NEW BUSINESS BLOCK

Magnolia Avenue Becoming a Business Street

MORE STOREROOM CONTRACTED

Brick Block Will Be Erected At Once On Lot Adjoining The Herald Building

Herald Square is destined to become one of the principal business streets in Sanford.

This prediction was made several years ago by the Herald primarily because the editor was interested in Magnolia avenue, the Herald building being on this thoroughfare, one of the banks and both of the theatres and the department store of D. A. Caldwell & Son.

From a piece of vacant property overgrown with weeds and absolutely impassable to pedestrian two years ago the east side of Magnolia from First to Second street has been built up rapidly and another link in the chain will be forged by a new brick block to be erected at once on the lots adjoining the Herald building. J. F. Miller will erect a two story building at once with 48 feet front giving him two store rooms on the first floor. He was formerly engaged in the bakery business in this city and will occupy one of the store rooms himself, as a bakery, the other will be rented probably as a restaurant or first class barber shop.

The contractors are preparing the plans and the contract calls for the completion of the building by April first.

First Train to Key West

When the cross-over span at Knights Key was closed Sunday afternoon and the great concrete trestle into Key West was finally tested out, everything was in readiness for the celebration of the opening of the over-sea extension of the Florida East Coast Railway.

Last night the warships and other vessels in the harbor were brilliantly lighted in honor of the event. Among the ships are the Portuguese cruiser Republica, the German cruiser Bremen and the Cuban flagship Hatner. The United States government is represented by the fifth division of the Atlantic squadron, under command of Rear Admiral Fiske, and consisting of the flagship Washington, the armored cruisers Birmingham, Chester and Salem.

Assistant Secretary of War Oliver has been designated to represent President Taft at the celebration, and accompanying him will be a congressional delegation numbering sixty-eight in all, one of the largest parties of government representatives ever leaving Washington on a similar trip.

Bitten By Rattlesnake

Ocala, Jan. 21.—Gene Clayton, fourteen years of age, a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Clayton, of Alachua, was bitten on the hand yesterday by a rattlesnake while out hunting with a crowd of boys near the Marion Farms, two miles east of town. The boys ran a rabbit into a hole and young Clayton reached in the hole for the rabbit, when the snake struck him, biting deep into the flesh. The young lad was hastened to the stockade at the Marion Farms and a team was quickly hitched up and he was brought to the hospital here, and physicians are doing everything possible to save his life. He is still alive this morning, but is in a critical condition, and it is feared that he will not recover. Young Clayton had been here for only a short time, visiting at the home of his uncle near old Fort King. His father was notified of the accident and arrived last night to be with his son.

Victims of Fraud

The attention of the public was recently brought to the sufferings of a young couple who have resided in New Smyrna for several months, coming here from Celery City, where they lost all they had through the inability of the promoters to make them a deed to the land which they had purchased, and spent some money in improvements.

The man was industrious and secured employment—not being particular what it was—and they got along very well until a few weeks ago, when the loss of all their savings began to prey upon the mind of his wife until she became insane, not recognizing her husband and child. With this great care on his hands the faithful husband was unable to leave his wife to earn a living and the townspeople had to come to his relief, and this was done in a very substantial way. A sufficient sum was raised to defray their expenses to their former home in Pennsylvania, where they could have the help of relatives to care for the afflicted wife who, it is hoped, is only temporarily insane.

The Celery City promoters probably practiced the greatest fraud on the innocent purchasers of land than any other colonization company in Florida, and they should be punished for it. Most colonization companies are prepared to show a clear abstract and make a good deed to the purchasers of their lands. And some of these lands are so poor it might, morally be considered a crime to sell them and make a good deed to them, but the men who deliberately sell people land on the installment plan and receive payments, when they cannot make a deed to it, should either be made to restore the money with interest or punished by law, or both.—New Smyrna Breeze.

Sanford Music Club

The music club had a very enjoyable meeting Saturday afternoon at Comfort Cottage, with Mrs. M. Martin, president of the club who was also leader of the meeting. "Piano Playing and Composition" was the subject under consideration of the club. Two very interesting papers containing sketches of the well known and popular composers of the day, Clementi, Cramer and Hummel were read by Misses Ellen Mahoney and Carrie Lovell.

Mrs. Munson played two fine selections in demonstration of the individuality and style of two of the composers of whom sketches had been read by Miss Mahoney and Miss Lovell, a sonata in F by Clementi and Le Desir by Cramer.

In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Ernest Tolar, Mrs. T. A. Newton very capably filled the position. One new name was proposed for membership and, after the calling of the roll, several matters of interest were called to the attention of the club by the president, which concluded the business for the afternoon, and the chorus work under the leadership of Mrs. Geo. L. Hoy was begun. A short practice on two fine selections were enjoyed by the club before adjournment.

Athletic Games for Field Day

The athletic games committee of the Field Day celebration met in the office of Mr. Geo. Fox, Jr., Friday evening and decided on the following events for their program:

Running, 75, 220 and 440 yards, half-mile and mile flat, one mile relay race (4 men teams), 440 yards relay race for boy scout troops, 220 yards race for boys under fourteen years of age.

Jumping and Weight Throwing—Standing broad jump, running broad jump, running high jump, putting the shot.

These games are open to amateurs only and they will be conducted under the rules of the A. A. A.

All entries must be in by February 1, so those who wish to compete for the valuable prizes ought to communicate at once with one of the following gentlemen who compose the committee: Messrs Geo. Fox, Jr., W. H. Underwood, J. F. Karnatz, Prof. Wildman and Father Bresnahan (chairman).

DeLand and Orlando are expected to send teams for the relay race, so our home athletes ought to begin training at once, that we may have a good team to represent Sanford.

Fair Weather This week

Washington, Jan. 22.—There is nothing at the present time to indicate that a general cold wave will cross the country this week. The bulletin issued by the Weather Bureau tonight said temperatures will average near or above the normal throughout the country.

"Generally fair weather," the bulletin countries, "will prevail east of the Rockies except that a short period of rains and snows will attend a disturbance that will appear in the far West Tuesday or Wednesday, cross the middle West about Thursday and at Atlantic states Friday and Saturday.

There are indications that general rains will set in over the Pacific States by the middle of the week and continue several days.

"Moderate weather and wind conditions will prevail over the north Atlantic steamship routes during the coming week."

The Hudson, N. Y., Republican has the following item regarding two jovial tourists who are spending the winter here, guests of the Pico Hotel: "Delmar Starks and Eugene Newhall of Far Rockaway have arrived in Florida and report the flowers in full bloom there."

STATE POLITICS WARMING UP

Candidates Are Grooming Themselves For The Big Race

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 23.—Since the meeting of the Florida Democratic Executive committee here Tuesday, at which the call for the first primary was fixed for April 30, political activity throughout the state has become very marked. Candidates for various state offices are throwing their headquarters open with a rush, and additional clerical help has been employed to conduct the work of those already opened. Indications are that practically all candidates for governor will maintain their political headquarters in Jacksonville.

It is stated that Trammel has engaged officers here, and will install a large force within a few days. The headquarters of Watson and Milton have been open for several weeks. Col. Cromwell Gibbons has had his headquarters open for the past six months, and is adding to his staff as the campaign warms up.

Local politicians are much interested to know whether Mr. Trammel will come here to manage his own campaign, and go out from Jacksonville to his various appointments, or whether he will perform his campaign duties from the office of the attorney-general at Tallahassee. Watson, Gibbons and Milton are free from official duties with the state, and are able to give their entire time to their political activities. At such times as they are not filling speaking engagements they will be about their headquarters.

