Clock Winder: "No, didn't know there could be any mosquitoes in Lake Mary. We thought they were all in Casleberry."

With all this water standing throughout the County we're not surprised at the number of the pesky varmints. However, we'll admit we've never seen such large ones.

What can be done? The sprays we've been using are completely ineffective. So, we just stay indoors.

Some Forest City residents went to the Post Office Wednesday morning and were surprised to find out the Post Office wasn't there. It had been moved to the Sporting Good Center but still in the same shopping area.

The closest thing to a mountain in Seminole County disappeared Wednesday. A few days ago trucks hauled in no less than 51,000 school book covers—provided by the Civil Defense—to the Seminole County School Board offices. After a principals meeting the covers were distributed and finally the covers were gone.

Did you know that the name "Johnson" has been the most popular surname for U. S. vice presidents?

Five unrelated men named Johnson have been U. S. vice presidents or contenders for the office. Richard Mentor Johnson was vice president under Van Buren, Andrew Johnson under Lincoln, Lyndon Johnson under Kennedy and Herschel V. Johnson and H. W. Johnson were vice presidential nominees under Stephen A. Douglas and Theodore Roosevelt, respectively.

Mother And Son Hurt As Train, Car Collide

An 82-year-old Geneva woman and her son, 63, were injured this morning when the car in which they were riding had a "dead heat" crash with an Atlantic Coast Line freight on Route 419.

Being treated at Seminole Memorial Hospital are Mrs. Mamie S. Mathieux and Oris Mathieux both of whom suffered fractures, multiple cuts and bruises.

Mr. Mathieux is a prominent real estate salesman in Seminole County being affiliated with the C. A. Whidden Real Estate offices. He also works with the county tax assessor's office on a part-time basis.

Florida Highway Patrolman Dan Oaks said the car, a late model Falcon, was being driven by the son north on Route 419 when it crashed into the slowly moving southbound train on the Oviedo spur. Both the train and car apparently reached the spot at the same instant.

Skidmarks showed the driver attempted to stop but the car slammed against the train, spun around after the impact and was facing the opposite direction when it stopped.

The engineer was identified as S. J. Brooks of Sanford.

GM Asked To Approve Binding Arbitration

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers Union today asked General Motors Corp. to agree to binding arbitration of key non-economic issues which threatened to trigger a strike by more than 300,000 workers at 10 a. m. EST Friday.

The company was expected to reject the proposal as it has done when the union made similar suggestions in past negotiations.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther made the proposal in a three-page letter to GM Vice President Louis G. Segnon as the two entered the 24-hour negotiations.

Felda Oil Field Potential Eyed

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A new oil find in South Florida could be a major breakthrough for the oil industry in Florida, State Geologist Robert O. Vernon said today.

Vernon confirmed that the Sun Oil Co. had put down a producing well in the Felda area, some 15 miles north of Florida's only currently producing field at Sunniland.

Vernon said pumping reports about the well were confidential.

However, he said if reports that the well was a major find were true, "I think it will be a major breakthrough for Florida and a lot of companies will be back in here leasing and exploring for oil."

He said there has been considerable recent activity in the geophysical exploration for oil in Florida. Geophysical exploration is mostly concerned with looking for rock structure that could be expected to produce oil.

It is mostly carried out by setting off explosions on the surface and listening to echoes of the blast with a special electronic gear, something

Arms For Greeks

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union will sign an agreement "in four or five days" to supply arms to Cyprus.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Supreme Court Justice Hugo L. Black has delayed a lower court order which barred the government from enforcing the public accommodations section of the new civil rights law against a Birmingham, Ala., restaurant.

Black Wednesday granted a Justice Department application for a stay of execution in the order handed down by a three-judge court panel at Birmingham last Thursday. The case involved Ollie's barbecue restaurant, which is located in a Negro section of Birmingham but caters only to white patrons except for take-out orders.

The Birmingham panel ruled that the public accommodations section did not apply to places of business which do not engage in interstate commerce.

The owners of the restaurant, Ollie McClung and his son Ollie Jr., argued that their place did not cater to transients and therefore was not subject to the rights law because it was not engaged in interstate commerce.

The government contended that segregation breeds racial friction, which in turn could hamper interstate commerce. Justice Black's order overturned the lower court's ruling until the Supreme Court makes its decision on the public accommodations section of the law.

He has based his decision on a similar ruling he made in the case of the Heart of Atlanta motel, which has carried its fight against the public accommodations section to the Supreme Court.

He said he had consulted with five other justices and was authorized to say that the court would be prepared to hear the Birmingham case immediately after the arguments in the Heart of Atlanta case. That is to be brought before the court Oct. 5, the day it convenes for its new term.

Johnsons Throw Steak Fry

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President and Mrs. Johnson threw a bipartisan steak fry at the White House Wednesday night—the first such affair in the memory of Executive Mansion employees.

The party on the White House's west terrace was to honor retiring members of Congress. Two prominent legislators who are leaving, GOP presidential nominee Barry M. Goldwater and his running mate, Rep. William E. Miller were not invited, however.

Wilda Roars

TOKYO (UPI) — Typhoon Wilda howled across Japan's southernmost island of Kyushu today. It caused death, destruction and injury as it headed on an uncertain course toward the main island of Honshu. The latest report showed Wilda, biggest storm of the Pacific typhoon season, crawling on a northeastern arc heading for Honshu's west coast.

Warren Report Goes To LBJ

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House cabinet room.

The Warren Commission handed to President Johnson today its voluminous report on the Kennedy assassination.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, head of the seven member panel that investigated the slaying, carried the thick, dark blue bound volume in to the White House. The other six members of the commission were with him.

The report was several inches thick.

Warren and the other members of the commission met with Johnson in the White House cabinet room.

Swanson Host At First Session Of Coffee Club

Eighty Sanford business and professional men and women were guests this morning of SNAS Capt. Chandler W. Swanson at the first fall meeting of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce's Coffee Club.

Capt. Swanson, NAS Commanding officer, supervised the group on a tour of the base which included stops at the new avionics building and the new enlisted men's barracks.

Capt. Swanson introduced Capt. Ed Anderson, the new senior medical officer, Chaplain Leo McDonald and Cdr. Howard Shively, executive officer.

Capt. James O. Mayo, commanding officer of HATWING One introduced Cdr. Tony Nolita, commanding officer of newly arrived VAH-13 and executive officer Dean Webster, recently transferred to the Sanford base from Jacksonville.

Cdr. Charles Chute and Cdr. Walter Alt, prospective commanding officer and executive officer, respectively, of RVAH-12—an organization presently being formed, were also presented by Capt. Mayo.

The tour of the installation was conducted by Lt. Bill Sharpe following a refreshment period at the NAS recreation area on Lake Golden.

rounding the assassination last Nov. 22 at Dallas and the subsequent murder of Lee Harvey Oswald, the alleged assassin, by night club owner Jack Ruby.

It was expected to recommend changes in security measures to protect the U. S. Chief Executive. One source familiar with the commission's work indicated that the report also might slap the wrists of the Dallas police, the Secret Service and the FBI.

The major finding is expected to be that Oswald acted as an individual and not as part of any conspiracy. It also is expected to conclude that Ruby was acting alone when he shot Oswald in the Dallas jail.

The Bear Lake Methodist Church concluded its Six Nights for Christ last Friday evening and a consecration service is set for October 4. Many donations have been given by the members to the new church building fund.

A matching communion table has been ordered by some of the members, as well as a pulpit chair, both in keeping with the lovely pulpit. An electric range is also being donated by one of the church families.

Many shrubs are already on the grounds and others have been promised.

School Emphasizes Right Study Habits

SEVENTH GRADE English Teacher Mrs. Judith Drommerhausen of South Seminole Junior High School points out the importance of good study habits to two of her pupils, Paulette Thermenos and Donny Goodall as part of the all out effort at the school to help seventh graders learn proper study procedure.

By Jane Casselberry
The importance of proper study habits is being emphasized this year more than ever at South Seminole Junior High School, especially with the seventh grade students.

English teachers are stressing the formula (S3R), survey, read, review, and recite. Parents are encouraged to provide the proper surroundings conducive to study, which is quiet, free from distractions such as television or telephone, and equipped with a good light, and necessary materials.

The student should know his assignment, and ask questions in class if he does not understand it. It should be written down in a notebook. He must have the will to work and stick it out until through.

They advise the student to do the hardest assignment first, and to get up and stretch in between tasks continuing until all the homework is finished.

They should survey the assignment by looking over pictures, maps, or illustrations, reading titles and first and last sentences in each section, then spot read the section.

Then review the main ideas and list facts in each section. Finally recite the facts to yourself or some one else.

How much does land clearing cost?

It all depends... on the machine and the man.

Take Caterpillar-built machinery for instance. You can depend on them to give you your money's worth — and then some. Caterpillar equipment is designed for the tough Florida jobs. No matter what the job... rooting, stumping, grading, ditching, clearing palmettos and pushing out brush... Caterpillar machines have the all-around ability to give you more work for the money.

The same goes for the man. You can usually depend on the man who owns and operates Caterpillar-built tractors for dependability and just a good honest job.

New Mercury Most Luxurious Of All

new car is now on display for the motoring public of this area. (Herald Photo)

The 1965 Mercury, three inches longer and more luxurious than in 1964, presents the most extensive change in the 26-year history of the car.

Conceived, developed and crafted in the Lincoln Continental tradition, the new Mercury brings to the medium-priced field new standards of comfort and engineering excellence.

Even in its styling, the Mercury for 1965 resembles the Lincoln Continental with its clean, classic look of elegance and formality.

The new Mercury has a 123-inch wheelbase, is 218.4 inches in over-all length and features new frame design, front and rear suspension, and rigid body construction.

