EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A Chief Is Among Ye Taking Notes and Faith, He'll Prent 'Em—So Says Saunterer.

I've stepped the paper—yes, I have. I didn't like to do it. But the Editor, he got too smart. And I allow he'll rue it. I am a man as pays my debt. An' I won't be limited. So, when an editor gets too smart, I want to be consulted. An' he'd be all I could, sir. I took his paper seven years. But what it comes to dussan' me, I didn't like, he should. But that he did, and you can bet it made me mad as thunder. Says I, "I'll quit that sheet, I will. If the comed thing goes under." I hunted up the money, sirs. An' for his comin' paper, I held the seven years—quit. Yes, sir, I've stepped his paper.

Tallahassee has just finished a big revival meeting, and among the converted is a barber, who had been a bad actor in his day. Once he put some home made sea foam on a young man's hair which turned the hair red, and the color did not come out for a year.

The barber confessed to this and other crimes. It was a hard won conversion and the evangelist was elated. He saw a chance for passing religion on to a host of Capital City citizens, utilizing the barber shop as a gat-way.

Over in a corner of the revival hall he talked to a knight of the striped pole. "Now, Mr. Seizens," said the evangelist, "you have it in your power to do great good in the world. You're a man of impressive personality; and by reason of your position you meet men in all walks of life.

"Instead of discussing baseball or fishing with a patron, why not say a few words calculated to turn him into a cleaner path? Remind each, as you have been reminded, that while he is large in life he must get ready for the end, which comes to all men."

The barber thought that was a fine idea, and pledged himself. Then he went back to his shop.

Little old Johnny Looseleaf came in from his day's work at the pean farm. Johnny was afraid of ghosts and green horses and his wife. He wanted his hair cut.

The barber got through with the lathering and half of the shave with his remarks about the fig and the movement to fill up the abandoned canal. He was just going the razor over the patron's throat when it occurred to him to address a few words of inquiry to Looseleaf concerning the state of his soul.

"Johnny," said the barber slowly, "are you prepared to die?"

"The man in the chair opened his eyes and said the razor, then the high light of the end of the razor.

"What's that?" he shouted. With which he cut a lightning leap from the chair, waded the razor from the barber and threw that gentleman through his own plate glass window.

I have no patience with people or organizations that try to be charitable and make it so difficult for the recipient. If one can give let it be given in secret. I understood that the poor children of Havana can get school books free if they swear that their parents are destitute. I cannot make a living and never did or if they are dead that they were left destitute by the parents who were too shiftless to make a living. No child cares to go through all this red tape in order to get free books and no one who is dependent upon charity cares to have the fact continually hung in their faces. Sometimes pride and poverty go together and the fellow who is down to cry may have been up yesterday and one of the big men of the country. I favor the plan of Big Tim Sullivan of New York, who while not exactly an angel to most men was certainly an angel to the poor people of the Bowery and they who tried to live his benefits each year will miss him now that he is gone. Many a man, woman and child whose name was not mentioned in the newspaper when Timothy D. Sullivan died is mourning the "Big Fellow" end.

Sullivan was the recipient of dozens of begging letters every day; but he did not lavish his charity indiscriminately. Of his hundreds of letters to those who served him at his headquarters in the Bowery they were half a dozen whose special task it was to investigate the calls that were made on Big Tim's purse. His instructions to them were something like this:

"Look up this letter and tell me if they really need anything. If they need it right off the bat so that they have it before you return. Don't come back and tell me that the man of the family is a booze fighter and to blame for his family being up against it. What I want to know is not what caused their being hard up, but just how hard up they are. If they ask for rent, pay the rent. If they need coal, see that they get it, and if it's a case where they can use the money right themselves, give them the money.

I often go to church on Sunday morning and delight in listening to a learned discourse from the dominies who fill the pulpits here so ably. While the summer weather and other influences are apt to bring on the charms of Morpheus and incline one to drowsiness there has never been a time when the sermons were not strong enough to keep me awake, but I noted several other old men who always wait to sleep on the job and stayed there until the end of the sermon. One fellow in particular, who seemed to be a winter visitor always slept very soundly when the contribution plate was passed and would drowse along until the pastor was ready to dismiss the congregation and he would get up very nimbly and pass out as though he had enjoyed the sermon very much.

"This reminds me of a minister who awoke the sleepers one Sunday morning and the only objection to the plan was that the innocent suffered with the guilty.

"Dr. Steenthly, on a sultry September morning, preached with sincerity and vigor a sermon that he had prepared with great pains.

"But, for all the force of his argument and delivery, the good doctor was much vexed to see that a large part of his congregation slept. Several of his leading parishioners even apered.

"Dr. Steenthly, at the end of his discourse pounded on the lectern, and when all were at last awake, he said very firmly and mildly:

"My friends, this sermon cost me a great deal of trouble, and I don't think you have paid it the attention it deserves. I shall, therefore, repeat it." My text I take from—

"And for a second time Dr. Steenthly preached his sermon from beginning to end."

I was glad to see Alderman Underwood's defense of the fire department in the last issue of The Herald. There was absolutely no grounds for any kick against the fire department at the Barnes fire last week. They arrived in record time and did all they could after arrival. All in the world they had was the chemical engine and when that was exhausted there was nothing more to do. The chemical engine is designed to extinguish small blazes around chimneys or in the corners of houses where the fire has only started and the extinguisher puts out the fire without the use of water, not only saving the house from the fire but also from the water. But after the fire has gained headway that the Barnes fire had there is no chance in the world for any fire extinguisher to stop it. There is no fire plug closer to Sanford Heights than Tenth street, consequently the fire department had no chance in the world to do anything more than they did. I honestly believe that Sanford has the finest department of any city of similar size in the state and they have demonstrated on more occasions than one that they were on the job at all times. There is hardly a man in the fire service today in any city that takes as much care of his material as Foreman Paxton and he had his equipment in working order the night of the fire and did all that he could after reaching the fire.

I see that Franklin county commissioners have donated $500 to the advertising fund of the county and the city of Apalachicola has given $250 more and the fund will be used for special advertising and the sending of copies of newspapers to interested parties who are likely to locate in Franklin county. Every county in Florida is up and doing and the very essence of the advertising is the spirit in which the money is given for the real live counties of Florida realize that unless they advertise they will be lost in the shuffle. These are the days of advertising and the business house, city or county that cannot get in the game will soon be on the list of the has-beens.

Commissioners Working Overtime

The county commissioners of Seminole are busy men these days holding their regular meeting on Monday and an adjourned meeting on Wednesday. There are so many matters of importance in the new county that one meeting per month is hardly enough in which to transact business although the board loses no time in disposing of business as it comes before them. Seminole county has a board of county commissioners to be proud of and much credit is due them for the able manner in which they taken care of the new baby.

For a Canning Factory

W. E. Jacoby of Toledo, Ohio was in the city yesterday. Mr. Jacoby is connected with a large preserving plant at Toledo and is on his way to Eustis, where he hopes to be able to establish a branch preserving plant. When asked about Sanford's chances for a plant Mr. Jacoby said that Sanford had an ideal location for such a plant and that in view of the fact that there is a number of tons of vegetables, fruits, etc., thrown away yearly that it would certainly be profitable to the growers, as well as consumers to have one here.

Woman's Club

Notes From All Departments Of The Sanford Woman's Club

The first meeting for the club year of the Music Department of the Sanford Woman's Club was held at Mrs. Munson's a udio on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Munson was in charge of the program which was delightfully prepared.

A paper, "The Music in America from Early Days to the Beginning of the Nineteenth Century" was read by Miss Josie Stumon.

