

'Log Cabin' Lot Development Plans To Get Board Review

By BOB LLOYD
Sanford city commissioners next week will view detailed plans to be submitted by an Orlando developer for an office building proposed for the city's "log cabin" lakefront lot.

At a Monday work session Gerald E. Anderson, agent for developer Max Mogul, offered $40,000 for the less-than-acre lot fronting on Seminole Boulevard and Myrtle Avenue. Anderson said Mogul would lease or rent 15,000 of the 16,000 square feet of space in the proposed $500,000 building to tenants.

Commissioners noted a letter offering to purchase the lot but declined to accept a 10 per cent deposit check until next Monday's official session. City Manager Warren Knowles has urged city commissioners in several forums not to sell the lot but to use it only to swap for more land available to meet tripled parking requirements for a proposed new city hall complex.

Knowles wants to try to swap the "log cabin" lot for bank-owned property on the west side of the existing police headquarters. March 28 Sanford real estate man William L. Kirk returned the deed to the lot to the city because it doesn't fit needs for a proposed two-story office building. Kirk had been awarded the lot for $21,500 after lengthy bidding by three groups.

Anderson said Monday that Mogul's offer is contingent on soil and engineering surveys. He said within 90 days after the city approves the building plans construction could start on the six month project that would cost $500,000 valuation on city tax rolls.

At least two other groups are also interested in purchasing the city lot, site of a former American Legion log cabin. Howard McNulty of Lakeland Development Ltd., group seeking to gain title to and develop the adjoining lakefront tank farm area, said the group would be looking for a "square off" the development area with the log cabin lot since he holds an option to buy a railroads-owned lot fronting on Patton Street and Myrtle Avenue and abutting the city lot on the south.

Winter Park Developer J. W. Hickman says he feels since he and W. F. Holt and Sons Inc., Nashville contractors, offered $55,000 for the lot as an office building would be built on the site. The city should first offer the lot to them.

However, for best benefit to the city Hickman said he feels the lot should go to Lakeland Development Ltd. Monday Anderson and Bower said they foresee no trouble in fitting in the required parking area for Mogul's proposed building on the lot.

When he returned the lot to the city Kirk indicated there wasn't enough room for parking required for his proposed office building. (Bob Lloyd Photo)

SANFORD CITY crews today began demolishing the base of the Memorial Park (handshell pier) monument and flagpole in the first phase of a $17,500 (facilitating) renovation into an attractive lakefront park. City parks director Jim Jenkins said the flagpole base will be changed from its present oval form to a double tiered round base, retaining the monument plaque. Also to be installed in the first phase are winding green sidewalks. (Bob Lloyd Photo)

Workers Laid Off Farmers Withholding Livestock

By WILLIAM GILLEN Associated Press Writer
Farmers were reported holding back their cattle and hogs from the market as the nation-wide meat boycott entered its fourth day today.

Workers at the meat processing plants said that farmers delivered 52,700 head of cattle to the nation's 11 major markets during the first two days of last week. This week, the figure for the first two days was down to 33,500. Ordinarily, such a drastic cutback in the supply of cattle would cause buyers to bid prices up. But because of the boycott, packers were buying less and prices held relatively steady.

Gold Coast Power Outage Spreading

MIAMI (AP) — A massive power failure, more widespread than Tuesday's six-hour outage, swept over a 170-mile stretch of Florida's Gold Coast as power facilities were taxed by the second day of 85 degree temperatures and heavy Spring tourist crowds.

Traffic lights were off, elevators in high-rise apartment buildings stopped working, hairdressers sent customers outside to dry their hair in the sun and restaurants without emergency power supplies had to serve cold food and drinks.

A Florida Power & Light Company spokesman said, "It's another widespread problem. We don't know the dimensions or the cause just yet." But the blackout today apparently had reached as far north as White City, 50 mi. north of Palm Beach. It also knocked out electricity in Islamorada, a Florida Keys city 70 miles south of Miami. The city of Homestead 35 miles south of Miami which has a municipal generating plant was not affected, and municipal plants kept the power humming in areas around West Palm Beach.

During Tuesday's blackout, which affected an area from Boca Raton, about 25 miles south of Palm Beach, to Islamorada, the Florida Public Service Commission in Tallahassee granted FP&L a $40 million rate increase.

State Plans Appeal Of Brown's Acquittal

Brown said today he has plans "to very shortly be back in political life." He said he's planning to run for either a county government office or the state legislature.

State Atty. Abbott Herring said from Tallahassee today he was appealing Herring's ruling to the Fourth District Court of Appeals.

Herring said he believes the circuit court "mis-applied" the law. He said he feels the state election code applies to the City of Longwood even though it hasn't been adopted by the city.

Brown said today the month of controversy and stress since he was indicted Feb. 28 has taught him one thing: there is a place in politics for honest people.

City Spends Federal $$ For Auto

By MARION BETHEA

WINTER SPRINGS — At Monday's meeting of city council all of the city's federal revenue sharing funds were spent for a new police car.

Two bids were opened last week, both exceeding the allocated amount of $3,400. Mayor Granville Brown suggested the city contract the sheriff's department to lease if the cruiser could be purchased from the sheriff's account.

However, Monday, Councilman Victor Miller moved for acceptance of a bid for $2,286 for the vehicle, which was approved noting as police commissioner, he had $2,000 in the auto purchasing fund in addition to the allocated sum from the federal revenue sharing fund. Additional equipment for the car, he said, would cost $400.

Councilman Troy Pland balked when Miller suggested using the entire revenue sharing account of $4,772 for the purchase, posing the question as to why if he had the $2,000 and the other allocated sum, he needed further funds.

Miller replied it would save the city $1,000 in finance charges to purchase the car on a cash basis and be wanted a "package deal" with the funds.

Councilmen Vicki Baker and John Booth said the total for the car and equipment was $3,996 and asked how Miller would justify to the federal government the additional $100 expenditure.

Brown concurred saying, "Take it all, don't leave a little bit. I'll have to explain."

Mrs. Baker said it was better to explain to the city's accountant than to the government, and Councilman Cliff Jordan said he could not foresee explanation of not spending the exact amount on a capital outlay item.

Unless, he said, the total purchase price and price of equipment was spent the money was used improperly.

Ultimately, council voted to spend the entire sum of the revenue sharing account, with Jordan and Pland casting the only nay votes.

City Atty. Tom Freeman said there is no problem with the additional $100, which he said, could be used for "super" tires or "a first aid kit."

"We're in the federal government in this country is kinda silly some times," said Freeman.

Renter Appointed To Adjustment Board

By MARION BETHEA

WINTER SPRINGS—Passage of an ordinance Monday by city council which permits renters to hold appointive or elective municipal office resulted in the immediate recommendation by Mayor Granville Brown, and ratification by council, of a teacher to the board of adjustment.

Named was Mrs. Mary Cook, who Brown had recommended on March 3, and when it was pointed out she was not a freeholder, and Brown withdrew her name, prompting the drafting of the ordinance.

City Atty. Tom Freeman then explained the U.S. Supreme Court had ruled a person could not be disenfranchised because he is not a freeholder, and that the city would lose any suit in which its ordinance was challenged.

Freeman injected, "No, since the freezing of beef, we're in three-A."

