BANK EMPLOYEE COMMITS SUICIDE OVER SHORTAGE

Clarence Henochsberg Calls President Over Telephone To Tell Of Shortage, Then Turns Pistol On Himself

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 7.—(AP)—Clarence Henochsberg, 44, assistant cashier of the American Savings Bank and Trust Company, Memphis, telephoned a director of the bank here today that he was short in his accounts and then killed himself by shooting.

The bank, from which a clerk disappeared last week, when shortages of $105,000 in his accounts were discovered, did not open at 9 o'clock, the accustomed hour, but the board of directors went into session.

Directors of the bank went into session at 9 o'clock, the doors of the institution remaining closed. It was expected that the board would issue a statement shortly.

The American Savings Bank and Trust Company is capitalized at $100,000. Surplus and undivided profits are listed as $122,000. When Rush H. Parks, bookkeeper, disappeared last week, the bank officials charged off shortages of approximately $105,000.

Abe Plough, director of the institution, was called on the telephone about 7:30 o'clock this morning by Henochsberg who told Mr. Plough he was short in his accounts at the bank. The assistant cashier then returned to his bedroom, police say, and fired a pistol bullet into his chest. He died shortly afterwards. Henochsberg left a widow and two children.

A statement posted by "examiners in charge" on the closed front door of the bank declared the institution had been placed in the hands of the State Banking Department for liquidation.

From the bank last night were mailed out 6,000 checks totalling $235,000 to holders of Christmas savings accounts, officials reported.

Governor Trumbull Of Connecticut Is In State For Vacation

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 7.—(AP)—Gov. John H. Trumbull, of Connecticut, arrived here this morning en route to Tallahassee where he will be the guest of Governor John W. Martin on a week's hunting trip.

Florida's development has crystallized into a solid forward movement, not so rapid as the mushroom growth of last year, but certainly a gain. "That is how we of Connecticut see Florida," the Governor declared.

Mayer John T. Altop, who had planned to entertain the party at breakfast in a local hotel, found the Connecticut Governor and his

16 LIVES TAKEN IN HEAVY SNOW STORM IN EAST

Ice Blockades Now Threaten To Tie Up Lake And River Shipping For The Winter; 14 Steamers Are Ice-Bound

12 Dead Reported In New England Alone

Many Maine Ports Officially Closed And Ferry Service Is Temporarily Suspended

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Northwestern states and eastern Canada today counted a toll of 16 dead from record-breaking early season temperatures and snowfall. Ice blockades threaten to tie up lake and river shipping for the winter.

There were 12 dead in New England alone while New York recorded three and New Jersey one. Considerable suffering was also reported. The larger cities spent thousands of dollars for the removal of snow, which in places reached a depth of 12 inches. Rail and automobile traffic was rapidly approaching normal, however.

Fourteen steamers were ice-bound in the St. Lawrence River in Quebec, seven vessels were wrecked off Nova Scotia and New Brunswick and fishing and barge fleets in several ports were badly crippled.

At lockport, N. Y., an ice jam blocked canals and help up west bound barges, probably the last fleet of the season, until a tug succeeded in breaking through. At White Hall, near Albany, 28 boats bound south from Lake Champlain were ice blocked and 40 other craft were tied up at various points along the barge canal.

A passage way was broken through, but rather than risk being frozen in the canal, skippers had their craft towed back into the harbor in Lake Champlain.

The port of Bangor, Me., was officially closed and ferry service from Bangor to Brewer was suspended. Moorehead Lake, Me., was closed to navigation, also. A Canadian shipper has been abandoned by his crew in the Bay of Bunday, while at Islesford, Me., a three-masted schooner lay broadside on Crabby Isle after she broke adrift in a gale and smashed through a fleet of 26 fishing craft in harbor.

A new coast guard boat was carried along with the schooner but not damaged. Old time canal and lake men said that not for many years had the waterways been closed by ice so early in the winter.