"Lincoln - Mercury is the only division offering products in the medium-price field that also has long experience and acceptance in the luxury field," said Paul F. Lorenz, Ford Motor Company vice president and division general manager.

"With the new Mercury, we now are offering the same successful concepts that were developed for the Lincoln Continental in the luxury field."

The 1965 Mercury will go on sale in Lincoln - Mercury dealerships September 25.

The Mercury will be available in a broad selection of 15 models in three series, Monterey, Montclair and Park Lane. There will be six roof lines, including the Breezeway four-door sedan, again unique in the industry. Other roof lines are the conventional two-door and four-door sedans, a formal four-door hardtop, a two-door fastback hardtop, plus the convertible and the station wagon.

The appearance of the Mercury, which is unlike any predecessor model, is dominated by slim blade-like front fenders and flat, uncluttered side panels, similar to the Continental. Slender parking lights at the extreme edge extend from bumper to fender top. Tall, vertical taillights frame the wide, clean trunk lid, so that the crisp rear appearance complements the frontal styling character.

Comet Appearance Is Entirely New

For the second consecutive year, Mercury Comet — the world's durability champion — presents an entirely new appearance and major mechanical advances.

Styling of the 1965 Comet is fresh and exciting. The car is wider, yet sleeker. The sporty Cyclone series has its own distinctive grille and ornamentation.

Mechanical improvements include significant power train advances, more responsive steering, a new electrical system, better ride and increased comfort, and new low-profile tires. A wider choice of new options and accessories is offered.

"We are looking to the 1965 Comet to add to the outstanding reputation for durability and performance which resulted in an increase of more than 50 per cent in Comet

Pet Owners Warned On Rabies

Rabid bats and raccoons are being found in increasing numbers in Florida and this prompted the State Board of Health today to warn parents and pet owners of the danger to children and pets.

Dr. James B. Nichols, director of the Division of Veterinary Public Health, said most of the bats are being found in Central Florida and in this connection he recalled that the first diagnosis of a rabid bat was made in Hillsborough County in 1953. The raccoons are in scattered parts of the state.

Dr. Nichols said that any bat found on the ground "most likely is rabid and should not be touched. All parents should warn children not to pick up any bat or bird since small children cannot distinguish between the two.

"In addition, pet owners should have their animals inoculated against rabies because we have a number of instances of rabid bats biting dogs and cats. An animal may be rabid several days before it actually shows signs of being sick, so there is no guarantee that a normally appearing dog or cat may be free of the disease unless it has been vaccinated."

So far this year there have been reports of 27 rabid bats, 41 raccoons, 1 dog, 2 cats, 2 wildcats and 1 skunk.

Rabid animals, especially wild ones, lose their fear of humans and thus any wild animal which seems tame or sick should not be handled, Dr. Nichols said. Raccoons often attack dogs which in turn may bite humans before showing signs of rabies.

Once rabies develops, there is no cure and death is certain. However, anti-rabies shots may be given immediately to persons bitten by what is thought to be a rabid animal. Several children so far this summer have picked up rabid bats, been bitten and have had to take the painful and expensive shots.

"If there is any doubt or question, call your county health department," Dr. Nichols said.

sales this year," said Paul F. Lorenz, Ford Motor Company vice president and general manager of the Lincoln - Mercury Division. Lorenz said the new Comets would go on sale in Mercury dealerships on Friday.

Over all dimensions are changed only slightly, with width increased 1.5 inches. Wheelbase remains at 114 inches, offering maneuverability, with the ride and handling characteristics of larger cars.

Front end sheet metal — hood and fenders — are new for all models, along with new bumper, grille, vertical headlamps and ornamentation. Two- and four-door sedans have a new, crisp roof, giving these models a tailored look.

Rear end sheet metal — deck lid, rear quarter panels and back panels — bumper and taillamps are new for all except station wagons. Taillamps and rear ornamentation are new for station wagons.

Interiors feature a restyled instrument panel with all circular dials, plus exciting new trim schemes and fabrics. The Cyclone has a tachometer as standard equipment and elapsed time clock and vacuum gauge optional.

Series and model line-up for 1965 remains unchanged. Base series is the 202, intermediate series the 404, luxury series the Caliente, and the Cyclone Bucket seats are available in four of the 11 models.

A new 200-cubic inch, 120-horsepower six-cylinder engine with seven main bearings is offered both with standard and three-speed automatic transmission. Comet's optional three-speed dual range automatic transmission teamed to a 2.83 rear axle ratio, offers substantial improvements in both performance and economy.

Increased V-8 performance for the 1965 Mercury Comet is offered with the 289-cubic-inch engine, an option in 1964 which becomes the standard V-8. With a higher 9.3 compression ratio, this V-8 is rated at 200 horsepower with a two barrel carburetor and is designed to operate on regular grade fuel. Two optional V-8s with four fuel injectors are offered to operate on premium fuel, a new 225-horsepower version and a high performance version which powered the Comets during the 100,000 Mile Daytona Durability Run. The 225-horsepower V-8 is standard on the Cyclone. Improvements for performance have been made in the 289-cubic-inch engine. An optional power-transfer rear axle is available.

Steering improvements are achieved from new manual steering linkage on V-8s, a new power steering pump which is quieter and more efficient, and a reduction in steering ratio and stiffer suspension.

The new electrical system begins with a 38-amp alternator which is standard, replacing the generator. Also included for 1965 are a greater capacity battery, new five-ring spark plugs, a redesigned distributor, a new voltage regulator, new ignition cables, a new mechanical brake light switch and new separate circuit breakers for auxiliary lamps. A new optional emergency flasher system operates all turn signals simultaneously.

THE COMET CALIENTE, a product of Mercury, is offered for sale in this area by Hunt Lincoln-Mercury. The distinctively new car brings a wide variety of features to the motoring scene. The sale of this and other Mercury models starts Friday. (Herald Photo)

Hoffa Inquiry May Fizzle

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A House investigation into Justice Department prosecutions of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa seemed headed today for a crackup before its gets off the ground.

The House Judiciary Committee voted, 20 to 13, Tuesday to launch the inquiry in an overall review of Justice Department actions as related to "individual rights and liberties."

But Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N. Y., said a few hours later that he would oppose including in the investigation any "pending cases" before the courts. Hoffa has appealed two convictions—one for jury tampering and one for mail fraud in connection with the Teamsters pension fund.

"The program has strong educational value," the teacher said. "This project was designed to build students' interest in geography, history, language and culture of Guatemala, and more important, to create an awareness of the people in other countries," she added.

People-to-People officials report that over 700,000 students in 67 countries are participating in the classroom exchange. The program was set up to be flexible and practical for all grade levels. The purpose of the exchange is to stimulate international good will and to teach students

American League Pennant Race Goes Up In Yankee Smoke

New York Leads White Sox And Birds By Four

By Fred Downs
UPI Sports Writer

The winners of Lake Erie to over and the American League pennant race has gone up in smoke of New York Yankee firepower.

It's all over except for the popping of the champagne corks in the Yankee clubhouse because the defending champions have rocketed into a four-game lead over both the Baltimore Orioles and the Chicago White Sox.

The Yankees have 10 games to play but their magic pennant-clinching number is down to six—meaning that any combination of Yankee victories and losses by either opponent totaling six will end the race.

Phrased more simply in view of the Yankees' current nine-game whirlwind streak, the Yankees will win the pennant merely by winning six of their remaining 10 games.

The Yankees moved to the three-hole of their fifth straight flag and first under Yogi Berra when they swept a two-night doubleheader from the Cleveland Indians 4-3 in 11 innings and 6-4 Wednesday night. Their second straight doubleheader sweep enabled the Yankees to pick up a game and a half on the Orioles, who lost to the Detroit Tigers 10-3 and a half game on the White Sox, who scored a 2-1 win over the Los Angeles Angels.

The Minnesota Twins beat the Kansas City Athletics 2-1 and the Washington Senators defeated the Boston Red Sox 1-0 in other AL action.

In the National League, Cincinnati topped Philadelphia 6-4, New York edged St. Louis 2-1, San Francisco downed Houston 4-1, Chicago drubbed Los Angeles 9-6 and Pittsburgh whipped Milwaukee 7-4.

Major Team For South In 1965?

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Land developer Lou Perini Jr., son of a prominent stockholder and former owner of the Milwaukee Braves, said yesterday that major league baseball would come to the South next year.

Perini, in a talk before the Florida Citrus Commission, did not name any clubs or locations, but told an associate later he was referring to the Braves, rumored moving to Atlanta after this season.

Perini left for San Francisco and was not available for further comment on his remarks.

Lou Perini Sr., said, however, he did not believe his son made the statements attributed to him. "I don't believe my son said anything of the kind," the elder Perini told Lou Chapman of the Milwaukee Sentinel in a telephone conversation from New York.

"He never talks about baseball. He's not even a baseball fan," said the elder Perini. "It's a case of who's putting whose words in whose mouth. He not only couldn't say it, he doesn't even know what's going on."

Asked about the rumored move, Perini, who owns 10 per cent of the Braves' stock, said "all I know is what I read in the papers."

In Atlanta, Arthur L. Montgomery, chairman of the sports commission building a new stadium in the Georgia capital, refused to confirm or deny that the Braves planned to move into the stadium.

Montgomery said the city has a "working agreement" with a major league club, but that any announcement would have to come from the club involved.

Tech Eyes Super Loop

By Murray Olderman
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

ATLANTA, Ga. (NEA) — The newest maverick of college football, Georgia Tech, would like to join hands with the other major independent powers of the nation in a super All-American Conference.

It would be composed of Army, Navy, Notre Dame, Penn State, Pitt, Duke (which would have to abdicate from the Atlantic Coast Conference) and Tech, plus possibly a western school like Southern California.

