Man Denies Molesting Girl, But Fails Lie Detector

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

A Sanford man who failed a lie detector test testified today he did not assault a 6-year-old girl who said she was molested by him after he picked her up at a day school.

Reginald Grant, 20, of 2029 Airport Blvd., denied on the witness stand he ever picked the girl up at school, although he did say he regularly collected two adopted brothers at the center.

Grant's testimony came in the second day of trial. The case is expected to go to the six-member jury today.

Grant is charged with sexual battery on a child under 11 and committing a lewd and lascivious act. He was indicted by a grand jury in November and faces life in prison if convicted.

Grant was accused of the crimes after the girl, now age 7, was diagnosed in October as having syphilis.

According to court records, the girl's mother took her to a doctor because the girl had sores around her mouth and in her nose. She had genital sores during the summer but they went away following non-medical treatment by the girl's grandmother, records show.

After the diagnosis was made, the girl's mother suspected someone other than Grant. When interviewed, however, the girl said Grant was the attacker. The alleged incident occurred between

Girl Faces Heart Surgery

A 6-year-old girl with just three-quarters of a heart keeping her alive needs community support for upcoming surgery that could cost hundreds of thousands of dollars, according to her friends at Beta Sigma Phi of Sanford.

Arlena Twigg, one of eight children of Ernie and Regina Twigg of Orange City, is scheduled to have a catheter put in her heart today in preparation of surgery later this spring. The operation today is being performed at Shands Teaching Hospital in Gainesville.

Arlena's mother is a member of Beta Sigma Phi, an international woman's social group whose local chapter is spearheading donations for the child, according to Betty Jack, a BSP member. Her father works for Amtrak in Sanford.

Ms. Jack said Arlena needs heart surgery because her heart has only three, instead of four, chambers causing her frail condition. Surgeons had hoped to postpone any operation until the girl was at least 9, but complications and failing health have forced the surgery as soon as possible.

Because of the extreme complexity of operating on such a heart — she was also born with reversed vessels to the heart — Arlena will probably have to go out-of-state for the delicate surgery which could cost hundreds of thousands of dollars, Ms. Jack said.

Since Mrs. Twigg is a member of Beta Sigma Phi — the chapter has designated Arlena "Little Miss Beta Sigma Phi" and kicked off a fundraising campaign Monday which coincided with the beginning of Beta Sigma Phi week.

Donations can be made to the "Arlena Twigg-Little Miss Beta Sigma Phi Fund" either by mailing a check to P.O. Box

Knowles: DER May Concede Sanford Not Polluting Lake

By Rick Brunson
Herald Staff Writer

Chances look better that Sanford may be allowed to upgrade its Poplar Avenue sewage plant instead of paying $43 million for a landspreading system, according to a report by City Manager Warren "Pete" Knowles.

If so, city utility customers will be saved a predicted $40 a month jump in their bills.

The state Department of Environmental Regulation decided the city should convert to a landspreading method after it determined the city's dumping of treated sewage into Lake Monroe was polluting the lake. Sanford disputed the charge.

But following a continuation of hearings on the matter that began in Sanford in February, Knowles returned fairly optimistic. He said convincing testimony showed the DER the city is not harming Lake Monroe by dumping treated effluent in it every day.

In a report on the hearings, held in Tallahassee, Knowles told the city commission a legal team representing the city did its job well.

Knowles, City Attorney Bill Colbert and City Manager-designate Frank Faison attended the hearings.

Knowles said because of the testimony of expert witnesses, the city is in a good position to "handle the problem of the wastewater treatment plant disposal in the most cost-efficient and feasible manner."

The DER, after testing the lake in 1981, ruled that treated effluent from the Poplar Avenue sewage plant was polluting the lake and said if the city didn't stop the practice it would be denied a new permit to operate the plant.

But the DER renewed the permit in January, allowing it to keep operating until September 1987. But the department still wants the city to stop dumping effluent in the lake. It prefers the city to go to the more expensive practice of landspreading, which means sewage would be treated and pumped to a 2,000-acre tract of land, probably west of the city, and spread over the ground.

That system would cost the city about $43 million and would have to be built and paid for right away. As a result, Sanford's utility customers' bills would jump about $40 a month.

Instead of landspreading, the

Wekiva Panel Gets No-Go

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

County Commissioner Bob Sturm's plan to name a "task force" to study and seek solutions to environmental problems in the Wekiva River basin failed Tuesday on a vote of 3-2.

Commissioner Barbara Christensen supported his concept, but colleagues Bill Kirchhoff, Sandra Glenn and Fred Streetman voted it down.

With representatives of the "Friends of the Wekiva River," an environmental group and the League of Women Voters of Seminole County, supporting the idea from the audience, Streetman began the move to turn down the proposal by saying all the data which the advisory committee could collect could be gathered more easily and more rapidly by county staff personnel.

Kirchhoff, handed a written copy of Sturm's proposal at the county commission meeting, said he hadn't had a chance to look at it. Sturm said he was completing a re-draft of his proposal at 9 a.m. prior to the 9:30 a.m. commission meeting.

Sturm suggested the appointment of a 17-member task force, composed of staff personnel from Seminole, Lake and Orange counties, (all of which have some portion of the Wekiva basin within their boundaries), and environmentalists, homeowners and developers.

The task force would have been charged with conducting studies within the river basin, to come up with solutions if problems were found and report back to the county commission by May 1, 1986.

Sturm suggested the panel after a workshop with members of the Friends of the Wekiva. The group had asked the county to stop development in the Wekiva basin until a study was completed to assess the results of development there. They had also appealed to the governor to designate the area one of "critical state concern" which

Skateboard Flap Goes To Committee

Longwood Wants Ramps Out Of Neighborhoods

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

Having decided residential neighborhoods are not the place for skateboard ramps, Longwood City Commissioners tossed the hot potato to its Parks and Recreation Advisory Committee for study.

Several persons attending Tuesday night's worksession volunteered to work with the committee to determine the feasibility of building a skateboard ramp in a city park and how and if insurance, materials and labor could be obtained for the project. The also said they would be willing to contribute labor or materials.

In a report to the commission, City Administrator Don Terry said it doesn't appear feasible to allow the skateboard ramps to remain in residential neighborhoods due to noise and the fact they are eyesores. He recommended if backyard skateboards ramps are permitted they should be setback at least 25 feet from the property line and written permission should be obtained from residents within 500 feet and they would have to obtain building permits. He also suggested hours of use be limited, a $200 impact fee be charged and minimum construction standards be imposed.

Alternatives suggested were to build one or more skateboard ramps in city parks, lease land in a park to a group who would sponsor the activity, encourage private enterprise to build and operate them, or cooperate with other cities and the county through the Council of Local Governments to build a ramp in one location for county skateboarders.

The commission discussed experiences with skateboard ramps reported by other cities. Virginia Beach, Va., stated their ramp had been fairly successful and their initial cost was $36,925 including construction, liability insurance, maintenance, and supervision. The city reported that after one year there was some deterioration of the ramp.

Terry reminded commissioners that all available funds have been allocated for the remainder of the fiscal year which ends Sept. 30. However, the city parks and recreation department hopes to get reimbursed for the funds being expended to complete Relter Park when the $18,000 state grant is received.

Jim Craft, design engineer and a leading proponent of skateboard ramps, said his skateboard ramp cost a lot less to build than the $7,000 which Virginia Beach said it cost them to construct one. He said Longwood could build a 16 foot wide ramp for less than $4,000.

City officials, concerned about potential lawsuits arising from possible injuries, said that were not able to find a company willing to insure skateboard ramps, but Craft said he had located several who would — at least for a proposed one-day exhibition and contest in the city.

It was also agreed some type of user fee would have to be charged to pay for a paid supervisor and maintenance if a ramp is built by the city.

Longwood was advised by one Seminole County city: "Don't designate it as a skateboard ramp. When you do, it immediately becomes a

House Turns To Alternatives On Nicaragua

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House turned today to a pair of home-grown plans to help the victims of Nicaragua's civil strife as alternatives to President Reagan's defeated $14 million aid package for the anti-Sandinista rebels.

The Democratic-dominated House killed the Reagan measure 248-180 shortly after the GOP-led Senate passed it 53-46 Tuesday night.

A long day of fitful debate and closed negotiations and a last-minute offer of concessions by the president failed to produce a compromise before the Senate upheld Reagan and the House handed him a stinging, but expected, foreign policy setback.

In Nicaragua, the government radio interrupted regular programming to declare the House vote "a disastrous defeat for President Reagan."

House Republican leader Robert Michel made a final futile plea for Reagan's bill: "If we abandon the democratic forces of Nicaragua, they join that long, tragic forced march toward the grave. ... Listen to the voices of the doomed innocents."

First up in the House today was a proposal by Reps. Michael Barnes, D-Md., Hamilton and a handful of liberal Republicans that would provide $10 million for humanitarian aid and $4 million for the Contadora countries — Mexico, Venezuela, Colombia and Panama — to administer any peaceful solution they are able to bring to the area.

The second proposal, by Michel, would provide $14 million in humanitarian assistance to the Contras through the Agency for International Development.

It would not permit the money to be used for arms and it drops Reagan's provision for a CIA role in its distribution, but critics argued it would free Contra money for buying weapons.

Secretary of State George Shultz, who with Vice President George Bush led the Capitol Hill battle for the Reagan measure, quickly got behind Michel's plan.

"We are in there to win," Shultz said. "That (measure) combined with what the Senate has done provides the basis for a conference and support for those who are fighting for freedom in our hemisphere."

Earlier, Rep. Lee Hamilton, D-Ind., chairman of the House Intelligence Committee, argued for political, diplomatic and economic action in Nicaragua.

"If those measures fail," he said, "and it becomes necessary to exercise the military option, let us do it openly and not ask someone else to do it for us."

One Ham And Cheese With Velcro Please

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) — Making a sandwich in space can be difficult.

Shuttle Discovery astronaut Rhea Seddon told reporters Tuesday the crew found "you have to hold at least one piece of bread in your mouth as you smear on your mustard."

Jeffrey Hoffman said he had trouble eating an apple the first few days of their mission.

"You get used to everything having Velcro in space so you can put it against the wall when you're not using it," said Hoffman. "Nobody's developed an apple with Velcro on it."

Not that Hoffman didn't try.

"I couldn't get Velcro to stick to it," he said. "I devised all sorts of clever ways to tether apples and tie them down."

"It really took me about two days before realizing you could just take a bite of it and leave it there and grab it when you needed it again."

NATION IN BRIEF

Reagan Puts Clout On The Line In Defending Huge Budget Cuts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan is putting his political prestige on the line in today's nationally televised address defending a Republican budget that cuts $52 billion from programs affecting millions of Americans.

The Senate was set to take up the budget today but leaders said votes would probably be delayed in deference to the president's 30-minute speech, scheduled for 8 p.m.

Reagan told the National Association of Realtors Tuesday that a proposed 3 percent growth rate for defense spending next fiscal year was "rock bottom" and the Pentagon cannot be "a whipping boy" for wasteful domestic programs.

He decided to make the nationally televised address at the behest of Senate GOP leader Robert Dole and other Republican leaders, who want a presidential push for the need to reduce the nearly $230 deficit to $100 billion in the next three years.

It was not clear whether the president would pinpoint the numerous programs he intends to eliminate or cut.

Going Home A Time For Tears

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI) — Wealthy socialite Claus von Bulow did not say anything when he strolled into his palatial oceanside estate for the first time since being accused of trying to kill his wife four years ago. He just cried.

The family's two golden retrievers bounded up to greet von Bulow Tuesday just inside an 8-foot wall that surrounds the Newport mansion where he allegedly twice tried to murder his heiress wife with insulin injections.

The tall, aristocratic 58-year-old jet-setter has maintained a calm public demeanor throughout his trial. But when he saw his wife's beloved dogs, he broke down and began dabbling his brimming eyes with a handkerchief.

Von Bulow's return to the Clarendon Court estate coincided with a tour of the mansion by jurors in his attempted murder retrial. The jury of 11 women and four men took about 45 minutes to tour the two-story, 20-room stone house.

Von Bulow's two stepchildren, who initiated the investigation that led to his arrest and 1982 conviction, banished him from the estate after their mother sank into a coma.

Teamsters Chief Refuses To Talk

CHICAGO (UPI) — A member of the President's Commission on Organized Crime says Jackie Presser's silence before the commission raises questions about the Justice Department's failure to indict the Teamsters Union president.

Presser, leader of 1.4 million Teamsters and friend of President Reagan, invoked his 5th Amendment right against self-incrimination 15 times Tuesday during a commission hearing considering the links between organized crime and organized labor.

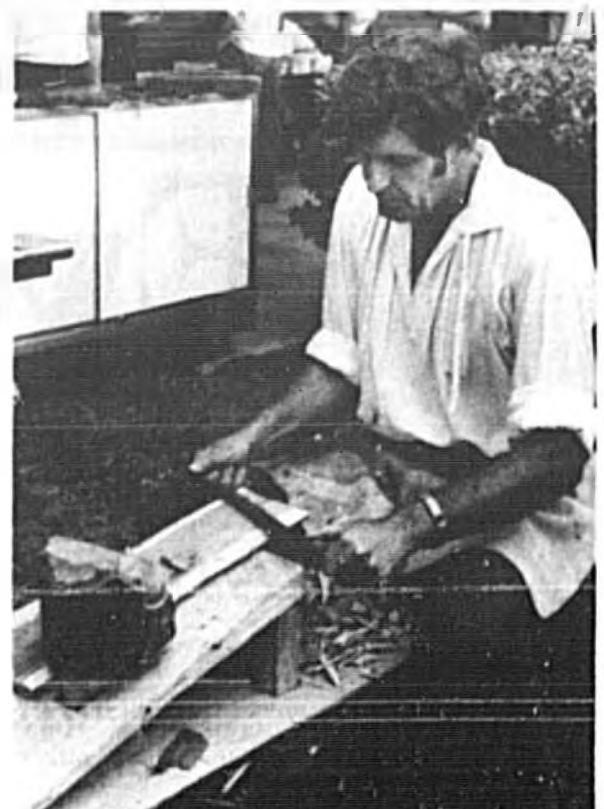

After meeting in executive session, the commission agreed to delay any future appearances by Presser until legal research could be done on the issue. Presser could face civil contempt charges for refusing to answer questions.

Commission member Eugene Methvin said enough evidence exists to indict Presser on charges that he hired "ghost" employees for the Cleveland local he headed before gaining control of the international union.

Sam Ervin, Chief Of Watergate Probe, Dead At 88

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (UPI) — Former Sen. Sam Ervin, the country lawyer who as chief of the Senate Watergate investigation refused to allow President Nixon to put himself above the law, died Tuesday.

Ervin, who was 88, died at 4:15 p.m. Tuesday of respiratory failure brought on by a three-week bout with emphysema, gall bladder surgery and kidney failure.

Ervin, who retired four months after Nixon left office, spent 20 years in the Senate, but he was best known for his role as the feisty country lawyer who pursued the Watergate scandal all the way to the White House.

"I cannot excuse anything that Richard Nixon did," Ervin once said. "He thought he was above the constitutional laws."

Former Watergate special prosecutor James Neal recalled Ervin as a man driven by righteous indignation at the excesses of the president and his aides.

"I have a mental image of Senator Ervin," Neal said. "I have an image of his jaws shaking when he was indignant at one of the responses. He was a great American, deeply committed to the Bill of Rights."

Ervin, who suffered lymphatic cancer in his later years, was hospitalized March 30 for abdominal pain, emphysema and an infected gall bladder at Grace Hospital in Morganton, his hometown.

He underwent gall bladder surgery and developed kidney failure, prompting his transfer Monday to Baptist Hospital.

Ervin underwent kidney dialysis at Baptist Hospital and was put on the critical list earlier Tuesday. Hospital officials said family members, including his 82-year-old wife, Margaret, were at his bedside when he died.

Family members gathered at their Morganton home early today to plan his burial in the Blue Ridge foothills of North Carolina.

Ervin became a folk hero with his quick wit, often telling a tale as he presided over hearings by the Senate Select Committee on Presidential Campaign Activities — the Watergate committee.

But he also drew fire for his tenacity in questioning witnesses, and told one critic, "I'm just an old country lawyer and I don't know the finer ways to do it. I just have to do it my own way."

Impatient Bandit Gets Only $1

The robber demanded money. The victim wanted to keep his driver's license and I.D. The robber got impatient and wound up settling for all his victim's cash — $1.

The episode began at 1:24 a.m. today at Butler Plaza near Casselberry. According to a Seminole County sheriff's report, John G. Carr, 29, of 6603-A Palmera Ave., was walking across the plaza parking lot off state Road 436 when a car pulled up alongside him.

The passenger jumped from the car and said, "Give me your wallet."

Carr asked the bandit, whom he feared was armed with a knife or a gun, if he could keep his license and other identification. The robber answered by beginning to count to 10, the report said.

Carr threw a $1 bill at the man and kept his wallet.

The suspect took the bill, jumped back in his car and he and his companion fled north on SR 436, the report said.

CROWBAR THROW

A 20-year-old Sanford man was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond on a charge of aggravated battery after allegedly hitting another man on the arm with a crowbar during a dispute.

According to a sheriff's report, the suspect was arguing with Harrison Neal Cutron, 24, of Deltona, when he allegedly threatened Cutron with a board. Cutron told Seminole County sheriff's deputies he pulled a knife and warned the man to stay away from him. But as he turned away the man reportedly threw a crowbar and punctured Cutron's upper left arm, the report said.

The suspect reportedly picked up another board and prepared to renew the attack on Cutron, but a witness stepped in and broke up the fight, which occurred at Fuller Builders, Church Street, Lake Monroe, at about 10 a.m. Monday. Cutron was treated and released from Central Florida Regional Hospital, Sanford.

Joseph William Leandri, of 107 Garrison Drive, was arrested at the scene at about 11 a.m. Monday.

POT & COKE

At about 3 p.m. Monday, police charged a patron of Joe's Pool Room, 1301 W. 13th St., Sanford, with possession of a controlled substance after finding small quantities of both cocaine and marijuana in his possession.

Police said they found seven foil packets of cocaine left in an area where they first spotted the suspect and an additional packet of pot was reportedly found in his pants pocket.

John Thomas White Jr., 22, of 1703 W. 4th St., Sanford, was arrested and freed on $500 bond.

BURGLARIES & THEFTS

Henry Pruitt, 55, of 3075 Tuskawilla Road S., Oviedo, gave deputies the name of a suspect to whom he loaned his 1979 Ford pickup truck worth $2,500. The vehicle was taken on April 18 and not returned when it should have been, a sheriff's report said.

Jewelry worth $7,205, and two video recorders with a combined value of about $1,500 were stolen along with other items from the home of Yvonne B. Vick, 51, of 469 Eagle Circle, Casselberry, between 7:45 a.m. and 2:45 p.m. Monday, deputies reported.

A thief took a tool box and tools worth $550, additional power tools and two chainsaws from a tool cabinet at the home of Daniel Sandoval Sr., of 904 Shelia Place, Apopka, on Sunday or Monday, a sheriff's report said.

Over $1,000 worth of items including fishing gear, a stereo and an air compressor were stolen from the home and car of Donald D. Hardee, 34, of 3427 Gleaves Court, Apopka, on Sunday or Monday, deputies said. Also on Gleaves Court, at #3550, Anthony R. Icenogle, 24, reported that at about the same time his truck was burglarized and cash, a knife, speakers, tools and other items were stolen. d

James Edward Winne, 29, of 3607 Leota Drive, Apopka, reported to deputies that a $400 air compressor and $60 worth of tools were stolen from his home on Sunday or Monday.

A thief took 4,000 feet of aluminum, the remains of road signs, worth $1,600 from an open field at 2400 Camp Road, Oviedo, between Friday and Monday. The aluminum belongs to the Florida Department of Transportation.

A $4,000 diamond ring was stolen from the home of Martha C. Souza, 36, of 300 Lake Drive, Chuluota, between Saturday and Monday, a sheriff's report said.

Vernon Louis Brown, 67, of 405 Westchester Drive, Altamonte Springs, reported to deputies that a $790 set of golf clubs were stolen from the Sabal Point Country Club, Longwood, on Saturday or Sunday.

The 1972 Chevrolet of Walter L. Snow Jr., 19, of Wilma Street, Longwood, was stolen from the Post Time Lounge, U.S. Highway 17-92, Longwood at about midnight Saturday. A sheriff's report said the car is valued at $600.

