

Fire department's future up to voters

By Michelle Jeria Managing Editor

LAKE MARY — It may be up to the voter's whether the city builds a new fire department in 2003.

Commissioners during a Thursday work session agreed the city should move forward with a November referendum asking voters to approve a bond issue for the new building. Estimated construction costs for the facility is $4.9 million.

"We've talked about rebuilding the station on Rinehart Road, and we should look at getting it done as soon as possible," City Manager John Litton said. "Our goal is to have the question on the November ballot. Our men deserve a new station."

Commission and city staff have studied options for the building for several years. Almost two years ago, $180,000 was allocated in the FY 2001 budget for the design of the new station.

Discussion has included building a 20,000 square-foot facility that will house administration, building and safety staff and emergency response equipment crews. Plans include demolishing the department's current facility on Rinehart Road and constructing a new building on the site. Temporary facilities will house emergency crews while the new station is under construction. During Thursday's discussion, Commission opted to delay the construction of a sub-station at City Hall. Originally planned to coincide with City Hall's expansion, costs for the substation is estimated at $380,000. An additional $1.1 million, however, would also need to be funded for the 16 additional personnel required to man the station.

"If we build it, we have to man it," Litton said. "In 2004, we would have to decide

Ground breaking Tuesday for trail bridge

By Nick Plettauf Staff Writer

Seminole County will break ground Tuesday, June 18, at 9 a.m., for its first recreational trail bridge over Interstate 4.

The design-build project will connect the Seminole Wekiva Trail to the west with the Rinehart Road/Crossings Trail to the east. The overpass will cross I-4 just south of CR-46A in the heart of Central Florida's developing high-tech corridor. The bridge will provide continuous access to approximately 15 miles of paved recreational trail.

The design of this bridge is unique, including the use of cable-stayed and suspension bridge technology. It will span a distance of 373 feet over the interstate with a 14-foot wide pathway.

The overall length of the structure, including ADA compatible access ramps, will be 1003 feet.

The structure will serve as a

Rae Marie, left, and Shirley Fox work on a framing order at their new business and gallery, Framing 508 Gallery, located in downtown Sanford.

Two artists hope business will attract others to downtown

By Michelle Jeria Managing Editor

What happens when two artists, both with a passion for framing, get together to form a business?

Rae Marie and Shirley Fox hope the answer is the formation of a new art district at the edge of downtown Sanford.

The two Winter Springs women recently opened a shop that specializes in framing and art. Located at 508 Sanford Ave., Framing 508 Gallery will also become a showroom for area artists who want their work shown in Sanford.

"A lot of the galleries around here don't feature local artists," Marie said. "We wanted to create a place where artists can show their work in a comfortable setting."

Marie and Fox are local artists who met while attending an Orlando Visual Artist League gathering. With similar interests and a passion for art, the two gravitated toward each other and became quick friends.

The idea for a framing business originated almost by accident. During an Artist League meeting, Marie was discussing framing with another artist. Fox, who has been framing for more than seven years, overheard the conversation and began thinking about a possible business partnership.

"I was driving in my car the next day,

Rae Marie's dog, Nokose, relaxes in the gallery at Framing 508 Gallery.

and it dawned on me," Fox said. "I've always wanted to start my own business. I e-mailed Rae Marie and asked her what she

Millage rate stays stable for FY 2003

By Nick Plettauf Staff Writer

Seminole County Manager Kevin Grace has released the proposed budget for fiscal year 2002-03. It totals $548,580,252.

The budget is a modified version of the one that was tentatively approved by the Board of County Commissioners in 2001 as part of the county's new two-year budget cycle.

The proposed budget will keep county-wide operating millage rates stable, while at the same time addressing many of the needs identified as priorities by the Board of County Commissioners in recent years.

The budget includes such priorities as the road and sidewalk improvements associated with the one-cent sales tax initiative, the construction of the Criminal Justice Center, updating the technology associated with the county's 800 mhz communications system, initiating the construction of the county convention center, and maintaining adequate reserve funds.

Earlier this week, County Commissioner Randy Morris, explaining the upcoming budget hearings, commented, "The county is in extremely good shape financially, and I attribute it mostly to the way we have been able to keep up our reserve funds. That's the key to our success."

Seminole County has been recognized by the Government Finance Officers for outstanding budget process for ten consecu-

Southeast Airlines adds service to Allentown

By Dan Ping Editor

SANFORD — Southeast Airlines Inc. will add service to Allentown, Pa., from Orlando Sanford International Airport beginning Aug. 9.

The twice daily service will be offered Thursday through Monday on 67-seat MD-80 jets. The St. Petersburg-based airline currently provides service to Gulf Port/Biloxi, Miss., from Sanford.

Pan American Airlines provided service to Allentown from Sanford, but cancelled those flights early this year. Despite Pan Am's withdrawal, Southeast Airlines expects the flights to be popular, said Tom Kolfenbach, the airline's president and CEO.

"I think there were some other issues related to their decision," Kolfenbach said. "We've always been interested in Allentown. We began looking at the Lehigh Valley airport two years ago."

More than 150,000 passengers a year fly between Allentown and Orlando.

"They're expecting big things or they wouldn't provide two flights a day," said Larry Dale, president of Orlando Sanford International Airport.

Kolfenbach said most of the airlines passengers would be vacation travelers.

"We're a leisure airline," he said. "I'd say 90 percent of our passengers are leisure travelers."

The airline is associated with Apple Vacations, offering flights from, among other destinations, Baltimore and New York's JFK airport to the Caribbean and Mexico.

Flights from Sanford leave at 10:15 a.m. and 7:15 a.m. The evening flight is nonstop to Lehigh Valley International Airport, while the morning flight stops in St. Petersburg before continuing to Allentown.

Dale said Southeast Airlines plans to offer connectivity from their flights to those offered by Vacation Express, another leisure

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Let's get serious: If Bob Poe and the Democrats are serious about challenging Jeb Bush for governor, they'd ditch Janet Reno and Bill McBride in favor of state Sen. Daryl Jones.

by Dan Ping

Poe, a Seminole County resident and the executive director of the state party, can spin it anyway he wants, but Dems aren't chomping at the bit to support Reno, and she's not doing much to energize the Democratic base. Just the opposite. Republicans are foaming at the mouth for a Bush-Reno match-up. To the GOP, a November election against Reno is like homecoming in Gainesville: hordes of die-hard fanatics turning out to watch a Division I powerhouse roll over a Division I pretender.

McBride? He's a corporate lawyer who calls himself a Democrat but acts like a Republican. The last time he won an election was in the 1960s when, as a high school senior, he was elected governor at the Boys State convention.

Jones

Jones, however, is a true Yellow Dog Democrat who can deliver more for the party than either Reno or McBride. His energetic speech Saturday night at the Seminole County NAACP Banquet (by the way, where were you Bob?) made me want to jump up and shout out a couple of "Amens" — and I'm a registered Republican.

Jones is perceived as an underdog, but I wouldn't bet against him. He won his first election for the state House in 1990 in a predominantly white, Republican district. After two years he was elected to the state Senate where he remains. He's got vastly more legislative experience than either Reno or McBride (both have zip), and his military service will at least earn him the attention of veterans (he piloted F-16s and F-4 Phantoms as a lieutenant colonel in the Air Force).

What are Jones' chances? Not sure. Under Poe's leadership, the Democrats haven't shown much desire to groom young talent. Anyone remember Andrew Van Gaale? Dandy Andy got more support from Larry Dale and his fellow Republicans than he got from the Democratic party.

Democratic voters should force the issue with party leadership and support Jones. I don't think he can win against Bush, but he'd finish better than his primary opponents. Plus, he'd be the favorite going into 2006. Reno and McBride are the status quo. Jones is the future.

Are you in? Speaking of people who would make good candidates, when is someone going to convince Kenneth Bentley to run for office? He would make a fine city commissioner. He's smart, enthusiastic and passionate about building a better community. Plus, the guy is so upbeat. I know Bentley gets ticked off like the rest of us, but dang if I've ever seen it. How 'bout it K.B.?

Ring, ring goes the bell: It's official. Students now have the right to be as obnoxious as adults.

The Seminole County School Board agreed to take cell phones off the list of things students couldn't bring to class. Of course, students aren't supposed to use the phones or let them ring during class.

Yeah, right. Adults can't turn their cell phones off when they go to meetings, plays or church, so why should the kids be any better? I'm not sure why you would need your cell phone in church — God's got a much more effective way to reach out a touch, just ask the apostle Paul — but if you do, most phones now come with silent or vibrate options. Few people use them, though.

Even worse, when the plastic box blares that annoying Nokia song, some people insist on answering it regardless of the inappropriateness. Sanford City Commissioner Velma Williams answers her phone while sitting at the dais during commission meetings.

Maybe the kids will do better, but I doubt it, especially since most phones come with text messaging that allows users to send notes back and forth silently.

I think if Chuck Berry were to break onto the music scene today his hit song "School Days" would go something like this:

Up in the momin' and out to school.
The teacher is teaching but I'm too cool
To learn about history or practical math.
She's talking a lot but I ain't heard half
'Cause I'm workin' my fingers right down to the bone,
Typing a note on my cellular phone.

CCIB search

Members of the Seminole County City/County Investigations Bureau (CCIB) served a search warrant Tuesday, June 11, at a residence on Tiberia Cove Road in Longwood. After narcotics related items were found in the house, Craig Steven DeWolff, 42, of that address, was arrested on charges of possession of marijuana and possession of narcotics equipment. While officers were at the house, Tiger Bill Arnold, 20, of Parson Brown Way, Longwood, arrived, and was subsequently arrested on charges of possession of marijuana with intent to sell/deliver.

DUI Arrests

Gabriel Garrido Jr., 31, of Heathrow, was stopped by Lake Mary police Thursday on Interstate Four, when he was reportedly seen driving 92 miles per hour in a 65 mph zone. He was charged with driving under the influence, driving with a suspended license, and violation of drivers license restrictions. Eric James Morionda, 36, of Winter Park, was stopped by Sanford police Thursday at 13th Street and Park Avenue. Officers said he ran a stop sign at Third Street. He was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and failing to obey a stop sign.

Carolyn Moore Kiley, 39, of Rosalia Drive, Sanford, was stopped by sheriff's deputies at her residence Wednesday. She was charged with containing what proved to be marijuana. He was charged with sale/delivery/sell/manufacture, within 200 feet of a public housing facility, and resisting an officer without violence. After being taken to jail, it was determined he was wanted on an active Seminole County warrant for sale/possession of cocaine.

Stalking

Luis Martin Lavarro, 44, of Altamonte Springs, was arrested by sheriff's deputies Thursday, at the Villa Di Este Terrace, in Lake Mary. He was accused of stalking his ex-fiancee.