Purchasing Procedures Examined By Council

By MARION BETHEA

WINTER SPRINGS — The city Monday was no closer to establishing guidelines for purchase orders. A committee was appointed comprised of Councilmen Vicki Baker, Troy Pland and Victor Miller, to study the issue and report next Monday.

Mrs. Baker questioned Miller if, as police commissioner, he would approve giving the police chief authority to okay purchase orders.

Miller said he had no objections, but felt that council was elected to oversee the budget.

Miller also contended that businesses contracted by phone should quote an exact expenditure.

City Atty. Tom Freeman outlined the problem as either under or over expenditure of the purchase order, which he said, could be eliminated by a policy stating the bill should be within 10 per cent of the purchase order.

S. Florida Deep Wells Pollution Control Urged

By ERIC SHARP
Associated Press Writer

MIAMI (AP) — The federal government has recommended that ocean outfall and deep well injection systems be used for sewage disposal in South Florida. Proponents of deep wells say they may become the standard system throughout the state.

In its final environmental impact statement for South Florida, the Environmental Protection Agency recommended that North Broward County use a traditional ocean outfall system when the EPA surprised West Palm Beach by recommending that a deep well system be used there, even though the city had been planning for three years to build a $20 million outfall plant.

Environmentalists generally oppose any form of outfall, and Art Marshall of the University of Miami's applied ecology department says the major objection to deep well "is our lack of knowledge."

"I think we may be going into this deep well system without enough testing," Marshall says. "Of course, what I've seen so far indicates this system might be good in Florida."

Fred Meyer of the U.S. Geological Service in Miami says deep wells offer a method of disposing of waste water "while keeping it on hand so that we can pull it back for recycling if we need it. It's just like money in the bank from that angle."

In deep well sewage disposal, the secondary treated wastewater is pumped under pressure into a porous rock area — usually at least 3,000 feet down. Preliminary research indicates the water will remain at this level, spreading through the rock in an oval pattern.

"One great advantage of deep wells is that you can tap this water in the future and use it as is for, say, salinity control in drought periods. You could use this water to build up a fresh water head to prevent salt water intrusion in canals," Meyer said. "You could also tap

Benefit Auction Planned

Seminole County Association for Retarded Children (SCARC) will hold its first annual Central Florida Art Auction Saturday at Winter Park to establish a major annual fund-raising event to help match federal-state money used in programs for pre-school retardates.

U.S. Sen. Edward J. Gurney will be at the pre-auction champagne reception at the Howard Johnson Motor Inn, Interstate Four and Lee Road, Winter Park.

Art Auction general chairman Bill Beck of Sanford said SCARC has a long-range goal of establishing a $6 million "Children's Village" for complete services to the retarded.

SCARC this year has expanded its "Little Red Schoolhouse" program from serving 14 to 75 children at Casselberry. Formerly the organization served only North Seminole County but now is serving retarded children from all parts of the county, with pre-school training and a day care center.

The association is a tax exempt charitable organization with programs currently receiving matching funds from government agencies. Other funds are from Seminole County and the State Division of Retardation.

Saturday's art auction will feature a collection of original art works by known and new artists from San-Ja Galleries.

Contract Delayed

By BOB LLOYD

Negotiations between the City of Sanford and Hallmark Construction Co., are continuing on a contract to assure correction of failing streets in section one of Washington Oaks subdivision in east-central Sanford.

The city is withholding occupancy permits on 85 homes built in unit two of the subdivision until an agreement is reached on unit one streets. At a Monday work session, after discussing at length an 11 point agreement proposed by Hallmark, city commissioners authorized City Atty. Vernon Mize and City Manager Warren Knowles to continue negotiations with Hallmark president Gordon Nutt and the firm's attorney, S. Joe Davis.

"At least we know now where we disagree," Mize said. Davis said most of the differences can be resolved within a week.

"I know what I can and can't do," Nutt said, "and I sincerely want to resolve the situation."

Biggest difference apparently is a proposal by Nutt, made for the first time Monday, that the city should contribute $12,000 cash toward the corrective work on unit one streets, or as an alternative, cancel an agreement made in November 1971 requiring the developer to donate two lots for park purposes.

Knowles said the "open space" was a requirement of platting the subdivision. The city maintains the streets in unit one failed because of side underdrain problems.

Hallmark proposes to install underdrains to unit one streets and repair failing pavement starting 30 days after an agreement is signed with completion of the work within 85 days.

Nutt said he believes "a significant part of the problem" with drainage in unit one is because the city's off-site drainage "is terrible."

He said 90 per cent of the water from the subdivision goes into a city drainage canal and cleaning the canal hasn't solved the problem of backed up water.

"If the city didn't intend to improve off site drainage facilities they shouldn't have approved the subdivision platting," Nutt said.

Knowles claimed the off site drainage situation has little effect on impervious soil conditions on the failing streets in unit one.

Knowles said the city canal in question was included in a $4 million drainage bond issue turned down by city voters. He said it empties into a county canal flowing into Lake Monroe and the county has refused to clean its canal.

Knowles said the canal problem was a "known factor" at the time of planning, construction and installation of unit one streets in Washington Oaks.

Nutt said he has engineering reports stating the city canal isn't connected to the county canal. He said he wants the city to contribute $12,000 toward the unit one drainage and street work and also to do off site drainage work.

At least one city commissioner, A. A. McClanahan, said he'll vote against spending taxpayers money on the subdivision street problem.

Engineering Studies Scheduled For Board

By BOB LLOYD

Sanford city commissioners will hear proposals April 16 from two traffic engineering consulting firms for traffic and parking studies but at least one commissioner says he'll vote against a professional study and another commissioner says he fears recommendations will create "forever pressure" from downtown merchants.

Commissioner John Morris, who proposed the study, said if recommendations are in the best interests of the city, "I'll do my best to implement them even though they may be unpopular."

Commissioner Julian Stenstrom, who recently proposed formation of a joint city-county parking authority to fund ways of financing addition of a "deck" to the city's public parking lot between Hood and Palmetto avenues on Seminole boulevard, said he doesn't think the city needs to pay $12,000 for a professional traffic and parking survey when it can be done by city employees.

Stenstrom said he has conducted a "mini-survey" of 12 citizens and they're all against the city paying for a professional study.

"I'll end up on a shelf," he said, "and I won't vote for it."

Commissioner Gordon Meyer said he's afraid the professional survey will recommend ending some present downtown parking, which officials have already termed "critical," thus putting downtown merchants "in arms" and expiring "forever pressure" on city commissioners.

"There's no question the survey will show need of some one-way streets and changes in parking," Mayor Lee Moore said.

But the EPA surprised West Palm Beach by recommending that a deep well system be used there, even though the city had been planning for three years to build a $20 million outfall plant.

Environmentalists generally oppose any form of outfall, and Art Marshall of the University of Miami's applied ecology department says the major objection to deep well "is our lack of knowledge."

"I think we may be going into this deep well system without enough testing," Marshall says. "Of course, what I've seen so far indicates this system might be good in Florida."

Fred Meyer of the U. S. Geological Service in Miami says deep wells offer a method of disposing of waste water "while keeping it on hand so that we can pull it back for recycling if we need it. It's just like money in the bank from that angle."

In deep well sewage disposal, the secondary treated wastewater is pumped under pressure into a porous rock area — usually at least 3,000 feet deep. Preliminary research indicates the water will remain at this level, spreading through the rock in an oval pattern.

