

Adventist THE SEVENTH DAY ADVENTIST CHURCH Highway 436 Forest City, Florida G. Brian Tarr, Pastor

Assembly Of God FIRST ASSEMBLY OF GOD CHURCH Cor. 27th and Elm

Baptist CALVARY BAPTIST ASSEMBLY 200 Fairmont (Sanford Garden Club Hwy. 17-92)

First Baptist Church Lake Monroe, Fla. David J. Rich, Pastor Sunday School 9:45 a.m.

The Church... THE HOPE OF OUR COMMUNITY, OUR NATION! ...THE HOPE OF OUR COMMUNITY, OUR NATION! ...THE HOPE OF OUR COMMUNITY, OUR NATION!

Where are You Going? "Look, Daddy! A stopped freeway!" Eight-year-old Kristen pointed at the span of concrete that soared over the road ahead of us and then ended abruptly as if it had encountered an invisible wall.

The Following Sponsors Make This Church Notice And Directory Page Possible JIM LASH CHRYSLER-PLYMOUTH And Staff

SEMINOLE COUNTY AREA CHURCH DIRECTORY ASSEMBLY OF GOD First Assembly of God, 27th & Elm

Methodist SANFORD UNITED METHODIST CHURCH Phone 234-2841 Organized June 11, 1972, Longwood

Episcopal HOLY CROSS 401 S. Park Ave. The Rev. Leroy D. Soper, Rector

Methodist GRACE UNITED METHODIST CHURCH 401 Orange Street The Rev. Dr. Ross Denlow, Pastor

Methodist THE LAKE MONROE CHAPEL Orange Blvd., Lake Monroe William Miller, Pastor

Methodist THE LAKE MONROE CHAPEL Orange Blvd., Lake Monroe William Miller, Pastor

The Sanford Herald Sunday, July 14, 1974—Sanford, Florida 32771 66th Year, No. 279

AROUND THE CLOCK Charter Battle In Lake Mary By J. RICHARDS Herald Staff Writer

Lake Mary — Battle lines are being drawn in this small city of 2,400 southwest of Sanford over a vote July 30 on whether to continue as an incorporated city or not.

Lake Mary — A confrontation has erupted over the cost of fire fighting equipment, pitting the Chamber of Commerce's newly appointed chairman of the police and fire protection committee and the city's volunteer fire chief.

GOOD AFTERNOON Bridge 3A Calendar 6A Classified ads 4C Comics 4C

Sunday Edition - 20 Cents Coffee Recalls 7 Bad Years

JOHN A. SPOJSKI Associate Editor More than 300 persons crowded into Sanford's Civic Center Friday to hear former POW Commander Gerald Coffee speak of his seven years as a prisoner of the North Vietnamese.

COFFEE (LEFT) AFTER SPEECH

And for 40 minutes, they sat spellbound as the articulate Coffee described his days of inhumane treatment. Many wept openly and unashamedly. Still the years of bitter frustration were not without moments of humor—a quality Coffee described as essential for survival.

Left-over notes... about two weeks ago we had all reading of the veteran from Illinois who insisted on cultivating marijuana in defiance of authorities there. What made him tick? What kind of a 24 year old man was he?

Lake Mary — A confrontation has erupted over the cost of fire fighting equipment, pitting the Chamber of Commerce's newly appointed chairman of the police and fire protection committee and the city's volunteer fire chief.

WASHINGTON (AP) — John D. Ehrlichman, once described by President Nixon as one of the finest public servants he ever knew, has been convicted of plotting an illegal search at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

"I was overwhelmed with misery," said Coffee. The North Vietnamese had rules posted which told the pilots they would be subjected to civil trials of the Vietnamese government. They were not governed by the rules of the Geneva Convention. "You are committing a crime," said Coffee.

Once while he was being guarded by an enemy soldier carrying a submachine gun by his side, newly captured American prisoner secretly transmitted (by a Morse code) that the Miami Dolphins had won the Super Bowl. "I had never heard of the Dolphins, and I didn't even know what the Super Bowl was," said Coffee.

WASHINGTON (AP) — John D. Ehrlichman, onetime White House chief domestic adviser, is the fifth former administration official to be convicted of or plead guilty to a crime. A U.S. District Court on Friday found Ehrlichman and three codefendants guilty of conspiracy and perjury in connection with the break-in at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

CHICAGO (AP) — Lillian K. Ware of Evanston has regained the deed to her $25,000 home, taken by real estate speculators for $59.81 in bad taxes. Mrs. Ware had to buy her home back from the two lawyers who had purchased it at a tax sale.

Ehrlichman May Get 25 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — John D. Ehrlichman, once described by President Nixon as one of the finest public servants he ever knew, has been convicted of plotting an illegal search at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

WASHINGTON (AP) — John D. Ehrlichman, onetime White House chief domestic adviser, is the fifth former administration official to be convicted of or plead guilty to a crime.

6 Nixon Aides Guilty

WASHINGTON (AP) — John D. Ehrlichman, onetime White House chief domestic adviser, is the fifth former administration official to be convicted of or plead guilty to a crime.

Chicago Woman Wins Home From Speculators CHICAGO (AP) — Lillian K. Ware of Evanston has regained the deed to her $25,000 home, taken by real estate speculators for $59.81 in bad taxes.

FLORIDA TODAY

Stone Views Inflation Top U. S. Worry

Recently-resigned Secretary of State Richard Stone says he has the answer to some of America's most urgent problems, and promises to solve them quickly if elected to the United States Senate.

Stone, one of several Democrats zeroing in on Sen. Ed Gruney's Washington job, listed as his priority eliminating the national debt and giving some relief to the "unbelievable strained pocketbook of the average American."

"When I get up there in Washington," the confident candidate said, "I'll do for the federal government what I did in Florida—implement methods to pull down the cost of government.

"Let's face it, the only reason the prime rate is at 12 per cent now, and the only reason we're all being strangled by inflation, is the Administration's fiscal policies.

Stone, who engineered Florida's "economic miracle" of going from a debt-ridden state to one with "money in the bank," said some of the same techniques he used in Florida will work in Washington.

"For starts," Stone said, "the Cabinet ordered every department in the state to forget one per cent of its annual appropriation, and to phase out every job it could through attrition.

"Within just three or four months, we in Florida recognized a monumental savings."

Stone also cautions against listening to the "rhetoric going around" about America being able to economically pressure other nations (particularly those which engineered the oil boycott) into a reversal of their national policies.

"We have to make sure that we have the right leverage if we threaten another nation economically, or it might backfire on us," he said after learning of Gov. Reubin Askew's contention that the U.S. should withhold grain exports to Venezuela.

However, Stone is adamant on one thing: the environment needs help.

"It's up to the high growth states (Florida, Arizona, New Mexico, California and Texas) to band together and make sure fair treatment is gotten from Washington," he said.

Two major innovations he wants to introduce to the U.S. Senate and House are Florida's "open door and public disclosure." He feels that government behind closed doors is just as wrong as public officials not revealing sources of their finances.

Stone gained nationwide attention several years ago when he took the doors off his Tallahassee offices.

When asked why he would cleaned up, "When I took office, you couldn't stand the sight of the river; it was so filthy. Today you can swim in it, as I've done. That's what counts, getting things done."

STONE ARRIVES IN SANFORD

make a better senator than any of the other candidates, Stone said, "Because I'm a doer."

He pointed out his victory in getting the Miami River

Theft Operation Broken

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—A video tape recorder set up in the home of a man described as a known buyer of stolen goods helped police arrest 49 people and recover nearly $50,000 worth of stolen property, Pinellas County officials say.

Police said 48 of the suspects were recorded or filmed while making illegal transactions.

Chief Deputy Bill Roberts said Friday that nine more arrests were expected in the eight-month investigation into complaints of widespread burglaries in the same general area.

Roberts said the buyer, known as a "fence," was not given immunity.

"But we guaranteed he would not be charged on any deals he was working with us on," he said. "He is going to be a state witness."

Newsmen were shown film of some buys which showed a suspect brandishing a gun like a kid with a toy, shouting "now, now now."

Roberts said there were 135 charges, including breaking and entering—mostly of residences—armed robbery, receiving and concealing stolen goods, auto theft and sale and possession of drugs.

He said the arrested suspects included eight juveniles; the others ranged in age from 18 to 32. Most were thought to be transients or new residents of Pinellas County.

Roberts said some of the stolen property was recovered even before it was reported stolen.

Police said they recovered cars, motorcycles, lawnmowers, a trailer, television sets, tape players, outdoor motors, cameras, silverware, old coats, travelers checks, credit cards, saddles, tools, a boat and a fork lift.

Swi ger Claims Innocence

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—K. Wayne Swiger, 61, indicted on a conspiracy charge with Sen. Edward Gurney, R-Fla., says he's innocent of any wrongdoing.

Swiger, head of the Tampa Insuring office of the Federal Housing Administration, also said Friday that the charge leveled against him by a federal grand jury in Jacksonville was unfair.

"Conspiracy can wipe out a lot of people," said Swiger, one of six besides Gurney that were indicted on charges involving an alleged $23,000 fund collected from builders seeking influence with the FHA.

Swiger said Gurney did not influence FHA commitments in his office. He said the offices of U.S. Rep. Sam Gibbons and U.S. Sen. Lawton Chiles contacted him as much or more than did Gurney's.

"Hardly any Gurney projects got off the ground," he said.

Pollution Suit Settled

BARTOW, Fla. (AP)—A $1.3-million pollution suit by Florida against Electro-Plex Corp. has been settled out of court for $50,000.

"Unlike a lot of large companies, they have exercised tremendous good will," says Harrison, deputy state attorney general, said after the hearing. She said the company has made serious efforts to comply with state anti-pollution standards at its plant near here.

The state filed the suit June 17. It charged the company with violating its operational permit by failing to submit a copy of contracts for modification and control equipment by Dec. 1, 1973 and by failing to modify its elemental phosphorus furnaces by the following January.

Under Florida law, each alleged violation carried a possible fine of $5,000 a day.

Harrison said the firm spent a lot of money complying with regulations and agreed to pay a $5,000 penalty for failure to comply to date.

Gateway Insurance Halted

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gateway Insurance Co. of Philadelphia, Florida's sixth largest auto insurer last year, has been suspended from doing business by the Pennsylvania Insurance Department, an official said.

Insurance Commissioner William J. Sheppard said Friday the company's "hazardous" financial position was responsible for the action.

The company writes auto policies in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware and Indiana, but Florida—where its premiums totaled $25 million last year—was its main source of business.

Hotel Bilkers Bankrupt

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Federal authorities say a company that leases a hotel in Orlando, Fla., has milked the profits from hotels around the country and recently gone bankrupt.

A spokesman for the attorney general's office in Jackson, Miss., confirmed that American Hotel Operators Corp. of Metairie, La., leased the Heidelberg Hotel in Jackson last September, then departed in April leaving the hotel nearly $250,000 in debt.

An FBI warrant issued here recently charges that the company was designed "to take over numerous marginal hotels and then fail to make appropriate lease or purchase payments."

One of the firm's officials, Lloyd William Sahley, was indicted this week by a federal grand jury in Mobile, Ala., on a charge of giving false information to a bank in connection with a loan, officials said.

Convicts Free Inmates

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two convicts released 14 inmates from the U.S. District Courthouse cellblock today by using pressure for their own freedom in exchange for the release of seven hostages they held at gunpoint.

A 15th inmate, the only woman prisoner in the cellblock, elected to remain behind, apparently to keep the only female hostage company.

George McKinney, U.S. marshal for the District of Columbia, told reporters he was hopeful "the entire situation can be resolved without bloodshed." He has been in continued negotiations with the convicts.

The inmates were trapped in the basement cellblock confrontation when the takeover occurred about 2 p.m. Thursday. They had not been a part of the takeover, and had not been labeled as hostages.

He Wanted The Rain, But Not The 'Skeeters

MIAMI (AP)—Heavy springs rained perked up greenery and eased the threat of a water crisis in parched south and central Florida, but they also precipitated the worst mosquito infestation in years.

Lee County, on the Gulf Coast, spent $75,000 on mosquito control activities in one week earlier this month.

In Martin County, on the Atlantic coast, officials say some 45 species of the pesky biters are making life miserable for people and their pets.