Battery

Sanford Police arrested Troy Brown, 51, of Mangoustine Avenue, Sanford, on West 10th Street Wednesday. He was accused of attempting to stab his son with a small pocket knife. No one was injured in the incident. Brown was charged with aggravated assault, domestic violence.

Stolen Property

Sanford police arrested Demetris Dwight Buckner, 21, of Orange Avenue, Sanford, on Tuesday. He was identified through a surveillance tape apparently taking electronic items valued at $2,071.86 from a retail store in the 3600 block of Orlando Drive on June 9. Buckner was charged with dealing in stolen property, and larceny of over $300.

With Heartfelt Appreciation

Perhaps you sent a lovely card,
Or sat quietly in a chair,
Perhaps you sent a floral piece,
If so we saw it there.
Perhaps you spoke the kindest words,
As any friend could say;
Perhaps you were not there at all,
Just thought of us that day,
Whatever you did to console our hearts,
We thank you so much whatever the part.

The family of the late Wesley "Snow" Wright, Jr. wishes to thank you for your kind expressions of sympathy shown during his passing on February 18, 2002. We deeply appreciate ALL acts and gifts of love. From that we will always remember you and hold fast to the fond memories of our loved one.

'Republican' still a dirty word for middle-class blacks

If you thought Cynthia McKinney, the wild and wacky Democratic congresswoman from suburban Atlanta, might calm down and mute her rhetoric, you were wrong. With the FBI, the CIA and the White House reeling under revelations that they had missed signals of impending terrorist attacks, McKinney has only gained confidence and stature.

Back in April, you may recall, McKinney in effect suggested that President Bush had aided and abetted the Sept. 11 hijackers, hinting that the president knew of the attacks in advance but failed to prevent them so that his friends in the defense industry would profit from the ensuing war. She now claims vindication from recent revelations about undisclosed memos and warnings that were ignored.

Before that, McKinney had garnered international headlines for her ill-considered apology to Saudi Prince Alwaleed bin Talal. Bin Talal had offered $10 million to a relief fund for victims of the terrorist atrocities, but his donation was appropriately rejected by then-New York Mayor Rudy Giuliani because in giving the money, the prince also suggested that American foreign policy had spurred the attacks. That didn't stop McKinney from butting in, suggesting the prince steer the $10 million to black charities.

Now, McKinney is aiming her outrageous rhetoric at her reelection opponent in the Democratic primary, a Yale-educated, African-American lawyer named Denise Majette. No doubt searching her thesaurus to find the most despicable epithet to hurl at Majette, McKinney settled on this: Majette, McKinney says, is a Republican.

That's not true. Majette says she is a longterm, committed Democrat, and there's no evidence to suggest otherwise. But McKinney knows the potential power of the charge among African-American voters, and she hopes to use it to overcome her own history of reckless accusations, low-road insults and baseless conspiracy theories.

In other words, McKinney hopes that Republicans scare black voters more than she does, and she may be right. If so, the Republicans have only themselves to blame.

Since 1964, when Barry Goldwater attracted Southern whites with a "states' rights" campaign to block racial integration, the GOP has drawn more and more of its support from the states of the Old Confederacy. To keep that support, the Republicans have believed it necessary to play the race card, whipping up fears of black crime (Willie Horton), portraying the welfare system as overwhelmingly benefitting blacks (the majority of recipients are actually white), rejecting affirmative action, downplaying the need for diversity and generally ignoring the aspirations of African-Americans. They call that the "Southern strategy."

Progressive Republicans counter suggestions of lingering racism in the GOP by pointing to the diversity of the Bush administration, with prominent black appointees such as Secretary of State Colin Powell, National Security Adviser Condoleezza Rice and Assistant Attorney General Larry Thompson.

President Bush does deserve credit for raising the bar: He has given blacks more power than any predecessor, Democrat or Republican. But a diverse Bush Cabinet hardly changes the complexion — or the politics — of the GOP. Bush's efforts to make his party colorblind have not had much success beyond the Beltway around Washington, D.C.

Just look at the Georgia Legislature. Last year, Gov. Roy Barnes, a Democrat, persuaded the Legislature to end a lingering controversy by endorsing a new state flag. But most members of the Republican minority refused to go along, instead standing by a 1956 flag that prominently featured the Confederate battle insignia. They couldn't resist once again showing their solidarity with whites who remain hostile to black advancement.

So when McKinney tries to smear Majette by calling her a Republican, she knows what she's doing. In McKinney's district, which includes many well-educated black professionals, a hostile, race-baiting GOP may still be more frightening than a loose-cannon congresswoman.

Take a few minutes Sunday to remember Dad

It's only fitting that I comment on this Sunday's holiday — Father's Day. With only a few exceptions, I've written about Father's Day in the Herald every year for the past decade.

From that point on, the mayor of Spokane, then the governor of the state, and subsequently Calvin Coolidge, then president of the United States, called for the observance to be held annually on the third Sunday in June.

I recall the last time I mentioned Mrs. Dodd, I received three or four letters saying I was wrong and telling me the "true story" of how the observance started by other people in other cities.

No matter. The observance didn't become official until a Presidential Proclamation was signed in 1966.

I don't know how it started elsewhere, but Father's Day is also observed on the third Sunday in June in the British Empire.

Where would each of us be without a father? We wouldn't be — that's the answer. Fathers come in many sizes, shapes and forms. Some are loving parents who help nurture their offspring and teach them life, possibly a vocation, and encourage them at all opportunities.

I have previously reported that the event started when Mrs. John B. Dodd of Spokane, Wash., asked her pastor to say some special words about her father, on June 19, 1910, the one-year anniversary of her father's death. The pastor not only gave a sermon about her father, but included the fathers of everyone in his congregation. It was well received and became an annual event in that church. From that point on, the mayor of Spokane, then the governor of the state, and subsequently Calvin Coolidge, then president of the United States, called for the observance to be held annually on the third Sunday in June.

The Herald asks people what they think ...

Although not everyone is sure exactly how it started, Father's Day has been observed in the United States since 1966, when a presidential proclamation made it official to appreciate Dad on a special day in June. We asked some people how they are going to celebrate Dad's day.

Seminole historical society enjoys 'Yankee Ladies in Florida' program

Those attending the Seminole County Historical Society Meeting on May 16 at the Cooperative Extension auditorium thoroughly enjoyed the program "Yankee Ladies in Florida."

Grace Marie Stinecifer

All of these were portrayed by Betty Jean Steinschouer from the Speakers Bureau of the Florida Humanities Council.

The first lady to enter was Sarah Orne Jewett, author of "The Country of the Pointed Firs," "The Queen's Twin" and other books. Most of her works were set in her native New England.

She vivaciously told of her writings, her friends and the "recent unpleasantness" as she called the Civil War. Because her bones hurt during the winters, she often traveled from her home in Berwick, Maine to Florida during the 1880's. She especially liked St. Augustine, though she thought Henry Flagler's Ponce De Leon Hotel was pretty expensive at $5 per night. She also told some tales of the Alcazar Hotel where "the ladies of the night" stayed.

The next lady was quite a contrast from Miss Jewett. This was Harriet Beecher Stowe, dressed all in black, who told her story in a somber tone. She explained that "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was written by God and she was only his scribe. It was originally serialized in an abolitionist newspaper in Washington, DC, but did not create much of a stir until the book was published in 1852. It was banned in the south and by the Catholic Church. She had met President Lincoln in 1862 and was elated when he signed the Emancipation Proclamation January 1, 1863.

Mrs. Stowe was married to Prof. Calvin Stowe, a minister, and they had six children. She was also the daughter and sister of ministers.

Mrs. Stowe came to Florida in 1866 to teach in a Freedman's school and she continued to be crusader for the freedom of slaves. She lived in Mandarin, near Orange Park, on the banks of the St. Johns River.

She exited the room while the group sang "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Much more familiar to the audience was the next lady, Laura Ingalls Wilder, author of "Little House on the Prairie" and other books.

She explained that she had much education, having only graduated from a one room school. She and her husband, Almanzo (she called him Manly), had one daughter Rose also a writer.

Manly was not strong after a bout with diphtheria so they left the Dakota Territory in 1891 and came to Florida. They thought they might live here so they brought their livestock by train, but did not like Florida. She thought it was the strangest place-plants were and insects ate each other, the rivers were full of alligators and people went barefooted. Everyone thought that she was uppity because she always dressed up as her ma had taught her. And, she said, those Florida people even dipped snuff!

They went back to the Dakota Territory after only one year, but Rose later wrote "The Innocents" about their time in Florida.

Each of the ladies brought the audience into her talks and after the three portrayals, Miss Steinschouer answered questions. She is presently working on a book "Yankee Ladies in Florida" which will also include Rose Wilder, Marjorie Kinnan Rawlins, Margorie Stoneham and Elizabeth Bishop.

During the business meeting presided over by the president Alex Dickson, Museum Specialists Karen Jacobs told about the present restoration at the museum of Seminole County History. It is being done in four phases so that only a portion of the museum will be closed at a time. The entire museum will be closed to the public during the month of August though, while the front office, the porch, entrance and day room are being renovated.

The ceilings are being repaired and painted, new lighting is being installed and the original floors are being redone. Jacobs also told of the recent ground breaking for the agriculture exhibit building which was attended by several Society members, county commissioners and other dignitaries.

The society sponsored book of Seminole County families is due to be published soon and should be available for purchase by early fall. The Histories of approximately 75 families will be included, each written by a member of that family.

Ettie Jane Keogh, program chairman, announced that the September 12 meeting will be a Pioneer Night. Those who have been residents of Seminole County at least 50 years will be honored and memories of several will be shared.

It was announced that a committee was working on plans for a trip to be taken during the summer. Suggestions of places to visit were encouraged.

Following the meeting, delicious refreshments were provided by Harriett Boyd and Claudette Behrens.

With so much going on at the Museum of Seminole County History and in the Society this would be a great time to join the Society. Dues are only $10 for individual and $15, family. These can be sent to Seminole County Historical Society, PO Box 409, Sanford, FL 32772.

Credit cards can burn holes in college students' budgets

DEAR ABBY: As a senior in college, I have learned many things, but I have one important lesson to share with anyone who is just beginning a college career.

Dear Abby

..... n't resist accepting, but promised myself I would use credit cards only for emergencies.

Well, here I am about to graduate and I now owe several thousand dollars on my cards.

Some tips I wish I had been given to me before signing up for those cards:

- (1) Live within your means. College can be about having fun, but you can do that without going into debt.
- (2) If you cannot pay cash for a meal at a restaurant, do not eat out. Eat at the school cafeteria or make a sandwich.
- (3) The new CD or DVD you want will still be around when you can afford it.
- (4) Rather than going to a club or movie with a group of friends, find inexpensive activities (like playing cards or board games) and spend your evening enjoying them.
- (5) If your college offers a class on managing credit and credit cards — take it!

