

COMPLETE TEXT OF NEW TAX BILL MADE PUBLIC BY CHAIRMAN GREEN

Sweeping Revisions Are Included in Bill

AMENDMENTS

Recommendations Made By Secretary Mellon Are Features of Measure

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—The complete text of the new tax bill was made public Friday by Chairman Green of the House ways and means committee, which will meet soon as congress reassembles on January 3 to continue its study of the sweeping revisions proposed by the administration.

In addition, the bill follows the recommendations previously made public by Secretary Mellon. It proposes several hundred amendments of the existing revenue law, many of them of a highly technical nature and designed to put an end to tax evasions, and many others dealing with the changes advocated by Mr. Mellon as to income and other tax schedules.

Made Public Text.
Mr. Green made public the text of the measure after a proposal for publicity of its provisions had been the subject of a heated discussion in a sub-committee Friday. Democratic committee, led by Representative Garner, of Texas, the ranking Democrat, had insisted that the detailed provisions be laid before the public but until Friday the chairman had declined to comply with their demand. Mr. Green said his action finally was prompted by a knowledge that the contents of the measure were known to many outside the committee members.

Only Preliminary Study.
So far the bill has been the subject of only a preliminary study by the committee, which has made no attempt to reach decisions as to what, if any, changes it will make before the measure is reported to the house. It has been agreed, however, that the administration provisions shall be passed upon first, before and attention is given to Mr. Mellon's proposals for changes in tax schedules.

One of the principal revisions provided in the bill is a reduction of surtax rates so that the surtax would begin at one per cent on net incomes from $10,000 to $12,000; would provide an additional one per cent for each additional $2,000 up to $36,000; one per cent additional for the next $4,000; and would then add one per cent for each $4,000 up to a maximum of 25 per cent on net incomes of $100,000 or more.

Under the present law surtaxes begin at one per cent on net incomes above $8,000 and $10,000 and scale upward to a maximum of 50 per cent on net incomes exceeding $200,000.

Provide 3 per cent on Incomes.
The new bill also provides that the normal tax on incomes should be 3 per cent, where it now is 4 per cent and 6 per cent where it now is 8 per cent—a reduction which the treasury estimates will result in a loss of revenue of $91,000,000 a year.

Legal Fraternity Meet Is Held At Gainesville

(By The Associated Press) GAINESVILLE, Dec. 29.—(Special).—The international convention of Phi Delta Phi, honorary legal fraternity, formally opened Friday morning at the Woman's Club with a splendid attendance of delegates representing nearly every part of the United States and Canada. Over 100 delegates have already registered and there will be probably a few more.

The welcome address was delivered by Dr. A. A. Murphree, president of the University of Florida, who bade the delegates a most hearty welcome. The response was given, full of deep appreciation, and expressing words in praise of the beauties of Gainesville and the hospitality of the "Cockle Inn," the hosts' fraternity. A short business session followed and luncheon was served at the White House.

At 2 p. m., the delegates again went into business session and matters of interest were disposed of. The main attraction on the evening program was an informal dance and smoker at the Woman's Club.

The convention will last through Saturday and tomorrow's program features a business session, luncheon at the White House, a tour of the city and university, and a banquet in the evening at the White House as guests of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs.

CRUISER SENT TO AID
WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—The armored cruiser Rochester, flagship of United States special service squadron in Central and South American waters has been sent to the port of Amapala, Honduras and will remain in that vicinity until present disturbances in Honduras and southern Mexico have quieted.

SUDDEN EXPLOSION MAY HAVE CAUSED LOSS OF DIXMUDE

Advices State That Flashes Were Seen on Sea by Fishermen of Island of Sicily.

It is reported that Lieutenant Osborne Cutler Wood, son of General Leonard Wood, governor-general of the Philippines, will resign his commission soon. He is reported to have made nearly a million dollars in Wall Street speculations, and is about to enter the diplomatic service.

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, Dec. 29.—A sudden explosion was suggested Saturday as the cause of the disappearance of the dirigible Dixmude. Advices from Rome said that nothing had been found among the effects of Lieutenant Grenadan, commander of the dirigible, whose body was recovered by fishermen off Sicily, to show that he felt the ship was in immediate danger. In addition the fishermen told of having seen flashes at sea.

Complete mystery surrounds the tragedy. The whereabouts of the dirigible and the other 49 members of her crew is not known. French naval officers are hurrying to southern Sicily to examine the body of Lieutenant Grenadan, and some hope is expressed that on it will be found documents which will serve to clear up the cause of the disaster.

From the village of Sciacca, off which the body of Lieutenant Grenadan was found by the fishermen, the 180 miles across the Mediterranean Sea to Tunis in northern Africa will be searched by French warships for traces of the Dixmude, while the patrols which already are combing the north African wilds and the regions far to the south, including the Sahara desert, will continue their work.

The Dixmude was last heard from a week ago when she sent out a radio message from a point southwest of Toungourt, Algeria, saying she was bound toward her air base, near Marseille, whence she departed December 18 on an 18-hour cruise to northern Africa and return. The French naval authorities by wireless warned the airship that a gale was blowing across the Mediterranean and it would be unsafe to attempt the trip home. Since then all trace of the craft has been lost.

Sanford Has Fine Reputation; Keep It Urges Bodwell

New Property Owner Makes Plea At Luncheon—Gives Impressions Of Sanford.

H. T. Bodwell, who recently purchased the Pebe property in the eastern part of the city, was a visitor at the weekly luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce held Friday at the Valdez Hotel.

Mr. Bodwell was called upon for a talk and he responded with a few words expressing his impressions of Sanford. He stated that he was especially impressed with the solidity of the city and with the progressive spirit of its citizens.

He urged that the people help to keep up the reputation that Sanford enjoys at present. As long as the town presents a bright future with a solid instead of inflated backing behind it, it will have a good substantial growth, Mr. Bodwell further said.

The question of the payment of poll tax was discussed and every member was urged to make an individual campaign to have voters to qualify for the coming election.

The plan of the Lakefront Improvement Company was presented and favorably passed upon by the meeting. It was announced that the good roads committee will meet next Thursday night and begin its work of drafting a new set of traffic ordinances. These will be submitted very soon, it was stated, and then when passed upon by the Chamber of Commerce will be presented to the City Commissioners for their approval. If passed upon favorably by them, the new code will be incorporated in new ordinance to be drafted.

It was also announced that the agriculture committee will meet next Wednesday night and will make further plans for Seminole County's exhibit for the Florida State Exposition to be held at Madison Square Garden soon.

President Edward Higgins stated that a mass meeting of Sanford citizens will be called soon for the purpose of hearing from their choice of a site for the municipal athletic field. At present the special committee appointed to select a site has two or three places in mind but opinion is divided on the matter and it was deemed best to let the citizens decide the matter.

It was further stated that the recommendation of a site must be in the hands of the City Commission by January 14, when that body will order the purchase of a field and make plans for the establishment of a ball park, tennis courts, etc.

Spokesman For Coolidge Takes A Rap At Clarke
(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Action of E. Y. Clarke, former high official of the Ku Klux Klan, in making public a letter to the president prior to its presentation at the White House, was criticized Friday by a spokesman for President Coolidge who asserted that such a course tended to indicate that the communication was written more for publicity purposes than for consideration by the executive.

Mr. Coolidge, the spokesman said, was thoroughly familiar with the methods of those who seek publicity by directing a letter to the president or some other official. The spokesman indicated that no attention would be given Mr. Clarke's letter other than the routine acknowledgement of its receipt forwarded Friday to the former Klan official.

The letter was made public here Friday through Edgar Fuller, secretary to Mr. Clarke, who subsequently transmitted it to the White House.

Two American Members Of Special Committee Leave N. Y. For Europe

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Brigadier Charles G. Dawes, former director of the United States budget and Owen D. Young, chairman of board of General Electric Company, and Radio Corporation of America two of the three Americans invited by the inter-allied reparations commission to sit as members of its committee to consider means of balancing German budget, sailed Saturday for Europe.

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, Dec. 29.—A sudden explosion was suggested Saturday as the cause of the disappearance of the dirigible Dixmude. Advices from Rome said that nothing had been found among the effects of Lieutenant Grenadan, commander of the dirigible, whose body was recovered by fishermen off Sicily, to show that he felt the ship was in immediate danger. In addition the fishermen told of having seen flashes at sea.

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, Dec. 29.—The French super-dirigible Dixmude has definitely been given up as lost by the French ministry of marine.

The finding by fishermen six miles off the coast of southern Sicily of the body of the commander of the Dixmude, Lieutenant Du Plessis de Grenadan, entangled in the meshes of one of their nets led the ministry formally to declare that the Dixmude had met with disaster.

Complete mystery surrounds the tragedy. The whereabouts of the dirigible and the other 49 members of her crew is not known. French naval officers are hurrying to southern Sicily to examine the body of Lieutenant Grenadan, and some hope is expressed that on it will be found documents which will serve to clear up the cause of the disaster.

