U.S. CONGRESS SKEPTICAL OF Laval's Visit

Hears With Mingled Feelings News That War Debt Adjustment Is In Offing

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(A.P.)—A somewhat skeptical Congress stood questionably yesterday over the cradle of the new-born Hoover-Laval economic accord.

While administration officials reiterated their satisfaction, the Congressional leaders received with mingled feelings the news that a war debt-reparations readjustment is in the offing.

Meanwhile word came from Berlin of intention of Chancellor Brüning to propose the reparation demand in response to the Hoover-Laval plan.

On this and perhaps on some of the other points discussed in his conference with Premier Laval of France, President Hoover still has to convince the legislative branch of the government which passes on debt agreements.

As the administration went ahead with the plan for stabilization of international exchange, it was disclosed that effort will be concentrated on the English pound sterling—world medium of debt settlement. It was believed that less than the century of $4,000,000 will be used as par.

On Capitol Hill, the legislators sought yesterday to find out what was between the lines of the carefully phrased Hoover-Laval Declaration Sunday.

Taking the lead from newspaper stories that it pointed to a readjusting of the whole financing scheme. (Continued on page four)

Work Begins Today On Electric Clock In Heart Of Town

A crew of workers under the direction of F. A. Dyson, local contractor, this morning began the construction of the concrete foundation and steel pole upon which will be placed the large electric clock formerly owned by the First National Bank. The clock is being constructed through activities of the Independent Merchants Association and is made possible through courtesy of A. H. Moore, wealthy property owner, who donated it to the city.

A concrete foundation eight feet square is being poured, into which will be imbedded a steel pole capable of carrying the massive clock's weight in safety. The top of the clock will be about 20 feet from the ground. The stop and go traffic signals which formerly hung at the intersection of First Street and Park Avenue, will be installed on the pole just below the clock.

Construction will be completed by the end of the week, it is estimated. The Sanford Electric Co., is handling the electrical work, while the Sanford Machine Co., built the steel and iron supporting pole.

Philippines Not Yet Ready For Freedom

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(A.P.)—President Hoover said today that immediate independence for the Philippines without assured economic stability would tend to disaster in the islands. The President said the government must be assured of stability before independence be granted.

He said the matter was discussed at length but no conclusion as to the policy was reached; in confidence as some lines or other, directly or indirectly, have been promised the islands by every President and congress since the United States took charge of the islands. "The problem is one of time," Hoover said, adding it is in the interest of the Philippine people that their independence will be assured of stability.

DIES IN ONE BLAST

KILGORE, Texas, Oct. 27.—(A.P.)—The explosion of a 10,000 barrel oil tank yesterday finally killed Fred Thompson, 21. Three other men, members of a crew of tank truck drivers, were in the same truck but were uninjured.

The Jacksonville District Progressive Club of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad gave a benefit dance at the City Hall last night which was attended by a large group of dancers and spectators.

It is the first in a series of similar affairs to be held during the winter months as a means of bringing the members of this and other organizations in closer touch.

Liner Delayed Five Hours As Daughter Of Premier Dances

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(A.P.)—The queen of the sea waited five and a half hours today while the daughter of the Premier of France danced with a Yankee major at a Millionaires' birthday party. The Duke de France was to have sailed at midnight with Premier Laval and his daughter, Josette, but at that hour she was dancing with Major James Walker. Monsieur Laval watched with an expansive smile and a group of socially prominent persons gathered to honor the natal day of Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney. Meanwhile the boat walked and the captain decided to postpone the sailing until 5:30 A. M. The party finally came aboard, goodbyes were said, and the Premier, five-day visit to the United States was ended.

2 FARM RELIEF 'GHOSTS' FACING NEXT CONGRESS

Equalization Fee And Export Debenture Seen Seat Of Row

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(A.P.)—Two ghosts of the farm relief campaign—the equalization fee and the export debenture—met yesterday on Capitol Hill to confront the new Congress.

Leaders of the dominant agricultural organizations sponsoring indicated to Chairman McNary of these two principles of farm aid the Senate agriculture committee yesterday they would work to write both of these provisions into the Hoover farm marketing act next session.