"We would be honored to be in a conference with those schools," said Bobby Dodd, head football coach and athletic director of Georgia Tech. "— if it could be worked out only on a football basis."

The idea is not new. Georgia Tech's interest in it is. For the first time in 45 years, the famed Ramlin Wreck is without conference attachment, going it single-o. Tech, originally in the Southern Conference, had been a charter member of the South-eastern Conference since 1933.

The conference has a limit of 120 boys on football scholarship in school at one time, and Dodd explained why it imposed a hardship on Tech:

"I'm a fanatic on graduating every boy who comes to Georgia Tech. Over the last four years we averaged 37 new boys each year. The other 11 schools averaged 48.

"But we don't run off boys because they're poor football risks. I don't even have some of them out for football, though they're still on scholarship."

"Mississippi and LSU have to admit every boy who has a diploma. If a guy's a moron they'll admit him."

The implication was clear. The other schools collect prospects in droves, then weed them out to retain an elite corps, and run the undesirables off to stay within the scholarship limit.

"It's rare that we lose a boy when he comes to Georgia Tech," said Dodd pointedly.

Reds Rack Phils Again To Revive Red Hot National Loop Flag Race

By Fred Downs
UPI Sports Writer

Are the Philadelphia Phillies faltering or fainting?

That's the big question in the suddenly revived National League race today with the Cincinnati Reds back within striking range of first place but with the Phillies still enjoying a 3 1/2 game lead.

The question is not whether the Reds can keep winning but whether the Phillies can start winning again.

The Reds bounced smartly back into long-shot contention Wednesday night when their 6-4 victory completed a three-game sweep of the Phillies and dealt them their fifth loss in their last six games. The Reds, meanwhile, have won four straight and seven out of nine.

Supporting the Reds' hopes is the fact that they play five of their last 10 games with the last-place New York Mets and also have two face-to-face meetings with the Phillies.

Against this reasonably optimistic outlook is the simple mathematical fact that five Philadelphia victories in their final nine games would mean the Reds would have to win nine out of 10 to tie for the flag and create a playoff.

But pennants are won on the playing field, not in accounting departments, and the gallant Reds certainly played the part of the "hot club" in hammering out their Wednesday night victory. Vada Pinton hit two homers—one breaking a 1-1 tie in the sixth and the other snapping a 3-3 tie and boosting the Reds into a 6-3 lead in the seventh.

Elsewhere in the NL, the Mets shaded the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1, the San Francisco Giants downed the Houston Colts with Juan Marichal notching his 20th win 4-1, the Chicago Cubs belted the Los Angeles Dodgers 9-6, and the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Milwaukee Braves 7-4.

Autonetics Take First Place In Business Loop

The Autonetics took over the lead in the Businessmen's League at Jet Lanes by winning three points from Lance. Neal Maxwell shot a 192-551 series to spark the Autonetics foursome and John Fischer came through with a steady 158-510 for Lance.

Four teams are tied for second place as Atlantic Coast Line, Rex Liquors, Dick's Appliance and Ward Realty all have records of five wins and three losses.

In this week's matches, Atlantic Coast Line split two and two with Rex Liquor as Wenzel Domyer tore them up with a 219-516 and Pete Duggan shot a 502 for Rex. Dick's Appliance split even with Ron-Sun as Buddy Noel pounded out a 212-522 and Ralph Betts backed him up with a 505 series. Sunny Hayes with 182 and Dave Flemming with 188-503 paced Ron-Sun.

The Elk's won three points from Glass Met as a Gordon Honeycutt's big 221 game salvaged the one point for Glass-Met. Wall Plumbing took a three point decision from H.H. Products No. 1 as Bill Halback blasted a 200-565 to grab series honors in the process. H.H. Products No. 2 was the only team to win four this week taking Dale's Group over.

Braves And Hurricanes Clash Tonight At Lyman Field

About Sports Thinking Out Loud

By Julian Stenstrom

At least every other phone caller asks: "How will the Seminoles do against Colonial Friday night?"

Our stock answer: "They'll have to play better football than they did against Titusville."

But there's one in every crowd. One fellow wanted to know, "Do you think they'll play better football this week?"

Our answer to that one is not stock. We honestly feel that the Seminoles will come up with a better performance. That initial tilt in Titusville, despite the fact that the Seminoles made a season's quota of mistakes, did have some bright spots.

For example: Who ever thought Lee Sparkman could run so fast as he did when he "busted" through the Terrier secondary for 44 yards and a TD? Then, too, halfback Buddy Burton showed the fans plenty when he skirted his own right end on a pitchout from Hinson and went 28 yards without a hand being placed on him.

The locals played as good a ball game, statistically, as they played against Titusville last season. A fumble on the Titusville 12 with first and 10, an intercepted pass, an incomplete pass from within the Terrier 10-yard stripe, and a peculiar roll of the ball on a punt, all played a part in costing the Seminoles at least two touchdowns and perhaps three.

We have that feeling that the Seminoles will bounce back with authority this Friday night. But we won't go so far as to predict that the Tribe will beat Colonial. Frankly, we rate the ball game as a toss up. We believe the locals have been looking for this one — their first official contest as a member of the Metro circuit.

Because of this, there's that good chance they thought they could take Titusville in stride, which they didn't. But, after all, they didn't lose. We're convinced the locals will be up for Colonial and believe the fans can expect the Seminoles to give their best try — win, lose or draw.

There's another reason we believe this: we've seen Head Coach Jim Picott operate and if anybody knows the mistakes the Seminoles made last Friday night, he does. By the same token, if anybody knows what to do to correct them (or at least try), he does.

And when you've got aids like Jim McCoy and Dick Williams, you can almost be assured you won't see the same mistakes made this Friday evening.

Going into action this week again are those Lions of Oviedo. They meet Crescent City — a club Bunnell beat 41 to 6 last Friday. We'll have to go with Arthur Scott and predict his Lions will claw their opponents unmercifully.

Now about Lyman: There's a funny one. Those outsped Apopka 14 to 12 last Friday night and those untied, untested Greyhounds must tangle with the Cardinals. One doesn't have grounds to say Coach Dick Copeland's 'Hounds can't win it, neither can anyone say they will. We'll leave this one to you.

Coach Willie Holt's Panthers go to Gainesville to meet Lincoln High. Last season the Panthers whipped Lincoln here in a close one. And from the way the locals roped those Wild Bulls of Ocala last Friday night we'll say Holt's horses will race again and win this week.

Hemphill, Weber Named Captains For Sanford JH

By David Higginbotham and Jim Ruchus

Head Coaches Dan Felham and Jim Clark put their respective clubs through final workouts yesterday for tonight's clash between the Sanford Junior High Braves and the South Seminole Junior High Hurricanes.

Felham announced that his probable starters would include ends Mike Long and Bruce McKibbin, tackles Stan Hemphill and Robert Goldstene, guards Wayne Fakas and Gordon Meyer, center Leslie Green, quarterback Skip Benark, halfbacks Mark Caolo and Phil Smith and fullback Fred Weber.

Meanwhile from Casselberry Clark would not pinpoint a starting lineup but in all probability, observers say, it could very well be ends Allen Richey and Bruce Stuart, tackles Greg Danko and Dave Dreading, guards Bob Mobley and Danny Peterson, center Larry Garner, quarterback Jim Lucas, halfbacks Dennis Garrett and John McDermott and fullback Ron Skeen.

Weber and Hemphill have been named co-captains of the Braves for the current season. Weber will do the punting and kicking off for the Braves while Dreading and McDermott will be called on to do the Hurricanes punting with Stuart responsible for the kickoffs.

Brave assistant coach Ed Buckner said "Our squad is physically and mentally ready for the season to open tonight, and we're going to South Seminole with one thing in mind—to win!"

The Braves are blessed with no injuries and plenty of depth and the chances are they will be difficult to handle tonight. On the other side of the ledger, the Hurricanes do have injuries but Clark claims his boys will play a good ball game.

The varsity contest will get under way at 7:30 p. m., Lyman Field in Longwood. A junior varsity game will be played, starting at 6:30 p. m.

Kathy Bukur Is High Scorer In Ball And Chain

In the first week of the Ball and Chain League at Jet Lanes, the Faro's and the Four B's are setting the pace after winning three games and losing only one in their respective matches. The Four Links are sole possessors of third place with a 2½ and 1½ record followed by the Handy Four and the Woodpeckers with 2-2 states.

Kathy Bukur started the season off with a bang as she notched a 200-even game to take high game honors for the ladies while Eve Rogers grabbed high series with a good 470. For the men it was Pete Bukur Sr. stealing the limelight with a fine 210/533 and to make it all the more impressive, he did so after a three year "rest" from the game.

Dick Schaffer set the pace for BIG LEE SPARKMAN, Seminole High's 215-pound fullback, is listed among the leaders of Metro Conference leaders after one week of prep football. Sparkman picked up 87 yards against Titusville last Friday night for third place among loop individual yardage leaders and scored one touchdown to tie for second place in individual scoring with 11 other league backs.

The Four Links in their 2½ point win over the Double H's as he blasted a 180-519 series. In the split dept. Bukur picked up the 4-57 and Pete Bukur Jr. chimed in with the 3-10 conversion. Peg Dooley converted the 4-5 and Bernice Smith rounded out the sharp shooting with the 5-7 pick-up.

Baby Wildcats of Winter Park High in Winter Park. Stumpf put his charges through a final pre-game workout yesterday afternoon in preparation for today's 4 p. m. encounter. Assistant Coach John Colbert expressed optimism and expects the Jayvees eleven to play as well in the Metro as they have done for the past five seasons in the Orange Belt Conference, during which they won 29 straight games and tied one.

"We have no injuries," said Stumpf, "but we do have several youngsters who will not be able to play because of eligibility rules."