Man Known To Millions Is Neglected At Death

(By The Associated Press) SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29.—At one time or another millions undoubtedly knew Pierre Gasnier. For years he was a "strong man" for one of the largest circuses in the world. But 15 or 20 years ago he retired from the sawdust tours to settle in San Francisco. Here thousands of a new generation came to know him. He made his living by giving physical culture demonstrations and selling his "system" on a down town street corner. At this stand he never missed a day. He called himself "the strongest man in the world." Usually he had a little knot of passers-by viewing his muscles and listening to his friendly banter.

Gasnier's little peddler's automobile became a landmark as familiar to San Francisco as Twin Peaks or the Ferry building. He was assisted in his demonstrations by a Chinese servant, his companion for many years.

One day recently the traffic policeman sensed something wrong with the topography of the street. He saw that Pierre Gasnier and his tiny car were missing. The policeman told headquarters. Headquarters investigated and learned that Gasnier had died in the isolated shack he called home.

The authorities waited for relatives and friends to come forward with arrangements for the funeral. But it seemed there were no relatives, and at least none could be found, and no one else was interested.

So, with the faithful Chinese the only mourner, a modest funeral was provided by the municipality.

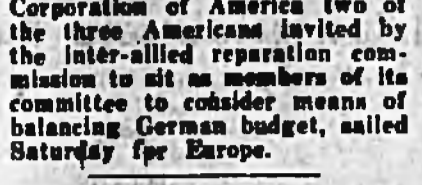

VENIZELOS LEAVES PARIS FOR GREECE

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, Dec. 29.—Former Premier Venizelos, of Greece, left Paris for Athens Friday evening. He evaded newspaper men by announcing that his departure had been postponed. Caution explained by friends as due to bitter animosities in Greece against him have not been appeased. He feels that there is a formidable minority, if not actual majority against him in Greece at the present moment. His friends are skeptical of any political action he may undertake in Athens.

FEDERAL FORCES MAKE SWEEPING GAINS OVER REBEL WHEN SEVERAL TOWNS ARE CAPTURED

MUSTERED OUT

Sargeant Samuel Woodfill, called by General Parshing "the greatest individual of the war," was discharged recently at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis, with full military honors. Brig. Gen. Dwight E. Aultman (left) presented the discharge.

(By The Associated Press) GUADALAJARA, Dec. 29.—Federal forces early Saturday were hemming in the revolutionary stronghold at Guadalajara, capital of Jalisco, while in the state of Coahuila soldiers were pursuing a rebel band that looted the town of Allende, about 50 miles south of Piedras Negras, according to border reports.

The fall of Guadalajara is expected momentarily. Federal troops, after capturing the towns of Zacateco, Yuracuaran and Ciudad Guzman, are closing in on three sides.

Federals Advance on Vera Cruz MEXICO CITY, Dec. 29.—Federal soldiers for the purpose of distinguishing themselves from rebels are wearing hat bands bearing slogan death to the traitors. A general advance upon rebel headquarters at Vera Cruz extending from Teacuan to Apizaco has been ordered to begin Saturday according to Puebla. President Obregon has moved his headquarters from Irapuato to Yuracuaro following the evacuation of that town by rebels.

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 29.—Proposing Jose Vasconcelas, minister of public instruction, as a compromise presidential candidate, de la Huerta congressman are reported to have secured their former candidate's consent for the withdrawal of his candidacy upon the condition that assent in the proposal be given by General Calles, also a candidate, and President Obregon.

15-Day Amnesty.
AUSTIN, Tex., Dec. 29.—Amnesty of 15 days has been granted to Mexican revolutionary generals by President Obregon, according to J. L. Schleimer, who arrived here Friday from Mexico City to confer with Governor Pat M. Neff, of Texas, as a representative of the Mexican president. He stated he was not at liberty to disclose his mission.

Decisive Battle Sunday.
MEXICO CITY, Dec. 29.—A decisive battle is expected to be fought Sunday on the Jalisco front, according to special from LaFridad de Caballeros. President Obregon established his headquarters at this place following the first day's advance against Guadalajara, when Yuracuaro was occupied by federal forces without the firing of a shot.

"I expect that by the latter part of January the military situation throughout the entire republic will be dominated by the central government," President Obregon said to correspondents.

Federals Abandon Puebla.
VERA CRUZ, Dec. 29.—Almost coincident with news of the victory of rebel troops under Gen. Rafael Buelna over federals commanded by General Lazaro Cardenas in a battle near Irapuato, Guanajuato, insurgent headquarters here received word that the Obregonist forces had abandoned the city of Puebla, from which the rebels withdrew for "strategic reasons" several days ago.

The decision of the federals to evacuate Puebla, it is said, was taken in consequence of the defeat of the loyalists sustained at Chignahuapan, a railway town about 60 miles to the north.

Rebel troops advancing over the Mexican railway line in accordance with the general plan to prevent President Obregon from moving troops at Puebla and Apizaco to the western front, met an defeated federal force from the latter town, it is reported, the victory being facilitated by the defection of the major part of the federals.

Thus it appears here that the rebels have gained important ground on both the western and Vera Cruz fronts. They are also said to have occupied Manzanillo, an important west coast port in Colima.

General Estrada, commander of the revolutionary forces in western Mexico, reports that General Buelna not only completely routed the 2,000 federals under General Cardenas, but made prisoners of Cardenas and 500 of his men and captured about 1,000 rifles. General Cardenas was wounded in the engagement which, the report says, "lasted from 2 o'clock in the afternoon (Wednesday) until dawn next morning." General Paulino Navarro, the federal chief of staff, was killed.

Sails For New Orleans.
VERA CRUZ, Dec. 29.—Juan Manuel Alvarez del Castillo, who has charge of the department of foreign relations of the revolutionary movement, sailed for New Orleans.

STEAMER CONEJOS REPORTED SINKING IN THE BLACK SEA

Princess Hirohito Will Not Accept The Resignations

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, Dec. 29.—The United States Shipping Board's steamer Conejos which was reported in distress in the eastern part of the Black Sea yesterday, is sinking fast, according to a dispatch to Lloyd's from Constantinople.

The dispatch says a wireless message from the Conejos last night reported "number one hold full of water; sea choppy, require assistance." An hour later another S. O. S. said: "Sinking fast 42-14 north, 38-40 east," a position about 130 miles west of Burtum.

The steamer Conejos proceeded to the scene of the wreck at a late hour and not until the Conejos after searching in a five-mile radius. The Conejos reported that the search continued unsuccessful the vessel proceeded southward on the lookout for life boats from the Conejos.

The Conejos is a vessel of 3,110 tons net. She sailed from New York November 5 for Naples and thence for Constantinople, Constantza in Roumania, and Poti on the Black Sea in Trans-Caucasia. The last record of the vessel in available shipping data is her arrival at Poti December 8.

Conditions Improve In Saar Valley Somewhat
(By The Associated Press) GENEVA, Dec. 29.—Satisfactory from some points of view, the economic and social situation of the Saar Valley territory causes anxiety from others, according to a report received by the League of Nations from the governing commission of the district. The Saar Valley, which extends along the Franco-German frontier, was handed over to the League for control during a period of years after which the inhabitants by a plebiscite will decide their future political status.

The commission reports that the territory is gradually recovering from the effects of the miners' strike and that there is a large increase in the gross yield from the mines. However, the territory as a whole has not regained its prosperity, the situation being aggravated by continued difficulties in transport to the east, by the scarcity of certain raw materials and by the rise in the cost of living which began in August.

Plan To Help Grecian Refugee Is Under Way
(By The Associated Press) SALONIKI, Dec. 29.—The arrival in Saloniki of Henry Morgenthau, former United States Ambassador to Turkey, as chairman of the Refugee Settlement Commission of the League of Nations, has officially opened the greatest project of re-establishing a homeless refugee population that probably ever has been undertaken. With John Campbell of Great Britain the second member of the commission, Mr. Morgenthau made a brief survey of refugee conditions in Saloniki and adjacent territories, after which the two commissioners proceeded to Athens to confer with the government and start drafting plans for the agricultural settlements which the League has authorized in its loan of $25,000,000 to Greece.

Negro Killed, Officer Hurt In A Gun Battle
(By The Associated Press) STUART, Fla., Dec. 29.—Jack Stavelly, night policeman here, was shot through the thigh early Friday by an unidentified negro at the railway station. In the duel that followed, the officer shot five times, all taking effect in the negro's body, causing death. Stavelly was cleared by a coroner's jury this afternoon.

A SEMI-BUNGALOW ALONG SPANISH LINES

The first floor of this house presents a good bungalow arrangement with a large living room, a dining room, kitchen, pantry, two bed rooms and a bath.

This floor thus provides complete accommodation for the average family. However, the architects have, by well handled roof lines, provided a comfortable second floor for guests. Here are two good rooms and a bath, a maid's room is also provided.

This arrangement allows the second floor for the exclusive use of guests if desired, while the family have their bed rooms on the first floor.