Nancy Teresa Williams of 160 Alder Ave., Altamonte Springs, reported to deputies that a suspect she loaned her 1972 Buick to did not bring the vehicle back Sunday as promised.

Joan B. Nave, 35, of 412 Holly Court, Winter Springs, left her purse on the counter at Burger King, U.S. Highway 17-92, Fern Park, and a thief lifted it at about 2:30 p.m. Sunday. Deputies said the purse and its contents including $125 cash have a total value of $536.

A thief took $805 worth of boating gear including a marine radio telephone from the boat of Jeffrey Chester Ball, 29, of 618 Georgetown Drive, Casselberry, on Friday or Saturday, a sheriff's report said. The boat was parked in a lot at his home.

—Betsy O'Brien, 21, of 503 Greenbriar Blvd., Altamonte Springs, at 1:33 a.m. Sunday after her car was involved in an accident on state Road 436.

—Theodore R. Callahan, 27, of 508 Prairie Lake Drive, Fern Park, at 2:30 a.m. Sunday on Wilshire Boulevard at Brighton Street, Casselberry, after his car failed to maintain a single lane. He was also charged with driving with a suspended driver's license.

'Gold Card' Scam Operating In Seminole

If you receive a telephone call telling you that you've won a trip to Hawaii you may end up a loser in a nation-wide credit card scam. So far three Seminole County residents have reported being barked through the bogus contest and deputies say there are probably more victims.

Seminole County Sheriff John Polk said the callers operate as "The Gold Card Travel Club." Victims, who are picked at random from telephone books, are told the call is from a California organization. The victims are informed that they have won a trip to Hawaii or other prizes, but the caller claims he or she must have a credit card number from the victim, so they can qualify for the prizes, Polk said.

Once the caller gets the credit card number that information is passed on to an "unscrupulous merchant who will issue false charges against that particular number," Polk said.

No prizes are ever received by the victims, but they become aware of the swindle when items they didn't purchase appear on their credit card accounts, he said. The calls are usually long distance and made from outside Florida.

The Trade Imbalance

Congress is in an uproar. Resolutions have been passed and bills introduced demanding that President Reagan do something about America's huge trade deficit — $33 billion on a merchandise basis — with the Japanese. The Japanese have sent a high-level envoy to Washington to soothe the ruffled feathers.

At the same time, President Reagan is under criticism for transferring U.S. Trade Representative William Brock to the Labor Department and replacing him with Clayton Yeutter, president of the Chicago Mercantile Exchange and a former deputy trade representative. Despite Mr. Yeutter's formidable credentials, some in Congress charge that the president is "weakening" the trade representative's office at a critical time.

The criticism of the Yeutter appointment is simply wrong-headed, and the fury over U.S.-Japanese trade relations is not entirely on point. To concentrate on one set of numbers at one point in time between only two trading partners is misleading. In any trading system, there will always be trade deficits with some nations and trade surpluses with others. And between any trading partners, a trade deficit in one year may turn into a trade surplus in another.

For some time, the United States has been fixated on our trade relations with the Japanese. We also, however, have a $10 billion trade deficit with the Europeans. But in 1982 and in 1983, we enjoyed a trade surplus with the Europeans, which means they must have had a trade deficit with us. And nobody seems all that upset about our second-largest trade deficit — $20 billion — with Canada.

It is true that the Japanese could make their market more open to American products. But, as Japan's special envoy, Deputy Foreign Minister Yuji Ikeda, points out, U.S. exports to Japan rose 7.7 percent last year. Between 1981 and 1983, Mr. Ikeda noted, U.S. computer exports to Japan increased 27 percent; telephone terminals, 16 percent; communications and broadcasting equipment, 29 percent; and semiconductors, 50 percent.

There are other things at work besides Japanese chicanery. First, the U.S. economy is booming, which naturally tends to pull in goods from abroad. Second, the dollar's rise against other currencies may have the effect of depressing U.S. exports in the short run.

Lastly, the overall U.S. trade deficit has widened sharply by Third World insolvency; many countries in shaky financial condition simply can't afford to buy our goods in normal quantities, but are exporting like mad to industrialize countries to earn enough money to pay off their debts. Erecting barriers to trade is the surest way we know to trigger global financial collapse that the self-same Congress has been worrying so much about.

If Japan were to be closed out of U.S. markets, it would be forced to dump its goods in other markets, crowding out our own exports and spreading the trade war. There is no way to bash just one trading partner without injuring others — and ourselves. In any case, there's no reason to think our trade balance with Japan will keep deteriorating at the rate it has in the last few years. Even Japan is subject to the normal laws of economic equilibrium.

The congressional outburst of recent weeks probably had more to do with frustration of being unable to solve any of our problems at home, including the deficit, than with a serious appraisal of the trade situation. But it also showed that the protectionist virus is never far below the surface, and Japan toys with it at our common peril.

At the "economic summit" in May, President Reagan plans to call for a new round of multilateral trade talks. We hope the industrialized nations endorse it. Multilateral negotiations, conducted away from the direct glare of publicity, are the best way to deal with this sensitive and dangerous problem.

All The World's a Highway...

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Speaking of milestones and millstones, which many Americans are doing this year, let us not forget that 1985 also is the 29th anniversary of the interstate highway system.

If cost overruns on modern defense contracts strike you as unduly heavy, consider this:

In 1956, when President Eisenhower's signature created the Highway Trust Fund, construction costs for the interstate system were forecast at $27 billion.

That figure has now been boosted to $130 billion. And the 42,500-mile system ain't finished yet.

The time overrun may be even more severe than the cost overrun. The original act of Congress envisioned completion in 1970. It probably will be 1990 before the last concrete is poured.

It therefore seems unlikely unlike the highway system will end in a year divisible by five. So let the good times roll now.

Road contractors responsible for the overruns at least can claim service-connected disabilities. With all the civilian trucks whizzing by, it is easy to overlook the fact that the official name is the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways.

Moreover, some Pentagon planners regard it as inadequate for defense needs.

Does that sound familiar? Does it remind you of any weapons system you know? Well, then, read on.

I know not whether differences between Soviet military roads and America's interstate system amount to a "highway gap," but I do feel the Pentagon is entitled to build its own matching roads.

Having to share our highways with civilian trucks and autos — not to mention the 55 mph speed limit — is bound to hamper military convoys.

Advantages of interstate system motoring include median strips between two-directional traffic. I would say, however, that the main boon has been the interchanges.

After Eisenhower signed the legislation, there were computer studies showing the number of jobs the largest public works program in history would create. Although these predictions may have come to pass, the computers apparently did not measure the impact of exit ramps.

It has been pointed out that the interstate system links 90 percent of American cities of more than 50,000 population and has fostered entire new business centers.

Amen to the latter. I predict that eventually interstate towns with fewer than 50,000 inhabitants will be identified by number rather than name.

"We spent the night at Exit 6 on I-70," motorists might say.

"Yeah," will come the rejoinder, "but did you visit the beautiful truck stop at Exit 12?"

Or we can simply paraphrase Shakespeare: "All the world's a highway, and all the men and women merely truckers. They have their exits and their interchanges, and one driver in his time covers many miles."

Hypocrisy On South Africa

Short memories and an absence of comparative analysis of events leads to distortions in handling of the news and the spread of international hypocrisy involving news developments.

One is reminded of this in reading about the death of 19 persons in a clash with South African police. The incident, which is under judicial investigation in South Africa, has caused the television networks to treat it as a veritable holocaust. Many governments, including that of Nigeria, have called for international condemnation and sanctions.

One wonders where the networks were on the numerous occasions in recent decades when Indian police and troops shot and killed rioters. Doesn't it occur to the networks to compare the latest South African incident with the killing of hundreds of Sikhs when the Indian army invaded the Sikhs' Golden Temple, their most sacred shrine? Closely related is the question: How much regular coverage do the networks give to the Soviet war in Afghanistan, which has resulted in 500,000 people killed and wounded?

Consider the hypocrisy aspect. Nigeria had the audacity to condemn the killing of 19 people near a black African township in South Africa. Yet The New Columbia Encyclopedia reports that more than one million people are thought to have died of severe malnutrition in the war that Nigeria waged against the state of Biafra from 1967 to 1970.

Has everyone forgotten about Biafra? This state was created out of Nigeria because the Ibo people did not believe they could develop — indeed survive — inside Nigeria. When they declared their independence, as other African peoples had done, they were subjected to the most pitiless repression. They came under air, sea and land attack. They were starved into submission.

At the same time, the Western World was very aware of the "starving Biafrans." The Nigerian central government had no compassion for the people of Biafra, however. They died like flies because of the cruelty of the Nigerian regime. Now, 15 years later, Nigeria has the nerve to point the finger of blame at another country, and no one cites the record of Nigeria's inhumanity to man. The international media make no effort at comparative analysis of conditions in other African countries.

JACK ANDERSON

OSHA Chief's Holdings May Be Conflict

WASHINGTON — Seven days before Labor Secretary Raymond Donovan was indicted on grand larceny charges last fall, he granted an unusual waiver to the man he had appointed two months earlier to head the Occupational Safety and Health Administration.

This questionable waiver allows the new OSHA chief, Robert Rowland, to take part in agency decisions that affect corporations in which he has substantial investments.

Rowland is a Texas lawyer and Reagan disciple who owns stock in a number of chemical, energy and pharmaceutical companies; all of them have a significant financial stake in OSHA rulings designed to protect workers from industrial hazards.

Rowland has placed most of his holdings in what is known as a qualified blind trust. It allows him to know which stocks he still retains ownership of, but not which new stocks his trustees decide to buy for him.

ROBERT WALTERS

It's A Dirty Decision

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Already, the Occupational Safety and Health Administration has firmly established itself as the leader in the competition for the most mean-spirited government action of 1985.

OSHA has achieved that dubious distinction by refusing to issue federal regulations requiring that basic sanitation measures — toilets, clean drinking water and hand-washing facilities — be made available to agricultural fieldworkers.

In reaching that decision, the political appointees who head OSHA rejected the advice of both their own professional staff members and the country's most prestigious medical societies.

The Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 requires that all employees be provided with rudimentary sanitation facilities at or near their workplace, but in the early 1970s OSHA excluded agricultural workers from that standard by regulatory fiat.

Efforts to extend the protection of the law to fieldworkers date back to 1972, but that 13-year-long campaign on behalf of powerless seasonal and migrant farm workers has been ceaselessly opposed by influential agribusiness interests.

A lack of drinking water for those in the fields can cause severe dehydration, heat cramps and heat stroke. A lack of washing facilities prevents farm workers from removing toxic pesticides from their skin, eyes and clothing.

A lack of toilet facilities can lead to bladder diseases, gastrointestinal problems and urinary tract infections. Poor field sanitation generally can result in cholera, hepatitis, typhoid, dysentery, hookworm and other parasitic diseases.

Recognizing those problems, the U.S. surgeon general, the American Medical Association, the American Public Health Association and the American Nurses Association all have called for federally mandated field sanitation facilities.

Although almost 5 million people work as agricultural field laborers, advocates of sanitary protection have recognized that it would be unreasonable to require an employer to provide a full range of services for only a few workers.

Thus, the proposed — but now abandoned — OSHA standard would have been applicable only to employers of more than 10 workers. Under that formula, coverage would have been extended to an estimated 530,000 to 765,000 employees.

OSHA has consistently emphasized the potential costs to be borne by employers rather than the benefits likely to accrue to them and their workers as a result of reduced illness and increased productivity.

But one elaborate OSHA-financed study estimated that the proposed rules would cost 53 cents to 77 cents per worker per day. That's hardly an outrageous price for access to facilities routinely provided in every other industry.

When OSHA officials recently decided not to issue the proposed regulations, five agency employees who had been assigned the task of assessing the thousands of pages of medical and legal evidence publicly protested that the action "can only bring discredit to the agency and ourselves."

Sons Who Kill Mothers

By Elizabeth Pennell
UPI Science Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Anger, frustration, hatred, disturbed emotions, convoluted thoughts — sons who kill mothers have minds in disarray, according to researchers who have studied 15 cases of matricide.

"From our perspective, the characteristic that is shared is a severe mental disorganization, but that disorganization can be the result of a kind of mental disease or just a toxic state," said Dr. Henry C. Weinstein, director of the Forensic Psychiatry Service at New York University-Bellevue Hospital in New York City.

Of all the matricidal men at forensic psychiatry center between 1970 and 1982, eight were diagnosed as schizophrenic, three had an impulse disorder, and four were suffering from psychosis as a result of drug or alcohol abuse. Weinstein and his colleagues reported in the American Journal of Psychiatry.

"An impulse disorder is inability to resist an impulse that may be harmful to others."

The killings were climaxes to long histories of conflict between mother and son about sexual identity, development of independence from the mother, or repressed incestuous impulses, said Weinstein and Dr. John Campton in the article. Such factors impeded the men's psychological development.

"It's a simmering situation, something that has been ongoing for a long time and was becoming increasingly severe," Weinstein said in a telephone interview.

The men with mental disorders had assaulted or threatened their mothers for many years before they killed the women in a rage.

Of the schizophrenics, most were psychotic and living with their mothers. They had weak self-images and viewed women as powerful and dominating. Many lacked fathers or brothers as role models for overcoming dependence on the mother.

Excessive violence — stabbings or beatings and stranglings — but no rape characterized the crime, the psychiatrists wrote. The men remembered and admitted the killing.

The men under the influence of drugs had a different history. They were usually homosexual, with a history of self-destructive behavior. Intoxication caused incestuous, sadistic impulses to surface, resulting in rape and death, the researchers reported.

IN BRIEF

Dispute Over Shooting May Chill Summit Hopes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A U.S.-Soviet dispute over government statements on the shooting death last month of an Army intelligence officer apparently has put a new chill on the possibilities of a superpower summit.

The clashing accounts on the death March 24 of Maj. Arthur Nicholson and a U.S.-Soviet meeting this month on the incident have created policy differences between civilians and the military in both nations.

Nicholson was shot and killed by a Soviet sentry while on an inspection tour in East Germany.

The Soviets, in their statement Monday, said their sentry had acted "in accordance with the law" and denied they had referred the question of an apology and compensation to higher authority, as the State Department had said five days earlier.

Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger said Tuesday the Soviets were "lying" when they denied they agreed they would no longer use lethal force against liaison officers.

Electricity Sparked Fuel Blast

BONN, West Germany (UPI) — The U.S. military concluded that static electricity ignited Pershing 2 missile fuel in an accident that killed three U.S. soldiers in January, a West German news agency said.

Army Secretary James Ambrose was expected to report on the findings of a U.S. investigation into the Jan. 11 accident to a committee of the West German Parliament that convened today.

The accident triggered a heated controversy in West Germany about the safety of the U.S.-made nuclear-tipped missiles. Critics of basing the missiles in West Germany as part of a NATO deployment to counter Soviet missiles, have suggested that dangerous plutonium contamination could occur in such an accident.

The West German news agency DPA, quoting sources in Bonn, said Ambrose would disclose that a freak combination of weather conditions was responsible for a charge of static electricity that caused the accident.

Junta Compared To Nazis

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (UPI) — A former U.N. human rights official sparked a courtroom uproar by comparing Argentina's former military regime to Nazi Germany for killing thousands of leftist guerrilla suspects.

Theo Van Boven, a surprise prosecution witness at the trial of nine former military junta leaders charged with ordering the slayings during the 1970s, also testified Tuesday that the defendants covered up the disappearances of thousands of people who are now believed to have been tortured and killed.

The 50-year-old Dutch law professor, who directed the U.N. human rights office from 1977 to 1982, told the court that an Argentine diplomat once told him that subversives were "non-social beings."

"This was the Nazi language that established categories of persons and non-persons," Van Boven said.

UCF Offers Sex Abuse Workshop

The ramifications of sexual abuse of children on the victim, the family and society will be explored in a workshop April 30 at the University of Central Florida that is free and open to the public.

The day-long workshop, funded by the Florida HRS in cooperation with UCF, will feature two nationally known experts in their fields speaking on what has become a growing national concern.

Robert F. Longo, director of the sex offender unit at Oregon State Hospital, will be joined by Alexander Zaphiris, of the University of Houston graduate school of social work, in morning and afternoon sessions on juvenile sex offenders, and assessment and treatment of incest, child sexual abuse and sexual exploitation.

The program in UCF's Student Center Auditorium begins at 8 a.m. with registration. For pre-registration, call the UCF College of Extended Studies at 275-2123. Seating is limited.

Eagle-Watching Motorists May Get Parking Tickets

Birdwatchers who park their cars along Tuskawilla Road in southeast Seminole County to watch a nesting family of eagles will soon be facing traffic citations.

Seminole County sheriff's spokesman John Spolski said county officials have ordered no parking signs to be placed along a 1/2-mile stretch of the roadway, just north of Red Bug Lake Road. Deputies will begin writing tickets on Friday, Spolski said.

The sheriff's department has received numerous complaints that the birdwatchers obstruct traffic, Spolski said.

Judge Agrees To 'Meaningful' Resentence For Cousin Killer

An Altamonte Springs man serving 3 years for killing his cousin has been resented to 300 days in the Seminole County jail and 6 years probation by a judge who said the new sentence, which also includes counseling and restitution, would be more beneficial to the man than just prison time.

Seminole Circuit Judge Dominick J. Salfi resented Anthony Vann Fossitt Sr., 27, of 205 Williams St., on Monday. Fossitt, originally charged with second-degree murder, pleaded guilty Dec. 20 to the lesser charge of manslaughter. He was accused of the June 25 fatal shooting of his cousin.

A judge has the authority to change a sentence within 60 days after he issued it if the defendant proposes an acceptable alternative sentence. Salfi sentenced Fossitt Feb. 22 to 3 years in prison.

Salfi said Fossitt had submitted a sentencing program that included punishment, restitution and counseling which Salfi said would be more "meaningful" to Fossitt than just prison time. The judge noted Fossitt had strong family support and no criminal history.

According to court records, Fossitt's cousin, James Stewart, 36, of 209 Longwood Ave.,

Altamonte Springs, was shot in the right side of the chest with a .22-caliber rifle.

Stewart was at 205 Williams St. when he was wounded, staggered a half-block and fell in his front yard, according to a sheriff's report.

An Altamonte Springs rescue squad arrived at Stewart's house at about 9:11 p.m. and he was transported to Florida Hospital-Altamonte where he died at 9:40 p.m.

Sheriff's investigators said Fossitt had ordered his cousin not to come onto his property. After two warnings, Stewart reportedly continued to approach Fossitt's house whereupon Fossitt shot him.

Fossitt waited at his home for officers to arrive following the shooting, the report said.

Salfi ordered Fossitt to complete 200 hours of community service, and pay $3,000 to his (Fossitt's) father for expenses incurred since the younger Fossitt's arrest. Those expenses include funeral costs, mortgage payments and travel costs. Salfi also ordered Fossitt to pay the counseling costs of his aunt for a year and to replace the electrical wiring in her home. According to Fossitt's attorney, Gerald Rutberg, of Casselberry, the wiring in the woman's home was damaged by a small fire which also cut off well water to the house when the pump was left without power. —Deane Jordan

Abortion Clinic Bombers Called Heroes

PENSACOLA (UPI) — The case of four religious people accused of bombing abortion clinics, acts defense attorneys say give them status as life-saving American heroes, is in the hands of the jury.

Jurors deliberated about 20 minutes Tuesday before recessing for the night. Winding up the defense for the confessed bombers, their attorneys abandoned the insanity defense in closing arguments and focused on religion and abortion. Deliberations resumed today.

U.S. Attorney Tom Dillard complained the government was being likened to Pontius Pilate and said the issue was whether the government proved defendants placed 41-pound pipe bombs at clinics "and blew them to smithereens."

Facing federal conspiracy and explosives charges are Matthew Goldsby, 21; his fiancée, Kaye Wiggins, 18; James Simmons, 21; and his wife, Kathy Simmons, 19.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Susan Novotny Tuesday called the bombings a "concerted effort" and said that according to federal law, "each conspirator is responsible for the acts of all."

Defense attorneys had indicated they would use the insanity defense but during closing arguments they barely touched upon it. One attorney even asked the jurors not to find her client insane.

Lawyer Christine Kasun of San Francisco said she never believed Kathy Simmons was insane, and said she behaved like an obedient wife who "takes the Bible literally."

"All she did was love her husband and not tell on him," Kasun said. "Her crime: loving and loyalty to her husband."

