Engineers Say 'No' To Canal

The Sanford-Titusville Canal has been turned down, at least temporarily, on the grounds that it is not "economically feasible," U. S. Sens. Spessard L. Holland and George A. Smathers and U. S. Rep. A. Sydney Herling Jr. said yesterday. They had been informed by the Board of Rivers and Harbors that it is making an "unfavorable report" on the canal.

In a telegram to The Herald, signed by all three, they said that "we did our best, but the Army Engineers ruled against us on the economic feasibility of this project."

"This action does not mean that the case can't be reopened, the telegram said.

"We usually are against projects which are not sound economically, but in this particular case the engineers' conclusion as to the economic soundness did not take into consideration the recreational benefits that would be involved," the three officials said in the joint statement. "Nor did the engineers take into consideration the military value of the proposed canal."

"The U. S. Navy has told us that they could save approximately $300,000 annually in fuel alone if the canal from Sanford to Titusville were constructed."

"Opening of the waterway from Sanford to Titusville would bring to this area unlimited recreational sites and facilities."

"We plan to reopen the case as soon as we are permitted to do so under the regulations. Again, we will do our best to get approval for this project because we think that it is something necessary."

Local officials expressed disappointment at the news. The canal would make Sanford the "water gateway of Central Florida," providing a direct water link with the Atlantic Ocean.

"The canal could make Sanford an important inland port, officials said. Too, the canal would increase greatly the industrial potential of this area, they added.

The St. Johns River now is navigable from Sanford to Jacksonville. Construction of the Sanford-Titusville Canal would complete what some officials have termed "one of the nation's finest, but partially-developed, inland waterways."

Negro Group Says Pupil Assignment In State Illegal

TAMPA (UPI) — The NAACP, seeking school board action to begin classroom integration in Hillsborough County, charged today the Florida Pupil Assignment Law is unconstitutional.

Florida NAACP Field Secretary Robert W. Saunders said a decision by the U. S. Supreme Court Monday ruled the law unconstitutional. He said it came under the heading of "subterfuge" and "devices" which the court ruled cannot be used to maintain segregation.

Bust Saunders said that the board was merely hiding behind the law—not actually using it.

"Generally, Negro parents in Hillsborough County are not aware of the school board's operation under the pupil assignment law and many of them have not been so notified."

The local branch of the NAACP wrote county School Superintendent J. Crockett Farnell Monday and warned that if the school board does not take steps to begin integration, the NAACP will be forced to seek court action.

Farnell replied Tuesday that the board is acting under the pupil assignment law. He said that "if the law is challenged it'll be up to the judge to say who is right." He said he would make the law "we just administer it."

Saratoga Arrives At Mayport Today

MAYPORT (UPI)—Aircraft carrier Saratoga and her crew of more than 3,000 officers and enlisted men were to pull into port today after eight months service in the Mediterranean.

The huge ship was preceded by an advance guard of some 50 planes who were met by their families and friends Tuesday.

The pilots, because of good flying conditions, arrived earlier than expected in their jet and propeller-driven planes.

President Says Schools Should 'Mix As Ordered'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower said today it is incumbent on officials of Arkansas and Virginia, along with all other Americans, to comply with federal court rulings on public school integration.

The President told his first news conference since Aug. 27 that "any other course" but compliance with the federal courts "is the reopening of closed schools would be fraught with grave consequences to our nation."

He was asked whether, in the light of recent rulings, he thought public schools closed in some areas of Arkansas and Virginia should be re-opened immediately on an integrated basis without being forced into it by the federal government.

He said he had no recommendation on re-opening beyond the decisions of the various federal courts and his own recent statement, that anything other than compliance with the courts would bring "grave consequences" to the nation. The President said last week that the school closings represented a "material setback" in national progress toward the goal of fundamental equality of man.

The President today added to this previously stated position by volunteering a brief statement based on Monday's Supreme Court decision which, he said, unanimously voiced its opinion on the "equality of opportunity for education in the nation's public schools."

"It is incumbent upon all Americans, public officials and private citizens alike, to recognize their duty of complying with the rulings of the highest court in the land," he said.

Nationwide Alert Broadcast For Con

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A nationwide alert was out today for the arrest of Aaron W. Burgett, 25-year-old gunman from St. Louis, who may have been the first man to escape from Alcatraz prison.

Although Alcatraz officials believed Burgett was either hiding somewhere on the "Island" or had been drowned in the swift tides of San Francisco Bay, the FBI acted on the possibility he had reached the mainland.

Seminole Breaks License Records

Seminole County yesterday set two records in the sale of driver's licenses.

On the final day of obtaining 1953 licenses, the county judge's office issued 1,491, a new one-day record. This pushed total sales for the month to 17,744, a new high for Seminole County.

This was an increase of 1,903 over the total issued for 1952, Judge Wilson Alexander said.

Hudson's Mother Dies In Hospital

Mrs. Adelaide W. Hudson, mother of Sid Hudson, star pitcher for the 1953 Sanford baseball team, died recently in a Chattanooga hospital.

During Hudson's brilliant career in the Florida State League, Mrs. Hudson visited him in Sanford and was well-known here.

After a career in the major leagues with Washington and Boston, Hudson now is a scout for the Red Sox. He again will conduct a baseball school in Kissimmee in January.

Private Schools, Private Buildings In Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — The Little Rock Private Schools Corp. announced today that it will open private, segregated schools in private buildings next week if it can't use four closed high schools.

At the same time, the corporation appealed for public contributions to operate the schools and asked citizens to report any suitable private buildings around Little Rock that might be used for schools.

Dr. T. J. Raney, president of the corporation, announced the plans at a news conference.

He said, however, that nothing will be done pending the outcome of next Monday's hearing on a petition for a permanent injunction before the 8th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis.

The same court of appeals this week issued a temporary order restraining the Little Rock School Board from leasing the four high school buildings to the private school corporation.

The hearing Monday will determine whether the order will be made into a permanent injunction. Raney said the public school corporation also is studying plans for public appeals for donations to operate the schools.

He held a news conference in Gov. Orval E. Faubus' conference room in the state Capitol. Raney read a prepared statement and refused to answer questions.

"Next Monday, the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals will decide whether the injunction issued against the Little Rock Private Schools Corp. is to be continued in effect," the statement said.

"Pending that decision, we will conduct a study and survey of buildings and facilities which will be available for our use in operating private, segregated schools. Then if the court enjoins our use of the high school buildings leased from the Little Rock School District, we will immediately begin school in other quarters."

Eisenhower Stands Firm On 'No Far East Retreat'

Nationalists Break Blockade; Barrage From Shore Heavy

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI)—The Chinese Nationalists slammed another convoy to Quemoy through the Communist Chinese artillery blockade today, using the technique that has almost cracked the Red siege.

United Press International Correspondent Robert Miller who landed on Quemoy with the supplies of ammunition and other priority goods reported a deadly barrage of Red shells—now answered in kind by Nationalist guns—failed to slow the operation.

