Review Could Cut Tax

By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer

Land taxes could have been reduced this year by more than $1-million if the Seminole County Commission had control of all budgets, Commissioner Harry Kwiatkowski said today.

Miffed that certain county agencies' budgets were not subject to review, Kwiatkowski believes a local agency should be set up to review all budgets or else the commission should do it.

In a letter to homeowners, he said that "probably the most irritating factor of the entire budget process was the inequality of the budget review process."

Kwiatkowski listed budgets which were not subject to review by the county's "professional budget analysis staff, or the county commission, or the citizens of Seminole County at a public hearing."

"In other words," he said, "the listed entities can just about set their own budget level without direct Seminole County citizen review or knowledge, and then, include it (hide it) in the overall commission budget."

The Board of County Commissioners is then obligated by law to fund that entity at its chosen budget level," he said.

"It became evident to the board that a substantial tax decrease (up to one mill) could have been possible if a local agency, responsible to the mandate of local citizens, were involved and had control of the budget review process," he added.

One mill equals $1,000,000. In a series of budget cutting sessions, the commission reduced $23-million requests to slightly more than $18-million. Thus, the tax at present is 5.40 mills, or landowners will pay $5.40 per $1,000 of taxable property. Last year's budget was $18-million.

Kwiatkowski listed the following agencies he would like to see reviewed by a citizens group or by the commission.

— Seminole Memorial Hospital, 1974-75 budget was $47,775 compared to $417,225 for fiscal 75-76. Increase, Kwiatkowski says, was 664 per cent.

— Property appraiser. Went up from $514,735 last year to $579,438 this year.

— Tax collector, went from $153,468 to $227,000 for a 35.2 per cent increase.

— Clerk of Circuit Court, went from $45,000 to $185,000 for a 260 per cent increase.

— Sheriff, went from $1,915,618 to $2,496,868 for a 12.7 per cent increase. (The sheriff's budget has been appealed and a decision is expected later this month.)

— Circuit Court Judges, went from $20,000 to $85,000 for a 272.2 per cent increase.

Rail Crossing Ordinance On Commission Agenda

The Seminole County Commission will consider an ordinance on Tuesday that prohibits trains from blocking railroad crossings longer than five minutes.

The measure, as presently drawn by County Attorney Tom Freeman, holds railroad personnel liable for any blockage longer than the five minutes specified in the ordinance.

The penalty is a $500 fine and/or 40 days in jail. Sheriff John Polk has expressed some reservations about his department being able to enforce the ordinance.

The ordinance, that comes up in response to complaints about trains blocking the SR 46 crossing, is the main artery into Sanford and Seminole Memorial Hospital from the interstate highway.

If railroad officials wish to block a crossing longer than five minutes, they must appear before the commission and state the reason, the ordinance states. Then, at the next regularly scheduled meeting, the commission will rule on the request.

If the reason is deemed valid, the railroad would be required to take out an advertisement in a local newspaper advising citizens of the crossing to be blocked, the exact reason and the length of time the crossing will be blocked.

In other business, Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr. is scheduled to poll the commission this week for a response as to when negotiations should begin with Lester Mandell for purchase of a clay pit site near Markham Woods Road.

Vihlen said last week he will seek some direction this week. The commission approved a $517,000 bond issue to pay for the clay pit site. The Commission is gearing up for the purchase. Just last Tuesday commissioners, with Commissioner Dick Williams voting in opposition, approved an ordinance which allows bond sales to secure money for capital construction.

Markham Woods residents have filed a suit, seeking to reverse a decision by the county's board of adjustment which played the location of the site near Markham Woods Road.

Vihlen also said today he will ask county officials for an update on jail construction progress. Present opening date is set for Nov. 1.

And, Vihlen may go to New York on Wednesday regarding bonding for Indian Hills and Consumer Utilities, two firms which the county has to own by Dec. 1.

Crowder Hires New Attorneys, Trial Delayed

By BOB LLOYD Herald Staff Writer

Three trials scheduled for this week for Altamonte Springs bar owner Donald R. Crowder have been delayed until the week of Nov. 17.

Circuit Court Judge J. William Woodson today granted continuances in the buying, receiving and concealing stolen property cases after Orlando attorneys Robert James Buonanno and James M. Powers entered the cases as defense counsel.

Crowder previously had been represented by Tom Freeman and Ned Woolfolk. Buonanno told the court he cases, did not object to the trial delays. Crowder, 44, of 561 Karen Ave., Altamonte Springs, was found guilty last week by a circuit court jury of buying, receiving and concealing stolen property.