Kasun, who said the government "has overcharged this case," said that if the defendants had been in Germany 40 years ago, they would have "sabotaged death camps" and would be called heroes today. "The parallel to me is very strong," Kasun said. T. Patrick Monaghan, of Bardonia, Ky., Goldsby's attorney, rapped the government for bringing "its terrifying array" to bear against the four defendants, whom he likened to the Sons of Liberty who tossed English tea overboard.

He also equated Goldsby and Simmons to Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn, and called them "boys, foolish, lovable boys." He added, "that's what you want in an American boy. You don't want the wimps..."

He said the defendants wanted to stop "a few scheduled deaths," and the jury should look at the motivation "only to see what the intent is."

Judges To Specialize As Case Load Grows

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

Circuit judges in Seminole County have decided to limit the type of cases each hears in an effort to manage an escalating case load.

The five judges will officially begin specialization July 1. Judicial assistants have already begun rerouting new cases to accommodate the change. The reassignment is scheduled to last at least one year, according to Circuit Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr.

Circuit judges Kenneth M. Leffer and Dominick J. Salfi will experience the greatest shift in the type of cases they will hear.

Leffer, who handles juvenile court, probate, guardianship and mental health cases, will switch to exclusively criminal cases. Salfi, who hears criminal and civil suits, will assume Leffer's case load.

Judges S. Joseph Davis Jr. and Mize, who now handle criminal cases and civil suits, will handle only civil suits.

Judge Robert McGregor will join Leffer and handle just criminal cases. He currently hears both criminal and civil matters.

Mize said the change is something he and his fellow judges have been "kicking around for quite a while."

Mize said the judges, who have held their current assignments since July 1983, are under pressure to handle a larger case load created by the county's growing population.

He said a judge who specializes in one type of case can hear more of those cases than if he judged a variety of cases.

He said judges in most of the larger judicial circuits specialize. He said the Florida Supreme Court has recommended, however, that such specialization not be permanent and that the judges change case styles from time to time.

Mize said Seminole's population increase has prompted the high court to recommend a sixth circuit judge for the area starting in 1986 but the Legislature so far has not approved the addition.

The judges' decision to change their work load was announced to attorneys of the Seminole County Bar Association last week.

city wants to upgrade the existing plant and improve the quality of the effluent. That would cost about $9 million and could be paid for over a longer period of time.

The city continued its argument at last week's hearing that the water quality criteria for the lake was too stringent, according to Knowles' report.

Under cross examination, the city's expert witness, Tom Gallagher, a water consultant from Hyda Qual Inc., in New Jersey, said the water could not have met DER's requirements even before humans came to the banks of the St. Johns River.

Using a computer model, he showed that pollutants in the lake come mostly from the run-off from swamps and hardwood lands, Knowles' report said. Those pollutants create a buildup of organic material which release nutrients into the water.

Gallagher also showed that because the DER tested the lake during its lowest point in 70 years, the pollutants were concentrated, making it appear they were of greater volume.

A final ruling on the matter is expected in about 60 days, according to City Attorney Bill Colbert. At that time, if the ruling is not in the city's favor, the city will appeal the ruling with the 1st District Court of Appeals in Tallahassee.

Colbert said today he was "comfortable" with the way the hearings went last week. While he said victory wasn't certain, the city did manage to present all of its best evidence and most competent expert witnesses in the case.

Board Will Borrow $1 Million For More Portable Classrooms

Because it has no room to house the 1,500 new students it expects to enroll next year, the Seminole County School Board voted 4-1 Tuesday to borrow $1 million to build 50 additional portable classrooms.

The classrooms would be ready by the end of August, according to Karen Coleman, the board's public information director. Eighteen of the portables will be placed on elementary school campuses and 30 will be set up at high schools. Those two levels are where the schools district is experiencing the most growth, Mrs. Coleman said.

The board projects there will be about 2,500 new elementary students and 1,040 high school students by 1987. The number of middle school students is expected to stay about the same.

The board is presently spending $250,000 a year for portables, Mrs. Coleman said. The board will bid out for the loan and probably get an interest rate of 6.7 percent, according to Carey Ferrell, assistant superintendent for business and finance. The loan would be paid back in four years, he said.

The 50 new portables would bring the number of portables at county schools and office buildings to 205.

liability and you can't get insurance."

Rockledge, it was reported, had to literally rip up the concrete ramp it had built because there were so many accidents the first two weeks that the city came close to being sued and couldn't get insurance.

Complaints began coming in to the city hall when skateboard ramps began cropping up in backyards around the city several months ago and since then four skateboard owners have received citations from the city's code enforcement officer. The first case is scheduled to come before the code enforcement board Tuesday for a hearing.

Commissioner June Lormann was concerned about there being enough skateboarders using proposed city facilities to support them. "How many would actually skate?" she asked.

Ron Riley, who owns the Connection in the 434 Center,

Longwood, said there is a lot of interest in skateboarding now. He sold more than 1,500 skateboards in Longwood in the past year. He said he had contributed "over a five-figure amount to help youngsters build numerous skateboard ramps in the city."

Riley said skateboarding, at its height of popularity in the 70s, is now experiencing a revival. He said there are skateboard professionals, skateboard magazines, and a national circuit for competition.

Riley said there are some skateboarders in Longwood who have potential for becoming pros. Most of those who participate in the sport are boys, but there are some girls involved, he said.

Most of the skateboard injuries occur when there are no ramps available and they are used on the street, Riley said. He pointed out that ramps are built in backyards and when they start getting "heat" from the neighbors or the city and then they move to another area.

would automatically stop development in the basin.

The state Department of Community Affairs said their request would be considered.

Russell Fisher, president of the Friends of the Wekiva, said he agreed with the task force concept in principle, but he was concerned with how the committee would function and what its authority would be.

And Phyllis Saarinen, representing the League of Women Voters, said the task force would provide a forum. But she suggested a shorter study period and that development in the basin be halted until the study is completed.

Mrs. Christensen's only objection to Sturn's proposal was that the committee should have 22 members rather than 17. Sturn agreed to the amendment. Kirchoff warned that members of a committee of that size, operating for a year, would soon lose interest and the committee would wind up with only developers remaining active. This would spoil whatever effect the committee might have, he said.

After the motion failed, Mrs. Glenn suggested that the county staff contact both Lake and Orange counties to find out what information they have on the river basin. She also suggested information be obtained from the East Central Florida Regional Planning Council and the United States Geodetic Survey.

County Administrator Ken Hooper said county staff will have all the information they can obtain quickly about the state of the basin by the May 14 county commission workshop, including cost estimates on reactivating USGS test wells to water intrusion into the aquifer.

the spring and summer of 1984. She said Grant, who she knew, tried to have sex with her one day after picking her up at the day school, according to court records.

Grant said he and the girl never got along — a personality clash — and that he never took her home from school, let alone touched her.

According to his testimony, Grant said he had syphilis on two occasions, 1982 and again early in 1984. Because of treatment he was free of the disease by Oct. 1984.

Tuesday, Wayne Porter, a polygraph examiner for the State Attorney's office, testified that in his opinion Grant tried to deceive him on three key questions regarding whether he assaulted the girl.

Porter explained that a score of plus 6 or higher indicates a person is telling the truth. A score from plus 6 to negative 6 shows neither truthfulness nor lying. A score of negative 7 or greater indicates the person is lying.

Porter said Grant scored a negative 12.

Grant's attorney, Tom Green of Sanford, questioned Porter at length about what could affect a polygraph test such as nervousness or misunderstanding the questions.

Steven Brady is the prosecutor on the case.

The votes Tuesday did not end the bitter contest, although they foreclosed use of U.S. funds to arm the Contra rebels, who are fighting to overthrow Managua's Marxist-led Sandinista government.

The votes also locked the CIA out of any part in distributing food, clothing and medical supplies in the embattled Central American country.

The time and effort expended on the issue appeared out of proportion to the money involved. But even though Congress usually treats $14 million like pocket change, the principles at stake were large.

Reagan has built his Central American policy around standing firm against further Marxist penetration of the Western Hemisphere. His equally determined opposition was fighting what it regarded as a militaristic foreign policy that would lead the United States into another Vietnam-type morass.

In a statement issued after the Senate action, Reagan said, "Tonight, the Senate cast an historic vote — for freedom and democracy in Central America."

Nothing was forthcoming from the White House after the House vote.

Earlier, he sent a letter to the Senate offering concessions, saying, "If we tolerate the consolidation of a surrogate state in Central America, responsive to Cuba and the Soviet Union, we will see the progress that has been achieved begin to unravel under the strain of a continuing conflict, attempts at subversion and loss of confidence in our support."

But opponents were not buying. Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., called Reagan's policy "bankrupt" and said it was time for Congress to "cast a vote for peace."

Sen. Tom Harkin, D-Iowa, said, "There should be no doubt, the vote ... is the equivalent of the vote on the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution in 1964" that President Lyndon Johnson used to expand the U.S. military role in Vietnam.

Suicide Squeeze Is Fatal For 'Noles

By Rob Laria
Special to the Herald
DELAND — Missed opportunities...

That's what Coach Mike Ferrell and the Tribe will be mulling over as they recall their final game Tuesday night against DeLand in the opening round of the District playoffs.

After clawing its way to stay close throughout the game, the Tribe trailed, 7-6, entering the seventh inning. Its hopes, however, were shattered when on a 3-2 pitch with the bases loaded and one out Gary Derr popped up a suicide squeeze attempt, leading to a game-ending double play.

"I thought about doing it in the sixth with Tony Cox hitting, but he's been our hottest hitter, so I let him hit and he strikes out," Ferrell said. "Maybe I should have done it then. The reason I did it was because the guy (Joey Mohr) couldn't afford to throw a ball. It looked like a good pitch; he just popped it up. There are many plays in a ballgame...DeLand is a fine team."

The Bulldogs took the lead for good in the fourth with a pair of runs then withstood Tribe rally tries in the final two frames.

In the sixth inning, the Tribe had the bases loaded, again with just one out but couldn't score. Reliable Tony Cox whiffed and a force out at second base on a James Hersey grounder ended the threat. Ferrell says his team's failure to produce in that situation led to his squeeze-play gamble in the seventh.

In the seventh, Tom Wilks

Baseball

opened with a strikeout, but a Roy Jensen single then a double to left field by Tracy Turner and an intentional walk to Larry Thomas paved the way for Ferrell's crucial squeeze call which backfired when Derr popped up in foul territory to first baseman Kevin Weickel and pinch runner Dexter Franklin had no chance to get back to third base.

The Tribe gained a measure of respect with its performance. Earlier this season it had been handily defeated twice by the Bulldogs, including a 15-0 rout just 11 days ago.

Hersey, a senior right-hander, started the game. Control difficulties, though, hindered his effectiveness. He lasted just two innings, giving way to Brian Sheffield in the third inning with no outs and the Bulldogs leading 3-2. Sheffield pitched out of the third effectively, thanks to a great lunging catch by center fielder Larry Thomas.

Bulldog starter Dave Barnard went five innings to earn the win before yielding to Mohr, who picked up the save.

DeLand now faces Lyman Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the semifinals.

The Tribe jumped out to a 1-0 advantage in what turned out to be an ominous first inning. Derr and David Rape started things off with walks, followed by a Sheffield hit to load the bases. Tony Cox walked to score Derr. Hersey hit a short fly ball out for the first out, then misfortune struck. Wilks missed a squeeze attempt, and Rape racing home was an easy out. Wilks then grounded out to squander the Tribe's first shot at a big inning.

The Bulldogs scored three times in the second to assert themselves. The big hit was a triple by Troy Blevins. The Tribe, however, refused to let another blowout develop. Again with no outs, it loaded the bases but could score just a lone run, making it 3-2. After Rape and Sheffield singled, Cox walked.

Hersey then struck out. Wilks atoned for his earlier miscue by driving home Rape with a sacrifice fly. Attempting to swipe third base, Sheffield was thrown out by catcher Alfrank Hillmeyer, ending the inning. The Tribe had already wasted numerous chances but trailed only 3-2.

In their half of the third, the Bulldogs stretched their lead, scoring two, but it could have been worse. They tallied one on two singles and two walks yielded by Hersey.

Sheffield and his dazzling knuckleball then moved to the mound from shortstop, walked the next batter to bring home another Bulldogs, then slammed the door shut. A strike out, one of four for him in the contest, a pop out and a soft fly out ended the inning.

Buoyed by Sheffield's relief job, the Tribe assumed the lead with four runs in the fourth. Jensen, who had his best night as a Seminole with four hits, led off with a single, and after a

Laszaic, Grayson Push Rams Easily Past Spruce Creek

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

DELAND — For a pitcher with just a touch of a sore shoulder, Spruce Creek was just what the doctor prescribed for Lake Mary's Anthony Laszaic. The sophomore right-hander worked his way carefully through the Hawks, allowing just three hits as the Rams pounded out an 11-1 victory in the first round of the District 4A-9 Baseball Tournament Tuesday at Conrad Park.

"I just wanted to throw strikes and win in five innings," said Laszaic about his five-inning stint which was made possible by the 10-run rule. "My arm isn't feeling that good but I didn't have to overdo it today."

Laszaic struck out five, walked two and hit one. The Creek hit just two ball out of the infield and none after the third inning.

Lake Mary, which plays Apopka Thursday at 5 p.m. in the semifinals, continued to bludgeon the ball with a lineup which is hitting .335 while averaging 8.5 runs per game.

The average climbed a little bit Tuesday. Ryan Lisle lined a clutch two-out single to right field in the second inning for a 2-0 lead and the Rams put five more markers on the board in the third to turn the contest into a blowout. Four more in the fourth wrapped it up.

Laszaic, 10-1, had just one teaty inning. In the third, he plunked Robbie Phelan with a pitch and losing pitcher Keith Courington moved him to second with a bunt. Mark Bovier, the Five Star Conference's first team designated hitter, singled to right center to cut the lead to 2-1.

Laszaic got Tom Abdo on a fly ball to right but then walked Kirk Wiley and Estes Johnson loaded the bases on an infield hit. Jim Macklefresh was next and Laszaic quickly disposed of him, getting a forceout at second.

"I threw him a fastball up and he missed it," said Laszaic. "Then I thought he was looking for a fastball, so I broke it down and got him."

Lake Mary, which has been scoring beaucoup runs all year with two outs, used that magic again in the third. After Scott Underwood and Rod "C.J." Metz went out on fly balls, Mike Schmit, who will pitch against Apopka Thursday, blooped the first of his three hits to center.

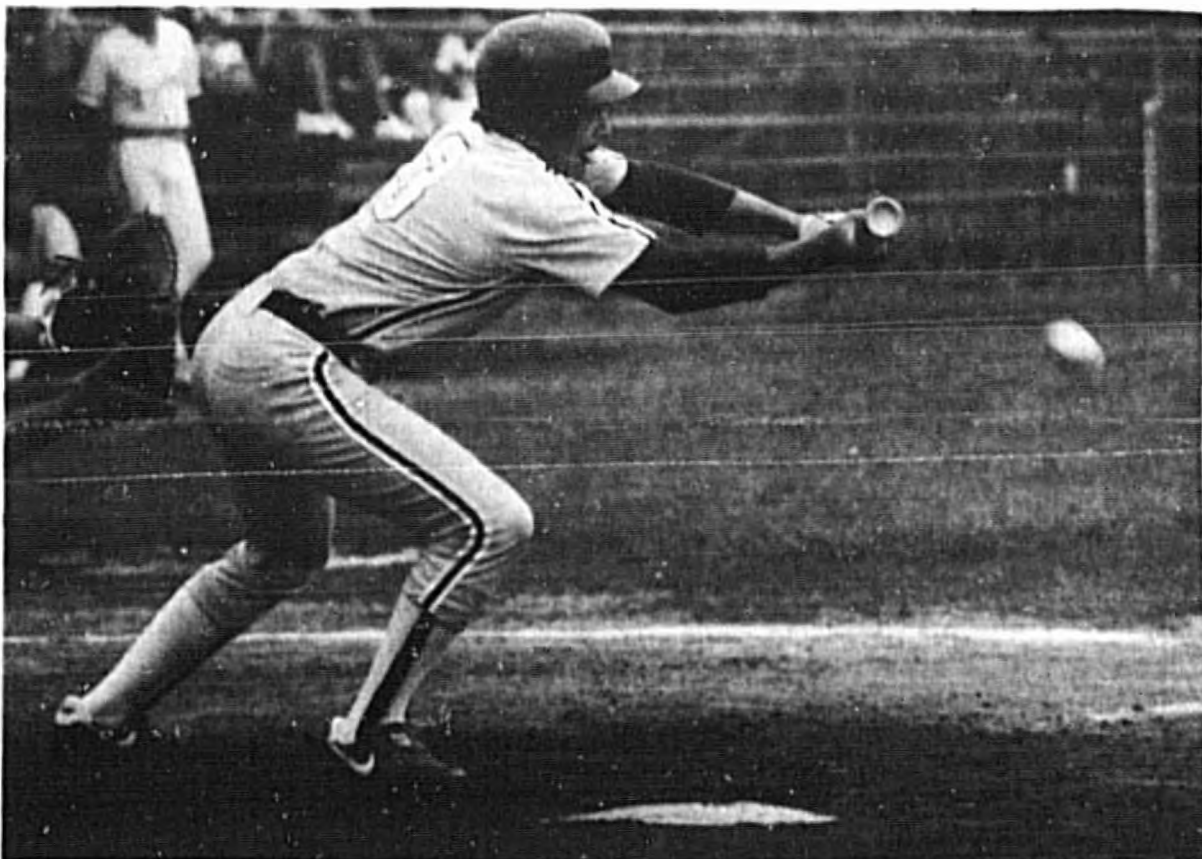

Donald Grayson then crushed a double to the outer reaches of center field which chased home pinch runner Dewaine Mitchell. Kevin Hill followed with a single to left to score Grayson. Ron Natherson and Brett Molle followed with singles to load the bases and when the shortstop threw away Lisle's grounder, two more runs scored.

In the fourth, Schmit and Grayson each supplied two-run singles for the final tallies. "I'm feeling a lot more relaxed at the plate," said Grayson, who always starts slowly because he's a late arrival from basketball. "I've been taking a lot of batting practice from Mr. (trainer Larry) Holbrook. He throws me a lot of curves. That has helped me a lot."

Lake Mary skipper Allen Tuttle, too, has noticed a difference in Grayson's posture. "He's so relaxed up there, it looks like he doesn't give a darn," said Tuttle. "Grayson's just loosey-goosey. He doesn't know what pressure is."

And neither did Lake Mary Tuesday. "That's just the kind of game we needed," said Tuttle. "Anthony came back and pitched real well. And we always hit tough with two outs. We just must concentrate more."

Grayson finished with a double and a single for three ribbies. Schmit had three hits and two RBI. Hill singled twice and drove in a run.

Livernois Blows Taps For Hawks

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

DELAND — Lake Howell's dugout serenaded Lyman's Derek Livernois with reminders of past failures Tuesday but when it came time to put up or shut up, the Silver Hawks came up with laryngitis and Livernois blew taps for Howell's baseball season.

The Greyhound senior overcame a rocky start and a few choruses of the "Lake Mary Legacy" to hurl a four-hitter and lift Lyman to a 4-1 victory over the Hawks in the first round of the District 4A-9 Baseball Tournament at Conrad Park.

"They (Lake Howell) were just trying to unsettle me," said Livernois. "I had a couple of bad games against Lake Mary. That's the 'Lake Mary Legacy,' I guess."

Livernois also had a forgettable outing against the Hawks earlier this year when he came on in relief and walked home the winning run in a 2-1 Lake Howell victory.

He didn't have to worry about any repeat performance Tuesday. After harnessing his curveball in the middle innings, Livernois never allowed more than one hit in an inning while striking out 10 and walking two in a complete game performance.

"Derek hadn't pitched in 10 or 11 days but we had to do it that way so he could start the tournament," said Lyman coach Bob McCullough. "He struggled with his rhythm in the beginning but he found it later and pitched a strong game."

McCullough said junior Byron Overstreet would pitch Thursday's semifinal outing against DeLand, which struggled to beat Seminole, 7-6, Tuesday. Overstreet, 6-1, will oppose Scott Anderson in the 7:30 p.m. battle. Lake Mary and Apopka meet at 5 p.m.

While Livernois was finding his groove, Lyman scratched out one run in the second, third, fourth and fifth innings against loser Jorge DeMonte. Clint Baker triple when Terry Gammons missed a diving catch to open the second and Jim Odom followed with a single through the drawn-in infield for a 1-0 lead.

