

WORLD IN BRIEF

Record 13,709 Whites

Left Rhodesia In 1978

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI) — The government said today the net loss of whites through emigration in December was the highest of any month in Rhodesia's history and brought the number of whites who left in 1978 to an unprecedented 13,709. The monthly digest of statistics showed 166 whites came to Rhodesia in December while 2,837 emigrated, leaving a negative balance of 2,771. The figure for November — the previous monthly record — was 1,834.

Pope: 'Pilgrimage Of Faith'

ROME (UPI) — "This is above all a pilgrimage of faith," said Pope John Paul II, dressed in his ceremonial white vestments and a white skullcap, as he left Fiumicino Airport for his first foreign journey, which will take him first to the Dominican Republic, then to Mexico. He will stop at Santo Domingo and celebrate mass with Roman Catholic bishops from the Dominican Republic, Haiti, Cuba and Puerto Rico, then continue to Mexico Friday, where he will open the third Latin American Episcopal Conference in Puebla this weekend.

Rail Strike Imperils Britons

LONDON (UPI) — Britain reeled under its fourth rail strike in 10 days today, bringing a government warning that future investment in the nation's subsidized railroads could be jeopardized. In Parliament, Home Secretary Merlyn Rees vowed drugs being held up by the truckers' strike would get through to seriously ill patients throughout the country.

1,500 Chinese Visa Bids

HONG KONG (UPI) — Applications by Chinese from the Communist mainland to enter the United States have topped 1,500 this month, compared to only 30 a year ago, a U.S. consul spokesman said Thursday. "More than 1,500 visa applications to emigrate to the United States or to go there on a visit have been filed so far and we expect this figure to top 2,000 by the end of the month," the spokesman said. "We also expect an even higher figure in February."

$ Opens Higher In Europe

LONDON (UPI) — The U.S. dollar opened higher today on all European exchanges except Brussels and also was down marginally in Tokyo.

Board Buys Lot For Lyman Site

By LEONARD KRANIDORF
Herald Staff Writer
The Seminole County School Board on a 4-1 vote, with Pat Tolson casting the lone no vote, decided to purchase a 130 x 250-foot lot on Dog Track Road bordering Lyman High School. The lot will be purchased for $99,000 from Harkaway Realty and will be used primarily as a secondary entrance or exit from the school in addition to the current entrance off County Road 627. A road will be built through the lot. It is also hoped the property could be used as a drainage area for the water runoff from the new vocational building at the school. Additionally, the

PREVENT BIRTH DEFECTS GIVE TO MARCH OF DIMES

Small text about March of Dimes and birth defects.

Thursday, January 25, 1979—Vol. 71, No. 130
Published Daily and Sunday, except Sundays by The Sanford Herald, Inc., 269 W. French Ave., Sanford, Fla. 32771.
Second Class Postage Paid at Sanford, Florida 32771.
Sales District: Week: 75 cents; Month: $6.25; 3 Months: $18.75; Year: $69.00. By Mail: Week: 80 cents; Month: $6.50; 3 Months: $19.50; Year: $72.00.

Referring to the Iran crisis, Defense Secretary Harold Brown told the Senate Armed Services Committee "deteriorating regional conditions" and growing costs of its own energy supplies could propel Moscow "toward various forms of intervention in the Middle East. Their intervention could well require a U. S. response," he said, emphasizing he was not suggesting such events are likely.

Connally Hailed, Blasted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John Connally's plunge into Republican presidential politics was welcomed by his GOP rivals and condemned by an old foe. The former Texas governor formally announced at a luncheon Wednesday that he is seeking the Republican nomination — just about the time front-runner Ronald Reagan was wrapping up a three-day Washington blitz. "I don't think it is any surprise," Reagan said of Connally's declaration. "Big John and I knew each other as governors together. He's welcome to the list."

Reagan spent three days courting Capitol Hill Republicans in an apparently successful effort to persuade would-be detractors he is neither too old at 67 nor too conservative to win the presidency.

Senate Republican Leader Howard Baker said he will make up his mind this summer whether to join the race, and he warned that Connally will be a tough competitor for the job. "John Connally is a distinguished public servant and he's had his trials, his difficulties, but he will be one whole lot better candidate for the Republican nomination and people better watch out," Baker said. "He's going to be a lot stronger than people think he is."

Baker was apparently referring to Connally's indictment on bribery charges while he was Treasury secretary during the Watergate scandal. When he made his announcement Connally was asked by reporters if the indictment would hurt his candidacy.

"A jury — 10 blacks and two whites gave the answer for all time and that was simply 'not guilty,'" he said. An aide to Rep. Phil Crane of Illinois, the first Republican to enter the GOP race, said, "The more candidates we get into the race, the better it is for the party. Mr. Crane welcomes his entry."

But Connally's candidacy drew a blistering comment from Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota, who was the Democratic presidential candidate in 1972 when Connally headed "Democrats for Nixon."

"He's the perfect symbol of the double-talking, double-crossing politician," said McGovern, adding that Connally "combines the worst of both Watergate and Vietnam."

Appointed McGovern's secretary, Connally quipped, "I'm not going to lead the Democrats for Connally in 1980. I'd say he's a mad McGovern."

An for Nixon, Connally said, "My relationship with him was a very close one. When I was secretary of the Treasury I served the nation, not him."

Khomeini Delays Return

'Power To Bakhtiar!' Yell 20,000 Marchers In Iran

United Press International

Thousands of demonstrators shouting "power to Bakhtiar!" marched in Tehran today in the biggest pro-government demonstration since the Shah left Iran. Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini postponed until at least Sunday his promised return from exile but hinted he might order his forces to take up arms.

An estimated 20,000 supporters of Premier Shapour Bakhtiar marched in the Iranian capital. They were challenged by bands of anti-shah youths who mocked and threw soft drink bottles at marchers, most of them men.

Khomeini, the opposition leader who has spent 15 years in exile, put off his flight to Tehran until he had scheduled for early Friday and said he would try again Sunday when the airports, closed by the army, were scheduled to reopen. But he hinted at a new conference that he might order his forces to take up arms if the "treasonous" government does not let him return. Asked by reporters if he plans to order his followers to take up arms so that he can gain entry, the religious leader said, "For the time being I do not have that in mind. Whenever I consider it proper, I will do it."

KHOMEINI

"Either I will die among my people or with their help we shall eliminate the last vestiges of foreign influence," the 78-year-old Khomeini said. The ayatollah charged that the army was plotting by the shah-appointed Bakhtiar to keep him out of Iran and said, "The government treasonously closed the airports. The army should know these people are committing treason. This is

The army should know these people are committing treason'

Sanford fireman Mike Hoening responded from training session at the Sanford Airport Wednesday to assist in the washdown of gasoline that dripped out of this car which was totaled in an accident on U.S. 17-92. The car owned by Earl Rupe was hit by another car owned by James Scheuering whose car sustained $700 damage, according to police. Scheuering received a ticket for careless driving. No injuries reported.

...Knock, Knock

(Continued From Page 1A)

at the station to offer some help," Dunaway said. Sanford Fire Chief G. Manning Harriett said today the four men who are usually at the station were on a training session at the airport. The four men at the station usually have some type of training four hours a day usually once a week, at which time the station is empty, Harriett said.

Harriett defended the practice of leaving the station unattended noting "having one man at the station does not do any good and it's better to have the fire truck fully manned if you get a call while on a training exercise."

He added no matter where the men are training they are in constant radio contact with the main fire station in Sanford in case they are needed. The substitution is equipped with a main fire pumper truck and a back-up. The main fire station is equipped with a main pumper truck, a backup truck, a ladder truck, one emergency vehicle and two fire inspection vehicles which can also be used as backup to the main emergency vehicle, the chief said. The substitution was originally built to provide adequate service to the southern tip of the city. The substitution coverage area extends south to Seminole Community College, east to the airport, north to 25th Street and west to Idylwild.

Harriett estimates that from the airport to the most southern part in the coverage area is about four miles.

AREA DEATHS

JOHN W. HOBBS
John William (Bill) Hobbs, 49, of 137 Mobile Ave., Longwood, died Wednesday at Florida Hospital, Orlando. A native of Wickliffe, Ky., he had lived in Longwood since September, 1978, moving here from Jackson, Mich. He was a retired machinist with the Clark Equipment Co. of Jackson, Mich. He was a member of the First General Baptist Church and the United Automobile Workers of America. APTL Local 822, Jackson and a veteran of WWII. Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Mary E. Hobbs, Longwood; daughter, Billie June Snow, Kistmire; son, James Allen Hobbs, Jackson, Mich.; three sisters, Golda Reynolds, Wickliffe, Ky., Eugenia Wade, Illinois and Dorothy Beasley, Jackson, Mich.; four brothers, Thomas J., Orlando, Samuel and Doris, both of Jackson and Lecher Hobbs, Sebring and four grandchildren. Burial was in the Gramkow-Gaines Funeral Home, Longwood in charge of arrangements.

MRS. RUBY NETTLES
Mrs. Ruby Mae Nettles, 85, of 226 E. Warren Ave., Longwood, died Wednesday at Florida Hospital, Orlando. She was a native of Bell and lived in Longwood for the past year, moving here from Orlando. She attended the Winter Springs Seventh-day Adventist Church and was a former member of the Orlando Seventh-day Adventist Church. Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Irene M. Wallace, Longwood and Mrs. Vera Suga, Okeechobee; son, Ralph A. Nettles Jr., Boynton Beach; 13 grandchildren; 15 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren. Gramkow-Gaines Funeral Home, Longwood is in charge of arrangements.

Fish That Climb?
GAINESVILLE (UPI) — Exotic tropical fish are multiplying naturally in south Florida waters, says a federal wildlife expert, working their way northward — and the walking catfish won't have to strut all the way either. "One reason for the large number is the natural water and canal system that exists in Florida," says U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service expert Dr. James A. McCann. "It is possible for the fish to enter through the Everglades and reach Georgia without ever leaving fresh water."

McCann said the walking catfish, which can pole itself over land and even climb trees using stiff fins, is not the only problem. Drop your hand in any stream or lake in Florida and you might be surprised by a deadly piranha. "The information we have is the woman sleep in jump suits," said assistant fire chief F. Parrish. "The only rule we have for the men is 'No sleeping in the nude.'" Mrs. Burleson said she could not provide segregated quarters for men and women because of a tight budget. They said they had asked the three women firefighters to dress discreetly at the stations. "The information we have is the woman sleep in jump suits," said assistant fire chief F. Parrish. "The only rule we have for the men is 'No sleeping in the nude.'" Mrs. Burleson said she could not provide segregated quarters for men and women because of a tight budget. They said they had asked the three women firefighters to dress discreetly at the stations.

ACE DISCOUNT HARDWARE SANFORD ACE HARDWARE 7385 Park Drive Ph. 321-0885 Sanford

NATION IN BRIEF

Beware Inflation, Warns

Carter Economic Message

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter warned Congress today unless inflation is controlled the entire social structure of the nation could be seriously damaged. Using some of the strongest language of his presidency, Carter said he was concerned that "the corrosive effects of inflation (will) eat away at the ties that bind us together as a people."