Rains that flooded the Tampa Bay area hatched millions of mosquito eggs that had lain dormant for years.

And visitors to the Everglades say swarms of salt-marsh and flood-water mosquitoes are so bad that people clad in light summer outfits sometimes look as if they're wearing moiré coats.

Les Scherer, director of the Martin County Environmental Control Department in Stuart, says the unusual numbers of mosquitoes are a direct result of the rains.

"It's been pretty dry for a few years now, and the mosquitoes found plenty of places to lay their eggs," he says. "Usually, they lay their eggs around the edges of ponds and marshes."

"These ponds and marshes have been drying up, giving the mosquitoes even more breeding places. The heavy rains this spring flooded places that haven't been wet for years, and eggs that had been lying dormant all that time hatched in large numbers."

Scherer says arid years that dried up ponds and marshes also killed the top-water minnows that lived in the ponds.

"These fish are your natural mosquito control, feeding heavily on mosquito larvae. Now the larvae are hatching and there are very few fish left to eat them, so much greater numbers of larvae reach adulthood," he explains.

In Tampa, Dan Gorman, director of mosquito control for Hillsborough County, says usual home remedies for reducing the mosquito population were "do much good against the floodwater mosquitoes."

Gorman says householders traditionally helped keep the number of mosquitoes down by making sure no standing water was left around in which the larvae could develop.

"But the mosquitoes biting Tampa Bay residents hatched after days of rain flooded areas that had been dry for many years."

Mosquito control departments around the state have been bombarding breeding grounds with insecticides sprayed from trucks and aircraft.

In Fort Myers, Lee County's mosquito control director says his agency was spending more than $15,000 a day to fight the buzzers.

Wayne Miller says the effort cut the number of fresh-water mosquitoes, but their salt-water cousins continued to increase.

Experts say the salt-marsh variety is the most troublesome. They point out that fresh-water mosquitoes will fly about five miles for a meal. But salt-marsh species, the jumbo legs of mosquitoes, can fly 20 miles for their gram of flesh.

And while fresh-water mosquitoes live about a week, salt-marsh mosquitoes live two or three weeks.

Miller says five DC3 aircraft used on mosquito bombing runs came out back to back on three flights a day each to two.

"The pilots just can't take the pace—six hours of low-level flying every day," he says. "If we kept it up, it will become an unsafe operation."

Scherer says mosquitoes carried malaria and yellow fever in Florida's pioneer days, but they no longer present much of a health threat to humans.

"Major diseases from mosquitoes are rare today. The biggest problem is infections that develop from scratching mosquito bites," he says.

"Now animals are something else. We have problems from mosquitoes spreading horse encephalitis, and they cause heartworms in dogs."

Chess Brilliance In Matches

At the Candidates Chess Matches in Leningrad and Odessa were two ex-world champions (Boris Spassky and Tigran Petrosian), a brilliant youngster (Anatoly Karpov), a brilliant elder (Victor Korchnoi), and a brilliant second (Spassky's Igor Bondarevsky, an ex-Soviet champion whose sacrifices of three pieces in the game below was a highlight of the 1940 chess year). You cannot get more grandiose than that.

Picking a challenger for the world chess champion is serious, hectic business, not like, say, choosing a vice president of the United States. One who recognized the intrinsic grandeur of the game was the avant-garde painter Marcel Duchamp.

His "Nude Descending a Staircase," at New York's Armory Show of 1913, resulted in an historic uproar. In his Dana period, a few years later, he was just as sensational with a sculpture which critics later agreed was a urinal encased in a frame.

Soon thereafter Duchamp gave up art for chess, probably on the assumption there was no place to go but up. He played for France in the Olympiads and became a familiar figure in the New York chess scene.

At the Marshall Chess Club in Greenwich Village, I tried to get him talking about art, but he shook his head. "Chess," he said, "is better."

Of course he was right. No other game imbues one with a feeling for greatness, no matter how poor the player. The chessboard is a battleground of ideas and of the mind. Playing chess, you can work yourself up into thinking you're a king. The only thing you'll work up playing basketball or Ping-Pong is an honest sweat.

Emanuel Lasker, whose reign as world champion (1894-1921) brought him into contact with the great figures of his day, understood perfectly the majesty of chess—and the necessity for a certain type of behavior that rings a bell, today.

"Famous men have a very important function to fulfill," he wrote. "They have to attract attention to themselves, to keep it for a while, and finally to divert it to the thing that they represent." For their personality is a thing to be remembered forever—a thing that enlists sympathies, 31. Resists

USSR CHAMPIONSHIPS

Vasily Panov
Igor Bondarevsky

FRENCH DEFENSE

1. P-K4 P-K3
2. P-Q4 P-Q4
3. N-Q2 N-Q2
4. K-P2 K-P2
5. B-N5 B-N5
6. KN-B3 Q-K2
7. B-K2 N-B3
8. O-O N-B3
9. B-K1 B-K3
10. P-P2 B-P2
11. N-N3 N-O4
12. N(B)-Q4 N-O4
13. P-QB3 N-K3
14. P-KR3 N-B5
15. B-Q3 Q-R2
16. N-K2 Q-Q2
17. B-B4 P-Q2
18. P-B3 Q-P2
19. B-N3 Q-N5ch
20. K-B1 B-P2
21. K-B3 N-B3ch
22. K-B1 Q-B7ch
23. K-R1 R-K3
24. B-P2 Q-B8ch
25. K-K2 R-K3
26. B-P2 R-B3
27. B-P2ch R-B1
28. Q-Q8ch Q-K8
29. Q-Q8ch R-K1
30. N-N3 Q-B7ch
31. Resists

Florida Politicians Qualify For Upcoming Election Trial

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Chief Justice James Adkins and Justice Joseph Boyd of the Florida Supreme Court have qualified for reelection.

The justices, neither of them yet facing an opponent, qualified Friday. Their names will be on the nonpartisan judicial ballot in the Sept. 10 primary.

Republican William Muntzing, a Kissimmee lawyer, qualified as a candidate for state comptroller. Incumbent Comptroller Fred Dickinson, who has qualified for reelection, also has Democratic primary opposition from former state Sen. Gerald Lewis of Miami.

Dickinson announced appointment of Tallahassee developer Bill Carter as his campaign finance chairman and said the theme of his campaign would be "straight talk."

The children's paternal great uncle, Jake McCulloch, is a leader of the Indian community in Michigan. He claimed in the petition that a century-old rivalry gives his tribal council authority over all children of members.

Wiley is a cousin of the children's mother, who was a white woman.

The children's paternal great uncle, Jake McCulloch, is a leader of the Indian community in Michigan. He claimed in the petition that a century-old rivalry gives his tribal council authority over all children of members.

Indians Fight For Orphans

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A custody battle between Indian and white relatives of three orphans was qualified Friday. Their names will be on the nonpartisan judicial ballot in the Sept. 10 primary.

Republican William Muntzing, a Kissimmee lawyer, qualified as a candidate for state comptroller. Incumbent Comptroller Fred Dickinson, who has qualified for reelection, also has Democratic primary opposition from former state Sen. Gerald Lewis of Miami.

Dickinson announced appointment of Tallahassee developer Bill Carter as his campaign finance chairman and said the theme of his campaign would be "straight talk."

The children's paternal great uncle, Jake McCulloch, is a leader of the Indian community in Michigan. He claimed in the petition that a century-old rivalry gives his tribal council authority over all children of members.

Wiley is a cousin of the children's mother, who was a white woman.

The children's paternal great uncle, Jake McCulloch, is a leader of the Indian community in Michigan. He claimed in the petition that a century-old rivalry gives his tribal council authority over all children of members.

Flying M.D. Rescued But Dog Drowns

By MARK WEINTZ
Herald Staff Writer

Some people wonder how a magic man can pull a rabbit out of a hat, but two Casselberry bank tellers are wondering how a man could pocket $1,000 while they watched.

A man came into the Com Bank on U.S. 17-92 Friday with a fistful of twenty dollar bills. He wanted exchanged for a hundred dollar bill.

Well, that's not an unusual request so the first teller approached handed him one of the large bills, but he insisted on "one with special markings."

Before the teller knew it the man grabbed the whole stack of hundreds. She grabbed them back—the thought.

The man, still looking for that special bill, went to the next teller and pulled the same trick.

Again, when he grabbed the stack of hundred dollar bills she grabbed it back.

The man left the bank with his twenty and the two tellers, thinking he was just a bit odd, discounted the incident.

However, they later compared notes, and according to Casselberry Police Chief George Karcher, they decided to make a quick audit.

When they counted all their money they realized there was about $1,000 missing.

The FBI was called and other banks notified, but the slight-of-hand artist had disappeared.

Dice Decipher

IN THIS MAZE A PATH MUST BE CONSTRUCTED WHICH TRAVELS FROM ONE LETTER IN THE TOP BOUNDARY TO ANOTHER LETTER IN THE BOTTOM BOUNDARY. IN ORDER TO CONNECT THESE LETTERS A FOUR DIGIT NUMBER SEQUENCE MUST BE ESTABLISHED. (EXAMPLE: 2-4-1-3 OR 14-3-2-1-4 ETC.) ONLY HORIZONTAL AND VERTICAL MOVEMENT TO ADJACENT SQUARES ARE PERMITTED IN SOLVING THIS MAZE.

©1974. RYAN GAME COMPANY. CNS

(Solution on Page 4A)

Police Blotter

Sanford
Burglary Friday stole stereo tapes valued at $100 from the home of George Pivec, 17, of 428 Summerlin Ave.
Mark Watson, of 807 Cherokee Circle, Sanford, reported Friday with careless driving under the influence, in connection with an accident at 13th Street and Park Avenue with a car driven by Marie Hamilton Smith, 55, of 205 Jones Ave. Chandler, car sustained $150 damages, Spencer's yard $30.
Patricia Payne Chandler, 19, of 203 Hawkins Ave, Sanford, charged Friday with careless driving in connection with an accident at 13th Street and Park Avenue with a car driven by Marie Hamilton Smith, 55, of 205 Jones Ave. Chandler, car sustained $150 damages, Spencer's yard $30.

Keller Seeks Council Seat

The Citizens Committee of Deltona, now known as The Political Action Committee of Southwest Volusia County, has endorsed William E. Keller, of 33 Iris Lane, DeBary, as its candidate for the office of councilman representing District 5, Volusia County.

The committee, formed just two weeks ago, was organized to select a man or woman who would best qualify to work for the interests of the citizens in southwest Volusia County, mainly Deltona, and DeBary.

Keller will oppose George Beck of Edgewater serving as the Councilman of District 5, Volusia County on the Council.

Deltona-DeBary have never been represented on the Council.

Keller, a retired lineman and district supervisor of Plant and Engineering Department of Western Union has been a resident of Deltona since 1963 and was vice-president of the newly formed Volusia Tax and Legislative Protective Association, Inc., for four years.

He served as vice-chairman of the DeBary Public Affairs Council for two years and has now for the past two years been serving as chairman.

Keller is 72 years old. He and his wife Jessica, have one married son, Stephen, living in Wilmington, Del.

Seminole Calendar

July 15
Fern Park Fire Control District Board of Commissioners special meeting, 7:30 p.m., Fern Park Voluntary Fire Dept., 534 Highway 17-92, Fern Park.

July 15
Advanced Interior Design, 8 weeks, 7 p.m. to 10 p.m., $7.50 registration, call 323-1450, Ext. 303 for reservations.

Alcoholics closed meeting, Holy Cross Episcopal Church Parish House, 400 Magnolia Ave., 8-9 p.m.

Sanford At-Aton Family Group, Holy Cross Episcopal Church Parish House, 400 Magnolia Ave., 8-9 p.m.

July 16
Sanford Lions Club, noon House of Steak Speaker—Pete Ragadale of the Crime Lab.

Baltimore Police Enforced

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—More than 100 riot-equipped state troopers have been moved into Baltimore by Gov. Marvin Mandel to help nonstriking police patrol city streets and curb disturbances and looting.

Many of the city's police officers walked off their jobs in a contract dispute Thursday night. The strike was followed by looting and fires in several parts of the city.