All the convenience of bungalow housekeeping is here found, with the added feature of a second floor that provides fine accommodation for guests. As these rooms are not used continuously, their isolation from the family rooms is an advantage, it provides the desired privacy for both.

Or, the second floor could be given over to the children if one wished, for small children, the playthings and such that clutter up the house would here be out of the way, and the maid would be close at hand. Or, if the children are grown-ups, the privacy of these rooms from the main rooms of the first floor make them ideal for study retirement.

Throughout the house, all rooms are of good size and there is plenty of closet space. The living room opens on a terrace on two sides and the dining room also connects with this terrace. The living room has a high curved ceiling, giving it unusual character.

The exterior design follows a modification of the Spanish style. The walls are white stucco, the roofs a Spanish tile in a deep shade of red and the chimney is a red tapestry brick.

A cellar is provided under the full area of the house, except under the living room.

Cost about $11,300.

Complete working plans and specifications of the house may be obtained for a nominal sum from the Building Editor. Refer to House A-80.

FEDERAL FORCES

ment under Adolfo de la Huerta, called Friday for New Orleans on his way to Washington to sit as the representative of the Huertistas in the United States.
Alvarez del Castillo is a member of the chamber of deputies and was Mexican representative at Berlin, resigning when the Huertista movement was initiated.
Preliminary Skirmishing.
MEXICO CITY, Dec. 29.—Preliminary skirmishing, incident to the beginning of the federal offensive against Guadaluajara and Tehuacan featured the military situation at the beginning of the third week of revolutionary activities.
According to specialists from Irapuato, supplemented by information available from government sources in Mexico City, Gen. Lazaro Gardenas after outfitting the Estradistas (rebels) and routing a detachment at Tamazula, has passed through Zapatlan and begun an attack upon Guadaluajara from the west. Meanwhile General Jose Gonzalez Escobar, commanding the vanguard of Gen. Joaquin Amaro's main federal army, has occupied Labarco in an advance from the east.
The situation at Vera Cruz and Oaxaca fronts likewise is encouraging, according to official advices, with federal columns advancing upon Tehuacan, Esperanza and Jalapa.
Nothing notable is reported from the last two points except that the Sanchinias (rebels) are retiring beyond Oriental and Esperanza without resistance. It is anticipated they will make a final stand at Jalapa and Jalapa.

MY LIFE WITH MAGGIE

By Jiggs
ME AND MAGGIE IN PARIS. CHAPTER XVI.
"So this is Paris!" I said to myself.
For seven days we had been there, and for all the excitement it was to me, I might as well have been home, fixin' the furnace. Maggie took me sight acin' and took me shoppin'. But the sights we saw was not the sights of Paris, I wanted to see, and the things we shopped for was not the things I wanted to buy. I had seen churches and picture galleries so many I felt like I was turnin' into a priest or a paintin'. All the time I was wonderin' to meself where Dinty Moore had disappeared to.
"Maggie, darlin'," I said on the seventh night, "can't I go for a little walk?"
"You'll stay right in this room," she said to me. "The Duke and Duchess of Bongsooey are coming to all, and I want you to be nice to them. I hear he is a very distinguished man."
Kentucky now has a state director of music. The creation of this office by the state superintendent of public instruction is the result of the action of the 1922 legislature, which passed a bill giving music a place in the course of study for all Kentucky schools.
Correspondence courses in radio reception and transmission are offered by the engineering extension department of the Pennsylvania State College. More students have enrolled in the radio courses than in any of the other correspondence courses offered by the department.

Teethina Kept Baby From a Sick Spell

"I know that Teethina saved my baby from a bad spell of sickness," writes Mrs. Clyde Westwood, of Clayton, Fla.
"He was fretful and giving me trouble night and day. I didn't know what to do for him till I read about Teethina in the papers. I began giving it to him and he soon showed signs of improvement. He is now a jolly little fellow and is as fat as a pig."
If the baby's stomach is out of order he cannot assimilate his food and stops growing. Teethina corrects the baby's stomach trouble so he could digest and assimilate his food, and that is the secret of her little one's quick recovery.
Teethina is sold by all druggists, or send 30c to the Moffet Laboratories, Columbus, Ga., for a package and a free booklet about babies.

STOP COUGHING

Coughs cause feverish conditions, throat and lung straits and lead to pneumonia and serious sickness. The sooner you quit coughing the quicker you will feel better and have a better night's rest. Leonard's Cough Syrup (Crested) eases and soothes inflamed, raw throats, rouses the phlegm without racking or straining, protects the lungs, and removes the cause of the trouble. Be warned by the first cough. Get a bottle of Leonard's Cough Syrup (Crested) from your druggist. Fine for coughs, colds, grippe, croup, whooping cough and bronchitis. Pleasant, safe and sure.

CHANGE OF LIFE

Florida Lady Was in a Miserable Condition, But Says She Found Cardui Helpful, and Got Well.
Altha, Fla.—In explaining how she found Cardui so helpful during change of life, Mrs. Ella M. Bailey, of Route 2, this place, said:
"I became so weakened it was an effort for me to get around. I knew what was the matter, but I felt like I couldn't give up."
"I just dragged, and I certainly was nervous. I was so restless I could not sit down long—yet so weak I couldn't get about. It is a most miserable and such a helpless feeling."
"I would get depressed and out of heart."
"I began to feel, after awhile, there was no use to try to get well. This is all wrong, for it makes a person worse."
"I had heard of Cardui, and thought it might strengthen me. A neighbor had used it with good results."
"I took one bottle (of Cardui), then I saw I wasn't so nervous, so kept it up."
"Gradually the nervousness left me. I began to eat and sleep better. Was soon well, and all right. Cardui did wonders for me, and I certainly do recommend it."
Thousands of other women have written, to tell of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardui, and to recommend it to others.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

HUMBLE YOURSELVES: Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time: Casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you.—1 Peter 5:6,7.

BE SWIFT.

Be swift, dear heart, in loving, For time is brief, And thou may'st soon along life's highway Keep step with grief.

Be swift, dear heart, in saying The kindly word; When eyes are sealed, thy passionate pleading Will not be heard.

Be swift, dear heart, in doing The gracious deed, Lest soon they whom thou holdest dearest Be past the need.

Be swift, dear heart, in giving The rare sweet dower, Nor wait to heap with blooms the casket In some sad hour.

Dear heart, be swift in loving— Time speedeth on; And all thy chance of blessed service Will soon be gone. —American Messenger.

Sanford has fine paved streets.

Sanford will make a wonderful growth in 1924.

The merchant who hasn't anything to sell, doesn't advertise.

Christmas is over but still the Christmas cards come.

Sanford will be busy in 1924 and so will all the politicians.

After New Year's Day is gone then comes the income tax day.

Take a dollar to church with you tomorrow—and leave it there.

A year from now you will notice some great changes in the sky line of Sanford.

Does any building of yours encroach on a street or alley? If it does better watch out.

Monday and Tuesday are the last days in which to pay your poll tax. Why wait until the last minute to do your duty?

Not only the new cars but also the old ramshackle machine must have new license tags.

Good sermons will be preached and fine music heard in the different churches of Sanford tomorrow.

Sanford should have signs along the highways. Many tourists decide where in Florida to spend the winter by seeing a little road sign.

The holiday season will soon be gone, and then will come busy days for Sanford. Every day will see this city get larger.

Many Florida towns will have big league baseball teams training there this winter. Will Sanford be able to get it's new baseball field ready in time?

A little paint makes a big change in the appearance of a house. Some Sanford people are dressing up their homes.

The Suwannee Democrat notes that while all the Christmas exchanges have arrived, it has failed to receive a special Christmas edition of the Congressional Record.

Loyal Sanford people patronize Sanford merchants. And the merchant who tells the people what he has to sell is the one who gets the business.

Today's builder's page in The Herald contains the plan of a pretty home which some progressive Sanford person should construct. Pretty homes do a lot to beautify a city.

Bank of Germany's recent statement shows net circulation to the amount of 131,032,594,340,869,067,000. Presumably, the total would be larger if the supply of figures had not been exhausted. As it was, they had to use three naughts.—Times-Union.

Herald want ads are securing results. If you have a house or a furnished room you would like to rent, the little want ads will do the work for you. Houses and rooms are in great demand in Sanford and those people who can provide accommodations for visitors not only help themselves but are doing worth while service to the city itself.

Four hundred out of fifteen hundred registered voters have paid their poll taxes.

About twenty-five per cent of the citizens of Sanford have done their duty.

About eleven hundred citizens must do so before Tuesday night, or lose their opportunity of voting in the important bond election of January 11.

It is surprising to note how slowly the citizens of Sanford are qualifying by paying their poll taxes.

Tuesday is the last day on which poll taxes may be paid. Only two days remain before the books for this election are closed.

On January 11, the people of Sanford will decide whether this city shall be bonded in the sum of $920,000 for the purpose of securing municipally owned water, gas and electric lights plants, and building a new city hall.

The larger the majority that is given the bond issue, the easier it will be to sell the bonds.