The gubernatorial campaign seems to be singularly free from big issues. With all except Gibbons there seem to be no issues other than they desire to preside as chief executive of the great state of Florida. Col. Gibbons long ago declared himself on the drainage of the Everglades, insisting that this great section of the state is being destroyed by the methods employed. He declares that these vast acres should not fall into the hands of speculators, and that these lands should not be sold unless the purchaser is definitely assured when they will be ready for cultivation. Another plank in his platform which is finding much favor is the abolition of the convict lease system and the placing of convicts on public road work.

Colonel Gibbons has injected some humor into the situation by labelling Everglades sales as "Lands by the gallon." It has been whispered about that one of the other candidates for governor is preparing to launch the slogan "Forty acres and a boat." At any rate the Everglades drainage project will loom large in the chief issues of the campaign. Both the serious sides of the proposition, and "lands by the gallon" slogan have been going the rounds of the state press very freely. Many of the big papers of the north and west have been paying attention to the proposition. Several of the largest of these have arranged to send a special correspondent through the glades before the end of this month for the purpose of ascertaining exact information as to past methods and results, actual conditions and future prospects. Many thousands of people through the north and west are purchasers of lands declared to be worthless for many years to come.

The action of the state committee on the presidential primary has renewed the interest of Floridians in the national outlook and of the possible effect of the declaration of a reform as yet untried. It is agreed that Wilson will be a strong man before the people of the state, notwithstanding the fact that he has been deserted by Colonel Harvey, of Harper's Weekly, and Marse Henry Watterson, the distinguished and versatile editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal. Champ Clark will get a very solid support throughout the state, and all are bound to admit that Harmon will develop a very strong following in the primary.

Plenty of Attractions

Sanford is a good show town and the people are always willing to go to any entertainment that furnishes a slight diversion. This week with two moving picture shows, the Imperial and the Star offering special attractions and the Parks Theatre Co. offering good drama and specialties every afternoon and night at their tent on Palmetto avenue, the city is well represented in the line of amusements. The Cole & Rice shows are also booked for Thursday night at First St. and Myrtle.

The Lyman Twins at the Imperial next Monday night and the Orange County Fair all week in Orlando will keep the people busy.

Pleasant River Trip

Quite a party of young people enjoyed a very pleasant trip up the river, Sunday afternoon, in the launch "Maime," commanded by Capt. Pagenhart. The enjoyment of the outing was much enhanced by a delicious chicken pilau, which was prepared after the party landed by the French and English chefs, which they wisely took along with them.

The party was chaperoned by Mrs. J. H. Roumillat, and the young people who enjoyed the trip were, Misses Madge and Veda Ward, Annie Higgins, Miss Michael, Mabel and Charlotte Hand; Messrs. R. R. Deas, Braxton Perkins, Archie Betts, Eugene Roumillat and Billie Hill.

Sewing Circle

The members of the sewing circle enjoyed a very pleasant meeting, at the residence of Mrs. Deane Turner, last Thursday evening. Those who were present entertained themselves and each other, with fancy work and pleasant conversation.

The hostess served delicious fruit cake, apples and nuts.

HAPPENINGS DURING THE WEEK

Dr. Len C. Broughton, pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle, the first institutional church to be founded in the South has tendered his resignation to the congregation to become effective April 1. He will go to the pastorate of Christ Church, London, England, succeeding Dr. F. B. Myers, another widely known divine.

James T. Harahan, Sr., former president of the Illinois Central; Frank O. Melcher, second vice president of the Rock Island; E. B. Peirce, general solicitor of the Rock Island, and Eldridge E. Wright, son of Luke E. Wright, former Secretary of War, were killed in a collision of two Illinois Central trains at Kinmundy, Ill., about twenty miles from Centralia early today.

The report of the House Committee which investigated the Wiley-Wilson-McCabe trouble in the Department of Agriculture, and which unanimously clears Dr. Wiley of any wrong-doing, was filed with the House. While the Chief Chemist is held entirely blameless as regards the charges in administering the pure food laws, a recommendation is made to head off other like controversies.

Senator Bryan of Florida in a speech today opposing all pending general pension legislation, attacked the practice of congress in passing bills to "amend" and "correct" military records, thus pensioning deserters who could not comply with the liberal provisions of the general pension laws. A more appropriate title for such bills, he declared would be "a bill to straighten a crooked record."

Several citizens of Nashville, headed by H. B. Carre, president of the Tennessee Anti-Saloon League, and W. R. Hamilton, superintendent, in their capacity as taxpayers, today filed a bill in chancery seeking to mandamus City Comptroller Andrews to assess and collect back privilege taxes from 683 soft drink dealers for the period during which they held federal liquor licenses, between the date of state wide prohibition, July 1, 1909, and January 1, 1912.

Beer being a commodity that cannot be barred from interstate shipments into dry counties, according to a decision of the United States supreme court, railroads must take it when offered for transportation. The case arose from a situation when Kentucky sought to bar shipments from Indiana into "dry" counties of the former state.

Leinhart-Shepherd

A quiet wedding was solemnized Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Shepherd, when their daughter, Mary Agnes, was united in marriage to Lewis M. Leinhart, Rev. Father Bresnahan officiating. Only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present. The happy couple left on the evening train for Tampa, where they will make their future home. New Hotel On River

The Riverside Inn is a new tourist hotel recently opened at Kalamazoo. K. P. Bodum and Max Adler are the proprietors and they are receiving a good patronage. The hotel is situated on a bluff about 12 miles from Sanford, where fishing and hunting are good, and the German hosts promise the best of everything in accommodations. The new resort is bound to prove very popular with the tourists, and the upper St. Johns offers a most delightful outing. The postoffice address is Osteen, Florida.

Thorns From Thornydeke

It may have nicely "happened so" or it might have been the work of a facetious "make-up man." In the Sanford Herald appears a column headed "In the Social World," and right along side of it is an ad for tombstones and another for sawmills. Maybe the social worldites are dead ones—or possibly they say nothing but saw wood.

A Chiel is Among Ye Taking Notes and Faith, He'll Prent 'Em"—So Says Sauter.

How's Crops
 Jed Hicks he drives up Main Street and he drops in on Si Gregg and St. Gregg says: "How's crops?" And sometimes Jed says: "Si, I never see a crop like this one promises to be." And orders big—all kinds of farm supplies. Till Si he gets real sunshine in his eyes. And says to Emmet Pew, the drummer: "Pew, Make that one ton of sugar I said two; And tell them bulwale fellows I'll discount them bills of theirs and pay the hull amount."

And then Scrimp Short, the banker, he jes hops across the street and says to Jed: "How's crops?" And Jed says to him: "Scrimp, who's going to be a bumper crop, I tell you—now you see!" And Scrimp he rubs his hands and feels his oats. And tells his customers he'll take them notes at nine per cent; and finds he's got about another fifty thousands to let out; And thinks the notes can be renewed again for mebbe eight instead of ten.

And old Doc Blake he sees Jed Hicks and slips right through the mud and says to Jed: "How's crops?"

And Jed says: "Doc, I never see the best of this here year for corn and oats and wheat." And Doc he smiles, because he's got about five thousand on his books, standin' out; So he goes to the garage and says: "Green, You better order me that new machine. We talked about the other day"—and goes into his tailor shop for a suit of clothes.