The musical program consisted of "Ye Olden Time Songs and Pieces," including the Revolutionary Tea, Old Hundred, the old hymn tune Chester, a camp fire favorite of the Revolution, President's March, Yankee Doodle and a Scotch ballad Robin Gray.

These were effectively rendered by Mrs. Newton, Mrs. Claude Herndon, Mrs. Marlowe, Mrs. Gerrer and Miss Josie Stumon, with Miss Gaines as soloist and Miss Stumon as cornet soloist.

Mrs. Munson also gave us a good idea of the old time music by playing some fragments of some very old pieces, also the famous Battle of Prague.

The Welfare Department of the Woman's Club held its first meeting of the season Thursday afternoon, October 9th.

The program opened with the reading of a very excellent paper by Mrs. T. A. Neal, on the Health and Training of School Children and it is to be regretted that larger numbers of the members had not been present, particularly more of the mothers and teachers, as so many vital topics were suggested of special significance to them.

It is unfortunate that, before the meeting more emphasis had not been given to the importance of the subject matter of this particular program, which no doubt would have assured a larger attendance. The interested attention and ready response called forth by the paper showed that the subject had been wisely chosen and well treated and found an echoing chord in the heart of every woman present.

For lack of space only the following brief resume of Mrs. Neal's paper can be given.

Nothing could more closely affect the welfare of the city than the welfare of her children—the coming citizens.

This has been most admirably set forth in Mrs. T. A. Neal's excellent paper read before the Welfare Department of the Woman's Club on Thursday afternoon on the Health and Training of School Children.

It was Mrs. Neal's good fortune last summer to hear no less an authority than the distinguished Dr. Geisel on the health of children, and we were given the benefit of her excellent suggestions.

First, a clean environment and the necessity of good, wholesome food, nourishing to both brain and body. Dr. Geisel highly recommended unpolished rice as an ideal brain food, and for a general diet whole wheat bread, fruit and nuts as the best.

Mrs. Neal emphasized the great importance of the care of children's teeth, the frequent examination of the same, as carelessness in this particular may result in indigestion, and sources for disease germs. So impressed are the advanced school authorities on this subject in Birmingham, Ala., that the children's teeth are examined every few months. The use of the tooth brush at least twice a day is insisted upon.

Habits of cleanliness should be instilled. Hands and finger nails should be kept clean. Fingers kept out of eyes, nose and mouth.

Teachers should see that they are properly seated in regard to light and that they are comfortable, feet resting on the floor and shoulders erect. Eye strain may lead to serious errors of vision. The inspection of an eye specialist from time to time was recommended.

Dr. Geisel insists that heredity is not an insuperable difficulty. Health is normal and by the practice of the laws of health and the aid of science disease can be overcome. The removal of adenoids may turn a dull child into a bright one. A wholesome diet may work the same miracle for the semi-starved and a pair of glasses may open the vision upon a new world.

Mrs. Neal's discussion in regard to the training of school children is worthy of profound attention. She insists upon the cooperation of parents and teachers. The school provides the opportunities for learning; the parent must see that the child uses them. A great responsibility rests upon the men and women of this nation who are trying to equip the coming millions for a lofty citizenship. But while the school is a mighty factor, the home is a greater one. She urged that the most attractive place in the world for the children should be the home, where mothers are their most charming companions, whose delightful study shall be how to help them in every possible way to grow into the highest ideal of noble manhood and womanhood. The informality and goodwill which pervaded the meeting was very pleasing and many topics were brought up and freely talked over.

The limited space for playground at the primary school was discussed and a committee appointed to confer with the city council in regard to the purchase of the vacant lot adjoining the school grounds on the north.

The importance of the use of individual drinking cups by school children was acknowledged by all, but the failure to find a successful plan for enforcing the rule was admitted.

That old grievance—the open sewers emptying into the gateway of the city, offending the aesthetic sense and menacing the health of the town was discussed with animation and the hope expressed that at least they might be sunken out of sight and extended into the channel of the river.

Governor Trammell May Head Off Jap Settlers

Other News And Views Of The State In Tabloid Form Pridigested

Tallahassee, Oct. 16.—Gov. Trammell announced today that he is investigating the question of Japan colonization in Florida by land companies and will act as his judgment dictates as soon as he has made up his mind as to the seriousness of the influx.

Impeachment proceedings against the county commissioners are openly advocated by many of the leading members of the dry faction in St. Petersburg. The commissioners are blamed for the outcome of the recent local option election.

Henry P. Starrett of Dade City has sailed from New York for Panama, whence he will go to Cartagena, Colombia, where he has just been appointed consul by President Wilson.

W. A. Bell of the first district has the distinguishing honor of being Lafayette county's champion corn grower, having grown 234 bushels of corn on four acres.

It is understood that the need of houses for rent in Tallahassee is getting to be almost serious. One of the state's prominent officials has been trying to rent a room house there for two months and has not been successful yet.

The attractive home of Mrs. W. W. Abernathy was the scene of a beautiful surprise birthday party given to Mrs. R. B. Perry in honor of her 71st birthday by the Missionary Society of the Methodist church.

The invited guests were requested to bring a dime, and at the conclusion of the program the dimes were presented to Mrs. Perry who then presented the whole amount to the missionary society to be added to the treasury.

TO VICTOR BELONGS SPOILS

Frank Clark Thinks Republicans Should Lose Their Jobs

Washington, Oct. 16.—"Crooked," "fraudulent" and "damnable" are some of the terms applied to the civil service by Representative Frank Clark of Florida in a speech in the house in favor of the senate amendment removing deputy marshals and deputy revenue collectors from the civil service.

Mr. Clark left no doubt in the minds of his hearers as to his views on civil service. He said:

"Mr. Speaker—I am in favor of senate amendment No. 8—I am in favor of it principally because I am opposed to the whole civil service propaganda. (Applause.) I am opposed to it because it is hypocritical, insincere and fraudulent in every respect, and, as my friend at the right suggests, damnable. Mr. Speaker, I am opposed to it because I believe with Andrew Jackson, that to the victor belongs the spoils."

"I do not believe that any President of the United States can successfully carry into execution his policies unless every agent under him is in line with his policies and believes as he believes. Take it today. An eminent federal officer only a few days ago told me that the two stenographers were Republicans; that he could not dictate a letter that had not to be dictated to a Republican. Here we are undertaking to conduct a government upon Democratic lines with Republican agencies to execute them."

"Mr. Speaker, I have noticed during my eight years of service in this house that when the gavel was yielded by Mr. Cannon, and partisanship ran riot throughout the country, none of these gentlemen were demanding a close adherence to civil service reform. (Applause on the Democratic side.) They had everything. They did not ask for anything of this character, but they stood for Republicans in office every where and on all occasions."

"Civil service was established, not to do what it is doing now, but to do what it is doing then, and it is not honestly and fairly enforced and, in my judgment, it never will be. A graduate of Harvard or Yale might be entirely unfit to fill the office of a United States marshal, while the most ignorant of men would be a better fit than a graduate of Harvard or Yale."

President Parrott Dies. Paying with his life for his devotion to his work in carrying forward the great projects over which he had charge in pushing the twin steel bridge over the ocean to Key West and in other railroad development work in the state, Joseph R. Parrott, president of the Florida East Coast Railway and the Florida East Coast Hotel Company, one of the three trustees of the vast estate of the late Henry Morrison Flagler, vice president of the Record Company, a director of the Florida Publishing Company, publishing the Jacksonville Times-Union and closely identified in other ways with business and industrial interests of Florida, died Tuesday night at 10 o'clock at his summer camp near Oxford, Me., his birthplace.