Sanford is a growing city. To make it the city it should be its people are uniting in their efforts and are working solidly together. Everyone is determined to see Sanford progress and there is no doubt that by Tuesday night the good citizens of Sanford will have done their duty and qualified to vote in this important election.

Hospital Treatment Too Good

As is usually the case reports are coming in from all over the country telling about how filled the hospitals are with people who tried to celebrate the holiday season by drinking bad liquor.

Up to Friday morning there had only been nine deaths in New York City from holiday bootleg liquor. Manhattan hospitals reported one hundred and twenty-three alcoholic cases. Other hospitals were caring for many poison liquor cases. Bellevue Hospital alone was treating ninety-two, seventeen of them women. Hospital attendants predicted that all vacant cots would be filled by New Year's day. And this is just the little city of New York.

The bootlegger should be forced to drink the stuff he sells. Probably there wouldn't be so many engaged in violating the United States laws if it was necessary for them to sample the stuff before they sold it.

But then, is the fellow who drinks illicit liquor any better off than the bootlegger? They are all in the same class. The fellow who patronizes the bootlegger deserves to be poisoned and to be sent to the hospital. Treatment of this kind is almost too good for him.

Better Get A New License

New automobile license tags should be secured immediately. Sheriff C. M. Hand announced Thursday that every automobile owner is expected to have his license by January 15 and that those who fail to secure them by that time are liable to arrest.

The office of Comptroller Amos at Tallahassee is a busy spot at this time of year and a large force is required to see that tags are sent promptly. Only a few days are required to make deliveries to any part of the state, where the proper information is furnished with the application, and the automobile owner has complied with or makes application simultaneously for the title certificate required by law for each machine in use in the state, tourists excepted.

If you are the owner of an automobile you must secure your 1924 license tag. And the application might just as well be sent away now. You are violating the law every day after January 1, that you operate your automobile without a 1924 license tag.

Not New, But Worth While

Sometime ago Dr. Fong outlined for the young men of China the following rules for success. The young men of the United States or of any other nation can well afford to follow them. They have been quoted many times before but repetition strengthens them.

Live within your income at all cost. However small may be your income, put something aside before the rainy day comes.

Use your leisure moments for self improvement. Pay attention to the problems of selecting your friends. Learn to give something for the support of charitable enterprises.

Keep your body strong by having a few simple rules for health and observe them faithfully.

Wanted—More Houses in Sanford

Are there any vacant houses in Sanford? Are there any houses that can be rented?

The Herald knows of a family desirous of coming to this city to spend the winter months. They have tried for several days to rent a home here but have about given up the idea as it seems impossible to secure accommodations in this city.

What is Sanford going to do to take care of the people who want to make this city their home? Every day sees a steady stream of them coming. They spend a few hours, look around and when they are unable to secure a place to stay, go on to some other city.

Sanford needs many more houses. The erection of small but attractive homes in this city would be good business. Sanford must do something to take care of all the people who like this city and want to live here.

Keep Your Eye on the Road

Since the automobile came into commercial use there have been forty thousand people killed in accidents. It takes a pretty big battle to result in so many fatalities, but the automobile is a much more certain weapon than is the gun. Nearly four thousand of these deaths came within the past year. With the rapid increase in the number of accidents the coming year may see twenty thousand people killed by motor cars unless the public can be aroused to the menace that this vehicle contains.

There is of course almost no excuse for accidents. Automobiles are among the most perfect machines from a mechanical standpoint. It is only very rarely that accident is caused by defects. The only defects are in the minds of drivers and of pedestrians, who must share the blame for the terrible record of recent years. Driving an automobile is a business that requires absolute concentration. The same thing may be said of walking about the streets in these modern days.

The Greenville Piedmont recently gave some excellent suggestions along this line. It says: "Driving an automobile requires both hands on the steering wheel, both eyes on the road and one's whole mind on the job. Safe driving is impossible with eyes focused on the sidewalk fashion parade or with one around a girl. For sightseeing, take the 'rubberneck' wagon; for courtship, the old parlor sofa is hard to beat. Transferring parties from the safe stationary sofa to a high speed gas buggy has cancelled many a wedding. Love is commonly supposed to be blind, and it too often is—at the steering wheel. Increase in automobiles and pedestrians requires additional care in driving. Emergencies may arise at any minute which require quick thinking and prompt action to avert a collision. Keep your eyes straight ahead when driving forward and look back when in reverse. Watch constantly for vehicles coming from side streets. It is sometimes hard to tell which vehicle will reach the intersection first and if there is any doubt, let the other fellow pass regardless of who is supposed to have the right of way."

There are excellent suggestions which are followed by careful drivers. Unfortunately there are always some people who will not be careful, who have no apparent regard for their own safety or the safety of other people. The speeders are rarely those who have occasion for hurry. The careful driver must be careful for himself and for the other person, who may be a fool.

Who Am I?

I am more powerful than the combined armies of the world. I have destroyed more men than all the wars of the nations. I am more deadly than bullets, and I have wrecked more homes than the mightiest of siege guns. I steal, in the United States alone, over $300,000,000 each year. I spare no one, and I find my victims among the rich and poor alike, the young and old, the strong and weak. Widows and orphans know me. I loom up to such proportions that I cast my shadow over every field of labor, from the turning of the grindstone to the moving of every railroad train. I massacre thousands upon thousands of wage-earners in a year. I lurk in unseen places, and do most of my work silently. You are warned against me, but you heed not. I am relentless. I am everywhere—in the home, on the streets, in the factory, at railroad crossings, and on the sea. I bring sickness, degradation and death, and yet few seek to avoid me. I destroy, crush or maim; I give nothing, but take all. I am your worst enemy. I am CARELESSNESS!

Florida Eager For the Best

Florida Educational Journal

In the short time that the educational campaign in Florida has been carried on, it has been plainly demonstrated that the citizens of Florida are eager to support measures that will enhance the opportunities for the development of their children, and to provide schools that shall be equal to the best approved schools of other states. If additional proof of the general intelligence and progressive character of the Florida citizens had been needed, the present movement for better schools would furnish evidence that could not be contraverted. One of the great satisfactions that has come to those who have been directing the educational movement lies in the fact that the appeal is being made to a citizenship of such splendid character as that possessed by the citizens of Florida. The proof of the average high quality of the men and women in this great state gives assurance that education will go forward as rapidly as the people can be correctly informed of conditions and the end to be realized.

From the remarkable results thus far attained, it seems as if every citizen, practically, were ready to his name, his influence, and of his means, to carry forward the things that will enrich the lives of the boys and girls, and that will produce an intelligent citizenship for the future. Not a single negative, obstructive note, has come from the people. Where evidence, facts and purposes have been presented to them, the response has been prompt, hearty, and generous. It has not taken bare of trumpets, denunciation, and destructive arguments to arouse these intelligent citizens. A plain, unemotional statement of purpose, accompanied by facts existing conditions, has been enough to arouse their sensitive pride and interest in Florida welfare, and to secure hearty and complete co-operation.

While the campaign has been quietly prosecuted, it has already developed assurance that it will be successful, and that the citizens of Florida will unite in greatly increasing numbers, in all parts of the state, to hasten the consummation of the purposes for which this campaign has been made, namely: that Florida shall have a system of education equal to that of any other state, and that Florida boys and girls shall have an opportunity for an education equal to the boys and girls of any other state. The campaign has just nicely begun. It will not cease until all portions of the state are made familiar with the plan and purposes of the campaign, and there has been established in every community an informed group of citizens that will leave the whole community, and arouse it to intelligent action. The campaign was commenced without funds, and, therefore, with a small group of persons, but at the present time thousands of our citizens have come to know the conditions and the purposes, and these constitute a great force to aid in furthering the cause.

We must pay tribute to those organizations in the state that stand for progress, culture, and general welfare. The Women's Clubs, the Parent-Teachers' Associations, the Rotarians, the Kiwanians, the Chambers of Commerce, and other citizen clubs have proved that the quality of the citizenship of Florida is exceptional, and that these organizations are generously sincere in their great work. The Clergy have helped very much, and the press has been exceptionally effective in what it has done. This state-wide awakening prophesies success in the not distant future, because we have every assurance that all the moral forces are, as rapidly as they can understand the cause, uniting, furthering it. We have always admired the climate of Florida; we have marvelled at its material and industrial progress; and we now have great pride in and admiration for the splendid citizenship of our lovely state. Florida is indeed a queen among the states.

Faith in the Shenandoah

New York Tribune

While the United States Navy plans confidently for next summer's cruise of the Shenandoah in the region of the North Pole, France's dirigible, the Dixmude, returning from an African trip, disappears. The mystery may yet turn out happily if it shall prove that a great airship unable to reach its home base can be landed without disaster.

If, on the other hand, the Dixmude and its crew were certainly doomed unless they could make the return flight to their point of first departure at Cuesers-Pierrefeu, it is evident that the giant of the air, disappearing as they appear and powerful as they are, have a tenuous hold on life. Their very bulk is their weakness. These monsters are still not wholly domesticated and the handling of them has not advanced far from the experimental stage.