New York City, Albany, Rochester and Boston suffered greatly from traffic tie-ups due to the heavy snowfall. Boston's fall of 10 inches was the heaviest pre-Christmas snow record since 1901.

Ten Vessels Are Liberated

SAULT STE MARIE, Mich., Dec. 7.—(AP)—With 10 vessels liberated from the upper section of the St. Mary's River channel, where more than 40 of the fleet of the lake carriers held fast in the ice-bound river, are located, cutters today were slowly hacking a lane down the river through which it is hoped to eventually free the entire upbound fleet.

With good luck, the cutters, headed by the government boat Sabin, should be able to free three more ships imprisoned near the head of the channel today, said Alton Cornwall, manager of the Great Lakes Wrecking Company in charge of rescue squadrons.

The release of 10 vessels last night has led officials to express the opinion that the group held in the upper channel might be freed by the end of the week.

New York Cabaret Owners To Fight Proposed Curfew Measure Of Mayor

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Curfew bills shall not ring out the lights of Broadway cabarets at 2 o'clock in the morning on New York's unless the lights are dimmed in New York hotels, privately owned homes, and other places.

If a board of curfew men passes Mayor Walker's curfew law, it seems probable several curfew propositions are prepared to be voted on long after dark, says one of the owners.

From those who oppose the curfew, it is expected that the police will find almost impossible either to regulate or close down.

COUNTY BOARD RAPS STORY OF REPORTED LOAN

Story In Local Paper Is Not Correct In Saying County Taxes Belated And Cause Shortage, Officials State

Straightening out of a tangle, said to have been caused by the publication of a news story in a local morning newspaper wherein it was announced that because of belated tax returns to the county, the Sanford Chamber of Commerce was compelled to send the sum of $1,000 to Washington for the expenses of maintaining the experimental station at Rand's Siding, occupied the attention of the Seminole County Commissioners for an hour this morning at their regular meeting.

The commissioners felt that error had been made by the publication of a story which stated that the taxes in the county were belated. They insisted that the error be corrected. The county is not behind in any of its payments for the maintenance of the station, they claim.

Last year the county pledged itself to support the station at a time when the government threatened to remove it for lack of sufficient funds from the Department of Agriculture. Until last week the county was $500 ahead of its promised payments. The government called for $1,000 and the Chamber of Commerce is said to have forwarded the amount to Washington.

It was stated at a meeting of the Chamber two weeks ago that the money from the county would be available only when tax money was available. Such is not the case, according to the commissioners. They claim that $3,000 left over from last year could have been used for any deficiency, had such a deficiency existed.

J. W. Wetherington Is Dead From Injuries

J. W. Wetherington, who was badly scalded while working beneath an engine at the roundhouse of the Atlantic Coast Line Railway shops Sunday, died Monday afternoon at the Fernald-Laughton Hospital. He was a native of Jasper, Fla. and was 25 years old at the time of his death.

The body of the young man was sent to Jasper last night and the funeral services are to be held in that city Wednesday, according to J. L. Wetherington, father of the deceased.

Witnesses to the accident in which Wetherington received his fatal injuries, stated that he had accidentally opened a steam valve and that the hot steam covered him before he could escape from underneath the engine, where he was working.

Police And Poses Take Part In Attack With Gas Bombs On Stronghold Of Track Workers In Railroad Area

One Policeman Is Included In Slain

News Of Attack Upon Woman Led Cops To Place Where Foreigners Fired On Them

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Police and posse participated in an attack with gas bombs and guns on the freight stronghold of foreign track workers in a desolate railroad yard early today after three men, including a policeman, had been slain in a preliminary skirmish.

The dead are: Policeman Lyman J. Stahl, 28, of Melrose Park a suburb, and two unidentified railroad workers, said by police to be of Mexican extraction. Policeman Charles Kilwintz and a third member of the besieged force were wounded before the marauders crawled from gas filled cars and were captured.