Nationalist landing ships protected by an umbrella of high flying jet fighters unloaded smaller amphibious tractors—the armchairs of World War II—three miles off the beach. Each amtrack can carry 2 1/2 tons of supplies.

The strengthened Chinese Nationalist artillery destroyed an unidentified Communist vessel Tuesday in one of the heaviest artillery duels of the Quemoy war. The Nationalists did not disclose their volume but said the Reds hurled more than 11,000 shells, most of them during the successful landing of new Nationalist supplies.

Nationalist counter-shelling from eight-inch howitzers, landed and installed on Quemoy by U. S. Marines, have knocked out Red guns, fortifications and coastal shipping in greater numbers during the week.

Rear Adm. Liu Hsi-hu, Defense Ministry spokesman, said that until two weeks ago the Communists were pounding the Quemoy daily with about three times the number of shells the Nationalists were firing back. Now the Nationalists appeared to be catching up.

Troop Withdrawal Considered, But No Decision Made

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower today reaffirmed U. S. determination to oppose Communist aggression in the Far East. He said this country will not retreat in the face of force.

The president told his news conference that withdrawal of Chinese Nationalist forces from Quemoy and Matsu has been considered as one possible solution to the Far East crisis. But he said he was not sure this was the final answer on which everyone could agree.

He said that he, like Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, believed Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek had been unwise in committing such large forces on the offshore islands.

Worldwide Problems

The President emphasized, however, that people should not become so preoccupied with specific geographical aspects of the China crisis as to lose sight of the major danger which lay in the broad Communist threat to the entire free world.

Cannot Retreat

Throughout the news conference questioning on the Far East crisis, the President hammered at the theme that the United States could not afford to retreat and end fire at any point. He said this was the basic principle which should not be neglected because of consideration of other matters of geographical nature.

Dulles was reported by two aides today as hopeful that the current U. S.-Red Chinese talks in Warsaw will result in a cease-fire in the Formosa Strait.

Chances Improved For Ending Firing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles now believes there is a fair good chance the Warsaw talks with Red China will result in a cease-fire in the major artillery battle over Quemoy, top aides said today.

They expressed belief the Communists eventually will stop shooting without signing any formal agreement now that they know the United States is prepared to urge Chiang Kai-shek to pull the bulk of his 85,000 Chinese Nationalist troops off the embattled island.

The Chinese Communist probably will continue bombarding the island for a while until they are convinced there is no chance of blockading the garrison into surrender, officials said.

May Silence Critics

But Red Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping-nan has been told flatly by U. S. Envoy Jacob D. Beam in the Warsaw, Poland, talks the only way Peiping can get any concessions out of the United States is to stop shooting.

Administration officials awaited some sign that the more "flexible" policy in the Quemoy crisis announced by Dulles at his news conference Tuesday may take some of the heat off the U. S. government both at home and abroad.

They hoped Dulles' revelation of his willingness to try to get Chiang to pull most of his troops off Quemoy in return for a cease-fire would help silence critics in this country who charged U. S. involvement in the off-shore islands threatened to drag the country into full-scale war.

Red Chinese Plan To Take Islands

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China observed its ninth anniversary today with a mammoth parade in Peiping and warnings that it would no longer take a back seat.

Premier Chen En-lai and Defense Minister Peng Teh-huai proclaimed in anniversary speeches that the United States would not prevent Red China from taking the offshore islands and Formosa.

Radio Peiping announced that Red China's factories were to overtake Britain in industrial production next year and boasted that Red China had now built its first jet plane, a supersonic trainer.

There were celebrations in Communist capitals throughout the world, and in Moscow both Communist Chinese and Soviet officials repeated their warnings against "U. S. aggression" in the Formosa Strait.

The biggest celebration was in Peiping where armed forces and labor battalions paraded for four hours across Tian An Men Square — site of the famous Gate of Heavenly Peace.

The commission instructed the company to begin at once with the agreement that the reappraisal be ready in time for the 1953 tax rolls.

Search Continues For 'Sub Hunter'

KEY WEST (UPI)—An surface vessel combed the waters around here today for possible survivors of a Navy "submarine hunter" plane believed to have crashed Monday with 10 men aboard.

But hopes of finding them alive grew dim.

Searchers found the nose cone and other pieces of the wreckage Tuesday night some 22 miles north of Key West. Navy crash boats and minesweepers rushed to the scene with detection equipment in hopes of locating the rest of the plane wreckage.

The twin-engine P2V plane from Brunswick, Maine, left the Key West Naval Air Station at 11:30 p.m. Monday on a routine instrument checking mission. The pilot was supposed to keep within 20 miles of the base and radio hourly reports.

The last check-in was at 2:30 p.m. The plane was due to land about three hours later and had enough fuel to stay airborne until about 3 p.m.

Pilot 'Rides' Jet To Field, Jumps

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—A Navy pilot who rode his crippled jet down to only 400 feet altitude before bailing out was credited today with keeping the plane from crashing into a congested residential area.

Lt. Cmdr. Aivin Thomas, 28, of Hawthorne, Nev., saw his Skywarrior jet was in danger of crashing into the homes of Jacksonville residents when it developed trouble over a heavily populated section Tuesday.

He ordered three other Navy crewmen aboard to bail out, then jumped from the 70,000-pound aircraft toward a 150-acre field where it crashed harmlessly.

Thomas parachuted safely to earth. His first words to rescuers on the scene were: "I've lost my cigarettes and lighter."

A Navy spokesman said if Thomas had parachuted at a safe altitude of 1,000 feet, "the plane undoubtedly would have crashed into some houses."

Proves He's Speedy

EUDORA, Kan. (UPI)—State Game Protector Eddie Bond proved he is quick as a fox. He was taking one out of a cage to have it photographed when it squirmed from his arms and ran down the street. Bond took off after it and recaptured the animal with a flying tackle.

'Radiation Scare' Hampering X-Rays

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Radiologists charged today that use of radiation to save lives is being hampered by atomic age scare stories about the hazards involved.

Radiologists are physicians who specialize in use of X-rays and radioactive materials to diagnose and treat disease. Their complaint was voiced at the 59th annual meeting of the American Roentgen Ray Society.

The society's new president, Dr. Barton R. Young of Philadelphia, asserted that "discovery of X-rays has resulted in greater medical advances than any other single development."

Physicians have been using X-rays for half a century, but not until A-bombs and H-bombs came along did the general public become acutely aware that radiation had its sinister side.

Dr. Robert R. Newell of the Stanford University school of medicine said that "general apprehension" about all kinds of radiation has reached such a pitch that it is time for "less emotion and more logic" on the subject.

Dr. George Tierney of Washington, D. C., challenged statements by some scientists on radiation hazards as "highly emotional" and "based upon data having a nebulous quality."

Tierney said "publicity concerning radiation hazards has seriously clouded in the public eye the legitimate use of radiation purposes."

"It is our right," Tierney said, "to question any public statements on this highly emotionally charged issue which appear to be based upon data having a nebulous quality, upon sheer gross estimates, or upon projection and extrapolation of an apparently clairvoyant nature."