The Shenandoah, however, has been so tractable that her near undertaking. It will be a long jaunt from Lakehurst to the main base of operations at Nome, Alaska—more than 5,000 miles. From that point the pole, only 1,500 miles away, will be well within the airship's range. The problem will be to keep the Shenandoah in leash, and this is to be answered by the presence of naval vessels with mooring masts, one at the take-off at Nome and the other at Spitzbergen in case a trans-polar flight is made. A mooring mast may also be set up at Point Barrow, Alaska's farthest north.

The Shenandoah is east for the heroine of the expedition, but there will be lively minor characters in the shape of airplanes. And the Shenandoah will have an understudy in the ZR-3, now being built in Germany for the navy.

The statement of the Naval Board, which has the enterprise in charge, is entirely optimistic, as of course it ought to be. The air fleet will discover a new continent between Alaska and the pole—provided it is there. It will be on the lookout for facts of scientific value. It will, if all goes well, lay out a commercial air route across the pole that would reduce by half, for example, the present traveling distance between England and Japan.

On paper, how simple it all is! Simple until the imagination begins to dwell on those million square miles unknown to explorers north of Alaska. The navy, of course, will see the job through if it is humanly possible, and not merely "feasible" and "practicable" without undue risk of personnel or material." as Secretary Denby moderately puts it.

My Favorite Stories

By Irvin S. Cobb

This happened in the ancient days when aeroplanes were less common than they are today. Still, it did happen, which is the main thing, aside from the point of the yarn. An old negro who had just seen Glenn Curtiss fly, approached him at New Orleans and asked timidly if he might feel his arm. "Surely," said the puzzled aviator as he stretched forth an arm. The old dorky ran his hand up and down the biceps carefully, then said disappointedly: "Taint true what dey tle me. You ain't got no mo' wing-sprouts on what I see."

"No," said Curtiss, "but I always make it a point to eat a pint of birdseed before I start up for a flight."

Telling all fat girls they are fat and all skinny girls they are skinny will keep you single. Never having your shoes shined or trousers pressed will help you stay single this Leap Year. Tell her none of the other girls want to marry you. It will keep you single during Leap Year. Put rubber in your tobacco and smoke a strong pipe to remain single during this Leap Year.

The Gift of the Three Wise Men

More than nineteen hundred years ago, Three Wise Men came to the little town of Bethlehem and brought with them gifts of gold. The selection of gifts for children is forever putting our wits on trial, but today we have before us the example set by the Three Wise Men of old. It is the giving of money for Christmas. Today, however, money is usually represented by a bank balance, so why not give your child a Special Interest Account for Christmas this year? Such a gift will encourage thrift and will increase in value as the years go by. We will gladly help you open accounts for the children.

MISSES GILLON ENTERTAIN.

Misses Ruth and Allie Gillon entertained at dinner Friday night in honor of the out-of-town visitors in Sanford. The living room was lovely with masses of poinsettias banked on the mantle and book case. In the dining room the center piece was of scarlet poinsettias, with the lighting for the table of red candles in silver candlesticks.

Much amusement was created by guests recently married being asked to tell some of their experiences as housekeepers.

Covers were laid for the following, Mrs. Gladys Mossis of Leesburg, Mrs. McMichael, Miss Martha Brown, Miss Ann Lee, Mrs. Martin McDaniel of Bunnell, Miss Mamie Mero of Washington, Mrs. Tom Paine of Bell Meade, N. J., and Misses Ruth and Allie Gillon.

Mr. Zeke Clifton returned Saturday to St. Petersburg.

Mrs. M. D. Barber has as her guest for the holidays, Mrs. M. R. Swaine.

N. DE V. HOWARD CHAPTER, U. D. C.

On Friday afternoon the N. de V. Howard Chapter, U. D. C., held their first meeting since the election of officers, at the home of Mrs. G. D. Bishop on Magnolia Avenue, with Mrs. Bishop and Mrs. George A. DeCotter as hostesses.

The first part of the afternoon was devoted to business at which time Mrs. R. J. Holly, the newly elected president presided. Nine members were added to the chapter and several other important matters were brought before the members. Mrs. L. G. Stringfellow was re-elected historian and Mrs. George DeCotter, Mrs. Claude Herndon and Miss Katherine Wilkey were appointed to assist her in making out programs for each meeting.

A most delightful social hour was enjoyed after all business had been transacted. Mrs. Bishop and Mrs. DeCotter served chicken salad, salsines, olives, fruit cake and tea as refreshments.

There were 25 members present and this meeting was one of the most enjoyable in the history of the chapter.

MACDOWELL PROGRAM AND MYSTERY TEA.

The Music Department of the Woman's Club is preparing to observe "MacDowell Memorial Week" in memory of America's greatest composer. Music clubs and concert members all over the nation will give American programs, featuring the works of Edward MacDowell, in the month of January. The local club will observe the week beginning January 6. All musical people are asked to co-operate.

The feature of the week will be the MacDowell program and "Mystery Tea" given by the Music Department in the club house, January 9 at 4 p. m. Besides having the privilege of hearing a fine program of Edward MacDowell's compositions and showing honor to him, those attending will have an opportunity to help the Music Department to carry out the fine work that it has done in 1923, into the new year of 1924, at the "Mystery Tea," which will follow the musical program.

CHRISTMAS SOCIAL.

Friday night the Epworth League rooms of the Methodist Church were the scene of much jollity and fun. The entire room was decorated in Christmas greens and poinsettias and the center of the room on the president's table banked with fern and moss was a miniature Christmas tree covered with vari-colored lights and other gay decorations.

The guests were met at the door by Miss Carolyn Spencer, the president, and Miss Cathryn Wilson. As soon as all had assembled Miss Spencer, with appropriate remarks gave each one a present from the tree. Each present was done up differently and it seemed that some one had searched the county for so many and varied gifts but when they were unwrapped it was found that each one had an all-day sucker. Then games and contests made the time pass merrily until refreshments of salads, salsines, coffee, olives and pickles were served by Misses Wilson and Spencer, Gladys Adams, assisted by Messrs. Virgil Smith and Harry Flowers. The League had two visitors present from Orlando as guests, Miss Aldine Bird and Mr. Yarbrough.

ATTEND F. E. A. MEETING.

Seminole county teachers who will probably attend F. E. A. meeting at West Palm Beach, January 2, 3, and 4, 1924: Prof. G. E. McKay, Mrs. R. C. Maxwell, Miss Kitty W. Smith, Miss Ida Mae Gray, Mrs. G. E. McKay, Mrs. Pearl Habbit, Miss Laura Chittenden, Miss Lucille Joiner, Miss Lucille Sweet, Mrs. S. P. Arrington, Mrs. Selena M. Barber, Miss Carolyn Spencer, Miss Edna Chittenden, Miss Zillah Welch, Mrs. Hazel Moughton, Miss Emma Owen, Mrs. Ramona Raynor of Sanford; Mrs. J. N. Thompson, Oviedo; Prof. H. C. Douglas, Mrs. M. E. Dooley, Miss Helen Moran, of Geneva; Prof. J. T. Jacobs, Mrs. J. T. Jacobs, Mrs. S. H. Buchanan, Miss Arie Mann, of Lake Monroe; Prof. W. L. Seig, Mrs. W. L. Sieg, Chulnota; Prof. W. C. Cannon, Mrs. W. C. Cannon, Osceola.

Many of these teachers will drive their cars to West Palm Beach, some will go by rail, and others will take advantage of the generous offer of the Coral Gables Company, who will furnish free transportation to any desiring to go with them on one of their luxurious closed cars.

The many friends of little Eleanor Hickson will be sorry to learn that she is ill at her home on Celery Avenue. She was operated on Thursday morning by Dr. Langley.

FRATERNITY CLUB MEN GAVE DANCE.

The Orlando Country Club was the scene of a lovely holiday function Friday evening when the members of the fraternity club entertained with a Christmas dance.

Holly, mistletoe, and evergreen were in profusion in decorating, together with Christmas bells and red crepe paper strips which extended across the room, and poinsettias and growing plants were used, too.

In the receiving line were the officers, Mr. Palmer, Mr. Cady and Mr. Branham.

The affair was delightful, the club officers and entertainment committee in charge of the arrangements, left nothing undone that might add to the pleasure of their guests.

Music was furnished by the Dale Troy orchestra, and dancing began at 9 o'clock and continued until after midnight.

Throughout the evening fruit punch was served on the verandah and at 11 o'clock during the intermission ice cream and cake were served.

The guests included Friday evening friends of the members and the college men and their visitors home for the holidays.

A feature of the affair were the favor dances which added much to the enjoyment of the evening.

The club officers are Allison E. Palmer, president, Hal Cady, vice president, and Jack Branham, secretary and treasurer.—Orlando Sentinel.

