JAPS INFILCT HEAVY LOSSES UPON CHINESE

Defeats Of Previous Week Are Avenged In Series Of Offensive Retaliations

MUKDEN, Manchuria, Jan. 19.—(A.P.)—The Japanese army has avenged its defeat. Official communiqué said yesterday that hundreds of Chinese have been killed in a series of offensives undertaken in retaliation for the Chinese victories of last week, in which the Japanese casualties were heavy.

"Surpassed by heavy artillery and airplanes, the avenging column of Japan killed at least 220 Chinese in engagements at Yentai and Tsinan, the communiqué said, and Hong Shapow, where a force of 100 soldiers was encountered. A considerably number of casualties were inflicted.

While the Japanese pressed on with their work of revenge, new waves of Chinese war lords arrived in Mukden to take part in negotiations leading toward the establishment of a new Manchurian state, wholly free of Chinese control.

Gen. Shigeru Honjo, Japanese high commander, explained the necessity of his new offensives by saying it was necessary to rid South Manchuria of "the curse of banditry" in order to permit the Chinese farmers to sow their spring crops. "In assurance of safety and peace."

In the battle at Yentai, a coal mining center 25 miles south of Mukden, a Japanese infantry battalion, equipped with machine guns

France Won't Cut Debts Owed Her Unless She Is Allowed To Do Likewise

PARIS, Jan. 19.—(A.P.)—France would give up any reparations due year of the Hoover moratorium unless there is an equivalent in payments due from Germany.

Yernard Boulan, president of the chamber of deputies, told the chamber today, "I feel that I may affirm that our country cannot afford to abandon the credits due her without a guarantee of equivalent reduction in our debts." The Young

Plan was a definite settlement of reparations, establishing a real connection between what France should receive and what she should pay her creditors, he said.

France wants the Lausanne reparations conference postponed until the moratorium on reparations and war debts extended until next year, it became known today.

The British and French governments, and a semi-official note was issued at mid-

MELLON MAY BE CALLED TO TELL ABOUT BUSINESS

Judiciary Committee Continues Hearing Upon Impeachment

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(A.P.)—Donald by President Olaya of Colombia that he discussed the three oil concessions with Secretary Mellon was presented to the House Judiciary committee today by the treasury's representative, Alexander W. Tamm. He read a cable sent by President Olaya to the Colombian legation and transmitted to the State Department by general to a charge by Representative George L. Gandy, Texas Democrat, that Mellon sought pressure within the committee for the Gulf Oil Company.

A few hours earlier, Bishop James Cannon told the League "Any American attempt to muscle southern ecclesiastics will meet the same response as in 1928." He made a lengthy speech assailing the remarks of former Governor Cox of Ohio, at the recent Jackson Day Democratic dinner.

Cannon said "prohibition has no proper place in the national political campaign," adding "the church and its ministry do not deserve to be there in 1932."

Governor Murray lauded prohibition as an immense improvement over conditions prevailing in the days of the saloon.

Recall Petition Against Sebring Council Is Denied

SEBRING, Jan. 19.—S. J. Pendleton, chairman of the Avon Park city council, yesterday said the board would refuse to grant a recall petition filed Saturday against the council of five members, despite the fact that more than the number of signatures required by the charter had been signed to the petition. Pendleton would not discuss the grounds on which his bold refusal would be denied. The only requirement under the charter is that 30 percent of the registered voters sign a recall petition.

Failure to grant the petition is reported to result in court action. Avon Park is torn politically over the recall movement, which resulted from dissatisfaction over appointments made recently by the majority bloc on the council, elected in December.

The two captured speed boats, the Mary and the Eddie, were taken within Boston Harbor. Each had between 700 and 800 yards of nylon about. The Mary's crew escaped. Later the captors were approached with offers of money to release the girls, but those dispersed those who offered the bribe.

The members of the Eddie's crew were arrested.

Final Rites Paid To Mrs. Capitola Arnold

Funeral services for Mrs. Capitola Arnold, who died at home of her daughter, Mrs. Carl Vester, early yesterday morning, were held at the Erickson Funeral Home at 10:30 o'clock this morning. Rev. Wm. P. Brooks, Jr., of the First Baptist Church, officiated. The body will be sent to Philadelphia, Pa., for burial.