No Special Session

Tallahassee, October 16.—The correspondent of the Metropolis asked Governor Park Trammell this morning if he would call a special session of the legislature to correct alleged defect in the redistricting act. Governor Trammell said:

"It is my opinion that it will be legal and regular for a congressman to be elected in the nineteen fourteen elections for each of the four districts for the terms of office to begin on March 4th, 1915, as provided by the act redistricting the state, and I do not deem a special session of the legislature necessary."

Mexican Situation May Cause Trouble

Open Rupture With Huerta Will Be Next Turn

Other News Of The World Tersely Told For Busy Herald Readers

The Mexican situation is today regarded by officials as drifting toward a crisis with the United States awaiting President Huerta's next move. A commanding feature was the action of the Spanish minister in Mexico who called a meeting of the diplomatic corps to discuss Huerta's declaring his dictatorship. The president discussed the situation with Secretary Bryan and several senators and later held a conference with the foreign relations committee of the senate.

Mexico City, Oct. 16.—That the crisis in the situation between Mexico and the United States, which was almost reached yesterday, is only temporarily delayed was the feeling here tonight between Mexicans and foreigners. When the next development will be reached is the question all are asking.

Chargé N. Leon O'Shaughnessy professes to expect no reply whatever to the Washington memorandum and the foreign office says there will be none for the time being, but still is regarded as certain that the American government's notification regarding future action will be the termination of the action on the part of the Mexican government.

It is not expected that the election which Provisional President Huerta wishes to regard as one of the cardinal principles of his policy will be postponed.

Federico Gamboa and Manuel Cabero, presidential candidates are not abating their efforts and appear to believe the elections will be held according to program. At the same time it is acknowledged that accomplishment of this would be difficult since the only recourse is the holding of elections or the retention of the presidency by President Huerta, either of which would be equally distasteful to the United States. It is regarded as extremely impossible that President Huerta will release the deputies and restore them to their functions which appear to be the only alternative. His deputies still are in the penitentiary and process against them are being filed daily. They have not been permitted to communicate with the outside world.

The right spirit of impeachment directed this afternoon that article four was broad enough to cover the Beck testimony in the trial of Governor Sulzer. The court decided that it was unnecessary to amend the article or to ask the assembly to draw a new one. No mention was made of the Morgenthau testimony in the opinion of the court, which was read by Judge Cullen. This action cleared the way for consideration of the motion of course for the discharge to speak out articles one, two and six of the impeachment charges on the ground that they related to offenses committed before the Governor took office. The court immediately went into executive session again for this purpose and there appeared a possibility that the final verdict on the guilt or innocence of the Governor might be reached before adjournment tonight.

What to do with the nearly 2,000 women in Detroit with the going into effect of Police Commissioner Gillespie's order sweeping out of existence all commercialized vice is a question upon which churches and civic bodies are working today. A vice commission appointed by the Detroit board of commerce has assumed the leadership of the relief movement. As a first step the commissioner will furnish transportation for any girls or women who wished to return to homes outside of Detroit. In a preliminary report on conditions the vice commission stated that permanent help could not be accomplished until there is established a reformatory or home for women where suitable opportunity may be offered for physical and moral reformation.

Representative Underwood called today at the White House and defended the 5 per cent clause of the tariff law giving a discount to imports in American ships. He declared it would rehabilitate the American marine. He was not hunting for a trade war he said but he declared the president had the right to cancel any trade or agreement that conflicts with the provision.

After more than six months' imprisonment in the federal penitentiary here for violating the postal laws Julian Hawthorne and Dr. W. J. Morton of Boston today are free. They planned to leave for New York. They were sentenced in March to terms of one year and one day the order of sentence dating from the day of their arrest. Good behavior further shortened their sentences.

The world touring season of baseball will open next Saturday and continue around to the training days of the big league season at home next spring. Thus will the insatiable appetite of the game enthusiasts be relieved in part during the lifeless winter and a considerable number of big league players have the advantage of practically an all-year-round practice.

ELECTION SET ASIDE

Pinellas County Is Wet According To Law

Tampa, Oct. 16.—Circuit Judge F. M. Robles this morning handed down a ruling that the recent "wet or dry" election held in Pinellas county was null and void because the notice of election had not been advertised according to law. It appears that the notice of election appeared in only one newspaper in Pinellas county, whereas the law requires that it be printed in one newspaper in each town in the county where a newspaper is published. There are eight newspapers in four towns in Pinellas county.

The case was that of Farver vs the Board of County Commissioners of Hillsborough county. Col. Robert W. Davis and Judge C. R. Parkhill of Tampa appeared for the complainant and County Attorney W. R. Rowland for the board of commissioners.

Pinellas voted "dry" by a majority of about two hundred, some three months ago. Carl Duerler, a saloon keeper of Tarpon Springs, insisting that the election was not legally held, reopened his saloon, was arrested and convicted. That conviction will not, of course, hold now, in the face of Judge Robles' decision. Also the saloonists of Pinellas will be able to take out licenses for the next tax year which began October 1, and it is also likely that they are due reparation for loss of business from the county for the period they were illegally closed.

Florida for Cattle

Palma, Oct. 16. J. M. Foy, who is 74 years of age and lives two miles west of Palma, came from west Kansas to Florida in 1880. He has been in the cattle business here for 34 years. He has been in the Rocky Mountains and Pacific coast states, but got no relief until he came here. He was in the cattle business and naturally, in his western travels, noted conditions in that regard everywhere he went, and he came without hesitation that Florida is the finest cattle section in the United States.

There is no question, he says, about providing ample pasture and feeding crops here in quality and quantity equal to the best in the northwest. Since he has lived here he has experimented with a number of different crops, and is now having success with what is known as "Shallu" or Egyptian rice; he started two years ago with a small patch and it is year has two and a half acres. It grows about like sorghum and heads out with seeds in about the same way as sorghum but is non-saccharine. He says the grain is large and he likes it in a cooked form better than the common rice. He thinks it will prove a profitable crop here, as it not only makes a good food product but the forage provides a high grade feed for stock.

Mr. Foy has also had good success with Kaffir corn. He says that there will be no trouble with dairying in this state, with the people right in the business, and suggests that parties interested should write to the State Experiment Station at Gainesville and get the last bulletin on the subject, as it abounds in valuable suggestions.

Cantata a Success

The Gallilean, a sacred cantata, was given at the Methodist church Sunday evening and was greatly enjoyed by the large congregation present. This beautiful cantata presents the life of Jesus as it must have appeared to those among whom He dwelt, particularly during the early days of His ministry on earth. The music was very beautifully rendered and included solos, duets and choruses, Miss Mary Gaines being the soloist for the evening. The readings given by Mrs. L. R. Phillips and Miss Farnsworth were most impressive and an important feature of the cantata.

Sanford & Everglade Sale Has Been Made

Atlantic Coast Line Finally Purchases Short Line

Sale Will Not Affect The Sanford Traction Line Or Oviedo Schedule

The Sanford & Everglades Railway has been sold to the Atlantic Coast Line the deal being consummated this week and the new owners expect to take charge at once. This deal has appeared in several state papers recently as being made and the railroad commission gave the permission to sell several weeks ago but the real sale was not made until yesterday. It is understood that the price paid was entirely satisfactory to the former owners and the A. C. L. recognized the value of the short line as a future feeder from the new country opening up from the Everglades country.

The new owners have not given out any statement as yet in regard to their plans regarding the operation of the branch line and there has been considerable conjecture as to whether this new branch would make a change in the schedule of the Oviedo branch.