The scene of the fight is in an isolated area a mile and a half west of Melrose Park, in the proviso township railroad yards. A settlement of foreign workers used seven freight cars on a siding as homes.

First news of the trouble came in an alarm over the telephone to the Melrose Park station that a woman had been assaulted by a group of intoxicated men in the vicinity.

Policeman Stahl and his partner, Kilwintz, sped to the scene in a police car. As they moved toward the camp a volley of pistol shots was directed at them.

The slugs came from two freight cars standing apart from the other five. Stahl's body was riddled by lead and he fell mortally wounded. Two men ran toward the policeman, having smoking pistols.

Kilwintz dropped one of them, but was himself wounded by the other. The officer dropped to the ground and emptied his pistol at the other attacker, killing him.

The barrage of shots aroused the neighborhood, and as the word was relayed from suburb to suburb, numbers. Three squads of Chicago detectives, armed with tear gas bombs and shotguns, aided in the assault, which resulted in the capture of about twenty men and one woman.

Legion Men Start Plans For Opening Drive For Members

Plans were made last night for the opening of the membership drive of the American Legion at a meeting of the organization in the Hut on Seminole Boulevard.

Various teams and team captains are to be named in the immediate future and all preparations for the opening next Monday are to be completed this week. Throughout the course of the drive, special meetings of the teams and the Legion as a whole are expected to be held.

Permission has been granted by the city for the erection of a huge signboard on the corner of Park Avenue and First Street and it will be erected within the next few days. The names of all members paying their dues for the year 1937 will be painted upon the sign each day.

Over 300 men in Seminole county are eligible for membership in the Legion, according to local officials of the Campbell-Leslie post and the present toll is only 100. It is hoped to gain at least 200 new members during the drive and to put the Sanford post on a basis of strength equal to that of these posts in the larger cities of the state.

Every man who is eligible to be approached by members of the Legion is requested to get in touch with Larry F. Chittenden, post commander. "We are going to get them in the Legion and have to drag them in by the heels," Mr. Chittenden said today.

2 VENICE DEATHS REMAIN MYSTERY TO TAMPA POLICE

Coroner's Jury Falls To Determine Cause For Deaths Of L. Sweeney And Companion, Madame Malngot

TAMPA, Fla., Dec. 7.—(AP)—Death, interrupting a holiday party to quietly end the friendship of a prominent mining engineer and a wealthy woman subject of Great Britain, has left a mystery here that today remained unsolved.

A coroner's jury late yesterday failed to determine a cause in the death of Louis F. Sweeney, of New York and Minneapolis, and Madame Rabelala Malngot, of Trinidad, South America, whose bodies were recovered Sunday from the ocean near Venice. Presumably they drowned. An investigation, however, revealed bits of evidence that suggested the ordering of an autopsy today.

Two empty bottles from which the couple were seen to drink and the fact that among their effects were notes requesting notification of relatives "in case of accident" were the disclosures upon which the new developments were based.

The man and woman, enjoying their friendship, in circumstances which authorities consider rather strange, motored to the beach at Venice Sunday with a party of friends. They had been here only a few days and were registered at different hotels.

After changing to bathing suits, Sweeney and Madame Malngot chatted with friends at a pavilion a few moments and then walked together to the water. In a few moments Sweeney returned, clutching two bottles containing a fluid resembling grape juice and rejoined his friend. The couple waved to their companions and leaped into the waves.

Obvious as it seemed none of the party testifying at the inquest could remember that the couple's actions attracted more than a friendly interest. Not until they were seen to flounder a few moments later was alarm felt and then the bodies had floated before mid could reach them. They were found to be dead. A pump motor was used to no avail.

Very little was known of their friendship, even among their intimate friends, and their effects revealed little to throw light on the affair. They were known to have met in South America several years ago while Sweeney was on one of his prospecting jaunts.

About Madame Malngot there is little information. Peter Taylor, vice-consul for Great Britain, has taken charge of the few effects left at the hotel. He is trying to communicate with the relatives to whom the woman directed attention.