"We have also the prerogative to speak strongly and affirmatively of our major contributions to humanity as physicians and as pioneers in the recognition of the hazards of radiation."

For many diseases X-radiation long has been the main diagnostic tool. Dr. Marvin M. Kelms and John E. Whiteleather of Memphis, Tenn., told the radiologists it also can be safely used to spot "early warning signs" of impending strokes.

Once these signs have been detected, the doctors said, corrective surgery can be undertaken. They said such X-ray examination also can provide the information needed for surgery to restore persons who had had strokes to more nearly normal life.

Another speaker, Dr. Colin R. Holman of Rochester, Minn., said X-ray examination is "extremely important" for early discovery of the childhood eye tumors called "gliomas."

Dr. S. P. Traub of Saskatoon, Canada, reported that X-rays can search out clues to a strange-acting brain tumor called "meningeal fibrosarcoma."

This is a tumor of adult life and is more prevalent for some reason among women than men. It may change abruptly from a harmless growth to a killer. Early discovery is desirable.

Traub said X-rays can spot skull changes caused by the tumor and thus permit "an unequivocal diagnosis to be made."

Herlong Appoints Campaign Director

Congressman A. Sydney Herlong, Jr. has announced the appointment of Robert P. (Bob) Heasley, 34-year-old Orlando realtor, as his campaign manager in his bid for re-election to Congress from the Fifth District of Florida.

Heasley is well-known throughout Central Florida. He has been in the real estate business for the past 10 years. He attended the public schools of Orange County and is a graduate of the University of Florida.

He is the immediate past president of the Orlando Board of Realtors, a deacon in the First Presbyterian Church in Orlando, a Kiwanis director, past director of the University Club, and is the adjutant of the 26th Engineer Battalion, Army Reserve. He is a member of the Jaycees. He is married, and has two children.

In discussing the Herlong campaign, Heasley said that the congressman will stage a hard-hitting campaign strictly on his past record. Heasley said Herlong headquarters will be set up in every county in the Fifth District.

Saving 2,000 Goal Of Safety Council

CHICAGO (UPI)—A saving of 2,000 lives on the nation's highways in 1958 is an attainable goal, the National Safety Council said today.

The council based its forecast on the traffic death total of 22,840 for the first eight months of the year, a 3 per cent decline from the same period last year. The figure represents a saving of 1,560 lives.

"If the same rate of improvement can be maintained the rest of the year," the council said, "the highway death toll for 1958 will be at least 2,000 below the 1957 total of 28,500."

The council placed the highway death toll during August at 3,500, a 5 per cent drop from the 3,690 deaths in the corresponding month last year. It also was the 12th month in a row and the 20th in the last 21 to show a drop.

Orlando, Fla., and Kingsport, Tenn., were among eight cities cited for deathless records in the past eight months. Others were Santa Ana, Calif.; Jackson, Mich.; Whittier, Calif.; Boise, Idaho; Birmingham, Mich.; Medford, Ore., and Victoria, Tex.

State Asks Return Of Bonifay Slayer

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Seven Florida officials will go to New York next week to demand that Negro Frank Peterson be returned to stand trial for a double murder near Bonifay last June.

The 37-year-old ex-convict was indicted by a Holmes County jury in June 11 slaying of Ira Gene Farley, a white farmer, and his baby daughter, Ernestine. Peterson is fighting extradition on grounds he will not get a fair trial in the state.

Representing Florida in an Oct. 8 extradition hearing before Gov. Averell Harriman will be Assistant Atty. Gen. Odie Herderson, State Atty. J. Frank Adams, Holmes County Sheriff Cletus Andrews and one of his constables and three investigators from the state Sheriff's Bureau.

Peterson will be represented by William Sims, a representative of the NAACP.

3 Students Booked In Guide's Murder

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Police today booked three Tulane University students on murder charges in connection with the death Sunday of a tourist guide, Fernando Rios.

Rios' body was found beaten and bloody in an alley near St. Louis Cathedral in the French Quarter Sunday morning. He died Sunday night without regaining consciousness.

Charged with murder were John H. Farrell, 30, a Junior from Wilmington, N. C.; Albert A. Catling, also 30, a special student from Panama City, Panama; and David P. Brennan, 19, a freshman from New Orleans.

Dean John H. Stubbs of Tulane said Farrell transferred to the university from Furman in South Carolina, this year. Catling was hired as an "unclassified" student who has been attending the university's night classes for the past two years.

Capt. William J. Dowd of the homicide division said Farrell told him that he, Catling and Brennan were walking through the French Quarter Saturday night when they were approached by Rios.

The three students said they fell into conversation with the tourist and planned to walk him back to his hotel. But Farrell said Rios made "an improper advance" in the alley and he struck Rios. The three students then fled.

Declines Ticket, $160,000 'Lost'

FLORENCE, Italy (UPI)—Mrs. Dina Tonini let $160,000 slip through her fingers and today her husband said "I told you so."

Saturday Mrs. Tonini had sold all but one of her share of tickets for a nationwide lottery coupled with Sunday's Merano horse race. When her husband suggested they buy the last ticket, she replied "Nonsense, that's a waste of money."

Army Captain Giulio Paolo bought the ticket and won top prize of $160,000.

Constable Finds Plenty Evidence

TAZEWELL, Tenn. (UPI)—Constable Andy Johnson got plenty of evidence when he burst into the home of a boozing suspect—some of it right in the face.

Johnson said that when he walked through the door Mrs. Chris Brantley threw a bucket of moonshine whisky at him and he didn't have time to duck.

But he and other raiding officers found 50 full half-pint bottles hidden around the place and charged both Mrs. Brantley and her husband with bootlegging.

How Many Will Die In Auto Accidents?

The Florida Highway Patrol has released its statistics for the first six months of this year. The score for Seminole County: eight dead.

In Florida, 533 persons died between Jan. 1 and June 30 of this year. Another 16,000 were injured, many of them permanently. The Highway Patrol report said about 50,000 accidents were investigated during the six months.

What will be the Seminole County score by midnight, Dec. 31? The county total will be twice the number killed in the first six months. Very recently, three more were added in an accident in Sanford.

Everyone is a careful driver, at least to his or her way of thinking. Yet, there are pictures and news stories frequently of deaths and injuries in automobile accidents.

To many, some of the reports of deaths and accidents might be distasteful. No matter how shocking some of the pictures and stories, they seem to make little impression on the public. The attitude appears to be one of "It Couldn't Happen To Me." But it does. And when it does, you become another statistic; not to your family and friends, but to the Highway Patrol and National Safety Council.

We who gather the news, edit it, make photographs and the other things necessary to put out a daily newspaper would welcome a week or month in which there was not a car wreck big enough to warrant putting it in the paper.

Accidents of all types appear to be magnets. They draw large crowds, quickly. Those who have work to do at the scene of a wreck do not get accustomed to this unpleasant duty, no matter the years of experience in such things. There have been occasions when hardened officers became ill at wreck scenes. Yet, spectators flocked to the scene to view what had happened. Had the scene been impaled on the memories of those who viewed it, the trip would have been worthwhile.

