 monthly rental of $45.00 a month. Landlords who changed their rental basis contrary to the rent regulations, such as from a monthly or weekly to a daily basis during the interim period in effect for the unit on July 30, 1946.
 5. On July 1, my landlord raised my rental from $30.00 to $45.00 a month. I paid $45.00 for July. Can I get a refund for the $15.00 difference?
 Landlords who charged more than their ceiling rents for the interim period, when penalties for violations of OPA controls were necessarily suspended, are not required by OPA to refund the amount collected in excess of ceiling rents for that period.
 6. In July, my city passed a local ordinance permitting a 15 percent increase in rent. Must I continue to pay this increase?
 No, regardless of local legislation in effect between July 1 and July 25, 1946, rent in excess of the maximum permitted under the Federal Act and regulations cannot legally be collected after July 25, 1946. The Federal Act expressly states that Federal rent control supersedes local and state laws.

 7. I was evicted in July. A new tenant now occupies the premises. Can I now regain possession?
 No. Tenants who were actually evicted during the interim period when penalties for violations of OPA regulations did not apply, cannot regain possession.
 8. My landlord has given me an eviction notice but has not notified OPA. Can he proceed to evict me?
 Landlords are now prohibited from proceeding with eviction actions without complying first with all OPA requirements covering evictions. The requirements are the same as those in effect on June 30, 1946. Any incomplete eviction proceedings contrary to the regulations, may not now be completed. Consult your nearest OPA rent office for all details.
 9. In July the local court issued a judgment permitting my eviction but I have not been put out. Can I now be evicted?
 No, unless your landlord complied with OPA eviction requirements and then were given eviction judgment in the local court during the interim, may proceed to evict legally.

 10. I rented my apartment to a tenant for the first time on July 15. How soon must I register the apartment with OPA?
 You will have 30 days after July 25, 1946, in which to register property.
 11. I first rented my apartment to a tenant on June 15, 1946. How long will I have to register with OPA?
 You must register within 15 days after July 25, 1946. A landlord who first rented a dwelling until during June 1946, must register within 30 days of first renting, not counting the number of days between July 1, 1946, and July 25, 1946, inclusive.
 12. I rented an apartment on July 1, 1946, and was required to give my landlord a security deposit of $100.00. Is this legal?
 Your landlord must return this deposit to you within 30 days after July 25, 1946. Otherwise, he is in violation of OPA regulations and subject to penalties.

Assistant Fire Chief R. T. Thomas, who at the time was in the restaurant, turned the woman on her side and found she was unconscious and breathing heavily. Meanwhile Fireman G. M. Harrett telephoned the police and Fire Chief Davis arrived at the hospital at about the same time as the police car bringing the woman. Use of a stomach pump revealed, according to police record, that the woman had swallowed approximately one and a half capsules of the poison.
 Later at the hospital she recovered consciousness and told Patrolman Bedenbaugh that she had been driven in an automobile which had been stolen in the east at Orange City. She was wearing a pin when found, such as graduate nurses wear, said Bedenbaugh, who expressed his opinion that he had seen service as a nurse in Hawaii.

 in bonds is the proper way to handle any payment of the $1,000,000 in cash would definitely increase the inflationary trend in this country," Gutierrez said. He also intimated that in his opinion President Truman would okay the bill.
 Julian Stenstrom, a member of the Herald staff, said that he believed the measure was appropriate since officers received leave pay. "As far as I'm personally concerned," he declared, "the payment of the money in five-year non-negotiable is all right with me. I have no doubt that Mr. Truman will place his signature on the bill."
 George Steele, Army veteran, stated that he approved of the passing of the bill but thought that it should have been paid in cash exactly as it is paid to officers. However, Steele said he felt that he would be satisfied if the method of payment of leave money to officers would be changed to conform with the plan to pay enlisted men. But he went on to say that he thought that legislation would be enacted during the next session of congress decreasing the length of time the bonds would be non-negotiable.
 Braxton L. Perkins, Jr., Navy veteran, declared "Yes sir! The leave bill is okay. I realize that many men will probably not be satisfied with the bond situation and would rather have the cash. However, I would just as soon have the bonds." Perkins added that "I think the bill will be signed by President Truman."
 A former Naval officer who asked that his name not be revealed, said that he was in favor of the legislation as long as officers and federal civil service employees were accorded such benefits. He related instances where government office clerks and typists were given leave time and sick leave of 18 days per year in addition.
 "And I believe that the method of payment adopted by the congress is proper," he added. He continued by saying that "I believe a majority of the men would rather have the cash but in the long run most of them will be better off with the bonds."

