There was no explanation of his long silence in the cryptic message. The war department reported Williams killed in action soon after he went to France, three years ago, and his widow his insurance and then sent a soldier's body here as his.

WOULD REPEAL EXCESS PROFIT TAX

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—A bill to repeal the war and excess profits taxes and levies on transportation and soft drinks was introduced yesterday by Representative Longwood, Ohio, a Republican member of the ways and means committee.

The measure would also abolish the $2000 exemption on incomes of corporations and would levy an additional tax of 5 per cent on such incomes. Reduction of surtaxes on higher incomes from a 70 to a 50 per cent basis also is proposed. Representative Lonkwood estimates that his proposed tax cuts would decrease Federal revenues approximately $890,000,000 a year, but he said the proposed 5 per cent tax on incomes of corporations would yield at least $450,000,000 and that the remaining loss would be made up in increased customs revenues resulting from new tariff schedules.

WOULD PROHIBIT USE SOLID TIRES FLORIDA ROADS

ORLANDO, Feb. 17.—Members of the legislative committee of the Florida State Automobile Association, from different parts of the state, met in Orlando yesterday and were in session all day, drafting original measures along lines of important legislation to be submitted to the association, fourth annual convention, which will convene in Cocoa, and last for two days, March 8th and 9th.

President M. M. Smith presided at both committee meetings, that of the legislative committee and also that of the committee on protection of highways and fees of trucks and buses. In attendance at this meeting as a guest, was W. G. Waldo, vice-president of the Dixie Highway Association, who sought assistance from this committee in the form of a resolution endorsing the Dixie Highway Association's plan of raising a certain amount of money through the Florida state legislature, this money to be used throughout the states where the Dixie highway runs, in an effort to secure the completion of this highway at an early date. The legislative committee granted Dr. Waldo's resolution and pledged their aid in the state legislature.

Some of the important measures definitely adopted at these joint meetings yesterday, were as follows:

No. 1. Highway Protection Bill (Chap. 7482, Sec. 1), to be amended so as to read: "Except pneumatic tires," which amendment will have the effect of making solid tires for heavy loads, practically prohibitory on the highways. Other amendments are being offered to section 3 and section 5 of this same chapter.

No. 2. A bill which will fix the value of improvements in condemnation proceedings as well as liabilities (in all cases of state road building).

No. 3. Uniform traffic laws, and recommending a state speed limit of thirty miles instead of twenty-five, and the nullification of all county laws in conflict.

No. 4. Limit of tonnage, which measure deals with the loads which may be carried on private and corporation operated trucks.

No. 5. Regulation of licenses for passenger cars and trucks, which provides for an entirely new method, and new scale of license fees for same. This bill is designed to raise money for state road building in lieu of any bond issue or other plan. The new scale of prices was unanimously adopted by the committee but will not be given to the public until passed upon by the fourth annual convention, March 8th and 9th, at Cocoa.

No. 6. One license tag only, which measure will require on all passenger vehicles one license plate instead of two, said plate being displayed on the rear end of the vehicle only. The successful passage of this measure will save the state of Florida thousands of dollars by preventing duplication as well as initial cost of purchasing same.

No. 7. Lights on all vehicles. No. 8. Headlights "dimmers," which measure looks to the entire change from the present dimmer system to that recommended by the National Chamber of Commerce and the American Automobile Association, and now in use in California and other advanced states, viz., the "tilting lights" which will throw their rays not higher than forty-two inches from the ground, at a distance of seventy-five feet in front of the automobile carrying such light.

No. 9. Dealers' license plates. This measure recommended by State Comptroller Ernest Amos, and looking to the connection of the present system, which is the most abused of any of the state requirements under the Motor Vehicle Law.

No. 10. Fines for delinquent registration. This measure providing for a fine of $10 to be imposed after February 1st of each year on all automobiles failing to carry the new license plate of that year. These fines to be collected by the sheriffs, and their deputies of the various counties, and one-half of said fines to go to arresting officers.

No. 11. Fees for trucks and buses, which measure provides for an entire change in the present law governing the same.

At this meeting it was unanimously voted to employ the services of Judge D. Stuart Gillis of DeFuniak Springs, to draft all bills referring to above subjects and to be submitted to the association convention in its fourth annual session, and all measures finally adopted will be taken into the legislature in April by prominent members of the Automobile Association, who will be appointed at the convention. Judge Gillis will also be a member of whatever lobby is created at that time.

The delegates to these committee meetings in Orlando, were entertained

ANGLERS CLUB OF JACKSONVILLE TO PROTECT FISH

WOULD MAKE IT ILLEGAL TO SHIP GAME FISH OUT OF STATE

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 17.—Every member of the incoming legislature will be appealed to pass laws making it a heavy fine for anyone to ship out of the state, offer for sale or sell any game fish found in the streams of Florida and inside the three mile limit, and in addition, the legislators will be asked to pass laws charging a non-resident a fee for the privilege of fishing in Florida streams.

This action was decided upon at the regular monthly business and luncheon meeting of the Duval Anglers club at the Mason hotel Tuesday evening and a publicity committee, composed of Thomas W. Patterson of the Metropolis, and Harry Culley, Jr. of the Times-Union, was requested to write a letter to every angles' club in the state, asking their co-operation, and in addition, a letter to every member of the state legislature asking that laws for the protection of game fish be approved.

The angles' club went on record as favoring drastic laws for the protection of all game fish and the members voted for laws that would prevent, under heavy penalties, the seining of rivers and creeks, and the use of traps anywhere in the state or inside the three-mile limit.

A new committee was appointed to draw up laws to submit to the legislature, as follows: Vice-president, F. C. Caulkins; John L. Doggett and Floyd Cheatham.

The new committee was instructed to draw up the laws at once.

A number of the fishermen reported seeing seines and traps at various places in the rivers and streams in the county and Simmie Rape, one of the deputy sheriffs appointed by Sheriff W. H. Dowling to enforce the game fish laws of the county, was instructed by the president, to investigate the situation and every member was asked to report all violations of the game fish laws to the deputies.

Vice-President Calkins in the course of a short talk in which he urged the necessity of drafting a law to protect game fish in the state declared that the fishing in the state would soon be a memory unless laws were passed for their protection.

Mr. Calkins stated that every state in the Union that has a coast line has laws that are enforced preventing trawling within the three-mile limit with the exception of Florida, and declared that hundreds of people from other states were now in Florida seining the rivers and creeks, something that they could not do in their own states, and shipping the fish back.

PROMINENT NEW YORKER WILL SPEAK HERE

As many New Yorkers as have known the Rev. Dr. Stephen S. Wise, rabbi of the Free Synagogue, would add him to the catalogue of platform adepts. Within the last week, particularly, has his dexterity of expression found a widespread acknowledgment.

When he attacked a number of supreme court judges and Jerome for taking dinner with Richard Croker, he found an audience as big as the city is wide, and there was a unanimity of opinion as to his forcefulness as an oratorical hard-hitter, both among the better element that approved and the Tammany contingent that scoffed. If, perchance, there be those who had not heard Dr. Wise prior to his remarks on Crokerism and the "city's night of shame," it may be said that he has been saying striking things about moral and governmental questions for a good many years.

This week may have been the first time that he located the pulse of all New York's interest, but in the better informed circles he has long commanded attention; and out in Portland, Ore., where he spent the years from 1900 to 1907, he gained a name that was known throughout the state, as a pulpit orator and independent worker in public movements.

Portland came to know the rabbi as a man ready to get into any fight against graft or official inefficiency. His influence was extended until the pulpit aspect was only a part of it. He worked as well as preached. There is probably no preacher of any denomination whose pulpit utterances have been more quoted than those of the young rabbi. The reason is easy to find. He has the knack of foreseeing the interest in a subject as soon as it arises. Timeliness is the keynote of his sermons.—New York Evening Post.

The people of Sanford are among the fortunate ones for they will have an opportunity to hear Rabbi Wise of New York on February 25th. Buy a ticket early.

The beautiful floral offerings and the large attendance at the funeral attested the love and esteem in which Dr. Dodd was held in this city.

All the stores closed for an hour today while the funeral services were being held out of respect to the memory of Dr. Dodd.

His mother, Mrs. Bettie Wilkinson, and uncle, C. A. Massengill of Clavis, N. M., are here to attend the funeral as well as many old friends from Ocoee and other sections of the state.

Weather and Crop Condition in Florida For the Past Week

Temperature: The days were sunny and warm but the nights were unusually cool with frost on several days; mid-day temperatures were 80 degrees or above, and night temperatures in the 30's several times in the central division, where frost formed.

Precipitation: Rainfall was light and scattered—a large portion of the section was without rain. There is no complaint, however, of dry weather, although moderate showers and higher night temperatures would be beneficial on some high lands.

Condition of Crops: The sunshine favored farm work, which was advanced—it is ahead of time in some localities. The low night temperatures and occasional frost in northern, and locally in the central, division delayed the germination of some seed and the growth of some truck, but as a whole most crops did well. The planting of Irish potatoes continues in the north, and some are above the ground and doing well. Strawberries are more plentiful in the central and Southern divisions, and are well advanced in the north. Celery and lettuce are in fair to good condition, but the rain and warm weather of the previous week were unfavorable for lettuce in some localities. The seeding of corn and melons continue in some localities, although general planting has not begun. Citrus bloom is abundant in the south and well advanced in portions of the northern division. Knages are mostly good.

Scientists say that the mountains in California are moving slowly north. This undoubtedly is to make room for eastern tourists.—New York Herald.

Austria has asked permission of the League of Nations to unite with Germany. And yet people still say that a burnt child dreads the fire.—Nashville Southern Lumberman.

NEGROES DECIDE NOT TO LYNCH BRUTE-ASSAULT

SAVANNAH, Feb. 15.—An unidentified negro charged with assaulting a 15-year-old negro school girl near Pembroke in Bryan county, run down by whites and blacks and fully identified by his victim, is being taken to Clyde, the county seat, to be turned over to the authorities.

For several hours last night there was every indication that the negro would be lynched, but shortly after midnight it was learned that the negroes who were given charge of the assailant had reversed an earlier verdict and were on their way to the county seat.

The crime, according to the story by long distance from Pembroke, was committed yesterday afternoon. A crowd of negro school children were on their way home when a strange negro appeared in the road, took his victim by the arm and told the other children to hurry on. He is said to have forced the girl into the woods.

When the story of the crime reached Pembroke all places of business closed and whites and blacks formed posses for the man hunt. The negro was captured at Lanier, seven miles from Pembroke, at 8 o'clock last night. He was taken to the girl's home and was identified, after which the whites withdrew leaving him to those of his wocarsen shrdlu un unun those of his own race.

FLORIDA COUNTY OFFICIALS WILL RECEIVE INCREASE IN SALARIES FOR YEAR

Supreme Court Declares Chapter 7334, Acts '17 Null and Void

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 19.—County officers of Florida will receive approximately $250,000 increase in salaries during the coming year as a result of the action of the supreme court yesterday afternoon in declaring Chapter 7334, Acts of 1917, relative to the compensation of county officers, to be null and void so far as it places a ban on fees and commissions.

Sheriff W. C. Spencer, of Hillsborough county was respondent in the friendly suit, which was brought by Attorney General Rivers H. Buford and J. B. Gaines, assistant attorney general. The opinion is by Chief Justice Brown, concurred in by Justices Taylor and Ellis. Judges Whitfield and West dissented.

While the act has not materially decreased the salaries of officers in the small counties, in Hillsborough and Duval counties it has in some instances cut the salary of the officer to less than 20 per cent of the net receipts. Whereas, the clerk of the circuit court of Hillsborough county would have received about $5,000 a year under the provisions of the act, he will receive this year between $20,000 and $25,000, with the fee system again in force.

The increase will average about $10,000 to each of the principal office holders in Hillsborough and Duval counties.

Smooth Negro Forger Caught in the Act by Sheriff Hand Today

From Saturday's Daily
Sometime it happens that an officer of the law is lucky enough to strike a hot trail at the very door of the bank and this happened this morning when Sheriff Hand happened in at the Peoples Bank just after a negro named Mose Walker had cashed a check that the bank was suspicious of and upon mentioning it to the sheriff he became suspicious at once and nailed the negro before he had reached the street.

He had been signing checks on Renger Lee, who has a store in Goldsboro and so adept was this handwriting that he deceived the bank. He made out the check to Will Williams, posing under this name while he was doing his banking business.

It was lucky that Sheriff Hand nailed him when he did as this slick negro would have soon filled the town with bogus checks. He will repose in the county jail until Monday when Judge Householder will give him a prize for being a handwriting expert and he will be busy for several years tracing letters in the soil with a shovel.

While Avon Park boasts of the largest citrus grove in the world under one fence, Sebrign claims the largest grove proposition in the world. This is a grove of 6,000 acres, touching the shores of five lakes: Lake Jackson, Dinner Lake, Basket Lake, Bonnet Lake and Lake Letta. It contains 400,000 trees.

SOME CABBAGE

(From Saturday's Daily)

Robert Thrasher brought a head of cabbage to the Herald office today that measured 14 inches across and was as hard and solid as one could want. In fact it was one of the real cabbage heads that should have been taken to the fair at Orlando and helped Semnole win the prize but Mr. Thrasher, who is busy on the farm, never thought about the fair until it was too late to take it to Orlando. However, many people here saw the cabbage and marvelled at its size.

After admonishing the messenger to keep going the man moved with crowds passing through the square and escaped.

SEE MANY CHANGES HERE

(From Monday's Daily)

Dr. Owens, who has been holding special services at the Baptist church for the past ten days, leaves today for Atlanta. Dr. Owens was here several years ago and has a warm spot in his heart for the people of this city and in a conversation with the editor of the Herald this morning ament his visit said that he had never seen such remarkable changes in a city in his life as he noted here. Dr. Owens said the people here were awake and very much alive and that when he came back here again, as he wants to do, he will see a city of 20,000 people here, all of them doing well and all of them of the right kind of Christian citizenship. Dr. Owens and his sweet singer, Mr. Spencer, made many friends here who hate to see them depart but wish them well in their fields of endeavor wherever they may be.