Last season the locals were uncared upon, in fact during two of the last five years the SHS Jayvees have held the opposition scoreless. The affair will be played at Ward Field in Winter Park with Danny Lee and C. J. Metzler—the only two returning members of the squad—serving as captains.

Fords All New From Top To Bottom

The most-changed Ford in the 15-year history of Ford Division will debut in Ford dealer showrooms Friday.

Ford lineup—including a new luxurious 'LTD' series—are literally new from three to four inches from bumper to bumper," said Lee A. Iacocca.

Ford Motor Company vice president and Ford Division general manager.

the crisp look of the new Ford. Side styling features straight-through lines emphasized by a sharp, full-length fender line from front to rear.

the 1965 Ford styling is combined with an even more dramatic luxury car ride so smooth and so quiet the heater and air conditioner fans had to be moved from the passenger compartment because their low-toned whirr was distracting," Mr. Iacocca said.

THE FORD GALAXIE is the most-changed in the 15-year history of Ford Division. The traditional, round Ford taillight is replaced by a modernistic hexagonal shape in keeping with the crisp, elegant look of the new Ford. Luxury styling is combined with a luxury ride described as so smooth and so quiet the heater and air conditioner fans had to be moved into the engine compartment because their low-toned whirr was distracting. A luxurious new Ford Galaxie 500 LTD series features an interior of quality and style previously obtainable only in higher-priced cars. Shown with the car are salesman Ken Kinyon, left, and Ralph Fowler, sales manager of Strickland-Morrison Ford, Sanford.

gine compartment because their low-toned whirr was distracting. A luxurious new Ford Galaxie 500 LTD series features an interior of quality and style previously obtainable only in higher-priced cars. Shown with the car are salesman Ken Kinyon, left, and Ralph Fowler, sales manager of Strickland-Morrison Ford, Sanford.

"Even the keys for the 1965 Ford are all new," Iacocca said. "They are designed to be inserted into the lock either side up. In addition, doors on all 1965 Fords will be equipped with a keyless locking system." An ultra-modern six-cylinder engine rated at 150 horsepower—lighter, more powerful, smoother-running and more economical than any other six-cylinder engine previously offered in the Ford line—heads a list of additional owner-benefits which include such items as the industry's first center-facing dual rear seats in 1965 Ford station wagons. Replacing the conventional third "jump seat," this new design affords comfortable seating for four children in the rear of the wagon.

Some of the many other features are curved side glass for increased shoulder room; a 13 per cent reduction in the floor-tunnel for greater passenger comfort; a recessed instrument panel with several additional inches of "living room spaciousness" in the passenger compartment, and a deeper trunk capable of holding two-suitcases in an upright position.

IMPROVED PERFORMANCE with increased fuel economy for gas savings up to 15 per cent have been achieved in the tastefully restyled Ford Falcon for 1965. More powerful engines—including a redesigned 200-cubic-inch Six with seven main bearings for added smoothness—combine with three-speed Cruise-O-Matic or three-speed manual transmissions for the economy and performance improvement. New interiors and new instrument panel ornamentation; new low-profile tires; improved steering responsiveness; alternators and automatic chokes on all engines; and larger fuel tanks are other 1965 Falcon features. Shown above is Ralph Fowler of Strickland-Morrison Ford. (Herald Photo)

Fairlane Stresses Fuel Economy

The rare combination of improved performance with increased fuel economy marks the tastefully restyled Ford Falcon for 1965.

"A determined effort to satisfy all customer demands took a great deal of engineering know-how," said Frank E. Zimmerman, Ford Division general marketing manager. "A careful blending of more powerful engines with improved transmissions gives the contially-lined grille which gives the car a wider, lower appearance," Zimmerman pointed out.

The 1965 Falcon also features all new interior trim styles and materials and new instrument panel ornamentation which enhances the beauty of the car. New low-profile 14-inch tires are standard on most Falcon models in 1965, and will give the compact cars better sta-

Mustang Adds 3rd Model - - 2 + 2 Fastback

The Mustang, announced in hardtop and convertible models by Ford Division as the first of its 1965 cars last April, continues to make news with an added third model—the "2+2" fastback.

"The Mustang is already the most successful new car line ever introduced because it offers a unique combination of the sporty and the practical," said Donald N. Frey, Ford Division assistant general manager. "Now, with the 2+2 model, it becomes even more sporty and more practical."

Frey said the new Mustang provides seating for four. Fold-down rear seats permit added luggage—including skis and other lengthy equipment—to be carried inside the car with driver and passenger. "The new Mustang 2+2 also features functional air louvers styled into the rear roof quarter-panels for an efficient, flow-through ventilation system," said Frey, "permitting window-up driving free from wind noise and drafts in nearly all kinds of weather."

The new, smooth-flowing roof line curves gently from the passenger compartment into the rear deck, accentuating the many sports and convenience options which have made the Mustang the car "designed by its owners."

All Mustangs offer—as standard equipment—such sports and luxury features as bucket seats, molded nylon carpeting, floor-mounted shift for both manual and automatic transmissions, all-vinyl interior, padded instrument panel, and full wheel covers. Mustang options available to the performance-minded include a selection of three V-8 engines with up to 271 horsepower, 4-speed transmission, quick-ratio steering, Rally-Pac with tachometer and clock, limited-slip differential, and a special handling suspension and sports tires.

The new Mustang 2+2 joins the 1965 Mustang hardtop and convertible models in Ford dealer showrooms Friday.

SPACE PROVIDED
The desire of motorists to take more with them is turning the automobile's back seat into added luggage area. A fold-down rear seat may be ordered in all 1965 Ford 4-door sedans to combine the advantages of a station wagon with sedan styling and compactness. Even the sporty Mustang 2+2 fastback model offers a fold-down rear seat to permit carrying added luggage—including skis and other lengthy equipment.

LIGHT TRAVEL
Drivers behind will never wonder which way a 1965 Thunderbird is turning. Sequential turn signals developed for the luxury car create a light pattern which "travels" in the direction of the indicated turn.

By Evelyn Landy
A delightfully unique affair was given Saturday evening to honor Carol Parker, bride-elect of Roy Wainright.

Miscellaneous gifts were brought to the Staley's home during the day, and in the early afternoon, Carol opened her gifts and they were displayed on tables in the Florida room. Guests called between the hours of 7:30 and 9:30 o'clock to view the gifts. Attractive squares of cake decorated with wedding bells, nuts, mints and coffee were served. On the serving table was an ecru lace cloth and an arrangement of variegated pink miniature mums, with strands of narrow pink and white ribbon used in the flowers. Crystal bowls and sandwich plates were used for serving. In the living room, arrangements of sweetheart roses were used in various shades of pink. Coffee was poured by Mrs. Thomas Moon and Mrs. T. L. Lingo Jr. Floating hostesses were Joy Wainright and Ann Martin. Twenty-five guests called during the coffee hours.

The George Stines Observe Anniversary With Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Stine of 429 Summerlin Avenue, celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary over a period of several weeks, with a delightful vacation.

They were guests at Sanibel Islands of their daughter and her husband Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hughes. Ann has been in Gainesville studying for her doctorate, and accompanied her parents back to her home in Waukegan, Ill., where they enjoyed their four Hughes grandchildren.

From Waukegan they motored to the home of their son,

Alfred Stine and his wife, LaVonne, who had made plans for a marvelous vacation. Alfred is an artist and they visited the famous White Gallery in Milwaukee, meeting Doris White, the noted artist.

The Stines enjoyed cuisine in world famous restaurants, boat cruises, shopping in quaint shops, worshipping in historical old churches, and attending many famous plays and pageants. The scenic northern country will hold many memories for the Stines.

After shopping in Chicago, they headed back for home stopping en route in South Carolina and Kentucky, and visited many historical landmarks. Mrs. Stine brought back many souvenirs, including snapshots of all the exciting places they visited and programs of all the plays. She will provide her friends with some wonderful conversation, reminiscing about the unusual trip. She confided their '55 automobile made the jaunt, over the mountainous terrain with "nary" a spit nor stop.

The Virgil Metts' Observe Anniversary

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson

Over 200 guests called between the hours of 3 and 5 p. m. last Sunday afternoon to greet and congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Metts on their golden wedding anniversary. The beautiful affair was held at the honor guests' home on Celery Avenue and was hosted by their children.

The home, opened en-suite for the special occasion, was decorated throughout with fresh flowers.

The dining table was overlaid with a beautiful cloth of white linen squares hand embroidered in white and joined by squares of white lace. The tablecloth was a gift from one of their daughters, Mrs. Evelyn Woods who is now a resident of Venezuela and is here for the special occasion. The four tiered white cake held a wreath of Lily of the Valley which surrounded the gold numbers 50. This was placed in the center and was flanked at each end by gold candles in cut-glass holders. On one end was the glass punch bowl. Each guest was served punch, sandwiches, nuts and mints.

The large table holding the many lovely gifts was overlaid with a most beautiful white organdy tablecloth. The edge of the cloth was trimmed with a large band of white grass linen. Solid white embroidery was featured over the entire cloth. This is also a gift of Mrs. Woods. Mr. and Mrs. Metts were married on September 20th, 1914 in Mora, Ga. and came to Sanford in 1921. They are the parents of five children; Morris, Lake Monroe; Talmadge, Sanford; Mrs. Wannele Rabun, Sanford; Mrs. Evelyn Woods of Puerto Ordaz, Venezuela and Mrs. Ethel Mattair of Osteen. They have twelve grandchildren.

Mr. Metts retired from the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad in 1962 and is enjoying fishing and hunting in his retirement.

Party Honors Chuckie Hays In Birthday Celebration

By JoAnn Hayes

Chuckie Hays, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hays recently celebrated his fourth birthday with a party given in his honor at his Geneva home.

