Court Grants Bar To Vote On Home Tax Free Clause

Injunction Granted By Judge Johnson Preventing Publication Of Tax Law Change

TALLAHASSEE, June 22. (AP)—Circuit Judge J. B. Johnson today granted an injunction restraining the publication of the proposed homestead tax exemption amendment to the constitution. The publication is required by law before the amendment can be voted upon by the people.

"I am of opinion," Judge Johnson said, "that the proposed amendment would be unconstitutional and that the publication of it would be an unnecessary expenditure of public funds."

At the attorney general's office, it was announced an immediate appeal would be made to the state supreme court. Application will be made for a supersedeas order withholding the injunction from effectiveness pending a decision by the high court.

If the supreme court upholds Judge Johnson, there will be no vote on the amendment in the November general election. The resolution submitting the amendment to the people was adopted by the 1933 legislature.

"It proposes to exempt homesteads up to a valuation of $5000 from all taxation other than special assessments for benefits."

Frank B. and Roy L. Winthrop, of Jacksonville, filed suits for an injunction against the secretary of state from publishing the proposed amendment in newspapers as required by law.

They contended it was unconstitutional and that its publication should be halted as an unnecessary expense.

Violation of contract with bondholders, unequal shifting to non-exempt property of the burden of paying the cost of government and paying bonds, and the violation of contract between taxpayers and all property should be its proportion of bond expenses, were cited amendments which would be violative of state and federal constitutions.

ABC WALKS OUT ON PRESIDENT AFTER 'STRIKE'

Cuban Situation Is Tense After First Major Split In Ranks Of ABC Party

HAVANA, June 22. (AP)—An internal fight in the powerful ABC political society, whose ranks were shattered by machine gun bullets last Sunday, split Cuba's cabinet today. The issue was over continued support of the government headed by President Carlos Menéndez.

One group, headed by Jorge Manach, secretary of education, and Joseph Martinez Serna, secretary of the treasury, favored immediate withdrawal of ABC members from the cabinet.

Carlos Saladrigh, secretary of justice, and high in ABC councils insisted on backing the president. It was the first major split in the party's ranks. No grave as the rupture that these members in effect, have been on a "cabins strike" for the past few days.

None showed up for official duties. After a lengthy meeting, the directors of the ABC today announced they had agreed to withdraw their support in principle from the Menéndez government, which was interpreted as a victory for the Serna forces.

Committee Says Fraud Marked Vote In Tampa Recently

TAMPA, June 22. The campaign committee of the county Democratic executive committee said in a 3000-word report Thursday to the general committee that the mass of affidavits alleging election frauds was forced to advise that if the primary is a medium through which qualified electors select nominees for the general election, then there was in fact no primary on June 5.

The committee said it felt called upon to advise citizens that essentially the same officials will have charge of the second primary, that it expects a recurrence of the conditions which prevailed at the first.

"We do not feel," the report added, "that the sole duty and responsibility for declaring that there was no primary election held June 5 rests with this committee at this time, but it is the responsibility of all the qualified electors of Hillsborough county and we believe that they should carefully examine the mass of affidavits in possession of the committee and turn out in large numbers at the Latin precincts June 28 and remain there what transpires for themselves, they will be forced to the conclusion that there was no primary."

"We would be doing a great injustice if we did not say we know that hundreds of Latin citizens who reside in the precincts complained of present and deplore these conditions as deeply as other honest voters and citizens of the county must do."

PROSPERITY NEAR NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 22. (AP)—Prosperity may not be just around the corner, Gen. Hugh S. Johnson told in economic conference here yesterday, "but it is within our reach."

The NRA administrator, speaking at George Peabody college for teachers, said "improved conditions everywhere" attest to the success of the NRA in the drive toward prosperity, and added: "Business is better. Payrolls are larger. Confidence has been restored."

SYNTHETIC RUBBER WILMINGTON, Del., June 22. (AP)—The first American synthetic rubber automobile tires which look like real rubber and was fully as well, were announced here yesterday.

They were described as a potential checkmate against excessive rubber prices and a guarantee of American rubber independence in wartime. The synthetic rubber now costs about $1 a pound against 15 cents for foreign real rubber, which has risen from 5 cents to more than a dollar.

Labor Is Both Praised And Criticized At Convention Of Junior Chamber Group

MIAMI, June 22. (AP)—American labor was both criticized and praised for its part in the National Recovery program at the annual convention of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Leslie Farrington, of St. Paul, retiring president of the organization, told delegates that labor largely is responsible for retarding national recovery and should be regulated.

He said he was moved to "express what must be a growing feeling that American labor may be responsible for the failure and collapse of this great experiment, unless it is governed by some of the regulations with which capital is now bound to a point of almost complete helplessness."

Answering Farrington's assertions in a subsequent statement, Linton R. Collins, of Miami federal NRA administrator for Florida and a delegate to the convention, declared that "in my opinion labor offers no menace to the essential success of the National Recovery program."

Linton, who is a past president of the state Junior chamber of commerce, said "I do not doubt that some overhauling" of labor, "but added, 'the leaders of American labor have demonstrated their willingness to cooperate with industry for the success of national recovery.'"

A message from President Roosevelt congratulating the organization on its cooperation in the Recovery program was read. It said: "Please convey to the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce my appreciation for its cooperation in the Recovery program."

FINE PROGRAM IS ARRANGED FOR 28 LUCKY NEWS MEN Peter Schaal Among Those Leaving On Special Fair Tour

Peter Schaal, The Sanford Herald's representative on the all-expenses paid nine-day tour from Jacksonville to the World's Fair at Chicago and return, is in for one of the most unusual rounds of entertainment arranged for a group of newspaper men.

As one of 28 Florida reporters who will leave Jacksonville Saturday morning as the guests of Alfred J. DuPont, Jacksonville capitalist, Mr. Schaal, according to Earl W. Brown of the Florida Exhibit at the Fair, will be a member of a party which will attempt to paint a word picture for "back home" readers of the importance of the Florida Exhibit at the state.