In the second, Livernois, who had two hits and an RBI, rocketed a single up the middle and Paul Alegre walked. Chris Brock struck out but a passed ball moved both up a base. Baker came through again with a groundout to shortstop for a 2-0 lead.

Lake Howell cut the lead in half in the third when Gammons singled and moved to second on a sacrifice bunt by Ernest Martinez. When Livernois bounced in a pair of curveballs for wild pitches, Gammons zipped to third and home.

In the fourth, Overstreet smashed a single past third and when Billy Henley bunted DeMonte's throw to second was too late, Overstreet then stole third and Henley went to second. Kyle Brubaker hit a sharp one-hopper back at DeMonte who made a nice play, held the runners, and threw out Brubaker. Mike Henley walked to load the bases and Livernois helped himself to a 3-0 lead with a single to right. Further damage was averted when Henley rounded second too far and was picked off and DeMonte slipped a third strike past Alegre.

Lyman added an insurance run in the fifth when Odom slapped a two-out single, stole second, went to third when the ball went into center field and trotted home on reliever Kevin Lienard's wild pitch.

Livernois, meanwhile, said he would be ready to go Friday if Lyman and Overstreet can get past the host Bulldogs Thursday. "I didn't throw as few pitches as I wanted," he said. "But I feel strong right now. I hope I feel this good Friday. My arm isn't tired. I'm looking forward to it."

And maybe a different verse to the "Lake Mary Legacy."

Apopka Lefty Shrugs Off Broken Jaw, Hurls 4-Hitter

DELAND — Apopka coach Sonny Wise would like to nominate pitcher Keith Ussrey for baseball's purple heart but he knows his junior left-hander would trouble making the acceptance speech.

Ussrey, who suffered a broken jaw while playing catch two weeks ago, turned in another courageous mound performance Tuesday as the big lefty shut down Lake Brantley on four hits as Apopka pulled out a 6-2 victory in the first round of the District 4A-9 Baseball Tournament at Conrad Park.

Wise said he will probably send lefty Skip Cousins against Lake Mary in Thursday's 5 p.m. semifinal game. Lyman, a 4-2 winner over Lake Howell, and DeLand, who scraped by a fired-up Seminole club, 7-6, meet in the 7:30 p.m. semifinal. The survivors battle for the title Friday at 7:30 p.m.

"He can't talk and he has trouble breathing sometimes," said Wise about his junior left-hander. "But boy does that kid have some guts. He beat Lyman last week and today Lake Brantley. That's two pretty tough teams to whip when you have a broken jaw."

Ussrey, after giving up a first-inning run, blanked the potent Brantley bats for the next three innings while retiring nine of the 11 batters. The Pats nicked him for another run in the fifth but a double play helped him through the sixth and he mowed down three in a row to close out the sixth.

Lady Seminoles Tighten Up Defense, Choke Spruce Creek

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

PORT ORANGE — Seminole High has lost more softball games because of defensive mistakes than it has won this year. But the Lady Tribe got together and decided to tighten up on defense for the 4A-9 District Tournament and it did just that.

A number of stellar defensive plays kept the Lady Seminoles alive Tuesday and they broke a 4-4 tie with four runs in the top of the ninth en route to a 8-4 victory over Spruce Creek's Lady Hawks in the district opener at Spruce Creek High.

Seminole earned the No. 8 seed by winning Tuesday's game and it will go to Apopka today for a 4 p.m. game against the top-seeded Lady Darters. In other first round action, No. 2 DeLand hosts Lake Brantley at the DeLand Airport. No. 3

Lake Howell entertains Lake Mary at Lake Howell High and No. 4 Mainland hosts Lyman at Mainland High. All district games are 4 p.m. starts.

"We were pushed tonight, but survived under a lot of pressure," Seminole coach Beth Corso said. "I must have been on the verge of six coronaries during the game. But the girls stayed tough and did what they had to do to win."

Seminole pounded out 14 hits Tuesday and kept close in the field as they made just two errors. And it was defensive masterpieces by the likes of Shelly Sanders, Janet Hauck and Alycia "Fat" Dixon that saved the Lady Seminoles in the late innings.

Spruce Creek jumped out to the early lead with a pair of runs in the bottom of the first. Debra Hamilton, Diane Felder and Cathy Davis all singled to load the bases and both Hamilton and Davis scored when Kelly Williams reached on an error.

After going scoreless for the first three innings, Seminole rallied to take the lead with one run in the fourth and two more in the fifth.

In the fourth Dixon led off with a walk and, with one out, Hauck hit in a fielder's choice with Dixon out at second. Sanders singled to keep the inning alive and Showanda Walker followed with a single to score Hauck.

The first of several outstanding defensive plays came in the bottom of the fourth when the Seminoles turned a double play. Dixon fielded a grounder at short, flipped to Walker at second who relayed to Sheri Peterson at first for the twin killing.

In the top of the fifth for the Lady Tribe, Jackie Suggs reached on an error to lead off and Jennifer Page went in as a pinch runner. Cindy Hogan reached on another error and Barbara "Taco" Silva singled to score Page and tie the score at 2-2. Hogan, who went to third on Silva's single, scored on a two-out single off the bat of Dixon for a 3-2 Seminole lead.

Spruce Creek tied it at 3-3 with a run in the bottom of the fifth when, with two outs, Hamilton crushed a homer over Laura Burke's head in right field.

Seminole pushed across a run in the top of the sixth for a 4-3 lead. With one out, Walker, a

First Federal Routs Sunniland, Stays On Top In Little National

First Federal scored seven times in the second inning Tuesday and pulled away with 10 more in the fifth en route to a 17-7 rout of Sunniland in Sanford Little National League action at Fort Mellon Park.

First Federal stayed on top of the Little National League standings as it improved to 5-0 while Sunniland, 2-2, fell out of a tie for second.

Sunniland had taken a 3-0 lead in the top of the first with the key hit being a two-run triple off the bat of Danny Lawson.

First Federal took control with seven runs in the bottom of the second. Alonzo Brundidge smashed a solo home run to lead off the inning and Mike Dillon's three-run homer broke the game open and gave the Feds a 6-3 lead. Joe Wiggins also scored in the inning on a passed ball for a 7-3 edge.

Dillon and Wiggins added RBI singles in the fifth inning to sew up the win for First Federal. Dillon was 3 for 5 to lead the Feds at the plate while Wiggins, Brundidge and Eric Mentine each had two hits. Sunniland was held to five hits by a pair of pitchers including one each by Ned June, KoJack Hunt, Tommy Hampton, Lawson and James Sanders.

Cavs Bounce Celtics, Stay Alive

United Press International

The Cleveland Cavaliers refuse to go gently into that good night.

They beat the Boston Celtics 105-98 Tuesday night in the fifth, Ohio, to stay alive in the playoffs.

True, Boston's Larry Bird was sidelined because of arthritis and bone chips in his elbow, but the Cavaliers had ample reason to celebrate nonetheless.

Cleveland beat Boston for the first time in nine meetings this season.

Boston had defeated the Cavs 17 straight games, dating to January, 1983.

Cleveland won its first playoff game since beating Washington in 1977.

Boston leads the best-of-five series 2-1 with Game 4 Thursday night at Richfield Coliseum.

"I guess it'll be safe to say that Larry'll be back Thursday," Boston coach K.C. Jones said. "But even without him, we came close."

In other best-of-five series, Denver beat San Antonio 115-112 to take a 2-1 lead. Los Angeles took Phoenix 119-103 for a 3-0 sweep and Portland downed Dallas 122-109 to go up 2-1.

Caraway's Hit Beats Poppa Jay's

Jimmy Caraway doubled to lead off the seventh inning and scored on a base hit by Alex Hayes to lift the Railroaders past Poppa Jay's, 7-6, in Little National League baseball Tuesday.

Caraway and Scott Sestack had two hits each for the Railroaders while reliever Calvin Davis picked up the win. Demetrius Prealey ripped a homer, double and single for the home team. His homer was a three-run shot in the first inning. Presley suffered the loss in relief of Demetrius Beamon, who also stroked three hits for the losers.

Kevin Mitchell and Shane Stewart each rapped a single for Poppa Jay's. Hayes, Troy Roy, Lorne Jones and Vince Mathews had a base hit each for Railroaders.

Brantley, Howell Doing Well

Seminole County's entrants in the State Tennis Tournament at Gainesville were sitting pretty well Tuesday night after two days of action. Lake Brantley's boys were in third place with six points, four behind Bradenton Manatee. Lake Howell's girls were also in third place with five points, five behind Miami Palmetto.

Mark Mance won his opening singles match and combined with Rich Brall to win in the doubles, too for the Patriots. Lake Howell's doubles teams of Trish Enriquez-Emylynn Dulce and Catherine Enriquez-Edie Dulce both won in the semifinals.

Brown Drives SCC Past VCC

Longwood's Kenny Brown singled twice and drove in four runs as the Seminole Community College Raiders salvaged one win in four tries with a 12-2 trouncing of Valencia Tuesday at Orlando.

Seminole improved to 23-17-1 overall and 10-10-1 in the Mid-Florida Conference. Valencia fell to 26-15 and 9-11.

Brown, a former Lyman High standout, received offensive support from Jeff Barefoot, who had a pair of singles and an RBI.

Lake Mary Is No. 1 Again

All-Sports Trophy

After the conclusion of the Five Star Conference track meet, the last conference event of the season, Lake Mary's Rams claimed the Five Star All Sports Trophy for the second straight year.

Lake Mary had a 10-point lead over Lake Howell in the running for the All Sports Trophy going into Friday night's conference track meet. A third place by the girls and a fourth by the boys track teams sewed up the trophy for the Rams.

Lake Mary finished with 137 1/2 points compared to 125 1/2 for Lake Howell. Lyman was third at 119 1/2 followed by Lake Brantley at 116, DeLand at 107 1/2, Seabreeze at 103, Seminole with 91, Apopka 84, Spruce Creek 74, and Maitland brought up the rear with 70.

"It's just a tremendous accomplishment for the school and shows the overall strength of our athletes and coaching staff," said Lake Mary Athletic Director Bill Moore.

Lake Mary is the only school in the conference's history to not lose an All Sports Trophy. Last season was the Rams' first in the Five Star and this season is the last for all Seminole County teams.

The Rams claimed Five Star titles in boys cross country, football, wrestling and baseball. They finished third or better in 10 of the 19 sports. Lake Howell also won four conference championships including girls cross country, volleyball, boys soccer and girls tennis.

Seminole took three titles but couldn't match up with Lake Howell and Lake Mary in sports such as tennis, swimming and golf. The Tribe won the conference in both boys and girls track and girls basketball.

Other Five Star titles were won by Lyman in girls and boys swimming, Spruce Creek in weightlifting and boys golf, Lake Brantley in boys tennis, DeLand in girls golf, Apopka in softball and Seabreeze in boys basketball. Maitland is the only school that didn't win a Five Star title this season. — Chris Flister

Angels Hit 6 Homers...And Lose

United Press International

The California Angels offered six soloists, and still the music was lousy.

"I'm sure I've never been on a club that's hit six home runs and lost," California manager Gene Mauch said Tuesday night after the Oakland A's overcame six California home runs to defeat the Angels, 14-9.

"As a matter of fact never been on ballclub that's hit six home runs and won, either," added Mauch.

White Sox 6, Brewers 5

At Chicago, pinch-hitter Oscar Gamble singled home the winning run to cap a two-run rally with one out in the 10th, lifting the White Sox. Gamble's hit came off reliever Rolfe Fingers, 0-1, and made a winner of Bob James, 1-0, who had given up the go-ahead run in the top of the inning.

Tigers 4, Indians 3

At Cleveland, Kirk Gibson's two-out broken bat bloop double drove in two runs in the fifth inning, lifting the Tigers. Dan Petry, 3-1, struck out two while allowing six hits and one walk over 6 2-3 innings. Willie Hernandez got five outs for his third save. Bert Blyleven fell to 0-2.

Royals 7, Blue Jays 6

At Toronto, George Brett delivered a three-run double off Bill Caudill to trigger a five-run ninth

A.L. Baseball

That lifted the Royals Jorge Orta followed with a home run to make a winner of Joe Beckwith, 1-1, and hand Caudill, 3-2, the loss. Dan Quisenberry survived two runs for his second save.

Twins 4, Mariners 2

At Minneapolis, Tom Brunansky belted a two-run homer and Frank Viola hurled a six hitter to pace the Twins. Viola, 2-2, struck out four to record his second complete game. Salome Barojas, 0-1, took the loss. Brunansky has homered five times in 14 career at-bats against Barojas.

Orleans 11, Rangers 1

At Arlington, Texas, Storm Davis pitched a three-hitter and Mike Young and Rich Dempsey drove in three runs apiece. Davis, 1-0, is 5-0 lifetime against the Rangers. He retired 19 straight batters from the first inning until the seventh when he surrendered a two-out double.

Red Sox 5, Yankees 4

At New York, Dwight Evans singled home Marty Barrett with one out in the 11th to lift the Red Sox. Bob Ojeda, the third Boston pitcher, went 1 2-3 innings to improve to 2-0. Reliever Dave Righetti, 1-1, took the loss.

Cubs 5, Pirates 0

At Pittsburgh, Rick Sutcliffe scattered eight hits and had a pair of hits, including a home run, and Keith Moreland went 3-for-3 and knocked in three runs to pace the Cubs. Sutcliffe, 3-1, struck out seven and walked one in besting Mike Bielecki, 1-1.

Cardinals 8, Mets 3

At St. Louis, Lonnie Smith stole three bases, had two hits and scored twice to spark the Cardinals to victory. Kurt Kephart recorded his first victory in three decisions while Tom Gorman, 0-1, suffered the loss.

Astros 6, Reds 4

At Houston, Kevin Bass drove in four runs to lead the Astros to victory. Bass had two singles and a homer in helping Ron Mathis to his first major-league victory. John Stuper, 2-1, took the loss.

Braves 4, Padres 2

At San Diego, Terry Harper doubled home three runs in the third inning to help the Braves to victory. Rick Mahler won his fourth game without a loss and Bruce Sutter notched his third save.

Alycia 'Fat' Dixon turned in several defensive gems at shortstop Tuesday to help the Lady Seminoles knock off Spruce Creek in extra innings. Seminole takes on top-seeded Apopka today in district softball action.

Knight Selected To Attend U.S.A. Olympic Academy

Donalyn Knight, Physical Education Department Chairman and swimming coach at Seminole High School, has been invited to attend the United States Olympic Academy which will be held June 26-30 in Plattsburgh, New York.

Acceptance and attendance is by special invitation only and was recommended by Sara Jernigan, Stetson University, who is a long-standing member of the International Olympic Committee.

The USOA is the entry-level training for the United States Olympic Committee. Knight, who was Seminole County's Coach of the Year in 1981-82, Seminole High Teacher of the Year 1981-82, a five-time Five Star Conference Coach of the Year Award winner and is listed in Outstanding Young Women of America, will be eligible to also attend the International Olympic Academy in Greece.

"It is quite an honor and I thank God for this opportunity," Knight said.

freshman, lined a triple to right center. Burke then reached on an error with Walker holding at third. Suggs followed with a pop fly to the second baseman and Walker tagged and beat the throw home.

The Lady Seminoles held the Hawks scoreless in the sixth, but the Creek came back to tie it in the bottom of the seventh. But, it was a pair of defensive gems that kept the Lady Hawks from claiming the victory.

Cathy Polk, the lead off hitter in the inning, hit a shot toward left field but Dixon made an incredible play to get her out. "Fat" reached across her body with her glove and dove at the ball. Corso said "She stopped it and came up throwing side arm to get the girl at first base."

Seminole got the second out when Sherry Augustine flew out to Hauck in left but Jill Emerson drew a walk to keep the inning going. Terry Zane, the last hitter in the line up, hit a single to right which hit off Burke's leg and got away, enabling Emerson to score and Zane to go to third.

That brought up Hamilton, who had homered earlier. Hamilton hit a pop fly foul and Sanders, the Tribe's catcher, made a diving catch to end the inning. "She (Sanders) had to run at least 25 feet to get to it," Corso said.

Seminole went down quietly in the top of the eighth and the Creek came back to put runners on first and second with two outs in the bottom of the inning. Hauck put an end to the threat with a diving catch on what looked to be a base hit.

"We were playing deep and the girl hit what should have been a single over short," Corso said. "But Hauck came in and made a diving catch. She must have rolled five times and came up standing with the ball."

Seminole then broke it open with four runs in the top of the ninth. Suggs got the rally started with a single and, with one out, Silva singled. Peterson, who was 3 for 5 for the game, came through with a single to drive in Suggs for a 5-4 Seminole lead and what turned out to be the winning run.

Seminole got some insurance when Dixon singled to drive in Silva and Peterson and, with two outs, Hauck singled in Dixon for a 8-4 cushion.

Spruce Creek came back to load the bases with two outs in the ninth and Sue Felder worked the count to 3-2. "She was busting ball all day," Corso said of Felder. "This time she tried to pull it down the left field line but stepped out of the box and the umpire called her out."

"I was really impressed with the team as a whole," added Corso. "The seniors (Hauck, Dixon and Silva) played super. The team made some really nice plays in the field. They didn't fall apart like the last time we played Spruce Creek."

Mike Pinckes winds up to throw out a runner at first base. Pinckes threw this ball away and his Lake Brantley teammates threw several scoring opportunities away while dropping a 6-2 decision to Apopka in the district baseball tournament at DeLand Tuesday.

all game as the Blue Darters made four errors but when they needed the big play, center fielder Mike Hinde usually was the man to bail them out.

"Hinde was the difference," said Lake Brantley coach Gary Smith. "That first catch in the first inning cost us two more runs. That other one (in the fourth inning) shut off a rally, too."

Hinde, a senior, ranged far into the alley in right center on the first play of the game to take away a possible triple from Andy Dunn. "That ball would have been gone at Lake Brantley," said Hinde. "Thank God the tournament's in DeLand."

The catch loomed more importantly when Mike Beams followed with a single and moved to second when the right fielder misplayed the bounce. Mike Pinckes then drew a walk and Mark "Pork" Coffey drilled a base hit up the middle for a 1-0 Patriot lead. Ussrey, though, received a nice catch from second baseman John Jackson and then picked Coffey off first base with red hot Kevin Bass at the plate to get out of the inning.

Hinde turned his attention to offense in the bottom of the inning. Sydney Lowman singled up the middle against loser Brad Dunn and moved to second on a passed ball. Jackson, who doubled and tripled Tuesday, drew a walk. Hinde followed with a prodigious belt to right center which caromed off the base of the wall past Beams. Lowman scored and Jackson stopped at third on Hinde's double. One out later, Tony Johnson plated Jackson with a fly ball for a 2-4 lead.

"I didn't pitch very well," said Brad Dunn who lost his second straight after winning his first nine decisions. "I tried to out-smart them but they were just too patient. They only swung at strikes."

Jackson picked on one of those strikes with one out in the third and drilled it to left center for a double. Jackson daringly stole third and Hinde walked and promptly swiped second. Tim Osley then hit a shallow fly ball to center which Beams misjudged before making a diving catch. Jackson scrambled as Beams scrambled to his feet and when he fired the ball into the Apopka dugout trying to get Hinde at third, the second run made it, 4-1.

The Patriots picked up their last run in the fifth when Brad Dunn socked a double into the left field corner. Blair Patten grounded out but Andy Dunn singled through the right side to score his brother.

Apopka used two errors, a single by Cecil Millikan and a sacrifice fly by Mike Brown for its final two runs in the sixth. Beams made a nice running catch to save another tally.

Ussrey went the distance, striking out two and walking two. Brad Dunn allowed six hits, struck out none and walked four. Three of the free passes came around to score.

flyout he moved to second on a fielder's choice. Derr then came through with a solid single to left, scoring Jensen. Following a walk to Rape, Sheffield drilled a grounder off the third base bag and into the outfield to chase home Derr. Another walk loaded the bases and this time the Tribe cashed in, with a single to left field by Hersey, scoring Rape and Sheffield for a 6-3 lead. Cox, who had walked before Hersey, was thrown out at third base on the play to end the inning.

The Bulldogs, though, pushed the tying and winning runs across in their half of the inning. Singles by Ed Corbett and Weickel, plus a Sheffield wild pitch put runners at second and third. A walk to Paris Hayden loaded the bases. The tying then score on an odd play that saw Corbett forced out at second on a ground ball to shortstop and Weickel, who already was on second base, being tagged out. Weickel, thinking the liner was caught by shortstop Jeff Blake, did not advance to third, hurting the Bulldogs chances at a big inning. Chuck Graham, who hit the grounder, then stole second and scored the winning run on single by Dan Finley, setting the stage for the furious finish.

