U.S. Plans To Send Immediate Support To Southeast Asia

Military And Economic Aid Will Go To Indonesia, Burma, Malaya, IndoChina

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP) — Undersecretary of State Webb said today the United States plans immediate military and economic aid to southeast Asia.

Webb told a news conference: 1. The Department "plans to implement at once" a recommendation by a special survey mission that about $60,000,000 be used for economic help to the area. This mission was headed by Allen Guffin, publisher of the Monterey, Calif. Peninsula Herald.

2. The military needs of the area will be met by drawing on President Truman's "emergency fund" of $79,000,000 approved by congress for the general area of China.

3. Webb did not go into details of distribution of aid. In Paris last Monday, Secretary Acheson said American economic and military help would be sent immediately to French IndoChina. The French have been carrying on a shooting war there against the forces of Communist-trained Ho Chi Minh for four years.

4. In speaking of American aid to southeast Asia, Webb said Guffin's recommendations for economic help "are modest." He said:

"The Department is working jointly with ECA to implement the economic and technical aid recommendations for IndoChina as well as the other states of southeast Asia and anticipates (Continued on Page Five)

Jesuit Priest Takes Case To Manila Court

Rev. Hogan Picketed With Striking Airlines Employees

MANILA, May 11 (AP) — A Jesuit priest under government fire for joining Philippine airline pickets prepared today to test his case "to the bitter end."

The priest, the Rev. Walter Hogan, formerly of Philadelphia (Melrose Avenue, East Lansdowne) was called an "undesirable alien" and a "mere agitator" yesterday by Secretary of Labor Fuminho Lavina.

The churchman said he joined four dismissed airline employees in the picket line at Manila's international airport because he agreed with them their dismissal was unjust.

The airline claimed the men were discharged for participating in an illegal strike two years ago. Reverend Hogan charges they were dismissed for union leadership.

The priest said he might be deported for his action but that his place would be taken by another priest who would continue his fight. He said he is the head of a church sponsored institute of social order in the Philippines. The organization, he said, seeks to promote a decent standard of living through social justice.

"Under such conditions," he said, labor "naturally" is drawn toward Communism.

As the situation critical here," the priest said, "is that the workers are in a 'back' state, an adequate diet and is not prepared for any emergency because of his income. This is all wrong."

Meanwhile in Taipei, Nationalist warplanes claimed to have bombed many casualties of Chinese Communist troops on Taohsu Island in a raid on barracks.

Gen. Shih Chueh, defense chief at conference with the Nationalist high command on the expected invasion attempt against the island, said he is sure the island will be held.

Shih made it clear that he expects the island to be held.

Watson Complains That Collins Aide Possessed Voting Machine

TALLAHASSEE, May 11 (AP) — Tom Watson complained today a voting machine which gave Jerry Collins a disputed 100 votes in the close First District congressional race was in custody of a Collins supporter for three days before recheck.

The Supreme Court will hear Watson's arguments at 2:30 P.M. today.

He filed a "suggestion for mandamus" in which he asked the court to require the Sarasota County canvassing board to show why it should not be compelled to deduct 100 votes from Collins' present total of 28,183 votes.

Collins leads Watson for the runoff position in the race for representative from the First Congressional District by only 60 votes. Chester H. McMillan was top candidate in the first primary and will face either Watson or Collins in the second primary.

Watson asked the court to prevent the State Canvassing Board from approving election returns from Sarasota County until "such action is taken." The canvassing board is scheduled to meet today.

Citizens Bid Red River Valley Adieu And Evacuate To Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Man., May 11 (AP) — Most of the 25,000 persons left homeless by southern Manitoba flood waters were crowding today into stricken Winnipeg, a victim of the rampaging Red River.

The crowd posed some problems for hurried officials in the prairie city. They have already spread for the evacuation of the city's 200,000 women and children.

A truck washed eight miles National Railways train carrying 250 flood victims from the flooded Red River valley, but a heavy ferry service began the task of carrying the passengers across a waterway to safety. They were taken into Winnipeg. The rescue, including 148 children and 40 infants, was stranded at St. Ignace, Quebec.

