By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

Miss Seminole County Molly Scott Pesce has won the preliminary talent contest at the Miss Florida Pageant assuring herself a place among the 10 top finalists competing for the title Saturday night.

The event will be held at the Bob Carr Performing Arts Centre in Orlando.

The vivacious brunette, who aspires to a career in show business, won the talent portion with her rendition of Cabaret.

She has completed the interview portion and the Thursday night swimsuit competition and will vie for honors in the evening gown competition tonight. She will wear an a form-fitting electric blue gown covered with blue sequins and bugle beads.

Miss Pesce participated in the Miss Florida Pageant last year as "Miss Apopka," and ended up in the top 10 finalists then and won the talent portion. She also took part in the Miss Florida USO Show last year.

The winner of the Miss Florida Pageant will compete in the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City, N.J., in September.

A 1981 graduate of Lake Brantley High School and a 1985 graduate of the University of Florida, she majored in theater performance and studied voice.

While at Lake Brantley, Miss Pesce sang with Spectrum and at UCF sang with the Jazz Troupe.

She lives with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Louis Pesce of 1307 Hickory Drive, Longwood (Forest City).

"She's excited," Mrs. Pesce said, "but she's a professional as far as her talent is concerned and for that's the most important part."

Prior to singing professionally in convention shows with an area band, The Breeze, she toured the United States and Europe for a year as a soloist with the Up With People performing group.

She recently received good reviews for her role in Anything Goes at the University of Central Florida.

She and the other 47 contestants will be vying for $46,000 in scholarships. The pageant, which began Wednesday, will conclude Saturday night. The program will begin at 8 p.m. It is open to the public. For ticket information, call Dale Saville at 862-2311.

6 Residences Fail Housing Code Tests

By Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer

Although the violations are termed minor, Sanford inspectors say housing code standards are not fully met at any of the six residences they have visited during the first phase of their city commission directed survey of downtown Sanford's 83 multi-family dwellings.

The inspections, which began last week, are being conducted by Sanford building, police and fire department representatives. Once inspections and follow-up surveys are complete at the 83 downtown structures, the inspection program may be extended to encompass all of Sanford's multi-unit dwellings, City Engineering and Planning Director Bill Simmons said.

"If we're finding these problems in a given area, I have to believe they exist elsewhere," Simmons said.

To varying degrees, inspections of the six structures have indicated non-compliance with standard housing codes, as well as those involving the safety upgrades that were to have been complete as of last October, under terms adopted when the downtown district was rezoned from multi-family to single family residential in 1983.

The cited infractions involve inoperative or improperly installed smoke detectors, minor structural deterioration, improper storage of flammable liquids, improper electrical wiring, lack of fire extinguishers and the possible lack of a required firewall, Simmons said.

Follow-up inspections at the six residences have been scheduled, while surveys of the remaining 77 multi-family units are slated to continue throughout the summer.

Follow-up visits will be conducted at whichever structures it is deemed necessary, and if measures are not taken to amend cited shortcomings, the matters will be turned over to the city's code enforcement board for action, City Building Official Gary Winn said.

According to Simmons, "Not one of the six buildings totally passed inspection, although there are no problems that I think will be terribly expensive to fix or are extremely hazardous."

Congress Passes $955 Billion Budget

By Elaine S. Povich

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress approved a nearly $1 trillion fiscal 1987 budget early today that curbs military spending and reduces the deficit without extra taxes, but few lawmakers liked the measure, which President Reagan called "acceptable."

One by one, budget leaders and their colleagues rose to faintly praise the $995 billion spending plan, conceding over and over that it was the best Congress could do. Few of them were more than mildly pleased with the outcome.

The budget allows $292.2 billion for military spending next year, splitting the difference between the House and Senate budgets but sharply rejecting Reagan's request for $320 billion.

The military budget represents a 2 percent increase for the Pentagon in fiscal year 1987 over fiscal year 1986 vs. the 8.2 percent increase Reagan had sought.

The budget, taking into account Reagan's total rejection of new taxes, calls for no more revenues than those Reagan will accept, but allows increases in spending — up to $4.8 billion — if the president either calls for new taxes to pay for the extra spending or persuades Congress to cut from other areas.

"We can't do any more than Congress will let us or the president will support," said Senate Budget Committee Chairman Pete Domenici, R-N.M. "I have concluded unequivocally that it is better to produce this budget resolution than not to have one at all."

White House spokesman Larry Speakes said the president "finds the overall conference agreement generally acceptable" but is unhappy with the way it "would alter the president's priorities."

"For example," said Speakes, "it cuts too much from defense and international affairs... (and) increases domestic spending by more than the president recommended."

But the fact it "does not call for a tax increase" pleased Reagan, said Speakes.

The Senate gave the budget, which does not require the president's signature, final congressional approval on a voice vote just after midnight with few senators in the chamber. Final approval came only minutes after the House passed the compromise budget, 333-43.

Congress then went on a two-week Independence Day recess.

Senate GOP leader Robert Dole of Kansas, opted not to read his statement of what he called "mild support" for the budget, saying he preferred instead to "sneak it into the (printed) record."

The budget, written by a House-Senate conference committee that approved it earlier in the evening, was drawn to meet the Gramm-Rudman balanced budget law requiring no more than a $144 billion deficit next fiscal year, which begins Oct. 1. The budget came in at $142.6 billion.

But Sen. Ernest Hollings, D-S.C., warned that the budget was not good enough to avoid automatic budget cuts this fall under Gramm-Rudman because new economic estimates would push the deficit up. Gramm-Rudman requires that, if the deficit target is not met, automatic budget cuts take effect.

At the same time, Hollings conceded that "since the president was adamant and wouldn't give at all (on taxes) there wasn't much the conferees could do."

Peppered with questions by Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio, Domenici acknowledged the agreement was no assurance against mandatory budget cuts later this year.

"The answer is very simple," Domenici said. "In one word: No."

Domenici said, however, that money withheld probably would be less than if Congress failed to approve a budget.

Speeders Beware, Do Double Nickel

Troopers To Work Speeders Overtime

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

Florida Highway patrol troopers in Seminole County and the state will be working on time-and-a-half pay this summer just to nail speeders.

Starting today and continuing through Sept. 1, troopers who want to participate in the federal overtime pay program will work their normal eight hour shifts then put in two hours each day just looking for drivers exceeding the 55 mph limit, said FHP spokesman Randy Harper.

Ten troopers will be working overtime in Seminole County through the summer and 25 troopers in Orange County.

The federal program also provides funds for the purchase of new VASCAR speed timing devices to be installed in FHP patrol cars.

"This program, Intensified Speed Limit Enforcement, will allow the patrol an additional 34,700 manhours of enforcement to the existing force of troopers during the historically dangerous summer months, said

Colonel Bobby R. Burkett, director of the patrol.

June, July and August are the highest traffic fatality months of the year, according to FHP records.

"It's a time of year when 'there are people all over the place,'" said Harper.

"The additional enforcement resource will be a valuable tool during a time when schools are out and our summer visitor population is high. This program was planned so that it would

Unhappy, Lake Mary OKs 911 Agreement

Lake Mary city commissioners reluctantly entered into interlocal agreements with Seminole County to be part of an emergency assistance telephone system during a Thursday night special called commission meeting. Five other Seminole cities and the county sheriff's department are expected to join in the system.

The agreements are for participation in the county's E-911 Emergency telephone system. One agreement deals with municipality street names and numbers to avoid duplication for smooth emergency service response, and the second agrees for the procurement of needed

AT&T Employees End Nationwide Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Members of AT&T's largest union are ending their 26-day strike against the telecommunications giant, with both sides praising the proposed settlement.

"Both sides win," said Herb Linnen, spokesman for American Telephone & Telegraph Co. "We are glad the strike is over and we will be glad to get everyone back on the job."

Rozanne Weissman, spokeswoman for the Communication Workers of America, announced the tentative agreement Thursday afternoon and said rank-and-file members would return to work today "after successfully concluding negotiations at all AT&T divisional unit tables."

Employees will begin voting on the tentative settlement shortly, with the results expected to be announced by Aug. 4, said Weissman.

Shearson Lehman Indicted

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Shearson Lehman Brothers Inc. has been indicted on charges of laundering money from a five-state sports betting ring allegedly run by a company sales manager and the son-in-law of former Mayor Frank Rizzo.

The indictment, handed down Thursday by a federal grand jury, claims the brokerage firm, one of the nation's largest, laundered $1.3 million from a gambling syndicate with reported ties to organized crime.

During its peak, between 1982 and 1985, the ring collected about $1 million a week in bets, the indictment said.

New York-based Shearson denied the charges, believed to be the first of its kind against a brokerage house. If convicted, Shearson faces a maximum $16.5 million in fines.

Rizzo's son-in-law, Joseph Mastronardo Jr., and Herbert Cantley, 46, a former sales manager of Shearson's Philadelphia office, were indicted along with five other men.

House To Hear Impeachment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An indignant House Judiciary Committee has voted to impeach federal Judge Harry Claiborne for not resigning despite imprisonment for tax evasion, and the measure now goes to the House floor.

"We have a spectacle of a federal judge sitting in prison drawing his salary," Rep. Robert Kastenmeier, D-Wis., declared Thursday during debate on four articles of impeachment.

"Judge Claiborne raises arrogance and contempt to an art form," Rep. Romano Mazzoli, D-Ky., said.

All 35 members of the panel voted for impeachment, and no one argued in Claiborne's defense. The measure may be taken up by the House in late July.

Suspended Judge Charged

NEW YORK (UPI) — A suspended judge — who is still drawing his $71,000 annual salary — has been indicted on charges he hired thugs to rape elderly tenants, hoping to force the seniors out of a building he owns so he could raise rents.

Samuel Weinberg, 61, was accused Thursday in an indictment in U.S. District Court in Brooklyn.

Graham Vetoes Drug Education, Fishing License Bills

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — At the request of sponsors, Gov. Bob Graham has vetoed a bill creating a drug and alcohol abuse program in state schools.

