

1965 Pictured As 'A Year Of Advance'—Touhy

Savings and Loan executives among the 5,000 persons who attended the national convention of the United States S&L League in Miami Beach last week were delighted and encouraged to learn from leading economists of the country that 1965 would be "a year of advance," according to George Touhy, the executive vice president of the local First Federal with Mrs. Touhy spent last week at the business conference.

Sen. John J. Sparten, Senate banking and currency committee member, was on the opening business session program and stressed the increasing importance of the $130 billion S&L industry in the nation's economy and, therefore in the esteem of his committee and the Congress in general.

Among the forecasters who were heard by the delegates were Dr. Arthur Weimer, who in addition to his work as consulting economist, is special assistant to the president of Indiana University. Also on the program was Gordon McKinley, vice president for economics for McGraw Hill Publications, and Dr. Leon Kendall, economist for the New York Stock Exchange.

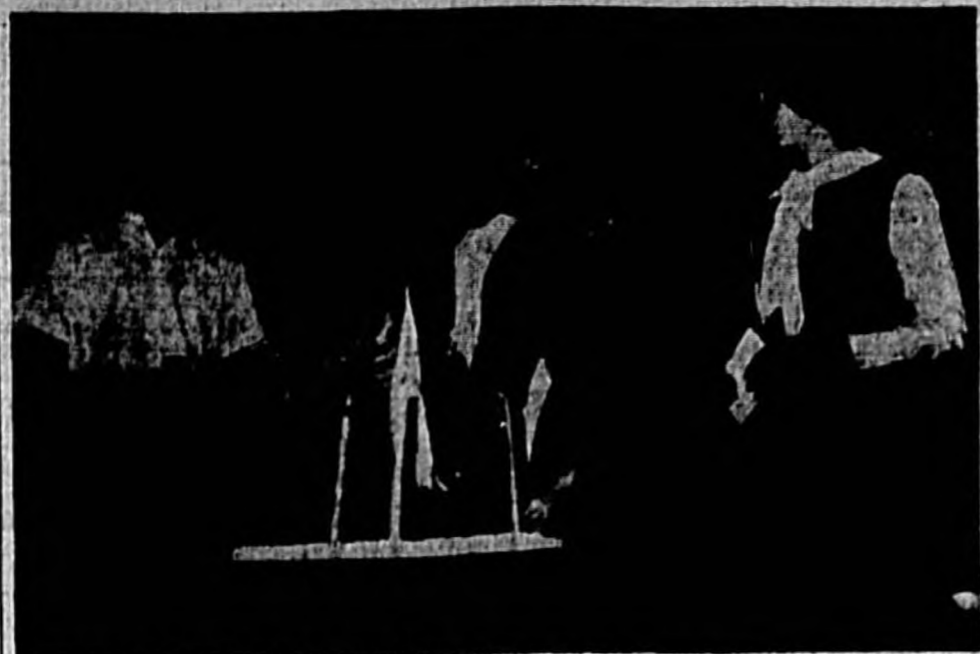

The general pattern predicted by these analysts was one of slow climb in the first six months, according to Touhy, with a "sharper ascent in the last half of the year." Much of what happens in the July to December stretch will be determined by the temper of Congressional action as the law-makers re-convene.

Joseph P. McMurray, chairman of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board—regulatory body for the S&L industry—pointed to the increasing confidence of the public, both savers and borrowers, in the integrity of personnel of the thrift institutions. He believed that Congress because of the public interest involved in the fast-growing industry would broaden its field of activity. The regulations which have been proposed in McMurray's administration have increased this confidence, McMurray believes. Touhy added that the chairman has resigned to become president of Queens college in New York on Jan. 1.

The First Federal's officer as a member of the U. S. League's committee on insurance been keenly interested in the new operating rules which were the topic for a half day session of that group in Miami Beach.

Mrs. Touhy with the other ladies of the convention attended a "Wig Tea," a performance of "Oliver," the President's Ball, among other festivities.

Dr. J. C. Buntin Wins Credit For Water Supply

Residents of Lemon Bluff got the okay to use "their" water last week. This small community had no satisfactory source of water until this time.

Some used filtered river water while others used wells—usually high in salt content—and all carried their drinking water. Then the State Board of Health gave the go-ahead to use the water.

Many months had passed since the first organizational meeting of the Lemon Bluff Water Association in April, but at last all have access to good water. The credit for this accomplishment can be divided among several men, but it must begin with one.

Dr. J. C. Buntin had seen a similar situation in a small town in the western United States. He made a few inquiries there, and reached the decision to get water "back home." Upon his return, Dr. Buntin contacted Ramon D. McGough, Farmers Home Administration agent in Sanford. He wanted to know the possibilities of obtaining a government loan to install a water system at Lemon Bluff. Soon the ball was rolling and the project was under way.

The work progressed as smoothly as could have been expected, but at times it was disheartening to the men involved. McGough did his job thoroughly and calmly, which would have been difficult considering all the aspects of it. The engineer, A. E. O'Neal, spent many hours working out the technical problems. Dr. Buntin (now president of the organization) did far more than his fair share by devoting nearly all of his time to the project.

J. W. Smith, who was elected vice president, also put many extra hours into the perfection of the system. He and Dr. Buntin did most of the leg work necessary to solve the small problems that kept cropping up. Another man who helped greatly was Kermit Wiggins. He shared the knowledge he gleaned from having been connected with a similar system at one time.

Candidates State Platforms

By Deana Estes
Candidates stating their platforms today for election to the Longwood City Council are Leroy C. (Jerry) Riley and Jim Reiter. Municipal elections are scheduled for Dec. 1 and council seats open are those presently held by John Reams and R. C. Carlson.

"To give all the people fair representation," is the basis of Riley's campaign. He states that "being a parent, he is interested in providing better government in his community to make it a better place in which to rear his three sons."

If elected he pledges "to work for the construction of a civic center which would provide supervised recreation for the young people of the city as well as a meeting place for local organizations." The Rileys have lived at 184 E. Bay St. since his retirement from the Navy two-and-one-half years ago and their two eldest sons attend Longwood Elementary School and South Seminole Junior High.

Riley is active in the Longwood Elementary PTO, presently serving his second consecutive term as treasurer and attends Longwood's Christ Episcopal Church. He is employed at Dearborn Electronics.

Reiter is well-known in the community having served 13 consecutive years on council before his defeat last year by only four votes.

More than 40 per cent of the sweet potatoes (or yams) sold in cans on the American market are produced in Louisiana.

If elected he promises "to work for the betterment of the city and to carry out the duties of councilman as he did in the past."

It's official! E. Pope Bassett was elected . . . to the board of directors of the Maitland Chamber of Commerce. Bassett, a resident of Seminole County, recently was defeated by 127 votes in his race with Lawrence Swafford, mayor of Altamonte Springs, for a County Commission seat.

By the way, some of Lawrence Swafford's constituents are now calling him "Land-slide" Swafford.

In Tuesday night's Herald, the caption on a sports photo indicated Harley Cox was the ball carrier. Actually the carrier was halfback Bruce Dowden. Bruce was wearing a jersey formerly worn by Cox who has been out of action for the past three or four games. Seems like the old adage, "You can't tell the players without a program," must have gone down the drain. According to some Oviedo fans, "You can't tell the players even with a program."

Brailley Odham told officials and dignitaries at the Garden Center groundbreaking, "You should not permit a single weed to grow in Seminole County with all this lovely sunshine and plenty of water. Weeds are a distraction," he said and called upon the Sanford Garden Club to "show them the way."

In addition to activity on their new garden center building, the Sanford Garden Club has pledged "fullest cooperation" to the new Seminole County Beautification Committee to make this county the "most beautiful in Florida."

The Herald is hearing expressions of enthusiasm on every side about the Seminole County beautification project. This is wonderful and very encouraging—but what will be even more encouraging is to see all the enthusiasts with dirt under their fingernails and a shovel in their hand.

If you want to do your part to aid the building fund for the new Garden Center and help yourself at the same time, attend the big Christmas bazaar Friday at the Civic Center. It opens at 10 a. m., for one day only. There'll be lots of interesting and unusual items that will make fine gifts or a treat for you and your family.

Karlyle Housholder today is in the process of appointing seven area chairmen in connection with the beautification program adopted by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce following the challenge issued last week by WESH-TV's general manager, Tom Gilchrist. Each chairman is to name his own area committee but all committees will carry out their objectives according to a master plan. It's also understood that the aid of some state agencies will be solicited.

A DREAM COME TRUE was the breaking of ground for the Sanford Garden Center building at Sunland Estates Tuesday. Farm-City Week To Open Friday

The tenth annual observance of Farm-City Week in Seminole will get under way Friday and continue through Nov. 26, according to Cecil Tucker II, County Agricultural Agent and chairman of the local committee in charge of the week-long event.

The local event is under the sponsorship of a committee comprised of representatives of civic clubs, commodity groups, the Farm Bureau, federal agencies, Extension and Experiment Station personnel and other groups interested in better farm-city relationships.

Tucker said that a bureau has been established to provide speakers for all Seminole County civic organizations. Tucker reported that last year's affair, according to final reports issued by the national headquarters of Farm-City Week activities, involved the active participation of more than 10,000 communities

Shoe Workers Interested In Factory Here

Nearly 25 experienced shoe factory personnel have reported to Joe Foy, manager of the Florida State Employment Office here, that they are interested in becoming associated with the company planning to move a factory to this area.

"One man," said Foy, "has had about 18 years experience as a cutter. As a result, I do not believe we'll have any difficulty in providing adequate personnel for the firm."

It was announced in The Herald Oct. 22 by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce that a shoe manufacturing firm was interested in relocating in this area. A survey for potential employees was conducted by the Chamber in connection with the State Employment office here. Results of that survey have been forwarded to the company.

Local officials, including Scott Burns, chairman of the trade body's industrial committee, are anticipating an announcement by the firm in the very near future.

Manager John Krider declared today that there is no doubt but that the manufacturing firm will relocate its plant. "It has nothing to do," Krider said, "with an announcement Tuesday of another factory deciding to locate in another Florida city. This is a different company."

Motorists Slated For Tag 'Break'

By Julian Stenstrom Associate Editor

Florida auto license tags will go on sale Feb. 1, according to Seminole County Tax Collector John L. Galloway.

Thus, car owners will be getting the first "break" on the take increase which went into effect when the 1964 tags were sold early this year.

The 1965 tag, just as its predecessor — the 1964 tag — will be good for 13 months and this means that 1966 tags will not go on sale until March 1 of that year.

By that time, state authorities probably will designate them as 1966-67 tags because they will be 13-month tags until the year arrives when plates will go on sale July 1. At that time, they are supposed to revert to the 12-month tag.

But you can purchase 1965 tags now.

Collision Seen Unless Russia Pays Up Dues

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson called in his top diplomatic advisers today to plan U. S. strategy for a fast-approaching crisis with the Soviet Union over United Nations financing.

The future of the world organization may be at stake in the moneybag showdown between the two great powers over Russia's refusal to pay more than $54 million in past due assessments for UN peace-keeping forces in the Congo and Middle East.

A clash is expected Dec. 1 at the opening of the 20th UN General Assembly in New York City unless the United States or Russia backs down on the issue.

"We're on a collision course," said one State Department official.

Johnson arranged a conference with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, UN Ambassador Adlai Stevenson and Assistant Secretary of State Harlan Cleveland to discuss the financing deadlock and other UN matters.