GEORGIA FIRES DESTROY HOUSES AND MILLS

DISASTROUS BLAZE AT TIFTON AND HAZELHURST

TIFTON, Ga., Feb. 21.—Fire destroyed four Tifton business concerns Sunday afternoon, causing a loss of $150,000. For a time it looked as if the whole town would be wiped out, and fire companies were brought here from Cordele, Fitzgerald and Sylvester.

The fire, of undetermined origin, started on the third floor of the Darnell Dry Goods Company. When the roof of this building fell, flames fanned by a stiff breeze, leaped across Second street and threatened the entire northern half of the business section.

Besides gutting the Darnell building, flames caused heavy damage to the Ivey Furniture Company, the Kent Music and Furniture Company and the Parker Grocery Company.

Big Cotton Oil Mill Burned.

HAZELHURST, Ga., Feb. 21.—A terrific explosion of undetermined origin Sunday morning set fire to and completely destroyed the large mills, a large amount of cotton seed and manufactured products of the Carter Cotton Oil Company here, causing an estimated damage of approximately $100,000.

The mill had operated all day Saturday, but had shut down for Sunday. The origin of the fire is believed by the owners of the mill to be incendiary. The fire was discovered by a watchman on duty, and about the time of its discovery a terrific explosion took place, being heard for miles around. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

CANNOT SEIZE AUTOMOBILE OF INNOCENT OWNER

STATE LAW DOES NOT CONTEMPLATE SUCH ACTION, RULING OF STATE SUPREME COURT

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 19.—The supreme court has reversed the judgment to the circuit court for Leon county in the case of Simon Spratt, plaintiff in error, vs. J. H. Gray, defendant in error. The opinion is by Judge West. Attorneys: Sydney H. Diamond and W. J. Owen, of Tallahassee for plaintiff in error; Fred H. Davis of Tallahassee for defendant in error.

This was an action of replevin to recover the possession of one Ford automobile. Verdict and judgment were for defendant and plaintiff took writ of error. The plaintiff undertook in the trial to show his right of recovery by proof of his ownership and the invalidity of the proceeding under the provisions of chapter 7736, acts of 1918, by which the automobile was condemned and forfeited because of its alleged use in the unlawful transportation of intoxicating liquors. The bill of sale by which plaintiff acquired the ownership of the automobile was offered in evidence and the record of the forfeiture proceeding under which the defendant acquired possession of the automobile was also offered in evidence by the plaintiff. After reciting the provisions of the statute cited, the court says:

"The automobile in controversy was in possession of John Spratt and was seized by the sheriff as being used in the unlawful transportation of intoxicating liquor. In the condemnation of the automobile the officer seizing it made affidavit that John Spratt was the owner of the automobile and that there is no other person, firm or corporation known to your deponent who has or claims any right, title or interest in or to said property. Service of summons was made on John Spratt to appear and show cause why the property should not be forfeited. Simon Spratt, the owner of the automobile, so far as the evidence discloses, was not concerned in such violation. He was subpoenaed as a witness in the condemnation and forfeiture proceeding but he was not served with notice to appear and defend in said proceeding and he did not appear as a party claimant or otherwise. No affidavit was made that Simon Spratt owned the automobile or that the owner was unknown or that service of process could not be had on Simon Spratt, the owner, and no notice of the condemnation and forfeiture was published or posted at the court house door as required by the statute when the owner is not served with notice in the condemnation proceeding.

"Under our statute the automobile of an innocent owner, although used in the unlawful transportation of liquor, is not subject to forfeiture, and a forfeiture proceeding of which such owner has no notice is ineffectual to divest him of title to such automobile.

"The result is that Simon Spratt, the plaintiff, has not been given a legal opportunity to defend his property rights, and the condemnation and sale of his automobile was without authority and ineffectual to divest him of his ownership and title thereto. The court not having acquired jurisdiction of the owner, the forfeiture proceeding was void and the sale under such proceeding conveyed no title to the purchaser which would entitle him to the possession of it as against the owner."

"We do not deal with the question of the power of the state to confiscate property of an innocent owner used to facilitate any violation of the statute for the reason that the statute does not attempt to authorize any such action."

DONATION FOR COUNTY HOME

Al Dornor, better known to his friends as "Peggy", has been working for some time in the interests of charity. During the holidays he begged on the streets and raised funds in various ways with the idea of purchasing some extra clothing for the County Home inmates.

Yesterday he turned over the funds that he had collected to Perkins & Britt with instructions for them to use the money as far as it would go for some warm clothing for the poor. A representative of the firm was sent out to the County Home to find out what they could use the best and later a package containing socks, overalls, shirts, pants, stockings, sweaters, underwear, etc., was sent to these inmates of the County Home with Mr. Dornor's compliments.

Mr. Dornor, or "Peggy" is a man with a great big heart and he worked hard, from morning till night to raise these funds, and we are sure that the folks at the County Home will gladly join with us when we say that it was labor well spent.

AMERICAN LEGION WARNS TRAITORS IN AMERICA

ABOUT PLANS OF GERMANS TO START PROPAGANDA MOVEMENTS

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 22.—American Legion posts throughout the United States were asked tonight by the legion's national headquarters here to watch for a revival of German propaganda in this country.

A bulletin sent out by the national headquarters said the object of the propaganda seemed intended to turn American sentiment against the allies, and to create a "powerful national political machine by the amalgamation of the disloyal elements in our population."

Mass meetings in New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Chicago, Milwaukee, Louisville, Omaha and Cleveland have been planned, the bulletin said as "one of the first national manifestations" of the propaganda campaign.

The bulletin which was sent to all state headquarters of the legion said: "There has come to the attention of the national headquarters information indicating a move for a nationwide revival of German propaganda activities in the United States which are the result of carefully directed national campaigns the object of which seems to be:

"First, to the disruption of the accord which exists between the United States and our allies with particular reference to France and Great Britain by the turning of American popular sentiment against the governments of those countries, and

"Second, the methodical creation of a powerful national political machine by the amalgamation of the disloyal elements of our population and their elevation to a place of power in America through the organized minority.

"One of the first national manifestations of this activity will probably take the form of a series of mass meetings throughout the country, ostensibly in protest against the occupation of the Rhine by French negro troops from Africa. The alleged presence of French colonialists is to be used as a motive to turn American sentiment against France. Negro troops were withdrawn from the French army of occupation months ago. While there, their conduct was excellent, according to official reports from the American ambassador at Paris to the State Department in Washington.

"It has been planned to hold a series of such mass meetings in New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Chicago, Milwaukee, Omaha, Cleveland and other cities. In all of these cities and in many others, there are committees and groups which aspire to be the nucleus of the national organization which propaganda is now working in the interest of Germany and in the United States with the hope to build up for the purpose stated above.

"Identified with this movement are individuals whose disloyalty and whose efforts in the interest of Germany have been notorious in the past and who are now again in direct communication with Berlin.

"National headquarters has received reports of pro-German activities from many sections of the country, which appear to connect directly with the national propaganda campaign here outlined.

"Department officials are requested to make note of any dramatic activities in their community and to forward actual and complete reports of same to national headquarters."

Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant of the Legion, said there was little he could add publicly at this time, but in a formal statement, supplementing the bulletin he said, "the greatest check to a movement of this kind will come from these citizens of Teutonic extraction of whose loyalty and sincerity there can be no doubt."

ATTEMPT TO WRECK TRAIN
ORLANDO, Feb. 22.—What may have been a dastardly attempt to derail and wreck A. C. L. northbound train No. 92, Sunday afternoon, was made public here yesterday. The engineer on train No. 89, local southbound, between Altamonte Springs and Maitland, noted an obstruction on the railroad and succeeded in bringing the train to a halt within a few feet of what upon examination proved to be a cross-tie that had been wedged in between two others, one end beneath one rail and the other protruding above the other rail in such manner that would have caused the locomotive to have plunged from the track.

Railroad Superintendent Dumas at Sanford stated that officials of the road are working on the case and he personally believes the tie was laid on the rails by some children.

AVIATION STUNTS BE GIVEN HERE ON SATURDAY, MCH. 5

Fred Owens, the intrepid stunt flyer, is here in the interest of the Merchants' Carnival Day that will take place on Saturday, March 5th, at which time there will be a flying circus composed of Owens, Keatley and Pearson all of them daredevils who can do anything in the air that any other aviator has ever done and they will do all this and more here if the merchant's day goes through. Mr. Owens was here about a year ago doing the wing walking and changing from one airplane to the other and shortly after leaving here had part of his foot taken off by the propeller of one plane while he was changing from one to the other in Tampa. But the accident has not stopped his death-defying stunts and he is doing them again and those who are with him are all top-notchers in the flying game. They will use two Avros of the type that were here some time ago when Captain Pearson was flying it on the lakefront and Pearson will be here with the same machine and another of the same type.

Future announcements will be made in this paper about the completed program.

Seminole County Came in as The Winner of Second Prize

Volusia county won over all the others for the best county exhibit, taking the Fair's biggest prize, $250. They had nearly a hundred and fifty blue ribbons, which they proudly strung across the entire booth, where they made a very gay showing indeed. Naturally, all the Volusia people were jubilant, and you could have spotted every one of them by their widespread smile, which, like that of Governor Pincham, "was so warm that he had to have a watering cart follow him lest he dry up everything by his hearty glow." They certainly had a good showing; but then Orange did not want to be impolite and carry off the prize from their guests.

Mrs. Wakefield got the blue ribbon for having the best all-around exhibit of preserves, jellies, etc., as well as having a bit of blue ribbon tagged to every exhibit she had, which is going some for a woman, and should make Geneva proud it has such an enterprising lady as an inhabitant.

Mrs. Caroline Moorhouse, of the Florida Citrus Sub-Exchange, was the artist who handled the oranges and grapefruits, turning these into things of beauty, even if they are not a joy forever. She cut the rinds of these fruits into most adorable things, and she set every woman in Orlando trying the same stunt. If a fruit salad is served here in the next month without some of her ideas in decoration being used it will surprise this reporter, for every housewife in town took down all sorts of suggestions from her work. Instead of a demonstrator she should be called a fruit rind artist from the lovely things she made.

There was a quilt on exhibition which was marked as being one hundred and thirteen years old and was made by the wife of a sailor as she sailed with her husband around Cape Horn. The idea of this quilt is so old it has come into style again, for it is covered with flowers cut from cloth and button-holed on, just as is the very newest bed coverings now. The colors on this quilt have not faded at all, and suggest the difference in the dye of the past and the dye of the present, most of which will die on the first washing.

Mrs. Nellie Taylor, County Demonstrator, took seventy-five blue ribbons on the work done by her girls in the sewing classes, the canning, preserving, pickling and jam making, and it is hard to say which was the proudest, Mrs. Taylor or the girls. Her booth was certainly a lovely one and showed that Uncle Sam is doing a big thing when he is making it possible for the best in household culture shall become possible to the country girl, who has hitherto been "cribbed, confined and confined" by her restricted life away from people. It is said the brick roads and autos have advanced civilization a hundred years, and the County Demonstrator has helped out in the job.

Seminole county was way up in "G" with their exhibit and the exhibitors were no plus ultra of courtesy in showing all the wonderful things they had. It was too bad one of these, Mr. C. M. Berry, had to go home from illness, for he was doing such a fine work; by the way his wife was an Orlando girl, Miss Marie Fletcher, and she was kept busy welcoming all her former friends and showing all of them the many good things that Sanford had sent down to us.—Orlando Reporter-Star.

VEGETABLE DIET WILL SAVE LIVES SAYS PHYSICIAN

EMINENT ENGLISH WRITER POINTS OUT MEAT AS A SORT OF DISEASE

LONDON, Feb. 22.—Dr. Josiah Oldfield, English physician and author, who believes that flesh-eating is a prolific source of disease and one of the worst enemies of the human race, is of the opinion that the wastage of life caused by the war might be speedily repaired by right feeding.

Dr. Oldfield is a strong advocate of the fruitarian diet and has been senior physician of the Lady Margaret Fruitarian Hospital at Bromley. Writing from Jamaica he says: "My observations here confirm my views that food and fertility go hand in hand. The commission dealing with the grave problem of the steadily falling birth rate in Europe has failed to grasp the fundamental truth which applies to vegetable and animal and human life alike—that a right dietary means increased fertility and wrong feeding leads to increased sterility.

"If a gardener wants much foliage he feeds the plant with one food; if he wants fruit or seed he feeds it quite differently. So does the stock-feeder and breeder. It is a difference in food only which transforms similar eggs, one into a drone and another into a queen bee.

"Whereas before the war in every European country the birth rate showed a steady fall, yet in Serbia, Bulgaria and Rumania, where the hardy peasants still live on rye bread, dried fruits, vegetables, cheese, oil and sour milk, there was a continuous high birth rate and no decrease. "Here in the West Indies, where the dark races live on yams, sweet potatoes, carrawa, Indian corn, sugar, milk, coconuts, bananas and oranges, with some salt fish, the birth rate is high and the fertility irrefragable.

"Owing to ignorance and want of sanitation the infant mortality is high, but when that is removed the black population will multiply at a far higher rate than the white unless the white population of the world learns that it is corn, oil and wine, salads, milk and honey which produce a fertile race, and that meat eaters suells increased sterility."

You Can't Keep a Good Man Down

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 23.—Lieut. William D. Coney will continue his flight to Jacksonville with a delay of only about 15 minutes at Bronte, Cooke county, Texas, according to a wire received here by his mother from J. C. Jackson, manager of the Western Union at Dallas.

The message received by the aviator's mother, Mrs. E. F. Coney, of Brunswick, who is awaiting the arrival of her son here was to the effect that a plane had been sent to make repairs on the de Havilland and that the flight would be continued immediately.

Much is being done in the way of setting orchards in Walton county; recently 4,000 peach and 200 pecan trees were set on one farm, and 1,000 peach trees on two other farms. We have 10,000 blueberry plants ready to set.