Senator McNary called the Senate agriculture committee to conference here on Nov. 24 ahead of the regular meeting time of Congress to consider agricultural bills submitted by the farm leaders to present their case then.

The equalization fee provides for the levying of a fee upon producers of agriculture commodities to be used for the orderly disposition of surpluses.

The export debenture would allow exports of agricultural commodities to receive debentures to be reimbursed from customs receipts of the government. The debentures would equalize the difference in price of foreign sales and domestic sales.

Congress twice sent the equalization fee to President Coolidge and he twice vetoed it in stinging language. Turning them to the export debenture, the Senate passed it as a part of the farm bill two years ago over the announced opposition of President Hoover. The House voted it down.

But now appears the unique proposal for the incorporation of both the equalization fee and the export debenture systems into the farm marketing act.

Mr. Hoover is reported on Capitol Hill to have stated that he will veto any bill carrying the export debenture. A real farm relief row is brewing.

While a move is afoot to abolish the farm board created by the Hoover administration, the farm leaders intend to fight to "strengthen" it, instead.

Chiropractor Comes To Make City Home

Dr. Richard D. Fuson, a government-trained chiropractor with 10 years' experience, arrived here last week to make Sanford his home, and this morning announced that he had opened offices at 120 West First Street.

Dr. Fuson, a native of Iowa, is a World War veteran who served 22 months in France and later learned chiropractic under government-trained men. He is a graduate of the Palmer School, Davenport, Iowa, and has studied medicine and osteopathy. He is a member of American Legion Post No. 30, D.A. Riders, as well as the Talmudic Council of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Railroad Club Holds Dance Last Evening

The Jacksonville District Progressive Club of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad gave a benefit dance at the City Hall last night which was attended by a large group of dancers and spectators.

HOOVER CALLS FOR ADEQUATE NAVAL POWER

But Says Fleet Must Be Reduced To Lowest Point That Security Will Permit

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(A.P.)—The maintenance of a navy so strong and efficient that no enemy could even invade this country was named yesterday by President Hoover as "the first necessity" of the American government.

At the same time the President, who has called for disarmament many times, termed the minimum a maximum as well. Our armed forces, he said, must be reduced to the lowest point that security will permit.

Meanwhile it developed that the administration plans to send a favorable reply before the week is out to a League of Nations request for participation in an immediate one-year disarmament holiday. More than 80 nations have been asked to join.

The President's statement was intended to call attention to today's celebration of Navy Day. Officers and men of the United States sea forces throughout the world will recognize it. The army, too, will make a bow to its brother service.

After holding for the necessity of a sufficient armed force to repel any invasion of this country, the Chief Executive said he had been informed by commanding officers that "we are maintaining that strength and efficiency."

Only Sunday night, in a radio address, Mr. Hoover called for universal disarmament. He said that while "nations grow, undergo revolution and governments change, perplexed peoples throughout the world go on using inconceivable sums in evident dread of those that may come upon us."

The Chief Executive already has taken definite steps to prune American expenditures for its navy. When the department submitted to him a budget, asking for the appropriation of $400,000,000 during the next fiscal year, he returned it. It should be reduced, he said, by as much as $30,000,000.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, chief of staff, expressed to the chief of naval operations, the army's esteem.

General MacArthur, in his message, commended the navy as having been especially wise in its choice of Oct. 27 for Navy Day. It is the birthday of Theodore Roosevelt.

But now appears the unique proposal for the incorporation of both the equalization fee and the export debenture systems into the farm marketing act.

Mr. Hoover is reported on Capitol Hill to have stated that he will veto any bill carrying the export debenture. A real farm relief row is brewing.

Air Mail Order For Canned Goods Sent To Geneva House

The Wakefield Canning Co., of Geneva, one of this county's oldest and most profitable industries, yesterday received by air mail, a rush order from one of their old Boston customers, that a large shipment of their products be sent North at once.

This interesting county industry has been in existence for the past 17 years under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Wakefield, former residents of Illinois. Starting their business when they discovered that a delicious jelly could be made of wild figs they found near Lake Harvey, they have since developed their industry so that they manufacture 27 different products, including orange and grapefruit marmalades, guava jelly, water-melon, peach, pear, grape and other products which are shipped throughout the nation. Recent orders have been received from a dozen states and Canada. During the past season, a solid carload was shipped to New York City.

