LUCAS - NORRIS FIGHT BACKED BY G.O.P. HEADS

Senate Quizzers Find National Committee Funds Used In War On Nebraska Solon

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23—(AP)—Records showing that money borrowed by Robert H. Lucas, Executive director of the republican national committee, to help finance a publicity campaign against Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, was backed up by funds of the national committee placed Monday before the Senate campaign fund committee. While the committee was tracing the source of the anti-Norris campaign financing, Senator Norris issued a statement welcoming Lucas' challenge of a contest on party irregularity, but asking that "my enemies fighting in the open and not, like cringing cowards, hide behind anonymous names or use methods which are disreputable and too dishonorable for anyone to father."

Lucas promptly issued a reply to Norris, denying "that my opposition to Senator Norris was anything but proper." He said the conduct of Norris "has given rise to a condition which amounts to a growing cancer in the vitals of the republican party and it must be cut out if the party is to survive."

Meanwhile, Senator Cutting, of New Mexico, another of the western republican independents, demanded repudiation of Lucas' attack on Norris' republicanism "by those higher up."

India's Claims For Suffrage Given To Conference Group

LONDON, Dec. 23—(AP)—India's suffrage claims were laid before the round table conference Monday from two sources — by a spokesman demanding representation for the depressed classes, and by women who asked "reserved seats" for their sex in the legislature.

Dr. Bhim Ambedkar, a leader in up for India's millions of "untouchables," told the franchise subcommittee of the conference that equal adult suffrage must be given India.

"We cannot consent to either dominion status or responsible government unless we are sure the depressed classes are going to be represented," he said.

Objections to the western system of elections whereby women are for a first and are beaten by men was raised in a memorandum presented by the Begum Shah Nawaz and Mrs. Subbarayan, two women delegates to the conference.

They declared equal voting rights with men do not give women equal political opportunity. Great western countries like Great Britain, the United States, Canada and Australia offer poor examples to Indian women, they said.

Their memorandum pointed out that in England only 15 women have been elected to Parliament in 12 years, and suggested a temporary measure allotting special seats in India's future lawmaking body to women.

Woman Found Dead In Pile Of Broken Glass

WHEELING, W. Va., Dec. 23—(AP)—Because her husband insisted on sampling a batch of homebrew they made for the Christmas holidays, Mrs. Anna Mary, 54, broke the bottles over the furniture in their home Monday night. The husband, John, a painter, fled.

Returning an hour later, Mary found his wife dead on the glass littered floor, her face and the upper part of her body cut in several places. She had bled to death.

Police expressed the belief, after questioning and releasing the husband, that Mrs. Mary collapsed from excitement of the quarrel and was cut by falling on the broken glass.

CENSUS FIGURES SHOW NATION IS MORE "CITIFIED"

Urban Population Has Increased Nearly 5 Percent In 10 Years

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23—(AP)—A more citified United States by 4.8 percent was announced yesterday by Census Director Stearns, who quickly remarked his figures told part of the city-concentration story.

"The urban figure doesn't take into consideration the rapid development of the suburbs during the past 10 years," he said.

The census report was: urban, 68,265,521; rural, 53,819,525; total, 122,085,046.

City folk thus tallied 56.2 percent of the total as against 43.4 percent in 1920.

But every large city, and smaller cities to some extent, have just across the boundary population that should logically be added to town and shaved off country, Stearns commented.

"With new paved roads, new autos, new deluxe buses, more and more city people have been going out into the country to get better air, less crowded living conditions," Stearns director said. "Yet their work and interests remain in the city. They belong to the city."

The census bureau counted as urban all persons residing in cities of 2500 inhabitants or more, and in townships with a population of 2500 or more.

ARMY OFFICER GETS LIFE IN WIFE MURDER

Verdict Is Surprise To Major Shepard Who Declares Innocence, Appeal To Be Made

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Dec. 23—(AP)—A federal court jury Monday found Maj. Charles A. Shepard, 57, army specialist in pulmonary diseases, guilty of the poison murder of his second wife, Zolmana, and recommended life imprisonment.

