Pettway For Governor

Early in this campaign The Herald expressed the sentiment that both of these candidates who were in the running of the governor's race were good men and that whoever might emerge on June 22 as the victor, the people of Florida would in reality be the winners, because either candidate would make Florida an excellent governor. Nothing has happened in the gubernatorial campaign since then that has changed our opinion one iota. Both Judge Pettway and Fred Cone are men of the very highest type.

Morally there is little to choose between them. They are both honest, capable, and unselfish in their chosen professions. Regardless of what either of these men about the Townsend Plan, they are both evidently in favor of adequate old age pensions. They are both against the slot machines, vice, and corruption, but they possess no blue laws during their administrations. They both advocate economy in government and a budget balanced not by new forms of taxation, but by a reduction in wasteful expenditures. As a matter of fact, there is little to choose between the two platforms.

There is, however, one outstanding difference between the two men which has decided as to cast our vote for Judge Pettway. He is from South Florida. Fred Cone is from North Florida. In coming to this decision we fully agree with Fred Cone that a man who is not big enough to be governor of all Florida is too little to be governor at all. We are quite sure that Judge Pettway, if he is elected, will be fair to all parts of the State and that no charge of sectionalism can ever be placed against his administration.

However, "sectionalism" is an evil which already exists in Florida, and it is an evil which the people of South Florida must use their combined efforts to eradicate. Ever since Florida has been a State, the politicians of North and West Florida have been in control of the State government. And they have used this power in every conceivable way to the advantage of North Florida and to the detriment of South Florida.

Whenever there is any money to be spent, it is spent in North Florida. Whenever there are any taxes to be laid, an unfair proportion of them are collected from South Florida. All our State colleges and universities, all our State institutions, such as the mental hospital at Chattahoochee, the State penitentiary at Raiford, the school for the dumb and blind, and the capital itself are located in North Florida. The great bulk of the taxes to pay for them, most of the gasoline taxes, most of the real estate taxes and all of the racetrack funds come from South Florida.

Furthermore, most of the important State offices are held by North Florida men. Senator Fletcher, who represented this State in the United States Senate for 27 years came from Jacksonville. And when Senator Trammell, the only South Florida official in the state of any consequence, died, another Jacksonville man was appointed to take his place. Florida's congressman-at-large, Joe Sears, resides in Jacksonville, and when the federal judge at Miami was recently impeached, it was apparently necessary to go to Jacksonville to find someone to take his place.

We believe it is about time that the people of South Florida took cognizance of what is obviously a determined effort on the part of people residing in Jacksonville, and from Jacksonville west, to dominate all the important political offices in this state, and to use their control of these offices to the advantage of North Florida against the interests of South Florida. The issue of "sectionalism" has been raised in this campaign, not by Judge Pettway, and not by Fred Cone, but by the people of North Florida who are in control of this State.

If Fred Cone is elected governor of Florida, he will undoubtedly try to be fair to all sections, but when it comes to a question of using his influence with Washington concerning the canal, will he support the big ditch, or side with the people of South Florida who are against it? When it comes to a question of city and county indebtedness, will he understand the problems of the over-burdened communities of South Florida, or will he take the unsympathetic attitude of most people in North Florida who have never been faced with this unfortunate situation?

Whatever the question is likely to be, it seems to us that Judge Pettway, who lives in this part of the State and is thoroughly familiar with its problems would be likely to give a more attentive ear to the appeals of our people than is one who resides on the north bank of the canal.

What Can I Do To Help?

What can the average businessman in a place like, say Sanford, do to help the Democrats win in the coming struggle for power in the nation's capital? Most of us say, "Well, there isn't much that I can do, outside of voting." But the Melbourne Times sees a way that everyone can help, and a way that would help the whole country at the same time.

"One of the great tests of the loyalty of Democrats to President Roosevelt, perhaps the greatest test that could be made at this time," the Times explains, "would be their response to an appeal for the creation of jobs for the more than seven million of unemployed men and women in this country today."

There are more people who need useful work in this last year of the present Administration than there were when Mr. Roosevelt took office in 1933. If the Democrats of this nation are sincerely feeling their party in the attitude of the nation for the next two years, they should be working not only as a party but as individuals to help the unemployed.

They should be working to help the unemployed in their own communities. They should be working to help the unemployed in their own neighborhoods. They should be working to help the unemployed in their own streets. They should be working to help the unemployed in their own homes. They should be working to help the unemployed in their own hearts.