Although he rejected the measure Thursday as flawed, Graham then asked Commissioner of Education Ralph Turlington to develop the program called for in the bill.

Graham also vetoed a bill authorizing 10-day out-of-state fishing licenses. That technically-incorrect bill will be replaced by a second bill creating the license and adopted during the Legislature's special session.

Graham said the veto of the drug and alcohol program bill was requested by the bill's sponsors, Rep. Anne MacKenzie, D-Fort Lauderdale, and Sen. Tom McPherson, D-Fort Lauderdale.

The bill (CS-SB 115) would have required the Department of Education and the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles to prepare a drug and alcohol abuse education program emphasizing the dangers of driving under the influence.

$53.3 Million Drug Bust Reported

PORT MAYACA (UPI) — Federal agents and police searched today for three men who escaped during a cocaine offloading operation raid that netted nearly a half-ton, or $53.3 million worth, of the drug.

Three of six men involved in the offloading were arrested north of Port Mayaca early Thursday by Martin County sheriff's deputies, who were tipped off about a plane flying low in the area. Three men remained at large.

Charged with possession of cocaine, trafficking in cocaine, and conspiracy to traffic in cocaine in excess of 400 grams were Orlando Arenas, 49, a Colombian living in Miami; Jose Oberto Enriquez, 36, a Cuban living in Hollywood, Fla.; and Lazaro Fernandez, 29, a Cuban residing in Miami, according to authorities.

Informant's Tip Leads To Arrest

An informant who singled out a suspected "rock" cocaine dealer to Sanford police brought about the arrest of a 35-year-old Sanford man who allegedly had about 20 grams of cocaine in his possession at the time of the arrest at 7:20 p.m. Wednesday.

When police spotted the suspect he was on a porch at Seventh Street and Cypress Avenue. Police said he stepped off the porch and turned over a bucket, in which they found cocaine.

Ethlingor Wilzo Warren of 720 Cypress Ave., #1, has been charged with possession of cocaine. He was being held without bond.

POT & PAPERS IN PACK
Sanford police who reported spotting cigarette rolling papers and some hand rolled marijuana cigarettes in a paper pack in the possession of a Sanford man charged the suspect with possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana and drug paraphernalia.

The arrest was made on Seventh Street at Cypress Avenue at 4:41 p.m. Wednesday. The suspect was also arrested on a warrant charge.

Joseph Charles Baker, 25, of 701 E. Eighth St., Sanford, has been released on $750 bond to appear in court July 9.

allegedly creating a disturbance at the Village Inn, U.S. Highway 17-92, Sanford, at about 2:15 a.m. Thursday, was also charged with corruption by threat.

The man allegedly threatened a Seminole County sheriff's deputy who was making the arrests after the two men had reportedly argued with restaurant employees.

Kenneth Todd Fillingier, 24, of 2825 Magnolia Ave., Sanford, has been released on bond. Charged with disorderly intoxication along with Fillingier was James William Slaughter of the same address. His bond was set at $100.

ARMED ROBBERY ARREST
A clerk from the Tennesse, 1800 S. French Ave., Sanford, picked a suspected armed robber from a Sanford police photo lineup. That brought the arrest of a man, who allegedly robbed that store, on an armed robbery charge.

Andra Larf Williams, 19, of 2211 W. 13th St., Sanford, was arrested at the police station at 5:15 p.m. Wednesday. He was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Insurance Reform Bill Becomes Law

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Ignoring threats of widespread pullouts of insurance companies from Florida, Gov. Bob Graham signed into law the sweeping measure to reduce the costs of commercial liability insurance and cap civil injury awards.

"It secures for Florida greater predictability in insurance availability and cost and results in the courtroom," Graham said Thursday as he signed the reform package. "We can have confidence in this insurance bill based on our shared common experience of prudence and fairness and our expectations of an even more just and prosperous Florida."

Graham said he signed the bill despite the "apprehension and misgivings of many thoughtful Floridians" over the civil justice reforms it contains.

"I have concluded that the circumstances of restricted availability and escalating commercial insurance costs warrant the reforms in insurance regulation and the civil justice system," Graham said.

He noted those reforms will automatically be repealed and reviewed by the Legislature in four years, and that the effects of the reforms will be studied by a review panel made up of the presidents of the three Florida universities that have law schools. Those schools are Florida State University, the University of Miami, and the University of Florida.

The bill (SB 465) dominated the 1986 session, and was not passed until legislative leaders hammered out an agreement in the final hours of the session's last day.

It calls for an immediate freeze on commercial liability premiums, and will roll back commercial insurance rates 40 percent on Oct. 1.

The bill will further reduce rates, back to January 1984 levels, on Jan. 1, 1987. Insurance companies will then have to justify any rate increases to the insurance commissioner.

The bill also prohibits excess profits, and gives the insurance commissioner the power to order refunds to customers who have been overcharged. It requires companies to give advance notice before raising rates or canceling a policy.

equipment for each city to be serviced by the system.

Under terms of the agreement, to be coordinated by Seminole County and its sheriff's department, and the cities of Altamonte Springs, Casselberry, Oviedo, Sanford, Winter Springs, and Lake Mary, those participating will pay for the costs of equipment installation and start-up, and be reimbursed by the county.

Lake Mary will receive $43,780 in reimbursements from the county for the cost of equipping the police department to receive E-911 calls, but city commissioners were "not happy" about a provision in the agreement allowing the county to have the final say in any dispute that may arise over terms of the agreement.

The portion of the agreement the commission objected to read: "All... conflicts shall be determined by the governing body of the county, whose decisions shall be final and conclusive unless reconsidered and amended."

Lake Mary Mayor Dick Fess said he preferred the wording changed to "All... conflicts shall be determined by the governing body of the county and municipalities involved, whose decisions shall be final and conclusive unless reconsidered and amended."

Seminole County E-911 Coordinator Roanne Rubin told commissioners Lake Mary is the only municipality to object to the wording, and that only Lake Mary and the City of Sanford have yet to adopt the agreement.

"Does this mean that this commission has no say in (system) decisions?" commissioner Charlie Webster asked.

by the Greater Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, Miss Pesce received $2,000 in scholarship money and $3,000 in prizes and gifts.

Mrs. Pesce said her daughter plans to use the scholarship money for graduate work and eventually sing on the stage in musicals, but everything is on hold until the results of the Miss Florida Pageant are known.

Among her prizes as Miss Seminole were an $800 wardrobe and $200 worth of physical training at Body Re-design in Altamonte Springs. The Miss Seminole Pageant was held in January in the Altamonte Springs Hilton Hotel.

"She has incredible talent for which we can't take any credit," Bob Lewis, executive director of the Greater Seminole County Chamber said, "she was born with that. She has a real good chance Saturday night."

According to her mother, Molly has been singing since she was four-years-old when she kept the other kids in her kindergarten awake at naptime with her impromptu performances.

Dr. and Mrs. Pesce have another daughter waiting in the wings — 14-year-old Susan, a freshman at Lake Brantley High School, who also sings and would like to follow in her sister's footsteps.

Miss Pesce also has a brother, Pete, 25, who works in Apopka.

the near future.

"The Florida Highway patrol is totally committed to the strict enforcement of the 55 MPH speed limit. As a result of that commitment, all available resources, including VASCAR, radar and aircraft will be used extensively."

"Many drivers have a misconception that driving 5 or 10 MPH over the speed limit is permissible. The speed limit is 55 MPH, and vehicles traveling in excess of that speed are in violation of state law and will be dealt with accordingly," Burkett said.

...Budget

House Budget Committee Chairman William Gray, D-Pa., was also mildly satisfied.

"In light of the political realities, in light of the Gramm-Rudman target... I believe this document represents a credible approach and requires sacrifice by each and every one of us," Gray said.

"It's like a mule," said Sen. Lawton Chiles, D-Fla. "It has no pride in its ancestry and no hope for its future children."

But Gray noted a mule is a "hard worker" and said perhaps the budget would work to reduce the deficit.

The budget also:

- Allows a 2 percent cost-of-living increase for Social Security recipients.
- Grants a 3 percent pay raise to military and civilian employees.
- Gives a full cost-of-living raise to civilian and military retirees.
- Freezes most domestic program spending at last year's levels.

Both the House and Senate original budgets had called for $13.2 billion in revenue, about $7.2 billion more than Reagan requested, but differed on how to spend the money — with the House preferring to cut the deficit more and the Senate directing the new money to the military.

involves reduction of wastewater flow by sewer system upgrading, treatment of all effluent to public access quality as defined by D.E.R., and application of effluent onto City owned lands including the airport, golf course and numerous parks. Longer range planning includes making the renovated effluent available to private properties for irrigation purposes and applications to other public owned properties. Wet weather discharge to St. Johns River/Lake Monroe is necessary for periods when it is too wet to irrigate or when total flows exceed irrigation capacity. The Florida Dept. of Environmental Regulation is expected to perform water quality and wastewater allocation analyses to determine if local weather discharge will be satisfactory on a long range basis. If not, additional land application areas will be developed. The purpose of this public hearing is to present the wastewater management alternatives considered, reasons for selecting the recommended plan, the associated environmental impact, project costs, and the estimated user charges necessary for the implementation of the plan. The hearing will provide interested parties an opportunity to better understand the project and grant interested citizens, environmental groups, and representatives from local and state agencies the opportunity to ask questions and express opinions regarding the alternatives studied and the recommended plan. Practicing Media Medicine

A dying patient, whose only hope is an organ transplant, needs more than a good surgeon these days. He needs a hospital with a good public relations department.

Baby Jesse is only the latest example. Loma Linda University Medical Center, one of the most adept at capturing the national eye with its infant heart-transplant program, unfolded Jesse's saga for us on prime time. First, the hospital rejected the defective newborn as a heart-transplant candidate because it felt his unwed parents couldn't care for him after the operation. Then Jesse seemed to dodge nature's death sentence when his grandparents took custody of him and the hospital relented, giving the green light for surgery. And as millions of television viewers watched, Jesse's parents learned on the Phil Donohue talk show that a Michigan couple had donated the heart of its brain-dead baby to Jesse.

