Held In DeBary

The DeBary Glee Club met last Wednesday evening at the Community Center with Mrs. H. Whitaker directing and Laura Platt Brown serving as accompanist.

To note the month of February, patriotic and war songs were presented by the group including two piano solos.

Following a brief business session conducted by Sidney Swallow, refreshments were served to conclude the meeting.

Enterprise To Observe Day Of Prayer

By Mrs. Adam Muller
The World Day of Prayer will be observed by the Barnett Memorial Methodist Church in Enterprise with services beginning at 10 a. m. Friday.

The DeBary Chorists will participate.

On March 16, the annual district meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service will be held at the Trinity Methodist Church in DeLand with registration set for 9:30 a. m.

Chuluota Sets Day Of Prayer

By Carol Jepson
World Day of Prayer will be observed at the Chuluota Community Church on Friday.

Church doors will be open from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m. for prayer and meditation and special services will be conducted by Rev. Ben West at 2 p. m. and at 7:30 p. m. Everyone is invited to attend.

New Franchise Directive Submitted To Board

A new liberal franchise directive was submitted to the County today by the three-man committee authorized to draw up the new plan earlier in the year.

The committee is comprised of William A. Lefler Jr., Warren E. Knowles and William A. Kratzert.

The main points of the new directive stress elimination of franchise tax billed to customers; no mandatory connections for existing buildings for a period of two years after the sewer line is laid and the area to be franchised be no larger than what can be serviced within one year.

It eliminates large franchises tying up one special area.

The new proposal cuts the franchise period from 30 to 20 years and was called by the committee as one method of attracting capital and at the same time providing "greater protection for the people."

The committee also has recommended a special committee be set up to administer and supervise the directive. The three-man committee has suggested that no county employees sit on the special group, only public citizens.

The committee, in submitting the lengthy directive, said the main thought was to provide "protection to both public and utility companies."

"During the coming years of rapid population growth throughout our county, the public must receive the maximum protection for a potable (drinkable) water and to eliminate ground pollution. At the same time, it is necessary to attract private capital to make large initial investments to provide the desired protection by means of safe utility systems."

The committee made two recommendations not included in the proposed directive: that all utility franchises be exclusive whereby the directive regulations prevent the utility system from rendering unsatisfactory service and insure each parcel of property of receiving service; All utility systems in the county be brought under the State Railroad and Public Utilities Commission rules and regulations, regardless of size, by means of proper legislation.

Another major item in the franchise is that whenever an area embraced within any such franchise is annexed to and incorporated into the corporate limits of any municipality, such municipality shall have the right to purchase the water or sewer franchise and facilities in such an area for compensation agreed upon by the municipality and the franchise holder or as a court of adequate jurisdiction shall determine.

A previous franchise directive was drawn up by two county commissioners and other county officials. This met strong opposition from many citizens. They complained about mandatory sewer connections and the excessive length of time a franchise is granted.

At that time, County Commission Chairman J. C. Hutchinson was authorized to appoint a three-man committee to draw up a revised directive.

Drawing up the new plan took a little over two months.

70 Seminole Children In Accident

Tax Deadline Is March 31, Galloway Warns

Last date on which taxpayers can pay 1961 taxes without penalty will be March 31, Tax Collector John L. Galloway said today.

Failure to pay taxes on or before that date he said, will result in a minimum penalty of three percent on real estate taxes and one percent on personal and intangible taxes. He also pointed out that the tax laws required the additional charge of cost of advertising the property as delinquent.

Attention was also called to the fact that interest, advertising and other collections are added to the tax and all becomes a lien against the property owned by the delinquent taxpayer.

Tax certificates will be sold at a tax sale to be held May 29, on each parcel of real estate on which the 1961 taxes have not been paid, Galloway explained. At the same time he said warrants will be issued against all personal property tax items, which are not paid, directing the levy and sale of the property to satisfy the taxes and cost. Executions will be issued on all intangible tax items not paid, Galloway said.

Pitt Varnes Files For County Board

W. Pitt Varnes, Fern Park developer, today announced his candidacy for County Commissioner of District 4. Varnes qualified today.

Varnes is a 32 year old Florida native and has made his home in Seminole County for the past nine years.