With the shaky win in hand, Bulldog Coach Jim Joiner compared his team with the one of a year ago. "We showed we're a little bit more poised than we were last year," he said. "This game was pressure, and we didn't fold. We didn't lose our composure."

"I expected them (the Seminoles) to play us good. I knew Mike (Ferrell) would have them ready, and they were."

Obviously disappointed, Ferrell did not fault his players. "I'm extremely happy with the way they played," he said. "We came here with the goal to prove we can play with these guys — and we did. We came back, we just came up short."

Only a look at Derr, bent over in anguish at first base after the last out, could suggest just how close it was.

Roy Jensen, Seminole's junior catcher, had four hits in Tuesday's loss to DeLand.

Renaud, Whigham Raise Game To Amazing Level

Probably the most outstanding achievement turned in in the history of Lake Mary High School tennis was performed this past week by Lake Mary sophomores Mike Renaud and Shea Whigham.

This very outstanding pair of promising young tennis players defied the odds and defeated the No. 1 seeded team and the No. 2 seeded team on their way to winning the district championship at number two doubles.

This was the first district title ever for the Lake Mary boys tennis team. In winning this title many veteran tennis observers were amazed at the level these two young men raised their game to.

It was a great victory for them and should give them the incentive to work hard at their tennis during the summer and go on to bigger and better things next year.

Coach Randy Kelly and the Lake Mary boys team had a rather up and down year but did a very fine job in the districts by finishing in a tie for third place with Daytona Beach Mainland. Of course, the very fine team from Lake Brantley finished first followed by Lyman.

Coach Kelly has most of this year's fine team returning next year so things look very good in the future for the tennis program at Lake Mary High.

Congratulations to Coach Karen Lauer and the Lake Mary girls' tennis team for its outstanding showing in the recent district tournament. Lake Mary finished second behind powerful Lake Howell. Lake Howell ran away with the title by scoring an astonishing 28 points. Lake Mary finished with 14 points and third place Lyman had 12.

Lake Mary had its No. 2 singles player, Rae Ryerson. In the finals, as well as Bernadette Peters at No. 3. Also the No. 1 doubles team of Suzie Stewart and Ryerson finished runner-up, losing to Lake Howell in the finals. All in all it was a very good tournament for the Lake Mary girls and capped a fine year.

For those of you who like to watch good tennis don't forget to come by the SCC course Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Coach Bill Payne is putting on another fund raising tournament for his basketball program and some of the top players in the area have entered. Play will be held in men's and women's singles and doubles. The finals are slated for Sunday at 1 p.m.

May 3-5 there will be a men's doubles tournament at the Eastmonte Recreation Center. This tournament is sponsored by the Altamonte Springs Recreation department and is directed by Ron Newman. The tournament is limited to 32 entries so if you want to enter you should call Ron Newman at 830-3880. Entry fee is $12 plus a can of

Kosar Gets NFL's Okay

NEW YORK (UPI) — Things are shaping up just the way Bernie Kosar dreamed last month when he said he would leave college to play pro football this fall.

Kosar is free to sign with the Cleveland Browns and play close to home, or to join the Minnesota Vikings. That option was left open Tuesday when NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle ruled the University of Miami quarterback can enter the league's regular draft April 30 or wait for a supplemental draft during the summer.

If he chooses the supplemental draft, Kosar can play for the Browns. If he enters the regular draft, the Vikings will use the second overall pick to take him.

Kosar played just two years at Miami but plans to graduate this summer. The Vikings contended Kosar has no college eligibility left and therefore was to be included among players available in the April 30 draft.

Kosar talked over options Wednesday with his father, Bernie Sr., and agent, Dr. John Geletka, the family dentist. A decision should be announced today in Miami.

"It sounds good, like everything is falling into place," said the elder Kosar. "The three of us will have a conference call sometime (Tuesday) to discuss this and make sure we understand it."

"We have to bring matters into focus now."

The Browns and Vikings believe they have matters in focus, and both see Cleveland with the upper hand.

We have had some really great reports from Alabama on Sanford's John Holt. John enrolled at Jefferson State Junior College in Birmingham, Ala. in March and has been playing number 2 and number 3 singles for this nationally ranked team. John has always had great potential and needed only a steady diet of tough, hard tennis to reach his top level.

I think that after going through a 40-match season and the National Tournament with Jefferson State that John will emerge as one of the really top players in Central Florida.

Cook Of The Week

Exchanging Recipes With Navy Friends Inspired War Bride

By Dorothy Greene
Herald Correspondent

How does a little country girl from Alexandria, S.D. get to see the world? She joins the Navy. Well, not exactly, but she does marry a Navy man.

Our Cook of the Week is Evelyn Tibbets of Casselberry, who says she didn't even think her tiny little hometown in South Dakota was on the map. Evelyn and her sister were raised on a farm and she recalls the good meat and potatoes type cooking that went along with hard work in the fields. "Nothing lavish," she says, "just things that came out of the garden. Sunday was always our fried chicken day. People in that area did general farming, raised crops and animals both."

Evelyn says, "I had lots of pets. Every time there was an animal that looked a little puny, or couldn't get around as well as the rest, I'd rescue it and take care of it until it could get around on its own."

After graduating from high school, Evelyn left her little friends on the farm to attend State Teacher's Training School in Springfield, S.D. and taught in little one room school houses for about six years. "They were just little country schools," says Evelyn.

One summer evening in July, 1940, when Evelyn and a group of girls decided to go to a dance in Armour, S.D. she was introduced to Glen Tibbets. "We both loved to dance," says Evelyn. Although Glen entered the U.S. Navy shortly after they met, a 4-year courtship via letters and short visits led to marriage in 1944.

Evelyn remembers the World War II years and her first few years of marriage very well. "In those days, troops were being transferred constantly, so every box car available was put into service for transporting service men and civilians alike and I can remember riding an old chug-a-lug train from South Dakota to California, with stops in between, to join Glen. The train had old gaslights and coal burners, and it took about four days to get there. We joined forces with two other couples in Glen's squadron and rented a house, sharing expenses. We'd put money in the sugar jar and each wife took her turn at cooking for a week. And that's how we learned to survive until Glen's squadron was shipped overseas."

Returning to South Dakota while Glen was overseas, Evelyn recalls that her first child, Glennis, was born but Glen didn't get to see her until she was a few months old. Traveling was almost second nature to military families in those days, and Evelyn says, "It was just our baby, a suitcase and us. Glen wasn't home when our son Robert was born, either, in 1946, but the war was over and things began to settle down."

There was a closeness and camaraderie between military families during war time and Evelyn says that most of her cooking skills were learned through sharing with other Navy wives. "We helped each other and depended on each other so much. I wasn't in the kitchen all that much at home. I sort of learned it all after I got married, with Glen being in the service and all the moving around we did, exchanging recipes with other people inspired me," Evelyn says.

Although retired since 1966, Evelyn and Glen still do a great deal of traveling. Visits to old friends and family who are scattered throughout the States have taken them to North Carolina, Texas, California, Canada, Maine, and "all the places in between," says Evelyn. "We also enjoy camping and fishing trips to Jetty Park at Cape Canaveral with the grandchildren. During the holidays we try to divide our time between our daughter and her family in North Carolina, and our son and his family in Sanford."

After 26 years of Navy life, moving around and relocating, Evelyn and Glen like to travel at their leisure now. A motor home parked in their driveway is their "home away from home."

Since Glen's heart by-pass surgery three years ago, Evelyn says, "We try to take it easy now. I love to crochet and do crafty things. I'm learning to hand quilt and made several bedspreads."

Evelyn's lovely crocheted afghans and pillows, along with her delicate lace tablecloths add a comfortable, homey touch to every room. Hundreds of scraps of material from her sewing basket have gone into her quilting to make her designs original and unique. A multi-colored quilt made of small polyester squares arranged in a pattern of diamonds enhances the guest room.

An especially interesting hobby for Evelyn is making "doorstop dolls." These are individually created by Evelyn using styrofoam balls in various sizes to form the head and facial features, then covering with nylon hostery to give the face of a skin-tone color. After the nylon is in place, she adds the features, i.e., big eyes, mouth, spectacles for a "granny" look, mouth, etc. This is where imagination comes in handy. Most of the little add-ons Evelyn uses can be found in any craft shop. A 2-liter plastic soda bottle weighted with sand is used for the body. After the head is attached to the bottle, Evelyn dresses the "doll" in the costume to match its new personality. A pretty little Granny type doll Evelyn calls "Matilda" and a perky clown are just two of her latest projects.

Evelyn and Glen like to get together with friends and play board games such as Pokeno, or just enjoy chatting over a cup of coffee now and then. They also enjoy visits with old Navy friends occasionally, but most of all they are making the most of their retirement years.

Diet conscious since Glen's surgery, Evelyn says, "When the children and grandchildren visit, I make sure I send the leftover cakes and sweets home with them!" Evelyn says she doesn't cook exotic things, just plain family meals.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Scott Brown

Pritchard-Brown Vows Exchanged

Sherri Leanne Pritchard and Kenneth Scott Brown were married March 30 at 5 p.m. in the Community United Methodist Church, Casselberry. The Rev. Michael Kolehmainen was the officiating clergyman for the formal candlelight ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray (Layvonne) Nobles, 672 Trailwood Drive, Altamonte Springs. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie (Beverly) Brown, 1005 Grove Manor Drive, Sanford.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows a formal white chiffon gown fashioned along the Victorian silhouette with a high jeweled and lace neckline and leg-of-mutton sleeves. The sheer yoke and and basque bodice of imported venise and alencon lace were embellished with seed pearl motifs. The bouffant chiffon skirt gracefully cascaded into a sweeping chapel train. Her headpiece was a Victorian-styled hat with a blusher, held on one side with a spray of white silk flowers, and trimmed with imported laces accented with seed pearls and sequins. She carried a traditional arm bouquet of pink and white roses interspersed with baby's breath.

Terri Hensley, the bride's

twin, was the matron of honor. She wore a daphne rose tissue tulle gown featuring a wrap skirt and a pointed bodice with an embroidered Mandarin neckline. She wore a spray of baby's breath in her hair and carried a bouquet of pink and white roses, fern and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were Thadine Eckoff, Melinda Bass, Arlene Anderson, Julie Livingston and Laurie Brown. Their gowns were identical to the honor attendant's and their flowers and headpieces were similar.

Gator Annett served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Randy Brown, Jim Pritchard, Jodi Cooper, David Craig and Tom Mann. Kenneth S. Brown was the groomsman.

The flower girl was Dawn Bass.

The reception was held following the ceremony at the Sanford Garden Club. Sheryl Annett and Jon Cannon assisted.

Following a cruise to the Bahamas, the newlyweds are making their home in Mattland. The bride is employed as accounting supervisor at McCoy Federal Credit Union, Orlando. The bridegroom is a teacher at Sanford Middle School.

Search Is On For Outstanding Mom

May 12 is Mother's Day. We, at The Herald, are searching for the annual "Outstanding Mom" in the community, but we need the help of readers to find this special woman.

The "Outstanding Mom" will be selected from letters of nomination. To make sure your favorite mom gets the proper recognition, follow the simple instructions: First, write your full name, full address including city and state, and your telephone number at the top of the page. Underneath, add the name, full address and telephone number of the mom you are nominating. Next, write us a letter telling us in your own words why this mom is so outstanding. Please type or clearly print your letter.

Submit letters to PEOPLE Editor Doris Dietrich, P.O. Box 1657 (300 N. French Ave.), Sanford, FL 32771 no later than Friday, April 26, the deadline for judging.

Winners will be announced in The Herald on Mother's Day.

Jellies And Jams

'Put Up' And Freeze Preserves The Quick, No-Cook Way

Today's approach to "putting up" jams and jellies would be the envy of previous generations of jellymakers. No longer do you have to work over a hot stove. Delicious preserves can be made the quick, no-cook way, stored in the freezer and enjoyed year round.

Play matchmaker with different fruits to produce a delectable marriage of flavors and textures — peaches with blueberries, oranges or strawberries, strawberries alone or in combination with rhubarb as well as peaches.

To make your jam, start with the freshest, ripest fruit — juicy, red strawberries (green caps intact, please), plump blueberries, smooth and rosy peaches, crisp red or pink rhubarb and tangy, firm oranges. Wash the fruit and discard anything you don't want in the jam, like caps, stems, skins, pits or seeds. Then, check each recipe for the how-to's of preparing and mixing the fruit you'll use.

Next, you'll need some supplies and equipment. Make sure you have all the ingredients listed in the recipe, including the Certo or Sure-Jell fruit pectin. Gather together two bowls (small and large), a paring knife, a sturdy mixing spoon, measuring cups, a ladle and, of course, 1- or 2-cup freezer containers with tight-fitting covers or lids.

Scald the freezer containers and then mix the jam according to the directions in any one of the scrumptious recipes. Pour immediately into the containers and let them stand at room temperature for 24 hours. You can keep most of the jam fresh and available for up to six months by storing it in the freezer. The jam you and your family want to dip into right away will stay fresh in the refrigerator for three weeks.

STRAWBERRY BUTTER

2 cups prepared fruit (about 1 qt. fully ripe strawberries)
 ½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
 ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
 4 cups (1 ½ lb.) sugar
 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 1 pouch Certo fruit pectin

First prepare the fruit. Stem about 1 quart strawberries and place a few pieces at a time in electric blender container so blades are just covered. Cover container, and turn control from off to low several times until fruit is chopped. (Do not puree.) Measure 2 cups into large bowl or pan. Add lemon rind and nutmeg.

Then make the butter. Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit; let stand 10 minutes. Add lemon juice to fruit pectin in a small bowl. Stir into fruit. Continue stirring three minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.) Quickly ladle into scalded containers. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature 24 hours; then store in freezer. Small amounts may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to three weeks. Makes about four cups or about 5 (8 fl. oz.) containers.

STRAWBERRY RHUBARB JELLY

2 cups prepared juice (about 1 qt. fully ripe strawberries and ½ lb. rhubarb)
 4 ½ cups (2 lb.) sugar
 3 tablespoons lemon juice
 1 pouch Certo fruit pectin

First prepare the fruit. Thoroughly crush, one layer at a time, about 1 quart strawberries. Place in jelly cloth or bag and let drip. When dripping has almost ceased, press gently. Measure 1 ½ cups into large bowl or pan. Finely grind (do not peel) about ½ pound rhubarb. Place in jelly cloth or bag and let drip. When dripping has almost ceased, press gently. Measure ½ cup and add to strawberry juice.

Then make the jelly. Thoroughly mix sugar into juice; let stand 10 minutes. Mix lemon juice and fruit pectin in small bowl; stir into juice. Continue stirring three minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.) Pour quickly into scalded containers. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature 24 hours; the store in freezer. Small amounts may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to three weeks. Makes about 5 ½ cups or about 6 (8 fl. oz.) containers.

STRAWBERRY PEACH JAM

1 ¾ cups prepared fruit (about 1 pt. fully ripe strawberries and ¾ lb. fully ripe peaches)
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 4 cups (1 ¾ lb.) sugar
 ¼ cup water
 1 box Sure-Jell fruit pectin

First prepare the fruit. Stem and thoroughly crush, one layer at a time, about 1 pint strawberries. Measure one cup into large bowl or pan. Peel, pit and grind or finely chop about ¾ pound peaches. Measure ¼ cup and add to strawberries; add lemon juice.

Then make the jam. Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit; let stand ten minutes. Mix water and fruit pectin in small saucepan. Bring to a full boil and boil one minute, stirring occasionally. Stir into fruit. Continue stirring three minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.) Ladle quickly into scalded containers. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature 24 hours; then store in freezer. Small amounts may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to three weeks. Makes about 4 ¾ cups or about 6 (8 fl. oz.) containers.

PEACH BLUEBERRY JAM
 1 ¾ cups prepared fruit (about ½ pt. fully ripe blueberries and 1 lb. fully ripe peaches)
 4 cups (1 ¾ lb.) sugar
 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 1 pouch Certo fruit pectin

First prepare the fruit. Finely chop or grind about ½ pint blueberries. Measure ½ cup into large bowl or pan. Peel, pit and finely chop or grind about one pound peaches. Measure 1 ¼ cups and add to blueberries.

Then prepare the jam. Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit; let stand 10 minutes. Add lemon juice to fruit pectin in small bowl. Stir into fruit. Continue stirring three minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.) Ladle quickly into scalded containers. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature 24 hours; then store in freezer. Small amounts may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to three weeks. Makes about five cups or about 6 (8 fl. oz.) containers.

PEACH ORANGE CONSERVE

1 orange
 1 ½ cups prepared peaches (1 ¼ lb. fully ripe peaches)
 3 tablespoons finely chopped nuts

 3 tablespoons chopped maraschino cherries
 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 4 ½ cups (1 lb. 14 oz.) sugar
 ¼ cup water
 1 box Sure-Jell fruit pectin

First prepare the fruit.

Grate two teaspoons rind from one orange. Section orange, dice the sections and measure ¼ cup. Peel, pit and grind or finely chop about 1 ½ pounds peaches. Measure 1 ½ cups into large bowl or pan. Add orange rind and sections, nuts, cherries and lemon juice.

Then make the conserve.

Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit mixture; let stand ten minutes. Mix water and fruit pectin in small saucepan. Bring to a full boil and boil one minute, stirring constantly. Stir into fruit. Continue stirring three minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.) Ladle quickly into scalded containers. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature 24 hours; then store in freezer. Small amounts may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to three weeks. Makes about 5 ½ cups or about 6 (8 fl. oz.) containers.

The popular Mexican combination of ingredients — cocoa, coffee and cinnamon flavor this quick homemade Tex-Mex Sheetcake. Creamy, smooth sweetened condensed milk moistens the cake and creates the chocolatey glaze. Take this delicious sheet cake to your next picnic or family gathering and watch it disappear.

TEX-MEX SHEET CAKE

1 1/2 cups margarine or butter
1/2 cup unsweetened cocoa
2 tablespoons instant coffee
1 cup water
2 cups unsifted flour
1 1/2 cups firmly packed light brown sugar
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 (14-ounce) can sweetened condensed milk (not evaporated milk)
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup confectioners' sugar
1 cup toasted slivered almonds or pecans

Preheat oven to 350°. In small saucepan, melt 1 cup margarine. Stir in 1/2 cup cocoa and 1 tablespoon coffee, then water. Bring to a boil, remove from heat. In large mixer bowl, combine flour, brown sugar, baking soda, cinnamon and salt. Add cocoa mixture; mix well. Stir in 1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk, eggs and vanilla. Pour into greased 15x10-inch jellyroll pan. Bake 15 minutes or until cake springs back when lightly touched. In small saucepan, melt remaining 1/2 cup margarine; stir in remaining 1/2 cup cocoa and 1 tablespoon coffee. Add remaining sweetened condensed milk, stir in confectioners' sugar and nuts. Spread on warm cake.

FRUIT BITS GRANOLA CRUNCH

2 cups old-fashioned oats
1/2 cup shredded coconut (optional)
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
1/2 cup bran cereal
1/2 cup sesame seeds (optional)
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup honey
1/2 cup vegetable oil
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 6-ounce package fruit bits (1 1/2 cups)

Combine first six ingredients in large mixing bowl, set aside. In saucepan combine honey and oil. Heat until mixture just begins to bubble and foam. Remove from heat and stir in vanilla. Pour honey-oil mixture over oat mixture, stirring to distribute evenly. Spread mixture thinly in 13x9-inch ungreased baking pan. Bake at 275°F for 30-35 minutes, stirring occasionally. Cool. Stir in Fruit Bits. Store in airtight container. Makes about 7 cups.

SUNBURST SALMON SEASHELL SALAD

4 cups cooked shell macaroni
3 Florida pink grapefruit, peeled and sectioned (reserve any juice for dressing)
1 cup sliced celery
1/2 cup sliced carrot
1/2 cup cooked peas
1/2 cup chopped parsley
1/2 cup chopped green onion
1/2 cup salad oil
1/2 cup Florida grapefruit juice
2 tablespoons distilled white vinegar
1 teaspoon dried dill weed, crumbled
1 teaspoon celery seed
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 can (15 ounces) pink salmon, drained
Lettuce

In large bowl combine macaroni, grapefruit sections, celery, carrot, peas, parsley and green onion. In screw-top jar combine oil, grapefruit juice, vinegar, dill, celery seed and salt. Shake well. Pour dressing over macaroni mixture. Toss well. Cover. Chill 30 minutes. Break salmon into large pieces, fold into macaroni mixture. To serve, spoon salad onto lettuce lined plates.