Then Baby Calvin made his public debut. He had been on the waiting list for a heart transplant a week longer than Jesse, and his condition was rapidly deteriorating. Because his parents chose anonymity and the Kosair Children's Hospital in Kentucky relied on a standard organ-procurement network, Calvin was passed over — though, fortunately, his plight was soon remedied with a press conference. A donor heart was quickly located.

As it was with a handful of other infants and children needing organ transplants, the media became the patient's best advocate. And that's not all bad, of course. The hitch is that newspapers and television only focus on a few patients, whose surgery usually involves the riskiest, most experimental forms of organ transplants. Thousands of others, the more routine cases, never attract media attention. They and their families suffer no less anguish. It's just that we don't know about them.

Congress knows about them. Two years ago, it mandated a computerized national network for matching donor organs. But last week, Sens. Albert Gore, Jr., D-Tenn., and Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., complained that the Reagan administration has been slow in implementing the law.

It's time to do better. Federal health officials have received a proposal from an agency willing to set up a national organ-donor information system, and, barring any glaring problems, it should be accepted. Lives have been needlessly lost because existing organ-donor lists are only regional. The administration also should move more quickly to distribute the $2.5 million that Congress earmarked for local agencies to improve assistance to patients seeking donated organs.

Since many severe handicaps among newborns result from low birth weights and premature delivery, health officials should strongly support prenatal care programs for all pregnant women. That could reduce the demand for infant organ transplants.

We're happy for Baby Jesse and Baby Calvin, but we're unhappy with a system that relies on Phil Donohue to find an organ donor. America can do better.

BERRY'S WORLD

"I have to give up insider trading for a while. It looks as if I may become an insider of a different kind."

DICK WEST

The Pride That Goeth Before Statehood

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sun Belt pride may be a powerful emotion but I remind the honorable senators that America has 49 other states besides New Mexico.

When Sen. Pete Domenici of Albuquerque introduces a resolution putting the majesty of the United States behind "New Mexico Is a State Day," it raises more questions than it answers.

For one: Do we also need a "Massachusetts Is a State Day," an "Illinois Is a State Day," an "Alaska Is a State Day," a "South Carolina Is a State Day" and so on down the line?

I certainly hope not, for it might mean the Senate would have little time for anything save approving resolutions.

The Domenici resolution, as duly noted in the Congressional Record, "was considered and agreed to" on the same day the Senate adopted a resolution designating a "National Nuclear Medicine Week."

That shows you how busy senators have been this year.

Questions about New Mexico's statehood were raised by a Treasury official in a letter published here, incidentally, on the same day that news of "insider" trading at the Commerce Department came to light.

Could there be any profit in knowing in advance that the Treasury Department was about to question whether New Mexico was really a part of the United States?

You can draw your own conclusions about that.

Anyway, under a letterhead of the Bureau of the Public Debt, David Cargo, a former governor, was told to send in two forms "if you are not a citizen of the United States, but a citizen of New Mexico."

In reply, Cargo insisted that New Mexico had been part of the United States since it was admitted to the Union in 1912.

Although a spokesman was quoted as saying the Treasury letter was a mistake, I personally am inclined to go along with the position taken by the federal government.

Cargo may not be aware just how lucky he was.

The ex-governor could have been ordered to show up for a tax audit, bearing all pertinent documents and records.

It was "Section 1441 of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended" that apparently brought Cargo to the Treasury's attention in the first place.

If the Internal Revenue Service, a branch of the Treasury Department, ruled that New Mexico was not a state for income tax purposes, would he still have objected?

Anyone whose address "is in the New Mexico" is automatically suspect, I should think, and certainly Cargo was poorly served by his response.

He noted that New Mexico "is located equidistant between Texas and Arizona" and that "Colorado borders on the north."

While Cargo, a lawyer by trade, might be geographically correct, I certainly would hate to be a defendant in a tax case with him choosing the character witnesses.

Texas and Colorado would be a strange choice for corroboration, and Arizona, which also was granted statehood in 1912, might give biased testimony. Or at least its evidence could be attacked on those grounds on appeal.

Computer Monitors Breathing

By Deltha Richs
UPI Science Writer

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — An ancient myth told of the plight of Undine, a nymph condemned to a life of sleeplessness out of fear she would stop breathing while asleep and die. Modern science calls it sleep apnea.

The ailment — an interruption of breathing during sleep — also is known as "Undine's Curse," and it afflicts a large number of middle-aged, overweight men, many who unknowingly suffer the condition.

"Snoring is the most common symptom of sleep apnea, which is characterized by lapses between breaths for as long as 20 to 40 seconds at a time during sleep, several hundred times a night," says Donald Johns, director of the Sleep Disorders Clinic at the San Gabriel Valley Medical Center.

"Sleep apnea goes all the way back to Greek mythology," Johns said. "We're finally getting the upper hand on it by diagnosing those who didn't even know they were affected."

The condition also has been diagnosed in infants who can be aroused from lapses in breathing by being shaken, an action that doctors say awakens the baby and forces the brain to message the lungs to begin functioning again.

Sleep apnea in the case of infants is the cause of sudden infant death syndrome, for which there is no known cure.

The condition now is being diagnosed with the help of a computer and electrodes that monitor patients at home while they sleep.

The monitoring system was designed by medical and computer specialists at the Stanford University Sleep Disorders Clinic in Palo Alto, a center that long has been a world leader in the study of sleep disorders, Johns said.

The computer, in use at several medical centers around the country, is among the most accurate of devices capable of monitoring the sometimes life-threatening disorder, Johns explained.

The system uses a mesh halter to which electrodes are affixed and stuck on the chests of patients to measure a series of vital functions, including the length of time between breaths.

The halter and electrodes are placed on the patient at the clinic and worn home. At night, while the patient sleeps, the electrodes are plugged into a small box that records the patient's sleep patterns.

"The system measures heart rate, lung function, oxygen saturation in the blood and paradoxing which is the opposite movement of chest and abdomen," Johns said.

Odds Given On Mexico's Collapse

By Jack Anderson
And
Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — The CIA has told President Reagan there's at least a 1-in-5 chance that the Mexican government will collapse within the next five years.

This alarming judgment was delivered to the White House two years ago, but our CIA sources tell us that, if anything, it was an optimistic appraisal. In the last two years, they point out, Mexico's economic and political problems have grown by quantum leaps as the price of oil has fallen and charges of election fraud have hit the headlines.

The prediction of possible disaster was contained in a highly classified National Intelligence Estimate — the most important appraisal of a country that the intelligence community provides to a president. It represents the best intelligence analysis the president and his top advisers receive before policy decisions are made.

The secret, 35-page intelligence estimate begins mildly enough: "The Mexican political system is under greater stress today than at any time under the last 30 years. Ultimately, of course, the preservation of Mexico's stability will rest on the skill and competence of its leaders and on the strength of its political fabric."

The estimate continued hopefully: "We judge that in the end the Mexican political system is likely to remain intact." Then came the kick in the pants:

"But the majority of the intelligence community principals also judge there is roughly a 1-in-5 chance that during the period of this estimate — through the remainder of President (Miguel) de la Madrid's term, which ends in 1988, and the first few years after his successor is scheduled to take office — centrifugal forces now at work within the system, combined with internal political opposition and perhaps external pressure, will result in the political destabilization of Mexico."

Because National Intelligence Estimates represent the combined view of all U.S. intelligence agencies, dissent is duly noted. In the case of the dire prediction of Mexico's collapse, the majority of the "intelligence community principals" agreed, but five representatives disagreed with the CIA's pessimistic opinion.

Among those who agreed were CIA Director William Casey; Lt. Gen. Lincoln Faurer, then-director of the National Security Agency;

Packwood Money Troubles

RAINIER, Ore. (NEA) — It's every politician's dream — a contest for public office in which the candidate never has to worry about raising enough money to finance the campaign because contributions keep pouring in.

This was the year Sen. Robert Packwood, R-Ore., was to have lived that dream as he made his bid for his fourth term in the Senate, where he serves as chairman of the powerful and prestigious Finance Committee.

Packwood was assured of virtually unlimited funds because his committee was fashioning legislation to drastically overhaul the federal tax code. Wealthy individuals and powerful interest groups considered it judicious to contribute to the chairman.

The senator encouraged that tendency with $1,000-per-person fund-raising parties at some of the nation's poshest hotels. One event at the Century Plaza in Los Angeles produced $500,000 while another at Loew's Anatole in Dallas grossed $315,000.

Money poured in from donors living in wealthy communities far from Oregon — Beverly Hills, Calif.; Boca Raton, Fla.; Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich., and other fashionable addresses.

Money from political action committees totaled $992,000 at the end of March, when the last official count was produced. By now, it surely has surpassed $1 million.

During 1985 and the first three months of 1986, Packwood collected and spent more money than either of the senators from the nation's two most populous states who also are seeking re-election this year.

Packwood received $5.9 million, while Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., raised $4.7 million and Sen. Alfonse D'Amato, R-N.Y., collected $4.6 million. When those figures are adjusted to account for the size of the electorate in each senator's state, Cranston has taken in 24 cents for each potential voter, D'Amato 34 cents — and Packwood $2.91.

What has Packwood done with all that money? More than $15,000 has been used just to buy stakes for yard signs.

Millions of dollars have been spent on direct mail appeals for more money. One mailing fooled even political professionals because it was carefully designed to look like a delivery from a premium-priced courier service.

Disagreeing were Lt. Gen. James A. Williams, Defense Intelligence Agency boss; Hugh Montgomery, head of the State Department's intelligence and research bureau; Gen. William E. Odom, Maj. Gen. James Pfautz and Brig. Gen. Larry Smith, the intelligence chiefs of the Army, Air Force and Marines, respectively. All five have since moved on to other spots.