The physician, whose love affair with Miss Grace Brandon, blond stenographer of Brooks field, San Antonio, Tex., had been barred during the long trial and alleged as the motive for the crime charged, wept silently when he heard the verdict.

His composure regained, he said presently that he was surprised at the verdict, adding: "I am absolutely innocent and this case will eventually be thrown out of court."

C. L. Kagey of defense counsel said he would move for retrial listing 20 to 40 citations of error in the trial if a new trial is not ordered, he said, he will appeal the case.

"The verdict," said Kagey, "was apparently a compromise. If Major Shepard actually murdered his wife, he should be hanged for it. To this the major nodded assent."

The major court officials said, will remain at liberty under $25,000 bond until Feb. 2 at which time he will be sentenced formally at Topeka, Kan., unless further legal action intervenes. He planned to leave Monday night for Denver to report on duty at Fitzsimons general army hospital, which drew daily a jam of spectators, the government alleged that the physician had planned carefully to remove his wife by a slow poison which would make her illness appear natural. His purpose, it charged, was to gain his freedom.

ENTIRE STATE'S GOVERNMENT TO IN GRIP OF COLD MAINTAIN GRAB NORTHERN WINDS AT SAME PRICES

Warmer Weather May Be Expected After Santa Claus Leaves

JACKSONVILLE, Dec. 23—(AP)—Christmas week was ushered in sunny Florida Monday by a blizzard from the north that gave promise of lingering until Santa Claus has come and gone.

From Pensacola to Key West, southernmost tip of the peninsula, rain fell from leaden skies, that kept the sun obscured, while a chilly wind sent thermometers tumbling throughout the state.

Residents of Jacksonville, standing through the downpour, have not seen the sun for a week, and meteorologists said it would be Wednesday at best before the skies cleared. Other cities also have experienced extremely cloudy weather, including St. Petersburg, the "Sunshine City."

In that Gulf coast town, the Evening Independent, daily newspaper, distributed free on days the sun fails to shine, gave away its first edition today as the murky, rainy weather continued.

It was the first time in 20 years the paper has been in street that the number of street-vending editions has reached three.

Jacksville and Gainesville were the coldest cities in the state last night with the mercury dropping to 28 degrees. Pensacola and Apalachicola, in western Florida, registered 39, while temperatures in other cities ranged upward to 45.

NEW YORK, Dec. 23—(AP)—The show business industry is being hit by a wave of cancellations and postponements in many parts of the United States, as a result of the strike by the Screen Actors Guild.

With his right hand on the table, Mayor Miller, in a short session of the City Board Monday night, declined to accept the position of chairman of the Board, and also objected to the height of the proposed new City Hall.

Miller's refusal to accept the position of chairman of the Board was a surprise to many of the members of the Board, who had expected him to accept the position.

NEW GOLF BALL MEETS FAVOR IN PASADENA TESTS

Professional Golfers' Consensus Favors Oversized Pellet

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 22.—(AP)—The "Big Ten" Athletes group, long talked of unofficially in both Southern Intercollegiate Athletic association and Southern conference circles, has sprung into being within the S. I. A. A. and will start its first year with the coming basketball season of 1931.

Announcement of the organization of this group furnished the principal fireworks of the recent S. I. A. A. annual meeting at Memphis.

The new group will be known, not as the "Big Ten," but as the Dixie conference. At present it has but seven members, but two others are being considered and another will be added later.

Birmingham-Southern, Howard, Southwestern, Centre, Chattanooga, Spring Hill and Mercer, all prominent members of the S. I. A. A., are charter members of the new association which has Dean G. W. Mead, of Birmingham-Southern, as president.

Announcing the new group, Dean Mead said, "We are still members of the S. I. A. A. and will continue to be so. There is no break in schedules and we feel we can work together for our own good and for the S. I. A. A.'s good."

Mississippi College, of Clinton, Miss., and Millsaps College, of Jackson, Miss., have been invited to join and have shown interest," Dean Mead said.