Incumbent commissioner Vernon Dunn has indicated that he would not seek reelection for the next term.

Varnes told the Herald, "Announcement of my candidacy is made after giving thoughtful consideration of the increased responsibilities during the next four years because of the accelerated growth of Seminole County. I realize the personal sacrifices a man has to make to serve as a commissioner. I have sufficient time to devote to the duties of this office and pledge my best efforts to all the people of our county."

"It is my belief that we will have to work in harmony as a team to succeed in solving the many problems arising in the future. We have greater needs for school, roads and other improvements."

"We are developing from an agricultural county to an urban and industrial economy. This brings new problems which will require planning and sound thinking. We will need to make our tax dollars go as far as they will and maintain a sound fiscal policy, without burdening the property owner with exorbitant taxes."

Varnes is a member of the Baptist Church, Kiwanis, a Scottish Rite Mason and Shriner.

Ship Breaks Up In Stormy Sea

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI)—A 500-foot tanker broke in half under the pounding of stormy seas today and three other ships were reported in trouble. Another vessel, a pleasure yawl, is feared to have sunk with three persons aboard.

The Coast Guard reported today that a motor vessel spotted the forward half of the 500-foot tanker floating off the North Carolina coast.

The Coast Guard Wednesday night called off its search for the 40-foot yawl Guinevere which apparently sank 100 miles off the Georgia coast. All three persons aboard were presumed drowned.

The diesel tanker A. H. Dumont lost her steering but it has been temporarily repaired. The Chinese freighter Chung Lee at 7:30 a. m. reported that there were five injured men aboard the ship which has a broken rudder.

Truck Smashes Into County School Bus

A near tragedy was averted late Wednesday afternoon when a large truck smashed into a Seminole County school bus with 70 youngsters from Oviedo aboard on SR 419 by Tusculwilla Rd., the Florida Highway Patrol reported.

None of the children was injured in the mishap, Trooper Bill Stringfield said.

Stringfield said that the truck, operated by John Henry Stinson of Winter Park attempted to overtake the bus and crashed into the front left section.

Damage to the bus was estimated at $100.

Driver of the school bus was Virginia Chadwick of Chuluota.

Stringfield charged Stinson with improper passing at an intersection.

Storm Damage $100 Million

By United Press International

Damage estimates mounted to well over $100 million today in the slowly subsiding storm tides which battered the Atlantic Seaboard and transformed scores of oceanfront communities—some of them plush resorts—into vast quagmires.

From sunny Florida to New York, thousands of persons were driven inland by the erupting sea which sent mountains, gale-whipped waves pouring over beaches and into towns.

The erratic storm was expected to move harmlessly out to sea following its initial assault on Tuesday, but instead it swerved back for another lethal, day-long attack on coastal dwellers Wednesday. And in some areas more punishment was predicted for today.

The death toll from this and other storms raging across the nation since Tuesday has climbed to at least 40.

Authorities said they would be unable to get a clear, over-all picture of the damage until floodwaters recede, but preliminary estimates indicated destruction figures would be well over $100 million.

Altamonte Appoints New Fire Department

The Altamonte Springs Town Council Wednesday night approved the appointment of a fire chief, assistant and eight firemen to the town's volunteer fire department.

The group, appointed by Mayor W. L. Swafford, included Harry Brown, chief; James Corneli, assistant chief; Robert Bahitt, Pete Clark, Joe Jones, Gerald A. Peebles, Thomas Pratt, Warren Webb, John Darnell, and Bill Willis.

Members of the department will be restricted to residents of Altamonte Springs and the personnel will be limited to 10 paid members who will receive $5 per month, the council decided.

Mayor Swafford assumed the duties of the fire committee which had been under the direction of Councilman Wolfe.

The council voted to give a "get acquainted" dinner in the near future for the newly appointed firemen.

The mayor, with the approval of the Council, appointed as special policemen two members of the fire department, Chief Brown and Fireman Bill Willis. He explained that this was done because there may be times when extra men are needed to handle a special situation which may arise, but that ordinarily they will not be needed.

In other business the council authorized the town's attorney, Joe Davis, to advertise for bids on the resurfacing and repaving of certain streets.