There were indications the Chief Executive would reaffirm the nation's hard line and demand payment of the Soviet share or move to deprive the Russians of a vote in the UN Assembly.

American officials said they believed the U. S. position would be supported on a show-down vote in the assembly, even though many nations trying to preserve neutrality in the East-West conflict probably would abstain.

Under a provision of the UN charter, Russia could lose its assembly vote for being two years behind in paying assessments. U. S. sources said, however, they doubted Russia would allow this to happen.

Orlando Tops Cities In Debt

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Orlando, Fla., entered 1964 with the largest per capita debt of any of 310 American cities, according to the Census Bureau.

The Bureau said its report was based on fiscal years that ended in 1963 for cities of 50,000 or over population. Orlando residents owe $, through their city government, $1,013.27 for every man, woman and child.

Second from the top of the list was New York with a per capita debt of $875.42. And at the other extreme, all by itself, was Downey, Calif. It had no debt at all.

"It is this 'United' effort which continues to portray our fine city, our county and our nation that the U. S. Navy is a "CAN DO" organization keenly interested in the health and welfare of the communities in which its commands and units are located."

Five of the units which drove far beyond their self-set quotas were RVAH-1 with 157 per cent, VAH-7 with 133 per cent, VAH-11 with 102 per cent, VAH-13 with 133 per cent and CTRAW-1 (staff) with 323 per cent.

Navy Retiree George Marshall Avows He 'Would Do It Again'

By Robert E. Thomas Jr. 322-5756

"I have no regrets at all. All young men should make it their business to do at least one tour of military duty. It is good for morale," and I quote. "It gets the round dog out of one's blood. If I had to do it all over again, I would gladly enlist today."

Such is the feeling of George W. Marshall, 88, who recently retired from the Navy.

A native of Fort Valley, Ga., he entered the Navy in 1913. Marshall, like many other youngsters, received his training at Great Lakes, Ill.

During World War II, he served aboard battleship New Jersey, USS Fairbault, Kearsarge, and USS Shangra-La.

He was stationed at Atsugi, Japan; Corpus Christi, Tex.; Williamsburg, Va.; Port Hueneme, Calif.; Moffett Field, Calif.; Fallon, Nev., and Agana, Guam.

He is the recipient of the following medals: American Theater, Asiatic-Pacific, Occupation of Japan World War II, Good Conduct (4) and National Defense.

Marshall had a rich experience during his stay in the U. S. Navy. Military service has been a rewarding privilege for thousands of men.

The writer is sure that George W. Marshall will agree with the following statement: "Young men who are confronted with their military obligation should make a concerted effort to fulfill same."

A birthday party was given in honor of Mrs. Clifford B. Fringle Saturday night at her home. It was given by her husband, Clifford B. Fringle.

The gathering seemed enthusiastic as they enjoyed many rounds of pleasures. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dixon, Mrs. Rebecca Smith, Richard Stevenson, Harrison Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Jones, Gwendolyn Metz, Walter Sheppard, Mrs. Bernice Galloway, Mrs. Fannie Lee Burns, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Mason, Mrs. Marie Green, Josh Jones, Mrs. T. R. Sheppard, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Howard, Mrs. Albert Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur May, Mrs. Leah S. Herring, Joyce Holsendoff, Mrs. Dorothy Harris, Mrs. Inell Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wright Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Arlis McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jones, Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Ringling, Mrs. Phoebe Robinson, Mrs. Cathy Salem, Mrs. Malissa Congers, Beatrice Clark and Mary Clark.

Earl Holsendoff has completed his service with Uncle Sam. An alumnus of Crooms High School, Holsendoff was discharged a few days ago.

Mrs. Malissa Roberts and her sixth grade class visited the Sanford Atlantic National Bank and opened a Christmas savings account.

Willie Frank Dixon, a 1962 graduate of Crooms High School, is visiting his mother Mrs. Thersa M. Dixon. For the past two years he has resided in Washington, D. C., with his father.

Some parents continue to exploit their children. This is one of the greatest sins these people will ever commit. Such should be antiquated in this most challenging and competitive age. The days these young people spend in the bean fields and the like will return to haunt them in the future. Parents, I beg of you—keep your children in school. They are going to need all the education possible to enjoy a useful life in our ever changing world. The word exploit means to make unethical use of for one's own advantage or profit. If you are guilty of such, please stop it.

Mrs. Julia Brown, 818 E. 7th Street has been officially appointed Clerk of American Woodman Camp Number 17. All members will please contact her to pay monthly dues. G. C. Eubanks, Commander of Camp Number 17.

When they returned to the school the girls served at the PTA sponsored chicken dinner.

Seminole Pupils Are Invited To Honors Program

More than 250 high school seniors academically ranked in the top 10 per cent of their class have been invited to attend the annual Florida State University honors program tomorrow night.

The students are from schools in Seminole and Orange Counties, according to Dr. James D. Booth, president of the FSU Alumni Association of Orange County. The local alumni group is sponsoring the program at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow evening in the Egyptian Room of the Cherry Plaza Hotel in Orlando.

Guest speaker will be Dr. Paul Piccard, FSU honors program director from Tallahassee. He will speak on the necessity of maintaining a good academic standing at FSU. Those high school seniors selected have a 3.5 overall grade average and a score of 450 or better the twelfth grade placement examinations.

The local students will have an opportunity to meet FSU alumni living in the area and will view a slide presentation depicting campus life and the modern facilities at FSU.

Ted S. Rybicki, a director of the FSU Alumni Association of Orange County, said that it is the desire of his group to encourage high school seniors of this caliber to pursue a college education whether they choose FSU or another institution with high academic standards. It was added that even though FSU has a superior football team, they too must tow the academic line.

Lucky Newsmen Get Pressroom

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—San Diego's 4,500 city employees moved into the new multi-million dollar city hall today.

It was a lucky Friday, the 13th, for newsmen, too. They were installed in the building's pressroom, the only office on the 13th floor.

'Organized Chaos' Marked 'Forest Fire'

By Jane Casselberry
Organized chaos might be the best description for the scene at Wekiwa Springs where they were shooting night scenes for the movie, "Cry of the Laughing Owls." The fire sequences being filmed is the climax of the plot and to add realism men from the Florida Forest Service, Florida Highway Patrol and the Orlando Fire Department and their emergency vehicles look part in the scene. Seminole Indians and extras rushed back and forth across the smoky set and aviation fuel fires set around the woods were reflected in the spring, all forming a background for the tense dramatic scenes being enacted for the cameras by the stars of the picture. Behind the camera, directors, technicians, cameramen, electricians and other crew members rushed about doing their particular tasks, perhaps even doubling as an extra occasionally. Moving the heavy arc lights, which lit the area as bright as day, and the camera about in the deep Florida sand posed a problem to the stars.

Welfare Board Would Double Present Budget

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — The State Welfare Board plans to ask the Legislature for $32.27 million to run its operations in 1965-67, which is more than double its budget for the current biennium.

Board Chairman J. Hal Stallings said of the $32.27 million budget request, the state would have to pay $100 million.

"Things have been accumulating over a period of years that need to be done for our less fortunate people," Stallings said in explaining the reason for the budget increase.

Mrs. Carmela Ray, administrator of the State Welfare Board in Seminole County expanded on the needs of the "less fortunate people."

"It is expected that under President Johnson's poverty program," she said, "the Governor and his cabinet would appoint a conference committee for the Economic Opportunities program to find ways to implement the program, report to the Governor and give guidance to all state agencies on how the anti-poverty program monies can best be used."

"Each community would then appoint a 'community action' committee to mobilize the resources of the various health and welfare agencies to improve home management, health, welfare, housing, employment counseling and job training. The program would be supported 10 per cent by the community and 90 per cent by the government for two years and after that it would be 50-50."

Agencies involved in the anti-poverty planning program would include vocational rehabilitation, state employment offices, public health departments and welfare agencies.

"Aid to the blind is decreasing, thanks to new discoveries by doctors and to the eye bank," Mrs. Ray said.

"But there is an increasing amount of child neglect and abuse, mostly caused by drinking parents, which burdens our Aid to Dependent Children and Foster Care program," she added.

Besides the Aid to the Blind, ADC and Foster Care programs, the local offices also administer aid to the Aged, Aid to Medically Indigent, Aid to Families of Dependent Children, the Child Welfare Service and the Child Adoptive Placement Service.

Mrs. Ray noted that the need for day care nurseries is great. "If these mothers of numerous small children who are now on welfare, could have a free or inexpensive place to leave their children, they could work and get off the relief rolls."

She related that she recently saw a mother going to work in the fields, carrying a baby, with several other small children tagging along.

Another program which could be helped by the increased budget is the care of the aged, who must be placed in nursing homes.

Under the present set-up, $100 is the maximum that can be paid to a nursing home, but most of them cost between $250 and $300 a month. Some times, the person has a small pension or Social Security or can get help from some relatives, but in many cases, all these factors are absent.

Business Briefs

TALLAHASSEE (Sp.) — Floridians are ordering and getting telephone service at twice the rate they were a year ago, the Public Utilities Commission announced today.

Figures on increases in main stations—not including extensions — show that September's increase over August was 19,504, or almost twice the September, 1963, increase of 13,123, Mason said.

Southern Bell's extensive system added 13,560 more new customers than they lost. Smaller independents, such as Winter Park Telephone Company, have reported substantial percentage increases in growth.

Ousted 'K' Faces Further Action By Red Leaders

MOSCOW (UPI) — The new Soviet leaders will soon follow up their ouster of Nikita S. Khrushchev's associates by stripping the former premier of his remaining power, informed sources said today.

The Communist party Central Committee, of which Khrushchev still is a member, has carried out the first high-level shakeup since Khrushchev was deposed Oct. 11.

It ousted Khrushchev's alling chief deputy, Frol Kozlov, his son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubel; and his farm expert, Vasily I. Polyakov, from their seats on the Presidium, Central Committee, or secretary.

At the same time, it made several key appointments, a move seen partly as a reward for those officials who were useful in removing Khrushchev. The promotions also brought new status to the Soviet secret police.

Girl Scout Troop Is Reorganized

A meeting to re-organize Troop 630 of the Girl Scouts was held at First Christian Church.

New junior members included Linda Dornay, Virginia Simon, Kay Baggerly, Claudette Bongardner, Dorothy Harbuck, Karen Rawls, Debbie Hall, Wendy Sample, Margaret Alken, Marlene Baggs, Sandra Baker, Susie Bishop, Kristine Spitta, Sandra Harris, Debbie Templin, Donna Ulterback, Gail Vining, Nancy Jo Wilson and Dottie Linley.

There are still openings for girls in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. Mrs. D. Dornay is the troop leader and Mrs. C. Templin is her assistant.

Dog Welcomed But Owner — ?

DURBAN, South Africa (UPI) — A dog owner who wrote to a Durban hotel requesting reservations for him and his pet received the following acknowledgement from the manager:

"I have been in the hotel business for 30 years and never have I had to eject a disorderly dog. Never has a dog set fire to a bed. Never has a dog stolen a towel or a blanket. Your dog is very welcome. If he will vouch for you, you can come along as well."

Officer Fined $14 In Traffic Death

GRINNELL, Iowa (UPI) — Grinnell police Sgt. Jerry Phillips, whose squad car ran into a group of bicycling Grinnell college coeds and fatally injured one girl, was fined $14 with $4 costs.