Hundreds Of Profiteers Nabbed When Cost Of Living Climed To An All-Time High 26-Years Ago

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
 WASHINGTON—Aug. 3—Buyers' strikes swept the country, and hundreds of alleged profiteers were nabbed when the cost of living climbed to an all-time high 26 years ago this summer.
 When retail prices began their rise after World War I, they already were 75 percent above pre-war figures. By midsummer of 1920 the cost of living was more than double its pre-war level, according to Department of Labor surveys. Consumers called the situation "outrageous" and "profiteering" became a household word in the days of the "red" scare.
 Business men, judges and preachers, school students, were overall as a protest against "500 prices for $50 suits," "barefoot clubs" campaigned against high priced shoes. Members of the Consumers' League and civic groups took pledges to abstain from candy and ice cream until sugar prices were reduced.
 The newspapers reported that a judge of the Kansas Supreme Court joined the overall brigade. A Missouri minister wore blue denim in his pulpit, and the mayor-elect of Emporia, Kans., denied overall for his inauguration.
 "Hoop, candidate for the republican presidential nomination, was reported wearing an old coat in sympathy with the campaign to force clothing costs.
 From Detroit came reports of $1 a dozen for eggs and of an irate housewife throwing an "over-ripe" egg through a grocery store window. Testimony before a Senate committee told of the doubling of Chicago rents overnight. Many tenants, declaring they were unable to pay increased rent, fought eviction. A few states enacted laws to prevent rent profiteering.
 The tenant of an apartment hotel in New York City went on what he called a "hunger strike" when his manager increased their board a week. They said they had ac-

The presidential campaign that year, Republican and Democratic platforms contained "high cost of living" planks. The Republicans said the prime cause was a "50 percent expansion of currency and credit" by the Wilson administration.
 The Democrats' version: "The Democrats said the remedy lay in increased production and a relentless pursuit of those who take advantage of postwar conditions and are demanding and receiving outrageous profits."
 Republican Candidate Harding pleaded for thrift as a cure for high prices. Democratic Candidate Cox charged the Republican-controlled Congress with protecting profiteers.
 Many other theories were advanced for the high cost of living. Economists cited scarcity of commodities, heavy increases of exports of foodstuffs, increases in wages and decreases in hours of labor, a multiplicity of strikes, hoarding and profiteering as reasons for booming prices.
 The exact effect of the buyers' strikes cannot be measured statistically. But they undoubtedly had some influence.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

OUR CHILDREN GIVE US... PLEASANT SURPRISE... WE ARE GOD'S CHILDREN AND SHOULD TRY TO MAKE HIM PROUD OF US...

The Paris Peace Conference seems to be getting off to a good start, but we hope that is a good omen.

Senator Pepper expressed fears in a Pennsylvania speech that the United States is aligning itself with the "reactionary forces of the world."

Despite the dilapidated condition of the old jalopy, she still gets around. The Florida Petroleum Industry reports State gasoline taxes in the first six months of 1946 amounted to $18,465,000...

Congress has passed and sent to the president a $125,000,000 five-year hospital construction measure. Under this bill the federal government contributes 40 percent of the cost...

The housing shortage may be preventing many marriages, but it is not materially affecting the birthrate. In Canada Halifax, where a serious housing shortage exists, reports twice as many illegitimate births in 1945 as in 1939...

Down in Tampa there are ten thousand persons on the unemployment relief rolls. Many of them, says a USES official, are welders, shipfitters, aircraft engine mechanics, fighter pilots and bombardiers for whom no such jobs are available...

The wartime commander of the Army Service Forces, Lieut. General Somervell, who as a colonel before the war was in charge of scratching the surface of Florida's cross state canal, may be the subject of an investigation by a Senate committee...

We do not often agree with Drew Pearson, but when we do we feel it is worthy of comment. Speaking of the peace conference in Paris, he says, "This conference is a sense highlight the fact that a new public-maker, a new possible belligerent has taken the place of Germany and Japan..."