Mrs. Arnold had lived here for the past eight years. She was born in Hartford, Conn., July 11, and is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Mrs. Lona Mellenbach, III, and Miss H. A. Foster, St. Louis, Mo.

Place At Geneva To Be Taken By Stimson; Eugene Meyer Made Chairman Of Board

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(A.P.)—President Hoover today announced that Ambassador Dawes would retire as chairman of the American arms delegation to the annual meeting of the International Finance Corporation and that Secretary Stimson would replace him.

Electives due this year in America, Germany and France were given as reasons for the contemplated "provisional postponement" of the world reparations conference, which is tentatively scheduled to meet in London next Monday.

The note was issued at mid-

MURRAY THINKS PROHIBITION IS NOT SOLUTION

Oklahoma Governor Speaks At Meet Of Anti-Saloon League

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(A.P.)—Governor Murray of Oklahoma told the Anti-Saloon League last night that "prohibition will not prove the sweat legal solution of the control of the liquor traffic."

With an assertion he was offering an plan himself, he suggested as an example of "what could be done" that state and federal commissions be appointed to work out the prohibition problem jointly by the use of leagues of states and

U.S. Minister Hit By Police During Row In Abyssinia

ADDIS ABABA, Abyssinia, Jan. 19.—(A.P.)—Addison E. Southard, U.S. minister to the court of Haile Selassie, emperor of Abyssinia, was knocked down Sunday during an argument with policemen.

Mr. Southard's automobile, which he was driving, ran over the foot of an Abyssinian woman. It was reported, and a native policeman arrested the minister's chauffeur.

The arrest caused Mr. Southard to protest. During the argument several other policemen arrived. A scuffle ensued and the minister was knocked down.

The woman was only slightly injured. Mr. Southard stopped immediately to make sure she was not badly hurt.

Mr. Southard was appointed regent minister and councilor of state to Addis Ababa in 1928 by President Coolidge.

When he arrived at his post the emperor allowed him his choice between a mule and a motor car to convey him to his first audience. The custom of the country is that a foreign diplomat ride a portly, usually unpolished mule on this occasion, but Mr. Southard chose a motor car.

Mrs. Arnold had lived here for the past eight years. She was born in Hartford, Conn., July 11, and is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Mrs. Lona Mellenbach, III, and Miss H. A. Foster, St. Louis, Mo.

Howey Announces

Fleet Of Planes Arrives At Municipal Airport To Stage Aerial Exhibitions

Swooping down on Sanford's new 165-acre municipal airport shortly before noon today, 31 airplanes and one autogiro made easy landings, taxied to assigned places along the edge of the field, and as various members of the Seminole County Chamber of commerce Aviation Committee went forward to greet the host of noted aviators, flying and aviators, the official dedication of the airport became a reality.

Outstanding figures in southern and national aviation circles, headed by Mrs. Betty Lund, widow of the noted stunt flyer, and a daredevil pilot in her own right, Fred Blair, St. Petersburg, president of the State Aviation Association, and W. G. Stewart, Jacksonville, were given a hearty welcome.

A feature of the afternoon was the scheduled demonstration of the huge Pitts twin autogiro which was to join with some 90 other stunt fliers in an afternoon of stunt flying, and to later

BOMBAY POLICE LEGION STAND ON FIRE INTO CROWD RUM BACKED AT OF 500 NATIVES ORLANDO MEET

British Authorities No Loss Of Members Continue Efforts Seen Because Of Its Policies On Subject

BOMBAY, India, Jan. 19.—(A.P.)—Police fired into a crowd of 50 natives yesterday in the village of Gudar, near Peshawar, killing one person and wounding another.

The natives had attacked the police with stones after shooting the leader of them all—the two billion-dollar reconstruction corporation bill—was not far behind.

Later in the day the Senate met to consider and adopt a resolution that the House had already adjourned presented an attempt to have the first meeting of conference last night. House action will get to conference today.

The men named by the Senate and the House to reconcile differences on the federal land bank bill completed their job yesterday.

The sponsors of the bill are confident the two proposals urged by President Hoover to restore credit and confidence for farm and finance, will be ready for his signature within a few days.

