Eldery woman scammed

From Staff Reports

WINTER SPRINGS - A 92-year old woman has been identified as a possible victim of a scam. Winter Springs Police said.

According to police reports, the victim, who did not wish to be identified and who is legally blind, seeing only shapes, on Dec. 27, 1997 responded to a knock on her door by a man who identified himself as her great-grandson. The suspect told the victim that he had a check for a relative for $5,600 and the relative was suppose to give him back $186 because he did not owe the relative that much money. The suspect then told the elderly woman that he had to get back to the base and the victim told him she would write a check for the amount.

The suspect asked the victim for a bank card, and returned shortly after saying the card didn't work. He then asked for a Master Card. The suspect then drove to Publix with the victim who wrote him a check for $200. The victim became suspicious when the man said he was married and 27 years-old. The suspect ignored the victim's questions and drove with her to a pawn shop where he asked her for her driver's license and her signature on a piece of paper. The paper turned out to be a credit card charge slip charged to the Master Card she had given him earlier, police said.

The suspect drove the elderly woman home and the credit card was returned to her purse.

Anyone who is a victim of this type of scam, or who has information about this case, can call Winter Springs Police at 327-1000.

The Lake Mary High School carnival will continue through 8 p.m. Sunday. Also featured during the fund-raising event for Project Graduation is a special benefit for the school choir. A "kidnapping" of local city and county officials will benefit 40 choir members who will be traveling this summer to England and France to participate in an American Celebration of Music in Britain. The singers will perform at Westminster Abbey and at a High Mass in Latin at Notre Dame. The Lake Mary Concert Choir is the only school from Florida represented. The choir was also included in a compact disc of Christmas music distributed by Disney World and narrated by Louis Gossett Jr.

Rallying to build low blood supply

By JEANA HUGHES
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - What takes about 20 minutes, requires no special expertise and saves lives? The answer is donating blood.

"We have had a very difficult time meeting the needs of our hospitals," said Linda Decker, regional coordinator for the Central Florida Blood Bank. January was the highest usage month for 1997, and this January is expected to be the same for 1998.

Visitors from the north increase our population during the winter months, and increased elective surgeries quickly deplete supplies. Occasionally local hospitals have to temporarily delay elective surgeries when blood becomes too scarce.

"It is up to us," said Decker. "Blood comes from only one source-us". One unit of donated blood can help up to five people. The blood can be broken down into plasma, platelets, red cells, white cells, and cryoprecipitate helps blood to clot.

Very special donors can be baby-pack donors. These donors must have the very purest blood. One unit of baby-pack blood can help up to seven premature babies.

Decker stressed the importance of blood drives sponsored by businesses, schools and See Blood, Page 3A

Skirmish waged over Battle Ridge development

By DAVID FRAZIER
Herald Staff Writer

WINTER SPRINGS - A skirmish is being waged over a stretch of property aptly called Battle Ridge. The Winter Springs City Commission annexed the 300 acre lot Monday at the regular commission meeting despite protests from the City of Oviedo, the residents of Black Hammock, the local branch of the Audubon Society and, to a lesser degree, residents of McKinley's Mill. Each group had different gripes regarding the development.

According to Winter Springs Planning/Zoning Coordinator Thomas Grimms, about 260 acres of the property will be preserved for wetlands, and the other 40 acres will be converted to residential. A "notice of intent" is being sent to the Department of Community Affairs to see if the annexation is compliant or non-compliant with state and local comprehensive plans.

The Battle Ridge Company submitted a planned amendment and zoning change to Seminole County in 1994. At that time, according to Battle Ridge officials, the county voted for too low a density to suit their needs. In August 1995, Battle Ridge elected to apply for annexation with the City of Winter Springs. Under the county, Battle Ridge had to See Develop, Page 3A

No pay for county commissioner Van Der Weide: 'It ain't over until it's over'

By RUSS WHITE
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - Seminole County Commissioner Dick Van Der Weide wasn't surprised when he saw the stub of his paycheck on Thursday.

Pay: Zero. "Ah," he said this morning, "she huffed and puffed so much over this she couldn't back down."

The commissioner's pay was seized by County Clerk of the Court Maryanne Morse, who said Van Der Weide had not properly accounted for a county trip to Europe last August.

On Jan. 20, Morse warned Van Der Weide she would dock $1,081 from his Jan. 29 and Feb. 5 paychecks - and she didn't back down. Instead of getting his usual $870.44 check, Van Der Weide received zip this week.

Morse vows to take $210.56 more from next week's check.

By this time Van Der Weide said he expects his attorney will be responding big time. "Like Yogi Berra once said, 'It ain't over until it's over.' Well, this one ain't over."

Van Der Weide went on an economic development trip to the Netherlands and London. He insists he followed an itinerary approved by Economic Development Manager Bob Turk and the Economic Development Commission of Mid Florida.

Morse contends that Van Der Weide was not authorized to go to London, and that he did not provide receipts for his meals under the country's travel policy. "This is taxpayers' money," she said. "It's my responsibility to account for it."

Man nabbed for peering in girl's window

From Staff Reports

SANFORD - Seminole County sheriff's deputies arrested a man Tuesday caught peering into the room of a teen-age girl.

Deputy David Nagowski charged Bobby Joe Beicher with loitering, prowling and trespass after arresting him for looking into a teen-age girl's bedroom at about 1:30 a.m., said sheriff's spokesman Lt.

Jack Cash. According to the sheriff's report, as the father of the girl was preparing to go to bed, he noticed a shadow pass by the front window of his home in the southwest part of the county. Upon further investigation, the father saw the man with his hands cupped as if to enhance his ability to look into his daughter's window and at that point called the sheriff's office, Cash said. Beicher, described as wearing a green sweatshirt and shorts, was found walking away from the father's porch. When asked what he was doing there, Beicher said he lived in the area and was walking around. He also said he was playing with the complainant's dog. The homeowner, however, said his dog was in the house and had not been out all night. The suspect was later identified by the complainant, arrested and transported to the county jail, Cash said.

"The teddy bear is very powerful for reducing stress in young children in tragic situations," said school Principal Lino Rodriguez.

Rodriguez called the joint project, shared by students in second third and fourth grade, a great success.

"The boys and girls were very involved and committed to this project," he said, "and the fire department was very sincere in their gratitude for the teddy bears."

The Teddy Bear stamp is part of the Celebrate the Century program, which is scheduled to continue through 2000. As part of the program, the U.S. Postal Service has asked for public input in deciding what subjects will be depicted.

proved the London trip as well as the Netherlands trip and that he was entitled to $50 per diem for meals on his 10-day trip.

In a response to Morse this past Tuesday, Van Der Weide said the clerk's research was "inadequate or incompetent."

The squabble between the clerk and the commissioner has picked up a number of headlines, hardly pleasing to either county leaders. They've made no comments, allowing Van Der Weide and Morse to settle on their own.

A couple of weeks ago, Van Der Weide asked County Manager Gary Katsner, County Attorney Bob McMillan, Economic Development Manager Turk and Planner John Jones to be present when he stated his case. At this session, Van Der Weide produced an itinerary that included London. This itinerary was not dated.

County Commissioner Win Adams said he was certain only of the Netherlands part of the trip. Commissioner Grant Maloy said he believed the London portion was approved.

"Not only was the trip to London included but it was directed and authorized by the Board," Van Der Weide said. He also said that the meal money was approved by the Board with a 3-1 vote on Sept. 23, 1997. Van Der Weide abstained from the vote. "How we were to be reimbursed was understood by the commission to be in place for the trip," he said.

Although Morse had docked his pay, Van Der Weide was determined to get the money back. "We feel good about the position we're in," he said after talking to his attorney this morning. The ball's in our court now."

settle with one unit per acre, but, under the city, they are allowed one to 3.5 units per acre. Battle Ridge Companies, Inc. based out of West Virginia is interested in using the area for single family units, a maximum of 110 units to be developed.

Grimms said that concessions have been made to satisfy those who have a problem with the development coming in. "The developer has agreed to deed over the wetlands," said Grimms. "And there is a one-foot buffer along the eastern property line to prevent road or utility extensions to the east." Grimms also said that there will be no negative impact to density or traffic in the area as well.

"The main issue is to preserve the way of life in Black Hammock," said Winter Springs City Manager Ronald McLemore. "Aside from that, there is simply not any unanswered issues."

According to county commissioner Grant Maloy, the residents of the Hammock are worried about compromising their current lifestyle in the wake of city-type development. "It's all about population density," said Maloy. The commissioner also said that the county did not oppose "voluntary annexation," but the concern was how far do these city limits encroach on rural areas. "The most encouraging thing to come out of all this is a future meeting between county, Oviedo and Winter Springs to map out a plan on what to do with this part of the county," said Maloy.

There will be a final vote on the annexation of the property February 9 during the Winter Springs commission meeting. "A year from now, the people of Black Hammock will see this is the best thing for them," said McLemore.

and organizations. High school drives are very successful according to Decker.

Ace Hardware, Sanford, sponsors a drive every 56 days. Fifty-six days is the minimum time a donor must wait between donations. "I think it's important," said Bob Parsell, president of Ace Hardware as he headed for the blood mobile. "It takes a few minutes of time and it saves lives".

Ace began sponsoring drives when an employee's baby needed surgery. For many people the importance of donating blood does not become clear until it hits close to home.

Credit Manager Lori Howington became actively involved when her daughter's day care teacher was hospitalized with leukemia. She organizes Ace Hardware's blood drives. "It is important to spread the word, to encourage others to donate and companies to sponsor drives," said Howington.

Recipients are not the only ones who benefit. Donors benefit as well. A "mini physical" is conducted. Blood pressure, temperature, pulse, iron, and cholesterol are checked. Most donors say the good feeling of knowing you have helped someone else is reason enough.

Anyone interested in more information should contact the Central Florida Blood Bank, Seminole Branch at 322-0822.

How to be your own best friend

CONSUMER FOCUS

BARBARA HUGHES/GREGG

Twenty-four years ago, when the book How To Be Your Own Best Friend was written, it was a time of great social upheaval and changing values. Many people were dissatisfied with their lives. They might not have been any worse off than people earlier in the 1900's, but they were no longer ready to accept the boredom, anxiety and misery associated with life. They wanted more. The same might be said of the 1990's. Life is more confusing and values are more uncertain than ever. Today's stresses and demands require a strong, solid sense of self-which is what being your own best friend is all about.

In order to be your own best friend, you must learn to seek happiness from within. People seeking happiness outside themselves--more money, a better job, more sex--don't find it because true contentment first comes from within. You must develop the same kind of tolerant goodwill, positive attitude and love toward yourself that you feel toward people whom you treasure as friends. Here are some ideas for doing that.

Learn to give yourself the boundless encouragement, kindly patience and unconditional support that a good parent gives his children.

Forgive yourself when you make mistakes--and reward yourself when you do well.

Take responsibility for your feelings. Emotion has an undeniable--even mysterious--power. Strong negative feelings can cause us to hurt ourselves or others in the heat of a moment. To be ruled by emotions takes a heavy toll, making us feel weak rather than strong and self-pitying rather than self-respecting. Recognize that you have a right to your feelings--including the painful and hateful ones. But the decision to act on them, cling to them or let them pass is in your power. Remember, feelings change and don't last forever.

Here are some suggestions for learning to be your own best friend.

Lift yourself up, don't put yourself down. How you feel about yourself is up to you. If you don't like what you do, change it. If you can't change it, accept it with love, understanding and compassion. But above all, don't beat up on yourself emotionally. You will only succeed in feeling rotten. Pay attention to the things you say to yourself. Negative self-talk may occasionally be helpful, but it can easily become a habit that leads to low self-esteem. Try to be kind and gracious to yourself. Become a good, encouraging person to have by your side. Positive feedback is emotional self-feeding, and your approval is key to being a good parent to yourself.

Give yourself positive recognition. When you do something you're proud of, don't let it pass unnoticed. Pause. Bask in the glow and tell yourself that you did well, even if no one else does. If you wait for recognition from others, you'll be resentful when you don't get it. But when we compliment ourselves, the positive reinforcement stays with us.

Be ready to forgive yourself. If you're going to be a best friend and a good parent to yourself, you must be compassionate. Who would subject her best friend to a life sentence of recrimination for opportunities missed and mistakes made? Self recrimination is no better. Strategy: Extract what wisdom you can from your past experiences, and use it to improve your performance--the next time.

Avoid self-blame. Don't label yourself a loser, fool, etc.

It's amazing how many people can remember in vivid, excruciating detail some terribly painful, embarrassing incident from years--even decades--past. Learn to use that same amazing memory capacity to remember positive events.

Meet your own expectations. If you set reasonable goals for yourself and meet them, you'll have a good reason to like yourself. Such achievement leads to positive self-talk, such as "I did a good job...I came through for me...I can count on me..." Small achievements like cleaning the house or balancing the check-book can give you a boost if you let yourself savor the success of completing the job. Enjoy being in charge of yourself.

Get to know yourself better. Unreasonable fears, desires and fantasies can hinder our self-awareness. Only by honestly understanding ourselves can we overcome character traits that block the way of happiness, self-respect, and success. It's no wonder many people fear success more than failure. After all, if we're successful, we won't need others and we'll be left on our own. Being alone is a frightening prospect--until we realize we can give ourselves the comfort and assistance we seek from others.

Don't give up on your teen son

Dear Mary,

We are ready to give up on our 17-year-old son. He always made very average grades in elementary and school, but since he has been in high school, they have gone from bad to worse. We just can't understand what went wrong with him.

Our other two children have never given us a bit of trouble. The older boy is graduating from an Ivy League school this year and the younger child has only gotten one B since she's been in school. We've done everything we can think of to help our middle son succeed, but he's not even willing to try to do better at school.

Now he's getting more hostile with us when we try to talk to him. When he's at home, he stays in his room listening to awful music. On the week-ends he's out till all hours with a group of creeps who are in the early 20s, or over at his girlfriend's house where there is no adult supervision.