The water was still rising in the stricken Winnipeg area, with the Red River at 200 feet.

Officials, who made the voluntary evacuation to Winnipeg, said the Red River had more than 11 feet above flood stage. It had risen six feet in 24 hours.

Joe "Mike" Dixon Escapes Institute

The escape of Joe "Mike" Dixon, 18 year old youth who had fled from the state on Oct. 3 on a stolen car, was reported to the State Highway Patrol yesterday by authorities at the Correctional Institute at Chattahoochee where Dixon was confined.

Sanford police have been notified of the escape through the Highway Patrol headquarters at Deland.

The shotgun shooting of English took place on Oct. 3 on a wooded ground near a fishing camp on the north shore of Lake Jessup. After a Grand Jury had indicted the youth with a charge of first degree murder, the trial jury returned a verdict of manslaughter and Judge M. B. Smith pronounced sentence.

U. S Secret Service Breaks Up Big Counterfeiting Syndicate

Buffalo, N. Y., May 11 (AP) — The U. S. Secret Service claimed today it had broken up a million-dollar counterfeiting syndicate that allegedly operated in 26 states and in Canada.

A printing press and plates were seized yesterday in a raid on a house in suburban Depew. Two men were arrested.

U. E. Baughman, chief of the Secret Service, said in Washington it was probably the most important crackdown against counterfeiting in years.

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder said the arrest of Matthew Zlodinski, 67, and Bernard Neuner, 30, appeared to wind up the case.

More than 10 men had been arrested previously as principals in the syndicate. Sixty-four others have been charged with passing bogus bills in various cities.

Neuner, an artist for a lithographic firm, was accused of "manufacturing" plates used to print $50,000 in bogus Canadian money and about the same amount in American notes.

He is alleged to have printed $100,000 in bogus notes.

Vatican Charger Soviet Official With Plotting

Broadcaster Claims Vishinsky Helped To Smash Church

VATICAN CITY, May 11 (AP) — The Vatican radio charged today that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky plotted with Czechoslovak Communist leaders to bring about the complete destruction of the Roman Catholic church in Czechoslovakia.

The broadcast said that Moscow still is the driving power behind the Prague regime's campaign against the church.

Vishinsky, the broadcast said, was among Soviet functionaries who attended a secret meeting in Karlbad to plot against the church. The broadcast did not say when this meeting was supposed to have been held, but Vishinsky was in Karlbad in January, 1949, ostensibly to mend his health at that spa.

The plot, said the broadcaster, was developed around a so-called "Catholic Party" group which was organized by students at the University of Prague, yesterday told Klement of the high office required of the 500 Catholic public accountants in Czechoslovakia. His work includes the reorganization of all public accounting activities in the state.

Reports from Slovakia say that "the majority of monks and nuns are taken away from monasteries and grouped in so-called concentration monasteries, where they are submitted to pressure to abandon the Roman Catholic religion." The monks, the report says, are often driven from their monasteries.

Kiwanians Hear Beasley Tell Of CPA Duties

Speaker Says C.P.A.'s Have Responsibility, High Ethics

The obligation of certified public accountants to the public in the confidence entrusted to them was stressed yesterday in a talk to Kiwanians by Clifford C. Beasley, CPA Director of the Florida Institute of Public Accountants, former president of Sanford and graduate of Seminoles High school in 1930. He was introduced by J. W. Hall and George Williams.

Mr. Beasley congratulated J. Beasley Odham, Esq., and past president of the Sanford Kiwanians on his appointment to the presidency of the State Junior Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Odham was likewise commended by W. H. Stimpert and was given a strong ovation by the Kiwanians.

A big grin on his face, Mr. Odham replied, "I want to thank you Bill and I want to thank you fellows. You Kiwanians started training me and I wish to give you a large part of the credit for giving me a good start."