Here's what Mr. Brown wrote Lorenza A. Wilson of Jacksonville, chairman of the Florida World's Fair Commission, as he outlined plans for the entertainment of the newspaper men.

"The members of the Florida press party will be entertained with dignity equal to that accorded federal officials and foreign nobility. We have one of the most capable hosts in Florida assisting us at this time."

The entertainment of the press party includes dinner at the Foreign Restaurant as guest of the Florida Commission and inspection of the Florida Exhibit. We are arranging special entertainment features for Monday night. Tuesday noon a dinner will be tendered by President Rufus Dawes, in the Trustees' Room of the Administration Building, which will be followed by a sightseeing tour of the Fair in a mammoth Greyhound bus as guest of Ross Harley.

BRITISH INSIST TO PAY IN KIND IS TOO LATE

Englishmen Reported As Unwilling To Revive Debt Question Called Dead Issue

LONDON, June 22. "A barren exercise in note writing" is what "The Daily Telegraph" called the recent communications between the United States and the British governments on debt. The last message would convince the most skeptical of the accuracy of this description.

For the prompt and unanimous repudiation of Secretary of State Cordell Hull's suggestion, which until recently was the treasured property of the British government, namely, that the war debts might be partly discharged in kind—means that the doors have been slammed upon any possibility of the United States receiving anything along with any possibility of the galleons.

It may or it may not be a fact that a continued attempt on the part of Great Britain to repay the money borrowed in the United States during the war would be harmful to both nations. What is now doubly certain is that such an attempt will not be made. As a final gesture the British might be willing because at heart they are just the least bit ashamed of their present stand to pay off the remainder of the debt's principal in a lump sum at 10 cents on the dollar.

In strict logic even this would be inconsistent, since if the debt transfers have the harmful effect universally attributed to them here, it is unreasonably to harm the United States even to the extent of its payment. But logic has not yet played any great part in the debt controversy, and there seems no reason to expect it now to make its appearance.

Perhaps it isn't unfair to say that the refusal on the part of an official British spokesman to consider seriously America's tentative acceptance of the theory put forth in the last British debt note was made up in equal parts of amusement and annoyance. This method of payment, when first advanced by the British treasury, seemed perfectly safe, there was no little possibility of the United States considering it the latest American note, even if it was only a verbal tour de force, at least secured a neat debating point.

Where that that it seemed to throw back onto a commentator's head thought they had succeeded in projecting into a moral one.

For the plain facts are that the British are tired of paying war debts and do not intend to pay any more. They have found it impossible to collect from their own allies sums far larger than those which they borrowed from the United States. They have seen eighteen reparations divide to nothing. They have realized that in respect to the debts they made two bad mistakes: one when they borrowed from the United States on their own security alone, the other when they accepted the LAKE WORTH, Fla., June 22. Free use of the municipal swimming pool on Monday afternoons for all residents regardless of their age has been authorized by the city health commission. The new regulation becomes effective Monday and remains in force until further notice from the commission, says Otto Schmidt, the commission's secretary. Previously free use of the pool has been permitted only for children after 4 P. M. on Mondays.

LAKE WORTH, Fla., June 22. (AP)—Four Americans checked in at a small inn at Stratford-on-Avon. The alert landlord fancied that one, tall and red-haired, bore a resemblance to the notorious John Dillinger, reported once to have taken ship to England.

He thought no more of it until, that night, he heard the Americans talking in their room. They used strange slang expressions, to him earmarks of the American gangster. He'd heard them in the cinema.

Business Man Runs Amuck With Pistol; Finally Kills Self

Temporary Fit Of Insanity Plays Havoc With Man's Family; Reynolds Also Dies

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio, June 22.—(AP)—Sidney R. Reckanus, 40, vice president of the American Rolling Mills Company, today shot and killed himself, and shot and wounded two other members of his family, and then killed himself.

The wounded were his mother-in-law, Mrs. Klessa Reckanus, 76, shot in the neck whose condition is said to be serious, and his daughter, Shirley, 12, who was wounded in the right side and whose condition is said to be fair.

Two other children said they were struck by their father in his wild rampage and fled in terror from the house.

Reckanus had been a member of the engineering staff of the American Rolling Mills Company since 1900. He resigned as vice president in charge of operations in 1932 but still retained his vice presidency.

Coroner Cook ascribed the act to temporary insanity from some unknown cause.

ANOTHER SUICIDE CHICAGO, June 22.—(AP)—Fred James Reynolds, vice-president of Armour and Company, in charge of purchasing, was found fatally wounded in the bathroom of his home today. A revolver was found on the floor beside him. Officers, who said Reynolds had been ill for sometime, declared he had apparently taken his own life.

DOUBT IS HELD BY SCIENTISTS THAT COLDS IS INFECTIOUS BERKELEY, Calif., June 22.—(AP)—Doubt that the common cold is infectious or even of bacterial origin has been expressed by the American Association for the Advancement of Science by Professor William J. Kerr and Dr. John B. Laren, members of the University of California's staff of physicians.

They reported experiments in which all attempts to transmit colds by infection or direct inoculation failed. The failure was attributed to the environment factor in which patients were maintained.

A number of men having a history of high susceptibility to colds were placed in an isolated and humidity conditions. Then the attempt to infect them by bringing into their presence individuals suffering from colds and inoculating them with the supposed causative virus was made. Every one of the patients failed to catch cold.

A careful study was made of the history of 1,300 cases of common cold and the sum total of the research, the reporting physicians said, was the birth of a very strong doubt that colds are of germ origin or infectious.

It was stated that while bacteria may be a cause of secondary complications, and filterable viruses may sometimes play a primary role, environment factors and the general body response to them must be considered as preparing the soil to a great degree.

Everglades National Park Facts

The Everglades National Park which is soon to be created by recent act of Congress, should be of far greater interest to Floridians than anyone else, though few of us know much about it or what it is to be like. Perhaps during some future "Know Florida Week" more of our people can take a trip into the Southern part of the State and become better acquainted with this fascinating region.

In the meantime we have unearthed the following facts regarding the Everglades National Park which we believe are entirely authentic and interesting:

LOCATION—It is in the southernmost part of Florida in the southernmost section of Continental United States.