FAMILY COUNSELOR

We've given him all the advantages we've given the other kids, but he ever has seemed to want to make anything of himself. Our older son was an A student in high school and involved in sports. Our daughter just got a leading part in the school play. We're very proud of them, but our middle son has been a real disappointment. We don't know where to turn for help with him.

Disappointed Dad

Dear Disappointed,

What if your middle child gave you his best effort while he was a little guy and just couldn't measure up to your expectations? As you constantly pushed him to do better and compared him to his older brother, he may have gotten discouraged and given up. The same thing could happen at school. When he turned in less than excellent work, it may be that his teachers assumed that he wasn't trying. Unfortunately, if he was doing the best he could do, it could be very disappointing to him to never be able to please the important grown-ups in his life. When kids get trapped into a cycle of failure, they'll quit trying. After all, if you don't try you can't really fail.

Stop comparing him to his brother and sister immediately. It may be that he's taken up with a group of losers to save his pride. At least he's accepted as he is.

In all likelihood the entire family is going to need support in changing your patterns of interacting. By this time it's unlikely that can all heal the scars of all that has gone on in the past, but let's hope that you can move toward a healthier future. Call your health care provider for a referral to a marriage and family therapist, psychologist or psychiatrist.

Bride feels she's lost control

DEAR ABBY: I need to get something off my chest. Here is my problem: friends upset about not being asked to be my bridesmaids; family angry about who is giving the bridal shower; being interrogated about why I'm not changing my name; and parents insisting on inviting so many additional guests that we had to reserve a larger reception hall than the one indicated on our invitations.

Abby, rarely do people wish us well. It seems they just want to control some aspect of this event. I am so fed up with this nonsense that I wish we had eloped. We discussed doing that last week -- but some of the guests had already purchased nonrefundable plane tickets, so we could not in good conscience cancel the wedding.

Abby, please tell people who have the uncontrollable urge to meddle and complain about other people's weddings to back off, stay home, bite their tongues, and reserve their negativity for their own lives. Speaking for my fiance and myself, only those who wish to celebrate our joy and love should honor us with their presence on our wedding day.

WISH WE'D ELOPED IN PENNSYLVANIA
P.S. Thanks for listening. I feel better already.

DEAR WISH WE'D ELOPED: That's what I'm here for, and I'm pleased that venting your feelings provided relief from your pre-wedding stress. The reason that etiquette books are such enduring sellers is because emotions often reach a fever pitch during "milestone events," and they provide guidance as people negotiate their way through the social minefield.

In your case, since the plans have already been made, I would urge tolerance for those who are second-guessing your choices. It's your day and your wishes should prevail; however, the fewer hurt feelings in the wake of this event, the better for you and your husband in the long run.

DEAR ABBY: I must respond to "Bent Out of Shape in San Francisco." At age 14, I learned how easy it is to warm up a car. However, after 10 years of marriage, I still can't figure out how to warm up my wife.

As for the comparison between woman and machine: My car always starts when I want, does what I want, as often as I want. In return, I keep "her" clean, polished and properly maintained. I never ask "her" to do anything beyond "her" limits. I accept "her" shortcomings as character and style.

I would give my wife's battery a charge if I could find it, but she isn't talking and I'm still looking.

DEAR PROPERLY TUNED: Keep looking. Sometimes the search is more fun than the discovery.

Couple delivers the message of hope

By SUSAN WENNER
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - Pastors Brian and Gail Lane work diligently with the Healing Water Worship Center presently meeting at the Sanford Garden Club, in Sunland Estates. The couple recently celebrated their second anniversary with this ministry and are even more on fire for the Lords work than ever before.

The name for the church was derived from the scripture in John 4:14 which says, "Indeed the water I give him will become a spring of water welling up to eternal life." Also John 7:38 says, "He who believes in me, as the scripture has said, out of His heart, will flow rivers of living water."

Meet the Preacher

Lane said, "Our purpose is to spread the Gospel, the ultimate message of hope to a lost and dying world and to make disciples of men, women and children of all walks of life. Our purpose also includes sharing the incomparable love of God among the body of Christ so that we can experience the presence of God and know Him in a most intimate way."

He continued by saying, "It is our vision to see men and women built up, edified and matured that they may achieve and be all that God would have them to be. We realize that the challenges in the body of Christ are great, yet as we minister one to another, we can cause the wells within each of us to be stirred again and again. God has given us many spiritual gifts and talents that we take great pleasure in sharing. We are available to serve and minister to specific needs in whatever way we can."

Brian and Gail reside in Lake Mary yet feel the word of God can be shared throughout this area. They meet with other Christians on Tuesday evenings from 7 to 8:30 p.m. In addition to the Sunday morning services at the Sanford Garden Club at 10:30 a.m. and Wednesdays from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

Although the congregation begin and only Brian and Gail Lane, the church now has a membership of 40. "Our heart is to bring people from all walks of life and bridge the gap of races," he said. "We want to impact the community. Our members are multi-cultural and we are inter-denominational. We are a part of the AZUSA Fellowship with Bishop Carlton Pearson of Tulsa, Oklahoma with Higher dimensions Ministries."

He added that members are active in street evangelism and door knocking and described the people as "pleasant, family oriented and God-oriented." Also he said, "our thrust is to preach the life applications of the Bible and how the Bible applies to us today."

As far as plans for the future he shared that the church in working toward a daycare facility, a youth center, a crisis center and a hair salon. "We want to meet needs," he said. "The daycare center would help with the younger children while the youth center would make a place for children to come instead of the streets while being ministered to. The hair salon would be an opportunity for young people to go to school and use skills to benefit them later. We'd put them through school and in return they would agree to work for us for one year. The crisis center would help beyond the financial needs. For example someone that had been raped could come here for help."

All in all Lane summed things up by saying, "Our personal vision is to be instrumental in bringing God's presence and power to the body of Christ and to be used as vessels that will draw those who have never experienced the presence of God in its fullness."

Abortion: It's the law of the land

By DR. WILLIAM ROBERT "BOB" PARKER
First Baptist Church Markham Woods

Twenty-five years have passed, and the debate over abortion on demand continues in America. After all the rhetoric for these 25 years, much perception on this subject has not filtered into actuality. There was a time when both sides of the issue could not get together on "terms." For example, they could not agree if the "baby," "fetus," "mass," was "alive?" Someone evidently blended perception with actuality by admitting that the baby is alive in the womb; otherwise, there is no case for aborting something which has no living existence. If human life does not begin at conception (fertilization), then there is no life to abort. Some pro choice leaders admit that the "baby" in the womb is alive, but that does not change their position on abortion. Neither do they care that this is a scientific fact!

Those who emphasize the Supreme Court's 7-2 decision as constitutional protection of women's rights, do not recognize that this same decision removed constitutional protection for unborn life! Is not this discrimination at it's highest? Certainly, as Americans, we should reject racist views as discrimination. Yet, "at least in matters of race, the person being discriminated against is already alive and has recourse through the courts. The partially delivered child (of whatever color) has no such right" (Cal Thomas, L.A. Times Syndicate).

Human life-sacred value and worth

The high value on human life comes from the fact that God created mankind in His own image and likeness. One of the first laws of God known to man is the 6th Commandment - "Thou shall not kill" (Ex. 20). From the sacred value of human life, there is a clarion call for unconditional love for the unborn. Unconditional means without conditions attached! A pro-life person does not gain for vying to save the lives of the unborn! However, conditions are attached when a doctor earns $800,000 annually for abortifacient. Conditional interest is further illustrated in the phrase that abortion "should be a decision between a woman and her doctor" (which doctor is usually an abortionist selling his services).

The pro-choice position is pure discrimination, because the choice only involves one of the two persons involved! The unborn have no choice; yet, I know of no one (including myself) if they had a choice at conception to be born or to be aborted, who would choose their life to be taken away? Consistency 'thou art a jewel'

Both Hitler and Stalin were responsible for killing millions of innocent human beings. America is not for this kind of holocaust. The "Law of the Land" has, however, allowed the lives of 1.5 million babies per year to be snuffed out. Dietrich Bonhoeffer was adamantly opposed to the Nazis' extermination of Jewish people and his opposition of aborting the unborn child brought him to expound the Scripture text-Proverbs 31:8: "Speak up for those who cannot speak for themselves, and for the rights of all the unfortunate." Bonhoeffer said, "Destruction of the embryo in the mother's womb is a violation of the right to live which God has bestowed upon his nascent life...and that is nothing but murder."

The law of the land

The Supreme Court ruled on January 22, 1973, that the unborn are not human persons protected by The Constitution. This court judgment was called by a dissenting judge - "An act of raw judicial power." Contrary to this court decision, scientific fact states that sex is determined at conception-making it clear that life of a child (boy or girl) begins at conception.

"Before a congressional hearing in April of 1981, the noted geneticist Dr. Hymie Gordon testified, 'It is an established scientific fact...that all life, including human life, begins at conception.' And the world famous geneticist Jerome LeJone declared, 'The fact that after fertilization has taken place a new human has come into being is no longer a matter of taste opinion' (Norman L. Geisler, Kindred Spirit, Autumn 1998). Laws that keep one from going around killing animals and throwing them in the garbage, yet allowing the murder of unborn children and disposing of them in trash bins are not only unjust laws but evil and satanic!

The horror of a de-mornted view of life

Multiple experiments on live babies treat the life of a human as if it were an animal. In the wake of the U.S. Supreme Court decision to legalize abortion on demand, Dr. Peter A.J. Adams of Case Western Reserve University cut off the heads of 12 tiny babies born alive by hysterectomy abortion. He pumped blood into their brains to keep them alive, much the way Russians did with dogs' heads in the 1950s. ...According to the American Journal of Obstetrics and Gynecology (Jan. 1974), Dr. Bela A. Reach cut hearts out of aborted babies. The hearts kept beating for hours. In 1973, Dr. Reyes of the University of Manitoba cut open the skulls of live babies and studied them. He later killed the babies by a sharp puncture to the heart. (Ibid.).

In the National Examiner, Aug. 19, 1980, Dr. Martti Kekomaki attempting to justify live baby experiments said, "An aborted baby is just garbage and that's where it ends up."

The conclusion

There are laws of the land that are unjust laws-always have been. But-the Laws of God are just, perfect and pure. Whether one kills an innocent child in the womb or cuts the womb, the fact remains that it is death by premeditated action and that is murder pure and simple! God only knows when the holocaust of abortion will end. Principles of Holy Writ convey to us that God will not judge us for failing to grant a woman the right to kill her unborn child; however, one thing is sure: if God remains God (which He will), Divine judgment is inevitable for taking innocent life. History reminds us that God does not always "settle His accounts" in the month of January, but "hold on a little while," judgment is at hand! Think about that!

THE WEEK IN PREP ATHLETICS

Games of the Week

You're no sports fan if you miss...

By JEFF BERLINICKE
Herald Staff Writer

Jan. 30: Oviedo at Lake Howell, boys basketball, 7:30 p.m.

The biggest game of the regular season is finally here.

Lake Howell coach Steve Kohn even admitted earlier this week after the Silver Hawks squeaked past Lake Mary that his team and the entire school was concentrating only on Oviedo.

Last time they battled was three weeks ago at Oviedo when the Lions wiped out a huge early Lake Howell lead to pull it out on a jumper with five seconds remaining.

The teams look the same this time. Oviedo clinched the conference and district title so the game isn't quiet as important as it is for Lake Howell which is jockeying for playoff position.

Oviedo's Brad Combes has been playing great as of late and Seth Fowler, John Harper and the rest of the Oviedo gang creates one of the best team chemistries anywhere.

The Silver Hawks were ranked fourth in the state earlier this season and may be the hottest team in the county. Ryan Smith and Reggie Kohn are the keys to the game.

Get there early, though. The place should be packed. Oviedo has the best traveling contingent around and Lake Howell wants some Lions' blood.

Jan. 30: Seminole at Lake Brantley, boys basketball, 7:30 p.m.

This rematch could be very interesting.

Arrow Force VI overcame a big deficit to win a strange game earlier this month and the Patriots will be looking for revenge on their home court as the two teams prepare for the upcoming district tournaments.

Seminole is a well balanced squad that has been playing very well of late and usually gets good play out of Zeke Seymore, Mequal Bush, Daryl Redding, B.J. Pratt and Cornelius Blue.

Lake Brantley is trying to rebound from a slow middle of the season after a hot start. The Patriots usually follow the lead of Drew Morgan.

Jan. 30: Lake Mary at Lake Brantley, girls soccer, 7:30 p.m.

While the game is a non-conference matchup, these two powerhouses will be looking for a psychological advantage heading toward the district tournaments.

The Rams, ranked No. 3 in the state, are coming off a big road win at Lake Howell on Wednesday, but should have no trouble in getting up for their backyard rivals.

Jan. 30: Class 5A-District 6 semifinals, girls' basketball at Daytona Beach-Mainland, 6 p.m.

The Seminole High School girls team of head coach Sylvester Wynn begins play in tournament tonight and a win would not only advance them to Tuesday's championship game, but would also assure the Fighting Seminoles of a spot in the regional tournament.

Seminole is led by Shameika Stokes, Tamara Gilchrist and Felicia Henderson.

Jan. 31: Class 6A-District 3 finals - Lake Mary vs. Lyman, girls basketball at Oviedo, 7:30 p.m.

For the second straight year, the Rams and Greyhounds will meet to see who is the district champion and who plays at home in the first round of the regional tournament next week.

No. 1 state-ranked Lake Mary (27-0) is looking for a return trip to the State Tournament in Lakeland to take care of some unfinished business. The Rams, coached by Carl Brown, are led by the junior trio of Lauren Bradley, Ashlee Ballance and Mary Leah Sutton.

Lyman (22-6), meanwhile, will be looking to gain added respect if they can upset Lake Mary. The Greyhounds, under coach Bruce Bonaventure, are led by the Hickey twins, Meghanne and Brienne. Nekiesha Smith and Kim Gant.