PRIZE WINNERS COUNTY SCHOOLS ESSAY CONTEST

F. F. DUTTON GAVE PRIZES TO BEST ESSAYS ON DR. CONWELL'S LECTURES

Recently, through the generosity of Hon. F. F. Dutton, of this city, the teachers and pupils of the public schools of this county were given the privilege of hearing the greatest lecture of the world, "Acres of Diamonds" by Dr. Russell H. Conwell, of Philadelphia. Not being fully satisfied with merely buying this lecture and giving it to the schools, Mr. Dutton, realizing the good that could result from having the great truths of the lecture indelibly impressed on the minds and hearts of the youth, asked the superintendent for the privilege of offering one hundred dollars to be awarded in prizes to high school and grammar school pupils writing essays on the subject, "How Will the Lecture, 'Acres of Diamonds,' Make Me a Better Citizen?"

The essays were judged by competent, impartial and disinterested judges, who knew neither the name of the contestant nor the school represented, and the awards were made upon the merits of the essays as to style and subject-matter.

The winners of the several prizes were as follows: County High School grand prize, Oviedo High School. County Grammar School Prize, the Sanford Grammar School.

Individual Prizes. Sanford High School, Miss Gayle Marshall. Oviedo High School, Miss Elizabeth Young. Sanford Seventh Grade, Briggs Arrington. Sanford Eighth Grade, Warner Scoggan. Oviedo Grammar School, Olin Wright. Lake Monroe School, Miss Violet Swaggerty. Longwood School, Albert Owens. Chuluota School, Hazel Jacobs.

Great interest was displayed in this contest, and there is no doubt that the contestants will remember for life the cardinal points of Dr. Conwell's lecture, and will become stronger, truer and better citizens for having heard and studied it.

Teachers and pupils extend heartfelt thanks to Mr. Dutton for his interest and generosity.

The new cabinet as selected by President-elect Harding will be:
Secretary of State—Charles Evans Hughes, New York.
Treasury—Andrew Mellon, of Pennsylvania.

War—John W. Weeks, of Massachusetts.

Attorney-General—Harry M. Daugherty, of Ohio.

Postmaster-General—Will H. Hays, of Indiana.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Feb. 23.—President-elect Harding completed his cabinet slate yesterday by a virtual selection of Edwin Denby, of Detroit, Mich., as secretary of the navy.

The choice was the first big surprise among the cabinet selections, Mr. Denby's name having never appeared in newspaper speculation about the navy post. He is an attorney and a former member of congress and has served as an enlisted man in war time in both the navy and the marine corps.

It is understood a formal tender and acceptance are yet to be exchanged, but Mr. Denby is regarded by those close to Mr. Harding as practically certain to take the place.

There were also growing indications today that the virtual selections of Herbert Hoover, of California, to be secretary of commerce and James J. Davis, of Pennsylvania, to be secretary of labor soon would be definitely fixed, putting the complete cabinet list in its final form.

Mr. Denby, who was drawn into the cabinet situation as a dark horse, after former Governor Frank Lowden, of Illinois, declined to be considered for the navy portfolio, is 50 years old, and has an intimate knowledge of far eastern affairs in addition to his naval experience. He went to Chile in 1885 with his father, who served there as an American minister and later he spent ten years in the Chinese maritime customs service.

Returning of the United States in 1897, Mr. Denby served as a gunners mate in the American navy during the war with Spain, and at the age of 47 was a sergeant in the marine corps during the world war. He was a representative in the 59th, 60th and 61st congresses, making a particularly study of naval affairs as a member of the naval committee.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Edwin Denby, whose appointment as secretary of the navy yesterday, enlisted as a private in the United States Marine Corps at the outbreak of the European war and was sent to Paris Island, S. C., the recruit training camp for the eastern section of the country. Completing the "regular" boot training given all marines, he was transferred to the non-commissioned officers' school, where he won corporal's chevrons. He proved an efficient drill master and rose to the rank of sergeant and finally was commissioned second lieutenant.

Mr. Denby was then made morale officer, where he performed what was perhaps his most important showing.

For months he delivered a daily lecture to new recruits immediately after they took the oath of allegiance, telling them the history of the marine corps and inspiring them with his remarkable appeal for patriotism and loyalty. Lieut. Denby's "lecture" will be remembered by thousands of marines as one of the most impressive events in their military service.

Work at Capital Did Not Stop on Account Holiday

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Altho' all executive departments of the government closed today in observance of Washington's birthday both houses of congress facing crammed legislative calendars with adjournment only ten days off, remained in session. Both senate and house suspended business long enough to permit the customary reading of Washington's farewell address.

CHULUOTA

County Engineer Williams was out today and blamed if he and Charlie Harrison didn't unwind a steel tape and measure a couple or three lengths of it right down the middle of the main street to the surprise of the crowd of five. Looke like progress, don't it? Dad Brumley was seen driving with a stranger today in his fine Buick-oline.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Snyder of Patonia N. J., stopped in town today. They are spending a few days at the Argo rest camp on the St. Johns.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Siggins of Boston, Mass., guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Snyder, will spend a few days in Tampa and on the west coast before leaving for Washington, D. C., where they will attend the inaugural ceremonies when Harding and Coolidge are inducted into office.

Mr. E. C. Tribble has had a fine lot of young tangerine trees added to his already coming orange grove.

D. D. Daniels and the Oveldo men are hustling in the oranges to the Oveldo packing houses this fine weather.

Even Billy Jacobs and his whole family went to the fair Saturday and for fear they would not get to see it all Carrie Higgins and Lorayne went that evening. Bill Higgins stayed at home and burned the woods to help light up the town in case the electric light plant failed to produce that mysterious Ben Franklin juice at this critical time.

J. C. and N. C. Jacobs are about to have one of the Colt acetylene gas concerns stuck near their houses very soon. They are going to have light if the light plant fails. All they will have to do is turn on the gas and the machine will do the rest.

W. T. Higgins and Pinkney Starr kept the Oveldo folks from getting much sleep Wednesday night until the wee small hours of the morning, overhauling one of Mr. Daniels' trucks at McCully's shop in order to keep it going during the rush now on.

When it comes to a fine orange grove in shape you all ought to take a squint at Gaston Jacobs' just now. You can see how to fix them.

Mr. Sammy Long has put his recently-acquired grove in some kind of neat trim the past few weeks.

Daniel Simmons and Geo. Bentley are doing some farming stunts now that will make most of the know-how ones set up and take notice in due time.

Don't forget that long-talked of hard road to Oveldo is a reality now. So you've no excuse for not coming out to see us once in a while. So good-night, I'm sleepy.

SHERMAN K. SMITH, MANAGER FOR HARP VOCAL ENSEMBLE

Sherman K. Smith, manager for the Harp Vocal Ensemble says: "The Ensemble is unique, each harp playing its own part. Harp music, though of the best, appeals to all classes. People who could not be induced to go to any other type of concert will go to hear and see the queen of instruments. The simplicity of harp composition makes it the choice of the laymen of the music. While we play a strictly classical program, it is always understandable to any person who likes music. For encores Miss Zimmer, the solo harpist, uses such old favorites as "Old Black Joe"—in fact I might go so far as to say, you have never heard Old Black Joe until you hear it on the harp. Miss Zimmer can make you both laugh and cry with her art."

Ella Wheeler Wilcox says: "There is a peculiarly spiritual quality about the harp. Its very shape, its glowing color, stir the observer with poetic and reverential emotions. One feels there must be truth in the tradition which associates the harp with heavenly voices. The harp holds companionship for the lonely, romance for the temperamental, beauty for the artistic minded and religion for the devout."

This concert will be given Monday night at the Temple auditorium under the auspices of the Pipe Organ Club. Tickets are now on sale at the Elder Springs office, Union Pharmacy all the hotels and by any member of the Club.

ROLLINS LADS AND LASSIES TO DENY SELVES

OF "EXTRAS" IN ORDER TO AID
ROLLINS IN RAISING COL-LEGE FUND.

ORLANDO, Feb. 23.—At a rousing convocation held in Knowlton Hall on Monday to close the active student phase of the Rollins College endowment campaign, 200 students out of a student body of 320 subscribed $3,310 and twelve members of the college faculty pledged $1,940, bringing the total amount pledged to the Rollins endowment fund by students and faculty members of the college up to $11,488. So far as comparative records are available no student body in any college campaign has made a record to exceed this. The pledges were made on an "Earn and give" basis covering a period of five years. The men students agreed to refrain from buying silk shirts and other luxuries and the women to deny themselves expensive articles of dress and various amusements in order to add to the fund.

Mrs. Sophina Ohlinger, an alumnae of Rollins, now matron of Lakeside Cottage, made the largest individual pledge, $1,000.

"We want the whole state to know what the present students and faculty members, who know Rollins best, think of the college," said Mrs. Ohlinger.

Miss Margaret McKay, of Tampa, representing the women of the college, said that the students' campaign committee would interview all students who were not present at the convocation, in an effort to make a 100 per cent record among students and faculty.

W. C. Comstock, of Winter Park, chairman of the Rollins College campaign state executive committee, announced last night that the movement to provide the first $500,000 of a contemplated $1,000,000 endowment fund would officially terminate on February 28, the closing day of the annual ceremonies.

EMPLOYING PRINTERS BANQUET AT SEMINOLE HOTEL LAST NIGHT TAKE UP COST SYSTEM IN PRINTING

Central Florida Printing Offices Will Join United Typothetae

(From Saturday's Daily)
The Central Florida get-together meeting of the United Typothetae of America was held at the Seminole Hotel last night with a representative bunch of employing printers present. On account of the busy season there were many absentees and those who failed to attend missed a good meeting and one of the finest luncheons arranged by "Billy" Shearn, the popular manager of the Seminole grill. "Billy" made no mistake in securing the services of Henri Lejoux, the French chef as was evidenced in what he delivered to the printers last night. If the Sunday dinner advertised at the Seminole in today's Herald is anything like the luncheon last night there is a treat in store for the guests of the Seminole grill. The following menu was served:

- Hors d'oeuvres
- Baby Onions
- Pickles
- Shrimp Cocktail
- Broiled King Mackerel
- Broiled Live Lobster
- Cream Cheese
- Cigars
- Messrs. Powers and Montgomery

On February 22, 1819, the treaty was signed by which Florida ceased to be a Spanish possession and became American property. On February 10, 1821, this treaty was ratified. Therefore, both days are significant in the state's history, and since the first mentioned day falls on George Washington's birthday, in all likelihood it will be more generally observed than the other date, although the nineteenth technically is the occasion of Florida's birthday.

Lakeland Will Put Lid on Street Peddars by Ordinance

(From Saturday's Daily)
Mayor Thompson announced today that he is preparing an ordinance that will do away with the street peddlars, which through their numbers and perseverance have become a burden upon the passing public. The ordinance will be presented at the next meeting of the city commissioners and no doubt will be adopted. The ordinance will require that each "street merchant," including those who sell pencils, collar buttons, safety razors and the like, will have to pay a license of $25. A clause taking care of his deserving blind persons and other worthy cases, will be inserted in the proposed ordinance.—Lakeland Telegram.

FLORIDA TO CELEBRATE ITS 100TH BIRTHDAY

A number of communities throughout the state have planned to fittingly observe the event and no doubt others will hold impromptu ceremonies. Eustis particularly is going to stage a celebration which will reflect the loyal spirit of the people of that section.

A notable event of February 22nd will be the unveiling of a historical tablet on Fort Marion at St. Augustine by the Colonial Dames of America in Florida. This tablet will depict the progress of the state during the century ending on this day and will be a concrete representation of the remarkable progress which has been made.

The Colonial Dames of America is an admirable institution, thoroughly American and embracing the principles and traditions which inspired our revolutionary fathers in their heroic struggle for liberty, and the personnel in Florida includes members of the state's most distinguished families and women of prominence. These women have played a substantial part in the development of the state and nation and none are more worthy to unveil a tablet of this kind than they are.

Fort Marion, named for the famous revolutionary general, is the oldest fort in America. It was first used by the Spaniards and was known as San Marco, then it was called Fort St. John by the English and when it was taken over by the Americans it received its present name.

This tablet will add something worth while to Florida's concrete heritage and the Colonial Dames of America in Florida are to be congratulated for their public-spirited gift.—Florida Metropolis.

Evidencing the faith of its officers in the future of Leesburg and its adjacent territory, the First National Bank of Leesburg has received the approval of the national comptroller upon its new capital increase to $50,000, with a surplus of $25,000.

Officers Pick Up Suspicious Character on Magnolia Avenue

(From Saturday's Daily)
While Officers Vickery and Prevatt were scouting around last night they discovered a suspicious character on Magnolia avenue and called upon him to stop as they wished to speak to him. The officers were in a car at the time and the man started running, but a few shots close behind him caused him to stop and he was taken to the police station and later was lodged in the county jail. He threw away a large wrench while fleeing from the officers and also had several files and wires in his possession and had all the earmarks of a second-story man or at least one who would rob a kitchen while the cook was away. He looks like a negro but may be a foreigner and while he gave the officers a name it is not known whether it is his real name or just his stage name while he is putting on the movie play "Get the Money." At any rate he will be held for further developments and he is much safer and the community is safer with him in statu quo than roaming the streets at night tempted by the many automobiles standing around with loose tires and the many houses that have been left open by the owners.

It is time that the city took up the question of bumping off every individual on the streets at night who can not give an account of himself as Jacksonville has given the crooks the "bum's rush" and they are flocking down state and Sanford will get a part of them unless they are warned away.

Make Sanford safe for the people and unsafe for the crook and they will pass us by.

It seemed to have made a great impression on Mr. Harding that when you go fishing off the Florida coast you "Cut up a good sized fish—about three or four feet long and scatter it overboard." Out in Ohio, or grand-old-texas, if they caught a fish that long they would lie about it for an entire generation.