Sears Filing Hiring Suit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sears, Roebuck and Co. has filed a class-action suit in U.S. District Court of the District of Columbia asking penalties for discrimination in hiring be suspended until uniform guidelines are issued by the government to resolve conflicts in current laws. The suit, if successful, could have great impact on affirmative action programs throughout private industry. But the company insisted it does not seek to destroy such programs. The brief charged 10 federal agencies are trying to hold private employers liable for the present makeup of the workforce, when actually that makeup was created by the government.

Tennessee Pardons Sticking

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Gov. Lamar Alexander says he will not revoke commutations of 13 prisoners set free by former Gov. Ray Blanton but still behind bars. In a news conference the Republican chief executive also said "you may be seeing some major changes in the Pardon and Parole Board" under his administration, though no final proposals have been drawn up.

East: Snow, Rain, Sleet, Wind

By United Press International
Winter's latest storm struck hard at the East today with snow and rain snarling transportation — from Virginia to Massachusetts. Gale-force winds and drenching rains toppled trees and powerlines and flooded homes and streets in the New York City area. Blowing and drifting snow hampered movement from eastern Illinois into western Pennsylvania, western Maryland and Virginia's mountains. Heavy rain fell from extreme southeastern New York across southern New England.

Lettuce Strikers Shun Order

EL CENTRO, Calif. (UPI) — About 500 striking lettuce pickers say they will ignore a court order to return to the fields where more than $300,000 worth of lettuce was reported rotting. Sheriff's deputies Wednesday began delivering the back-to-work orders to some members of Cesar Chavez' United Farm Workers of America.

Social Security is not enough...

In this time of galloping inflation very few people can make ends meet after retirement on social security alone.

IRA (Individual Retirement Account) Fills the gap.

If you qualify - Anyone who earns money, and this includes salary, hourly wages, fees, commissions or other payment for services, and who is not already participating in a qualified retirement plan or tax sheltered annuity plan is eligible for IRA.

Tax Advantages of IRA...

Money set aside in your IRA is taken as a deduction from income when you file your income tax form. Money in your IRA account earns top interest compounded so it really grows in your flagship account. Tax is paid after you're 65 when you receive double exemption when you're not working and in a lower tax bracket.

Come in and talk to one of our IRA counselors. We'll help you choose the best plan for you.

ALL THE BANK YOU'LL EVER NEED T.M. FLAGSHIP BANK OF SEMINOLE FDIC

322-1776

Apologetic 'Junkie' Robs Service Station

By DENNIS FEOLA
Herald Staff Writer

A Fina Service Station in south Seminole County was robbed by a man who told the attendant he needed the money because he was a "junkie." The robber went so far as to show the attendant the needle marks on his arms, according to records.

"I hate to have to do this," the man with a gun told the attendant, "but I'm a junkie and I need the money."

The incident occurred Wednesday at 11:30 p.m. at the service station at 2510 State Road 438 near Maitland. Timothy Harvey, 18, of Longwood, told sheriff's deputies a man, about 25, walked in to the service station area. He reported the man purchased a pack of cigarettes and soda and then asked if he could hang around the station for a few minutes. The attendant said it would be all right and then went to a room where the

Action Reports

* Fires

* Courts

* Police Beat

bond is Kenneth James Colwell, of 1232 Linda Lane.

THEFT AT COMPLEX

An 18-year-old Altamonte Springs man was arrested in connection with a burglary Monday at the Sandy Cove Apartments in south Seminole County. About $50 cash was stolen from an apartment at the complex on Orange Avenue. Arrested for burglary and petty theft was Kevin Patrick King of the Sandy Cove Apartments. He is being held in lieu of $5,250 bond.

ROW OVER GIRL

An Altamonte Springs man claims he was shot at after he got into an argument with another man over his girlfriend. The incident occurred Wednesday at 5:30 p.m. at Club 438 on Lake Howell Road near Altamonte Springs. Walter Agro, 20, told sheriff's deputies he was shot at in the parking lot of the lounge. Agro was not injured in the incident, records indicate.

WOMAN DRAGGED

A Longwood woman was dragged along the parking lot pavement by a man in a car trying to steal her purse. The woman said she was dragged until she let go of the purse which contained about $220, according to reports. Shelby Teles, 39, of 313 Stonebridge Drive, told police the incident occurred about 1:15 p.m. Tuesday at the Colonial Plaza Mall parking lot. She reported a man in a car drove up beside her and he grabbed the purse and continued to drive while she was dragged alongside the car.

HOUSE BREAK-IN

Burglars removed a sliding glass door and screen to gain entry to a house on Lincoln Avenue in Midway. The burglary occurred Wednesday between 8 a.m. and 2 p.m., records indicate. Victim of the burglary was identified as Nathaniel White, 34. Reported stolen was a watch worth $150 and a can containing about $3 worth of pennies.

$100 SIGN STOLEN

A four-foot by eight-foot sign with wooden posts was reported stolen from the Wilshire subdivision off State Road 438 near Casselberry. Alan Bixby, 70, told sheriff's deputies the sign is worth $100 and was a replacement for another sign which had been stolen, according to records.

RADIO RIP-OFF

A combination am-fm radio and eight-track tape player and speakers worth $225 were reported stolen from a car parked at a house at 2644 S. Sanford Ave. near Sanford. The merchandise belongs to Viola Zaccour, 19, who told sheriff's deputies the merchandise was stolen sometime between Tuesday at 10:15 p.m. and Wednesday at 7:15 a.m., according to records.

DRUGS—PHOTO MEDCO DISCOUNT PRESCRIPTIONS PINECREST SHOPPING CENTER 2701 ORLANDO DRIVE • HWY. 17-92 at 27th St. DAILY 9-9 CLOSED SUNDAY CLAIROL CONDITION II AFTER SHAMPOO TREATMENT 16 OZ. 99¢ BARBASOL SHAVING CREAM 2 11-OZ. CANS 1.00 VITAMIN "C" 100 TABLETS 1.19 VISINE EYE DROPS 1/2 OZ. 99¢ MYLANTA 12 OZ. 1.39 BAN SUPER SOLID 2.25 OZ. 79¢ PRICES GOOD THRU TUES. JAN. 30

STERCH'S EXPANSION SALE! SAVE DURING OUR REMODELING... SOFAS • CHAIRS • BEDDING • BEDROOMS DINING ROOMS • RECLINERS • DINETTES! OPEN AN ACCOUNT WITH US - NO INSTALLMENT PAYMENTS UNTIL MARCH 1100 FRENCH AVE. SANFORD 322-7953

OUTFIT YOUR CAR WITH A WINTER OVERCOAT $10 OFF! MIRACLE SHIELD... Tax Advantages of IRA... ALL THE BANK YOU'LL EVER NEED T.M. FLAGSHIP BANK OF SEMINOLE

(USPS 401-280) 300 N. FRENCH AVE., SANFORD, FLA. 32771 Area Code 305-322-3111 or 321-9993 Thursday, January 25, 1979—4A

A Dinner Invitation...

President Carter may wonder what will happen next in Iran. He may wonder how seriously he will be challenged by Sen. Ted Kennedy and Gov. Jerry Brown.

He may wonder whether there will be a SALT II agreement. There are lots of things the president can't know at a given moment and must wonder about.

But one thing Mr. Carter knew when he decided to include former President Richard Nixon on the guest list for a White House state dinner honoring Chinese Vice Premier Teng Hsiao-ping on Jan. 29, and that was he would unleash furies.

Predictably, the fur has been flying ever since word came out of Washington that Mr. Nixon had been invited to the White House along with former President Gerald Ford and former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger.

It is profoundly offensive, repugnant and unacceptable for Carter to rehabilitate Richard Nixon, raged Rep. Elizabeth Holtzman, D-N.Y., a tireless Nixon hater. Other highly placed protesters suggesting a cynical Carter bid for GOP support of his China policy prompted a spirited defense of the President's hospitality, even from congenial Nixon critics.

Meanwhile, the howlers have not provided the first clue as to why President Carter could conceivably be interested in rehabilitating Nixon. Mr. Carter said he had "no apology to make," because it was a "fair... and proper thing" to invite both former presidents in view of their pioneering work in "opening the avenue" to normal U.S.-China relations.

He also made the persuasive point that Vice Premier Teng had requested Mr. Nixon's presence. Indeed, without detracting from President Carter's graciousness, we don't see how he could have acted otherwise in this instance.

What he did was altogether fair and proper, and, moreover, decent — adjectives in short supply thus far during this controversy.

...But No Comeback The return of Richard M. Nixon to Washington later this month is anything but a re-entry by the former president to the national political scene.

PLEASE WRITE Letters to the editor are welcomed for publication. All letters must be signed, with a mailing address and, if possible, a telephone number so the identity of the writer may be verified. The Evening Herald will respect the wishes of writers who do not want their names in print. The Evening Herald also reserves the right to edit letters to eliminate libel or to conform to space requirements.

Around The Clock By JANE CASELBERY

Having already struck out in Altamonte Springs and Casselberry, Medplex went to bat for a ninth inning try Jan. 15 in Longwood in an apparent effort to save a proposed nursing home project. With a certificate of need granted by the state department of Health and Rehabilitative Services scheduled to expire Jan. 18, Medplex hopes to get an extension to give the Longwood City Commission time to consider its proposal.

You can say one thing for Col. Eugene Minieta, executive director for Youth Programs Inc., he really knows how to pick good looking coordinators. Seminole's latest coordinator in the Sanford office for YPT's Project Prevention is vivacious Robin St. Ouge, a look alike for "That Girl"—Mario Thomas.

Sanford residents of all ages entered wholeheartedly into the search for the "mystery house" over the past two weeks with all sorts of suggestions on where to find the house. We appreciate everyone's efforts, but especially Pauline Krix, who went to the trouble of driving back into old courthouse records to pinpoint the property, where the house once stood, an anonymous local reporter, who came up with a copy of the plot. It was fun while it lasted, but now it's back to business as usual, or at least that's what I thought.

ANGLE-WALTERS Are They Caught In Contempt?

WASHINGTON (NEA) — In a little-noticed but potentially far-reaching court case, a federal judge in Idaho will be asked next month to issue a contempt-of-court citation against the nation's largest steel company.

The protagonists in the civil suit are the United States Steel Corp. of Pittsburgh and the Multistate Tax Commission, a Denver-based organization formed in 1967 to conduct corporate tax audits on behalf of 19 states.

Those cooperative audits are designed to prevent multinational corporations from failing to pay appropriate taxes on their activities in various states by manipulating financial records to shift income to other states or countries where it is not taxable.

In a typical case, Montgomery Ward & Co., a Chicago-based firm, claimed Illinois state revenue officials couldn't fully tax certain types of income because the revenues were supposed to be apportioned among all the states in which the company conducted its retailing business.

But in Arkansas — and probably other states as well — according to the commission — the company told state revenue officials that the income in question was taxable only in Montgomery Ward's home state of Illinois.

To minimize corporate tax evasion, the commission's staff seeks to obtain a full financial picture of the multistate and multinational firms it audits, including all of their domestic and international affiliates and subsidiaries.