Certified public accountants occupy a key position in the healthy development of private enterprise, Mr. Beasley told the Kiwanians.

"With this position the public accounting profession has assumed a responsibility demanding of it a constant vigilance for the best of qualifications, tested competence and application through practice of high ethical standards in defense strong enough to insure it.

He listed these are from 75 to 100 slaughter houses in the state which do not have either state or federal inspection.

Legitimate Dealers

TALLAHASSEE, May 11 (AP) — Florida's horse meat sale in state inspected plants, State veterinarian J. V. Knapp said today.

Knapp said this statement in reports from Tampa that federal inspectors had seized more than 3,000 pounds of horsemeat being sold for human consumption.

"It is fair to slaughter establishments operating under state supervision of meat inspection is authorized by law I am inclined to state that from the reports received there is no record of any horse meat being received, processed or distributed by any slaughter establishment in Florida at which state supervision is maintained."

President Urges Acheson To Bolster Solons To Hand

Acheson is in London for a series of high policy discussions with British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman.

The message came as Senate House members were trying to settle their differences over the Foreign Aid measure which is being considered by the Senate.

McKibbin Returns From Manager Meet

City Manager Clifford McKibbin returned last night from Gainesville where he attended the three-day extension course for city managers at the University of Florida and where he was elected secretary-treasurer of the Florida State City Managers Association.

The meeting resulted in an exchange of ideas between city managers on how to handle municipal problems, said Mr. McKibbin.

He was interested, he said, in a talk by Giles Patterson, Jacksonville bond attorney, to the effect that cities might be able to pledge special income toward bond issues.

Mr. Giles pointed out that the Supreme Court is getting more liberal in approving validation of bonds, and is more lenient of requests made by cities to furnish additional special services, said Mr. McKibbin.

State's Righters Blast Harry And His Bureaucrats

JACKSONVILLE, May 11 (AP) — That State's Righters consider President Truman and his advisors the greatest threat to their freedom of government was shown by every speaker on the convention program held here today.

Perez rapped the United Nations genocide convention, later officially opposed by the meeting, and devoted a major portion of his talk to charges of Communism and Socialism in federal offices.

An summer stumping tour of Texas was pledged by Bob Slinn, Baylor University student. State's Righters leaders hope to rally voters southern voters around the Slinn organization.

Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina and Gov. Fielding Wright of Mississippi were in the spotlight most of yesterday.

They were State's Righters' main targets in 1948. Thurmond flew 1,200 miles to appear on the program for 15 minutes. Wright presided over the half-filled 8,500 capacity auditorium.

Lieut. Webber said the boat was spotted by Joe Wilson, Tallahassee, fisherman. He towed the boat to the Roberts fish house at St. Marks.

Lieut. Webber quoted Wilson as saying the boat held fishing gear for four persons and a towel mark, at "Giffin Co., Rotary Club." Later a thermos bottle was picked up a half mile north of the Shirley W.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

It is better to look at the facts and then make decisions. Do not answer a matter before you hear it fully and shame to him.—Prov. 18:18.

Over in Volusia county an 83 year old man, George Goebel, made his way into a runoff race with Rep. Thomas T. Cobb, a young man of 33.

We see where one of the labor agitators who got whipped in the recent senatorial election says the Republicans spent a million dollars to defeat Senator Pepper. Well, we don't know about that. We certainly didn't see any of it. But if they did, it was money well spent.

The population of the United States is now estimated at 152,250,000, as compared with 131,669,275 in 1940, showing that wars, even great wars like the last one, tend only to raise the birth rate rather than wiping the population off the face of the earth. But what is more important to us here in Sanford is what our population figure is going to be. Have you been counted. If not, notify the Herald or the Chamber of Commerce.

Harry Truman had to go back a long way to find a scandal in a Republican administration which compares in any way to the one in which he is involved. He seems to believe that all those who oppose his present program of socializing American industry not only approved the Teapot Dome scandals but participated in them. What some of us need to point out is that we are opposed to political graft and corruption whether it is found in a Republican administration or in a Democratic one.