Lake Mary, Lyman meet in rematch of 1997 finale

By TONY DeSORMIER
Herald correspondent

OVIEDO - Whenever the undefeated No. 1-ranked team in the state is scheduled to play, the possibility of a blowout exists.

On Thursday night at Oviedo High School, the undefeated and No. 1-ranked Lake Mary Rams were scheduled to play in the semifinals of the 6A-District 3 girls' basketball tournament.

And while a blowout did occur, it didn't involve the Rams, who eliminated the Lake Howell Silver Hawks, 47-27.

It was the Lyman Greyhounds who posted a lopsided victory Thursday, slapping a 30-point shellacking on the host Oviedo Lions, 63-33.

Lake Mary (27-0) and Lyman (22-6) will meet Saturday night at 7:30 p.m. in the district finals at Oviedo High School. The junior varsity district championship game will be played prior to that at 6 p.m.

After scrambling from behind to defeat Deland Wednesday, the Lake Howell Silver Hawks came Thursday night determined not make it easy for Lake Mary to advance to the district title game.

Employing a piece of strategy that drew unfavorable comments from the fans, Lake Howell held the ball, sometimes for nearly two minutes, before running its offense.

What it lacked in aesthetic value, it more than made up for in effectiveness. After one quarter, the Silver Hawks trailed by just four points, 11-7. At halftime, the deficit was eight, 17-9.

But any hope of a Lake Howell upset slipped away in the third quarter, when the Rams outscored the challengers, 13-4.

Lauren Bradley led Lake Mary with 13 points. Mary Leah Sutton added nine while Ashlee Ballance contributed eight.

The only Lake Howell player to score more than four points was Kirby Kirby, who came off the bench to toss in 11 points - including three three-point field goals - all in the fourth quarter.

Thursday's nightcap was expected to be one of the most competitive matchups of the tournament. Not only did the teams have nearly identical records (Oviedo came in at 22-6, Lyman at 21-6), but they actually tied for the second seed in the tournament. Lyman won the No. 2 seed on a coin toss.

Both teams showed the effects of the "win or the season's over" pressure in the first quarter, turning the ball more often than not and struggling to find their respective shooting touch.

In the second quarter, the Orybounds dropped a bomb - three of them, actually - on the Lions. Meghanne Hickey pulled the trigger, launching a trio of three-pointers to spark a 27-10 breakout. Her sister, Brianne, added eight in the quarter.

The score was never closer than 16-18 points the rest of the night.

Meghanne Hickey finished with 19 while Brianne had 14. Nekisha Smith chipped in with 12 while Kim Gant added eight.

Mary Lou Johnston and Shannon Cotton each had 11 points for Oviedo. Seven of Johnston's came on free throws while Cotton tossed in three three-point field goals. Ingrid Cloninger had two treys for six points.

Is neurofibromatosis hereditary?

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: We know a family whose son has neurofibromatosis. The mother says her doctor told her it was inherited. She says there was nothing like this in her family, so guess who is to blame? How can it be blamed on one side or another when the odds are so small? Isn't something like this a combination of many genes?

DEAR READER: Neurofibromatosis occurs in one out of 3,000 births. It is characterized by skin spots that are well-demarcated and are the color of coffee with milk, hence the term "cafe au lait" spots. In addition, the disease is associated with nerve tumors, bone abnormalities, precocious puberty, learning disorders and seizures.

The condition is inherited as an autosomal (non-sex-linked) dominant pattern, meaning that 50 percent of affected individuals will produce children who have the disease. Males and females are equally affected.

Because only 50 percent of patients have a parent with the condition, the remaining 50 percent are presumed to reflect new mutations — that is, half the patients have a new genetic abnormality that is not acquired from a parent.

This observation is an important one, because it removes the burden of responsibility from parents who do not have the disease. If the parents of the child you mention do not have neurofibromatosis, then the boy must have developed his genetic defect apart from them.

The treatment of neurofibromatosis has been the surgical removal of nerve tumors. Investigators have become very excited by recent reports that described how doctors are using ketotifen, a mast cell stabilizer, to treat the disease. Mast cells, where histamine is produced in the body, can often be found in the nerve tumors of neurofibromatosis. Ketotifen shows promise in managing the disease and may well improve the outlook of people with the disorder.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I am very anemic, but the doctors can't find any reason for it. I'd like to start a family, but I don't want to harm myself or an unborn child. Is there any reason that I shouldn't get pregnant?

DEAR READER: Yes, there is. Pregnancy places a tremendous physical burden on a woman; the presence of severe anemia, causing further stress, could be harmful for both you and the baby. I think that you should avoid becoming pregnant until your anemia has been treated.

I'm also concerned that your doctors are unable to find the cause of your anemia. This means that the common causes, such as iron deficiency or infection, have been ruled out. Therefore, your anemia could reflect a serious undiagnosed ailment. In such a case, you would surely not want to jeopardize your health or your baby's life.

In my opinion, you should request a referral to a hematologist (blood specialist) and identify the source of your anemia before starting a family.

To give you more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health

WIN AT BRIDGE

Partner misbids, you compensate

By Phillip Alder

This deal was shown to me by John Cuthbert, who was my solicitor (lawyer) when I lived in London. It occurred while he and his teammates were winning an event last October.

The auction began with a Precision two-club opening, which is natural and limited to 15 high-card points. Two diamonds asked for more information. Now, North should have rebid three diamonds to show his 4-6, whereupon the preferable six diamonds would have been reached (as it was at the other table). Instead, three clubs showed a minimum with a good six-card club suit. And when North couldn't support hearts, South drove into six no-trump.

After winning the first trick with the club queen, declarer played a spade to dummy's ace and cashed the two top clubs, throwing hearts from hand. Not surprisingly, given the lead, the club jack didn't fall.

Things looked grim, but South spotted one chance. He took four diamond tricks (with the aid of the winning finesse) and the king-queen of spades. South had left the ace-queen-nine of hearts. He exited with the nine — and yes, the miracle came about. With the king-jack-10 of hearts, West had to win the trick and lead back into declarer's ace-queen tenace.

If you would like to learn more about the Precision Club system, buy "Precision in the '90s" by Barry Hegal. It costs $28.95 postpaid from Baron Lost in cyberspace?

Are you tapped into the biggest business revolution that has occurred in our lifetime? For us non-technical types, the mere thought of this faceless entity called cyber-space is enough to scare us into ignoring the emerging technologies.

There is no reason to be scared of this trend, instead of making it work for you. You can reach out to commercial and non-commercial sites for instantaneous information.

The Small Business Administration has a site (<http://www.sbaonline.sba.gov/>) that is a dream for a small business owner. You can learn how to apply for an SBA loan. The SBA has shareware that can be used to write a business plan or operate your business.

World Gym introduces program for children

By KELLIE WERNER
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY - For years, everyone in the fitness industry has believed that children under the age of 14 should not be involved in a weight training program.

World Gym in Lake Mary is changing that belief with the introduction of its revolutionary equipment, Kids' Pace.

KidzFit International has developed the weight training center that is geared for kids in two groups, 4-7 and 8-12, and World Gym is the only place in the state to offer this new fitness venture for children.

"Kids need to be more active," said gym owner Ben Cohen. "This is a great program set up to get kids more involved in fitness and more educated about how to stay healthy. Teaching kids early about proper nutrition and exercise will help to keep them healthier throughout their lives."

After years of research by doctors, health exercise and fitness specialists, it has become evident that kids are not as healthy today as they should be. In fact, the numbers are quite distressing.

More children are overweight than ever before, 40 percent of children ages 5-10 exhibit at least one risk factor for coronary heart disease and television viewing is on the increase, averaging over 30 hours per week.

Kids Pace offers children a fun and entertaining way to become active through both weight training and cardiovascular exercise that is completely safe and age appropriate.

The basic premise of the equipment is that kids only get out of it what they put in it. The machines are all hydraulic resistant, which means that there are no weights. Therefore, the child must push to make the machine move and then pull back with the same force. He or she can only work to their fitness level.

Also, if the child gets distracted and walks away, the machine will stay in position. There is no risk to the child from either too much weight or unsafe equipment.

Each class is 30 minutes long and consists of a warm up, an alternating rotation through the machines for 20 seconds and an aerobic recovery station for 20 seconds and then a cool down. The recovery stations include all of the activities that kids love like jump ropes, hula-hoops, hoppy balls and beanbags. And each class has a theme and corresponding music to keep the activities fun and exciting.

"The best thing about Kids Pace is that everything is set up so there is no competition," Cohen explained. "Every kid can work to their own level

Work begins on Rinehart Monday

Special to the Herald

LAKE MARY - Rick Diaz, city of Lake Mary has issued the following notice regarding the Rinehart Road Widening Project. The city of Lake Mary would like to provide its residents, visitors, and surrounding neighbors with pertinent information related to its road construction project beginning Feb. 2.

The construction company, Martin K. Eby, Inc., has received an order to proceed effective Feb. 2, which allows 16 months to perform all improvements to Rinehart Road. These improvements include four new traffic lanes, a median, new traffic signals, and all the underground utilities inherent to the project. The representatives of this construction company have stated that they would like to be done by Dec. 28. This is a very optimistic schedule and the city of Lake Mary is committed to assist them in reaching that goal. Nevertheless, there will be eleven to twelve months of intense construction and inconvenience.

Therefore, the city is asking for your help, cooperation, and understanding. Even though a detailed Maintenance of Traffic schedule has been developed and approved, at times it will be difficult to use Rinehart Road until it is completed. In order to help you to reach your destinations safely and in a timely manner, we have developed the following map of alternative routes. Please clip it, copy it, and use it as you see fit. It is designed to help you choose the best alternative route, depending on your destination.

As shown on the map, if you are heading north towards Sanford, Volusia, Deltona, etc. your best alternative will be Rinehart Road, towards State Road 46.

to stay on C.R. 46A, go over I-4, turn into Heathrow and reach Lake Mary Boulevard on the westside of I-4, from which you can either take I-4, Markham Woods Road, or stay on Lake Mary Boulevard.

If, on the other hand, you need to go to 17-92, your best route would be Country Club Road (C-15) or stay on SR 46 East to Airport Road or to 17-92.

For your information, this is the first of three projects that will affect the intersection of County Road 46A and Rinehart Road. The other two projects are the widening of 46-A to start in May, 1998 and the I-4 Interchange with 46-A to start in May, 1998. All three construction activities will have a significant impact on the entire area from a traffic circulation standpoint. Finally, please note that the 45 mph speed limit on Rinehart Road will be reduced to 30 mph and that speeding fines will be doubled.

On the waterfront

Sanford Mayor Larry Dale with much fanfare played to an awed crowd Friday, when he unveiled plans for a $75 million waterfront complex that includes a convention center, hotel, apartments and a restaurant. The presentation was made at the Seminole Chamber of Commerce luncheon at the Orlando North Hilton Hotel.

Can you feel the excitement? We certainly can.

Developer Joseph Pacitti, president of PRA Development and Management Corporation, is certain that a partnership can be forged with the city, Seminole County and the private sector to bring the project to fruition, perhaps breaking ground later this year. County commissioners joined Dale in his enthusiasm, as did executives from the DoubleTree Hotel chain. Pacitti, to date, is acting on a limited exclusive the city voted him in order to come up with a plan for the lakefront. Local architecture firm Burke, Bales & Mills Associates, Inc. was used, because PRA felt the associates would have a better feel for the area and its needs than an outsider. No wonder the crowd was stunned when Dale rose to present his forecast of Sanford's future. The renderings he unveiled in that forecast are beautiful.

Sanford's lakefront has been on the developmental drawing board since 1917. Some things have been done over the years, but certainly, nothing of this magnitude. Dale said the next step is for a city task force to check out other cities with similar projects by Pacitti.

We share the vision with our city and county leaders, who understand the key to Sanford's future is in quality projects such as this one, increasing dollars in the local economy, fueling the job market, and boosting existing property values.

Mayor Dale and Mr. Pacitti stole the Seminole County show Friday. Way to go, guys.

Presidential sex scandal

The contaminated waters which have flowed over dams in the past should not become today's primary issue.

The history of a temptress who took part in an immoral act should not overshadow the guilt of he who has bitten the forbidden fruit.

When a man assumes office as the presiding officer of a great nation, he becomes an icon, an image almost divine in nature, which everyone looks up to and many try to imitate.

The youthful followers within a country are supple and can be bent or twisted like they twigs as they pass through the sapling stages to eventually stand on their own as mighty oaks or lie withering and rotting on a forest floor.

When a diabolical leader is deceitful and bold enough to explain away sinful acts as things that should be condoned and accepted as trivialities, he is bending the heads of young trees toward the forest floor; toward decay and destruction!

Unless the American People DESIRE to teach their future leaders that oral sex, cheating and lying are perfectly acceptable ways of life, then they know what must be done in the event their president is found guilty as charged.

Miss Lake Mary High

Last week I attended a program at Lake Mary High - Miss Lake Mary. An African American girl, Hope, was the best of all; but she was robbed of winning. No one there can deny she should have won. She had everyone crying. I have not seen many blacks that have shown themselves the way she did - when they do they should be rewarded. Even the girls running said she should have won.

That principal should stop that if people are not going to be fair to those, all of those, kids.

Please print. I wonder if others there felt the way I did.

Racism in pageant?

Last Saturday evening, I was invited to attend the Miss Lake Mary High Pageant. A neighbor's daughter was participating. All of the young ladies were outstanding, but there was one young lady, Hope Walton, that stood out.

Her poise, demeanor and appearance were flawless. I asked what could have been the cause of this young lady not winning and I didn't hear anything that made sense to me, except when I overheard a young man that was one of the "machos" men in the pageant say to another student, "it was politics." I saw the judges leave and I see why, because almost everyone I talked to and heard talking around me felt Hope should have won.

I heard a teacher say it was because of grades, but I know that's not true because the program stated that grades accounted for only 20 percent of the girls' scores. I believe the only

Riding (light) rails, and other plans

The Sanford Herald has certainly taken the lead in reporting news and views. Others are now taking a closer look at "Light Rail". I'm proud to say that we brought this before the public, our readers, last year.