Read a letter from the executive board of the Altamonte Springs Library Assn. requesting a meeting with the mayor and Council to discuss financial aid for the library.

Voted to pay travel cost for members of the Council and the mayor at the rate of 10 cents per mile for official business.

Authorized the attorney to draft a form letter to be used in notifying residents on the removal of trash or property cleaning when the town deems it necessary.

Hunt Girl, 14, On Spree With Mom's $4,000

NEW YORK (UPI)—Police in two cities today were looking for a 14-year-old girl accused of treating her teen-age playmates to a fun spree in Miami with her widowed mother's $4,000 savings.

Rosanne Fine, a high school sophomore, was being sought by detectives in both New York and Miami.

The story of the weekend fling in sunny Florida was revealed Wednesday in adolescent court where five of the girl's companions faced charges stemming from the theft of the money.

Police said they also were seeking two other members of the party that flew to Miami Feb. 27.

Testimony revealed that Rosanne went to the savings and loan association where her mother's savings were kept and withdrew them with the aid of one of her friends, 19-year-old Dorothy Gieb who allegedly posed as her mother.

Police said Dorothy signed the withdrawal slip cloning the account and with the $4,000 converted to cash, they hunted up other pals and headed for Idlewild Airport.

The Florida spree included fine food, heavy losses at the dog track and for two members of the party, wedding bells.

Bomber Stream Contest Tuesday

The Bomber Stream competition this month will be held Tuesday, VAB-1, VAB-5, VAB-5 and VAB-11 will vie for top honors in the loading competition and the loft bombing maneuvers at Lake George bombing range.

There will be four teams from each squadron and each team will make four bomb drops. Previous winners of the monthly bomber stream competition have been VAB-5 in October and December 1961, VAB-11 won in January 1962 and VAB-3 in February 1962.

He pretty well covered the political aspects, too."

Strike Ban?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Chairman John L. McClellan, (D-Ark.), of the Senate investigations subcommittee said today a ban on strikes at defense bases might be the only solution to increasing labor tie-ups at missile sites.

Strike Ban?

McClellan emphasized that these people are not indigent. "They are all employed and have modest incomes, but having lost everything they have, they have no financial means to start over." But they are independent and are making every effort to help themselves.

Help For Burned-Out Families Flowing To Red Cross

By Dot Higginbotham

Response has been immediate to the needs of the five Negro families who lost nearly everything they had in a disastrous fire that destroyed their homes Tuesday, during the high winds.

Red Cross officials, Mrs. Alice Ivers and John McCloskey, reported today that the Red Cross has declared the Roseland fire a disaster and a state official will be in town today to start proceedings for help from the relief agency.

Boxes of clothing have already come in and Red Cross phones have been ringing with offers of furniture and clothing. At Henry McAlister's Motel on Southwest Rd. where the families were temporarily housed, more clothing and some food has also been brought in. However, Mrs. McAllister has asked that no other contributions be brought to the motel, as all the families but one have found temporary shelter elsewhere and the remaining family will probably be gone by the weekend.

There is a great need for men's clothing, dishes, pots, sheets, blankets, bedding, towels, other household supplies and money to purchase food and other necessities.

Four men are badly in need of clothes.

All are of average height and weight, ranging from about size 36 to 40. The five women are also average, size 14 to 18.

Take all offerings to the Red Cross office at 122 Palmetto Ave., (opposite the fire station), or call the American Red Cross for pickups of furniture.

Red Cross president, John

McCloskey emphasized that these people are not indigent. "They are all employed and have modest incomes, but having lost everything they have, they have no financial means to start over." But they are independent and are making every effort to help themselves.

"If there had been running water available, instead of hand pumps, the blaze could have been confined to the house where it started when children accidentally knocked over an oil heater," McCloskey said.

Four of the homes were owned by Annie Burrows and the fifth house by Willie Lee Halls.

Besides the four men and women, there are 15 children including girls aged two, four, six, eight, 12, 14, and 16 and boys ranging from six months old babies up through nine, 11 and 15 years of age. They are all apparently about average size.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Why couldn't a mutual agreement be worked out between the city and county on fire protection. Say, the city send the county a bill for every house fire city crews are called on to fight in fringe areas.