Crowder was ordered held in jail pending a court-ordered pre-sentence investigation. Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor indicated he will consider requests to free Crowder on appeal bond after a notice of appeal of the conviction is filed.

Sanford Water Treatment Facing New Requirements

By JOE ASKREN Herald Staff Writer

In a letter to be read to City Commissioners at their 7 p.m. meeting today, B.C. Conklin, with Clark, Dittz and Associates Engineers Inc., said in part:

"Sanford is not in too bad shape, even if they had to add surface water-type treatment because your water supplies are rather consolidated and we did look at such possibility when the original plant at the Country Club was designed.

"Obviously what I think is gradually coming is a lot more treatment and a tendency to regionalization and consolidation; with the way it's starting off it will be somewhat gradual, especially because of the current economic situation and some of the lessons learned from the basic sewage treatment law." Conklin said in his letter to City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles.

Conklin explained that the state has gradually been increasing water treatment requirements on a number of counties and much of South Florida is under orders to go to complete "surface water-type treatment" rather than "our very minimal aeratin and settling and chlorination."

Regular agenda items include a public hearing to consider rezoning part of property between Inwood Ave. and Mohawk Ave. and between Santa Barbara Drive and DeSoto Drive to S.R. 1.

A public hearing is also set to consider closing, vacating and abandoning alleys between Holly Ave. and Cedar Ave. and between West First St. and Commercial St.

Mrs. Daniels Expected To Run For Council

By JANE CASSELLBERRY Herald Staff Writer

WINTER SPRINGS—Qualifying papers for the Group 4 City Council set race were picked up Friday by City Councilman John Daniels for his wife, Mary. Qualifying period begins Wednesday and will close Nov. 1.

Group 4 incumbent in the Dec. 2 municipal election, Councilman Irene Van Eppeh, has said she intends to run for reelection.

Last year, Daniels was appointed to the Group II seat and instead of running for the one year remaining in the term chose to try for the Group 3 seat, thus unseating the incumbent, John Booth, and winning a two-year term.

20 Lose County Vehicles

The Seminole County Commission today reduced the number of county vehicles used by departmental employees 24 hours a day from 31 to 31.

The reductions were decided on at a work session attended by Commissioners Sid Vihlen Jr., Mike Hattaway and Dick Williams.

The 20 less cars which will be used around the clock were a result of a study by the county's Office of Management, Analysis and Evaluation (OMAE). The reductions were recommended by OMAE chief Sig. Pearson.

Initially, 51 vehicles were on 24-hour assignment. Then department heads recommended reduction to 36. That number was reduced further in today's session.

Though liaison Commissioner John Kimbrough was absent today, Pearson submitted his recommendation which took cars from John Percy, John Buck and Doy Presley of the Department of Community Development; Emmett Taylor Jr., Environmental Services; Bill Bush, Julian Johnson and C.A. Scott Jr., public works and one of the two vehicles assigned to the Department of Community Services.

However, Vihlen asked today that vehicles be returned to Bush and Percy. "They're

Report On CIA Long Overdue

It was last Jan. 27 when the Senate created a special committee to investigate the Central Intelligence Agency, the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other agencies gathering intelligence for the U. S. government. Senate Resolution 21 provided that the committee—headed by Sen. Frank Church of Idaho—complete its work and file a report and recommendations by Sept. 1.

The committee is over a month beyond its deadline and is still busy at the washboard. A similar committee in the House headed by Rep. Otis Pike of New York has been active since February, with a cutoff date of Jan. 31, 1976. How much more dirty linen must be hung out on the line before these committees figure out what went wrong in the secret chambers of our government and what needs to be done to keep intelligence agencies on the right track in the future?

Two salient truths have been evident since this exercise began. One is that the apparatus for supervision of secret intelligence activities by top officials in the executive department and by Congress has not always worked as it was supposed to under the National Security Act of 1947. The CIA and the FBI obviously are prey to a syndrome not uncommon among all government agencies. They tend to develop a direction and momentum of their own that can become independent of the wishes of elected officials who are responsible for what they do.

The other truth is that agencies like the CIA and FBI have an indispensable mission to perform in connection with our national security and that there is no way the public can be kept fully informed of what they are doing without jeopardizing their mission.