City officials and representatives of the striking policemen and 3,000 other city employees who have left their jobs since a contract covering municipal workers expired June 30 are to meet again Friday after a late night session Friday.

Late Friday a police spokesman said the latest count of striking police was 487 out of a total 3,600-man force. Union officials claimed 1,300 men had joined the walkout.

The policemen's union is asking a top scale of $13,500; policemen now earn a maximum of $11,002.

The other city employees' unions are asking increases of at least 50 cents an hour. The city has offered about 20 cents. Most city employees now earn an average of between $3 and $4 an hour.

Hospital Notes

SANFORD
Sherrill Irwin, 21, of 201 E. Marks St., Orlando, arrested and charged with driving under the influence and without a driver's license. Posted $500 bond and released.

Paul Victor Lane, 42, of 2912 E. Marks St., Orlando, arrested for shoplifting Friday at Zayre's in Fern Park. Posted $100 bond.

Patricia Roker, 16, of 49 Castleberry Court, Sanford, arrested for shoplifting at Zayre's in Fern Park. Posted $100 bond.

Winter Springs
Joe Oates, 38, of 46 Hacienda Village arrested and charged with assault and battery. Posted $202 bond.

Seminole Calendar

July 15
Fern Park Fire Control District Board of Commissioners special meeting, 7:30 p.m., Fern Park Voluntary Fire Dept., 534 Highway 17-92, Fern Park.

July 15
Advanced Interior Design, 8 weeks, 7 p.m. to 10 p.m., $7.50 registration, call 323-1450, Ext. 303 for reservations.

Alcoholics closed meeting, Holy Cross Episcopal Church Parish House, 400 Magnolia Ave., 8-9 p.m.

Sanford At-Aton Family Group, Holy Cross Episcopal Church Parish House, 400 Magnolia Ave., 8-9 p.m.

July 16
Sanford Lions Club, noon House of Steak Speaker—Pete Ragadale of the Crime Lab.

Police Blotter

Sanford
Burglary Friday stole stereo tapes valued at $100 from the home of George Pivec, 17, of 428 Summerlin Ave.
Mark Watson, of 807 Cherokee Circle, Sanford, reported Friday with careless driving under the influence, in connection with an accident at 13th Street and Park Avenue with a car driven by Marie Hamilton Smith, 55, of 205 Jones Ave. Chandler, car sustained $150 damages, Spencer's yard $30.
Patricia Payne Chandler, 19, of 203 Hawkins Ave, Sanford, charged Friday with careless driving in connection with an accident at 13th Street and Park Avenue with a car driven by Marie Hamilton Smith, 55, of 205 Jones Ave. Chandler, car sustained $150 damages, Spencer's yard $30.

Keller Seeks Council Seat

The Citizens Committee of Deltona, now known as The Political Action Committee of Southwest Volusia County, has endorsed William E. Keller, of 33 Iris Lane, DeBary, as its candidate for the office of councilman representing District 5, Volusia County.

The committee, formed just two weeks ago, was organized to select a man or woman who would best qualify to work for the interests of the citizens in southwest Volusia County, mainly Deltona, and DeBary.

Keller will oppose George Beck of Edgewater serving as the Councilman of District 5, Volusia County on the Council.

Deltona-DeBary have never been represented on the Council.

Keller, a retired lineman and district supervisor of Plant and Engineering Department of Western Union has been a resident of Deltona since 1963 and was vice-president of the newly formed Volusia Tax and Legislative Protective Association, Inc., for four years.

He served as vice-chairman of the DeBary Public Affairs Council for two years and has now for the past two years been serving as chairman.

Keller is 72 years old. He and his wife Jessica, have one married son, Stephen, living in Wilmington, Del.

Seminole Calendar

July 15
Fern Park Fire Control District Board of Commissioners special meeting, 7:30 p.m., Fern Park Voluntary Fire Dept., 534 Highway 17-92, Fern Park.

July 15
Advanced Interior Design, 8 weeks, 7 p.m. to 10 p.m., $7.50 registration, call 323-1450, Ext. 303 for reservations.

Alcoholics closed meeting, Holy Cross Episcopal Church Parish House, 400 Magnolia Ave., 8-9 p.m.

Sanford At-Aton Family Group, Holy Cross Episcopal Church Parish House, 400 Magnolia Ave., 8-9 p.m.

July 16
Sanford Lions Club, noon House of Steak Speaker—Pete Ragadale of the Crime Lab.

Hospital Notes

SANFORD
Sherrill Irwin, 21, of 201 E. Marks St., Orlando, arrested and charged with driving under the influence and without a driver's license. Posted $500 bond and released.

Paul Victor Lane, 42, of 2912 E. Marks St., Orlando, arrested for shoplifting Friday at Zayre's in Fern Park. Posted $100 bond.

Patricia Roker, 16, of 49 Castleberry Court, Sanford, arrested for shoplifting at Zayre's in Fern Park. Posted $100 bond.

Winter Springs
Joe Oates, 38, of 46 Hacienda Village arrested and charged with assault and battery. Posted $202 bond.

Seminole Calendar

July 15
Fern Park Fire Control District Board of Commissioners special meeting, 7:30 p.m., Fern Park Voluntary Fire Dept., 534 Highway 17-92, Fern Park.

July 15
Advanced Interior Design, 8 weeks, 7 p.m. to 10 p.m., $7.50 registration, call 323-1450, Ext. 303 for reservations.

Alcoholics closed meeting, Holy Cross Episcopal Church Parish House, 400 Magnolia Ave., 8-9 p.m.

Sanford At-Aton Family Group, Holy Cross Episcopal Church Parish House, 400 Magnolia Ave., 8-9 p.m.

July 16
Sanford Lions Club, noon House of Steak Speaker—Pete Ragadale of the Crime Lab.

Police Blotter

Sanford
Burglary Friday stole stereo tapes valued at $100 from the home of George Pivec, 17, of 428 Summerlin Ave.
Mark Watson, of 807 Cherokee Circle, Sanford, reported Friday with careless driving under the influence, in connection with an accident at 13th Street and Park Avenue with a car driven by Marie Hamilton Smith, 55, of 205 Jones Ave. Chandler, car sustained $150 damages, Spencer's yard $30.
Patricia Payne Chandler, 19, of 203 Hawkins Ave, Sanford, charged Friday with careless driving in connection with an accident at 13th Street and Park Avenue with a car driven by Marie Hamilton Smith, 55, of 205 Jones Ave. Chandler, car sustained $150 damages, Spencer's yard $30.

Keller Seeks Council Seat

The Citizens Committee of Deltona, now known as The Political Action Committee of Southwest Volusia County, has endorsed William E. Keller, of 33 Iris Lane, DeBary, as its candidate for the office of councilman representing District 5, Volusia County.

The committee, formed just two weeks ago, was organized to select a man or woman who would best qualify to work for the interests of the citizens in southwest Volusia County, mainly Deltona, and DeBary.

Keller will oppose George Beck of Edgewater serving as the Councilman of District 5, Volusia County on the Council.

Deltona-DeBary have never been represented on the Council.

Keller, a retired lineman and district supervisor of Plant and Engineering Department of Western Union has been a resident of Deltona since 1963 and was vice-president of the newly formed Volusia Tax and Legislative Protective Association, Inc., for four years.

He served as vice-chairman of the DeBary Public Affairs Council for two years and has now for the past two years been serving as chairman.

Keller is 72 years old. He and his wife Jessica, have one married son, Stephen, living in Wilmington, Del.

Seminole Calendar

July 15
Fern Park Fire Control District Board of Commissioners special meeting, 7:30 p.m., Fern Park Voluntary Fire Dept., 534 Highway 17-92, Fern Park.

July 15
Advanced Interior Design, 8 weeks, 7 p.m. to 10 p.m., $7.50 registration, call 323-1450, Ext. 303 for reservations.

Alcoholics closed meeting, Holy Cross Episcopal Church Parish House, 400 Magnolia Ave., 8-9 p.m.

Sanford At-Aton Family Group, Holy Cross Episcopal Church Parish House, 400 Magnolia Ave., 8-9 p.m.

July 16
Sanford Lions Club, noon House of Steak Speaker—Pete Ragadale of the Crime Lab.

FOUR DAY SALE

PRICES GOOD THRU WEDNESDAY DAILY 9 TO 9 SUNDAY 10 TO 7

America's Family Drug Stores

ECKERD DRUGS

master charge

PEOPLE TRUST ECKERD'S... for quality prescriptions at low, low prices! (Over TWO MILLION last month alone!)

GALAXY 3 SPEED FAN

FINGERTOP CONTROL, WHISPER QUIET PERFORMANCE, TAMPER PROOF GRILL

REG. 24.99

19.99 MODEL 3150

SWEDISH TANNING SECRET

4 OZ. LOTION

REG. 1.49

99¢ LIMIT ONE

"TAKE-A-LONG" PORTABLE GRILL

EASILY ADJUSTABLE GRILL - FOLDS FOR LIGHTWEIGHT PORTABILITY - HEAVY GAUGE METAL - MODEL 503

REG. 2.19

1.77

PROTEIN 21 HAIR SPRAY

13 OZ. EXTRA HOLD, REG. EXTRA HOLD UNSCENTED, REG. 1.39

LIMIT ONE

99¢

FOOT GUARD

BY RIGHT GUARD - 6 OZ. REG. OR CLEAR - LIMIT 1

REG. 1.49

77¢

BOTTLE OF THIRTY THERAGRAN M OR PLAIN

14 1/2 OZ. SPRAY

REG. 1.49

79¢ LIMIT ONE

FLASH CUBES

3 OZ. EXTRA HOLD, REG. EXTRA HOLD UNSCENTED, REG. 1.39

LIMIT ONE

89¢

DRY MOUNT PHOTO ALUM

ASSORTED COLORS REG. 2.89

REG. 1.88

1.88

OFF INSECT REPELLANT

REG. 1.39

99¢

FLASH CUBES

3 OZ. EXTRA HOLD, REG. EXTRA HOLD UNSCENTED, REG. 1.39

LIMIT ONE

89¢

DRY MOUNT PHOTO ALUM

ASSORTED COLORS REG. 2.89

REG. 1.88

1.88

OFF INSECT REPELLANT

REG. 1.39

99¢

PEARSONS CANDIES

REG. 59¢

49¢

MINT PARFAIT LICORICE NIPS, CHOCOLATE PARFAIT, COFFEE NIPS, COFFICHA

ACETATE TWILL (REG. 99¢)

69¢

COUPON

CUT-OUT COUPON AND SAVE!

SECRET ANTI-PERSPIRANT

WITHOUT COUPON REG. 9 OZ. - LIMIT ONE

69¢

ECKERD DRUGS

TRIPLE TOP SERVING PITCHER

REG. 99¢

79¢

PEARSONS CANDIES

REG. 59¢

49¢

MINT PARFAIT LICORICE NIPS, CHOCOLATE PARFAIT, COFFEE NIPS, COFFICHA

COUPON

CUT-OUT COUPON AND SAVE!

PRELL SHAMPOO

3 OZ. TUBE - LIMIT ONE

59¢

ECKERD DRUGS</

NATION TODAY

Trail Testimony Ends

CHICAGO (AP) — Lillian K. Ware of Evanston has regained the deed to her $25,000 home, taken by real estate speculators for $59.81 in back taxes. Mrs. Ware had to buy her home back from the two lawyers who had purchased it at a tax sale. The amount it cost to regain the deed was not disclosed, but Mrs. Ware's attorney said it was between $7,000 and $10,000. The Evanston chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People helped raise the funds.

Deaf-Mute Accuses Duo

DETROIT (AP) — A 10-year-old girl, a virtual deaf-mute since birth, pointed an accusing finger at two men charged with the murder of her mother. Phyllisene "Fenny" Spencer is believed to be the only eyewitness to the stabbing and strangulation of her mother, Ruby Spencer, last January 17. Using sign language and some pictures drawn on a blackboard, Fenny's special education teacher translated questions put to the girl by attorneys on Friday. The girl pointed at the two defendants, Elijah Rossell, 50, and James Lawson, 26, both of Detroit, when asked if her mother's assailants were in the courtroom.