This season, the Geneva plant has already put up 8,000 gallons of juice which will be later made up into 75,000 worth of jellies. Hundreds of winter tourists visit the Geneva plant annually, 72 visiting there on one single day last season. It is open to the public at all times.

Immediately after the fatal death, Lt. George Otis, 21, a member of the military academy, and Capt. M. W. Warner, 21, an automobile escort, police from the Pennsylvania station in New York where they had left the train.

Expressing the Senate's contention it had the right to consider the nomination of George Otis, 21, who had been confirmed and sworn in, John W. Davis, former Democratic presidential nominee, demanded that George Wharton Pepper, former Pennsylvania senator, defended Smith's right to the post. Davis said, the facts in the case were admitted by both sides and that a decision involved merely the question of law. He contended the Senate rules empowered it to reconsider the nomination before two executive sessions had expired, even though the President formally had been notified of confirmation.

Whitney, physician, had resorted to every means known to medical science to thwart death.

An emergency operation was performed Saturday night and then Sheridan was placed in a respiratory where he remained until his death.

REGULAR MEET OF CITY HEADS HELD MONDAY

Several Routine Matters Long Pending Are Considered At Session Last Night

THE CITY Commissioners, meeting at the City Hall last night in regular session, spent most of their time in officially conducting a number of matters of routine business which had been pending for some time. This is a new item of new business was introduced.

Nearly half an hour was spent in discussion of the merits of the proposed milk and milk ordinance, but no action was taken. It will be disposed of at the next meeting. E. W. Bigelow, local dairyman, was present at the meeting, urging that it be adopted as a safety measure which would insure high consumption of a high grade of milk at all times, and the support of every dairyman in the city.

The reading of a letter from Attorney Barron, representing the Riggs interests, held a tax certificate on the Mayfair Hotel, was interrupted by Commissioner Speer, who asked, "Do we want publicity on this bill? I matter?" whereupon the letter was passed around the table and read in silence by each of the Commissioners.

The matter of the advertising sign erected by the Independent Merchants Association at the corner of Lake Monroe Avenue and First Street over the objection of T. C. Carlson, resident of that vicinity, was again threshed out, with no action taken. Carlson objected to the sign in its present location, and although it is now in property out of the city limits, the sign itself belongs to the city, a gift of the association.

A. F. Adams, French Avenue resident, appeared before the group to register a complaint against the Florida Power and Light Co., regarding the new one-meter rate created by that company. He claimed that light company representatives had misrepresented facts to him, and that he wanted his old meter installed. Commissioner Byrd declared that his firm would be glad to give him the old rate if he wished it, and that it would be glad to show him how it is affecting under the one-meter rate. Mr. Adams returned when Mr. Byrd asked if he had called at his office today, and complete satisfaction would be given him.

Among other matters the commissioners disposed of were the construction of a small garage in Ruskin. Vito was authorized, Commissioner W. A. Leffler was officially declared as the sole candidate in the general election in December; the 1931 tax roll was officially closed; a contract with Wilson and Boyle, who are the city's official attorneys, was signed; City Clerk P. E. Lawson was authorized to dispose of requests from disabled war veterans seeking license exemptions; a resolution officially declaring the City's intention of bringing foreclosure suits against delinquent property owners was passed; and the Sanborn-Atlantic National Bank's interest rate for the last quarter of the year was accepted.

"It's a Truly Modern Cigarette"

"I'm certainly grateful for Lucky Strike. It's a truly modern cigarette for it gives me modern throat protection. And your improved Cellophane wrapper is wonderfully modern, too. It opens without any coaxing—a flip of the little tab and there are my Luckies."

Loretta Young

A famous and beloved picture star while still in her teens—blessed with breath-taking girlish beauty—could fate have been kinder to Loretta Young? She's the very incarnation of young loveliness. If you have not seen her in First National's "Ruling Voice," do so.