"One great advantage of deep wells is that you can tap this water in the future and use it as is for, say, salinity control in drought periods. You could use this water to build up a fresh water head to prevent salt water intrusion in canals," Meyer said. "You could also tap

By MARION BETHA

WINTER SPRINGS—Passage of an ordinance Monday by city council which permits renters to hold appointive or elective municipal office resulted in the immediate recommendation by Mayor Granville Brown, and ratification by council, of a teacher to the board of adjustment.

Named was Mrs. Mary Cook, who Brown had recommended on March 5, and, when it was pointed out she was not a freholder, and Brown withdrew her name, promoting the drafting of the ordinance.

City Atty. Tom Freeman then explained the U.S. Supreme Court had ruled a person could not be disenfranchised because he is not a freholder, and that the city would lose any suit in which its ordinance was challenged in court.

Approved to the planning and zoning board was Mike Anastasia.

In other city business, maintenance man James Hansen was granted a salary increase from $2.15 hourly to $2.75.

The salary hike was made possible by transfer of $750 from the contingency account to the salary account.

Councilman Cliff Jordan said Hansen indicated he wanted ultimately to be paid commensurate with like jobs at a salary of $3.50 hourly.

Jordan said he would defy anyone to go on the open labor market and get someone to perform Hansen's duties at $2.15 hourly.

A humorous note was injected with Brown apparently being the first to crack up.

Councilman Victor Miller replied they were removed three months ago and that "we're in phase three now."

Freeman injected, "No, since the frezing of beef, we're in three-A."

Purchasing Procedures Examined By Council

By MARION BETHA

WINTER SPRINGS — The city Monday was no closer to establishing guidelines for purchase orders. A committee was appointed composed of Councilmen Vicki Baker, Troy Piland and Victor Miller, to study the issue and report next Monday.

Mrs. Baker questioned Miller if, as police commissioner, he would approve giving the police chief authority to okay purchase orders.

Miller said he had no objections, but felt that council was elected to oversee the budget.

Miller also contended that businesses contracted by phone should quote an exact expenditure.

City Atty. Tom Freeman outlined the problem as either under or over expenditure of the purchase order, which, he said, could be eliminated by a policy stating the bill should be within 10 per cent of the purchase order.

Discussion Set By La Amistad

Mr. and Mrs. Al Williamson, directors of La Amistad (friendship in Spanish), a unique non-profit home in Winter Park for emotionally disturbed adolescents, will discuss their activities at a regular meeting of the Seminole County Mental Health Association Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the center at 103 Robin Road, Altamonte Springs.

Growing concern over adolescent problems and inability to help youngsters become useful productive citizens are faced by adults in every phase of life. Teachers, ministers, psychiatrists, together with parents, frequently face frustration and inadequacy.

Congressman Lou Frey was 1971 campaign chairman to secure funds for this worthwhile center, which has the approval of all of the state and private licensing agencies.

The board of directors of the Mental Health Association urges all interested persons to attend the meeting and ask questions.

"It is my firm belief," states Mrs. Virginia Herndon, MHA president, "that Seminole County needs facilities like this and only through training and learning from successful half-way houses, of which La Amistad is a member, can we reach more teenagers.

Benefit Auction Planned

By BOB LLOYD

Seminole County Association for Retarded Children (SCARC) will hold its first annual Central Florida Art Auction Saturday at Winter Park to establish a major annual fund-raising event to help match federal-state money used in programs for pre-school retardates.

U.S. Sen. Edward J. Gurney will be host at the pre-auction champagne reception at the Howard Johnson Motor Inn, Interstate Four and Lee Road, Winter Park.

Art Auction general chairman Bill Reek of Sanford said SCARC has a long-range goal of establishing a $6 million "Children's Village" for complete services to the retarded.

SCARC this year has expanded its "Little Red Schoolhouse" program from serving 14 to 75 children at Casselberry. Formerly the organization served only North Seminole County but now is serving retarded children from all parts of the county, with pre-school training and a day care center.

The association is a tax exempt charitable organization with programs currently receiving matching funds from government agencies. Other funds are from Seminole County and the state Division of Retardation.

Saturday's art auction will feature a collection of original art works by known and new artists from Sur-Ja Galleries.

Occupancy Permits Withheld Contract Delayed

By BOB LLOYD

Negotiations between the City of Sanford and Hallmark Construction Co., are continuing on a contract to assure correction of failing streets in section one of Washington Oaks subdivision in east-central Sanford.

The city is withholding occupancy permits on 85 homes being built in unit two of the subdivision until an agreement is reached on unit one streets.

At Monday work session, after discussing at length an 11 point agreement proposed by Hallmark, city commissioners authorized City Atty. Vernon Mize and City Manager Warren Knowles to continue negotiations with Hallmark president Gordon Nutt and the firm's attorney, S. Joe Davis.

"At least we know now where we disagree," Mize said. Davis said most of the differences can be resolved within a week.

"I know what I can and can't do," Nutt said, "and I sincerely want to resolve the situation."

Biggest difference apparently is a proposal by Nutt, made for the first time Monday, that the city should contribute $12,000 cash toward the corrective work on unit one streets, or as an alternative, cancel an agreement made in November 1971 requiring the developer to donate two lots for park purposes.

Nutt said the "open space" was a requirement of platting the subdivision. The city maintains the streets in unit one failed because of side underdrain problems.

Hallmark proposes to install underdrains to unit one streets and repair failing pavement starting 10 days after an agreement is signed with completion of the work within 85 days.

Nutt said he believes "a significant part of the problem" with drainage in unit one is because the city's off-site drainage "is terrible."

He said 90 per cent of the water from the subdivision goes into a city drainage canal and cleaning the canal hasn't solved the problem of backed up water.

"If the city didn't intend to improve off site drainage facilities they shouldn't have approved the subdivision plat," Nutt said.

Knowles claimed the off site drainage situation has little effect on impervious soil conditions on the failing streets in unit one.

Knowles said the city canal in question was included in a $4 million drainage bond issue turned down by city voters. He said it empties into a county canal flowing into Lake Monroe and the county has refused to clean the canal.

Knowles said the canal problem was a "known factor" at the time of planning, construction and installation "of unit one streets in Washington Oaks."

Nutt said he has engineering reports showing the city canal isn't connected to the county canal. He said he wants the city to contribute $12,000 toward the unit one drainage and street work and also to do off site drainage work.

At least one city commissioner, A. A. McClanahan, said he'll vote against spending taxpayers money on the subdivision street problem.

Engineering Studies Scheduled For Board

By BOB LLOYD

Sanford city commissioners will hear proposals April 16 from two traffic engineering consulting firms for traffic and parking studies but at least one commissioner says he'll vote against a professional study and another commissioner says he fears recommendations will create "foreverful pressure" from downtown merchants.

Commissioner John Morris, who proposed the study, said if its recommendations are in the best interests of the city, "I'll do my best to implement them even though they may be unpopular."

Commissioner Julian Strenstrom, who recently proposed formation of a joint city-county parking authority to find ways of financing additional "a deck" to the city's public parking lot between Hood and Palmetto Avenues on Seminole Boulevard, said he doesn't think the city needs to pay $12,000 for a professional traffic and parking survey when it can be done by city employees.

Strenstrom said he has conducted a "mini-survey" of 12 citizens and they're all against the city paying for a professional study.

"I'll end up on a shelf," he said, "and I won't vote for it."