The truth is that it is the duty of the media, in particular newspapers, to report to you all of the news. It is very difficult at times to take a position, in fact, it is not always possible. We can only supply you with the facts as we know them.

In columns, such as this, it is possible to give an opinion based on the facts as I understand them to be. I am not always right and have had the luxury of being able to change my position on occasion. However, I have taken rather strong stands on certain issues. Fortunately, these positions have proven to be correct or at least the same position that most readers have taken.

The "Light Rail" system may prove to be a major embarrassment to the vast majority of our public officials simply because it will be proven to have been a very poor investment and not the proper use of transportation revenues. Transportation systems are changing. At this very moment there are new concepts and systems being developed. If Central Florida were to commit to light rail it would find itself out of step with new systems before the light rail system is completed. In my opinion, it is a mistake to even put in place the very first phase from Orlando to International Drive.

Long ago, in this newspaper, we expressed our thoughts on transportation. We did it through the opinion column and presented other reported concepts. Not only about light rail but also about the highway system and other constructive measures that may be taken to improve our transportation problems. I am very proud of those articles and the staff of this newspaper. There are many who will not be aware of how we have been a "Step Ahead" except you the readers of the Sanford Herald.

And in Sanford...

The City of Sanford is well on its way, and it is extremely important that the right decisions be made during these very crucial times. The city must express wisely its position on several issues, including light rail, and must insist that this city be a part of the planning now and not be placed on the back burner. Because Sanford is the county seat, it is important that our county commissioners assist in seeing that this city is not neglected. There are a few issues at this moment that I think are very important.

First, that the name of the Orlando Sanford Airport not be changed. It is very clear that the present name is best for this city and its growth and development. Leave the name as it is. Second, we must not let the development of the 17-92 corridor from the south of the county to Sanford be jeopardized in anyway. This is extremely important. In my view those who oppose this project are not looking at the importance of this project to this city! You the readers must make it clear that you do not want Sanford to be ignored any longer.

Mayor Larry Dale disagrees on the name change regarding the airport. I hope that he will have a change of heart regarding this matter. I think that is possible now. It seems clear that it could affect the growth of the airport and therefore affect the growth of the city. Mayor Dale is the right man at this time for this city. That does not mean that all his decisions are correct and it is right, and constructive, for all to present their views. In this case the name change would also affect the county as a whole, therefore, the county commissioners ought to express their views concerning this issue. We must remember that the county has put a great deal of emphasis on economic development. Taking this into consideration would it be prudent, or consistent, for the county not to at least give their thoughts regarding this matter? A name change would not be wise if you consider the importance placed on economic development. The real winner, or loser, in all of this could be the City of San-

A plan

If Sanford is to grow there has to be a plan. Part of that plan must include being a major player in Central Florida. That means that the city must take an active role in what is happening in several areas such as transportation, the airport, the 17-92 corridor, development of the waterfront and economic possibilities of that development. The mind-set of the citizens of this city should be that we have everything that is necessary to become the envy of any Central Florida city and we must not let the opportunity in front of us today...slip away. This is the MOMENT. This is the time for this city to step forward and to make it clear to Sister Cities, the Seminole County Commission and others, that the time has come for some attention to be given to the City of Sanford, the county seat. In this endeavor there must be support, and constructive suggestions, given to the mayor and others.

Job Bush

I ought to be paid for this advice. First, a mistake is made in Jeb Bush's choosing of a running mate. Then a New York newspaper blames Feeney for Bush's defeat. During, or after, all of this Donald Trump apparently as I understand it, is contributing to the campaign in some way. I don't associate Donald Trump as a country cousin to all of us in Florida. I see him as a New York real estate entrepreneur also involved in casinos. On top of all of this is the failure to understand the pivotal role of Central Florida. If my vision were just slightly blurred I would not be able to tell you if I were looking at Jeb Bush or George Stuart...at this time. I hope it changes.

From the crystal ball

Some predictions...Sanford's airport name will remain as it is. The 17-92 corridor will be more impressive than we imagined due to a long and hard-fought debate between those who wish to see the success of this venture and those with little interest in this city and very little foresight as to what is best for the county as a whole. The Seminole County School System will take the lead in the state in presenting new concepts regarding educational alternatives. Surprising new political leadership arising from Seminole County. A nasty Sleazy politics in Seminole County?

Big time sleazy Washington D.C. politics has finally come to sleepy little Seminole County. Make no doubt about it, that's what is happening. It's as if we don't have enough of peeping through the White House keyholes to see what they are really doing in the Lincoln bedroom. Now we get all of the worst of national politics in our own local races. It's bad enough watching the C-Span catfights--or reading the newspapers for the Tallahassee mud slinging. Now we are getting the very worst of it all right from our National Republican committeewoman and committeeman.

Clerk of the Court Maryanne Morse has brought home some of the trash she learned at the National Party level and interjected it into local politics this past week. The flap with County Commissioner Dick Van Der Weide isn't about receipts--it's about firing a shot across Van Der Weide's bow to force him to quit raising so much money against Morse's candidacy for County Commission, Win Adams. You see, Van Der Weide is leading the fund-raising effort for Carlton Henley and he's so successful that the money river for Adams has slowed to an occasional drip.

Morse, and her right hand man Bob Lewis, are the brains behind the operation. With no money coming in--and little in sight, it's hard to get paid those big bucks as "consultants". And if Adams loses, then the new courthouse will likely receive a closer scrutiny from Henley than it ever would have from Adams. And everyone knows that a new courthouse is foremost on Morse's mind. So when some obscure reason to sing Van Der Weide turned up, Morse dusted off a rule book she probably didn't use on Adams's trips for the county and promptly put Van Der Weide in the headlines.

You see, in today's political game, putting your opponent/victim in the headlines defending himself is worth it's weight in gold. Not only do you distract them from their elected job, you distract them from their real life job and gather up ammunition that can be used in the next campaign when your real target (the victim) is running for re-election. And the best part of it is that the charges don't even have to be true. The news media never print a follow up in six months when the lawsuit is finally settled and the poor hapless victim is found to be in the right.

Underlying this whole soap opera is a fundamental question. What are our constitutional officers doing running campaigns? Bob Lewis made the news in '96 when questions were raised about his using work time to run three judges' campaigns and that of Pat Warren, a county commissioner. All lost--which ought to tell Win Adams something! Ray Valdes and his deputy, Paul Warsicki, have been busy on the campaign trail too. Warsicki ran Bill Suber's '96 campaign. Valdes is on board as campaign manager for School Board member Sandy Robinson's try for re-election this year and is running candidates in both of the other school board races up for election in September, 1998.

By writing this column, I have painted a bulls-eye on my back. I'd have said chest, but people who fight like they do in Washington and Tallahassee don't face you--they stab you in the back. It will be interesting to see just how it happens.

Oh yes, the Constitutional Revision Committee is wrapping up its work this month. Wouldn't it be nice if they put another choice on the ballot: check here for none of the above candidates! That way the people of the State of Florida would be able to truly express their displeasure at campaigns.

Special People

TONY TIZZIO

Tony Tizzio is an advocate for the disabled.

Pet peeves

On June 15, 1997 we did a column at "Special People" entitled "Pet Peeves." The audience response was good for that one. It inspired us to do a kind of follow-up column, so today we will focus on a little pet peeve of mine: support or non-support of the disability movement.

You might think that the disabled may have an easy going attitude about life because of the way that most of us cope with our disability; with strength and dignity. The simple fact is that like all people, disabled persons can get bothered. The disabled can also get frustrated and even troubled by the actions of other people or events.

The disabled need to have greater support from society. This brings us to a very important question: what exactly do we mean by support? For our purposes today we shall limit this term, support, to stand for greater acceptance in society.

* False Support - Rightly named. This is what can be referred to as a person or organization claiming to be a defender of disability rights. Actually, they are only doing it to defend his/her job, position or corporation. In other words, they are not sincere in their convictions.

You will also find many people with this so called cooperative nature occurring especially when legal questions are involved involving the A.D.A. The A.D.A. has done a lot to enhance the Civil Rights of the Disabled, but the actual mind changing of people will take a little longer.

* Undecided Support - There are still others who flatly refuse to support the disabled in anything because they do not think the plight of the disabled has anything to do with the non-disabled. They bury their heads in the sand and wait for everything to blow over. As that old philosophical saying goes: "If a tree falls in the woods, and no one is there to see it, does it really make a sound?"

The situation of people avoiding the troubles of those around them has always hampered the progress of any minority group in our country. Too many times society closes its eyes to the problems of others simply because people are afraid of recriminations.

As we always say here at "Special People", it all comes down to spreading the word about the disabled and the disability movement. Support of any kind cannot come unless more people learn what it is like to be disabled.

Writer's Note: The opinion's expressed today are solely mine and are achieved through many years of being a disability/human rights advocate.

If you have anything for us at "Special People", please let us know!

good player.

He was a star with the Seminole High School team and then at Seminole Community College. He played at Bluefield State College in West Virginia. And he obtained a bachelor's degree in education.

Eventually, he came back to help the community where he grew up. McCray's been at Goldsboro the last three years.

He's also youth minister at Zion Missionary Baptist Church, where in three weeks he will be ordained and become the youth pastor. McCray's ordination was something he says he felt building each year of his adult life. "I had a higher calling," he said.

"When I was playing basketball, I thought I was going to make it to the National Basketball League," McCray said. "I felt this when I was finishing up at Seminole High School and at Seminole Community College. I'd go on to a big college and then it would happen. But I had a knee injury that put this off."

When he sees the salaries of Michael Jordan and other NBA stars, McCray concentrates on his "higher calling," on preaching the gospel and being ordained.

"I'm in control," he said. "I want to be a positive, male, role model for this community. I want to encourage the kids at school, to help them get ready for middle school and high school and tell them they can and will go to college."

McCray coaches the 6th and 7th grade basketball teams at Sanford Middle School and would like one day to coach at the high school. He and Jackie McCray have three children - Jeremy (13), RYANNE (11) and Ashley (10). Ashley goes to Goldsboro Elementary.

"I feel I have a lot to give back to the community," McCray said. "I understand the community and I can relate to it. I've been there. And I have a lot of compassion for these kids. I care about them and want to help them."

McCray is one of five men on the Goldsboro campus, where the majority of teachers are women. The principal and assistant principal are men and two other men teach. "Many of these kids have no male or father figure. They come from homes run by their mothers. These are the kids who get in trouble, too. Kids with no fathers around."

This Gentle Giant - soon to be the Rev. Bruce McCray - grew up in such a home.

reason Hope did not win was because she is black. I have not advanced here in Sanford to the point of being able to reward fairly; be it Black, White, Hispanic, etc. What are we saying to our children...you can't win even if you do your best when you are black??? Everyone in the auditorium knew that Hope Walton was robbed of the title Miss Lake Mary.

I used to justify no black had ever won the Miss Lake Mary High title because they just weren't qualified. They never measured up to the other girls. Well, I can't say that any more. Hope disproved that last Saturday.

"Hope, you touched me and your parents and the school should be proud of you. Please don't let the racist actions of those judges discourage you."

Friends of youth

Keep up the good work Sanford Herald! The Sanford Optimist Club, whose motto is

"Friend Of Youth", commends the Sanford Herald for the many pictures and articles honoring local young people in our community. This positive reinforcement of our youth gives an extra incentive to those who are striving to "do the right thing". These articles help encourage a child to stay on the road to success and really count in the recipe of child/family/faith/teacher/community as a support system. We have received letters from various award winners telling us how a hand up helped change their lives. We see so many great things that young people accomplish in numbers they certainly overshadow the few negatives.

The Sanford Herald fills a very special need not only for this kind of article but for showing yourself as a responsible member of this community in many ways. Our contact with Lacy, Russ, Tommy and Jeff has been a relationship of joy. You never know whose life you may be helping to make successful-keep up the good work!

denial," said Sanford Mayor Larry Dale. Dale, whose business is development, is familiar with OCR reports said the report was "typical" and "rather short."

"I don't think we provided all the information they needed," said Dale.

Hattaway said the report was amazingly positive and felt the objections were raised due to "scanty information."

City Planner Jay Marder said the OCR report contained standard language and it would be up to the applicant to respond with the information needed to clarify the objections and comments. "They (DCA) pretty much lay out what needs to be provided," said Marder.

The homeowners are claiming a victory. Kaywood resident Neil Snow, who has fought the land use change amendment from the beginning said, "We are absolutely delighted that this much of a road block has been thrown in the way." Snow is among the contingent of homeowners who have fought for nothing more than single family dwellings to be built on the property.

Another contingent conceded to the multi-family use with a restriction on density. Dean Shoemaker, who traveled to Tallahassee, with neighbor, Keith Ivey, and Bob Wiley of the Hills of Lake Mary, said "DCA found exactly what we have been objecting to since day one."

The report raised concerns about the impact on the 100-year floodplain, water bodies, wetlands and wellfield protection. The St. Johns River Water Management District recommended that the proposed resource protection area be expanded to include all of the areas in the 100-year floodplain on the subject property and the wetlands associated with the Twin Lakes.

Shoemaker said, "There's no way for (the developer) to eliminate the floodplain, there's no way for them to eliminate the low density (in Kaywood and Hills of Lake Mary)."

Lake Mary Mayor David Meador said Thursday that he knew the report had come down from Tallahassee, but he had not seen the document. City Commissioner Thom Greene, who negotiated on behalf of the Hills of Lake Mary homeowners, and homeowners association president Cecil Thompson had seen the document but would not comment on the findings.

Thompson did make a statement: "If the current project is turned down, and a new development is proposed, we will have the same concerns as we did before."

The city has 60 days to make a decision on adopting the amendment. If they adopt with changes, they have another 10 days to submit a response to the OCR report.

Excited to tell the 400 or so business and government leaders from all county cities at the luncheon about the hotel and conference center, Dale predicted other Sanford businesses would benefit and many visitors would be coming to the city. Dale estimated the cost would be $40 million.