The dissenters' view was given at length: "While Mexico will experience increased political instability associated with extremely difficult social and economic problems, the probability that these conditions will reach the extreme of political destabilization during the period of this estimate is remote...."

If Ike Could See Us

Possibly no other presidential admonition in modern times has been so widely cited yet so little heeded.

"In the councils of government, we must guard against the acquisition of unwarranted influence, whether sought or unsought, by the military-industrial complex. The potential for disastrous rise of misplaced power exists and will persist."

That is, of course, Dwight Eisenhower speaking in his 1961 farewell address. The disturbing extent to which his concern has been realized is the subject of a current report, "Militarism in America," from the Center for Defense Information, a Washington-based think tank specializing in military policy and headed by retired officers.

To hit the highlights, arms have become big business in this country — arguably the biggest. More than 30,000 private companies are engaged in military production. They do more than $146 billion worth of business per year with the Pentagon, whose myriad agencies award some 15 million contracts a year.

Contractors include both weapons specialists such as General Dynamics and many more firms not usually thought of in the military context — AT&T, IBM and Singer, for examples. In Singer's case, sewing machines have long since become a sideline. The company is deeply into such lethal hardware as Trident and Pershing missiles. Aerospace operations contributed 80 percent of total 1985 revenues, according to the CDI report, compared with 15 percent in 1975.

What's good for Singer's balance sheet is not necessarily good for the economy as a whole. The pursuit of military dollars skews production lines. Other products are neglected. It is a factor in our weakening competitive position in world markets.

Arms have also skewed research and development. Close to 70 cents out of every federal dollar spent to that end now goes to the military.

Universities do about half the military's basic research. In the process, CDI notes, "they are becoming dependent on the Department of Defense as a source of funding and a provider of laboratory equipment that is not easily adaptable to non-military research."

The military also claims a disproportionate share of technological talent, employing almost a third of the country's scientists and engineers.

All this at a time when high-tech competition among the industrial democracies is intensifying. The President's Commission on Industrial Competitiveness has found this country losing ground in seven out of 10 basic technology-oriented industries.

There is also a political dimension to the military-industrial complex. PAC contributions from the 20 largest defense contractors have increased 225 percent since the start of the decade. They totaled $3.6 million in the 1984 campaign.

"Some $440,000 went to members of the Senate Armed Services committee, which authorizes funds for military spending," according to the CDI report.

But not all the pressure to approve arms-related funding comes from PAC men in Washington. Most legislators can expect to hear from their constituents, so widely has the military established itself.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Soviet Cosmonauts Transfer Between Orbiting Space Stations

MOSCOW (UPI) — Two Soviet cosmonauts docked with the Mir space station for the second transfer in history between permanent orbiting space platforms, the official Tass news agency said.

The veteran cosmonaut team of Leonid Kizim and Vladimir Solovyov eased their Soyuz T-15 space craft into one of the six docking ports of the Mir station shortly before midnight Thursday on a return trip from the older Salyut-7 station.

It was the second successful transfer for the two cosmonauts in 52 days.

Kizim and Solovyov, who already hold the space endurance record of 237 days, blasted off from the Salyut-7 space station Tuesday for the chase around the earth with the Mir orbiting platform — their original home on their current mission.

The successful movement between orbiting space stations is considered a key to Soviet hopes of maintaining a permanent manned presence in space.

Ruling Today On Nicaragua Suit

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (UPI) — The World Court, after nine months of deliberation, said it would rule today on Nicaragua's suit charging that the United States has violated international law by supporting the Contra rebels.

The landmark decision by the international panel of 16 judges was anxiously awaited by Nicaragua, which has predicted victory. But the ruling was likely to be ignored by the United States, which walked out on the case last year after arguing unsuccessfully that the court had no jurisdiction.

Nicaragua filed suit with the World Court in April 1984, arguing that U.S. aid to the Contras — the rebels fighting to depose the leftist government in Managua — violated international law.

Rules Tightened In South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — Police tightened the screws of a 16-day-old state of emergency, imposing curfews in 12 areas and forbidding anyone to "play, loiter or aimlessly remain on any public road" in the Kwandebele tribal homeland.

He added, however, the city has no guarantee that certain corrections will remain in place once follow-up surveys have been conducted.

Regarding items such as fire extinguishers and smoke detectors, "The building may be up to regulation when we come back," Simmons said, "but that doesn't ensure these things can't be removed the next day."

The city "can check these buildings, but it doesn't have the manpower to keep re-checking them," Simmons said.

The 83 multi-unit dwellings being canvassed this summer were allowed to continue operation under the 1983 rezoning, contingent on the installation of upgraded safety measures including smoke detectors, stairwell lighting, fire walls and fire extinguishers.

This summer's inspections represent the thorough review commissioners called for in the downtown residential district after a number of its residents said some of the area's multi-family structures are not in compliance with city housing standards.

The run down condition of these "tenements" attracts transients who contribute to the area's crime rate and harass local citizens, the residents said.

The residents' statements regarding harassment have reinforced City Commissioner John Mercer's vehement stand against continued operation of ill-kempt multi-family dwellings.

Mercer's signature was among the more than 100 that area residents collected last spring and presented to the city commission in a call for stringent enforcement of Sanford housing codes in the rezoned area.

Once cited by the city, the multi-family operations could be shut down, to become single family residences, if property owners fail to comply with the 1983 safety requirements.

The inspections could also lead to code enforcement board actions based on noncompliance with any of Sanford's housing, health and fire standards. Failure to correct these cited violations could lead to $250 a day fines for each day the structures remain in violation of city standards after a code enforcement board granted period of time. Extended non-compliance could prompt the city to file a lien against the property to acquire ownership.

The six structures inspected thus far contain 19 living units in total. They are two duplexes, a three-unit apartment and three apartments, with four units each, Simmons said.

The building department is checking for violations of internal and external health and building standards, and for compliance with the 1983 rezoning requirements.

Fire department representatives are also looking into compliance with fire prevention and protection measure called for under the rezoning, and are also surveying the properties compliance with general fire precautions, such as accessibility for fire fighters and proper maintenance of vent systems and heat sources.

Police are surveying the general condition of the structure, checking for the presence of junk vehicles and distributing crime prevention literature.

Pernfors' Star Climbs Higher

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — All it took was one tournament for Mikael Pernfors to understand the perils of stardom.

Until a month ago he was just another tennis player who happened to attend college in the United States.

Then came the French Open where, although unseeded, he reached the final and provided a solid challenge before losing to Ivan Lendl.

Now, although he never has played on grass before, the two-time NCAA champion at the University of Georgia and two-time NCAA JuCo champion at Seminole Community College finds himself the No. 13 seed with a world ranking of 16.

"My life has definitely changed since Paris," Pernfors said with emphasis Wednesday after making his Wimbledon debut a winning one, beating American Mike DePalmer, 2-6, 6-4, 6-4, 7-5. "The couple of days in Paris after Sunday were unbelievable and then the week in Sweden wasn't much better."

Although he would have been unrecognizable even to most tennis fans a few days earlier, the 22-year-old Swede found how quickly his situation could change.

"I couldn't walk on the streets in Paris, something I didn't have any problem with before," he said. "I couldn't walk for 10 seconds without somebody coming up and pulling my arm, wanting autographs, wanting to talk to me and look at me. And I had normal clothes on and sunglasses."

It was suggested his haircut, kind of an overgrown crewcut resembling a his electric brush, was a giveaway to his identity.

"Even if I walked around bald, even if they didn't recognize me as a tennis player, they'd probably still look at me," he said.

When he returned to Sweden, he added, "my phone was ringing off the hook. I had to get a guy to stay with me because I had problems hanging up on people. People called from France — they can't speak English and I can't speak French — so you sit there and talk for five minutes and they don't understand what you're saying."

Pernfors said he also received a lot of telegrams from friends in the United States and that his former coach at Georgia, Dan Magill, told him the people in Athens, Ga., were proud of him.

Although this is his first attempt on grass, Pernfors enjoys the surface and called it "fun to play on. It's not boring or anything because you can do so many things with the ball."

"I'm not going to say it's easy to get used to, but I didn't have that much problem. I guess I play a lot of fast courts in the United States during college, and even though it's very different from that, I feel very comfortable on it."

For now, at least, Pernfors welcomes the extra attention.

"I enjoy the recognition to a certain extent," he said. "I guess that's part of why you do something like this, because you want to be recognized for what you do."

Curt Mull was Seminole County's representative in the first Florida-Georgia All-Star Game last year. Mull will be battling for a starting position on the offensive line of the Georgia Bulldogs this fall.

Southern Steamer: Florida-Georgia II Kicks Off Saturday

Florida-Georgia II, the all-star game between the top prep football players from the two states, is scheduled to kickoff Saturday night at 8 at Orlando Stadium. The game, billed as the Southern Steamer, will benefit Florida Elks Children's Hospital.

General admission tickets are $7.50 with reserved seats, while they last, $10 (between 25 yard lines). Tickets are available at the Bob Carr Box Office in Orlando and the stadium.

Florida won handily last year as Apopka's Sammie Smith and Twin Lakes' Michael Timpson turned in stellar performances in Florida's 23-7 victory.

Smith, who ran for 185 yards while gaining MVP honors, now plays at Florida State and wide receiver Timpson, who broke a long one for a touchdown, went to Penn State. Keith Henderson rumbled for 89 yards for Georgia. He is now a mainstay in the Georgia backfield.

Seminole County is not represented on this year's Florida squad after Lake Brantley's Curt Mull, now at the University of Georgia, started at center on last year's squad. A few players who Seminole County fans may be familiar with include Apopka running back Mike Lowman and linebacker Mark Murray and Orlando Jones offensive lineman Thomas Rayam.

The head coach of the Florida team is Al Werneke of Gainesville Buchholz and the Georgia head coach is Bill Chappell of Dalton High School.

survive without Bo Jackson? Could they survive with him?

A lot of people think Jackson would have made the Bucs an instant winner, maybe 10 games his rookie season. I don't think, however, Bo was capable of playing running back along with about seven defensive positions at the same time.