End Of Allied Army Rule Is Near At Hand, Stresemann Believes

GENEVA, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Dr. Gustav Stresemann, German foreign secretary, believed today that Germany's request for the abolition of inter-allied military control was nearer realization than ever before.

His optimism was the outcome of a conference of representatives of Great Britain, France, Germany, Belgium and Italy on the subject. When the conference adjourned, Stresemann said he was confident that an agreement will be reached in the next few days.

As an Alternative Government investigation of the German situation is being conducted by the League of Nations, Stresemann said he was confident that the German situation will be resolved in the next few days.

Party Chiefs Tell What Congress May Be Expected To Do

 I think the McNary farm relief bill, which I strongly favor, stands a better chance for enactment this session than ever before. Personally, I don't believe that any tax legislation whatever will be passed this session, and I think the surplus will be used to reduce the debt.

Muscle Shoals will be one of the first things to come up and it remains to be seen whether this will be pressed at once or a compromise reached to defer or adjust it. If it is pressed, the debate on it will probably consume about ten days.

We always think we are going to do a lot of things in a short session, but my experience is that we don't.

By Finis J. Garrett
 Democratic Leader in the House of Representatives

The Democratic minority in the House in the coming session of Congress will continue its policies as carried out during the session ended last July. Its program is not one of heckling the administration, but of co-operation with the majority where it can and vigorously opposing the majority where it cannot.

Tariff revision all along the line, we feel, would be one of the first important steps toward agricultural relief. Apparently, however, the situation as regards relief for the farmer is as chaotic as it was last year.

It is important that the radio bill be passed in this session and there seems reason to hope for this. Something should be done also about the disposition of Muscle Shoals.

By Nicholas Longworth
 Speaker of the House of Representatives

The Republicans in the House are concerned for the immediate future with the appropriation bills, which we are anxious to dispose of as rapidly as possible.

It is desirable to accomplish this so that there will be no question of lack of time later on for the passage of these measures.

The appropriations committee had completed three or four of the appropriation bills and we ought to be able to get these passed by the House before Christmas.

The wagon was typical, skillets, etc. Under each wheel, tied to the axles were four buckets, representing the old tar buckets of the days of '49. When the buckets were filled with tar, with a wooden paddle the wooden axles were greased and the buckets were used to catch the dripping tar from the axles. COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the irritated membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY
WHY DO WE LIVE? "Why did I not from the womb? ... There the wicked cease from troubling, and there the weary are at rest." Job 3:11, 17.

PRAYER—I trusted in Thee, O Lord. I said, "Thou art my God. My times are in Thy hand."

BUT YOU BELIEVED IN ME
When dreams were morning-stung,
And every heart-beat flung
A challenge in the wind;
And when the purple end
Of every common road
Was Fortune's bright abode;
When, every culling sea
Was shored with Arcady,
I was so foolish young—
But you believed in me.

When dreams were burned from gold
To gray, and manifold
Giant figures haunted there,
And ghosts were everywhere;
When Hope, with withered wing,
Could neither soar nor sing;
When Truth was Teachers,
And God had ceased to be;
My blood was clammy-cold—
But you believed in me!

Your faith has built the fears,
The wreckage and the tears
To daring dreams again,
That God, who fashions me
Knows well, my dear, that you
Could build me back so true,
And cause my will to be
So strong that even He
Could trust me through the years.
If you believed in me!

No, Maud, Prairie du Chien has nothing to do with prairie chicken.

As the Palm Beach Post says, the "Pig Woman" story failed to bring home the bacon.

"Hitch your wagon to a star" has been changed to "tie your roadster to a comet."

The Florida Advocate, published in Wauchula, came out with twenty-four pages the other day and looked like a real metropolitan newspaper.

"Celery will be ready for Christmas," say the farmers. Suggestion for Christmas present, a nice bunch of celery.