SPECIAL SERVICES BAPTIST TEMPLE CLOSED SUNDAY

(From Monday's Daily)

The special services being held at the Baptist Temple by Dr. C. A. Owens came to a close last night after a most successful ten days of revival work. Dr. Owens in a few words at the beginning of his sermon thanked all those who had especially favored the services making special mention of Miss Madre, the pianist, and the Sanford Herald for their liberal space. He took for his text last night the "Prodigal Son" and S. J. Spencer, the sweet singer who has been in charge of the music rendered the song on "The Penitent" that was greatly enjoyed and after a splendid exposition of the real meaning of the prodigal son's return and bringing it down to the latter day events, Dr. Owens called upon all of those who wished to join the church to come forward and many of those present availed themselves of this opportunity and gave the pastor their hand. At the close of the services and just before the baptism of four new members, Mr. Spencer rendered, by special request, "Golden Bells," accompanied by Miss Madre on the piano that was said to be one of the finest renditions of this song that the people here have ever heard.

The special services have been remarkably successful and as Dr. Owens stated last night the services occurring so soon after the pastor had been holding revival services and owing to the fact many were received into membership in the church at almost every service the meeting was not classed in numbers but in the good that it has accomplished. He also dwelt upon the fact that he loved Sanford and all of her people and it was always a pleasure to come here and see them when the opportunity was given him.

Dr. Owens and Mr. Spencer made many friends while here and they will be urged to come again some time in the future. They left today for Atlanta to resume their evangelistic work in Georgia.

The Clearwater editor says they were gold bracelets on their ankles down there. All right, Batchelor, old fellow. Hold them a few days longer. We are coming down there next Sunday.

The town man who cultivates every inch of his garden space realizes a valuable dual crop from that ground— inexpensive food and an improvement in his constitutional development.

Headline in paper yesterday said, "Soviet has Captured Georgia," and we thought Tom Watson or somebody had broken loose again but on reading farther down it said Georgia in Asia Minor and of course that is different.

A reformed burglar in one of our retail stores asked us $18 for a pair of shoes this week; the kind that could have been purchased for $3.98 four years ago. No wonder there is a buyers' strike on.—Florida Grower.

Atlanta man with three wives says the war made him insane. Yes, the war made a bunch of us insane but not enough to get more than one wife and even one wife and a large family to keep during the war made all of us insane to pay the war prices.

The St. Petersburg Independent does not think the Florida legislature as good as the average. We think it is better than the average after looking over the names of those who compose it and we believe their work will prove it.

A South Carolina postmaster wants to play Harding a game of golf to see if he keeps the postoffice or not. This shows the advantages of golf again and if Sanford only had golf links we could settle many differences on the golf links, maybe.

The No-Fence problem is up again and it seems that it will be settled by the people this time. The legislature will be asked to make it a referendum affair and send it back to the people for ratification. The Herald would like to see it fixed long enough ahead so that the owners of cattle would have plenty of time to make other arrangements.

The streets of Sanford are not clean and they have not been clean all this winter. There may be good reasons for this condition but if there are any reasons or excuses we fail to see it. There is nothing that detracts from any city as much as unclean streets. Will the street department please get a move on them and clean up.

The New York Globe says the people up north will not oppose river dredging in Florida so strongly since they have been reading about Mr. Harding's experiences with mud flats in the Indian river.—Leesburg Commercial.

And the New York Globe is right, according to our way of thinking. It begins to look like some of the big ones who come to Florida will eventually look at our situation the same as we do and will help us in many of our struggles to make Florida a bigger and better state.

The Chamber of Commerce is found at the back of every good movement but the officials do not want to be "buled" by anyone who is trying to put it over for personal reasons. The Chamber of Commerce may be easy but it will never be stung twice in the same place and if there are any four flushers trying to use it as a lever to swing some of their schemes they will be shown up before they have gone far. This body of business men are trying to give everyone a square deal in this great work of building up Sanford and they stand ready and willing at all times to help everyone but they want to be shown first.

We note that the Orlando Sentinel has added another "feature" to the innumerable list and the Sentinel's "Complexion" should be just right now.

William A. Pinkerton, noted detective, says crime in the United States is general. Pinky is too modest. Judging from the columns of the daily press it is something more than general—it is an overflow.

Herbert Hoover says he is getting tired of food conservation and relief work of all kinds and he wants to be let alone so he can go back to his old job of engineering as his money is giving out. Just then he was appointed Secretary of Commerce and we opine that his tired feeling will leave him, pronto.

In Sebring sixty houses have just been built under the supervision of E. L. Hainz, in charge of this phase of development there. All expensive homes, they are turned over to purchasers completely furnished. To interest investors, the development company maintains offices in Orlando, Winter Haven, Pittsburg, New York and Chicago.

Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis is rendering decisions on baseball and judicial matters right along despite the impeachment charges that various little insects are bringing against him. The judge is too big a man to notice these little pin pricks from the two by four congressmen who will never get in the same class as Judge Landis.

The Sanford Chamber of Commerce is a live organization and the board of directors meets once each week to take up the needs of the city and county and they are working hard to put over those big things which mean so much to every citizen of the county. If you are not a member of the Chamber of Commerce you are not doing yourself or your city justice.

Sanford has been fortunate so far in escaping the crime wave that has been sweeping over the country but the officials of the city and county should not relax their vigilance in the least and this force can be supplemented by private citizens who can assist materially by keeping their eyes open while on the streets. All those who can not be accounted for should be made to move on and all the fakes and "come ons" be made to leave the city.

Another sugar scare was started here last week by the statement that sugar was going up again two cents on the pound but the average housewife who has been paying as high as twenty-five cents a pound was not alarmed at the raise of two cents which by the way never came. These sugar scares are usually brought about by the speculators who want to rake off a few millions by the rise of two cents per pound brought on by a hysterical public that has been stung so often that they get ready for the next sting as soon as a loud humming is heard.

The trouble with the people of Sanford is that they are more prone to look after the gayeties of life rather than the stern necessities of business and life in general. They love to go to a show or a dance or a big supper but when it comes to a business meeting for the benefit of the town they are not there. This has been the rule in Sanford for many years and is the real reason why this city has not grown as it should grow. They want "George to do it all" and they get out the next morning and kick George for doing it and end up by cursing George for taking so much liberty with the town without asking them about it.

Now is the time to freshen up your stocks, put on sales and bring the people to Sanford to trade. There should be no dull times in Sanford and if there are any dull times the people themselves are responsible for most of it. You think it is dull, you talk it and presto—it is dull. On the other hand you talk about good business, place a good advertisement in the Herald and business is good at once. Try it.

A REAL CANAL

The News hopes some time to see the Indian river and the St. Johns connected by a short canal south of Sanford, which would give a grand waterway from Jacksonville via Palatka, DeLand and Sanford to the east coast and thence back by New Smyrna, Port Orange, Daytona and St. Augustine to Jacksonville.—DeLand News.

With a ship canal from Jacksonville up the St. Johns to Sanford, and from Sanford cross country to the Indian river at Titusville, President Harding could visit the Indian river section on the houseboat Victoria with no danger of being held up by a mud-bank.—Titusville Advocate.

TOO MUCH MONEY

Sometimes we wonder if it is good for the American people to have so much money.

Of course the natural instinct of a man is to accumulate as much money as possible, and money is a decided necessity these days.

But it is possible to have too much of a good thing.

The war has made America fabulously rich, the envy of all nations. Men who in 1914 had nothing now are comfortably well off. Others who had a modest sum six years ago are now rolling in wealth.

The result? You see it every day.

In the cities it is more apparent than in the country towns. In the big cities no manufacturer will produce, no middle man will distribute, and no merchant will sell an article at a reasonable profit. All seem to want to get rich quick.

Employees demand prohibitive wages, work about as they please, and in many cases are becoming about as inefficient as could be imagined. Instead of the employer being the master of his own business, his hired help practically tell him where he gets off.

The war produced the profiteer, and for the sake of easy money, he refuses to loosen his grip upon the country.

Buildings are thrown together in slipshod manner and inferior materials are used, all for the sake of cutting expenses and increasing profits to abnormal.

In the manufacturing world it is the same. Quality is sacrificed for profits, or where quality does prevail the price becomes almost prohibitive.

Of course there are some exceptions to this rule, but the exceptions are few and difficult to find.

The ease with which money has been accumulated during the past six years has produced this state of affairs. It is not conducive to the future welfare of our country.

But we have faith in America and in American people.

We are in the temporary grip of a hysterical mania for the rapid accumulation of wealth, but we believe that this mania will pass away in time and permit a return to the sane and rational methods which prevailed prior to the outbreak of the war.

But it will require time and we must employ infinite patience in bringing it about.

Americans are too sensible to travel far on the road that leads to destruction.

Even the lure of unlimited gold can not deprive them entirely of their common sense.

ORANGE BLOSSOMS VERSUS SNOW

Florida and New York are alike being pelted and covered with white. In Florida it is the petals of orange blossoms sifting through the sun to earth. In New York it is snow, fifteen inches of it!

Snow over the northeastern and eastern part of the country above the real South, cold rain and sleet in the lake region, and zero, nad below, temperatures, in the northwest and central west. In Florida, only clouds enough to make a glorious sunset in the evenings of the perfect days.

The weatherman has been extremely good to the United States this winter. He has given little occasion for prolonged suffering from cold or bad weather. The coal and wood bill of the nation is materially lessened, to this date. But, it is treacherous March in higher latitudes that is so often the month when the storm, blizzard roars, and the ice king seals the rivers and shuts the channels of commerce. Then is the time to be in Florida!

This state has been a veritable paradise, for weather and living conditions generally this winter. There were probably never more people on the west coast than at present. Hotel reservations have been full, and already the approach of bad weather as indicated by the weather bureau last week has resulted in starting many to this state in hopes of beating the storm. From now on to July Florida will be at its best. The people are here, the weather with all that it brings to us, will be here, and the expectations that have been realized by those who came early will have been added to the inducements for a longer stay.

From the standpoint of health alone, a trip to Florida is wise in the latter part of February and early March. The prevailing storms of snow, rain and sleet, with zero weather in their wake, will doubtless cause thousands who had hoped to remain at home and be comfortable to start at once to the only region where comfort is natural and where health reigns supreme.—Tampa Tribune.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Notes of This Busy Trade Body in the City of Sanford.

There are a number of business men in Sanford who are not cognizant of what constitutes a Chamber of Commerce, why it is absolutely essential to a town. One of the best and most easily understood definitions is that given by a former president of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, as follows: "A Chamber of Commerce is the watch tower for opportunity. Not simply to anticipate evil but to scent opportunities. Opportunities for internal improvements of all sorts. Just as the man standing on the top of a mountain looking toward the east will catch the first rays of the rising sun long before the people in the valley will know the sun is coming up at all. So, the Chamber of Commerce will see opportunities for the city long before the man engaged in the commerce of the city will know the opportunities are coming." However, to have a Chamber of Commerce an efficient Chamber of Commerce it is necessary that all of the business interests line up solidly behind it. Any community can organize a Chamber of Commerce with a little printer's ink applied to stationery but then it signifies nothing but an empty name.

The Chamber of Commerce anticipates the need of a new trust company and is endeavoring to locate a proposition of this kind in Sanford.

The Mooseheart Home in the south, one of the greatest propositions offered any community, will be the result of the activities of the Chamber of Commerce if it is decided that Sanford is the logical location.

Digression may be permitted at this point to state that the attendance at Mr. Brandon's address was very dis-

NEED A COMMERCIAL ORGANIZATION

During the past week many of our citizens have wanted something done and not knowing who would do it came to the Herald office as usual. We told them that the Chamber of Commerce was the place to take these troubles as a bright young secretary was being paid to perform just this kind of service. Some of them were not members of the Chamber of Commerce and some of them were members but all of them went to the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and he spent hours doing this work that in some instances meant something for the public welfare but in some instances meant more for the individual who was asking for it.

And this brings to mind the oft-repeated statement in the Herald that not a town or county can get along without a good chamber of commerce to do any and all of these things that come up from day to day in every community. You don't need to "let George do it" now for we have Pearlman to do it. However, you should not ask Pearlman to do it unless you are paying your annual dues in the Sanford Chamber of Commerce. In fact you should not expect any trade body to grant you a favor unless you are helping that trade body to exist. And no city or county can exist without a good live trade body. Willis Powell in the Leesburg Commercial sums it up in the following:

"There is a city in Florida that might easily have divided honors with Tampa, Jacksonville or Miami, but today you seldom hear of it. It is dead. It will probably never come to life.

"The business men of this city had faith in its future. They had ambition. They had vision. It was no cheap boom town. There was a reason for its existence. It had a real harbor that cost millions. It had deep water that the government spent other millions upon. A railroad built miles upon miles of sidetracks and warehouses and elevators. Its boats came loaded to the guards and took on phosphate and lumber and other freight and headed out for the seven seas.

"We are bound to be a great port," was the slogan. "Where else can commerce go?" asked the citizens one of another.

"They appeared to be right. Business doubled overnight. Miles upon miles of streets were laid out; factories sprung up all over the town with community centers about the factories. Everybody was making money; everybody had more than he could do.

"The people laughed at the efforts of a fishing village close by that was making a noise; laughed at the pretensions of a hamlet across the bay.

"Today the fishing village has nearly 80,000 population, and the hamlet across the bay, 20,000, with a tourist population of 35,000.

"And the city with such a wonderful future is today merely a terminal of a railroad.

"Why? Because it lacked a strong commercial organization."

couraging to officials of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, who have devoted a great deal of their time to this proposition.

Sanford shippers and growers have always experienced costly delays in previous seasons particularly during the heavy shipping period. The traffic and transportation committee of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce can take credit for eliminating these delays this season. It was the result of their contemplated action and the pressure brought to bear on the officials of the transportation company mainly responsible for the improved conditions this season.

There are a great many people in Sanford emitting as many kind of "squawks," to use an expression of one of our prominent citizens, about the Chamber of Commerce and asking officers of the organization what it is doing.