The auditors then apply a three-factor formula — involving property, sales and payroll — to ascertain what portion of the corporation's income is conducted in a particular state and thus subject to the franchise or business taxes.

In 1972, however, U.S. Steel filed a court suit seeking to have the commission's multi-state concept declared to be in violation of the constitutional provision that says "no state shall, without the consent of Congress... enter into any agreement or compact with another state."

Joining U.S. Steel in that challenge were many of the nation's largest corporations, including Procter & Gamble, General Mills, Standard Brands, International Business Machines, Goodyear, Tires & Rubber, International Harvester and United Carbon.

After more than five years of litigation, the U.S. Supreme Court last year rejected all of the corporate arguments and upheld the constitutionality of the commission's actions.

The commission — acting on behalf of state tax officials in Alaska, California, Colorado, Hawaii, Idaho, Kansas, Montana, North Dakota and Utah — then moved to conduct a full audit of U.S. Steel's financial records.

BUSINESS WORLD Foreign $ In Lodging?

By LeROY POPE NEW YORK (UPI) — The American hotel and motel industry needs about $3.5 billion a year in fresh capital for the next 20 years and there seems little way to raise it in the United States.

Consequently, foreign ownership of hotels and motels is bound to increase sharply, says William T. Sommer, economist for Laventhol & Horwath, management consultants to the lodging industry.

The need for big new investment in hotels and motels could lead to construction of anywhere from 1.3 million to 4.3 million new rooms in the coming two decades, depending on how fast financing can be obtained, according to a Laventhol & Horwath survey.

A steady annual rise of 4 to 5 percent in business and pleasure travel in the United States will produce the big demand for new accommodations, Sommer said. Even if the net construction increase in 20 years is only about 1.4 million rooms, which is Sommer's personal guess, that would be a gain of 40 percent over present capacity.

The severe depression of the real estate investment trust industry is a prime reason why domestic capital will not be available in sufficient amounts to meet the lodging industry's needs, he said. The pension funds and the insurance companies are not likely to provide the money either, he added.

Surplus foreign money is one and possibly the most practical source of the money, he said. "There is no way to determine how much foreign firms already have invested in the U.S. lodging industry, but the amount certainly is growing. Japanese investment in Hawaii and on the west coast has jumped in the past five years. At least two U.S. hotel chains, Travelodge and

VIEWPOINT As The Shah Goes?

By DON GRAFF The departure of the shah raises questions as to the security of every other ruler in the Mideast, conservative monarch and fire-eating revolutionary alike.

The year-long revolution in Iran has already severely shaken the stability of the region where that commodity was in short supply to start with. And the shocks may not be over.

If the civilian government the shah left behind, or a successor, plus the army cannot reach an accommodation with the divine mastermind of the upheaval, a revolution by demonstration could turn into genuine civil war. A similar possibility exists in the Arab world. Ruhollah Khomeini from his French pigstie already has communicated the government and urged Iranians not to cooperate with it.

The anti-foreign "Islamic republic" — which with a suggested hand-amplication code of punishment sounds like shah-style repression only more so — the Ayatollah has in mind specifically for Iran may not be so significant in the long run as what represents in the region. And that is the tenacious survival of traditional Islam, a faith that has been ideologically moribund for centuries but remains a potent cultural force.

Oil may have replaced camels milk and dunes as the economic staple and mud-walled towns may have been transformed into high-rise cities, but the bulk of the Islamic world's population remains more at home in the 14th century than the 20th.

The shah once touched off the problem by justifying the heretics of his "white revolution" program. "Believe me, when three-quarters of a nation don't know how to read or write, you can provide reforms only by the strictest authoritarianism — otherwise you get nowhere."

The Arabian peninsula's Saudi rulers are themselves devoutly traditional Muslims; Libya's Gaddafi is both a religious and a revolutionary fanatic; Iraq and Syria are ruled by antagonistic branches of a party that styles itself socialist; Algeria in the preserve of a conventional king; Morocco and Jordan are led by conservative princes; and as different in political styles as these regimes are, they have one thing in common — a goal of order, or forcing their peoples into the modern world.

In doing so, all run the risk of at some point pressing too far too fast and both, arousing latent nationalist resistance to change. Iran, where a shah's authoritarianism was a stark contrast to a tolerant, democratic what a potent opponent that can be.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Graham Committed To Hiring Women, Blacks, Aide Vows

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Bob Graham has not reneged on a promise to hire women, blacks and non-bureaucrats in executive-level positions, says Press Secretary Steve Hull.

Hull was replying to criticism that he has not hired a single black woman in a salaried, executive position. The governor, in office only three weeks, has not made all his appointments, Hull said, adding, "Bob Graham is serious about his commitment to affirmative action, to hire blacks, women and people not previously involved in government."

Disclose Hospital Cost Data

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Arguing that legal opinion on the question of disclosure of hospital cost records is still divided, attorneys for a Miami hospital have filed notice of appeal of a federal court order that it reveal information about Medicare payments. Attorney Peter Dearing, representing Westchester General Hospital of Miami, also filed a motion asking that disclosure of the hospital's financial records be enjoined while the appeal is pending.

9 Eyed For Regents Seat

TAMPA (UPI) — A screening committee was scheduled to interview nine candidates this afternoon for the Board of Regents seat vacated Dec. 31 by Tampa attorney Chester Ferguson. Committee chairman John Germainy said 12 applicants for a one-year student-regent term will be interviewed Friday.

Administrative Changes?

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — Shands Teaching Hospital would undergo basic administrative changes designed to improve its efficiency and make it "more self-sufficient," if the recommendations of a special task force released Wednesday are adopted by the Florida Legislature. The task force, headed by Dr. William Deak, University of Florida vice president for health affairs, proposes that a board of directors headed by the UF president administer the hospital and that this board be empowered to contract with employee bargaining units, develop its own classification and pay plans for employees and its own purchasing plan subject to approval by the UF president and the Board of Regents.

Auto Checks And Pollution

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — State officials say eight counties with severe pollution problems cannot meet federal "clean up" deadlines without the automobile inspection program. Gov. Bob Graham wants abolished. Motor vehicle inspections must be continued, the Department of Environmental Regulation said or federal standards relaxed, which the Environmental Protection Agency is considering doing.

Kept Gun, Shot, Critical

TAMPA (UPI) — A 36-year-old man gunned down by police and FBI agents after he allegedly killed a federal security guard Wednesday was in critical condition today after extensive surgery. Robert Wragge, described by the FBI as a drifter, was shot four times in the abdomen when he refused an order to drop a gun and opened fire instead.

Kickback-Bribery Probe

TAMPA (UPI) — A federal grand jury today is expected to start looking into secret allegations of kickbacks and bribery in Florida's $240 million land acquisition program. A subpoena issued by the FBI to haul off 50 file cabinets of land records from the Department of Natural Resources said the material was needed in connection with testimony to be heard by the grand jury.

Frozen Juice Sales Record

ORLANDO — Sales of Florida frozen concentrated orange juice are at a record seasonal high under heavy wholesale and consumer demand for a product in very short supply, United Growers reported. Total sales for the week ending Jan. 13 reached 4.6 million gallons, the highest weekly movement since the week ending Oct. 28, 1975. The sales figure is approximately 31.5 percent higher than the average weekly movement of 3.5 million gallons recorded in the first five weeks of the 1975-76 pack year.

STOP! That's Message

STOP! says Altamonte Springs Police Chief Justus East. Stop taking the city's stop, yield and other regulatory signs.

In many homes throughout the city the stolen signs are being used in bedrooms and recreation rooms as "nest" wall decorations. Well, the police chief is not impressed. Concerned that the larceny of street and traffic regulatory signs has increased greatly, within the past few weeks, the chief has ordered a crack-down.

"Our main concern at this point is getting the signs back," says East. Any parent wishing to return these signs — which cost the city an average of $40 to replace — may bring them to the police department within the next 15 days with no questions asked.

Following this 15 day period, the city's future plan is to prosecute to the fullest extent of the law, anyone found in possession of any city property, East says.

And that's not all that's troubling the chief. Residents and taxpayers of Altamonte Springs have been plagued by a wave of vandalism in the past few weeks, such as knocking down of mailboxes, tire tracks on lawns, and the destruction of city property.

He urged use of the good-neighbor policy of keeping a watchful eye on each others' homes. —JOAN MADISON

Florida Politicos Like Carter Plans

TALLAHASSEE, (UPI) — Florida's political leaders apparently don't think much of President Carter's television appearances, but some of them like what he says about issues such as health care cost containment and trucking deregulation.

President Carter's State of the Union message Tuesday night was missed by many of those who make the laws in Florida, but his pitch to Congress to limit hospital cost hikes and cut unnecessary red tape will make it easier to achieve similar objectives in Florida, Tampa Rep. George Sheldon said Wednesday.

Sheldon, chairman of the House Regulatory Reform Committee, said he was not surprised to read that many of the issues addressed by Carter are those that the Legislature will face this spring. "Florida is an excellent microcosm of the country," he said. "The problems the country faces are of higher visibility than those of the states but the issues are the same."

Sheldon's view is Steve Hall, press secretary for Gov. Bob Graham. "I think the significance of

Sanford, Florida's All Glass Depression Era Show & Sale. Including Helsey, Cambridge, Fortoria, Paden City, Fonten, Westmoreland, & Roeban. January Sat. 27, 10 a.m. - 9 p.m. Sun 28, 11 a.m. - 6 p.m. Sanford Civic Center ADMISSION $1.50

$200 REWARD For information leading to arrest of persons responsible for stealing tools of Packaging Systems Corporation on Saturday, January 20 or Sunday, January 21, 1979 and recovery of air tools. Nominated list with serial numbers is available. Phone: 322-1934 PACKAGING SYSTEMS CORPORATION

Job & Military Pay For Government Aides?

Should employees of local government be paid the regular salaries as well as compensation from the federal government while on duty with the National Guard or the military reserve? Despite a law passed in the 1930's and a recent Attorney General's opinion requiring the double payment, Seminole County Commissioners have voted 3-2 to bar the payments.

At the same time, the commissioners have taken the problem to the Seminole Legislative delegation. Commission Chairman Bob French asked local legislators to determine whether the law should be amended. "We shouldn't have the statute at all," Sen. Clark Maxwell Jr., R-Melbourne, said, suggesting the law should be repealed rather than amended.

County policy calls for employees on military leave to receive the difference from county coffers in their regular salary and the sums paid for military leave. A county employee, affected by the policy, researched the law and attorney general opinions, and submitted these documents to the county. He requested his full salary for the periods he was on military training duty.

County attorney Nikki Clayton advised the commissioners to give the employee his full compensation for the time involved. However, Commissioners Dick Williams, Bill Kirchoff and Bob Sturm voted to follow county policy, while Commissioners French and Gordon Glenn voted to follow Miss Clayton's advice.

When the matter was discussed earlier by the commissioners, Kirchoff said the law was passed just prior to World War II as an enticement for men to join the National Guard or military reserve. Williams said it didn't appear fair to pay a person twice for the same period of time — once by the federal government and secondly by the local government.

