WASHINGTON, Feb. 22—(AP)—The one hundred and ninety-eighth anniversary of the birth of George Washington was observed today throughout the length and breadth of the nation, which he had so great a part in establishing.

The city of Washington, formed by and named for the leader of the continental army, and Alexandria, Virginia, the home town of the revolutionary general who won the historic Potowmack River from the Capital, led the country in the celebration.

In both halls of Congress there was set aside for tribute to the father of his country, while President and Mrs. Hoover postponed pressing White House duties to join Governor Pollard of Virginia, Secretary Hurley, and other high government officials to review in Alexandria the annual Washington birthday parade.

In many ports on the continent and in distant possessions, abroad naval vessels at anchor and at sea, in diplomatic missions or foreign shores and in the cities and rural communities of the day, Government departments based in Washington, while patriotic societies planned elaborate demonstrations.

Following tradition, the Senate's program included Washington's farewell address, Senator Vandenberg, Republican, Michigan, was designated by Vice President Curtis to read it.

Convening an hour earlier than for its special program for the day, the House denied the day for nine speeches of members of the George Washington Bicentennial commission which was preparing for the 200th anniversary two years hence.

GOVERNOR CALLS VIRGINIAN SCION PARLEY TO STUDY TO LEAD DRIVE ON STATE TAX PLAN CHICAGO'S CRIME

Non-Political Group To Seek Practical Solution Of Matter

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Feb. 22—(AP)—Governor Carlton wants to study the tax problems of Florida in a "business-like way" and to that end he has called a meeting in Jacksonville on March 6 of the state's business and civic leaders from which he intends to appoint a committee to make a thorough investigation of the matter.

Every tax paying citizen in the state will be invited to have a representative at the Jacksonville meeting. They will be expected to make suggestions for a tax program "best suited to the needs of the state," according to the governor's announcement.

Governor Carlton made it plain that the committee he appoints will be "non-political" for the guidance of the committee. His chief executive has gathered data from various tax paying states of this state, as well as the tax plans of other states similarly situated.

A permanent schedule and organization committee will be founded at the Jacksonville meeting, the governor said.

Pointing to Florida's "ample resources," the executive declared that many other states "are going through the same experience as Florida. I doubt if our condition is worse than the average. It is an issue, however, which must be met and properly solved as a condition to our greatest advancement."

The governor asserted in his call for the meeting that he was "never more hopeful for the state."

"With all our resources which have been tested, as it were, refined, and whose strength is recognized, now by seeing action everywhere, with the intelligent and patriotic cooperation of its people, our problems will find a practical and certain solution," he said.

Convicts Captured On Georgia Highway

MACON, Ga., Feb. 22—(AP)—A private soldier from Pittsburgh barricaded himself today and three other privates were placed under arrest, leading a report in an English being conducted by Clinton county officials into the death of their companion.

The dead man, Michael J. Rader, Carlstadt, N. J., was found in a vacant lot with his head crushed, police reported. He had been involved in a brawl in a drinking house, and joined forces with the military police in a search for three other soldiers, and also to have been involved in the skirmish.

Harvey and Billings were surprised by officers and had no opportunity to draw their pistols.

They were holding behind a grocery store on the Clinton Road, leading to Millville, when two Macon city detectives, W. A. Cartull and Homer Bowden, came upon them. The officers had been tipped that two strong men were walking along the road near the Macon city limits. Harper was arrested in a park here yesterday afternoon.

HM CORBETT, 63 YEARS YOUNG, TO SEE MIAMI FIGHT

Richter Recalls His Bout With Mitchell a Over 36 Years Ago

By SID MERCER

Miami, Fla., Feb. 21.—If you think that James J. Corbett, who whipped Charley Mitchell, the British heavyweight champion in Florida 36 years ago is a doddery old gentleman who cannot remember his bout with the Longwood Kennel Club's track star at the time of it, 27 and 28 years ago, he is wrong. Corbett is still experienced, stocky and a thrill when "General Jim" is introduced to the big boys and girls who will crowd the Madison Square Garden Stadium between the night of Jan. 27 when another English boxer, holder, comes with an American standard bearer.

Jim Corbett is 63 years old now. He'll be a vivacious nest henster. In a few years he says he expects to take up golf and quit the stage.

Corbett doesn't look to be more than 45. His tall, erect figure is as trim as ever and his broad shoulders have not begun to sag, for he still keeps himself in wonderful physical shape. He has a keen eye and has a wonderful memory for names and faces. His brown hair is taken down carefully but there are no bald spots to cover. In short, Corbett is still cheating Old Father Time successfully.

Jim attended last year's fight at Miami Beach but made only a short stay, coming down on the Friars Special and remaining only two days. He will be down again this year if he can cancel a week of his favorite bookings around New York. He is here to see St. Louis' Stanley action for it will take him back to the day when he stopped Mitchell in three rounds.