The S. I. A. A., already the largest college athletic group in the country, admitted three new schools—Mississippi State & Teachers, Tennessee State Teachers, and Murray State Teachers, of Kentucky—to boost its roll to 55.

Several new proposals were accepted at the Southern conference meeting at Chapel Hill, N. C.

Member schools were voted the right to have "B" teams, composed of players unable to make the varsity teams, and to play five games a season. However, players participating in "B" teams, composed of players unable to make the varsity teams, and to play five games a season; however, players participating in "B" teams must count this time as part of their allowed three years of college competition, as though they played on a varsity team.

Much discussion centered around the proposal of Washington and Lee, that spring football practice be abolished. This motion was voted down by a reported close ballot.

The conference voted to allow graduates of accredited junior colleges to play on intercollegiate teams their first year in college but limited their time to play to two years.

Conference schools may start their football season whenever they please and play for 10 weeks. This allows schools in the far south to delay their start until middle October and to play until middle December, thus escaping the summer heat.

Vanderbilt's proposals to rule out all scouting of opposing teams and all recruiting and soliciting of players was rejected.

Another proposal, also by Vanderbilt, that no student may participate intercollegiate in more than two major sports in any one year unless his scholastic average is between 80 and 90 also was rejected.

20 Quaker City Banks Close Doors Today

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 22.—(AP)—The Bankers Trust Company and its branches in this city closed today by order of Peter Cameron, secretary of banking. A "steady seepage" of deposits due to withdrawals in the past few days was given as the cause of the State's action. The bank was said by its president to be solvent, but has been harassed by withdrawals from its 19 branches scattered throughout the city. The last statement showed deposits of more than 45,000,000, and assets of 55,500,000.

SPORT BRIEFS

BERKELEY, Calif., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Coach "Babe" Hollingberry's Washington State college Cougars, en route to Pasadena to meet the University of Alabama in an intercollegiate football match New Year's day, stopped here yesterday to work out with the western all-star team. Sunday night the Cougars departed for Los Angeles.

The western all-star team, made up of Pacific coast, mid-western and Texas college stars, is preparing for the Shrine benefit game next Saturday against a similar team of eastern players.

Except for Glenn Edwards, star Washington State tackle, the Cougars presented their regular first string lineup in yesterday's workout which consisted chiefly of dummy scrimmage and touch tackle.

Edwards, who was injured in a game several weeks ago against Villanova, may be unable to start against Alabama in the Rose Bowl classic. Hollingberry gave the team only a light workout, "to shake the stiffness" out of the players after their train trip here from Portland, Or.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Alabama's Crimson Tide, arguing on to the Pacific coast to play the Cougars of Washington State college in the New Year's day football classic at Pasadena arrived in Phoenix Sunday night.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 22.—(AP)—The University of Kansas was involved again yesterday in a dispute over the "Big Six" conference eligibility rules.

The accusations were made by the University of Oklahoma only two weeks after Kansas forfeited the eligibility of James A. Bausch, insurance salesman and star athlete, under a new interpretation of the rule against subsidization, and regained good standing.

In the new charges, William and Kenneth Johnson, Jayhawk basketball stars from Oklahoma City, are accused of having played in a game outside the conference during the last Christmas vacation, in violation of a Big Six rule.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Ken Strong led his Stapleton football team to 16-7 victory yesterday over Benny Friedman's New York Giants in a post-season game for the professional championship of New York. The two teams, during the regular season of the national football league, had split even in two games.

Strong booted a field goal from the 30-yard line in the first quarter and took a kickoff and ran 95 yards to a touchdown in the third period, Stapleton's other touchdown was made by Stein in the second period, Strong kicking the goal.

Moran took a pass in the third period and ran 55 yards for the Giants' touchdown. Friedman kicked goal.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Unless intensive and prolonged training for college football is stopped it will kill that sport in five years, William W. Roper, former Princeton coach, warned members of the Middle Atlantic States Athletic conference.