Among those from Sanford attending were Misses Abbie Olive Newman, Maul Lake, Mildred Doudney Le Claire Jones, Holly, Sarita Lake, Mae Holly, Mrs. Forrest Lake, Mrs. R. J. Holly, Mrs. W. T. Langley; Messrs. John Meisch, Calvin Teague, G. W. Spencer, Jr., Paul Lake, Bill Moye Robert Thrasher, Allen Jones, and Walter Connelly.

HOLY CROSS CHRISTMAS TREE.

Even though Santa Claus could not come down the Parish House chimney he did not forget the boys and girls of Holy Cross Church for he sent Mr. B. F. Whitner a note saying he could see them Friday, December 28, at the East Side Primary School at 4 o'clock.

The exercises were opened by the entire school singing, "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear." The assembly room was decorated in greens and the largest, loveliest, brightest Christmas tree ever seen stood bravely in the center of the floor decorated with strings of popcorn, red bells and all kinds of colored lights. After the boys and girls had thoroughly enjoyed looking at the tree and speculating on what Santa Claus would bring them, Mr. Whitner called them to order and the Rev. Father Peck told them the beautiful Christmas story. Mr. Whitner, the superintendent of the Sunday school, gave them a little talk on the blessedness of Christmas giving. The school then sang a number of old and well loved Christmas carols.

Then Mrs. Kepler's class sang, "Christmas Bells."

Ten of the older girls sang "Holy Night."

COUNTY NURSE MISS ABBY DOUDNEY MAKES REPORT.

The work being done by the Child Welfare Committee under the auspices of the County Federation of Woman's Clubs is interesting to the people of Seminole county. It is the first collective health instruction that has been undertaken to reduce the effects of disease and sickness in adults through the proper health education of children, in their homes and in the public schools.

The activities of the county nurse show very definitely the great need for this work in the community. This is especially emphasized with regard to hookworm. Out of 134 specimens taken from children in different sections of the county, 86 specimens showed this disease. Such a condition can be remedied and stamped out through proper treatment of those actually suffering with the disease, and exercising necessary care and precautions in sanitation and right-living to protect others.

It is not enough that children are merely inspected medically in school, although this inspection is very necessary. Preventive measures against disease, the proper training in personal hygiene and the insuring of regular habits lie primarily in the home and with the parents, and it is through the co-operation of the parents that the county nurse will receive her greatest aid in helping to reduce disease and the number of sickly children.

The necessity of beginning in this training is strongly shown by the fact that in physical inspections in schools the number of defects found among first grade pupils is very much smaller than in higher grades. Each year adds its quota of defects. If these defects are detected early before they become serious and are remedied, much sickness and suffering may be avoided for the children, and a healthier, longer life insured for them.

In the two and a half months since the county nurse began her duties the following work has been accomplished:

|---------------------------------|-----|
| School visits | 77 |
| Home visits | 210 |
| Monthly Weights | 589 |
| First aid treatments | 8 |
| Hookworm specimens secured | 134 |
| Tuberculous specimens secured | 2 |
| Physical inspection of children | 627 |
| Defects found | 554 |
| Corrections secured | 62 |

The county nurse may be found in her office in the Court House on Saturdays and will be glad to talk with any parents to whom she may be able to give advice or assistance.

The Child Welfare committee is composed of the following members. The Board—Mrs. John Leonard, chairman; Miss Abby Doudney, nurse; Mrs. W. B. Ballard, Altamonte, secretary; Mrs. Endor Curlett of Geneva, Child Welfare chairman; Mrs. Deane Turner, Sanford, treasurer; Mrs. B. G. Smith, Oviedo, and Dr. J. T. Denton, advisory member.

The committees for the county is Mrs. A. E. Cline, Altamonte; Mrs. V. T. Peters, Geneva; Mrs. Tilden Jacobs, Lake Monroe; Mrs. A. D. Stuart, Longwood; Mrs. C. L. West, Oviedo; Mrs. J. Wm. Martin, Osceola; Mrs. Howard Overlin, Sanford; Mrs. B. J. Starling, Sanford; Mrs. R. C. Maxwell, Sanford, and Mrs. R. A. Terheun.

China Unchanged, given by Miss Naomi Scogran. A reading by Miss McRae. China's Call is China's Need, by Mr. Tom Brotherson. China's Call a Divine Challenge, given by Miss Lucille Echols. Special music, a duet. News Notes on China, given by Mr. Douglas King. A cordial invitation is extended to every one and B. Y. P. U. members are urged to be present. Remember this is the last time you can attend B. Y. P. U. in 1923.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

A message of comfort. Sunday morning the pastor will speak on "The Raising of the Son of the Widow of Nain," with its wonderful message of Jesus as the drier of all tears, the victor over death, and the restorer of parted loved ones. Those in towns who have recently lost loved ones are especially invited to this service at 11 o'clock. If you know of such you are asked to invite them. Services Sunday as follows: 9:45 a. m., Sunday school. 11 a. m., Preaching service. 2:15 p. m., Junior C. E. 2:45 p. m., Intermediate C. E. 6:30 p. m., Senior C. E. 7:30 p. m., Preaching service. The Session will meet after both morning and night preaching service for the reception of members.

HOLY CROSS CHURCH.

Church services for the first Sunday after Christmas will be: 9:45 a. m., Sunday School in the High School auditorium. 11 a. m., church service and sermon in the Milane Theater. All are invited.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

We extend a cordial invitation to strangers and transients to meet and worship with us. The pastor's subject in the morning will be "How to insure a Happy New Year." Each year of a man's life should be better than the previous one. It is worth while to know how one can accomplish it. At night the second installment of moving pictures will be given. The subject is "The New Minister." It is true of life in some places and teaches a lesson worth while. The pastor will give an earnest gospel message. Be sure to hear it.

ALL SOULS CHURCH.

Tomorrow, the Sunday within the Octave of Christmas, divine services will be as follows: Sunday School at 9 a. m. sharp. Mass at 10:30 a. m. Sermon: "Behold this child is set for the fall and the resurrection of many in Israel." Luke II. 34. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament after Mass. Tuesday, January 1, New Year's day, Feast of the Circumcision of Christ, Mass at 10:30 a. m. Sermon: "The spiritual importance of time."

Benediction after Mass. The Bishop administers the sacrament of Confirmation in this church on the second Sunday in January. Strangers invited to church services.

THE METHODIST CHURCH.

W. J. Carpenter, Pastor. Subject of the morning sermon will be: "A New Year's Survey—What of the Future?" The Epworth Leagues will hold special meetings at 6:30 p. m. "A New Year's Meditation," will be the subject of the evening sermon. We shall have splendid music at both services. Pastor and officials are looking for a record attendance at these services. We are closing the year's work and desire it to be well done. Wednesday night prayer meeting will be the first of the New Year, and it will be doubly interesting on that account.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE

Church services for Sunday, December 30, 1923. Subject, "Christian Science." Church service, 11 a. m. Sunday School, 10 a. m. Woman's Club building, Oak Avenue. All are welcome.

The Three C's of Credit

The banker bases credit on what are known as the three C's of credit—Character, Capacity, and Capital. Because of the importance of these in the lives of business men and women, it is essential that boys and girls know them. To be the kind of men and women who will succeed in life, it is necessary that character and capacity be developed conscientiously during school life.

Character is an imperative business qualification. It is not formed in a day. Character is developed through honesty and industry practiced daily. The boy or girl who cheats in class today—"putting one over on the teacher"—or who is dishonest in his dealings with his parents or friends, is stamping on his character marks of dishonesty which in later life will count against him and his success in business and in citizenship.

Allied with character is Capacity. Before making a loan, a banker takes into consideration, in addition to character, the capacity of the applicant—that is, his ability to earn through his honesty, his ability and his industry.

Capital is a man's worth in money, merchandise, stocks and bonds, or lands, which may be given as collateral to secure a loan or make it safe.

In The World Of Sports

Athletes of This Country Monarchs Of Sports World

America Scores 26 Victories; Great Britain Next With 12; France Captures 1.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—America once more ruled the heights of international sports competition in 1923, but Uncle Sam was hard pressed to capture a major share of the laurels in one of the most colorful seasons in years.

America scored 26 victories, Great Britain 12 and France two in events where leading talent contested for honors, but this country's margin was not so decisive as these figures might indicate, and considerably less so than in 1922 when the Eagle left small room for argument.

The United States gained clear-cut laurels in five branches of international competition, Britain was triumphant in four and France in one, through Miss Suzanne Lenglen's supremacy in women's tennis. This country's forces swept the fields in men's tennis, boxing, polo, professional billiards and horse-racing, while the Lion courted victory in track athletics, croquet, tennis, rowing and fencing. American also held an edge in golf, though Britain regained some of the royal and ancient prestige lost in 1922.

Most of the battles of 1923 were fought out abroad, and proof of the powerful opposition encountered by America is the fact that five of this country's invading aggregations met defeat in Britain, while in three of these instances American forfeited titles, with British athletic yachts recapturing the British-American Cup by a decisive margin; Yankee fencers losing the Robert M. Thompson trophy in a series at London; while Walter Hooper lost the historic Diamond Sculls trophy when he broke an oar and was beaten in the first heat of the Henley rowing event, captured by Morris, an Englishman.