On Jan. 25 last, I encountered Jim in the lounge room of the Friars Club in New York. I had been looking at a boxing card to refresh my memory on the Corbett-Mitchell fight.

"Remember what you were doing thirty years ago today?" I queried.

"Why, no," replied Corbett, "that was a long time ago."

"Well, did you not do much except defend the world's heavyweight championship against Mitchell?"

Corbett wrinkled up this subject at once.

"I have never seen Phil Swift," he commented, "but they tell me he is the best boxer of all the big men." The Englishman went in for style in boxing. I want to get down to see him fight Saturday."

"What Mitchell fought Jim?"

"Well, he was the same size but didn't weigh 150 or 160 pounds when he fought him. But, he was a gamblers. In those days we were gamblers, like eggsmatches. Mitchell had a mean temper and he fought me plenty. I guess I was no match for him myself. Mitchell was afraid of big men. He came to me but I could kick him over. I felt he couldn't beat me and instead of merely being beaten by me, I resolved to go down quickly."

Richev Will Come Back Next Sunday For 1-Day Revival

The clarion note of old-time fireman again will be heard full gayly at the grand opening of Highway 66 Grand Auditorium, Seminole, Feb. 24. His co-workers expect him to be in far better condition than when he last appeared. With Mr. Richev, Mr. Reiley, who will participate in the various programs, will be present. The 1-day revival will be conducted in cooperation with the Tabernacle Church of God.

Mr. Richev, author of "The Fireman," and a graduate of the University of Engineering and General Motors, is a powerful orator who always attracts attention. After the fireman's program, Mr. Richev will speak to the audience on the work of the Tabernacle Church in one of its most popular services, "the Fireman's Revival." The selection of God's Word in the Tabernacle's positions will be the Tabernacle Church.

Upsala-Grapevine

By Lubelle Ballinger

The ladies of the Dorcas Circle will meet the last Thursday of this month at the home of Mrs. E. H. Hunter, near West First Street.

Members of the Sunday school were pleased to have in their midst Sunday, Mrs. Mathews, of Buffalo, N. Y., who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Deane.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morton and family have moved into the Beck cottage on the Country Club Road. Mr. Morton is employed with the ice plant.

T. O. Tyner of Daytona Beach at the past weekend here with wives, Noah Fry and Mr. and Mrs. Magnuson of Windermere, were visitors with Mr. Tyner. Archie Swanson, who is engaged with the Yowell-Drew Company of Orlando spent the past weekend at his home.

According to Mr. Tyner, he was driving south on the Orlando Highway at approximately 35 or 40 miles an hour, behind two other cars which were also driving south, when suddenly without warning the machine in front of his car either stopped or slowed down. He said he was forced to turn quickly to the left in order to avoid hitting the auto ahead of him, and in doing so crashed with the Chevrolet which was approaching from the south at the same time.

Mr. Tyner told a Herald representative this morning that he had driven down from Connecticut to visit Florida and had passed through Sanford shortly before the crash occurred for the first time in his life. He said that the two cars which were traveling immediately ahead of him before the accident happened evidently did not stop, for after he had assisted in helping some of the injured parties to either his car or others which had stopped, he noticed that the two cars had disappeared.

Early this morning the Conneauter clergeman notified his insurance company of the accident, and asked that the coroner's inquest be held at 3 o'clock instead of at 1 o'clock as had been previously announced. This request, he said, was to give his lawyer, in Jacksonville, time in which to come to Sanford. The request was granted.

Ramon Novarro Will Feature Film Coming To Milane On Sunday

Ramon Novarro, dressed in the handsome uniform of a Lieutenant of Napoleon Bonaparte, making his escape from a firing squad, climbing into a beautiful young woman's bedroom; masquerading as a foot man; dueling his way to fame and fortune . . . these are some of the sequences of "Devil-May-Care," Novarro's all-talking screen romance which will open to-night at the Milane Theatre.

The new picture, adapted from the French play, "La Battaille de Damas," is said to be a perfect vehicle for the romantic Novarro. The story tells of the adventures of Armand, the exiled Napoleon, trusted lieutenant who schemes to bring back his liege to the throne of France. When he falls in love with Leonie, evident Royalist, complications begin.

Sidney Franklin, director of the production, is said to have set a new standard for camera excellence. Among the scenes which stand out are "shots" of a cavalry troop riding down a mountain road; the historic scene in which Napoleon bids farewell to his guard; a forest glade in which Armand and Leonie go horseback riding; scenes in a French chateau; and a scene filmed in technicolor in a reproduction of the gardens of Versailles.

The supporting cast of "Devil-May-Care" includes Dorothy Jordan as Leonie, Marion Harris as Countess Leonie, John Milian as the Millions de Grignan, and others.
