Parks Reorganization Weeks From Completion

By MICHAEL BEHA
Herald Staff Writer

The reorganization of Seminole County's Parks and Recreation Division will probably not be completed for several weeks, Director of Public Services and Development John Percy said.

Percy said he and other staff officials are examining alternatives in restructuring the parks, maintenance and recreation divisions to increase supervision of workers and distribution of materials.

A report compiled by Percy, Personnel Director Lois Martin and Assistant County Administrator Jim Easton said a morale problem existed within the parks division that was caused by the perception of favoritism to some employees.

"The potential exists for the perception of favoritism, abuse or illegal practices in various moonlighting activities and involvement in off-duty projects," the report said.

The parks division has been besieged with problems since the arrest in July of John Varney, facility and parks coordinator, for improper use of county labor and materials.

Varney still faces trial on charges of authorizing the purchase of electrical wiring and ordering a county employee to install the wiring in fellow employee Johnnie Butler's trailer; authorizing a county worker to build a doll house for Mrs. Butler; authorizing county workers to make repairs to Varney's truck and authorizing county workers to use scrap material to construct a motorcycle trailer.

Mrs. Butler later resigned and pleaded guilty to a charge of malfeasance for receiving the doll house and the electrical work.

Several parks division employees were involved in the sheriff's department probe that led to the arrest of Varney and Mrs. Butler and claimed that county officials were not doing anything to correct the problems within the division.

One of the workers involved in the probe, Bill Solitto, an air conditioning technician, was fired for falsifying his job application. Another worker involved in the probe, Gary Hess, resigned to take a job at a local hospital.

Last week, Butch Alexander, manager of the Parks and Recreation Division, resigned. The latest person to resign is Henderson Ferguson, a 19-year county employee, who was a supervisor in the division.

Ferguson was only a few months short of having 20 years of service but Cindy Wright in the county's Personnel Department said Ferguson will not be penalized since the county's retirement plan covers anyone who works 10 years or more for the county.

Alexander was replaced by Leonard Carswell, director of the Manpower office. Ferguson has been replaced by Dan Peters and Harry Radel, employees within the division. Tom Ticconi, who took over Varney's post after his firing, has been reassigned.

Percy said Carswell, Peters and Radel will remain in the interim posts until the reorganization is complete and probably past the end of the year.

Lack Of Funds May Kill Firm's Move Here

San-Del Manufacturing, which planned to build a sportswear manufacturing facility in the Port of Sanford, will probably not locate there, the director of the Seminole County Port Authority said Wednesday.

Dennis Dolgner told port authority members, "The odds of this industry locating in the Port of Sanford are less than 5 percent."

Dolgner said the port authority is "just unable to complete the project."

He cited a lack of loan money available from local banks as the reason the investment package could not be worked out.

Dolgner first announced in July that San-Del would be locating in the port complex, west of Sanford. The port authority had proposed a tax-free bond sale to finance construction of a $307,000 building to house the company's operations.

But uncertainty in the bond market and fluctuating interest rates worked against the proposal. Dolgner contacted 11 local banks between July and September. None were interested in the package.

Later efforts to arrange financing with insurance companies and out-of-state banks also were unsuccessful.

Abel Muse, president of the company, even visited Seminole County to look for alternative financing for the project, but no institutions were willing to finance the project at an interest rate near the prime rate, Dolgner said.

"The only thing available is high-risk venture capital," he said. High-risk financing is usually several interest points above the prime interest rate.

He said the port authority is out of alternatives unless the banks change their stance on financing the project.

In the meantime, San-Del is looking for another site in Seminole County, Dolgner said.

The firm would employ between 80 and 100 employees and the state Department of Education already has approved a project to train San-Del employees at Seminole Community College.

Board members agreed to a lease with Ceramic Tiles Unlimited, a Lakeland firm, for 4,000 square feet in one of the port's buildings.

The space will be used for storage and distribution to the firm's four sales locations in the state. There will be no impact on employment.

The lease brings the port's property up to full capacity.

Dolgner said another firm renting space at the port, St. John's Petroleum Co., has closed its operations from the port.

"As of two weeks ago, St. John's Petroleum has ceased sending shipments of fuel out of the Port of Sanford," he said.

Judge Challenges DUI Test Rule

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

State prosecutors say they'll appeal a Seminole County judge's ruling that a section of Florida's new drunken driving law is unconstitutional prohibiting them from telling a jury that a defendant refused to submit to a chemical test to determine blood-alcohol content.

County Judge Alan A. Dickey ruled Tuesday that a defendant's refusal to submit to a Breathalyzer test is inadmissible evidence and cannot be used against him in court. He said such evidence could prejudice the jury against the defendant.

Dickey further stated in his ruling that an admission of such information in court is a violation of the defendant's rights under the U.S. and state constitutions. He said such an admission violates the defendant's right to due process under the 14th Amendment of the U.S. Constitution, right against self-incrimination under the Fifth Amendment of the U.S. Constitution and right to protection against search and seizure under the Fourth Amendment of the U.S. Constitution.

Dickey added that allowing such evidence in court violates the defendant's rights under the state constitution, which parallels the U.S. Constitution provisions.

However, Dickey's order does not challenge the section of the law which requires suspension of the defendant's driving

Double Tax Agreement Is Reached

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

At the conclusion of a three-hour final meeting on double taxation Wednesday, and with one city representative threatening to bolt from Seminole's seven-city united front, compromise was reached.

The compromise was to stop consideration of a double taxation lawsuit in the courts for the time being. Instead, the committee unanimously agreed to look to the Seminole County Commission to voluntarily solve the lack of "real and substantial benefits" in the Sheriff's Department road patrol and investigations within the county's seven cities.

The county is to be asked to agree by Jan. 15 to work toward solving the situation in the way they consider best and in time for that solution to be included in the 1983-84 fiscal year budget.

The committee agreed if it does not receive a commitment from the county by the January deadline to solve the problem, it will reconvene to consider other action, possibly in the courts.

The committee expects to hear proposals from the county commissioners by May 1 on how they will solve the inequity and how the solution will appear in its 1983-84 budget. The committee will meet again June 1 to consider the proposals.

Individual committee members indicated while they will leave the choice of solutions to the county commissioners, they prefer that the county create a "municipal service taxing district" in the unincorporated areas to pay for the Sheriff's Department road patrols and much of its investigation work.

The compromise was reached after Altamonte Springs City Manager and former Assistant County Administrator Jeff Etchberger said that considering both double taxation and equity in taxing, the situation "is dead even", adding the possibility of a "court case is splitsville."

The only county functions where the cities could possibly contend double taxation, Etchberger said, would be in the two areas of the Sheriff's Department, adding this had been his position since the committee began meetings in early September.

Etchberger set his position Wednesday after county budget analyst Pam Hastings displayed a chart contending that cities receive benefits at the expense of residents in the unincorporated areas.

Dick Kelton of Kelton Associates in DeLand argued against the accuracy of the Hastings chart, saying it was based on factors not recognized in state law and had nothing to do with the issue of double taxation as defined in the law and as interpreted in a special legislative committee report — and in case law.

The Kelton firm was hired by the cities to study the issue of double taxation in the county.

"Big bucks lie on the table with the sheriff," Etchberger said.

Sanford City Manager W. E. "Pete" Knowles counseled the cities that court action should be a last resort. "I would prefer to see something negotiated outside the court," he said, as city representatives disagreed with Etchberger's statements.

Knowles said the inequities in the county law enforcement service within cities could be cleared up in several fashions.

Etchberger continued that it would be a "waste of my taxpayers' and my city's dollars to pursue legally" the double taxation issue at this time.

Etchberger said the county has cleared up over the past two years several areas of what might have been considered double taxation by creating taxing districts in unincorporated areas for road

Goats Stay In Orange County

'Goat Lady' Loses Court Appeal; Seeks Rehearing

Mrs. Ingeborg Morris, who has become known in Seminole County as the "Goat Lady," lost her case in the Fifth District Court of Appeal Wednesday when the Daytona Beach court affirmed a local order that she cannot keep her pet goats at her Lake Brantley home.

Mrs. Morris said today she will ask the appellate court to rehear the case. She has 15 days to do so. She said she will not hire an attorney to represent her in this new appeal, however.

"It has cost me over $3,000 for lawyers for nothing," she said of her two-year-old fight with Seminole County, trying to keep the herd of pygmy goats that she considers pets at her Oak Drive home.

"Those lawyers swallow too much money for nothing," she said, adding that the appellate court decision, "is news to me."

Mrs. Morris said throughout her trials with Seminole County over the zoning issue of whether she can keep the goats in the residential area, she has been confused about the law and what she is and is not allowed to do. "In a free country," she believes the goats are pets. The county considers the goats as livestock.

An immigrant from Germany, she became an American citizen in 1963. She said she had her first goat at her home in December, 1978 and after it died, bought another in January, 1979.

She was ordered by the county to remove the goats from the premises after nearby homeowners two years ago complained that the animals violate county law forbidding livestock in residential areas.