Yankee invaders also went down to defeat when Walter Kinsella, American challenger, was beaten by George Covey in a series for the world's professional curling title, while the combined Harvard-Yale team lost a closely contested meet with Oxford-Cambridge.

There was balm for these setbacks, however, in the fact that England's invading hosts met chiefly with disaster in this country. America's indoor poloists repelled an English invasion early in the year in a series of matches, while in the outdoor game the Yankee Army four vanquished the British Army team for the military championship, and the Meadow Brook outfit rode to victory in the American championship, in which three British aggregations took part.

Oxford runners took out of three contents with American college stars in the Pennsylvania Relay Carnival; Zev conquered Papyrus, the English Derby winner, in the $100,000 international race at Belmont Park; an Oxford-Cambridge tennis team was beaten in the inter-collegiate championships, and also in a match with Harvard-Yale, while British women met defeat in both tennis and golf invasions.

Tennis and golf witnessed probably the keenest rivalry of all. American team forces were victorious in both, Yankee golf amateurs retaining the Walker Cup on British links after a spirited fight, while the Davis and Wightman Cups, leading tennis trophies, reposed on Uncle Sam's trophies shelves at the end of the season. The Davis Cup was successfully defended against a record field of 17 challenging nations, with Australia making a gallant fight in the final contest and losing by a margin of four to one. Wightman Cup, leading tennis trophy in competition for the first time went to America's net stars who made a clean sweep of a series of matches with England's best at Forest Hills.

Except for Miss Lenglen's triumphs over women players abroad during the year, including Mrs. Mink Mallory, the former American champion, this country's individual stars captured a major share of gold and tennis events. William M. Johnston won both the world's hard and grass court championships on foreign soil, while William T. Tilden stood head and shoulders above an international field in the American singles championships. The Wightman trophy, women's premiering its open golf trophy, which had been kept in the United States for two years by Jack Hutchison and Walter Hagen. Arthur Havers, young Englishman, won this blue ribbon event by a margin of a single stroke over Hagen. Other leading titles were won by native talent on both sides, Francis Ouimet, Boston veteran, added glory to America's record by capturing the historic St. George's Challenge Cup in England, and also reaching the semi-finals of the British amateur tournament before being put out by Roger Wethered, who went on to win the championship, Gen. Sarazen, former American open champion, bagged a minor British golf crown when he won the Northern professional tournament.

RECORDS SHOW THAT TEN LEADING AMATEUR TRAPSHOOTERS OF UNITED STATES AHEAD OF PROFESSIONALS

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Although John R. Taylor of Newark, Ohio, the ranking professional trapshooter of the country, has outscored his nearest amateur rival, Amateur Trapshooting Association figures for 1923 reveal that the ten leading amateurs boast a higher general average than the ten leading professionals.

Taylor, in the course of the season, broke 1960 clay targets in the 2000 shot at, for an average of 9845, but Phil R. Miller, amateur from Dallas, Tex., with an average of 9823, and W. H. Heer, of Guthrie, Okla., with an average of 9813, have outscored all other professionals, and others in the amateur list show a corresponding advantage over their "pro" rivals.

The scores and averages of the ten leading professionals and the ten leading amateurs:

Celery Seed

(By R. L. Shipp)

Lakeland High is beginning to talk about the baseball season already. The Dreadsoughts evidently have some designs on the state scholastic bunting for the coming season.

The St. Petersburg Green Devils evidently haven't enough football yet. After devouring plenty of turkey, cranberry sauce and the other essentials of a good Christmas dinner, they played and were defeated by a hastily organized Alumni of St. Pete.

The New York Tribune says: "Tom Gibbons Plans Forcing Dempsey Into Return Bout." Better not do that, Tommy, Jack might be in a bad humor this time when he steps in the ring with you and where would you be then?

The year's record by several notable international boxing matches. Chief among these was the menace of the giant Argentine, Luis Angel Firpo, to the world's heavyweight championship, defended successfully by Jack Dempsey only after a thrilling encounter. Lucene Criqui, French war hero, lifted the tricolor to glory by defeating Johnny Kilbane as world's featherweight champion, but two months later the gallant ex-poleu succumbed to the battering fists of Johnny Dundee. Jimmy Wilde, game little fighter, came across to stake his world's flyweight crown in a match with Pancho Villa, of the Philippines, but he was quickly beaten.

In other international contests Charley Paddock, California sprinting star, won laurels in an intercollegiate track meet at Paris; Jay Gould, of Philadelphia, lost to E. L. Baerlin, of England, in the final round of an international tournament at Paris, while American professional billiard stars demonstrated their superiority over experts of France, Belgium and Germany in an international play.

An American model yacht vanquished its Canadian rival in a series of races held at Montreal, but the International Fishermen's Schooner trophy, another medium of Canadian-American competition, remained unwavering when the Canadian defender, Bluenose, refused to race its American rival, Columbia, after the second race was awarded to the Yankee schooner because the Canadian boat passed the wrong side of a buoy. Bluenose had won the first race and also finished first in the disputed heat.

We are not competing for the Bok prize, but we are quite sure that a law automatically drafting every man in the country between the ages of 18 and 65, including commissioned officers of the army, at $10 a month, with classic making a felony to reap profits on any business adventure from the date of the declaration to the signing of a peace treaty, would keep the United States out—Tampa Tribune.

Don't look as if the baseball magazine will ever underestimate a player—but they certainly overestimate them. It is reported that Charles E. St. Louis Nationals $275,000 for Rogers Hornsby, the second baseman.

Understand, this is a report—and the cash hasn't been brought to view yet. In fact there is very little use to bring the cash to view as the St. Louis financiers have refused to talk about such a deal.

Luis Firpo will have a much better conditions under which he will fight Dempsey only after a thrilling encounter at all. Jim Jeffries will have the hard task of rounding Firpo into the kind of fighter who can save himself from being knocked to the floor five times in a single round.

Princeton Coach To Retire End of 1924

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Dec. 29.—William W. Roper will retire as coach of the Princeton football team at the close of the 1924 season, he said Wednesday. Pressure of his councilmanic and law business was given as the reason.

"I'm beginning to feel," said Mr. Roper, who was the only independent Republican elected to city council at last month's election, "that I have been in the coaching business long enough, and will be ready to step out at the close of the 1924 season. I might have been ready to retire this year, but did not feel like getting out after such a season. Next year we hope to do much better at Princeton."

"Strange as it may seem, the men at Princeton are already starting to prepare for next season. Those days of the Harvard and Yale games seemed to put more fight in the men. Wrestling and boxing will be taken up by the members of the football squads, and once a week we propose to talk things over in a football way. Spring football practice will be resumed on a larger scale than ever."

Roper has been coaching at Princeton six years.

EXPRESS RATE REDUCTION ON FLORIDA PRODUCTS

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Dec. 29.—Express rates on all Florida citrus fruits, strawberries, pineapples and vegetables will be reduced practically 13 1/2 per cent, effective February 21, 1924, according to information received by the state railroad commission. This reduction, it is stated, is a result of a recent decision handed down by the Interstate Commerce Commission in a case in which the Florida railroad commission intervened on behalf of Florida shippers for a substantial reduction in all express rates.

Yankees Announce A Roster of Recruits For The Spring Practice

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—The New York Yankees Friday announced a list of 21 players added to the roster of the world's champions from various sources for spring training tryouts. Ten have been recalled from minor league clubs, six purchased and one has been drafted, while seven free agents were signed. Four were shifted to other clubs in deals for three of the players purchased.

The list of those recalled include Pitcher Fred Spates from Albany, N. Y.; Pitcher Elbert Johnson, Norfolk, Va.; Pitcher Gormer Wilson, Bridgeport, Conn.; Catcher L. J. Urban, Buffalo; Infielder Lou Geherig, Hartford, Conn.; Infielder John Wight, Shreveport, La.; Outfielder O. D. Tucker, New Orleans; Outfielders Elton Lanford and Bernie Acton, Macon, Ga.; Outfielder Henry Lavalle, Bridgeport.

Those purchased were: Pitchers George Dumont and Van Karr, Atlanta; Pitcher Fred Newberry, Macon; Pitcher Olson, Des Moines; Pitcher N. Cullop, Omaha; Catcher Martin Autrey, Austin, Texas; Pitcher Adolfo Arguejio, of Corsicana, Texas, was drafted, while free agents signed included Pitcher Ben Shields, Oakeridge College, N. C.; Pitcher Milton Gastin, Paterson, N. J.; Silk Six; Pitcher Henry Swenson, Cedarhurst, N. Y.; Pitcher Lem Owens, Washington, D. C.; Catcher Bernard Barin, Barre, Vt.; Shortstop George Redden, North Carolina State College; Catcher William Mahoney, former college player.

Pitchers Wilson and Langford were shifted to Des Moines in the deal by which the Yankees obtained Pitcher Olson, while Pitcher Spates and Infielder Wight were transferred to Atlanta in the deal for Pitchers Dumont and Karr.