The $125,000,000 land bank legislation will be up for final Senate approval today. Quick agreement on it in both houses is expected.

The Senate spent several hours in another futile attempt by Senator Updike, D. N. Y., to extend the helping hand of the reconstruction corporation to cities and states.

This motion was defeated, 53 to 21.

The Senate did add a provision by Senator Wheeler, D. Mont., providing that in loaning money from a separate $50,000,000 fund

ORLANDO, Jan. 19.—(A.P.)—Contestation by Glenn H. Skipper, national committeeman that yesterday's meeting of the State Republican Central Committee was illegal brought the probability that Florida will have two rival delegations at the Chicago convention.

STEP TAKEN TO PURGE HAWAII'S LEGAL SYSTEM

Radical Reforms Are Seen As Territorial Legislature Meets

HONOLULU, Jan. 19.—(A.P.)—The first step to purge Hawaii's judiciary of the ministerialism which has come to be a characteristic of the territorial government was taken yesterday when the territorial legislature convened in session to adopt radical legal reforms.

As the law makers convened, it was known that Alice Helen Faris, daughter and sister of two men accused in the trial of the navy's chief of staff, was preparing and serving the food, each portion of which was a product of some Seminole County farm.

The affair drew representatives from 41 states and foreign countries and citizens from every town in the county. That it was the largest gathering of this county's rich and poor at a similar event in 50 or more years was the opinion of Alice Vaughan, pioneer resident of this area who turned 80 yesterday.

Prosecution authorities disclosed they had traced Alice Faris' activities to the time of the attack and slaying of Joseph Kaha, suspect in the killing of Mrs. Thomas H. Mason, and had found nothing to connect her with the killing.

Miss Faris is a daughter of Mrs. Granville Faris, who with her son-in-law, Dr. Thomas H. Mason, of U. S. N. S., and two white men of the navy are being held in custody in the trial of the navy's chief of staff.

The legislature convened with Paul said that the Legion would lose membership when it announced in favor of beer but added that in the century it had gained.

Paul explained the attitude of the national organization with regard to both issues and mentioned the 80,000 membership gain since last year as significant of the general attitude toward the two policies.

Frank Daniels of Indianapolis, assistant national adjutant, added to Paul's talk on national organization programs with regard to legislation to aid widows and children of deceased veterans. They touched on the national Legion endorsement of an adequate army and navy and stressed proper hospitalization for disabled veterans.

Among the most significant achievements of the Legion over

Suspects In Two Gotham Holdups Sent Back North

MIAMI, Jan. 19.—(A.P.)—Three men arrested here as suspects in two New York holdups were sent north yesterday in custody to New York officers, while two others, charged with holding robbery in Brooklyn, will be taken to that city today.

Reynolds Purshay, George O'Neill and John Lang, charged with holding of the Baltimore & Ohio Coach company and the United ticket office in New York, were turned over to New York authorities yesterday. They were arrested here in a series of raids made on information supplied by New York.

The white-shark was landed by a diving party headed by Capt. Tobi Gifford, who tossed the harpoon after sighting the monster just outside the Gulf Stream waters. Members of the party were Alfred E. Long of Collingswood, N. J.; Alfred A. Beck of Newark, N. J.; and L. A. Camp and Paul E. Shipp of Miami.

Miami fishing authorities said they knew of only three recorded catches of the whale-shark in South Florida waters, and said there was no mounted specimen. This catch will be mounted at a cost estimated at $2,000.

Telegrams announcing the catch were sent to the Bureau of Fisheries, Washington, D. C., and to the American Museum of Natural History, New York.

Oh, yes, the scientific name of this big fish is chimaera-typus.

California Dry Hit Activities Of Wet

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(A.P.)—A. H. Briggs, California Anti-Saloon League superintendent, told the National League today his state would oppose "standing back to Congress any man who hooks up with Hearst-Johnson combine against President Hoover." Briggs said the "next election is serious and will affect if not determine the fate of prohibition."

ALL-STATES DANCE STAGED LAST NIGHT AT MAYFAIR HOTEL

Attracting one of the largest groups ever attending a dance at the Mayfair Hotel was the All-States Dance given last night by the Chamber of Commerce following the All-States Dinner. Dancing began at 9:30 o'clock and continued until 11:00 o'clock, to music furnished by Merlo's Orchestra.