That LUCKY tab! Moisture-Proof Cellophane. Sealed tight—Ever right. The Unique Humidor Package. Zip—and it's open! See the new notched tab on the top of the package. Hold down one half with your thumb. Tear off the other half. Simple. Quick. Zip! That's all. Unique! Wrapped in dust-proof, moisture-proof, germ-proof Cellophane. Clean, protected, neat, FRESH!—what could be more modern than LUCKIES' improved Humidor package—so easy to open! Ladies—the LUCKY TAB is—your finger nail protection.

Made of the finest tobaccos—the cream of many crepes—LUCKY STRIKE alone offers the throat protection of the exclusive "TOASTING" process which includes the use of modern Ultra Violet Rays—the process that expels certain harsh, biting irritants naturally present in every tobacco leaf. These expelled irritants are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. "They're out—so they can't hurt you!" No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

"It's toasted"

Borah Is Told He Does Not Know Europe Politics

Borah replied that the Hitlerites, should be appeased by removing the cause of the trouble, the colonies.

The diplomat said 80 percent of its inhabitants were Poles. Borah replied that if the Polish government continued its policies in the corridor, this would soon be 100 percent.

The Polish diplomat last night issued the following statement:

"I regret that my conversation with Senator Borah which was intended to be a private and friendly chat has been publicly reported.

"As far as I recall the conversation I took the occasion to congratulate the senator on his great courage in admitting an inadequate knowledge of conditions prevailing in Central Europe in the same statement in which he advocated the revision of certain Central European frontiers.

"I also said that his declaration might be interpreted by the nationalistic element in Europe as an encouragement and stimulus for their activities. It might even drive some of the more unbalanced among them to armed aggression against their neighbors."

"I said I felt sure that the senator would be the first to regret it if his noble intentions at stabilizing peace in Europe were to produce such deplorable results."

Borah's interview with the French newspaperman can this way:

"Borah: I do not think that you are going to get any disarmament in Europe so long as certain conditions which arise out of the Versailles treaty continue to exist. That is just my opinion 3000 miles away."

"Reporter: Right; but at any precise point—revolution of frontiers, for instance?

"Borah: The Polish corridor for instance.

"Reporter: I was wondering what substitution would you suggest to guarantee Poland's access to the sea?"

"Borah: I am not sufficiently familiar with physical conditions there to determine what arrangements could be made, and I do not know whether it can be changed, but I do say this, in my opinion while these conditions continue you are not going to have disarmament in Europe."

Success Attends Meeting Between Great Statesmen

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Far-reaching agreement on measures necessary to deal with the political and economic questions facing the world has been achieved by Dino Grandi, Italian foreign minister, and Chancellor Brüning, an official communiqué said last night.

The statement, made at the conclusion of the second day of Grandi's visit here, did not mention these measures in detail.

In their talk yesterday, the communique said, the chancellor and his Italian guest exchanged views on all the outstanding problems in politics and finance that urgently require solution.

The discussion was conducted with extreme frankness and the most friendly feelings. It was explained, both statesmen agree, that effective measures to combat the world crisis are impossible without systematic cooperation among the nations involved. This cooperation, the communiqué said, must be based on mutual confidence and respect.

Hoover Lauds Way U.S. Broadcasting Is Being Conducted

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(UPI)—A former hold upon fees speech as an advance of political pitfalls was seen yesterday by President Hoover in the center mapped early in the radio industry away from governmental broadcasting taxation.

The president spoke by radio to the ninth convention of the National Broadcasters' Association at Detroit. Recalling his days as secretary of commerce he praised some of the decisions he then helped to form in His administration.

"The determination that radio channels were public property and should be controlled by the government, the determination that we should not have governmental broadcasting supported by a tax upon the listeners, but that we should give license to use of those channels under private enterprise while there would be no restraint upon programs has scored for us a greater variety of program and excellence of service without cost to the listener."

The chief executive asserted these decisions had avoided the pitfalls of political and social conflicts that would have resulted from governmental broadcasting.

Stressing what he called the "many-sided importance of radio in modern life," the President characterized it as an "invaluable extension of happiness and contentment."

"It has," he said, "brought most of the supposed values which were formerly available exclusively to life in the cities to every home through the land, for the treasures of music, bit entertainment, and of information have been brought to the loneliest farm and the most remote hamlet."

Barrel for sale. This side is sent to the railroad because the order was obeyed.