The Bucs signed their own death warrant several years ago when they let Doug Williams slip away. The only glory the Bucs ever enjoyed came with Williams at the helm. Since Doug's departure, Tampa Bay has played 48 regular season games and won just 10 of them.

There's not much of a chance Bo's new team, the Kansas City Royals, will lose 38 of their next 48 games.

The Orlando Renegades have announced they will host a preseason game with the Jacksonville Bulls on Aug. 29 at Orlando Stadium with kickoff at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $15 for sideline seating and $10 for endzone seating and will be available after Aug. 25.

Wilander's Comeback Drains Castle

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — With emphatic 6-0 shutouts in the decisive fifth set at Wimbledon, Swedes Stefan Edberg and Mats Wilander each showed they can deliver the killing blow while standing on the edge of defeat.

Trailing two sets to one in their second-round matches Thursday, both seeded players responded to necessity.

Wilander, seeded second, defeated Britain's Andy Castle 6-4, 6-7 (3-7), 7-6 (7-0), 4-6, 6-0. Edberg, the fifth seed, struggled past New Yorker Paul Anacone 6-4, 6-7 (3-7), 4-6, 7-5, 6-0.

A second-round match between Boris Becker and Tom Gullikson was halted by darkness with the 18-year-old defending champion leading 6-4, 6-3, 2-2. Becker had fired 15 aces in his 11 service games.

Wilander lost in the opening round of Wimbledon last year and Castle, ranked No. 285 in the world, said he knew the Swede was struggling in the middle of their match.

"Wilander was definitely on the ropes," Castle, who played his junior college tennis at Seminole Community College, said. "He wasn't playing well. I was keeping him thinking on my serve and he was on the run."

But Castle's attacking style was draining his own energy and he was not in condition to keep the pressure on.

"I knew I probably wouldn't be able to win the fifth because I was just too tired. My training was a long time ago," said the 22-year-old who attended Wichita State in Kansas. "The result could have been different if I was fitter."

His opponent agreed.

"I don't think he's used to playing so many tournaments," Wilander said. "In the last set he was definitely tiring. But he has shown he's a great tennis player, he can do everything — he's an athlete. He surprised me with a lot of shots."

Edberg was not so surprised by the strong showing of Anacone, ranked No. 20.

"We shouldn't have met this early in the tournament," said the Australian Open champion, pleased he can win even when not playing well.

"In the last year, I was struggling in a lot of tournaments and I pulled a lot of matches out. Now I realize I can win if I'm not playing too well and I'm down. And that's what happened."

But, in the fifth set, he recaptured his form.

"It changed completely," Edberg said. "I was playing out of my mind. I don't think I missed a ball."

Anacone said of the Swede: "When you give someone like Stefan a little opening, he's going to take advantage of it. Then, when you're ahead and you don't have the pressure, you just hit winners."

With the second round yet to be completed, seven of the men's seeds and six of the women's are gone.

In today's featured matches, top seed Martina Navratilova will meet Jane Forman of Australia and Ivan Lendl, the men's top seed, will play Amos Mansdorf of Israel.

Women's No. 2 seed Chris Evert Lloyd recovered from a difficult second set to score a 6-0, 5-7, 6-1 victory over Pam Casale, who in their four previous meetings had managed to win only 16 games.

Evert Lloyd failed to convert a match point at 5-4, 30-40, netting a backhand. But after dropping the set elevated her game a notch, breaking Casale at 15 in the fourth game of the third set and at love in the sixth.

"The first set and a half I played great," Evert Lloyd said. "Then Pam started getting some balls in the court. She lifted her game a level and it surprised me. I got sloppy and she played aggressively."

Women's No. 9 seed Zina Garrison was upset by Anne Hobbs of England 6-4, 0-6, 6-4, in a second-round match.

Other women's seeds to advance in straight sets were No. 3 Hana Mandlikova, No. 7 Helena Sukova, No. 8 Manuela Maleeva, No. 11 Carling Bassett, and No. 16 Kathy Jordan.

Betsy Nagelsen, who upset fifth-seed Pam Shriver in the first round, won her second match 6-1, 7-6 (7-3) over Lisa Spain-Short.

Men's No. 7 seed Henri Leconte of France beat Colin Dowdeswell 6-1, 6-4, 6-4. No. 12 Brad Gilbert defeated persistent American Mike Leach 7-6 (7-2), 7-6 (7-2), 6-2. No. 13 Mikael Pernfors defeated Andreas Maurer 7-5, 6-2, 4-6, 6-2.

No Australia For Shownda

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

If anything was going to stand in the way of Shownda Martin competing in the International Athletes Exchange, it mostly likely would have been politics. However, as it turned out, it was paperwork that kept the Seminole High junior-to-be home for the summer.

"We misunderstood a letter they (team officials) sent me," Martin said. "We thought I was only supposed to have spending money, but I actually had to raise over $1,700 to be able to go. When I finally found out I needed that much money, it was four days before the trip and that was too late."

The United States team going to the international meet departed earlier this week for Australia. The meet was originally scheduled for Warsaw, Poland but was moved to Australia due to a possible threat of terrorism in Poland.

Martin was to compete in the 800 meters, the event she won last summer at the National Junior Olympic Championships. It was her blistering time of 2:09.5 in the 800 that impressed the people at the International Athletes Exchange who then invited Martin on this summer's trip.

In her competition last summer, Martin said the only money she needed was her own spending money and that all other funds were raised by the Junior Olympics. Martin thought the letter she received indicated that she would need only spending money again this year but, when she realized the letter was misunderstood it was too late to raise the needed funds.

Martin said she will take it easy over the summer after a grueling prep track season in which she helped the Seminole High Lady Seminoles to their first ever 4A State Track and Field Championships.

"I'm going to take it easy and rest up for cross country," Martin said. "I've still got two more years left and I want to make them two good years."

Biondi Completes Record Freestyle Triple

Swimming

ORLANDO (UPI) — Matt Biondi set his second world record in three nights Thursday at the World Championship Trials when he knocked .07 seconds off the 50-meter freestyle mark.

Biondi, 20, a junior at the University of California-Berkeley, became the first U.S. swimmer to win three sprint freestyle races in a major national meet during the fifth day of the trials at the Justus Aquatic Center.

Biondi sped the 50 meters in 22.33, topping Tom Jager's world record (22.40) set last December at the U.S. Open in Austin, Texas. Jager finished second in 22.57.

"I knew I had a shot at the record," said Biondi, who also eclipsed the 100-meter freestyle record Tuesday night and won the 200-meter freestyle Monday night. "When you're in a fast heat like the one tonight, it makes it easier to set a record."

Jager, 21, who beat Biondi by .02 of a second at the National Long Course Championships last August, took the loss hard.

"He beat me at my specialty," said Jager, a recent graduate of UCLA. "Nine times out of 10 that won't happen."

Jager almost didn't make the championship final. Because he also wanted to compete in the 100-meter backstroke Thursday night, he had to qualify for both events Thursday morning in the preliminaries.

Fifteen minutes after qualifying for the 100 backstroke,

Jager had to qualify for the 50 freestyle and came in eighth at 23.50, barely beating out Asa Lawrence (23.52) for the last spot in the championship final.

"I wanted to swim the 100 meter to make the (4x100 medley) relay at the World Championships," said Jager, who failed in his bid after finishing fourth in the championship final.

Three other swimmers won their second events Thursday night. The six-day, long-course meet, used to select swimmers for the World Championships and Goodwill Games, concludes Friday.

Pablo Morales, 21, of Santa Clara, Calif., who broke the men's 100-meter breaststroke record Monday night, bettered the meet record in the 200-meter butterfly with a time of 1:58.42. He topped Craig Beardley's record (1:58.55) set in 1982.

Dan Veatch, 21, of Boca Raton, Fla., winner of the men's 200-meter backstroke Tuesday night, captured the 100-meter backstroke in 56.74, just .03 seconds off the meet record.

Michelle Griglione, 17, of Alexandria, Va., blew away the field in the women's 200-meter individual medley, finishing in 2:15.71. She also won the 400 individual medley Sunday night.

Tami Bruce, 19, a sophomore at the University of Florida, cruised to victory in the women's 800-meter freestyle in 8:30.88, almost 10 seconds faster than her qualifying time.

Oviedo's Andy Gill swam a 57.16 to finish fifth in the 100-meter backstroke.

Chapdelaine, Bass Hurl AWS To 16th Win In Row

Baseball

Kenny Chapdelaine and Kevin Bass combined on a six-hitter as Apopka-West Seminole won its 16th consecutive game with a 5-2 victory over Eustis in Big League baseball at Eustis Thursday night.

Manager Richard Coffey's powerhouse can wrap up the National Division Sunday at Oviedo. Oviedo is 12-2 and a split of the double-header by AWS would sew up the title.

Westgate in the sixth.

"Chap and Kevin both pitched well," Coffey said. "We also got the clutch hit or clutch flyball to drive in the runs."

In the second, Bass doubled to right center and moved to third on a groundout by Mike Brown. Bass then scored on a sacrifice fly to left by Tim Bruehl.

In the fourth, Bass singled to left and moved to third on a single to right field by Brown.

Bruehl again came through with a sacrifice fly to center field to plate the run.

In the fifth AWS pushed across two more for a 4-1 lead. Mark Coffey doubled to left and Brian King's infield single moved Coffey to third. Mike Hinde followed with a sacrifice fly to left to score Coffey and move King to second.

Bass drove home King when the third baseman couldn't come up with his groundball.

Livernois Likes Greensboro, 2.85 ERA

(This is the second in a series on baseball's Major League Dream and Seminole County. Today — Derek Livernois.)

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Unlike this year when major-league baseball scouts descended upon Seminole County in droves and signed five players, there was just one signer a year ago.

Derek Livernois, a righthanded pitcher from Lyman High School, was selected in the 15th round by the Boston Red Sox. Veteran scout George Digby signed him June 4.