Mrs. Glenn, although she voted to abide by the law, said earlier private enterprise in many cases, does not even pay the difference, but rather requires its employees to take leave without pay to serve in the reserve or their accrued vacation time.

The council will probably have to make a part-time building inspector a full-time employee to make up for the loss of manpower in the building department by Kulbes becoming city manager, according to Councilman Cliff Nelson. That will mean an increase in salary expenses from the $3,000 currently paid the part-time inspector to a full-time salary of $9,000 per year.

"We don't know what we're going to do yet," said Mrs. Griffin today. "We just don't know what we're going to do until we get more legal advice."

Lake Mary 'Recallers' Awaiting Legal Advice

By MAX ERKILETIAN Herald Staff Writer Former Lake Mary Councilman Lillian Griffin said she is planning to establish a formal organization to carry out an effort to recall the city's charter. Founding the group is awaiting legal guidelines from an attorney, she said.

Mrs. Griffin vowed following the council's vote to hire a city manager to mount a drive to recall the city's charter and return Lake Mary to unincorporated status. She and other residents, who attended the Jan. 18 city council meeting were upset over the council's 3-2 decision to hire a city manager.

Mrs. Griffin has made it clear she does not doubt the ability of other former city council members, formed a petition drive about two weeks ago opposing the hiring of a city manager. That drive netted 416 signatures. The petition and signatures were presented to the council at the Jan. 18 meeting.

Mrs. Griffin has made it clear she does not doubt the ability of other former city council members, formed a petition drive about two weeks ago opposing the hiring of a city manager. That drive netted 416 signatures. The petition and signatures were presented to the council at the Jan. 18 meeting.

THIS WEEK'S BEST BUYS GOODYEAR POLYGLAS SALE! $31.99

MOVE UP TO RADIALS VIVA $38.50

QUALITY RETREADS Fully inspected Goodyear retreads are a super money-saving value $15

Just Say 'Charge It' Confidence Starts Here Goodyear Service Stores GOODYEAR SERVICE STORE JIM HEMPHILL, MANAGER 355 W. FIRST STREET SANFORD PHONE 322-2821

Of course, the Dallas Cowboys' cheerleaders are great, and the Pittsburgh Steelers' cheerleaders are marvelous, too...

PEOPLE IN BRIEF

81 Years, 14 Grandchildren Later, He's A Father Again

By United Press International

Willie Williams of Birmingham, Ala., who is 81 years old and has 14 grandchildren and a dozen great-grandchildren, is a father again. His advice to other men: "Take care of yourself, and you're going to be good. Don't throw yourself away. Don't run around so much, and treat your wife right if you've got one."

Talmadge: False Claims?

A subpoena issued by a federal grand jury, which has been looking into a secret bank account opened in Sen. Herman Talmadge's name by Daniel Minchew a former top aide to the senator, provides the first indication the Justice Department may be going after an indictment based on the filing of false expense claims by the Georgia Democrat. Talmadge, 65, meanwhile, checked out of Bethesda Naval Hospital and was flown to a California medical center for treatment of alcoholism.

Buckskin Card For Duke

John Wayne, battling cancer in Los Angeles, got a giant 3-by-5-foot buckskin card signed by 2,000 Boy Scouts Wednesday with the message, "Get well, Duke — America Needs You."

'Breastfeeder' Faces Firing

Linda Eaton, the single parent and firefighter threatened with dismissal in Iowa City for breast-feeding her baby in the firehouse, has been told she will be fired this week if she continues. Mrs. Eaton, 26, who has battled the city for the right to breast-feed her infant son during personal time while on duty, will be fired Friday if she tries it again, city officials said.

Bomb Or Bond Drive?

State Sen. Richard Licht wants to assure everyone he's no terrorist, regardless of what Rhode Island's official state manual says. When Licht's wife, Doris, was reading his biography, she noticed her husband as chairman of the "Rhode Island Bomb Drive." "I just want to make it clear that I am not involved with any revolutionary activities. I think it meant to say I ran the Israel Bond Drive," Licht told Senate colleagues Wednesday.

Redd Foxx: He Won't Budge

Redd Foxx is being sued by a man who says he bought a house from the crusty comedian, but couldn't get him to move out of it. David Winter filed suit Wednesday in Los Angeles — says he was supposed to take possession on Jan. 15, but when the day came Foxx balked and refused to vacate. Winter seeks a court order evicting Foxx plus a "fair market rental" of $150 for every day he maintains Foxx's rights.

Presley's Father 'Serious'

Vernon Presley, the 62-year-old father of the late Elvis Presley, asserted another "severe" cardiac irregularity Wednesday and was reported in serious condition at Baptist Hospital in Nashville, Tenn.

Margaret Replaces Dracula

British Parliament opposition leader Margaret Thatcher has won her share of selections, but she could have done without Wednesday's victory at the polls. Visitors at Madame Tussaud's London wax works selected her the third "most hated and feared" figure in the show — replacing Count Dracula.

Masons Elect

The Rev. H. F. Richardson has been elected worshipful master of St. Oliver Masons Lodge 79 in Sanford.

Three officers elected were: Brother John P. Frazier, president; Grand Warden; Gordon Bradley, treasurer.

MAO (LEFT) WITH NIKOLAI BULGANIN (CENTER) AND JOSEF STALIN

U.S. Couldn't Stem Mao Communist Takeover

By BARBARA McDOWELL, Special to The Herald

U.S. propaganda during World War II pictured Chiang Kai-shek as the undisputed leader of "Free China."

The generalissimo and his wife were photographed flanking President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill at the 1945 Cairo conference.

But reality conflicted with the image. For one thing, even the portion of China that Chiang's Nationalists still ruled from their wartime capital of Chungking was far from "Free."

The Kungmintang's one-party regime has grown increasingly corrupt and incompetent.

For another, Chiang's Nationalists had only temporarily — and reluctantly — postponed their civil war to join forces against their mutual enemy, Japan.

(After taking over Manchuria in 1931, the Japanese had launched a full-scale attack on China in 1937, eventually occupying its entire coast and six of its seven major cities.)

While the Nationalists were losing popular support, the Communists were gaining strength from their base in northwestern China — especially among the predominant peasant population, who were encouraged by Mao's land-redistribution plan.

Chiang's U.S. advisers pushed unsuccessfully for economic and political reforms.

They urged a coalition government that would include Communists and members of other opposition parties.

But the enmity between Nationalists and Communists was too great for the Americans to bridge.

It was during this period that the number of U.S. foreign service officers urged a re-examination of the nation's China policy.

They recommended that the U.S. offer aid to the Communist as well as the Nationalists — both to hasten the defeat of Japan and to put the U.S. on an equal footing with both sides.

Even Mao himself asked the United States for help. But he was turned down due to the insistence of the Nationalists.

Perhaps as a result, the Chinese Communists moved closer and closer to the Soviet camp.

As World War II drew to a close, the United States labored to give the Nationalists the edge in the civil war that would inevitably follow.

For example, thousands of Chiang's troops were transported to Japanese-occupied areas so that they could seize control ahead of the Communists.

The estimated $2 billion in U.S. aid the Nationalists received in the three years following V-J Day did them little good.

IN THE SERVICE

(Here are some of the Seminole County-area men and women who are serving in the armed forces of the United States):

JAMES E. PATTON
Pvt. James E. Patton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Patton, Sanford, recently completed training as an armor reconnaissance specialist under the One Station Unit Training (OSUT) Program at Fort Knox, Ky.

MICHAEL J. CARROLL
Cpl. Michael J. Carroll, whose wife, Betty, lives in Maitland, recently was assigned to the 6th Field Artillery at Fort Riley, Kan.

RUODOLPH V. DAVIS
Pvt. Rudolph V. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Butler, 2811 W. 18th St., Sanford, recently was assigned as a welder with the 3rd Infantry Division in Würzburg, Germany.

MARY J. SEESION
Airmen Mary J. Seesion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Huey L. Ware of 114 Anderson Ave., Sanford, has graduated at Chanute AFB, Ill., from the U.S. Air Force technical training course for aircraft engine systems equipment repairman.

DANAM FRYE
Dana M. Frye, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Frye of 1446 Sunset Dr., Winter Park, has received his first promotion in the U.S. Air Force. His wife, Catherine, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Cebra of Lake Mary.

DANIEL ESTRAMBA, JR.
Airmen Daniel Class Daniel Estramba, Jr., son of retired Army Sergeant First Class and Mrs. Daniel Estramba of 1801 W. Notre Dame Drive, Altamonte Springs, has arrived for duty at Lackland AFB station, England.

STEVEN B. BENSON
Marine Private First Class Steve H. Benson, son of Gordon and Jean Meyer of 113 Sanford Blvd., Sanford, has been mentioned in dispatches for his present rank upon graduation from recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C.

WILLIAM A. FEUERBACHER
Navy Seaman Recruit William A. Feuerbacher, son of James W. and Joyce A. Feuerbacher of 94 W. Wilkes, Altamonte Springs, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego.

JERRY T. BENNETT
Navy Seaman Jerry T. Bennett, son of Robert E. Anderson of Route 1, Box 345, Oviedo, has completed the Basic Enlisted Course at the Naval Submarine School, Groton, Conn.

CHARLES F. REIMER
Coast Guard Electronics Technician First Class Charles F. Reimer, Jr., son of Charles F. and Alice H. Reimer of 990 Whitehouse Drive, Deltona, recently returned from a leave earned while in the North Atlantic Ocean.

VENETIA L. KOWALSKI
Spec. 3 Venetia L. Kowalski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Kowalski, 114 A. Lake Crest, Altamonte Springs, recently was assigned as a pharmacist technician with the 25th Hospital Battalion at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii.

ROBERT L. GRAHAM
Navy Dentalman Apprentice Robert L. Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. P.O. Box 373, Oviedo, has reported for duty aboard the aircraft carrier USS Independence, homeported in Norfolk, Va.

DAVID A. HURST
Airmen David A. Hurst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hurst of 222 E. Pine Ave., Longwood, has graduated at Sheppard AFB, Tex., from the U.S. Air Force technical training course for aircraft maintenance specialists.

WILLIE L. JOHNSON
Spec. 4 Willie L. Johnson, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mills, 108 Academy Ave., Sanford, completed One Station Unit Training (OSUT) at Fort Benning, Ga.

WARREN B. SCHWARTZ
Spec. 5 Warren B. Schwartz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin W. Schwarz, 54 Puerticourt, Altamonte Springs, recently was named leader of the Month for the 7th Signal Brigade in Hohenbrunn, Germany.

VIRGIL J. HAYES
Virgil J. Hayes, son of Mrs. Mary Hayes, 1116 E. Eighth St., Sanford, was assigned to Air Force Technical Specialist role while serving as a fire direction controller specialist with the 1st Armored Division in Furth, Germany.