Some time since there was a change asked by the Sanford city council in the Oviedo schedule that would make two trips daily each way from Oviedo to this city and give the people of both places a much better schedule but about the time the change was contemplated the people of Oviedo seeing their train crew slipping away from them petitioned the railway officials not to change the schedule and the changes, if there are any, will probably be made in the Sanford & Everglades, such changes to be of water benefit to the many growers of the celery delta.

The sale of the Sanford & Everglades Ry. will not make any changes in the Sanford Traction Co., as they will continue to use the same joint tracks from Sanford avenue east to Cameron City and in fact expect to run cars to the union station, beating the city and giving the traveling public the benefit of a cheaper fare and good service.

Commercial Club Meeting

All members of the Commercial Club and those who are not members but are interested in the development of Sanford are requested to be present at the meeting of the Commercial Club next Tuesday night in the city hall building. The president, H. B. Ferris, will call this meeting to take up the proposition of advertising the city and getting ready for the rush of winter visitors, many of them now waiting for reservations here for the winter. This is the first meeting of the winter season and should be well attended. Many matters of vital interest to the city and county will be taken up and discussed and the committee for the ensuing year will be named. There are several different methods of advertising the city and they will be fully discussed at the meeting and the approval of the majority of the members of the club. Every citizen of Sanford is cordially invited to attend the meeting and if you are not a member of the club you are invited to join and help boost the city and county.

Program for Saturday at the Star

The following is the program for Saturday, Oct. 19th, at the Star Theatre, Sanford's most popular house. "A Girl Spy in Mexico," a powerful two reel story of the Mexican border. The war is on between the insurgents and Federal troops in old Mexico and the intermittent firing is playing havoc. The Sonofista Armaja not hearing of her lover, Lieut. Blanco, goes to the inter-union camp, dresses as a Red Cross nurse and enters the Federal camp as a spy. She is, however, discovered and arrested. Through the aid of Armaja, Blanco captures one of the Federal spies and, using him as a guide, he himself enters the Federal camp. There he succeeds in directing his sweetheart's escape. Col. Ferro declares he will capture them again and accomplishes his wish. Blanco and the Senator are marched forward to what end—we know not.

In addition to this feature an exceedingly interesting vitagraph picture will be shown, entitled "The Bachelor's Baby."

Good music and plenty of fun for everybody. W. F. Malcolm representing the Remington Typewriter Co. with headquarters in Jacksonville was in the city on Wednesday calling on local trade.

REV. STRONG'S LECTURES

An Important Series of Sermons at Congregational Church

Beyond contradiction this is the social age—with its problems and disturbing theories. The gospel message for such an age is of supreme worth. Believing that the teaching of Jesus, approached from the right point of view, contains the fundamental truth for our day, I purpose beginning next Sunday evening a very important series of sermons: "What Does Jesus Say About Character?" And, as an introduction to that series the special subject for next Sunday evening will be, "The Primary Need for this Social Age." Two theories upon this subject are today in the melting pot of public opinion, a candid examination of each will be given. All are cordially invited and a cordial welcome awaits all.

F. P. STRONG, Pastor.

At The Congregational Church

The Sunday-school Rally Day exercises at the Congregational Church Sunday morning were unusually bright and attractive. The program was well rendered by the young people and little folks.

Marching into the church, led by Ruth Waldron, carrying a large floral cross, typifying the "Cross of Jesus going on before," the procession was very pretty, each child carrying a flag. The large American flag was carried by Edmund Meech and the Christian flag by Margaret Strong. Marching to the platform the reveille was sounded by Mr. W. S. Thornton; the American flag raised, followed by the salute and pledge; "I pledge allegiance to my flag and to the Republic for which it stands; one nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all" after which one verse of "America" was sung; the audience standing. The reveille was again sounded and the Christian flag raised on high. The salute and pledge to the Christian flag followed. "I pledge allegiance to my flag and to the Saviour for whose kingdom it stands, one brotherhood, urging all in service and love," followed by one verse of "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name." Ruth Waldron and Clifford Walker acquitted themselves creditably in their respective recitations, "What Have We Done Today," and "The Little School Army."

"The Little Pink Toe Brigade" by Sarah Wight was a charming recitation to welcome the Cradle Roll, while Florence Witte with her baby brother in the go-cart beside her in her recitation, "My Live Dolly," was especially pleasing. "Greeting to the Babies" was a sweet little song by Sarah Wight, Gladys Ingold, Beulah Hardeman and Isabel Strong. The primary classes were delighted in their marching song and the "Cheerful Sunbeam." One of the prettiest numbers on the program was the "Daisy Drill and Song" led by Margaret Strong and ten little girls, charming in their daisy collars and caps. Also Gladys Ingold's beautiful recitation, "A Basket of Roses for the Poor."

In the Rally Day Messages recited by five junior boys and girls and Carrie Hardeman from the primary class, Carrie was the central figure. Particularly pretty was the song, "Rally for the Right" by the junior boys and girls. Under the direction and guidance of their captains, Rev. F. P. Strong and F. R. Kent, the Lytania and Mauretania started on their journey to Palestine carrying the Sunday school in two divisions as passengers. The contest is for new members and as outlined by Mr. Strong should bring splendid results to the school.

Special mention must be made of the excellent music rendered by the Presbyterian-Congregational orchestra. It added much to the attractive program. The church was beautifully decorated with masses of yellow daisies and white flowers. Misses Carrie and Mary Enslinger and Miss Flora Walker were the decorating committee. Mrs. Marlowe presided at the organ and Miss Claire Walker at the piano.

Will Open Millinery Store

Mrs. Grace Earle Williams, who is now in the north will stop in New York and Philadelphia on her way back to look up the latest styles in millinery and return to Sanford the last of next week. Mrs. Williams will re-open the store of her mother, Mrs. M. L. Allen, Nov. 1st and will be pleased to see her old friends.

PAOLA POINTS

Can one imagine anything more beautiful than these October moonlight nights? Florida excels in moonlight at any season, with her glistening foliage and sparkling water. And how white the sand looks. It always reminds me of the young lad making his first trip to the land of flowers.

He struck the region of white sand after daylight had departed and a full moon turning the country into a fairy-land.

His father found him with his nose glued to the car window, his eyes wide with interest. "Well, Fred," he asked, "What do you think of Florida by moonlight?"

"It's just grand; but I say, Pa, it must cost the railroad company a lot to salt all the telegraph poles."

"Don't know what you mean, son."

"Why, don't you see the salt around every pole? I 'pose it's to preserve 'em."

Mr. Cleveland has arrived and finds it a little watry after the frosty weather already experienced north. Work on the new house is progressing and Paola will soon know another home.

Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan celebrated their wedding anniversary last week in their usual happy fashion, by going instead of receiving, driving four miles with cake and ice cream for an invalid friend.

Some of our young people are going to Monroe to Sunday night service and report very interesting meetings, good music and good talks from Rev. Jenkins.

Mr. Jack Booth spent several days in Jacksonville lately, on business and pleasure combined. He reports the place booming and predicts that it will become THE city of the south.

Friends of Mrs. Will Zachery are sorry to hear of her having fallen a victim to the prevailing ailment, dengue fever, and hope for her speedy recovery.

Mr. Rabun was making a noise with his mowing machine at Twin Lakes last week. Most of our people have taken advantage of the fine weather, to "make hay while the sun shines."

Indian River Park Items

Mrs. Bert Wackerle and two children have returned home after a few months pleasantly spent in Illinois.

Mrs. Harvey Swink visited in Sanford and Orlando last week.

Mrs. F. A. Tinkham of Providence, Rhode Island, arrived last week. Her husband has been here several weeks.

The well drillers struck fine water at 194 feet in the well at the town site.