Jed Hicks ain't much to look at, but his say is pretty powerful in a business way; And when he says the crops is hard to beat you see folks perk up all along the street. Si Gregg, he gives big orders for his store. And Scrimp Short finds he's got plenty more good money to lend out; and everywhere you feel that easy-money-comin'— Jed has some money when Scrimp Short bothers across the street and says to Jed: "How's crops?" —J. W. Foley, in Saturday Evening Post.

¶ Said a tired lady to me the other day: "Well, I'll be glad when Lent comes, as I am completely tired out. Attended a bridge party every day last week and am now under the doctor's care. Almost a nervous break down."

And so it goes! It is either a dearth of all amusements or else a party every day or night and this lady is utterly worn out by the ceaseless round of gayety and pleasure. Does it pay?

Not that you could notice it. The bridge fever is so prevalent in Sanford that with an equal amount of fervor we could bridge the St. Johns river in six different places in six weeks.

The ladies die for it and even the children cry for it and just where it will end is more than I can fathom. Even the elderly ladies have given up their knitting and crochet work and are oiling up their ancient joints and attending each and every soiree with the younger set.

If the husbands of each one of these ladies should join a poker club and spend as much time at it as the ladies are doing there would be a howl go up to the high heavens.

"But there is a difference," you say. Not a bit of it, my friends. You play poker to get all there is in the jack pot and you usually play bridge to win the beautiful prizes and there are some ladies in Sanford who would not play cards unless prizes were offered. The Welaka Club very sensibly refused to allow cards to be played in the club rooms during meeting of the club if prizes were given and this act was heralded far and wide over the United States.

Playing bridge for prizes is gambling and you can't rub it out and you church members who are indulging in it will have a hard time stilling that little voice called conscience.

¶ Some friends of mine asked me the other day if I would stand for the enforcement of certain laws and ordinances. My reply was that I could back up all the laws and ordinances as they were written. One of them referred to the tent shows and one to the slot machines. Let me take them up one at a time.

The tent show question is that with us this week as I note by last week's Herald, as I understand it the ordinance was framed to keep out carnivals a class of low grade entertainment that was demoralizing and degrading especially to the minds of the children. The catch-penny machines and shell games were worked to a cold finish and the city always felt the pull during the weeks performance and afterward. Mind you, I am not blaming the carnival people for getting the money. That was their aim in life and they always hit the mark. But as an entertainment the carnival pandered to the depraved tastes and was not the kind that the people as a whole cared to attend.

The ordinance was written in a way that placed a license of $25 per day upon all tent shows other than a circus, if I remember rightly.

Now, none of us are interested in the tent shows and none of us care about their troubles especially but a majority of the people like to see a drama, or a comedy or a vaudeville stunt and I am broadminded enough to want the people to have a good time if they can afford it. The people as a rule cannot afford to pay a big price for an entertainment, hence the popularity of the moving picture show. They do like a popular priced entertainment and some of the tent shows furnish one.

Therefore I say let them have it.

For my part the shows do not interest me. I have had my day but I like to see everybody enjoy themselves in a safe and sane manner and if their taste points to a sere and mellow drama, let them have it!

Now for the slot machines.

If the state law or the city ordinance bars a certain class of slot machines it is up to the mayor to enforce the law and the city attorney can interpret the law so there can be no mistake in the matter. There are slot machines and slot machines. Some of them may be gambling games pure and simple and some may come within the pale of the law. But if they conflict with the law, put them out.

Gambling machines and tent shows or anything else that conflicts with the ordinance must take their chances. It is not for me or the mayor or the city council or any man to hold out against the law. As to the legality of any law—well, that is up to the lawyers.

Only—all of us can use some judgment in interpreting these acts. There is such a thing as restricting a city to death and also in running a wide open town and barring nothing and between the two is a safe and sane and conservative administration of justice which I believe Sanford has always had and will continue to have. But stick to the law and if the ordinances are too drastic modify them to suit the masses.

¶ The old coal shute, that dear friend of mine that has given so many anxious moments to my friends is still doing business, I understand and work on the new one has stopped. The railroad company probably has good reasons for the delay and the dear old landmark will be removed. The new city council won't stand for the old shute any more than the former council did—not as much I hope—and I think I can safely assure my anxious friends and fellow conspirators that the old coal shute will go. At least I can assure them that the day of parting will eventually draw nigh although lingeringly, slowly.

¶ I think that the parents of school children should pay more frequent visits to the schools and find out at first hand just what the children are doing.

Few people have any idea what an incentive it is to both teacher and scholar to know that parents and outsiders are taking a lively interest in their work. We believe the "little folks" at school appreciate such interest more perhaps than the larger ones. Still the effect is not lost on any of them, and we hope every parent will take a hint from this and place the public school on their visiting list.

For State Senator—Arthur E. Donegan

To the Democratic Voters of Orange and Osceola Counties

I am a candidate for state senator from the senatorial district composed of Orange and Osceola counties and will appreciate your support.

Ever since the creation of this senatorial district in 1887, each county has had a senator for the same number of years; the custom being to allow each county a representative for eight years at a time. Orange county has had the senator for the past eight years, and under the customs prevailing in the past Osceola county would be entitled to the senator to be elected in the primaries this year.

I have served the people of my county at various times as deputy tax collector, deputy clerk of the circuit court, member of the state executive committee and clerk of the circuit court, and I have discharged the duties of each office I have had in a manner which I trust has met with the hearty endorsement of my people.

In asking you to elect me as state senator I believe that I know the needs in a legislative way of this district as well, perhaps, as anyone in the district, and I believe I can represent you in the state senate in a manner that will be entirely satisfactory to you.

BIG MILL FOR SORRENTO

Many Other Items of Interest in This Thriving City

Govt Agent Hotalington was in town last week, looking after government land interests in this vicinity. He has traveled extensively, has visited every state in the Union, and was well pleased with this part of Florida.

Richard D. Crowe of Gladys Ave., Chicago, is one of the recent arrivals in Sorrento. He is visiting his friend, Dave T. Kelch.

Lee Verble will soon establish his tonorial parlor in a more central location in the village.

The men who planted the live oak trees along the streets of Sorrento, thirty or more years ago, conferred a great favor on citizens of a later day. The shade of these trees is comfort-giving, while their massive trunks and symmetrical proportions are a beauty to the eye.

The orange groves in this vicinity have been "fired" but once so far this winter, that was the night of Jan. 16th.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Crossley of Hav- erhill, Mass., who spent last winter on their Sorrento Ave. property have written to W. T. Rooks that they expect to come here in the spring. They will improve their place and probably become permanent residents of this village.

Mrs. F. A. Hardee, of Donaldsonville, Ga., is visiting her many friends in Sorrento. Mr. and Mrs. Hardee were married in this visit on Xmas Day, 1909.

George Dowler, formerly agent of the A. C. L. at this point is much improved in health.

Improvements on the commodious residence of Deputy Sheriff D. C. Wilcox, east of town, are approaching completion. C. H. Six is now painting the house inside and outside.

D. H. and B. B. Spencer are improving their twenty-acre tract on Sorrento Ave. Report is current that a Trilby man will soon open a meat market in Sorrento.

The area planted to watermelons this year in the vicinity of Sorrento will be about 200 acres. The Tom Watson variety is decidedly the favorite. Nothing is sweeter than a big, luscious, red-hearted melon—say about a 80 pounder.

The J. Williams & Co. turpentine plant located here is employing about 50 hands not counting Wm. D. Smith, a member of the firm is superintendent.