EXTENT—Approximately 2500 square miles are tentatively under consideration.

CLIMATE—Tropical in the United States Weather Bureau's classification. It is the very limited area so classified within Continental United States.

SCENERY—Typical of the coastal tropics. In this as well as in other respects widely contrasting with the present national park areas.

RECREATION—Eminently calculated to provide enjoyment for those who visit the area, much in the same way that the national parks in general provide enjoyment and also in the individual appeal the area provides owing to its tropical character and all that this implies in novel scenes and unfamiliar surroundings.

EDUCATIONAL—For the study of nature as expressed in the out-of-doors, it would be hard to find an area of similar size offering greater distinctive opportunity.

NATIVE ANIMAL LIFE—Here, all the forms of wild life native to the State of Florida in general are found and some types not found in other parts of the state or elsewhere in Continental United States. The list includes: Panther, bear, deer, fox and many smaller quadrupeds, also manatee, crocodile, alligator, turtles, and the average number of snakes and insects found in most parts of the country. Both salt and fresh water fish are abundant. Tarpon and sailfish in the salt water and black bass in the fresh are the principal game fishes. It is a veritable fisherman's paradise.

NATIVE BIRD LIFE—The bird life of the region is one of its outstanding attractions, and in this respect is not excelled in interests. The area is the permanent home of vast numbers of egrets, herons, cranes, ibis, and other wading and shore birds, as well as the birds of the trees and meadows. The area is the winter home of many species of migratory birds from the north and summer home for birds going further south in the winter. It is also a stopping place for many birds on their way further south in the winter and further north in the summer.

NATIVE PLANT LIFE—The trees and plants of the proposed Park area present a combination of the plants of the temperate and the tropic zones. It is the southern limitation of many northern forms and the northern limitation of many southern forms. Here are found in mixed growth in some sections of the area maple, ash, sweet-gum, oak, magnolia, pine and cypress with the strangler fig, gumbo-limbo, mahogany, lignum vitae, mangrove and other trees of the tropics. The coconut and many other native palms including the royal, dominate the landscape in sections. The mangrove forests cover many miles and present the finest example of this unique tree in the world and merit preservation. The marine gardens along the shoulder of the Gulf-stream are not excelled in weird beauty.

FOSSILS—Revealing much of the earth's past history to interest the paleontologist.

PRE-HISTORIC MAN—The area is rich in records of human occupation dating into the far distant past. The ethnologist has here a rare field for research.

THE SEMINOLE—Establishment of this national park will aid the Seminole. This is the opinion of the Indian Affairs Bureau of the Interior Department.

ACCESSIBILITY—Three railroad lines reach to its borders. East and West Coast federal highways penetrate it. Several steamboat lines dock at Miami and Key West. Airplane service both commercial and coast guard is established within a few miles. Approach by light-draft boats is practicable for many miles along the Gulf side.

Poison Ivy

With the approach of the vacation season, public health officials are once more warning all to avoid poison ivy, poison sumac, and other plants which may cause skin eruptions, the United States News reveals.

Poison ivy is found in practically every roadside and patch of woods throughout the country. Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the Maryland Department of Health, warns that constitutional disturbances, fever, digestive and kidney complications may occur in connection with the skin poisoning produced by poison ivy and other members of that plant family. Therefore he advises sufferers from this type of poisoning to obtain medical aid.

Dr. Riley says that the poisoning produced by the ivy is caused by an irritating resinous substance in the sap of the plants. The slightest brushing of the leaves or handling of the plants releases this substance.

"If one comes in contact with the plants," he says, "the affected parts should be washed with a good alkaline soap—strong kitchen soap—and water, rinsing frequently in clean water, taking care not to spread the poison."

The distinction between poison ivy and woodbine, for which it is frequently mistaken, lies in the leaf. Poison ivy bears three shiny leaves in a cluster, whereas woodbine, a harmless creeper, normally has five.

Poison sumac, also a common source of skin poisoning, is found growing in swampy places. It is a shrub with long pinnate leaves, each bearing from 7 to 13 leaflets.

Sanford Forum

Editor Sanford Herald, Sanford, Fla.

Dear Sir:

On July 15th, 1933, I addressed to H. M. Papworth a communication with regard to the celery freight rates reduction. In said letter I related that Examiner Archer proposed to the I. C. C. a freight reduction of about 40c per car of celery.

At that date I called this recommendation an unfair because it would not correspond with the spirit of the time.

Therefore I proposed a form of protest against Examiner's recommendation to the I. C. C. We rejected the opportunity and we waited patiently hoping that the I. C. C. would give us justice and having before their eyes the wide depression and commensurately a freight reduction equalling the present level. We naively waited and finally the miracle happened. The I. C. C. pronounced the much expected justice which never came. But anyhow the I. C. C. said something in their decision which amounted to that much as a mountain growled and bore a mouse. The I. C. C. found to be fair giving us a reduction of about $20 per car of celery, not even that much, as the Examiner recommended. I could not believe it but the fact remains that the I. C. C. is too strongly inclined in the railroad favor. I believe that the railroads have hypnotized the entire I. C. C. or something else.

Catherine Turner, the saintly little granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Turner, who has been on a visit to her grandparents, returned to her home in Eustis Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. F. J. Gonzalez has returned from a pleasant trip to Jacksonville.

Ralph Woodruff, the son of Hon. Frank Woodruff, had the misfortune to break his arm last Friday while swinging from a horizontal bar. The little fellow is able to be about as usual but it will be some time before he can do the gymnastic stunt again.

J. E. Ingraham, vice-president of the F. E. C. Railway, and head of the immigration department of that road, was in the city yesterday shaking hands with his Sanford friends. He was enroute to Chulovita where the East Coast Railway is making a city of beautiful homes for the tourist and homeseeker.

happened in them, otherwise they would not compromise themselves as such a shameful act.