Miss Willie Singletary visited her home in Sanford last Friday and Saturday.

B. B. Colman, wife and daughter of Denver, Colorado, are new arrivals at the Park, being nicely located in their new home in Section 22.

The regular dance was held Friday night at the Park.

W. Wackerle is the guest of his brother, Bert Wackerle.

Harvey Swink made a business trip to Titusville Monday.

Mrs. L. L. Fraser of Silver Springs joined her husband here Thursday.

Thirteen prospectors of Indian River Park arrived Friday.

C. B. Matson made a business trip to Cocoa last Monday.

Chas. A. Whilden is visiting home-folks in Orlando.

We are looking forward to a most successful term of school. Miss Singletary of Sanford is our teacher.

Swink's hotel is now open for business, rates by the day or week.

Hon. A. J. Carter of Turnbull is spending the week in Jacksonville.

The Optimist for October is now out. Copies may be had at Swink's store.

Ebenezer Items.

Mrs. M. E. Smith and children of Cedartown, Ga., and Mrs. E. C. Bowman of St. Petersburg are visiting their parents Mr. & Mrs. J. M. Lora.

Our neighborhood was saddened last Tuesday, October 7th when we heard the sad news of the death of little Texas Wynn, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wynn. While she had never been real strong, she was only seriously sick a few hours when the sad end came.

Rev. Ganes of Sanford held the funeral services in Ebenezer church and the remains were laid to rest in Lake Mary cemetery.

The bereaved parents have the sympathy of their many friends in this sad hour of bereavement.

Let us look to Him who doeth all things well.

Mrs. J. S. Means of Jacksonville, spent last week with her sister Mrs. J. H. Wynn.

Oviedo Occurrences

Mrs. J. Leinhart and daughter have just returned to Lake Charm after an extended trip through New York State. They spent a few days at West Hoboken with Mr. and Mrs. John S. Drury, who showed them all the points of interest in New York city, Brooklyn, Jersey City, Hoboken and West Hoboken. They report having had a fine time. Mr. Drury expressed himself as anxious to return to Florida and probably will do so in the near future.

Moore Movements

Mrs. G. C. Chamberlain and Mrs. W. A. Knight were the latest victims of dengue fever.

Frank Bassett and wife of Syracuse N. were here for a week now gone to Jacksonville. Mr. Bassett acquired his wife since he was here last year.

The many friends about Sanford of Miss Grace Rich will be pleased to learn that she is now in St. Petersburg with her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rich.

Guy Randall is conductor on the Sanford and Everglades Ry. line again this season.

Howard Britt of Loughman is spending some time here.

A wildcat caught a chicken in the day time at Mr. Goodwin's at the old Carrier place last week.

There are four gasoline engines now at work on Seminole Farms, each engine increases the flow of each well three times.

A carload of lumber arrived on the siding Monday morning at Cameron City for the new Swartz residence being built at Lake Onoro.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall of Cameron City had Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ellsworth as dinner guests Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dressor will leave New York on the Clyde boat Lenape the 21st. Expect to be at home by the 25th. Mrs. Dressor's mother and brother will be with them for the winter and expect to live in the Kjnahan house.

Mrs. E. LEE SMITH,

Superintendent, Apopka, Florida.

Lovell for Clerk and Collector

In this issue M. W. Lovell announces his candidacy for the position of Clerk and Treasurer. Mr. Lovell needs no introduction to the people of Sanford having resided here for many years and for the past two terms having served the city in the capacity of Clerk and Assessor. By the action of the executive committee the offices that were not elective have been put up to the voters in order to get the people to express their opinion and in the case of Mr. Lovell he leaves the matter entirely to the people. His past record as a public servant is an open book and he asks the suffrage of the voter solely upon his record as a public servant. That he has served the city faithfully and well goes without saying and his long and faithful services will be rewarded at the polls by the large majority of the voters who believe in keeping a good man in office. Remember that in the white primary the name of M. W. Lovell will appear on the ballot for the office of Clerk and Collector and he is the man for the job.

CLUBS IS TRUMPS

Being a Small Boy's Treatise On Clubs In General

FROM PALM BEACH NEWS

Clubs is of kinds—three male female and neither. Clubs used to be to kipek down folks and rob 'em; now they are used to get folks together and skin 'em. Sometimes clubs is trumps 'n pa says that anybody who can get ahead of a bidge w ist club is a 'trump' 'n Ma joined one of 'em once n by th time pa square d up what she d p m led to pay we couldn't go to the mo n tains 'n I couldn't have any more. The Forth of July. Pa said what a woman didn't know about cards would make Canfield crazy, and give Mr. Hoo the once over. There is a lot of dubs 'n kind of clubs 'n sis b'long to one that does nothing but dance and I guess they dance lots of funny things. I saw her yesterday standin' in front of the glass making motions with her shoulders. Gee she looked funny! Made her net just like our horse when his collar makes sore on his shoulder.

An' sis says to ma I wish we had a peer glass so'st I could see how the rest of me moves. But ma says "Ain't you a smart 'lazin'?" Pa had enough to have the rest of the club see how you look 'bout demsinn' yourself by lookin' at sis. And sis says "Well all the long-tong are doing it anyway."

Pa b'long to a club what meets Saturday night somewhere. I can tell when he's going 'cause he always says he has to call on some of the directors of his com'ny and may be sorter late getting home an' 'or me to be a good boy. An' ma says he's a nice man to want me to be good when he's setting such an example. Pa's all right, though. One morning I found more'n a dozen lozengers all red, white and blue but they want candy right on the stairs and I asked pa what they were. He said they were liberty buttons for ma's new sack. 'N when I asked him how they got on the stairs he said he guessed he took off his britches down in the hall so's to come up stairs carefully. I think that's a funny way to be quiet. But he gave me a quarter for 'em—and said he was six dollars to the good.

Ma b'long to Mr. Shakespeer's club too. She raid Mr. Shakespeer was a winning writer and pa said, "Yes, he sure was the way he got Mr. Bacon's goat." I know Mr. Bacon 'cause he lives on the next block an' don't have any goat now—only chickens. Maybe he meant coat. But ma rolls up her eyes sometimes at 'em 'n says her hands an' says, "To be or not to be." Pa says that means "To beep or not to beep" an' ma says pa has no poetry in his system. Pa says he'd rather have a good best-steak in his system than to have poetry 'cause it's more filling.

Our hired girl b'long to some clubs too but I don't see the use of it. 'Less she order hold a card over ma so's to get a lot of examples on. Pa says "Gosh! Can't that girl break enough dishes with a card?" An' ma says "Can't you get a card over her?" Pa says "No, she'll break 'em."

When I got big I'm going to b'long to a club. Now I guess every time they have pots to eat. Pa says what they feed on isn't good for his illness but I notice when ma brings some of that stinky lunch stuff home in a paper napkin pa always makes a grab for it first—'bout all I get is the napkin.

The other morning after pa had been to his club the night before n a says to ma, "You was talkin' about some lady in our sleep last night, wasn't you?" This is for Kitty 'r else one of our kitties, and I don't think it is true at all. An' pa says "Don't be foolish. Ma, we was just talkin' up a collection for the colored girl that does the janter work." 'N ma fist him an' says "You are a dear." Pa must have got loud but ma didn't see him.

I most forget to tell about base ball clubs. They is all kinds of 'em an' some play real ball. They are used to get on ma's nerves. I like to see 'em play but I like to hear folks who don't know no thing about playin' ball talk about 'em when they are playing. 'Less Doc Broadwell play onst an' pa said he was all wires, an' another man said doc was stringin' 'em, and when I asked doc if he string 'em on wires he give me a re-cassan' 'em.