I hope you deem this letter important enough to print, Abby. Credit card debt is a huge problem for many college students. I should know.

COLLEGE SENIOR WHO LEARNED THE HARD WAY

DEAR COLLEGE SENIOR: Thank you for your timely warning for freshmen entering college this fall. And now I have one for you: You have learned an expensive lesson. Credit counseling may help you consolidate your debts and ensure that you don't destroy your credit history before you have even established one.

Check your phone directory for a list of credit counseling services or visit www.nfcc.org to locate one that's a member of the National Foundation for Consumer Credit (NFCC). Good luck, grad!

DEAR READERS: Today is Father's Day. I offer good wishes not only to fathers everywhere, but also to those caring individuals who donate their time mentoring youngsters whose fathers are absent or deceased. Many readers have asked me for a prayer in memory of a father who is no longer living. The following is from my Hebrew Union Prayer Book. It is one that is recited on Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement. It is also available in my "Keepers" booklet:

IN MEMORY OF A FATHER
"Thy memory, my dear father, fills my soul at this solemn hour. It revives in me thoughts of the love and friendliness which thou didst bestow upon me. The thought of these inspires me to a life of virtue; and when my pilgrimage on earth is ended and I shall arrive at the throne of mercy, may I be worthy of thee in the sight of God and man. May our merciful Father reward thee for the faithfulness and kindness thou has ever shown me; may he grant thee eternal peace. Amen."

SPOTLIGHT ON BUSINESS

Sanford Native, Dale Duncan, Comes Home

I left Sanford in 1971 to pursue a career in South Carolina only to return in 1999 to address family needs and possibly embark on a new career. Having been a mental health professional for 28 years, I wasn't sure about what I would do with the rest of my life. However, I did have one skill that had been a hobby for a quarter-of-a-century and that was furniture restoration.

Since the beginning of the new century my life has been moving in a very positive direction. In 2000 I met the love of my life, Barbara, and married her in 2001. Later that year we decided to begin refurbishing antique furniture and do some antique shows in Charleston, S.C. After two apprenticeships with local refinishers, we decided to make our goal to eventually open an antique/refurbishing shop in the historic district of Sanford. In May, 2002 the opportunity presented itself and we took it. I renovated a building at 115 Oak Ave., half block off 1st St., and soon began its conversion The K and B Antiques and Restoration. Sanford's newest antique shop.

We have purposefully created a warehouse atmosphere in order to offer something for everyone in a very casual environment. In addition to regular furniture, we offer wicker, rattan, bamboo, wrought iron and complete restoration services for all of these products.

All inquiries are welcomed and we can be reached at 407-323-2226 or come by and see us in person. Need I say it is good to be home!

 how to pay for the additional staff. As it stands now, we would have to raise taxes nearly 25 percent."
 If and when the substation is built, the city's fire department would be able to respond to a majority of emergency calls within Lake Mary, Fire Chief Craig Haun said. Currently, through the county's First Response program, the city covers about 38 percent of the calls within city limits.
 "Right now, the county is covering a majority of our calls," Haun said.
 Response time is another factor in building the proposed substation. Lake Mary Fire Department's goal is to respond to all calls within five minutes or less. However, since the department is not able to respond to all calls within the city, response time can take longer.
 "We have to consider, do we want to raise taxes by 25 percent so we can lower response times from seven minutes to five minutes," Commissioner Gary Brender said.

 "That depends," Commissioner George Duryea replied. "Ask whoever is having the heart attack."
 Following the discussion, Commission opted to concentrate on rebuilding the fire department's main facility. Originally planned for construction in the 2005 fiscal year, the commissioners decided to begin construction as soon as possible, which could begin as early as next year if the referendum is approved by voters.
 "We should concentrate on the main station for 2003," Brender said. "I don't want to close the door on the substation. We know we will have space for it. We can look at it again, maybe three years down the road."

 thought. I told her this could either be a good idea or just a brain fart."
 Marie liked the idea, and the two got started on plans for their new business. Finding a location was easy. The pair decided to open the gallery in Marie's downtown Sanford art studio.
 "When we told people where we were going to open the store, they asked why we wanted it here, since it wasn't the best side of town," Marie said. "Well, it's the best side of town now."
 With help from friends and family, it didn't take the pair long to create the gallery and framing studio. It also didn't take long for the first customer to walk through Framing 508 Gallery's front door.
 "Our first order was to frame 22 pieces," Fox said. "It just seemed like everything fell into place. And, we really work well together."

 Other artists have been regular visitors to the new gallery and have admired what Marie and Fox have created in downtown Sanford. Several have inquired about renting space in the area to open their own art shops and galleries.
 "You never know. This might become Sanford's art district," Marie said.
 The two artists are now planning to utilize the additional room behind the gallery as a classroom. Once completed, they hope to begin teaching art classes and hold various workshops for community members interested in the arts.
 "We want to create more of a community type thing," Marie said. "We know about 200 other artists, so we have been thinking about different ideas to do."
 In the meantime, both are busy framing. Since both are artists, they say their specialty is creativity, but they also create frames made to order.

 Fox said it takes between one week and 10 days to complete an order, and the gallery's prices are competitive to other similar businesses in the area. The partners create all their frames in-house and are also available for commission.
 "We are women with power tools," Marie said.
 The grand opening for Framing 508 Gallery is scheduled for Saturday, June 29. The store is already open Monday through Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. For more information, call the store at 407-324-1577.
 Along with framing, the gallery also offers a collection of original artwork, unique gifts and prints.

 Frank Van Pelt, Seminole County Principal Engineer for Special Projects said the overpass will complement the high-tech architectural style of the adjacent Heathrow International Business Center.
 The design construction team of Martin K. Eby-Harding ESE, Inc. expects the bridge to be completed by May of 2003.
 Van Pelt said the dedication will take place next to building 1001 on International Parkway, a half mile south of 46-A. He said a group of local dignitaries including city, county and state figures have been invited to attend.
 The dedication is open to the public.

 five years. Also, its conservative fiscal philosophy and strong financial management have contributed to its status as one of the highest rated counties in Florida, by the top financial rating agencies in New York.
 The proposed budget will be the subject of a work session with the Board of County Commissioners on Thursday, June 20, beginning at 8:30 a.m. at the County Services Building in Sanford.

 This will be followed by two public hearings to be held in September, for the purpose of adopting the budget.
 County Manager Grace said the work session will be open to the general public, and the regular commission meetings, which will allow input from members of the public.

Man dies in swimming pool

The Seminole County Sheriff's Office is investigating the death of a 42-year-old man, who was found in the deep end of an apartment complex's swimming pool.

His body was discovered in the pool at about 1:20 p.m. today at the Club Renaissance Apartments at 445 Wymore Road in Altamonte Springs. He apparently had been playing basketball nearby with his friends. He apparently left them to go cool off in the pool. According to his friends, he was away for about five minutes when they decided to check on him. When they checked, they then found him in the deep end of the pool, at the bottom. According to his friends, the victim could not swim.

CPR was attempted and emergency personnel rushed the victim to Florida Hospital in Altamonte Springs. The victim was pronounced dead at the hospital.

The man's name is not being released until relatives are contacted.

An autopsy will be conducted to establish the cause of the man's death.

Marine Corps Pfc. Casey L. Taylor, a 2001 graduate of Seminole High School, Sanford, recently was deployed to a combined arms exercise at Marine Corps Air Ground Center, Twentynine Palms, Calif.

During the annual eight-week long exercise, Taylor and his fellow Marines with first Battalion, sixth Marines, Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N.C. conducted tactical and operations with other units using various weapons, tactical vehicles and artillery to improve combat readiness.

Marine Corps Cpl. Hayes S. Brahmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce P. Flemming of Sanford, recently participated in exercise Infinate Arvil in the Hashimite Kingdom of Jordan while assigned to the 22nd Marine Expeditionary Unit, based in Camp

Lejeune, N.C.

Marines from Brahmer's unit had the opportunity to train with the Royal Jordanian Air Force during the ten-day event. The exercise included the movement of the AV-8B Harrier detachment and the MEU's aviation element from the USS Wasp to King Faisal Royal Jordanian Air Force Base.

After the exercise, Brahmer's unit visited Petra, Jordan where Marines had the opportunity to shop, sightsee and enjoy the local culture cuisine.

Brahmer is one of more than 10,000 Atlantic Fleet sailors and Marines aboard the ships of the USS John F. Kennedy Carrier Battle Group and USS Wasp Amphibious Ready Group.

Brahmer's unit is an expeditionary intervention force with the ability to rapidly organize for combat operations in virtually and environment. MEUs are composed of more than 2,000 personnel and are divided into infantry battalion, aircraft squadron, support group and command element. With this combination, Brahmer's unit supplies and sustains itself for either quick mission accomplishment or clearing the way for follow-on forces.

Brahmer is a 1998 graduate of Hanks High School of El Paso, Texas and joined the Marine Corps in August 1998.

Navy Senior Chief Petty Officer Marcus C. Beamon, son of Fannie B. Beamon of Sanford, recently reported for duty aboard the aircraft carrier Precommissioning Unit Ronald Reagan, based at Newport News, Va.

Beamon is a 1978 graduate of Seminole High School of Sanford and joined the Navy in June 1978.

Navy Dentalman Thomas J. Bolega, son of Linda J. Bolega of Sanford, and Thomas R. Bolega of Winter Springs, recently completed the Basic Dental Assistant School.

During the course at Sheppard Air Force Base, Wichita Falls, Texas, students receive instruction in medical and dental fundamentals. Course studies include dental operator equipment, intra-oral radiography, immediate life-saving procedures, sterilization and disinfection, preventive dentistry, oral examination and operative dentistry assistance. Emergency first aid and casualty care, along with receptionist and clerical duties, are also taught.

Bolega is a 2001 graduate of Winter Springs High School.

Airport Lanes crowns champions

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

SANFORD — The Airport Lanes in Sanford has been re-opened for a little over a year and already the bowling center is gaining the reputation as a home for champions.

During the month of April, youth bowlers from around Florida gathered in Davie to compete in the State of Florida Coca-Cola Championships.

Winning this championship means that bowlers move on to the International competition to vie for $20,000 in scholarship monies.

This year, 2,182 young kegglers competed for the Florida Coca-Cola title and 115 of those won scholarships.

This was the first year for Airport Lanes to participate and two local entries were among the winners.

Melynda Bumgardner bowled in the

Florida Coca-Cola, Y.A.B.A. tourney winners announced

12-21 girls handicap division and finished eighth among 383 entries to earn a $201 scholarship.

Bumgardner will compete at the next level later this month in Winter Haven.

In the past, winners have traveled as far as Germany to compete and Airport Lanes is negotiating to bring at least part of the tournament to Sanford in the near future.