Miss Retta Waterhouse's friends tendered her a surprise party Friday evening at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Newton. A very pleasant time is reported. Mrs. Waterhouse and daughter will leave for their home in the old historic town of Morristown, N. J., next Friday. Mr. Waterhouse will remain in Sorrento for some time.

As a slayer of salamanders, W. T. Rooks will back his black cats against all comers. Old Tom has about rid the farm of the pests.

The removal to this point of the Battle Co's big band saw mill from Pasco is the subject of greatest interest to the people of this part of Lake county, particularly of course to those of Sorrento. The mill has a capacity of 30,000 feet a day; the employees will number 100 or more, which means an addition of about 300 inhabitants to Sorrento, and thirty-six houses will be built by the company as soon as possible. The mill will be erected near the turpentine plant, east of the Atlantic Coast Line station. The railroad company will put in a side track at once. A planing mill and shingle mill will be operated by the company, also a blacksmith shop. The company has purchased 15,500 acres of pine land, and estimate it will take them ten years to saw the timber. They have leased the Lovejoy mill and will operate it for perhaps two months, until they have sawed lumber sufficient for their own needs in the erection of houses, framing for the mill, etc. The Battle brothers, Frank, Thomas and George, are natives of Virginia, have been in the business for years, and have operated mills in several states. A key to their character as employers may be found in the fact that many of their workmen follow them wherever they go. The removal of the big mill to this point is a large undertaking, but they are hustlers and will push the work ahead as speedily as possible.

Sorrento is in Lake county, nineteen miles west of Sanford, on the Leesburg branch of the Atlantic Coast Line. The village gives all visitors a favorable impression at once. A productive soil, plenty of excellent water easily obtained, and other natural advantages make Sorrento a desirable place in which to locate.

The man who allows no sandbar to grow where two grew before is a good citizen.

Frank Battle, Jr. and Joe Battle, son of Mr. Thos. Battle, who have been attending the Southern College at Sutherland, joined their parents here Saturday night. It is not decided yet where the boys will resume their schooling.

DON'T KNOCK THE OTHER FELLOW
There is too much of scrapping between communities of this great state of ours. There is plenty of room for all, and every city has its good qualities. Secretary Powell, of the Tampa Board of Trade said: "A lady and gentleman called at my rooms the other day and wanted to know about this section. I spoke kindly of every place from Sanford to Ft. Myers. After I had finished the said; I thank you. I made many stops in Florida before I arrived in Tampa. I made inquiries about the line about this place and that, and every city had some knock against the other place. We had just come to the conclusion that Florida was not the place for us, but you put a different phase on the situation. There is some good in Florida, after all."

"A man from Ohio met a stranger on the train from Jacksonville who advised him not to stop at Sanford—it was overdone and land prices were so high that no one could realize on the investment. At Sanford a Sanford citizen got on the train and he asked him about Plant City. The Sanford man told him that it was a fast growing place and was raising excellent strawberries at a big profit. This man from Ohio told me that he was going to stop at Sanford on his return trip, because he met a Sanford man who was honest enough to speak a good word for a neighboring city, and when a man is big and broad enough to do that he felt that he must be from a mighty good town.

When one knocks another place it shows weakness of his own community. Just put that in your hat and keep it there.

THE CELERY OUTLOOK
The Herald has always advocated the f. o. b. system of selling where practicable. Also the stand together idea among the growers and keeping the market steady. From the present outlook the celery should bring a good price this year and it is up to the growers themselves to hold out for a good f. o. b. selling price. While not sure what other sections were doing The Herald has given accurate information about the shortage of celery this season. The following letter from W. C. Temple will serve to enlighten many growers about the celery situation:

Sanford Herald, Sanford, Fla.
Our attention has been called to the fact that Sanford celery has been selling readily at $2 a crate f. o. b. Sanford.

While this price is much higher than celery raisers have been in the habit of getting, still if you will take into consideration certain facts, we think that you will feel that they are getting the worth of their celery at that price.

The extreme cold in California has not only destroyed a large portion of their citrus crop, but it has also done fatal harm to much of her vegetable crop.

The Florida celery crop is scarcely fifty per cent of what it should be normally this year, there being a lighter acreage and a lighter crop per acre due, first, to lighter planting and second, to wet weather having shut down the production. As you are perhaps aware, we are handling a lot of celery for our Manatee Sub-Exchange this year and have been feeling the northern markets out on the basis of from $3 to $3.50 f. o. b. for celery in car lots; and we are confident that prices closely approximating these can be secured for celery if it is wisely distributed this year.

We are refusing to consider at the present time any offers of less than $3 per crate f. o. b. in car lots, and we are confident that your Sanford growers can just as easily get $2.50 to $2.75 a crate as they can get $2 a crate, if they get together and demand it.

Very truly yours,
FLORIDA CITRUS EXCHANGE,
W. C. Temple, General Manager.

WEATHER AND HEALTH
Secretary Bates of the Commercial Club has just issued some fine descriptive pamphlets of Sanford entitled Weather and Health in which the climate of this section is compared with every part of the United States, the comparison being most favorable to Sanford. In Mr. Bates' inimitable style the tourist is attracted to our incomparable city and the facts and figures are absolutely correct. The hitherto unknown facts that our summers are cooler than the summers of the great central portion of the United States. As the pamphlet aptly puts it:

"Did it ever occur to you that are the sizzling or freezing grip between the millstone of summer and the millstone of winter. You get it going and coming. It seems that Pluto has fixed up a special mixture of weather to be used in wiping you and yours off of the map. You have packages coming to you from the weather man and the most of them contain lemons. You have no spring. You go direct from sleet and cold torrid weather that would give the jim jams to a Florida chipmunk. You die from it too.

But, if you had the judgment to make a proper diagnosis of the conditions which surround you and could discern the calamity that will overtake you in either the winter or summer, you would investigate Good Old Sanford. You would come down and see how we live in the summer and you would remain to discover what we do in the winter. You would purchase land here and make your home in a country where the weather is decent. After you had been here twelve months, you could not be pulled loose with a steam dredge. As all the others do, you would set yourself up as an individual migration bureau operating in the interest of the best town in Florida."

The average temperature and rainfall of Lucky Sanford for a period of twelve months. There may be a slight variation from year to year, but the mean average will foot up about the same at the end of each twelve months.

More Cabbage Prices
To The Editor of The Herald:
We notice an item in your issue of the 19th Inst. in which you note that M. P. Miller shipped through a local man cabbage which netted him $1.15. Would it impress your readers to know that the Lewis Vegetable Exchange has been netting its customers a great deal more than that, paying cash from $1.25 to $1.75 per crate for cabbage right along.