Accidentally a copy of the said freight reduction decision fell in my hand. I read it, and read it again to be sure my eyes do not deceive me. Astonishingly I quote here word by word as they say:

"The rates prescribed on celery in the Florida case resulted in substantial increase in most of the pre-existing rates. A traffic test conducted by the carriers shows that on 2856 cars moved during the period Oct. 26, 1931 to Aug. 31, 1933, the aggregate increase in freight charges amounted to $218,614 or an increase of $28.55 per car. Certain Florida shippers show that their increase per car cost exceeded that figure (I say about $35 to $40 per car). One of the reasons for prescribing increased rates on celery was the fact that prior to that decision, charges were assessed on package basis estimated at about 50 pounds per crate, whereas the actual weight of celery was approximately 71 pounds. In other words, the charges at the former rates were relatively low as compared with those on other vegetables where the shipping weight more nearly approximated the actual weight. Another factor which influenced the prescription of this basis was the apparent high value of Florida celery $4.24 per crate shown in the report in the Florida case, but, as heretofore, indicated this value was and is considerably more than the price received by Florida producer."

I permit myself a word to the celery grower. Can you beat this outrageous documentation?

The I. C. C. established the reduced freight rates on the basis that the celery producers are getting $1.52 per crate or $500 f. o. b. per car, year in and year out. Where is the truth of their explanation? And mind yourself that the railroad must have that much money from you regardless whether they are entitled to it or not, otherwise you'll grow too bald and your outgrowth it will be hard to deal with you. With other words, fleece the goose before the body is covered too much.

Let us compare their own figuring. They say the prescribed increase was assessed on the $1.25 per crate f. o. b. and majored the freight accordingly and without blushing are declaring that they were wrong when they prescribed the increased rates. Anyhow they found out that we are getting only $1.52 per crate f. o. b. which later how do the figures compare with each other? Namely—the prescribed increase was assessed on $4.25. The actual truth as they say only $1.52 equal to $2.73 less. Also on $4.25 increase are about $40 per car, and an $1.52 increase only $30 per car. How about the difference from $4.25 less $1.52. What about this surplus of $2.73 difference. How God blessed good mathematical! They are that with pin stroke order so much out or increase in freight rates without knowing the truth of their mission for which they were appointed.

Now a word with you Mr. Commissioner. Bear in mind that we were to get $1.52 per crate f. o. b. We would not have to complain begging justice from you because the $1.52 would be sufficient covering the expenses plus a good leaving. But I am afraid that the said $1.52 meant on the terminal and not f. o. b. there from you prescribed to the railroad approximately $1.00 for freight leaving the producer 50c for labor, fertilizer, fungicides, crate material and other incurring expenses.

Have you this all on your mind when you prescribed the proposed fair rates or not? I am inclined to believe the contrary and because your stomach is full you don't care if the farmer's wife and children today or tomorrow are compelled to go barefooted and improperly clothed forcing us to ask charity when our land produces plentiful.

Some time back forcefully slavery existed in the southern part of the U. S. and slaves were only negro people. Happily past. But you compelled us farmers to slave for the railroads and what's more we have to accept willfully this new kind of slavery. One more item, Mr. Commissioner, we beg you heartedly if you pledged yourself to promote the railroads' cause, give us a hint where and to whom could we appeal for an honest deal, for both party, farmer and railroad, a most equitable freight adjustment and an end to the new slavery.

A celery grower,
NICK ZERNOVEAN.

Mr. R. L. Dean, Editor The Herald Sanford, Florida Dear Sir:

As a Florida taxpayer for more than twenty years in both Lee and Collier counties and a voter in Collier county, I ask the privilege that this communication be published in your paper because I am greatly interested in the status of Florida.

I was a Democratic member of Congress during the presidency of Theodore Roosevelt.

During my last term I was the only Democrat elected from Ohio out of 21 members. I was a member of the important Committee on Naval Affairs and supported every measure for the maintenance and improvement of the Navy yard and Naval hospital at Pensacola, Florida. In addition to this, I voted for every appropriation for the improvement of the rivers and harbors of Florida.

On June 26th primary a United States senator is to be nominated. I do not know and have never met Senator Trammell nor Mr. Pepper and they do not know me, so I may be considered an impartial but experienced candidate. My only interest is the welfare of the great State of Florida with the longest coast line of any state, 1145 miles (not counting the islands) as against California's coast line of 1007 miles. Florida, therefore, is the most important state in the union from a naval standpoint, and its close proximity to the Panama Canal makes it imperative that it be kept to the forefront in this respect.

Senator Trammell has been a member of the Naval Affairs Committee for a number of years—a year ago he became chairman of this committee which makes it of immense importance to Florida.

It is because any new senator would not get on this committee to start with and if he did, he would be a number of years learning what it was all about. Can Florida, with the fine growing harbor cities of Jacksonville, Pensacola, Tampa, St. Petersburg, Miami and Key West, and with its 2145 miles of coast line afford to make this trade right now?

is a new one, considered the best likeness of the Vice President which has yet been made. It was done especially to illustrate the whimsical biographical article in which Garner tells how unimportant he considers his job. It is highly regarded by Garner's friends and admirers because it shows his ruddiness and geniality, his unruly white hair and unbelievable eyebrows.

in a detective story book how a man had resisted hanging eighteen times, Nadeau said.

This theory was strengthened when a Turkish towel was discovered around the dead youth's head, Nadeau said. Howard had told him the club had read that if a towel was coiled beneath the rope one "probably could resist strangulation indefinitely."

During other meetings of the club at which "tests" were conducted, youths were cut down after they became unconscious, Nadeau said. Howard, however, apparently was alone at the time of his death. An earthen crock upon which he had stood to reach a rafter was near by.

The boy's parents said he had come home several times with lacerations on his neck, but had explained they were obtained while playing football in high school. It was called that a Tiffin, Ohio youth, member of a "suicide club," died there about two months ago under similar circumstances.

Orlando State Bank To Pay Depositors Over $100,000 Cash

ORLANDO, June 22.—(AP)—A five percent dividend, representing $107,407.62 in cash will be paid to the 4,497 depositors of the defunct State Bank and Trust Co. of Orlando either Wednesday or Thursday of next week, J. W. Mosteller liquidating agent for banks of the Central Florida section announced Thursday.