Robert Moses, New York's efficient park commissioner, is not disturbed by public mutterings. He said recently: "I have learned not to run up a high temperature and blood pressure over the intolerant off-scourings of minds inflamed by revolutionaries..."

Violence Begets Violence

The irate housekeeper who threw a pound of butter in her grocer's face in Jacksonville the other day probably did not realize that she was yielding to the same temptation which prompted a Georgia mob last week to lynch four negroes...

Whether it is an attempt to settle an argument with an employer by the quick and decisive method of the switch-blade, the determination to win a ball game by piling down out of the stands and mutilating the umpire, or an effort to settle the Jewish problem for all time by dynamiting the British headquarters in Jerusalem...

Comes a great war, and this instinct bursts into full bloom. Millions of men are trained to kill or be killed. Millions of others are paid fabulous wages to make every conceivable implement of human destruction. For weeks, months, years, those who remain at home see the highest honors conferred upon those who kill the most men...

And so it follows logically enough that for a time after such war the instinct to resort to violence remains strong within us. Enmity, hatred, prejudice flourish, and tolerance and the spirit of compromise all but vanish. It is an evil day. And the evil ways of life predominate. Not only does crime increase among adults as well as juveniles, but human character, among law-abiding citizens suffers. Common ordinary courtesy lags and the spirit of noblesse oblige hits the toboggan.

But somewhere along the way of life men must realize that this is not the answer to our problems, or the key to the more abundant life. You cannot banish poverty by lynch law, nor raise the American standard of living by mob violence. Strikes, civil strife and revolution do not produce automobiles, radios and washing machines. Wars, whether fought in Europe or on First Street, provide neither the material blessings nor the spirit and character of a civilized community.

Gertrude Stein

Gertrude Stein, who died in Paris a few days ago, was one of the most criticized and most ridiculed of recent American writers. She had a staunch following for her literary experiments, but those readers who understood what she was trying to do and enjoyed her writings were very few. In her way, she was a pioneer and an inventor in the field of literature...

Gertrude Stein as a person was a warm, cordial woman who welcomed American soldiers to her home in the foothills of the French Alps, where she moved from Paris when the war prevented her from returning to the United States. The troops who visited her there will remember her friendliness and her enthusiasm for America, whether or not they ever open one of her strange books.

Tough Luck, Tourists! Facilities Too Slight Alcan Highway Closed For Expected Traffic

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—If pictures of the beauties of the north have set your mind on taking a trip over the war-built Alaska highway, forget it! The scenery is waiting, but the road is not willing.

Although current repair and extension is being pushed as rapidly as possible, it is not expected that it can be used extensively by tourists before the summer of 1947. Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug was informed of this official status of the road by Director Edwin G. Arnold, of the department's division of territories and island possessions.

There already is some travel over the Alaska highway through Canada and Alaska, but the road is not open to tourist travel in general because of the lack of facilities such as filling stations, repair shops and eating and sleeping accommodations. Arnold said. It is expected that the route will be ready for increasing tourist travel in 1947.

Alaska is an ideal vacation land. Only lack of adequate transportation prevents it from being more fully exploited. From a tourist viewpoint, the country offers every delight. The highway winds through forests and cuts through scenic mountain ranges. Both the United States and Canada have set aside a strip of land on each side of the road for the control of its development.

The Alcan, as the road was then known, was started in 1942 by Army engineers, who smashed ahead with a pioneer road. They were followed by contractors of the Public Roads Administration who widened and paved it.

Critics and skeptics said it couldn't be done. To build a road through the wilderness of British Columbia, the Yukon and eastern Alaska was unthinkable. But they overlooked the ability and resourcefulness of Army engineers and American and Canadian contractors. At the incredible rate of eight miles per day, they built an 1,800-mile double lane route across the northwest wilderness.

They threw up more than 200 timber bridges, and placed some 6,000 culverts. Many of the larger bridges have since been replaced by permanent steel structures.

The Alaska highway starts at Dawson creek, British Columbia. It crosses Peace river, nearly 2,000 feet wide, passes through Fort St. John and Fort Nelson, the latter an old trading post.

At Fort Nelson the road turns west, following river valleys. It crosses the Rockies at an elevation of 4,210 feet. This is the highest point on the highway.

Continuing north, it enters Yukon territory at Watson lake, and reaches Whitehorse, principal city of the Yukon. Still following river valleys, it crosses the Alaska border and winds on into Big Delta.