Phillips, a 19-year-veteran of the force, was found guilty of speeding and being unable to stop "with the assured clear distance ahead."

By Dottie Austin
(Society Editor's Note: Dottie did the story, but "You're Truly" did the photography and the rest.)
"Comedy and Conflict," the eternal battle of the sexes, struck a responsive chord in the hearts of the capacity audience at the opening presentation of the Concert Series Tuesday in the Seminole High School auditorium, and won them completely.
The urbane Frank Wittow and the charming Miss Jo Demmond delighted sophisticated Sanfordites with their choice repertoire of sketches, drawn from both classical and modern playwrights.
In addition to the clever dramatic and satirical excerpts, the talented duo enchanted the audience with its between scenes repartee, upstaging and witty asides.

The fun started when the curtain went up as Wittow appeared apologetically on stage and announced that Miss Demmond was late "as always" and he would begin without her.
A few moments later, in stampted Miss Demmond hissing loudly that "If Mr. Wittow would help me carry the luggage and the props, I would have been here on time!"
After each scene, thereafter, Wittow appealed to the audience to agree with him that the act just presented proved the fact that "the male is superior and the female devious, deceitful and double-dealing."

The male and female audience thoroughly enjoyed this caustic repartee and applauded its approval, while Miss Demmond's behind-the-back mugging added to its delight.
The first excerpts were from the classics - a choral scene in poetry, translated from the Greek, Aristophanes in scenes of "Lysistrata"; a scene from Act I of McBeth, wherein Lady McBeth persuades her husband to murder the king; and a clever folksy scene from Moliere's "Tartuffe," (The Hypocrite).
From the modern playwrights Miss Demmond and Wittow chose a dramatic scene from Tennessee Williams, "Streetcar Named Desire," another from popular Sean O'Casey's works, "Juno and the Peacock" and the proposal scene between Jack Tanner and Ann Ramsden in "Man and Superman" by G. B. Shaw.
For the windup, the dramatists chose to transport the audience, (now firmly in the palms of their hands) to the Theater of the Absurd with an excerpt from "The Bald Soprano" by Eugene Ionesco.
Wittow explained that this was switching from "the real world that's confused to the confused world that's not real!"
One bit of local off-the-cuff humor sparked one of the early scenes, when Wittow was questioning whether Miss Demmond "could do" the scene from McBeth suggesting that "perhaps" it was "too much of a challenge" for her.
"No," snapped back Miss Demmond, "but that is!" as she pointed a finger ceilingward and was promptly drowned out by the roar of a Navy jet plane flying over the auditorium.
The first-night audience, sipping coffee supplied by the Lake Mary Woman's Club, during intermission, expressed themselves to this reporter as "charmed," "delighted," and "very pleased."
Miss Demmond and Wittow confessed, backstage after the show, that this is their first concert season tour and that they were "a little shaky when we found we were to open the series."

They said that they found the Sanford audience "most responsive, warm and receptive."
Other concerts on the season's schedule include the famous "Burke Family Singers," the Stetson Concert Choir and possibly the Central Florida Symphony Orchestra as an added attraction.

Taylor Family New Area Residents

Too young to retire, but with 22 years of hash marks on his sleeve is Joseph W. Taylor, Aviation Ordnanceman, First Class.

Joe brought his all-America family to live in North Orlando when he was transferred with VAH-13 from Whidbey Island in the State of Washington to Sanford Naval Air Station.

Now hear this: He made the trek East with his Michigan-born wife Carolyn; 11-year-old JoLee (who broke her leg the week before they left) and Donald, eight, they are the native Floridians in the family, born in opposite ends of the state, Miami Beach and Orange Park, respectively. Four-year-old David also was there. He and the family pet dog Thunderfoot are the Texans in the family. Lafayette, La., is represented by pretty three-year-old Jilane, and baby Dwight, who is eight months old, was born in Oak Harbor, Wash. So you see why New Orleans-born Joe Taylor can call his an all-America family, but in 22 years with the Navy, you can do a heap of traveling.

Joe likes to hunt and fish, but he always seems to shove off for sea duty right before the season opens. Also, as luck would have it, when three of the Taylor youngsters were born, Joe was away on sea duty. Baby Dwight arrived when his daddy was in Japan on the USS Ki-tyhawk. He was in Port Lodi, Africa, when Donald was born, and he was on the USS Midway for his first daughter's arrival. It was some comfort to Carolyn, however, that her mother lives in Miami and could be on hand when JoLee came into the world.

It is not all moving for the Taylors. They do settle down long enough to participate in roller skating and swimming.

Carolyn is delighted that the VAH-13 wives have organized a club.

Carolyn and Joe like being back in Florida. "It feels more like home" than anywhere else they have been—probably because they have spent more time in various parts of this state than any of the others. They are also geographically closer to their families now than when they were stationed anywhere else and they expect to be visited and to visit their parents.

THE FAMILY OF AVIATION Ordnance Man, First Class, Joseph W. Taylor who are new residents to North Orlando are shown from the left, JoLee, 11, David, 4, 8 month old baby Dwight on Mamma Carolyn's lap, Jilane, 3 and Donald, 8. The family dog, Thunder, is also pictured.

Mrs. F. E. Roumillat Presents Program To DAR Chapter

Mrs. F. E. Roumillat was guest speaker at the November meeting of Saille Harrison Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at the home of the Regent, Mrs. R. E. True, Lake Mary.

Mrs. Roumillat gave an interesting musical program, telling of the contributions made to the musical world by Florenz Ziegfeld, with his many musical comedy extravaganzas, with songs which still retain their popularity. Francis Scott Key was then accorded deserved recognition for writing the "Star-Spangled Banner," and the story prompting this contribution to the American people was well delivered by Mrs. Roumillat.

In closing, Mrs. Roumillat touched on the life of John Philip Sousa with his thrilling Band Marches, and the stirring strains of "Stars and Stripes Forever" completed the musical program.

Mrs. True presided at the business meeting and announced that the December meeting will be a luncheon honoring the State Regent, Mrs. George E. Evans. Wekiva Chapter, DAR, will join Saille Harrison Chapter for this meeting.

Assisting Mrs. True for the social hour were Mrs. R. M. Ball and Mrs. W. E. Baker. Attending were Mrs. C. E. Butler, Miss Emma Baker, Mrs. G. Cushman, Mrs. Pleas P. Campbell, Mrs. R. P. Pray, Mrs. I. Attorney General Will Succeed Sen. Humphrey

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — Walter F. (Fritz) Mondale, 36, Minnesota's energetic attorney general will succeed Vice President-elect Hubert Humphrey in the U. S. Senate.
 Democratic Gov. Karl F. Roivas announced he was giving the appointment to the slender, dark-haired Democrat — a rising young star in Minnesota's Democratic-farmer-labor party.
 Mondale will become senator as soon as Humphrey resigns and serve the remaining two years of Humphrey's term.
 "I don't know yet what day Senator Humphrey will resign," Roivas said. But it is expected to come before the next Congress convenes to give Mondale a seniority jump on other new senators.
 The governor chose Mondale from a field of several Minnesota Democratic-farmer-labor party leaders, including himself, U. S. Secretary of Agriculture and former Gov. Orville L. Freeman, Rep. John Blatnik, and Robert Short, Minneapolis, owner of the Los Angeles Lakers.
 There were reports that Mondale was a Humphrey's choice. But Roivas said he made the selection on his own and that Humphrey had suggested only that he make the choice as soon as possible after the election.

Safety Books Presented To Second Graders

By Maryann Miles
 Presentation of 110 safety coloring books to second graders at Bear Lake Elementary School was made last week by the Sanford Pilot Club by Mrs. Eloise D. Collins, club safety chairman and Miss Doris Fleming, club vice president.
 Under the catchy title of "19-Safety-4 in Florida Coloring Book," material covered includes instructions on crossing streets, conduct in and around water, hazards of leaving toys scattered around, warning against playing in drainage canals or ditches, how to properly ride a bicycle, use of car safety belt, tips for parents and caution against taking any medicines without adult supervision.
 On hand to receive the books were George Dabbs, school principal and Mrs. Collins' daughter, Mrs. Janice Cowley, who teaches second grade at Bear Lake.

PUC Is Attacked In Miami Court

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The State Public Utilities Commission was under attack today in charges of allowing the Florida Power and Light Company to set electric rates without a public hearing.
 The suit was filed on behalf of a Miami attorney, Robert Scott Kauffman. It follows a recent private report paid for by the City of Miami which said the power company was making too much profit.
 On another front, the utilities commission general counsel, Lewis Petteway, said the commission had scheduled a hearing for Dec. 29 on Miami's petition seeking an order to the Florida East Coast Railway to resume a minimum of once-a-day passenger service as required under its state charter.

Kennedy Memorial Model Unveiled

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A model of the simple but imposing gravestone designed for President John F. Kennedy is on public display at the National Gallery of Art.
 The design of the memorial grave to be constructed in Arlington National Cemetery was unveiled for dignitaries and newsmen by architect John C. Warnecke, its creator.
 The gravestone will be dominated by the eternal flame. Kennedy's widow lighted nearly a year ago when he was buried on the hillside below the Custis-Lee mansion in Arlington.
 Warnecke expressed hope that his design would synthesize "this particular hillside, this flame, this man and this point in history" for the ages.
 Construction will begin in the fall of 1965 and will take about a year to complete. The total cost will be $2 million.
 The caskets of the late President and the two Kennedy infants buried alongside him will be moved 20 feet down the hillside toward the Potomac River while the memorial is being constructed.
 Kennedy's body will lie in a rectangular grass plot, slightly raised above a white marble terrace that will accommodate up to 350 persons.
 A simple gray slate marker over the body will be inscribed with an eight-inch-high cross and the words: "John Fitzgerald Kennedy 1917-1963."
 On either side will be smaller slate tablets marked "Patrick Bouvier Kennedy," who died shortly after birth in 1963, and "Baby Girl Kennedy," still-born in 1966.
 At the head of the President's grave will be a low, three-pronged bronze font for the eternal flame, resting on a marble pedestal. Magnolia trees will flank the grave terrace.

Catholic Women Hear Talk On Wills, Estates

By Donna Estes
 Douglas Stenstrom, prominent Sanford attorney, was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Church of Nativity Catholic Women's Club held Monday evening in the social hall of the church.
 In his talk on "Wills and Estates," Stenstrom stated that there are many misconceptions about wills and pointed out that in the state of Florida, wills need not be notarized or recorded and do not take effect until the party has died and the will has been admitted to probate.
 He advised that a person may will anything that he owns in name only with the exception of constitutional homestead and property held in joint tenancy with the right of survivorship.
 He urged those who are concerned about guardianship of their children and their children's estates in the event of a common disaster in which both husband and wife are killed, to make wills naming guardians. He said that it is a wise procedure for couples to own all property jointly so that properties would automatically pass to the surviving spouse in case of death after death certificate is secured and recorded.
 In answer to a question following his talk, Stenstrom reported that there is no state inheritance tax in Florida.
 The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Mary Bartlinski, program chairman. The club's regular business meeting followed the program.