A color scheme of red, white, and blue was developed in the decorations about the hotel. Forming a suitable background for the bright colored paper were quantities of palmetto leaves and other shrubs.

Andrew Caraway, as chairman of the committee in charge of the dance, was assisted by Maxwell Stewart and Briggs Arrington. Mrs. H. M. Powell had charge of the punch bowl and had as her assistants, Mrs. Maurine Winter and Mrs. E. H. Laney.

Miss Del Rio's appearance is a fortuitous one in that she selected a story which fits in plot structure, atmosphere and treatment a fit setting for her rare talents as an actress.

She plays the role of "The Dove," who is forced by circumstances to dance and sing in a riotous cafe just across the border from the United States.

As in real cafes of this type—notably in Tia Juana, Juarez and Mexicali—there are scores of interesting types, Mexicans, Chinese, men on a spree, commission girls, and the ever-present soft-spoken gamblers.

Kentucky Thinks Prohibition Is Not Solution

million of industrial alcohol,
and the convention slogan, "No backward" is a good one for individual or any organization.
Cox quoted Cox as saying that we not now respectively
and you call the political executives back to their public so they may go to the people."

Cox said: "It might be an appropriate reply to the amazing appeal to compare Smith, Rawson and others, with Thurston and Hendricks.

Now the mighty have fallen,

and this will Cox demands that shall go to the southern peoples."

On prohibition, but Cox does not disclose from what source this will is to come."

And, apposite, Cox remarked that about all that could be done there Cox would be how to do it.

Now the schemer of Tammany with their record of shamelessness and graft under the leadership of Smith, Walker and Oliver—no instruction to the southern
peoples?"

Cox referred to Cox as a
"consolidated politician," and said he would recommend that Cox "go to the Anti-Saloon League headquarters in Ohio and take special lessons in prohibition before giving them."

Governor Murray said:

"When, as president of the Oklahoma constitutional convention, I threw my entire strength and zeal on the side of prohibition because I wanted Oklahoma to be in dry power, but I failed at that time and it is my judgment
now that prohibition will not prove the wisest legal solution of the control of the liquor traffic."

Of all state and federal commission suggestions, he said:

"It would be entirely constitutional, in the settlement of the waters of the water of the Boulder creek, for the United States government through Congress to create a commission to make a treaty between the several states by groups or classes of states in league for a common method, each state, in turn, appointing a commission to work out a plan with the federal government.

"Then when they should agree on a uniform law covering the entire country could not be made satisfactory; that they found New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana,
Illinois, and Wisconsin wanted beer and wine; California and the other Pacific and grape growing states wanted wines; certain other states wanted to handle liquor in a given way, for medicinal purposes
only; and certain other states wanted to remain bone dry. It would be within the power of such a commission to draw a statute providing these states according to their desires and wishes, and have the statute ratified by Congress and by three-fourths of all the states at the same time, providing that inter-state commerce should exist only between the states or groups of states permitting the sale of the same liquors; in other words, that interstate commerce between the beer states should be had, but not between them and any other states; and, likewise, that those having wine alone prohibiting interstate commerce with the neighboring states. Such a law, when ratified by Congress and the legislatures
of three-fourths of the states, would undoubtedly be within the constitution and the law of the land until amended or changed by a like method."

Gov. John M. Phillips, of Hartford, Conn., brought the delegates to their feet cheering with a declaration that "we have a convinced and sincere dry in the White House."

"There are enough people in the United States to see that we do not have anything else but a convinced and sincere dry there," Phillips said.

Kentucky Death Takes Toll Of Crime-Murders

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 19.—
Brooding passions flared up again in a series of spectacular crimes over the week-end yesterday night. Kentucky counted at least 12.

A total of a mountain field revealed four of the killings. And the pistol, which did one Cumberland County boy, two brothers, a man and another boy, was recovered.

Increase in the number of buildings to 10 within a few years was predicted by various construction companies turned out yesterday by the state legislature.

The death penalty may be imposed on some or all, particularly in view of the fact that the government is concentrating every effort to hold up its largest railroads. The workers in a wood mill were sentenced to be held.

secuted criminals in the trial in the criminal court yesterday

castile county, a few miles away,
was shot to death by Hiram Beck-nell, a prison guard, because the sheriff reported him as neglecting his duty.