Commissioner Gordon Meyer said he'd afford the professional survey if it would end some present downtown parking, which officials have already termed "critical," thus putting areas in "a parking crisis" and "expanding" "foreverful pressure" on city commissioners.

"There's no question the survey will show need for some one-way streets and changes in parking," Mayor Lee Moore said.

Raines, Deas Hit HR's

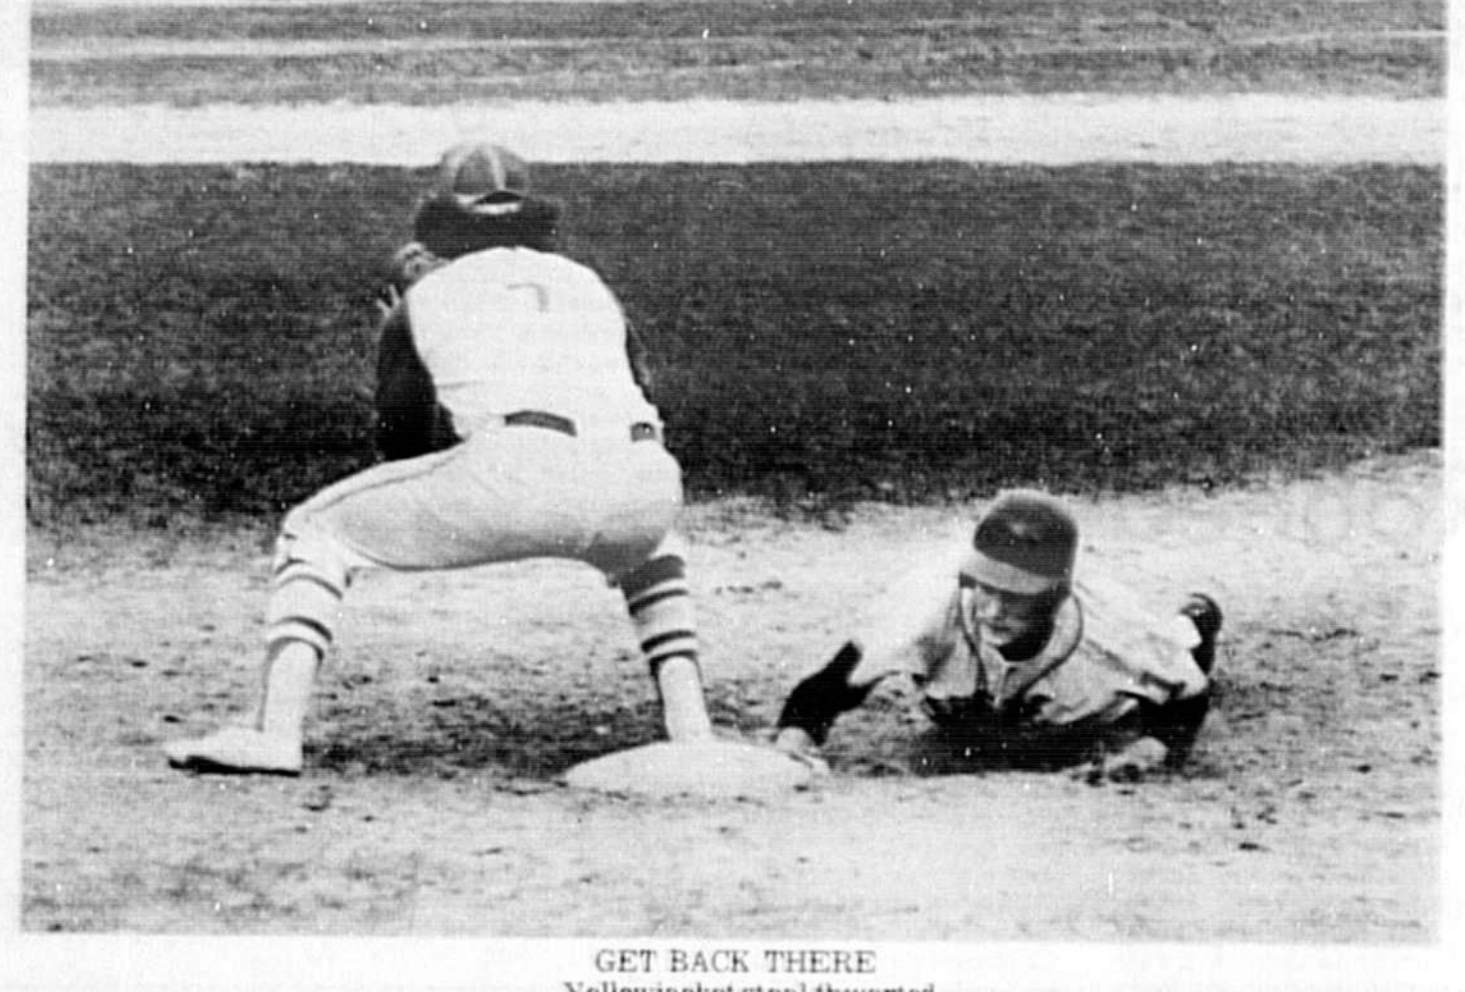

Seminoles Shock Leesburg Nine

By J. RICHARDS
Herald Sports Writer
Trotter runs by Levi Raines and Dickie Deas and Raines' shifty base running in the eighth inning paced Seminoles High to a come-from-behind win over Leesburg, 6-4 for the Tribe's sixth win of the season.

The Tribe had to overcome a 4-1 Yellowjacket first and second inning lead while Pitcher Frank Sloan suffered a second inning grand slam home run by Leesburg's shortstop and relief pitcher, Charlie Holt. However, Sloan recovered his form, but when Holt was called upon to pitch in relief for starter James Busby, Raines and Deas got their revenge with circuit cuts, bringing in three runs in the game and forcing it into the extra inning.

Busby, regarded as one of the state's better hurlers, has already recorded a no-hitter this year and has thrown a no-hitter to the Atlanta Braves and resides in Yalaha, Florida during the off-season. Raines then walked in the bottom of the eighth, stole second and sent all the way home with his sharp running. Holt tried to pick the fleet footed SIS keystone man off second, but the ball got past Leesburg's second sacker, Mark Colson, and Raines headed for third.

Colson then threw to third, but the ball went wide and the Tribe's winning run came in. The first two innings belonged to the Yellowjackets. Holt got on by an error and moved across the bases on Mark Graham's hit which was subsequently thrown away allowing the Jackets to score their first run.

Waldheim To Scuttle Cong Plan?

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim continues talks today on the Viet Cong's bid to send an observer to the United Nations, but he reportedly plans to shelve the matter.

An informed source said Waldheim would tell the provisional Revolutionary Government of South Vietnam its request might be considered later, when the question of U.N. relief to Vietnam comes up.

The United States opposes the Viet Cong move. Secretary of State William P. Rogers has said it would be a "serious decision" for Waldheim to allow the Viet Cong to station a representative at U.N. headquarters.

Christopher H. Phillips, the deputy U.S. representative to the United Nations, indicated Monday that Washington might refuse to grant the Viet Cong appointee a visa admitting him to the United States.

Waldheim planned to discuss the matter today with Sir Colin Cross, head of the British U.N. mission. The secretary-general has been sounding out the governments who endorsed the Vietnam cease-fire agreement. Britain was expected to side with the United States since it recognizes the Saigon regime as the sole government of South Vietnam.