VFW Post 8207 Auxiliary Elects Two Year Trustee

By Donna Estes
 Ruth Smith was elected two year trustee at the regular meeting of the Auxiliary Unit to South Seminole VFW Post 8207 held last week at the Post Home on the Old Dixie Highway north of Longwood. Mrs. Smith was formally installed in office by Mrs. Louise Stewart, past district 8 president.
 In other business, Mrs. Virginia McManus, president, reminded the auxiliary of the district 8 meeting to take place this Saturday and Sunday at Daytona Beach. She urged as many members as possible to attend and announced that Mrs. Marie Klugoc, national president, will be in Orlando, Jan. 15-16.
 Irene March, who was appointed Longwood hospital chairman to assist Mrs. Edna Norman of Sanford, informed the women that she and Mrs. Harriet Harris and the president had visited the Unit 5333 of Apopka, Nov. 10.
 Mrs. Harris reported that a pair of crutches belonging to the post and auxiliary have been borrowed and are in use. She stated that the wheel chair and walker have been returned and are now available for loan. Anyone desiring to use these items should contact Mrs. Harris.
 Plans for celebrating the group's fifth anniversary were discussed. Final plans will be announced at a later date.
 The next meeting of the auxiliary is scheduled for Dec. 10.

11 New Players Amass 39 Wins

As Jai-Alai completed its first week of play at the Orlando-Seminole Fronton, the 11 new players added to the roster have already given an excellent accounting of themselves.
 The newcomers have amassed a total of 39 wins in the first seven days of play.
 The leader with a total of eight wins is Orbes III, member of a well known family of pelotaists, in second place with seven wins is the hard throwing backcourt man Zardandons. Third place is held by the Mexican player Yverardo with five wins, and tied for fourth are Javier and Carmelo.
 Jai-Alai fans have been seeing some of the best games in the three year history of the Fronton. Veterans Elorri and Gast have been displaying the form that made them favorites of the local patrons.
 The first week's play also brought several of those big paying "Perfecta's." In the second game of opening night, the 4-7 combination of Uria and Carmelo got the season off to a rousing start by paying $674.70. Then on the old jinx night—Friday the 13th—the team of Badilla and Manuel paid a thumping $883.30.
 At the Saturday matinee fourth game winners paid the largest "Perfecta" of the season, a sizzling $906.30.

Publishers Elect Ben H. Golden

BOCA RATON, Fla. (UPI)—The annual meeting of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association (SNPA) winds up today following a round of committee reports.
 The SNPA gavel was turned over today to Ben Hale Golden, 53, president and publisher of the Chattanooga Times, who was named new association president Tuesday, succeeding Albert N. Jackson, publisher of the Dallas Times-Herald.
 Whooping Cranes
 WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Interior Department reported that 13 more rare whooping cranes have arrived at the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge during the past five days, raising to 30 the number at the Texas Gulf Coast wintering grounds. The birds are members of the last wild flock in existence.
 Steel barbed wire for fencing first was developed in 1874.

Maybe The Battle Was Better Than The Game

IT'S TWO TO ONE — in favor of Seminole End Larry Watson (83). The 210-pound SHS wingman latches onto a Ron Hinson pass Friday night while defensive halfback Phil Higgs (21) gets only one hand on the pigskin. Watson went over to hit paydirt and post Sanford's third touchdown. Seminole grabbed the Metro tilt, 27 to 7.

Strikes . . . Spares

By John A. Spelaki
 This past weekend we had one of the largest groups yet, what with trying for those turkeys, the Saturday night moonlight bowling and on Sunday it's time for scotch doubles.
 Before it slips my mind (and in the case of the bowler who hasn't continued in league play, but still wants 'in' on tournament competition) you always use your final average from the prior Fall League.
 We had to adjust one of the averages submitted due to this misunderstanding in scotch doubles.
 Let's take a quick look and find out who our local winners are.
 First of all, in Moonlight Bowling we had Bob Kemp of Eau Gallie in first for the girls (travel bag) with Bob May second (portable light); leading the gals was Daria Owens (dryer rack) and Suzie May was second (coffee pot).
 We have Moonlight Bowling each Saturday at 9 p. m.
 For the second consecutive week, the combination of Bob May (him again) and Doris Schaufel were devastating as a team in the scotch doubles, winning the event with their 937 series, including handicap.
 This was eight more pins than the Kanner-Jackson team with a 929. Third-place was captured by Bob Workman and Sue Jackson (see what happens when you enter more than once?) with fourth-place falling to Jerry Wisdom and Shirley Siglin. Wisdom and Siglin were in the winner's circle also last week.
 Here are some more turkey eaters who have added their names to the winner's column: Pete Peterson, Neal Maxwell, Bob Edmond, Lee Reilly, Helen Padgett, Jean Belque, Dan Siglin, Bob Workman, Garry Fox (again), John Bridges (again—you may win twice), and the list continues to grow.
 As a matter of fact, to date we have had over 33 turkey winners. Now you know that

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — Notre Dame University has officially apologized to Michigan State University for an attack upon the Spartan band Saturday following a football game between the two schools at South Bend, Ind.

But the apology apparently won't be enough to persuade MSU to take its band back to the Irish campus next fall.
 Prof. Leonard Falcone, director of the 175-piece Spartan band, said, "We're very pleased to receive the expression of regret and apology from Notre Dame. I personally think it was unfortunate that such a thing should have taken place and I hope the situation will improve down there—I hope that this incident will improve the conduct of students at Notre Dame."
 The MSU band was marching in formation from the Notre Dame stadium to its buses when it was attacked by a mob of about 200. One musician was knocked out and several others suffered face injuries in the scuffles.
 A number of instruments were also smashed or damaged and four bandmen lost their hats to the vandals.
 The attack came after Notre Dame, the nation's first-ranked football team, defeated MSU 34-7.
 Falcone said he had never witnessed a similar incident in 37 years as MSU band director. He also noted, however, he felt manners of the Notre Dame students and supporters had deteriorated sharply in the last few years. MSU has taken its band to South Bend five times in the last 15 years, he said.
 William C. Moffitt, assistant band director and arranger, said attacks continued until some bandmen dropped their instruments and started defending themselves. They chased some of the attackers into Notre Dame dormitories.

Oviedo High To Host Maine Basketball Champs At Yuletide

Lions To Meet Ellsworth Five In Two Games

By Julian Stenstrom
Herald Sports Editor

Although the Oviedo High football Lions still have one more opponent on this season's grid slate plus a Rainbow Bowl invitation to meet Williston at Dunnellon, sports fans in that area — plus the school officials — are hailing an announcement that Oviedo's cage squad will host the basketball champions of the State of Maine during the Christmas holidays.

The announcement was made Tuesday by C. W. Holder, school principal, and Paul Mikler, athletic director.

The Lions will play two games with the Ellsworth High School quintet of Ellsworth, Me. One of the contests will be played at the Oviedo gymnasium and the site of the other port the two-game set.

Holder said that there was some consideration being given to playing one of the games in Sanford if arrangements could be made for the use of the Fleming Gymnasium at Seminole High School. He also indicated that if this could not be arranged perhaps the second game could be played at Lyman High's Gym in Longwood.

Ellsworth, according to Holder, not only holds the Maine state championship but also was runnerup last season for the all-New England cage title.

"This tournament," Holder pointed out, "is for all schools, regardless of size or classification. We're expecting some first class competition and we're confident that cage fans throughout the area will support the two-game set."

Holder said that if arrangements can be made the Lions may go to Maine during the 1965 Christmas holidays and visit the Ellsworth five on their home court.

The Lions anticipate having one of the finest quintets in Central Florida during the forthcoming hardboard season. They have most of last year's outstanding squad members back this season. Among these are stars Jim Courier, Billy Mikler, Rex Brooks and Ted Beilborn. The five will be coached again this season by Mikler with the assistance of Dick Prater, a former Kentucky high school, U. S. Air Force, and University of South Carolina ace.

Mikler said the Lions are still in the process of completing this season's cage slate and it will be announced as soon as the schedule is filled.

Holder added that the two-game series with Ellsworth is subject to approval by the Florida High School Activities Association. However, he said that he did not anticipate any difficulty in obtaining the association's okay.

Coleman Honored

MONTREAL (UPI) — Fullback Lovell Coleman of the Calgary Stampeders who led ball carriers with 1,629 yards rushing last season, was named player of the year in the Canadian Football League today. Coleman is a 28-year-old former star for Western Michigan.

Seminoles Ready For DeLand In Homecoming

By David Higginbotham
Herald Sports Writer

The Sanford Seminoles finally came to life in the second half of their tilt with the Oak Ridge Pioneers after trailing at the half by a score of 7 to 0. The Tribe decided to play ball and they tied the score in the third quarter making it seven all. Then the tide changed even more when SHS scored 20 points in the fourth period and racked up a 27 to 7 victory.

The victory over the Pioneers gave the Seminoles a record of six wins, one loss, and two ties. Five of the wins were against Metro opponents plus one loss and one tie.

SHS has now racked up 110 first downs and limited their opponents to 72. They have posted 1,791 gross yards or 329 rushing plays with their opponents being held to 901 yards on 298 carries.

By the same yardstick, Sanford has lost 131 yards rushing while they have setback their opponents 230 yards.

The Tribe's defense record is due partially to ball control as well as the tight line and crashing linebackers.

The squad's aerial game has moved to 648 yards gained passing while opponents have 420 air yards with three TDs made by passing. The Tribe has seven touch downs scored by passing.

All told, the Seminoles offense shows 2,339 yards gained while their opponents have registered 1,321, a 1,018 yard lead for the locals.

The Tribe has an open date Friday. The extra practice time will be valuable for the Tribe faces the DeLand Bulldogs Nov. 25 at Sanford's Memorial Stadium. The event will be the school's homecoming game.

Willie Mays Delegated More Responsibility

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Herman Franks, the new manager of the San Francisco Giants, launched his administration by delegating more responsibility to team captain Willie Mays.

"I'll have Willie come into the office once in a while and discuss the team with me," Franks said of the center fielder, who was named captain last May by Alvin Dark.

"A manager can get only so close to the players," the coaches get a little closer. Mays, as one of the players, can be even closer."

The gregarious, cigar-smoking Franks — who replaced non-smoking Dark last month within minutes after the final game of the season — also said he wanted to shield Mays from pressures on the road that gave him "nervous tension."

"Willie wasn't physically tired last year," Franks said of Mays' bid to a .296 batting average to go with his league leading total of 47 home runs.

"But the man doesn't get enough rest on the road."

"You have no idea how Mays is hounded," Franks continued, at a press conference given Monday by the Giants. "He never gets any rest. His phone always is ringing. After he gets that shut off, kids come around to his door for autographs. If it isn't kids, it's some salesman with a deal."

'Cane Quintet Schedules Five

Head Basketball Coach Dave Miller of the South Seminole Junior High School Hurricanes said today that so far five cage contests have been scheduled for the 1964-65 hardboard season.

The Hurricane quintet will open its slate when it tangles with Slavia in both varsity and junior varsity engagements Nov. 25 at the Oviedo High Gym.

They are to meet Sanford Junior High's Braves at Lyman Gym Dec. 7, on Dec. 8 they meet Slavia at Lyman, on Dec. 12 they host the Tampa Dons at Lyman and go to Kissimmee on Dec. 15.

FSU Injury Buys Hope For Florida

By United Press
Florida Coach Ray Graves ran his team through another sharp practice and said, "I'm starting to feel better" about the game Saturday with arch rival Florida State.

One development that buoyed Graves' spirits was an injury report from Florida State.

Graves said a leg injury to Florida State's understudy quarterback and kicker, Ed Pritchett, will keep him out of the game and put all the pressure on Steve Tensi.