College football is filling a tremendous part in the development of the young men, Roper said, but certain things will have to be changed or the game will greatly suffer.

"This business of having six, eight or 10 weeks of practice is all wrong," said the former coach. "It interferes with other sports. A youth in college should have the right to turn out for the particular kind of athletics he likes best. It's really ridiculous to call out a football squad for any great length of time in the spring. If spring practice can not be cut out entirely I would suggest not more than two weeks of it."

"If this football training drudgery is not eliminated in the next five years the player will stop playing."

NEW "BIG TEN" IN S. I. A. A. CIRCLES RESULTS IN TALK

Long Talked Of Group Finally Welded Into Shape By 10 Schools

By BRIAN BELL
PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 22.—(AP)—The new golf ball, the only one after Jan. 1, has won its first skirmish with the men who earn their living playing it.

The revised larger and lighter ball was ruled standard equipment for the Pasadena open tournament, and only pellets bearing the mark of 1931 were permitted. Results were favorable to the new model.

However, the "old ball" (the professional) will not be returned until a tournament is played when the wind is blowing. The Pasadena tournament was played in calm weather.

The scoring showed no change as a result of a change in balls. There were about the normal number of birdies, just as few eagles, and the run of the pars was in days of yore, when the ball was smaller and heavier.

The usual division of opinion developed among the players. Some thought they could not putt as well as before, and claims were made that the new ball was "rimming the cup" too much. Golfers seldom agree on any part of the game. However, the consensus was in favor of the oversize ball.

"I don't see that the new ball is any harder to play than the old one," said Walter Hagen, the old master. "Anyway, it's here and it doesn't make any difference what we think about it."

Tommy Armour, Professional Golf association champion, spoke up in defense of the latest edition. "I like it," he said. "My shots through the fairway are better, especially the iron. Yes, it's a pleasure to play it."

Tony Manero, who has played lots of golf in many places, was not prepared to condemn the new ball, but he admitted a mental complex.

"I know it won't go as far as the old one and I have been trying to hit it harder than I should," was his reaction.

Harry Cooper was short with his putts and wondered if it was the fault of the ball or his putter, but Johnny Dawson, who went to the semi-finals in the British amateur, said he liked to play it.

Horton Smith's diagnosis awaits confirmation by Professor Einstein.

"The new ball is harder to putt," said the tall pine transplanted from Missouri to New York.

"The weight is not centralized, as it was in the old one and this ball is more apt to rim the cup," Fellow pro suggested this involved relevancy and it was fortunate perhaps that Einstein was on his way to California.

Golf fans who can hit any golf ball, new or old, into a trap or the rough, said they saw little difference in the distance or direction of the ball leaving the players' clubs.

Spectators who have played the Brookside course, scene of the tournament, many times, suggested that the change of being a bad putting ball was perhaps unjustified. They said the cups were in tricky places on the greens.

GREEN BAY, Wis., Dec. 22.—(AP)—The Green Bay Packers are called "the pro team with the college spirit."

Part of Wisconsin place this professional football eleven in the same category with the state university Badgers and the Golden Avalanche of Marquette university.

The veteran Dixie mentor, who has directed Georgia Tech's gridiron destinies since 1920, said, he far south as Beloit, Wis., come to see the Packers.

When the team plays here, a circus day is the result. Community spirit and civic pride made the Packers national champions in 1929 and almost as strong this season.

The team is owned by the Green Bay Football corporation, in which a thousand citizens are stockholders. Prominent city officials and business men serve on the board of directors.

From the beginning back in 1918, the Packers became a community institution. The corporation is a non-profit organization, and excess income is given to the local American Legion post.

The Packers entered the National Professional league in 1921, and the management signed up outstanding college stars to be developed by Coach "Curly" Lambeau, now a veteran of 12 years with the team.

From Nebraska university came Verne Lewellen, halfback, who twice has been elected district attorney of his home county. Marquette university supplied Joe "Red" Dunn, quarterback, who spends his leisure time running an insurance agency here.