Congress got away to a good start yesterday and with twelve thousand bills on the docket will be kept quite busy for two and a half months.

Revised version for second payment blues: Do your Christmas shopping early, if you must do it at all.

The Daytona Beach News asks "How About Your Health?" As a matter of fact not one person in a thousand has the slightest idea.

According to the Miami Metropolis, a good way to dispose of some of the surplus cotton crop would be to add a few more inches to bed sheets.—Times-Union.

Even the defense must admit that Henry Stevens' alibi in the Hall-Mills case was "fishy." East Lake Region. It may have been "fishy," but he didn't get hooked.

General Motors have just divided $84,000,000 among its stockholders. But with most of us this is mere hearsay.—The Savannah Press.

Still, the shelving of the World Court issue will no difference. There are plenty of other things for the United States senators to scrap about.—The Anaconda Standard.

Have you been reading about the Olcott case? It is the story about a young girl, soon to become a mother, deserted, perhaps killed, by her lover. In Sanford there is an organization which takes care of such as that without the necessity of trial.

Chauncey Depew, present chairman of the board of directors of the New York Central Railroad and its president, says he regrets he did not buy stock in the Telephone Company when it was incorporated so that he could have looked upon

At the Chamber of Commerce luncheon last Friday, E. L. Markell made a suggestion not to be considered lightly and meriting immediate action on the part of those in a position to do something. The winter season is already upon us and delay will prove costly.

The fact was brought out that the present sporting facilities in Sanford are entirely inadequate and that the Northerner wishing to spend his vacation among us is almost forced to bring his means of entertainment with him. To be sure, there are the golf course and certain delights of nature such as a beautiful untouched lake, fine roads for motoring, fishing and hunting, but as far as those sports go which have so potent an appeal to tourists and which might be supplied at little cost, there are almost none.

Mr. Markell's remarks were not without constructive criticism. The property opposite the Hotel Forrest Lake is owned by the present operators of the hotel. No doubt they would be glad to utilize this land by allowing the city to make a sporting center there.

There should be tennis courts. Not one, or two, but a half dozen first class clay courts with backstops at a reasonable distance from the net, courts that a man can play tennis on. There should be courts for quoits, croquet and horseshoe pitching. Arrangement should be made, and the expense would be negligible, for half dozen such things which will provide the tourist with amusement and recreation.

Only in this way can Sanford hope to compete with other tourist centers of Florida.

Speaking Of Queer Things

"Yeh"—"Un-huh"—"Nope"—
That was a well-dressed woman, kind-voiced, answering the questions of her little son as they stood admiring the Christmas things in a big show window.

At a club meeting the next afternoon the same woman gave a talk on the subject of better English-teaching in the schools. Her own carefully chosen words and her pleasant voice made a good impression upon her fellow club-members. Every woman at the meeting carried home a determination to protest against the sort of teaching their children were receiving in the schools.

Unfortunately The Herald doesn't know "what happened next" in this story. But isn't it passing strange that a woman intelligent enough to make a fine talk to a club of intelligent women would not put the blame for careless speech where it usually belongs, the home where a child is being reared?

If that woman does not know that her own speech is careless, except when it is on parade, that, too, is queer.

"Onward, Comrades, Onward"

The Herald has come across the beautiful words written by the Reverend Henry V. Morgan to take the place of the stanzas commonly sung to the tune of "Onward Christian Soldiers."

Mr. Morgan entitles his song, "Onward, Comrades, Onward," and as will be seen from its phrasing that he has entirely eliminated the "soldiers-as-to-war" idea, and yet retained all the ringing, triumphant, beauty of the old familiar hymn.

It would seem that churches everywhere would be using the new version in preference to the other. The gentle Man of Galilee would surely think it more in keeping with His teachings if His followers would go marching to the words:

Onward, comrades, onward, marching evermore
With Love's healing message ever to the fore
Truth our only standard, we can have no foe,
Forward, ever forward, see Love's banner go.