Some clubs is awful good things an' we had to see what some one else b'long to. 'N there's dancing clubs too. Pa says we will have some of those dance parties till the old fogies go home. I wonder why? An' when some one dances delishous than the folks what get up the dance they say "aint she awful?" She hadn't ort to be allowed among us." Sis b'long to that kind.

The Tight Skirt Crisis

You've a very narrow skirt,
Little girl,
Are you sure it doesn't hurt,
Little girl?
That's a muncing little stride
Where the street is wild and wide,
Are you sure there's room inside,
Little girl?
What will happen if you slip,
Little girl?
Aren't you fearful it will rip,
Little girl?
You would better take a sack,
So if anything should crack,
It would serve you coming back,
Little girl.

Does your mamma know your'e out,
Little girl?
We're afraid to go about,
Little girl.
If we meet you in the sun
With your skirt so thinly spun,
Why we might all have to run,
Little girl.

Let the bottom out abut
Little girl,
It is much too tight a fit,
Little girl.
As the matter sadly stands,
You'll be walking on your hands,
And in that event my hands
Little girl.

—Kansas City Star.

A Tried And Proved Guarantee

Man Bought a Bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic Then Took It Back and Asked for His Money and Got It

A gentlemanly trader on the corner of Lee and R. Phillips & Co. across from every bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic. He bought a bottle and then went back to the drug store and said the medicine hadn't helped him.

The druggist just reached into his cash register and took out a half dollar, the price of the bottle of Liver Tonic, and handed it back to the gentleman. But he didn't take the money. He owned up that he was just trying the guarantee and, as a matter of fact, he had found Dodson's Liver Tonic the best remedy for constipation and biliousness he had ever tried. "Why," he said, "my wife wouldn't be without a bottle in the house for anything. It's the best thing in the world for the whole family, and the medicine that I prefer to take or to give to my children for a lazy liver."

L. R. Phillips & Co. sell Dodson's Liver Tonic and guarantee to start the liver without violence. It is taking the place of calomel everywhere. If you buy a bottle and don't find this pleasant tasting vegetable liquid the best thing to start a lazy liver, he will hand your money back with a smile.

Doctors Use This for Eczema

Dr. Evans, Ex-Commissioner of Health, says: "There is no relation between skin diseases and the blood." The cure must be worked through the skin. The pores must be washed out, and so salves have long ago been found worthless. The most advanced physicians of this country are now agreed on this, and are prescribing a small amount of wintergreen, thyme and other ingredients for eczema and all other skin diseases. This compound is known as D.D.D. Prescription for Eczema.

Dr. Holmes, the well known skin specialist writes: "I am convinced that the D.D.D. Prescription is as much a specific for eczema as quinine for malaria. I have been prescribing the D.D.D. remedy for years." It will take away the itch the instant you apply it. In fact, we are so sure of what D.D.D. will do for you that we will be glad to let you have a $1 bottle on our guarantee that it will cost you nothing unless you find that it does the work.

THE SANFORD HERALD

Published Every Tuesday and Friday Morning By THE HERALD PRINTING COMPANY R. J. HULLY, Editor W. M. HAYNES, Business Manager

CLAUDE IS RIGHT

The editor of The Herald has always wondered why the many rivers of interior Florida and many of the harbors of the east coast and the west coast were not improved.

"When I was a little boy, father told me that I could not go near the water until I learned how to swim. I just mention this because probably every fellow who has lived anywhere near a river, creek, lake or swimming hole—and that includes every boy who was raised in Florida, like I was—has had just the same experience.

Sentinel who so closely echoes our sentiments:

"It is reported from Jacksonville that Hayes Lewis, collector of customs is not willing to have George Ward appointed collector of income taxes, even though he has the endorsement of both senators, because said Ward is not a progressive Democrat. Such as this may reasonably cause people to look into the records of those who have captured the best political appointments in Florida.

MEN AND PUBLIC OFFICE

Never since the call of Adam has the call to man been louder or more certain than today. The call is to men who live in the fear of God and the love of man.

Men who enjoy the full respect and confidence of their neighbors, and the highest regard of the business community, naturally hesitate when it comes to submitting to ruthless buffeting at the hands of men who only know petty politics who will stoop to things as low and contemptible as the serpent in the garden.

Men whose personal lives are clean, whose business career is above reproach will tower so high above the men of mean ideas that the calumny of petty politics will be swallowed up in the clouds of dust left in the trail of the chariots in which the people ride to victory.

Many a good man may dislike to be misrepresented and misquoted but he will never falter in the path of duty, nor will he ever leave those who trust him in the lurch.

The man who can lay his hand brotherlike in the hand of his fellow-man and say "What have I in the way of ability and what I am in the way of honest manhood, I am willing to lay on the altar of official service and serve faithfully for a season my neighbors," is a patriot. Such men live under the smiling approval of God and man, and dying leave loving memories behind them.

The man who leads a mean, selfish and hypocritical life pays the penalty as he goes along. The day of better things is dawning. Only good men are in demand in business, in the professions and in politics.

From Washington to Wilson and from Yorktown to Your town the call is to man and for men.—Orlando Sentinel.

RIPE FRUIT AND GOOD PRICES

Throughout the fruit belt there is evident a greater degree of optimism than has ever been shown in times past and everybody is expressing the belief that the season now opening will be the most successful from every point of view ever enjoyed by Florida growers.

Reports from all markets are that good prices are prevailing and indications are that as good or better prices will prevail later in the season.

Simply because the people of Florida have to a great degree stopped the ruinous practice of rushing into the markets with green fruit, although a desperate fight has been necessary to make many of them realize the wisdom of this course.

Furthermore, grapefruit and oranges are now being picked and packed in a scientific manner improvement being noted in the methods of even the most backward growers.

As a result Florida fruit which is really of a better quality than that of California is at last coming into its own and is invading the territory for years held fast by the Golden Gate state with its better methods of handling the fruit from the groves to the tables of consumers.

Florida growers have lost millions and millions of dollars through failure to cooperate and adopt the best methods of handling and the Metropolis hopes the day is not far distant when there will not be the slightest evidence of discord among the growers of the eastern, central and Gulf coast counties.

We need unity in all other industries as well as that of fruit growing.—Jacksonville Metropolis.

SANFORD IS MOST PROSPEROUS

A gentleman who has a grasp on the system remarked to Professor Perkins the other day that there were not as many frogs in the school this year because there were dogs in many places here as last. Prof. Perkins took his breath away by the statement that there were at least fifty more pupils this year than last. The editor of the Herald can vouch for the statement that more people are here this season than last because the houses have been rented earlier and the people coming here now have difficulty in getting furnished rooms. Both statements are correct. There are more people here now than there were last season at this time and the schools have more pupils than they had last. In fact there are at the present 640 pupils and there will be more come in later.

The First National Bank, the oldest bank; the Peoples Bank, the next oldest and the Seminole Bank the very youngest bank have deposits now that are astonishing. The First National and the Peoples Bank have more money on deposit right now than they have ever had before. The Seminole Bank, only two weeks old is in a most flourishing condition and expects to make the first month's business public that will be an eye opener to the grouchers.

The hotels are all doing a fine business. All the merchants report a fine trade, much better than last year and altogether this city is entering upon an era of prosperity that will be lasting and unprecedented in our history.

All the city needs at present is a united effort of the people to add to the city, build a tourist hotel, golf links and country club and then invite the world to come in and share our prosperity and happiness.