Too often, however, spectators hurry to an accident scene, satisfy their curiosity, speed away and continue to do those things which could put them in the spot of the victim they viewed only minutes before.

Too Late To Classify

By RUSSELL KAY

On my way to Miami recently I stopped at Clewiston for a visit with Harry T. Vaughn, president of the United States Sugar Corporation.

Barring hurricane damage or another severe winter, Florida's 1958-59 sugar harvest should be a good one. Not as large as in some past seasons due to the fact that last winter's cold spells did considerable damage to the cane and it will be another year before this is offset.

Right now engineers, mechanics and laborers are swarming over the big sugar mill putting it in readiness for the coming season which will start in October and continue until spring.

Once the wheels start turning, the giant mill operates on a 24-hour a day basis through the season. Harvesting the cane from 35,000 acres is a big job that calls for round the clock operation.

The 10 to 12 months old cane is cut by hand and stacked in rows for the automatic loader which picks it up for transfer to three and one-half ton capacity carts. The loaded carts are then pulled to a field loading railroad siding for another automatic transfer to gondola type railway cars which haul it to the mill where it is automatically dumped, a railroad at a time, to an endless conveyor that transports it to the slating knives for shredding and then to the crushing and grinding tandem.

The juice runs like a river from the crushers and the fiber that remains, known as bagasse, is used as fuel in the huge furnaces or is baled and sold as poultry litter.

When processed the raw sugar is shipped to the Savannah Sugar Refining Company for refining and reaches the consumer under the trade name, "Pixie Crystals."

Blackstrap molasses from the mill is sold for cattle feeding and other purposes.

Cuttings of the harvested cane are used for planting which is carried out at the same time the harvest is underway. Two-foot long cuttings are laid horizontally by hand so that the end of each cutting overlaps the next. The approximate age of sugar cane from the date of planting to harvest ranges from 10 to 14 months. In the Everglades it is replanted every five years under normal conditions. The second, third, fourth and fifth growths are known as stubble cane which matures between nine and 12 months.

While the sugar mill is not listed as a Florida attraction it nevertheless draws many thousands of visitors during the harvest season. An accommodation the sugar corporation provides regular tours for those wishing to see the plant in operation. Tours are conducted hourly and without charge.

Vegetable fields in the Lake Okechobee area were being readied for the coming season and everything looked good. Growers really look it on the chin last year but they are looking for a good winter and hope to get well this season.

Fishing has been excellent this summer in the Clewiston area. The Clewiston Inn caters to sportsmen and provides comfortable air conditioned accommodations and the finest of meals at surprisingly modest prices. Bill Johnson's famed fishing camp as well as a number of others operate the year round providing every facility including boats, kickers, guides, bait and tackle. The Inn puts up an excellent fisherman's lunch for those who do not wish to come ashore at noon.

Florida has reason to be proud of her sugar and vegetable industries made possible by the vast Everglades drainage program. Things look bright for the coming season and if Mother Nature behaves herself this fall and winter everything will be O. K.

Like To Get Prestige In California

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower could not have chosen a more difficult political situation in which to put his prestige on the line than in California.

That mess in California will be a fair description of the political situation in that another politician state.

California has a Republican state in which the party's candidates seem to be pitted hostile each to the other, disagreed on policy, in local top candidates are Gov. (Gov. J. Knight who is Republican in line for the Senate and Sen. William F. Knowland who seeks re-election as governor.

Democrats Favored—Louis H. Bean, a political prophet of good reputation, is obeying now that Democrats Rep. Clair Engle will lick Knight for the Senate seat and Edmund G. Brown, such a name would measure up to the publican defeat earlier this month in Maine.

From the Republican point of view, it is a mere sure sign. Your correspondent will not be astonished if in California Eisenhower loses down hard on administration policy on Nationalist China. Moreover, from talk on that subject probably would help Knowland, who consistently has opposed retreat in the Far East. Knight probably would benefit, too.

Labor Problem—What the President can or will say about labor policy, however, is the question Republican politicians are asking themselves. Eisenhower doubtless would like to have a politically serviceable answer to that one. Knight is in the middle, a sort of innocent bystander, in the California labor tussle. He has had considerable labor support.

To one side are Knowland and those conservative citizens who would enact a California right-to-work law. That would be legislation to forbid compulsory union membership. On the other side are the Democrats led by Brown and Engle who campaign on a platform which must delight labor leaders everywhere as they regard it.

The Democratic platform does not merely challenge Knowland's idea. Its eight-point labor plank proposes repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act and enactment of a new national labor relations law in its place. It proposes something new.

Women Around The World Have Methods For Being Attractive

PARIS —(UPI)—Women in France rouge their knees a bit. Ladies in Turkey have a "barem way" with perfume. The women of India make their complexions glow with pearls. Japanese women have the secret of dieting. South Americans know all about "sistas."

These are some of the beauty facts picked up by Princess Gourell, better known as beauty expert Helena Rubinstein, who spends six months a year traveling around the world.

She has found that women all over the world want to be beautiful. Here are some of the tricks she has learned they use.

"The latest in France," Madame Rubinstein said, "is to rouge your knees. Actually this beauty trick is very old, goes back in antique Rome. But with the sport skirts, girls in France use it again to give a rosy shimmer and 'dimples' to showing kneecaps.

"The height of sophistication is to put a touch of rouge on the upper heels when going barefoot on the beach or wearing evening sandals."

In England, she says, women have become more conscious of fashions, "royal" beauty and hair styles.

"Women all over the world can take the fair, lovely complexions of English females as an example," Madame Rubinstein said. "For them it is a 'natural' due to the damp climate. But today heating and drying products, especially in the hair, are making the famous English complexion within reach of women all over the world."

This beauty expert found that Italian women know best how to look beautiful in the bright Southern sunshine. They have devised the "pale look"—a natural, pale complexion and light makeup in contrast with their dark eyes and hair.

"Turkish women hold the beauty secret with perfume," Madame Rubinstein continued. "They massage the skin with it after a Turkish bath while the pores are still open. An hour after, the epidermis exudes the scent."

"Another harem secret, is to apply perfume to the feet, the palms of the hands, the back of the knees and the nape of the neck. You don't have to ladle it on. Good perfume rises and surrounds you from the toes up."

In India, women have a natural, serene and dignified countenance. Sans often their contours, make movements feminine and graceful.

"Dark haired but because of the tropical heat often sallow skinned, Indian women use jewelry to give their complexions the glow of beauty. There is nothing better than a pearl necklace to lend an iridescent and delicate shimmer to your face. Diamonds will add sparkle to your eyes and colored stones will give you a touch of Oriental splendor.

"Japanese women," Madame Rubinstein continued her tour of beauty, "have extraordinary figures. You know why?"

"First, their normal food is as good as a diet. They eat much fish which gives iodine, much vegetables for vitamins. And they always eat rice.

"The second reason for the trim Japanese figure is exercise. By sitting on the floor they take a marvelous physical exercise every time they get up. Sitting on the haunches also tightens the muscles.