During her fight about the animals which are now being kept at an Orange County farm, her appeals have been denied by the Seminole County Planning and Zoning Commission and the County Commission. She also has been through the courtrooms of County Judge Alan Dickey and Circuit Judges Kenneth Leffler, Robert McGregor and finally Vernon Mize.

Mize ruled on Aug. 7, 1981, the goats are livestock and ordered Mrs. Morris to remove them. When they were not removed in a timely fashion, Mize cited her for contempt of court and she spent four days in jail until a friend took the goats to an Orange County farm.

Mrs. Morris said today a friend gave her another herd of goats to care for at the Orange County farm and she has sold 10 of those, and lost another 12 through theft or by their being run over with vehicles.

"I've got to sell some more to raise money," she said. Mrs. Morris earns her living by "caring for older people" in her home or in their homes, she said today.

Since her problems with her neighbors over the animals, she has put her house up for sale, but no prospective buyers have presented themselves, she said.

Of the appeals she has been through, Mrs. Morris said while she speaks and understands English, she does not know court language and the process has been confusing.

IN BRIEF

Reporters Must Testify In Belushi Death Probe

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Two National Enquirer reporters whose story triggered a grand jury investigation into comic John Belushi's drug overdose death have been ordered to reveal details about an interview with Cathy Evelyn Smith.

Superior Court Judge Julius Leetham ruled Wednesday the reporters were not protected by California's shield law, which protects news sources, because the tabloid had already turned over tapes and transcripts of the Smith interview.

If they refuse to tell the grand jury the circumstances of their interview, the judge said, reporters Tony Brenna and Larry Haley could be held in contempt of court.

Miss Smith said in the Enquirer interview that she injected Belushi with the fatal speedball mixture of cocaine and heroin. Belushi died last March in a rented Chateau Marmont bungalow.

Ex-CIA Agent Convicted

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (UPI) — A federal jury took just 4½ hours to decide former CIA agent Edwin Wilson was a rogue arms merchant who sold guns to Libyan military officials, not a "spy who was left out in the cold."

The seven-woman, five-man jury returned guilty verdicts Wednesday on seven of eight counts accusing Wilson of illegally exporting four handguns and a Colt M-16 automatic rifle from the United States to Libyan intelligence and army officials in 1979.

He was acquitted of transferring arms across state lines. The former spy faces three other trials in Washington and Houston on charges of conspiracy to murder a Libyan dissident on a $1 million "hit" contract, illegally exporting 44,000 pounds of Army-controlled plastic explosives and bomb devices to Libya. Wilson also is charged with recruiting former Green Berets to teach terrorists in the North African country how to use the explosives and weaponry.

U.S. District Judge Richard Williams scheduled sentencing for Dec. 17 on the charges, which carry penalties of up to 39 years in prison and up to $240,000 in fines.

POWs Return From Angola

NEW YORK (UPI) — Three Americans released from Angolan prisons in a multi-national prisoner-of-war swap had tearful reunions with family, and one who sought "romance and adventure" as a mercenary said he faced a firing squad three times.

Geoffrey Tyler, 28, of Seabrook, Mo., a pilot, and mercenaries Gustavo Grillo, 33, of Toms River, N.J., and Gary Acher, 28, of Sacramento, Calif., arrived on a TWA jet from Paris Wednesday. The three were whisked away to private reunions with families and friends.

Soccer, Golden Games Set For Cable TV Friday

Subscribers to Orange-Seminole Cable television will have an opportunity Friday night to view two Seminole County programs — activities of the Seminole Soccer Club and the Golden Age Games.

Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce President Jack Horner said the cablevision company will carry the soccer club activity from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Friday and the 1982 Golden Age Games activity from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Cablevision Channel A.

New Housing Starts Up Slightly

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The national rate of new housing construction climbed by 1 percent in October, far less than expected by experts but enough to fuel hopes of the construction industry.

The Commerce Department announcement of the new rate Wednesday showed modest improvement builders hope will signal an industry-wide recovery.

The bench-mark annual rate of housing starts reached 1.122 million last month, the department reported.

The improvement was far less than expected by industry experts. They looked to the month's 17.8 percent increase in new building permits as an indicator the industry might begin to see a sustained recovery.

September's 14.4 percent increase in housing starts, hailed by President Reagan as a sign "America is on the move again," was revised sharply downward to 7.6 percent. Most of the September improvement was due to a surge of about 30,000 federally subsidized projects reaching the construction phase under programs that are expiring.

Mark Riedy, executive vice president of the Mortgage Bankers Association, said he sees improvement, but only because buyers thought in October mortgage interest rates were not going to go down much further.

"They are no longer waiting," he said. "But that alone can't sustain a recovery. To continue that kind of recovery will take an overall recovery in the U.S. economy."

The news was worse in the industrial sector. The nation's recession-hobbled factories operated at just 68.4 percent of their capacity last month, the lowest rate since records were first kept in 1948, the Federal Reserve Board reported Wednesday.

There is evidence the total capacity of such industries as steel and oil is shrinking, a Federal Reserve analyst said.

The auto industry slipped to an operating rate of just 49.7 percent in October, above its recession low of 43.7 percent in January but far below the operating rate of 61.3 percent as recently as July, the Fed said.

The October capacity utilization rate was eight-tenths of a percentage point under the September rate that took it under the 69 percent low point recorded during the last decade's most serious recession of 1974-75.

In New York, the stock market rebounded from three consecutive drubbings.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which skidded 13.43-point points Tuesday and 46.73 the previous three sessions, climbed 19.50 to 1,027.50 with a late surge. It has gained or lost an average of 16.91 points the past eight sessions.

Lake Brantley, Crooms To Get New Gym Floors

By MICHAEL BEHA
Herald Staff Writer

Projects to replace gymnasium floors at Lake Brantley High School near Longwood and Crooms High School in Sanford were approved this week by Seminole County school board members.

Board members approved a request to fund the repairs to the Lake Brantley floor from the school district special maintenance fund.

Bids will be accepted to replace the two floors.

Lake Brantley's floor is a composite material similar to tartan turf, Superintendent Robert Hughes said. "It may even have been put in upside down."

Hughes said the floor has been blamed for many injuries in the gym.

The surface will be replaced by a wooden floor, which assistant superintendent Benny Arnold said should last indefinitely. He said the cost of the floor should be about $33,000.

Lake Brantley Principal Darwin Boothe said repairs to leaks at the school have been taken care of by a contractor. The gym has been a trouble spot, he said.

"It hasn't leaked for at least four months," Boothe said. "That's news at Lake Brantley."

The floor at Crooms will be replaced through funds from an insurance settlement on storm damage at the school.

An April storm caused damage at several schools. The Crooms floor was ruined because of water damage incurred in the storm.

Arnold said the projects will be bid together in the hope that a better price can be obtained.

The board also approved alterations to classrooms at Rock Lake Middle School in Longwood.

The rooms currently have sliding doors and partitions between them. The alterations include permanent doors and walls which will make classrooms self-contained.

Board member William Kroll expressed concern at the request.

"It's a shame to continually be doing this, building schools and then altering them," he said.

Arnold said a team of state officials will be in Seminole County in December to rework educational specifications for classrooms.

He said the officials will work out the specifications needed for elementary and middle schools planned for construction within the next few years.

Arnold added that changes to the existing schools are routine. "They met the wishes of the board when they were built."

Board members also approved the installation of fans at Jackson Heights Middle School in Oviedo and Pine Crest Elementary School in Sanford.

The PTAs at the two schools are financing the projects which will place ceiling fans in parts of the schools.

Twenty fans with lights for Jackson Heights' cafeteria will cost $3,500 and will be installed by the county maintenance department.

At Pine Crest, 30 fans will be put in the cafeteria, kitchen and auditorium at a cost of $5,592.90.

The board also accepted paving projects at Lake Howell and Oviedo high schools and Sabal Point, English Estates, Lawton, Eastbrook, Winter Springs, Spring Lake and Lake Mary elementary schools along with Rosenwald Exceptional Child Center.

Casselberry Woman Tied Up, Robbed

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

A Casselberry woman told Seminole County sheriff's deputies that she was bound, gagged and robbed by a gunman who entered her home through a bedroom window Wednesday night.

Grace Beckett, 50, of 1910 Semoran North Apartments, told deputies she was in her kitchen and had just hung up the telephone when she heard a noise at about 10:15 p.m. Mrs. Beckett said she went to the front door and opened it. Finding no one there, she returned to her bedroom, deputies said.

Mrs. Beckett told deputies that she noticed the bedroom door, which had previously been open, was closed. Deputies said she entered the room and was met by a man who pointed a handgun at her and told her, "If you make a noise, I'll kill you."

Mrs. Beckett told deputies the man asked her where she kept her money and jewelry and she told him she didn't have any. The gunman also asked her where her husband was and she told him that he had gone to the store, deputies said.

Deputies said the armed robber then put a hand towel around his face and led Mrs. Beckett to the bathroom where he said he was going to lock her up. But, the man then forced her to lie face down on the bed, gagged her with a nightgown, tied her hands behind her back with a bathrobe belt and pulled the sheet over her head threatening to kill her if she moved.