Developer Joseph Pacitti said that the project would be more like $70 or $75 million. "We can do it, and we can do it in two years," Pacitti said. "I'd love to have it done by the year 2000."

Pacitti has been planning the Sanford project for the past six months at his own cost. And he's been working with DoubleTree Hotels, which has a dozen hotel-conference centers in the U.S. Pacitti's company has done five projects with DoubleTree.

"This is not just a pipe dream," said Chris Pfobl, vice president of New Business for Promus/DoubleTree Hotels Corporation. "We're pretty committed to this spot. We don't throw our name around."

Pfobl said that the Sanford plan was most promising. "We're definitely looking at 300 rooms for the hotel and a 12-story building. It could be two or three stories higher."

Pacitti, the president of PRA Development & Management Corporation, is ready to build as soon as the city and county leaders give him the go-ahead.

"We want it pretty bad," said County Commissioner Win Adams. "We want it and need it."

Adams said that nothing like the hotel and conference center had been addressed by the commission. "This would be new territory," he said. "It is obviously going to take a public/private partnership. We've done this before. It's important to move on. Sanford has this thing going. And that's exciting."

Morris said the entire afternoon had been a "positive" one for the county. "Sanford's announcement was very positive. The future of the county hinges on dreams and plans like this one."

Dale said the next step is that a task force from Sanford will travel to Roanoke, Va., to see a conference center and hotel developed by Pacitti.

political campaign ignored and put on track by the citizens who will insist that issues be addressed. It is important that those running for public office take heed on this one, for doing otherwise could affect the outcome of elections and turn voters off before many issues are presented. Revamping within county government that should be looked at very closely before proceeding. This is not the time.

The national scene

Washington D.C....It is the mirror of our society. There is nothing to celebrate. There is no reason to be jubilant in all that has happened...because the decay is wide spread. Our hope for the future is in our children and the lessons we need to teach, not the lessons we have taught.

This is the MOMENT in Washington, in the nation. This is the time for change. It is the time for all of us to step back and look at what we have become. All of us are guilty! What are we going to do! It is clear that we must take an active role in presenting our discontent with business as usual in Washington. To accept our responsibility for being a part of it because we have stood by for many years without expressing clearly that changes must be made regarding the conduct of our leaders and their disregard for the citizens of this nation. Washington is not a country, it is our Capitol. If we are to renew America, or better yet the United States of America, we need to start in Washington.

Wall makes a crash landing at airport

It is business as usual this weekend at Orlando Sanford Airport after a wall collapsed early Wednesday at the international charter terminal. A 25-foot square hole was left after part of the exterior wall of the terminal collapsed during a deliberate demolition of a concrete smoking deck. The concrete slab was let down too quickly, causing an air pocket that blew out the light wall. The work was part of a $3.5 million expansion of the terminal. Airport director Steve Cooke said that a temporary wall is up today and that there were no problems. "No passengers were injured," Cooke said. "A woman who works for United SafeGuard twisted an ankle when she was trying to avoid the wall."

Chief Deputy Steve Harriett of the Seminole County Sheriff's Office reported that there are three registered sexual predators currently in residence within the county. There are 655 sexual offenders within the county and a total of 8,710 offenders in the state.

Being classified as an offender means that citizens can inquire with their local law enforcement agency whether a certain individual has been convicted of a sexual offense.

A sexual predator has been classified because of a more serious offense like threatening with force or violence or committing a sex act upon a person physically handicapped. A person must be adjudicated before being labeled as a sexual predator. "We must proactively release information to citizens or businesses if there is a sexual predator in the area," said Harriett. One method used by law enforcement agencies is walking door to door in a neighborhood where a predator lives.

The three predators living in Seminole County are: Mark Anthony Lopez, 36, of 439 East Church Street, Longwood; James Wayne Thomas, 37, of 945 State Rd. 419, Chuluota; and Christopher Wayne Daubert, 19, of 310 Holly Avenue, Sanford.

Information is accessible about these and other predators on the FDLE website: <http://www.fdle.state.fl.us>.

The way we were: Bit of this and that I have some items that haven't been published for various reasons so will correct that today. The Wednesday Club information was taken from the Sanford Herald published in 1910 and the news from 1922 was from my mother's scrapbook.

The Wednesday Club

The Wednesday Club was the women's literary organization of Sanford which held weekly sessions from November through May. Their object was the mutual improvement of its members in literature, art, science, history and the vital interests of the day.

During the previous year, they had studied Florida, California and the District of Columbia. They sought to gather information not commonly taught in the Schools.

The group planned to devote 1910-11 to the study of the state of Florida; included would be writers native to the state. One meeting during each month would be devoted to current topics.

The club had recently revised its constitution. The main changes related to membership which was divided into three classes. There was such a demand for admission, that the limit for active members was raised from 30 to 40. There was added a non-resident membership composed of former members who had moved away and also an associate membership for those desiring benefits of the meetings without entering into the real work.

Officers for that year were Mrs. George L. Maris, president; Mrs. William M. Dickens, vice-president; Mrs. S.O. Chase, secretary; Mrs. A.D. Key, treasurer. The program committee consisted of Mrs. A.D. Key, chairman; Mrs. C.E. Walker; Mrs. William M. Dickens and Mrs. C.R. Walker.

Many of you know that this Wednesday Club later evolved into the Sanford Woman's Club. Mrs. J.N. Whitner, a charter member of the Wednesday Club which had been organized in the early 1890's, wrote a marvelous history of early Sanford in 1910 as a program assignment. You will have noticed that the club studied Florida in 1910. Her history, "A Tale of a Mosquito" has been printed in the past by both the Sanford Woman's Club and the School Board of Seminole County. The Sanford Historical Society has secured permission to reprint it and will do so this year as a part of their Historic Sanford Series.

A junior freshman entertainment

The junior class of Sanford High School assisted by the freshman class presented what was called one of the best entertainments of the 1922 season. They put on a play and vaudeville sketches with pleasing choruses and songs. The play was entitled "A Proposal Under Difficulties" and the cast members were Victor

GRACE M. STINE-CIPHER

McLaulin, Byron Stephens, Mae Holly and Gladys Wilson.

Lillie Ruth Spencer favored the audience with several vocal selections and she was encored each time. Several interesting readings were given by Rhoda Williams.

An Egyptian scene was hilarious. The Sheik (Joe Corley) and his dancing girls (Pierce Griffin and Sam Fleisher) put on quite a show. At one time, the dancing girls cavorted through the audience, kissing the bald headed men.

Various choral groups entertained with popular songs. "Lucky Home" was led by Rhoda Vaughn and Velma Shippe and included Georgia Mobley, Geraldine Kent, Demarius Musson, Elizabeth Flowers, Margaret Cox, Gladys Wilson, Mae Holly and Josephine Knight.

Lillie Ruth Spencer led the following group in singing "Mammy": Ollie Vera Glisson, Alice Bolley, Marie Stemper, Alice Runyon, Doris More, George Cowan, Victor McLaulin, Byron Stephens, Warner Scroggins and W.A. Adams.

"I Like It" was led by Mae Holly and Gladys Wilson. Others in the chorus were Georgia Mobley, Geraldine Kent, Demarius Musson, Elizabeth Flowers, Margaret Cox, Rhoda Vaughn, Velma Shippe and Josephine Knight.

The music was furnished by James Schaal at the piano and James Robson on drums and traps.

History class debate

Prompted by their recent study of 1850 conditions in England which included the new inventions and contrast between employers and employees, the junior/sophomore history class waged a successful debate. The proposition was "Resolved: That it is best for a financier to know his employee."

Two debates were held, one in each class. In the B section, the contestants were Affirmative-Charlotte Smith, Patty Lyles and Byron Stephens. Negative-Demarius Musson, Marie Stemper, and F. Rines. After a hot debate, the judges (Ida Grey, Ruby Hard, and Curtis Barber) decided for the negative.

In the afternoon A section, the contestants were Affirmative-Margaret Berner, Iris Britt, and Troy Ray; Negative-Mae Holly, Geraldine Kent and George Cowan. The judges decided in favor of the affirmative.

A real guiding light

The 'tail' of a dog, and her owner, inspires local writer

By DEE BROPHY
Special to the Herald

LAKE MARY It's the kind of devotion you just don't see in a female's eyes anymore. Her eyes follow Denny's every move with love, no, adoration. In those huge brown eyes, her black hair shines with health and vitality, and her tail thumps on the carpet. Excuse me? Tail? Thump? Are you saying that the main woman in Denny Hall's life is a DOG? Well, yes!

We're not talking any dog here, either. We are talking about a dog who is able to respond to over 80 commands, learned at both verbal and hand signals, with Marine Corps precision. We are also talking about a dog who provides the eyes for a man with retinitis pigmentosa, a frequently hereditary disease, which has so far robbed him of 98 percent of his sight. His world is one of pinpoint vision, only, and this marvelous creature is Denny's lifeline and a window to the world.

I first became aware of Denny, and his companion, Windsor, when out running my six-mile loop in Lake Mary and I saw this striking man, with a "Mr. Clean" haircut, sporting a diamond stud earring in one ear, wearing aviator sunglasses, and walking a gorgeous black Labrador. As I drew closer, I could see the dog was in a working harness. Committing the faux pas which is common to a great many fully-sighted people, I shouted, "Good Morning!" (After all, lack of sight, does not indicate hearing impairment.) The man not only was good natured, he bordered on being jolly, and boomed back, "Good morning." Weeks passed and our thrice-weekly greeting, in a somewhat more subdued tone, was the contact we maintained. I was fascinated, too, by the sign on the dog's harness. "Do not pet me. I am a working Southeastern Guide Dog." I was itching to ask him about himself and the dog, but I hesitated. Finally, my curiosity could no longer be contained, and I just wanted to know more about this pair. I stopped one morning and told him that I was a freelance writer and that I just saw "Human Interest Story" written all over the two of them. Not only did Denny agree to an interview, he did so enthusiastically, and that Saturday, I was at his apartment, my photographer husband in tow.

What amazed me the most was that Denny's focus was not egocentric, especially given the many circumstances of his life. Here was a man who had barely known his biological father, was taken in and raised by a sister and brother-in-law, quit high school and enlisted in the Marines. He survived the horror years in Vietnam, in 1968 and 1969, stationed in the Demilitarized Zone. He then came back to live in Dade County, and found an outlet in chemical dependency before relocating to Central Florida. Now a recovering alcoholic, Denny was sitting in his apartment, calmly recounting his life circumstances, his steel blue nearly-sightless eyes peering ahead of him. He really wasn't interested in talking about himself. The story he wanted to tell was that of his dog so that more people could be made aware of the organization that had provided the dog to him.

This amazing dog, was provided to Denny, free of charge, by an organization known as Southeastern Guide Dogs, Inc. This is an organization which receives absolutely no funds whatsoever from the government, and relies solely on the generosity of individuals. The fact that the raising and training of these dogs carries a price tag $10,000 each, gives weight to the generosity necessary to give this "gift of mobility" to individuals. These dogs are first raised by volunteer puppy raisers, go through rigorous training, then are matched with a sightless person and go through a 26-day training period with them. There is also follow-up after the dogs are placed in the homes.

Denny has a special affinity for dogs and had trained dogs in the past before his sight began failing, when he was thirty. He believes that the consistency of the Marine-style training, post South-eastern graduation, has been enhanced by Windsor's high intelligence, and desire to please.

The gratitude in this man was unparalleled in most individuals I have met in my life. His goal is to raise enough money, through pledges at the yearly walk-a-thon, to pay back the $10,000 price tag for his dog, even though repayment in no way is ever asked of the recipients of these dogs. The gratitude does not stop there, either. He has recently been nominated, along with other outstanding volunteers from the community, for the Jefferson Award. Denny volunteers at the Coalition for the Homeless, the Meridian Nursing Home, and through the Seminole County School System in the Dividends Program. His desire is to bring the message to as many people as he can, and he helps build self esteem in others and gives inspiration, simply by his presence. One of the most moving experiences he recounted was when he was at the Coalition for the Homeless and had made a presentation about the guide dogs. One little boy came up to him and told him, "When I get a house, then I'm going to raise one of those dogs." Denny relates that it was a very humbling experience. Here was a child with virtually nothing, who had been given a dream and a goal to do better not only for himself, but to help others in the process.

One does not hear Denny complain about much of anything. He does have some pet peeves, such as sprinklers running across sidewalks, which leaves him in a dilemma at times. Windsor will exhibit "intelligent disobedience" and refuse to take her sight-impaired companion out into the street, where his life would be put in danger. Denny is also disappointed in the lack of courteousness when cars are parked blocking crosswalks. Denny relates one instance where Windsor refused to move when a car came across the stop line. She wasn't going to allow potential harm to come to Denny and blocked the car from proceeding forward. The shame faced motorist was forced to back up and let Denny and Windsor pass.

I found my fingers itching to pet Windsor from the moment I laid eyes on her, but resist, I did. Denny explains the "no petting" rule very simply. "This is a working dog. If she comes to expect petting from every human she meets, she will quit doing her job, and put me in danger." I felt a little sad when Denny told me this, and he must have anticipated the response. "Come on. I'll show you that I let her be just a dog."

Denny feels his way to the door, the chairs lined up precisely, pointing the way to the door, past the Marine memorabilia and a

Hall is not 'mentally blind'

By SHARI BRODIE

LAKE MARY • God gave him a knack with dogs, says Denny Hall.

He understands that as a working dog, Windsor needs some time to play. He has trained her to respond to hand signals and verbal commands, beyond the training that she received at Southeastern Guide Dogs. They play three times a day. "She's the pinnacle of guide dogs."

Hall likes to train dogs, but he qualifies that statement: "You can only take a dog so far. As a matter of fact, I don't train dogs. I train people."