Yield: 8 servings.

...Potpourri

- 1/4 teaspoon hot red pepper sauce or to taste
- 1/4 teaspoon sugar
- Beef and Vegetables:
- 1 lb. sirloin or round steak, sliced paper thin (slice meat when it is partially frozen)
- 2 onions, sliced thin
- 1/2 lb. red or white radishes, sliced thin
- 1 medium cucumber, seeded and sliced thin
- 1 can (8 oz.) water chestnuts, drained, sliced thin
- 8 green onions, cut into 1-inch lengths
- 1/4 cup butter

Combine all ingredients for sauce and blend well. Divide evenly among four small table serving dishes.

Arrange meat and vegetables attractively on a platter. Melt butter in electric skillet, or wok set for 375° (on stove top, set conventional skillet or wok over medium high heat). Add vegetables and cook, stirring constantly, until partially cooked, about three minutes. Add beef and continue to cook and stir 3-4 minutes more, or until meat is cooked to taste. Spoon onto individual serving plates or place in serving dish. Dip cooked meat and vegetables into sauce as desired.

CAULIFLOWER WITH WATER CHESTNUTS

- 1 head cauliflower (about 2 lbs.), cut into flowerets
- 1/4 cup chicken broth
- 1 tablespoon dry sherry
- 1 tablespoon soy sauce
- 1/2 teaspoon cornstarch
- 1 tablespoon cold water
- 2 tablespoons cooking oil
- 1 tablespoon minced fresh ginger

1 can (8 oz.) water chestnuts, drained, sliced thin
2 green onions, minced
1/4 cup minced cooked ham
Blanch cauliflower flowerets in boiling salted water to cover for three minutes, drain in colander and rinse with cold water to stop cooking.

In a small bowl, combine chicken broth, sherry, and soy sauce; set aside. In another small bowl, blend cornstarch and cold water; set aside.

Place wok or large skillet over medium high heat. When it is hot, add two tablespoons cooking oil. Add ginger and cook and stir until it is golden, about 30 seconds. Add water chestnuts and green onions; cook, stirring, until heated through, about one minute. Add cauliflower a cup at a time, stirring and turning each addition so that the flowerets become coated with oil. Add chicken broth mixture and bring to a boil. Reduce heat to moderate and simmer the vegetable mixture two minutes or until cauliflower is crisp-tender.

Stir cornstarch mixture and add to pan. Continue cooking and stirring until sauce has thickened and has thoroughly coated cauliflower. Place vegetables in serving bowl, topped with minced ham. Serve immediately.

CHILI CORN MUFFINS

- 1 egg
- 1 cup skim milk
- 2 tablespoons corn oil
- 2 to 4 tablespoons chopped green chilies
- 1 cup yellow cornmeal
- 3/4 cup unsifted flour
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1 tablespoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt

In small bowl stir together egg, milk, corn oil and chilies.
In large bowl stir together cornmeal, flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Make well in center and add milk mixture. Stir lightly just until flour mixture is moistened. (Batter will be lumpy.)

Spoon into 12 greased (2 1/2-inch-by-1 1/4-inch) muffin cups. Bake in 400-degree oven 25 to 30 minutes or until lightly browned. Serve warm.

CRANBERRY TEA SQUARES

- 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/4 cup shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup fresh orange juice
- 1 tablespoon grated fresh orange rind
- 1/2 cup chopped nuts
- 1 1/2 cups coarsely chopped fresh cranberries

Sift flour with salt, baking powder and soda. Cream shortening with sugar; beat in egg. Blend in flour mixture alternately with orange juice. Stir in orange rind, nuts and cranberries. Turn into a well-greased, lightly floured 9-inch-by-2-inch pan.

Bake in 375-degree oven 45 minutes, or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan 10 minutes.

Turn out onto a wire rack to finish cooling. To serve, cut into 2-inch squares. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 16 squares.

Salad deluxe: pickles, pasta, pea pods.

Crunchy Pickles Pack Punch To Pasta Salad

To some, a macaroni salad is naked without pickles. And the growing trend to combine fruits and vegetables with a variety of pastas makes for some interesting combinations.

A new generation of pasta salad includes crunchy pickles and pea pods with macaroni. Another version has Swiss cheese for added protein, green peas, egg, celery and other items joined with sweet pickles.

PICKLED PASTA SALAD

- 8 ounces rotelle (4 cups) or 8 ounces
- elbow macaroni (2 cups)
- 1 cup sweet mixed pickles
- 1/2 pound pea pods,

- stems removed (2 cups)
- 1/2 cup vegetable oil
- 2 tablespoons sweet mixed pickle liquid
- Cook rotelle according to package directions. Rinse with water; drain well. Mix in pickles and pea pods. Combine oil and pickle liquid. Pour over rotelle; mix. Chill. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 to 6 servings.

CHEESE, PEAS AND PICKLE SALAD

- 1 cup Swiss cheese, cut into thin strips (about 4 ounces)
- 1 cup cooked green peas
- 1/2 cup sweet mixed pickles
- 1/2 cup diced celery

- 1 hard-cooked egg, chopped
- 1/4 cup mayonnaise
- 1 tablespoon sweet pickle liquid
- 1 teaspoon chopped chives
- Dash salt and pepper
- 1 hard-cooked egg, sliced
- 1 tomato, cut in wedges
- Sweet mixed pickles

In medium bowl, toss together cheese, peas, pickles, celery, chopped egg, mayonnaise, pickle liquid, chives and salt and pepper. Chill. Garnish with egg slices, tomato wedges and additional sweet mixed pickles. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 servings.

Entertaining

Take A Hint From The English; Prepare A Few Simple Entrees

Weekend guests, celebration of an engagement or birthday, or a leisurely morning with the family are common reasons for a brunch. Whenever casual entertaining is desired to greet the day, take a hint from the English and prepare a few simple entrees for a pleasing meal.

Scotch eggs, a traditional picnic and pub favorite, are hard-boiled eggs enveloped in a meat coating that's deep-fried to a gentle brown. Delicious warm or cold, this version features ground ham enlivened with fennel seeds and Tabasco pepper sauce. Fennel seeds have long been a favorite seasoning for pork, and Tabasco sauce is a taste enhancer that goes well with a great variety of ingredients. Unlike other varieties, only a small amount of this pepper sauce is necessary to attain maximum flavor in a dish.

Pat the eggs with Golden Salmon Cutlets, a moist, delectable treat that reflects the fondness for this fish and for hearty breakfasts in the Commonwealth. Salmon from the British Isles is considered among the finest of the Atlantic type and often prepared for brunch. Here, grated carrots add a mild sweetness to flat croquettes, also known as cutlets.

Serve both brunch specialties with Creamy Mustard Sauce, a flavoring quality at home with pork and seafood. Add toast or rolls, broiled tomatoes, hot and cold beverages and chilled fruit for a relaxed yet elegant feast.

SCOTCH EGGS

- 2 cups ground cooked ham (about 1/2 pound)
- 1 uncooked egg
- 2 tablespoons water
- 1 teaspoon ground fennel seeds
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper sauce
- 8 hard-cooked eggs
- 1 cup prepared dry bread crumbs
- Oil for frying

In medium bowl mix ham, uncooked egg, water, fennel seeds and Tabasco sauce, mix well. Pat ham mixture around hard-cooked eggs to make an even coating; roll in crumbs. In a deep fryer or heavy saucepan, heat enough oil to 350 F to cover eggs. Add hard-cooked eggs a few at a time, and fry until golden brown, 2-3 minutes. Drain on paper towels. Serve warm or cold with Creamy Mustard Sauce.

YIELD: 4 servings

GOLDEN SALMON CUTLETS

- 1 can (1 pound) salmon, flaked
 - 1/2 cup cracker crumbs or packaged dry bread crumbs
 - 1/2 cup shredded carrot
 - 1/2 cup finely chopped onion
 - 1 large egg, lightly beaten
 - 1 teaspoon lemon juice
 - 1/4 teaspoon Pepper Sauce
 - 1/4 cup vegetable oil
- In medium bowl combine salmon, crumbs, carrot, onion, egg, lemon juice and Tabasco, mix well. Shape into 8 patties. In large skillet, heat oil. Fry cutlets 3-4 minutes per side until nicely browned. Serve with Creamy Mustard Sauce.

YIELD: 4 servings

CREAMY MUSTARD SAUCE

- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
 - 1/4 cup chopped onion
 - 1/2 cup chicken broth
 - 1 cup light cream or half and half, divided
 - 1 tablespoon flour
 - 1 tablespoon prepared Dijon-style mustard
 - 1/4 teaspoon pepper sauce.
- In medium saucepan melt butter, saute onion 1 minute. Stir in broth and 1/2 cup light cream. Bring to a boil, cook over high heat until mixture is reduced to 1 cup, about 5 minutes. Combine flour and remaining 1/2 cup light cream; mix until smooth. Add gradually to hot mixture, stirring constantly, until mixture is thick and smooth. Stir in mustard and Tabasco sauce.

YIELD: About 1 cup.

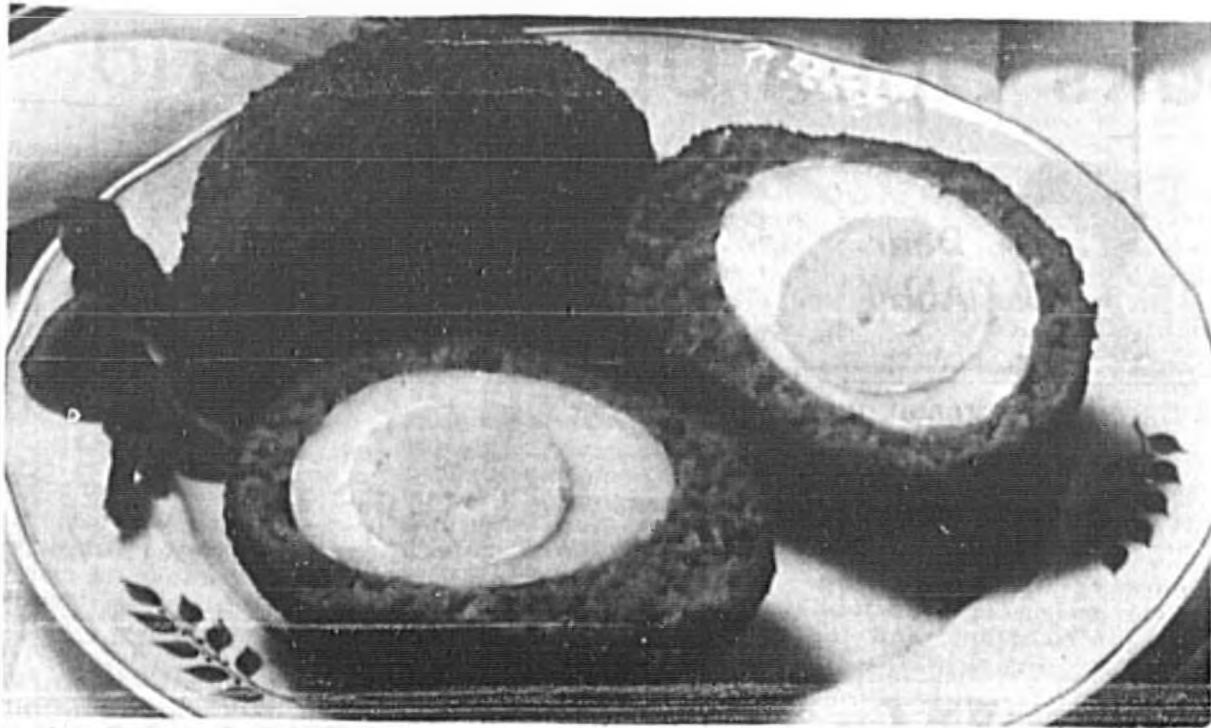

Chicken Classic

Arroz Con Pollo (Chicken with Rice) is a classic and colorful Mexican dish with roots in ancient Spanish and Aztec cuisines. The browned chicken pieces and rice simmer in a savory sauce of tomatoes, chicken stock and Kikkoman Soy Sauce.

During the last 10 minutes of cooking, peas and spicy, diced green chiles are added. But, it's the brewed soy sauce that adds richness to this recipe. As an all-purpose seasoning, it has the ability to blend together individual flavors, so the result is distinctive yet harmonious.

ARROZ CON POLLO

- 3-pound frying chicken, cut up
 - 1 tablespoon vegetable oil
 - 1 can (14 1/2 oz.) chicken broth
 - 3 medium tomatoes, chopped
 - 3/4 cup uncooked long grain rice
 - 1/4 cup soy sauce
 - 1 package (10 oz.) frozen green peas, thawed
 - 1 can (4 oz.) diced green chiles
- Brown chicken on both sides in hot oil in Dutch oven or large skillet over medium-high heat. Remove and drain off fat. Combine chicken broth, tomatoes, rice and soy sauce in same pan; bring to boil. Arrange chicken pieces over mixture; cover and simmer 30 minutes. Stir in peas and chiles; bring to boil. Cover and simmer 10 minutes longer, or until chicken is tender. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

tested recipes that her whole family enjoys:

WAIKIKI MEATBALLS

1 1/2 lbs. ground beef
 3/4 cup 3 minute oatmeal
 1/2 cup finely chopped onion
 1 egg
 1 1/2 tsp. salt, or to taste
 1/4 tsp. ginger
 1/4 cup milk
 1 tablespoon shortening
 Combine all ingredients, except shortening, and shape into balls using teaspoon to measure each one. Brown in shortening, then drain.

SAUCE

2 tablespoons cornstarch
 1/2 cup brown sugar
 1 13 1/2 oz. can pineapple chunks. (Drain and reserve liquid)
 1/2 cup vinegar
 1 tablespoon soy sauce
 1/2 cup bell pepper, chopped
 Combine cornstarch, brown sugar, pineapple juice, soy sauce and vinegar in sauce pan and cook until thickened. Add pineapple chunks and bell pepper, cook one minute, then pour over meatballs. Cook together until meatballs are hot enough. Serves 4-6.

MOCK CHICKEN LOAF

1 lb. ground beef
 2 cups dry bread crumbs
 1 egg, beaten
 1 medium onion, chopped
 1 can chicken noodle or chicken rice soup
 1/2 tsp. poultry seasoning
 Salt and pepper to taste
 Mix all ingredients and bake in loaf pan at 350° for 45 minutes. Serves 4-6.

CREAMY HAM AND POTATO SKILLET

5 cups potatoes, pared and sliced
 1 lb. fresh green beans, cut in 1-inch lengths
 1 cup chopped celery
 1 1/2 cups water
 1/2 tsp. salt
 1 cup chopped onion
 1/2 cup butter or margarine
 1/2 cup flour
 2 cups cooked ham, cubed
 2 tablespoons fresh parsley, optional
 1 1/2 cups shredded Cheddar cheese

Combine potatoes, green beans, celery, water and salt in 12 in. skillet. Cover and simmer 15 minutes. Drain vegetables, reserve cooking liquid. Add enough milk to cooking liquid to make 2 1/2 cups and set aside. Sauté onions in melted butter in the skillet until tender. Add flour, blend well. Gradually stir in the 2 1/2 cups milk mixture stirring constantly until sauce thickens. Boil 1 minute. Add the drained vegetables, ham and parsley. Cover and simmer 10 minutes. Sprinkle Cheddar cheese on top. Cover and simmer 5 more minutes until cheese is melted. Serves 4 to 6.

CREAMY BROCCOLI BAKE

1 1/2 lbs. fresh broccoli, or 2 10 oz. packages frozen broccoli, cooked and drained
 1 can cream of mushroom soup
 1/2 cup milk
 1/2 cup cheddar cheese, shredded
 Place cooked broccoli in ungreased casserole dish. Beat soup and milk until smooth. Pour over broccoli; sprinkle with cheese.

Mix together:

1 cup Bisquick and 1/2 cup milk until crumbly. Sprinkle this over the cheese topping. Bake at 400° for 20 minutes or until crumbs are light brown. Cauliflower may be used in place of broccoli. Serves 4-6.

STUFFING CASSEROLE

1 lb. ground beef
 1 package frozen tater tots
 1 box stuffing mix
 1 1/2 cups whole milk (some canned milk may be used)
 2 cans creamed soup (celery, onion, mushroom or chicken)
 Chopped celery and onion, to taste
 Pat raw ground beef into bottom of 13x9" baking pan. Cover with a layer of stuffing mix, right from the box. Cover with celery and onion. Pour soups over this and the milk over the soups. Top with frozen tater tots and cover with foil. Bake at 350° for 1-1 1/2 hours. Remove foil the last 15 minutes and let brown. Serves 4-6.

HONEY BUN CAKE

 4 eggs
 1/4 cup oil
 1/4 cup sugar
Filling:
 1 cup brown sugar
 2 tsp. cinnamon
 1/2 cup raisins
 Mix first 5 ingredients well and spread in a sheet cake pan. Mix the filling ingredients together and swirl through cake batter with a knife. Bake at 350° for 45 minutes.

ICING

1 cup confectioner's sugar
 2 tablespoons milk

1 tsp. vanilla
 While cake is still hot, mix icing ingredients and spread on cake.

FRUIT SALAD DELIGHT
 1 can chunk pineapple (15 1/2 oz., drained)
 1 can mandarin oranges (11 oz., drained)
 1/2 cup maraschino cherries
 1 cup miniature marshmallows
 1 cup sour cream
 1 cup shredded coconut

Drain pineapple, oranges and cherries. Combine all ingredients except sour cream in a large bowl. Add the sour cream and mix well. Refrigerate at least 2 hours before serving. Serves 6.

Open Books Open Up The World

DEAR ABBY: As an eighth-grade English and social studies teacher, I am trying to encourage my students to establish the habit of reading.

Students tend to emulate and identify with famous people, so I am asking various celebrities to help me with this project. As you know, Abby, better educated students grow up to be more informed and responsible citizens.

Would you please write a paragraph or two, stressing the importance of reading?

Thank you for your time and help.

RAY SMYTHE.

Dear Abby

PORTLAND, ORE.

DEAR MR. SMYTHE: With pleasure. If I could give young people one piece of advice, it would be read, read, read!

Reading will open up new worlds, real and imagined. Read for information, read for pleasure, read for inspiration. Our libraries contain a wealth of information and entertainment, and it's all yours — as much as you want — free for the taking!

The person who does not read has no advantage over the person who cannot read.

And since last week was National Library Week, I want to encourage parents to read to their very young children. This loving act will create a bond of closeness between parent and child as well as make the child aware of the buried treasures that can be found in books. Let me share with you the closing paragraph from one of my favorite poems, "The Reading Mother," by Strickland Gillilan:

"You may have tangible wealth untold:
 "Caskets of jewels and coffers of gold.
 "Richer than I you can never be —
 "I had a mother who read to me."

CONFIDENTIAL TO CURIOUS IN ST. PAUL: When people say, "It's not the money, it's the principle of the thing" — it's usually the money.

Microwave Magic

Rice On Way As Mainstay In U.S. Diets

In many parts of the world rice is the mainstay of the diet. In the United States rice is now often part of the meals in the southern and southwestern states.

The basic types of rice available to us are: long-grain, quick cooking, brown rice, and wild rice. There are numerous rice mixtures that contain special seasonings and herbs. All of these grains can be prepared in the microwave oven, but the time and power settings differ.

Regular long-grain rice is dry and needs to absorb water to soften. Microwaving time is shorter than conventional, but not as short as with moist foods.

The method I find most successful for microwaving four servings of long-grain rice

Home Economist
Seminole Community College

utilizes 100% power and 50% power settings.

1 cup long-grain rice, 2 cups water, 1 teaspoon salt, and 1 teaspoon butter.

Measure rice, hot water, salt and butter into a 2-quart casserole. Cover and microwave on 100% power for 5 minutes, reduce power to 50% and continue to microwave for 10-12 minutes. Fluff with a fork and allow to stand, covered, for 8-10 minutes, or until all the water is absorbed.

You no doubt have a favorite rice dish that could be adapted to the microwave oven and I suggest doing that, just remember to reduce some of the liquid and adjust cooking times.

Try some of these rice recipes and use them as a guide for your adaptations.