The highway ends here, although the traveler who is continuing on, must use the Richardson highway which runs from Valdez to Fairbanks. Fairbanks is 88 miles northwest from Big Delta.

Both the Alaska highway and the Richardson highway were subjected to extraordinarily heavy traffic during the war, and will require extensive repair work.

The Alaska Road commission, a unit of the department of interior, already has started repair and construction work which must be done during the summer months, to put the territory's 2,900-odd miles of roads in good condition.

Two new roads, for which Congress has initially appropriated $1,300,000, will be built to supplement existing highways and open more of Alaska to tourists, and provide farmers with an access to markets.

Much work remains to be done on existing roads in reducing excessive grades and curves and in replacing inadequate bridges. For this reason, tourist travel is not encouraged.

Florida's Gas Tax Receipts For Half Of '46 New Record

JACKSONVILLE, Aug. 2.—Florida's gas tax collections in the first six months of 1946 outstripped by $2,306,790.16 receipts in the same period of 1941, our previous record revenue year, Glen P. Woodard, Jr., executive secretary of the Florida Petroleum Industries Committee, reported today. "From January through June of this year," he said, "our seven-cent gas tax produced the completely unexpected amount of $18,465,838.16 as contrasted with $16,159,048 in 1941. It is unexpected because most officials were convinced that gas revenues would not regain the peak 1941 levels until several years after the war."

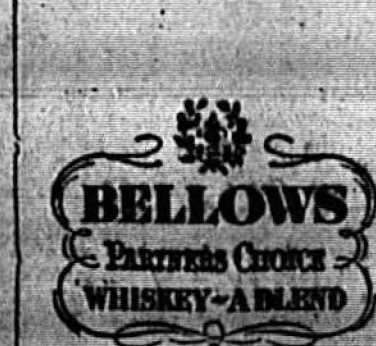

In terms of postwar roads, this resurgence in gas tax revenues means that we'll be able to finance our highway construction program with no trouble. It isn't possible, as a matter of fact, to spend all the money in the highway fund right now for new roads because the state can't obtain the necessary raw materials and labor. Meanwhile, of course, the revenues mount up in the highway fund. When labor and materials do become available again and costs subside to a level we can afford, there will be more than enough road money to build all the roads the people of our state really need.

Disabled Veterans Week Is Slated In State Next Week

For the purpose of emphasizing the importance of making employment available to disabled veterans, Fons A. Hathaway, Tallahassee, State Director of the United States Employment Service, acting in cooperation with the State Veterans Employment Representative, R. E. MacDonald, the week of August 5-9 as "Placement of the Disabled Veteran" week.

"The magnitude of the problem can be readily recognized," stated Mr. Hathaway, "when we note that a total of 5,294 disabled veterans, 5,100 of them being World War II veterans, have made application for work at Employment Service offices in the State offices in the State during the past six months." Job placements by the Employment Service officers during this same period for disabled veterans totaled 1,114 with 1,064 being World War II veterans.

At present there are 4,376 disabled veterans seeking employment through United States Employment Service offices in Florida. Special efforts will be made during the week of Aug. 5 to place as many of these applicants as possible. Mr. Hathaway stated that these applicants are physically able to fill many jobs, and in all instances should be as satisfactory employees as those not handicapped. Physical capacities approximated as made on each of the disabled applicants so they referred only to jobs on which they will be well qualified and able to compete with any fully able bodied worker. Studies have shown that the disabled worker's absentee rate, as well as his safety record and labor turnover rate, is much lower than that of the normal worker. Local USES offices in the State will review the applications of the disabled veterans in their area and employers in the community will be contacted in an effort to make a satisfactory placement. Mr. Hathaway concluded by stating that employers throughout the State have shown a commendable and patriotic spirit in their efforts to give employment to the disabled.

 who witnesses said held a gun. The veterans, hands in air, walked off and joined a crowd of sympathizers. There was no shooting then, but the crowd increased in numbers at about 9:00 o'clock surrounded the three-story brick jail where the officers were barricaded with the ballot boxes. Gunfire increased during the night and early today three explosions rocked the jail. The blasts were closely spaced and were said to have been caused by home-made bombs. Shortly after, the deputies surrendered to the veterans. They were searched and returned to the jail under GI guard.