When these "squawks" arise the plan suggested is to ask the individual "squawkers" what effort he has personally made to investigate these activities, what proportion of a week, a month or a year he has devoted to efforts that would build the city and as a culminating silence inquire of him if he is a member of the Chamber of Commerce in GOOD standing.

"Squawks" is a humorous name for the occasional outbursts of a knocker.

Constructive criticism is always desired from the business men by the Chamber of Commerce. A man with progressive ideas realizes that if there are any faults the only way to correct them is from the inside and acts accordingly.

MILES OF SMILES

If the 25,000 solid carloads of fruit and veg. tables shipped out of Sunny Florida to storm shivered states north of here, since the 15th of September, were made into one train there would be a train of sunshine and smiles 170 1/2 miles long.

And just think, the movement is hardly begun; and in less than another month, while March blizzards are glooming the heavens of the North, up there they will be extracting sunshine from glorious Florida cucumbers!

The forty-eight hours ending Friday night, 18th, saw moving 636 solid carloads—and no telling how much more went by express, and single box and crate. That's one train four and a third miles long!

Of course there's a reason for all this. Although some outsiders still think of Florida in terms of sand and swamp, there are a few farms contributing to this daily outpour of gladness to others. The Commissioner of Agriculture, up in Tallahassee, tells us there were, in 1920, a total of 54,005 farms in Florida; that these farms contained a total of 5,846,693 acres of which 297,271 acres are "improved land." He tells us the average value per acre of these farms, is $38.90; that less than one-fourth of the farms operated by their owners are mortgaged; that the number of white farmers is 41,051, of which number 38,836 are natives, and that there are 12,954 colored farmers in this state, one-half of whom own their farms. Also, he tells us there are 3,201 women farmers actively engaged in producing crops.

Acres of celery yet to be blanched and moved; acres of tomatoes yet to be shipped; acres of cabbage just beginning to be cut; acres of peppers and eggplants just getting ready for shipment; acres of cucumbers hardly yet planted; acres of watermelons being put in the ground; and acres of potatoes being prepared! And already the train is 170 1/2 miles long! —Tampa Tribune.

FORD'S OPTIMISM

In announcing early resumption of full-time operations at his huge Detroit plant, employing almost 50,000 workers, without the slicing of a single wage scale, Henry Ford gives practical application of the brand of optimism so sorely needed in this country just now.

The automobile industry is basic to many others that would be insignificant in the world of manufacturers without it. As a consumer of raw products it probably leads all contenders. As Ford says: "The world today is on wheels, and the automobile industry is the mainspring of practically all other enterprises."

Distribution is the axis upon which the world moves. And the world would be in a sorry plight if the motor car were to be taken from it tomorrow.

Ford's optimism is well founded.—Tampa Tribune.

Some Saturday Thoughts

We can all look back and remember that old time Saturday evening when before the days of the bath tub we had to make our weekly ablutions in the wash tub that was filled with hot water and each boy took his turn while mother tried her best to gouge out an eye or take off an ear with what seemed the roughest wash rag in the world. And after the bath we sat around the table and listened to words of wisdom from father and mother and talked over the events of the week and the weeks to follow or studied the Sunday school lesson for the next day. And thus Saturday afternoon and night in the early days of the pioneers meant something in the life of the growing boys and girls—now it means picture shows, parties, good times, late hours. Some difference.

The bright sunshine of Spring days dispels the spirit of gloom and instills a feeling of gladness in the human heart. It makes the bright side of life even brighter and enables us to see the goodness which warms the hearts of our fellow men. It diverts our thoughts into pleasant channels and drives out the shadows which have enshrouded us during the winter months. Welcome the sunshine of Spring days, for its warm rays produce both the joy and the sustenance of life.

Have you a child of school age? Then give a thought to our public schools. Let the principal and the teachers understand that they are in your mind and that you are appreciative of the good work they are doing in training your child to meet the intellectual problems of life. If you plant a rose bush and it flourishes and blooms your neighbors see it and appreciate its fragrance and beauty. The instructors of our children are of infinitely more importance than the choicest flower that ever bloomed. Let us give them the recognition and the attention and encouragement that is their due. Their lives will be sweeter and their work better, and in years your child will be the beneficiary of your thoughtfulness and attention and their faithfulness to duty.

Don't condemn the swaggering boy too severely. He is not responsible for his own existence, nor is he responsible for the traits of character which put the swagger into his step. Heredity and environment often make or break a boy in the making. Even those whose home life is not as it should be may have their character strengthened and developed through the kindness of others. A word of sympathy and cheer to the lad on the street is a long step toward the moulding of the character of the man of the future.

Every community has its spirit. With some it is one of honor and integrity and progressive intellectuality. With others the spirit of greed, gouge, repression and retrogression predominates. The first attains its aim in life, while the latter aims no higher than that which it attains. We of this community have our choice. We can progress with the march of time, or we can procrastinate while time marches by. This is an age when men do things, or they do nothing. There is no middle of the road course. The man who has the will to grasp his opportunities also has the power to make them. That is what we should do.

"Go to Church Sunday." This advice has been given millions of times, yet with some it has never been heeded. Possibly there was a flaw in the giving. It may not have contained that simple and appealing note of humanity which draws the one who needs it most. Yet there is no one so hardened and so sinful but what he can enjoy an hour in the church on Sunday. Some who stray in accidentally become regular attendants in time. The story of the man of men grips them. It is more thrilling than the weirdest fiction ever penned, and each Sunday you hear a new chapter in the life history of this man who was of flesh and blood and yet was the offspring of divinity. Go to church Sunday. It will be good for you, and it will do others good to welcome you there.

All people of normal intelligence have the power to think and reason. A few practice it. Words that are the result of analytical thought possess the force and power which drives the human activity of the world. Those that are babbled thoughtlessly and without reason fall upon fertile soil and are magnified into mountains of iniquity that reach even to the gates of eternity. Think twice and speak once. It is the better way.

STATE AUTOMOBILE ASSOCIATION ADOPTS IMPORTANT MEASURES AT MEETING HELD IN ORLANDO

Will Bring Them Before
Next Session of the Legislature

Members of the legislative committee of the Florida State Automobile Association, from different parts of the state, met in Orlando yesterday and were in session all day, drafting original measures along lines of important legislation to be submitted to the association, fourth annual convention, which will convene in Cocoa, and last for two days, March 8 and 9.

President M. M. Smith, of the Florida State Automobile Association, presided at both committee meetings, that of the legislative committee and also that of the committee on protection to highways and fees of trucks and buses.

In attendance at this meeting as a guest, was Mr. W. G. Waldo, vice-president of the Dixie Highway Association, who sought assistance from this committee in the form of a resolution endorsing the Dixie Highway Association's plan of raising a certain amount of money through the Florida State Legislature, this money to be used through the states where the Dixie Highway runs, in an effort to secure the completion of this highway at an early date. The legislative committee granted Mr. Waldo's resolution and pledged their aid in the state legislature.

Some of the important measures definitely adopted at these joint meetings yesterday were as follows:

No. 1.—Highway Protection bill (Chap. 7842, Sec. 1), to be amended so as to read: "Except pneumatic tires," which amendment will have the effect of making solid tires for heavy loads practically prohibitory on the highways. Other amendments are being offered to section 3 and section 4 of this same chapter.

No. 2.—A bill which will fix the value of improvements in condemnation proceedings as well as liabilities (in all cases of state road building).

No. 3.—Uniform traffic laws, and recommending a state speed limit of thirty miles instead of twenty-five, and the nullification of all county laws in conflict.

No. 4.—Limit of tonnage, which measure deals with the loads which may be carried on private and corporation operated trucks.

No. 5.—Regulation of licenses for passenger cars and trucks, which provides for an entirely new method and new scales of license fees for same. This bill was designed to raise money for state road building in lieu of any bond issue or other plan. The new scale of prices was unanimously adopted by the committee but will not be given to the public until passed upon by the fourth annual convention, March 8th and 9th, at Cocoa.

No. 6.—One license tag only, which measure will require on all passenger vehicles one license plate instead of two, said plate being displayed on the rear end of the vehicle only. The successful passage of this measure will save the state of Florida thousands of dollars by preventing duplication as well as initial cost of purchasing the same.

No. 7.—Lights on all vehicles.

No. 8.—Headlights "dimmers," which measure looks to the change from the present dimmer system to that recommended by the National Chamber of Commerce and the American Automobile Association, and in use now in California and other advanced states, viz: the "tilting lights" which will throw their rays not higher than 42 inches from the ground, at a distance of 75 feet in front of the automobile carrying such light.

No. 9.—Dealers' license plates. This measure recommended by State Comptroller Ernest Amos, and looking to the correction of the present system which is the most abused of any of the state requirements under the motor vehicle law.

No. 10.—Fines for delinquent registration. This measure providing for a fine of $10.00 to be imposed after February 1st of each year. These fines to be collectable by the sheriffs and their deputies of the various counties, and one-half of said fines to go to arresting officers.

No. 11.—Fees for trucks and buses, which measure provides for entire change in the present law governing the same.

At this meeting it was unanimously voted to employ the services of Judge D. Stuart Gillis of DeFuniak Springs to draft all bills referring to the above subjects and to be submitted to the association convention in its fourth annual session, and all measures finally adopted will be taken into the legislature by prominent members of the Automobile Association, who will be appointed at the convention. Judge Gillis will also be a member of what lobby is created at that time.

DR. WISE ARRAYS FOES OF PRESIDENT WILSON IN CHARACTERISTIC SERMON

by his revering friends. Have no doubt as to what Woodrow Wilson's place in history will be, and what will be the place of his malignant and unquenching detractors, if they are to have any place at all.

"Truly, it may be said of Wilson, in such terms as Lowell used touching Lincoln—that Wilson has had no son save to keep the honor of his country sustained—so to enhance the greatness of his country that it should seem and be great in all those things inward and external that alone can constitute the greatness of our country.

"The people of the world or its making was in the hands of Wilson. How gloriously and tragically near he came to blessing the world with peace! Then he was struck down. To say that he broke beneath the strain because he would not share his burdens with others, or to claim that he undertook a task heavier than any man could properly meet, is not to mitigate the crimes of those that struck him down amidst the councils of peace, and with unrelenting cruelty struck him down when he returned to his own land. In the midst of the councils of peace, for the sake of partisan advantage, in the interest of partisan purposes, to satisfy personal ambitions, the President of the United States was betrayed in a foreign land.

"That is what history will say of him and of his foes. History may regret some mistakes of Wilson, but history will never forgive the crime of his enemies, personal and partisan, who to punish a man and defeat a party broke the heart of the world.

"History may say of Wilson that he most differed from Lincoln in that he lacked Lincoln's unflinching magnanimity, but history cannot fail to record that Wilson was goaded and embittered by such cruel assault as few men in public life have ever been called upon to endure—cruelty which in its brazen and vulgar mendacity spared not his inmost life.

"What man was ever more largely the object of public abuse and of private slander? True, men spoke in terms of disparagement of Lincoln while he lived, but they did not question his honor nor assail his life under his own roof-tree. Enmity and bitterness did not spare Wilson even here, so that if sometimes he seems unforbearing, if he seems to be without that supreme Lincoln-like quality of magnanimity, let it be remembered that his foes wounded him where any man that is a man and that cares for his honor can be most easily and grievously wounded.

"It is believed that Wilson erred, or rather that his entourage erred grievously in failing to tell the American people the whole truth about his illness, seeing that Wilson fell because he overburdened himself abroad and upon his return was forced to take the issue of world peace to his fellow Americans. When he was stricken, the standard should have been gently taken from his hands and others called upon to bear it to victory. Irrespective of the technicality of withdrawing from the presidency, his duty was so to resign the leadership of the contest to others as would have made possible an appeal to the country against a selfish, willful partisan band who scrupled not to break this man, though in so doing they made it impossible. Perhaps for a generation, that great and generous hope of world concert and world peace which America had promised an hungrily awaiting world.

"If Wilson erred throughout the eight years of presidency, he erred in that he appealed to the nation at its highest and that he spoke for America at its noblest. He might have compromised, he might have appealed to the prejudices and the passions of the American people, but he chose the better way—the way that led to misunderstanding and defeat for an hour, the way that clearly makes for highest and abiding fame.

"To say that Wilson perfectly formulated the mind of his country and the judgment of the allied nations during the days of 1917 and 1918 is to tell only half the truth. He perfectly formulated what he had done most to form. He formulated the mind of America, which he had shaped. America would not have rejoiced in Wilson's formulation of its aims and purposes if he had not gone before and, sensing America at its highest, led America to the mountain top where he revealed to the expectant eyes of the nation the vision of a better and juster world. Greatly he helped to form America's mind and after that he perfectly formulated the spirit of the nation which he had studied and exalted."

UNION MEN HAVE MEETING FOR DEFENSE

TO MEET THE ATTACKS ON UNION LABOR THAT ARE TAKING PLACE

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Representatives of 109 National and International Unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, met here today in an extraordinary conference for the purpose of organizing to meet the attacks on union labor movement. Conference was called by President Gompers and is considered as one of epochal importance and one of few of its kind ever held in the history of the federation. Survey industrial conditions throughout country being taken by labor leaders and all agreed the present depression is the worst the federation has faced in years.

LIEUT. CONEY HAS ARRIVED SAFELY AT JACKSONVILLE; MADE WONDERFUL RECORD

ing to fly from coast to coast in a De Havilland biplane within 24 hours and who was forced to earth at Bront, Tex., 200 miles southwest of Dallas, was expected to resume his flight to Pablo Beach, Fla., Wednesday morning, according to advices received here by Lieut. S. C. Eaton Wednesday morning at the Hotel Mason.

The aviator was to leave Bront some time during Wednesday morning for Dallas, where he was to make his second "hop-off" for the Atlantic coast, according to word received from him. He attempted to resume flying late Tuesday but was prevented when improper gasoline was furnished to his machine.

Edgar F. Coney, Jr., prominent lumberman of Brunswick, Ga., and brother of Lieut. Coney, also received dispatches from his brother on Wednesday morning, stating that every effort would be made Wednesday to resume the flight. It was presumed by Lieut. Eaton and Mr. Coney that the journey would be resumed as soon as Lieut. Coney reaches Dallas.