HOSPITAL NOTES

JANUARY 24, 1977

Sanford:
Bonnie L. Austin
Bernice Lee Barnes
Helen Marie Brantley
Thomas J. Davis Jr.
Margaret Howell
Eileen S. Livingston
James H. Lynch
Sherry Lynn Miller
Alfred H. Rindler
Geraldine S. Zachary
Laura Menden
William Clark, Debary
Josephine Smith, Debary

WEATHER

8 a.m. readings: temperature 61; overcast; low 56; yesterday's high 66; barometric pressure, 31.89; relative humidity, 60 percent.
Forecast: Cloudy, cooler; temperature to 65.
TUES

PVT. PATTON

MICHAEL G. FLEMING
Marine Private Michael G. Fleming, son of Kenneth H. Fleming of 1305 W. 25th St., Sanford and of Ft. Fleming at 287 Tollgate Trail, Longwood, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C.

ARTHUR J. ATHENS
Marine Second Lieutenant Arthur J. Athens, son of Arthur C. and Marjorie L. Athens of 102 Tule Ave., Longwood, was graduated from The Basic School.

MARK J. FINELLI
Coast Guard Seaman Mark J. Finelli, son of Joseph A. and Joanne Finelli of 2812 Magnolia, Sanford, has been promoted to his present rank while serving at the Coast Guard Support Center, Governors Island, N.Y.

CHARLES E. SHEPARD
Navy Airman Recruit Charles E. Shepard, son of Thomas A. Shepard of 412 E. Magnolia, Sanford, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego.

GERALD KINARD
Spec. 4 Gerald Kinard, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Kinard, 225 W. Saxon Blvd., Deltona, recently completed a primary non-commissioned officer course here.

CHARLES R. BOWLING
Pvt. Charles R. Bowling, son of Mrs. Mary Lee Norman, Forest Hill, recently completed advanced individual training at Fort Benning, Ga.

DEBORAH L. CALHOUN
Deborah L. Calhoun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Calhoun of 101 Cove Court, Longwood, has been promoted to airman first class in the U.S. Air Force at Carswell AFB, Tex.

GEORGE T. DUNCAN
Sgt. George T. Duncan, son of Mrs. Dora M. Gregg, 743 Heineman St., Daytona Beach, and George T. Duncan, 3028 Williams Ave., Sanford, was assigned as a draftsman with the 25th Transportation Battalion in Hanau, Germany.

MARION W. RAULSON
Coast Guard Aviation Structural Mechanic Third Class Marion W. Raulson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Reulson of P.O. Box 4, Geneva, has been designated a search and rescue aircrewman.

JOHN V. PELLOQUIN JR.
Airmen John V. Pelloquin Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Pelloquin of 242 Sunrise Blvd., Debary, has graduated at Sheppard AFB, Tex., from the U.S. Air Force technical training course for pavement maintenance specialists.

AVERY L. OWEN V
Pvt. Avery L. Owen IV, son of Mr. and Mrs. Avery L. Owen III, 49 Orchard Lane, Altamonte Springs, completed One Station Unit Training (OSUT) at Fort Benning, Ga.

VERNON L. HAYES
Vernon L. Hayes, son of Mrs. Mary Hayes, 1116 E. Eighth St., Sanford, was assigned to Air Force Technical Specialist role while serving as a fire direction controller specialist with the 1st Armored Division in Furth, Germany.

Ashby, Caudle Capture Mayfair Pro-Am

CLUBHOUSE SPECTATORS HAVE A WARM VIEW OF NO. 9 PUTTING GREEN

Sports Parade

By MILTON RICHMAN

Mays' No. 1 Follower

NEW YORK (UPI) — Most people resist change because they feel it inconveniences them. And the older they get the less inclined they are to move. Ballplayers are the same way, only more so.

Willie Mays might be excused for having such feelings during the early part of 1977 when he still was with San Francisco. "Man and boy," he had spent with the Giants 29 years, having come with them to California from New York 14 years before. And although he always had a soft spot in his heart for New York where he originally broke in, Mays wasn't that enchanted over leaving San Francisco. He had a home nearby, which he still has, and was very comfortable with the Giants.

The owner of the Giants then was Horace Stoheman. Willie Mays never had a greater admirer in his life than Horace Stoheman. The Giants' owner regarded Willie more like his son than his center fielder. He didn't hold back when it came to paying him, either. Mays was getting $150,000 from the Giants in May of 1971, pretty close to the highest salary in baseball at the time. Stoheman was having all kinds of troubles, financial troubles, and he was doing everything he could to hold on to the Giants. Stoheman found himself with his back to the wall and much as he disliked thinking about it, he realized he ultimately might be forced to part with the ball club. Before he did, though, there was one thing he wanted to do and that was to see Willie Mays taken care of.

Willie was 40 years old and way past his prime. Someone else might have released him if only to get rid of his salary but Horace Stoheman was thinking along different lines.

A couple of years before that, Joan Payson, the owner of the Mets, and M. Donald Grant, their board chairman, had expressed interest in bringing Mays back to New York. Stoheman had said no to them. But things had changed now.

"Horace said, 'He means a lot to me. I'd just like to see he's taken care of and you are the guys who can afford to do it.'" Grant recalled the conversation. The Giants would pay him $100,000 for the balance of his active career, which ended after the 1973 World Series with Oakland, and $50,000 a year for the next eight years during which he would serve them in some good-will and possibly coaching capacity. And that's the way it has turned out.

Incredibly, Willie was highly upset when he learned of the deal, mostly because he heard of it first from a newspaperman, Jack Lally. "That's a helluva way to treat me after all my years with the Giants," Mays reacted, giving little thought to the fact it wasn't Horace Stoheman's nature to go around talking about such things. It was difficult for him to bring himself to tell Mays about the deal. Later on, Willie realized that.

"Horace loved Willie," says Grant. "He was a good baseball man but not a good businessman because he did most things with his heart."

When the announcement of Mays' election to the Hall of Fame was made at a local hotel Tuesday, Grant was among those chosen for sitting on a platform flanking to Willie offer his congratulations.

"I love the guy and I think he's right when he says the outstanding thing about him was his base-running rather than his hitting," says Grant, still a part owner and director of the Mets. "I remember one All-Star game in which the National League was the game 1-0 in the Astro dome. Willie got a scrunch hit. Before you know it, he was heading home looking back the way he always did. Nobody even knew he got there."

Sports Parade

By MILTON RICHMAN

Mays' No. 1 Follower

NEW YORK (UPI) — Most people resist change because they feel it inconveniences them. And the older they get the less inclined they are to move. Ballplayers are the same way, only more so.

Willie Mays might be excused for having such feelings during the early part of 1977 when he still was with San Francisco. "Man and boy," he had spent with the Giants 29 years, having come with them to California from New York 14 years before. And although he always had a soft spot in his heart for New York where he originally broke in, Mays wasn't that enchanted over leaving San Francisco. He had a home nearby, which he still has, and was very comfortable with the Giants.

The owner of the Giants then was Horace Stoheman. Willie Mays never had a greater admirer in his life than Horace Stoheman. The Giants' owner regarded Willie more like his son than his center fielder. He didn't hold back when it came to paying him, either. Mays was getting $150,000 from the Giants in May of 1971, pretty close to the highest salary in baseball at the time. Stoheman was having all kinds of troubles, financial troubles, and he was doing everything he could to hold on to the Giants. Stoheman found himself with his back to the wall and much as he disliked thinking about it, he realized he ultimately might be forced to part with the ball club. Before he did, though, there was one thing he wanted to do and that was to see Willie Mays taken care of.

Willie was 40 years old and way past his prime. Someone else might have released him if only to get rid of his salary but Horace Stoheman was thinking along different lines.

A couple of years before that, Joan Payson, the owner of the Mets, and M. Donald Grant, their board chairman, had expressed interest in bringing Mays back to New York. Stoheman had said no to them. But things had changed now.

"Horace said, 'He means a lot to me. I'd just like to see he's taken care of and you are the guys who can afford to do it.'" Grant recalled the conversation. The Giants would pay him $100,000 for the balance of his active career, which ended after the 1973 World Series with Oakland, and $50,000 a year for the next eight years during which he would serve them in some good-will and possibly coaching capacity. And that's the way it has turned out.

Incredibly, Willie was highly upset when he learned of the deal, mostly because he heard of it first from a newspaperman, Jack Lally. "That's a helluva way to treat me after all my years with the Giants," Mays reacted, giving little thought to the fact it wasn't Horace Stoheman's nature to go around talking about such things. It was difficult for him to bring himself to tell Mays about the deal. Later on, Willie realized that.

"Horace loved Willie," says Grant. "He was a good baseball man but not a good businessman because he did most things with his heart."

When the announcement of Mays' election to the Hall of Fame was made at a local hotel Tuesday, Grant was among those chosen for sitting on a platform flanking to Willie offer his congratulations.

"I love the guy and I think he's right when he says the outstanding thing about him was his base-running rather than his hitting," says Grant, still a part owner and director of the Mets. "I remember one All-Star game in which the National League was the game 1-0 in the Astro dome. Willie got a scrunch hit. Before you know it, he was heading home looking back the way he always did. Nobody even knew he got there."

SPORTS

Evening Herald, Sanford, FL Thursday, Jan. 25, 1977—7A

Cool Weather Slows Golfers

Golfers are a prime commodity this week at Mayfair Country Club.

And that's the kind of gloves that keep the hands warm, not to prevent blisters and aid the club grip.

Temperatures were that cool Wednesday in the Mayfair Open when Sanford pro Bob Ashby teamed up with Seminole Community College student Drew Caudle to shoot a 61 and win the pro-am.

Gloves were still in demand today when better than 150 pros teed off in the opening round of the 36-hole Mayfair Open, a $7,000-plus event in the Florida PGA winter tour.

Ashby shot a 71 and got all the help he needed from Caudle, a 12-handicapper who plays out of Mayfair. Ashby's 71 was the second lowest score among the pros, the best being a 69 shot by Larry Mowry.

Second in the pro-am was a 63 carved out by Doug Ford Sr. and Elwood Cook. Mowry and Howard McNulty had a 65, a score matched by three other teams — Ralph Landham and Al Berguson, Billy Gilbert and Clyde Robertson and Larry Weatherbee and John Frank.

First place was worth $300 while second carried a $250 reward. The third placers received $167.50 each.

One stroke back were six teams with 66s. They included Bill Lach and Don Hamilton, Don Hines and Chet Kol, Denny Lyons and Mitch Mooney, Chuck Thorpe and Ron Rottlinghaus, Art Silverstone and Mich Botz, Chick Bello and Brad Wolfe and Norm Lloyd and Walt Conrad.

The group in at 58 included Sanford mayor Lee Moore and St. Louis pro Jack Dalrymple.

The tee off began today at 7:15. In the original field of 161, there were 14 no-shows by mid-morning, allowing six substitutes to fill in.

MOWRY SINKS PUTT EN ROUTE TO 69

Sports Parade

By MILTON RICHMAN

Mays' No. 1 Follower

NEW YORK (UPI) — Most people resist change because they feel it inconveniences them. And the older they get the less inclined they are to move. Ballplayers are the same way, only more so.

Willie Mays might be excused for having such feelings during the early part of 1977 when he still was with San Francisco. "Man and boy," he had spent with the Giants 29 years, having come with them to California from New York 14 years before. And although he always had a soft spot in his heart for New York where he originally broke in, Mays wasn't that enchanted over leaving San Francisco. He had a home nearby, which he still has, and was very comfortable with the Giants.