"Certainly now all the pressure is on Tensi since FSU hasn't won with any other quarterback, and having never beaten Florida, this adds even more pressure," Graves said.

Elsewhere in the Southeastern Conference, Louisiana State's three platoons, the white and go team and the Chinese bandits, alternated between offense and defense at Baton Rouge in polishing up their game for Saturday's meeting with Tulane.

Tulane stressed punting in drills at New Orleans. Quarterback Dave East passed and punted well in the workout but Coach Tommy O'Boyle said his team had not been exceptionally spirited in workouts so far.

He added, however, "We should be ready Saturday."

At Tuscaloosa, Alabama's nationally second-ranked Crimson Tide meets Auburn Thanksgiving day in Birmingham.

Auburn began preparations today for the nationally televised game. No new injuries plague the Plainsmen and they were reported in good shape for the training period.

Vanderbilt meets Miami Friday night and ran through a practice session in the rain in getting ready for the contest.

They emphasized pass defense, mindful that they will be facing Miami's Bob Bilenkoff who has completed 56 per cent of his passes.

Injuries put fullback Fred Cassidy out of the lineup for Miami. Cassidy is the leading ground gainer among Hurricane fullbacks. He was injured in last week's victory over Boston College and the ankle and side injuries have been slow in healing.

Amherst On Top

NEW YORK (UPI) — Amherst, which completed its season last Saturday with a 20-7 victory over Williams to run its record to 8-0, was ranked No. 1 today in the race for the eighth Lambert Cup, emblematic of Eastern small college football supremacy.

Temple and Bucknell were tied for second place and Wagner was fourth.

Bowl Prospects

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—The Bluebonnet Bowl committee today said that teams being considered for its 1964 game include Tulsa, Texas Tech, Oklahoma, Florida, Florida State, Mississippi and Georgia Tech.

SEMINOLE'S STEVE BALINT (50) and two other unidentified SHS defensemen halt Oak Ridge quarterback Kim Menke during last Friday night's 27 to 7 SHS victory over the Pioneers at Sanford's Memorial Stadium. End Leroy Nopper (84, extreme right) gets set to give an assist. Coming up in the right background is defensive halfback Al Boniface.

Big 10 Title, Rose Bowl Tilt Up For Grabs

NEW YORK (UPI) — The battle for the Big Ten title and a trip to the Rose Bowl is at stake Saturday when sixth-ranked Michigan takes on seventh-ranked Ohio State and the Wolverines are a one-point choice to win the decisive gridiron clash.

A crowd of over 64,000 is expected to witness this crucial contest. The Buckeyes (7-1) currently lead the conference with a 5-6 record, but a win by the Wolverines (7-1) would give them the title with a 6-1 mark.

Saturday's game will be the final regular season contest for both teams.

First ranked Notre Dame will be gunning for its ninth straight victory this season Saturday and the Irish are a 14-point favorite to down Iowa.

It's In The Book But It Means Very Little

ATLANTA (UPI) — The Southeastern Conference rule on bowl bids is a lot like prohibition was—it's in the book but few people take it seriously.

This is a time for annual confusion, a time when bowl bids are offered and apparently accepted—but when here in the Southeast especially, nobody wants to talk about it.

Auburn began preparations today for the nationally televised game. No new injuries plague the Plainsmen and they were reported in good shape for the training period.

Vanderbilt meets Miami Friday night and ran through a practice session in the rain in getting ready for the contest.

They emphasized pass defense, mindful that they will be facing Miami's Bob Bilenkoff who has completed 56 per cent of his passes.

Miami Practices For Vanderbilt

CORAL GABLES (UPI) — Coach Charlie Tate, hoping to extend a three-game winning streak, is keeping his Miami Hurricanes on the practice field until after dark getting ready for Vanderbilt.

But Tate ordered no contact and said that a light contact drill may be the only heavy work the Hurricanes will go through all week in order to allow bruises to mend from the Hurricanes' 30-0 win over Boston College.

Fullback Fred Cassidy, who rotates with Pete Hanzosak at fullback, was sidelined with a bruised ankle and side and punter Art Zachary with a hurt foot.

Election And Individual

We firmly believe that the great majorities of both parties in the United States stand together in favor of individual freedom.

As the bones of the campaign and election are picked, it is vital to remember this consensus. Within it there are legitimate differences over means to an agreed end.

Definitions vary. At one pole, a man is thought to have an inner capacity for free choice. This view can be held both by the rarefied existential philosopher and by the self-made Yankee who doesn't know much about philosophy but knows what he likes. The inner capacity will flourish if not stifled by undue restraint.

At the other pole, a man is thought to be "conditioned"—by his religion, his education, etc.—in choices that he only appears to make in absolute freedom. Variations on this view can be held both by the unreconstructed determinist and the behavioral psychologist. If a man thinks and acts on the basis of conditioning, it becomes especially important that the influences on him be good rather than bad.

In both cases, however—and in all the mixtures in between—there is a desire for freedom to think and act according to one's conscience and belief, however these have been produced.

How to keep and foster freedom? This is where the campaign and election disclose divergencies. In broad terms, Senator Goldwater and his followers seemed to be saying that government, and especially federal government, best serves individual freedom when it does not act in restraint of it. Again in broad terms, President Johnson and his followers seemed to suggest that government, including federal government, best serves freedom when it takes positive steps in its behalf.

Most of those voting for President Johnson would probably deny that they are any less interested in the individual than the Goldwater voters. But the latter, now being analyzed as predominantly of the middle to upper income levels, fit into an interpretation of industrial society not peculiar to this election.

According to this reasoning it is the people with the money to take care of their needs who place greatest emphasis on individualism, with the state's role minimized. Those of lower economic class tend to place less emphasis on individualism. As one scholar puts it, "Liberty offers few advantages to the weak if its results merely expose them to the powers of the strong."

No one can say what motivated each voter in an election with many issues. (Mr. Johnson got high middle- and upper-income percentages as well as most of the low-income vote.) But, as the Wall Street Journal says, the Democratic Party has succeeded over 30 years in giving an impression of "concern for the people." It says the Republican Party has "signally failed" to project a comparable picture. It suggests that the party work toward that end.

Since we know many Republicans who are concerned about the people who need help, as well as the individual who may not, we think that a greater expression of that concern would not be out of keeping with the party's actual complexion. By the same token, in its efforts to further individual freedom through concern for the people, the Democratic Party should be ever faithful to its ideal of not burying that freedom in the process.

Thought For Today

The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If you've been feeling depressed lately for no apparent reason, you may be suffering from "monobathroom-osis."

What's that? Well, it's a word that I invented. If you break it down into component parts monobathroom-osis, its meaning becomes clear.

Monobathroom-osis is the feeling of inferiority that comes from having only one bathroom in your house or apartment.

I'm a one bathroom homeowner, myself, and it has given me a terrible complex, the reason being that plural bathrooms have blossomed into one of America's leading status symbols. And I do mean "blossomed."

I have at hand a press release from the Swanee Paper Corporation which says that American housewives now pay more attention to bathroom decor than to any other room. The floral motif, especially roses, is very big at the moment, my dear.

Real estate ads are one of the principal causes of monobathroom-osis. Nowadays it seems they all read something like this: "Lovely 8-rm. brick home. Ktchn, lvg. rm., bdrm & 5 bths."

It is not the quantity alone that counts, however. To be really "in" these days, your bathroom must have jeweled faucet fittings.

The latest word on that was sent to me by Sherie Wagner, a bathroom designer who created fixtures for such personages as Nelson Rockefeller, Averell Harriman, Aly Khan, Joan Crawford, Barbara Hutton and the Maharaja of Baroda.

Wagner claims that he has "upgraded the bathroom from a utility room in a dark corner of the house to a sumptuous lounge worthy of Cleopatra."

"Some people even entertain in it—like Mrs. Felix Chappellet of Los Angeles, who has tea every day in her 24 x 36 foot bathroom with its marble tub and 14-rarat goldplated dolphin fixtures, and has her butler serve cocktails and appetizers to guests before formal dinners."

In addition to goldplated dolphins, Wagner has designed diamond encrusted faucets, sunken marble tubs with imported mosaic tile floors, a shower that sprays cologne and hand-painted wash basins.

He has brought the Napoleonic, French Empire, neo-neo-Cleopatra and Regency periods to plumbing.

A woman in South America had Wagner design a bathroom and then built a house around it. In the men's room of a New York restaurant, the faucets are shaped like the head of Caesar.

Small wonder that monobathroom-osis is rampant. This sort of thing is bound to give a one bathroom homeowner a feeling of inadequacy—particularly on Saturday night.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Here's the final episode in the unwise romance of Paul and Lili. If his family had challenged his judgment and thus made him rush to Lili's defense, they could have produced an unhappy marriage. But by use of the indirect psychological strategy they averted an unwise marriage. Parents, note bene!

CASE U-43 Lili V., aged 20, is the exotic dancer with whom Paul became instantly infatuated.

Since his background, race, religion and cultural habits were very different from hers, Paul's family and college pals wanted to break up the forthcoming marriage.

So I advised the indirect method instead of any open attack on Paul's judgment. For when you oppose your child's decision on anything, you just stimulate him to recite the sales arguments in his own defense.

And we have an axiom in sales psychology that the more often a salesman delivers his own sales talk, the more he sells himself!

So avoid any direct assault. Instead, try to let the victim of a mistaken choice open his own eyes by casual comparisons.

For example, Paul's mother invited Lili to spend her vacation at their home.

All of Paul's family had been coached to act as natural and friendly as possible. They were to cover up any hostility and give Lili a fair chance to show how well she would fit into Paul's background.

Lili and Paul were thus thrown together through breakfast, lunch and dinner every day.

Paul had thought she was very cute as a night club dancer but had never viewed her outside her own exotic background.

Now, however, he began to notice little evidences of her failure to harmonize with the home traditions and culture under which he had been reared.

At their first breakfast, for example, Lili pulled out a pack of cigarettes and started smoking.

She knocked off the ashes into the saucer of her coffee cup, which was a very natural thing in her own environment. But Paul's family did not smoke. And when Lili blew smoke into his mother's face, and his mother stifled a choked cough, Paul winced at this discordant note, even though his family never let on.

Before the third day, too, Lili began to countermand Paul's suggestions as to what they would do for recreation.

Paul liked to fish and swim but Lili preferred movie magazines and lolling in front of the TV screen.

By the end of the first week, Lili was nagging Paul, even though in a mild manner.

And she had a shrill, high pitched voice that didn't fit into the vocal range of his habitual family conversations.

Once, too, she grew excited during a TV picture and yelled an oath.

Well, in her exotic night club, such coarse speech was not as incongruous as in Paul's genteel home surroundings, so this additional discordant note made Paul squirm.

Since he couldn't blame his family in any way, for they showed Lili perfect hospitality, Paul unconsciously began to grow irritated at Lili himself. Although Lili thanked his family for their hospitality and parted on a friendly, cordial note, Paul and Lili gradually drifted apart and broke their engagement within another month.

Letters To the Editor

Blessings Bestowed

Editor, Herald:

I should have written sooner to thank you for the unexpected lovely article about me in the Herald.

Now that the election is over I am unwinding and find time to do the niceties of life. Of course, I am joyous because I won a seat in our state legislature and also because Florida showed such intelligent voting.

Now our nation can proceed with its peace and co-existence programs, urban renewal, supplements for needed education, Medicare for its many worthy senior citizens and the enforcement of the Civil Rights for every American.