These two are among a score or more outstanding college players who are carrying on in the professional field.

The proposed exhibition tour of Europe by the Packers and the Chicago Cardinals has fanned civic pride in the team to fever heat.

AMERICAN SHIP IS HIT ASTERN IN DENSE FOG

The weather moderates neither but the weather was so bad that the ship was believed to be endangered.

From Lisbon came word that the large fishing trawler Patria collided with another trawler off the Portuguese coast and went down with four of her crew. Several others were rescued by the trawler Telita.

The Dutch steamer Export and the British steamer Kennel collided in a fog near Rotterdam. The Export was forced to return to port, although the British steamer was able to proceed on her voyage.

Sunday morning the British steam trawler William Hallett lost her bearings and went ashore near Gallicott, Ireland. The deep sea tug Zorita Zee went to her assistance.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Dec. 22.—(AP)—

With 41 passengers and crew of the Finnish line steamer Oberon still missing Sunday, all hope has been abandoned for finding any additional survivors of Friday night's crash between the Oberon and her sister ship, the Arcturus, off Lasa Island.

It developed Sunday that the two brothers commanding the two ships, Captains Erik and Ossi Hjelt, had exchanged Christmas greetings by radio a few moments before the crash, not realizing in the dense fog that their ships were in such close proximity.

As the fog lifted Sunday, Danish seaplanes were utilized and Finnish boats steamed methodically back and forth seeking bodies. They found three life boats empty and two Christmas trees. Mariners believed a majority of those lost were trapped in their bunks and sank with the ship which went down like lead.

Huge crowds thronged the quay where the Arcturus was discharging her cargo and in her battered bows saw mute evidence of the crash which sent the Oberon down.

The most pitiful figure among the survivors is Capt. Erik Hjelt, commander of the Oberon, who sits in his brother's cabin with the body of his four-year-old daughter Elisabeth, for whom he fought a losing fight against the icy waters.

After he and his daughter had been picked up by the Arcturus, he feverishly worked over the body of the child for six hours in an attempt to restore life and then dropped, exhausted and sobbing when he realized his attempts had been in vain.

No trace of the child's mother, has been found. Remains of Longfellow's "Wreck of the Hesperus," she was making the trip to the child could be with her daddy on Christmas.

Almost as tragic an appearance is presented by Capt. Ossi Hjelt who has gone without sleep since his ship bared out of the fog and sank his brother's vessel. Capt. Erik had been bound toward England and Captain Ossi for home.

A member of the Arcturus' crew described the collision as coming without warning. He said it was not until the two ships were only two or three lengths from each other and a collision inevitable that they were seen. The Arcturus struck the Oberon amidships on her starboard side, driving a gaping hole of more than a yard into her vitals.

Mr. Hartman of Hogforsa, Finland, one of the survivors, said it all happened in five minutes.

"I had gone on deck for fresh air before going below for the night," he said, "when suddenly I heard a shrill scream. The Arcturus loomed out of the fog and came straight at us. Our captain shouted 'lifeboats away,' and the crew leaped to their stations."

"All lights went out. The boat heeled over, those on deck grabbed

G. O. P. LEADERS HOPE TO AVOID EXTRA SESSION

ance as the promised Republican-Democratic co-operation movement became engulfed in storms of discussion which broke in both parties.

None of the eleven regular appropriation bills providing funds for operation of the Government the next fiscal year was gotten through the Senate. The gigantic $1,085,000,000 treasury post office appropriation measure has passed both Senate and House but the conference report adjusting differences was rejected by the Senate.

Administration leaders intend to concentrate after the holidays on putting through these vital bills without which President Hoover will be forced to call an extra session. Also, they are going to seek an early solution of the long deadlock over disposition of the Muscle Shoals power and nitrate plant.

The House has sent to the Senate two other appropriation bills—the $68,000,000 for the interior department and the $213,000,000 for the agriculture department.

An effort to force additional relief legislation is in prospect also, although all the emergency measures asked by the President are now enacted.