Livernois left four days later for Elmira, N.Y. in the New York-Pennsylvania League. A starter his entire career, the Altamonte Springs hurler was placed in the bullpen by the Red Sox. The role of reliever didn't agree with him.

"I think they just went in order of draft picks," Livernois said Wednesday. "The higher picked pitchers were used as starters and the lower picks were the relievers."

Whereas, the banishment to the bullpen didn't set too well with Livernois' pitching ideas, the not-so-bright lights of Elmira weren't doing much for him socially either. He remarked at the time that Elmira would never send too many nominees to the Miss America pageant. Add to that, an Elmira team batting average which resembled a good bowling score.

Despite the distractions — or lack of them — Livernois had a fair season and when he returned to spring training this year, he was enthused and ready to resume his budding career. The next stop on his Major League Dream ladder reinforced Livernois' anticipation for this year. The 19-year-old curveballer was sent to Greensboro, N.C. to pitch for the Greensboro Hornets in the Class A South Atlantic League.

"I love it here," Livernois said about Greensboro. "There's four or five colleges in the area and the town's great. There's lots of things to do."

A return to full-time starter has also endeared the Hornets to Livernois. Manager Doug Camilli is starting Livernois every five days and the former Seminole Pony and Altamonte Little League standout has responded.

Livernois won five of his first seven decisions. Since then, however, he has run into the pitcher's malady — lack of runs. Despite a fine 2.85 earned run average, he has lost his last two decisions and failed to 5-4.

Tuesday's performance has been typical of late. Livernois left the game against Sumter, S.C. with the Hornets holding a 2-1 lead in the seventh inning. His replacement, however, gave up the tying run and when Greensboro finally pulled the game out in the 13th frame, Livernois wasn't involved in the decision.

"The record doesn't really show what's going on," Derek said via telephone from a Sumter Holiday Inn Wednesday. "I haven't given up many runs but we haven't been able to score much when I've pitched."

Twice Livernois has been a victim of a shutout. Still, the statistics are in his favor. He has pitched 79 innings, allowed 68 hits, struck out 68, walked just 22 and completed two games. "I think I've pitched pretty well," he said. "I've done a lot better than expected. I pulled a muscle in my back and that slowed me down for a while."

Livernois said the team is much better than last year, too. The Asheville (N.C.) Astros won the first half, but the Hornets were just three games back. The second half just began last week and Greensboro (4-1) trails Asheville (5-0) by one game.

"I think we have a better club than the Astros, but we haven't shown it yet," he said. "We hit a little better and the pitching is about the same."

Although Livernois is satisfied with his job so far, he said he has three goals he would like to reach before the year is over. He would like to pitch in the all-star game at Charleston, S.C. on July 14, win 15 games and get promoted to the Derek Livernois has posted a 5-4 record with a 2.85 earned run average and 68 strikeouts in 79 innings for the Greensboro Hornets Class A team.

Bosox's AA club at New Britain, Conn.

"If I keep my ERA down, I think I can make the all-star team," he said. "I wanted to win 20 games, but I probably don't have 15 starts left, so I'll settle for 15."

"The Red Sox have lost a lot of pitchers to injury. They only have six on their AAA team (Pawtucket, R.I.), so there will be some pitchers going up. I just hope I'm one of them."

Livernois said he has added a new pitch — a changeup — to his arsenal which he hopes will quicken his rise. "I've got a lot of strikeouts throwing it on 1-2. But I did give up a home run on one," he laughed.

The mastery of the changeup to go with his explosive curveball and a fastball that lights up the jugs gun between 80 and 85 mph have Livernois optimistic about his career.

"I've got better control over my pitches and I'm gotten smarter," he said. "My curve is still my best pitch but our pitching coach (Mace Brown) in spring training taught me a new grip which has helped my fastball. It falls down and in to a righthander now."

'Newman' But Same Old A's

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Jeff Newman got a quick taste of what Jackie Moore has been swallowing for the past two months.

"This wasn't the way I wanted it to be," Newman said Thursday after the Oakland A's lost for the seventh time in eight games — a 9-2 defeat to the Kansas City Royals.

Newman, 37, was named interim manager Thursday after the A's fired Jackie Moore.

"For now, I just want to put as many 'Ws' on the board as possible," he said. "The main thing for us to do to turn things around is just for everyone to get healthy."

"I know one thing, this isn't the coolest chair to be sitting in."

The A's, expected to contend in the American League West, slipped into a last-place tie Thursday with Seattle at 29-45.

Oakland President Roy Eisenhardt announced Moore's firing from Oakland Thursday morning with a one-line statement: "Jackie Moore has been officially relieved as manager and is being replaced as interim manager by Jeff Newman."

The search for a new manager was to begin today.

"I'd say we'd begin to contact the people we're interested in (Friday) morning," Oakland General Manager Sandy Alderson said.

Parrish Pops Tigers Past Baltimore, 8-3

United Press International

Sparky Anderson, one of baseball's more loquacious managers, knows when to keep silent.

Anderson has had the privilege of managing two outstanding catchers, Johnny Bench with the Reds and now Lance Parrish with the Tigers. When it comes to comparing the two, Anderson is non-committal on the subject, which is smart considering how much bigger they are than him.

"I won't compare them," Anderson said. "If I did, I'd have to disclose weaknesses. I won't do that."

"There's no point in talking about one and the other," he said. "I could only lose."

"I remember what John Wooden said," Anderson recalled. "He said he would never compare Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Bill Walton — he'd be the loser."

Parrish, Detroit's hulking catcher, made winners of Anderson's Tigers Thursday night when he clouted a pair of two-run homers off Mike Flanagan in an 8-3 victory over the Baltimore Orioles at Tiger Stadium.

The home runs increased Parrish's total to 17 and gave him 50 RBI, which is excellent considering he's only 62 hits.

Walt Terrell was the beneficiary of Parrish's power display, pitching a five-inning effort, pitching a five-inning effort over 8 2-3 innings for his first victory since May 25. Terrell, 7-5, failed to record his seventh complete game when he walked three batters in the ninth and had to give way to Willie Hernandez. Hernandez entered with the bases loaded and struck out Mike Young to end the game for his 14th save.

The Tigers have won seven of their last 10 games, primarily because seven have been against the Orioles. Detroit is 6-1 in those seven games.

"We could be 10-0 easily," Anderson said. "Our starting pitching has been excellent for a couple of weeks now. And you'll never play well without that."

At Kansas City, Mo., Jorge Orta hit an inside-the-park home run and the Royals scored eight times in the first two innings to hand Oakland its seventh loss in eight games. The decision also spoiled the debut of interim Manager Jeff Newman, who replaced Jackie Moore earlier in the day. Charlie Leibrandt, 8-5, was the winner and Rick Langford, 1-8, took the loss.

At Seattle, Steve Buechele led an 18-hit attack with a homer and double, and Charlie Hough and Dale Mohorec combined on a seven-inning effort. Buechele's 12th homer of the season, a two-run shot, was the second for Texas in a six-run first inning. Larry Parrish had a two-run shot, his 11th.

Elliott Predicts Over 200 MPH For Firecracker Pole

Bill Elliott has won three straight Busch Pole positions at Daytona International Speedway, including a track record 205.114 mph effort in February of 1985.

His high speed virtuosity makes him the most qualified to predict the pole speed for the July 4 Pepsi Firecracker 400 at Daytona and, not surprisingly, his call is smoking.

"I think it will probably take a 202.5 or a 203 to take the pole," Elliott, who will be the favorite at 10 a.m. on July 2 when Busch Pole qualifying begins, said.

Elliott won the pole for the 1985 Firecracker at 201.523 mph. Only Elliott and Cale Yarborough have ever qualified at better than 200 mph for the 'Cracker, which traditionally sees lower speeds than in February.

However, 200-plus mph runs in the testing in May by Dale Earnhardt and Terry Labonte lead observers to believe that as many as eight to 10 cars may qualify at better than 200 this year.

Among the favorites, according to Elliott, would have to be Geoff Bodine, the defending Daytona 500 winner who qualified just a tick behind Elliott last February.

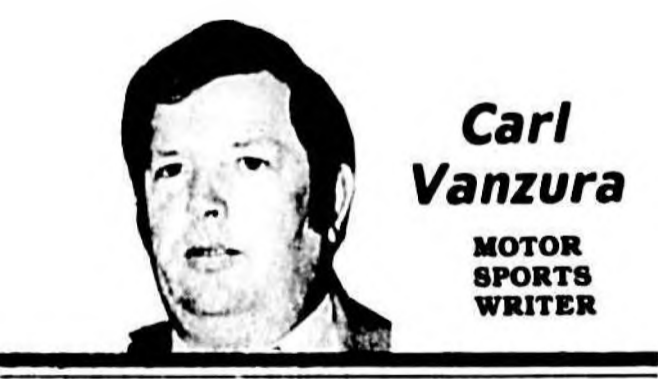

"You'd have to look at Bodine as a favorite," the driver of the Coors/Melling Ford said.

A popular feature during Cycle Week will return during Summer Speed Week '86 and the running of the 20th Paul Revere 250 as the 7th round of the AMA MotoWorld U.S. Endurance Championship at Daytona International Speedway.

Special motorcycle parking areas both inside and outside the race track will provide a haven for two-wheeled transportation to both the Paul Revere, the USEC's only race to be held entirely at night, on July 3 and the 28th annual Pepsi Firecracker 400 NASCAR Winston Cup race held the next morning at 10.

The outside parking area will be cordoned off behind the main, Campbell Grandstand and will be manned by attendants. The inside parking area will once again be adjacent to the east horseshoe turn and will provide "motorcycles only" parking and camping.

"This plan has proven successful during Cycle Week and we were satisfied with the way it went at last year's Paul Revere," Speedway General Manager John D. Riddle said. "It's the least we owe our customers who choose to ride to the races on their motorcycles."

Defending Paul Revere 250 winner Gregg Smrz of Doctor John's Team Moto-Guzzi made the news recently in his regular line of work.