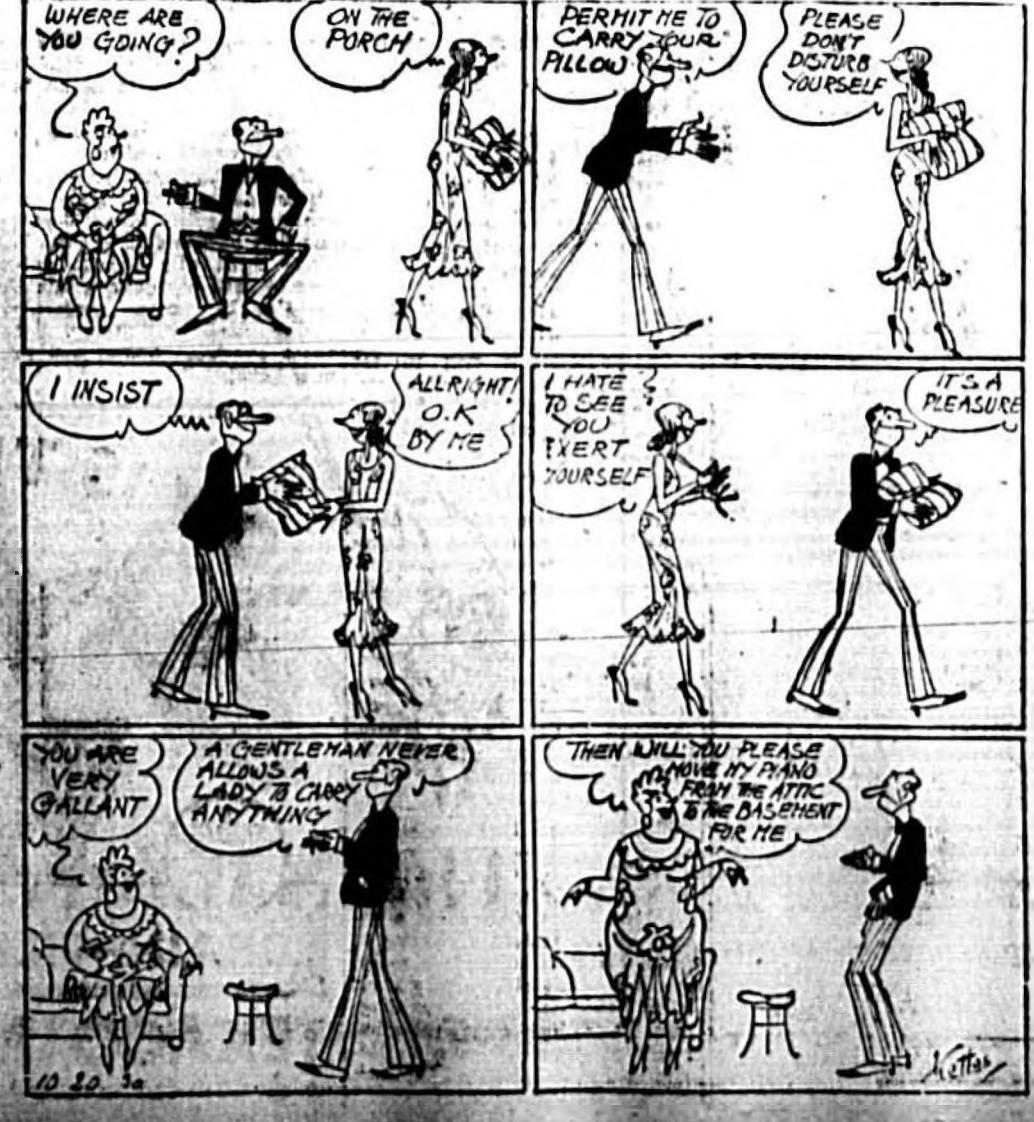

G. Vernon Murray recited his assertion that the well would stay closed until it reached the dollar a barrel level. This price went up sharply, but not so far that barrels were permitted to reopen. They still are under company control, however.

The Oklahoma corporation commission and Governor Murray brought their power into play when oil, in common with other commodities had sunk to a low price level.

Last August the governor ordered the wells closed until the price had climbed to one dollar a barrel.

He refused to comment on the Hoover-Laval conversations.