Warren county authorities were hunting for Jack Warren, 29, proprietor of a road house near Bowling Green, for the slaying of Hugh Neckham, 35-year-old farmer.

Bernie Griffin, 24, surrendered to authorities at Richmond, where he is wanted on a charge of killing Tom Collins, 25.

Ollie Clarkson, 30, was held in jail at Liberty charged with shooting his wife, Mrs. Sedina McFarlin;

wounded his brother-in-law, Harry Gregory, and then committed suicide at Franklin. Domestic difficulties were blamed for the tragic-ity.

Official Says Beer
Bill Will Increase
Taxation Revenue

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(A.P.)—David Burnet, commissioner of internal revenue, told a Senate committee yesterday the House four per cent beer bill would bring a "substantial increase" in federal revenue from taxes.

He declined to go into the merits of the legislation and would not comment as to the possibility of increased beer consumption.

In answer to questions, he said no tax was levied on grape concentrates and while levies were collected on "illegal beer," these were very small, only $100 in 1929.

Senator Bingham, (R. Conn.), author of the bill, compared with collections of $117,000,000 on 27,000,000 barrels produced in the year before prohibition and quoted government figures showing 22,000,000 barrels of illegal beer were produced in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1930.

Based on the present tax of six dollars a barrel, the senator figured the 1930 output would have brought $132,000,000 before prohibition.

With the present tax in effect, Burnet estimated the tax on a pint of beer under the Bingham bill would be two cents.

Those testifying for the bill yesterday were Representative Dyer, (D. Mo.), Charles A. Boston, of New York, former president of the American Bar Association, and F. D. Buck, executive secretary of the Federal Dispensary—Tax Reduction League. Opponents of the measure will be heard next week.

the past year, they listed the five day week with the six hour day program, now given the approval of the American Federation of Labor, as a solution to unemployment.

Three hundred and fifty legionnaires of the Florida department attended the meeting and 100
women met conveniently to discuss the plans of the auxiliary.

State interest centered in the announcement of the three names recommended by the department to fill the office of assistant state service officer, vacated by the death of Harry Thompson, and in the setting of the dates April 7, 8 and 9 for the Florida convention
at Miami Beach.

Charles Hallinan, West Palm Beach, C. A. Landrum, Pensacola, and Damon J. Yerkes, Jacksonville, were recommended at the meeting by Gov. Doyle E. Carlton.

At the same time the legion recommended that the assistant service officer be required to live at Jacksonville and to work under the directions of the state officer.

A resolution was adopted asking that the two Florida senators give their support to the creation of a Senate committee to deal particularly with veterans' legislation.

Another resolution called upon committee to study the problem of hospital construction with a view to having the government build no

Baldett's home, St. Petersburg, indicated announcement of the award of the contract for the first unit of 12 buildings within the next week.

Construction will be completed within 300 working days from the date it begins and approximately

1,000,000 cubic feet will be available. The railroad will run 3,000 feet monthly during construction

Another amendment by Senator

Two main points of difference remained to be reconciled between the two houses. The House pro-ence, the House land bank bill con-

Thousands within the grip of suffering and ill health—people who gave up hope of ever being well again have won health and strength through Sargon. Mrs. H. Landers, 280 Sunset Ave., Atlanta, says: "Since taking Sargon my weight has increased from 90 to 106 pounds—a gain of 16 pounds, but the most wonderful thing is the new strength and energy it brought me. I suffered with stomach trouble and could feel myself getting weaker every day. Smothering spells nearly frightened me to death, and nervous, jumpy pains would last all day and night. It's amazing the way Sargon ended my troubles. My housework is a joy now and I feel like a different woman. Sargon Pills keep my bowels regulated perfectly; they are just as wonderful as Sargon." Defense Of Title Will Probably Be Made
In Gothard In June

By RICHARD J. MEEH.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—(A.P.)—

Max Schmeling, the German who was responsible for heavyweight champion by defeating Jack Sharkey a foul two years ago, decided yesterday to honor a pledge he made that night—and give the Sharkey men a chance to redeem himself.