"In South America, beautiful women do like anybody else in hot climates. They take a 'sista.' This period of rest in the middle of the day is a precious beauty aid. Lay down, stretch out and relax, even if it is only for 15 minutes in the middle of the day. It will double your energy.

"There is one way to beauty," Madame Rubinstein concluded, "which works always, everywhere and any time. Be in love."

"Women look their youngest, most beautiful and feminine when they're in love."

Can Apples For Pies

Apple pies all winter long, and next spring, when the annual new crop is beginning to appear. The apples, can you see now, in this new easy way to store them, contains just enough spiced apple slices for one pie. Here's the recipe. Put up plenty while the abundant crop of top quality apples is crowding in to the stores.

Spiced Apple Pie Filling
For Canning
5 cups sliced apples (about 7 medium sized apples)
1 large bowl salted water
1/2 cup sugar or more (dependent upon sweetness desired)
1 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
dash nutmeg
1 1/2 to 2 cup water (depending upon juiciness of apples)
1 tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon salt for each quart water

Wash, core, peel, slice, and measure apples into salt water. If left in this salt water longer than 30 minutes, the apples will need rinsing before cooking. Mix sugar, spices, taproot, and water. Stir over low heat until sugar is dissolved. Add apples; bring to boil, moderate heat. Lower heat, and simmer 15 to 20 minutes until slices are barely tender. Add lemon juice. If you like, add a little boiling water to thin consistency of honey. Pack the apple mixture to within 1/2 inch of the top of 1 1/2 pint tapered jar. Run knife down between apples and side of jar to remove air bubbles. Put lid on jar, and hand tight. Process 20 minutes in a boiling water bath. Empty jar makes enough filling for one such pie. Do filling with one or two tablespoons hot water or vinegar before putting on top seal.

Series Starts; Game Toss-up

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—The Milwaukee Braves pick themselves to win in five.

That was the consensus of Milwaukee players today shortly before they went out to meet the American League champion Yankees in the opening game of the 1958 World Series.

First baseman Frank Torre put it this way:

"Most of us think we'll win it in five because we're a much stronger ball club than we were last year."

"You can say that again," piped an shortstop Johnny Logan, dressing in the real locker, "and you can put me down for five games, too."

Torre let Logan have his say and then continued:

"I've never played with a club that has so much confidence as this one," he said. "They're real loose and relaxed. We're not rocky or anything like that, but we feel we're the boss this time. Not the Yankees."

"Look around this clubhouse. Do you see one guy with a worried look?"

There wasn't one. Most of them were bantering light heartedly, and by their casualness one might get the idea they were going out to be followed by United Press International.

The answer could be seven games away. They met today in the first of the games which will tell the story and the managers of the two clubs with their left-handed pitching best.

For the Braves it was Warren Spahn and for the Yankees it was Whitey Ford. They are about as good as they come.

And because these two south-

law ace were going against each other in the opening game of the World Series for the second time in a row, the professional odds makers made it a "pick 'em game." But over the long haul in this best-of-seven series, the "lefty slickers" from the big town were 13-10 over the "country hicks" from Milwaukee who took them in seven games last year.

Managers Confident

Last year Ford beat Spahn, 2-1, in the opener at New York, where the Series will shift for the third game on Saturday—with Friday a day off for travel. But the Braves, with right-hander Lew Burdette winning three games, came from behind to take it all.

Perhaps thinking back to that, manager Fred Haney of the Braves chose Spahn over Burdette again. And perhaps, thinking back, too, Casey Stengel of the Yankees called on his "loeman" to try and get his club off in front again.

Both managers expressed confidence—Haney promising 30,000 parading fans in a Milwaukee civic welcome in the Braves Tuesday night that "we're going to give you another world's championship."

But Stengel was just as sure the Yankees—who never have lost two World Series in a row—were not going to change their habits now.

Worried Over Injuries

Both managers pronounced their clubs in fine shape. But they were whispering in the dark.

So much so that Haney said he probably would start Felix Mantilla, a utility man who never played the outfield before the season in center field instead of Billy Brunton. He explained it by pointing out Mantilla hits right-handed and Brunton left—and Ford usually doesn't give up as much as a loud foul against the left-handed hitters he faces.

He didn't profess any worry about Brunton's ailing knee. He decided after a brief workout Tuesday that Wes Covington—another of the 1957 Braves' heroes—would be okay to play the outfield and that he would call on first baseman Frank Torre, if necessary.

Among the Yankee injury problems was Ford himself. Stengel's clutch pitcher was sidelined for some six weeks with a sore left elbow, but he came back with three impressive performances to win the starting nod for the Yankees.

Stengel had one thing to be hopeful for—healthy hitters. Mantilla and Moose Skovron. Those two hitting bulwarks in the Yankee offensive array were not at their best in last year's Series.

Sicks With Beres

But there were indications Stengel—confident outwardly—wasn't so confident inwardly. He admitted he toyed with the idea of catching Elton Howard, a right-handed hitter, instead of one of the old standbys, Yogi Berra. But at the last minute he decided to go with the left-handed hitting Beres, who has caught more World Series games than any other catcher, because:

"He works with this pitcher of mine pretty good."

Seminole World For Apopka Game

The Sanford Seminoles will attempt to regain their winning form Friday night when they travel to Apopka, another gridiron opponent which is "loaded" this season.

Sanford, with a 1-1 record, will be the underdog for the second week in a row. A host of returning lettermen and reserve bench strength make Apopka the favorite. Ton, the home field will be in Apopka's favor.

The Seminoles emerged from the Seabreeze contest minus any serious injuries. The Seminoles last Friday night proved the value of a strong bench in its 13-0 victory over the Sanford squad.

Coach Jim Pigot this week is attempting to polish the offense, which found the going almost impossible against Seabreeze. The Seminoles will face another big line and a mobile backfield in their Friday night game with Apopka.

The passing attack, which did not measure up to expectations last Friday night, is getting a lot of attention this week. Attempts to lateral the ball, using halfbacks and ends in several Seminoles football games.

Seabreeze had scouted the Seminoles in their victory over Apopka and was well-prepared. Coach Pigot, however, has been preparing surprises for this game.

The Seminoles contest start of the "heavy" which faces the Seminoles in the next several weeks. Day 1, the Seminoles looked against the Daytona squad, 19 being polished by the Seminoles.

One well-timed play and a big cost the Seminoles in last week. The defense was "crab" in check, but the Seminoles was unable to take advantage of a couple of scoring opportunities.

Coaches hope the team had one out of its system of Seabreeze.

Junior Seminoles, Leeburg In Draw

The Sanford Junior Varsity traveled to Leeburg last night for its first game of the season and held the Baby Yellow Jackets to a 0-0 tie.

The Seminoles dominated play throughout but were unable to pick up a tally. They held the Jackets to a lone first down while moving on the ground for 11.

The JV's had five drives that looked as though they would score, but penalties prevented them from hitting paydirt. John Mann recovered a fumble and went over the goal line on one occasion but a clipping penalty nullified it. Mann was the outstanding ball carrier for the evening and showed and a lot of talent.