The owner of the Giants then was Horace Stoheman. Willie Mays never had a greater admirer in his life than Horace Stoheman. The Giants' owner regarded Willie more like his son than his center fielder. He didn't hold back when it came to paying him, either. Mays was getting $150,000 from the Giants in May of 1971, pretty close to the highest salary in baseball at the time. Stoheman was having all kinds of troubles, financial troubles, and he was doing everything he could to hold on to the Giants. Stoheman found himself with his back to the wall and much as he disliked thinking about it, he realized he ultimately might be forced to part with the ball club. Before he did, though, there was one thing he wanted to do and that was to see Willie Mays taken care of.

Willie was 40 years old and way past his prime. Someone else might have released him if only to get rid of his salary but Horace Stoheman was thinking along different lines.

A couple of years before that, Joan Payson, the owner of the Mets, and M. Donald Grant, their board chairman, had expressed interest in bringing Mays back to New York. Stoheman had said no to them. But things had changed now.

"Horace said, 'He means a lot to me. I'd just like to see he's taken care of and you are the guys who can afford to do it.'" Grant recalled the conversation. The Giants would pay him $100,000 for the balance of his active career, which ended after the 1973 World Series with Oakland, and $50,000 a year for the next eight years during which he would serve them in some good-will and possibly coaching capacity. And that's the way it has turned out.

Incredibly, Willie was highly upset when he learned of the deal, mostly because he heard of it first from a newspaperman, Jack Lally. "That's a helluva way to treat me after all my years with the Giants," Mays reacted, giving little thought to the fact it wasn't Horace Stoheman's nature to go around talking about such things. It was difficult for him to bring himself to tell Mays about the deal. Later on, Willie realized that.

"Horace loved Willie," says Grant. "He was a good baseball man but not a good businessman because he did most things with his heart."

When the announcement of Mays' election to the Hall of Fame was made at a local hotel Tuesday, Grant was among those chosen for sitting on a platform flanking to Willie offer his congratulations.

"I love the guy and I think he's right when he says the outstanding thing about him was his base-running rather than his hitting," says Grant, still a part owner and director of the Mets. "I remember one All-Star game in which the National League was the game 1-0 in the Astro dome. Willie got a scrunch hit. Before you know it, he was heading home looking back the way he always did. Nobody even knew he got there."

Sports Parade

By MILTON RICHMAN

Mays' No. 1 Follower

NEW YORK (UPI) — Most people resist change because they feel it inconveniences them. And the older they get the less inclined they are to move. Ballplayers are the same way, only more so.

Willie Mays might be excused for having such feelings during the early part of 1977 when he still was with San Francisco. "Man and boy," he had spent with the Giants 29 years, having come with them to California from New York 14 years before. And although he always had a soft spot in his heart for New York where he originally broke in, Mays wasn't that enchanted over leaving San Francisco. He had a home nearby, which he still has, and was very comfortable with the Giants.

The owner of the Giants then was Horace Stoheman. Willie Mays never had a greater admirer in his life than Horace Stoheman. The Giants' owner regarded Willie more like his son than his center fielder. He didn't hold back when it came to paying him, either. Mays was getting $150,000 from the Giants in May of 1971, pretty close to the highest salary in baseball at the time. Stoheman was having all kinds of troubles, financial troubles, and he was doing everything he could to hold on to the Giants. Stoheman found himself with his back to the wall and much as he disliked thinking about it, he realized he ultimately might be forced to part with the ball club. Before he did, though, there was one thing he wanted to do and that was to see Willie Mays taken care of.

Willie was 40 years old and way past his prime. Someone else might have released him if only to get rid of his salary but Horace Stoheman was thinking along different lines.

A couple of years before that, Joan Payson, the owner of the Mets, and M. Donald Grant, their board chairman, had expressed interest in bringing Mays back to New York. Stoheman had said no to them. But things had changed now.

"Horace said, 'He means a lot to me. I'd just like to see he's taken care of and you are the guys who can afford to do it.'" Grant recalled the conversation. The Giants would pay him $100,000 for the balance of his active career, which ended after the 1973 World Series with Oakland, and $50,000 a year for the next eight years during which he would serve them in some good-will and possibly coaching capacity. And that's the way it has turned out.

Incredibly, Willie was highly upset when he learned of the deal, mostly because he heard of it first from a newspaperman, Jack Lally. "That's a helluva way to treat me after all my years with the Giants," Mays reacted, giving little thought to the fact it wasn't Horace Stoheman's nature to go around talking about such things. It was difficult for him to bring himself to tell Mays about the deal. Later on, Willie realized that.

"Horace loved Willie," says Grant. "He was a good baseball man but not a good businessman because he did most things with his heart."

When the announcement of Mays' election to the Hall of Fame was made at a local hotel Tuesday, Grant was among those chosen for sitting on a platform flanking to Willie offer his congratulations.

"I love the guy and I think he's right when he says the outstanding thing about him was his base-running rather than his hitting," says Grant, still a part owner and director of the Mets. "I remember one All-Star game in which the National League was the game 1-0 in the Astro dome

by Chic Young

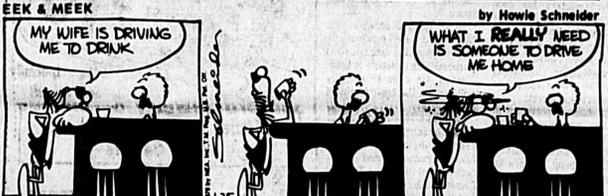

by Mort Walker

by Art Sansom

by Bob Montana

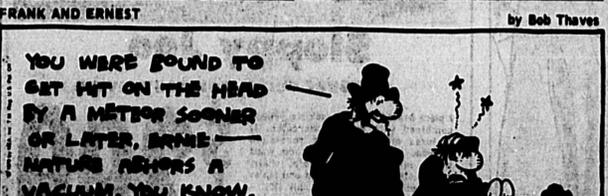

by Howie Schneider

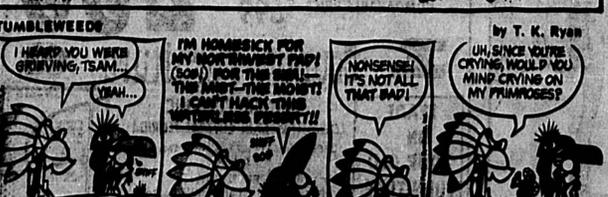

by Al Vermeer

by Stoffer & Heimsahl

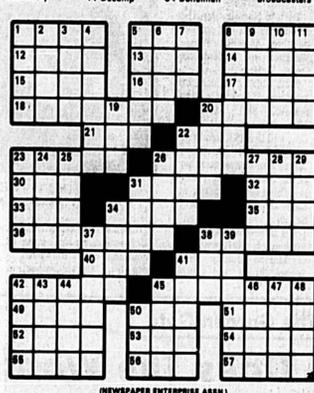

by Bob Thaves

by T. K. Ryan

ACROSS

38 Reindeer herders 40 Potting home 5 Unplayed golf hole 8 Supporting (2 wds.) 12 Inking 13 Power-war agency (abbr.) 14 Market 16 Russian cross 18 Sunburn 17 Ruest 18 Bog 20 Foal 21 Indefinite in order 22 High pointed hill 23 City in Oklahoma 26 Keep 30 Spanish gold 31 Am not (it) 32 Mediterranean affirmative 33 Decimal unit 34 Batsheba 35 Animal doctor (abbr.) 36 Avily

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

DOWN

1 Biblical king 2 Without (Lat) 3 Great capital 5 Sungle 6 Slavery 7 Mediterranean affirmative 8 Land 9 Parch 10 Infirmities 11 Decaffeinated coffee 12 Half scores 13 Carry musical instrument 14 Animal waste chemical 15 Yearn 16 Actor Partner 17 Invitation 18 Vice-president 19 Food 20 English 21 Bohemian

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OOL

For Friday, January 26, 1979

YOUR BIRTHDAY January 26, 1979 Several unusual opportunities will pop up this coming year... AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) You're much too negative today... ARIES (Mar. 21-April 19) In your eagerness to gain your ends today you could go after them too forcefully... CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Go along with what the group wishes to do today, even if at first it doesn't sound like it's for you...

SPIDER-MAN

by Stan Lee and John Romita

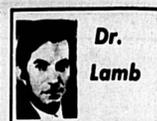

ZOONES

by Craig LeMay

Checking Out Any Heart Problems

DEAR DR. LAMB—Recently my doctor gave me Lanoxin to take daily... I had a heart tracing before he prescribed these drugs. I was having an ache in my chest and it was very hard to breathe after slight exertion. I still have this problem when I overdo. I also take Enduron for high blood pressure which is under control.

Dr. Lamb

put the emphasis on sensible. When individuals have heart disease severe enough to have pain with exertion or shortness of breath that limits his ability, that's not the time to be pushing physical activity.

DEAR READER—Any time a person has sufficient heart trouble to require medicine, he has an important medical problem. I would not like to say exactly how severe your case is since I don't know all the facts. You are taking Lanoxin because your doctor thinks you had heart failure. The difficulty you have in breathing is undoubtedly associated with the accumulation of fluid in your lungs secondary to failure of the left side of the heart.

DEAR ABBY: I've read your column for years, but this is my first letter to you. I'm glad I can put this in a letter because I could never ask anyone face to face what I need to know. I'm 18, and can't count all the guys I've gone all the way with.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sonsteg

to lead?" asked the student who sat East. "Also, who did you play the last and not the queen of clubs?"

DEAR MYRTLE: No, ask him what he would think if YOU did the same thing for the same reason. DEAR ABBY: A dead friend of mine is an attractive young divorcee with three small children. Lately she's been spending her weekends out of town with her boss, who is married.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are in our 40s. We have three children. Larry is busy with his business and I am busy with my house and kids. Lately Larry has been getting up at 5 a.m. He doesn't have to be at work until 8:30 and he has only a 20-minute drive to get there. Well, he rushes around getting showered, shaved and dressed and runs out of the house like he is going to be late for something. When I ask him where he is going so early, he says, "Nowhere—I just like to ride around."

mary/esther's

Final Fall & Holiday Sale! 33 1/2 To 75% Off $5 - $10 - $15 Rack Don't miss out on some Excellent Bargains! Starts Jan. 25th All Sales Final

Club Aids Autistic Kids

Members of the Junior Woman's Club of Sanford showed up at the school recently with the fruits of the labors of their new member project.

A brightly painted suitcase full of instructional material... Any time a person has sufficient heart trouble to require medicine, he has an important medical problem. I would not like to say exactly how severe your case is since I don't know all the facts.

She's Not Cool, Stacked, But Guys Seem To Dig Her

By DEAR ABBY

DEAR ABBY: I've read your column for years, but this is my first letter to you. I'm glad I can put this in a letter because I could never ask anyone face to face what I need to know. I'm 18, and can't count all the guys I've gone all the way with.