Mrs. Beckett told deputies she then heard the man talking to two other men who were standing outside her apartment window, adding that one of the men was called "Fred." The thief then searched the apartment, stealing an undisclosed amount of property before leaving, deputies said.

Once Mrs. Beckett felt sure the gunman had fled, she managed to unlock the front door and, by using her head to push the doorknob on a neighbor's door, sought help, deputies said.

$2,000 SWIPED FROM SAFE

Someone broke into a south Seminole County business between 6 p.m. Sunday and 9 a.m. Monday and stole about $2,000 cash from the store safe.

Robert A. Hicks, 35, owner of Contemporary Gardens at 2035 U.S. Highway 17-92, told deputies that there were no signs that the thieves forced their way into the building and that it appears they used keys and knew the safe combination.

TOOLS TAKEN FROM TRAILER

Someone stole about $1,065 worth of tools from a trailer at the Landings construction site between 4:45 p.m. Monday and 7 a.m. Tuesday.

Police said the thieves entered the trailer at 1800 W. First St. and stole power saws, cords and boxes of nails.

Arson Suspected In Three House Fires

State and city officials are continuing their probe today into three suspected arson fires which destroyed one Sanford house and damaged two others.

Sanford firefighters responded to three fire alarms at about 11:25 p.m. Wednesday at 1511 Southwest Road, 2108 W. 16th St. and 2108½ W. 16th St. They were assisted by Seminole County firefighters.

According to fire officials, all of the houses were vacant and no one was injured in the blazes.

Firefighters said the structure at 2108 W. 16th St. was destroyed by fire, while the house at 2108½ W. 16th St. was

SANFORD WOMAN ROBBED

A Sanford woman told police she was robbed by a man who grabbed her as she got out of her car near 12th Street and Maple Avenue Saturday.

Elerede Kruk, 34, of 718 W. First St., told police that when she left her vehicle, a man grabbed her. Police said when Ms. Kruk screamed, the attacker took her purse containing $11 and fled.

LONGWOOD MAN ATTACKED, ROBBED

A Longwood man told deputies he was attacked and robbed by four men armed with knives, a gun and a dog chain.

Andrew L. Skultett, 22, of 831 Sutterloop St., told deputies he was walking north along County Road 427 near Marker Street at about 4:15 a.m. Saturday when he was approached by a man carrying a dog chain. He said the man asked him if he needed a ride, to which he replied no, and that the man asked him if he had any money, to which he again replied no, deputies said.

Skultett told deputies the man then grabbed a pair of boots he was holding in his hand and ordered him to take off his socks. While Skultett was removing his socks, three other men approached him, carrying knives and one was armed with a gun, deputies said.

When the three men also demanded Skultett's money and jewelry, Skultett tried to run away but was caught by the men and dragged down a dirt road where the thieves took $17 cash, two rings and a watch from him, deputies said.

Skultett said he tried to run away again and that one of the men hit him in the arm with the dog chain. The men fled in a red-vehicle, Skultett told deputies.

HIGH SCHOOL ROBBED

Someone broke into the Crooms High School, 220 W. 13th St., Sanford, at about 10:30 p.m. Tuesday, but managed to escape from police who responded to the scene.

Police said the culprit entered the school after prying open a window and once inside, stole an undisclosed amount of money from the cafeteria cash box. While trying to flee from the building, the thief was met by a police officer but managed to get away and was last seen running along 13th Street, police said.

Missing Girl Home Again

A 19-year-old, mentally-retarded Sanford woman, missing since Friday, has come home.

Linda Jackson, 19, was reunited with her grandmother, Annie Jackson, of 86 Seminole Gardens Apartments, Wednesday afternoon after a family on Roosevelt Avenue called the police, Det. Karen Reynolds said.

Ms. Reynolds said the girl wandered away from home Friday and then was reluctant to return because she was afraid of being punished. She said the family on Roosevelt Avenue, who wished to remain unidentified, notified police that Miss Jackson was staying with them.

NASA, Counties Oppose

Fuel Exploration Plans

DELAND (UPI) — The space agency has joined officials in several counties opposing Interior Department plans to open waters off the north Florida coast to oil and natural gas exploration.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration proposes blocking offshore oil leasing in the area to keep drilling rigs from springing up too close to the space shuttle's flight path.

Shuttle parts such as solid rocket boosters and external fuel tanks could slam into offshore rigs after dropping from the spacecraft during launches, space agency planners said.

The NASA proposal would prohibit oil leasing off six Florida counties. Interior Secretary James Watt has recommended opening 33 million acres from 12 to 215 miles offshore from Virginia Beach, Va., to Cape Canaveral for oil and gas exploration. NASA proposes cutting about one-third from that area.

County officials are against drilling because they fear oil spills would harm the fishing industry and foul the north Florida beaches, driving away tourists.

Insurance Costs Going Up

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Drivers who obtain their coverage from the state's high risk insurance pool will be paying more in premiums next year.

Insurance Commissioner Bill Gunter announced Wednesday he has approved a 28.8 percent overall rate increase for the Florida Joint Underwriting Association. The pool had requested a 48.5 percent hike. The new rates take effect Jan. 1 for new policies and Feb. 15 for renewals.

Gunter said the requested hike was too high but the smaller increase is necessary based on the pool's claims experience and its reduced number of drivers.

Mass Murderer On Trial

TAVARES (UPI) — Opening arguments and the first testimony were scheduled today in the first degree murder trial of Robert Dale Henderson.

Henderson, 36, is charged with shooting to death three hitchhikers last February in Hernando County, west of Brooksville.

Prosecutors will seek the death penalty for Henderson, who was sentenced to two life terms in prison earlier this year after he pleaded guilty to two murders in Palatka.

Henderson has confessed to killing at least 12 people, but has been tried in only the two in Palatka.

Kremlin Official Cautious On Improved Ties To U.S.

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Kremlin's top expert on the United States expressed cautious interest in the Reagan administration's apparent willingness to improve relations with the Soviet Union after the death of Leonid Brezhnev.

But Georgi Arbatov, head of the Institute of the United States and Canada, stressed Wednesday the Soviet Union was not to blame for the current hostility between Moscow and Washington.

He said the Kremlin appreciated Reagan's expression of sympathy last week on Brezhnev's death and the easing of U.S. sanctions on the sale of technology for the trans-Siberia pipeline to Western Europe.

'Army Knew Of Massacre'

United Press International
An Israeli Cabinet officer testified today he alerted military intelligence and Foreign Minister Yitzhak Shamir of the Beirut massacre hours before Defense Minister Ariel Sharon said he was aware of the slaughter.

"I told the foreign minister, Yitzhak, I received reports the Phalange are carrying out a slaughter," Communications Minister Mordechai Zippori said before the panel investigating the September massacre in which hundreds of Palestinians were killed.

"I hear you," Zippori quoted Shamir as telling him before the foreign minister went to a meeting with Sharon.

He said an Israeli journalist told him about the Sept. 16-18 atrocity on the morning of Sept. 17. The bodies of 328 men, women and children were recovered in Palestinian camps in west Beirut, the Lebanese Civil Defense said later, and many more were listed as missing.

Zippori's statement appeared to back up earlier testimony that the army received word of the massacre hours before Sharon said he learned of it, Friday at 8 p.m.

Test-N-Tell' For Drinking (Hic) Drivers

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — A small device to test a person's blood alcohol content before driving will soon be available, but its inventors warn it is no defense against a drunk driving charge.

The device, called TEST-o-Tell, is being marketed by Harvey Childs, a bail bondsman in Greenville, Pa., and his brother, Dr. Robert Childs of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

The Childs said Tuesday their patented device is not a legal substitute for the Breathalyzer used by police and will not stand up in court as a defense against a drunk driving charge.

"(Our product) is not that accurate," said Robert Childs.

"With the Breathalyzer you're dealing with numbers ... the percentage of alcohol. It's an extremely fine quantitative analysis."

He said TEST-o-Tell provides no indicators and makes no judgment about when it is no longer safe for a person to drive, and includes a disclaimer.

"Results you obtain with this device should not be relied upon for determining your ability to operate a motor vehicle safely," say the instructions on the TEST-o-Tell package.

Using the device, a person can determine which of four stages — pass, alert, careful and extreme caution — he has reached after consuming alcohol. Each stage is listed by a different color code.

improvements and other special services.
Casselberry Mayor Owen Sheppard said he might have trouble convincing his city council that the county is really working to solve inequities. He said it could be difficult to convince the council when something "walks like a duck, acts like a duck and sings like a duck", that it isn't really a duck.
Knowles said he will make a report of the committee's findings to the Council of Local Governments in Seminole County at its December meeting.
He recommended the cities not take an adversary position at this time. He urged that the committee tell their respective governing bodies that "double taxation is not worthy of going into a dog fight so long as the county works toward resolving the problem."

Knowles said the county is trying to solve inequities and has made remarkable steps. Perhaps County Administrator Roger Neiswender has contributed to that course of action," Knowles said.