Yours truly,

DOOLEY ON THE CONVENTION

(Florida Grower, Nov. 9, 1911.)
 "Was ye at th meetin' at Orlando Jar Saturday?" said Mr. Hennessey to his side partner.
 "'Tis the Gag Conventin I suppose ye mean?" said that philosopher.
 "Faith I war, but to tell ye the truth the reel conventin was hild at Jacksonville.
 "Suppose says Ketchem to the Major, suppose theys more of the other fellers thin of our own lads, what'll we do thin, says he."
 "Niver you fear, says the Major, I have not made me prisint reputation for nothin'. What do we do whin the nager vote gits too strong? We take his vote away frim him bedad. Have wan of our own lads made chairman, says he, appint yure own committees; admit no wan to a vote but the lads that's agin Timple, an' thin the grate voice of 80 per centim of the Floriday citrus frute orange growers kin be heard untrammeled, says he."
 "What did they do thin? From Jacksonville they came to Orlando wid their valises loaded wid gags. They have a gran' rehearsal at the San Wan Hotel. Says Ketchem, whose a chairman that'll work whin I pull a string? I'm a modest man, says a lad frim Eustis, but I have the proper qualifications. What's thin, says Ketchem. I'll be lookin' at you all the time, says the Eustis lad, an' do what I'm tole, says he. Yure a good an' three man, says Ketchem, I appint you chairman. I myself, in the absence of the honorable prisint of the Society For the Promotion of Ketchem & Co., will call the meetin' to orther. I have in mind a lad to make the motion another to accopt the motion, an' several other lads drilled to say Aye, says he."
 "Well, continued Mr. Dooley, Ivery thing wint off lovely. The lad frim Eustis takes the chair. A committee on orientalis was appointed an' goes back in the lobby an' pretind theys makin' plans. Pritty soon they comes back an' they goes around to the min in the hall. Are you a grower of citrus frute oranges, says they to a man. I am, says the man. Do you believe in condimn the poyson Ulligraft? says they. I do, says the man, an' down goes hees name fer a vote. Ef the 160 min prisint, 33 signs the call to condimn the telligraft. After all the names is down a lad that wuz posted says I move this conventin be made a perminut body an' those that will not vote Aye be denied the right of voice or vote."
 "I suppose the Major made the mane spache," said Mr. Hennessey. "Faith it was mane enough," responded Mr. Dooley, "but of you mean the principal spache, he did not. A lad be the name of Farmer of Orlando took the hide of the Major, throw it an' the fure, an' used it fer a foot mat fer the rest of the meetin'. Who's Farmer, says you? Did he sign the quit claime deed to himself? He did not, but fust lit me till you abute the Major's spache. Faith, the Major is a little bit of a man wid a strut, an' ef he lver was a spaker of furce be got over it an' is unable to come back. He had a voice like the mornin' after. I was disappointed in the Major. I think Ketchem paid him too much. How much did he pay him? Faith I dunno."
 "I came before this glorus body of 33 commission min, frute speculators, green frute orange packers an' fellow citrus frute orange growers, ripsinting as you do, 80 per cent of the growers of Floriday, as well as the other 75 other min who sined the call sint out be frind Ketchem. This dirty sheet which I hole in me hand, The Floriday Grower, says that I am here ripsinting the Floriday East Coast Railroad. 'Tis a base fabrication Ketchem is payin' the bill. It is ben said that I was sint here be the railroad because that eniquous institution the Floriday Exchange, has brought sute agin it fer damage claime. It is thrus that there is a sute on fer several thousan' dollars that these divilish growers are tryin' to collec' but as I am only called in cases of importance it is probable I will not condue' that case."
 "Gintilmin, the Floriday Exchange is but the tool of the Californay Exchange, an' expatriots from that state is hired to ruin the Floriday citrus frute orange business. Me own core of detectives hez discovered the appalla' fac' that the name 'of sales manager Burton, that ust to wuk fer the Californay Exchange, is still an the tilliphone books of Los Angeles. Also that he did not live in Los Angeles, but in Hollywood, an' that when he was formerly in the employ of the Californay Exchange he always tuk the elevator whin he wint upstairs. Is there no connection in yure minds bechune these condimn' fac's? What does he want of a tilliphone unless it is to tilliphone the secrets of the Floriday citrus frute orange growers an' why shud hees name be in the book unless he had a tilliphone. I ask you that."
 "Havin' thus established the connection bechune the Floriday Exchange an' the Californay Exchange, I will go farther to prove this, though

I think you will agree 'tis unnecessary, but I'm a fair man. I have in me han' a litter from a respectable Boston commission man, named Spooner, wan of those min who's business is hurt be the Floriday Exchange, an' ef 'whom several are wif us today. This man brings the terrible charge that Californay frute is sold in thauctions of that fair city lvery day before the Floriday frute, an' to the min' of all of you this will be futher proof that the Floriday Exchange is to the han's of the Californay Exchange, evin' though this practice of sales wuz in force long before the Floriday Exchange was organized. Havin' thus proven me pint is it asy to see why Timple sint the poyson message.
 "I have another proof, fellow gintilmin, a proof so strong that no farther argument or words is necessary. I have in me own han's, a letter frim Woodhead of the Californay Exchange to the Exchange mibers of that Exchange. In it he says that considerable agitation hez ben aroused, an' much talk is beln made abute the shipment of green frute oranges frim Floriday. I urge you, says Woodhead, to be cam an' say nuthin'.
 Readin' bechune the lines, says the Major, is asy to establish the fac' that Woodhead does not want to Californay growers to say anything, an' that, to me own mind, is the most damming pelce of evidence of all."
 "The Major sits dune an' the lad Farmer gits up. Says he, I rise to ask me statute in this body. Am I allowed to take part in these proceedin's? Did you sine the call to vote these rite way, says the Major, I was not ast says Farmer. Well, would you sine, says the Major, I niver yit sined away me manhood, says Farmer, an' I'm not want to see I ast you not to deprive American citizens the rite to vote, says he, and I demand the privilege of addressin' this meetin'. You can't talk, says the chairman, unless you sine the call, says he. I move he be heered, says a lad be the name of Barlow. Sec'on' the motion, says another lad, an' it wuz voted to let Farmer talk an' have the privilege of the meetin'. Tin thousand times I bet you the Major an' Ketchem cursed the man Barlow that made the motion an' thirteen times be actual count, the Major moved that Farmer be denied the privilege of the fure, but the chairman says, be faith ye voted to let him spake an' ye can make the best of it. Belave me that when Ketchem picks another chairman 'twill not be the lad frim Eustis."
 "So Farmer wint on wid hees spache. He says, I have always found me frind the Major on the wrong side of lvery contintion that lver came up. He have the San Domingez oriental min, says he, that is always lookin' fer the nager in the woodpile ther's not there, says he. I charge that green frute oranges is injurus, says he. I move he be kicked frim the fure, says the Major. I know the members of the legislature that passed the green frute law, says Farmer, an' I consider all the mibers at least equally ez good ez the Major, says he, an, that alnt sayin' much fer the lads that's not here, says he. I move he be excluded frim the fure, says the Major. Nuthin' doin', says the chairman, you made yure bed an' ef theys carpet tacks in it is no fault of mine, says he. I want to ast Farmer a question, says the Major, Farmer walks over to the Major, an' shakin, his finger in hez face, he says, Major whin I'm through talkin' you kin ast me any questions you plaze but in the mane time keep yure face closed or I'll close it for you, says he. Faith I thought they wuz goin' to the fure right there.
 "I'm in favor of the Florida Exchange says Farmer, an' there is not a man on the fure that dares come up to me an' say the Exchange hez not blinfited the industry, an' lvery actual grower among you who are here to condim the Exchange are rapin' the blinf. If ye can show us a better way to market our frute do so but don't try to destroy what ye cannot build up."
 "Sure I think I've heered of this and Farmer, he ust to be a grate scrapper in the old days," says Mr. Hennessey, "they called him Pedler Farmer thin." "You have the wrong man," said Mr. Dooley, "this is not Pedler Farmer come back but another scrapper of the same name, an' he had the Major outclashed."
 "Do you think Ketchem made a mistake to hire the Major?" said Mr. Hennessey. I think, says Mr. Dooley, I think that Ketchem ought to be aristed fer vilatin the short lobster law."
BEST PRODUCING DAIRY COW
 Farmer Should Select Animal Giving Most Milk—Holsteins, Jerseys and Guernseys Popular.
 The impartial and most authentic records seem to show that the Holsteins produce milk more cheaply than the others, and that Jerseys and Guernseys produce butter at less cost for feed; but it is within the observation of almost every practical dairyman that the most profitable cows in almost any breed are infinitely better than the poorest in other breeds.