FLORIDA HIGHLIGHTS

It was none other than HENRY PLANT who also built the elaborate Tampa Bay Hotel, then led the way in the turning of a primeval wilderness on Florida's gulf coast into one of the garden spots of the world. In 1851 Mr. Plant extended a new railroad from Waycross, Georgia, to Jacksonville and later established modern steamship service on the St. Johns from Jacksonville to Sanford. In 1884, his South Florida railroad was opened from Sanford to Tampa and he then established the first regular passenger steamer service between Tampa, Key West and Havana. He grown from Ft. Pierce south.

CONE ANSWERS TAMPA TRIBUNE

Fred Cone has sent in his replies to questions asked in our editorial. To the questions regarding the requirement of greater economy in the expense of state commissions, notably the Racing Commission, and the elimination of useless state employees, Mr. Cone answered yes. To the question, "Have you promised any jobs in state departments, specifically the Road Department?" he answered no. To the question, "Will you refuse to grant pardons or paroles except on legal and credible evidence of a miscarriage of justice?" Mr. Cone replied: "This, I do not feel I can answer yes or no. Yes, in reference to confirmed criminals, but there may be circumstances for first offenders who may have received technical justice where it might be to the best interest of the state to temper justice with mercy." Mr. Cone's answers are clear, straight-forward and satisfactory.

that in many places the primary election was not fairly conducted, that the secrecy of the ballot was violated, that votes were tabulated by men not qualified as inspectors and that the vote certified in some precincts is greater than the number of votes registered in these precincts.

One of the nicest country homes recently built in this section this season is that of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Chamberlain on Beardsall Avenue. The home is the same of comfortable, convenient rural home with every convenience that can be had. The house was built by Price & Coiler, contractors of this city.

Tuesday evening while Hon. J. F. Hagan and his two little boys

Robert and L. F. Jr., were riding in their automobile on the brick road west of the city they had an accident that was a narrow escape from very serious results. Robert was driving the car and Mr. Hagan had little L. F. on his lap. Their dog was on the rear seat and Mr. Hagan jokingly told Robert that he intended to open the back door and let the dog jump out. As Robert looked around at the dog he forgot about the car and it swerved from the road and ran into a large tree trunk on the road. Mr. Hagan was badly bruised and Robert was on the cheek and neck by the glass of the automobile.

WHAT OF LAST MINUTE CHARGES OR INSINUATIONS?

This practice not only violates our criminal law, but it is an affront to all fair thinking citizens.

We have been in this campaign for weeks. What any man knows of me now, he knew weeks ago. I have nothing to hide concerning my activities whether private or public.

I have never tried a man before a jury without giving him a chance to defend himself and I follow the same principle in politics.

In regard to the charge made by my opponent in Saturday's Herald that if elected County Prosecutor I would be holding a PUBLIC FUND, I wish to say to the citizens of Seminole County that such a charge is UTTERLY UNTRUE.

I am the attorney for the Board of County Commissioners and that position is not an election office. I have the same relationship with the County Board that I have with any other board. I have no knowledge of any public fund for these times and I have no intention of holding a public fund. I am a lawyer in Sanford, Florida, and I have no intention of holding a public fund.

If elected, the only position I will be required to hold, will be that of County Prosecutor. And if elected, I will take the oath of office and I will do my duty.

I still ask your support on my behalf as a candidate for Prosecutor on the strength of MY OWN ABILITY AND FITNESS. I am S. F. LONG.

Boxing Business Picks Up As Louis' Spectre Vanishes

Bradcock Sees Way Open For Three Bout; Schmeling And Champion Will Meet In September

NEW YORK, June 22.—(AP)—Premier Miles Jacobs had a certain amount of success in his efforts to get the boxing business started in this city. He is now expected to produce one of the biggest fights in history. The heavyweight championship battle between Champion Bradcock and Schmeling will be fought in September. The loser of that fight, according to present plans, will angle with Louis for the right to meet again for the heavyweight championship. Sandwiched between those three engagements will be plenty of activity with Max Baer, feeling foolish because he allowed Louis to scare him into defeat, on the comeback. Disappointed but hardly broken over his crushing setback, Louis was back home in Detroit Sunday, while Schmeling loafed around the city. He is expected to appear under the inner corner of Zeppin Hiltensburg Tuesday night.

That WPA project directors in Florida have been instructed that Fred Cone's election means the removal of C. B. Treadway as chairman of the state road department and that in consequence all WPA employees would lose their jobs.

Photostatic copies of affidavits proving this statement are in possession of Cone county managers in Florida. These affidavits, signed by H. Clay Crawford of Tallahassee, and others equally as reputable, state in effect that the WPA project director of Leon County had passed down this word to all WPA workers in that county. We also have information that a similar word has been passed down the line to WPA project directors in numerous other counties of the state.