"Heaven only knows what will happen after this month," he said. Neiswender is putting in his final days on the job. He has accepted a job with an Orlando engineering firm.
Etchberger said if the county doesn't make progress in solving the inequities with the sheriff's department, the committee can pull all its information together again and proceed to court.

Lake Mary Mayor Walter Sorenson agreed that it is in the cities' best interest to give the county a lot of leeway.
"If the county asks us to stick it in our hat, I'm for calling a meeting again to sharpen our pencils," Knowles said.

Neiswender said the city representatives have been responsive on the issues, adding they should have "some reasonable expectation" that the county commission will develop some alternatives and phase in some changes.

... Alcohol Test Challenged By Judge

privileges for three months for refusal to submit to the test.
According to W. J. Patterson, executive director of the Seminole state attorney's office in Sanford, the state Legislature passed a new, get-tough drunken driving law in July allowing testimony concerning a defendant's refusal to take the test. Prior to that time, such evidence was not allowed, he said.

The issue came to light when James Weart, a Sanford lawyer representing Brian L. Adamson, 19, of Sanford, challenged the constitutionality of the law in a hearing before Dickey.

Adamson was arrested at about 2:02 a.m. on Aug. 25 along U.S. Highway 17-92 near Plumosa Avenue by Casselberry police on charges of driving under the influence of alcoholic beverages and four other traffic violations. Police added that Adamson failed a roadside sobriety test.

Adamson signed the implied consent form for the test saying he understood it but added the word, "No" beneath his signature, indicating he would not take the test.

The implied consent form states that "... the results of this chemical test may be used against you as evidence in any subsequent criminal proceeding for the offense of driving under the influence."

Dickey did not dismiss the DUI charge against Adamson and ordered him to trial the week of Nov. 29. In addition, Adamson pleaded no contest to charges of not possessing a valid driver's license and careless driving. He was fined $25 and adjudicated guilty on both charges, which provides he will have a police record after complying with the sentence.

The state declined to prosecute Adamson on an additional charge of possession of a suspended driver's license and the court dismissed an expired tag charge.

Decision To Free Murder Suspect To Be Appealed

By TONI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

State prosecutors say they'll appeal a Seminole County judge's decision to release a man charged with second-degree murder without bond, adding they provided the court with ample information to have him locked up.

Charles Francis, 24, of 540 First St., Oviedo, has been charged with second-degree murder in the Feb. 8 shooting death of Dennis Roger Golden, 23, of 622 Aulin Ave., also of Oviedo. Francis was arrested in Seminole County Sunday after being transferred here from Delaware where he had turned himself in to police.

However, County Judge Alan A. Dickey released Francis from the county jail Tuesday without bond under the pretrial release program, saying investigators failed to submit adequate documents to warrant Francis' incarceration. Dickey also ruled that Francis was not to go within 10 miles of Oviedo city limits.

Dickey said he had "no other choice" but to release Francis after state prosecutors and Oviedo police failed to provide him with sworn statements indicating Francis should be jailed, even after he had instructed investigators Monday that the necessary documents were lacking from the court file.

Dickey said an Oviedo officer came to the bond hearing Tuesday but that "he didn't have any additional paperwork or sworn statements to add."

However, W.J. Patterson executive director of the State Attorney's office in Sanford, said the arresting officer came to the hearing with an eyewitness and a tape recording of Francis' alleged confession to the crime, but that Dickey refused to listen to either.

According to Florida Rules of Criminal Procedure for determining probable cause to detain a defendant, the judge "shall apply the standard for issuance of an arrest warrant, and his finding may be based upon sworn complaint, affidavit, deposition under oath, or, if necessary, upon testimony under oath properly recorded."

Francis' court file contains sworn statements from two eyewitnesses, a request for Francis' arrest and his arrest report.

Dickey said the only way he would have accepted testimony in the case was if an Assistant State Attorney had been present at the hearing. However, Dickey said state prosecutors are not required to attend the hearings and the common practice is that they do not attend.

Dickey could not be reached for further comment today concerning his ruling.

Jobless Claims Rise; Unemployment May Dip

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Initial claims for unemployment benefits, a key barometer of the nation's jobless picture, dropped for the fourth straight week in the week that ended Nov. 6, the Labor Department reported today.

The steady decline could be a forerunner of a decrease in the overall 10.4 percent unemployment rate when November data is released Dec. 3.

The department's Employment and Training Administration said there were 629,090 new claims for unemployment benefits in the week ended Nov. 6 according to figures adjusted for seasonal factors, a decrease of 23,000 from the previous week's revised level.

It was the lowest number since mid-September, and a sharp drop from the high of 703,000 claims recorded for the week ended Sept. 18.

The agency also reported total benefit claimants for the week ended Oct. 30 at 4,557,000, a drop of 21,000 from the previous week, and the third consecutive week that figure has declined.

The seasonally adjusted unemployment rate for the 87.5 million Americans covered by unemployment insurance remained at 5.3 percent for the fifth consecutive week.

The number of overall claimants includes only those in regular state programs and does not include those almost 1.4 million others are receiving benefits under different programs.

Unadjusted data for those areas in the week ended Oct. 30 showed 856,000 receiving supplemental federal compensation, 398,000 on extended benefits; 73,000 railroad workers, 29,500 federal employees, and 8,700 newly discharged veterans.

Unadjusted figures for the regular state programs again placed West Virginia with the highest jobless rate among those covered by unemployment insurance with an 8.1 percent rate for the week ended Oct. 30.

Other states with the 10 highest rates were Michigan, 6.7 percent; Pennsylvania, 6.5 percent; Alaska, Oregon and Washington, all 6.1 percent; Alabama and Arkansas, both 5.7 percent, and Idaho and Mississippi, both 5.6 percent.

The unadjusted insured unemployment rate for the nation remained at 4.4 percent during that week.

Energy Problems: That's A Relief

There was little fanfare recently when Donald Hodel was appointed to succeed James Edwards as secretary of energy. We can remember when the country would have been agog to learn who was going to lead us out of the energy crisis.

Now the main curiosity is how soon Hodel can be expected to achieve the goal which eluded Edwards, which was to dismantle the Department of Energy and thus remove his own chair from the Cabinet table. The energy crisis has faded, and with it the justification for a Cabinet-level officer to manage it.

Edwards left office proclaiming that the energy crisis — as it was defined in the 1970s — is behind us. The vulnerability of the United States to a disruption of oil supplies, and to the power of the OPEC cartel to raise prices to an extortionate level, has indeed been reduced dramatically.

In 1977, the United States was relying on imports for 24 percent of its energy needs. Today the figure is 12 percent. Our oil imports have dropped from 8.4 million barrels a day in 1979 to 4.7 million barrels a day in the first six months of this year. OPEC has been more concerned with keeping the oil price from falling than with trying to raise it.

The contribution of Edwards and the Reagan administration toward bringing this about lies mainly in getting the government out of the way. President Reagan removed the last of the controls on domestic oil prices on his first day in office, and vetoed a bill that would have extended federal powers to allocate petroleum supplies. The energy policy taking shape in the last two years is one of giving rein to a free market.

The resulting rise in domestic oil and gas production has combined with price-induced conservation and a recession-induced slump in demand to produce the most favorable energy inventory the country has seen in a decade. While economic recovery will bring an increase in demand for fuel and energy, there is every indication that the supply-and-demand equation will remain fairly well balanced barring some flare-up in the Middle East that jeopardizes oil shipments from the Persian Gulf.

The Department of Energy, meanwhile, has been slimmed down by 20,000 employees and by $10.4 billion in its cumulative three-year budget. That it is still hanging on is due mainly to disagreement between the administration and Congress over how its remaining functions should be distributed to other federal agencies, mostly in the Commerce and Interior departments.

Hodel's task is to complete a transition that Edwards began. But delivering the coup de grace to a superfluous Cabinet agency does not mean that energy issues are moving clear off the agenda in Washington.

The timetable for full decontrol of natural gas prices remains a dilemma for Mr. Reagan, who is committed to that goal but is reluctant to see a "spike" of higher fuel costs on the inflation barometer. Interior Secretary James Watt's plan to open more federal lands to oil and gas leasing continues to generate an environmental storm. The administration's embrace of nuclear power antagonizes a powerful anti-nuclear lobby. Pork-barrel politics is hampering the administration's effort to reduce the federal resources going into synthetic fuel plants and put it instead into research and development.

Such issues promise to make energy a prominent subject in 1983 and beyond. But they can be viewed as political problems rather than the ingredients of a crisis. As Edwards observed in packing up to leave, there is no need to address these problems with the "high level of tension and anxiety" that surrounded the creation of an Energy Department in 1977. That's a relief.

Rarely can you ride along the streets of Sanford and not see numerous children and adults riding their bicycles. And, with Christmas quickly approaching and bikes on many girls' and boys' wish lists, you'll probably be seeing even more of the two-wheeled vehicles.

Although bicycles are a lot of fun to ride, law enforcement officials warn pedalcyclists that these vehicles, if not properly maintained and if rules aren't obeyed while riding the bike, disaster can strike.