Government executives will start work Monday putting into operation the $116,000,000 appropriation for public improvements passed Saturday and approved by President Hoover.

The department of agriculture is mending its machinery for disposing the $15,000,000 authorized for loans to drought-stricken farmers in putting out next year's crop. Secretary Hyde informed Congress Saturday he did not need ing frantically but vainly for support as they toppled into the water. It was terrible. Then I managed to get into a lifeboat."

The tragedy was not without brilliant additions to the already voluminous sagas of Cateog and Skager Rack.

Eric Vickers, an English resident of Finland, was safely aboard the Arcturus when he spied Mrs. Gilbert Williams and a child struggling against the odds of the chilling waters. Despite the half-frozen condition of his clothes, Vickers dived to their rescue but perished with them. Williams, the husband and father, had left ship at Copenhagen while his wife and child continued on to spend Christmas at their old home in England.

As the Arcturus arrived here, a sailor called to the crowd on the quay. "Is Mr. Williams here?" A quiet man stepped to the front and answered "yes."

"Your wife," said the sailor, "told me your husband, please, he is in my thoughts to the end."

Meanwhile preparations were made for a court of inquiry at Helsingfors at a date to be set later.

Sunday night the body of a beautiful fair-haired woman wearing a gold necklace, a gold bracelet and a ring with a green stone, was washed up near Nidingarne lighthouse on the Cateog. Presumably she was one of those who went down on the Oberon.

GATOR ATHLETIC DIRECTOR TALKS ABOUT SCHEDULE

Tells Why Tech Game Will Be Played in Atlanta Next Year

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA GAINESVILLE, Dec. 22.—In commenting yesterday on the 1931 Florida 10-game football schedule, Athletic Director Edgar Jones revealed that the Gators have a good home-and-home contract with three powerful Southern conference schools—Georgia Tech, Georgia and North Carolina.

"We had hoped to be able to have Georgia, which is Florida's next year," Jones said, "and as a matter of fact, under the terms of the contract, they were to have come. However, the University of Georgia also was scheduled to come to Florida for Oct. 31, just three weeks before Tech. We felt that it would be unwise to play both Georgia schools in Florida in the same year which would also mean that we would have to go back and play both of them in Georgia the following year."

"So in order to balance off our schedule for the future, we will play Tech and Georgia in 1932. We are going to play Georgia in Alabama and Tech in Florida, but that on the date we were scheduled to play Georgia, Tech was playing Vanderbilt in Atlanta. The fact that these cities are only 70 miles apart made this plan impossible. Vanderbilt could not arrange to move this game to Nashville so we have felt it expedient to bring Georgia to Gainesville and go back and play Tech in Atlanta again next year."

"We have entered into a new contract with Tech which calls for four games to be played—two in Georgia and two in Florida on an alternating basis. Thus, we are now assured of having Tech and Georgia's games for several years to come and at the same time will not have to worry about any more conflicts."

"A two-year contract with the University of North Carolina calling for home-and-home games, the first to be played in Florida in 1931, has been entered into. This relationship should prove mutually advantageous, as the two states have so much in common."

the money until after the holiday recess.

The farm board obtained by Saturday night an additional $150,000,000 after the Senate had voted its criticism of this farm relief program. The board now has $400,000,000 of the $500,000,000 authorized.

After the holidays, which end January 5, the House will take up the Vostal copyright bill. On January 9, the Senate will begin consideration of President Hoover's six nominees for the reorganized tariff commission.

CALIFORNIA HAVE COLD WORK-OUTS

King Football Rejected By King Winter Who Sends Icy Weather

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 23.—(AP)—King Football moved to Southern California, Monday for its last stand of the year, but another king, the well-known Winter, gave him a chilly rebuff. While a few hours' trains brought to Los Angeles 24 University of North Dakota players, 25 Washington State men, and 16 former football stars of Notre Dame, all ready for intercollegiate games.