He Becomes 'Crazy Jim'

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — James L. Groh's name has been changed legally to "Crazy Jim" and that's the way he says he wants it to appear on the ballot in the November gubernatorial election. The 40-year-old used car dealer had his name legally changed to "Crazy Jim" in Milwaukee County Circuit Court. Jim said he would file for election along with other independent candidates next month and that he already had strong support in his first bid to get on the ballot for public office. Jim said the main plank of his campaign platform would be legalization of gambling as a way of cutting taxes. "We should legalize a few things and let the people live," he said.

Okapi Love

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco pleasurer Ralph is on his way to Chicago to make life more pleasant for three spinster okapis. Ralph is the San Francisco Zoo's okapi, an animal similar to a giraffe but smaller and rarer. His trade to Chicago's Brookfield Zoo was approved this week by the San Francisco Recreation and Park Commission. The Brookfield Zoo must give the San Francisco Zoo a minimum of $30,000 worth of animals and pick of the litter from any okapi offspring. The Chicago zoo has three female okapis.

WORLD TODAY

S. Vietnamese Elections

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — More than a thousand candidates will contest seats on provincial and municipal councils Sunday following a two-week election campaign that stressed economic and corruption issues and largely ignored the war. Some opposition candidates complained of government harassment during the campaign, but the government denied the charges. The Viet Cong claimed the elections violate the spirit of the Paris peace agreement.

Japanese Resignations

TOKYO (AP) — Informed sources said today Finance Minister Takeo Fukuda, a longtime rival of Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka and a critic of his economic policies, plans to become the second cabinet member since Thursday to quit the two-year-old government. The sources said Fukuda would resign shortly to prepare for another challenge to Tanaka's leadership of the Liberal Democratic party next spring. The president of the ruling party becomes prime minister. On Thursday, Takeo Miki resigned as deputy premier and director general of Japan's environment agency.

Korean Death Sentences

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Dissident poet Kim Chi-ha and six other persons were sentenced to death today as a military court wound up its case against 53 Koreans accused of plotting mass uprisings to overthrow President Chung Hee Park. Earlier this week seven others were condemned to die in the same case. The government accused the defendants of taking part in a plot allegedly engineered by an underground student federation and aimed at establishing a Communist regime in the country.

Palestinians To U.N.

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Despite opposition from Israel and South African delegates, the United Nations sea conference will let the Palestine Liberation Organization and 11 other national liberation fronts attend the meeting as observers. The conference agreed Friday without a formal vote to invite the groups to attend, but without voting rights.

Petersen Testimony Aids Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Asst. Atty. Gen. Henry Petersen, who was in charge of the original Watergate investigation, has told the House impeachment inquiry he has never received any information involving President Nixon in a cover-up. Petersen, who testified before the House Judiciary Committee, was described by some Republican members as the laziest witness for Nixon the committee has heard in its impeachment inquiry.

Rep. Charles Sandman, R-N.J., said he asked Petersen whether he had ever received any information, up to the present moment, indicating Nixon was involved in covering up the Watergate scandal. "He said clearly, 'no,'" Sandman told newsmen after Petersen's closed-door testimony.

The boost given to Nixon's impeachment defense by Petersen's testimony was offset in the view of some members by Rep. Robert McCloy, R-Ill., said Ehrlichman's conviction "doesn't help. The fact someone so close to the President was convicted in a Watergate-related matter that is also the subject of our inquiry is going to have an adverse effect as far as the President's welfare is concerned."

Rep. Hamilton Fish, R-N.Y., a Republican who is considered a possible vote for impeachment, said he thought an acquittal for Ehrlichman "would have been a setback for the impeachment."

But Nixon's lawyer, James D. St. Clair, disagreed. "I just learned of the verdict," he told newsmen as he emerged from a committee session. "I don't believe it has any effect on these proceedings."

Petersen's statement that Nixon was not involved in a cover-up was received with skepticism by Rep. George Danielson, D-Calif. "There is a lot of information Petersen didn't receive," said Danielson. "He wasn't privy to everything the President knew, only what the President told him."

Members said one of the points Petersen was questioned at length about was his furnishing of information about the Watergate investigation to Nixon, which Nixon passed on to Ehrlichman and H.R. Halde- man, Nixon's former chief of staff. Both men allegedly were implicated in the affair according to the information. Informed sources reported that advisers have told Nixon that the Judiciary Committee probably will vote a bill of impeachment, and one source said Nixon shares that expectation.

Deputy White House Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren had told newsmen earlier that both St. Clair and Nixon expected an impeachment recommendation from the panel. But St. Clair disputed any notion that he or the President had reached any conclusion, and Warren then backed down, saying there had been "a misunderstanding" on his part.

The committee is due to start considering proposed articles of impeachment on Monday, July 22. The committee's debate and voting will be open to the public, and press, but not to live television coverage.

In related developments Friday:

Vice President Gerald R. Ford said in Albuquerque, N.M., that the preponderance of the Judiciary Committee's Watergate cover-up evidence, when added to previous evidence, favors the President "and exonerates him of any impeachable offense."

It may be, as the song says, a long, long way from May to December, but it's even longer when you haven't won a baseball game from October to July.

The last time Dick Williams' team won a game it made the Oakland A's world champions last October. Friday night, Williams' new team—the California Angels—finally won one. After taking a 10-count under their new skipper, they got off the floor and flattened the Boston Red Sox 7-0.

Actually, the Angels had dropped a club record 11 in a row, but the streak started under interim manager Whitney Herzog.

"At least we finally got our first one," Williams said. "That's the first one of what I hope will be many."

Elsewhere, the Cleveland Indians whipped the Minnesota Twins 5-0, the Chicago White Sox nipped the Baltimore Orioles 4-0, the New York Yankees blanked Oakland 3-0, the Kansas City Royals drubbed the Detroit Tigers 7-2 and the Texas Rangers edged the Milwaukee Brewers 4-3.

The Angels won behind the 10-hit pitching of rookie Ed Figueroa and home runs by Winston Lenas and Frank Robinson.

Indiana's 5, Twins 5: Charlie Spikes spearheaded a 15-hit Cleveland attack, driving in three runs with a single, double, home run and sacrifice fly. The Indians took a 4-0 lead in the first inning, chasing Minnesota starter Ray Corbin. Jim Perry pitched seven innings for his ninth victory. One of the hits he allowed was a home run by Larry Hise.

White Sox 4, Orioles 3: Ed Herrmann's run-scoring double with two out in the ninth inning enabled the White Sox to nip the Orioles. Bill Sharnack walked with two out and came home on Herrmann's drive into the left field corner. The Orioles trailed 3-0 after one inning but caught up on Jim Fuller's solo home run in the seventh and a two-run shot by Bobby Grich in the eighth.

Yankees 3, A's 0: Pat Dobson pitched two singles from Lou Piniella. Roy White and Bobby Murcer. Dobson walked two and struck out seven in ending a personal three-game losing streak.

New York made it five of six against the A's while Dobson turned back the world champs for the third time this season.

Royals 7, Tigers 2: Steve Busby scattered 10 hits and blanked Detroit after the first inning. The Royals tied the score against Mickey Lolich in the fourth.

They took a 3-2 lead in the fifth on Kurt Bevacqua's single, a stolen base, a wild pitch and Otis sacrifice fly and scored three more runs in the sixth.

Rangers 4, Brewers 3: Jim Fregosi's run-scoring single capped a three-run first inning and Jeff Burroughs homered in the third, leading Texas over Milwaukee. Alex Johnson turned back the world champs for the first time since he and another scored on a wild pitch by Clyde Wright. Pedro Garcia homered for one of the Brewer's runs.

While Orlando's entry in the World Football League wasn't the best premier performance ever staged, neither was the worst, but like the man who ordered a "cold" beer when it shows up only cold he may talk at receiving it, switch brands or wailing hoses depending on how he views the situation.

Nearly 60,000 showed up at the Gator Bowl to watch the Sharks play the New York Stars. That's good for anyone's league, and with overall attendance averaging 41,000 for the first six games of the infant league, that's darn good. And I don't think there were more than a couple of crab apples in the bunch who expected to see the best of football under the NFL's hurried circumstances.

The question remains how many will show up next game? Starting a sports team is a losing proposition, but the owners want to minimize their losses as best they can. How can that be accomplished in Orlando?

Obviously, the best way is to get more people out to the Tangerine Bowl.

Advertising — word of mouth from one neighbor to the next — is best, but no one is really sure whether those first nighters in Orlando will return and bring a friend with them. Heaven knows there's enough room for a lot of friends to show up the next home game.

Maintaining a winning record is another sure-fire method of getting crowd attention. But the Blazers aren't the class of the league, and losses will come; so that idea even with its obvious merits has an even greater drawback if the Blazers are depending on winning their way into the hearts of Central Floridians.

The Mets proved the way that of attitude. And even more to the point; the Denver Broncos, before they began advertising — word of mouth from one fan to the next — had some of the best fan support in pro football. The Blazers don't have the "Big Name" drawing cards. All that I can remember about Bob Davis was he was Joe Namath's back. If he's backed up any further I wouldn't have known who he was, even with such a big name in front of him. But

I'll bet if they do succeed it'll be because they take their team around to the big stadiums until they get one of their own in Orlando.

Well, smartly, what's left for the Blazers to try? Just hang on and hope they get some magic pollen to put in Orlando's water reservoir to compel people to come watch them play. Mayor Carl Langford wouldn't like that. I wouldn't like that, but probably because he would want "taste very good. Nothing good for you ever does, I'm told. So, what next genius?"

"Go Regional young team, go regional!" You remember Ronnie Loud's early proselytizing on the part of pro football in central Florida. He coined the term a regional Florida team from Jacksonville to Tampa. Well, Ronnie missed on the Jacksonville end of it when Fran Monico got his Sharks there — and they are firmly entrenched after one game if such statistics don't lie.

Tampa is virgin ground for football. The NFL won't show its shining face until 1976, and the Blazers are going to have to draw some people from that area if they hope to continue to make it in Central Florida.

I say you can expect an announcement anytime now — at least after the next home game — the Blazers will be playing some if not a majority of their home games in stadiums other than the T-Bowl. They've got to make money to pay for those pretty orange and blue footballs somewhere, and Orlando doesn't appear to be ready to do the bill.

Of course, I could be wrong. I have a pretty good track record on that point. But, as we all know, sports franchises aren't static. We were told this one wouldn't try to be static. It is a regional concept. Mr. Loud and company are continually cutting it having some of the best fan support in pro football. The Blazers don't have the "Big Name" drawing cards. All that I can remember about Bob Davis was he was Joe Namath's back. If he's backed up any further I wouldn't have known who he was, even with such a big name in front of him. But

While Orlando's entry in the World Football League wasn't the best premier performance ever staged, neither was the worst, but like the man who ordered a "cold" beer when it shows up only cold he may talk at receiving it, switch brands or wailing hoses depending on how he views the situation.

Nearly 60,000 showed up at the Gator Bowl to watch the Sharks play the New York Stars. That's good for anyone's league, and with overall attendance averaging 41,000 for the first six games of the infant league, that's darn good. And I don't think there were more than a couple of crab apples in the bunch who expected to see the best of football under the NFL's hurried circumstances.

The question remains how many will show up next game? Starting a sports team is a losing proposition, but the owners want to minimize their losses as best they can. How can that be accomplished in Orlando?

Obviously, the best way is to get more people out to the Tangerine Bowl.

Advertising — word of mouth from one neighbor to the next — is best, but no one is really sure whether those first nighters in Orlando will return and bring a friend with them. Heaven knows there's enough room for a lot of friends to show up the next home game.

Maintaining a winning record is another sure-fire method of getting crowd attention. But the Blazers aren't the class of the league, and losses will come; so that idea even with its obvious merits has an even greater drawback if the Blazers are depending on winning their way into the hearts of Central Floridians.

The Mets proved the way that of attitude. And even more to the point; the Denver Broncos, before they began advertising — word of mouth from one fan to the next — had some of the best fan support in pro football. The Blazers don't have the "Big Name" drawing cards. All that I can remember about Bob Davis was he was Joe Namath's back. If he's backed up any further I wouldn't have known who he was, even with such a big name in front of him. But

I'll bet if they do succeed it'll be because they take their team around to the big stadiums until they get one of their own in Orlando.