Smrz, a movie stuntman who specializes in motorcycle stunts, was featured in an Associated Press wire photograph jumping a motorcycle out of a subway tunnel during the filming of "Quite Cool," a cops-and-robbers thriller being shot in New York City.

At Orlando Speedworld, the fans finally got to see the battle they were waiting for as Orlando's Lee Faulk and Bartow's Eddie King hooked up in a tremendous duel in Friday night's Limited Late Model feature.

Faulk got the early jump and powered his Champoin TV and Appliance Rentals V-8 Firebird to a car-length win over King's Buchanan Fuel Oil/M&A Truck Transport 6-cylinder Ford Pinto.

The two cars are so equal that the one who gets out first will probably win as the rest of the field looks on from behind. The big challenge is now set for Friday night, July 4, as the Limited Late Models (known as Outlaw Cars on the West Coast) will go for 50 laps and $1,000 to win. A number of top runners from around the state will be on hand to try and stop the Faulk/King combo.

The mid-season championship for the Mini-Stocks was a good one. With a fine field of cars on hand, points leader Milan Vidic of Orlando promptly went out and "blew their doors off."

SPORTS IN BRIEF

NFL: Colleagues' Exorbitant Salaries Were USFL's Undoing

NEW YORK (UPI) — The NFL focused on the complaints of USFL owners about their colleagues' exorbitant player salaries as the older league began its defense of the USFL's antitrust charges.

The USFL, in its $1.5 billion suit against the NFL, has claimed the NFL tried to shut out its competition, principally by monopolizing the television market. The NFL contends the USFL caused its own financial problems by mismanagement.

Former USFL Commissioner Chet Simmons testified Thursday as the NFL's first witness in the trial in U.S. District Court in Manhattan. Simmons will return to the witness stand Monday when the trial resumes after a weekend break.

Asked about the original spending guidelines set by the clubs, Simmons — who held his post from mid-1982 through 1984 — said an overall team budget for the first season was expected to be about $6 million and total players' salaries were to be approximately $1.3 million to $1.5 million.

Sheffield Gets $140,000 Bonus

ST. PETERSBURG (UPI) — Gary Sheffield, taken by the Milwaukee Brewers as the sixth pick in the first round of the recent baseball draft, signed a standard minor league contract Thursday and was assigned to the Helena Gold Sox of the Pioneer League.

Sheffield was a shortstop and pitcher for Hillsborough High School in Tampa, and was signed by the Brewers as a shortstop.

Financial terms of the one-year contract were not revealed, but his agent Jim Neader said the total package was "in the mid-100,000 figures."

The Tampa Tribune reported Sheffield, 17-year-old nephew of New York Mets pitcher Dwight Gooden, received a $140,000 signing bonus.

Lassies Head For State Tourney

The Sanford Lassie League softball all-stars will compete in the Florida Recreation Softball Association 12 and Under State Tournament this weekend at Davenport, near Haines City.

The Sanford team will open Saturday morning at 9 against host Davenport with the winner advancing to an 11:30 game against DeLand. The tournament is double elimination format and will run all day Saturday and is scheduled to conclude Sunday morning.

Other teams in the tournament include Daytona Foxfire, Southwest Volusia, Northwest Volusia, Leesburg, Southeast Volusia and Ormond Beach. No rosters are available.

McMurtry Will Attend Michigan

BOSTON (UPI) — Greg McMurtry, the Boston Red Sox' top choice in the June free agent draft from Brockton, Mass., U.S., has decided to attend Michigan on a football scholarship, the team announced Thursday.

Red Sox scout Bill Enos met with the McMurtry's family Wednesday and was told of his decision, a team spokesman said.

Argentina Does Not Win On Diego Alone

Soccer

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Argentina, as much as it would like the great Diego Maradona to be in more than one place at one time, is prepared to confront reality.

"Diego is a phenomenon but Argentina has the quality players to go along with Maradona," Argentine defender Jose Luis Brown said. "It is a team of 22 players."

Argentina will be bidding for its second championship in the last eight years Sunday (2 p.m. EDT) when it meets West Germany in Azteca Stadium for the World Cup title. Belgium plays France in Puebla Saturday for third place.

Maradona, who has become something of a god back home, is most responsible for the Argentines' success. His five goals — several breathtaking — and tango-like moves have turned the World Cup into his showcase.

But the Argentines insist they are ready should West Germany place two players — or even an entire battalion — on the mid-field genius.

"If they mark Diego too closely, or put two men on him all the time, others would have the opportunity to score," forward Jorge Burruchaga said. "It would be a mistake to put too much emphasis on one man. We could take advantage of that."

Maradona, his team coming off a 2-0 victory over Belgium in the semifinals, admits it will be difficult to attack a durable and tested West German defense.

"We're going to come out attacking, staying on top of them on all parts of the field, but that won't be easy," he said.

"West Germany is not the team I would have wished to face in the final. It is always said the West Germans are deteriorating, but then they always wind up in the championship match."

Burruchaga said the hoopla surrounding Maradona is similar to the attention accorded French star Michel Platini.

"In France, all they talked about was Platini and the things he would show everyone in Mexico," he said. "Where is Platini now?"

Gone, courtesy of a West German team that played its best game of the tournament in eliminating France 2-0 in the semifinals.

The West Germans, appearing in their record fifth World Cup final, took Thursday off, spending the day at poolside or on the tennis courts.

At the training camp in Queretaro the previous night, the music from the mariachi band was offset by the baritone players singing West German and carnival songs.

"It is a particularly beautiful feeling because no one gave us a ghost of a chance in beating France," said midfielder Lothar Matthaus, who may have the assignment of marking Maradona.

Now, the big question, will the USFL be alive and kicking and ready to play its first Fall schedule on August 25?

One guy who doesn't seem to think so is Late Night talk show host David Letterman. On the opening day of the current USFL vs. NFL antitrust trial, Letterman quipped, "Today the USFL-NFL trial opened in a packed courthouse — third-largest crowd in USFL history."

In local news, the National Secondary Education Council announced that Shannon Porter, a defensive end for Lake Mary High this past season, has been named Academic All-American.

The Academic All-American scholars must earn a 3.3 or better grade point average with exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors and other qualified sponsors.

Porter, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Porter, was an Evening Herald All-County First Team selection at defensive end for the 1985 season in which he was second in the county in quarterback sacks.

Gardening

Summer Gardening Chores Can Increase Next Years Harvest

By now, most of us have just about finished harvesting and storing all the vegetables from our spring gardens. Although it's not yet time to begin making preparations for fall planting, you should not completely forget about your present garden. Even during this slow time, there are things to think about and chores to do to insure continued gardening success.

Maintaining a successful, productive vegetable garden is a never-ending enterprise. Even though you may have a lull between spring harvest and fall planting, there's still work to be done. During this period, you need to perform those fine-tuning tasks that can make the difference between a good and a great garden.

If you still have vegetables in your garden, you should continue — perhaps intensify — a regular pest protection program. We're into the rainy season now, which means hot, wet days, and warm, humid nights — just the conditions that stimulate insect and disease pest activity. Tomato and corn fruit worms, and pickle worms can be very destructive at this time. And, even those pests which haven't been overwhelming so far, often become severe during the rainy months. Little creatures, such as aphids, cabbage worms, squash borers, and corn bud worms, are common problems. So, you should be especially alert for signs of damage, and be prepared to apply insecticides as needed.

In addition, maintain a sharp lookout for the spread of plant diseases. Any diseased plants should be pulled out and disposed of as soon as possible, preferably in the garbage bag. Do not compost any diseased plants! Plants remaining in the garden should be sprayed weekly with a good fungicide. Your friendly neighborhood garden supply shop can help you select both an insecticide and a fungicide.

Summer is a good time to evaluate the seed varieties you selected for the spring garden. Ask yourself such questions as...did the variety produce strong, vigorous plants?...what about the quality of the vegetables themselves?...how about disease resistance? Try to make notes of the varieties which did well and those that didn't, so you'll have some idea of the ones you'll want to include in your fall vegetable garden. Here's where a garden diary can be very helpful.

Summer offers a good opportunity to observe the beneficial effects of mulching, too. If you mulched your spring garden, you'll notice that you have very few weeds, whereas your neighbor's unmulched garden may be overrun with weeds.

Nematode injury is less on mulched vegetables. While nematodes will attack mulched plants, their effects are not as severe, because of the healthier root zone in a mulched garden.

The most striking observation you'll make about mulching is how it controls soil moisture. Vegetables grown on unmulched, hot, sandy Florida soils will droop, while those grown in mulched gardens will stand tall. We've seen all kinds of materials used for mulching, including black plastic sheets, pine straw, hay, oak leaves...even such things as peanut hulls, and shredded newspapers.

Getting rid of grass clippings and garden refuse can be a problem during the summer.

Yet, these garden byproducts can be turned into useful compost with just about the same effort as bagging them for removal by the trash hauler. In many instances, the compost may serve the same function as peat moss.

Good compost consists of a small amount of soil along with decomposed or partially decomposed plant and animal residue. Compost is especially useful in improving our sandy garden soils. Although compost contains some nutrients, the greatest benefit comes from improving the soil texture. You will still need to add fertilizer to your garden to get the greatest growth and production.

Many types of organic material can be used to build a compost heap — sod, grass clippings, leaves, hay, weeds, manure, sawdust shredded newspapers, wood ashes (not from barbecue briquets), and any other plant residue. When compost is ready for use (generally about two months or so), it should be dark and crumbly with much of the original identity of the materials lost. Now, you have what we refer to as "humus."

Compost or humus is also a valuable mulching material around the garden and landscape plants. You can use it as a "topdressing" for lawns, too, and when it contains a small amount of soil, you can use it as a potting soil for house plants or for starting seedlings.

You may think of other summer chores and new gardening ideas. Meanwhile, don't forget the care of your plants that are still producing. A little extra effort may squeeze some valuable productivity from your old plot. And, be sure to use any extra time during this slow gardening season to make your future plans — ones that could pay off in a better fall harvest. Happy Gardening!