Dear Abby

DEAR MYRTLE: No, ask him what he would think if YOU did the same thing for the same reason. DEAR ABBY: A dead friend of mine is an attractive young divorcee with three small children. Lately she's been spending her weekends out of town with her boss, who is married.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are in our 40s. We have three children. Larry is busy with his business and I am busy with my house and kids. Lately Larry has been getting up at 5 a.m. He doesn't have to be at work until 8:30 and he has only a 20-minute drive to get there.

mary/esther's

Final Fall & Holiday Sale! 33 1/2 To 75% Off $5 - $10 - $15 Rack Don't miss out on some Excellent Bargains! Starts Jan. 25th All Sales Final

TURN ABOUT'S FAIR PLAY... they seem to be saying. Dr. Michael B. Butler of the Rotary Club of Seminole County South, presents $1,000 check to Don Ruedlinger of the Seminole Youth Sports Association, and Ruedlinger, in turn, gave the club a plaque with pictures of the teams sponsored by the Rotary Club in the 1978 season.

...they seem to be saying. Dr. Michael B. Butler of the Rotary Club of Seminole County South, presents $1,000 check to Don Ruedlinger of the Seminole Youth Sports Association, and Ruedlinger, in turn, gave the club a plaque with pictures of the teams sponsored by the Rotary Club in the 1978 season.

Zeta Xi Throws Poverty Party

A Poor Man's chili party was the highlight of January social activities for members and friends of Beta Sigma Phi, Zeta Xi Chapter.

The poor man or poverty theme was carried out with signs of "repossessed" articles hanging on the TV and refrigerator; a clothes rack for drying clothes stood in the living room and the refreshment table was covered with newspapers.

Publicity Procedure

The Herald welcomes organization and personal news. The following suggestions are recommended to expedite publication:

- 1. Releases should be typed (lower and upper case), double spaced, and written narrative style (third person). 2. Do not abbreviate. 3. A contact person's name and phone number is necessary. 4. Keep releases simple. 5. Organization releases (the program should lead the meeting account) must be submitted no later than two days after the event. 6. Advance notices should be submitted one week prior to publication date. 7. Photographic coverage requests should be made one week in advance.

HEART TO HEART GIFT IDEAS

- Rings • I.D. Bracelets • Neck Chains • Watches • Luggage Sanford Jewelry & Luggage 217 E. FIRST ST. SANFORD 322-5481

Speaker Links Shrine To Family

Daughters of Sallie Harrison Chapter Daughters of American Revolution DAR met for their January meeting at the home of Mrs. A. W. Lee, with Mrs. L.W. Ross, co-hostess.

I realize this is wrong. My husband says he has covered up for her for the last time, and if I don't tell her she can no longer use us as a cover-up, HE will tell her.

DEAR ARIES: Your friend "the kettle" could be brewing up an explosive mixture of evidence which could cost her custody of her children and bring much unhappiness to the family of her married boyfriend. You're not a "got" anymore, so tell her, without slinging in judgment, that you're no longer to be a party to this game.

FLOOR SAMPLE SALE

3 PC. LIVING ROOM SETS MODERN, TRADITIONAL OR EARLY AMERICAN FROM $169 ALL 3 PCS. BEDDING CLOSE-OUT WE ARE SELLING OUT ALL DISCONTINUED BEDDING AT 1/2 OR LESS FULL SIZE INNERSPRING SET $69

VERY SPECIAL BUY While They Last Birds-eye High PLANT STAND $29 Reg. $100 SLEEP SOFA WITH MATCHING CHAIR $109 Reg. $189 FURNITURE FACTORY CLOSE OUTS

Scotty's Your "One-Stop" Home Improvement Center

Scotty's TV SPECIAL

Wide Angle DOOR VIEWER
WD-40
Easy to install security viewer fits doors up to 2" thick. No. 669XC.
99¢ Each Reg. Price (ea.) . 1.79

WD-40
A clean, easy to use lubricant. Prevents rust and corrosion, displaces moisture, and penetrates to free frozen, rusted parts. No. 40011. 9 oz. Can
88¢ Can Reg. Price (9 oz. can) . . . . . 1.39

1 x 2 SPRUCE/PINE STRIPS
Great for many around the home projects. Use for stripping, staking plants, or as battens strips.
5¢ Lin. Ft.
Reg. Price (lin. ft.) . . . . . 7¢

Pressure Treated 2 x 4 x 8' LUMBER
Treated to resist wood-destroying insects and moisture. Will accept paint or stain.
1.59 Each
Reg. Price (each) . . . . . 1.75

Decorative Glass Ceiling LIGHTING FIXTURE
Stem and leaf pattern on 12" square White bent glass. No. 123.
1.99 Each
Reg. Price (each) . . . . . 2.59

Scotty's TV SPECIAL ROUND SHOVEL
Best quality, open back shovel. No. 2 size. 8 1/2" x 12" blade, rolled step. 9" socket and a 48" handle. No. AR248F.
3.59 Each
Reg. Price (each) . . . . . 5.49

MAGNETIC CATCH
If your cabinet doors won't stay closed, install magnetic catches. No. PB-298.
19¢ Each
Reg. Price (each) . . . . . 29¢

STP OIL TREATMENT
When you change oil . . . when you add oil . . . follow up with STP Oil Treatment. It's for folks who want that good car care feeling.
15 oz. Can
99¢ Can
Reg. Price (can) . . . . . 1.19

Mobil Heavy Duty MOTOR OIL
30 weight, a premium oil with detergent. Will reduce engine wear and corrosion, keep oil consumption low.
Quart. . . . . 61¢

STP GAS TREATMENT
Helps keep your carburetor and intake valves clean. Get the size that's right for your tank.
2038-24 8 oz. Can . . . . . 99¢
2021-24 12 oz. Can . . . . . 1.39

DUPLEX RECEPTACLE
No ground wall outlet for 2-prong plugs. Brown or Ivory.
No. 223 (each) . . . . . 49¢

DUPLEX RECEPTACLE
Duplex grounding outlet. Brown or Ivory.
No. 5320 (each) . . . . . 68¢

Single Pole SNAP SWITCH
In Ivory or Brown.
No. 1330 (each) . . . . . 58¢

TOGGLE SWITCH
Quiet, smooth functioning. Comes in Ivory or Brown.
No. 1451 (each) . . . . . 74¢

Outlet BOXES
No. 58361-1/2 1 1/2" deep utility handy box.
Each . . . . . 75¢

MIDWAY WIRE
No. 54151-N 1 1/2" deep octagon box for non-metallic sheathed cable.
Each . . . . . 87¢

CAULKING COMPOUND
Non-staining, non-hardening caulk. 11 fl. oz. in 8 1/2" cartridge.
No. 2050.
Scotty's
Each . . . . . 59¢

JOB SAW
Maximum motor output 20 hp. For making straight, curved or scroll cuts in wood, metal, plastics and other materials. Double insulated. A wood cutting blade included.
No. 7504 (each) . . . . . 9.99

FINISHING SANDER
Good for fine finishing wood, metal and plastic. Double insulated, flush sands on three sides. Front handle means extra control.
No. 7404 (each) . . . . . 16.99

IMPULSE SPRINKLERS
No. P-8-PJC - Full or part circle sprinkler has stream break-up pin.
Each . . . . . 5.99

No. 25 - Part circle sprinkler with 20" to 340" arc adjustments operates with distances from 30" to 40" radius.
Each . . . . . 6.39

No. 28DA - Full or part circle sprinkler with distance control flap for 30" to 90" diameter.
Each . . . . . 9.49

Bugwiper SPRAYER
Galvanized three-gallon tank has 1 1/2" brass pump, 30" hose and 18" extension tube.
No. 6220.
Each . . . . . 22.99

Sponges Nation/Ruskin
Make household clean-ups quick and easy. Ideal for washing cars or boats.
Each . . . . . 39¢

Galvanized Rural MAIL BOX
Steel construction, ribbed for added strength. Tapered Red flag. 8 1/2" x 8 1/2" x 18 1/2".
No. 1-1-G (each) . . . . . 4.49

Aluminum MAIL BOX STAND
Decorative. Sturdy - has weighted bottom.
No. 1706A (each) . . . . . 7.95

Aluminum WINDOWS
Single hung 2/2 windows meet VA and FHA specifications. 37" wide.
No. 23 38 1/2" high
Each . . . . . 24.95

No. 24 50 1/2" high
Each . . . . . 26.95

Space Saving STEEL SHELVING
Heavy gauge steel, 8 adjustable shelves. Strong ribbed posts and away braces for added rigidity. Use as a single unit 36" x 72" high, or as 2 units each 36" x 37" high.
FS-12-5 12" x 36" x 72"
Each . . . . . 15.99

FS-18-5 18" x 36" x 72"
Each . . . . . 19.99

Entrance KEY LOCK SETS
Deadlocking latch will keep your home securely locked. One handle locked and unlocked by turnbutton, the other by key.
DEXTER
BYRON styling in brass or satin anodized aluminum finish.
SP3232. 10.19

EMPIRE styling in antique brass finish.
SP3232. 10.95

6-6-6 Lawn and Garden FERTILIZER
An all purpose fertilizer for use on anything you grow. 40% organic (40% synthetic), contains iron.
60 lb. Bag.
Each . . . . . 2.79

CONCRETE MIX
Premixed sand, cement and gravel. 80 lb. bag makes 2/3 cu. ft.
90 lb. Bag
Scotty's
Bag . . . . . 2.19

MORTAR MIX
A perfect mason's mortar mix of sand and mortar cement. Ideal for laying bricks, blocks or stones.
90 lb. Bag.
Scotty's
Each . . . . . 2.29

SAND MIX
Just add water. The perfect mix for patching walls, concrete floors, etc.
90 lb. Bag.
Scotty's
Each . . . . . 2.29

ASPHALT FELT
For use under asphalt shingles or asbestos siding, in built-up roof construction.
15 lb. (432 sq. ft.) or 30 lb. (216 sq. ft.)
7.98

MITER BOX
Made of select kiln dried wood to resist warping. Precision cut. 12" x 5 1/2" x 2 1/2".
No. 312.
Each . . . . . 1.69

TRUE CUT BACK SAW
14" long. No. 214.
Each . . . . . 3.29

SAWHORSE BRACKETS
Make a sturdy sawhorse with five pieces of lumber and these heavy gauge steel brackets. Easy to assemble and take down. Folds for easy storage. Gray enamel finish.
Pair . . . . . 1.99

CDX PLYWOOD SHEATHING
AGENCY APPROVED
3/8" x 4' x 8' . . . . . 7.36
1/2" x 4' x 8' (3 ply) . . . . . 8.50
1/2" x 4' x 8' (4 ply) . . . . . 9.00
5/8" x 4' x 8' . . . . . 11.85

2 x 4 x 8' SPRUCE STUDS
Lightweight, easy to use. Can be used for framing and other home projects.
Piece . . . . . 1.65

1 x 12 No. 3 Ponderosa Pine SHELVING
Soft, easy to use. Will accept paint or stain. 6" through 18" lengths.
Lin. Ft. . . . . 47¢

Prices good thru February 1

SANFORD
700 French Avenue
Ph: 323-4700

Enjoy That Scotty's Do-it-yourself Feeling

HOURS: 7:30 - 6:00 Monday thru Saturday
Closed Sunday

Prices quoted in this ad are based on customer's picking up merchandise at our store. Delivery is available for a small charge. Management reserves the right to limit quantities on special sale merchandise.