A spokesman for the veterans, former Lieut. Comdr. Ralph Duggan, announced that the GI ticket had been elected and that the victors would serve as county officials starting Sept. 1.

Duggan produced a statement from a member of the County Election Commission, George Wood, which said that Wood conceded that the GI candidates had been elected. The head of the Democratic political organi-

FOUR MEN INJURED

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Aug. 2 (AP)—An explosion this morning ripped out a corner of a building at the Commercial Solvents Corporation plant here, injuring four men.

First reports said that four men were hurt. Two other were believed missing. The plant makes industrial alcohol.

In the county, State Senator Paul Cantrell, could not be located for a statement.

The State Guard is expected to be called into service here some time today, Duggan said that the veterans would be willing to leave the situation in the hands of the guardsmen.

STATE NEWS BRIEFS

By WILLARD CONNOLLY

Greetings were recently sent by St. Augustine, oldest city in the United States, to Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic, which is the oldest permanent settlement in the Western Hemisphere and which on Sunday will celebrate its 460th birthday. This makes St. Augustine, preceded by the Spanish in 1565, a more youngster, Miami celebrating its 50th birthday by this standard a mere infant, but what a big infant!

City Manager C. E. Swank of Fort Pierce, has extended to Adjutant General Vivian Collins and the board in charge an invitation to organize a National Guard company in the city. Recruiting for the National Guard is expected to get under way during the Fall. This will bring the deactivation of the wartime State Guard.

Fort Myers and Lee County have added eight and a half mills to the school levy this year, of which four and a half mills will be for the million-dollar school building program, two mills for teachers salaries, and two mills for school buses. The operational budget of $101,177 is $28,000 higher than last year due to increases in teachers salaries.

At Gainesville the Phifer State Bank recently became a member of the Florida National Bank group when it was announced that the controlling interest had been sold to the Alfred O. du Pont estate. The bank was founded in 1907 as a supplement to the Phifer Department store.

DeLand's Chamber of Commerce publicity committee has put up its signs outside the city welcoming visitors to "DeLand, Home of Stetson University." Articles on DeLand are being prepared by the committee to be sent to Collier's Encyclopedia and to Esquire Magazine for publication. Esquire is planning a feature on Florida resort cities for the November issue.

Marion County commissioners have decided to get a new clock for the courthouse at Ocala. Instructions were given to rammy the hands "from the face" of the old, out of repair clock in order to eliminate confusion among persons not informed that the clock is out of operation.

AIRLINE WORKERS unload six suction machines from a plane after they had been flown from Chicago to Minneapolis, Minn., to help victims of an infantile paralysis outbreak. The machines, which remove congestion from the lungs of polio sufferers, are being checked by Kent Powers (dark coat), state representative of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. In inset is Sister Elizabeth Kenny, the Australian nurse who developed a highly successful treatment for the disease, as she stepped from a plane at Minneapolis. She flew from San Francisco to aid in the city's fight against the outbreak. (International)

Quarter Million Poles Are Still Living In Dugouts

AP Newsfeatures
 WARSAW, Poland—The war is over, but nearly a quarter of a million Poles still live in dugouts and bunkers.

That's the picture one finds around Warzka, about 50 miles south of Warsaw, and in the district of Kielce, on the main Warsaw-Krakow highway.

In the Kielce district alone, 14,000 people live in dirt-topped, brick-walled dugouts and hovels. Despite that, most Polish peasants appear to be glad to be back on their own soil, for many of them spent long years in Nazi concentration camps.

In this little town, not a roof was left and few walls are standing. Peasants live in cellars or little holes dug in the ruins, sometimes two families to a dugout.

The United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, the Polish ministries of health and food, the American Red Cross and Polish Red Cross are trying to bring aid to the poor families in the worst devastated areas, but the people have little to eat.

Here's a peep into the brick-walled, dirt-topped dugout home of Stefan Jobiaz in nearby Czarnowka:

Before the war, he owned and farmed 40 acres of land. He had two horses, seven cows, eight pigs, scores of chickens and 20 beehives. Today he has one pig, one chicken and a horse, from UNRRA.