A bicyclist was involved in a fatal traffic accident on Florida's streets and highways every three days in 1981, according to the Florida Highway Patrol. Accident records show that 137 pedalcyclists were killed in traffic accidents in Florida during 1981. That figure indicates an increase of 30 deaths over the previous year, 1980, when 107 bicyclists were killed.

For the first nine months of 1982, there have been 93 pedalcyclists killed in Florida compared to 99 for the same period in 1981.

"While there are probably more bicycles, more riders and more motor vehicles to collide with, bicyclists can eliminate most accidents by taking proper precautions while riding," said FHP spokesman Lt. Col. Roger Collar.

"Always ride on the right side of the street or highway if there are no bike paths or trails, use proper signals, watch traffic ahead, to the sides, behind; and when in doubt, always give the right-of-way to larger vehicles," Collar said.

With days getting shorter and darkness arriving earlier, it is important that bicyclists do not ride after dark unless it is absolutely necessary he warns. However, if you must, wear light reflective clothing, and use a light on the front of the bicycle and reflectors on the rear. An excellent safety precaution is to have reflectors on the pedals and spokes, also.

"Children should not be permitted to ride their bikes in traffic until they are capable of making mature decisions and until they are properly trained," Collar said. "Bikes are fun to ride, they save fuel and are good for your health but only with proper care and respect for your safety and the safety of others."

Some Namibian Realities

Americans can be thankful that the cause of independence for Namibia, the remote, lightly populated African territory also known as Southwest Africa, is a movement that's at a standstill. The world already has too many countries that are economically dependent on the West, and Marxist-oriented. That's what Namibia would be if it attained independence.

This isolated land of deserts and jungles has been administered by South Africa under a League of Nations mandate since the end of World War I. The interests of the free world would be best served if things remain unchanged. If Namibia becomes "independent," one can be sure that it would be dominated by the Southwest Africa Peoples Organization (SWAPO), a Soviet-assisted terrorist organization.

SWAPO terrorists have no capacity for running Namibia, which is rich in strategic minerals needed by the United States and its NATO allies. If given independence, it wouldn't be long before the territory had a large Cuban presence such as that which exists next door in Angola.

Namibia isn't on the front pages these days, chiefly because of strife in the Middle East and elsewhere. However, a SWAPO take-over of Namibia is high on the agenda of radicals everywhere in the West. In time, they will bring pressure on the Reagan administration to force a move towards independence.

Sub-Saharan Africa, generally, is on the backburner insofar as world politics is concerned. That's where it belongs. The countries of this region are largely synthetic and incapable of sustaining themselves economically. This is tragic but true. Many of the African regimes are cruel and tyrannical. The British press is reporting that Zimbabwe, the former Rhodesia, is now using torture against political opponents.

There's no way to lift these countries — Uganda, for example — out of the mess which they have created.

A number of these countries were in a good position when they gained independence a generation ago. They wasted their assets and the lot of their peoples has worsened. As the 'Times' of London recently remarked, countries whose rulers "import Vichy water from France do not inspire generosity in the West."

Indeed the record of these countries in Africa and elsewhere should prompt the Western countries to reduce so called development loans, which are wasted. The United States is the principal supplier of funds which go down the foreign aid rat-hole through the International Development Agency of the World Bank. Congress, which is wrestling with near-depression conditions in the U.S., should cut off funds for the IDA.

The people of Namibia currently are benefiting from an administration that produces solid economic benefits and social services. It would be madness for the United States to apply pressure for a change. Only Moscow and Havana would benefit.

Nancy's Project Budget-Cutters' Target

WASHINGTON — Are Ronald and Nancy Reagan still on speaking terms? The president's pennypinching minions are determinedly chipping away at the first lady's favorite government "charity," the Foster Grandparent Program.

Even as royalties from Mrs. Reagan's book, "To Love a Child," and Frank Sinatra's song of the same name are trickling into the program's fund, officials of ACTION, the agency that runs Foster Grandparents, are whacking away at federal support for the program. They insist on turning its functions — and its funding — over to private charities for local community organizations, whether these groups are ready to take on the responsibility or not.

New York State is the bureaucratic cheese-parer's first target. Federal funds for foster-grandparent activities there will be cut off at the end of this month, even though no substitute financial support has yet been lined up.

As a result, hundreds of foster grandparents, along with the retarded children they have been serving, may soon be dropped unceremoniously from the rolls.

ACTION claims that New York's Office of Mental Retardation and Developmental Disabilities, which has run the program for the past 10 years, spends too much money on administration. Be that as it may, 45 percent of administrative costs are picked up by the state, not by Uncle Sam. The result is that

A Rich Man's Toy

By BOB LOWRY

AUSTIN, Texas (UPI) — Robert Cumberford has designed a sleek luxury automobile he says will last a lifetime because of its all-aluminum body, gleaming African mahogany fenders and tough Thai water buffalo hide interior.

But the former General Motors designer needs $5 million to produce the "Martinez," a two-seater convertible that is made with the same lightweight materials used in the Boeing Cruise missile.

If the car — an open roadster that features neo-classic styling from the 1930s — ever goes into production, Cumberford hopes to sell it for $125,000.

Cumberford and his brother, James, decided in 1977 to build a car for a driver who "appreciates the workmanship and appreciates the way it works."

With financial backing from Henry Burkhardt III, cofounder of Data General Corp., they created the Cumberford Corp. in Stamford, Conn., in 1979.

Three prototypes have been made, but only one Martinez — completed last February — has been certified for the road.

The Cumberfords were unable to find financing for their venture and moved their operations to Austin in July because of the city's growing electronics industry and the University of Texas.

"We've effectively gone into hibernation," said Cumberford.

Financing has been difficult to find in 1982, he said, because of specialty automaker John DeLorean's bankruptcy and subsequent cocaine arrest and the losses reported by the Big Three automakers in the United States.

Cumberford said it may be three years before the car is manufactured, but he eventually hopes to turn out between six and eight cars a month. He said the first car could be produced within nine months after financing is obtained.

"If we had 50 cars right now, I don't think we'd have 50 by Christmas," he said. "We'd have no difficulty selling them."

The car has been featured in national automotive magazines, and Cumberford said he has received inquiries from potential buyers from all over the world.

The car, done in chocolate and cream colors, features a BMW six-cylinder engine, Peugeot-Citroen suspension, Cadillac window lifts, Mercedes-Benz door locks, Saab door hinges and special tires reinforced by a material used in bulletproof vests.

Other features include pure wool carpeting, a steering wheel cushioned with a British-made material that simulates flesh, doors covered with aircraft-grade aluminum sheet, a nickel grill and a polyurethane paint job that withstands sharp temperature drops and hailstones bombarding at 600 mph.

The chassis is protected from road salts and other corrosives by a special catalyzed two-step painting system that is the same type used by the Navy to protect its warships from sea salt corrosion.

Despite its impressive components, Cumberford said, "it's not flashy really." "It doesn't have any fake stuff on it," he said. "It's an absolutely standard sort of car. There's nothing tricky about it."

Cumberford said the car "represents an exceptional value," despite its price tag.

"We're selling high level technology with the best materials," he said. "Most cars (which he calls "welded tin boxes") rust out, but this isn't going to happen in this car. It's made in an old fashioned way."

Cumberford said he hopes to sell the car "to people apt to buy a fine yacht."

"It will be a very rich person's very nice toy," he said. "It has to be good all the way through and we think it is."

Heroes, Goats Of Election

WASHINGTON (NEA) — This month's elections had some winners and losers whose names did not appear on any ballot.

Probably foremost among these was Republican political consultant John Deardourff, who gets much of the credit for the last-minute GOP effort that staved off a potential Democratic rout.

Reading his polls a month or so before Election Day, Deardourff noted that while President Reagan remained personally popular, economic conditions might result in a Democratic landslide. So Deardourff convinced Republicans to try to turn the clock back to Campaign '80 and into a personal referendum on the president. Thus was born the "Stay The Course" campaign — which saved the day, and possibly the Senate, for the GOP, whose candidates (especially incumbents) won victories of only a few percentage points in race after race.

A big Democratic winner is the party's image-maker, Bob Squire. Squire entered the Frank Lautenberg campaign in New Jersey when the Democratic senatorial hopeful was 10 to 15 points behind incumbent Millicent Fenwick. Squire assembled the media blitz that carried the day for Lautenberg.

That Pete Wilson victory over Jerry Brown in California did much to enhance the stature of several GOP professionals. Wilson had squandered his huge lead in the polls and his campaign was in considerable disarray — and then Stu Spencer stepped in. Spencer, an old-line GOP professional with close ties to the White House, was brought in as a consultant and helped reorganize the Wilson effort. Late in the campaign, with the race still neck-and-neck, California GOP media expert Ken Reltz entered the fray to prepare new Wilson television spots, letting the candidate open up some daylight in the final days before the voting.