NEAREST THE PANAMA

Well, why shouldn't Tampa have been the principal city in all this glorious country to celebrate the opening of the Panama Canal? Isn't Tampa logically and transportationally the nearest port city to the canal, except Key West and of course San Francisco, although expositonally New Orleans gave the latter a close race? Then there is St. Petersburg, Tampa's near neighbor, which will some day be a port, and there is our own Boca Grand, which is nearer still, and is a port of some consequence even now. But the point is—here's to Tampa for this canal business until we little fellows get big enough and strong enough to take some of the burden from her shoulders. Of course there are other ports—also "nearer" but most of them are so far away that it is hard to consider them in the running for the real honors. Ft. Myers Press.

SHORTAGE IN GRAIN

The American Agriculturist recites that there is a world shortage of grain amounting to no less than 1,250,000,000 bushels; 500,000,000 of that is in bread stuffs. The other 750,000,000 is credited to corn deficit. There is a rice shortage in Europe and every corner of the world indicates some lack of grain for food.

There is nothing to be done about it, of course, except to sow more seed next year and so have a larger harvest. With the demand that must follow the shortage the inducement will be given farmers in all parts of the world to reclaim lands that have gone out of cultivation and turn them once more into grain fields where they are now given over to pasture.

The Reporter-Star of Orlando has just issued a fine special edition called the Fall Industrial Edition, and though printed in the regular style of type and paper it is a most creditable work in every way, containing good descriptive matter and half-tone scenes of the city and environs. Messrs. Collins and C. C. Worthington compiled the data and it shows careful preparation and study of conditions. The Reporter-Star has the following to say regarding the work of Mr. Worthington:

"Mr. Worthington is conversant with nearly every foot of ground in Orange county, and the observant gentleman he is, what he says comes from one who knows and whose experiences have been worth much to him in his chosen vocation."

Now is the time for the people of Sanford to get together as members of the Commercial Club and advertise the city to the world as being the place for the winter tourists to spend the winter. Divided effort never built a city yet and it is only by a concerted movement as a body of business men that the city can take up the question of advertising or any other movement of benefit to Sanford and expect to carry it to successful completion. Every citizen of Sanford should enroll as a member of the Commercial Club and do his part in locating Sanford and Seminole county. Come to the meeting Tuesday night.

There has been some changes made in the editorial and business staff of the Pensacola News as announced in that paper on Wednesday. C. B. Hanson is the publisher; Ben. H. Thomas, managing editor; Herbert Felber, editor; J. E. Roe and H. M. Miller in charge of the advertising department. Nothing is said of Sammy Sanborn and we hope he will remain to write the bright and breezy paragraphs as in days of yore. Mr. Hanson, the new publisher states that the News will be made the equal of any paper in the south.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Glaiser of Chicago were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. Runge of this city this week, going to Jacksonville from here where Mr. Glaiser is thinking of locating for the present. He is very much interested in Sanford's future and may decide to locate here.

Long and short form deeds, long and short form mortgage, long and short form quit-claim, deeds, satisfaction of mortgage, lease, option contract and bill of sale blanks may now be had at the Herald office. These blanks are the official blanks for Seminole County and have been prepared by the County officials.

The Sanford House is entertaining more guests at this time of the year than ever before. The season promises to be very early this year and all weather reports are that the winter north will be long and severe. This means that Florida will be crowded with winter guests and Sanford should be preparing for them now.

The Miller building on Magnolia avenue is receiving the plaster and will be ready for occupancy about the first of November. Mr. Miller expects to put in a fine stock of confections and baked goods in the front store room on the south side. A. P. Connelly will occupy the north room for an office and it will be fitted up in elegant style.

There seems to be no room for doubt about the new national game law regarding shooting ducks and as soon as the real law can be found on this important subject the Herald will make it public. One authority had it that ducks could be killed in November and another that they could not be killed at all. The local hunters are up in the air about the law at present.

Among the prominent visitors to the city yesterday was Mrs. Lulu Hayes Lawrence, who is spending the winter at her old home in Orlando after a summer spent in Nashville where she had charge of the social page of one of the Nashville papers. Mrs. Lawrence is a writer of note and has many friends in Sanford who are always glad to see her. Mrs. Lawrence is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. W. D. Holden at the Sanford House while here.

The following party: Lupton, Melchior, Charles, and others, were expected to arrive in the city on Wednesday but they will probably be delayed as long as home coming.

Bryan Denies Story
Washington, Oct. 16.—A story set out in the Herald that several days ago Senator Bryan had been interviewed with reference to the proposed amendments to the Federal Bankruptcy laws was interpreted with some surprise by Bryan, who said that he had never been interviewed by any of the press on the subject of the amendments to the bankruptcy laws.

Secretary Bryan made a brief but pointed comment on the story published by the Herald in a new paper and in the Washington Post.

"There is not one word of truth in it as far as I am concerned," he said.

It has been intimated that Mr. Bryan himself, who is a Florida land owner, is interested in the proposed amendments to the bankruptcy laws, in a colonization project.

Mr. Bryan would not make any further comment at all aside from his flat blanket denial. He cut off further questions.

Some of Mr. Bryan's friends are advising him to sue Hearst for heavy damages, but he smiles at this advice.

It is understood here that Hearst has made articles coming on this subject.

When A Caller Drops In

During this hot weather, the first thing is "May I have a glass of water?"

Have you a water cooler? It is a very necessary thing for health and comfort during this hot weather.

Ice water is stimulating; it is healthful; it tones up the tired-out body, and there are no bad effects. Eminent physicians have agreed that ice water is GOOD for us, and that it is far superior to tepid water.

If you are using ice of course it is OUR ICE. It is pure, and good service goes with it.

By Their Speech Ye Shall Know Them.
 A traveler who believed himself to be sole survivor of a shipwreck upon a cannibal island hid for three days in terror of his life. Driven out by hunger, he discovered a thin wisp of smoke rising from a clump of bushes inland, and crawled carefully to study the type of savages about it. Just as he reached the clump he heard a voice say: "Why in — did you play that card?" He dropped on his knees and, devoutly raising his hands, cried: "Thank God, they are Christians!"

Many Years' Loss of Memory.
 A Nevada case is reported where a man wandered away from his wife and three children. For ten years he was not heard from. Passing through the state again something seemed to snap in his head and he knew himself again. He had gone to Texas, married and had another little family. His wife had died only the week before his knowledge of his real self returned. He attributed his loss of memory to overwork while figuring on complicated contracts.

Remains of Old Civilization.
 Scattered throughout the Caroline Islands, notably at Ponape and Lela, are massive ruins, one of a sort of Venice, whose origin is wrapped in mystery. Hundreds of acres in some localities are covered by the remains of walls, canals and earthwork of a stupendous character. There are old roads paved with stone blocks, ancient stone platforms, and on the lagoons ruins of what were once fish weirs. The islands offer a rich field for the archeologist.

Effort Wasted.
 "What makes me really mad," said the woman, "is to spend minutes, maybe hours, trying to get hold of a white hair that shows up on my head like a dazzling light; yet which is tantalizingly elusive when I try to catch it, and then when I do finally separate it from the brown hair and give it a vigorous pull, to find that I have snatched out a good brown hair and left the white one still shining!"

American and Other Opals.
 It is generally conceded that the opals found in any part of America are less hard than those found in other localities, but they are no less brilliant, and some of them withstand atmospheric effect and the wear of time quite as well. Others again fade and become translucent and opaque in course of time, or according to the degree of exposure.

Bird Lights Lamp.
 In Greensford, England, a street lamp was found broken every morning and the lamp lighter could not account for it, so he set a watch who soon found the culprit. A tomcat had built its nest in the corner of the lamp, and had a habit of hopping on the ring attached to the incandescent bypass, which caused the light to be turned on.