 Mrs. Green Says She Now Eats Anything She Wants And Feels Fine. Regains Lost Weight

"Miscellaneous from acid indigestion, I was afraid to eat solid food and felt worn-out. Retonga brought me grand relief and I soon regained my lost weight and I now feel fine," happily states Mrs. A. E. Green, well-known resident of 603 Market St., Jacksonville, Fla. Telling of her experience, she gratefully said: "Even after I gave up solid foods I suffered terribly from sour stomach and food rashes. Stomach gas pressed against my chest until I felt like my breath would be cut off. I suffered frequently from gassy heartburn. Sluggish elimination kept me feeling clogged with toxic poison and I had to take strong laxatives continually. I lost weight and felt very weakened. Breath sleep was next to impossible and morning, I felt tired as when I went to bed. I felt that I was at the end of my row."
 "No one could be more grateful than I for the relief Retonga brought me. I now eat anything I want. Aches and pains are relieved. I have regained nine pounds and sleep restfully every night. I wish everyone could know about Retonga."
 Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, Vitamin B-1 deficiency and constipation. Accept no substitute. Retonga may be obtained at Touchton's Drug Co.—Adv.

City Softball Loop To Resume Play Next Nonday Night

Loop Playoffs To Get Underway On Night Of Aug. 14

Furnituremen Meet Robson, Herald To Play Moss Monday

City Recreation Director Goode Kettles this morning announced the revised schedule for the remainder of the season in the City Softball League.

For the past two weeks play has been hit by rain and every attempt will be made to finish the slate on the night of Aug. 14. Next Monday night Moss will play The Sanford Herald in the opening contest while Haynes and Williams will tangle with Robson in the nightcap.

Kettles has requested that each manager be sure to have his team ready to play at the posted starting times in order that the remainder of the schedule can be completed "like clockwork."

The recreation director also stated that according to all information that could be obtained, the Carpenters' Union have eliminated their team from competition. The hammermen have either lost or forfeited all of their seven scheduled lifts to date.

The playoffs will get underway on Aug. 14 in the event no games are forced to be called off because of rain, wet grounds or threatening weather. In the playoff, the No. 1 team will play the No. 2 team in a two out of three game series while the No. 3 team will tangle with the No. 4 team in the same type playoff. The winners of the two will play for the city title in a four out of seven game affair.

It appears that Moss, the Herald and Robson will have a fight on their hands to keep out of fifth place, which is now the cellar spot since the withdrawal of the Carpenters.

The revised schedule is to be found elsewhere on this page.

Bride Wins Award Given by Farrell

Dave Bride, Sanford center fielder, was the monthly award given by O. D. Farrell, ardent Sanford fan, for recording the highest increase in individual batting among the members of the City Softball League.

Starting off the month with an average of .360, Bride wound up the month of July with an average of .316 which gave him an increase of 16 percentage points.

The nearest field to Bride in this department was second baseman Bob Tuttle who hiked his average during the month from .251 to .257. Ed Levy recorded a jump of two points, going from .289 to .291. Jerry Shearman registered a one percentage point margin by winding up the month with .222 after starting play with a .251 average.

Mr. Farrell also announced that Buddy Lake, Fed left fielder, will also be presented an award for leading the club in hitting during the past month. Lake won awards in this department for the months of May and June.

Dudley Suspended For Remainder Of Season And Fined $50

Padgett Issues Same Decree As In Seane Case

Loop Prexy Says Deland Takes Action "In Good Manner"

DAYTONA BEACH, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Florida State League president Ernest L. Padgett last night said he had fined Willis Dudley, a member of the Deland team, $50 and suspended him for the remainder of the season as a result of Dudley's attacking umpire Ross Crucilla during Wednesday night's Sanford-Deland contest.

I gave Dudley the same treatment as I gave the Seane, Orlando's catcher, and the Deland club accepted the fine and suspension in the same good manner as did John Ganzel," President Padgett announced.

Padgett also revealed he had fined Walt Harrington, another Deland player who was banished from the game by Crucilla for protesting a decision at second base and then came back on the field to join the squabble a few minutes later.

Dudley, who was wearing civilian clothes and sitting in the grandstand due to an injured arm, leaped from the stands, ran out on the field and attacked Crucilla after the latter had ruled a Sanford base runner safe on second base during the fifth inning.

Paraffin wax, first made from petroleum in 1906, now is being produced at six times the present rate as a result of increased demand for food packaging and waterproofing, especially for overseas shipments.