Waldheim said after the Paris conference on Vietnam that he had discussed the establishment of a Viet Cong liaison office at the United Nations with Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, the foreign minister of the Provisional Revolutionary Government. But the Viet Cong last weekend said that it had appointed Nguyen Van Thien its "permanent observer" at the United Nations, a status heretofore reserved for permanent members in control of a country but unable to secure U.N. membership because of the opposition of one of the five permanent members of the Security Council.

Waldheim's search for a way out of his dilemma began with a meeting Monday with Phillips. On Tuesday he met with Jacob A. Malik of the Soviet Union, Huang Hua of China and Louis de Guiringaud of France.

Invasion Will Bring Renewed U.S. Bombs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Offering a carrot and a stick, Secretary of Defense Elliot L. Richardson has linked U.S. aid for Hanoi to its keeping the peace. A massive invasion of the South, says Richardson, could bring renewed U.S. bombing.

Richardson told the House defense appropriations subcommittee Tuesday that "reintroduction of U.S. aid support" would be considered only if Hanoi launched a massive military incursion like the one last year.

He said South Vietnam's military has already shown it can defend itself against anything short of that without American help.

POW's Own Story Torture, Isolation Failed

By Capt. Jeremiah A. Denton Jr., USN
As told to Kathryn Johnson
Associated Press Writer

Early in the war, starting in October 1965, the North Vietnamese tried to torture and isolate me. But the Viet Cong last weekend said that it had appointed Nguyen Van Thien its "permanent observer" at the United Nations, a status heretofore reserved for permanent members in control of a country but unable to secure U.N. membership because of the opposition of one of the five permanent members of the Security Council.

Waldheim's search for a way out of his dilemma began with a meeting Monday with Phillips. On Tuesday he met with Jacob A. Malik of the Soviet Union, Huang Hua of China and Louis de Guiringaud of France.

Waldheim planned to discuss the matter today with Sir Colin Cross, head of the British U.N. mission. The secretary-general has been sounding out the governments who endorsed the Vietnam cease-fire agreement. Britain was expected to side with the United States since it recognizes the Saigon regime as the sole government of South Vietnam.

Waldheim said after the Paris conference on Vietnam that he had discussed the establishment of a Viet Cong liaison office at the United Nations with Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, the foreign minister of the Provisional Revolutionary Government. WW I POW Recalls German Captivity

By SANDI MOSLEY
Copley News Service

SANTA ANA, Calif. — In July 1914, with the end of World War I in sight, Rollin Crane was busy assuring families of missing servicemen that their loved ones would be found and brought home.

He felt confident he knew how the world powers, at least those in Europe, operated.

Operation Homecoming Shuts Down

By DAVID J. PAINE
Associated Press Writer

CLARK AIR BASE, Philippines (AP) — Operation Homecoming closed its doors at Clark Air Base today after shepherding 300 American prisoners of war through their first taste of freedom.

The job of extracting the POWs from captivity in Vietnam, and of returning them to the United States ended with the departure of the last prisoner, Capt. Robert T. White of Newport News, Va.

The men who flew out of Vietnam were greeted as heroes. Many showed their emotion as they heard the cheers of Americans stationed at Clark Field who turned out to greet them.

As they walked from the plane in blue-gray shirts and trousers supplied by their captors, signs of their ordeal could be seen. Their faces were gaunt. Many limped or had crippled arms. The eyes of many were glazed. Some were humbled, almost abject.

Cherries Jubilee Sauce Tops Traditional Ham For Easter Table

The Easter table, fresh and bright with colorful foods and flowers, invites family and friends to gather 'round and share the joy of the day. Ham, an ancient symbol of happiness, fits harmoniously into the feast scene.

Traditional as the Easter bunny, this fine smoked meat can be dressed up for the celebration. "Easter best" for a baked ham is a bright coat of red cherry sauce sparked with wine. Flaming with brandy provides a flamboyant finishing frill, which is optional.

Ham, chosen for spring feasting for centuries, has more than tradition to back its selection today. For modern hams, although tender and juicy, are a snap to prepare, leaving a woman free to relax with her family or attend to hostess duties. Most hams are retailed "fully-cooked," hence need only heating. Hams labeled "cook-before-eating" are also simple to prepare since there's no need to soak or simmer as in days gone by.

The Cherries Jubilee Sauce that crowns the baked ham is also a time-saver as cherry pie filling provides the short cut to a delicious sauce when blended with cherry wine. It can be served in an accompanying bowl or boat if preferred.

With Baked Smoked Ham Jubilee featured for dinner, the menu is completely eased with a fresh green salad, the family's favorite vegetables and hot rolls.

For a dessert spectacular to match the elegance of the entree, prepare Cherry Creme Supreme, a delightful chilled creation brightened and flavored with maraschino cherries.

Baked Ham Gives Bonus

Baked smoked ham has a built-in bonus in that it usually provides meat for more than one meal. Since ham and cherries prove to be so compatible, pair them again in a variety of appetizing entrees. For tasty example, consider — Ham, Rice and Cherry Combo; Glazed Ham 'N' Pork Loaf and Ham Crêpes with Cherry Pecan Sauce, using maraschino cherries, tart red cherries or pie filling as directed. Lacking leftover baked ham, a "fully-cooked" ham slice can be used in any of these recipes.