"Just Married," a honeymoon farce comedy by Adolph Matthews and Anna Nichols, will be presented at the Milane Theater Wednesday night, and no doubt will entertain a large audience. The story has been told in New York and other big cities and has always been found amusing. After a year in New York the comedy was set just on the road and its clever lines and laughable situations are apparently just what is desired by the theatergoers. Differing somewhat in detail from the usual farce of its type, "Just Married" does not depend entirely upon one scene for its drawing power, but is entertaining throughout the three acts and several scenes. A capable company has been chosen to present "Just Married" and this insures the putting over of the bright lines with just the proper shade of meaning and force. There is a hint as to the development of the plot early in the evening, but it doesn't seem to be realized until very nearly time for the last curtain.

"Just Married" introduces a young couple starting on their honeymoon from Bordeaux, going aboard a ship bound for New York. A friend of the groom comes down to see him off—and decides to go on the voyage. It has tickets that were given him by a man and wife who had decided not to sail that day—and there is a mix up in the state rooms and all sorts of unconventional things happen. But they are not really serious, when viewed in a sensible, morning after light, and the situations, while highly amusing are never such as to make real trouble—although a most unconventional introduction brings about a very happy ending.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN'S WEEKLY BIBLE TALK

By WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

"A Chosen Leader and a Chosen Land."

Text of Today's Bible Talk by Mr. Bryan.

(Genesis 12:1-7; 18:1-19)

Now the Lord had said unto Abram, and then out of thy country, and from thence, unto a land that I will show thee: And I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great: and thou shalt be a blessing: And I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee: and in the shall all families of the earth be blessed.

So Abram departed, as the Lord had spoken unto him; and Lot went with him; and Abram was seventy and five years old when he departed out of Haran.

And Abram passed through the land as far as the place of Sichem, unto the plain of Moreh. And the Canaanite was then in the land.

And the Lord appeared unto Abram, and said, Shall I hide from Abraham that thing which I do: Seeing that Abraham shall surely become a great and mighty nation, and all the nations of the earth shall be blessed in him?

For I know him, that he will command his children, and his household after him, and they shall keep the way of the Lord, to do justice and judgement: that the Lord may bring upon him, and upon his household, and upon all that know him, because he hath spoken of him.

BY WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN.
This lesson presents another view of the first great leader of the Hebrew race.

When we considered him before, it was as the exponent of one of the greatest of the virtues, faith. Today we will consider other characteristics that united in fitting him for leadership.

He listened to the voice of the Almighty, and leaving his country and his kindred, journeyed toward a land which was promised to him, but not at the time definitely located. He required self-release as well as reliance upon God. He was willing to take the risks involved and to bear the hardships that might come. He was a pioneer and developed the strength of character which the environment of the pioneer cultivates in those who have the right material in them.

Experience may be described as the polishing that brings out the grain in man. The real character of wood and stone is not always discernable when it is seen in the rough, but under the friction of polishing the beauties of the hard woods and of marble and granite appear. Abraham had the fiber in him—he would not have been selected for the work if he had not had it—and he grew more majestic as hardships added luster.

The Necessity of Trial.
We do not understand the providences of God until we discover that trial is a necessary part of a great life. We cannot say that a great life would be impossible without trial, but we know that no great life has been without its trials. We measure greatness by the temptations resisted, by the difficulties overcome, and by the preservation of that which is precious in life.

Abraham met all the requirements of a pioneer. He had vision—"For he looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God." He had courage; he shrank from no dangers; he made no compromise with idolatry; he carried aloft the banner of monotheism, erecting his altar to the One God, Jehovah, to whom he offered his petitions and yielded his undivided allegiance.

He was patient; his trust was absolute and he was willing to wait for the fulfillment of the promise made to him. Even when he was commanded to offer up his only son—in whom alone there seemed to be a possibility of fulfillment of the covenant made to him and to his seed—he never faltered.

Though the son was a gift to him in his old age from one who seemed condemned to childlessness, his faith was unshaken. His trust was rewarded, as God always rewards those who have that perfect love which "casteth out fear."

Abraham's Desire for Peace.
Abraham exhibited another virtue that has received less attention than his faith. He was unselfish enough to give to Lot, his brother's son, what seemed to be a valuable choice.

As they journeyed to Canaan, carrying with them their cattle, herdsmen and servants, Abraham and Lot found that there was quarrelling as to range, pastures and privileges. This was not strange, considering the prosperity that had attended them and the size of their flocks.

"Abraham's desire for peace and good will was greater than his regard for the preference which he could rightfully demand, so he asked Lot to take his choice of the land that was open for settlement.

Lot, lacking the generous spirit of his uncle, was not slow to select that which promised to be richest and most profitable. He pitched his tent towards Sodom, the princely city of the fertile valley of the Jordan. Abraham turned into what seemed a less favorable section. The story of Sodom's overthrow is familiar to the reader. Lot found that while the land chosen was fertile and productive, its inhabitants were depraved. Lot continued a resident of Sodom, however, until its destruction was impending.

A Few Righteous Men.
Here Abraham's benevolence again manifested itself; he begged that the city might be saved on condition that fifty righteous men be found in the city. When this request was acceded to, he began to bargain with the Lord to secure a reduction in the number of righteous men required. His family numbered only ten, and he begged that as many as ten righteous men could be found, but even this small number was wanting, and the fire fell and consumed the city.

Lot and his family were rescued, except his wife, who, looking back to the accursed community, was punished by death—she was turned into a pillar of salt. Lot's descendants became in after years enemies of the Children of Israel.

A moral can be drawn from the effort made to find a few righteous men in the city—enough to save it. A few men can save a town—any town—if they take their stand on God's side. A few men (the word is used in the sense in which women are included), can save a state, a nation or a world, provided God's arm is around them and His strength back of them.

Truth is Inevitable.
Truth has in it the power to propagate itself; for those who stand for the truth need not for one moment doubt its final victory. It may require time, but with God "a thousand years are as one day."

America's greatest poet, William Cullen Bryant, in "The Battlefield," has embalmed in words of wonderful beauty the assurance that God gives to those who fight upon His side:

Truth, crushed to earth, shall rise again;
The eternal years of God are hers;
But Error, wounded, writhes in pain,
And dies among his worshippers.
"Yea, though thou lie upon the dust,
When they who helped thee flee in fear,
Dio full of hope and manly rust,
Like those who fell in battle here,
Another hand thy sword shall wield,
Another bill the standard wave,
Till from the trumpet's mouth is pealed
The blast of triumph o'er thy grave.
Choosing a Wife.

Another incident in the life of Abraham deserves a word of comment. The time came for Isaac, his only son, to choose a wife. There were comely maidens among the tribes around about, but they were worshippers of idols.

Isaac's wife was to be the mother of a race that would ultimately be numbered "as the sand which is upon the sea shore." She must be worthy of such descendants and, therefore, she must be a worshipper of the living God.

Abraham selected a trusted servant and sent him with instructions to select for Isaac a wife from among the kindred of his parents. Here occurred one of those many unexpected little incidents—too small at the time and yet so large in potency—that, linked together, form the Bible record. "Rebecca at the Well," the first woman upon whom his eyes fell, was destined to become the wife of Isaac. She was one of the family that he was seeking, and he sought no farther.

She and Isaac fell in love at first sight. She was a faithful wife; the statement need not be qualified, even though there came a time when she conspired with her favorite son to secure the envied birthright; as the future showed, she a better judge than her husband as to the relative virtues of her twin sons.

Religious Harmony in Families.
History has vindicated the wisdom of Abraham in emphasizing the value of religious harmony in the household. No one can read the story of the Children of Israel without noting how often the mixing of religions introduced discord, not only in families but among the whole people.

The marriage relationship is the most sacred, because it is the most intimate. It is a matter of choice, two lives are welded into one and become a link in the endless chain of humanity. Their blood is mysteriously mixed in the offering, and their joint influence, transmitted by each generation to the succeeding one, reaches on through the unfolding ages. Religion is the most potent influence that acts upon their lives; they can hardly expect to avoid frequent and fundamental clashes unless they are in agreement upon religion, or Paul says: "Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers; for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? And what communion hath light with darkness?"

No Laughing Matter.
The great apostle Paul had had in mind the marriage relation alone, but the reasons are strong in proportion as the association is close and continuous.

"Love," it is said, "laughs at locksmiths"—that is because the lovers are united in their effort to break the lock. But it is not a laughing matter when two conscientious persons, equally religious, find their convictions in irreconcilable conflict; and it is more serious still when the fate of innocent children is wrapped up with the fate of parents at war over matters of faith.

Abraham's wisdom was nowhere more manifestly sound than when he sought for Isaac a wife who could worship at his side.

In former lessons emphasis has been placed upon the strategic advantage of Palestine as the center from which religion could radiate to the nations to whom the civilization of the world was to be entrusted.

"The man and the hour met," and, according to a divine plan, the meeting was at the right time and place.