Frank Jerry Dillard also was a big surprise with his running as he went for 40 yards but he was called back due to a penalty.

The Sanford line, led by Charlie Fox, center Fawley and Johnny White, made a fine showing on offense and defense, giving the Jackets a deep territory most of the evening and never made a serious threat.

With one under their belts, the JV's should be ready next Wednesday night when they host the Seabreeze JV's.

most the Yankees in a spring exhibition game at Bradenton, Fla., rather than in a Series for baseball's richest prize of all.

"Why should we be the ones to worry?" asked Lew Burdette. "We proved we could lick 'em last year and now it's up to them to try and catch us. If there's any pressure, it's certainly on them."

Logan offered the thought the Yankees might be pressing a bit in an all-out effort to get out in front fast.

"You watch and see how they'll do anything they can to try and grab a run or two in the first and second innings," said the Milwaukee shortstop. "They'll be nothing better than to have us changing them. If the Yanks don't score in the first three or four innings today, take a look over at their bench and notice how Casey Stengel will start to fidget."

Top Grid Teams Favored To Take Saturday Games

NEW YORK (UPI)—The nation's 10 top-ranked college football teams will win their Saturday games—most of them with ease—if the oddsmakers are right.

In their weekly quotations, the oddsmakers made top-ranked Oklahoma a 21-point choice to whip visiting Oregon.

Michigan State, ranked second this week by the United Press International board of coaches, is a 13-point favorite for its Big Ten clash with Michigan at East Lansing. Third-ranked Ohio State also is a stout favorite, rating a 21-point bulge over Washington at Columbus.

Fourth-ranked Auburn is so heavily favored for its game with Chattanooga that the oddsmakers took the contest off their boards. The price-makers put seventh-ranked Wisconsin's game with Marquette, eighth-ranked Iowa's game with the Air Force Academy and 10th-ranked Mississippi's Saturday night meeting with Trinity (Tex.) in the same category.

Fifth-ranked Army is favored over Penn State by 10 points for their East feature, sixth-ranked Notre Dame is a 5-point choice for its visit to Southern Methodist and ninth-ranked Pittsburgh is favored by the same margin for its visit to Minnesota.

Washington State is favored by 7 for its clash with California in Saturday's nationally televised game.

The oddsmakers rate the North Carolina State-Virginia game one of Saturday's closest, calling it a toss-up.

Illinois is favored over Duke by 8. Purdue over Rice by 7. West Virginia over Indiana by 7. Northwestern over Stanford by 14. Baylor over Miami (Fla.) by 1 and Texas A and M over Missouri by 6 in other intercollegiate games.

Odds on other top games:

East: Brown over Yale by 2. Holy Cross over Syracuse by 5. Cornell over Harvard by 13. Dartmouth over Pennsylvania by 13. Princeton over Columbia by 13, and Navy over Boston University by 14.

South: Virginia Tech over William and Mary by 2. Clemson over Maryland by 5. Georgia over South Carolina by 5. Vanderbilt over Alabama by 6. Wake Forest over Florida State by 8. Mississippi State over Tennessee by 8 and Georgia Tech over Tulane by 9.

Midwest: Nebraska over Iowa State by 2. Colorado over Kansas by 7 and Houston over Cincinnati by 8.

West: Oregon State over UCLA by 3, and Southern California over North Carolina by 7 in a Friday night game.

Schoendienst Says Hurling To Decide Outcome Of Series

By RED SCHOENDIENST
Written For UPI

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—This Series with the Yankees is going to be a pitching Series. It's going to depend on how strong the pitchers are on the particular day they work.

I can't say that we are stronger in hitting, or they have the edge in reserves. Our club is well balanced, and they are, too. I just feel our club is good enough to win again.

As for the Yankees being out to avenge their loss of last year, all I can say is they have a good ball club and we know it. They also know how good we are. I know it will be a good Series because both clubs think they can win.

I don't think we played as good ball this year as we did last year. Last year the injuries didn't hurt us so much and we played better, at least in spurts.

This year the fellows were always getting hurt just as they began to help us. Wes Covington got hurt in the spring before the season even started. Mel Roach got hurt just when he was filling in so well for us. Last year they brought up Bob Hazle and he was able to stay in there and get hot for us.

Those two good young pitchers, Carl Wiley and Juan Pizarro, helped us a lot, but another one, Joey Jay, was hurt just when he got going good.

Right now we're in pretty good shape. Mickey Mantle and Bill Skowron will help the Yankees, too, this year. But I don't believe their absence last year was what caused us to win the Series. We just won it, that's all.

The fellows on this club know what they have to do and what they can do. We can't be worried about who the Yankees are going to use. We've got to worry about ourselves only.

I don't think it will make any difference in this Series if one club takes the first two games or any other kind of edge.

It's the best four out of seven, whether it's the first four or the last four.

Pastrano Defeated By British Champ

LONDON (UPI)—After years of frustration, European heavyweights are on the comeback trail. Linger Willie Pastrano became the latest victim of Europe's re-emerged heavies Tuesday night when bulky British champion Brian London beat him on a disputed technical knockout.

It was the third straight upset of high-rated fighters by Europeans in less than three weeks. European champion Ingemar Johansson knocked out Eddie Machon, then No. 1 challenger, Sept. 14, and last week Willie Beamanoff knocked out eighth-rated Alex Mitoff of Argentina.

Pastrano, of Miami, Fla., was ahead on points when referee Jack Hart stopped the fight at the end of the fourth round at Harringway Arena because of a two-inch cut over the American's left eye.

London had butted Pastrano in the fourth. Pastrano, who at 180½ was giving away 17½ lbs., ducked, rode with the punches and slung back with his left.

But he lacked the power to deliver a decisive blow on London's big, inviting chin, and London hit his eye twice more before the fight was halted.

Pastrano wept and his manager, Angelo Dundee, was furious over the decision.

"How can the referee tell whether my boy's hurt," said Dundee. "He ain't no doctor."

But under British rules, the referee need not consult a doctor.

Gators Get Look At Single Wing

GAINESVILLE (UPI)—The University of Florida, boosted by the return of fullback Sonny Giles from the injured list, again planned to concentrate today on defending UCLA's single wing offensive.

The Gators returned from a two-day rest Tuesday and got their first good look at the UCLA power formation as interpreted by the freshmen. And Coach Bob Woodruff said the varsity needs to become a lot more familiar with the single wing before taking on the Bruins in Los Angeles Oct. 10.

Giles' return to the lineup gave the Gators badly needed strength at fullback. The highly regarded Jacksonville sophomore suffered an injured knee a month ago and has not played yet.

Running Expected To Highlight Tilt

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Fans can expect a lot of top running Saturday night when hard-running Florida State tangles with undefeated Wake Forest.

Wake Forest's Neil MacLean at fullback holds the number five national spot with 182 yards on 66 carries.

Hurricanes Prep For Baylor Game

CORAL GABLES (UPI)—The University of Miami planned another rugged scrimmage session today in preparation for its Saturday night battle with Baylor in Waco, Tex.