Well, smartly, what's left for the Blazers to try? Just hang on and hope they get some magic pollen to put in Orlando's water reservoir to compel people to come watch them play. Mayor Carl Langford wouldn't like that. I wouldn't like that, but probably because he would want "taste very good. Nothing good for you ever does, I'm told. So, what next genius?"

"Go Regional young team, go regional!" You remember Ronnie Loud's early proselytizing on the part of pro football in central Florida. He coined the term a regional Florida team from Jacksonville to Tampa. Well, Ronnie missed on the Jacksonville end of it when Fran Monico got his Sharks there — and they are firmly entrenched after one game if such statistics don't lie.

Tampa is virgin ground for football. The NFL won't show its shining face until 1976, and the Blazers are going to have to draw some people from that area if they hope to continue to make it in Central Florida.

I say you can expect an announcement anytime now — at least after the next home game — the Blazers will be playing some if not a majority of their home games in stadiums other than the T-Bowl. They've got to make money to pay for those pretty orange and blue footballs somewhere, and Orlando doesn't appear to be ready to do the bill.

Of course, I could be wrong. I have a pretty good track record on that point. But, as we all know, sports franchises aren't static. We were told this one wouldn't try to be static. It is a regional concept. Mr. Loud and company are continually cutting it having some of the best fan support in pro football. The Blazers don't have the "Big Name" drawing cards. All that I can remember about Bob Davis was he was Joe Namath's back. If he's backed up any further I wouldn't have known who he was, even with such a big name in front of him. But

I'll bet if they do succeed it'll be because they take their team around to the big stadiums until they get one of their own in Orlando.

Well, smartly, what's left for the Blazers to try? Just hang on and hope they get some magic pollen to put in Orlando's water reservoir to compel people to come watch them play. Mayor Carl Langford wouldn't like that. I wouldn't like that, but probably because he would want "taste very good. Nothing good for you ever does, I'm told. So, what next genius?"

"Go Regional young team, go regional!" You remember Ronnie Loud's early proselytizing on the part of pro football in central Florida. He coined the term a regional Florida team from Jacksonville to Tampa. Well, Ronnie missed on the Jacksonville end of it when Fran Monico got his Sharks there — and they are firmly entrenched after one game if such statistics don't lie.

Tampa is virgin ground for football. The NFL won't show its shining face until 1976, and the Blazers are going to have to draw some people from that area if they hope to continue to make it in Central Florida.

I say you can expect an announcement anytime now — at least after the next home game — the Blazers will be playing some if not a majority of their home games in stadiums other than the T-Bowl. They've got to make money to pay for those pretty orange and blue footballs somewhere, and Orlando doesn't appear to be ready to do the bill.

Of course, I could be wrong. I have a pretty good track record on that point. But, as we all know, sports franchises aren't static. We were told this one wouldn't try to be static. It is a regional concept. Mr. Loud and company are continually cutting it having some of the best fan support in pro football. The Blazers don't have the "Big Name" drawing cards. All that I can remember about Bob Davis was he was Joe Namath's back. If he's backed up any further I wouldn't have known who he was, even with such a big name in front of him. But

I'll bet if they do succeed it'll be because they take their team around to the big stadiums until they get one of their own in Orlando.

Well, smartly, what's left for the Blazers to try? Just hang on and hope they get some magic pollen to put in Orlando's water reservoir to compel people to come watch them play. Mayor Carl Langford wouldn't like that. I wouldn't like that, but probably because he would want "taste very good. Nothing good for you ever does, I'm told. So, what next genius?"

"Go Regional young team, go regional!" You remember Ronnie Loud's early proselytizing on the part of pro football in central Florida. He coined the term a regional Florida team from Jacksonville to Tampa. Well, Ronnie missed on the Jacksonville end of it when Fran Monico got his Sharks there — and they are firmly entrenched after one game if such statistics don't lie.

Tampa is virgin ground for football. The NFL won't show its shining face until 1976, and the Blazers are going to have to draw some people from that area if they hope to continue to make it in Central Florida.

I say you can expect an announcement anytime now — at least after the next home game — the Blazers will be playing some if not a majority of their home games in stadiums other than the T-Bowl. They've got to make money to pay for those pretty orange and blue footballs somewhere, and Orlando doesn't appear to be ready to do the bill.

Of course, I could be wrong. I have a pretty good track record on that point. But, as we all know, sports franchises aren't static. We were told this one wouldn't try to be static. It is a regional concept. Mr. Loud and company are continually cutting it having some of the best fan support in pro football. The Blazers don't have the "Big Name" drawing cards. All that I can remember about Bob Davis was he was Joe Namath's back. If he's backed up any further I wouldn't have known who he was, even with such a big name in front of him. But

I'll bet if they do succeed it'll be because they take their team around to the big stadiums until they get one of their own in Orlando.

Well, smartly, what's left for the Blazers to try? Just hang on and hope they get some magic pollen to put in Orlando's water reservoir to compel people to come watch them play. Mayor Carl Langford wouldn't like that. I wouldn't like that, but probably because he would want "taste very good. Nothing good for you ever does, I'm told. So, what next genius?"

"Go Regional young team, go regional!" You remember Ronnie Loud's early proselytizing on the part of pro football in central Florida. He coined the term a regional Florida team from Jacksonville to Tampa. Well, Ronnie missed on the Jacksonville end of it when Fran Monico got his Sharks there — and they are firmly entrenched after one game if such statistics don't lie.

Tampa is virgin ground for football. The NFL won't show its shining face until 1976, and the Blazers are going to have to draw some people from that area if they hope to continue to make it in Central Florida.

I say you can expect an announcement anytime now — at least after the next home game — the Blazers will be playing some if not a majority of their home games in stadiums other than the T-Bowl. They've got to make money to pay for those pretty orange and blue footballs somewhere, and Orlando doesn't appear to be ready to do the bill.

Of course, I could be wrong. I have a pretty good track record on that point. But, as we all know, sports franchises aren't static. We were told this one wouldn't try to be static. It is a regional concept. Mr. Loud and company are continually cutting it having some of the best fan support in pro football. The Blazers don't have the "Big Name" drawing cards. All that I can remember about Bob Davis was he was Joe Namath's back. If he's backed up any further I wouldn't have known who he was, even with such a big name in front of him. But

I'll bet if they do succeed it'll be because they take their team around to the big stadiums until they get one of their own in Orlando.

Well, smartly, what's left for the Blazers to try? Just hang on and hope they get some magic pollen to put in Orlando's water reservoir to compel people to come watch them play. Mayor Carl Langford wouldn't like that. I wouldn't like that, but probably because he would want "taste very good. Nothing good for you ever does, I'm told. So, what next genius?"

"Go Regional young team, go regional!" You remember Ronnie Loud's early proselytizing on the part of pro football in central Florida. He coined the term a regional Florida team from Jacksonville to Tampa. Well, Ronnie missed on the Jacksonville end of it when Fran Monico got his Sharks there — and they are firmly entrenched after one game if such statistics don't lie.

Tampa is virgin ground for football. The NFL won't show its shining face until 1976, and the Blazers are going to have to draw some people from that area if they hope to continue to make it in Central Florida.

I say you can expect an announcement anytime now — at least after the next home game — the Blazers will be playing some if not a majority of their home games in stadiums other than the T-Bowl. They've got to make money to pay for those pretty orange and blue footballs somewhere, and Orlando doesn't appear to be ready to do the bill.

Of course, I could be wrong. I have a pretty good track record on that point. But, as we all know, sports franchises aren't static. We were told this one wouldn't try to be static. It is a regional concept. Mr. Loud and company are continually cutting it having some of the best fan support in pro football. The Blazers don't have the "Big Name" drawing cards. All that I can remember about Bob Davis was he was Joe Namath's back. If he's backed up any further I wouldn't have known who he was, even with such a big name in front of him. But

I'll bet if they do succeed it'll be because they take their team around to the big stadiums until they get one of their own in Orlando.

Well, smartly, what's left for the Blazers to try? Just hang on and hope they get some magic pollen to put in Orlando's water reservoir to compel people to come watch them play. Mayor Carl Langford wouldn't like that. I wouldn't like that, but probably because he would want "taste very good. Nothing good for you ever does, I'm told. So, what next genius?"

"Go Regional young team, go regional!" You remember Ronnie Loud's early proselytizing on the part of pro football in central Florida. He coined the term a regional Florida team from Jacksonville to Tampa. Well, Ronnie missed on the Jacksonville end of it when Fran Monico got his Sharks there — and they are firmly entrenched after one game if such statistics don't lie.

Tampa is virgin ground for football. The NFL won't show its shining face until 1976, and the Blazers are going to have to draw some people from that area if they hope to continue to make it in Central Florida.

I say you can expect an announcement anytime now — at least after the next home game — the Blazers will be playing some if not a majority of their home games in stadiums other than the T-Bowl. They've got to make money to pay for those pretty orange and blue footballs somewhere, and Orlando doesn't appear to be ready to do the bill.

Of course, I could be wrong. I have a pretty good track record on that point. But, as we all know, sports franchises aren't static. We were told this one wouldn't try to be static. It is a regional concept. Mr. Loud and company are continually cutting it having some of the best fan support in pro football. The Blazers don't have the "Big Name" drawing cards. All that I can remember about Bob Davis was he was Joe Namath's back. If he's backed up any further I wouldn't have known who he was, even with such a big name in front of him. But

I'll bet if they do succeed it'll be because they take their team around to the big stadiums until they get one of their own in Orlando.

Well, smartly, what's left for the Blazers to try? Just hang on and hope they get some magic pollen to put in Orlando's water reservoir to compel people to come watch them play. Mayor Carl Langford wouldn't like that. I wouldn't like that, but probably because he would want "taste very good. Nothing good for you ever does, I'm told. So, what next genius?"

"Go Regional young team, go regional!" You remember Ronnie Loud's early proselytizing on the part of pro football in central Florida. He coined the term a regional Florida team from Jacksonville to Tampa. Well, Ronnie missed on the Jacksonville end of it when Fran Monico got his Sharks there — and they are firmly entrenched after one game if such statistics don't lie.

Tampa is virgin ground for football. The NFL won't show its shining face until 1976, and the Blazers are going to have to draw some people from that area if they hope to continue to make it in Central Florida.

I say you can expect an announcement anytime now — at least after the next home game — the Blazers will be playing some if not a majority of their home games in stadiums other than the T-Bowl. They've got to make money to pay for those pretty orange and blue footballs somewhere, and Orlando doesn't appear to be ready to do the bill.

Of course, I could be wrong. I have a pretty good track record on that point. But, as we all know, sports franchises aren't static. We were told this one wouldn't try to be static. It is a regional concept. Mr. Loud and company are continually cutting it having some of the best fan support in pro football. The Blazers don't have the "Big Name" drawing cards. All that I can remember about Bob Davis was he was Joe Namath's back. If he's backed up any further I wouldn't have known who he was, even with such a big name in front of him. But

I'll bet if they do succeed it'll be because they take their team around to the big stadiums until they get one of their own in Orlando.

Well, smartly, what's left for the Blazers to try? Just hang on and hope they get some magic pollen to put in Orlando's water reservoir to compel people to come watch them play. Mayor Carl Langford wouldn't like that. I wouldn't like that, but probably because he would want "taste very good. Nothing good for you ever does, I'm told. So, what next genius?"

"Go Regional young team, go regional!" You remember Ronnie Loud's early proselytizing on the part of pro football in central Florida. He coined the term a regional Florida team from Jacksonville to Tampa. Well, Ronnie missed on the Jacksonville end of it when Fran Monico got his Sharks there — and they are firmly entrenched after one game if such statistics don't lie.

Tampa is virgin ground for football. The NFL won't show its shining face until 1976, and the Blazers are going to have to draw some people from that area if they hope to continue to make it in Central Florida.

I say you can expect an announcement anytime now — at least after the next home game — the Blazers will be playing some if not a majority of their home games in stadiums other than the T-Bowl. They've got to make money to pay for those pretty orange and blue footballs somewhere, and Orlando doesn't appear to be ready to do the bill.