We will then be a genuine democracy when the letter comes into its full rights. Last year I toured in many European countries and was appalled at the peace and co-existence talk everywhere from the North Cape in Norway to the other Scandinavian countries.

Then on with a group of well informed Swedes from Stockholm to East Germany, Poland and Russia. We toured about 4,000 miles through the countryside, visited the cities, talked with the common people and had a broad education. Only two per cent of the Russians belong to the communistic party and they are the "egg heads" and workers who have accomplished the greatest in their particular fields.

I carried with me literature about the real meaning of democracy in hopes of giving it to some one who tried to sell us Communism. But all along the way we did not meet a single one. The common folks have it better than their forebears had it under the cruel years of Czarist rule and they aren't afraid to talk about it. They have never voted in the entire history of Russia so they go their way hoping only that there will be no war. They think that we are the warmongers, that our way of life is geared to war and they long for some signs of real peace between nations.

I visited Warsaw, now a beautiful city, rebuilt on their backs after a 90 per cent destruction by the cruel Nazis. Leningrad, another beautiful city and rebuilt after 900 days siege by the Nazis. The entire coast line of Norway rebuilt after almost total destruction by those demons.

One must see these things to believe them. And, of course, studying the history of these nations helps in determining things as they are. I for one have no fear but that peace is in the making, that we will lead the way when it is embodied in our own hearts and when we have lifted our down trodden people to their God given human rights.

We can't fail ever because we are basically a grateful and charitable society for the many blessings bestowed on us in these 168 years as a great nation. The nuclear era has made war obsolete.

Leaders of the big nations need the threats of war to stay in power but the masses today with improved education know how to speak loudly and clearly.

So with that note of cheer I must stop this appraisal of my observations and thoughts. I intended to write a short note but as usual I never can be brief.

Again thanks for your flattering article which pleased my vanity greatly.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) —

The dimensions of the damage dealt the Republican party in the 1964 elections can be well seen when the Democratic sweep of state legislatures is closely examined.

More than 435 state Senate and House seats were lost by the GOP in the latest of three such debacles to strike the party since 1952. Republican state legislative losses totaled 488 in 1954 and a monumental 696 in 1958.

Republicans retain sure control of both legislative houses in a meager six states—Idaho, Kansas, New Hampshire, New Jersey, South Dakota and Vermont.

They can add one more, Ohio, if Gov. James Rhodes maneuvers successfully to keep GOP management of the state Senate, which after Nov. 3 had 16 Republicans and 16 Democrats.

Even should that occur, the consolation would be slight. Two-house control by the Republicans of seven states would merely tie the party's all-time low set in 1958.

After the 1962 elections, the GOP could point to 18 states whose legislatures were under their "double control." In the wake of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's 1952 triumph, the total was 26 states.

The details of the devastation in 1964 are nearly unbelievable. In Iowa, once a lost 69 state legislative seats and the Democrats took total control. Just four years ago, the GOP had a 78-30 House edge and a 35-15 Senate margin.

Republican fortress, the party

Maine is another blockbuster. In 1961, after Richard Nixon's loss of the presidency, Republicans still held a 30-3 House margin. Today the Maine Senate is 20-5 Democratic and the House 70-12 Democratic. The GOP loss was 62 seats.

Republican legislative losses were in many cases in the very heart of "Goldwater country." The net party loss in Indiana was 46, plus control of both houses. Other declines in conservative bastions: 34 in North Dakota, 33 (tentative) in Illinois, 23 in Missouri, 22 in South Dakota, 18 in Colorado, 15 in Montana, 13 in Wyoming.

Other large Republican losses:

New Hampshire 35, New York 32, Michigan 29, Massachusetts 22, Vermont 20, Pennsylvania 19, Ohio and West Virginia, 17 each.

Substantial losses also might well have occurred in Connecticut, New Jersey and Kentucky had seats there been at stake this time. They and a few others choose legislatures in off years.

The Republicans' only material gains came in the Old South, where the party's net advance in state seats this fall was 17. Big gainers were Georgia, 12; Florida, 8; Tennessee 6. The net gain of 17 was achieved despite losses of 8 in North Carolina and 6 in Texas.

The one striking exception to the southern pattern was Idaho, where Republicans picked up 10 legislative seats.

The depth of the republican had news is not simply in the size of the party's 1964 legislative losses, or the fact that Democrats now hold "double control" in 33 states—most since World War II.

It is found in a long-range deficit of nearly 1,300 seats lost to the Democrats since the GOP's quick postwar upsurge in 1946.

Republicans at the state level have had their bright moments, gaining 251 seats in 1952, 42 in 1956, 290 in 1960, 159 in 1962. But these totals look puny beside their spectacular losses of 1954, 1958 and now 1964. They are deep in the hole.

They hold today barely a third of all the nation's legislative seats. Badly needing state-level muscle for the higher political wars to come, the Republicans never looked more emaciated.

Phil Newsom Says

Zigs And Zags

The Soviet Union has added another sag to the zigs and zags which have characterized Communist policy toward agriculture since the days of Lenin.

Subsides by the peasants forced Lenin in 1921 to permit a limited return to private enterprise, including the peasants' right to sell their produce on the free market.

By 1928, Stalin had won his struggle for power inside the Kremlin and was ready to declare his war on the peasants who by this time had amassed 25 million small holdings averaging 20 acres apiece. In the succeeding five years, two-thirds of these were eliminated and their small holders kulaks forced into collectives. Millions of peasants were killed, others deported.

In the first three years, of resistance, the peasants slaughtered nearly half their livestock, leading to the famine of 1931-32 and death by starvation of an estimated three million persons.

Systematic, all-out terror finally overcame peasant resistance and by 1937, most of their holdings had been merged into a quarter of a million collectives.

Historically, Communist collective agriculture has never worked anywhere.

And the reason that Soviet agriculture is not in worse shape than it is can be found in the tiny fraction of the land which the Soviets reluctantly have granted to farmers for their use.

On these plots have been produced more than half the country's vegetables, eggs, fruit, poultry and milk.

Partly out of sheer necessity, partly in an over-all attempt to curry favor among the population, the new Soviet leadership has disclosed that the role of the private plot again is to be increased.

In the Ukraine and Estonia decrees limiting the size of the private plots already have been rescinded. Similar action is expected among the 13 other republics which make up the Soviet Union.

The announcement of the increased role of the private plot by new secretary first party Leonid I. Brezhnev indicates that the new leadership, even as the deposed Nikita Khrushchev, has yet to find the magic formula to overcome the admitted lag in Soviet agriculture.

One whose career has had almost as many ups and downs as Soviet agriculture is one who has been closely associated with it through the days of both Stalin and Khrushchev.

He is Prof. Trofim D. Lyssenko, who believes that inherited characteristics of plants could be changed by man's control of their environment. Since, if his ideas had worked they could have produced whole new varieties of plants to multiply Soviet food resources, the Lyssenko theory attracted first Stalin and then, after a period of obscurity Khrushchev.

The new leadership has indicated it will follow the more practical course of increased agricultural investment and fertilizer.

In the enlargement of the private plot, it even will revert to capitalism.

Dear Abby:

DEAR ABBY: How long is a girl supposed to wait for a man to marry her? I've been going with him for 16 years. I am 46, have never married, no children. He's 55, has never been married, owns his own business, lives in style and likes to travel (alone). At first his excuse was that he had to support his mother. That may have been true 16 years ago, but today she needs his "support" like I need a hole in my head. He's made some shrewd investments for her (she owns two luxury apartment buildings) and her income is over $35,000 a year. (I know, I work for him.)

In private he tells me he "loves" me. In public he refers to our relationship as "pela" or "buddies." I'm sure he doesn't have anybody else (in town, anyway) and I certainly don't want another man and don't want one. How do I get him to marry me?

ON ICE 16 YEARS
DEAR ON ICE: Preacher would marry a woman to a man with a sun in his ribs. Your friend is surely not waiting for you to propose, so give him the "new or never" ultimatum. But be prepared for a negative reply.

DEAR ABBY: The letter from Mrs. S. regarding her disgraced daughter brought back memories of an incident which occurred when I was in the fourth grade. As I look back now, I realize how much wisdom and understanding our teacher showed. She chose the most popular boy in the class—none whom all the other boys looked up to—and she told him privately, "Tomorrow we are going to have a new boy in class. He stutters badly. The best way to overcome stuttering is to read aloud. If you children laugh at him, or make fun of him when he stutters, it will make his stuttering worse. If you show no signs of noticing it, you will help him tremendously. It is up to you children. I am depending on you. Spread the word to every boy in the class."

I was the girl chosen to get the word to all the girls. As I recall not one person in the class ever violated the trust the teacher placed in us. Needless to say, the new boy improved.

THE FINEST CATERING SERVICE IN CENTRAL FLORIDA

MRS. E. E. E.

DEAR ABBY: Regarding the woman whose daughter had been badly disfigured in an accident and was fearful of returning to school while in dire need of plastic surgery:

My neighbor had a son who had a dental problem and he was worried about going back to school wearing the necessary brace-type appliances on his head. His teacher had him get up before the class and explain what it was all about. There was never one bit of ridicule or rudeness from the children once they understood the problem.

If that mother would go to school and speak to the class and explain what had happened to her daughter and how they hoped to correct it in the future, I'm sure she would find the children very sympathetic and extremely kind to the child. Young people are amazingly cooperative when put to the test.

THELMA J.

DEAR ABBY: I know it's bad psychology to keep after my teen-age daughter to stand up straight, but her lovely figure is spoiled by the way she stands. She either has one hip sticking out, or one too turned in, or she stands with her shoulders stooped and her stomach sticking out. I hate myself for constantly criticizing her in front of others, but how else can I get her to pay some attention to her posture and improve it?

ON EDGE

DEAR ON: Don't over-criticise your teenaged daughter in the presence of others. Humiliation never improved anyone. Explain how important good posture is to the impression one creates. Work out a few signals between yourselves as a silent reminder to improve her posture. (Smooth your hair, or touch your left eyebrow.) She'll appreciate your consideration and you'll get your point across painlessly.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

The conditions of the World Bridge Olympiad were such that the 29 teams played a round robin to qualify four teams for the final. The four finalists drew and Great Britain was matched against Italy while Canada played the United States.

Great Britain had barely nosed out Italy in the early match due principally to the following hand.

At both tables North played at four hearts. Against Jeremy Flint of Great Britain West cashed the king and ace of spades and shifted to a diamond.

Jeremy won in dummy, cashed dummy's ace of hearts and finessed the ten spot unsuccessfully. This gave the defense three tricks, but there was no way to get a fourth. When Pierot Forquet played the hand, the defense started with three spade leads. He ruffed the third spade in dummy and led ace and ten of hearts. West won with the queen and led a fourth spade. This was also ruffed in dummy while East was able to discard his singleton club. Pierot tried to get to his hand with a club, but East was able to ruff for the fourth defensive trick.

Had Forquet refused the heart finesse, he would have dropped West's queen and made five odd. However, West had played the nine on the first trump lead and Forquet was much more afraid of a 4-1 break in trumps than he was of the actual combination of cards, which found East with six of the nine outstanding diamonds.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

How in the world do you suppose the pioneer woman ever kept her house and her family clean with a batch of homemade soap?

What got me to wondering about that was that today was my day to replenish the household supply of what the television commercials refer to as "cleaning agents."

This has certainly become a field for the specialists. In my shopping cart I had a different box, bottle or spray can for practically every cleaning and polishing chore that has to be done around the house.