The guests, all under five years of age, arrived around 2 p.m. and the usual confusion began as only a group this age can do. Gifts were opened before refreshments, with the young guests persisting in giving all the toys a "work-out," rather than enjoy the goodies.

Cake, ice cream, mints and punch were served to Joy Hays, Donna and Robbie Shawley, Kim and Jeff Hughey, Stan and Ollie Mathieux, and Cindy and Andrea Morgan.

Assisting Mrs. Hays were Mrs. Lois Morgan, Mrs. Barbara Stevens, Mrs. Jane Shawley and Mrs. Virginia Hughey.

Each member brought a covered dish, and a wonderful turkey dinner was enjoyed by Mrs. Ethel Boyd, Mrs. J. D. Callahan, Mrs. J. P. Cullen, Mrs. C. P. Harkey, Mrs. Porter Lansing, Mrs. W. M. Moye, Mrs. Lee Wheeler, Mrs. W. R. Stringfield, Miss Ella Lee Kirshoff, Mrs. Lucile Irwin, Mrs. Fred Pope, Mrs. Henry Russell, Mrs. Clyde Stinson and Mrs. Robert Steele.

Mrs. Henry Russell presided in the absence of the chairman; new and old business was discussed, and reports from the committee were presented.

Homemakers

October will soon be here and it is considered a fine month for parties. Also it is the month for Halloween. For a less formal refreshment during the month here is a Halloween Cake which should certainly prove the hit of the season. Let's make the cake and serve it with a sparkling fruit punch. It will satisfy a group, both young or old. I will give the recipe for the punch after giving the cake recipe.

The cake is easy to prepare as the recipe indicates, but allow plenty of time for frosting. The cake cuts very well but requires a rather large serving plate because of the shape of the slices. However this leaves room on the plate for a nice serving of ice cream.

JACK-O-LANTERN CAKE
1 pkg. (1 lb. 2.8 oz.) lemon chiffon cake mix
2 eggs
Bottle 7-Up
1/2 cup canned pumpkin
1 teas. pumpkin pie spice mix
2 boxes (6 1/2 oz. each) fluffy frosting mix
1/2 of a firm banana

Prepare cake according to package directions, using the Corner

Simmer 1 qt. of cider with cloves, cinnamon and allspice, about 15 minutes. Cool. Remove cloves and cinnamon. Chill remaining qt. of cider. Combine spiced cider and pineapple-orange juice concentrate in punch bowl. Slowly pour in 7-Up. Add ice cubes or chunks of ice. Float slices of orange on top of punch bowl, if desired. Makes 4 quarts.

In Grandmother's day it took a great deal of time and effort to make fruit cakes. With all the chopping and peeling, paring and preparing for hour upon hour. Then you had to stoke and poke the old coal range for a lot of hot hours until the precious cake was done. No wonder fruit cakes were seldom made except for the most festive holidays, such as Thanksgiving and Christmas.

But now you have modernized your kitchen as well as your cooking and NOW we have a Magic Fruit Cake that takes ONLY 15 minutes to prepare. Then you pop it in the oven and in less than 90 minutes your fruit cake is done. It's fruity and never heavy. This recipe is so easy and simple and inexpensive to make. It's fine for special gifts and a most delicious treat for any occasion and every holiday of the year.

MAGIC FRUIT CAKE

Assemble ingredients:
1 pkg. (9 oz.) mince meat
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup walnut meats or pecans coarsely chopped
1 cup (8 oz.) mixed candied fruit coarsely chopped
1 can Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk
1 egg, beaten
1/2 cup flour
1/2 teas. baking soda

Break mince meat into small pieces and put in 2 qt. saucepan. Add water. Place over medium heat and stir until lumps are thoroughly broken. Boil briskly 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and cool. Add nuts, candied fruit, Eagle Brand milk and egg. Blend well. Stir in flour and soda, until blended. Pour mixture into 9 by 4 by 3 inch loaf pan which has been greased, waxed paper lined and greased again. Bake in 350 degree oven for 1 hour and 30 minutes or until center springs back when lightly touched with finger and top is golden brown. If a glass dish is used reduce heat to 325 degrees.

For some magic ways of serving this wonderful fruit cake, try this.

Thinly slice some of the fruit cake and serve with milk, cocoa, eggnog, cider, tea or coffee.

Heat portion-sized cubes of

Sparkling Halloween Punch

Prepare 2 boxes of fluffy frosting mix according to package directions, using 7-Up as the liquid. Reserve about 1/2 cup of frosting and tint green for stem. Tint frosting pale orange using about 1 1/2 teaspoons yellow coloring and 1/2 teas. red food coloring. Place one cake on plate (large side up). Frost top surface. Place second cake on top (large side down) to form pumpkin. Frost outside of cake using vertical strokes. Frost piece of banana with green frosting. Carefully place on top of cake. Decorate face of pumpkin using gumdrops, licorice and candy corn. Makes 14 to 16 servings.

SWEDISH SPICED PUNCH

1 jar (8 oz.) cherries and syrup (1/2 cup cherries plus 1/2 cup syrup)
2 cans (6 oz. each) frozen lemonade concentrate
7-Up (7-oz. each) about 7 bottles

In deep saucepan combine oranges, lemons, cherries, 1/2 teas. salt, cloves (whole), allspice, nutmeg and cinnamon sticks. Cover and simmer 1 hour. Strain through fine sieve or cheesecloth. Reserve a few cherries for garnish. Return juice (about 1 cup) to saucepan. Add apple juice and lemonade concentrate. Heat to simmering, remove from heat and gradually add 7-Up. Add cherries, serve immediately. For a topping use: 1/2 cup dairy sour cream, 1/4 teas. salt and 1 cup heavy cream whipper. Combine sour

DODGE'S SPORTY two-door Dart GT hardtop for 1965 features an optional black or white vinyl covering for the roof, which gives it a landau effect. The GT hardtop is one of 20 six and eight-cylinder models in the '65 line of

Dart Adds New Hardtop

The 1965 Dodge Dart, extending its tradition of "more compact car for the dollar," will introduce at Seminole County Motors a lower-priced two-door hardtop, a higher performance V-8 engine and an optional built-in air conditioner providing both heating and cooling.

Dodge's 111-inch wheelbase models for 1965 present a lower and wider appearance, achieved by restyling the entire front end and redesigning the rear end.

The 20 six-cylinder and V-8 models are offered in three series: Dart (formerly Dart 170), Dart 270 and Dart GT. They will make their public debut in all Dodge dealerships Friday, the same day as Dodge's 1965 Coronet, Polara and Custom 880 lines.

"Bigger and roomier than most of the other cars in the compact class, the Dart will still be the best buy in the compact market," Byron J. Nichols, Dodge general manager said. The new hardtop, powered either by a six-cylinder or V-8 engine, rounds out the Dart 270 series line-up. Compact hardtop models previously have been available only in the top-of-the-line GT series. The high performance engine, an exclusive in the Dart line, is a four-barrel carburetor version of the standard 273-cubic-inch V-8 and is rated at 235 horsepower. It is equipped with a long duration camshaft, special intake manifold and special pistons that boost the compression ratio to 10.5 to 1.

For the first time in the Dart, the factory-installed air conditioner provides cooling of fresh outside air and also combines heating and cooling in the same unit. This is accomplished by the use of separate air circuits for the heater core and cooling coil. This compact system is packaged behind the instrument panel. Removal from the passenger compartment of all components that could be relocated provides improved foot and leg room for the front seat occupants. Basic exterior dimensions of Dodge's compact Dart, for the third consecutive year are 196 inches in overall length, 70 inches in width and 54 inches in height. The four station wagon — all six passenger, four-door models — likewise retain the same measurements and again provide 68 cubic feet of cargo space.

Two New Dodges In Medium Price Field

Dodge will introduce two 1965 cars in the medium-price field: a newly-styled and roomier Custom 880 and a special luxury sports model called the Monaco.

The elegant, top-of-the-line Monaco, available only as a two-door hardtop, will be Dodge's first entry in the special prestige car class.

A new body style in the Custom 880 line will be presented at the same time. The six newly-styled models of the Custom 880 line are the six-window, four-door sedan; two-door and four-door hardtops; a convertible; and two four-door station wagons — one for six passengers; the other, with a rearward-facing third seat, for nine passengers.

Four engines are available for the Custom 880 ranging from the standard 383-cubic-inch V-8. The standard Monaco power plant is a four-cylinder V-8 to a 426-cubic-inch V-8, and two larger engines are offered as options.

"Dodge in 1965 will be re-presented in the medium-price field with better-styled and better-performing cars than ever before," Byron J. Nichols, Dodge general manager, said.

"The luxurious Custom 880 line presents a complete selection of body styles, including the biggest station wagon Dodge has ever offered. And the new Monaco is a sophisticated prestige car combining luxury, performance and comfort."

The new Custom 880, although 2½ inches shorter overall than its 1964 counterpart, appears more massive and actually has more front and rear seat headroom, more front rear seat legroom and more entrance and exit space than its predecessor models. A new flatter roof design contributes to the added headroom.

The Custom 880 station wagons have a new wood-like overlay made of a vinyl-based material, extending the length of the sides and across the tailgate.

Fourteen solid colors and 16 two-tone combinations are available in buffable enamel. The interior upholstery and trim schemes are either all-vinyl or cloth-and-vinyl combinations.

The six-window sedan has a full-width front seat back. Other models have individual front seat backs with a pull-down arm rest in the center.

Besides the standard two-barrel, 383-cubic-inch V-8, which develops 270 horsepower, there are several four-barrel carburetor options for the Custom 880, including a 383-cubic-inch V-8, rated at 315 horsepower; a 413-cubic-inch V-8, rated at 340 horsepower, and the 426-cubic-inch V-8, rated at 365 horsepower.