The largest percentage of guide dog users have some sight. Hall, who has pinpoint vision, doesn't lament his condition, but says without Windsor he'd be lost. He'll do anything he can for the school located in Palmetto, Fla. "That school is very important

Let a local celebrity bag your groceries and help fight cancer

From Staff Reports

Orange County Sheriff Kevin Beary will serve as the American Cancer Society's first "Honorary Chairman" for the annual fundraising event, Winn-Dixie Celebrity Baggers Day, scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 5 from 4 to 8 p.m. The event has historically raised more than $70,000 a year to help the American Cancer Society fund research toward a cure for all cancers.

This is the ninth year the event has been held. In all, more than 700 volunteer celebrity baggers in twelve Central Florida counties will participate. Central Florida newscasters, sports figures, business executives, law enforcement and elected officials volunteer two hours of their time on Celebrity Baggers Day to bag everyday customer's groceries at their local Winn-Dixie store. Winn-Dixie donates 5 percent of total sales during that time to the American Cancer Society.

"Celebrity Baggers Day is a great opportunity for people of the community to come out and put their local newscasters, politicians and other VIP's to a different kind of work," said Sheriff Beary. "An even better reason to participate is that Winn-Dixie always makes a great donation to the American Cancer Society."

"Each year this event gets better and better, because it not only raises more money for the American Cancer Society, but it becomes more fun for the celebrity baggers," said American Cancer Society Communications Director, Jim Murphy. "Some celebrities come back year after year because they not only have fun, but they understand that the proceeds go towards a good cause, and with Sheriff Beary serving as our honorary chairman this year we truly expect to have our best year ever."

Winn-Dixie Stores in Brevard, Citrus, Flagler, Indian River, Lake, Marion, Orange, Osceola, St. Lucie, Seminole, Sumter and Volusia are participating. For more information, please contact Jim Murphy of the American Cancer Society at (407) 425-5011.

The $3,300 will be used by the club to purchase two dogs, to be trained for Canine Companions for Independence and Southeastern Guide Dogs. Lincoln will be trained to assist a sight-impaired person and Mercury will serve a physically challenged person. "We are very excited and proud to be able to purchase and partially train these dogs who make life a little more independent for the people who will eventually make them part of their lives," said Annie Theisen, club spokesperson.

On March 7, the school will hold its 12th annual walkathon, to raise funds for training of puppies. Hall will walk the 10 kilometers with the help of Windsor. He has collected donations in conjunction with the walkathon, enough to pay for his current dog and he's working on his next dog. A guide dog has an 8 to 10 year work life, then they are retired. Hall doesn't have to raise the money, dogs are provided free of charge to qualified recipients.

The training is expensive but it's a lifesaver for people like Denny Hall. Hall hopes that as he collects donations for the upcoming fund-raiser, people will not be short-sighted. "The only thing worse than being physically blind," says Hall, "is being mentally blind."

POW-MIA flag displayed prominently on the breakfast bar in the kitchen area. There is a command and Windsor gleefully picks up the Frisbee in her mouth, tail wagging the dog, and we walk outside and she trots to the end of the walkway overlooking the lake. There, she waits until Denny slowly approaches the area where the cement abuts the grass. She sits and allow him to get his footing and watches him carefully as he walks slowly down the slope. Frisbee, with the Frisbee clamped securely in her smiling mouth.

The hand signal is almost invisible, then 63 pounds of pure joy rush to rejoin her master and wait for the game to begin. It would be like watching any person play with any dog, but it's not. This is a legally blind person and this is an ordinary dog. I feel tears welling in my eyes. This dog will serve for perhaps another six years, and then she will retire to another home to be loved and pampered the rest of her life, having retired from such an esteemed profession. Denny has told me that after years of service, he would not hurt her by bringing in another dog to "work" in front of her, because the respect is just too great.

The game is ended. Man and dog walk up the slope to come back inside the apartment, get a cool drink, and begin once again the activities of daily living. But perhaps the real game is just beginning, because each and every day is precious to both of them. Windsor lives to give service and loves to work, and through her devotion, Denny is also able to reach out to others. The message is powerful, and I leave the encounter a little awed with much better vision than when I first met Denny and Windsor.

Lake Howell-Oviedo boys rematch lives up to hype

WINTER PARK - For once, a game lived up to all of the hype.

Usually these types of things turn out to be duds. For the past three weeks, fans of Oviedo and Lake Howell boys basketball have been waiting for a rematch of their classic battle three weeks ago at Oviedo. The Lions won that one in the final seconds on a Brad Combes jumper and neither school has stopped thinking about it since.

Earlier this week, Lake Howell coach Steve Kohn admitted that the rematch was on the minds of every student and faculty member at the school and Oviedo was pumped as well.

The Lake Howell gym was packed. It went down to the wire. The home team won. The fans stormed the court. The heroes were carried away as the losers stood and watched, knowing that a rematch was coming up in the districts in two weeks.

It was everything a high school basketball game, one of the most pure things in American sports, is supposed to be.

It was about Oviedo's Brian Register playing in pain so as not to miss the game of the year. He strained his back but still was a vital part of Oviedo's valiant effort.

It was fans sitting on the floor, ringing the entire gymnasium, because there were simply no seats left with about a half hour until tip-off.

It was Scott Moore, yet another of Oviedo's unsung heroes, returning from an injury to lead Oviedo with 27 points and the first 10 of the game.

It was both sides of the gym shouting out the "Hey" part in that stupid "Duh-Duh-Duuuhh-Duh, Hey!" song.

It was bodies rolling around on the floor wrestling for every loose ball as if the season depended on it even though, for all intents and purposes, it was nothing more than a meaningless rivalry for neighborhood bragging rights.

It was Lake Howell's Brad LaCore diving into the stands to knock a loose ball back into play. A perfect no-look to Reggie Kohn led to a three-pointer.

It was an appreciation of basketball in football country.

It was the "creative" Lake Howell response to the Oh-Vee-Doh chant.

It was knowing, despite a 12-point Lake Howell lead in the third quarter, that the game was never over.

It was the excitement that abounded at both schools all week.

It was about the Tylenol that every coach and player must have needed after the game from all the crowd noise and Lake Howell band music. It was loud.

It was the excitement of knowing there's a good chance the two teams will be meeting again at Lake Mary High in two weeks for the district finals and the right to home court advantage.

It was Reggie Kohn proving to be a leader unparalleled in the conference, willing his team to victory and the first Silver Hawks' win over Oviedo since Kohn joined the team three years ago. He'll be back next year.

It was the crowd that charged the floor, mostly overpowering a small group of Lake Howell teachers that tried to hold back the tide of students as they carried some of their players off the court.

It was Lake Howell's Ricki Williams, with a smile the size of the basket, being carried away with his index finger in the air.

It was also the Oviedo players watching the spectacle and listening to the taunts of the Lake Howell fans. They'll remember that in two weeks.

It was high school basketball and it was almost perfect.

Last Second Shot: It's easy to understand why officials have to blow the whistle to prevent things from getting too out of control, but why is it that every time an offensive player has the ball and the defender puts a fingernail on it, a jump ball is called?

Let them play. If the players are wrestling on the floor, blow the whistle, but it's becoming a case of the refs taking over the game.

Tribe girls take advantage of Mainland to advance to 5A-District 5 finals

By KELLIE WERNER

DAYTONA BEACH - Mainland didn't shoot well.

Mainland passed sloppily. Seminole capitalized.

Last night, Seminole traveled to Mainland for the semi-finals of the District 5A-Class 5. They had already secured a bye and by the way they played defense, they should have just gone straight to the finals.

Mainland is a very good team that was simply over-powered by the Lady 'Noles. Seminole's shooting hurt them a little last night, but the defense more than made up for it.

"Our shooting was a little off tonight," said

Howell claims rematch

By JEFF BERLINICKE
Herald Staff Writer

OVIDEO - Seven times Reggie Kohn had taken the court against arch-rival Oviedo and seven times he had walked off in defeat.

As the only junior starter on a senior-laden lineup, Kohn has been the leader of the Silver Hawks all season long but never knew the taste of victory until last night when Lake Howell finally knocked off Oviedo, 67-62, in front of a packed house at Lake Howell.

The game was a rematch of the classic the two top-10 state-ranked teams waged at Oviedo three weeks ago. The Lions won that one at the buzzer to set the stage for last night's rematch.

The game lived up to its billing, but first, Lake Howell had to get past the mental block of seven straight losses to Oviedo.

"I thought about that a lot today," Lake Howell coach Steve Kohn said. "We knew the first game could have gone either way but I'm not sure if there was a mental block."

The fans at Lake Howell knew all about the history between the two teams. The building was packed and loud until the end.

"I still can't hear," Kohn said after the game.

It was loud from the start. After Scott Moore hit a three-pointer to open the game, Lake Howell guard Reggie Kohn came back and from there, the score went back and forth throughout the early part of the game before Lake Howell started to pull away.

Oviedo's Moore decided it was his turn to be the hero. Every night, there's a different hero for the Lions but Moore stepped up last night and scored the Lions first 10 points on his way to 27 for the night.

The Silver Hawks took the lead at 20-18 when Ricki Williams nailed a three-pointer followed by a flat in the air at the Lake Howell crowd. Lake Howell extended its lead to 32-26 at the half, capped off by a

Kellgren 'saves' shutout for Rams

By TONY DESORMIER
Herald correspondent

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS - If they gave ESPY's for high school sports, then Lake Mary High School goalkeeper Jordan Kellgren would be an early favorite to win one.

In the closing seconds of Friday night's girls' soccer match at Lake Brantley's Tom Storey Field, Lake Brantley striker Ginger Sellick ripped a shot that appeared headed for the upper left-hand corner.

But Kellgren made a lunging, twisting save on the shot, contorting herself to get every possible inch out of her frame in order to punch the shot away at the last moment to preserve the shutout in Lake Mary's 2-0 win.

"That was one of the best saves I've seen in my career," said Lake Brantley coach John Schaefer. "I thought that it was a great shot by Ginger. It took an even better save to keep it out."

Lake Mary coach Bill Etasle said he was inclined to agree.

"That was a big-time save," said Etasle. "I wasn't sure she would be able to get to it."

Even the officials were impressed, commenting to Etasle as they left the field that it was the best save any of them had seen this season.

The save punctuated Kellgren's 10th shutout of the season as the Rams, who were ranked No. 3 in the last Florida Sports Writers Association/Florida Athletic Coaches Association's Class 6A state poll, improved to 16-1-1. Lake Mary is 4-0-1 in 6A-District 3 play and 7-0-1 in the Seminole Athletic Conference.

Lake Brantley drops to 10-6, 1-3 in the district, and 2-4 in the SAC. Kellgren's save overshadowed another fairly impressive play by Christina Cooley that resulted in the first goal of the game.

On a ball played into the Lake Brantley goal mouth, Cooley flicked the ball into the air, then turned and headed the ball to the far post for a Ram goal at 9:58.

Lake Mary's second goal came at 53:36. The play started with a corner kick taken by Allison Weber. Lorissa Bazile flicked the ball her head toward the Patriot goal before Ryan Shaw nodded it home.

AF VI edges Patriots; Another first for Bears

From Staff Reports

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS - The Seminole High School boys' basketball team continued its hot play Friday night, overcoming a slow start with a last minute tip-in to edge Lake Brantley, 48-45, in a Seminole Athletic Conference contest.

The win was the 19th on the season against seven losses for Arrow Force VI, which will play a very important district game against Deltona tonight.

Not only could it be the 20th win of the year, it would also give Seminole the No. 3 seed and a first-round matchup with the No. 6 seeded team in the Class 5A-District 5 Tournament that will be hosted by Arrow Force VI.

Seminole coach Sylvester Wynn. "That was probably because of nerves. Either that or because we had a whole week off and we might have been a little rusty."

"At half time I told the girls that the defense was going to win the game for us and that's exactly what happened."

The Buccaneers gave Seminole a good first half, only trailing by three at the end of the first quarter. The 10-7 score really told only half of the story as Mainland was unable to hold onto the ball for any length of time before a Seminole defender found a way to rip it out of its hands.

Seminole began total domination in the second period, outscoring the Buccaneers, 18-10. Although Shameika Stokes didn't put a lot of points on the board, she once again proved why she is a leader of the team by leading the offense with inspiration and rebounding that would make Dennis Rodman stop and take a look.

At the half, the score was 28-17, Seminole and the Lady Noles appeared to be on their way to the district championship game.

Mainland refused to go down without a fight and postponed Seminole's hopes for a rematch with Pine Ridge, a district foe who defeated the Lady Noles twice during the regular season with a combined score of six.

Mainland continued to press away at the Lady Noles, who managed to miss shots but rebound and defend like pros. Seminole only had a 41-30 lead at the end of the third quarter and the Buccaneers were still fighting.

Mainland cut the lead to seven with three minutes left and the crowd came to life. Throughout the evening, the stands were pretty quiet, but when it looked as if Mainland had a chance, everyone was on their feet.

Seminole's defense was just too much for the Buccaneers, and the Lady Noles pulled out the win, 62-52.

"This was a pretty emotional win for us and we're really glad that we get to play Pine Ridge in the finals," Seminole player Felicia Henderson said. "If we continue to play good defense, keep our heads in the game and remain focus, we're ready for them. We really need a win on Tuesday and we're going to continue working for it."

The final game will be played at Mainland on Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. Pine Ridge will come in pretty confident, after two wins against the Lady Noles, but more than the district championship is on the line. Seminole will also be playing for pride and a chance to play the first round of the regional tournament at home next weekend.

Elsie was pleased with the intense yet controlled game turned to by his squad.

"With the way our schedule is set up, we know we're going to have one hard game right after another hard game for the rest of the season," he said. "We've been in enough matches where the girls are disciplined enough to know how to prepare for important matches."

"Even though this game doesn't count for district seedings, Lake Brantley is an excellent side. Every time we play them, we know we're in for a challenging match."

The Patriots showed why they are deserving of such respect as they battled fiercely until the final whistle, creating several solid scoring opportunities over the final 25 minutes.

In the 58th minute, Jenna Ayzar and Janey Hallberg worked a nice give-and-go. Aymar playing a through ball to Hallberg, who chipped a shot just wide of the net. About 10 minutes later, Sellick cracked a free kick that Kellgren corralled.