Baked Smoked Ham Jubilee

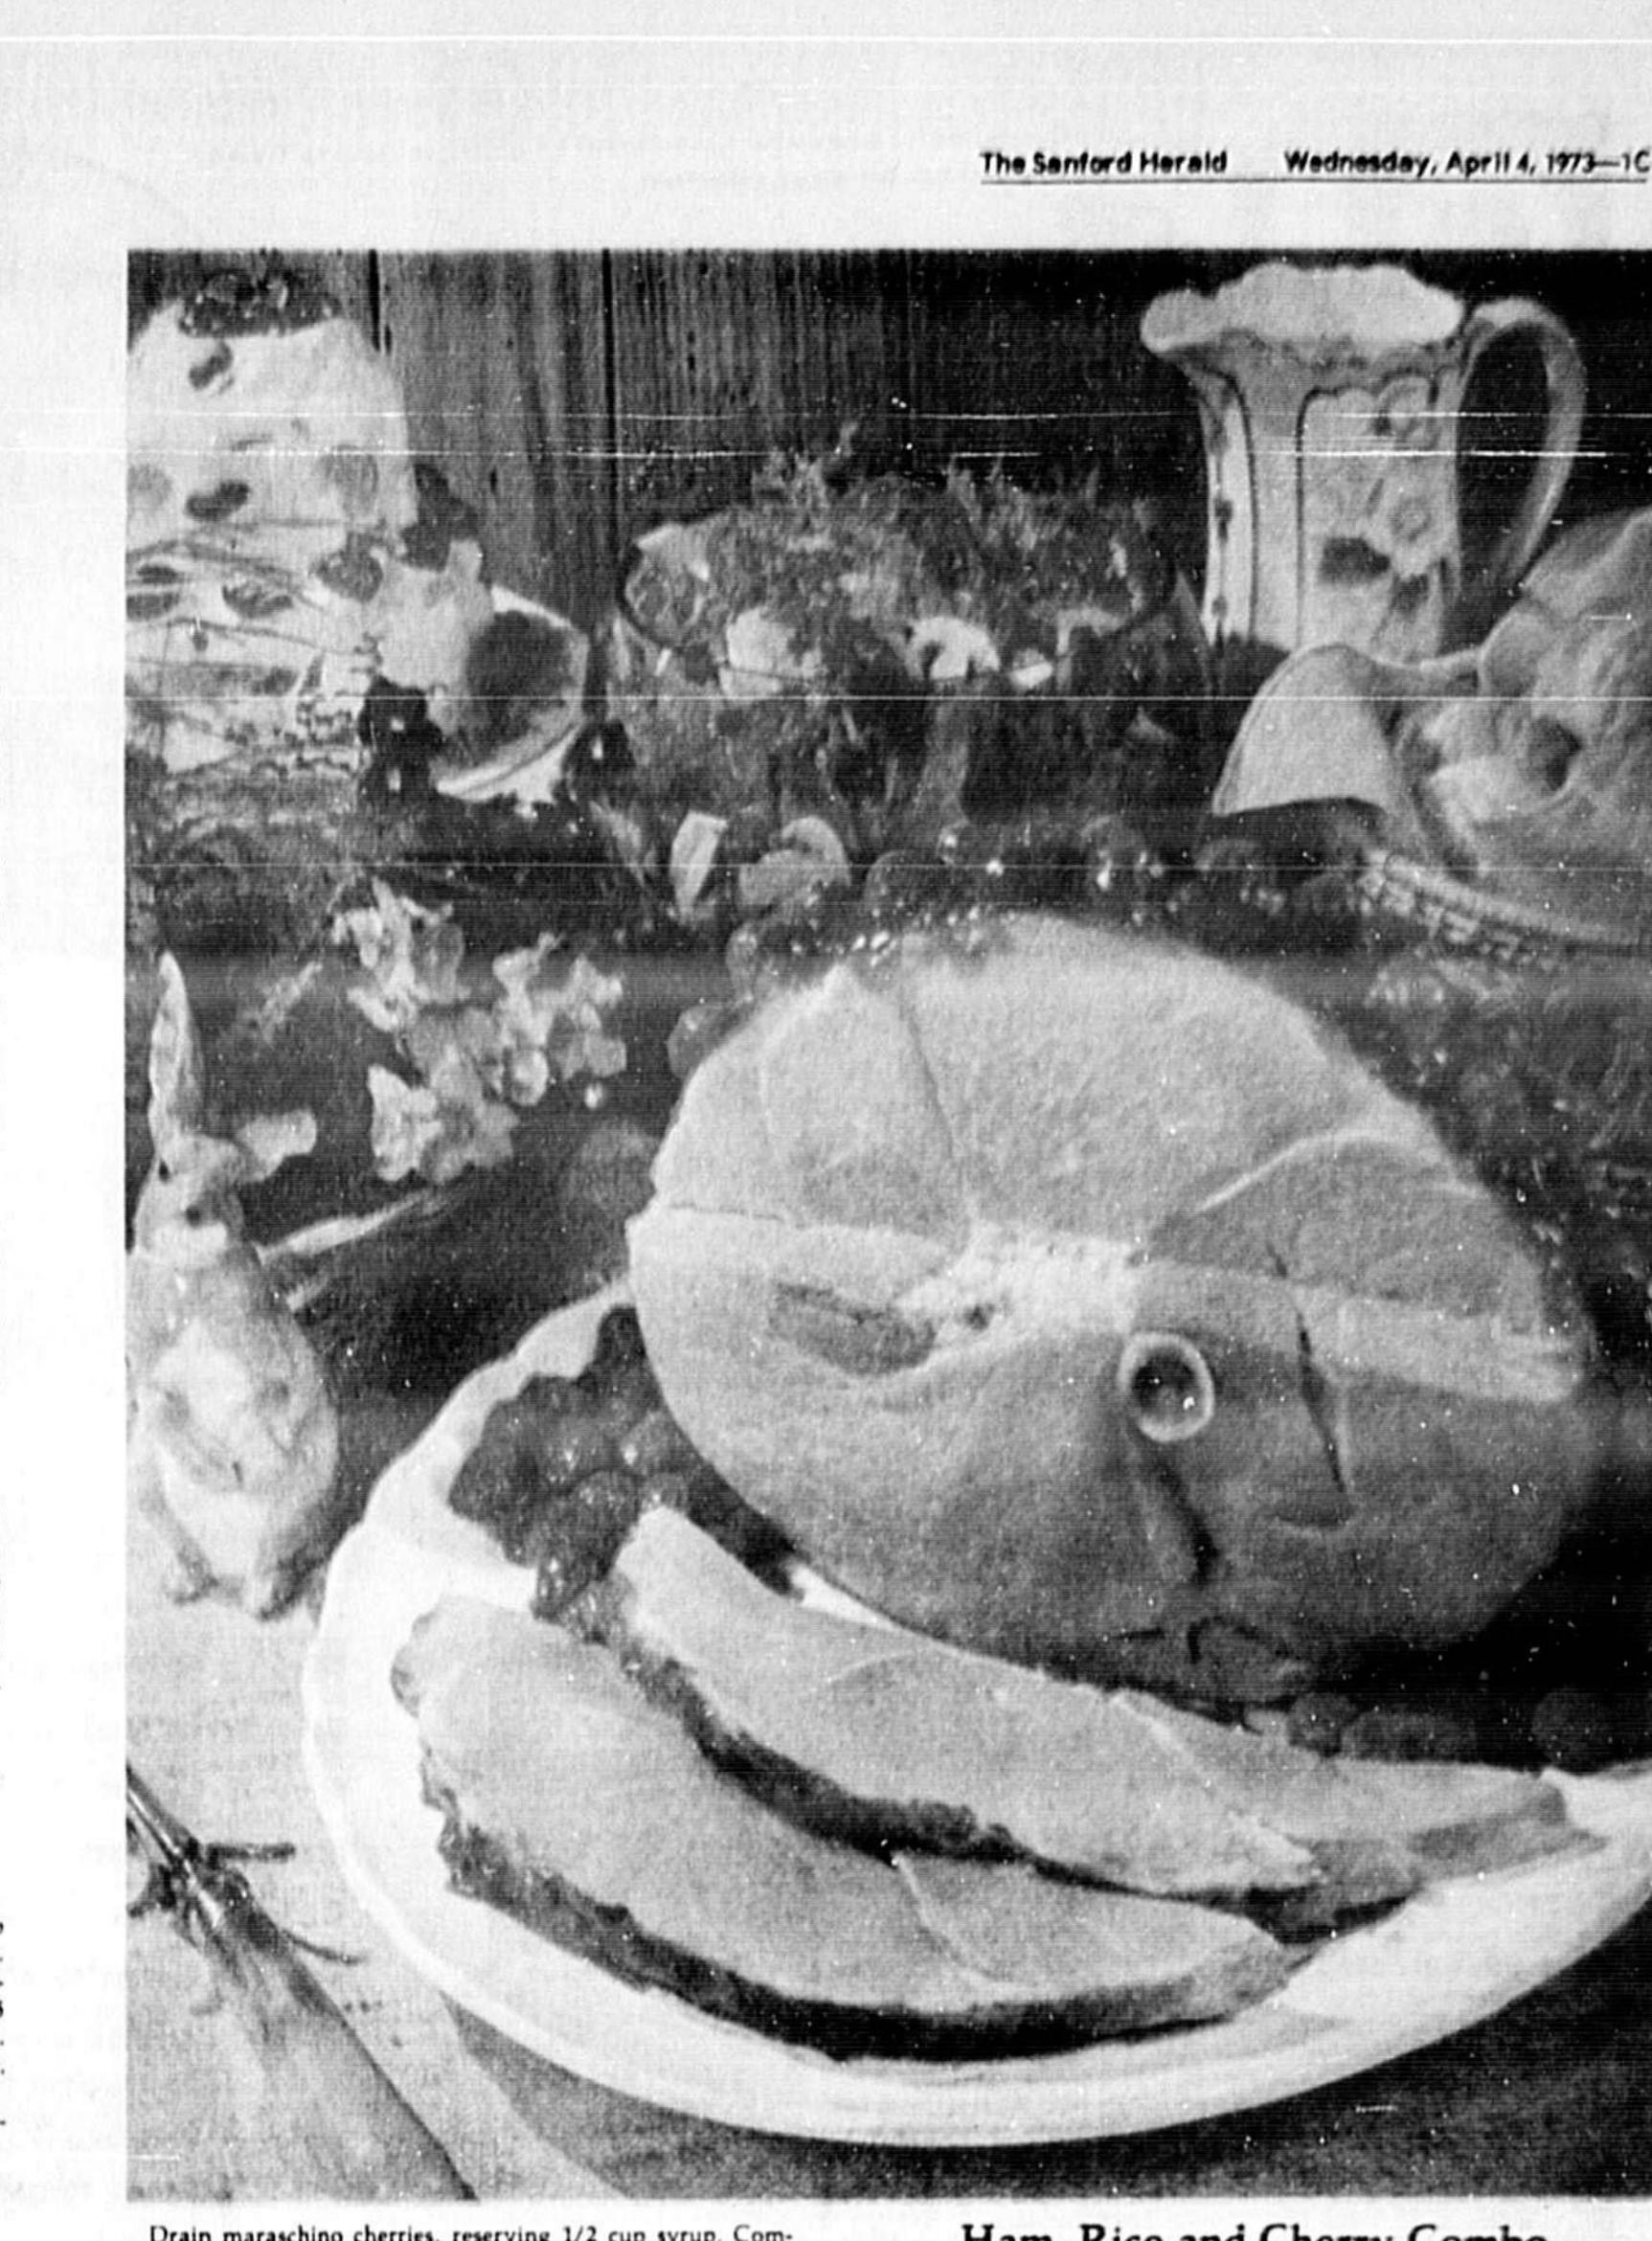

1 can (21 ounces) cherry pie filling 1/2 cup cherry wine
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1/4 cup brandy, if desired

Combine cherry pie filling, wine and orange rind and cook slowly, stirring occasionally for 10 to 15 minutes.

Cherry Creme Supreme

1 jar (8 ounces) maraschino cherries, halved
1/2 cup sugar
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1 2/3 cups milk

1 can (11 ounces) mandarin orange segments and pineapple tidbits, drained
1/2 cup flaked coconut
1/4 cup sugar
1 cup whipping cream

Ham, Rice and Cherry Combo

1 1/2 pounds ham, cut in 1/2 to 3/4-inch pieces
1 can (16 ounces) tart red cherries
1 1/2 cups orange juice
Water
1 cup uncooked rice
2 tablespoons brown sugar
2 cups dairy sour cream
1 can (8 ounce) water chestnuts, drained and sliced
1/2 cup raisins

Glazed Ham 'N' Pork Loaf

1 1/2 pounds fully-cooked smoked ham, sliced 1/2 inch thick
1/2 pound ground pork
2/3 cup semi-dry bread crumbs
2 eggs, beaten
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup chopped green onion
1 tablespoon snipped parsley
2 tablespoons orange marmalade
1 tablespoon maraschino cherry juice
Maraschino cherries, halved
Whole cloves

Ham Crêpes with Cherry Pecan Sauce

2 pounds cooked smoked ham
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup milk
1/4 cup water
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese
2 tablespoons dairy sour cream
1 tablespoon freeze-dried or chopped fresh cherries
Cherry Pecan Sauce*

*Cherry Pecan Sauce

1 can (21 ounces) cherry pie filling
2 tablespoons water
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Combine cherry pie filling, lemon juice, water and nutmeg in saucepan. Bring to boil; reduce heat and cook slowly 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Just before serving stir in pecans.

Mr. W. M. Davis, his wife and four sons opened their first store in 1925 in Leman City (a suburb of Miami, Florida at that time) with borrowed money and a "notion" on how to do business. That "notion" has been carried forward to today... serve customers a "little bit better" with quality food at a "little bit less". Our stores have kept pace with modern architectural designs, and the products on our shelves are as modern as today's scientific technology can make them, but Papa Davis's notion hasn't changed... and we're going to keep it that way because we think that's the way you want it!

Teenagers Should Keep Cholesterol Count Under Control

By GAYNOR MADDOX
The term cholesterol is on many minds these days with heart disease a constant threat to so many people. Scientists have decided that more than 200 milligrams per cent cholesterol in the blood is undesirable. A higher percentage may be a cause of heart disease, many believe.