In the 11-and-Under boys handicap division there were 561 entries and in the end Heathrow's Alex Evaskis, representing Airport Lanes, won the State of Florida Championship and earned a $350 scholarship.

Evaskis is only nine years old and is in the Fourth Grade at Heathrow Elementary. He has been bowling since the age of four and his experience and hard work paid off as he bowled 100 pins over his average in the tournament.

Unfortunately for Evaskis, this was as far as he could go, as there is no Futures Tournament for the 110-and-Unders.

Airport Lanes played host to the 2002 Seminole County Young American Bowling Alliance (Y.A.B.A.) Bowler of the Year Tournament recently.

Y.A.B.A. members qualified for the tournament through their performances in their respective centers to earn the title of Bowler of the Month. There were a total of 10 bowlers from each center, one boy and one girl from each of five divisions.

Following are the list of winner's: Pee Wee Division (age 3-6): Male — Joshua Honaker from Airport Lanes; Female — Samantha Benton from Airport Lanes.

Bantam Division (8-Under): Male — Timmy Plakon from Longwood; Female — Lauren Tanuyan from Longwood.

Preps Division (9-11): Male — Chris Dougherty from Airport Lanes; Female — Kim Miller from Longwood.

Junior Division (12-14): Male — Robert DuBois from Airport Lanes; Female — Danielle Corrao from Altamonte Springs.

Senior Division (15-18): Male — Robert Jones from Airport Lanes; Female — Danielle Grosskopf from Casselberry.

There were a total of 62 qualifiers. See Bowling, Page 2B

Wednesday men's title claimed by Vivona's

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

SANFORD — Mother Nature must be a softball fan.

With the championship on the line, the rain and lightning held off just long enough as Vivona's rolled over White Sands, 10-1, to claim the title in the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Men's Spring Wednesday Night Slow Pitch Softball League at Pinehurst Park.

White Sands and Vivona's entered the final night of the season with identical 7-2 records and it was White Sands that broke into the scoring column first with a run in the top of the second inning.

But Vivona's, which avenged a 9-3 loss to White Sands on May 8th with the victory, took the lead for good with two runs in the bottom of the second inning and took a comfortable lead by plating five runs in the bottom of the third inning.

The outcome was still in doubt, however, as a cloud cover moved over the field in the third inning and a light and sound show (thunder and lightning) kept moving ever closer to Pinehurst.

But the elements never completely interfered with the game, in fact, it was not until the top of the seventh inning, with White Sands batting, that it even started to sprinkle.

The rain remained soft until Brian Jones pulled down Jason Bender's fly to left-center to end the game and just as the team's were about to Seminole Community Church Team No. 2 manager Mike Davis (above) rips a hit during his team's 11-run sixth inning outburst that saw SCC 2 erase an 9-1 deficit and his squad went on for a 12-11 victory over Seminole Community Church No. 3 in the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Spring Adult Church Slow Pitch Softball League at Zinn Beck Field last Monday night.

Tomorrow, the top two teams in the league, undefeated Sanford Central Baptist Church and once-beaten Church of the Latter Day Saints, will square off at 8:30 p.m. in what for all intents and purposes is the championship game. In championship action this week, Vivona's Vic DiBartolo (right) allowed only six singles and one run to pitch his team to a 10-1 victory over White Sands to clinch the title in the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Men's Spring Wednesday Night Slow Pitch Softball League at Pinehurst Park.

Vivona's and White Sands had entered the final night of the regular season with identical 7-2 records.

Volleyball ready to wrap up regular season

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

SANFORD — The City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Spring Recreational Volleyball League will crown its regular season champions this Monday night.

After long battle, the two leagues will conclude the regular season and tune-up for next week's postseason tournament.

A League leading Matt's Team saw its undefeated streak snapped after two weeks, going 2-1 in games played on June 3rd. No results were received from this past week's games.

Despite losing once on 6/3 Matt's Team has all but sewed up the regular season title even if it lost all of its games on 6/10.

B League leading Sanford Church of God bounced back from a winless and widened its advantage back to four games.

In the A League games, Matt's Team opened the night with an impressive 11-2 thumping of S & S Fence.

Second place Shoestrings, meanwhile, struggled in their first game, barely edging past S & S Fence, 11-9.

But those results meant nothing moments later when the Shoestrings clobbered the leaders, 11-5.

Matt's Team then avenged that defeat, but it took extra points for the leaders to nip the Shoestrings, 12-10.

The last two games proved anticlimactic as Matt's Team defeated S & S Fence 11-2, again, and the Shoestrings eased past S & S Fence, 11-5.

In the B League games, Sanford Church of God immediately showed it was back to compete, knocking off third place Westview

MFW to compete Friday

Special to the Herald

SANFORD — Professional wrestling returns to Central Florida on Friday when Mid Florida Wrestling comes to American Legion Post 19 on Lee Road in Orlando.

The main event pits the High Rollers (Caruso and Vegas) against the York Brothers (Dannie and Donnie) in a Tag Team Match.

The opening match of the evening will have Baddboy entering the squared circle against "Outlaw" Tom Bass.

In the first of two Grudge Matches, Deathrow Jethrow challenges Bill Crude.

The other has "International Superstar" Josh Rich tackling "Kempo Kid" Chasyn Rance.

In an MFW Hardcore Championship battle, the champion Nightstalker, with Angel, has accepted a challenge from Destruction.

In a three-way war, C.B. Kool, Sapphire and The Dancin' Prowler will all enter the ring at the same time.

And in a final Tag Team spectacular, the Unchained Outlaws (Mike Mace and Levi Mullins) face Cutthroat Bonez and El Diablo.

American Legion Post 19 is located at 2101 Lee Road, west off of I-4 between Edgewater Drive and 441.

Doors open at 7 p.m. with Bell Time at 8 p.m.

The MWF will then move up the road to VFW Post 8093 for a show on Friday, June 28th.

The featured challenge on that night will be a 15-man over the top rope Battle Royal.

The opening match will pit Cutthroat Bonez against "Kempo Kid" Chasyn Rance.

In a Tag Team spectacular, C.B. Kool and Josh Kid take on the York Brothers (Dannie and Donnie).

In a Lumberjack Match, Bill Crude tackles "Outlaw" Tom Bass.

The Nightstalker, with Angel, will put his MFW Hardcore Championship on the line again, this time against Deathrow Jethrow.

In a Grudge Tag Team Match, the High Rollers, Caruso and JJ Vegas, meet the Unchained Outlaws, Mike Mace and Levi Mullins.

And in a Three-Way War, El Diablo, Baddboy and The Dancin' Prowler go at it.

Again the doors open at 7 p.m. with Bell Time at 8 p.m.

Tickets for both shows are $8 for adults and $4 for kids (6-12). Under 6 are free, but must be accompanied by an adult.

For information and tickets call 407-328-9035 or visit the MFW website at www.mid-floridawrestling.com

NSS is located 10 miles South of Daytona Beach, between I-4 (Exit 56, East) and I-95 (Exit 84, West) at the intersection of Highway 44 & State Road 415 in Samsula, between New Smyrna Beach, DeLand, Sanford and Daytona Beach.

CRASH-A-RAMA BRINGS DESTRUCTION TO SPEEDWORLD BITHLO — CRASH-A-RAMA filled the

Orlando Speedworld racing facility with a capacity crowd and an unbelievable amount of wrecked and/or destroyed vehicles last Friday night.

Every part of the track was filled with screaming fans wanting more and more of the crash and destroy driving from a field of drivers that included several FASCAR regulars.

Chuck "Junkyard Dog" Rush claimed the top prize in the World Famous School Bus Figure Eight race. Rush would take on all comers and drive their wheels off to take the prize.

"This was a tough race and I hope the fans enjoyed it," Rush said. "We work very hard to make sure our buses are ready to race. Winning is fun, but this race is really for the fans."

Rush was followed by Doug Samion, The World's Fastest Clown, Jay Tracki, and Joey Mitchell. Rush now has bragging rights until November 29, the date for the next CRASH-A-RAMA spectacular at OSW.

In other smashing action, Jay Trocki won the boat/camper trailer race. Trocki would show his skill in piloting an angry trailer around the chicane course, calmly out running Jeff Shaffer, William Hindman, Dave Verzer, and Tim Dyson.

Billy Cuddy claimed top prize in the chain race, along with partner Casey Riley. Cuddy pulled and Riley steered his non-running mount around the track. Both drivers seemed able to avoid the carnage around them and cruised home to a sweet win. Cuddy and Riley were followed by Tim Dyson and Doug Samion, Jeff Shaffer and his unknown partner, Brian Soukup and Aaron Muldering, and Nick Bouley and Chris Riddey.

The final events of the evening featured the four-cylinder and V-8 demolition derby cars. Tim Cordell dueled to a tie with Teddy Bowman for the V-8 class, and Jeff Shaffer took the four-cylinder division over a stubborn Jim Froeman.

The next CRASH-A-RAMA is scheduled for Nov. 29 (the day after Thanksgiving) and should prove to be a rematch among most of this event winners and a new crop of challengers.

This coming Friday night (June 21) the Mini-Cup Cars will pay a visit to Orlando Speedworld. Also on the evening's card will be heats and features in the other FASCAR divisions of Super Late Model, Modifieds, Bandalero, Sportsman, Mini Stock, Super Stock and Strictly Stock.

Pit gates open at 5 p.m. with grandstands opening at 7 p.m. and racing action beginning at 8 p.m. every Friday night at the track located 17 miles east of Orlando between Orlando and Titusville on Highway 50 at the 520 Cocoa Cutoff. For race day info only call 407-568-1367.

For more information about schedules call the FASCAR offices at 386-427-4129 (New Smyrna), or check the Internet site at WWW.NEWSMYRNASPEEDWAY.COM, or E-Mail at FASCARNOW@AOL.COM

Also you are invited to tune in to Daytona's WND8-AM 1150 "The new VOICE" of Stock Car "Racing!" every Monday night from 8 p.m. to 9 p.m. following the Benny Parsons Show.

This is a radio show that is devoted to Short Track Stock Car Racing and is sponsored by FASCAR and hosted by Randy Dye of Speedway Dodge and Tommy Tipton from New Smyrna Speedway. They will take your calls and answer questions at 386-239-0033.

CONNECTICUT BOUND

Continued from page 1B meet in the middle of the diamond for the traditional hand-shake the heavens opened up and washed out the scheduled final game of the season between Knights of Columbus 2 and Orlando Fire Department.

The first scheduled game of the evening wasn't played either as Briar Corporation got a 7-0 forfeit win from Skips Boots/Lynch Mob.

The final standings were Vivona's (8-2), White Sands (7-3), Knights of Columbus 2 (5-4), Skips Boots/Lynch Mob (5-5), Briar Corporation (3-7) and Orlando Fire Department (1-8).