Tom Watson, the stormiest petrel of Florida politics, did not win the congressional election in his district, but he came mighty near doing it. He came so near, in fact, that a Supreme Court test looms to see if he gets into a runoff with Chester McMullen who led the procession. Watson got 28,130 votes to 28,101 for Jerry Collins of Sarasota who, a second tally of voting machines gave him 100 more votes than the first tally did. Should the first tally stand by Supreme Court ruling, Watson will be in the runoff.

Captain Eddie Rickenbacker pays his respect to the "pseudobonnetals, the tumbledown thinkers who constantly sell America short and was enthusiastic over former times. "I cannot understand," he said, "how people can come to the land of ours, to our shores, and enjoy the citizenship we offer them to get away from slavery, oppression and tyranny of their homes, and then capitalize on our liberties, grow into a degree of selfishness and even leadership, and deliberately turn around and kick the land and its laws and people in the back."

When Jacksonville comes fresh from a revival of free enterprise in America to add to the list of Florida's recent economic gains, the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce has a message for the nation. It is that the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce is proud to have been selected as the only Florida Chamber of Commerce to be included in the "Who's Who" of the United States.

Court-Martial Change

New reforms have been voted by Congress in the military court-martial rules. The new measure gives to enlisted defendants in all of the services the right to demand that enlisted men serve on the court which will try them, a reform already instituted by the Army. Previously, only officers served on military courts. Also a court of military appeals, composed of civilians, is created to review cases where heavy sentences are involved.

These two steps should cure some of the complaints made by enlisted men, who have frequently complained that in military justice there was favoritism for officers as compared with enlisted men. They have also complained of a sense that the commanding officer was apt to be both prosecutor and judge, a situation which in strict legal fact is no more endorsed in military law than in civilian law.

It should be noted that the historic military command attitude toward courts-martial is parallel to the police attitude toward civilian courts. The court-martial is a means to reduce a trouble-maker to order. There have been accusations that trials were summary in nature and run by rules which would not stand up in a civilian court.

If that has been so the commander concerned is to be blamed, for military law provides protections for the rights of the accused, with the presumption of innocence, at least equal of those of civil law. But undeniably there has been a different atmosphere in military courts. Perhaps that accounts for the numerous complaints which reached Congress when war service drew millions of civilians into the armed forces. Congress has now responded.

Most laymen will think that the proposed reforms are good. Americans have a deep and lasting dislike for all forms of arbitrary authority.

Republican Split

The Americans for Democratic Action, a group which puts pressure on the Democratic Party to adopt liberal measures, may have its Republican counterpart. Liberal Republicans who are not totally satisfied with the much advertised party leaders are talking of forming a similar Republican group. A statement of principles has been distributed among leading Republicans, and if the demand is strong enough, a national conference will be called.

Ever had such a movement not arisen, every follower of the news has known that there is a liberal Republican wing as well as the dominant conservative. This split goes back at least fifty years, originating chiefly in Wisconsin and Iowa. In Wisconsin the Robert M. La Follette organization was for years anti-conservative. The Iowa revolt, led by Governor Albert B. Cummins, later senator, is less well known. It stood chiefly for tariff reduction, which became known as "the Iowa idea". Out of its disaffection developed the 1909 revolt against the Taft administration's Payne-Aldrich tariff, and the bolt headed by Theodore Roosevelt in 1912.

The Roosevelt bolt drained off many progressives into Democratic party and discouraged others. But the needs of revolt remained, and have blossomed into the present movement.

A Neglected Game

Why do some athletic sports fail to get the popularity that their merits seem to deserve? This question had been raised anew by devotees of the old Canadian game of lacrosse, which has been imported into this country, but has not made much headway outside of the East. The headquarters of the game may be said to be in Maryland, which has more lacrosse followers than any other state.