One kind of cleaner-wax for the woodwork, another kind for the tile floors, a special cleaner for aluminum, another for the coffee pot, still another for silver and another for brass and copper.

One kind of detergent for the washing machine, another for the dishwasher, another for hand washing, still another for cleaning bathrooms and something else again for the oven. And, of course, a special cleaner for windows—and a bleach to keep the whites cloths white.

That filled up one grocery cart—and I had left untouched on the supermarket's shelves dozens of other products, each designed for a particular cleaning job.

Now mind you, I'm not low-rating any of these products or all this specialization in the art of keeping everything shining clean. I'd hate to have to get along without any special cleaning agent I put in that cart. Every one makes a scrubbing or washing or polishing job a little less strenuous, a little less dirty and a lot less tiring.

But I can't help but wonder how the pioneer woman managed. Did she keep her house and family as clean as today's homemaker keeps hers, using nothing but home-made soap?

Beauty after Forty
EDYTH THORNTON MCLEOD

Far too many women adopt a hopeless attitude of "What CAN I do?" when they are overweight, tired, worn-out from doing too many things or worried about personal problems.

The first thing to do about any problem is simply to say to yourself, "I CAN DO SOMETHING. I will study the problem and decide." A hopeless attitude gets you absolutely nowhere. And now that my little "sermon" is done, I will try to answer some of those problems.

"I know I am overweight and hate it, but I love to eat. I don't know what to do..."

Save your time writing a letter like this. Just get busy and start on a diet and stay on it. Why create a "health hazard" for yourself? Eating should be controlled when it gets to the point where your weight must be controlled. If you want a simple diet, write for my "Figure Perfection Diet." Send me a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and enclose TEN cents in coin. I will also send you a copy of "Diet Breaks" but do not use these until you really get yourself on the diet and see results.

I live in California, and have a daughter living in Florida. I am flying there to see her in December. My husband and I will spend a day in New York just looking around. I need to know if a white wool dress and white coat would be suitable to travel in to Florida. The suit is very nice. Could I wear white shoes with it?—Mrs. T.

A white suit will be perfect for Florida wear but it is most unsuitable for travel. New York may be bitter cold on the day you have to spend here. Wear a simple outfit with a coat. You often even have need of a coat during the winter in Florida and, to be fair, in California, also!

"I have a dark blue suit but as my skin is very sallow I need something colorful. Would a scarf in the neck look well and what color should I choose?—Nona."

A scarf of soft pink would look smart and would also be flattering to your sallow skin. Use pink face powder under a skin tone powder. This also helps to counteract the sallowness.

Horoscope Forecast

Thursday, Nov. 18, 1964

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Today's full moon certainly brings you no relief from tensions that have been mounting for you, but if you express thanksgiving for blessings and regard them as opportunities to show how well you can handle them, you then certainly can find the right answer. But do whatever is necessary in an objective manner in which you don't allow feelings to be hurt.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Be careful you do nothing to hurt the feelings of others or leave yourself wide open for such. Remember that you cannot buy happiness, either. Show that you are steady, hard-working.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Straightening out personal affairs with others is wise during the morning, but be sure tonight that you do not spend too much money. Don't be prejudiced. An open mind wins all.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Getting out of rut by delving into something is fine, but you must first prepare yourself through study. Know what the stumbling-blocks are going to be. Learn to hurdle them and success is certain.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If good friends are somewhat crochety, take care you don't take the bait and reply in kind. Safeguard friendships—they are tired. Evening can be very nice socially though.

LEO (July 22 to August 21) An intelligent attitude toward whatever requires a change for the better will see it result thusly. Overcome all of those vexing problems. An ally may be annoying in PM so stay at home.

VIRGO (August 22 to September 22) It's fine to look into those novel ideas in AM, but the remainder of day and evening should be devoted to credit affairs. Keep busy. Take some disturbing news in your stride.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Your hunches may be all wrong in the AM, so be sure you keep your nose to the regular grindstone. PM is best for investigations of all sort. Get surroundings more charming.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Perhaps you need to change your attitude somewhat in order to have more cordial relations with others. Take advice of some clever person you know. Get your surroundings more practical, pretty.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) If you labor with seat this AM, you then have time for conferences with associates. Get time planned in a practical way. Get problems cleared up easily.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) It's fine to have a good time, but don't take any unnecessary risks. Take time to fix up and pretty up modishly. Work is best done in the evening—dine well.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) If you desire more cordial relations at home, it is up to you to make the first pleasant movements. Attend activities of a social nature. Don't be led into any sort of strangeness.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) If you stick to methods that have proven satisfactory in the past, this can be a very productive day. Improve your filing system, however. Evening should be spent relaxing calmly.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, while new ideas and outlets are of constant interest to your progeny, the fundamental make-up is a very practical one and the desire for money and the flashpots quite phenomenal, so be sure you give the spiritual training early that will channel this driving mind in the proper direction. Teach that fairness in all things leads to greatness.

"The Stars Impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Highlights

7:30-8:30 P.M. CBS. "The Burden and the Glory of John F. Kennedy." Before the week is out, we'll have a wide assortment of documentaries paying tribute to the late President one year after his assassination. This one concentrates on the most important events occurring during his brief tenure in office, with the most dramatic being the Cuban missile crisis. You'll hear excerpts from Mr. Kennedy's speeches plus commentary by many of the more important members of his political family, among them Adlai Stevenson, Dean Rusk, McGeorge Bundy, Hubert Humphrey, Pierre Salinger and many others. There is no way to calculate the emotional impact of programs like this, but it will be impossible to remain unmoved.

7:30-9 P.M. NBC. The Virginian "Return of a Stranger." (Color) Modern mining methods and livestock don't co-exist too well in this episode. Left Erickson stars as an old-fashioned prospector with a silver mine. Peter Brown plays his son who's learned efficiency mining techniques and applies them, totally disregarding the effect they may have on the people and animals in the area. He is of course blamed for every local disaster as tempers grow short and violence flares. Again, this might have been better done in less time.

8:30-9 P.M. ABC. Shindig. It's tentime again with Paul Petersen (of the Donna Reed show) possibly the only one adults will recognize, and whether they care at all is another matter. For the youthful aficionados the guest list comprises Bob Doqui, Jackie and Gayle, Donna Loren, Arnel Rollins, Bill Medley, The Supremes, The Righteous Brothers and the Blossoms. Wow-ee!

9-11 P.M. NBC. Wednesday Night Movie. "The Hanged Man." (Color) This is another NBC film made especially for TV and, if nothing else, has a marvelous cast, which includes Edmond O'Brien, Vera Miles, Robert Culp, J. Carroll Nash, Gene Raymond, Norman Fell, Brenda Scott, Pat Buttram, Edgar Bergen, Archie Moore and Randy Boone. The backdrop is the New Orleans Mardi Gras, and the subject is murder.

9:30-10:30 P.M. CBS. Dick Van Dyke Show "Three Letters From One Wife." The big news is that Carl Reiner makes his first total appearance as Alan Brady, the egotistical comedian Rob (Van Dyke) works for. Rob writes a script for a Sunday afternoon egghead show and tries to get Brady to do it. After the office gang convinces him he's asking for trouble, he tries to talk Brady out of it and the psychology works, but in reverse. Brady tapes the show and it's yanked at the last minute for a news broadcast, but not before Rob's neighbor Millie has sent in 14 congratulatory letters. No real big laughs, but a pleasant show with a welcome performance by Reiner.

9:30-10:30 P.M. ABC. Dinah Shore Special. An all-star musical show pre-empting "Burke's Law." Dinah, Polly Bergen, Hugh O'Brien and Buddy Ebsen are not suspects, they're entertainers. The show has a theme, the problems of the typical American home and there are some sketches on this overall subject pairing O'Brien with Dinah, with an assist from Polly. But, it's in the musical numbers that the program excels. Buddy Ebsen contributes "I'm Nobody's Baby." Polly Bergen is at her best with "More" and Dinah appears in a production number to "Wives and Lovers" and "Tea For Two" as well as joining O'Brien and Polly in other selections.

TV Time Previews

10-11 P.M. CBS. The Danny Kaye Show. Danny has Don Knotts for his second banana tonight and he gets a lot of work and laughs out of him. Don and Danny, with the help of regular Harvey Korman, do three skits and how can they miss being funny? Music is provided by the Clinger Sisters and special guest star Diahann Carroll. Miss Carroll sings "But Not For Me" and "Last Night When We Were Young." Kaye joins the dancers for one number, duets with Miss Carroll to "Up Above My Head" and closes the show singing "Golly, Mom" with the Clinger Sisters.

Pope Paul Joins Fight Against World Poverty

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The Vatican announced today that Pope Paul VI will donate the jeweled crown of his pontificate to aid the fight against world poverty. The golden tiara, or supreme crown, was given the Pope for his coronation on June 30, 1963, by Catholics in Milan where he had served as archbishop. Conservative estimates place the crown's value at $12,000. The beehive-shaped headpiece is 15 inches tall and weighs nearly three pounds. It is topped by a small cross of diamonds over a globe of Lapis Lazuli. It differs from the pontifical crown which has been passed down from Pope to Pope.

The mechanics in donating the crown to the poor were not disclosed. Vatican sources said it might be sold with the money going to the poor or that the equivalent value in cash would be donated. The announcement was made a few weeks before the Pope's scheduled departure for Bombay, India, to attend the Eucharistic Congress. India has been in the throes of a food shortage and is a country where there is much poverty. The donation was made known by Archbishop Pericle Felici, secretary general of the Eucharistic Council, at a council Mass in the Byzantine rite called to underscore the need for unity between Catholics of East and West.

The Pope personally placed the crown on the main altar of St. Peter's Basilica at the end of the Mass. Today's Mass was held in lieu of a regular council session. Council delegates planned to make up for the day off in debate with an unusual Saturday session. Only seven working days remain before the council adjourns and several matters remain unresolved.

Odd Accident Claims Woman

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — An ambulance taking a 60-year-old woman to a hospital collided with a hearse summoned by her husband who thought she was dead. A city ambulance crew attending the woman, a heart victim, thought she was alive and raced toward the hospital. But the hearse the husband previously called hit the ambulance and then careened into a car driven by a doctor. A second doctor pronounced the woman dead. The hearse driver was hospitalized with serious internal injuries.

Junior College OK'd By Baptists

TAMPA (UPI) — The Florida Baptist convention approved construction of a church-sponsored co-educational junior college at Palm Beach Gardens. Under the approval, the Palm-Lake Baptist Association of Palm Beach County will have to raise $1.5 million for the school. The 200-acre site for the junior college was offered to the church group by Palm Beach Gardens developer James McArthur.

'Matadors' Play Rough

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Southern Pacific Railroad officials are disturbed because some local boys insist on playing "matador" — using speeding locomotives for bulls. The game is to see who can remain the longest on the tracks, jeering at the engineer as the train bears down on them. Last one to jump is the winner. The railroad has complained to police. Charles Goodyear was imprisoned for debt in Philadelphia, where he began his experiments with rubber.

SNAS Not Affected In Pending Cut Order - Holland

Nation Awaits Official Word On 95 Closings

"You can breathe easy," U. S. Sen. Spessard L. Holland's Washington office told The Sanford Herald at noon today when asked about the fate of Sanford Naval Air Station relative to Secretary McNamara's forthcoming announcement of pending military reductions.