 It is our opinion based on long experience in the dairy business that there is quite as much room for choice within any breed as there is between breeds, and hence, that it is not enough to adopt a particular breed, says a writer in the Baltimore American. An authority says: "Be sure to have animals of a distinctive dairy form and temperament, see that they have the in-curving thigh, the high arching flank, the rising pelvic arch, the clear eye and a general makeup that denotes high courage and endurance. The dairy cow should be deep through the flank, with square udder running well forward under the stomach and well up between the thighs, with teats good length and squarely placed. In the flank just above the udder is what is known as the milk gland, which is easily found in every good cow.
 The real test, however, is the quantity and quality of milk she will give in a year; hence if you would know your cows, better test them and know for a certainty which are paying a profit and which are being kept at a loss. Weigh and test the milk of each cow. Practical dairymen weigh the milk of each cow daily and keep a record of her yield. The foundation of a dairy herd is the sire. Select one that has been bred with reference to milk production. Such have power to transmit their characteristics to their offspring with almost increasing certainty.
 "I wonder where all the Smiths came from?"
 "Well, there's a Smith manufacturing company in our town."—Winfred Winn.
 "And what did the doctor say when the operation showed you did not have appendicitis?"
 "Oh, he offered to take ten per cent off his bill."—W. Bob Holland
A Foe to Fiction.
 "Don't you thing something ought to be done to prevent accidents with runaway horses and motor cars?" asked the timid person.
 "Certainly not," replied the publisher. "You would deprive summer novelists of their only means of letting the hero and heroine become acquainted without a formal introduction."

WOMAN WITHOUT A MAID.
 There is a wear and tear on patience and strength whether a woman does her own housework or directs many servants. The woman who can keep house with comfort without a maid is a fortunate woman. She must be systematic without making system a bugbear. It takes brains as well as muscle to be a successful housekeeper. A maid has her regular work laid out for her, which she can usually do with no thought of interruption; but how is it with the house mother? She has a thousand calls and interruptions from Mary, with a cut finger, to the telephone and door. It is so hard, too, at all times to be fresh and presentable when one is doing housework. A big apron that will cover the dress is a most desirable kind to wear, and may be used as a dress in hot weather.
 The early rising habit has helped one housekeeper to solve the "no servant" problem, getting so much out of the way before the family are astir. She is not able to accomplish as much as a good Bridget, who boasted of her early rising, however, as she said she got up and got breakfast and had all the beds made before the family were up.
 When a woman does her own work she must not waste time and energy doing things over. A kitchen floor need be swept but once in the forenoon, and when doing work that will soil table or sink, use papers and burn them, saving the time for more essential things.
 A dainty table is a necessity, and a dainty person is another; both may be kept with a little care. If the table is slightly use doilies instead of a cloth, and save the ironing of large linen; a few doilies are easily laundered.
 Another help to a busy housekeeper is having the family on time at meals, being late is only a habit and a good one to break.
 Take a few hours each day for rest or recreation. You owe it to yourself as all work and no play has the same effect upon Jill that it does upon Jack.

POULTRY

IN recent issues we have given you a few figures comparing Florida with the very best Northern States in the production of corn and potatoes. It is not possible to compare Florida with all of the states on all kinds of crops, because certain crops in Florida pay so much money to farmers that they do not care to give attention to some other crops which are staple in the North. In looking over the statistics on any crop that is grown both in Florida and the Northern States, we find that Florida has a decided advantage.

Owing to our wonderful climate, we have advantages along other lines—in the raising of stock, for instance. It is not necessary to protect stock from the weather, and consequently all kinds of stock run at large the year 'round and require no attention and but little feed. This is one of the most inviting fields for the cattle business in the country. We may have more to say on this subject later on.

Just now we call your attention to the raising of Poultry.

Poultry raising as an industry has made wonderful strides forward in the past few years, yet the demand for poultry products is increasing much more rapidly than the supply, and prices are advancing slightly each year. This fact is due to several reasons. Almost everybody enjoys eating poultry products. The general high cost of living along other lines undoubtedly adds to the consumption of poultry products and tends to increase prices. Still another, and we think a greater reason than any other, is due to the rapid increase of population in our cities and the decrease in population of our country districts. The census of 1910, reveals some startling facts. The State of Illinois, for instance, lost 45,000 population in the rural districts in the past ten years, while the state as a whole, including the cities, gained over 800,000. What is true of Illinois is true of practically every other state in the union. As people flock to the cities they, of course, cease to be producers, but still continue to be consumers. That this condition of affairs will continue for years to come is a practically settled fact.

For one of limited means we do not know of any field so inviting as poultry raising, and certainly if one is going into the poultry business, no place in the world offers the advantages today that Florida does.

In the Year Book of the Department of Agriculture of the United States for 1910, pages 643 and 644, are two tables giving prices in each state of eggs per dozen and chickens per hundred pounds for every month during the past two years. We have selected six representative states out of this list and figured the average price for two years on both eggs and chickens. They are as follows:

STATE	EGGS PER DOZ.	CHICKENS PER 100 LBS.
South Dakota	$.203	$ 9.04
Illinois	.216	11.26
Indiana	.220	11.48
Iowa	.203	10.20
Missouri	.194	10.80
Kansas	.195	10.37
Average for the six states	.205	10.37

Now compare Florida from the same table: Eggs 24c and chickens $13.34. This will show you that the price of eggs in Florida during the past two years has averaged 3½c higher than the six states above mentioned, and that the price of chickens has averaged $2.97 per 100 pounds higher than in the six states above. This difference of itself should be an attractive margin of profit.

In the vicinity of Sanford but few people pay any attention to poultry, probably because they are engaged in truck growing, from which they make enormous returns, and consequently do not care to fool with chickens.

Being near the great resorts of the country, and having such excellent transportation by both water and rail, the demand here is much greater than in other parts of the state and the prices at Sanford are consequently considerably above the average given.

We do not know of a better place or one more adapted to poultry raising than our Volusia Farms. This land is level, excellent quality of soil, well drained, has splendid transportation facilities by both water and rail and CAN BE BOUGHT AT FROM $30 TO $50 PER ACRE, depending upon location.

One of the finest poultry farms in this part of the state is located at Enterprise, only a short distance from our Volusia Farms. The owner of this farm, Mr. Throop, has a large number of hens, and in an article written for The Sanford Herald of recent date, this gentleman states that his hens average to pay him $2.00 per head each year above all expenses.

Mr. Throop buys all his feed and does not attempt to grow any of it, as his farm is located on a few town lots.

It is so easy to grow anything or everything in Florida that we should certainly advise one who intended trying the poultry business to buy sufficient land to grow all his own feed, especially so when our Volusia Farms can be bought at the present low price. There is no question about an advance in value later on, and besides being able to raise feed for one's poultry, one would get the benefit of the advance in value of the land itself.

Let us show you over this splendid tract of land. No matter what you want land for in Florida, you will be pleased with our Volusia Farms. Sold on easy terms with small payments.

Bridge Luncheon
 Mrs. R. S. Keelor was the hostess of a very delightful bridge luncheon at her lovely home, Lake View Lodge on Lake Onoro Saturday. Immediately after the arrival of her guests Mrs. Keelor was charmingly assisted in serving a delicious four course luncheon by Misses Flora M. Johnson and Charlotte Keelor to the guests seated at the card tables, which consisted of oyster cocktail, chicken patis, green peas, potato chips, sandwiches and olives, fruit salad, cherry cream with dainty cakes. Salted almonds were served during the games of cards.