VEGETABLES WITH RICE

- 4 cups cooked brown (or white rice)
- 2 cups sliced fresh mushrooms
- 1 medium carrot, chopped
- 1/2 cup green pepper, chopped
- 1/2 cup chopped celery
- 1/4 cup chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons butter
- Dash of pepper

1 clove garlic, minced

In a 2-quart casserole combine mushrooms, celery, carrot, green pepper, onion, garlic and butter. Cover and microwave on 100% power 4-6 minutes, or until vegetables are fork tender. Stir after half the cooking time. Makes 8 servings. Note: If you freeze half of this recipe you can use it as a base for Fried Rice.

FRIED RICE

- 2 cups cut-up cooked chicken, beef or pork
- 3 cups Vegetables With Rice mixture (above)
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon butter
- 1 tablespoon soy sauce

Mix 2 cups cut-up chicken (beef or pork), with 3 cups of the vegetable rice mixture. Beat 2 eggs and microwave for 1 1/2 minutes with 1 teaspoon butter. Allow eggs to set, then chop into small pieces. Add to the rice mixture with 1 tablespoon soy sauce. Toss to blend well.

CHILI AND RICE DINNER

- 1 pound ground beef
- 1 cup chopped green pepper
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- water

1 (16 ounce) can whole tomatoes, chopped and drained, reserve liquid

1 (15 1/2 ounce) can tomato sauce

2-3 tablespoons chili powder

In a 4-quart casserole, crumble ground beef, stir in green pepper, onion and garlic. Microwave on 100% power 4-6 minutes, or until beef is browned and onion is tender. Stir several times; drain. Add enough water to the reserved tomato liquid to measure 2 cups; add to beef and stir in remaining ingredients. Microwave on 100% power 6-8 minutes, reduce power setting to 50% and microwave, covered, 30-35 minutes, or until rice is almost tender. Let stand, covered, 15 minutes before serving.

Since moving to the South, I've found that chicken and rice is a southern tradition. This may not be just as you have always had this favorite, but it is very good.

CHICKEN AND RICE STEW

- 1-1/2 pounds chicken parts
- 1 medium onion chopped
- 1 1/2 cups diced carrots
- 1 cup sliced celery
- 1 cup cubed ham
- 3/4 cup white rice
- 3/4 cups water
- 2 tablespoons snipped parsley
- 1 teaspoon instant chicken bouillon
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
- 1/4 teaspoon curry powder
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 cup milk
- 1/2 cup Half & Half
- 2 tablespoons white wine

Combine chicken, onion, carrot, celery, ham, rice, water, parsley, bouillon, salt, garlic salt, curry and pepper in a 3-quart casserole. Cover with lid, microwave on 100% power 40-50 minutes, or until all is tender. Remove chicken pieces to platter to cool. Stir milk, Half & Half and white wine into rice mixture. Cut chicken from the bone. Add to the rice mixture. Cover. Microwave on 100% power 3-5 minutes, or until heated through.

This chicken and rice salad is a good recipe for a brunch and is also good as a main dish salad.

CHICKEN-RICE VINEGARRETT

- 1 whole chicken breast (about 1 pound) split
- 1/2 cup uncooked rice
- 1 cup water
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon cooking oil
- 1 medium cucumber, peeled and chopped
- 1 large ripe tomato, chopped
- 1/2 cup diced green pepper
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
- 1 tablespoon snipped parsley

Dressing:

- 1/4 cup salad oil
- 1/4 cup cider vinegar
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
- 1/4 teaspoon celery seed
- 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper

Arrange chicken breast, skin-side up in an 8-inch square baking dish. Cover with wax paper.

Microwave on 100% power 7-8 minutes, or until chicken is tender. Cool. Remove skin and bones. Cut meat into bite size pieces. Chill.

Combine rice, water, salt and 1/2 teaspoon oil in a 1-quart microwave-safe casserole. Cover. Microwave on 100% power 4-5 minutes, or until mixture boils, then reduce setting to 30% power for 9-10 minutes, or until rice is tender and water is absorbed. Cool.

Combine chicken, rice, cucumber, tomato, green pepper, onion and parsley in mixing bowl. Combine dressing ingredients in a 1-cup measure. Beat to blend. Pour over salad ingredients and toss gently. Cover and refrigerate for at least 6 hours to blend flavors.

This salad can be pressed into a mold and inverted on a serving plate. Garnish with cherry tomatoes and cucumber slices.

Swallowed Air, Bacteria Two Main Causes Of Gas

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am writing about a very embarrassing problem. I am 68 and in good health. The problem is gas: it doesn't matter what I eat. We like to eat out once in a while, but I am too embarrassed. What can I do?

DEAR READER — Intestinal gas has two components: swallowed air and the products of bacterial action. Many people have the unfortunate habit of gulping air when they swallow, because they eat too quickly or have a natural tendency to swallow air when they drink. Of course, carbonated beverages provide carbon dioxide, which, when ingested, can cause abdominal distention and gurgling. If you are a gulper, you can significantly reduce intestinal gas by analyzing your eating habits, slowing down and making an effort to avoid an swallowing.

The gas produced by intestinal bacteria is quite another matter. When certain foods are partially digested and enter the large bowel (colon), the normal bacterial inhabitants of the intestine break down these foods. I'm oversimplifying the process, but the end result is gas. Gas-producing foods are a traditional source of jokes, but there is no doubt that beans do encourage bacterial action.

Recently, nutritionists have discovered that the non-absorbable sugar, sorbitol — a common non-caloric sweetener — is a primary source of gas due to bacterial action. "Sugarless" chewing gum and candy, for instance, can turn an otherwise harmless person into a social liability.

Anyone who suffers the indignity of intestinal gas can usually improve the situation by eating carefully and eliminating specific foods. An over-the-counter medicine called simethicone often can aid gas reduction.

DEAR DR. GOTT — My husband developed very bad breath. After trying all the usual things, we discovered that half a glass of buttermilk after each meal did away with the odor. Perhaps you could tell us just what the buttermilk does. Could bad breath be caused by some kind of body-chemical disorder that some folks have?

DEAR READER — Buttermilk contains, among other things, harmless bacteria called lactobacilli. Possibly these helpful germs are neutralizing bacterial degradation of food caught between your husband's teeth. Perhaps the lactobacilli themselves are contributing to an initial digestive process that takes place in the mouth, there by preventing food particles from being broken down — in a smelly way — by the billions of other organisms that inhabit our mouths.

Send your questions to Dr. Gott at P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, Ohio 44101.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

On your partner's opening lead, it's normal for you, as third hand, to play the lower of touching honors. That gives partner the most information about your holding in the suit.

But if you want your partner to switch suits, wrong information is best. This deal, from tournament competition, features the battle for the overtrick. Rubber bridge players can turn to the next chapter.

When West led the seven of hearts, East defender Hettie Noland of Lake Charles, Louisiana, knew that probably the best her side could do if West got on lead again would be to take three spade tricks.

So she played the heart jack at trick one. Playing this card denied the 10, and that message is just what she wanted to convey to West.

Declarer now took stock. If he played out the diamonds and they did not split 3-3, he would have to make an embarrassing discard on the fourth round of diamonds. To hold the spade suit protected, he would have to throw a club winner away. So, counting on the more probable 4-2 diamond split, he played the diamond ace and a low diamond to the 10.

When West won the jack, he asked himself why declarer had given up an early diamond. When he answered that question, he played a spade and East took three spade tricks to deny declarer an overtrick.

The problem for West was made much easier by the false impression given by East at trick one that South held A-Q-10 of hearts.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY
APRIL 25, 1985

In the coming year you will explore several new areas where you have never trod before. The experience will be rewarding and add to your mental growth.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) To get pals to see things your way, you might be tempted to fudge a little when it comes to telling the truth today. Don't! The Matchmaker wheel reveals your compatibility to all signs, as well as showing you which signs you are best suited to romantically. To get yours, mail $2 to AstroGraph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Friendships cannot be bought today, so don't deceive yourself into thinking this is the way to get others to like you. All you have to do is just be yourself.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

Pals will come to your aid today but you must let them do it their way and in their own good time. If you try to dictate terms, they'll exit.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Switching horses in midstream in search of greener pastures will not only get you off course, but you could lose already-covered ground.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Today you could be too easily influenced by others. With the least amount of discouragement, you might lay aside workable ideas.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Do not attempt to wrest control of a situation from the hands of one presently doing a competent job. Interference will gum things up.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) To get desirable results in handling a complicated assignment, you must use logical procedures. Do not act upon impulse.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Be careful today that you don't oversell yourself on something a wise friend thinks is of dubious value. He's apt to be right.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) In your involvements with friends today, you must be extra careful not to show partiality or play favorites. Treat each pal equally.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Delegating tasks you know you could take care of yourself is a precarious procedure today. Even if you get someone to do your job, he's not apt to do it properly.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Treat your prized possessions with respect today. If you must transport valuables in your care, you'd be wise to lock them in your trunk.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your responsibilities toward your family should take precedence over all personal activities today. Think of them first, not last.

10 Years After The Fall, TV Looks Back At Vietnam

By Joan Hanauer
UPI TV Reporter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Vietnam was called "the living room war," the only war the United States ever lost, and Americans sometimes felt it was being fought on the evening news broadcasts.

It ended 10 years ago with the fall of Saigon — now renamed Ho Chi Minh City — on April 30, 1975 and this week television returns to Vietnam.

Much of the Vietnam revisited coverage will be live. The CBS Morning News started a series of reports on Monday. On Friday Bryant Gumbel will begin a series of live reports from Vietnam for NBC's "Today" show. On April 29, Ted Koppel's "Nightline" gets into the act as will "Good Morning America."

An exception to the live reports is Walter Cronkite's "CBS Reports — Honor, Duty and A War Called Vietnam," to air Thursday, 10-11 p.m.

Cronkite doesn't star in this show — that slot is filled by the Americans who fought in Vietnam and now look back on their sacrifices in a war that lasted more than a decade, involved more than 2.5 million American servicemen and claimed almost 60,000 American dead. Forty percent of those killed or wounded in Vietnam were 19 years old or younger.

One of the most poignant to talk about his experiences was former Marine Lt. Lewis B. Puller, Jr., of Alexandria, Va. He is the son of Lt. Gen. Lewis "Chesty" Puller, the nation's most decorated Marine. Young Puller stepped on a mine and lost both legs, as well as suffering other serious injuries. He lay near death when his father saw him and their were tears in his father's eyes.

"There were a couple of times when he — I could see that he wanted to ask questions. And he just wasn't able to," young Puller said. "So I never got that — I was never able, and it's one of my regrets that I was never able to sit down with him and thrash it through, and I'd love to be able to do that now. And find out, you know, for instance, how he felt about what happened to me."

But his father died in 1971, shortly after Puller got back from Vietnam. Puller is not sure we have learned the right lessons from Vietnam.

"The current — the in vogue — thing now that you hear everybody say is, 'Well, we've learned that you never get into a war that you can't — that you're not prepared to go all-out and support.' Well, Jesus, you know, we should've learned that 300 years ago. That's not a lesson in my mind. That's a catch-line that gets applause, but it's not a lesson."

And former Army Spec. 4 Pat Finnegan of Albany, N.Y., said:

"They never say they're going to wage wars so that we can continue to have wars. They always say, 'Well, we're waging the war so we can get to the peace.' Well, let's just skip the wars."

To feel good about Americans, tune in on the special "20-20" edition, "Try To Make A Miracle," to air on ABC tonight at 10. It's enough to make the Grinch give back Christmas.

The show tells how New York City school children — many from homes of poverty — worked to raise more than $150,000 to ship 35 tons of grain in a "Children to Children" effort to help the starving people of Ethiopia. The kids not only collected the money but also arranged for the grain to be airlifted to Ethiopia and distributed in less than a month.

Tony Baez, 13, lives on the tough lower East Side of Manhattan with his mother, baby sister and mentally retarded older brother. His father died in a barroom knife fight when Tony was small.

"You think I'm considered poor," he said, "look at the Ethiopia kids and you see how much they don't got. That's what you call poor first class. They don't have nothing."

'But I've Changed...'

John Ritter stars as an aspiring comic trying to change his reputation of irresponsibility with his girlfriend, played by Susan Dey, in "Sunset Limousine," a comedy drama airing tonight at 9 on channel 6.

USA For Africa Promoters Get Tough, Sue Suspected Counterfeiters

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Alleged counterfeiters of millions of dollars worth of fake USA for Africa T-shirts and other merchandise are taking food off the mouths of starving people, say the lawyers who sued the bootleggers.

USA for Africa attorney Jay Cooper said the suit filed against seven Southern California manufacturers and retailers was the start of a bigger effort that could save millions of dollars for the famine victims.

Cooper said he was sending a message to bootleggers nationwide. "We're out to get them."

"These bootleggers and infringers are taking from the mouths and the bodies of the people of Africa," said Cooper, adding that private detectives all over the country are gathering evidence against other counterfeiters.

"These bootleggers are not stealing from Lionel Richie. They are not stealing from Michael Jackson. They are stealing from the people of Africa. That is a moral crime, not only a legal crime."

The suit claims copyright and trademark infringement, unfair competition and violation of the right of publicity, and seeks an injunction preventing the sale or manufacture of the unauthorized merchandise, which Cooper said he wants destroyed.

Defendants included United Sportswear, Chof's T-Shirts and Gifts, Here n' Now, Progressive Distributors Inc. (doing business as Chickenshirt), Dreams, Market Store and Energy Stores Inc., plus 500 John Does.

"This is only the beginning," Cooper said. "Two million dollars could have been lost in illegal sales, but I'm going to guess it's a lot more."

The entire USA for Africa effort — the single "We Are The World," an album and video, plus T-shirts, buttons and other items — has so far raised $35 million, he said.

Cooper conceded that delays in getting authorized merchandise into stores may be a contributing factor to the plethora of phony items.

12 Sentenced For DUI

The following persons have either pleaded or been found guilty of driving under the influence or having an unlawful blood alcohol level.

As first-time offenders, most have had their driver's license suspended for 6 months, ordered to pay a $250 fine, pay court costs of $27.50 and complete 50 hours of community service. When a guilty or no contest plea is entered or if the defendant is found guilty of an alcohol-related charge, other charges are usually either not prosecuted or dismissed. Most of the first-time offenders are allowed to apply for business-only driving permits. In cases where the sentence differs, the actual sentence is reported:

—Herschel Allison, 38, of 200 Pauline Road, Longwood, arrested April 6 after his car was clocked traveling 55 mph in a 35 mph zone. He was fined $1,000 for his third DUI and his driver's license was suspended for 10 years.

—Vincent John Rybert, 27, of 703 Spring Ave., Oviedo, arrested Aug. 10 after his car almost hit a highway patrol car and ran off the road and across the centerline of state Road 419 in Winter Springs. He was fined $1,000 for his third DUI and his driver's license was suspended for 10 years.

—James Everett Medlock, 43, of 1430 Seminola Blvd., Casselberry, arrested March 29 after a motorist flagged down a highway patrolman and told him the suspect had driven into her car. He was fined $500 and ordered to fulfill the rest of the usual sentence.

—Francis John Oles, 60, of 651 Brookside Drive, Maitland, arrested March 30 after his car was involved in an accident on Lake Howell Road.

—Kim Villar Morgan, 24, of 1230 N. Grassie St., Longwood, arrested April 4 after her car failed to maintain a single lane on U.S. Highway 17-92, Longwood.

—Horace Eugene Paul, 63, of Route 4, Box 250, Sanford, arrested Jan. 2 after his car failed to maintain a single lane on 17-92, Sanford.

—John Boettcher, 26, of Bradenton, arrested Feb. 17 after his car was clocked at 85 mph on Interstate 4 at Lake Mary Boulevard, Lake Mary.

—Nancy Maria Corrieter, 27, of 1435 Oxford Road, Fern Park, arrested Aug. 29 after pulling into the parking lot of a convenience store and falling to obey a deputy's order not to drive her vehicle. The deputy reported that when Ms. Corrieter tried to enter the store, which had just been robbed, she appeared to be intoxicated. He arrested her when she attempted to drive away.

—Leslie Howe, 43, of Route 3, Box 547, Sanford, arrested Dec. 20 after his car ran off 17-92 near Longwood and then back onto the roadway.

—Mark William McLean, 20, of 537 Woodview Drive, Longwood, arrested Feb. 16 after he was found asleep behind the wheel of his car parked in the intersection of state Road 434 and Sand Lake Road, Altamonte Springs.

—Kenneth P. Nickels, 33, of 2636 Tailbot Road, Fern Park, arrested Feb. 15 after his car was involved in an accident on 17-92, Longwood.

—Wendy White, 26, of 1100 Pressway Ave., Altamonte Springs, arrested Feb. 17 after her car sped up behind a Florida Highway Patrol car on 17-92 south of Sanford.

The following person charged with DUI was found guilty of the lesser charge of willful and wanton reckless driving:

—Paula Rene Lamoreaux, 19, of Orlando, arrested Sept. 21 after her car ran a red light on state Road 436 at Red Bug Lake Road, Casselberry. She was fined $350 and ordered to complete 50 hours of community service.

SANFORD APPRECIATION DAYS

Sanford: Camp Monroe To County Seat...

Sanford, "the Friendly City," was incorporated 107 years ago.

The first permanent settlement in the area was founded in 1836 when troops were stationed on the south bank of Lake Monroe. This was one of a series of garrisons established in Florida to protect early settlers from the Indians.

Named Camp Monroe, it was manned by two companies of artillery and four of dragoons. This force was not strong enough, however, to repel Indian attacks and in February of 1837 reinforcements were brought in.

A subsequent Indian attack was repelled, but the federal troops suffered a great casualty, Capt. Charles Mellon, for whom the garrison was subsequently named.

(About a mile from Fort Mellon a one-story block house was built. It was called Fort Reid and was connected to Fort Mellon by a sand road. The road later became Mellonville Avenue.)

In 1840 the federal government began an effort to settle the area, and by 1845 two small steamboats were making regular trips between Palatka and Fort Mellon.

As the Indian attacks grew less severe, the settlers turned their thoughts to the land. Orange groves were planted. By 1858 the fort was unnecessary, the federal government having succeeded in moving the Indians west.

By this time a large hotel had been constructed across Lake Monroe at Enterprise, and many Northerners were coming down by boat from Jacksonville to hunt and fish.

Fort Mellon became important to the settlement of Central Florida. All goods were brought into this section by boat to the fort and carried by mule team to other sections of the state.

In 1870, Gen. Henry S. Sanford, former minister to Belgium, purchased 12,535 acres of land and laid out the town that was named for him, west of Fort Mellon.

The General interested a group of English capitalists in his plans and personally brought over a colony of Swedes, settling them in his new town.

In 1880, President-elect Ulysses S. Grant was in Sanford at ceremonies to mark the beginning of construction of the South Florida Railroad. Grant turned the first shovel of earth to begin the project.

When J.E. Ingraham, Gen. Sanford's agent in charge of the Sanford property, received a telegram that Grant and his party were due to reach Sanford on the early afternoon of Jan. 12, 1880, he gave a courier a list of the people in the backwoods he wished notified and an invitation extended to them to be in Sanford at the hour when the boat was scheduled to arrive.

The messenger covered 15-20 miles on horseback to carry the news to the residents of Mellonville Avenue, Fort Reid, Twin Lakes, Paola and Sylvan lake.

According to one account of the time, "Some of the settlers notified were Confederate veterans who, when advised of Gen. Grant's approach, looked at the messenger in a critical way and stated they were not interested, and did not give a damn if he was going to arrive in Sanford."

The steamer, known as the Geo. M. Byrd, reached the old Sanford dock around 2 p.m. When the steamer docked, Capt. D.L. May, publisher of the Sanford Journal, was the first one to board the boat, handing the general a recent issue of his paper.

The general turned over the first shovel of dirt. The shovel he used is now owned by the General Sanford Library. Following the ceremony, the visiting dignitaries were driven in carriages on a tour of the Speer and Doyle groves.

At the time of Grant's visit, there was practically no town. There were three saloons, two stores (one operated by Gen. Sanford and the other by H.L. DeForest), and a small hardware store.

By 1884, the railroad had been completed. It linked Jacksonville with Sanford. The little town on the St. Johns River had both rail and water transportation to the markets of the north.

The year before Sanford was incorporated was 1886. The town's officials were Albert M. Thrasher, mayor, Duncan J. Campbell, marshal, Thomas M. MacRae, clerk and assessor, and Fay S. Phelps, treasurer and collector. Aldermen were Philip J. Parramor (chairman), Stephen J. Drawdy, Henry L. Lillenthal, A.E. Phillips, Adams S. Travis, and J.B. Randall.

Sanford was incorporated as a city on Sept. 29, 1877. T. Pearson was elected mayor.