Chorus

Onward, comrades, onward, marching evermore
With Love's healing message ever to the fore.

Like a changeless ocean is the Truth of God;
Comrades, we are treading where the Christ has trod,
Ours the hope eternal, all God's seas to sail,
Ours the faith supernal that can never fail.

Onward, comrades, onward, till all men are free,
We shall see faith triumphant, Love's great jubilee;
Glory in the highest unto Christ within—
This through endless ages is the song we sing.

NATION-WIDE campaigns to increase the consumption of certain products are comparatively new, but are proving so decidedly effective that they are becoming increasingly popular. This is an outgrowth of the increasing spirit of co-operation in business. It could not be done without co-operation. Producers of lumber go together to set forth the advantages of this form of building material, not advertising the product of any one company, but of the product in general. Producers of cement products do the same thing. And so on. It is announced that the foreign producers of tea are planning an extensive advertising campaign in the United States in an attempt to make this a tea-drinking country. They will probably succeed, if they will spend money enough and if their advertising is ingenious enough. There is almost nothing that cannot be accomplished by advertising.—Miami Herald.

WISCONSIN PROFITS TAMPA TRIBUNE

Hands across the nation—Wisconsin a rich domain and immediately cousin to Florida. Editor C. E. Broughton of the Sheboygan Press has been seen Florida personally, or he may not, but he sees it with mental clarity and friendliness expressed in an editorial Nov. 26. He speaks specifically of Miami and that small section of Florida which was struck by the hurricane, advising his Wisconsin readers that the area has now been reconditioned. He regrets the loss of some majestic palms and other beautiful trees—always a special attraction to Northerners—which cannot so quickly be replaced, but he adds, "This, however, should not discourage the people from visiting there, for they will find still the sunshine and the ocean and a hearty handshake from the Floridians." In Tampa and most of the state they will find everything, for there has been no hurricane here. The rest of the Sheboygan editorial applies to all Florida: "One thing that they will miss—and this will attract rather than detract—are the high prices. Florida was in the hands of its enemies for a couple of years—those who tried to capitalize, cash in, so to speak, on Florida's popularity. Hotel rates were excessive in many instances, and practically every crooked real estate man who had been denied a license in his own state looked upon the people who go there this winter are going to be given a friendly handshake, and they are going to get a full dollar's value, and as result Florida, situated as it is convenient to the hub of population, and with ideal weather conditions, will be an even bigger and better investment for those who are seeking good returns on their money.

Such kind words help Florida and certainly do no harm to Wisconsin.

Like all other states, Wisconsin profits by Florida prosperity, in trade in manufactures and other commodities. Wisconsin milk for instance is imported by this state by the carload, and Wisconsin people profit by spending the winter in Florida.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE does not agree with those that denounce installment buying as an unwise extravagance. He observes that the country's income is about seventy thousand million dollars, whereas outstanding credits of installment buying, etc., amount to only two billions.

Needless to say the President does not encourage buying on installments or otherwise what you cannot pay for with absolute certainty.

It depends on what you buy. If you intend to have an automobile, you might as well buy it now, and pay for it, while you enjoy it. Any good car will last 10 years and more if you give it care. Why postpone enjoyment of sunshine, fresh air, and a family united in its pleasure, while you save up the money. Buy your automobile now.

ABOUT MONEY, the main-spring of effort in a lazy world. The French, with record speed, pass a budget of forty billion francs, while the franc travels to higher prices. Sell France or French currency short and you will regret it, as you have often been told in this column. Thrift, intelligence, energy and industry make up the French character.

WE ARE PROSPEROUS as Christmas comes along and 1928 prepares to die. Big merchants confirming predictions of Secretary Mellon see only good business ahead, and business is good now.

In the week just ended, a quarter of a billion dollars worth of bonds were absorbed with ease, a record for the year.