Eight months of hearings have simply added more emphasis to those points, which could have been drawn from the more discreet inquiry conducted by the Rockefeller Commission last spring. Indeed, that commission made 30 recommendations for revising the 1974 Security Act to define the responsibilities of the CIA more clearly, provide for more checks on its activities by Congress and the President, and to make public all or part of its budget. It is hard to see how the Church committee can come up with any proposals that would be substantially different.

What have these hearings accomplished? The CIA has been shaken to its roots. Fact has been mixed with suspicion in areas where the truth may be impossible to determine. The agency's ability to do what it has to do has been compromised to an extent that only the future will reveal. The clandestine "war" of international intelligence is going on as before, but in the arm of our government that must fight it is a sling.

Responsible members of the Senate should be demanding that the Church committee heed the deadline for concluding its investigation. The House committee need not protract its hearings into 1976. Congress has found out as much as it needs to know about the sins of omission and commission in the CIA's past in order to prescribe remedies for the future.

Our Role In Spain

There are good reasons for caution as our government negotiates a renewal of the executive agreement called the "Madrid Pact" providing for American military bases in Spain. The agreement was first signed in 1953.

Now, 22 years later, Generalissimo Franco is 82 years old and in poor health. His hold on the reins of power in Spain is weakening. Opposition to his autocratic regime is gaining strength.

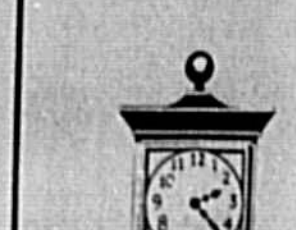

The reaction throughout Europe to the execution of five anti-Franco terrorists demonstrated the strength of anti-Franco feeling.

It does not seem wise for the United States to sign a new agreement of friendship and cooperation at this time. The strategic importance to us of the Spanish bases is unquestioned. But Franco is not going to close them, even if the agreement is not renewed. It would be better to negotiate a new agreement with the government that follows Franco. Such an agreement would have a longer life expectancy than one signed now by Franco.

White Collar Crime Wave Continues

One major area of crime in America not reflected in FBI statistics is so-called "white collar" crime.

Depending upon whose figures you call to cite, business is losing between $15 billion and $50 billion annually to crime, says Industry Week, with the vast majority of it resulting from internal, or employee, theft.

Ripping off the company is the common bond of both white and blue collar workers, says the magazine. If a company is missing $100,000, it's as likely that a vice president manipulated accounts-payable records as it is that a warehouse clerk stole it by falsifying inventory records.

Employer crime ranges from the pilfering of pens, pencils and envelopes for home use to at least one instance where a corporate vice president and a shipping superintendent headed much as 15 per cent of employee theft from the truckload. Blue collar workers did the legwork and white collar workers handled the covering bookwork.

Although an estimated 87 per cent of employee crime is theft-related, a company may also be the victim of sabotage. This means not only literally throwing a wrench into a machine but such activities as disrupting schedules so that employees rack up more overtime.

Employer theft may be a significant cause of spiraling hospital costs, reports another publication, Modern Health-care. It quotes New York security consultant Norman Japan to the effect that hospital costs could be reduced by as much as 15 per cent if employee thefts and other types of fraud were cut to a minimum.

These include such things as padded checks and kickbacks, falsification of labor vouchers, the use of hospital facilities, equipment and funds from accounts receivable and the treating of patients at hospital expense by doctors who are paid personally.

If all this is bad news for business in general, it is good news for one business in particular. Increasing recognition of the severity of employee crime is boosting demand for security services, both guard and electronic.

What is the CAP? According to a recently produced newsletter, the CAP activities range from social functions, such as a group Christmas party on Dec. 7 (CAP's birthday month) to actual search and rescue (SAR) missions for downed pilots or lost people.

Training for all types of natural and SAR missions is the primary concern of the Seminole unit. Recently, the local unit had its trained cadets on standby alert for a lost teenager in the Geneva area of Seminole County. On the preliminary search, before the actual alert was called, a CAP member found the teenager.

Had the alert been sounded, the CAP members would have used their training of first aid, night navigation and teamwork in carrying out their mission.

Among other activities for CAP members are encampments of one to two weeks duration at a U.S. Air Force base whereby cadets learn the life of an actual airman: bivouacs (weekend campouts during which cadets are trained in communications, navigation, search and rescue, first aid, general camping, survival and leadership); flying approximately once every two months in small aircraft; rocketry and model aircraft; and many more.

The Seminole CAP unit maintains a membership of cadets from the ages of 13 to 18 (or anyone who has reached the seventh grade school level, plus senior personnel 18 years of age or older who support the activities of these youth.