"We've been in every single one of our last six games, but we're having trouble wrapping up a win," said Schaefer. "We're still playing hard until the final minute."

"Maybe we can look forward to peaking at the right time, in the district tournament. We still have six games left in the regular season. There's still time for us to turn the corner."

Lake Mary has two games scheduled for this week, hosting Deland in a district game on Wednesday and traveling to Orange Park next Saturday. Lake Brantley, which is scheduled to play Apopka tonight, will host Lyman on Wednesday and travel to Winter Park next Saturday.

Lake Brantley won the junior varsity contest, 3-0.

There was a full house at Lake Howell High School Friday night as the No. 10 state-ranked Silver Hawks upset No. 4 state-ranked Oviedo, 67-62, to even the season series at one win apiece and sets up a possible rubber game in the Class 6A-District 3 Tournament at Lake Mary High in two weeks.

Up-in by Ryan Smith.

Lake Howell made it 42-30 on a Reggie Kohn layup before Oviedo mounted its comeback. The Lions ran off eight straight points and tied it near the end of the third quarter on a short jumper from Danny Lobo, but Lake Howell countered with a three-pointer from Robert Jordan at the buzzer.

It was back and forth again in the fourth as the teams continued to change leads. Oviedo went up, 57-56 on a Moore jumper but Lake Howell came right back as Brad LeCore scored inside for the Silver Hawks.

With 1:44 in regulation,

Moore popped one from three-point land to tie it at 60, but Kohn came back with a layup and drew a foul. After he hit, it was Lake Howell, 63-60. Brian Register, playing with a strained back, countered with a jumper to bring it to a one-point game with 0:32 seconds remaining but Lake Howell put it away, wrapping it up with a pair of free throws from Jordan.

"It give us a real boost since now we know we can beat them," Reggie Kohn said. "After we got up by 12 we knew they would come back and our defense did it for us."

For Oviedo, the game really meant nothing since the Lions have already clinched the district top seed, but it was still for pride and a shot at the Seminole Athletic Conference title.

With the loss (and a Seminole win at Lake Brantley) there is a three-way tie for the SAC lead and Seminole plays both Oviedo and Lake Howell this week.

"To be where we are, I'm proud of our team," Oviedo coach Ed Kerahner said. "I'm proud of our efforts and I like this team as much as any I've ever coached."

For Lake Howell, it was much more important. First, it showed them that the Lions, who they will probably face again in the district finals, are beatable. It also gives them, as well as Oviedo, a bye in the first round of the district tournament at Lake Mary, as it clinches second place in Class 6A-District 3.

The Silver Hawks finish the regular season with road games at Winter Park (Tuesday), at Winter Springs (Wednesday) and at Seminole (Friday).

The Lions will conclude the regular campaign with home games with Seminole on Wednesday and Central Florida Christian Academy from Ocoee on Friday.

New football coach prepares to take Rams by the horns

By JEFF BERLINICKE
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY - When the Lake Mary football team gets together for the first time under new coach Greg Stanton, they might be a bit surprised by their first drill.

Stanton plans to let them practice celebrating drills for the first 10 minutes of practice.

That will be a welcome change from last season when the Rams had little opportunity to celebrate as they plodded to an 0-9 season. The losses cost coach Doug Peters his job and paved the way to bring in Stanton, a former junior college Coach of the Year.

Stanton was in town Monday and is planning to move into the area early next week after accepting the job. He is experienced on the high school level, having served as head coaches at Ed White and Terry Parker High Schools in Jacksonville, and as coach at Missouri Valley College. He also served at Trinity Valley College which won the national championship in 1994.

Stanton was born and raised in Florida but has spent the past seven years away. He is looking forward to the challenge of getting Lake Mary back into Central Florida prominence.

"I want to establish a program that the whole community can get behind," Stanton said. "There's no pressure to win immediately because the only pressure I feel is what I put on myself."

Stanton said he plans to run a multiple pro-style offense and that he feels he can relate to the players even after coaching college kids for the last seven years.

"I'm a players coach," Stanton said. "I got into coaching so that I can instill what my coaches gave to me and I think I have learned a good sense of knowing what buttons to push."

"I believe very strongly in discipline. It's not about saying 'yes sir,' or 'no sir.' It's about respect."

Stanton played for one of the best, Erik Russell, the longtime coach at Georgia Southern. He was a center for some of Russell's famous Division I-AA teams, at least during practice.

As for the games, when Stanton took the field, he wore jersey number 106.

But, despite his position on the depth chart, he learned under a coaching legend and took away three important lessons that he will bring to Lake Mary.

"I will put my best athlete at quarterback," he said. "We have to learn how to stop people, control the ball with our running game and kick for field position. That's how I expect them to play. The key is to set attainable goals that will ensure success. All I can ask of them is loyalty, dedication and hard work."

The team will get together for the first time under Stanton next Monday.

Bears taking lumps this year, but the future is bright

By JEFF BERLINICKE

Corey Williams is one of the most versatile players in Seminole County and has played both guard and both forward positions for Winter Springs this season.

WINTER SPRINGS — They have three wins and 18 losses.

Somehow, for the Winter Springs boys' basketball team, that translates into a winning season.

The Bears are the new kids on the block in the Seminole Athletic Conference and they've taken some lumps. As the newest school in Seminole County, Winter Springs has been trying to field a team comprised of freshmen and sophomores in a season in which SAC schools make up one of the best conferences in the state.

Jim Hogan was hired to coach the Bears through the early years and said he knew what he was getting into ahead of time. Principal Wayne Epps laid down the law early during the interview process. Instead of starting off with a year of junior varsity, the Bears would have to step right up with the big boys.

Some of those big boys included three teams who have enjoyed a state top-10 ranking this season — Lake Howell, Oviedo and Lake Brantley. Hogan didn't realize what his team was getting into, but the Bears have hung in.

"Honestly, team for team, the SAC is stronger than I could have ever anticipated," Hogan said. "I didn't realize it was this loaded. We wanted to compete in the first year, but I asked most of the coaches in the conference and they all said it was unusual to be so strong."

Despite the disadvantages, the Bears have fielded a competitive team. They lost to Lake Howell after hanging tight for most of the game and were tied at the half with Oviedo before giving up an 18-0 run to start the second half.

Winston James, Winter Springs' leading scorer, is third in the county in scoring and sniper Brian Baker is shooting three-pointers at a 45 percent rate.

The Bears met for the first day of practice having arrived from schools from all over Seminole County. James and Baker came from Lake Howell where they played junior varsity ball last season. With the glut of talent on the Silver Hawks, Baker said he was excited about the chance of coming to Winter Springs.

"Coach Hogan was willing to give me a chance," Baker said.

With the young talent and the knowledge that playing in the county should never be as tough as it was this season, the young Bears have some ideas about the future. They're taking their beatings, knowing that there will be a time for payback when the playing court is even.

"I know that, when we're all seniors, we'll go to the state tournament," James said.

Despite the record, there's reason for that attitude. Winter Springs has not yet accepted losing.

"We'll never get used to losing," Hogan said. "We have had some frustrating moments but we're out there competing every night. We should be one of the top teams in the county in two years."

"I get frustrated sometimes, when I see we had a chance to win," James added. "We're still playing hard every night and we know we'll get our chance."

Baker also has kept confident. "I was positive we can play with any one of these guys," he said.

It hasn't always been easy in the SAC, but that first win against Trinity sure was a thrill. When the final seconds ticked down, it was hard to tell if Winter Springs had just won its first game or the state title as the Bears celebrated at mid-court.

Thursday night, the Bears chalked up another first with its inaugural home win, against Taylor High, 73-43.

The community has noticed. Winter Springs plays in a state-of-the-art gymnasium and features huge home crowds and one of the best traveling parties in the SAC.

"I've been surprised by all the attendance we've had," Hogan said. "We've been going through a tough season like this and they keep coming back."

James said that some of the student body has been tough but that everybody understands growing pains.

"They have to realize we might struggle," James said. "There are some people that say we're pretty sorry as a team, but we just tell them to just wait for another year."

Despite the fact that Winter Springs would fit in more competitively as a junior varsity team, they do feature some quality stars in the conference. Baker and James could start at most Seminole County schools and there is other talent just beginning to prosper.

Marcus Wiggins, Chip Kirby and Corey Williams add to the mix and Williams, who can play at any of the guard or forward slots is one of the more versatile players in the county.

Baker came out of nowhere since languishing on the freshman bench at Lake Howell last season.

"Brian works so hard and he's just improved a lot from last year," James said.

"Brian Baker is a young man who keeps his mouth shut," Hogan added. "He's driven to succeed."

Of all the talent that should make a run at the title in 2000, James, who had 22 points and 14 rebounds Thursday, is already looked at as the go-to guy who carry a team on its back.

Averaging 17 points per game, James knows he has to take command of the offense.

"Our guys believe in Winston James," Hogan said. "We play as a team but we know he'll be the one to lead us for the next two years."

Two years. Can a program go from zero wins to a conference title in just three years?

When's the last time a team had the exact same starting lineup three straight years? By the year 2000, it could be payback time for the rest of Seminole County.

By that time, the little Bear cubs could be Hogan's Heroes.

Lauren Bradley (No. 44, right) has been a starter since her freshman year and is unquestionably the best player not only in Seminole County but in Central Florida.

But that has not made the junior complacent as the 6-foot-3 center has continued working on her shooting and ball-handling skills so that not only can she continue to help Lake Mary to dominate its opponents, but also make her a more rounded player so that she can play the big guard or small forward position in college.

Bradley and the rest of the No. 1 state-ranked Rams will be looking to improve to 28-0 on the season (and 89-4 over the last three years), win another district title, and secure the homecourt advantage for next week's first round of the regional tournament when they take on Lyman tonight at 7:30 p.m. at Oviedo in a rematch of last year's district championship game.

Bradley an unassuming superstar

By KELLIE WERNER
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — Off the court, Lauren Bradley is just like any other junior in any other high school.

On the court, she is the best player under the hoop on any basketball court in the county.

Unless she's asked questions about herself, however, it wouldn't be easy for someone who didn't follow basketball to know that fact.

Actually, even when she's asked about her spectacular performance on the court, Bradley will mention her team and possibly even her weaknesses before she ever mentions her strong points.

That's why she fits in with the Lake Mary girls' team so well.

"We are all close on this team," Bradley said. "We've been playing together since middle school and we are really friends. Of course, there can't be perfect harmony on a team all the time, but we come pretty close."

While some of the members of the team has played together since before middle school, Bradley didn't begin playing basketball until the sixth grade. Maybe it was because her dad played the game or because she is naturally athletic or maybe even because of her height...whatever the reason, Bradley took to the sport almost immediately. There were some finer points of her position that she had to get used to, but it was pretty obvious that Bradley was meant to play the center position on a basketball court.

"Lauren brings another dimension to our scheme," said Lake Mary coach Carl Brown. "Her size, footing and quick hands give her the ability to take over a game. Her shooting has really improved and her better numbers show that."

Bradley's numbers are impressive by anyone's standards. She leads the county in rebounding and scoring at her position. At 6-foot-3-and-a-half, Bradley is also the tallest in the county, accounting for a lot of her success.

Height alone, however, does not make players good. It just makes them tall. What makes Bradley successful is determination and self-motivation.

"I motivate myself by thinking about my team and what I can do to contribute to a win," Bradley explained. "I go out with the attitude that I have to work as hard as I can. I always pass the ball to whoever is open. If no one is, I take the shot. Coach Brown has taught us all to be team players and that's the game I play."

Bradley confesses that she has one weakness...dribbling. She also wants to improve her rebounding. It doesn't seem that dribbling should be a big problem since she plays under the basket and generally doesn't bring the ball down the court. This is indicative, however, of her determination to continually improve her abilities and be a well-rounded player.

Last year, she had trouble with her shooting at times, although she was still the leading scorer at her position in the county.

Instead of accepting this as a flaw in her game, she dedicated her entire off-season to improving her shooting. She worked closely with Brown in open gym, attended camps and spent a lot of time working on her slightly altered hoop at home.

"I lowered my hoop at home because I can't dunk," Bradley said. "I don't know why, I guess I'm not quite tall enough or something, but I just can't and it frustrates me. So I lowered my hoop at home so I can at least dunk there."

This isn't to say that Bradley eats, drinks and sleeps basketball. Well, actually, she does kind of. She finds time, however, to maintain a 3.4 grade point average, play a mean round of golf both for enjoyment and on the high school team, and spend time with her friends.

Basketball is her first love, however, and Bradley is very superstitious about her game.

"When I was a freshman, I didn't get to really pick my number," Bradley recalled. "I was stuck with what was left and since I was the tallest, I got number 44. Michael Jordan is my favorite NBA player and he scores 44 points a lot. I also have a license plate with my number on it. I'm also superstitious about my socks. I have to fold them a certain way. I know it sounds funny, but I think all players have certain routines that they follow."

Whatever she's doing, it's working.

Bradley is very interested in playing at the college level. She believes that she would fit in better on a team at the next level in the three-guard or small forward position, but has shown that she is willing to adapt her skills. She's also still growing and could gain quite a few inches between now and then.

Before thinking about college, Bradley has a more important goal.

"I want that ring," she said.

Last year, Bradley and the Lady Rams played their way to the final game of the state championship and lost by only three points. All season long, their primary focus has been improving, playing one game at a time and working their way back to another shot at the title.

"We were all so disappointed last year when we lost that game," Bradley explained. "We had worked so hard and fell short of our goal. We just want another shot. We had a really good time last year and it was a great experience. I think we understand a little bit more about the pressure and atmosphere now and hopefully that will help us if we can get back there this year."

This team has a pretty good chance at attaining that goal. They have a good coach, good players, and one of the best centers in the state.

Actually, they have a very good chance.

Tonight's game with the Wolves begins at 7:30 p.m. at Bill Fleming Memorial Gymnasium.