Lacrosse is played with a stick about five feet long, having a pocket at one end made of catgut. The ball may be carried in this pocket or tossed to another player by swinging the stick. The aim is to put the ball into the other team's goal, by a toss of the stick or cross, as it is generally called. The opposing team tries to prevent this by knocking the ball out of the pocket; in the process the player possessing the ball may get a healthy rap; but no enthusiast objects to that.

Few games offer more exercise than this product of Canadian Indian ingenuity. It is surprising that it has not become more popular.

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

British foreign minister Bevin and U. S. Secretary of State Acheson are up against a particularly tough problem in their London discussion of ways and means for winning the cold war.

They are confronted with the pressing need of safeguarding the economic position of the democracies, while at the same time they must provide a military security which is sapping the economic life.

It is a vicious circle which has been produced by Soviet strategy. However, many close observers hold that the Western nations have been contributing (inadvertently, but none the less contributing) to the success of this Russian scheme through lack of organization.

The London Times (Liberal with Conservative leanings) declares that "at no time since the war have Western statesmen gathered in graver circumstances."

The Times says that far more has been heard recently about the habits and differences that divide the Western powers than about the tremendous enterprises and common interests that unite them.

The paper thinks the reverse in Asia have found the West without an answer, and believes the answer lies in the direction of more effective organization of the military power and material resources of the Atlantic community.

Of course the question of how to increase European unity is one of the paramount questions being considered by Messrs. Acheson and Bevin. And we impatient onlookers must recognize that it's far easier to state the problem than to solve it.

The economic interests of Western Europe are so complicated that in some instances they oppose one another. Moreover, Europe as a whole took a terrific beating in the World War and the money which must now be expended for military preparedness is needed for rehabilitation.

A concrete illustration of this complicated situation can be seen in Germany. It is agreed generally that the economic rehabilitation of Germany is vital to the recovery of Western Europe. But British is fearful of German competition in trade, and France is afraid of a militarily strong Germany.

This gives a bird's eye glimpse of the Western situation, but it's only part of the story. We must not forget that this cold war is a two front war, and the Western powers are up against an equally stiff and in many respects more complicated position in Asia.

Part of the past lack of unity among the Western powers is due to the fact that some countries have clung to the wishful thinking that, after all, Russia would in due course abandon her cold war and play ball with the West.

One-eighth of greater Winnipeg now is under water. Thousands of homes are flooded. No drop in the river's level is anticipated for some days. When it comes, it is expected to be slow.

Women, children and older people today were leaving the city by train, bus, truck, car and even aircraft. Jammed extra coaches on all outbound trains took them to Brandon, Man.; Kenora, Ont., an airport farther away. Special trains and motor convoys went to resort towns on Lake Winnipeg, 50 miles to the north, where the Red empties.

Tuberculosis patients and the aged from flooded institutions left for Saskatchewan. Even as they left, more thousands poured in from suburbs and the submerged Red River valley to the safety of the city's slowly-rising heart.

Too Late To Classify

By RUSSELL RAY

With the Pepper-Smithers melee over, public interest in politics and the second primary has waned almost to the vanishing point. This is unfortunate for many important decisions remain to be made.

Voters should be just as concerned over the selection of a member of the state legislature as in choosing a United States Senator. Because of the heat connected with the "main event" in the first primary, contests in the other brackets have been largely discounted.

Florida may point with genuine pride to the largest registration and largest vote in history, and we should now follow through the ring up a big vote in the second primary.

Although this column is written nearly a week after the election voters in Hillsborough county still don't know who they will be called on to vote for in the Congressional race. The first primary resulted in putting Chester B. McMullen out in front. To the tune of about 22,000 but Jerry Collins of Sarasota and Tom Watson of Tampa have been jockeying for second place. One day Watson is declared winner while the other day McMullen is.