Tentative preparations were made Tuesday afternoon to welcome the aviator to Jacksonville, but they were cancelled when news was received by the Florida Metropolitan and personal dispatches to Mr. Coney that Lieut. Coney was forced to stop before reaching Dallas. However, with the expectation that the aviator would arrive Wednesday afternoon or Wednesday night, plans are being arranged for his reception.

The aviator when resuming the flight will scrape the wheels of his machine on the sandy beach at Pablo, which officially ends the transcontinental flight. However, he will land at the government aviation field at Camp Johnston, where elaborate plans are being made to greet him. He will not stop at Pablo.

Mrs. Edgar F. Coney, Sr., mother of Lieut. Coney, is in Jacksonville to meet her son when he completes his adventurous flight, and Mr. Coney with several army officials and a large delegation of residents of Brunswick, Ga.; were not alarmed when the first news of the slight accident was received here Tuesday afternoon.

A few minutes after the Associated Press flashed on its wires that the lieutenant was forced to land before officially stopping at Dallas, Mr. Coney with Lieut. Eaton confirmed the message by a dispatch from J. C. Jackson, Western Union manager at Dallas, Tex., who wired that the aviator would be assisted by a mechanic from Love Field, Tex., who had been immediately dispatched to Bront.

Among Lieut. Coney's relatives and intimate friends here all during Tuesday afternoon, there was hope that the aviator would resume his flight before night. However, later in the afternoon another dispatch was received that it would be impossible to resume the trip. During the afternoon Lieut. Eaton and Mr. Coney communicated with army officials of Love Field, concerning the mishap of the De Havilland machine.

In their suite in the Hotel Mason Tuesday night, Lieut. Eaton, Mr. Coney and friends remained up during most of the night, awaiting word from army officials or Lieut. Coney of the latest developments in resuming the flight. Scores of telephone calls were received at the hotel for Mr. Coney from anxious Brunswick friends, inquiring about the flight.

Mrs. Coney, visiting in Riverside was often informed by her son here of the conditions in the flight. She often telephoned to the hotel to ask if further information had been received and if the lieutenant would "hop-off" during the night.—Jacksonville Metropolitan.

Miss Violet Swaggerty, of the 8th grade at the Monroe school, won the five dollar prize that was offered by F. P. Dutton for the best essay on "Acres of Diamonds." As it will be remembered Mr. Dutton thought of the teachers and school children in the county to tickets to the lecture by Dr. McConnell. Then after the lecture, Mr. Dutton's generosity was extended still farther in his offer of a $5 prize to each school for the best essay upon the lecture. Miss Swaggerty, the lucky winner at our school, is a very popular young lady and does splendid work at school.

LAKE MNROE

The Radcliffe chautauqua will be held at Lake Monroe sometime within the next year. Dr. Hyde, advance agent of the chautauqua, Rev. M. Wright, of the Methodist church, Rev. Thompson, of the Baptist church, came over from Ovidio where the chautauqua is now entertaining and with J. T. Jacobs, principal of the Monroe school, went around among the citizens and made up the necessary subscriptions. More than required number signed for the chautauqua, and many more are yet to be seen, as it was impossible to cover the territory in such a short time. Chautauquas are a splendid thing for any community. The inspiration that is gained by coming in touch with intellectual people, each an artist in their line, and the worth-while knowledge they have to impart, is far reaching in its effect, and lasting in its impression. Great lectures, splendid music, good entertainment for the children in songs, story, folk-lore and games, help to fill out the program.

It certainly speaks well for our citizens that they have responded so generously and are so appreciative of good talent. But why shouldn't Lake Monroe have the good things? Some of the finest trucking land in Florida lies right here. Our people are all right and there's a bumper crop of children in this section—our men and women of tomorrow. And such fine boys and girls that they are; no better can be found elsewhere, not only in this state, but in the United States. So let's get in line, keep stepping, the band's play-

HARDING WANTS TO KISS BIBLE OF GEO. WASHINGTON

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETED FOR USE OF FAMOUS BOOK AT INAUGURATION

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 19.—The desire of President Harding to return to first principles in government was given rather a striking exemplification yesterday when arrangements were finally closed for the use of the famous George Washington Bible in administering the oath to the President-elect.

George Christian, secretary to Mr. Harding, wired as follows from Florida to Elliott Woods, superintendent of the capitol: "Senator Harding will be very glad to accept the tender of the Bible used in administering the oath to George Washington. Please so indicate to the chief clerk of the supreme court."

The first and only time this Bible ever was used at a presidential inauguration was when George Washington, on assuming the chief executiveship of the new republic, kissed its pages in 1789, one hundred and thirty-two years ago.

A description of the scene in New York, when Washington was inaugurated, taken from the "History of Presidential Inaugurations" follows: "When the president arrived, he was received by the joint congressional committee and by them his coming was announced to congress. Just at this time Chancellor Livingston discovered that there was no Bible in the federal building. His being grand master of the free masons, however, relieved him from this dilemma, for he remembered that there was a Bible in the rooms at St. Johns Lodge No. 1. These rooms were in the immediate vicinity of the federal building and the Bible made its appearance without delay.

Washington was conducted to the open gallery in front of the senate chamber which looked down on Broad street. He was accompanied by John Adams, Governor Clinton and Chancellor Livingston. The multitude which thronged the streets and house shouted itself hoarse when the hero appeared. Washington advanced to the front of the balcony, laid his hand on his heart, bowed several times and then sat down.

"When Chancellor Livingston advanced toward him he arose and paid close attention while the oath was read. The open Bible was lifted up and Washington kissed it. Chancellor Livingston cried: 'Long live George Washington, President of the United States.' It is told that he bent down to kiss the open Bible which Chancellor Livingston held, and murmured with intense and fevered utterance and with closed eyes, 'I swear, so help me God.'"

TEN DOLLARS WILL SAVE A CHILD'S LIFE

HOOPER RELIEF COMMITTEE IN FLORIDA OPEN CAMPAIGN IN EVERY COUNTY

Ten dollars will save the life of a child! How many will you save? This is the slogan of the Hoover Relief Committee in Florida and the response from people in all parts of the state indicates an interest in the work which is being so successfully conducted by the great humanitarian, Herbert Hoover.

The little children who are starving today are looking to America for help. The European countries are in the children of today who will be the statesmen, educators and scientists of tomorrow.

Bulletins regarding the political and economic condition of Hungary were submitted in a recent report from Budapest, to the headquarters of the European Relief Council, New York.

Telegraph communication has been re-opened between Hungary and Roumania after being suspended for more than two years. The Roumanian government has been ordered by the Reparation Commission to return 14,000 railroad cars which it carried out of Hungary after the occupation.

Last fall, there was 7,000 refugee families living in freight cars in Hungary. The government was going to ask the Allies to negotiate with neighboring countries so that these refugees might return to their homes, which were in territories formerly Hungarian.

LABOR TO PLAN ITS FIGHT AGAINST THE "OPEN SHOP" GANG

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor will meet here today preliminary to opening the conference Wednesday of head of 109 national and international labor unions, called by President Samuel Gompers to consider a "national policy" in connection with the present industrial situation.

While the meeting of the council itself is not expected to result in any definite development, it is regarded by labor officials as of prime importance in connection with the meeting on the following day.

Means of conducting an organized campaign against general institution of the "open shop" will be the chief consideration of the conference, according to Frank Morrison, secretary of the federation and a member of the executive council.

"The conference will consider the publicity and other methods of our opponents," Mr. Morrison said, "and it is just possible that labor will launch an opposing movement against those who imagine they control every avenue of publicity. Our opponents are mistaken if they imagine they have made the slightest progress in disrupting the workers. I believe labor will formulate a plan to expose the pretense of men who are only interested in cheap labor and a continuation of a policy of profiteering."

"The trade union movement is alert to the forces arrayed against it and proposes to act vigorously and courageously."

Wage reductions proposed or ordered in organized industry, recent development in anti-strike laws and compulsory arbitration are subsidiary propositions to be considered by the labor heads.

WIDE AWAKE BUSINESS WOMAN

There are many wide awake business women in Sanford but one that has come into prominence lately is Miss Esther Fleisher. She is the stenographer for the enterprising firm of Zaring & Co.

When she heard that it was possible for Dr. Wise to come to Sanford she said, "I'll help bring him" and to date leads all the city in sale of tickets. She having 55 of the 100 sold to her credit.

Miss Fleisher is one of Sanford's charming young women and has business ability that is sure to win.

Some folks say "politics is" and other say "politics are," but so long as they are both connected with politics one is as bad as the other.

LINDSAY, THE ARTIST, GIVES RECITAL AT EUSTIS

Lindsay, who is perhaps the greatest artist on the piano who has been in Florida in many years, is spending a few months at Eustis and was here a few days ago calling upon the editor of the Herald. He expects to visit here again and if he does we will arrange a recital and give the Sanford people a chance to hear him. The Eustis Lake Region has the following to say about a recent performance of his in that city. It was not a recital but was given for the benefit of his many friends there:

"Mr. William Lindsay, of London, England, played the piano for more than an hour in the school auditorium Friday evening to the delight as well as edification of an audience much above the average in knowledge and taste. This was indicated not only by its appearance, but by the discrimination which marked its signs of approval. Beauty was spread all over the music, but every exquisite touch of originality in the player's interpretation of the pieces which composed his program, seemed to find quick recognition, and though the applause was insistent enough to make him add two pieces to his list before he reached his final group, it was never bestowed upon technical frippery or empty display of skill. There was no chance for that, indeed, for there was nothing of the kind in the performance. Though the evidence of virtuosity was everywhere and prodigally present, Mr. Lindsay's playing was that of a fine musician, making music for music's sake, not that of a technician seeking to captivate, dazzle and amaze his listeners. The result was a triumph of the splendid sanity of the man and artist, with mind, emotions and muscles beautifully co-ordinated and employed in a promulgation of an evangel of refreshing and uplifting loveliness. His playing was strong in its grace and graceful in its strength, suggestive in its way of the action of a lion in motion. The profound imagination of Bach, the airy, fanciful poetry of Schumann and Chopin, the lofty sentiment and charming playfulness and drollery of Grieg and Grainger, and the witchery of Ireland and his own fine methods all found ravishing expression. Again his listeners fell under the spell of "The Island Spell," which, while most artistic, has a charm which appeals to the mass as well as the class. Eustis is under obligations to Mr. Lindsay for giving them an opportunity of living for a short space in the higher realms of music."

DOWNING-LOCKES

The following wedding notice which comes from a Louisville (Ky.) paper will be of great interest to many people in Sanford as Lieut. Loucks is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Irving Loucks and has a large number of friends here who will be glad to wish him happiness:

The wedding of Miss Amelia Kendrick Downing and Lieut. Earl Frank Loucks, Sixty-fourth Infantry, U. S. A., was solemnized at 8 o'clock last night at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Downing on Fourth street. The house was decorated with potted foliage.

The Rev. Dr. J. W. Johnson officiated at the ceremony, which took place in the drawing room before an improvised altar of palms and ferns which was illumined with tall white Cathedral candles. At one side of the altar was placed the United States flag. Miss Helen Downing was her sister's maid of honor. Misses Josephine Downing and Mary Elizabeth Downing were brides' maids. Lieut. Paul Porter, 64th Infantry, U. S. A., was Lieut. Louck's best man. The groom's men were: Messrs. John F. Downing, Jr., and W. Wallis Downing, brothers of the bride.

The bride wore a white lace wedding gown mounted over pale peach blow satin, with the court train. Her tulle veil was adjusted with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and bouvardia.

The maid of honor was attired in flowered taffeta and carried a French bouquet.

The bride's maids wore pink satin and silver and carried arm bouquets of Killarney roses and frezia.

The ceremony was followed by a reception. Lieut. and Mrs. Loucks left last evening on their wedding trip in Florida, and at its conclusion will go to Camp Meade, Md., where Lieut. Loucks will be stationed.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. G. Irving Loucks, Sanford, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Irving E. Stacey, Little Falls, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Garvin, Bowling Green; Miss Esther Foote, Fort Benjamin Harrison.

VALENTINE PARTY.

Last Friday evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Holly was the scene of a delightful Valentine party given by the Misses May Holly, Margaret Zachary, Gladys Wilson, Lillian Shinholser and Anna Du Bose.

The rooms were tastefully decorated in all kinds of Valentine suggestions. Valentine games and contests of many kind formed the diversions of the evening, also a most novel promenade with heart favors.

The prizes for a heart contest were won by Dorothy Stokley and Robert Thrasher.

Punch was served all through the evening and at a late hour a delicious ice course was served.

DOUBLE LOVE AFFAIR MAY BE CAUSE KILLING

PROPRIETOR OF HOTEL WHERE RECENT HOLDUP WAS STAGED HAD BEEN WARNED.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 22.—Police today abandoned the theory of robbery and are seeking a man named Dumont, alleged husband of Miss F. Burden, eighteen, adopted daughter of W. H. Burden, wealthy retired Patches, L. I., business man, who with George Alexander Goodrich, Atlanta, Ga., engineer, was killed by two masked men in a hotel last Wednesday night.

Chief of Detectives Cahoon stated today that ten days prior to the double tragedy the proprietor of the hotel at which the Burdens were stopping received an anonymous letter from So. Jacksonville, stating that an affair existed in the hotel, "which may end in a tragedy."

This letter was not turned over to the police until after the killings. The police express the belief that Goodrich was in no way connected with the case and was only an innocent bystander.

Burden and Goodrich were killed by two masked men, who suddenly appeared in the doorway of the room in which the two men were playing cards with Burden's wife and Miss Burden. The supposed bandits demanded silence and their valuables, according to the story related to the police. Goodrich made a move toward Burden's throat. The masked men fired, three bullets striking Goodrich and two, Burden. The former died instantly, the latter several hours later. The intruders leaped into a waiting automobile and disappeared. No trace of them has been found.