Mr. Mosteller also revealed that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation had approved a loan to the State Bank aggregating $275,000 as announced several weeks ago and the fund should be received in Orlando within the next 30 days for distribution to the bank depositors.

This will mean, Mr. Mosteller declared, an additional dividend of from 12 to 15 percent, bringing the total of cash disbursements to $382,402.62, or approximately a total dividend within 30 days of between 18 and 20 percent.

The five percent dividend that will be handed out to depositors next week represents funds from the liquidation of the bank's assets, and the cash accruing from the sale of the State Bank building.

The disbursement will be made at the offices of the liquidator in the Orlando Bank and Trust building at the corner of Orange Avenue and Pine Street.

UNDER THE WIDE AND SPREADING SKY

SUMMER is the season when the possibilities for enjoyment are multiplied about you. Under the wide and spreading sky there is room for much happiness.

You don't need great wealth, and you don't need to fasten all your hopes for happiness on a short vacation. Whether you live in the city, with all of its modern means of tempering the climate to your needs, or in the country where the good earth responds so beautifully to your touch—there is much to do, pleasantly and happily.

But there is art in enjoyment. You should dress properly for each occasion. You should have within easy reach the things that make hospitality inviting and gracious. You should have the means of refreshing and beautifying your person and improving your sense of well-being. You should be comfortable.

It is not so hard to do all this. It is not accomplished in one frenzied and expensive effort. Comforts should grow about your home, as flowers and fruits blossom and ripen.

Read the advertisements, and acquire the things you need from what you learn here. Fresh light summer wear. Foods and beverages that keep crisp and cool in modern refrigerators. Gas and electricity that cook and brighten without heating your rooms. Electric fans, perhaps. Soap, cosmetics, and heaps of fresh towels for frequent showers.

And read in the advertisements where to go and what to do in order to make Summer the golden season of your life.

Roosevelt Strikes Back At Critics Of 73rd Congress

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 22.—(AP)—President Roosevelt struck back Wednesday both at critics of Congress and of the "Brain Trust" and told his newly-adopted alumni of Yale University that the use of "brain trust" in government will be continued.

"After all," said the President, "we live in a Democracy. I like it. We are going to continue as a Democracy."

The graduates of Yale who had heard some light references to Congress in the course of the commencement exercises at which Mr. Roosevelt was given an honorary degree of doctor of law applauded the presidential declaration.

Congress, he said, represents a "better cross section of opinion" than the viewpoint of any single group, educational or otherwise.

"While we have heard a certain amount of ribald laughter about the use of brains in government," he remarked, "it seems to be a good practice. It will be continued. We are going to call on trained people."

"Ability rather than politics enter into most choices made in our government. I can't tell today the party affiliation of most of the responsible people in our government and it is a mighty good thing that I can't."

Tampa Board Okeys Tentative City Budget

TAMPA, June 22.—The Board of Representatives Wednesday night adopted a tentative budget which assures Tampa of about the same millage rate of last year and adjourned until Tuesday night when the budget was tentatively accepted.

After the session Mayor Chacey's proposed budget was announced, $2,233,000, having been slashed from estimates.

The Mayor's original departmental appropriations called for an expenditure of $2,500,000, an increase of $273,150 over the $2,226,850 figure of last year. After the Board got through Wednesday night it was indicated that the year's municipal expenditures will be $2,206,713 or only $49,188 more than the fiscal year 1933-34. These figures, however, are unofficial pending a report from Comptroller Booker. The general opinion among Representatives Wednesday night was that the millage rate may be increased a half mill but not more. Mayor Chacey's tentative budget called for a six and a half mill increase.

Strange Disease Is Thought Solved By Learned Scientist

ATLANTA, June 22.—(AP)—The strange case of the disappearing white corpuscles, a condition that means almost certain death, has been solved by Emory University scientists.

Baffled for ten years by agranulocytosis, a bloodstream malady from which few recover, the Emory department of pathology, headed by Dr. H. H. Kracke, has found the condition is caused by the taking of certain pain-killing or fat-reducing drugs.

There is still no known cure, only now the physicians know how to prevent it if the patient will refrain from the use of the drugs.

Dr. Kracke said the drugs, chief of which are salicylic acid and its compounds widely prescribed by physicians for the relief of pain, and diphtherin, used in recent years for "reducing" attack of the bone marrow where the body has established white corpuscles.

The drugs do not affect the white corpuscles already in the blood.

KIDDIES' KOLUMN BY MRS. JAMES MOUGHTON

If you read "Journeys of the Giant," you will know he was on a mystic isle. We wondered about the shrilly trills he heard.

JOURNEYS OF THE GIANT

Our giant tried to hear. He could not see. This strange music upon him made thoughts come. Quicker than lightning thoughts flashed through his mind. For he in his far-flung land had had war-men, brave. They had answered quickly to the call he gave. In times of danger they had circled like a fence about him. The big, bold men were of his own giant time. They had told him of a magic isle all wrapped in mist. They had told him, too, that gods of mighty power lived on that mystic isle.

"We know because we have been helped by those gods," they said, as they pointed their spears toward the sea.

And now as the trembling still shook his frame, he raised his trouble call. "O Warr, O Larr, O Warr."

Now he knew full well, his men were left behind, afar. But he knew somebody should hear his call.

The echo was lost in the isle. Yet the mist was gone. He could see now. There were many moving forms about them. There was the form of light. It was white. There was darkness too. The darkness had a form. These forms stood across from each other. The giant saw the forms were wearing like bodies. Maybe they looked much like people.

A little way off was another body that was dark green and dark blue. The head had long flowing white hair. "Must be a stream but damage or destroy. I'll call that manufacture the can people, gradually as the supply in the blood runs, causing a complete absence of the white corpuscles in the blood.

The result is death.

Announcement of the discovery was made at Emory yesterday, in connection with the delivery to Dr. Kracke of the Ward Burdick Research award medal of the American Society of Clinical Pathologists.