Postmaster Says Bonus Activity Showing Decline

Sanford Vets Trade Bonds For $78,900 Cash, Records Show

R. J. Holly, Sanford postmaster, today reported a continuation of the small trickle of Sanford veterans who are trading their bonus bonds for cash. Activities had showed a decided decrease this morning. Only $700 worth of certificates were handed over to be converted into cash. Post office figures show that local ex-service men have received $74,000 in actual cash derived from bonus bonds. There is still approximately $300,000 represented in the county by those who are eligible for the bonus. Most of that sum, however, will not be placed immediately into commercial channels, since some bond owners will hold the paper for interest. Postmaster Holly said 13 registrations still appear on hand here. These must be presented to the veteran before the post office

Man's Friends Glad He Told Them About BLACK - DRAUGHT

Writing from Texarkana, Texas, Mr. W. T. Bentley, of that city, says: "I have been using Black-Draught for fully forty years. I keep a supply on hand. I first knew of Black-Draught when I was a boy, clerking in a store. I saw people buying it and thought it must be good. I took it for constipation and biliousness. I would have a bad taste in my mouth and headache. I knew I needed a laxative something to cleanse the system. I bought and took it. I would have been glad to have known of Black-Draught before. I do not know of any other laxative that has done so much for me. I have recommended it to many friends and neighbors. I have recommended it to many friends and neighbors. Cone Leads Race In First Return; Rain Delays Vote

English Is Ahead Of Cawthon For State School Position In Rural Polling Areas

Sanford Citizens Discuss Politics Halfway Is Reached Locally At 2 P. M.; See Late Activity

JACKSONVILLE, June 23. (AP)—First unofficial results from today's Democratic runoff primary gave Fred P. Cone of Lake City nine votes and Judge Raleigh Pettaway of Tampa six votes for the gubernatorial nomination.

The reports came from two rural precincts out of 1,322 in the state. One precinct was in Leon county; the other in Palm Beach. Cone carried Leon; Pettaway the Palm Beach precinct. The same two precincts gave Colin English and W. B. Cawthon five for state school superintendent.

Spanish shows this afternoon had temporary effect on the line of voters that flowed through Sanford's four precincts to select a governor, two congressmen, a state school superintendent and several local officials.

However, rain was not expected to keep any great number from the polls, since intermittent periods appeared when showers halted.

At 2 P. M. in the Court House precincts, 3 and 3A, nearly 700 persons had dropped their tickets in that precinct in ballot box. Full officials said approximately 1,000 persons are qualified.

In the City Hall precincts, 1 and 1A, an even 500 had voted at 2 o'clock. The figure is barely less than half the number qualified for that district.

It was predicted that a surge of voting activity will be felt between 2 P. M. and closing time of the polls when persons employed by jobs which are inconvenient to leave will throng to the booths and mark their tickets.

Shadow is 7:31 P. M. when voting must cease, according to orders from the Secretary of State. (Continued On Page Five)

Commission Delays Positive Action On Airport Management

The City Commission's proposed to employ an attendant at Municipal Airport was halted temporarily last night while Fred E. Wilson, city attorney, delves deeper into the liability which may be attached to the contract.

On advice from an aviation committee, the City governing board decided to pay Marvin Smith of Kissimmee, $25 per month as an inducement to set up a time flying service here. Under the arrangement, Smith would be available at the airport at all times.

However, when commissioners discussed the matter last night, the liability question popped up, and a session flag unfurled itself.

Roosevelt Gets Official Boost From Rail Group

Engineers, Fire men Endorse Program Of Democratic Party

The National Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers is officially backing President Roosevelt for re-election in November, according to a communication received here today by H. L. Glenn, local representative of the organization.

The letter says, in part: "We believe that the record as to things undertaken and things achieved by the present administration justifies the voters of this country in continuing the administration in power.

"Some of the measures advocated by the President and supported by the administration in the interest of national recovery were declared unconstitutional, but that does not change the fact that the President, fearlessly and in face of considerable opposition, has developed and moved forward with a definite program for national recovery."

The communication points out that more than 200,000 railway employees have returned to service during the Roosevelt administration, and that the brotherhood has shown an increase of 12,000 members in the same time.

In conclusion, the official document says: "This endorsement is given to President Roosevelt because of his accomplishments in behalf of the workers and the entire people and our confidence in the future welfare of the nation under his continued leadership."