EVEN FARMERS in the north-west are a bright spot. Use of the Mississippi for transportation will save fifty millions a year in freight, adding that sum to the value of the former's export crops. And the earnestness with which Secretary Hoover has worked and is working at national power and water transport development deserves the thanks of every American.

OUR FRIENDS, the British are not as happy as the French, Germans or Italians. A long and costly British industry and trade, adding to income tax pressure. But the British will come through, as they always do and perhaps even give up the idea that Uncle Sam is a Shylock.

THE ACQUITTAL in the Hall-Mills murder was absolutely certain. Reporters telegraphed twelve million words about that case from the little New Jersey court house, and some most conservative newspapers printed daily three and four pages of murder trial questions and answers in small type.

THE WORLD WILL never know of a death bed confession, who murdered the Rev. Dr. Hall and his choir singer, Mrs. Mills, or who cut the throat of the dead woman twice, and stabbed her in the abdomen after she was dead.

PROBABLY, ALSO, the world will never know what there is in the story that Japan wanted to fight this country three or four years ago, thus causing the naval oil reserve to be suddenly removed from Uncle Sam's possession.

Secretary Wilbur refuses to produce a court document that would confirm or deny the defendants' plea in that oil case.

The secretary of the navy, of course, is right in his view that United States foreign relations are more important than any criminal law suit.

THE IRISH FREE STATE compels teaching the Irish language, Gaelic, in primary schools and will make it compulsory later in secondary and technical schools. Free state Protestants rage against this decision, although Gaelic is not a Catholic language. It was spoken before the Christian religion started. A sounder objection would be the fact that no law can revive a dead language or put life into it.

LONDON HAS ITS first apartment house, the site of the Duke of Devonshire's old, yellow mansion. The British showed intelligence when they employed an American architect, Thomas Hastings, to go there for their new adventure. But ultra British is the renting system. You get your apartment on a ninety-nine-year leasehold. A typical American would think life dull if he couldn't move ninety-nine times in that period.

FRANCE LEADS, next comes Germany in spite of the Versailles treaty restrictions. This country is nowhere. However, we were once far behind automobile making, but we didn't stay behind.

THAT'S TOO BAD, but what about the African colonies, islands and other things once German property that the British gobbled at the end of the war? It is not bolshevism, a good title to Russian oil as Britain to German real estate?

THE FLYING MACHINE show is now open in Paris and shows France ahead of all other nations in that line. Small planes for one or two people, giant planes that can carry a hundred passengers, and a few more, padded with cushions, are flying.

HELPING THE EVERGLADES

PALM BEACH POST

It seems at last that the troublesome perplexed for years with the problem of draining the Everglades will find some of the balm supposed to exist in Gilead. There have been many sides to the Everglades question. Gen. that the territory is, it has been heven enough to present multitudinous facets and reflections of opinion.

But out of this very plethora of opinions has come what is considered by many to be a most practical method of getting into the meat of the hard nut. And this is to engage the mind of the Florida legislature in meeting next April with the necessity of forwarding plans and authorizing the raising of revenues for Everglades help. The appeal to the legislature is an outgrowth of the recent conference held at Tallahassee with Governor Martin and the members of the Internal Improvement Fund on the one hand, and numerous interested persons and business men of South Florida on the other. Briefly, this is what is proposed:

Enlargement of the Everglades drainage district.

Levying a one-mill tax per annum on the dollar of property in the added territory.

Levying a state-wide one-half mill tax.

Appointment of an advisory board from the Everglades territory to function with the Everglades Drainage board.

This is a healthy program. The legislature is asked to include in the added tax district all territory directly affected by or involved in the drainage of the Everglades and in control of the waters of a Lake Okechobee; such territory to be determined by the state drainage board and not subject to the acreage tax now prevailing in the district. This, it has been said, is not really so much for the purpose of raising revenue from this tax as it is to make drainage bonds more salable because of having this added wealth back of them.

The one-half mill state-wide tax is to be asked on the correct presumption of state-wide benefits, because of the large ownership by the state lands in the drainage district and the benefits received by the state from the reclamation of its lands and development of the drainage territory.