Persons wishing further information concerning the senior or cadet programs of the CAP are invited to attend meetings on Wednesdays from 7:30-9:30 p.m. at the P.V. Post 1050, Casselberry, or write to P.O. Box 5, Casselberry, 32707.

Tonight's the night when Seminole High School Assistant Principal Lamar Richardson gets "roasted" at the high school auditorium.

Anthony Sutton and Reed Fraasa will act as masters of ceremonies at the "roast," whereby Richardson, a former professional football player in the National Football League, will hear his worst traits exploited by various persons in suits, etc.

Some persons will undoubtedly take the part of Richardson's former NFL teammates. Among those making "special guest appearances" will be C.B. Franklin, Clifford Crauder, Stephanie Blac, Holly Malcolm, Ray Bertram and Curtis Johnson, in addition to S.H. Principal Don Reynolds, Ester Eitelberg and Gerald Cassanova.

The "roast" is sponsored by the Seminole High Tropician Society as a fund-raising project. Admission to the 7:30 p.m. event is 50 cents.

The third report dinner of United Way of Seminole County Inc., will be held tomorrow at 12 p.m. at the Sheraton Inn, Interstate 4 and SR 46, in Sanford.

It will be a "Dutch Treat" affair and will be hosted by the Sanford Lions Club.

There are only 10 days remaining of the current drive and everyone is urged to pledge their "Fair Share" to put United Way over the top of its goal prior to the victory dinner on Oct. 23.

Walter Strobe, chief engineer of the Lalli, said he became suspicious when the five crewmen — four Indonesians and a Filipino cook — were plucked from a life raft amid debris from the ship.

Moderates Split Vote

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Opponents of the release of any of the territory seized by the Turkish invaders of Cyprus were losing heavily in Senate elections as vote counting continued today.

With half the votes counted, Premier Suleyman Demirel's conservative Justice party and former Premier Bulent Ecevit's leftist Republican People's party were splitting 85 per cent of the votes almost equally.

In the 1973 general election, the Justice party got 29.8 per cent of the vote, the Republican People's party got 33.3 per cent, and five small parties divided the remaining 36.9 per cent.

Among the losers was the Moslem National Salvation party, a member of Demirel's government coalition that is opposed to giving up any of the territory taken in the 1974 invasion of Cyprus.

Although Demirel will have to continue his coalition with the National Salvationists and two other conservative factions, it was thought that the election results coupled with the easing of the U.S. arms embargo against Turkey last week would enable him to soften his stand on the stalemated Cyprus problem.

The "Salvationists" percentage of the vote was running about a third behind their showing in 1973.

The voting Sunday was held to fill 54 of the 151 Senate seats and six vacant seats in the 450-seat Assembly.

The state radio announced Sunday night that projections of the votes counted indicated the two major parties would each win 25 Senate seats. It said the National Salvationists were vying with the two big parties for at least two of the remaining four seats.

There was no indication yet of the outcome of the Assembly races. But observers did not expect Demirel's coalition to be threatened unless the opposition got all six seats.

Police said at least 19 politically motivated murders occurred during the election campaign, and there was more violence than in any previous election. One person was reported killed and 10 injured in a battle between rival groups in the central province of Konya.

Economic Delegates Meet

PARIS (AP) — Delegates from 18 industrial and developing nations are meeting in Paris today to make arrangements for the long, dialogue on changes in international economic arrangements that they failed to agree on last April.

The meeting is expected to formalize an understanding worked out during the summer for foreign ministers of 27 nations to meet in December. They would appoint four financial ministers — on energy, raw materials, development and commodities — which would work for at least a year. Then the foreign ministers would meet again to see where things stood.

"The four commissions will have to work in parallel and with a degree of coordination," said Louis de Guiringaud, France's chief delegate at the United Nations and the president of the preparatory meeting.

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The Venezuelan government is offering about $900 million today to 29 foreign oil companies as compensation for their nationalized holdings in Venezuela. Mines and Hydrocarbons Minister Valentin Hernandez said last-minute deductions had reduced the total about $100 million.

The companies, most of them American, have 15 days in which to accept or reject the offer. The oil nationalization law signed by President Carlos Andres Perez on Aug. 29 last year stipulates that the companies must agree to relinquish their companies to the government in exchange for the offer.

SEUL, South Korea (AP) — South Korea agreed today to meet with North Korea on Oct. 23 to try to arrange a resumption of Red Cross talks to reunite separated families. South Korea also proposed the resumption of political talks between the two governments to arrange peaceful coexistence between them.