If voting machines are no more reliable than that and if blocks of a hundred votes or more can be overlooked or go uncounted, maybe it would be a lot less expensive if we just let the candidate draw out straws. The whole thing sounds awfully screwy to me. If it develops that Collins is definitely in the run-off with McMullen, he will have a tough time overcoming the lead McMullen enjoys run-off with McMullen. McMullen would do well to keep this in mind. Tom would certainly be a colorful figure in the halls of Congress and could be depended upon to oppose the administration on those measures that would center more power in Washington, encourage more deficit spending and further curtail the rights of the states and the freedom of the people. Tom would be a born in Florida and would offer no comfort to labor, but as a congressman he'd keep the world informed that Florida had human rights, elected representatives in its own right, Chester McMullen or Jerry Collins would prove to be more or less run-of-the-mill congressmen; they would not be spectacular and would be inclined to play ball with the administration which, of course, would be pleasing indeed to Mr. Truman and his bureaucratic planners.

Members of the next Florida legislature will be called upon to decide a great many problems of vital importance. They will have to expand state government, to find more money if we can. Schools are already screaming for additional funds; all departments, boards and bureaus will want increased appropriations and it is quite possible that an across-the-board sales tax will result.

Voters should carefully consider the candidates in legislative run-offs and select the man they feel will best serve them in Tallahassee. The tax load will not be lessened, but if economy-minded men look about they could probably find ways and means of reducing cost of state government so that such increases as are imposed will not be too great a burden. What do you as a voter know about candidates you must consider in the second primary? Do their statements and promises mean anything? Can they be depended upon to speak for you in Tallahassee?

It will pay you to take a little time now and fully acquaint yourself before you go to the polls on May 23. And by all means go to the polls and vote. Don't get the foolish idea that the second primary is of no importance. It is plenty important and you are just as much obligated as an American citizen to vote in this election as you were to cast your ballot on May 2.

If you must work or go fishing or have other pressing demands, don't let it interfere with this business of voting. No one could have anything to do on Tuesday, May 23, that is of greater importance than voting. Let's follow splendid voting record for Florida in the second primary. Ballots will be short and it will only take a little time.

This Time The Anti-Trust Lawyers Won A Case Against A&P

As almost everyone now knows, the anti-trust lawyers in Washington have brought a civil suit to destroy A&P. They ask the courts to order the dissolution of this company.

They say that this suit is based on the fact that they won a suit against us at Danville, Illinois, in 1948.

They did. In that case, Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley made a decision against A&P.

Immediately thereafter, in a letter explaining his decision, Judge Lindley wrote:

"I have not condemned the A&P system.
I have not made a finding which could be the basis for a suit of dissolution."

So, now we have the anti-trust lawyers saying that their suit to dissolve A&P is based on Judge Lindley's decision; while Judge Lindley himself says his decision could not be the basis for a suit of dissolution.

In previous ads we told you about the cases against A&P which the anti-trust lawyers lost. We promised to tell you about this case they won. Here is the story of the Danville case.

What Judge Lindley Objected To

At Danville, the anti-trust lawyers made all of the charges which they are again making against A&P today. They were substantially the same charges they had made and dropped at Dallas, Texas, after four federal judges had objected to some of them as "inflammatory." In his decision, Judge Lindley was critical of some of our activities. He threw some of the charges out of court. He did not make any decision on others.

He even took occasion to praise A&P for the efficient job of food distribution it had done.

Judge Lindley said:

"To buy, sell and distribute to a substantial portion of 130,000,000 people, one and three-quarter billion dollars worth of food annually at a profit of 1 1/2 cents on each dollar, is an achievement one may well be proud of."

"No place in the world I take it are people so well fed as in the United States. Nowhere else, I suppose, do food distributors accomplish efficient distribution at so low a margin of profit. In contrast, we are told in other nations the problem is not one of an adequate diet but one of no diet at all."

But Judge Lindley did find us in violation of the Sherman Act. He based his ruling on the dual role played by our fresh fruit and vegetable buying subsidiary, the Atlantic Commission Company, whereby that organization acted both as buying agent for A&P and as selling agent for growers.