The advisory board will be composed of at least five members residing in the proposed district and will assist the state board in handling difficult problems as the commissioners may direct. The governor will have the right to name this advisory board.

This undoubtedly is the longest step taken in years to get down to hard work on a vital matter. There is no question that the drainage board at Tallahassee has been doing the best it knew. This, however, has not been wholly satisfactory to those persons living or having interests in the territory now being drained. There has been feeling not altogether amicable, and it was the proposed plan should prove a blessing. It will pave the way for financial relief—which always is the most necessary phase of any development—and through the conference did nothing else it will result in an era of better feeling all the way round. And this is a most excellent thing.

COMBINES

MIAMI HERALD

Some two decades ago the United States was in the throes of the trust busting era, when the insurgents of those days brought about the disintegration of the Standard Oil octopus, vast railroad and other corporations. It was feared there was danger in size. So through law there was a theoretical breaking up of gigantic organizations.

Today the trend is steadily in the opposite direction, and the public shows no signs of fright as yet. The severed parts of octopus have grown together again, while new combines are forming in entirely different fields.

This is to be seen in the motor industry, where competition has been very keen, and remains so. But gradually the weaker concerns are being crowded out while the survivors wax larger and more prosperous. The General Motors Corporation expands, gobbles up concerns, until it now boasts of plants in 36 cities in the United States and Canada, and 17 in foreign lands. There are 100,000 employees on the pay roll. The same development is true in the Ford interests.

The newspapers are not free from this trend, and groups of these are being formed in various sections of the country. In some states the principal papers are controlled by a single force. The Hearst organization continually reaches out for more, and extends its influence to all parts of the nation. The Scripps-Howard newspapers now have a score of dailies scattered about the country. Others are going out into the magazine world, producing national publications.

In the amusement realm these same combines are developing, purchasing, owning, operating, managing theaters; directing productions, controlling output, supervising attractions, prices.

It is a trend that may be noticed in almost every line of endeavor. Arguments may be offered for and against the movement. It may provide better service, furnish finer goods for the money, assure financial soundness, the employment of the best minds.

On the other hand, it tends to eliminate competition, it concentrates control in the power of the state who has no local knowledge of conditions. It may create autocratic corporations, to which the public must submit. With no rivals worthy of consideration, products may be cheapened, prices increased. The outcome depends entirely upon the combine, its ownership and management.

But it is interesting to note how democracy once battled the trusts; how it now permits their formation without a protest. America becomes accustomed to size. The little fellow surrenders his independence.

As soon as the eminent dietitians recommend anything on account of its high iron or mineral salt content or something of that sort we get prejudiced against it, even if we like it.—Columbus (Ohio) State Journal.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, for only 75 cents. It is improved by the addition of other ingredients, and is called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

Blizzard Too Much For Walking Champ

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The blizzard that swept New York yesterday was too much for Willie Reinhold, world champion professional walker, in his attempt to set a new world's record for three miles around Manhattan Island. He wore track togs and thin walking shoes.

Wife Sought for Mother

WIFE, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The Miller, formerly of Boston, Mass., now of this city, has appealed to the public in the search for her wife, Mrs. G. Miller, from whom she has been separated for over two years. She fears that some unknown person is preventing her from writing to her, as he had written frequently. Mrs. Miller, who is about 30 years old, was last heard from in August, 1925, in New Orleans. She was sailing that month for Liverpool on the steamship "Titanic." He had previously employed on the steamship "Weatherford" and in April, 1925, Mrs. Miller received word from a boarding house operated in Orleans that Grinnam had come to work on that ship. Mrs. Miller says she has written several letters to her son, to the City of Weatherford, and to the Lykes Brothers Steamship Company, which operated the ship, but has received no reply. Mrs. Miller had been her sole means of support and had been prompt in her letters and in sending her money when suddenly contact with her was lost.