Holland's office reported receiving a telephone call from Navy Secretary Paul Nitze in which it was noted that only the Orlando Air Force Base will be affected locally and the ultimate result of changes there will be economically beneficial.

As of an early hour this afternoon no other official word was available from either Holland's office or the Defense Department.

Nitze, in telling Holland of the OAFB status, said he was authorized to make the announcement by the Defense Department.

The Orlando base will find the Navy moving in as the Air Force moves out. The phasing took off for Washington today to brief President Johnson and top administration officials on Kremlin policy following the overthrow of former Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

The Geodetic unit will be transferred to Warren, Wyo. Headquarters of the Air Rescue Service will move to Scott AFB, Ill.

However, only the headquarters portion of the Rescue Service will be changed, the announcement said.

The Navy will move in its Naval Training Device Center from four northern United States bases, one of which is located in New York State.

There will be a reduction of military personnel at OAFB, Holland said, as the changes are made. But the civilian population will increase greatly and the highly skilled personnel will mean a greater payroll for the Orlando area, Holland's office said.

ANNOUNCEMENT
DUE AT 3 P. M.
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara has ordered the huge Brooklyn (N. Y.) Navy Yard shut down as one of 95 bases and military installations to be closed for economic reasons, it was learned today.

The Brooklyn Army Terminal and nearby Ft. Jay on Governor's Island in New York harbor also was on McNamara's list of bases to be eliminated.

The Portsmouth Naval Shipyard at Portsmouth, N. H. also will be closed, Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre disclosed today.

McNamara scheduled a news conference at 3 p. m. today to identify the doomed installations. But in a move to soften the impact, he notified members of Congress before the conference.

The defense secretary, in announcing the action, said Wednesday that the closing of the facilities would save the government $500 million a year and would eliminate 63,000 jobs.

Attention all Girl Scouts: Uniform Exchange Day will be Saturday from 10 a.m. until noon at Holy Cross parish house at Fourth and Magnolia. This is the place to bring that outgrown uniform and perhaps swap it for one that fits — Brownies who have flown up and Juniors who are now Cadettes, your old uniforms, hats, belts, etc., are needed.

Bill MacLaughlin dedicated his joke column to "The Clock" in this week's Lion's Pause, and started it off with this: One teacher to another, "Not only is he the worst behaved child in school but he has a perfect attendance record."

Chamber of Commerce public relations man, Charlie Morrison, would like to know who mailed him a clipping of the two turkeys and Charlie which appeared in Friday's Herald. What got his tail feathers up was the question: "Which is you?"

Between 400 and 600 persons are expected to attend tonight's Harvest Ball at Melodee Smeting Rink. A Bowling Queen will be chosen as a highlight of the ball, sponsored by the Sanford Women's Bowling Association. A lot of hard work went into arranging this well-organized event.

There's much hustle and bustle at the Central Baptist church as the folks prepare for the dedication ceremony of their new sanctuary next Sunday afternoon. And doesn't the new edifice with its spire reaching heavenward and the new landscaping look exquisite?

If a merchant spent every minute of his entire life counting out one dollar bills, he could never read the amount all advertisers invest in newspapers in one year. Actually, more money is spent on newspaper advertising than all other advertising media combined. There must be a reason.

The Ginderville Volunteer Fire Department will meet at 7:30 p.m. tonight at the Ebenzer Chapel.

Four more Gold Awards have been announced by the United Fund: McCroby's and Royal Castle, of Sanford; Linker Materials, of Longwood, first outside of Sanford; and Hopper Elementary School, first school.

Quiet Shattered
An "explosion or gunshot" shattered the early-morning quiet in the Seventh Street and French Avenue but a thorough check of the area by police failed to locate the cause of the noise. The sound was heard at 3:20 a.m., police said.

Merchants Ask Recognition

"We're not mad at anybody, but we want recognition and co-operation — we're tired of hearing about 'downtown' Sanford — we are Sanford merchants, too."

This was the general consensus among 26 South Sanford merchants who gathered at a "social meeting" at the Capri Restaurant Wednesday evening.

The group represented a cross-section of the more than 40 businesses in the area south of 20th Street along Park Avenue 25th Street and South French Avenue to the present city limits.

Representatives of the group were expected to call today on the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and Sanford Merchants Association officers to seek recognition.

Almost all said they are members of the Seminole Chamber but few are members of the Merchants Association. All agreed that they should take a more active part in Chamber activities, but most said the only announcement of meetings they ever received was "when membership fees are due."

Snowfall Covers Rockies To Ohio

By United Press
A sprawling storm rode down from the Rockies and out across the great plains today, dumping heavy snow in some areas and making driving hazardous as far east as Michigan.

Snowfall was reported from the central Rockies to the Ohio Valley.

Denver was slugged with five inches of snow during the night and several spots in Kansas picked up two inches.

The Weather Bureau said "several inches" of snow were expected through southeast Iowa and Wisconsin as the storm plows across the Midwest.

Special Meeting

A special meeting of the Altamonte Springs Town Council may be called by Mayor Lawrence Swofford as the members begin working on the town budget. A meeting was scheduled for Wednesday night but was not held due to the lack of a quorum.

LBJ Accepts Bust Of JFK As Memorial

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson paused for a tribute to the late John F. Kennedy today before departing on a pre-Thanksgiving trip to his Texas ranch.

Johnson was to accept a bust of his predecessor, which will be placed in the White House cabinet room until it can be transferred to the proposed Kennedy Library in Cambridge, Mass.

The bust, by sculptor Felix de Weldon, was commissioned by Kennedy's three military aides as a gift for the late President's widow. It is made of bronze, with a pedestal of Italian marble.

Johnson, before leaving for Texas, also planned to meet today with his cabinet advisers to discuss both foreign and domestic problems confronting the nation.

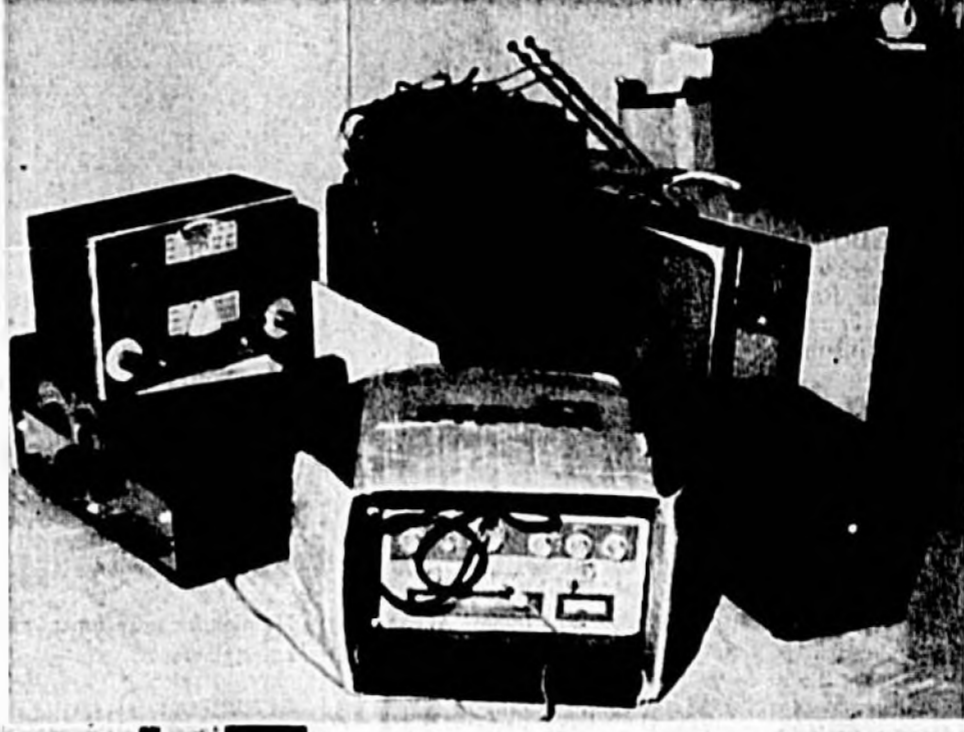

He called in Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and White House adviser McGeorge Bundy and also scheduled a cabinet meeting.

Williams OKs Injunction

Circuit Judge Volte A. Williams Jr., sitting in Titusville, early this afternoon granted an injunction in the Nov. 3 Seminole County Commission election.

E. Pope Bassett, losing Republican candidate, had filed petition questioning results of the election. He lost by 127 votes to Democrat Lawrence Swofford.

Judge Williams' order directs Registrar C. A. Miller to Bruce not to destroy or dispose of election records pending a full hearing.

CONSTABLE CARROLL.

Juvenile Theft Ring Ends Here

By Harry I. Johnson
Six boys involved in a theft ring which dated back to last September were tripped up by an antique teapot and their arrests were made Wednesday by Constable R. E. Carroll.

The loot was found in an abandoned garage in an alley off Fifth Street between Magnolia and Palmetto Avenues. Carroll said the garage had been used as a clubhouse by the boys.

Total value of the recovered items was listed at more than $1,500, the constable stated. The constable said the boys ranged in ages from 12 to 18 and that they "came from good, highly respected families." They were released pending their parents' custody pending future court action.

The teapot was one of a host of items taken from a Paola home and had been sold to an area dealer for "about a dollar," according to Carroll. The original owner, Joseph Shaw, of Paola, found it in the shop, identified it as his stolen property and notified Carroll.

Carroll contacted the shop proprietor and learned the identity of the seller.

This clue, the constable said, led to the ultimate apprehension of the six boys.

The officer said the home of Shaw was entered last Sept. 10 while the owner was on vacation in the North and the house was empty.

Carroll said he knew the home was empty, had checked nearby in the day and that it was later the same day the burglary occurred.

Earlier in their budding crime spree, the boys reportedly took six tents from Troop 242 in Lake Mary. Those were also found in the garage.

Carroll said the boys had been given permission to use the abandoned garage as a clubhouse and it is believed the short crime spree idea blossomed from such meetings.

Religious Liberty Vote Is Blocked

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Ecumenical Council officials today blocked a crucial vote on religious liberty.

A delegation headed by three North American cardinals went directly to Pope Paul VI to protest the action.

Cardinals Joseph Elmer Ritter, of St. Louis; Albert Gregory Meyer, of Chicago; and Paul Emilio Leger, of Montreal, Canada, headed a petition drive in St. Peter's Basilica to demand immediate voting on the controversial declaration granting freedom of worship.

Weapons Evaluation Team Here

A friend of Sanford returned here Wednesday for a day-long visit and as a member of the Defense Department's Weapons System Evaluation Group out of Washington.

He is Capt. Ira M. Rowell, commanding officer of Heavy Attack Squadron 6 while stationed at the Sanford Naval Air Station in the late 1950s. He was a commander at the time.

Rowell reminisced on his stay here and said he hoped someday to retire here.

After his Defense Department duties are completed, he said, he expected to be named Commander of a base in Kodiak, Alaska. And, he adds, he's looking forward to it so he can do some hunting.

Captain Rowell was one of an 18-man team sent here to study the reconnaissance capabilities of the local base. The team is headed by Dr. Bernard Koopman, a civilian equivalent to a major general.

Composed of high-ranking civilians and captains and colonels from all three services, the group is visiting various reconnaissance centers as part of a long range study of the nation's reconnaissance requirements. Next on the agenda is a tour of MacDill Air Force Base.

The Sanford tour began with a briefing on the San-