Thousands of deaths have been caused by agranulocytosis since it appeared in the United States in 1924.

Sea-Goddess," he said.

The roar of the giant had sent away the strange noise. Now he heard again those strange shrilly trills. Something touched him. He looked. He saw a brown body. It was shaped like a large harp. There were three legs. It had no head. There was a leg where the head should be. A leg, too, was in the middle of the body. The body also was standing on one leg. There was a large kettle hanging from the leg hand.

Music loud and soft came again. Some shrilly trills too. Soon the body began to turn like a wheel. It stood on a different leg as it turned. The kettle was changed each time. A new leg hand held it. There was porridge in this kettle. The giant saw that the porridge never spilled. "He stands any way you look at him," he muttered. This must be the Mystic Isle. These must be the gods," he thought.

This three-legged god was more like the persons the giant knew. He pointed to the sea. Music came again. The giant listened with both his mighty ears. "The god was talking. He was talking with his music."

It came like this: "O Lave, Y E S you came on the wave."

O Lave shook through his big frame. Yes, the earth god knew his name.

Next week, there will be more gods. What will they do with the giant O Lave?

QUEENIE

Our Queenie came from Tampa. She's a tawny, yellow lion, and is four years old. Queenie measures a little over three feet from the ground to the top of her shoulder. From the tip of her nose to the tip of her tail she measures between eight and nine feet.

She has five toes on her fore feet. On her hind feet there are four toes. Her weight is about 260 pounds.

When Queenie first moved to Sanford she was thin. Now daily, except Sunday, she eats more meat and grows more bones. She does not want to be called "Old Saw Bones."

If Queenie were given her freedom, she should hunt for sandy, rocky places. There should be tall reeds and grasses near the water. Here she would crouch like a cat and spring on her prey as it drank.

Queenie should prow around at night and howl or roar. She should give seven roars. The first roars should be like far off thunder. Then the roars should grow loud.

Labor Praised And Brighten The Corner Criticized At Meet Of Junior C Of C

We don't mean train the spot light on your leading corner, nor do we mean a lamp in every available space. A few lights will chosen and well placed, make a room bright, warm, and hospitable, too many lights, badly placed and badly shaded, detract from the decorative effect of the colors and groupings in a room. The lamps, wall brackets and chandeliers should come in with the furnishings in the room and add immeasurably to its attractiveness. This is true not only when the lamps are actually in use, for they must remain part of the decoration of the room all day as well as in the hours when artificial light is in use. The new chandeliers, being authentic period designs, add a great deal to a room besides competent lighting. And they are inexpensive with a wide variety to choose from.

Florida's secretary of state, R. A. Gray, welcomed the delegates at the opening of the convention. He stressed the importance of unified cooperation by young business men of the country for the good of the nation.

He read a letter from R. I. Hartman, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, who urged continued cooperation of the junior organization in the advancement of the country.

In the afternoon hundreds of delegates marched through Miami's streets in a parade headed by various musical organizations.

The last roar should die away like a moon.

Should you not like Queenie better in her cage?

Unemployed Clamor For Jobs In Public Office At Election

AUSTIN, Tex., June 22.—It seems that nearly everybody down this way is stampeding for the public water hole this year. It's the depression, they say.

The depression, acting as a drought in an already arid country, has dried up private employment to such an extent that citizens throughout the state are clamoring for places on the public pay roll and the result is the largest number of candidates for office in the history of the Democratic party in the Lone Star State.

All the entries are closed now, and a check-up shows that the number of candidates exceeds by far that of any previous political campaign in this state. Many of the candidates have no other jobs or prospects of jobs.

The number of candidates for the legislature is particularly large. Aside from the effect of the depression itself, the fact that the rate of pay for members of the legislature has been boosted may have something to do with the increase in the number of aspirants. The rate has been raised from $5 to $10 a day for the first sixty days of the regular session, $5 a day for the period extending beyond sixty days and $10 a day for that much more money looks pretty good to a great many people in Texas, especially if they haven't anything else to do. And in view of the fact that the legislature is usually in session from 120 to 230 days a year, the office pays fairly well.

The election this year will be the first since the state was re-portioned into new congressional districts, with an increase from eighteen to twenty-one in the number of districts. In drawing the line for the new districts the legislature was mighty careful not to disturb the political security of the existing members of the congressional delegation, practically all of whom are assured of re-election.

A New Sauce For Fish

Coming from Milwaukee, you can understand this one. It's a recipe for a special fish sauce which bottled beer is used. It is a favorite recipe of Joseph Haggard, chef at the Schroeder Hotel in Milwaukee. The recipe:

Five ounces Shallot onions, cut fine and braised; 2 ounces ginger-snaps crumbs, 1 stalk celery, finely cut, and parsley.

Put in a fish kettle the desired fish, add the onions, celery, ginger-snaps crumbs, parsley and salt. Cover the whole completely with a light bottled beer and cook slowly until done. To prepare sauce, use the fish broth, cook it down to two thirds of its volume and put through a sieve. Add 5 ounces of fresh butter, beat lightly and pour over fish when serving.

Decoration is An Art Not A Science

No slide-rule formula can be applied in correct decoration. It's a matter of taste and personality, particularly personality. But there are certain requisites that can be laid down.

1. The glass curtains must supply privacy without obscuring the view.
2. It must harmonize with the facade of the house, as well as the furnishings of the room.
3. It must have character.

Byrd Has Narrow Escape From Gas

LITTLE AMERICA, Antarctica, June 22.—(AP)—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, nearing the end of his third month of isolation in his lonely advance camp 125 miles south of here, reported by wireless yesterday that he had had a narrow escape from carbon monoxide gas poisoning on June 17. At that time in a radio contact between Byrd and this base, the Admiral broke off on an exchange of messages with "Let's make this make this short. Will you get away now."

EIGHT INDICTED IN TAX EVASION ON AIR PROFITS

Five New Yorkers Face Trial In Sale Of Fokker Stock In 1929

ST. LOUIS, June 22.—(AP)—Eight prominent figures in the aviation industry were indicted by a federal grand jury this week on charges of conspiracy to evade income taxes of $301,275.