Of course, I could be wrong. I have a pretty good track record on that point. But, as we all know, sports franchises aren't static. We were told this one wouldn't try to be static. It is a regional concept. Mr. Loud and company are continually cutting it having some of the best fan support in pro football. The Blazers don't have the "Big Name" drawing cards. All that I can remember about Bob Davis was he was Joe Namath's back. If he's backed up any further I wouldn't have known who he was, even with such a big name in front of him. But

I'll bet if they do succeed it'll be because they take their team around to the big stadiums until they get one of their own in Orlando.

Well, smartly, what's left for the Blazers to try? Just hang on and hope they get some magic pollen to put in Orlando's water reservoir to compel people to come watch them play. Mayor Carl Langford wouldn't like that. I wouldn't like that, but probably because he would want "taste very good. Nothing good for you ever does, I'm told. So, what next genius?"

"Go Regional young team, go regional!" You remember Ronnie Loud's early proselytizing on the part of pro football in central Florida. He coined the term a regional Florida team from Jacksonville to Tampa. Well, Ronnie missed on the Jacksonville end of it when Fran Monico got his Sharks there — and they are firmly entrenched after one game if such statistics don't lie.

Tampa is virgin ground for football. The NFL won't show its shining face until 1976, and the Blazers are going to have to draw some people from that area if they hope to continue to make it in Central Florida.

I say you can expect an announcement anytime now — at least after the next home game — the Blazers will be playing some if not a majority of their home games in stadiums other than the T-Bowl. They've got to make money to pay for those pretty orange and blue footballs somewhere, and Orlando doesn't appear to be ready to do the bill.

Of course, I could be wrong. I have a pretty good track record on that point. But, as we all know, sports franchises aren't static. We were told this one wouldn't try to be static. It is a regional concept. Mr. Loud and company are continually cutting it having some of the best fan support in pro football. The Blazers don't have the "Big Name" drawing cards. All that I can remember about Bob Davis was he was Joe Namath's back. If he's backed up any further I wouldn't have known who he was, even with such a big name in front of him. But

I'll bet if they do succeed it'll be because they take their team around to the big stadiums until they get one of their own in Orlando.

Well, smartly, what's left for the Blazers to try? Just hang on and hope they get some magic pollen to put in Orlando's water reservoir to compel people to come watch them play. Mayor Carl Langford wouldn't like that. I wouldn't like that, but probably because he would want "taste very good. Nothing good for you ever does, I'm told. So, what next genius?"

"Go Regional young team, go regional!" You remember Ronnie Loud's early proselytizing on the part of pro football in central Florida. He coined the term a regional Florida team from Jacksonville to Tampa. Well, Ronnie missed on the Jacksonville end of it when Fran Monico got his Sharks there — and they are firmly entrenched after one game if such statistics don't lie.

Tampa is virgin ground for football. The NFL won't show its shining face until 1976, and the Blazers are going to have to draw some people from that area if they hope to continue to make it in Central Florida.

I say you can expect an announcement anytime now — at least after the next home game — the Blazers will be playing some if not a majority of their home games in stadiums other than the T-Bowl. They've got to make money to pay for those pretty orange and blue footballs somewhere, and Orlando doesn't appear to be ready to do the bill.

Of course, I could be wrong. I have a pretty good track record on that point. But, as we all know, sports franchises aren't static. We were told this one wouldn't try to be static. It is a regional concept. Mr. Loud and company are continually cutting it having some of the best fan support in pro football. The Blazers don't have the "Big Name" drawing cards. All that I can remember about Bob Davis was he was Joe Namath's back. If he's backed up any further I wouldn't have known who he was, even with such a big name in front of him. But

I'll bet if they do succeed it'll be because they take their team around to the big stadiums until they get one of their own in Orlando.

Well, smartly, what's left for the Blazers to try? Just hang on and hope they get some

The Herald
Women's World

Sunday, July 14, 1974 Page 2B

MRS. CARLOS MICHAEL MONTI
... The former Susan Dorothy Steinmetz

Vows Exchanged
By Candlelight

Miss Susan Dorothy Steinmetz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Steinmetz, 118 East Jenkins Circle, Sanford, and Carlos Michael Monti, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Monti, Foley, Ala. were united in Holy matrimony July 6, 1974 at 4 p.m. at All Souls Catholic Church, Sanford.

Officiating clergyman at the candlelight, double ring ceremony was father Ennis. Mrs. F. E. Roumillat, organist and Lawrence Dillon, soloist, presented an appropriate program of nuptial music.

Church decorations included floral arrangements, greenery and two candelabra. Altar rails were interspersed with fern and family pews marked with sprigs of flowers and ribbon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length garden style gown of soft nylon, over taffeta, with high neckline, long sheer sleeves and short lace cap-sleeves. The full skirt terminated in a long train with flower trimmed ruffle.

She carried a nosegay of white carnations, lilies of the valley and greenery with white accent and long white satin ribbon streamers. Her large white picture hat was trimmed with flowers matching her bouquet.

Miss Lynne Sturges, maid of honor, was attired in a formal length blue chiffon gown with white lace bodice and trim and carried a basket of mixed Spring flowers.

Bridesmaid and matron, were Miss Colleen Sakry and Mrs. Cathy Titshaw. Their gowns were styled identical to that of the honor attendant, in green and yellow and their flowers were like those of the maid of honor.

Lawrence Monti was best man and ushers were John Steinmetz and Dennis Byrd. David Steinmetz lighted the candles and rolled down the white carpet runner, for entry of the bridal party.

The bride's mother chose a peach chiffon gown, over nylon, with matching chiffon elbow length cape and a white orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception and buffet dinner was served at the home of the bride.

Miss Debbie Graham was in charge of the bride's book.

For traveling, Mrs. Monti chose a street length dress of peach and white. The couple left for a wedding trip to Panama City Beach and their new residence will be in Sanford.

Judith Smith Marries William Parker

Miss Judith Ann Smith, daughter of David R. Smith and the late Mrs. Smith, 411 South Scott Ave., Sanford, became the bride of Lt. William Ed Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Parker, 1578 Thumb Point Dr., Ft. Pierce, June 15, 1974 at 2 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church, Sanford.

Officiating clergyman at the double ring ceremony, was the Rev. Virgil L. Bryant. Mrs. George Touhy, organist, presented a program of appropriate nuptial selections.

Church decorations included two pedestal arrangements of white daisies, gladioli, baby's breath and greenery on the altar with seven-potted palms placed at vantage points.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length princess style gown of candlelight bridal taffeta. A center panel of bridal illusion embellished with lace flowers and seed pearls adorned the bodice and the three quarter length sleeves. The self-train fell in soft pleats from the back waist.

Her finger-tip veil fell from a Juliet style cap and was edged in English cut lace. Her diamond pierced earrings was a gift from the groom. She carried a cascading bouquet of candlelight roses, baby's breath and miniature lily.

Debbie Goerss MacIlroy, Raleigh, N.C. matron of honor, was attired in a long champagne colored cotton bastiste gown with tiny multicolored flowers. The princess style bodice was formed of tiny pleats falling softly from the empire waistline terminating in a five inch ruffle at the hemline.

A champagne lace ruffle trimmed the neckline and bouffant sleeves. She carried a colorful nosegay of miniature pink carnations, yellow daisies, pom poms, blue fiji mums, baby's breath and greenery with pink ribbon streamers.

Bridesmaids were the Misses Suzanne Brown, Falls Church, Va.; Regina Murray, Longwood and junior bridesmaid was Miss Jean Parker, sister of the groom. Their gowns and flowers were identical to those of the honor attendant.

Joe Parker, of Ft. Pierce, served his brother as best man and usher-groomsmen were George Fenton, Seachtree City, Ga.; Tom Turner, Ft. Rucker, Ala. and Jim Coggin, Rocky Mount, N.C.

The bridegroom's mother wore a formal length gown of imported mint green shantung, with sheer matching yoke and

Patrica Boles Weds W. Sanders

Miss Patricia Dianne Boles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robah H. Boles, 15 Bayberry Branch, Casselberry and Walter Jerome Sanders, son of Mrs. John Fowler, Longwood and Allan Sanders, Jacksonville, were united in Holy matrimony, June 22, 1974 in the First Baptist Church, of Longwood.

Officiating clergyman at the candlelight service was the Rev. Jack Lindsay. Mrs. L. C. Walker, organist, and Mrs. Carroll Scott, soloist, presented an appropriate program of nuptial selections.

The Church was decorated with two basket arrangements of flowers in pastel colors and a bridal arch interspersed with white daisies.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of sheer white imported rayon, over taffeta, with low neckline, long sleeves and trimmed with lace and seed pearls. Her floor length mantilla of imported silk illusion was edged with lace and seed pearls and secured by a headpiece of pearls. She carried a cascading bouquet of white daisies.

Mrs. Candy Cliff, matron of honor, attired in a formal length gown of sheer nylon, over taffeta, with short sleeves and carried a nosegay of carnations and daisies.

Bridesmaids were Mindy Kütner, Rachael Henderson and Debbie Carver. Their gowns and flowers were identical to those of the honor attendant, in pastel colors of blue, green, pink, and orange. They each wore a picture hat and carried a nosegay to match the color of their gowns.

Best man was John Sheffield and ushers were Sam Machin,

MRS. WALTER J. SANDERS
... The former Patricia Boles

David Sanders and Keith Owens.

Flower girl, little Miss Michelle Bates, wore a floor length dress of pink sheer, styled similar to the attendants' gowns a hair piece of white daisies and carried a basket of mixed flowers.

Ring bearer, Master Todd Fulford, attired in a blue tuxedo orange crepe with lace trim, white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception for approximately 125 guests was held in Fellowship Hall of the Church. Tables were overlaid with floor length cloths of organza, over linen, highlighted by candelabra arrangements of flowers in colors matching the attendants' nosegays.

The three tiered wedding cake was decorated in the same chosen colors and served along with finger sandwiches, mints, nuts and punch flowing from a silver champagne fountain. Marjorie Doyle was co-ordinator and hostess for the reception. Miss Vickie Richardson presided at the bride's book table. She was attired in a long yellow dress with matching picture hat and white corsage.

For her going-away outfit, Mrs. Sanders chose a long beige polyester dress with matching jacket, trimmed with red and blue satin and red velvet shoes.

Following a wedding trip throughout Central Florida, the couple will make their home in Orlando.

Out of town guests included, Mrs. Candis Wilcox, Winston Salem, N.C., grandmother of the bride; Mrs. Elizabeth Holiday, Electric, Ala., aunt of the bridegroom; his sister, Beverly Fulford and husband Richard Earl Chase, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Chase, 278 Birchwood Drive, Orange Park, formerly of Sanford.

Born in Jacksonville, the bride-elect is the granddaughter of Mrs. W. W. Johns and the late Mr. John, 211 Elm Ave. and Mrs. Octavia Rumbley and the late John Austin Rumbley, 1812 West First St., all of Sanford.

Miss Rumbley is a 1972 graduate of Seminole High School where she was a

MARY SUSAN RUMBLEY
... Engaged

Miss Rumbley Engaged
To Richard E. Chase

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Rumbley, Sr., Michigan St., Sanford are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary Susan Rumbley to Richard Earl Chase, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Chase, 278 Birchwood Drive, Orange Park, formerly of Sanford.

Born in Jacksonville, the bride-elect is the granddaughter of Mrs. W. W. Johns and the late Mr. John, 211 Elm Ave. and Mrs. Octavia Rumbley and the late John Austin Rumbley, 1812 West First St., all of Sanford.

Miss Rumbley is a 1972 graduate of Seminole High School where she was a

Leinhart-Gutcher
Wedding In Texas

Miss Robin Marie Gutcher and Marcus Lee Leinhart exchanged wedding vows, June 8, 1974 at 2:30 p.m. at All Faith's Chapel, (Texas A and M University Campus), College Station, Texas.

The Rev. James Brannen was officiating clergyman at the double ring, candlelight ceremony. Mrs. Ruth Borman, organist, presented an appropriate musical program.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. Dale Gutcher, 1003 Guadalupe Dr., College Station, Texas and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Don Leinhart and the late Mr. Leinhart, 902-A Cross St., College Station, and formerly of Oviedo, Fla. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Gary and Mrs. Martha Leinhart, all of Oviedo.