Promoter audience at the exhibition match, he has been taking part in, insisted Schmeling that he meet Sharkey and the refusal of promoters and officials to warm to a bout with Mickey Walker, convinced Max there was but one feasible for in sight for him.

"I am going before the New York State Athletic commission at its regular meeting today," his manager, Joe Jacobs announced in a printed statement, "and I will inform the members of the commission that Max Schmeling will defend his heavyweight championship in the match against Jack Sharkey in June."

Jacobs has signed no articles for a match with Sharkey. In another part of his statement Jacobs said his champion was open to bids from any promoter for the match, that the bout would go to the highest bidder, but that all things being equal, the preference would go to New York City and the Madison Square Garden corporation.

Shortly after Schmeling defeated Sharkey in four rounds June 12, 1930, at the Yankee stadium on a count of foul, he was suspended by the New York State Athletic commission and his championship rights revoked when he refused to go through with a return match with Sharkey.

In the ring, after the title bout, he promised Sharkey "first revenge," and at the commission later agreed that the Bostonian would have the first chance at his title.

Instead, Schmeling sailed for Germany and when he returned here last summer it was for a victorious battle with William L. Young, Strubling, in Cleveland. James A. Farley, chairman of the New York State Athletic commission, was reluctant to discuss Schmeling's chances of reinstatement in advance of today's meeting. He indicated, however, that the Germans, his manager and others, would be reinstated here soon as they signed articles for a Sharkey bout.

When Schmeling again returned to this country a few weeks ago, he insisted that Mickey Walker, former middleweight champion, was the logical heavyweight title contender by virtue of a 15-round draw last summer with Sharkey. For a time the match was considered for Los Angeles, Chicago and Miami, but negotiations were dropped when it became apparent there was little chance of it proving a financial success anywhere.

Along with the Walker match went Schmeling's belief that Jack Dempsey would fight again and appear as his challenger.

"Dempsey keeps saying he doesn't know whether he'll ever fight again, but one next minute, cold the next. We can't get anyone waiting for him," Jacobs said.

"We'll fight Sharkey and lick him in June. If Dempsey comes back, then he'll get his chance in September."

BOSTON, Jan. 19.—(A.P.)—Jack Sharkey was elected last night when informed Max Schmeling, heavyweight champion, was willing to meet him in a title bout in June.

"That's great," Sharkey said. "I am the happiest man in the world. I had almost given up hope that I would ever get another crack at Schmeling. I don't care whether we fight 15 rounds or 30. I'll knock him out in 10 and this time it will be with a punch to the jaw."

"I looked Schmeling over when he put on his exhibition here last week. His style is the same as when we fought in New York a year ago last June. I have been ready to fight him again ever since our last bout and he can't sign on the dotted line any too soon for me."

Sharkey said he has been doing some light training since he left home, which 200 pounds now.

"I've had more strenuous training since I saw Schmeling, but I'm not in shape yet. I'm not in shape, but I'm not in shape either."

Sharkey said he has not been in touch with Jimmie Carnera, whom he weighed 200 pounds now.

He weighed 185 pounds when he started his heavy training.

"I'm not in shape, but I'm not in shape either."

The center view above shows Black Canyon just below the dam site, with roads to the river bottom. Left—a drilling crew in one of the 4 diversion tunnels. Right—a truck load of workers leaving Boulder City for the 9-mile trip to the dam site.

THE 7-year job of building the Hoover Dam on the Colorado River is well under way. Since they began moving in last March, Six Companies, Inc., who are doing this $20,000,000 construction chore for the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, have transformed the desolate, rocky canyon into a beehive of activity.

On sloping ground, 2,600 feet higher than the river bottom, the government's model municipality, Boulder City, is taking form. All told, $2,000,000 has been spent there, not to mention the cost of buildings erected by the 3,000 men who will be raised and fed there.

Many Drillers Working

To speed up the tunnel operations, openings have been driven into the canyon sides near the upper points of the tunnels. Thus, the permit drilling crews to work both ways from the surface as well as from the two ends.

The tunnels are first driven to a small size, after which they will be expanded to full diameter. A total of more than 16,000 linear feet of these large tunnels will be bored. They will be capable of carrying 20,000 cubic feet of water a second, an amount