Seminole trailed 11-6 after the first period, but came back to lead 24-23 at halftime and 38-34 at the end of the third quarter.

But the Patriots, who also lost to Arrow Force VI on a last-second shot earlier this season, came back to take a 45-44 lead with 1:30 left.

Chris Weathelle then put Seminole back ahead to stay when he tipped in a missed shot with 1:12 remaining.

Mequial Bush added a pair of free throws for Arrow Force VI and Lake Brantley missed a potential game-tying shot at the buzzer.

Daryl Redding led Arrow Force VI with 12 points, but Seminole coach Bob Traina heaped praise on Cornelius Blue, who did not score, but pulled down a lot of rebounds and was a major force inside.

The win Friday night also put Seminole back into a tie for first place in the Seminole Athletic Conference race with Lake Howell and Oviedo. Arrow Force VI will conclude the regular season this week with home games with Oviedo on Tuesday and Lake Howell on Friday and a game at Lyman next Wednesday.

JAMES LEADS WINTER SPRINGS

WINTER SPRINGS — It's been a couple of night's for first for the Winter Springs boys' basketball team.

Following Thursday night's first home win ever, the Bears collected their first ever district win, crushing Cocoa Beach, 73-60.

Super-soph Winston James again led the way for Winter Springs, hitting 11-of-16 shots from the floor and all 11 of his free throw attempts for 33 points and for good measure also grabbed 14 rebounds.

Marcus Wiggins chipped in with 12 points, but the Bears avenged a pair of losses to Cocoa Beach earlier in the season.

Winter Springs is in good shape to get the No. 3 seed in the district tournament and will host Lake Howell next Wednesday in a Seminole Athletic Conference game starting at 7:30 p.m.

Making community a better place

CIA installs officers

The Lake Mary Community Improvement Association held their January 26th meeting. Judge Wallace Hall graciously performed the installation. The new officers for 1998 are Sheila Sawyer, president; Doug Forner, first vice president; Tom West, second vice president; Richard Eckstein, treasurer; Bette Jorre, secretary; and Dick Fess, past president. The Board of Directors for 1998 are Mary Ellen Hawkinson, Jeanne Robinson, Millie Murray, Lois Jackson, Hattie Boyd and Lillian Griffin.

President Sheila Sawyer also announced the recipients of some very special Community Improvement Association awards. Vern Feddersen will receive the Harry Terry Award, Dick Fess will receive the Lifetime Achievement Award and Lillian Griffin and Tom West will receive the Outstanding Achievement Award. The awards will be presented at the Sweetheart Concert that is being sponsored by the CIA, the Lake Mary Woman's Club and the City of Lake Mary. The concert is scheduled for Sunday, Feb. 15 from 2-4 p.m. at Lake Mary City Hall and will feature the "Golden Tones" and the SCC Symphonic Band. The concert is free to the public.

The January meeting wasn't all business. There was wonderful entertainment from the "Forest Critters". Although they haven't quite reached the popularity of the "Backstreet Boys", the Forest Critters are becoming quite well known in Lake Mary. One of the favorite songs is always one of the ones they wrote themselves about Florida tourism.

The Lake Mary CIA will always welcome anyone wishing to join the group. If you'd like more information on joining the CIA, call Mary Ellen Hawkinson at 321-2907.

Choir on CD

On Nov. 5, 20 students from the Lake Mary High Concert Choir went to Starke Lake Studios in Ocoee. They spent 13 hours recording and re-recording, until the producer thought it was perfect. The CD is Candlelight Processional and Mased Choir Program. It is the traditional story of Christmas in song and narration as presented at Epcot. The only other choir from Seminole County chosen to participate in the project was from Lake Howell.

On Jan. 28, Ted Ricketts, the producer of the album and Doug Strawn, the executive producer of the album, came to visit the choir at Lake Mary High. They came to present the choir with a framed copy of the album. Along with the copy are pictures from the day of the recording.

Doug Strawn, who is director of Special Projects for Walt Disney Attractions Entertainment, spoke briefly to the students before the presentation. The label on the CD is Disney Magic Productions. This is only the second album to be produced under this label that is specifically for the theme parks. Right now, the CD is available at Epcot, but it will soon be available at all the Disney theme parks. And hopefully, after that, it will be found in stores everywhere.

Tajiri woman is pioneer in the arts

From Staff Reports

SANFORD - Patricia Whatley's contributions to education and her community are immeasurable, according to those who know her. She is an innovative teacher, and a pioneer in many areas. She has been lauded as an able community leader, creating programs for young people and organizing cultural celebrations.

In the field of education, Whatley was declared Teacher of the Year for Seminole County. She has created a program that includes mentally handicapped students in regular classrooms. This program began at a time when this was unheard of in the teaching community. She believes that teaching is not a job with banker's hours, but rather a 24 hour education for both student and teacher.

Many of the school and community based programs that she has started or been involved with have been targeted at increasing all students' respect for education, society and culture.

Whatley formed Tajiri Arts, Inc. and the Seminole Community Boys Glee Club in 1988 to fill a desperate need within the community. Culturally diverse children were not actively involved in various performance groups previously established. Tajiri Arts, Inc. began to address that "overlooked" share of the market. For Tajiri Arts, Inc., acting is an element of the performing arts that encompasses many forms. It is a vehicle by which students develop confidence in their talents and abilities, improve skills in language, speech, reading, socialization, listening, and writing. The Tajiri Arts, Inc., concept is one that embraces Drama in the Round, which states that dramatics can offer students opportunities beneficial to their total well-being. One of the unique aspects of Tajiri Arts, Inc., is its inclusion of children with special needs (mentally and physically disabled) as members of the repertory company.

The Seminole Community Boys Glee Club is a component of Tajiri Arts, Inc., composed of boys ranging in grades from fourth to sixth. This group is known for its well-groomed and well-behaved manner in which they lift their voices in song. Exposing them to music and culture helps foster their intellectual spirits.

There will be a performance by Tajiri Arts at 7 p.m. during the opening of Jennifer Copp's "A Look Inside Tajiri" exhibit. They will perform on February 7. Admission is free. For additional information, call 322-7555 or 330-7722.

Dinner and a movie

Dickens of a good movie

David Frazier

Screen Tests

Finn to test his devotion.

Great Expectations is Cuaron's second American production, and it is the second screen version of Dickens' book — the first was from storied director David Lean in 1946. Cuaron won much critical acclaim with his first film, The Little Princess. And between Cuaron's two films, you see what makes the director so noteworthy. His movies are stunning visually, and he is natural with narrative. Even though we know this story, we don't mind seeing it again due to the freshness Cuaron gives it.

However, some of Cuaron's scenes seem awkward. For instance, Finneagan yells up at a window and professes his love to Estella. With the score throbbing in the background, it comes off like an overrated serenade. And when Finn runs through the rain to break up a dinner date between Estella and her fiancé (Hank Azaria), not only did I think the act insanely romantic — even cliché — but also pretty darn humorous, although unintentional. Cuaron fortunately does not do this throughout.

The director has mixed youth with experience in his casting and both compliment each other harmoniously. Gwyneth Paltrow (Emma) is the standout of Great Expectations. She is a devilish blend of sexy seductiveness and brainwashed she-devil. Her objective is to be remote, detached from her prey. It's uncanny that Paltrow does it so well. Ethan Hawke (Gattaca) is definitely second fiddle to Paltrow's sizzling performance. Hawke plays Finn much like a wide-eyed child, mouth open, staring at all that is happening around him. Hawke is dwarfed by the superior acting circling him. Two great supporting performances come out of Great Expectations, but, then again, it is hardly unexpected when your talking about Anne Bancroft (G.I. Jane) and Robert De Niro (Wag the Dog).

Bancroft plays Dinmoor with wild eccentricity, but also a sharp insight into the character's misery. She is so miserable, she has to make others miserable. And only Bancroft can utter lines like "Ain't love grand?" with stinging sarcasm. Bette Davis would be proud. And De Niro delivers another performance with sheer force of will. The man can walk onto a screen, and you know he doesn't want to merely chit-chat.

Cuaron and his production staff wanted to capture a modern audience and not to follow the Dickens' book verbatim. With moderate success, their piece fits Dickens into the present nicely. Three stars (out of four).

Great Expectations (R): The Charles Dickens' classic Great Expectations has the good fortune of being one of those timeless stories that can be told again and again whether it is the late 19th Century or the late 1990's. It can be fashioned with a different look, different characters, and different locations as Mexican director Alfonso Cuaron has done, but the themes and the story remain pretty much the same.

Cuaron takes Mitch Glazer's screenplay adaptation — with a voice-over narration written by David Mamet — of Dickens' novel and tells an updated, coming-of-age story with a lush, sensual style. Is it the best interpretation of the book? No, but it is a trusted one.

There are two occurrences at the beginning of Great Expectations that define its story: first, while wading through the shallows of the coastline as he draws various sea fixtures and creatures, is the encounter young Finn (Jeremy James Kissner) has with an escaped fugitive (Robert De Niro), who Finn helps; and second is Finn's trip to Dinmoor mansion to help his "Uncle" Joe (Chris Cooper) with a landscaping job. Both of these incidents plot the course of Finneagan Bell's life.

Ethan Hawke plays the older Finneagan, an aspiring artist who has grown up in the coastal area of Florida mostly with Joe. (Finn's sister (Kim Dickens) did take care of him, but she ran out on him and Joe when Finn was young). He has also grown up with an arrogant debutante who lives with her eccentric aunt, Ms. Dinmoor (Anne Bancroft). The girl, Estella (Gwyneth Paltrow), is Finn's infatuation and his muse.

As they grow up together, Finn's love for Estella has grown too. But he can't have her; Ms. Dinmoor has seen to that. The old woman was spurned by her fiancé at the altar and has learned to distrust and despise men ever since. So much so that she has passed it on to Estella as if it were a family heirloom. "She'll only break your heart," Dinmoor warns love-struck Finn.

When Finn moves from Florida to New York — a jump-start to his art career provided by a mysterious benefactor — he coincidentally meets Estella again. Their spark is rekindled, but Estella has plans for

He's always loyal to Oviedo High

Ed Norton has accomplished more in the last year than most teachers have in 10 years.

In a matter of three months, Norton has been named Teacher of the Month by his students, Teacher of the Day by radio station 106.7 FM and Teacher of the Year by the faculty of Oviedo High School.

"It was unbelievable to be nominated against four other terrific teachers however, receiving Teacher of the Month from the students body was fantastic," Norton said.

Norton who was born in Long Island, New York and came to Central Florida in 1978. He attended South Seminole Middle School and graduated from Oviedo High.

Norton originally began Rollins College to play basketball but had a back injury his freshman year. With basketball no longer in his path, Norton embarked on announcing and became an undergraduate assistant.

As a junior in college, Norton began to coach football at Oviedo. After graduation he was given a position at Oviedo in the English department for Oviedo teacher Ed Norton, last year with student Emie Dindial, has taught at several area schools but his heart has always been at Oviedo.

which he majored in. "I loved being in the classroom but I hated the bureaucracy of it all," Norton said.

Norton comes from an athletic family with a dad who is

In four Hall of Fames which is where his athletic energy comes from.

Having nothing to do was something Norton has never had to face. Along with coaching football, lacrosse, basketball, and baseball; Norton has also coached Pop Warner, Little League, and Babe Ruth teams.

The next year Oviedo would not see Norton. He started to DJ which he had done in college and became sports editor for, The Outlook, He also began to substitute for various schools.

As if Norton did not have enough on his plate, he received an opportunity to be an assistant baseball coach at Rollins for two years.

"I learned a lot especially what the recruiters are looking for in athletics," said Norton.

Norton, in addition, coached freshman and junior varsity basketball at Winter Park High School.

"The whole experience was wonderful and they have some great coaches over there but it all came to be a little too much for me to handle," said Norton.

In 1992, after the winter break, Norton came back to Oviedo to again teach English.

"I am faithful to Oviedo. It is like a family and there is a sense of being home," expressed Norton.

Norton has now been teaching and coaching at Oviedo for the past six years. Currently, he is the varsity and junior varsity lacrosse coach, along with being a coach for freshman football and basketball. Although basketball is his first love since he has been playing and coaching the sport the longest. In trying to further his education, Norton has taken graduate level classes at UCF, SCC, Rollins, and Valencia. His goal is to find the time without sacrificing any of his other duties to get his masters.

"When you coach three sports and teach, finding time to go back to school is difficult," said Norton.

What does the future hold for Ed Norton? He plans on staying at Oviedo to teach and maybe retire. Although Norton doesn't ever see himself getting tired of teaching.

Ed Norton is a man who has done everything and brings a lifetime of experience to his students and his athletics.

Seminole High School students Elise Dubois and Garrett Malecki were among the students at Seminole's Winter Homecoming Friday night at the Sanford Armory. It was just another of the events going on at area schools. Next Saturday, Oviedo High will host its Badie Hawkins Dance.

Steppin' out at Lake Mary

By COURTNEY LEFFEW
Herald Correspondent

Lake Mary High School students will be stepping to the music this Saturday night for the annual Step Show.

What is a step show actually? A step show is a combination of dancing, foot work, and hand movements. The show takes a considerable amount of ability from the students on top of some talent and rhythm.

The students choreograph the dances with a great deal of assistance from local fraternities and sororities.

This will be Lake Mary's fourth annual show which will be held in the auditorium at 7 p.m. Three groups from Lake Mary will be performing including a single stepper, Roger Sermon, a step routine, and a step and dance routine. There will be nine other schools participating along with five college fraternities and sororities from UCF and BCC.

"Some of these kids sacrifice a lot to be there and practice everyday. We are like a huge family," sponsor Carrie Walton said. "This gives the students something important to be a part of."

There are over 60 students that partake in this minority club. Throughout the year, the club raises money for Black History Programs. The group also collects can goods to be given to local shelters. At Thanksgiving the students make baskets and at Christmas time presents are gathered for needy children.

The main focus of the organization is to give something back to the community. The students learn how to accept life and at the same time how to deal with the problems that arise.