The human body creates cholesterol. Added to that from the foods we eat. Some foods create more of it than others. To help the household who wants to know the total amount of cholesterol in the food she is buying, the Food and Drug Administration has new rules for labeling cholesterol content. The regulation will require the statement of cholesterol content of the food.

Dr. George Christakis, director of the nutrition division at Mt. Sinai School of Medicine in New York City, advises the layman that establishing a good workable diet program to maintain a lower cholesterol is easy.

"Don't think of cholesterol intake in terms of only one day. Think of the 14 major meals (luncheon and dinner) during one week. Then plan a week's menu with cholesterol allowance can be far less difficult. Know you will enjoy this change in your diet plan after you get used to it. Remember, despite all the scientific jargon about food eating should be fun," Dr. Christakis says.

Of the 14 major meals a week, he suggests that four or five contain fish or seafood, four or five contain turkey or duck and the remaining four or five based on beef, lamb or pork. Keep servings of beef, lamb or pork 3 ounces or less.

"For example, I think it would be wiser to limit high cholesterol foods to once a week. They would include liver, lobster, shrimp and organ meats, such as heart and kidneys and a egg or less."

Most foods contain more than 300 milligrams of cholesterol, which explains why a once a week serving of them is enough.

"The breakdown into fish and seafood, poultry, and beef, lamb and pork introduces different kinds of fat to a week. It is enough because of high cholesterol and fat content of the yolk. Once you get used to fish you'll be surprised how easy it is to enjoy. It is of course, very high in polyunsaturated fats and low in cholesterol."

"Balancing the three types of fat in this method will materially reduce cholesterol in the body. There are other things you can do. Substitute skim milk for whole milk, which contains high fat. Substitute margarine made with polyunsaturated fats for butter which has high fat content. Most people like cheese. So substitute two ounces of cheese for two ounces of ham, for example. And use vegetable oils such as corn and safflower. Incidentally, the modern sherpas are delicious and contain far less fat than ice cream."

Dr. Christakis warns us that heart disease is a threat to young men and women, too.

Crown Roast Of Pork

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

One of the most attractive and succulent meat dishes to serve is a stuffed Crown Roast of Pork. A change of pace stuffing includes Brussels sprouts, tart apples and onion. A really simple dish to make but it rivals almost any example of haute cuisine in the finest of restaurants.