Romance On Wheels No Handicap For A Happy Wife And Mother

DEAR ABBY: I'd like to say a few words to all the single women looking for an honest, happy, rewarding relationship with a decent man. Please don't overlook a man with a physical handicap. I'm glad I didn't.

Dear Abby

Thirteen years ago I met an interesting man. He was a veteran of the Vietnam War and was paralyzed from the waist down. He was permanently confined to a wheelchair, but could do almost everything an able-bodied man could do. We dated for several years in spite of the mixed feelings of my family, friends and sometimes myself.

Eight years ago we were married, and this man has given me two beautiful children, a wonderful life and a thousand other reasons for being alive.

As far as I'm concerned, my husband is the warmest, kindest, sexiest (yes, sexist!) man in the world. Since our marriage, he has taught me more about courage, love and values than most people learn in a lifetime.

I am glad I focused on all the positive aspects of our relationship rather than the few minor inconveniences of living with a handicapped person.

LUCKY

DEAR LUCKY: Thank you for a dandy upper. He's lucky, too.

DEAR ABBY: Why is it that lately all the lovers on TV think the wider they open their mouths when they kiss, the sexier they are? It never used to be that way.

After many years of watching my favorite "soaps," I've turned to reading instead. It got to be too nauseating to watch those open mouths, chewing on each other's lips and slobbering all over each other. What people want to do in private is their own business, but do they have to do it on TV? It's revolting.

I've tried to ignore it, but yesterday my 5-year-old grandson greeted me with his mouth wide open, and a very wet kiss! When I told him that was not the way to kiss — he should keep his mouth closed — he said, "That's not the way they do it on TV, Grandma." Now what?

YUCK IN PITTSBURGH

DEAR YUCK: To protest anything you see on TV, write to the head of the networks, then fire off a letter of complaint to the sponsors of the program, then write the producer. Meanwhile, tell the child that the people on television kiss their grandmothers with their mouths shut.

DEAR ABBY: Now that the wedding season is upon us, please remind your readers of the following: If an invitation is addressed to Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, it does not mean Mr. and Mrs. John Smith and their three children. (Even if the John Smiths live 2,000 miles away, the invitation does not include their children.)

If the invitation is addressed to Ms. Jane Doe, this does not mean that Ms. Doe may bring a date. If the invitation is addressed to Ms. Jane Doe and guest, then she may bring one.

X-Ray Can Trace A Pinched Nerve

DEAR DR. GOTT — My right hand is losing the ability to hold and guide my fork, toothbrush and other items. I don't want to have a myelogram. I have no pain or numbness, so can't see how it could be a pinched nerve. I take 100 milligrams of Thorazine and one Sinequan a day, but the doctor tells me they couldn't be the cause of my loss of control. What do you think?

DEAR READER — I think you are showing unmistakable signs of muscle damage due to nerve malfunction. A myelogram — a type of X-ray study to determine whether nerves in our neck are being pinched — may be unpleasant, but if your doctor urges that you have it done, do it. If there is pressure on the nerves to your hand and you don't have the pressure relieved, you may risk permanent disability.

DEAR DR. GOTT — My pre-teen son is very physically mature for his age. However, his penis is smaller than that of boys much younger than he. What can be done to enlarge his penis and what kind of doctor should I contact?

DEAR READER — Pre-adolescent boys may maintain small penis size until the effects of male hormone reach their peak during adolescence. I suggest that you ask your son's pediatrician if the youth is following a growth pattern that is normal for his age.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I have Parkinson's disease and have taken pills prescribed by two different doctors, with no improvement. I am 80 years old, and otherwise in good health. What can you suggest?

DEAR READER — You don't mention what medicines have been prescribed for your Parkinson's disease, so I cannot give you a specific recommendation. However, there are now several medicines available that are effective treatments for this common neurological disease. A neurologist could guide and supervise your therapy.

DEAR DR. GOTT — What effect would a temperature of 109.6 have on an overweight 68-year-old man?

DEAR READER — He would probably either have a convulsion or lapse into a coma. If a body temperature that high is not rapidly controlled, neurological damage could occur. Send your questions to Dr. Gott at P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, Ohio, 44101.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
Oswald Jacoby, who passed away two years ago today, would have liked today's deal, because he would have succeeded either as the declarer or as the East defender. First let's see what happened. A spade was led and continued. West winning the second trick, and West then played the diamond queen. South won the ace and played the heart queen. When that lost to the king, back came a diamond. Declarer won and now realized the need to develop clubs. The queen was covered with the king and ace, the jack played and a third club ruffed. Dummy was entered with the heart 10 and a fourth club ruffed. Declarer returned once more to dummy with the trump ace, and the last club, now a winner, was used to shed the diamond loser.

What would Jacoby have done as the East defender? Easy. He would have known from partner's queen of diamonds lead that declarer still had the king. He would also have recognized the threat of the club suit. So after winning that heart king, he would simply have led another heart. Declarer could set that last club up but could not get to dummy to enjoy it.

And what would Father have done as declarer? After winning the ace of diamonds, he would have immediately attacked clubs, leading the queen. Then after trumping one club in his hand (with the queen, jack, nine or eight), he would have played a low heart to the 10. East would win, but there would be time enough to set up the club and still get back to dummy with a heart to use that good trick.

Live And Love In Seminole's Parks

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

Summer fun is in full swing at Seminole County's parks. Picnickers vie with tennis, racquetball and baseball players as to who makes the most of the 885 acres of county recreational space.

And Seminole County Parks and Recreation Manager Bob Chovat said that by the end of June the tennis players will have six more courts to play at both Bug Lake Park and Sunlando Park.

No new park land has been acquired, but there has been new developments including improvements to boat ramps at C.S. Lee and Cameron Wright parks, which, Chovat said should be complete in September.

Because of Seminole County's mild climate parks are popular year round, and Red Bug Lake Park, Chovat said, draws the biggest crowds.

One county park with a popular attraction that is a bit out of the ordinary is Big Tree Park near Longwood. The "big tree" in Big Tree Park is The Senator, said to be the oldest and largest cypress in the world.

The Senator makes a stately stand with a height of 127 feet, a diameter at the base of 17 feet and a circumference of 54 feet.

The tree is more than 3,500 years old and before hurricane damage in 1926 stood 165 feet.

The 11-acre Big Tree Park is popular with nature lovers and hikers and campers are welcome at Lake Mills and Mullet Lake parks.

There are primitive campsites at Mullet Lake Park, which is eight miles east of Sanford off State Road 46, on Mullet Lake Road. Reservations and camping permits are required there as well as at Lake Mills Park on Third Street, just east of State road 419 in Chuluota.

The 12 campsites at Lake Mills are improved and fees of $5 per night per site are charged for up to seven days of camping at both parks. Lake Mills is reserved for tent campers and Mullet Lake Park accepts a few recreational vehicles as well as tents. Both of these parks offer opportunities for boating and fishing.

Seminole County's cities also support many parks. Some cities have recreational programs and information on these park activities is available at city halls.

ingham's two buddies? This has me really puzzled and your help would be very gratefully received. — J.K.F., Kalamazoo, Mich.

Ted McGinley played photographer Ashley Covington Evans (Ace) on "The Love Boat," which was recently canceled. From 1980 to '84, McGinley played Roger Phillips on "Happy Days." Phillips was not one of Richie's buddies (Ron Howard had already left the show) but was Marion's nephew, an English teacher and basketball coach at the high school who later became principal of the Vocational High School.

Dear Debra — Please help. There's a steak dinner riding on this. Did the actress who plays Alex on "Foley Square" ever play Margo on "As the World Turns"? — J.J.D., Knoxville, Tenn.

Soap opera followers never forget a face. Margaret Collin, who plays Alex on "Foley Square" (which will not be returning to CBS this fall), did play Margo Montgomery on "As the World Turns" from 1981 to 1983. Actress Hillary Bailey has played Margo since 1983.

Dear Debra — I really enjoy your column very much but I never thought that one day I would be writing to you. I have asked many people to answer this question for me, in vain, so I can hope you can. Back in the era of "good" pictures I saw one I would love to see again, but I can't remember the title, which is why I'm writing. I'm sure it was set in the steel mills of Pennsylvania. The cast included Greer Garson, Gregory Peck, Ethel and Lionel Barrymore and Marsha Hunt. Greer was a domestic in Ethel's home, Peck was her son and Hunt the sister (I forgot who played the father). Greer and Peck fall in love and Greer was sent to Europe (I think with Hunt) but I don't remember the final outcome. Can you help me, please? — A.P., East Haven, Conn.

Does "The Valley of Decision" ring any bells? The 1945 film did star Greer Garson, Gregory Peck, Lionel Barrymore and Marsha Hunt, but Ethel Barrymore was not listed in any credits for the film. Other co-stars were Donald Crisp, Preston Foster, Gladys Cooper, Reginald Owen, Dan Duryea, Jessica Tandy, Barbara Everest and Marshall Thompson. Greer Garson and Herbert Stothart, the musical composer, received Academy Award nominations for the film. Start checking those late night TV schedules!

Dear Debra — I would like to know who Leonard Lightfoot played on "Silver Spoons" when it first aired? I read in your article that Franklyn Seales has been the only Dexter. — C.S., Houston, Texas.

Leonard Lightfoot played Leonard Rollins on "Silver Spoons" from 1982 to '83. Rollins was the lawyer to Edward (Joel Higgins).

Dear Debra — My son and I watch the old "Leave It to Beaver" reruns almost every day. We have a small bet on what fictitious city and state they live in. We think the city is Mayfield. I bet there is no state really named. My son says there has to be. — T.A., Alcoa, Tenn.

Mayfield was indeed the name of the town in which the Cleavers lived, but, as far as I can tell, no state was ever mentioned — the better to keep it fictitious, I suppose! If any "Leave It to Beaver" experts out there know differently — and we know you're out there! — drop us a line.