Coaches announced Tuesday that three sophomores and one junior will make up the starting backfield for the Hurricanes in their comeback effort after last week's loss to Wisconsin.

Junior quarterback Fran Curel and sophomore fullback Frank Bouffard will return to their starting positions.

Neil Fleming and Doug Travis will start at the two halfback spots. Capt. Joe Pivani and Byron Blalock were dragged back to second string Tuesday.

CHICAGO (UPI)—Golf Digest magazine has named Bob Goalby of Belleville, Ill., its "golf rookie of 1956." Goalby, 27, won one tournament and was in the top five in three others to earn more than $10,000 in his first year on the tour.

Series Starts; Game Toss-up

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — The Braves or the Yankees? That's the baseball question of the day as the 1958 World Series opened in this home of the defending champions — the Milwaukee Braves.

But can they down those once proud and mighty New York Yankees again? The official odds makers say they can't do it, and so did 35 of the 48 baseball writers polled by United Press International.

The answer could be seven games away. They met today in the first of the games which will tell the story and the managers of the two clubs led with their left-handed pitching best.

For the Braves it was Warren Spahn and for the Yankees it was Whitey Ford. They are about as good as they come.

And because these two southeastern teams were going against each other in the opening game of the World Series for the second time in a row, the professional odds makers made it a "pick 'em game." But over the long haul in this best-of-seven Series, the "city slickers" from the big town were 13-10 over the "country bicks" from Milwaukee who took them in seven games last year.

Managers Confident

Last year Ford beat Spahn, 3-1, in the opener at New York, where the Series will shift for the third game on Saturday — with Friday a day off for travel. But the Braves, with right-hander Lew Burdette winning three games, came from behind to take it all.

Perhaps thinking back to that manager Fred Haney of the Braves chose Spahn over Burdette again. And perhaps, thinking back, too, Casey Stengel of the Yankees called on his "platoon" to try and get his club off in front again.

Braves Pick Themselves To Take Series In Five

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—The Milwaukee Braves pick themselves to win in five.

That was the consensus of Milwaukee players today shortly before they went out to meet the American League champion Yankees in the opening game of the 1958 World Series.

First baseman Frank Torre put it this way:

"Most of us think we'll win it in five because we're a much stronger ball club than we were last year."

"You can say that again," piped the shortstop Johnny Logan, dressing in his next locker. "and you can put me down for five games, too."

Torre let Logan have his say and then continued:

"I've never played with a club that has so much confidence as this one," he said. "They're real loose and relaxed. We're not rocky or anything like that, but we feel we're the boss this time, not the Yankees."

"Look around this clubhouse. Do you see one guy with a worried look?"

There wasn't one. Most of them were bantering light-heartedly, and by their casualness one might get the idea they were going out to meet the Yankees in a spring exhibition game at Bradenton, Fla., rather than in a Series for baseball's richest prize of all.

"Why should we be the ones to worry?" asked Lew Burdette. "We proved we could lick 'em last year and now it's up to them to try and catch us. If there's any pressure, it certainly is on them."

Logan offered the thought the Yankees might be pressing a bit in an all-out effort to get out in front fast.

"You watch and see how they'll do anything they can to try and grab a run or two in the first and second innings," said the Milwaukee shortstop. "They'd like nothing better than to have us chasing them. If the Yanks don't score in the first three or four innings today, take a look over at their bench and notice how Casey Stengel will start to fidget."

Both managers expressed confidence — Haney promising $3,000,000 parading fans in a Milwaukee civic welcome to the Braves Tuesday night that "we're going to give you another world's championship."

But Stengel was just as sure the Yankees — who never have lost two World Series in a row — were not going to change their habits now.

Worried Over Injuries

Both managers pronounced their clubs in fine shape. But they were whistling in the dark.

So much so that Haney said he probably would start Felix Mantilla, a utility man who never played the outfield before the sea-

Seminoles Work For Apopka Game

The Sanford Seminoles will attempt to regain their winning form Friday night when they travel to Apopka, another aridiron opponent which is "loaded" this season.

Sanford, with a 1-1 record, will be the underdog for the second week in a row. A host of returning lettermen and reserve bench strength make Apopka the favorite. Too, the home field will be in Apopka's favor.

The Seminoles emerged from the Seabreeze contest minus any serious injuries. The Sandcrabs last Friday night proved the value of a strong bench in its 13-0 victory over the Sanford squad.

Coach Jim Pigott this week is attempting to polish the offense, which found the going almost impossible against Seabreeze. The Seminoles will face another big line and a mobile backfield in their Friday night game with Apopka.

The passing attack which did not measure up to expectations last Friday night, is getting plenty of attention this week. Attempts to lateral the ball during halfbacks and ends in several Seminole fun weeks.

Seabreeze had scouted the Seminoles in their victory over Apopka and was well-prepared. Coach Pigott, however, has been preparing surprises for this game.

The Seabreeze contest was the start of the "heavy" week which faces the Sanford Seminoles in the next several weeks. Usually, the Seminoles look against the Daytona squad, which is being polished this week.

One well-timed play and Seabreeze could have been in check, but the Seminoles were unable to take advantage of a couple of scoring opportunities.

Catches boy the team had one out of its system of Seabreeze.

Junior Seminoles, Leesburg In Draw

The Sanford Junior Varsity traveled to Leesburg last night for its first game of the season and held the Baby Yellow Jackets to a 0-0 tie.

The Seminoles dominated play throughout but were unable to pick up a tally. They held the Jackets to a lone first down while moving on the ground for 11.

The JV's had five drives that looked as though they would score, but penalties prevented them from hitting paydirt. John Mann recovered a fumble and went over the goal line on one occasion but a clipping penalty nullified it. Mann was the outstanding ball carrier for the evening and showed ed a of talent.

From Jerry Dillard also was a surprise with his running as he went for 40 yards but he was called back due to a penalty.

The Sanford line, led by Charlie Fox, Peter Fawley and Johnny Wheeler, made a fine showing on offense and defense, giving the Jackets no deep territory most of the evening and never made a serious threat.

With one under their belts, the JV's should be ready next Wednesday night when they host the Seabreeze JV's.

Schoendienst Says Hurling To Decide Outcome Of Series

By RED SCHOENDIENST
Written For UPI

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—This Series with the Yankees is going to be a pitching Series. It's going to depend on how strong the pitchers are on the particular day they work.

I can't say that we are stronger in hitting, or they have the edge in reserves. Our club is well balanced, and they are, too. I just feel our club is good enough to win again.

As for the Yankees being out to avenge their loss of last year, all I can say is they have a good ball club and we know it. They also know how good we are. I know it will be a good Series because both clubs think they can win.

I don't think we played as good ball this year as we did last year. Last year the injuries didn't hurt us so much and we played better, at least in spurts.

This year the fellows were always getting hurt just as they began to help us. Wes Covington got hurt in the spring before the season even started. Mel Roach got hurt just when he was filling in for us. Last year they brought up Bob Hatle and he was able to stay in there and get hot for us.

Those two good young pitchers, Carl Willey and Juan Pizarro, helped us a lot, but another one, Jopy Jay, was hurt just when he got going good.