After both teams matched each other in the first inning with two fly outs, a single and a fielder's choice, Terry Atkinson led off the top of the second inning for White Sands with a single.

After a fly out, Jay Laney singled Atkinson to third and one out later scored on a single by Larry Dillon.

Vivona's answered right back in the bottom of the second as Danny Hewitt walked, moved to second on a one out single by Mike Miller and scored the tying run on a single by Brian Carr. Bobby Shaw, Vivona's coach, then singled to left to score Miller with what would prove to be the winning run.

In Vivona's half of the third inning, Kevin Julian led off with a single and got to second when Jimmy Kenney's grounder as booted for an error. After fly out, Jay Otero had an RBI single, Hewitt drove in a run with a double to deep center and Dave Coss singled in two runs. Miller followed with a single to move Coss to third, from where he scored the fifth run of the inning on a sacrifice fly by Jones.

Vivona's defense, meanwhile, was outstanding, not committing an error and turning a beautiful 5-4-3 double play to back the six-hit pitching of Vic DiBartolo.

The final scoring came in the bottom of the sixth inning. With one out, Carr singled and moved to second on a Shaw grounder. Matt Freeman drew a walk and both runners scored on a triple by Julian, who then capped the scoring by coming home on a single by Kenney.

All 11 players in Vivona's lineup contributed to the win with either a hit, a run scored, or an RBI.

Contributing to the 15-hit attack were Julian (triple, two singles, two runs, two RBI), Carr (three singles, run, RBI), Coss (double, single, run, two RBI), Miller (two singles, run), Hewitt (double, two runs, RBI), Otero and Kenney (single, run, RBI each), Shaw (single, RBI), DiBartolo (single), Freeman (run) and Jones (RBI).

Providing the offense for White Sands were Tony Taylor (two singles), Atkinson (single, run), Dillon (single, RBI) and Bender, Laney, and Mickey Kalin (one single each).

Things did not go as well for the Industrial League last Friday or the Men's Thursday Night League this week as both nights scheduled action was washed away by the weather.

The Church League that plays on Monday nights at Zinn Beck Field had an exciting set of games that featured impressive comebacks.

Seminole Community Church 3, the newest entry in the league, was playing its best game of the season against defending Polar Bear Champion Seminole Community Church Team 2 and led 9-1 going to the bottom of the sixth inning.

The champions bowed their backs in that inning and ended up scoring 11 runs in the frame to take an 12-9 lead. Seminole Community Church 3 tried to mount a rally of its own in the top of the seventh inning, scoring two runs and having the tying run on base. But the game ended on a fly as SCC 2 moved back into sole possession of third place.

The Saints were impressive in their tune-up for this Monday's showdown with Sanford Central Baptist Church, coasting past Seminole Community Church 1, 17-3.

Central Baptist had to work to remain undefeated in the late game, falling behind 7-1 before waking up for an 18-7 victory.

Central Baptist is now 8-0 and leads the Saints (6-1), Seminole Community Church 2 (5-3), the Knights of Columbus (4-3), Seminole Community Church 3 (2-6) and Seminole Community Church 1 and Sanford Church of Christ (both 1-7).

The game that could decide the championship will be played at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow as the Saints will challenge Central Baptist.

The rest of the schedule has Sanford Church of Christ playing Seminole Community Church 1 at 7:30 p.m., and Seminole Community Church 2 facing Knights of Columbus at 8:30 p.m. Seminole Community Church 2 has the night off.

This Thursday Night Tournament was scheduled to be played at Pinehurst Park this week, but with rainouts two of the past three weeks, make-up games will have to be played starting at 7 p.m.

The Industrial League is supposed to be playing its final games of the season this Friday at Pinehurst, but undoubtedly, some games will be made up next week.

The June 21st schedule has the Black Sheep taking on the Budmen at 6:30 p.m. and Toyota of Longwood playing the doubleheader against Invacare at 7:30 p.m. and Mile High Club at 8:30 p.m.

Volleyball

The leaders then closed out an impressive evening, rolling past the Unknowns, 15-6, and the Hawks, the big loser's this week, 15-2.

The Hawks had entered the evening's play just a game off the lead, but went winless to fall into a tie for second place with Westview Baptist Church.

Westview Baptist Church bounced back from the loss to Sanford Church of God to win its final two games of the night, but just as in the first game, it was a struggle.

Westview Baptist barely outscored the Hawks, 15-13, and then held on for a 15-10 victory over the Unknowns.

The Unknowns then picked up big win, more than doubling the score on the Hawks, 15-7.

The results for Week 7 were: A League - Matt's Team and the Shoestrings (both 3-1), and S & S Fence (0-4).

B League - Sanford Church of God (3-0), Westview Baptist Church (2-1), the Unknowns (1-2) and the Hawks (0-3).

The standings after seven weeks are:

A League: Matt's Team (19-5), the Shoestrings (13-11) and Rose Fence (4-20).

B League - Sanford Church of God (13-6), the Hawks and Westview Baptist Church (both 9-10), and the Unknowns (5-14).

The league plays every Monday night beginning at 6:30 p.m. at the Salvation Army Gymnasium on 24th Street and the public is invited to attend at no admission charge.

"BEAT THE HEAT" GOLF

Magnolia Plantation Golf Club will play host on Wednesday, June 26th to the inaugural golf tournament planned to benefit the State of Florida Chapter of Beat the Heat, Inc.

In its 10th year as a non-profit organization with chapters across the country and in Canada, Beat the Heat, a racing for education, "Cops & Kids" organization, strives annually to reach youths throughout communities with its strong and serious educational platform.

That platform consists of educating young people about the serious problems of drug/alcohol abuse, the horrors of drug/alcohol impaired driving, and the many dangers in street grad racing.

In addition, Beat The Heat, Inc. holds events throughout the year to establish a better understanding between law enforcement and the communities they serve.

"With our cars and various other programs we can help break down barriers that exist between youth and authority figures," said Ryan Bruce, an investigator with the Longwood Police Department who is sponsoring the Florida Chapter. "This annual golf tournament can help us with needed funds to continue our work and to get these important messages to the youth of our communities."

The tournament is open to the public. For information regarding player information, sponsorship opportunities and tournament details, please contact Betsy Nein, Tournament Director at 407-831-9991 or email CNein@aol.com.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

The 2002 U.S. Transplant Games, presented by the National Kidney Foundation, is an Olympic-style event celebrating the achievements of over 2000 athletes who have received one or more life-saving organ transplants. Athletes will compete for gold, silver, and bronze medals in 12 different sports.

Sports Enthusiasts (volunteers) are needed on behalf of the National Kidney Foundation to assist with a variety of activities including registration, sport support, athlete services, hospitality, and more.

The event is from Monday, June 24 through Saturday, June 29 and will take place at seven venues around the Central Florida area. Disney's Wide World of Sports® Complex will host athlete and hotel registration, practice, opening and closing ceremonies, badminton, basketball, table tennis, tennis, track & field, volleyball, and non-tournament related activities for kids. Cycling and the 5K Race for Organ and Tissue Donation Awareness will take place at Epcot®. Golf will be played at Disney's Magnolia and Palm Golf Courses at the WALT DISNEY WORLD® Resort.

Aloma Bowling Center and Aloma Bowling Center East (Rouse Road) in Orlando will host bowling events. The Orlando Racquet and Fitness Club (Courtland Avenue) in Winter Park will host racquetball. Swimming will take place at the YMCA Aquatic Center (International Drive) in Orlando.

In addition to event apparel, volunteers will receive one boxed meal per shift. Also, for every three shifts dedicated to the 2002 U.S. Transplant Games, volunteers will receive a complimentary WALT DISNEY WORLD® Resort one-day, one-theme park ticket.

Also, volunteer officials with an USATF certification number are needed to assist with track & field on June 27. Participating officials will receive apparel, meals, and a complimentary WALT DISNEY WORLD® Resort one-day, one-theme park ticket.

FOOD

Spill all the beans about baked beans

Baked beans are one bean dish which has stood the test of time. Boston baked beans, a characteristic American dish, is prepared by cooking navy beans with molasses and salt pork or bacon. It is highly probable that early American colonists adopted this technique from Native Americans in New England.

Try your hand at delicious baked beans with this recipe, courtesy of "Famous Dave's Backroads & Sidestreets: Recipes Inspired by America's Down-Home Eateries."

Baked Wilbur Beans
Yields 12 to 15 servings

- 8 ounces thick-slice hickory-smoked bacon
- 1 (8-ounce) strip steak
- Steak seasoning to taste
- 1 (8-ounce) twice-smoked sausage link
- 2 tablespoons bacon drippings
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 1/3 cup chopped green bell pepper
- 1 tablespoon diced jalapeño
- 2 (28-ounce) cans baked beans
- 1 (20-ounce) bottle barbecue sauce

Fry bacon in a skillet until crisp. Drain, reserving 2 tablespoons of the drippings. Crumble the bacon. Sprinkle steak with steak seasoning. Grill over hot coals until medium. Cut into 1/2-inch cubes.

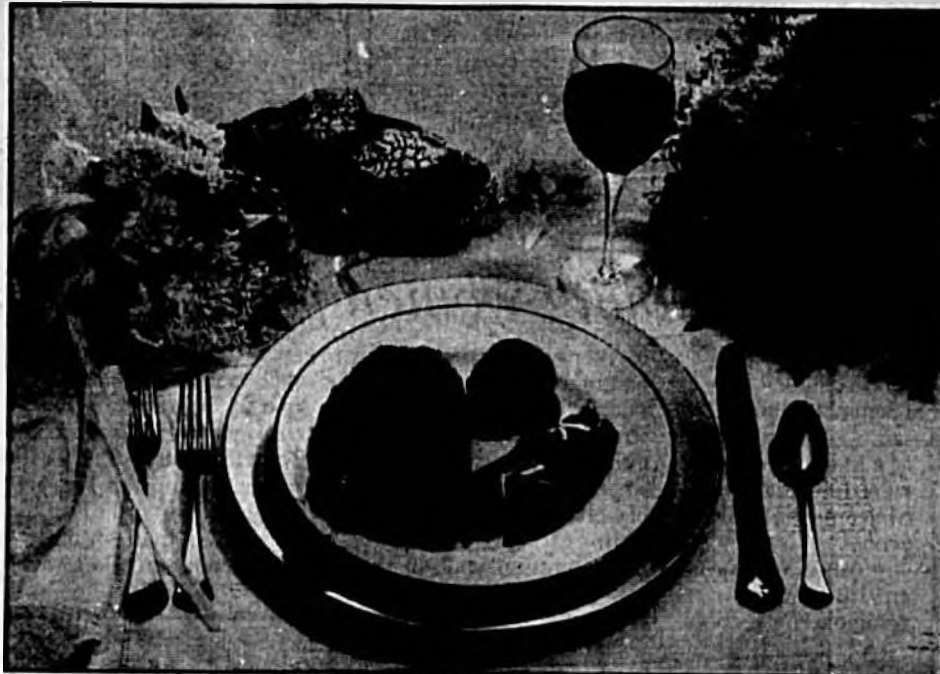

Grill sausage until nice and charred. Slice the sausage lengthwise into halves; slice into quarters. Cut the quarters into 1/2-inch cubes.