The indictment charged the defendants—Dan W. Jones, Halsey Dunwoody and George B. Schierberg, of St. Louis, and Graham B. Groves, A. O. Cushey, Frederick J. King, William Dewey Loucks and Alex H. Beard of New York—caused false and fraudulent returns to be filed in an attempt to evade income tax on a net profit of $1,000,000 which the Universal Aviation Corporation realized in 1929 from the sale of 50,000 shares of capital stock of the Fokker Aircraft Corporation.

Mr. Jones was president of the Universal Aviation at the time of the acts complained of. Mr. Dunwoody was executive vice-president and Mr. Schierberg was treasurer. The New York men were officers or directors of the Aviation Corporation of New York, a holding company, which in 1929 acquired Universal Aviation.

The basis of the government's charge is a highly profitable turnover of 50,000 shares of Fokker stock acquired by Universal Aviation at $2 a share within two years prior to May 10, 1929. When the stock shot up on the market, Universal sold it to the Aviation Corporation for $3 a share for a net profit, after deducting a $3,000 transfer tax, of $2,248,000.

An issue in controversy is the time on consummation of the sale. The government alleges it took place May 10, 1929, and charges the defendants fraudulently made it appear it was not completed until September of that year. The government contends the profit was subject to income tax for the year 1929. As reported by the company, however, the transaction showed no tax liability, because Aug. 1, 1929, Aviation Corporation acquired 95 percent of the stock of Universal, and if the sale of stock took place in the following September it was an inter-company transaction not subject to taxation.

The government asserts that Mr. Loucks, a New York lawyer, wrote a letter to Mr. Groves, saying: "Please follow out the direction I have given and it will save you $225,000, and don't let any fool lawyer interfere in it."

The statutory penalty for the offense charged is two years in prison or a fine of $10,000, or both.

ACREAGE REDUCTION

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(AP)—A three-year plan intended to take 15,000,000 to 20,000,000 acres from cultivation and get them into pasture, forest crops and woodland may be offered America's farmers by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. Officially describe the program as entirely tentative, but the prospects are that it is some modification, will be substituted for the present series of emergency production control efforts.

BOLIVIA WINS BLOODY FIGHT IN GRAN CHACO

Paraguayan Soldiers Trapped, Slaughtered By Artillery Following Big Push

BUENOS AIRES, June 22.—(AP)—Thousands of Paraguayan soldiers were reported today as trapped and slaughtered by Bolivian artillery fire climaxing a seven-day Paraguayan drive against the Bolivian stronghold, Fort Ballivan, in Chaco Boreal. Communiqués issued by both Paraguay and Bolivia indicated that the battle raging today is the most terrible and deadly in the past two years of jungle warfare. As depicted by official and semi-official dispatches, the tactics of the past week have been as follows:

The Paraguayans made a headlong thrust with massed infantry and cavalry in an effort to pierce the Bolivian defending line in the Pilcomayo sector. This drive followed several days of skirmishes and preliminary maneuvers apparently designed to attract Bolivian attention to "Canada strongest" and "Canada of carman" sectors at the northern end of the Bolivian line.

The Bolivians, however, were not drawn out on the wing, but instead consolidated their positions at Condado in the Pilcomayo sector.

The Paraguayan division drove at Condado. They smashed through indenting the Bolivian defenses. Then they were lost.

The Bolivian artillery, both the light and heavy guns and the mortars, were ready and in position around the spot of indentation.

They cut loose with the fiercest artillery barrage which the war in Chaco has yet seen. The Paraguayans were mowed on the spot. It was a wholesale slaughter. The Bolivians poured across the terrain and mowed up the survivors of the barrage. The Paraguayans, however, were still holding on to their line.

Found on the highway near the Geneva bridge, John Garvin, colored, alleged slayer of Elmo Cash, also colored, was arrested last night at 9:00 o'clock by Sheriff J. F. McClelland and Deputies O. R. Estridge and Jack Hickson.

The murder, for which Garvin is being held in the County Jail, was committed on May 22, and is said to have been witnessed by four persons. Garvin and Cash are said to have engaged in an argument over a trivial matter during which Garvin called Cash a liar and then drew a pistol and shot him.

According to State's Attorney L. F. Boyle, who indicted Garvin, disposition of the case will be asked for at the reconvening of the present term of court in order to save the expense of keeping the prisoner in jail from now until the next term of court in December.

At the time of his arrest Garvin was on his way back to his home in the Everglades where he has been hiding since the fatal shooting.

Fletcher Telegram Admits Trammell Preference Telling Voters To Decide

TAMPA, June 22.—Senator Fletcher, replying yesterday to a telegram from the managing editor of The Tribune, said he would vote for Senator Trammell, but recommended that each voter make up his mind for himself.

The telegram to the senator, sent Wednesday, advised him that whatever his stand, his statement would be news.

WOMAN TO HANG FOR KILLING MAN NEWSBOYS LEARN HABITS OF THRIFT

Convicted Of Slaying Mate Though She Professes Innocence

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—(AP)—Nellie Madison, 39-year-old brunette, was told today by a superior court jury that she must hang for the murder of her husband, Eric, 46, a film studio auditor who was slain last March by five bullets fired into his back while he lay in bed in their apartment.

Four women and eight men wrote the verdict convicting her of first degree murder. The jurors made no recommendation for mercy leaving the death sentence to be pronounced next Tuesday.

Mrs. Madison is the second woman in California history to face a death sentence but no woman has ever been legally hanged, the previous sentence having been commuted to life imprisonment.

Those composing the group are: Dr. Samuel Puleston, J. C. Hutchison, Walter Hand, Will Hand, Dr. C. L. Park, Maxwell Stewart, Collie Schaal, H. M. Watson, James A. Wright, Frank Bartholomew, R. L. Robertson, and Dr. R. E. Stevens of St. Petersburg.

Women who fast for sake of figures run more risks than starving men.