Deardourff, Squire and Spencer already are major figures on the political scene, but the voting did much to enhance the reputations of several lesser-known political consultants. One of these is Todd Domke, who ran businessman Ray Shamie's unconventional, but high-class — and certainly entertaining — campaign against Ted Kennedy.

Also distinguishing himself in a losing effort was John White, the consultant who ran Harriet Woods' media effort in her heroic attempt to overtake John Danforth in Missouri.

The biggest behind-the-scenes loser this year probably is North Carolina GOP Sen. Jesse Helms. Helms raised and spent more than $10 million in this campaign through his personal political action committee, and he sees himself as the future kingmaker of Republican and conservative politics. This time around, Helms put his money and personal prestige behind a group of Republican congressional candidates — but with devastating results.

Helms' Congressional Club endorsed and backed 18 candidates, of whom 15 lost — including all five of those in North Carolina. The defeat was so overwhelming that Helms now must be more concerned about his own re-election in 1984 than about being a kingmaker.

Last Chance

Seminoles Take Final Spin For Victory Against Spruce Creek

By SAM COOK
Herald Sports Editor

Last chance.
The roulette wheel is spinning while Seminole High coach Jerry Posey and his Tribe sit watching their fortunes wind down in what has been the most dismal football season in the history of the school.

Nine previous turns have turned up black while the Seminoles clutch to a red number. The odds haven't always been 50-50, but just the same, the Tribe has busted nine straight times without a winning number.

Tonight at 8, however, the odds might be better. The 'Noles take on Spruce Creek in the season's finale at Welch Memorial Stadium at Daytona Beach.

The Hawks, 3-6, have been standing on the wrong side of the roulette wheel for four weeks too. After an impressive 2-0 start in the Five Star Conference, Spruce Creek has lost its last four conference encounters.

"Tell me about it," lamented Hawk coach Brent Hall when informed of the Tribe's must-win situation. "I know all about it. I've been in the same boat."

"We haven't played well defensively in four games. We've played so poorly, I don't think we can slow anybody up," he added.

The Hawks haven't slowed much. Lake Howell ripped them, 40-20. A week later, they turned in a good effort against Mainland, losing, 21-14. The next week, though, Apopka crushed them, 41-13, and last Saturday Lyman trounced them, 44-7.

Although the Hawks have been sorry defensively, the offense still has some punch. Tailback Billy Elmore has 879 yards on the year. He is averaging 5.6 per carry and six TDs.

Against Lyman, however, Elmore was used sparingly because of an assortment of injuries. "Billy had bruised ribs and a hip pointer," said Hall. "But he's pretty well rested now, he should be ready to go."

Along with Elmore, wide receiver Stacy Mobley is another potent weapon. The elusive senior was involved in the only score against Lyman when he hauled in a 45-yard touchdown pass from Sean Hamilton. Quarterback Hamilton has completed 38 of 80 passes for 640 yards and six touchdowns. Fullback Lane Lowery completes the backfield. Defensively, the Hawks are big and slow. Paul Nelson (6-4, 270), Greg Whorton (6-1, 265) and Greg Shepherd (6-2, 195) anchor the line.

Lately, as the four straight setbacks reflect, Spruce Creek has been slower than bigger. Which is something Seminole should be able to take advantage of. Ron Burke has been consistent getting yardage inside the tackles. Sophomore Clifton Campbell and junior Tim Lawrence have been effective both places.

The trio raced for 240 yards in a 40-22 loss to Mainland last Friday. Burke led the way with 94 yards in 18 carries while Campbell, the Sanford Optimist Player of the Week, picked up 93 in 11 totes. Lawrence had a good second half and finished with 53 yards in eight carries.

In addition to that hard-running trio senior Rendell Manley will return to action after missing five games with a broken bone in his foot. The elusive 165-pounder was leading the county in rushing when he went down against Apopka. Despite missing five and one-half games, Manley still ranks fifth in the county in rushing yards (436) with a 10.6 average.

"He's dressed out and he'll play," said Posey. "Rendell had the cast off all last week and spent a lot of time running. We'll see what kind of shape he's in."

While the running attack was productive last week, the passing game was not. Junior quarterback Mike Futrell hit just 1 of 9 throws for 15 yards. The completion came with 23 seconds to go when Dexter Jones made a terrific catch and fell into the end zone for a score.

Hall, meanwhile, sees no reason why it shouldn't be Seminole's night. "It's their last chance," he said. "We got just about the poorest record (next to Lake Brantley) in the district as anybody else."

"I'd be firing them up with that in mind. Nobody wants to go the whole season without winning a game. There's no miracle formula, that's for sure. But I say they'd have more incentive to win than we do," Hall concluded.

Well, do you Seminoles?

NO FEAR OF FISTER — After going 10-1 and forgetting the UCF-Eastern Kentucky game, what do I have to fear from this guy trying to be funny to my left?

Chris Fister is five games in arrears on these weekly predictions. After this week, he may be out of sight.

Here we go... Spruce Creek by 8 over Seminole. New Smyrna Beach by 35 over Lake Mary. Oviedo by 13 over Cocoa Beach. Lyman by 21 over Lake Brantley. Boone by 6 over Lake Howell. Father Lopez by 28 over Trinity Prep. The Gators by 10 over Tulane. Florida State by 7 over Louisiana State. Miami by 4 over North Carolina State. Georgia by 32 over Georgia Tech. UCLA by 9 over Southern Cal. Southern Methodist by 11 over Arkansas.

Tribe Takes Off For No. 1 As McKenzie Brothers Pick

It's time to go out on a limb for the Fearless Fister Forecast. Last week Sam Cook regained his five-game lead, but it could be wiped out this week as there are six differences in our predictions.

Last week's guest picker, Rodney Dangerfield, picked five games correctly and missed seven. As the 1982 football season nears its end, this week will be the first time two brothers to head-to-head as guest pickers. Yet, from the Great White North (Second City Television) come Doug and Bob McKenzie.

SEMINOLE AT SPRUCE CREEK

One last chance for the 'Noles to avoid the big goose egg. Clifton Campbell, Ron Burke and Tim Lawrence will combine to carry the Tribe past Spruce Creek — Seminole by 8.

Bob McKenzie's pick — Good day, aye? Today's topic is football, and since like I'm an expert in the field — Spruce Creek by 32.

Doug McKenzie's pick — Take off Bob — Seminole by 3.

NEW SMYRNA BEACH AT LAKE MARY

The Barracudas are lightning fast and should strike at will against the Rams. It is "Homestaying" at Lake Mary and it's a good thing the student body will be around for another year, maybe the Rams will schedule Wymore Tech for "Homestaying" next year. — New Smyrna Beach by 19.

Bob — Like you don't know what you're talkin' about, Fister, I'll bet you a pound of back bacon — Lake Mary by 12.

Doug — What a hose head, are you sure we're brothers, aye? — Barracudas by 23.

LYMAN AT LAKE BRANTLEY

It looks like the Greyhounds will win the Five Star Conference, unless Lake Brantley comes up with a miracle — Lyman by 13.

Bob — Like I saw this commercial about the taste of Lyman and I didn't think it was very good — Lake Brantley by 42.

Doug — Say, did you know my brother Bob broke his back rakin' leaves, aye? Yeah, he fell out of the tree — Lyman by 12.

COCOA BEACH AT OVIEDO

The Minutemen always give Oviedo a run for the money but Cocoa Beach usually winds up getting shortchanged — Oviedo by 4.

Bob — Wait a minute men. Like did you get that joke Doug? — Cocoa Beach by 9.

Doug — Take off barf wallower — Oviedo by 22.

BOONE AT LAKE HOWELL

The Boone Braves have surprised a few people this year but Lake Howell won't be fooled. The Silver Hawks would like to take a winning record into the Rotary Bowl against Oviedo, and they will — Lake Howell by 12.

Bob — I was cleaning the parking tickets out of the van and I wondered like if my brother Doug knows he's human sewage? — Boone by 18.

Doug — Take a walk Bob. You probably don't know the foot from the ball anyway — Lake Howell by 23.

FATHER LOPEZ AT TRINITY PREP

The Green Wave out of Daytona Beach is riding a nine-game winning streak and, if Lopez doesn't have any ineligible players, it will romp to victory — Green Wave by 10.

Bob — Like, do you know what the best thing to ever come out of Daytona Beach is? Like, Interstate 4. — Trinity Prep by 8.

Doug — Like, I know the best thing that came out of our mother, and it's not you, hoser — Lake Howell by 23. Oh, we're not on that one anymore — Trinity Prep by 2.

FLORIDA AT TULANE

Tulane's Green Wave hasn't consumed many foes this season while the Gators have gobbled down quite a few — Florida by 17.

Bob — The Green Wave in my stomach could gobble up the Gators — Tulane by 20.

Doug — adro!F yb 91. Like that's Florida by 19 backwards, aye?

FLORIDA STATE AT LOUISIANA STATE

The winner goes to the Orange Bowl, a familiar post-season place for the Seminoles. This time, though, Florida State will have to pack for a different bowl — LSU by 8.

Bob — ezoo gniV, like that's Doug McKenzie backwards, living ooze. — FSU by 7.