Improvements engineered into the body and chassis promote a softer and quieter ride, better steering action and protection against body corrosion on the Custom 880 line as well as the new Monaco.

The Monaco has four individual bucket seats separated by a full-length center console, which accommodates a tachometer, gear shift mounting, cigarette lighter, ash tray and storage compartment.

Marching Seminoles Get Back To Work

Seminole's Marching Seminoles are at work again as the school year begins. For E. H. Cowley, this is his 14th year as bandmaster.

This year's officer staff is headed by Capt. Tepper Avenue. The highest ranking girl is Peggy Bower, first lieutenant, and Ed Hubbard is drum major and first lieutenant.

The Twirling Seminoles are led by Majorette Capt. Sylvia Williams. The B-Corps, training unit for the Twirling Seminoles, is guided by Second Lieutenant Sharon Ball. There has been a complete turnover in the color guard.

The ranking officer is Cpl. Danielle Wright. Seven girls tried out for three positions and Merry Lee Hackett, Janice Foy and Patsy Kader will carry the colors.

The other girls will become members of the Twirling Seminoles B-Corps. More volunteers are needed to help staff the school clinic and mothers who are able to donate a few hours of their time each month can sign up Tuesday night.

SPACE APLENTY Despite its compact size the 1965 Dodge Dart station wagon offers more than 68 cubic feet of cargo space.

Russia Looking West For Better Future?

By K. C. Thaler
United Press International
LONDON (UPI) — Out of the recent world crises come new signs that the Soviet Union feels its future lies with the "haves" of the West.

The feeling in diplomatic quarters here is that Moscow is awaiting the outcome of the U.S. presidential election to make new moves toward co-existence.

This assessment is based on three major developments in the past week or two. The most telling single event has been Moscow's aloofness from the Southeast Asian crisis and the retaliatory American bombing raid in the Gulf of Tonkin.

Russia's response to Peking's outcry against "American aggression" has been little more than what was described by political observers here as a "yawn."

The Kremlin has steered clear of any pledge to come to Red China's aid. Pro-Peking diplomats here have termed it an "outright betrayal of the Communist cause by the Soviet and a tacit admission that the mutual assistance pact with Red China is a dead letter."

The second significant development has been the marked reserve with which the Kremlin has reacted to the Cyprus crisis. The Cyprus flareup and President Makarios' appeal for Soviet arms provided the Kremlin with a tailor made opportunity to use the crisis and to exploit allied differences for a dig at NATO.

Dodge comes on big for '65

What does Dodge do after two record-breaking years in a row? Go for a third. Dodge comes on big for '65, with four brand-new cars that are big, quick, fresh and backed by the strongest warranty* in the business. See them.

'65 DART: The Dodge-size compact. If you'd like to live a little, we'd like to let you in on something big—Dodge Dart for '65. Big beauty. Big comfort. Big ride. And big savings. At your Dodge dealer's now.

'65 CORONET: A hot new Dodge at a new lower price. An all-new car that's as roomy as a standard-size Ford or Chevy, yet priced right with Fairlane, Chevelle. With refreshing new styling. Oceans of room. Coronet '65—drive it.

*HERE'S HOW DODGE'S 3-YEAR, 50,000-MILE ENGINE AND DRIVE TRAIN WARRANTY PROTECTS YOU: Chrysler Corporation confidently warrants all of the following vital parts of its 1965 cars for 3 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, during which time any such parts that prove defective in material and workmanship will be replaced or repaired at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business without charge for such parts or labor: engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excluding manual clutches), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings. REQUIRED MAINTENANCE: The following maintenance services are required under the warranty—change engine oil every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first; replace air filter every second oil change; clean radiator or filter every 6 months and replace it every 2 years; and every 6 months furnish evidence of this required service to a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer and request him to certify receipt of such evidence and your car's mileage. Simple enough for such important protection.

'65 POLARA: Beautiful way to leave the low-price field. Inches bigger and a lot better-looking than anything near the price. With a standard 383 cu. in. V8 that thrives on regular gas. Why settle for less? Ask for Polara.

'65 CUSTOM 880: If elegance were spelled in numbers, this would be it. From exclusive 6-window sedan to elegant convertible, this one will wear well with your appreciation of luxury and your sense of good taste.

Keep Cape In State

Where would they go? That's the question when one considers the impact of the Cape Kennedy area on employment. As of June 1, 1964, there were 25,417 persons in permanent work forces at Cape Kennedy.

In the six-county impact region, which includes Seminole County, there are slightly more than 250,000 persons in the labor force. Thus, about 10 per cent of the total employment in the impact area are dependent upon the cape complex.

Again, we say, where would they go should the cape be closed.

This is just one of the many reasons Florida must vote the Democratic ticket in November. There are many, many other reasons already given in these columns.

We must return incumbent President Lyndon Johnson to the White House and thwart the scheme of Barry Goldwater to take over. We can think of no major legislation originating from the office of Goldwater. We can think of a number of reasons why he should be defeated.

Suffice it is to say here that his chameleon antics as a public servant prevent the thinking voter from casting his ballot for such a man. We cannot afford four years of Goldwater rule.

With President Johnson, we have a man of proven friendship to Florida, to all phases of its economic life, to the senior citizen and the young alike, to agricultural interests, poverty stricken areas, to many more.

Consider the influence of the Cape Kennedy area on the economic pulse of Central Florida, of the whole state. Then, should the cape be closed, ask yourself:

Where would they go?

Thought For Today

Both riches and honor come from thee, and thou rulest over all. In thy hand are power and might; and in thy hand it is to make great and to give strength to all.—I Chron. 29:12.

If any man is rich and powerful he comes under the law of God by which the higher branches must take the burnings of the sun, and shade those that are lower; by which the tall trees must protect the weak plants beneath them.—Henry Ward Beecher.

Helen Fuller Says

What Is Liberalism?

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of three articles on Hubert Humphrey, Vice-Presidential candidate.)

By Helen Fuller
Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Where would Democratic Vice-Presidential candidate Hubert Humphrey lead the country if he were in position to do so? In a liberal direction, the senior Senator from Minnesota himself tells us.

His severest critic, Barry Goldwater, agrees. "Hubert expresses the liberal point of view better than anyone in the Senate," Senator Goldwater says.

But what does liberalism mean? There the agreement ends. In his latest book, Humphrey explains that, as he sees it, liberalism is "basically, an attitude toward life rather than a dogma — characterized by a warm heart and an open mind and the willingness to act boldly." "Freedom for the individual to develop in his own way" is fundamental to his kind of liberalism, according to Humphrey.

Goldwater, however, describes the Humphrey liberal philosophy as "that of the Americans for Democratic Action which promises bigger and bigger government programs and more and more government control."

Senator Goldwater's running-mate Republican Vice-Presidential nominee William E. Miller, charges that translated into action the Humphrey philosophy has produced a voting record that is "one of the most radical in Congress." In a spontaneous tribute on the Senate floor recently, Humphrey's Southern colleague, Russel Long of Louisiana, took another view. Although they had recently disagreed about civil rights in the long months of debate, Senator Long said, "when it comes down to trying to provide means that would make life better for the underprivileged, for those who live on retirement income, for the farmers and the working people of the country, the Senator from Minnesota has made a magnificent record."

Presumably both these interpretations were based on the official record of Humphrey's 15 years in the Senate. In summary, for those who prefer to make their own judgment, that record reveals the following facts about Humphrey's views and votes on major issues over this period of years:

Humphrey has advocated that the Federal Government stimulate economic growth by increasing certain kinds of spending and cutting taxes for low-income families.

He favors large outlays for housing, urban renewal and aid to depressed areas.

He opposes anti-strike laws and supports raising the minimum wage and increasing unemployment benefits.

The first bill Humphrey introduced in the Senate was to provide medical care for the aged through Social Security. He favors increased Social Security benefits and coverage and stricter regulation of pure food and drug standards.

He has worked for stricter conservation laws and more rural electric cooperatives.

He was a chief sponsor of federal aid to colleges and for school construction.

He has led in seeking farm price supports and production controls.

An early fighter against the Communist movement in this country, Humphrey has backed a foreign policy of strong defense and willingness to negotiate for peace. He was a principal factor in bringing about the limited nuclear test ban in 1963.

He has backed strong national defense as a necessary step toward achieving disarmament.

Finally, in the area in which the South knows Humphrey best and likes him least, he has been a consistent advocate of civil rights, a foe of the filibuster and a leader for the Civil Rights Act passed this year.

Some of the planks in this personal platform which Humphrey has hammered together over the years are out of the mainstream of business thought. It is easy to see why Goldwater has hope that some recent converts Johnson has made in business circles will be frightened away from the Democratic standard by Humphrey.

As one who voted against the 1964 Civil Rights Act, Goldwater also has reason to expect many Southerners to prefer him to a Senator who greatly aided passage of the law. But there are cross winds in this troubled area which Johnson and Humphrey have hope will blow things their way.

A considerable number of influential Southern Senators, including Richard Russell of Georgia, like and respect Humphrey as a colleague and are thought likely to judge him from an over-all view and quietly to urge their fellow citizens to do likewise.

Most Southern Senators considered Humphrey the soul of fairness in his handling, as floor leader, of the civil rights measure. Senator George Smathers recently voiced their general view when he said of Humphrey on the Senate floor, "I would defy any man to observe him for any length of time and not be impressed with his objectivity, his impartiality, his understanding of the other man's point of view."

CASE T-482: Jay M., aged 12, is a newspaper carrier. He lives in the village near which we have our summer home.

The town has about 600 population. But it is overlapped heavily by several city newspapers from Danville, Illinois and Indianapolis.

There are probably 8 boys in the village who operate their own newspaper routes.

Contrast these 8 with the school enrollment of about 250.