Sauté onion, green pepper and jalapeño in reserved bacon drippings in a skillet just until onion is tender-crisp. Stir in bacon, steak, sausage, beans and sauce. Simmer over low heat for 30 minutes, stirring occasionally.

The flavor is enhanced if stored, covered, in the refrigerator for 8 to 10 hours and reheated just before serving.

To re-smoke sausage, smoke over hickory chips at 175 F for 2 hours.

Veni, Victuals, Vino!

Life is a matter of tastes, and that includes your dinner. Follow your heart — and your taste buds — when matching wine with food.

A principled look at matching wine with food

With the exception of major world economic crises, few topics in the world remain as controversial as choosing "the right" wine for food. Some people just close their eyes and pick from the wine list, while others steadfastly subscribe to the "pretty label" method (if it has a pretty label, go for it). In dark halls over the course of hundreds of years, numerous "experts" have put together guidelines to set the standard on how to properly pair victuals with vino. However, for the most part, many of these rules only served to further confuse the issue, and today, with so many different kinds of foods available and new wines appearing on the market almost daily, those same old rules have become just about useless.

The good news is that like most rules, the ones governing food and wine are meant to be broken. Life is a matter of taste, and that includes your dinner. The most important principle to remember when choosing wine for food is your tongue. It perceives four basic tastes — sourness, sweetness, bitterness and saltiness — in both food and wine and can explain why certain combinations work while others ... well, don't. The best rule of thumb: pairing like tastes will guarantee better results. Never again need you feel intimidated by upscale friends and snooty waiters. Here is a brief look at the principles of taste that, while far from being rules, can serve as the perfect weapon for helping you make logical, on-the-spot choices.

Sourness — Pick acidic wines, like a dry German Riesling, red Sancerre or crisp Muscadet, for more acidic or citrus-flavored dishes, like salad or chicken Adobo. The two "sour" will cancel each other out, leaving only a pleasant, light combination in their place.

Sweetness — Sweet foods make sweet wine taste less sweet. A slightly sweet Australian Chardonnay may taste a bit odd with a piece of grilled tuna. However adding just a hint of sweetness to the fish, and the wine will seem wonderfully dry and crisp. On the other hand, a highly sweet dessert can turn a mildly sweet wine into something more like lemon juice. A good rule of thumb to go by here is to choose a dessert wine that is a little bit sweeter than the dessert itself.

Bitterness — Tannin, a substance found in grape skins, seeds and stems is responsible for the slightly bitter taste of many young red wines, like Cabernet. Served with grilled steak or rich tomato-based pasta sauces and savory Parmesan, the bitterness becomes smooth and beautiful.

Saltiness — Similar to the principles governing sourness, acidic, low-alcohol wines work best to relieve the saltiness of certain foods, like a Portuguese Vinho Verde or Galestro from Italy. Salut!

An array of spices add spark to traditional barbecue

With warm weather, flags waving and "bombs bursting in air," July ushers in the peak of barbecue season across America. Families from coast to coast are stoking the grill and serving up batches of backyard barbecue with all the trimmings — potato salad, watermelon, fresh lemonade and of course, ribs.

This season, serve 'em up with extra flair with this easy recipe for "Ginger-Soy" ribs, courtesy of "Nathalie Dupree's Comfortable Entertaining: At Home with Ease and Grace" (Viking), by Nathalie Dupree.

Ginger Soy Ribs

Serves 6

Baby back ribs — the smallest ribs from the pork back rib section — are good as finger food because they are more tender, don't become gummy-sticky and are small enough to be held in one hand. When purchasing, plan on 1-1/2 pounds of ribs per person for a main course 1/4-1/2 pound for an appetizer of baby backs.

- 1/4 cup soy sauce
- 2 cups rice wine vinegar
- 1/2 cup hoisin sauce
- 1/4 cup vegetable oil
- 4 teaspoons toasted sesame oil
- 1 to 2 teaspoons hot red pepper flakes
- 4 garlic cloves
- 1/4 cup finely chopped fresh ginger
- 2 tablespoons sugar

• 6 to 9 pounds baby back ribs

Heat the grill or grease a large pan with nonstick spray.

In the bowl of the food processor, combine the soy sauce, vinegar, hoisin sauce, vegetable oil, sesame oil, pepper flakes, garlic, ginger and sugar. Process until well-blended. Place in a zip-type 1- to 2-gallon plastic bag. Add the ribs to the mixture and seal. Shake to thoroughly coat. Marinate 30 minutes to overnight.

Remove the ribs from the marinade and place on the prepared grill or the baking pan. Pour the marinade into a small saucepan. Grill or broil the ribs, turning halfway through the cooking, until spotted with black and gold, done but slightly pink,

Add fireworks to your holiday barbecue with delicately spiced "Ginger-Soy Ribs".

10 to 12 minutes. Arrange the ribs on a serving platter or tray.

Bring the sauce to the boil, cook five minutes, and then pour over the ribs.

The ribs may be done in advance and reheated.

July is National Ice Cream Month, so enjoy a nice cold treat.

'Scream' for an all-time classic

The taste for ice cream must be virtually wired into the human genome. While no one is known to have invented it per se, it's a known fact that the origins of ice cream reach back to at least the second century B.C. Alexander the Great is said to have enjoyed snow and ice flavored with honey and nectar, and Marco Polo returned from a journey to Asia with a recipe that closely resembles what is now called sherbet.

The first ice cream ad in America appeared on May 12, 1777, in the New York Gazette. And in 1984, renown dessert lover Ronald Reagan declared July National Ice Cream Month.

In honor of "America's Favorite Sweet," whip up a batch of "Vanilla Bean Ice Cream with Cherry-Balsamico Topping" for your next summer get-together. Smooth, creamy and decadent, there's something about this dessert that seems as though it's just made for summer. Recipe courtesy of "Balsamico! A Balsamic Vinegar Cookbook."

Vanilla Bean Ice Cream with Cherry-Balsamico Topping
Serves 6

Other fruits can be substituted for the cherries — grapes are especially good.

- 2 cups whole milk
- 2 cups heavy cream
- 1 vanilla bean, halved lengthwise
- 6 egg yolks
- 3/4 cup granulated sugar

Cherry-Balsamico Topping:

- 1/2 cup Aceto Balsamico di Modena
- 1/2 cup apple juice
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon zest

• 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon

• 1 pound (about 3 cups) dark, sweet cherries, pitted and halved, or 8 ounces dried cherries

In the top of a double boiler, combine the milk and cream. Scrape the vanilla beans into the liquid, add the pod and heat to scalding over gently boiling water and cook over simmering water, stirring constantly, until the mixture coats the back of a wooden spoon. Let cool, then refrigerate for at least two hours. Then freeze in an ice cream maker according to the manufacturer's instructions.

To make the topping: In a medium saucepan, combine the aceto balsamico, apple juice, water, sugar, lemon zest and cinnamon. Bring to a boil, stirring to dissolve the sugar. Add the cherries and decrease heat to a simmer. Cook for 8 to 10 minutes or until the cherries are soft. Let cool to room temperature before serving.

OVIEDO FIREFIGHTER SHANE M. KELLY — JULY 8, 1975 TO JUNE 8, 2002

Lake Mary Fire Lt. Rick Fudge looks at firefighter Shane Kelly's memorial notice following Wednesday's funeral.

Honoring a Fallen Hero

By Michelle Jeria
Managing Editor

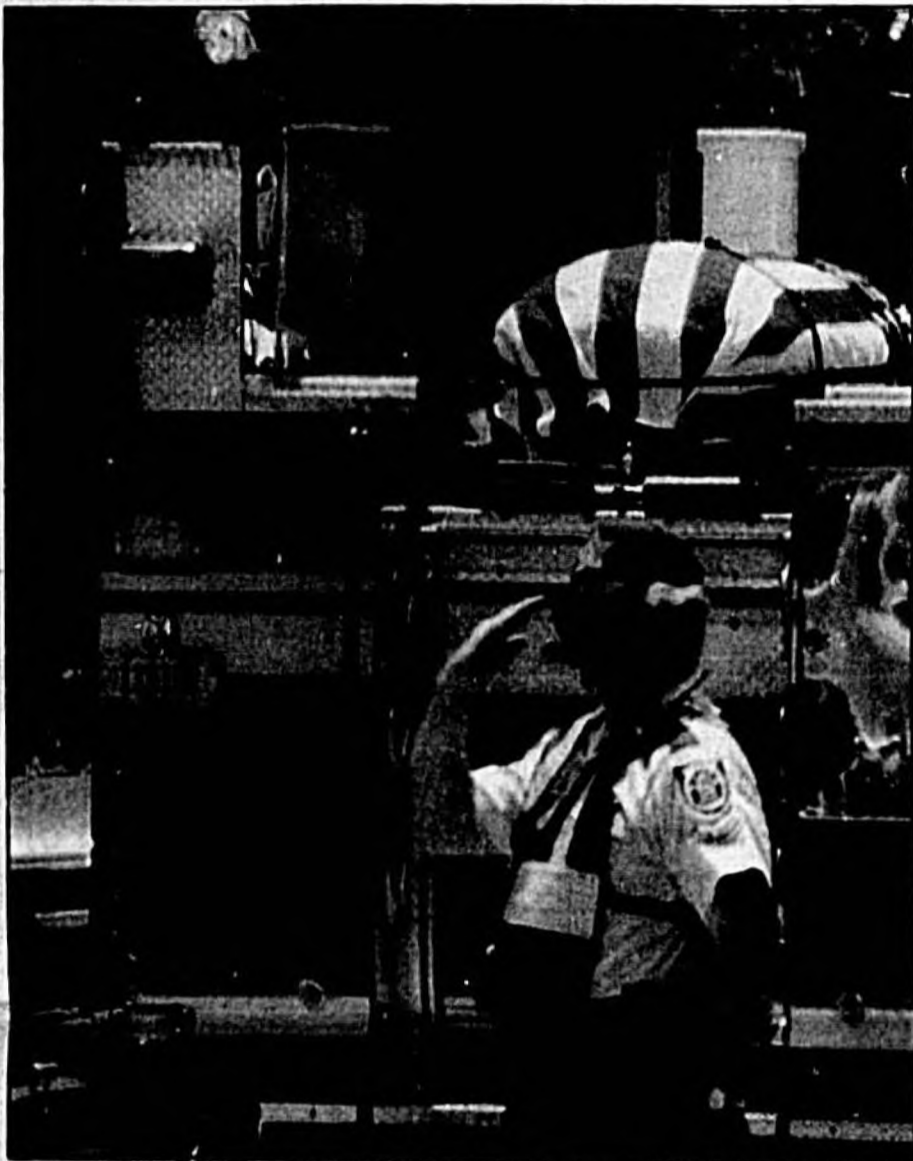

First Baptist Church of Oviedo is located just down the street from Fire Station No. 2.