Six tables of auction bridge were played. The highest score was made by Miss Lizzie Mays of Monticello, who captured the first prize, an ancient brass candlestick. Mrs. A. S. Briggs of Madison, Wis., received the booby prize, a bridge set.

Mrs. M. F. Robinson, Mrs. F. A. Schumpert, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Harry Ward, Mrs. Andrew Johnson, Mrs. D. L. Thrasher, Mrs. F. L. Woodruff and Mrs. Fatjo did not join the card party, but enjoyed a very interesting word contest, which consisted in making the largest number of words from the first ten letters of the alphabet. Mrs. Andrew Johnson was the successful contestant and won the silver spoon, which was the prize offered the winning competitor.

Mrs. Keelor's guests were Mesdames Vorce, Robinson, Schumpert, Taylor, Hughes, Johnson, Ward, Holden, Dickins, Lake, Keely, Newman, Puleston, Thrasher, Herndon, Miller, Lane, Driver, Fernald, Woodruff, Gabbett, Fatjo, Brown, Holly, Marks, Misses Nona Wylie and Flora M. Johnson. Out of town guests were Mesdames Carpenter, Bell, Briggs, Papworth and Miss Mays.

Pleasant Afternoon
 Miss Hazel Hand gave several of her young friends a pleasant outing and enjoyable visit at her pretty suburban home Saturday afternoon. The girls met at the residence, of Miss Helen Rowland, where Miss Hazel came for them in a large wagon, the bottom of which was comfortably covered with straw. The merry young folks enjoyed the jolly ride. After arriving at the hospitable home, the afternoon was made very pleasant by various amusements and entertainments. Some of the party enjoyed a boat ride on the lake.

Delicious ice cream and cake were served by the charming young hostess, who was successful in giving her guests a jolly good time. When the afternoon was over another merry ride, made the homeward trip very pleasant.

Miss Hazel's guests were, Misses Helen Rowland, Margaret Davis, Lucca Chappell, Essie Purdon, Linda Connelly, Clarissa Starling and Charlotte Hand.

Express Companies Again

The abomination of the growers of Florida is the express companies. The following letter received by the Lewis Vegetable Exchange of this city shows one of the methods practiced by the carriers:

Lewis Vegetable Exchange, Sanford, Fla.
 Dear Sirs—You wrote some time ago that you did not see how vegetables could freeze coming to Philadelphia. I enclose you clipping so you can see for yourself that they do freeze.

Yours,
 G. G. MCCLINTOCK,
 Produce Commission Merchant, Philadelphia.

Following is the article taken from the New York Packer:

New York, Jan. 12.—General complaint was heard all over the street this week on account of the frozen condition of Florida vegetables arriving here. Beans particularly were hard hit and a total of perhaps several thousand packages were turned down. Express shipments suffered heavy losses. There certainly should be something done to bring the express companies to time. In many instances this perishable stuff arrived in good shape but was carelessly handled by the drivers—thrown on the stoops and sidewalks in front of the stores without, in some cases, any notices being given to receivers at all. In such cases the stock simply perished from the cold. Early in the week some firms turned down as high as two hundred to three hundred packages a day and those houses that did accept the stock lost money because it did not bring freight charges.

Too Much Bridge
 Editor of The Semi-Weekly Holly:

As a fellow unfortunate, I write to ask your help in the formation of a married man's league for the propagation and encouragement of that ancient institution known as supper time. Remember as you can, how day after day one goes home after the days work, with appetite attuned by pleasant anticipations, to be met by the often repeated words, "Refreshments were served at Bridge" you will find something in the ice box "Dearie" (they always call you "Dearie," when the rations are short; or may be this full fed "Brute" never notices) and day after day, for five or six days in the week, you miss out at the even-tide.

Or if they come to your house for bridge they clean you out for a whole week. It really looks like "The Ladies" get together for supper, and leave the married men to "pan handle" as best they can.

There was hope inspired when a tea room was opened, but the first trip there showed even the sales room crowded to overflowing with "Bridgets", and poor man fled precipitately.

Now if we can't form a married man's league, we can have a club room where we can have our suppers, with a Mellins food annex for the children. Kindly take to heart, and advise me.

Yours for "Three Squares,"
 ONE OF THE SUPPERLESS ONES.

Mrs. Wight Will Entertain
 Wednesday afternoon from 3:30 to 5 o'clock Mrs. Henry Wight will be hostess of a social tea for the young ladies of the Congregational church, all of whom are cordially invited to be present.

CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain.

Mr. James E. Goodfellow, representing the J. Hamburger Company, wholesale produce commission merchants of New York City, is in Lakeland endeavoring to interest the strawberry growers in a plan to ship their fruit in carloads by freight thus saving at least seven cents per quart on transportation and refrigeration.

It is said that Banker Morse, who is suffering with kidney trouble, will visit Green Cove Springs as soon as he is able to travel. His wife, sister and three servants will accompany him if he comes. Mr. Morse was recommended to Green Cove Springs by a man from his home town, Bath, Me., who was greatly benefited here four years ago. Morse was recently given his freedom by President Taft.

Kissimmee is to have an aeroplane factory. Actual work on the construction of the shops will begin within a short time on a site south of that city. The incorporators of this plant are all Birmingham people.

An egg which is said to be the largest ever seen in St. Johns county was on exhibition in St. Augustine a few days ago. It tipped the scales at ten ounces. The egg came from Mr. Jackson's famous poultry farm at Crescent Beach.

Mulberry is to have a weekly paper. A company has been organized with $3,500 capital. The plant will include only modern equipment. The paper has not yet been named.

News has been received in Pensacola from Washington that several war vessels will be sent to Pensacola for the Mardi Gras celebration.

J. W. Rosetter of Eau Gallie killed a twenty-two pound wild turkey in the woods just west of there last week.

The young ladies of Rollins College have recently organized a basket ball team and are practicing hard with a view to selecting a varsity team.

Rev. Mr. Thomas was shot and killed at his home near Cottondale a few nights ago. It seems that the aged preacher had had some trouble with his son-in-law and the latter fired six bullets from ambush at his father-in-law, all of which entered the victim's neck and passed out the left shoulder.

The tarpon season opened at Crystal River on last Thursday when the first silver king of the season was caught. The day following another large one was caught. The first fish weighed 113 pounds and the second 150.

Illinois Day will be celebrated in Lakeland on the 30th of this month. A large number of families from that State now reside in Lakeland.

The first carload of freight to go through to Key West over the Over-Sea railroad was shipped from Miami, last Monday. It consisted of a carload of lumber.

Improvement Marching On

We are told that an estimate is being prepared by the Mr. Temple for setting the Amoor river privet hedge around the grounds of the Sanford House. This will certainly be an improvement not only to the appearance of the property but to this part of the city in general and the management is to be commended for their zeal in making our city present an attractive appearance to our many winter visitors as well as to our own citizens. This Amoor privet is a beautiful hedge plant and with proper care will in twelve months form a hedge as pretty and useful as the older type of privet was capable of doing in years. Mr. Temple has had phenomenal success with all he has planted. Note for instance inclosures in front of Peoples Bank and Herald office one of which has been in place six weeks, the other two weeks.