These 8 boys are obtaining the ONLY basic training in their entire village in our American "free enterprise" system.

For they are learning not only Applied Psychology at first hand, as well as faithfulness to duty and the necessity of meeting "dead lines."

But they also gain a broad perspective of our entire economic system, with its 3 major divisions.

These are (1) Production; (2) Merchandising; (3) Credit.

For a newspaper carrier obtains his papers at wholesale. He usually operates on the "Small Merchant Plan."

Thus, these boys are getting at the age of 12 to 16 the very same basic training that any independent grocer, hardware dealer or druggist obtains.

For they all buy their goods at wholesale. Then they must merchandise their wares. This involves advertising, selling, and even personal home delivery, rain or shine.

Finally, the newspaper carriers, as well as all independent merchants, must collect, balance their books, and finally determine their "net" profit.

Alas, the average American never obtains a practical grasp of all those 3 phases of our economy.

For most people are salaried workers in just ONE. Thus, they manufacture, dig coal, catch fish or otherwise are working in the "Production" phase.

Or they are salaried cogs in the big "Merchandising" aspect of our "free enterprise" system.

So they may write advertising copy in an agency or do art work or sell.

Another large group of workers are in the "Credit" corner of our economic "triangle."

These people serve as bookkeepers, accountants, bank tellers, cashiers at supermarkets, etc.

As a result, a "credit" worker has little understanding of the "merchandising" worker's problems.

And neither of them sees the "Production" worker's viewpoint.

But a newspaper carrier gets a solid training in all three corners of that vital "free enterprise" triangle!

Even if you wealthy parents had to pay $25 per week "tuition" to the newspaper for the right to have your son carry papers, it would be a bargain in his later understanding of both people and money!

But newspapers reward their carriers very well in cash and prizes, including college scholarships.

So salute your newspaper carrier as one of about 600,000 American youths who are getting the BEST and almost the ONLY drill in our "free enterprise" system.

Newspaper carriers will NOT become Communists!

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The first time Francis Keppel, U. S. commissioner of education, spoke up publicly in a Washington setting, he put his finger on a key dilemma in the business of educating disadvantaged children—both white and Negro—in all sectors of the country.

This problem is tightly bound up with an issue that is now getting political headlines. Lawlessness in the streets is a steady theme from Sen. Barry Goldwater. And street crime today—robbery, auto theft, burglary, assault — is largely a young man's game.

A good share of the youngsters guilty of these misdeeds are school dropouts, lost to schooling at a tender age, roaming the streets in mischievous idleness.

It is no secret that in many big northern cities a high proportion of these troubled young people are Negroes, either direct products of the slums or migrants there from circumstances of deprivation in the South.

The point Keppel made was that these damaging circumstances can so engulf very young children that they are in many cases almost irretrievably handicapped before they even enter elementary school. In such instances, the finest school facilities may prove of little avail.

Let's be concrete about it. Keppel is talking now, as he was earlier, about children eight to 10 years old who have no idea of the meaning of such simple words as "river."

They have never heard of hundreds of words which most middle-class folk think of as easily within the grasp of far younger children. Their vocabularies serve for little more than rudimentary human communication.

Five-year-olds under test have been shown to have no better than a 3-year-old's grasp of language, of ideas, of the practical world. Many have never seen their parents read a book or a newspaper.

A year or two younger, they may hardly know their own names, let alone anyone else's. They have not developed their capacity for simple observation, for organizing impressions of what they see.

Such children are not merely failures—and likely dropout—at eight or 10. In the view of Dr. Lillian Gore, an Office of Education specialist in "preschool" training problems, they are serious failures in first grade and even kindergarten.

Says Keppel: "By the time they have reached the age of 10, they have taken a lot of punishment. They know where they stand. It's no wonder they want to get out. Wouldn't you?"

The talents and prospects of some of these youngsters can be salvaged, Keppel contends, by remedial tutoring in after-school hours. He is all for the "lighted school-house" approach, which envisions using a school building for every practical working hour each day.

But the fundamental assault on the problem, says Keppel, must come much earlier, catching the underprivileged kids at the age three to five. Such cities as Washington, Baltimore, New York, Pittsburgh and Cleveland have preschool training programs of varying kind and extent.

The idea is simple: Pull the kids out of the smothering slum atmosphere, which usually has badly affected home and family relationships, and get them into contact with the vital word-learning process. Show them their world—the difference between a fireplug and a lamppost, a cow and a pig.

Parental ignorance and disinterest in education can be grave obstacles. Yet, some cities try to encourage the parents of slum youngsters to support preschool efforts by talking about school, providing a few key books, setting aside a time and place for home study.

Gov. George Romney of Michigan, recalling an impressive and now celebrated campaign to lift up Detroit's schools, tells how illiterate parents were urged to provide an example for their children by sitting home at night and slowly turning the pages of books they could not read.

Education experts say tests indicate preschool programs can be effective in bringing disadvantaged kids up to a nearly even start at first grade. Yet, far less than a hundred real public school systems offer such programs today. To help them multiply is a notion appealing strongly to the astute Francis Keppel and others concerned about the country's disadvantaged youngsters everywhere.

OUT OUR WAY

OUR ANCESTORS

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Is there such a thing as a retarded pooch? We got this beautiful white miniature French poodle a year ago when it was only five weeks old, and it isn't any better trained today than the day we got it. It still wets all over. We can't seem to keep it off the furniture or to get it to let us know when it wants to go outside. Abby, I can't live like this any more. That dog has ruined every carpet in the house, all of the furniture and every bedspread. I told my husband I think we should give it away, but he says he would move into the garage with the dog before he gave it away. I like dogs, but this is ridiculous! What do you advise?

MRS. A.
DEAR MRS. A.: Ask your vet what's wrong with the poodle. If the vet says your dog is trained to the capacity of its intelligence, then by all means let your husband move into the garage with the poodle. They deserve each other.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it is proper for a girl to wear shorts on a date? Most of my girl friends say they don't see anything wrong with them. My mother says she thinks it is okay on special occasions like an outdoor barbecue if it is a very hot night. I would like your opinion.

PATTI
DEAR PATTI: I agree with your mother. But it depends on the shorts. I have seen some shorts that were not long enough to be worn in public.

DEAR ABBY: My husband, age 74, is a retired school teacher. Since his retirement he has had much time on his hands, and he uses it largely to carry on correspondence with numerous former pupils. Almost all of his correspondents are women. I have seen a few letters he has written to them. (He proudly shows them to me.) They are lengthy, flowery and full of affection. He literally BEGS them to write to him. I am not jealous, heaven knows, after 30 years with him, because he has never shown a romantic interest in other women. However, I would like to know why he feels the need to write those long and affectionate letters to women. And why he takes such pleasure in their replies. LONG-SUFFERING WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I doubt if your husband cares whether his correspondents are women or men as long as he gets letters. It's not surprising that most of his letters are from women, however. They are far more faithful letter writers.

DEAR ABBY: Why does the mother of the bride always cry at her daughter's wedding?

WONDERING
DEAR WONDERING: Maybe it's because they've heard that girls tend to marry men just like their fathers.

Problems? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For Abby's booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

There are two times when it is imperative to double a freely bid game. One is when you can set the contract all by yourself. The other is when your opponents appear to have been overbidding misfit cards and you see a potential fat profit.

West's double was of this second type. They might make three no-trump against him but it seemed far more likely that his partner would have the spades well stopped and a juicy penalty would ensue. West was right. South probably should not have bid two no-trump. His three no-trump call was sheer give-away.

Having overbid the hand, South proceeded to underplay it. He won the first club with the ace and played ace, king and a small heart. West was in with the ten and promptly cashed three club tricks. South discarded a diamond on the last club. West shifted to his singleton spade. South finessed the queen and East was in with the king. He returned the jack of diamonds, whereupon South could make but one more trick and was down five.

Strangely enough, South ignored his own misbid and misplays and jumped on North for not going on to four spades—a contract that would only be set two tricks.

North retorted crushingly, "I was afraid to bid four spades, you might have gone on to four no-trump."

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

It would be a fine thing if every school where girls are trained to be secretaries included in the curriculum a course in grooming and charm.

When a girl goes job hunting, the way she dresses, applies her make-up, wears her hair and even the way she walks are as important as her skill at the typewriter.

Charm alone won't hold a job for a girl if she isn't capable. But since it's likely that a man will do the hiring, personality and good looks will certainly count in getting her foot in the office door.

When a man is picking a new employe he wants not just somebody who can do the work, but someone who is pleasant to have around the office, nice to look at, easy to get along with, quick with a smile.

To any masculine employe a woman applicant is always a woman as well as a potential employe.

And when he considers a girl for a job he notices immediately if she is the kind of woman he wants around.

He notices her looks, her voice, her clothes, her smile—and they carry just as much weight with him as what her business college has to say about her ability.

Women who are already successful in the business world may be able to get new jobs on ability alone. But the girl who is just starting out has to rely mostly on her appearance and personality to get her first job.

Her skill will determine how long she holds her job. But unless she presents an attractive appearance at the job interview, she's not apt to get the chance to prove her ability at all.

Beauty after 7 by EDYTH THORNTON McLEOD

ALL MY LETTERS today seemed to start, "Please tell me!" So—

"Would teens these be good to wear at the New York World's Fair? My feet hurt and I know there is much walking. — Bee."

No; you must, for comfort, have shoes of leather. These will give real comfort, and they should be wedged, sandals or some type of casual shoe, but of real leather, not fabric or synthetic fabric.

"My hair is pure white. Would it look well with one of the new, no curl permanents? — M. Q. I."

Yes, I like the softness and the natural look of the new permanent. And, to me, it is especially lovely for white and gray hair.

"Is it good taste to wear a black lace dinner dress to a formal wedding? I am not a member of the family. I am sixty-five. — B."