North Korea broke off both sets of talks in the summer of 1973 because of the Seoul government's stringent anti-Communist policies.

Portuguese May Replace Chief

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — A tough line soldier and moderate socialist, Brig. Gen. Manuel Fraco Charais, may replace President Francisco de Gama as chief of staff of the armed forces, informed sources report.

The sources said Premier Jose Pereira da Avezedo was about to announce the appointment of Charais as chief of staff of the armed forces.

Charais is commander of the central military region. Avezedo was reported to feel that the armed forces must be brought under tighter control and that the army chief of staff, Gen. Carlos Fabiao, is too indecisive to do the job.

Avezedo scheduled a television speech today in which he was expected to announce measures designed to end the street violence and military mutinies that have been plaguing his coalition government.

Meanwhile, the mutiny of the Serra do Pilar Artillery Regiment in Oporto continued in its seventh day without a challenge. The independent Oporto newspaper, Jornal de Noticias predicted "hard measures that will repress the lack of discipline present."

Beirut Security Forces, Guerrillas Hunt Snipers

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Joint teams of Lebanese security forces and Palestinian guerrillas are hunting snipers in Beirut today as they tried to enforce the fragile cease-fire between Christians and Moslems.

Isolated machine-gun battles were reported in the outlying suburbs during the night. But authorities said sniping by extremist diehards in Moslem areas was the only serious true violation in the city.

Twice during the night, the joint Lebanese-Palestinian patrols came under sniper fire near Palestinian refugee camps. These snipers were believed to be members of radical guerrilla groups.

Both Yasir Arafat and Fatah guerrillas and the Saiga organization sponsored by Syria said they would "strike with an iron fist against the anarchist and unruly elements that are trying to recreate chaos and commit murders and looting to rekindle the fighting."

The reclamation committee began meeting this morning.

Rudy Vallee Returns To University Campus

ORONO, Maine (AP) — Rudy Vallee, the 74-year-old crooner, returned to the University of Maine campus for a nostalgic weekend.

He recalled that he transferred to Yale four decades ago because his love for a local girl was unrequited.

"I met her while registering for college and fell deeply in love with her," Vallee said. "We had quite a few dates, but in the spring she jilted me for a baseball player, some guy named Jack who had a raccoon coat and an automobile and I had neither."

Raccoon coats, antique cars and other symbols of the Roaring 20s were brought out for the return of Vallee, who popularized the school's official song, "The Maine Stein Song."

Art Of Budgeting, Cooking

Baked Goods Can Save You

By NANCY BOOTH
Herald Correspondent

Baking is one of the oldest cooking arts. It has progressed from the time our ancestors were crouched over heated rocks to internationally known chefs creating culinary masterpieces in the famous eateries.

In today's economy, many women feel, either because of lack of time or high food prices for staples, that it is more economical to purchase a baked product already prepared than to expend the time, effort and money to create our own.

In some instances this is true. But, thank heavens, there are still scores of recipes around that not only save money, but allow women that wonderful feeling of creating something for their family with their own hands.

There are certain staples that should be in every cupboard. With these handy tools, you can create a multitude of delicious recipes whenever the mood hits us.

Absolutely necessary items include flour, sugar, shortening, baking powder, baking soda, salt and assorted spices. An easy way to acquire these items is to purchase one a week until you have a well stocked cupboard.

The next thing to be considered is it is more economical to make it at home or buy it already prepared? This decision requires judgment and the knowledge of your family's specialized tastes. It also has to take into consideration how you feel.

Do you enjoy being a "white thumb" lady on occasion? Does it give you a sense of satisfaction to serve your family something that is uniquely yours?

Many women do enjoy this feeling of satisfaction, but hesitate because they believe it is more expensive to bake at home. For these women I have a recipe that is economical, requires little effort, and which with a little imagination, can either be a simple dessert, or a culinary treat you would hesitate to serve to the husband's boss.

Don't be fooled by the ingredients. This is a rich devil's food cake that is moist and delicious. It will surprise you.

WACKY CAKE
1 1/2 cups flour
1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons cocoa
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon vinegar
5 tablespoons butter or shortening
1 cup water

Sift dry ingredients together and combine with wet ingredients. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. This is a rich devil's food cake that is moist and delicious. It will surprise you.

Business Convention To Open

"The Magic World of Business" will be the theme when the Florida Business Education Association convenes in Orlando, October 16-18, at the Sheraton Olympic Villas.