Judge Lindley said:

"If I assume for the purpose of disposition of this case that in general the policy of A&P was to operate within the law and attribute to defendants a desire to comply with the law, there still remains the conscious, knowing adoption by all defendants of a plan of action by the Atlantic Commission Company affecting every department of A&P and every retail store which cannot be squared with the intent and purpose of the act."

In his letter explaining the decision, Judge Lindley wrote: "I have condemned their practices through the Atlantic Commission Company."

Judge Lindley imposed fines totaling $175,000. When his decision was upheld by the Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago, we paid the fines. This ended the case—but we did not stop there.

What We Did To Correct This

In the light of the decision, we immediately set about reviewing our activities to be sure that there could never again be any criticism of our operations.

First, the Atlantic Commission Company abandoned the dual role to which Judge Lindley objected and which he said was the basis of his decision against us.

We did this even though the Atlantic Commission Company had been licensed for many years by the United States Department of Agriculture to act as both a buyer and seller of fresh fruits and vegetables.

The Atlantic Commission Company now only buys for A&P. In other words, we stopped doing the thing which Judge Lindley said put us in violation of the Sherman Act.

We made additional changes in other methods of operation which Judge Lindley had questioned at Danville, even though he did not base his decision on them.

We did even more than this!

We went down to Washington and asked the anti-trust lawyers what else they thought we should do to conform to their new interpretation of the vague anti-trust laws.

The only answer we ever got was that we should break up this company!

Despite their claim that they were not opposed to A&P's size, they insisted that we destroy this size.

Despite their claim that they were not opposed to our manufacturing operations, they insisted that we get rid of our factories which produce many of the fine foods you buy at A&P.

Despite their claim that they were not opposed to our low prices, they insisted that we destroy many of the efficiencies that make these low prices possible.

In other words, they insisted upon the dissolution of A&P.

We were still trying to find out from the anti-trust lawyers what else they thought we should do to conform to the law when they filed the current suit to destroy A&P.

Why, Then, Do They Want To Put A&P Out Of Business?

Ever since this suit was filed, the anti-trust lawyers have been making damaging statements that could seriously hurt our business if they were believed by the public.

They say that we were found guilty at Danville of all the charges they are making today. This is not true. Judge Lindley did not sustain all of the charges of the anti-trust lawyers.

They say this suit is designed to enforce the law.

But A&P has clearly demonstrated its sincere desire to abide by the spirit, as well as the letter, of the law.

They say they are seeking to "enjoin" A&P from engaging in certain "alleged" practices. Actually, the whole purpose of this suit is not to "enjoin" us, but to put us out of business.

They say that this suit for dissolution is based on the decision handed down by Judge Lindley in Danville.

But Judge Lindley has said of his decision: "I have not made a finding which could be the basis for a suit of dissolution."

What, then, is the real reason why the anti-trust lawyers want to destroy this company, which for 80 years has pioneered the methods of distribution which have given the American people more good food for their money?

President Says He Will Continue To Battle Labor Law

Truman Declares T-H Act Threatens To Eradicate Labor Gains Of 15 Years

BUTTE, Mont., May 12—(AP)—President Truman said today he will not "cease to fight" for the repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

"The Taft-Hartley law hangs over the head of labor, threatening to destroy the gains of 15 years," he said.

"There it will hang until we are able to replace it with a law that is fair to management and labor alike."

The President, in one of a series of major talks on his cross-country crusade for the fair deal, said:

"That is something we must do, not only for the sake of labor, but for the sake of the whole country."

"I believe profoundly that the Taft-Hartley act is a substantial infringement of the basic freedom to bargain collectively."

Mr. Truman's address, arranged for the rear platform of his cross-country special train, was one of a series in which he has been trying to whip up sentiment for the Fair Deal.

The President said that the "avowed intention" of the sponsors of the Taft-Hartley law "was to strengthen the hand of management."

"To do this," Mr. Truman said, "they devised a clever law which in effect would remove the strength of labor unions."

Mr. Truman struck back against critics of his "Fair Deal" program.

"All of you, I am sure," the President said, "have heard many times about government interference with business."