Yes, perfectly correct. It would be nice to have pearls and perhaps long white gloves. A soft sheer hair veil would be attractive.

"Is it necessary for us, the parents of the bridegroom-to-be, to invite the parents of the bride to our hotel for dinner while we are in their city for the wedding? — Mr. & Mrs."

It is not a necessity but, to my way of thinking, a very nice gesture and a "diplomatic" move. You just might like them a lot!

"Is an alligator bag, a very handsome one, suitable for wearing to a five o'clock hotel cocktail party and dinner? My dress is a simple sleeveless, black crepe sheath. My coat is black ribbed silk. — Nina."

No, even such a handsome bag is not proper for the dress or the event. You should have a small black silk or suede "clutch" bag.

"Should I wear a hat to a small dinner in the town next to ours? The dinner will be held in October at six; a hotel affair. We, my husband and I, will drive over there. What should my husband wear? — My outfit is what they call a 'theatre suit' in black with a bit of silver brocade. — Wife."

UAW Strikes GM As Talks Fail

Seminole County on the St. Johns River "The Nile of America"

The Sanford Herald

Zip Code 32771

WEATHER: Fair and less humid through Saturday; high today in upper 80s; low tonight 55-60.

VOL. 56 United Press Leased Wire Established 1908 FRI., SEPTEMBER 25, 1964 SANFORD, FLORIDA NO. 286

Wanna know sumpin? We're being surveyed.

When you mention "survey," the inclination is to visualize a group of men with steel tape, rod and transit. And taking a peep through the transit they set up many different kinds of lines. In fact, some of the survey party frequently have pretty good lines themselves, if we are to accept the statements of some of the opposite sex that have had occasion to get acquainted with these tanned toreadors.

But there is another survey in which many, many progressive citizens are most interested. That is the engineering feasibility survey that the City Fathers authorized for our lakefront development. Be assured the "Bankers Group," especially, are eager to learn the outcome of this survey — where new a transit is used. These fellows feel confident that the results of the comprehensive study will hear out the conclusion made from the fragmentary reports on which they made their plea for the city's wholehearted effort to transform our lake front into the outstanding inland harbor of the state.

The firm doing the work can really feel that they are fortunate in being able to observe this area under flood stage conditions for which adequate provisions may be recommended in their report.

Should the survey indicate that this Marina-motel-restaurant idea is possible, practical from the engineering standpoint, it is quite logical that immediate plans for fulfilling the dream of progress can be formed. This well might include an economic survey to establish the financial potential of the plan. And here we go on ANOTHER type survey.

Oh, we're being surveyed, all right! And isn't it just wonderful that we're moving forward!

In the very near future our area will come under the practical eyes of another team of surveyors. This one will represent the State Board of Education and will be seeing just how really seriously we need a Junior College in our county.

The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce's Long Range Planning Committee members are strong in their belief that this survey will heartily endorse the dire NEED for this immediate educational facility. It will show how well it can serve in handling the wave of high school graduates that prefer, from a financial angle as well as the academic wisdom, getting two years of schooling and senior college.

In this age of intellectual growth there are untold scores of adults who will welcome the chance to take additional "schooling." This adult education phase of the Junior College will present a challenge that will astonish the survey crew, the Long Range Planners believe.

So, it looks like the report of THAT survey crew should be positive, too.

LOYALTY AND EFFICIENCY of Sandy Anderson, retired manager of the Sanford State Farmers Market, were recognized last week at the annual convention of State Farmers Market Managers in Winter Haven, Doyle Conner, State Agriculture Commissioner, presented the award to Leo Butner, present Sanford Market manager, when Anderson was unable to attend. Yesterday Butner, right, presented the certificate to Anderson at his home.

Scripps-Howard Backs Johnson

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Scripps-Howard Newspapers today announced their support of Lyndon B. Johnson for president.

An editorial published in the 17 Scripps-Howard newspapers said the times called for proven qualities of leadership "and this paramount consideration in our opinion, makes Mr. Johnson a natural choice."

It was the first time the Scripps-Howard newspapers had endorsed a Democrat for president since they supported Franklin D. Roosevelt for reelection in 1936.

Water Supply Of Longwood Called Safe

By Donna Estes
Longwood Mayor A. R. Lormann and Council Chairman R. C. Carlson were authorized today to release a statement to The Herald from Gordon Folke, Orlando, regional engineer for the State Board of Health, which states that Longwood's city water supply is absolutely safe.

Folke said, "Water samples from the city's wells are regularly furnished to the state health department and have on every occasion proved to be absolutely safe. If at any time the water did not pass the bacterial test the city would be notified immediately and the residents duly advised. Analyses of the water showed that bacterial count is less than the one per one million parts of water. There is no indication of effluent pollution from septic tanks and no detergents appear."

Lormann and Carlson explained again that from all information available, solids that appear in the water from time to time are due to its mineral contents and do not have an injurious effect from a health standpoint.

A portion of a letter from the Sanford engineering firm of Leffler, Clark and Dietz, a firm which encourages installation of municipal sewage systems, dated Sept. 4, of this year and quoted by the mayor and council chairman states: "The water analysis done on the city's water Sept. 4 shows excellent quality and no bacterial pollution at this time."

Firm Balks At 'Curbs' On Management

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers Union and General Motors Corp. today failed to reach agreement on a new three year contract and the union called a strike by more than 260,000 workers at 89 GM plants across the country.

The union left on the job nearly 90,000 workers at 11 plants that produce either key defense parts or vital components for auto firms in the first "selective strike" in auto-labor history.

The GM strike came after the union had already won 54 cent an hour contracts from Ford and Chrysler and was triggered by non-economic issues.

Official word of the strike came 30 minutes after the 10 a. m. EST deadline.

UAW President Walter Reuther said it was with "a great sense of sadness we have to announce we were unable to reach a settlement with GM."

The red-haired union leader told a jammed news conference that a strike was called because GM was "unwilling to meet the standards of decency demanded by workers."

The major stumbling blocks were production standards and union representation—regarded as non-economic problems.

Reuther said the company did not respond the way they should have in light of earlier agreements with Ford and Chrysler. The union sought to make these agreements a pattern for the GM contract. GM said it was willing to match the economic benefits of the other contracts but the two sides never did resolve what Reuther called a "broad question of working conditions."

"GM can resume production any time they want," he said, "if they do sit down and provide the respect and dignity for the workers."

GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton said the strike against his firm was "completely unnecessary and unjustified."

He warned that if the strike is prolonged it will "have serious consequences for our employees, and their families, for our plant communities and for the public and the economy at large."

Seaton said that in the last 16 years "our differences have been composed at the bargaining table in five successive negotiations." He said it was "difficult to understand" why the union broke off negotiations and went on strike "because substantial progress towards resolution of our differences have been made at the bargaining table."

He said GM "made every effort" to settle the non-economic issues. But he accused the union of making demands which would have restricted GM's management responsibility and therefore "we are not prepared to accede to such ungrounded demands."

The SIS Seminoles open their home football season tonight as hosts to the Colonial Grenadiers in a Metro Conference contest at Sanford Memorial Stadium. The game will get under way at 8 p. m.

The Oviedo Lions will host Crescent City at John Courier Field in Oviedo and the Lyman Greyhounds travel to Ocoee in other county high school games.

Dr. Roberts LBJ Chairman

Dr. W. Vincent Roberts of Sanford has been named chairman for Seminole County in the Democratic Campaign for President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The appointment was announced at state headquarters by Thomas F. Fleming Jr., state chairman for the campaign.

A native of Georgia, Dr. Roberts has been a resident of Seminole County for 14 years. He is chairman of the Sanford Civil Service Board, past Grand Knight for Seminole County Knights of Columbus, married and the father of three children.

A wartime flight surgeon in the Navy, he is still in the active reserve.

He was out of the city when the appointment was announced, but he had made it clear to friends that he is "all out" for the President Johnson campaign and ready to serve "in any capacity."

"I don't know Dr. Roberts personally, but I know that he gets things done—and that's what we want right now," said Fleming. "We are delighted to have him with us in the campaign."

Response To 1965 Autos 'Pleasing'

"Real good." "Very pleased." "Steady crowd." "Oh, man, going fine." "Lots of action." These are some of the comments made to The Herald this morning after the 1965 edition of the automobile industry was put on display in Sanford.

The general opinion was that response this year exceeded that of many previous years. A number of sales and orders was reported in virtually every instance.

Bill Hemphill Motors termed the turnout "real good" and said he was "very pleased with the response and reception of our new lines. We've got people everywhere."

Hemphill added that his firm "has written several orders" and interest is "the highest in many years."

Ed Hunt, sales manager of Hunt Lincoln Mercury, reports interest "keen, better than all summer." He reported a steady crowd and a bigger turnout than last year. Several deliveries have been made and some orders taken.

Hunt said the fact his company is able to offer all its models at one time contributed to the heavy response.

Dave Tomlinson of Holler Motors labeled the response "more than last year." He added the crowds kept coming until well after 9:30 last night and "we almost had to run them out."

Seminole Motors reported "quite a bit of activity" and said interest was "above our expectations." The spokesman reported interest remains high in the 1964 models and several had been sold during the day.

Gary Hudgins of Strickland-Morrison Ford Motors reported "a 15 per cent increase" in business this year over last.

Navy Resumes Salvage Work

Navy salvage crews have returned to the scene of the ill-fated plane crash earlier this month to search for other parts of the aircraft.

A Sanford Naval Air Station spokesman said the divers were probing the site of the crash where two men died to find smaller parts of the plane.

The twin-jet crashed shortly after takeoff from the local base as it and several others left the area in the face of a hurricane threat.

No reason for the crash has been announced as yet as the investigation is continuing.