HERKULEY, Calif., June 22.—(AP)—Women who fast or starve themselves for the sake of a slender figure do so at a greater risk to their health than do men undergoing similar deprivations, the American Association for the Advancement of Science was told by Professor H. J. Deuel, of the University of Southern California Medical School.

TAMPA BOARD FIXES BUDGET FOR NEW YEAR

Plan Adopted To Borrow $270,000 From Banks To Pay Bonds; Default Suggested

TAMPA, June 22.—Comptroller Booker said Friday he would confer with officials of the First National and Exchange Banks in regard to the proposed $250,000 loan proffered the city after the board of representatives Thursday night formally adopted a budget without raising last year's millage.

Following a conference several days ago between R. J. Binnicker, of the First National, J. A. Griffin, of the Exchange National and city officials, the City Board arbitrarily deducted $270,000 from the municipality's bond interest account, anticipating they would borrow this amount from the banks against the delinquent tax roll which now exceeds $3,000,000.

The budget as adopted Thursday night was put through on this basis despite warning from the banks to Mayor Chaney that the loan was contingent upon the city adopting a budget which would avoid an increased deficit at the end of the present fiscal year. The mayor in a communication to the board said an increase of three mills would be required to take care of the deficit. Representatives Campbell and Hudgins voted against the budget which carries an operating deficit of $270,000, and the remainder of the board, with the exception of Representative Pacheco who was absent, voted the matter through.

Comptroller Booker stated the actual deficit of last year was $239,000 which is owed the sinking fund from delinquent taxes. Delinquent taxes for 1933-34 are $3,000,000. Just about total this amount, he stated, thus leaving the delinquent bill clean at the end of the present fiscal year which began June 1. A payment on bond interest of $137,000 is due June 30 and this amount must be borrowed from the current tax roll, he stated.

Representative Rosenthal in a resume of the situation said the city could default and declare a moratorium on its debts if the banks should fail to come through.

"If it comes to a showdown there is no reason why Tampa shouldn't default as Miami and other cities have done rather than burden taxpayers," he stated.

Representative Emerson said that "if it came to a showdown the banks would talk turkey and make the loan."

"We're going to give the people relief they're crying for," stated Representative Ragan. "I can't see what justification the banks have for turning us down on the loan."

The budget as adopted Thursday night calls for 20 mills in the Hyde Park section, 19 mills in Tampa Heights, 17 1/2 mills in Seminole Heights, and 23 mills in West Tampa, the same as last year in each district. The total amount to be raised is $1,541,080. Last year the required amount was $1,730,507 but the year closed on May 31 with a $300,000 deficit.

One murderer, sentenced to life imprisonment, and five other criminals, with sentences ranging from one to seven years, will leave Sanford Sunday morning for Raiford accompanied by Sheriff McClelland and Deputy Jack Hickson.

The prisoners, all of whom were completed during the present term of the Circuit Court, with Millard B. Smith as judge and L. F. Boyle as prosecuting attorney, are: Willie Smith, colored, murder, sentenced to life; Annie Belle Pope, colored, assault with intent to commit manslaughter, up for two years; J. T. Fortier, illegal card interest, seven years; Charles Brasell, grand larceny, two years; Raymond Coleman, receiving stolen goods, one year; and Walter Brinkley and others, three years.

C Of C Plans Joint Luncheon Greeting New River Lines

Ceremonies To Mark Arrival Here Of 5 Freight Boats Now On Regular Run

One of the most important events in the history of Seminole County will be staged Tuesday noon in connection with a luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce Building to welcome the Orange State Oil Co. distributors of Cities Service Gasoline and Oil and their new river oil tankers to Sanford and Central Florida. Chamber officials said today.

The development of Sanford as the Port of Central Florida will be publicized in an interesting and unique manner when the arrival of at least five freight boats on regular runs between Jacksonville and Sanford will be marked by appropriate ceremonies at the Chamber of Commerce Building.

Important officials from Miami, Jacksonville and Tampa, as well as only the Osceola interests, who operate the Cities Service Co. but also of the Georgia-Florida Grocers Co., operators of the Suwannee Stores in Florida who recently established their warehouse and offices in Sanford, the Winn Lovitt Grocery Co., operator of Lovitt Wigly street, the St. Johns River Line Co., the Suwannee Steamship Co., the Central Florida Transportation Co., the American Oil Co. and Standard Oil Co. who are establishing docks and storage tanks at Sanford, will also be present and participate in the important ceremony.

The Sanford Rotary Club will meet jointly with the Chamber of Commerce and other local groups Tuesday to entertain the noteworthy event in the transportation life of Central Florida. The luncheon will be held at 12:15 o'clock, and tickets are 50 cents. They must be purchased in advance at the Chamber of Commerce office. The public is cordially invited to attend, trade body officials explained today.

Pepper, who spoke for an hour over a radio hookup including Jacksonville, Miami and Orlando stations, was introduced by James H. Coughlan, chairman of the Duval County Democratic Executive Committee, who also presided while candidates for the County Commission spoke before Pepper took the platform.

Pepper discussed freight rates, and the awarding of $500,000 government CWA and other funds to California while Florida, he said, received only $46,000,000. The speaker declared that there were many worthy self-liquidating projects in Florida which should have had aid. He also produced a CWA map of the United States showing few projects in Florida.

Pepper declared that his ancestors had been Southerners for more than 200 years. He was born in Alabama.

Pepper charged that Trammell is resorting to a sectional appeal as a last desperate campaign effort. He added that he was in sympathy with labor, having worked in a steel mill, ploughed on a farm for 80 cents a day and worked his way through college rolling coal.

After he concluded his speech, hundreds shook hands with Pepper to pick a support.

Trammell Backers To Address Local Group Here Tonight

Final public utterances in behalf of Senator Park Trammell, candidate to succeed himself as United States senator, will be heard in Sanford tonight when Dr. W. H. Spiers, of Tallahassee, and C. E. Durance of Orlando will address Sanford citizens at the corner of First Street and Park Ave. at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Spiers, who is a personal friend of Mr. Trammell and Mr. Durance, Orlando attorney and also a personal friend of the senator, will be introduced by E. F. Houlihan.