Doug — Take off, I'm never doin' this with you again — LSU by 6.

NORTH CAROLINA STATE AT MIAMI

The Hurricanes would like to go bowling again this year but must strike past the Wolfpack first. N.C. State likes playing the underdog, though, so, in an upset — Wolfpack by 2.

Bob — I can't go against Doug's people — Wolfpack by 21.

Doug — Like once a hurricane slurred up Bob, but it split him back out — Miami by 13.

GEORGIA TECH AT GEORGIA

It looks like the 'Dawgs will wind up undefeated, although Georgia Tech can strike at anytime for an upset. A force from within (name withheld by request) convinced me to go with Georgia — "Dawgs by 10e."

Bob — Like I know that the Yellow Jackets will be up for this game, way up — Georgia Tech by 13.

Doug — My brother Fister. Sounds better than that hose head Bob, aye? — Georgia by 87.

ARKANSAS AT SOUTHERN METHODIST

SMU is second ranked and undefeated and eyeing the national title. Arkansas will end SMU's title hopes this week — Razorbacks by 11.

Bob — Like I did some SMU the other day and...oh, sorry — SMU by 21.

Doug — When this is over I'm going to make another prediction, like how many six packs does Bob consume a day, aye? — SMU by 12.

USC AT UCLA

This game is usually hard to pick so I usually go with the visiting team — USC by 3.

Bob — Take off, Fister — UCLA by 29.

Doug — Like our topic for next week will be, why are parking lots at Dunkin' Donuts so small, aye? — UCLA by 32.

Bob — Like, do you know what the Jimmy Payton practices his jump shot during a Raider practice. The freshman from Daytona Beach will start at point guard Friday.

Raiders' Depth

LUIS PHELPS ...6-6 forward from Brookville...best rebounder on team...strong and physical player...has penchant for foul trouble...can be as good as he wants to be...SOPHOMORE

BERNARD MERTHIE ...6-4 forward from Seminole...another Payne project...has come farther in two years than any player I've coached...tough rebounder...good basketball family...FRESHMAN

RONALD KOLDEHOF ...6-8 forward-center from Armheim, Holland...the other half of Holland's Twin Tower...strong rebounder...bothered in preseason by shoulder injury...great determination...FRESHMAN

DAVID GALLAGHER...5-11 guard from Edgewater...another good Edgewater player turned out by Rudy Tapia...all-Metro performer...great quickness...will help with our pressing attack...FRESHMAN

MARK LAYTON...6-1 swingman from Lake Howell...all-Five Star performer the past two years...good defensive player...long arms and very good around the basket...thought he was a good player at Howell...now I know he is...FRESHMAN

LEON WRIGHT...5-8 point guard from Edgewater...another Tapia product...good all-around performer...excellent quickness...good leadership qualities...SOPHOMORE

LEON CHARLES...6-1 guard from Apopka...leading scorer for the Darters during last half of season...good penetrator with a soft touch...played in Virgin Islands prior to Apopka...could be sleeper of this bunch...FRESHMAN

JIM MAHER...6-6 forward from Bellevue, Ky...class A player of the year in Kentucky...many offers to attend other schools in Florida...must make transition from high school center to college forward...FRESHMAN

Payne, Raiders Shoot For 'Normal' Season

Seminole Community College basketball coach Bill Payne would just like a normal Raider season his first year at the job. Of course normal at SCC is abnormal anywhere else.

JC Basketball

During Joe Sterling's 16 years as coach, the Raiders won 351 and lost just 116. That's 22 victories a year. Hardly normal, but then a school which averages 87.4 points a game for 16 seasons and wins by a 13.8 points an outing is hardly run of the mill. Sterling stepped down last year.

Payne knows he has a tough act to follow but he sees no reason he cannot "Keep The Winning Tradition Going," which is the Raiders' slogan this year. The ex-Seminole High coach plans to do it with local players too, another Sterling philosophy. Payne coached and played in the Metro Conference for many years. The last five were spent at Seminole. One would be hard-pressed to find a more solid base to recruit from.

Friday night at 8:30, Payne puts his first team on the floor in the SCC Raider Tournament. The locals will play Edison (Fl. Myers) Community College. It is a blockbuster tournament which features Palm Beach Junior College and Miami Dade North in the 6:30 p.m. game.

The Palm Beach coach is Bill Hodges who coached Larry Bird while at Indiana State. All Miami Dade did last year was finish second in the nation. It returns five players from that squad.

"It might be the best tournament in the state this year," predicts Payne. "And that includes the Tangerine Bowl. There's going to be a lot of super players on display Friday and Saturday."

The two winners will meet Saturday at 8:30 p.m. for the championship while the two losers play at 6:30 p.m. for the consolation title.

One of those great players will be SCC's Rudy Kuiper. Payne is touting his 6-10 Armheim, Holland freshman as not just the best J.C. center in the state, but the best center in the state, period.

"Rudy's an outstanding player," said Payne. "He's very mobile and has an excellent touch from the outside. He'll receive a lot of attention this year. Stetson and Jacksonville have already expressed interest."

Kuiper and his best friend, 6-8 backup center Ronald Koldenhof, were visiting the United States when someone tipped off assistant coach Tony Mandeville about the pair. It didn't take long for Mandeville, who isn't coaching this year, to induce the two to come back.

Although Kuiper and Koldenhof have excellent size, Payne has reservations on how well the two can play SCC's run-and-gun game.

"They've never played at this level. We went and watched the jamboree and after one quarter of watching, they were panting on the sideline," laughed Payne. "This is not their style, running up and down the court."

Payne does have several other people who do fit his style, however, he will employ a three-guard system with sophomores Ricky Sutton and Keith Whitney along with freshman Jimmy Payton.

Sutton saw considerable action last season and he will be the first guard. The 6-3 Pompano Beach resident is also a good rebounder. Whitney, who played for Payne's great 31-3 team at Seminole, is the second guard while Payton, from Spruce Creek High, handles the point.

Sophomore Kevin Jerry Smith was penciled in for the fifth starting spot but he didn't take 10 hours at one school last year and won't be eligible until Dec. 15. Sophomore Luis Phelps moved into his position, but then missed a week of practice due to personal problems. Apopka freshman Delvin Everett will start Friday. The 6-5 stringbean has a lot of tools which Payne is trying to hone to a fine point.

Sanford's Bernard Merthie, who played for Payne two years ago, had a shot at the forward spot until he was in an automobile accident and broke two fingers on his shooting hand. Merthie, a 6-4 rebounder, has just regained full use of the hand.

Despite replacing the top eight players from last year, Payne is optimistic he can have the average SCC year.

"I've never really sat down and figured it out, who we can beat and who we can't," said the 37-year-old coach. "We have an extremely hard schedule but I think we can be the normal SCC team. We can be there when it's all over."

And in this case, normal will be more than good enough. — SAM COOK

Mother Pulls Life-Support System On Kim

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Duk-Koo Kim, the South Korean boxer who traveled halfway around the world for $20,000 and a chance at becoming a world champion, has been declared legally dead from a devastating punch that destroyed his brain.

Nevada District Judge Paul Goldman made the decision Wednesday night after meeting with the 23-year-old fighter's mother and doctors.

The judge ordered the life-support machinery that had kept Kim's heart pumping and his lungs breathing, since he suffered massive brain damage in Saturday's World Boxing Association lightweight title fight against Ray Mancini, left on until a team of surgeons could remove his kidneys and other healthy organs for possible use in transplant operations.

"My son has passed away," said the fighter's weeping mother, Yang Sun-Nyo, 66. "I made up my mind to transplant his organs to other people. The American doctors and nurses have done their best to rejuvenate my son. In spite of all our efforts we cannot rejuvenate him. If I continue to let the doctors and staff supply medical treatment it is a burden to them."

CURTIS CATCH

Sanford's Ray Curtis shows off a large mouth bass he caught last Thursday at Lake Jessup. The bass was 26 inches long and weighed nine and three-fourth pounds. He was fishing at Crow's Camp.

16 Teams Spice Post-Season Play

United Press International
The NFL's seven unbeaten teams apparently have benefited most from the shortened schedule, which will be picked up on the run and played to conclusion. One of the scrubbed games will be made up by each team on Jan. 2-3 to complete a nine game schedule. Eight teams — rather than the usual five — from each conference will qualify for post-season play Jan. 8-9, with divisional games no longer a factor. The conference semifinals will be held Jan. 15-16 and the AFC and NFC title games will be played during the Jan. 22-23 weekend. Super Bowl XVII will be played as scheduled Jan. 30 in Pasadena, Calif. Commissioner Pete Rozelle's office Wednesday night announced the schedule of games to be played on the newly created ninth week of the regular season. On Sunday, Jan. 2, it will be: Atlanta at New Orleans, the New York Giants at Philadelphia, St. Louis at Washington, Green Bay at Detroit, Chicago at Tampa Bay, Buffalo at New England, the New York Jets at Kansas City, Cincinnati at Houston, Cleveland at Pittsburgh, Miami at Baltimore, the Los Angeles Rams at San Francisco, the Los Angeles Raiders at San Diego, and Denver at Seattle.