The main focus of the conference is that of presenting new materials and methods to Florida's business educators. Speakers representing publishers in the skill areas of shorthand, typing, word processing, and consumer education will be featured. Local speakers, including legislators and Florida Department of Education staff members will also appear on the program.

This is the first time in several years that the Florida Conference has been held in Orlando. Committees of local business educators from Orange, Seminole, Lake and Osceola counties have worked energetically to bring to Florida's business educators a most outstanding program.

Proper Muscle Exercise Helps Check Big Problem

THE HERALD SERVICES
A muscle exercise so simple it can be done while waiting in a supermarket line may help women check a common and distressing urinary problem.

Mostly it's due to general wear and tear and relaxation of the pelvic muscles over the years. But by learning to contract a muscle called the pubococcygeus, a woman can strengthen the muscular sling that supports the bladder, vagina and rectum.

Exercise the muscle this way: Stand with feet shoulder-width apart, arms at your sides. Inhale and lift your right heel. Exhale and lower it. Repeat 10 times. This exercise helps strengthen the pelvic muscles.

Series Shifts To Cincinnati; Wise Vs. Nolan Tuesday

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds have escaped the clutches of "The Green Monster."

They plan to spring something scary on the Boston Red Sox — their feared running game. "We're glad to get out of here alive," Manager Sparky Anderson said after his Reds beat the Red Sox 3-2 Sunday and tied the World Series at one game apiece.

Tuesday night's third game will feature a duel of right-handers — Boston's Rick Wise against Cincinnati's Gary Nolan.

Their running slowed to a crawl by a treacherous wet field and their power short-circuited by effective, off-speed Boston pitching, the Reds made adjustments Sunday and now carry a split of the first two games back home to Riverfront Stadium for Game 3 Tuesday night.

The weather hurt us here because the footing was bad in the infield," said Joe Morgan after Sunday's dramatic victory in venerable Fenway Park. The rain-drenched field wasn't the Reds' only problem. The Red Sox pitching gave the National League champions a scare, too, keeping their powerful right-handed hitters away from that close, luscious wall in left field known as "The Green Monster."

"The Boston pitchers have been pitching outside and not letting us hit to the wall in left," said Morgan. "So, as a result, our right-handed hitters had to make adjustments and go with the pitches instead of trying to pull them."

That's what Johnny Bench did in the ninth inning to get the Reds started toward victory in a tense game that benefited the occasion. Bench hit an outside pitch from Bill Lee that drifted field for a double, and eventually came around with the tying run when Dave Conception bounced an infield single off reliever Dick Drago, that Denny Doyle stopped behind second but could not make a throw on.

Conception then stole second and came home with the winning run on Ken Griffey's double to left center while the fast and clear for the Reds' racehorses. Except for Sunday's ninth inning, neither running or hitting were among the things that the Reds did with any effectiveness in Boston. Checked 6-0 in Saturday's opener by Luis Tiant's baffling series of deliveries, it seemed for eight innings on Sunday that the Reds would be frustrated again in gloomy Fenway.

With the help of an artificial surface and a sleek vacuum cleaner machine called "Zamboni," games are rarely rained out in Cincinnati. So Morgan knows the track will be

Tuskawilla Mops Up In Pop Warner

Tuskawilla was the big winner Saturday in Pop Warner League kiddie football, and it came at the expense of Teague's opposing teams.

Tuskawilla's midgets whipped Teague by a 21-4 count in a kickoff 55 yards for the extra point when Jeff Campese ran 15 yards for the TD. Scott Heatherdale went 35 yards for Teague's score.

Peter Kryzak kept the junior midget drive going for Tuskawilla and Tim O'Shaughnessy scored from the one for the clincher.

South Seminole junior bandits defeated Orlando Central, 14-7, getting an 11-yard TD run from John Carpenter and a 63-yard run from Scott Smith.

Flag League Wins Posted By 3 Teams

The Bulldogs gained a victory without having to score Saturday in Sanford Recreation Department flag football, but the Cowboys and Jayhawks had to work for their victories.

The Cowboys took 7-0 measure of the Wildcats as Randy Robinson returned a punt 60 yards for the game's only TD. Randy Robinson passed to Gary Hudgins for the extra point.

The Jayhawks whipped the Rams, 20-0, as Milford Hayes scored on touchdown runs of 60 and 70 yards and Marvin Butler picked up a loose ball and ran 55 yards to score. Bill Terwilliger ran for one extra point and passed to Ricky Williams for the other.