The sanctuary's steeple can easily be seen from the station; and on Wednesday, six firefighters from Lake Mary and Winter Springs occasionally glanced its way with sadness in their eyes.

Hundreds of Shane Kelly's friends, family members and colleagues, along with firefighters and emergency workers from throughout Florida, were gathered in the church to pay their last respects to a fallen hero. Outside, the six men, including Lts. Skip Lazlo and Rick Fudge, Engineer/Paramedics Jim Monahan and Dave Hilliard and Firefighter/paramedics Ryan Cooper and Tom O'Neill, were on duty so their fellow brothers could mourn.

"We're here to show respect for the brotherhood and to allow the guys to go through the grieving process," Lt. Lazlo said. "It's a way to show respect for Shane and his family. If we weren't here, we'd be in there."

Pictured above, firefighters from Lake Mary and other Central Florida departments salute as Engine No. 46 passes Oviedo Fire Station No. 2. At right, motorcycle officers from Longwood, the Seminole County Sheriff's Office, Orange County and the Florida Highway Patrol lead the funeral procession to Orange County.

Pictured above, dozens of fire engines and rescue vehicles from throughout Central Florida lead the funeral procession, which traveled to Kelly's final resting place, Woodlawn Cemetery in west Orange County. At left, a memorial dedicated to Shane Kelly, who served as an Oviedo firefighter for more than three years, is written on a board outside the City of Oviedo Memorial Building. Kelly was killed Saturday, June 8, while assisting an accident on the Florida Turnpike. He was off-duty at the time of the accident.

"Everybody has a way of coping," Lt. Fudge added. "Our way of coping is working. For others, it was going to the funeral."

Kelly, 26, was killed June 8 when he was struck by a tractor-trailer after he stopped to help a couple trapped in an overturned pickup in the median of Florida's Turnpike near Wildwood. A firefighter for almost four years, he was traveling with his wife on the turnpike when he saw the accident.

Although off duty, Kelly, along with several others, stopped to render assistance. Minutes later, the tractor-trailer lost control on the wet roadway and hit an overturned car. The truck then hit the group of rescuers, killing Kelly and Dr. N. Donald Diebel Jr., and injuring four others.

On Monday, the Oviedo Fire Department put out a call to neighboring fire departments asking for assistance during Kelly's funeral. In response, the fire chiefs of Seminole County collectively offered to help cover the city and give additional support. Winter Springs sent a rescue unit, and Lake Mary sent a fire unit.

"Our brothers need time to grieve, but the city has to be covered," Lt. Fudge said. "What we do can never stop."

At about 12:30 p.m. Wednesday, the funeral procession left the church and traveled down South Central Avenue. Hundreds of emergency vehicles followed Engine 44, which carried Kelly's flag-draped coffin to Woodlawn Cemetery in west Orange County.

Standing outside Station No. 2, the firefighters from Lake Mary saluted when the truck carrying their fallen brother passed the building, which was adorned in black mourning ribbon. The men from Winter Springs were no longer there — they had been called out 10 minutes earlier on an emergency dispatch.

As for Kelly's heroic deed, none of his fellow colleagues have questioned why he decided to help others on a day he wasn't in uniform. That's just the type of person he was. It's how all the men and women in uniform are.

"I think in all of us there is an instinct," Lt. Lazlo said. "Even if we knew something was going to happen to us, we'd still do it."

Sixth annual event helps young women prepare for today's society

Evergreen Temple No. 321 of the Improved Benevolent Protective Order of Elks of the World invites the community to the sixth annual "Bud of Evergreen Cotillion" 5 p.m. Sunday, June 16, in the Sanford Civic Center.

The daughters of the Evergreen saw the need to help area middle and high school students groom themselves by participating in various workshops and seminars, where they are taught proper etiquette, social graces, money management, dressing for all occasions, dating, safety and job interviewing skills. The Buds are required to write a 500-word essay on a topic that deals with some of the issues and concerns young people face today.

Daughter Ruler Retha Baker and Daughter Gail Ford, the 2002 co-chairs, and members of the Temple encourage the community to attend the event and give their appreciation to local businesses for continued support in helping make the cotillion a success.

Buds vying for the title include Ashton Gaines, Vonetta Green, Jasmine Johnson, Jocelyn Johnson, Sandria Inman, Martice Pitts and Athenia Singleton.

Sanford's Air It Out Flag Football Tournament will be held Saturday, June 22, at Sanford's field across from Sanford Middle School (French Avenue) from 8:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m.

The continued efforts to provide and promote positive community development, to prevent and reduce alcohol, tobacco and other drug use and delinquency in the Sanford area is the goal of this event.

The Grove Counseling Center's Prevention Department, a 501-C (3), not for profit organization will team up with Sanford/Seminole Pop Warner Association to host the fund-raiser to help raise money for each organization.

I am pleased to announce this special community event, said coordinator Britt Henderson, who may be contacted at 407-687-8299 cell. Or call Calvin Davis at 407-687-4124.

Henderson says Air It Out gives a unique and great opportunity for families, friends and communities to come together and enjoy a day of entertainment provided by past high school and college stars including former high school all-Americans, Black College All Americans and some semi-pro and Arena-2 ex-players.

This great event will promote community togetherness, establish good communication skills and structured community entertainment.

Donations will be accepted. Team fees will be $250 for tournament champions. Fees are payable to Sanford's Flag Football Tournament, attn: Britt Henderson (The Grove)

1550 South French Avenue, Sanford Fl. 32771.

Seven on seven flag football money tournament elimination is Saturday, June 22.

Enter your team as soon as possible. There will be T-shirts, trophies, and $1,000 cash for the champs.

Fathers get free zoo admission

In celebration of Fathers Day, the Central Florida Zoological Park will offer free admission on Sunday, June 16, to dads that are accompanied by their children. Visitors can see the Zoo's hard-working fathers and enjoy animal demonstrations and feeding programs.

Programs scheduled for the day include the Elephant Demonstration at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m., Snapping Turtle Demonstration at 11:20 a.m. and 2:20 p.m., Hippo Demonstration at 11:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m., Bird Training Demonstration at 2:30 p.m., Feline Feeding Program at 3:00 p.m., and Primate Feeding Program at 3:30 p.m.

Some of the most popular animal dads visitors can see include the spider monkey and wreathed hornbill. The 20-year old spider monkey helps his young ones develop with hours of playful activities each day. The wreathed hornbill dad stays busy by providing nutritious meals for his mate and their hatchling.

For more information, call 407-323-4450, ext. 149, or visit the Zoo's website at www.centralfloridazoo.org. The Zoo is open daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and is located at 3755 NW Highway 17-92 in Sanford. Admission is $7 for adults, $3 for children 3-12 years, $4 for seniors 60 and over, and free for children 2 and under and Zoo members.

Girl Scouts attend organization's 90th anniversary

It was a long, miserable 16-hour bus ride, but, in the end, it was worth it. Thirty-five Girl Scouts from Seminole County traveled with other girls from Central Florida to Washington, D.C., to celebrate the 90th anniversary of Girl Scouts. The theme for this year's celebration was "Still Singing After All These Years."

Mary Rowell

The Girl Scouts from Seminole County joined Girl Scouts from all over the nation at the Washington Mall on June 8 for the national celebration. More than 120,000 Girl Scouts gathered for the event held in the shadow of the Washington Monument. That's a record gathering for Girl Scouts; thirty thousand more than attended the 85th Anniversary. Since it was an all afternoon, outdoor event, there were very few uniforms. Instead, most troops chose to wear matching T-shirts to make it easier to keep up with the girls. There were clusters of blue, red, orange, yellow ... every color imaginable covering the ground at the base of the Washington Monument.

It is a custom with Girl Scouts to exchange SWAPS. SWAPS means "Small Whatchamacallits Affectionately Pinned Somewhere," "Share With Another Person" or "Share With A Pal," depending on whom you talk to. While the concert was going on, many of the girls just walked around trading their SWAPS with other girls. There were many Girl Scout themed SWAPS and many patriotic ones, making the predominant colors of the SWAPS being pinned to hats, T-shirts and bags, red, white, blue and green!

The Girl Scouts attending the Celebration were given songbooks so that they could sing along. The books had autograph pages in the back and many of the girls walked around trying to get signatures from as many states as they could. This wasn't your average sing-along. Special guests for the celebration included The Chantels, Michelle Shocked and a few members of the Washington Mystics WNBA team. Of course, as with any event, a great deal of thanks goes out to the organizers. The sing-along was organized by the Mid-Atlantic Girl Scout Councils, a cluster of seven councils in and around the nation's capital. For the Girl Scouts from Central Florida, longtime Girl Scout volunteer Barbara Dangleman organized the trip to DC.

Before and after the concert, there were very few tourists places you could go in Washington without seeing Girl Scouts. The most popular places were the Smithsonian Air and Space Museum, the Smithsonian Natural History Museum, the National Zoo (part of the Smithsonian), the Capital, the Lincoln Memorial, the Vietnam Memorial (both of these were a short walk from the sing-along, so they were crowded with Girl Scouts before, during and after!) and, of course, the White House.

According to the girls from Seminole County who went to the sing-along, the only bad thing about the trip besides the 16-hour bus ride to Washington, was the 16-hour bus ride home!

Thousands of Girl Scouts from across the nation, including Seminole County, gathered in Washington, D.C., to celebrate the 90th anniversary of the organization.

Call Him Dr.

Proud graduates are showing off brand new diplomas these days. Not to be overlooked is the Rev. Jim Bradshaw, pastor of the First United Methodist Church. The personable minister has added "Dr." to his title. On May 26 he received the Doctorate of Ministry degree from Asbury Theological Seminary and is holding his head high.

The Rev. Dr. Jim Bradshaw said, "It took me six years to do it. I'm happy I have received it."

On a recent Sunday following the 11 a.m. worship service, the pastor and his family, wife Anne and children, Stephen and Joanna were honored at a reception at the church. The Bradshaws are happy they have been assigned to First Church for another term. And the church is happy about that, too.

Rubye Missed

Sanford still misses Rubye King, a hard-working community activist. After the death of her husband, the Rev. Leo King, Rubye moved to Newberry to be near her family.

Rubye is on the puny list in case friends may want to know. Her address is: 12235 7th Lane NW, Newberry, FL 32661.