Chief Cahoon, in relating today for the first time the revelations of his investigation, stated that Miss Burden was married to a man named Dumont in New York last October, but pressure brought to bear by Burden separated the couple two or three days after the marriage.

Charge Lumber Prices Being Boosted by The Southern Pine Assoc'n.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Attorney-General Palmer yesterday ordered suit to be brought in the Federal court at St. Louis against the Southern Pine Association, about fifty of its principal member companies and seventy individuals on the ground they have entered into a conspiracy to curtail the production and increase the price of yellow pine lumber in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

The proceedings will be instituted within the next few days, it was said last night at the Department of Justice. They will have as their aim the granting of a temporary injunction which would restrain those against whom the proceedings will be directed from further participation in what the government alleges to be a conspiracy by curtailing production in Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama, and in an agreement to control prices.

THE AIMS OF MOOSEHEART SET FORTH BY BRANDON IN FINE LECTURE LAST NIGHT

Small Crowd Was Out to Hear This Gifted Speaker

WONDERFUL STORY

OF WHAT MOOSEHEART IS DOING AND WHAT THEY WILL DO IN FLORIDA FOR THE AGED

(From Tuesday's Daily)

Every man, woman and child in Seminole county should have heard the lecture of Rodney H. Brandon at the Princess Theatre last night. They would have learned more about education and child conservation and the taking care of the aged in one hour than they will ever learn in years. In fact it is seldom that any community has the opportunity of listening to a man like Mr. Brandon, who has done and is doing more for the orphan children of America than any other agency, group of men or institution. It is to the everlasting shame of the community that more of them were not present at the lecture last night to have heard this gifted speaker.

J. G. Ball, president of the Chamber of Commerce and George A. DeCottes were on the stage with Mr. Brandon and after the introduction by Mr. DeCottes, the speaker made friends with the audience by telling them that he was no stranger to Sanford since he had married a former Sanford girl and had heard so much about the city and the South and he told some jokes about his experiences in the South seeking a location for a Mooseheart home for the aged members of the lodge.

Mr. Brandon is a gifted speaker that grips his audience and holds them to the very end of his story about the beginning of Mooseheart, the search for a location, the making of this vast estate into a real home for the homeless children, the many fine buildings of reinforced concrete and steel where 1,100 children are housed and taught trades and given a high school education. Their new ideas on education of 48 weeks of school with four weeks only for vacation, four hours a day of school, instead of six, the idea of giving each child 90 days at various trades until they are able to choose their life work and the entire story of the Moose taking up this splendid idea and carrying it out to a successful finish until today it is looked upon as the model institution of the world. He told of taking some Florida children, one of the boys having St. Vitus dance and all crippled up, of keeping them there six years and now this boy is a six foot athlete, a ball player and he will be sent back to his former home city in Florida, a well-set up, well educated, mechanical draughtsman. As the speaker well asked: "What are these children worth to your community?" and answered it by saying that Mooseheart spent $35,000 on one Florida family that he knew of and five children would soon be handed back to the commonwealth all of them in perfect health, all of them with good trades and all of them ready to become good citizens and a large part of their home city. And some of these families were left destitute upon the community at the death of their parents and the communities would have been obliged to take care of them in the way that some of them do and the expense and the half way methods of bringing them up would have told on the future citizens of the state. The children are never separated at Mooseheart and if the mother is living she is taken there with them to live with them and have her share in the work of the institution. It is undoubtedly one of the greatest institutions for the conservation of the children of America that has ever been devised and then the speaker said they had another vision and one that he had not caught until the last few years and that was in regard to the older men who had served out their time at various trades or lines of business and their declining years found them on the verge of despair at the thought that they were soon to be sent to the rubbish heap. Men and women who were able to work some but unable to work at their former trade and had been supplemented by younger ones. The new idea of Mr. Brandon and the Mooseheart authorities is to found in the South and undoubtedly it will be in Florida, a great home for the aged patterned after the one at Mooseheart where each inmate can have a cottage and a few acres of land, where they can have a garden and a hog and a cow and be self supporting if possible, where their friends even can come down and buy a small home of the same sort and live out their few remaining years in the balmy climate of Florida, knowing that they will be taken care of under the benign influence and protection of the Moose. They are not looking for a free site of this kind, they are not looking for anything but a square deal and they expect to get that in the land before they will consider any of them. They are willing to pay a fair price for the land and they will afterward spend a million or more in making it one of the finest homes for the aged that the world has ever seen and from their success at Mooseheart they will make good on their Florida home. No man except one with a vision such as has been given to Mr. Brandon and his associates could ever look ahead and plan such a wonderful home as the children's home at Mooseheart and the one now being planned for Florida. And in the close of his remarks Mr. Brandon in a few words called attention to the lodge of Moose and asked his audience if they did not think the effort was worth the paltry sum of ten or twelve dollars a year that a member of the Moose lodge would spend for dues and that Sanford people even those without families and without thought of poverty could easily afford a membership in this lodge that was doing so much for mankind and doing it in such a systematic manner.

Mr. Brandon also paid tribute to the Sanford Chamber of Commerce and its president and secretary and A. P. Connelly and others of the board who had taken hold of his proposition in such an intelligent manner and made his stay so pleasant while here. He said that there was no other institution in the city of such prime importance as the Chamber of Commerce and that while he could not say where the home would be located that Sanford would have the chance to present her claims at the proper time and meantime the citizens should consider the claims of the Moose, investigate the work they were doing and get ready to become a part of the organization that was doing so much for the children who were being left homeless every day in the year. At present the lodge has a membership of 550,000 men and 50,000 women and is growing rapidly everywhere when the proposition is put up squarely to the thinking men and women of the different communities. He was roundly applauded at the close of his lecture and assured that Sanford would do everything possible to help out in his plans.

Fort Ogden Hen is Mothering Brood of 71; Hatched 'Em All

Seventy-one chicks hatched out by one hen at one time comes pretty near being a record hatch even for South Florida, but Mr. E. L. Morgan, the genial station agent at Fort Ogden, will take oath that this is what actually happened at his place. The nest was found under the barn and no doubt the heat there helped to hatch out the brood. Scores have visited the Morgan place to see the unusual and interesting sight.

Fort Ogden is on a boom and this is but a sample of what may be expected in other lines when the things get well under way with the developments planned. Considering how hard most people seem to find it to scratch out a living for their brood much pride is taken locally in the grit of the mother hen who refuses to be scared out by the high cost of living.

Oldsmar cleaned up in great style with its exhibit of fancy thoroughbred hogs at the Pinellas County Fair, making a clean sweep of the first prizes for Duroc Jerseys and Poland Chinas. It was by far the best exhibit of hogs that Pinellas county fair has ever had in its five years' history and the Oldsmar exhibit attracted much attention from breeders, who gave the animals high praise.

FRIERSON FILES REPLY TO HEARST

NO RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT HAS MONEY UNDER CONTROL OF TREASURY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Denial that any portion of the money advanced to the Kerensky government of Russia is still under the control of Secretary Houston, was made by Solicitor General William L. Frierson in a brief filed today with the district supreme court in response to the suit brought by William Randolph Hearst, of New York, as a taxpayer, to enjoin the secretary of the treasury from further financial transactions with foreign governments.

The brief also denied there was any intention on the part of the secretary of permitting funds under his control to be paid to the Kerensky or any other Russian government. Mr. Frierson declared there was no occasion for an injunction as the defendant has no intention of establishing further credits to any foreign governments "as must have been known to the plaintiff when he filed his bill."

With regard to the payment of the unexpended balances now existing in favor of Czechoslovakia, France, Greece, Italy and Liberia the solicitor general contended "the faith of the government was pledged" because these credits were established under authority of congress.

Describing the transactions between this government and the Kerensky government the solicitor general declared the credits were established and advances made "just as they were made to any other foreign government, and when made were entirely free from the control of the secretary of the treasury."

It is not true, Mr. Frierson said, that there is any existing credit in favor of the Kerensky or other Russian government, nor that any funds belonging to the United States have been placed in the National City Bank, or any other bank subject to the check of Kerensky or other Russian government with the approval of the secretary.

REFORMING OF G. O. P. AT EARLY DATE, FORECAST

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—An early reorganization of the Republican committee is now forecast. President-elect Harding is determined that no member of his cabinet shall be at the same time chairman of the national committee. Therefore, if Will H. Hays accepts the postmaster generalship he must divest himself of the national chairmanship.

The national committee will meet here March 3d. Senator Harry S. New of Indiana is believed to be President-elect Harding's choice for national chairman and while he does not want the chairmanship it is understood he will accept if Harding insists.

HOOVER HAS NOT RECEIVED INVITATION BUT IS WAITING

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—Mr. Hoover said he had not received invitation to become member of cabinet but possible telegram might have been sent and delayed. Declined to say what attitude he should make to offer coming to him from Harding.

We've never made a million dollars, but if we live to be 100 years old we'll never quit thinking that perhaps some day we may.

Rabbi Wise is Man of Strong Convictions and Makes 'Em Known

When Rabbi Stephen S. Wise turned down the Trustees of Temple Emanu-El, New York's famous Synagogue, with the crisp comment that no self-respecting minister would accept a "call" which would be subject to the control of the Board of Trustees, he threw the theological world into an uproar, from which it has not as yet fully recovered.

A bitter controversy has raged, not only in the Jewish religious circles, but also in the American Protestant churches. The statement has been frequently referred to as a "Declaration of Pulpit Independence" by sympathizers with Dr. Wise, and it has resulted in caustic criticism from some of the orthodox churchmen. Newspapers the country over, took up the discussion and church periodicals have been full of it for the past two years.

True to his conviction, however, Dr. Wise turned down the offer, and the upshot of the whole affair was that he founded the famous Free Synagogue in New York City, known to day as the great social center of the metropolis for Christians and Jews. He gave to the effort all of his wonderful dynamic enthusiasm, with the result that today Carnegie Hall, the home of the Free Synagogue, now occupies an extremely high place in the religious life of New York City.

Endowed by nature with a voice of remarkable volume and unusual carrying qualities, he has always been an eloquent preacher. Undoubtedly he is the most eloquent and the best known among present day Rabbis. Many say he is without a peer. He speaks with marked intensity and greatest assurance. His sentences are short, crisp, epigrammatic. There are no equivocations. He fights wrong with all his God-given strength and he hues wherever the blow may fall. He is profoundly powerful as a speaker and as a thinker, a modernist whose life is consecrated to the uplift of his fellow man. He is a champion of the plain people—if ever there was one. The line between right and wrong is clean cut with Dr. Wise.

His lecture appearance here in the near future is attracting wide comment for he is undoubtedly one of America's brainiest and most eloquent men.

CHARGE ATTEMPT A TRIPLE MURDER

MIAMI, Feb. 22.—Harold Lockwood, forty, was yesterday bound over to the criminal court on the charge of attempting to slay his three daughters, Lola, Elizabeth and Verna Harwood, ranging in age from ten to eighteen years. The mother was in Tampa Saturday at the time of the alleged attempted killing.

The oldest girl told the police that Lockwood had attempted undue familiarities during the absence of their mother. That night, she said, Lockwood extended a gaspipe into the bedroom occupied by the girls, but the oldest girl awakened before the fumes became strong. She rushed out of the room, was seized by her stepfather but succeeded in reaching a telephone and gave the alarm.

Lockwood made his escape before the arrival of the officers but was captured next day.

Nine Members Alabama Guard on Trial Today

(By The Associated Press)
HAMILTON, Feb. 22.—The case of the state against nine members of the Alabama National Guard charged with murder in connection with the lynching of William Baird, miner last month, nolle pressed today when trial of Sergeant Stephens was begun and the trial abruptly ended. New warrants were immediately served upon Stephen and other eight Guardsmen charging murder in connection with the lynching.

When you speak a kind word to a child on one of our streets it soon passes from your memory. But not so with the child. That kind word and others like them are remembered and treasured, and exert a beneficial influence in moulding the future character of that child. Big things grow from little beginnings and we can do much to improve the future of our community by using kindness and friendliness in greeting the little ones when we meet them.

Prominent Western Man Praises Tanlac

G. W. Logan, Peabody, Kansas

"Tanlac has completely restored my health. I feel finer than in years," was the straightforward statement made recently by Mr. George W. Logan, of Peabody, Kansas, one of the most prominent stock-dealers in the Middle West.

"It has not only made a new man of me but I have actually gained thirty-five pounds in weight and feel as well as I ever did in my life. I am telling all of my friends about Tanlac but they can see for themselves what it has done in my case.

"When I began taking Tanlac I was in an awfully run-down condition. I was away off in weight, felt weak and nervous all of the time and couldn't take any interest in my work or anything else. My main trouble was indigestion. Nothing seemed to agree with me. At times I would have dizzy spells and at other times my back would ache so bad that I could hardly get up and down in my chair. This is just the condition I was in when I started to take this medicine. It took just six bottles to make a well man of me. I now have a fine appetite, everything tastes good and my digestion is perfect.

"My wife was also troubled with indigestion at times and it relieved her the same way. You may publish my statement wherever you like and if anyone doubts it, just tell them to see me."

Tanlac is sold in Sanford by the Union Pharmacy.

Mystery of Cross-Ties Placed on A. C. L. is Solved

With the arrest of Harvey Jenkins, a negro lad of 16 years, living between Maitland and Altamonte Springs the mystery of how the cross-ties, which have twice within the past month been found placed on the A. C. L. tracks in that neighborhood, was cleared up yesterday and Detective Baxter is receiving the congratulations of the railway officials for a clever piece of sleuthing.

Jenkins, the negro youth arrested by Detective Baxter, is a half-wit, and arrangements are being made to place him in Chattahoochee.

When confronted by another negro who had seen him place the tie on the track Sunday and placed under arrest by Detective Baxter he was seized by a violent epileptic fit from which he recovered only after a half hour's treatment.

Sunday, the half-witted negro youth was seen by the negro who identified him yesterday pull the tie across the rails of the track. Remonstrated with by the other negro he flew into a rage and advised the other negro to "mind his own business."