Strength of a Nation.
 The foundations of a strong and virile race are laid in the rural districts, and, if agriculture be allowed to decay, no development of industries in the heart of the town will atone for the loss to the nation of that greatest of all industries which makes wealth while it creates manhood.—Percy Alden.

Explaining Why They Got Married.
 In New York recently a lot of post cards were mailed to married men asking them why they had married. Among the replies was one from a man who wrote: "Please don't stir me up." Another man answered: "I yearned for company. We now have company all the time—her folks."

Only Changes Needed.
 The other day my 6 year old brother, who has a fat chubby hand, was trying on my kid gloves. He found they were too tight for him and when asked if he could wear them he said: "No, but if some of the too long side was on the wide I could wear them."—Exchange.

Rare Work of Art Found.
 A statue of Venus was found in a cellar at Naples a few days ago. The ground floor of a house collapsed suddenly, revealing an ancient cellar containing a magnificent statue of the goddess. The statue is of Parian marble and belongs to the best period of Graeco-Roman art.

Regular Bed Companion.
 Lala Karim Dut, a Hindu barber who died recently at Meerut, had for the last three years slept every night with two pet pythons coiled up beside him in his bed.

Raphael's Madonnas.
 What are Raphael's Madonnas but the shadow of a mother's love fixed in a permanent outline forever?—T. W. Higginson.

Over the Phone.
 Nobody is really as polite or as disagreeable as his tone of voice while talking over the telephone would imply.

Easy Driving.

THE BRYAN PRIMARY LAW

New Law Easily Mastered By Voters And Will Prove All Right

FROM TAMPA TIMES

The Times has heretofore not discussed the Bryan primary law for several reasons, the chief of which was that we desire to take time to study it thoroughly before expressing an opinion upon its merits. It was perfectly feasible to take this time as there are yet several months before its provisions will have to be brought into active operation.

There appears to be an impression pretty generally received throughout the state that the law is extremely complicated and that its workings will be extremely difficult to master by the people sufficiently to enable them to conduct elections under its provisions intelligently and properly.

Without pretending to any superior degree of perceptive powers we must say that we have failed to discover any serious complications or difficulty in understanding its features. There are a great many details treated of in the law that are new and different from the past. It will doubtless take some little time and practice to familiarize the people with these; but there is in them no inherent difficulty and they will be easily mastered.

The matter that has been most generally discussed by the press is that of canvassing and certifying the result. As far as the voters are concerned the manner of marking the ballot is almost as simple as the present method. There are only two points of difference that strike us; and these are that, instead of the mark being made in front of the candidate's name it will hereafter be placed after it; there will be two spaces separated by lines after the candidate's name and a mark placed in the first of these spaces will indicate that the candidate opposite whose name it is placed is the voter's first choice, placed in the second place it will mean a second choice. It will be as easy as a child's primary lesson for the voters to comprehend the method of voting.

The matter of counting and canvassing the votes and certifying the results will be more complicated and difficult, but these are duties that concern only the precinct inspectors and the county and state canvassers. There is nothing, however, inherently perplexing in them and a little study will enable any man of average intelligence to understand them sufficiently to comply with their requirements.

In determining who is elected to an office the provisions of section 50 of the act govern. That section reads as follows:

"If any candidate for office shall receive a majority of first choice votes he shall be declared nominated for such office. If no candidate shall receive such majority of first choice votes the office shall be determined by excluding from further consideration the candidacy of all except the two candidates who shall have received the greatest and next greatest numbers of first choice votes, or the greatest and equal number of first choice votes of each of such two candidates the second choice votes cast for him by those voters whose first choice votes shall have been cast for any of the candidates excluded as herein provided. The candidate then having to his credit the greatest number of votes thus ascertained shall be nominated for such office."

There is much more in the section but the above is the part directly bearing upon the manner of counting the vote.

It will be perceived that by this method of voting and counting the old second primary is abolished and the same result reached in a single election. The second choice votes, it will be noticed, that are marked upon the ballots upon which the eliminated candidates are first choices are the only ones that are counted in not being fair, to count the second choice votes marked upon the ballots on which either of the two high men was first choice, as this would be making second choice votes count against first choice votes upon equal terms.

The tally sheets for the precinct inspectors and the certificates of result to be made out and by them and by the county canvassers in the case of state or national officers will be so arranged as to indicate plainly the number of second choice votes cast and for whom upon all the ballots upon which each candidate was indicated as first choice, so that the canvass of such second choice votes will be made easy.

The greatest merit that the new primary law possesses is that it does away with the second primary. Perhaps the second point in popular favor will prove to be that the state is required to pay all expenses of conducting the primaries, instead of requiring the candidate to be assessed for such payment heretofore.

There are many other points worthy of attention and deserving discussion in this law of sixty-five long sentences. We have simply taken up the most important first. The Times will discuss other features of the bill from time to time. We will endeavor to contribute our share to the education that the people will require upon the provisions of this important measure. — Tampa Tribune

It is earnestly requested that every member will try and be present at each meeting and that all will try and make these services a success. Visitors are also most cordially invited.

Sulzer Will Lose Out

Albany N. Y., Oct. 16.—It was reported that the Sulzer impeachment court today voted informally in secret session to remove the governor from office. The vote is said to have been 43 to 14. The vote to disqualify him from ever again holding office in the state is said to have been lost. The court adjourned at 1 o'clock until 3, when a start on the final vote will be taken. When the secret voting is through, they will take up the open vote.

The articles of the impeachment court were withheld, it is said. They deal with the campaign statement and the alleged attempt of the governor to suppress evidence before the investigating committee.

At the Baptist Church

The pastor, Rev. George Hyman will preach at the First Baptist church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. All members are requested to be present. Visitors are cordially invited.

"He means out-talked!"

Woman's Club

Notes From All Departments Of The Sanford Woman's Club

The Social Department of the Woman's Club enjoyed a very pretty bridge party in the club rooms Thursday afternoon. Four tables of the popular game of auction bridge was played and at the close Miss Florience Frank was found to have won top score, and will wear the handsome club pin until some one makes a higher one. Mrs. Juffie H. Rounillat, hostess, was assisted in serving a fruit salad, wafers and chocolate by Miss Mabel Hand and Miss Genie Wicker.

Some of the members who have been away all summer were present and Tuesday's bridge, the first club party of the season was a pleasant event.

In a called meeting of the Social Department of the club Tuesday afternoon the ladies made plans to join with the young men of the Athletic Club in giving a fancy dress ball, Halloween for the purpose of raising funds for the Athletic Club. This promises to be an exceedingly pleasant affair.

Buy L. & M. Semi-Mixed Real Paint

It's the very best quality paint. It wears best and looks best. It costs the least money. Its use for thirty-seven years has proven these facts. It's White Lead, White Zinc and Linseed Oil. Just mix three quarts of Linseed Oil with each gallon of L. & M. Semi-Mixed Real Paint and make 1 1/2 gallons of pure paint ready for use at a cost of $1.40 per gallon. The L. & M. Semi-Mixed Real Paint is sold by T. J. Miller & Son., Sanford, Fla.

THE SAFE BANK

"When men send out circulars with fairy tales of extraordinary profits and dividends, then the man with something to invest had better put his money in a GOOD BANK. It is better to be sure of 4 per cent and one's principal than to luxuriate on 150 per cent dividends for a few weeks and then lose both dividends and principal."

HOW TRUE THE ABOVE ARTICLE

We can all call to mind men who have lost large sums on some crazy "get-rich-quick" scheme.

Let this bank with its unbroken record for safety of over a quarter of a century care for your investments.

You may have times of thinking that this old bank is slow.