Zoysia grass' popularity growing in the yards of Central Florida

There is a renewed interest for Zoysia grass for home lawns in Florida. Zoysia grass produces a high quality turf but requires a high level of maintenance.

In general, zoysia grasses are well adapted to a variety of soils and have good tolerance to shade, salt, and traffic. Once established, they provide an extremely dense sod that resists weed invasion, and their slow growth reduces the frequency of mowing.

Most zoysia grasses can only be propagated vegetatively, are extremely slow to establish, and all form a heavy thatch that will require periodic renovation. Other disadvantages found on older varieties include slow recovery from damage, poor growth on compacted soils, high fertility requirements, and poor drought tolerance. Some varieties are also prone to damage by nematodes, hunting billbugs, and several diseases.

Two species of Zoysia grasses are commonly used as in lawns, Z. japonica and Z. matrella. Zoysia japonica, also called Japanese or Korean lawngrass, is a very coarse textured grass with hairy, light green leaves. Of all the zoysia grasses, this species has a faster growth rate and exhibits excellent cold tolerance. Zoysia japonica is the only zoysia grass for which seed is commercially available.

Al Ferrer

The seeded varieties generally do not produce as high quality turf as do the vegetatively propagated varieties. Meyer, Belaire, Crowne, El Toro, Empire, and Palisades are some of the best known varieties of this grass. Meyer zoysia grass, also called Z-52 or 'Amazoy', is an improved selection of Zoysia japonica released in 1951.

'Meyer' is the zoysia grass often advertised as the "miracle" grass in newspapers and magazines and has long been the standard zoysia grass in use. It has a deep green color, medium leaf texture, and spreads much faster than other varieties, although it produces few rhizomes. 'Meyer' makes an excellent turf once established. It is less shade tolerant than 'Emerald', but is one of the most cold tolerant zoysia grasses. Hunting billbugs and nematodes limit the use of 'Meyer' in Florida.

Zoysia matrella, also called Manila grass, produces a finer and denser turf than Zoysia japonica but is less winter-hardy and slower growing. Manila grass resembles bermuda grass in texture, color and quality and is recommended for a high-quality, high-maintenance turf where a slow rate of establishment is not a disadvantage. Some varieties of Zoysia matrella are highly susceptible to damage by nematodes.

Culture

With one exception, zoysia grasses must be planted vegetatively, by sod, plugs, or sprigs. Zoysia japonica is the only species for which seed is commercially available. For central Florida, apply 3 to 6 pounds of nitrogen per 1,000 sq. feet/year. Fertilizer should be applied to zoysia grass in 3 to 6 applications from spring greenup through fall. If fertilized as recommended, zoysia grasses will require frequent mowing during the summer to look their best.

Zoysia japonica should be mowed every seven to 10 days, or when it reaches a height of 3 to 4 inches. It should be mowed at a height of 2 to 3 inches with a rotary mower. 'Meyer' zoysia grass looks best when cut at 1 to 2 inches every 10 to 14 days, or when it reaches a height of 2 to 2.5 inches, using a reel mower. 'Emerald' and Manila grass should be cut with a reel mower at 1 inch every 10 to 14 days, or when they reach a height of greater than 1.5 inches. Because zoysia grass leaves are very coarse, they can be quite difficult to mow. A sharp, well-adjusted rotary or reel mower should be used.

Zoysia grasses require watering especially if parasitized by nematodes, which greatly restrict the root system. During prolonged droughts, watering zoysia grass every other day may be necessary. Irrigation on an as-needed basis is an excellent way to water any grass, provided the proper amount of water is applied when needed.

When using this approach, water at the first sign of wilt and apply less than an inch water per application.

Woman's club doles out dollars and awards as year ends

Everything was coming up roses at the June meeting of the Sanford Woman's Club.

The hostesses used a potpourri of roses to decorate vantage points and the dining tables which were accented with pink and white accessories.

It was a busy, eventful day: Induction of new members took place, officers for 2002-03 were installed, scholarships were presented and checks to charities were passed out. And they were all invited to lunch.

Mindy Tooley, second vice president, presented each of the four new members with a red rose after inducting them into club membership. The new members include: Carolyn Black, Barbara Rasmussen, Darlene Jalowsky and Cynthia Moody. Mary Childers was reinstated as a club member.

Ann Brisson, a former club president, spoke about a photograph she received from the Mount Dora Woman's Club. The photograph, a B-52 Mitchell Bomber, has "Sanford Woman's Club" printed on the nose and is believed to have been snapped in 1942. Ears perked up and several members speculated the origin of the historical find, but nobody has any accurate information. The background will be searched and the memento will probably be presented to the Airport Memorial.

President Betty Jack presided over the business meeting, the final session of her administration wearing a sweetheart red dress complemented with a red and white corsage. During the past two years, the club has donated more than $5,000 to charitable endeavors.

She presented checks to the following for their organizations: Patty Mahany, Sanford Airport Memorial; DeLores Lash, SafeHouse of Seminole; Nancy Julian, Seminole High School Health Academy; Barbara Catz, American Cancer Society; Jeanie Stars, Multiple Sclerosis Society; Irene Brown, Sanford Christian Sharing Center; Sherry Fincher, Meals on Wheels; and Sherri Blank, Hospice of the Comforter. Also receiving checks were the Sanford Police Department DARE Program, Sanford Museum and Special Olympics.

Peggy Mergo, education department chair, explained that in 1995-96, the club committed to donate $300 annually to three students in the fifth grade under the "Investing in our Future" scholarship program. Each student signed a contract, and upon graduating from high school, will receive a two-year Florida Prepaid Scholarship.

Myrna Marrero, sponsored by the club and a guest at the meeting, has kept her commitment and will be a senior next fall. The club presented a check for $300 to Lisa Reineck, coordinator of the Investing in our Future program, administered by The Foundation for Seminole County Public Schools Inc.

Mergo also presented scholarships from the club to Diane Suddes and Eugenia Butler, both students at Seminole Community College. Suddes, who has been married for 23 years, spent her early years caring for her children and getting them on the right track. In 2001 she decided to enroll in SCC to pursue her goal in social work. She is enrolled in the honors program and has a 4.0 grade point average.

Butler is a single mother of three children. A certified hair stylist for 11 years, she decided to take her career to a new level and enrolled at SCC where her ultimate goal is a degree in advertising/public relations. Butler still works 40 hours as a hair stylist on weekends plus 20 hours a week at SCC as part of her work study program.

Accompanying the deserving students were Lady Cox, coordinator of the SCC Foundation, and Pam Webber, director of the SCC Foundation.

Using links in a chain, President Jack installed the following officers: Mindy Tooley, president; Phyllis Hodge, first vice president; Helen Polgar, second vice

Old Truths for a New Day

Research shows fathers play a critical role in their children's lives

QUESTION: Why don't behavioral scientists see the important need for a father to be an active component in a son's life and report their findings to us?
DR. DOBSON: Behavioral scientists have only recently begun to understand how critical fathers are to the healthy development of both boys and girls. According to psychiatrist Kyle Pruett, the author of "Fatherhood" (Broadway Books, $13), dads are as important to children as moms, but in a very different way. Here are other surprising findings that have emerged from careful research on the role of fathers:

• There is an undeniable linkage between fathers and babies beginning at birth.
• Infants as young as 6 weeks old can differentiate between a mother's and a father's voice.
• By 8 weeks, babies can distinguish between their mother's and their father's caretaking methods.

• Infants are born with a drive to find and connect to their fathers. As they begin to speak, their word for "father" often precedes their word for "mother." The reasons for this are unknown.

• Toddlers are especially obvious in their assertions of "fatherhood": they will seek out their father, ask for him when he's not present, be fascinated when he talks to them on the phone, and investigate every part of his body if allowed.
• Teen-agers express fatherhood in yet more complex ways, competing with their father and confronting his values, beliefs and, of course, limits. For so many sons and daughters, it is only at the death of the father that they discover the intensity and longevity of their fatherhood, especially when it has gone begging.

While children of all ages — both male and female — have an innate need for contact with their fathers, let me emphasize again that boys suffer most from the absence or noninvolvement of fathers. According to the National Center for Children in Poverty,

James Dobson

Vacation Bible School
Pinecrest Baptist Church will host its Vacation Bible School Sunday, June 23 through Thursday, June 27, from 6:30 to 9 p.m. nightly.

The theme for the event is an Amazon adventure and will include Bible stories, crafts, music and rain forest fun. Children ages 4 to 12 in grades Pre-K through sixth, are invited to attend.

The church is located at 601 E. Airport Blvd., in Sanford. For more information, call the church at 407-322-3737.

Vacation Bible School
First Baptist Church Markham Woods, located at 5400 Markham Woods Road in Lake Mary, invites all children ages 3 through grade six to participate in its annual Vacation Bible School July 22 through July 26, 6:30 to 8:55 p.m. nightly. A Vacation Bible School musical will be presented 7 p.m. Sunday, July 28.

Built around an Amazon adventure expedition, the week will be full of Bible stories, a lagoon of crafts, music and rain forest related refreshments and recreation.

During the same week, teen-agers will experience Vacation Bible School with Bible study and special activities planned just for them. Admission is free and open to everyone. For more information, call 407-333-2085.

boys without fathers are twice as likely to drop out of school, twice as likely to go to jail, and nearly four times as likely to need treatment for emotional and behavioral problems as boys with fathers. Repeatedly during my review of the latest research for this book, I came face-to-face with the same disturbing issue. Boys are in trouble today primarily because their parents, and especially their dads, are distracted, overworked, harassed, exhausted, uninterested, chemically dependent, divorced or simply unable to cope. As indicated above, all other problems plaguing young males flow from (or are related to) these facts of life in the 21st century. Chief among our concerns is the absence of masculine role modeling and mentoring that dads should be providing. Mothers, who also tend to be living on the ragged edge, are left to do a job for which they have had little training or experience. Having never been boys, women often have only a vague notion of how to go about rearing one. Boys are the big losers when families splinter. The National Center on Addiction and Substance Abuse at Columbia University found that children living in two-parent families who had only a fair or poor relationship with their fathers were at 68 percent higher risk of smoking, drinking, and drug use than teens having a good or excellent relationship with dads. By comparison, children growing up in a home headed by a single mother who had an excellent relationship with their mothers had a 62 percent lower risk of abusing substances than children living in a two-parent family with a fair or poor relationship with their father. The influence of a good father can hardly be overemphasized. Dr. William Pollock, Harvard psychologist and author of "Real Boys" (Owl Books, $15), concludes that divorce is difficult for children of both sexes but it is devastating for males. He says the basic problem is the lack of discipline and supervision in the father's absence and his unavailability to teach what it means to be a man. Pollock also believes fathers are crucial in helping boys to manage their emotions. As we have seen, without the guidance and direction of a father, a boy's frustration often leads to varieties of violence and other antisocial behavior. *****