But while the sun shone Wisconsin from the mountains with overcast-producing weather. Temperatures ranged from 25 to 40 degrees.

Late in the day leather began to grip football fields, as though it were September instead of December. North Dakota worked out in the coliseum for the game on Christmas Day with the Los Angeles firm.

Washington State, getting acclimated for the New Year's Day battle with Alabama in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, took over the nearby tournament park. The all-stars, minus Knute Rockne, scrimmaged for the game next Saturday with the stellar recruits which Jimmy Phelan, Washington coach, has gathered from the West, South and North.

One more team, Alabama's Crimson Tide, was sightseeing at the Grand Canyon. It is due in Pasadena tomorrow.

Coach William Wade confirmed reports he has been interviewed as a prospect to succeed "Nib" Price at the University of California next year, but said he has declined consideration. He is under contract to report to Duke University next fall.

"What I can't understand," Coach Hollingbery of Washington State said, "is how they figure Alabama a strong favorite down here. Suite me though, my men were never in a better frame of mind for any game this season than this one."

Alabama will set up training quarters at Patterson Field, Occidental College, only a few miles from the Rose Bowl.

Although the cold wave was greeted with pleasure by the Washington State players and followers, it was expected to end no favor if Alabama makes it to Pasadena through the week.

The Cougars will hold two severe drills Tuesday. Coach Hollingbery said he was satisfied with his defense and expected to devote most of the time to offensive tactics.

Ticket sales moved slowly with about 55,000 seats sold but, with the team on hand, Graduate Manager Earl Foster of Washington State said he expected business to pick up.

The Rose Bowl will hold 85,000.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Dec. 23.—(AP)—If Alabama wins the New Year's Day game at Pasadena with Washington State, no one will have a "Happy New Year." He will have had it.

Brown, one of the big stars in Alabama's football team in 1920, which appeared in the Rose Bowl, was given a long term film contract Monday. He is one of the few athletes heroes who have succeeded in the movies.

The First Security Bank was reopened with 75 per cent of deposits frozen until January 1932. A new bank, the Union Trust Company, took over the reopened bank and Monday paid frozen deposits a year sooner than was expected.

The receiver for the First National is paying $223,000 in the first dividend to depositors, representing 15 per cent.

Think That New Ideal College Athletics Would Not Succeed

ATLANTA, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Five prominent southern university officials were skeptical Monday of Nicholas Murray Butler's proposal for an "athletic league of nations" and its consequent abolishment of football gate receipts in favor of alumni endowments.

Prof. C. L. Hays, of Alabama Polytechnic Institute, president of the Southern conference, said the Columbia university head's proposals might "solve some of our troubles." He pointed out, however, that the school with the largest endowment would be in the same position as the school with the most money now.

"We still would be recruiting for a long time," he added.

Professor Hays suggested that the National Collegiate Athletic association might serve as the foundation for the athletic league of nations as brought forward by Dr. Butler.

The endowment plan might place college competition on a higher plane but would not strike at the heart of the trouble, in the opinion of Chancellor Charles M. Snelling, of the University of Georgia.

"The greatest menace lies in the subsidizing of athletes, while the problem of gate receipts is of secondary importance," he said. "Until a remedy is worked out in regard to the subsidizing of athletes, conditions will continue to be unsatisfactory. Dr. Butler's suggestion would be great, but it would not take care of the whole problem."

W. A. Alexander, head football coach at Georgia Tech and president of the American Football Coaches association, observed the plan might be theoretically sound but thought it would not be practical.

"If Georgia Tech had to depend on alumni endowment for its athletics, we'd have to abandon all sports now," he said. Alexander was of the opinion that the various conferences have enough rules now and that the real problem was in living up to these.

Chancellor James H. Kirkland, of Vanderbilt university, said: "The suggestion is impractical. It would be impossible to induce the state legislatures to appropriate money for stadiums, so the plan would not work at state colleges."