Is Coming

Dr. J. C. Davis, the well known optician will be at "Robbins' Nest" Saturday, Feb. 3rd until Saturday, Feb. 10th inclusive. Headache cured with glasses. Don't neglect your children's eyes.

BIG REAL ESTATE DEAL

Seven Thousand Acres of Fine Land Changes Hands

A real estate deal of more than ordinary interest took place this week when the Lee and Mackinson tract near Narcoosa was sold to Cincinnati parties.

The tract comprises 7000 acres of land for farming and fruit growing and will mean the settlement of many hundreds of new people in this part of the Florida.

The Marks Real Estate Agency of this city made this sale and the price paid for the land was well over the $100,000 mark.

Pleasant Social Meeting

The Missionary Society of the Methodist church enjoyed a very pleasant social meeting at the residence of Mrs. F. W. Miller Tuesday afternoon. Quite a number of the society were present. They were pleased to have eight visitors with them. Mrs. M. A. Stout second vice president of the society, was in charge of the meeting and had arranged a very interesting program. At Mrs. Stout's request several very helpful articles from the Missionary Digest, the official organ and magazine of the missionary society were read by different ladies, touching on the work of both the Home and Foreign activities. Mrs. Stout read "The Field," Mrs. Mettinger "Does It Pay to Send Missionaries to the Foreign Field," Mrs. Chappell "Cuba Our Own Field," Mrs. Bowler "Some Statements Concerning The Salaries Paid to Missionaries," Mrs. E. L. Marshall "The Ministry of A Neighbor," Mrs. J. A. Newton, accompanied by Miss Clara Walker sang for the pleasure of the ladies. "Lead Me The Way," "Nearer My God to Thee" with variation, a very pretty piano selection, was played by Miss Irene Thurston "Tommy," a very amusing recitation, was finely given by Miss Margaret Coffee.

This recitation ended the program, and the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Miller and a social hour and a delicious salad course, served by the hostess and her charming assistants, Misses Irene Thurston, Margaret Coffee and Martha Miller, was enjoyed by the ladies after which the meeting adjourned.

M. M. Smith Will Drive

M. M. Smith, the genial president of the People Bank in this city and president of every other bank in the United States was promptly grabbed today by a Herald man to talk about the Horse Show here February 13th and 14th. "You bet I will be here," said Mr. Smith, "and I will bring several horses and get every other man that loves a good horse to do likewise."

Mr. Smith remarked that he considered the Sanford Horse Show one of the best attraction features this city had ever put on not only would the Hospital Association be benefited but the entire county as more fine horses would be represented here than at any other one place in the state.

Orlando Elks Will Smoke

This does not mean down below, but at Orlando on Wednesday night, Jan. 31st. The Smoker promises a big time for the boys, as several of them will have to answer to charges preferred against them. M. M. Smith is one of the culprits and the boys expect to stick him for enough to furnish cigars for the whole year.

The menu is something great containing such delicate dishes as Liquid Glue, Smoking and Eating Tobacco, Pavo Asado, Karoffel Saint, Copta Curea and other articles of wearing apparel. Members of Sanford lodge are invited and all Elks in good standing are welcome.

Property Changes Hands

The Check apartment house at the corner of Palmetto avenue and Second street changed hands this week. Mrs. E. B. Warman is the purchaser and the price paid was a fancy one. The property is a two story brick building in a most desirable location and comprises three separate suites of apartments suitable for house keeping.

Mrs. Warman is to be congratulated upon securing the fine piece of property.

Conglomeration of Articles

Repairs as follows will be done for a short time in the city by our fellow townsman, Geo. B. Ivey, who is looking for place to locate. He is an experienced workman on repairing and rebuilding organs and pianos, graphophones and phonographs, sewing machines, gun smithing, watch and clock repairing. He will appreciate any favors shown him in way of work, also notary public, auctioneer and office clerk.

COMMITTEES HARD AT WORK

Promises To Be A Great Event With Mid Winter Tourists and Visitors

Sanford's Horse Show and Field Day will be one of the banner attractions in the state and many tourists visiting in Florida will be attracted to the city during the two days' festivities. The various committees are at work on the programs, decorating, making a grand stand and other improvements and have been greatly encouraged by the interest manifested by all the business men.

The program of entries will be a very fine affair and besides the program will contain the advertisements of Sanford business firms.

The decoration committee made a canvass of the city and has the assurance of the business men that all the stores will be decorated with the horse show colors several days preceding the 13th and 14th. Many entries for the athletics and the horse show are promised and the success of the project is already assured.

Boston In Bankruptcy

"The Boston" a local dry goods firm of this city have filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy. The firm has been in business here about two years. They were incorporated last summer with a capital stock of $25,000. Only a part of the stock was sold however, the balance remaining in the possession of the firm as treasury stock. It is said that the assets will more than cover the liabilities and none of the creditors will lose.

Special Candy Drive

Believing that Sanford people like candy if they can buy it at a reasonable rate. Mr. Miller has inaugurated a special Saturday drive and gives a pound box of good candy for 29 cents. See his window at the Peoples Cash Grocery next door to post-office.

In the hope of checking the emigration of American farmers to the Canadian Northwest, important amendments to liberalize the public land laws have been favorably reported from the public lands committee. The enforced term of residence on the homestead is to be shortened. It is estimated that 100,000 farmers are going to Canada every year.

Somewhat of a bombshell has been exploded in the political camp of President Taft's followers by the news from Missouri that Governor Hadley of that state has come out in support of Col. Theodore Roosevelt of New York and will urge Missouri Republicans to throw the support of that state to the ex-president, and will seek to have the coming state convention endorse him and instruct the delegation from Missouri to the national convention to throw its votes to Roosevelt.

A dispatch received by the navy department from Guayaquil, Ecuador, this morning says Commander Bertelette of the gunboat Yorktown, and Seaman Clarence Wood are dead there of yellow fever. Commander Bertelette was a native of Pennsylvania.

The Wednesday Club

A good attendance of the club were present at the home of Mrs. S. O. Chase, Wednesday afternoon. After the reading of the minutes by the secretary, Mrs. Chase, the program for the afternoon was promptly taken up. "The Saga of Harald Hairyfoot" one of the most powerful and popular Norse Klugs, who ruled over Norway in its early days was given by Mrs. Mary B. Phelps. The interesting "Saga of Hakon the Good" was prepared by Mrs. E. W. D. Dunn, but was read by Miss Lillie Farnsworth as Mrs. Dunn was unable to attend. King L. R. Phelps read King Harald and King Athelstone of England. Miss Mell Whitner read the last paper on the program "The Saga of King Harald Greycloak and Earl Hakon the Mighty." The club received a message from Mrs. Fernald containing a request for contributions of fancy articles from the members for sale during the "Field Day" celebration. After a short business discussion the club received an invitation through Miss Mell from Mrs. J. N. Whitner, to meet at her home during the month of February.

A Social Cnp of Tea

Mrs. Henry Wight was delighted to have nearly if not every one of the young ladies of the Congregational church accept her invitation to the tea given for their benefit Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Fred P. Ensminger was present and told the young ladies about his work among the Cubans in West Tampa. He told them of the great needs and possibilities of the missionary field right at our own door. The young ladies decided that they would undertake to clothe one of the little girls in the home that has been established in West Tampa. Mrs. Wight has over been the interested friend and enthusiastic worker among young people. She is happiest when she is surrounded by these bright young spirits and is always eager to guide their thoughts and efforts into helpful and uplifting channels of needed activities.

Mrs. Wight was assisted in serving her guests with dainty refreshments by Misses Madge and Veda Ward.