Heat And Drought In West Worry Farmers

CHICAGO, June 23.—(AP)—Forecasts of a rise in temperature with little if any rain for the drought-blasted areas of the middle-west dashed hopes of worried farmers.

Showers fell in Southern Illinois following prayers for relief by rural congregations but the Weather Bureau said general rains are needed to save the crops and check insect damage.

Distressed planters in the arid northwest looked to Washington for federal aid. Officials estimated between $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 would be required to aid farmers in the Dakotas, Wyoming and Montana. Grain trade witnesses a further rise in wheat prices.

Glenn Foresees Approval Of City's Hospital Loan

Commission Hears That Plans For Relief Projects Not Under Way Must Be Submitted Again

A City request for $30,000 in PWA funds for an addition to Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital apparently is in line for outright approval by relief authorities, R. L. Glenn, of the Seminole County Planning Board, told City commissioners last night.

That amount and an additional $5000 for equipment would vastly improve the facilities of the local hospital and would be a great step toward ultra-modernization, it was stated.

Mr. Glenn also told the Commission that he expects a release of WPA funds, within the next week, to apply on projects here which are now under way.

Further, he stated an opinion that projects which have not yet begun must be revised and re-submitted because of certain loan conditions which have changed since original plans were turned over to WPA officials.

He said two of the proposed endeavors not yet under way are the city pier and the municipal golf links.

Continuing the discussion of relief projects, Fred Williams proposed to the Commission that some definite steps be taken toward creation of a park in the area near the Haystack Hotel which has been donated by the City for park facilities.

The municipal governing body decided to communicate with O. P. Swope, regional director of the WPA, in an effort to reopen the project.

After some definite course of action is planned, it was indicated that Richard Forester, WPA landscape artist, would draw a proposed plan of the park.

Anti-Gaming Voice Sounded By Commission

Mayor Shinholser Says Officials And Officers Will Join Drive To Purge City

The City Commission last night sounded a note bearing the undeniable tone that the municipality's officialdom is decidedly against the various forms of gambling now existing in Sanford.

Mayor Shinholser committed himself to the opinion that the Commission and the City law-enforcing groups should stand solidly behind any campaign to drive gaming devices and methods from the town.

The commissioners said they were conscious of a rising public sentiment here that was strongly anti-gambling, pointing to the work of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which is campaigning against lotteries, and crediting that and other organizations for a part of the surging tide of resentment.

The commissioners sounded their first official voice on the problem when a letter from the Sanford Ministerial Association, asking law enforcement, was presented in brief form. Since the body had no authority to act without transacting important business, detailed action on the association's request was delayed until next Monday when the more weighty matters will be laid before the board.

Nevertheless, without reading the ministerial letter there was sufficient discussion, although brief, to determine what course of action may be followed when a vote is called next week.

Jim Farley Attacks Landon And Knox In Democratic Conclave

Continuation Of New Deal Is The Issue, Says Chairman Of Party In Opener

Move Is Made To Catch Radicals Platform Is Expected To Appeal To Followers Of Lemke

PHILADELPHIA, June 23. (AP)—Welcoming the New Deal as the paramount campaign issue, the opening session of the Democratic National Convention trained its guns on Landon and Knox today and paid its respects indirectly to Alfred E. Smith.

Salvos of applause seconded the blistering attack on the Republican ticket by Chairman James A. Farley, in which he denounced the opposition as trying to face both right and left at the same time and was backed by "the crew of the Dulant Liberty League."

Smith was not mentioned by name but his forays against the New Deal and his activities as an organizer of the league were much in the minds of the assembled thousands.

Shooting out his words from tight drawn lips, Farley roared the delegates to their feet. He started them cheering with this pronouncement: "The continuation of the New Deal is the issue."

It was given a standing ovation at his first mention of the President's name when he said, "The processes of recovery, initiated and carried on by Franklin D. Roosevelt, shall not be interrupted."

Roosevelt men swarmed the speaker's stand. Other Roosevelt men, headed by Senator Wagner of New York, worked in seclusion to perfect a platform satisfactory to the White House. Still others, pledged to Roosevelt, drafted changes in the convention rules which he desires.

On every hand there was the expectation that Roosevelt and Garner will be renominated with substantial, if not complete, unanimity.

Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky will deliver the keynote second session. The convention hall was a colorful sight with bands, banners, thousands of delegates, alternates, and spectators.

Events of the last two days have forced the Democratic donkey to veer left and last night he nibbled for November votes in the green pastures of radicalism.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(AP)—President Roosevelt signed the new tax bill and the $100,000,000 interior department appropriation bill.