"In addition," Chancellor Kirkland said, "colleges cannot get enough endowment for academic work, much less athletic endeavor. We have been trying to have the 'athletic league of nations' proposed in conferences which are supposed to be in position to regulate athletic action and correct abuses. If this cannot be done in small regions by small associations it could not be done in large ones by large organizations."

Dr. Wilbur C. Smith, athletic director at Tulane university, New Orleans, in opposing Dr. Butler's plan said "college football is not overemphasized and so-called evils are exaggerated."

Dr. Smith said migratory rules, high scholastic requirements and finer sportsmanship have made football more popular. "At Tulane the grades of athletes, if anything, are higher than for the average student. Gate receipts are turned back into the upbuilding of athletic facilities in order that more students may be attracted to various forms of sport and exercise."

Asked if he contemplated grand jury action, Hawthorne said: "That is a bridge to cross when we come to it. The grand jury cannot concern itself with the conditions of the City National bank as such. It is a federal institution and in charge of the United States comptroller of the currency."

Washington dispatches said Monday Reed Dolan, national bank examiner, was designated to take charge of the bank. Prior to his arrival officers and directors, with exception of Gordon, declined to comment.

"I believe that if we can have a propitious liquidation there will be no appreciable loss to depositors," Gordon said.

"Our capital funds and liabilities will perhaps be subject to some shrinkage but we do not feel the loss will be considerable."

Meanwhile, Hugh H. Penney, New York capitalist, regarding his support of the bank. Gordon said, before going into Hawthorne's office that he would not comply with a request to produce the originals of telegrams sent him by Penney in April and June assuring President Gordon and the depositors that he "stood squarely behind the bank."

Asked if he contemplated grand jury action, Hawthorne said: "That is a bridge to cross when we come to it. The grand jury cannot concern itself with the conditions of the City National bank as such. It is a federal institution and in charge of the United States comptroller of the currency."

Show Nation Is More "Citified"

In the absence of an accurate tally, the census director would make no estimate of the percentage suburbs would add to the urban end of the city-country seesaw.

But he pointed to the District of Columbia, 100 percent urban, as example having hit top, so far as being citified is concerned, the District is now spilling over, all around the edges. Yet only where the overflow numbers 2500 and makes of itself an organized community can it be counted under census rulings.

Of all the states, Missouri was nearest equilibrium in urban-rural population, the city having 51.2 percent showing. North Dakota has the highest percentage of rural population—83.4. Rhode Island topped the list in preponderance of city dwellers, 92.4 percent, a decrease from its 97.5 percent 1920 high mark, due entirely to a different system of counting in the New England states.

Twenty years ago, rural dwellers had the best of it, with a 54.2 percentage as against 45.8 for the urbanites. Forty years ago, the countryside carried a 64.4 percent as against but 35.4 for the town.

WILL TELL HOW TO PLAY ANCIENT PASTIME IN SERIES OF 28 TALKS

ATLANTA, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Radio listeners of the nation soon will have the opportunity of hearing Bobby Jones, own voice telling just how golf shots should be executed.

The Atlanta author, motion picture star, lawyer — and golfer, Monday confirmed the signing of a contract with a national broadcasting company calling for 28 weekly broadcasts over a nation-wide hookup.

Starting Jan. 14, he will speak from 8 to 8:15 eastern standard time every Wednesday night over the network of the National Broadcasting company, including station WFLA, Clearwater.

"This will be my first appearance over the radio," Bobby said. "I hope we all have a lot of fun out of it."

Jones plans to make these talks educational and entertaining, with the entertainment predominating. He will discuss his various shots and also tell stories of the various tournaments in which he has participated.

Last month, after he had completed his conquest of four major golf titles, he announced his retirement from competitive play and the signing of a contract to make 12 one-reel educational motion pictures on golf. He is to make these next spring in Hollywood.

For some time, Bobby has been an active journalist and author, writing golf articles for newspapers, and an occasional magazine article.

But first and last, Bobby is a lawyer. And he has an extensive practice here. Bobby also finds time to serve as a director of the First National bank here and as a vice president of the Atlanta Baseball club, of the Southern association.