The Church was decorated with two basket arrangements of pale yellow daisies, peonies, baby's breath and greenery; one centerpiece of Spring flowers, two candelabra and palm fronds with yellow ribbon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of regal pearl satin and imported bridal rose Alencon lace, fashioned with a sculptured bodice of lace over satin, featuring a jewel neckline and sheer tulle yoke, edged in lace set with pearls. The bouffant Colonial skirt was edged in matching lace and ended in a full court train.

Her elbow-length two tiered veil, edged with lace was attached to a Cameo headpiece of lace and pearls. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses, daisies and baby's breath. She wore her grandmother's pearls, which was a gift more than 50 years ago. The gown was worn by her mother at her wedding 20 years ago. During the ceremony, the bride presented both mothers with a single long stemmed yellow rose.

Jayne Gutcher, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and her only attendant. She was attired in a long yellow floral chiffon print gown with contrasting yellow picture hat and carried a bouquet of daisies and baby's breath.

Michael Gary Leinhart served his brother as best man and ushers were Steve Shivers and Robert Miller. Gary Shivers, nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer. The bride's mother chose a floor length pale blue double knit dress with matching jacket and an orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a floor length peach polyester crepe dress with matching pink jacket and an orchid corsage.

The reception site was AggieLand Inn, in College Station. The area was decorated with arrangements of Spring flowers. Mrs. Wyn Shivers, sister of the bridegroom, cut and served the wedding cake and pouring were Miss Tammy Bradberry and Mrs. Debbie Craver. Miss Shirley Gresham was in charge of the bride's book, and the Misses Jane Gutcher and Tammy Bradberry distributed rice bags.

For traveling, Mrs. Leinhart chose an orange and beige double knit print jumpsuit. The couple left for a wedding trip to Dallas, Tex. and their new residence will be parkway Apts., College Station.

The bride is employed as secretary at the Center for Tectonophysics at Texas A and M University. The bridegroom is a lineman for Community Cablevision in Bryan, Tex.

Out-of-town guests included, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Gary, Oviedo; Mrs. Barry Leinhart and son, Sean, Orlando and friends and relatives from, Beaumont, Tex., Joplin, Mont. and Brussels, Belgium.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Schulz of Xenia, Ohio, announce the birth of a son, Philip Westgate Schulz, on July 2, 1974. Mrs. Schulz is the former Stefany Westgate, daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. Philip J. Westgate.

Birth
Announcement

Herald Photo by George Hayes

SHOWER COMPLIMENTS BRIDE-ELECT

MISS Gail Cowan was guest of honor at a recent lingerie shower at the home of Mrs. R. J. O'Neil at 316 East Crystal Dr., Loch Arbor with her bridesmaids as hostesses. From left, Kathy Hoffman, Elizabeth O'Neil, Miss Cowan and

Susan Hoffman. Mrs. O'Neil assisted the hostesses. Thirty friends and relatives enjoyed finger sandwiches, petit fours, nuts mints and lime punch.

LT. AND MRS. WILLIAM PARKER
... Newlyweds cut cake

Victorian neckline trimmed with green venise lace and tiny seed pearls. The long fitted sheer sleeves were trimmed at the wrist with the lace and pearls. She wore mint green accessories and had a purse corsage of green cymbidium orchids.

The bridegroom's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Ed Mickler, wore a street length dress of pastel peach opaque polyester crepe, featuring high collar, long sleeves defined with solid peach crepe and white accessories.

His paternal grandmother, Mrs. Alton Parker, chose a street length sleeveless pink knit dress with matching short sleeve jacket, trimmed with white and white accessories. Both grandmothers wore carnation corsages, tinted to match their ensembles.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the Church. The bride's table, overlaid with a white lace cloth, over pink, was highlighted by the three tiered wedding cake decorated with small clusters of multicolored flowers. The punch table, with an identical cloth, was adorned with a four branched epergne arrangement of flowers in the same colors

NOW AT
GLOBAL carpets

Bigelow Carpet Bonanza!

SPECTACULAR SALE OF BEAUTIFUL Bigelow carpets

!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

SHAGS! PLUSHES! TWISTS! SCULPTURES! LEVEL LOOPS!

100% NYLON PILE TWIST..... $8.50
Made to retain its thick, pebbly texture through years of wear. Bigelow quality carpet at a price that will fit your budget.

NEW NEEDLEPOINT LOOK..... $11.00
Stunning new carpet style with pile of 100% Bigelow Approved acrylic. Dense construction. Stands up to heavy family traffic.

MULTICOLOR SHAG..... $10.00
Deep, firm pile of 100% Bigelow Approved nylon. Elegant looks! Outstanding wear. Resists pilling, fuzzing and shedding.

WOOL PLUSH..... $15.00
The ultimate luxury. This Bigelow carpet sets the standard for carpet makers. Pile of 100% Bigelow Approved wool. Very wide range of sparkling colors. Very sophisticated.

TOUGH NYLON SHAG..... $5.99
A dynamite look at a dynamite price. Outstanding Bigelow value made for the young family... priced for the young family... long wear for the young family. 100% Bigelow Approved nylon pile.

DEEP ETCHED SCULPTURE..... $6.50
Pretty and practical. Graceful sculptured design in 100% Bigelow Approved olefin fiber. Long wearing, easy to care for, resists stains.

WE'VE GOT A BIGELOW FOR YOU!
ANY COLOR! ANY TEXTURE!
ANY PRICE! COME IN TODAY!

!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

People who know...buy Bigelow

GLOBAL carpets

Bigelow Carpet Bonanza!

OPEN
MONDAY thru FRIDAY 9 - 5
PH. 323-7720
119 S. Magnolia Ave. Downtown Sanford
2393 S. W. College Rd. Ocala

Nancy's Newsnotes

By NANCY BOOTH Herald Correspondent

The average home is covered by a one year guarantee on defects in workmanship. Since most problems do not seem to arise till after one year of occupancy, home owners are often faced with extensive outlays of money to affect repairs.

Legal costs to force builders to honor not only the quality of their work but their sales promises can be prohibitive. Sharing the cost of legal fees with their fellow residents by forming home owner's associations can be the answer.

The Terrace section of Winter Springs has been plagued with many such problems. Under the leadership of Ronald Tuminia of Alderwood Court, the residents of the Terraces are joining together to form their own home owners association. Membership now stands at 65.

The first meeting of the Terrace Homeowners Association will be held Tuesday August 6 at 8:00 p.m. at the Winter Springs Community Association Recreation Building at the bottom of North Edgemoor Avenue.

Guest speakers for the evening will be Councilmen John Booth and David Outlaw.

A question and answer period will follow.

Winter Springs has reason to be proud of its police force. Two Winter Springs officers, having served their eight-hour tour of duty for this city responded, on their own time, to a mutual aid call from Longwood.

High praise came from Longwood Police Chief Tom Hennigan who said, "This is a game of life and death and it is really great to know that there are people like Sgt. T. R. Hey and Officer John Moore willing to put their lives on the line to assist one of our men."

Ad valorem taxes is probably the most talked about subject in the city right now. A public hearing on the subject will be held Monday, July 15, at 7:30.

Fashion Tips

Personal grooming — nail clipping, hair combing, ear cleaning — should not be done in public. Some of these are done unconsciously, but your neighbors are very unpleasantly aware.

Winter Springs City Council has decided to adopt a recently passed State law on recalling a city official. An ordinance was pending in the city on that same point, but since state law supersedes city law, it was decided to go with the state law and save the city the expense of passing the ordinance.

MAKING UP FOR LOST TIME.

'Psycho' Solutions? Try A Little Hug

By ANN RUDY The Herald Services

In a fascinating new book, "Psychofraud!" (Whitmore) John David Garcia gives us all a neat little rule of thumb by which to evaluate all we have read and heard about almost all forms of psychotherapy: forget it.

This may not seem like any big news to you older readers who raised your children on love and common sense. You always knew, didn't you, that a hug around the shoulders or a nap usually cured most cases of "cranky kid."

You weren't about to turn your child loose to tap dance on the coffee table or write on the walls with your lipstick to help him "cope." And by the time you knew you'd done everything right, it was too late to change it.

But consider the case of a girl like I who married and begat children, at the dawn of the age of Aquarius and armchair psychology. These were, and are, confusing times.

I mean, when I first heard of Sigmund Freud I thought he was a Wagnerian baritone. But the girl next door — whose five "well-adjusted" children were always over at my house working out their aggressions — enlightened me and I tried to make up for what I thought was lost time.

First, I read everything I could about psychology, hung around lecture halls and bought every new paperback on the latest "approach." Then I attempted to assimilate this mass of often conflicting information.

Meanwhile, I was watching my kids for signs of irregularity. To my mother, irregularly meant to get out a box of dried prunes, but to me it meant a kid who didn't sass me.

"If you want to say you hate me, go ahead," I'd encourage. But it was no use; they respected me. And by the time they were in adolescence I was frantic.

"Where have we gone wrong?" I asked my husband. "It was bad enough when they didn't bedwet, stutter or nose pick, but they are almost grown now and showing no signs of rebellion or antisocial behavior. I know they are suppressing something, but what do you think it is?"

"Judging from the boy's behavior," replied my husband, "he is suppressing very little." And now along comes "Psychofraud!" and John David Garcia's refreshing and simple theory. I hope it's not too late, but I think I'll relax.

She Found Out Bus Picks Up Interest

By GEORGE W. CRANE Ph. D., M. D.

CASE A-684: Freda W., aged 29, is a dynamic "home missionary."

"Dr. Crane," she began, "recently I was made the Superintendent of our Sunday School."

"It formerly had an average attendance of 115 every week, but has dropped a great deal the past few years."

"When I took over, it averaged only 69 per Sunday. So I decided we needed a bus to haul the kiddies to Sunday School."

"But nobody else seemed greatly interested except a young farmer and his wife, who had four youngsters."

"They contributed $50 and our local dental surgeon also gave $300."

"Smaller gifts finally brought us up to $1,000, which was the price of a used school bus in fair working order."

"But then I couldn't find a man to drive the bus, so I finally consented to do it myself."

"And our attendance grew by leaps and bounds, for the very next Sunday, we had 87 at Sunday School."

"And within the first three months, we have averaged 110, which includes not only children but about 20 older folks who have no cars and live too far from the church to walk."

"Now I have set our goal at an average of 150 every week and I feel sure we can reach it, for lots of kiddies in our community still attend no Sunday School whatsoever."

"Dr. Crane, why doesn't every church buy a bus and thus help do more 'home missionary' work by bringing the kiddies to Sunday School where they'll get at least a little moral training each week?"

Recently I reminded you of the Louis Harris nationwide poll which showed organized religion (churches) held the confidence of only 36 per cent of Americans!

One reason for that tragic fact lies in the pulpits, where far too many clergymen are such dull speakers they'd rate a 'D' in a high school or college public speaking course.

For it takes a livewire in the pulpit to electrify a congregation!

The pastor should serve as the parish quarterback (like Bob Griese of the Miami Dolphins) and stick to the fundamentals.

Alas, many clergymen have made political soap boxes of our pulpits and have become maudlin over the north vietnam, as well as the draft evaders here at home who fled to Canada, Sweden, etc.

On 3rd down, with 8 yards to go and time running out, can you imagine Bob Griese turning his back on his pass receivers in order to pass the hat for the Viet Cong?

Instead, Griese keeps focussing on the goal line.

And the "goal line" for clergymen should be new converts, increased attendance at Sunday School and church, more youngsters at summer church camps and a school bus to collect the unchurched young children and feeble Senior Citizens!

Many churches spend more time trying to figure how to meet the budget than to transform human personality!

They concentrate on extracting big gifts from wealthy older members instead of winning young souls!

The latter task requires that you first bring in more visitors as prospects.

Church buses are far more valuable than fancy stained glass windows or a ritzy new pipe organ, so imitate Freda!

Turn Off Lights

NEW YORK (AP) — A Consolidated Edison Co. computer labored and out came a $6,000 electricity bill for Mrs. Sydell Greenberg, whose monthly costs had been averaging $19.

Men's Formal Wear RENTALS For Weddings, Proms, etc. B. L. Perkins Men's Wear 204 E. First St. Ph. 322-1811

Aero Semi-Annual sale Draperies 20% OFF

Take advantage of Aero's complete decorating service. We help you choose... at home. We take all measurements. We hang them when finished, AND GUARANTEE THE ENTIRE JOB.