CROWN ROAST OF PORK WITH BRUSSELS SPROUTS STUFFING
1 leek
2 tablespoons freshly ground pepper
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon thyme leaves
1 tablespoon salad oil
Crown roast of pork (12 chops)
2 medium tart apples, sliced
2 medium onions, thinly sliced
2 packages (10 ounces each) frozen California Brussels sprouts
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Combine salt, pepper, 2 tablespoons of the lemon juice, the thyme and oil. Rub pork with some of mixture and place on a rack in a roasting pan. Roast in a 350-degree oven for 30 minutes per pound or until meat thermometer registers 170-degrees. Sprinkle apples and onion and remaining thyme mixture in a shallow baking dish. Bake covered the last 25 minutes of roasting time. Cook Brussels sprouts according to package directions. Drain and combine with butter and apple-onion mixture. Mount in center and around crown roast on platter. Makes 8 servings.

Green Peas • Salad Bowl
Strawberries • Beverage
PARMESAN NOODLES
8 ounces medium egg noodles
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
Cook noodles according to package directions; drain. Mix with butter and Parmesan. Makes 4 servings.

Food Should Be Prepared With The Young In Mind

Copley News Service

Beef Mironton stars leftover sliced beef to serve with noodles.

In the spring of life, one's fancy should be turned toward foods that will help a heart later on.

Mother's aim should be to set a table that serves less fatty foods and to watch their children's intake of calories so that overweight is prevented. While this is good advice for every member of the family, it is particularly important for children who are being tested by physicians as to whether they have high levels of fatty substances in their blood, or who have one or both parents with this condition.

Atherosclerosis, a disease of the arteries that is closely linked with heart attack and stroke, is caused by deposits of cholesterol and other fats found so abundantly in snacks favored by adults as well as youngsters — hot dogs, fatty hamburgers, saturated fat-soaked French fries and potato chips, ice cream and other rich desserts.

Many studies have shown that this disease can start early in life, so a marketing pattern developed in the early years can do a great deal to lower the risk of dying from coronary artery disease in the prime of life.

In most cases, moderate changes in food serving can achieve the goal of helping young hearts. Generally, these are the points for home-makers to follow:

1. Serve more meals of fish, chicken, turkey and veal. If beef, pork, or ham or lamb are used, make sure that they are lean, and serve moderate portions per person.

2. Most hot dogs have a high percentage of fat. You can continue to serve hamburgers, but use lean ground meat and broil it so the melted fat drips out. Hamburgers fried or done on a griddle cook in — and absorb — their own fat.

3. It is all right to fry other foods occasionally, if you use polyunsaturated oil.

4. Substitute margarine for butter as a spread and in other uses, including baking.

Be sure to use a margarine that lists liquid oil as its major ingredient. This would be the first item mentioned on the label and should be corn, sunflower or safflower oil. Avoid coconut oil; it is high in saturated fat.

5. Cut back on use of luncheon meats, sausages and salami. These, like hot dogs, are high in saturated fats, the kinds that tend to raise cholesterol levels in the blood.

6. Encourage the use of fresh fruit and puddings made with nonfat milk to take the place of ice cream.

Tired of ground beef? Try a Beef Mironton which combines leftover cooked beef, thinly sliced, sour gherkins, black olives and Parmesan cheese. Spoon over hot noodles and surround with sliced hot carrots. This is an attractive dish and a new way to stretch the meal dollar.

BEAF MIRONTON

1/4 cup sliced sour gherkins
1/4 cup sliced pitted black olives

In a large skillet melt butter over high heat. Add onions and saute, stirring constantly until onions are brown. Add wine, catsup, beef broth and bitters. Bring to boiling, lower heat and simmer for 2 minutes. Stir in meat, gherkins and olives. Cook for 1 minute or until piping hot and bubbly. Spoon into serving dish and surround with sliced cooked hot carrots. Sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese. Serve with a salad and noodles. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Chicken Fricassee Highlights This Holiday Dinner

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor
What more dramatic way to highlight the Americans' attachment to old favorites in food than to note the requests of the returning Vietnam prisoners of war? It was a ritual of chicken, steak, ice cream and french fries. At this Easter time many thousands of families also will grace their tables with favorite dishes that are traditional to their way of life and integral to the observance of this day of religious remembrance.

CHICKEN FRICASSEE
2 broiler-fryer chickens, cut in serving pieces
1/2 cup flour
2 teaspoons salt, divided
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup water
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon mace
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup light cream

SPINACH CUCUMBER MOLD
4 envelopes unflavored gelatin
3 1/2 cups cold water
3 cups creamed cottage cheese
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1/4 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 tablespoon vinegar
6 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon sugar
6 cups chopped fresh spinach

WALDORF SALAD
3 medium apples, cored and diced
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 cup diced celery
One-third cup chopped walnuts

CORN, RICE AND CHICKEN SUPPER

1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons polyunsaturated oil
1 medium onion, chopped
1/2 cup skim milk
1/2 cup water
1 can (17 ounces) cream style corn

WHIPPED CREAM
In medium saucepan mix cornstarch and sugar. Stir in milk and lemon juice. Place over low heat; stir constantly until sugar dissolves and mixture thickens very slightly, about 15 minutes. Beat egg yolks until well mixed and stir in a little hot mixture. Then stir yolk mixture back into saucepan and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened, 3 to 5 minutes (do not boil). Remove from heat, discard lemon strips and stir in vanilla. Cool. To assemble trifle, place a layer of water and cake and arrange lemon strips and stir in cream. Garnish with whipped cream. Additional sliced bananas and additional currant jelly makes 8 servings.

BANANA TRIFLE

1/2 cup sugar
2 cups milk
2 strips lemon peel
2 eggs yolks
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 pound ripe banana, cut into cubes (6 to 12 servings)

Over The Rocks

By MARY LESTER
Copley News Service

I once caught Michael Bo, one of the most respected of all winemakers of the United States, in his lab creating a formula for vermouth. Seeing him at work with this such spirit and aromatics as anise, dried rose buds, bitter orange peel, violets, I thought he might be concocting a perfume. I was wrong. Carefully, he prepared his mixture for making a martini or a Manhattan.

No, the performance I was witnessing was the work of a master professional evolving a superior vermouth. Technically designated an aperitif-type wine, vermouth is actually made from a wine base and herbs and spices. Mike confessed that to get the particular taste he wanted, it took him nine months of blending, and then even more blending, until he finally decided upon the mixture. Different ingredients to make one dry vermouth.

Unfortunately, in the United States, vermouths are usually looked upon solely as mixtures for making a martini or a Manhattan.

In actuality, either dry (white) or sweet (red taitype) vermouth is a delightful stimulant for one's appetite before dining and a refreshing beverage after. Strong alcohol dulls the taste buds and artificially saps one's appetite.

Drinking an aperitif or two of vermouth provides a lift to the spirit and also arouses the salivary glands into anticipation of the meal.

Today, there are many fine vermouths made in America, both dry and sweet types. For indecisive drinkers, there is even a "Half and Half" put out by Lejon.

Vermouth is best served over the rocks in an old-fashioned or highball glass. Three ounces provides one good drink and is equivalent to one-and-a-half-ounces of 86 proof liquor. However, the strength is much more delicate and, napping on vermouth can be a great help, too, in remembering who you came with.