VISA

Evening Herald

71st Year, No. 137—Friday, January 26, 1979

Sanford, Florida 32771—Price 15 Cents

Trying To Get Money Back?

Inspect Zoo, State Asks Federal Auditors

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

The state Department of Natural Resources (DNR) is asking federal auditors to conduct a physical inspection of the Central Florida Zoological Society facilities near Sanford before it considers any action to demand recovery of nearly $50,000 from Seminole County state auditors consider "ineligible or unsupported" costs.

"I think the federal auditors and DNR will get together with Seminole County and the zoo people and work something out to waive some of the problem areas," Richard Froemke, financial program supervisor, Division of Recreation and Parks, DNR, said by telephone from Tallahassee today.

"There is no question there is plenty of items at the zoo to cover the grant," Froemke said. "But if push comes to shove the money would have to be recovered from the county."

Roger Newlander, county administrator, said the bulk of the costs totaling $49,506.07 being disallowed by the auditors represent time donated by various tradesmen and citizens in physical labor at the zoo which was valued at a commercial rate by the zoo, for the zoo's matching funds in lieu of cash for the grant.

Newlander said in addition the state auditor has said these costs were not well enough substantiated. "Apparently it is an interpretation by the auditor," Newlander said.

Meanwhile, a spokesman in State Auditor Ernest Ellison's office said the federal government through the U.S. Interior Department contracted with DNR for the grant of $150,000. DNR in turn contracted with Seminole County as an agent for the zoo. A copy of the audit from the state has been sent to the federal government, the spokesman said.

Froemke, meanwhile, said it seems the zoological society undertook some of the work before the grant was approved by the federal government. "That's a no-no," he said, explaining a grant must be approved before work commences.

"I shall hope for the best," Froemke said. "It's unfortunate something like this happened."

Froemke also said that the period of the grant was several years ago. There are different persons with the zoological society, different county commissioners and different county staff personnel now, he said.

Newlander said the questions the county is trying to get answers for are: "Is the audit problem irreversible or can the paper work be corrected?"

Froemke said both questions will have to be answered by the federal auditors.

"I don't see us paying any money back. The federal auditors need to come down here and look at the zoo. I'm sure someone in that office would not oppose a trip to sunny Florida at this time of the year," County Commission Chairman Bob French said.

Grand Jury Recalls 3 In Butler Matter; Its Findings Imminent

By DENNIS FEOLA
Herald Staff Writer

After taking testimony from Sanford Police Chief Ben Butler for 40 minutes on Thursday, the Seminole County Grand Jury investigating allegations Butler hit a former officer recalled three witnesses recalled to give testimony today are the chief's son, Ben Butler Jr., Sanford, Police Sgt. William Dube and former Sanford policeman Carey Herndon.

All three were in the Pevter Pub last Nov. 17 when former probationary patrolman Tommy Sands claims he was hit by Butler.

Sands was recalled to answer additional questions Thursday afternoon. He was fired from the police department by Butler on Aug. 22, 1978.

The panelists, who are investigating what State Attorney Douglas Cheshire has said may be the first assault and battery case ever brought before a Seminole County Grand Jury, have heard from more than 20 witnesses in 2 1/2 days and are expected to return with their findings today.

Butler testified voluntarily on Thursday. Cheshire said the chief was not among those subpoenaed because legally, subpoenaing a possible defendant would give him immunity in the case. Attorneys at the courthouse said when Butler agreed to appear he waived his right to immunity.

Deliberations in the matter will not include jury foreman John C. Noel III of Sanford, according to Chief Assistant State Attorney Chris Ray. Noel worked for the Sanford Police Department as a patrolman for five years under Butler.

"I think you'll find he won't be in there during deliberations," Ray said of Noel. The jury foreman has been allowed to question witnesses during the taking of testimony.

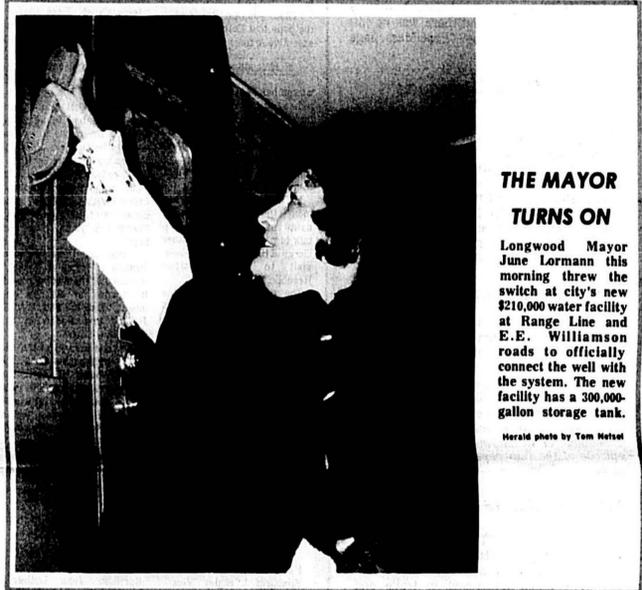

The majority of witnesses were at the Pevter Pub, 2544 S. Park Drive in Sanford, the night of the incident. They included several Sanford policemen and their wives, employees and patrons of the restaurant.

Sands claims he walked over to the table where Butler was sitting with a large group of friends and the chief began calling him names. Sands says Butler punched him in the jaw sending him to the floor.

Butler has claimed all along he was set up by Sands who wants revenge for being fired. The chief says Sands came over to the table and when he was asked to leave he failed a fall.

The charges being investigated by the grand jury are generally believed to be misdemeanors. Ray said a grand jury can indict someone on misdemeanor charges.

Misdemeanors, such as battery, are the lesser crimes as classified as by the state of Florida. They are punishable by a fine and not more than one year in jail.

THE MAYOR TURNS ON

Longwood Mayor June Lormann this morning threw the switch at city's new $210,000 water facility at Range Line and E.E. Williamson roads to officially connect the well with the system. The new facility has a 300,000-gallon storage tank.

Herald photo by Tom Hestel

Iran Troops Shoot, Kill 28 Today

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — Elite imperial troops fired into crowds of protesters today in Tehran's worst day of violence since Prime Minister Shahpour Bakhtiar took office. Witnesses said at least 28 persons were killed and scores wounded.

The new violence erupted only hours after Bakhtiar's ban against all demonstrations, which was accompanied with a warning the army might shoot on sight if the order was ignored.

Thousands furious at the government's success in blocking the return today of exiled religious leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini took to the streets in defiance.

The troops first ignored the demonstrators marching on Mehrabad airport, but took up strategic positions around the city and tightened their grip on the airport, closed until Saturday midnight.

Witnesses said many of the 28 killed and the scores wounded were shot near the university.

When several thousand protesters gathered in defiance of new government orders banning all demonstrations and shouting "Death to Bakhtiar," troops fired volleys into the crowds which scattered in confusion.

On Sunday

Around The Clock	4-A	Horsepower	5-A
Bridge	5-A	Hospital	5-A
Calendar	18-A	Obituaries	5-A
Comics	5-A	OURSELVES	5-A
Editorial	4-A	Sports	12-A
Dear Abby	5-A	Television	Letter
Dr. Lamb	5-A	Weather	5-A

Why would a zoologist feel like a sculptor? Loretto Rozak, who now calls the area home after a visit in 1977 from Chicago, may have the answers. See OURSELVES Sunday.

East Meets West

Chinese Vice Premier Teng Hsiao-ping arrives in Washington Sunday, completing a three-decade cycle of ideological hostility between China and the United States. In the conclusion of his six-part series, tracing the details of the relationship, The Herald today reviews one of the lost opportunities for recognition. (Page 2A).

Palimony Trial: Is Love Just 'A Figure Of Speech?'

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Actor Lee Marvin said that although he told the singer he lived with her for six years that he loved her, he did not really mean it and only thought of her as "good fun" and "very enjoyable."

Marvin testified for the first time Thursday in a $1 million breach of contract suit brought against him by Michele Marvin, 41. He was called as an "unfriendly witness" by Miss Marvin's attorney, Marvin Michelson.

The 44-year-old Oscar winner corroborated Miss Marvin's earlier testimony that the two met in 1964 on the set of "Ship of Fools," in which he starred and she had a small part as a singer-dancer, and that they had sexual relations in his dressing room about three weeks later.

Michelson asked Marvin how he felt about Michele. "She was good fun to be with. I found her very enjoyable."

"Is that all?"

"I'm generally trying to say something nice in that area."

Michelson questioned the actor about letters he wrote to Miss Marvin. He produced eight letters Marvin wrote Michele in 1965 when he was filming "The Eddy Duchin" in London and she was singing in a cabaret, his notes.

When Michelson asked if he considered himself to be "a drinking man," Marvin replied, "Yes," but added he did not consider he had a "drinking problem" in the years

Seminole And Herndon: They're Still Together

The majority of the Seminole County Commission is ready to vote in regular session Tuesday to execute a contract with Herndon Ambulance Service to continue its operations in the county for the next 20 months for $124,000.

Three members of the board — Bob Sturm, Sandra Glenn and Chairman Bob French — agreed in a workshop session Thursday afternoon to a contract with the Orlando-based firm at the rate of $6,200 monthly until Oct. 1, 1980.

Sturm said today the contract will provide that the subsidy cannot go any higher, but can be reduced subject to monthly financial reports, during the contract period.

Also included, at Sturm's insistence, is a 90-day cancellation clause by either party.

"I thought the cancellation clause was necessary for proper negotiations and if we get our back to the wall again, it will give sufficient time to do something," he said. A performance bond is also being required.

Sturm said he would like to see a higher level of service, "but the present mood of the taxpayers will not permit us to increase the level of service."

He added that the entire package will be reviewed in January, 1980.

The same degree of service is called for under the new contract — three ambulances stationed in Seminole County 24 hours a day.

Idus Willis, president of Herndon, told commissioners earlier this week he is converting two of the three ambulances to advanced life support units (ALS) and will retain one as a basic life support unit. He said he has two paramedics on staff now and will be hiring additional paramedics. ALS units when staffed by paramedics can supply sophisticated life-saving techniques and be connected directly to a hospital and a doctor for monitoring and emergency treatment of a patient while enroute to the hospital.

Willis also told commissioners a fourth ambulance would be available from its Orange County operation, when necessary.

Commissioners earlier this week voted 4-1, with French opposing, to contract with Herndon at a subsidy of $3,000 monthly, but Willis said at the time the amount of the subsidy was not negotiable. He said the

See AMBULANCE, Page 2A

And Rats To You, Too, My Dearest

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI) — Local authorities in central Java have decided the price for love and hate will be 10 and 25 rats, respectively.

The authorities of Boyed decided not to marry or divorce any couples unless the partners could hand over 10 rats if they wanted to wed and 25 rats if they were filing for divorce.

It's all part of a campaign to eradicate rats, which are far too numerous in the area, a Boyed official explained.

The new regulation seems quite successful since 22,000 rats have been brought to authorities in the five days of the anti-rat campaign.

LEE MARVIN