The meeting had been preceded by a notification made and signed on Aug. 29 of that year by N.A. Hull, Robert B. Rich and T. Pearson, urging all persons who were registered voters within the proposed corporate limits to assemble at 10 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 29, to form the new government.

At that time, the largest settlement in the area was Mellonville, which lay east of the proposed town of Sanford. Its main street, Mellonville Avenue, was laid out by Col. Zachary Taylor, later President of the United States, and was extended through the forest from the fort here to Fort Brooke, which later became Tampa.

The notice of the Sanford meeting summoned all persons who were registered voters residing within the following proposed corporate limits:

"Beginning at the end of Sanford Avenue on Lake Monroe, thence run-

The Swedes: They Came Here By Rail, Ship ...

In 1871 the South struggled with the problems of Radical Reconstruction. Ulysses Grant was president. Florida was beginning to attract the developers. And, in Sweden, Elias Bengtson and his wife, Christina, joined 30 fellow Swedes to begin a journey toward a new life in the United States.

They had come from their homes by rail and by canal to the seaport of Gotenborg. From there they would go by ship to Leith, Scotland, and by train to Glasgow, where the long Atlantic crossing would begin.

In Glasgow, the ship's manifest showed that most of the passengers were male. Not shown were their reasons for making the trip, but the universally applicable factors were dissatisfaction with things as they were, and hope for a better future in America.

They carried little except their skills and muscles, ideas and dreams. They arrived at the Sanford wharf on May 30.

In time these first immigrants were joined by more of their countrymen. Some came, as they had, solicited by an agent of Gen. Henry S. Sanford. Others, hearing of the success of the Florida colony, undertook the trip with their own funds and faith. Still others came to Florida from Kansas and Illinois, from Maine and Minnesota. Together they built a community, and it is the sum of their experiences that make up the history of New Upsala.

Officially, they changed from foreigners to Americans after filing naturalization papers, learning some elementary facts of American government and taking a verbal exam about these facts, and finally appearing before a judge to take the oath.

Unofficially, the process took longer.

As it so often happened in immigrant communities, the younger generation wanted to hurry with the business of Americanization. They developed American interests and loyalties. They learned the English language and American ways. They intermarried.

In the early years of the colony, everyone attended the Scandinavian Society Church where Lutheran services were conducted in the Swedish language. But the young people wanted to hear English language services. Many of them followed a congregation to found a Presbyterian Church in the Community.

In the beginning, New Upsala had its own school which was so well attended the students qualified for a special tuition rate under the county school system. But a Swedish school preserved too many Swedish ways. In a few years, the young people asked to be allowed to go to school in Sanford.

Some things took longer to change. The Lutheran Church continued to have Swedish language services. As late as 1930, church festivals and special ceremonies appealed, in Swedish, to the older members of the community. And everyone loved the Julotta, or Christmas service. Even the young people loved to sing "Det ar en ros utsprungan" at this early ceremony.

For years, a Swedish wedding in New Upsala was a time of great celebration, lasting several days. The preparation of food began weeks before the event. Relatives and friends came from a distance and stayed overnight.

Child-rearing practices continued to follow firm rules that had been established in the Old Country. The rod was not spared.

The Herald: It Began In 1908 As A Weekly

In 1908, R.J. Holly, Sr., formerly managing editor for the Orlando Reporter-Star, came to Sanford to become the first editor of the Sanford Herald, which was first published as a weekly on Aug. 22, 1908. The newspaper office was on the first floor of the Bishop Block building on First Street.

The first day's editorial stated The Herald has been established to fill a "crying demand for a live newspaper in Sanford that could worthily represent the liberal and enterprising citizens of this commonwealth.

"While much of its space will be devoted to Sanford in particular, it will strive to give all the news of the county and keep its readers in touch with all matters pertaining to their welfare.

"There were no electric lights, no sidewalks, no paved streets, the sewerage of the city ran into the lake where all eyes could see it and all olfactory nerves could sense it," Holly recalled in 1934. Type was set by hand and two pages of the paper were run at a time.

Since Sanford had no daily newspaper, people gathered in front of the Herald office to read the bulletins posted there. After World War I started, the Herald carried daily war news.

The Herald later moved to 107 Magnolia, from which it continued its campaign for civic improvement.

ning south along Avenue two and a quarter miles, thence due north to Lake Monroe and then eastward along the margin of the lake to the point of beginning."

At the time, Sanford and Mellonville were within Orange County. It was not until 1913 that Seminole County was created and Sanford became the county seat.

There were 50 qualified electors residing within the prescribed town limits present at the meeting in 1877, and this represented more than two-thirds of the electors.

Hull, president of the meeting, appointed George C. Granter, Frank Lewis and William Boatright sergeants at arms.

It was voted that the corporate name for the new municipality should be Sanford, and a city seal was designed bearing a palm tree illustration and the words, "Sanford, Orange County, Florida."

In the vote for incorporation, 53 voted for and one against the move, and since it appeared that not less than two-thirds of the duly qualified and registered voters of the proposed city had voted to form a municipal corporation, it was declared carried and the corporation established.

When voters eventually chose Sanford's first officials, T. Pearson was elected mayor, edging E.S. White by a 39-10 vote.

Elected as the first aldermen of Sanford were A.C. Martin, 44 votes; A. Nillson, 38 votes; E.S. White, 38 votes; R.H. Rich, 47 votes; and Charles Groves, 46 votes.

D.L. Way became the first city clerk, defeating J.A. McRae 38-7.

George C. Granter, with 44 votes, was elected town marshal. W.J. Hill, founder of the Hill Lumber and Hardware Co., received one vote and F. Lewis received four votes.

The optimism of the 1920's burst when the real-estate boom came to an abrupt halt in 1926, however. The banks ran into difficulty, and farmers were hard-pressed.

By 1930 the city was deeply in debt, owing $6,500,000 in bonded debt. The debt was finally paid off earlier this year.

Mayor Lake eventually went to prison for misuse of public funds, and Sanford, like other cities, had to struggle to survive.

But survive it did, and the opening of the Sanford Naval Air Station in 1942 provided a much-needed economic stimulus for the area.

The base closed for good in 1968 and was returned to the city. The land is now used for a municipal area and successful light industrial park.

ON THE ST. JOHNS, EN-ROUTE FOR SANFORD

JOSEPH H. CAMERON

When you visit Sanford, of course you'll want to take a trip out to "Joe's place." Don't know who "Joe" is? Well, anybody in all this locality will tell you. Everyone calls him "Joe," but his right name is Mr. Joseph Cameron. Mr. Cameron is one of those fortunate who was blessed, or lucky, or heaven-favored enough to get hooked up some time ago with a big bunch of this Celestine Delta land that's now near thing to a gold mine. You see they didn't know then that it had such capabilities, nor that they had such a priceless treasure of flowing water, although we give here with a picture of a well on the Cameron place that has been pushing forth a continuous floodlet, night and day, for nearly twenty years. No finer lands are to be found anywhere than the tract owned by Mr. Cameron, and if you're looking for investment, this gentleman is one whom it would be well to see, aside from the pleasure of a ride out to his premises.

SANFORD HISTORY

BY MARY B. CHAPPELL

A Talented Student of Sanford High School

In the winter of 1869-70, Mr. J. Welford Tucker was looking at land in this part of Florida with a view to settling. His attention was drawn to a tract of land that had been granted to Gen. Joseph E. Finnegon in consideration of his services during the Seminole war.

Mr. John Hughes, father of Mrs. Clara Evans, pointed out to Mr. Tucker what he considered a beautiful location for a house. A small branch with overhanging trees shaded its way to the lake beyond, and gave promise of picturesque development.

It was here that Mr. Tucker made his purchase from Gen. Finnegon, and built the first house in what is now our flourishing little city.

He little dreamed that he was laying the foundation of a town. He had only planned a large orange grove.

In 1871 Gen. Sanford, ex-minister to Belgium, became interested in Florida. He took a trip up the St. Johns, and decided to make investments in this section. He became acquainted with Mr. Tucker, and they formed a business partnership.

The natural advantages of the location appealed to these men, especially the river, which afforded easy and cheap transportation facilities, and they decided to lay the foundation of a town.

As the settlement grew, it became a question as to what it should be called. Finally Mr. Tucker's daughter, our own Mrs. Philip, suggested, "Just call it Sanford," and Sanford it became in the postoffice notices of Uncle Sam.

In the earlier days, the mails were conveyed by steamboat up the St. Johns, and the inhabitants of those times had to be satisfied with one mail arrival weekly.

Soon the old settlement of Mellenville was entirely deserted, and Sanford became the town.

About 1875 the first hotel was built. It was called the Sanford House. In 1880 the South Florida Railroad, reaching from Sanford to Orlando, and later to Tampa, was commenced. General Grant, then President of the United States, who was taking a pleasure trip up the St. Johns, landed at Sanford, and turned the first shovelful of earth for the South Florida Railroad.

Sanford was incorporated as a town in 1877, the first mayor being Mr. Pearson. From then on, Sanford progressed steadily. Churches, banks and a school house, all took shape, as the needs of the people called for them.

For many years what was then known as the Lyman Bank, but since changed to the First National, stood as the only brick building in town.

Sanford had a phenomenal growth, and in 1885 we had a thriving little city of 2,500 inhabitants, with all the conveniences of a modern town, a gas plant, waterworks and ice factory. The year 1887 was a notable one for two reasons: The holding of the South Florida Fair, and for what was known as the "big fire." The fair was of great benefit, not only to Sanford, but to all of South Florida, as it advertised the possibilities of this part of the state. At that time President Cleveland and his young wife paid Sanford a visit. On Sept. 11, 1887, a fire destroyed practically the whole business portion of the town, there being few but wooden buildings. What seemed a calamity, and perhaps was individually, proved a good thing for the town. The people immediately began to build, putting up handsome brick buildings in place of the frail wooden structures which had been destroyed. So we find that even a terrible fire did not retard the progress of this enterprising people.

The year 1900 will long be remembered because of the yellow fever plague which became epidemic in Jacksonville, Tampa and in many smaller towns in Florida. And though Sanford was fortunate in having comparatively few cases of the fever within her boundaries, yet being on the line of travel between Jacksonville and Tampa, her business interests suffered on account of the necessary street quarantines.

As the name indicates, this county was the best orange growing section in Florida, and Sanford was the largest shipping point for oranges in the state, so at the beginning of the year 1894 we had Sanford the most enterprising and prosperous city in South Florida. Her magnificent groves were bringing in large returns. Consequently her orange growers, merchants, railroad men and steamboat men were busy and prosperous. The real estate dealers were more than active.

It seemed that Sanford's future was positively assured. She had withstood fire and plague, but when, in the winter of 1894 and 1895, the big freeze swept over the state, killing nearly all the orange trees, Sanford did not escape the general desolation. In one night her chief and almost only source of wealth was destroyed. It takes years and the expenditure of much money to build up a grove. After the freeze many of the grove owners but faith in the climate, and many others who had not lost faith in that had lost their money, and so had not the means of restoring the groves to their former condition.

Many of the business blocks and dwellings were empty, and Sanford's steamboat friends could see no future for her. The railroad interests kept things going through slowly, but the people were in a constant state of anxiety, for fear the railroad shops would be moved away and Sanford would lose her only remaining support.

In 1898 it was discovered that by drainage and irrigation the land around Sanford would produce the best vegetables, and at a time of year that they are most valued by our northern neighbors, that is during the winter. Much land on both sides of town, which had long been considered worthless, was easily irrigated and equipped with underground drainage, which soon increased its value one hundred per cent.

On these now fertile lands all kinds of vegetables may be grown, but the principal crops are celery and lettuce. Celery Avenue especially is noted for the celery farms on each side of it.

In 1902 the old, hanklike schoolhouse was abandoned, and a handsome brick one took its place. New dwelling and business blocks have since been built, old ones repaired and occupied, and Sanford now claims 3,500 inhabitants.

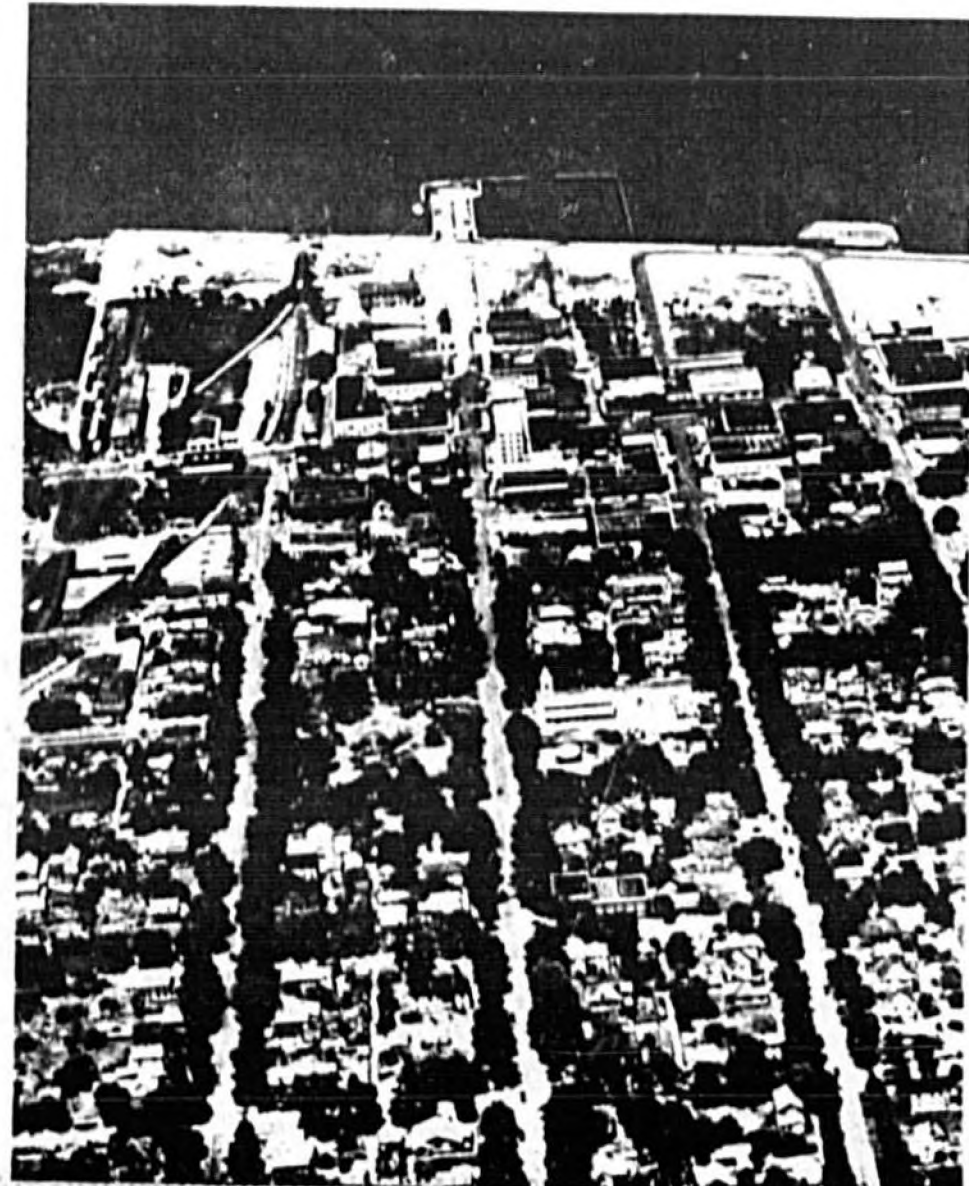

Sanford, for its size, is a very cosmopolitan town. Her population is composed of people from all parts of our broad land, and many foreign countries are also represented.

Sanford's citizens have proven by the manner with which past crises have been met, that they are able to cope with any circumstance which may arise in the future. With such citizens, coupled with Sanford's many resources, there is no reason why it should not, in the near future, become the largest, best and loveliest city in South Florida.

When Mellonville And Sanford United

The town of Mellonville had a fitful existence in competition with its growing neighbor, Sanford. Sanford was incorporated in 1877 and to unite the two towns, Judge Tucker made Union Avenue, T.E. Pierson was the first mayor of Sanford, and T.A. Hughey of Mellonville.

In 1879 a charter was secured from the South Florida Railroad to run from Sanford to Tampa. President U.S. Grant came to Sanford and threw the first shovelful of earth. In 1884 the J.T. & K.W. Railroad came into Sanford from Jacksonville and connected with the South Florida Railroad. Prior to this time, all connection with the outside world north of Sanford was by steamboat. The Union Station, at the West End of Commercial Street, was built soon after the completion of the railroad.

Mellonville, slowly falling into decadence, finally ceased to exist about 1883 or '84.

In 1884, the Lyman Bank was founded with its "first brick building" in town. Three years later it developed into the First National Bank. In quick succession came Tuxberry and Fernald, later the Geo. H. Fernald Hardware Co., and now the Ball Hardware Co., Chase Brothers Packinghouse, now Chase & Co., the J. N. Whitner Co., Lord's Jewelry Store, now McLaulin's Jewelry Store, (1952 note Kader's), Sanford Loan and Trust Co. Bank, W. T. Deane's Furniture Store, T.J. Miller & Son, the Fiber Factory, and others and then the fire. But the fire only cleared away the old wooden buildings, and Sanford arose in brick.

In February 1888 was held a County Fair which was attended by President and Mrs. Cleveland, and Emma Abbott was engaged to sing at the "Old Opera House" under a guarantee of $1,000 for one performance. The fair was a great success, and Orange County contained a happy and contented people and hope held out a reasonable prospect of large demand for their products, as our national population should increase and become educated to their use; with assurance that a profitable culture of citrus fruits was necessarily limited to South Florida.

A possible recurrence of such weather as had frozen orange trees in 1836 gave them little concern, being counted the one liability to disaster, against many in other business enterprises. Thus, buoyant with hope, their countenances expressed satisfaction for the present and bright anticipation for the future, when the great freeze of Feb. 6, 1895 came. Terrible indeed were the consequences.

Kmart is glad to be a vital part of the Sanford community. During Sanford Appreciation Week, we invite you to visit our Sanford Kmart and take advantage of the everyday low prices.

SANFORD APPRECIATION DAYS

Dean recalled that the first project the Herald sponsored after he moved to Sanford was the Community Chest. "Today it seems incredible that anyone could have opposed it. But the town wasn't ready for it and I soon became known as 'that 23-year-old upstart from Miami,'" Dean said.

Later in November, 1954, when Fred Perkins was editor and publisher, the Herald moved from Magnolia Avenue to the building at 204 W. First St. abandoning its flat bed press for a rotary press.

In August, 1958, there was a change in stock ownership and management and Walter Gielow became editor-publisher of the Herald.

By 1966, the Herald had outgrown its cramped facilities on First Street and had quadrupled in growth over a five-year period. It moved into its modern facilities at 300 N. French Ave. on July 4, 1966, and celebrated the event with an open house Aug. 20 for area officials and on the 21st for the public.

The pride and joy of the Herald publisher was the two new Duplex presses. The old plant's press turned out 12 pages black and white at the rate of 12,000 newspapers an hour, while the new presses could turn out as many as 40 pages with color at the rate of 28,000 an hour. The Herald switched from United Press International to Associated Press and added two teletypes printing simultaneously — one the printed word and the other perforated tape, which could be fed into a linotype, operating without a human operator.

The biggest and most sweeping change in 64 years of publishing for the Herald took place Feb. 21, 1972, when it made a giant step into the computer-age and switched to the off-set process.

On Nov. 5, 1972, the Herald's first Sunday edition was printed as the newspaper went to six issues a week and the Seminole Magazine and colored comics were added.

On June 1, 1974, Wayne Doyle replaced Gielow as publisher. The current editor is Thomas Giordano.

Today, the Herald is produced completely by computers and a new building is under construction behind the present facility to accommodate future expansion.

...Swedes

Death was regarded with deep respect and was accompanied by age-long customs. The grave of a loved one was painstakingly cared for and decorated with plants and flowers. Nor was his memory apt to be forgotten. His photograph stood on a mantle or the piano to be "remembered" with fresh flowers.

Even today, a Swedish dinner is not a thing to be hurried through. And you will not find a Swede in Sanford who does not like homebaked pastries and cookies with his coffee.

Today the Upsala Presbyterian Church lives as a monument to the young Swedes who had the courage to break with tradition and to become American. And the Upsala Swedish Cemetery stands as a monument to those who had the courage to take the first step - from Sweden to America.

Elias and Christina are buried there.