Right now we're in pretty good shape. Mickey Mantle and Bill Skowron will help the Yankees, too, this year. But I don't believe their absence last year was what caused us to win the Series. We just won it, that's all.

The fellows on this club know what they have to do and what they can do. We can't be worried about who the Yankees are going to use. We've got to worry about ourselves only.

I don't think it will make any difference in this Series if one club takes the first two games or any other kind of edge.

It's the best four out of seven, whether it's the first four or the last four.

Top Grid Teams Favored To Take Saturday Games

NEW YORK (UPI) — The nation's 10 top-ranked college football teams will win their Saturday games—most of them with ease—if the oddsmakers are right.

In their weekly quotations, the oddsmakers made top-ranked Oklahoma a 21-point choice to whip visiting Oregon.

Michigan State, ranked second this week by the United Press International board of coaches, is a 13-point favorite for its Big Ten clash with Michigan at East Lansing. Third-ranked Ohio State also is a stout favorite, rating a 21-point bulge over Washington at Columbus.

Fourth-ranked Auburn is so heavily favored for its game with Chattanooga that the oddsmakers look the contest off their boards.

The price-makers put seventh-ranked Wisconsin's game with Marquette, eighth-ranked Iowa's game with the Air Force Academy and 10th-ranked Mississippi's Saturday night meeting with Trinity (Tex.) in the same category.

Fifth-ranked Army is favored over Penn State by 10 points for their East feature, sixth-ranked Notre Dame is a 7-point choice for its visit to Southern Methodist and ninth-ranked Pittsburgh is favored by the same margin for its visit to Minnesota.

Washington State is favored by 7 for its clash with California in Saturday's nationally televised game.

The oddsmakers rate the North Carolina State-Virginia game one of Saturday's closest, calling it a toss-up.

Illinois is favored over Duke by 8, Purdue over Rice by 7, West Virginia over Indiana by 7, Northwestern over Stanford by 14, Baylor over Miami (Fla.) by 1 and Texas A and M over Missouri by 6 in other intercollegiate games.

East: Brown over Yale by 7, Holy Cross over Syracuse by 5, Cornell over Harvard by 13, Dartmouth over Pennsylvania by 13, Princeton over Columbia by 13, and Navy over Boston University by 14.

South: Virginia Tech over William and Mary by 2, Clemson over Maryland by 5, Georgia over South Carolina by 5, Vanderbilt over Alabama by 4, Wake Forest over Florida State by 8, Mississippi State over Tennessee by 8 and Georgia Tech over Tuamne by 9.

Midwest: Nebraska over Iowa State by 2, Colorado over Kansas by 7, and Houston over Cincinnati by 8.

Southwest: Texas over Texas Tech by 11 and Texas Christian over Arkansas by 10.

West: Oregon State over UCLA by 3, and Southern California over North Carolina by 7 in a Friday night game.

Pastrano Defeated By British Champ

LONDON (UPI)—After years of frustration, European heavyweights are on the comeback trail. Linger Willie Pastrano became the latest victim of Europe's re-emerged heavies Tuesday night when bulky British champion Brian London beat him on a disputed technical knockout.

It was the third straight upset of high-rated fighters by Europeans in less than three weeks. European champion Ismael Johansson knocked out Eddie Machon, then No. 1 challenger, Sept. 14, and last week Willie Beamanoff knocked out eighth-rated Alex Stieff of Argentina.

Pastrano, of Miami, Fla., was ahead on points when referee Jack Hart stopped the fight at the end of the fifth round at Harrington Arena because of a two-inch cut over the American's left eye.

London had butted Pastrano in the fourth. Pastrano, who at 185 was giving away 17½ lbs., ducked, rode with the punches and stung back with his left.

But he lacked the power to deliver a decisive blow on London's big, inviolable chin, and London hit his eye twice more before the fight was halted.

Pastrano wept and his manager, Angelo Dundee, was furious over the decision.

"How can the referee tell whether my boy's hurt," said Dundee. "He ain't no doctor."

But under British rules, the referee need not consult a doctor.

Gators Get Look At Single Wing

GAINESVILLE (UPI)—The University of Florida, boosted by the return of fullback Sonny Giles from the injured list, again planned to concentrate today on defending UCLA's single wing offense.

The Gators returned from a two-day rest Tuesday and got their first good look at the UCLA power formation as interpreted by the freshmen. And Coach Bob Woodruff said the variety needs to become a lot more familiar with the single wing before taking on the Bruins in Los Angeles Oct. 10.

Giles' return to the lineup gave the Gators badly needed strength at fullback. The highly regarded Jacksonville sophomore suffered an injured knee a month ago and has not played yet.

Running Expected To Highlight Tilt

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Fans can expect a lot of top running Saturday night when hard-rushing Florida State tangles with undefeated Wake Forest.

Bobby Renz, Florida State halfback, ranks third nationally in rushing with 196 yards on 22 carries.

Wake Forest's Neil MacLean at fullback holds the number five national spot with 182 yards on 66 carries.

The Seminoles held a full-team scrimmage Tuesday with guard Terry Moran shining on defense.

Hurricanes Prep For Baylor Game

CORAL GABLES (UPI)—The University of Miami planned another rugged scrimmage session today in preparation for its Saturday night battle with Baylor in Waco, Tex.

Coaches announced Tuesday that three sophomores and one junior will make up the starting backfield for the Hurricanes in their comeback effort after last week's loss to Wisconsin.

Junior quarterback Fran Ouel and sophomore fullback Frank Bouffard will return to their starting positions.

Neil Fleming and Doug Davis will start at the free halfback spots. Capt. Joe Plavel and Byron Blasho were dropped back to second string Tuesday.

Top Rookie Named

CHICAGO (UPI)—Gold Digest magazine has named Bob Goaly of Belleville, Ill., its "gold rookie of 1958." Goaly, 27, won one tournament and was in the top five in three others to earn more than $10,000 in his first year on the tour.

Church Planning To Take Part In Witnessing Week

Plans for the Sanford Nazarene Church to take part in the denomination goal of reaching one million people with a personal testimony and invitation during a "Week of Witnessing", October 5-12, were announced here this week.

Rev. R. H. Spear Jr., pastor, said the local church will endeavor to bring 3 "vital Christian witnesses" to at least 500 persons, or more than four times its membership.

Attractive four-page folders in gold and black will be given out during the campaign. These bear the title: "You Are One in a Million!"

The folder tells how Nazarenes around the world will be "witnessing" to salvation through Christ during the week. "We are doing this because we love Christ and are interested in you," the folder states.

On the back is an invitation to the anniversary Sunday morning service, Oct. 12.

Each pastor will report by telephone to some leaders the number of persons witnessed to during the week and also attendance in church on Oct. 12.

One church leader summarized the week of witnessing as follows: "As a denomination, we are endeavoring to show our concern for the lost here at home. Fittingly enough, it comes between our two great $1,000,000 Easter and Thanksgiving offerings for world missions." Nazarenes gave $1,023,000 last Easter for world missions.