The father of the demented youth with whom he lives in the vicinity, informed the detective that he has been crazy for a long time and caused them trouble, and it had been their intention to have him placed in some safe place.—Orlando Sentinel.

Lady Ozgapatian Will Speak Here on Near East Relief

Lady Anne Azgapatian, a noblewoman of the Near East, will speak in Sanford Friday night, March 4th, at a public meeting in the Baptist Temple. Lady Anne, who brings with her motion pictures taken in Turkey and Persia, has just arrived in Florida from Washington where she represented the women of the Near East at the conference of the National Women's Party.

General Mezrop Nevton Azgapatian, her husband, served previous to the war as advisor to the Shah of Persia and as diplomatic representative to the United States. At the outbreak of the war he offered his services to the Allied cause and was appointed in charge of the medical corps of the southern Russian army where Lady Anne joined him as a Red Cross nurse. With the collapse of Russia they were forced to flee in disguise with their infant child and finally escaped by way of Archangel.

Lady Anne will arrive in Sanford from Winter Park where she addresses the students of Rollins College the same morning. The previous day she speaks at DeLand and Stetson University. Previous to this series of engagements, Lady Anne will be the guest of Mrs. Arthur Curtis James, Mrs. Sewel and the clum women of Miami.

NO-FENCE MEETINGS WILL BE HELD IN FLORIDA BY NO-FENCE LEAGUE

Campaign Has Been Described as Florida's Greatest Fight

BARTOW, Feb. 21.—Shall scrawny, tick-ridden cattle take precedence over well-kept, healthy animals of both native and pure breeds?

Shall the razorback hog be looked upon with greater respect than the profit-bringing offspring of prize winners at state, national and international livestock shows?

Shall either be allowed to overrun and devastate farms, groves, gardens, highways and home yards in which millions of dollars have been invested?

Shall the progress of Florida, the farm and grove output of which alone is more than $100,000,000 annually, and the aggregate value of which is more than a billion, be retarded in behalf of open-range cattlemen, who constitute not more than 1 per cent of the state's population, who (on a 50 per cent basis) have their cattle assessed at only $30,000,000, and who bring in from the sale of such animals only about $5,000,000 annually?

Shall Florida's future as a stock-raising center be blighted by this handful of men who continue to fight against progress and justice in spite of the fact that Louisiana, the last state to accept Florida's ticky cattle closed her ports to such cattle on Feb. 1—who fight against their own good as well as that of their more progressive fellows?

Those are a few of the questions that are being fired at trade boards, women's clubs, newspapers and other organizations and individuals by the Florida No-fence League, headquarters of which are in Bartow, and the answer that is coming in from all sections is a rousing "no!"

No organizations have refused to endorse the program of the No-fence League, which proposes that the coming legislature submit the proposition to the vote of the people at the next general election and its only avowed opponents are those who are directly interested in open-range breeding, or who are personal or political friends of such breeders.

The No-fence League's campaign has been editorially described as "Florida's greatest fight," but officers of the league say they expect no such battle as was necessary to inaugurate the roadbuilding era in Florida, to force cattle breeders to protect their cattle by dipping, or to protect growers of citrus fruits in the world's markets. They claim to find progressive men and women thoroughly awake to this great need in its every phase, and that these people will be solidly behind the movement when the legislature convenes in April.

Interest in the movement is shown by the fact that the program has been unanimously endorsed by both Florida State Press and South Florida Press Associations; by trade bodies and clubs of all kinds, and at every meeting so far addressed by A. L. Brown, an authority on the subject, and other speakers who are touring the state. Every section of Florida will be reached before the campaign closes and equal enthusiasm is expected in the more remote localities.

ONE CASE BUBONIC FOUND, PORTO RICO

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Feb. 21.—The presence of one positive case of bubonic plague was officially announced yesterday within twenty-four hours after the discovery of three suspicious cases. No further suspects have been reported since the original three were found.

An emergency appropriation of $200,000, to combat the disease and improve the city's sanitary condition, has been authorized by the legislature.

NOVEL WAY TO CATCH FISH

How would you like to have a nice 4½ pound trout jump into your lap? This is what happened to Mrs. E. S. Weir yesterday afternoon while she and Mr. Weir were rowing on Lake Lucerne. At the southeast extremity of the lake where the placid waters mirror the beauty of the blue sky and the hanging moss-covered branches of the giant oaks found there, this trout flopped suddenly from the crystal waters and landed in the lady's lap. Both the fish and Mrs. Weir were rather surprised. Today the Weir table at dinner time will have among other things a nice broiled trout.

Now this story is absolutely authentic, although it is some fish tale. Fishermen in Orlando will please hereafter take their wives when they go fishing and let her sit in the back seat of the boat. This new method will no doubt greatly add to the pleasure of fishing and will most certainly prove the least cruel way of trapping the finny tribe. Some men would even prefer to be fish if they could be caught by such a novel method.—Orlando Sentinel.

DEATH OF BENJAMIN S. EDDY

Death brings sorrow and is always unexpected but one of the saddest deaths to occur to our citizenship was that of Benjamin S. Eddy, who seemingly in the best of health, was taken ill about ten days ago with what seemed to be hemorrhages and was taken to the local hospital here and afterward to Dr. Master's sanitarium at Port Orange where he died Saturday. The remains were taken by the sorrowing mother and sister to the old home at Indianapolis yesterday for interment.

Mr. Eddy was a lieutenant in the Engineers Corps during the World War and served in France, coming to Sanford after being mustered out and engaging in the vegetable business, farming, the Lucas place with success and was getting along nicely when he was stricken with the disease that takes such a heavy toll each year. He had been a resident of this city about a year and a half and made many friends by his gentlemanly manner and business ability. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and was respected and esteemed by a large circle of friends whose sympathy goes out to the mother and sister who are mourning the loss of this fine young man, who was a true son and brother. He was 29 years of age at the time of his death.

SOUR STOMACH INDIGESTION

Theford's Black-Draught Highly Recommended by a Tennessee Grocer for Troubles Resulting from Torpid Liver.

East Nashville, Tenn.—The efficacy of Theford's Black-Draught, the genuine, herb, liver medicine, is vouched for by Mr. W. N. Parsons, a grocer of this city. "It is without doubt the best liver medicine, and I don't believe I could get along without it. I take it for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver.

"I have known and used it for years, and can and do highly recommend it to every one." I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all it claims to do. I can't say enough for it."

Many other men and women throughout the country have found Black-Draught just as Mr. Parsons describes—valuable in regulating the liver to its normal functions, and in cleansing the bowels of impurities.

Theford's Black-Draught liver medicine is the original and only genuine. Accept no imitations or substitutes. Always ask for Theford's. E.S.

MERCHANT KILLED, BROKERS SAFE ROB- BED, BONDS TAKEN

JACKSONVILLE SCENE OF TWO MORE CRIMES SATURDAY NIGHT

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 21.—Another victim was claimed yesterday by the crime wave sweeping this city, robbers murdering a merchant, and a brokerage firm's safe was cracked, yielding $6600 worth of bonds. Meanwhile the cordon which the police have thrown about the city has not produced any tangible clues or important arrests tending to clear up the mystery surrounding the deaths of "Pa" Goodrich and W. H. Burden on Wednesday night.

Elias George, twenty-five, a Syrian merchant, was shot and mortally wounded by bandits who entered his place of business for robbery purposes early yesterday morning. There were no eye witnesses to the shooting but it is believed two negroes are responsible for the crime. George died in a hospital several hours after he was wounded. He did not regain consciousness.

Blood hounds were used by the authorities to trail the murderers. Three arrests have been made in connection with the crime.

Yeggs broke the combination of the safe in the offices of Clement D. Cates & Co., Friday night sometime, and made their get-away with $6600 in Victory and Liberty bonds, according to reports to the police last night.

The following is a description of the stolen securities:

One $500 first, 4 1-4, No. D00137, 212.
One $100 fourth, 4 1-4, No. 303147, 072.
One $1000 Victory, 4 3-4, No. L-2412765.
One $5000 fourth, 4 3-4, No. G-00027527.

According to the elevator boy in the Florida National Bank building, where the Cates offices are located, two men went to the floor on which the offices are located late Friday night. The two men left, using the elevator shortly before midnight, according to the boy. One had a stachel.

Police authorities today redoubled their efforts to rid the city of crooks, gunmen and vagrants responsible for the series of crimes occurring here the past week. While many suspects have been arrested in connection with the killing of George Alexander Goodrich, fifty-seven and Walter H. Burden, sixty, prominent men who were shot to death in a hotel last Wednesday night, the authorities admit they have been unable to connect any of those held with the crime. There is no evidence connecting the two men arrested in Lake Butler Saturday with the murder.

The two prisoners, Charles Gundallus, thirty-four, of Chester, Pa., and Sherman Rossiter, forty-six, of Chicago will probably be released tomorrow. They were arrested while beating their way on a freight train. They told a hard luck story of being without work and were endeavoring to return to their homes.

NOT DIFFICULT TASK TO DESTROY ROACHES IN HOME

One of the most effective and simple means of ridding premises of roaches is dusting with commercial sodium fluoride, either pure or diluted one-half with some inert substance such as powdered gypsum or flour. This remedy is one recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Numerous practical tests conducted in lunchrooms, bakeries, milk bottle exchanges, etc., have shown that with the use of this substance roaches can be completely exterminated with very little trouble and cost and with none of the possible dangers attending the use of hydrocyanic-acid gas, another efficient means of control. With the use of some dust gun or blower the sodium fluoride can be thoroughly dusted over the shelves, tables, floors and the runways and hiding places of the roaches.

The immediate effect of the powder is to cause these insects to come out of their retreats and rush about more or less blindly, showing evidence of discomfort, to be followed in the course of a few hours by their death. The dead or paralyzed roaches can be swept up and burned, and complete extermination is effected within 24 hours. It is not definitely known whether the sodium acts through the breathing pores or as a stomach poison. Probably, however, it acts in both ways, inasmuch as it has been found to kill caterpillars fed on foliage dusted with it.

If you want to live in days of perpetual sunshine just convince the protector that every cloud has a silver lining. They'll reach up and pull 'em down.

JAX IS AROUSED OVER AWFUL CRIME THERE

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 18.—Jacksonville is aroused today as it has never been before in determination to rid the city of all suspicious characters following the sensational murder yesterday evening of two prominent visitors in a hotel parlor at 9:30 o'clock.

Surprised by two masked bandits as they sat at a family card game in the parlors of the Lenox Hotel, 126 Newman street, George Alexander Goodrich, 57, well known engineer and builder of Atlanta, Ga., was shot to death, and Walter H. Burden, 60, wealthy retired business man of Tatcho, N. Y., was so badly wounded that he died at St. Vincent's hospital at midnight.

Robbery was the motive. The bandits escaped in an automobile, which they left conveniently parked near the hotel. The engine had been left running in order to facilitate the getaway.

Mrs. Burden, wife of one of the murdered men, and her daughter, Miss Florrie Burden, 18, were the other members of the party—witnessing the cold blooded double murder.

The two men and two women were enjoying a social game of cards, when suddenly and quietly the two masked bandits stepped into the parlor—located on the ground floor—through an open door leading from the yard, and covered the party with revolvers, commanding them to make no outcry and to hand over their valuables.

The part ya first thought that it was a joke perpetrated by fellow guests and began to jest with the intruders. Suddenly one of the bandits reached for a handsome diamond pin Mr. Burden wore in his scarf. They then realized that it was grim reality, and both Burden and Goodrich leaped to their feet. The bandits fired with the first shove.

The following is a description of the stolen securities:

One $500 first, 4 1-4, No. D00137, 212.
One $100 fourth, 4 1-4, No. 303147, 072.
One $1000 Victory, 4 3-4, No. L-2412765.
One $5000 fourth, 4 3-4, No. G-00027527.

These are a few of the questions that are being fired at trade boards, women's clubs, newspapers and other organizations and individuals by the Florida No-fence League, headquarters of which are in Bartow, and the answer that is coming in from all sections is a rousing "no!"

No organizations have refused to endorse the program of the No-fence League, which proposes that the coming legislature submit the proposition to the vote of the people at the next general election and its only avowed opponents are those who are directly interested in open-range breeding, or who are personal or political friends of such breeders.

The No-fence League's campaign has been editorially described as "Florida's greatest fight," but officers of the league say they expect no such battle as was necessary to inaugurate the roadbuilding era in Florida, to force cattle breeders to protect their cattle by dipping, or to protect growers of citrus fruits in the world's markets. They claim to find progressive men and women thoroughly awake to this great need in its every phase, and that these people will be solidly behind the movement when the legislature convenes in April.

Interest in the movement is shown by the fact that the program has been unanimously endorsed by both Florida State Press and South Florida Press Associations; by trade bodies and clubs of all kinds, and at every meeting so far addressed by A. L. Brown, an authority on the subject, and other speakers who are touring the state. Every section of Florida will be reached before the campaign closes and equal enthusiasm is expected in the more remote localities.

THE MAN WHO KNEW AND WHAT CAME OF IT

We knew a man with an automobile, who said he was a careful driver

AND HE WAS!

He said he would never injure anyone

AND HE DIDN'T!

He said: "If anything happens, it will be the other fellow's fault!"

AND IT WAS!

That didn't prevent the other fellow from demanding money

AND HE DID!

Our man said: "It's not my fault; I'll not pay anything!"

AND HE DIDN'T!

The other chap said: "I'LL SUE YOU!"

AND HE DID!

Our friend's lawyer said: "We can beat him in court!"

AND THEY DID!

Whereupon our friend said: "Ha, Ha, I win!"

AND THEN

He paid his lawyer a fee of $100.00, plus expenses, and ran his car the rest of the year at his own risk.

FOOLISH—WASN'T HE?

There was a cheaper way out, and we had told him about it, but he thought he knew better.

Let us tell you how little it will cost for COMPLETE PROTECTION, we to furnish the lawyer, investigate all claims, defend all suits, and pay all losses within the limit of our policy.