Save now on our entire range of fabrics. Over 1500 fabric & color combinations in all. Save on any window treatment your heart desires.

DISCOUNTS APPLY TO FABRIC AND LABOR

Prices Will Never Be Lower. Call Now

YOUR AERO DECORATORS

Jane and Wally Phillips

Shop at Home 322-3315 No Charge — No Obligation

Philips Custom Draperies Cleaners & Fur Storage 319 WEST 13th Sanford, Fl. Serving the Seminole, Volusia Area Call Collect (305) 322-3315

Fantastic savings in every department! Half-day clearaway sale starts Monday at 11 a.m.

12" color portable TV

$222

• Chroma-Loc • AFT (automatic fine tuning)

1000 pairs

JC Penney slacks.

Orig. $13 to $15

999

200 only . . .

Men's suits.

3 for $100

Women's sportswear

Orig. to $12

NOW 588

- Tops
- Slacks
- Swimwear
- Skirts

Laundry closeout.

Save 41.95

Orig. 209.95. Now $160. 2-speed automatic washer has a heavy-duty transmission that's built to last. Features partial fill selection, water temperature selection, self-cleaning ring filter. Porcelain top and lid. Matching electric dryer, 139.95

Family shoe closeout!

Women's better dress shoes and sandals.

Your choice of 1500 pair. Sizes 5 to 12

388 to 588

Girls' & Boys' better shoes dress & casual styles.

Choose from 300 pair. Sizes 8 1/2 to 3

388 to 588

Boys' better shoes dressy casual styles.

Choose from 200 pair. Sizes 3 1/2 to 6

588

Men's better shoes dress & casual styles.

888 to 1388

Sizes 6 1/2 to 12. Your choice of 500 pair

Fabric bonanza

Orig. to 3.50 yd.

NOW 188 yd.

Boy's sport shirts.

Orig. to 3.98

NOW 188

Furniture floor samples

Save

25 to 33%

AM/FM multi-plex stereo

Full size turntable 8 track player Orig. 269.95

NOW $199

Mower clean up

Floor models and repaired models.

Save up to 50%

8 track tape player . . .

Orig. 69.95

NOW $54

Recliner

Brown vinyl

$66

Mickey Thompson 50 series tires

Save 25%

Long sleeve dress shirts

Sizes 14 1/2 to 17

Orig. '6 to '12

NOW 388 to 888

Women's handbags

1/3 off

She's a full-time mother; part-time financial expert.

At First Federal of Seminole, we learned a long time ago that financial wizards don't all spend their time closeted in some smoked-filled conference room discussing international monetary crises and exchange rates. Some of them feel more at home whipping up a soufflé or romping with the kids. Because some of the sharpest financial minds around are homemakers. We know — because a lot of them save with First Federal of Seminole. Show your own expertise: join them!

FIRST FEDERAL OF SEMINOLE

SANFORD OFFICE 312 W. First Street OVIEDO OFFICE Oviedo Shopping Center WINTER PARK OFFICE 1250 Lee Road LONGWOOD OFFICE State Road 434 at U.S. 17-92 ORANGE CITY OFFICE 555 Enterprise Road CENTURY PLAZA (Opening Soon)

CLIP AND SAVE!!!

ATTENTION! Medicare Subscribers

Medicare Insurance Entitles You To Home Use Of...

- HOSPITAL BEDS
- OXYGEN
- WHEELCHAIRS
- PATIENT LIFTERS
- PRESSURE BED PADS
- BREATHING MACHINES

As Prescribed by Your Physician WE BILL MEDICARE DIRECT FOR YOU

Expert Repair & Service On Breathing Machines

CALL COLLECT 736-3226 Area Code 904 Delivery Anywhere in Central Florida

MEDICARE SUPPLY CO. 111 East Kentucky Ave., DeLand, Fla.

CLIP AND SAVE!!!

SALE

Spring & Summer DRESSES SPORTSWEAR SWIMWEAR SHOES

20 TO 50% OFF

BANKAMERICARD MASTER CHARGE

228 E. FIRST ST. PH. 322-3524

ZALES

Our People Make Us Number One

Golden Anniversary Sale Select Group of WATCHES and DIAMOND WATCHES Save 10% to 33 1/3% off regular prices

Examples of Savings:

★ Ltd. 13 Dia. 1 Ct. Total	499 ⁰⁰	449 ⁰⁰
★ Ltd. 10 Watch	120 ⁰⁰	108 ⁰⁰
★ Name Brand Watch	150 ⁰⁰	135 ⁰⁰
★ Ltd. 10 Bracelet	300 ⁰⁰	240 ⁰⁰
★ Ltd. 10 Bracelet	59 ⁰⁰	47 ⁰⁰

Zales 50 Golden Years and We're Only Just Begun.

Zales Revolving Charge & Zales Custom Charge BankAmericard's Master Charge American Express & Citicard Club & Carte Blanche & Lloyds

Sale prices effective on selected merchandise. Entire stock not included in sale. Original price tag shown on every item. All items subject to prior sale. Items displayed not necessarily those on sale. Illustrations enlarged.

CHARGE IT at Sanford Plaza Penney's: Open 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday. Open 10 a.m. 'til 9 p.m. Tuesday thru Saturday. Store Ph. . . 323-1310

Dear Abby 'Daddy's' Also A Bigamist

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been in friendship with Debbie, but I living common law with a man...

DEAR CONFUSED: I would leave you with a lot of questions that only a lawyer could answer...

DEAR ABBY: Debbie and I graduated from college 13 years ago. We were sorority sisters and close friends...

DEAR ABBY: Debbie and I graduated from college 13 years ago. We were sorority sisters and close friends...

Win At Bridge

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

Table with columns for North, East, South, West and various card game notations.

CARD Sense

The bidding has been:

Table showing card game bidding results for West, North, East, South.

Today's Question: You deal and hold. What is your opening bid?

Answer: Mandav

Biblical

Table with columns for Across and Down, containing biblical clues and answers.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

SUNDAY, JULY 14, 1974 MONDAY, JULY 15, 1974

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A good day to take care of the many tasks that are difficult to do during the busy work week...

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A beautiful Monday to give a new twist to whatever interests you. Keep alert to changes and new arrangements of all kinds...

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A good day to handle financial affairs since you are thinking clearly, accurately. You can increase assets if you are right on the ball...

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Get into civic work and add to present prestige. Make the right connections. Kowtow to higherups, if need be...

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Find a better method for handling any obligations that are yours right now. Engage in civic work and get excellent results...

GENERAL TENDENCIES: An ideal day to meet with associates informally and get the results that are hard to get at the office. Attend a group affair...

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Improve home conditions and try to please kin instead of just yourself. A good evening for inviting friends in and showing off family...

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The Stars impel, they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The Stars impel, they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The Stars impel, they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The Stars impel, they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The Stars impel, they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Makarios' Fate Doubtful After Coup

ATHENS (AP) — Greek army officers commanding the Cypriot National Guard have seized control of Cyprus and toppled the government of President Makarios. Radio Cyprus announced today. Reports differed on the fate of Makarios.

A Turkish Cypriot radio monitored in Ankara said Makarios had survived the coup and taken refuge with the United Nations force assigned to keep peace between Greeks and Turks on the island.

key's Aegean area and called an extraordinary cabinet meeting. Ecevit declared Turkey will not let any alien touch the Turkish community's basic rights on the island.

cal leader for the island's struggle for independence from Britain in the 1950s and had been president since Cyprus became independent on Aug. 16, 1960. He had been archbishop and head of the Cypriot Orthodox Church since 1960.

The Sanford Herald

Monday, July 15, 1974—Sanford, Florida 32771 66th Year, No. 280 Price 10 Cents

ELDERLY MAN SLAIN AT SANFORD HOME...Deputies seek leads to attacker

Airline, Copper Workers Strike

By NICK TATRO Associated Press Writer National Airlines and the copper industry were hit by strikes today, but a tentative settlement was reached in the latter.

The United Steelworkers of America spearheaded talks for a coalition of 26 copper unions. ASARCO's operations in Maryland and New Jersey were struck first after no agreement was reached on a new three-year contract by the midnight deadline Sunday.

Teamsters, one of three unions whose members are involved, sanctioned the strike Sunday. The other two unions urged employees to work.

Change In Pound Hours Cuts Dog Fatality Rate

By BILL BELLEVUE Herald Staff Writer An English Sheep dog, several German Shepherds, a litter of two puppies, and about 15 assorted mutts of all shapes and sizes were waiting in the Seminole county pound for homes for the younger dogs and the pedigrees, but the older and many ones are usually put to sleep, Fillingier explains.

homes for the younger dogs and the pedigrees, but the older and many ones are usually put to sleep, Fillingier explains. With the turnover of animals for adoption, and destruction, the average occupancy rate of the pound remains around 30 dogs.

Animals that come in with tags usually stand a better chance of leaving alive, since their owners can usually be traced through the vet who issued the tags. But, whether it's the money ($5 for a "puppy" charge and $2.50 a day for board) or a cruel complacency, some owners refuse to pick up their pets even after being called.

Ransom Finder Gets Prison Term

By CHRIS NELSON Herald Staff Writer The self-described "lucky rabbit hunter" who found $10,000 of the $30,000 used to free kidnapped Sanford businessman George Jackson today was sentenced to three to five years hard labor for not returning the money.

While Raymond Ellis Gaines pleaded with Seminole Circuit Court Judge David Strawn for a chance to repay the Jacksons, and to study for the ministry, Strawn said he had to impose the jail sentence. "God's job is to punish, he's got eternity to do it in... my job is to make the community as safe as possible," Strawn told Gaines as he ordered the former New York convict to make a full accounting of the money.

Gaines and his attorney, special public defender Irving Gussow, said offers to voluntarily turn over a $5,500 Pontiac Grand Prix purchased with part of the money were still good, but Strawn noted the Jacksons were entitled to the car in any event. "Right's right, you don't have to wait for the judge to tell you to do it," Strawn said. Gaines was convicted of illegally possessing the money May 10 by a Seminole Circuit Court jury.

WON'T YOU SAVE ME? Unclaimed dog faces death

No whining, they just go to sleep. After dogs are brought into the pound by one of the few "We have no trouble finding

And then there's the duck calls. "We can't do a thing with the ducks," Fillingier admits, "there just aren't any duck ordinances in the county."

extended Florida forecasts Wednesday afternoon and evening showers southeast coast and Keys. Highs mostly upper 80s to lower 90s. Lows near 80 in

Murder Clues Sought

Seminole County Sheriff's detectives today are combing the blood-spattered residence of an 85-year-old Sanford man seeking leads as to who might have beaten him to death early Saturday.

John E. Burrows, First Drive and Burrows Lane, apparently surprised a would-be robber or robbler who attacked him, then ransacked his home in the Roseland Park Subdivision east of Sanford.

No suspects have been announced in the slaying. Detectives said they went to the three bedroom frame house was apparently gained by cutting through the front porch screen, then breaking a window.

Detectives speculated Burrows may have fought the burglar or burglars, then crawled around the house, leaving a trail of blood before he lost consciousness in the front bedroom. Burrows, described as a "nice old man," had complained recently to neighbors of several break-ins attempting to steal his television set. He reportedly told them he did not keep money in his home for that reason.

The neighbors said Burrows, who at one time owned most of the surrounding Roseland Park area, was last seen alive in the house where he lived alone at 8 p.m. Friday. They said he did not own a car, and bicycled to church the next day. He was reported to have been in the grocery store, and to yard work four days a week for a Sanford family.

GOOD AFTERNOON

Table with columns for Bridge, Calendar, Classified ads, Comics, Crossword puzzle, Dear Abby, Dr. Crane, Editorial comment, Entertainment, Horoscope, Hospital notes, National News, Public notices, Sports, State, TV, World News.

WEATHER

Yesterday's high 89 low this morning 66. Partly cloudy through Tuesday with chance of afternoon and evening thunder showers occurring mainly on Tuesday. Highs both days generally in the low 90s. Low tonight in the mid 70s. Rain probability 20 per cent today and 40 per cent Tuesday.