Pro Football

The final Monday night game of the season will feature Dallas at Minnesota. Although official approval of the management's offer by the league's rank-and-file isn't expected until Tuesday, NFL stadiums will be packed for the first time in two months this weekend as 13 games are scheduled for Sunday. Ten games will kick off at 1 p.m. EST, followed by three late games and a Monday night clash between San Diego and the Raiders — the first regular-season game for Al Davis' club in its new Los Angeles Coliseum home. The undefeated Raiders, coming off road upsets of the 49ers and Falcons, play host to the Chargers, 1-1, whose explosive attack has been limited to just 35 points. Sunday's action features a matchup of undefeated clubs as Miami plays at Buffalo. Elsewhere, Minnesota, 1-1, takes on undefeated Green Bay at Milwaukee; undefeated Washington is at the winless New York Giants; winless Baltimore is at the New York Jets, 1-1; Cincinnati and Philadelphia, both 1-1, meet at Veterans Stadium; and undefeated Detroit is at winless Chicago. Also, Kansas City and New Orleans, both 1-1, play in the Superdome; the winless Rams play at Atlanta, 1-1; New England and Cleveland, both 1-1, meet at Municipal Stadium; undefeated Pittsburgh is at Houston, 1-1; winless Tampa Bay is at Dallas, 1-1; and winless San Francisco at St. Louis, 1-1; and Denver, 1-1, entertains winless Seattle.

Business As Usual For NFL

NEW YORK (UPI) — It's business as usual in the NFL today. The 28 NFL teams Wednesday night unanimously ratified the previous day's collective bargaining agreement and today union head Ed Garvey is expected to sign the agreement that ended the 57-day players' strike. The 1,500-member rank-and-file of the NFL Players Association are to vote on the five-year $1.6 billion agreement by secret ballot next Tuesday. A majority decision is needed and ratification is expected. By then, the teams will have played their third game of the season — eight weeks after the second game.

Seminole YMCA To Hold Holiday Fun Camps

The Seminole YMCA will hold its holiday fun camps this year. The first will run on Nov. 26, from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. for any child, ages 6 to 12. The program will include movies at the Y, roller skating, and swimming. Cost is $8 for members and $11 for non-members. Children need to bring a lunch and swimming suit with towel.

For the weeks of Dec. 20 and 27, the program will include trips to Circus World, ice skating, Gatorland, swimming, Sea World, roller skating and other events.

Deadline for registration to the Nov. 26 camp is Nov. 23, and for the December holiday camps, until Dec. 15. Call the YMCA at 862-4444. Enrollment is limited.

GED Alumni Meet Tonight

The GED Alumni Association will meet tonight at 7:30 in Building 8 on the Seminole Community College campus. Everyone receiving a high school diploma by completing the GED exams is invited to attend. The meeting will address the solutions and problems facing GED students and graduates.

For information on the Alumni Association, call Reed Gregory at Seminole Community College, Ext. 445.

Animal Cracker Ball

The public is invited to attend the Second Annual Animal Cracker Ball to benefit the Humane Society of Seminole County. The Phyllis Dale Trio and special guests will provide entertainment and dancing on December 5, from 7 to 11 p.m. at Lord Churnleys Pub, Altamonte Springs. Cash bar and snacks will be available and a donation of $5 per person will be collected.

Free FSYO Concert

The Florida Symphony Youth Orchestra (FSYO) presents its annual Fall Concert Nov. 28, at 8 p.m. at Edyth Bush Auditorium. Admission is free.

The concert, Alfred Savia conducting, features Hayden's "Sinfonia No. 104 in D" ("London"), "Hary Janos Suite" by Kodaly, and "Suite No. 1 for Small Orchestra" and "Greeting Prelude," both by Stravinsky.

The Florida Symphony Youth Orchestra is composed of over 140 young musicians ages 13 - 21 from seven Central Florida Counties and is divided into two orchestras.

NJDA Worker Of Year Award

The sixth annual Awards Banquet of the National Juvenile Detention Association was in Atlanta, Ga. There were 87 recipients of the Bob Rader Line Staff Worker of the Year Award.

Rose Mary Banks, Child Care Worker Supervisor of the Seminole Regional Juvenile Detention Center was this area's winner, being chosen by the facility itself. This award is given in recognition of the worker's performance in and contributions to the field of Juvenile Detention.

The banquet was held in conjunction with the NJDA Annual Training and and Business Meeting.

NEW ARRIVAL

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Richardson Deas, III (Dickie) of Miami announce the birth of their second son, Nathaniel Jordan born Oct. 26. He weighed 7 lbs. and joins Nicholas Ryan, nearly 3.

Mrs. Deas is the former Kimberly Joan Wilber of Sanford. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Wilber of Sanford and great-grandparents, Mrs. Genevieve Grinnell of Lake Mary and Mr. and Mrs. H. Elwyn Wilber of Millerton, Pa.

Paternal grandparents are Mrs. Harriet B. Deas and Richard R. Deas Jr., both of Sanford. Paternal great-grandparents are the late Mrs. Madge W. Deas of Sanford and the late Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Furman Belser Sr., of S.C.

ORDER OF THE ROSE

Betty Jack, left, was inducted into the Order of the Rose in an impressive ritual conducted by Susan Byrd, right, assisted by members of the Preceptor Delta Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. Held at the Maison Et Jardin, Altamonte Springs, during the Sanford Beta Sigma Phi chapters' all-chapter luncheon, it was a serious ceremony (top photo). But, after the ritual, Mrs. Jack's humorous commentary drew chuckles from Mrs. Byrd (lower photo) and Helen Hamner, left.

SMCA Presents Violinist In 'Paganini' Tonight

ROBERT RUDIE
Seminole Mutual Concert Association kicks off the performing season tonight, at 8 p.m., at Lake Mary High School auditorium when violinist Robert Rudie portrays Signor Paganini.

Admission is through membership in SMCA. Memberships, available at the door tonight, include five concerta on the following subscription plan: family, $40; adults, $17; and students, $12.

As Signor Paganini, Robert Rudie is the celebrated "Devil's Violinist". Rudie creates Paganini in appearance, speech and in manner. As most music lovers believe, Niccolò Paganini was the greatest violinist who ever lived. Some think he was double jointed; others believe he was possessed by the devil. He played the violin as no one before him — or even imagined.

"Robert Rudie as Signor Paganini is an engrossing evening. The character is fascinating and Rudie is an exceptional violinist. Paganini's music is tuneful and full of pyrotechnics. If the legend of Paganini has always intrigued you, Robert Rudie as Signor Paganini will too. If you have never been caught up in the violinist's mystique, this program will do it."

Robert Rudie has an enormous reputation throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico as an outstanding violin virtuoso. His concert tours as soloist with orchestras and in recital have won unanimous acclaim for musicianship, technical mastery and for wit, charm and personality.

Mom Need Not Consent To Ex's Family Trip

DEAR ABBY Eight years ago, after 13 years of marriage, my husband and I divorced. I have custody of a daughter (16) and a son (14).

My former husband (Bob) married almost immediately and lives out of state. He has continued to love and support our children through the years. They visit him for vacations and are in close touch with him, which I think is wonderful.

Bob announced six months ago that he and his wife are filing for divorce. Last week he called and asked if the children could go on a skiing vacation with him during Christmas vacation. I agreed, thinking it would be good for the children to be alone with their dad once again. Yesterday my daughter informed me that Dad told her he planned to take his new girlfriend along!

Abby, I've taken my children to church and have tried to set a good example for them, and I am very upset about this proposed arrangement. I am also angry that Bob was not completely honest with me.

I know I am still clinging to old-fashioned morals, and I probably would be called "prudish" by some, but this arrangement would contradict the teachings I have tried to instill in our children. (His divorce will not even be final at the time of this trip.) My friends tell me that times have changed and I should be more "open-minded." What would you do under my circumstances?

OLD-FASHIONED

DEAR OLD-FASHIONED: I would tell Bob that as long as the children are in my care, I will not consent to their vacationing with him and a woman to whom he is not married. Period.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 22-year-old female who until recently was involved with a 35-year-old man for about a month. We had a good relationship and enjoyed each other's company until he wanted sex. I felt I wasn't ready for that even though I was beginning to fall in love with him.

He felt hurt and thought I didn't care for him, so he stopped calling me. Now he's telling everyone that we broke up because of the age difference. I know that wasn't true, and now I regret that I didn't give in to his demands for sex.

I can't sleep nights wishing I had been Miss Sexy instead of Miss Goody-Goody.

SOBRY IN TRENTON, N.J.

DEAR SOBRY: Dry your tears. You obviously didn't know him very well after a one-month involvement. He didn't drop you because he thought you didn't care for him; he dropped you because all he wanted from you was sex. If he really cared for you, he would have waited.

DEAR ABBY: My sister-in-law is pregnant with her second child and I'd like to give her a baby shower. She already has many of the things she needs for the coming baby, so I want to know if it would be proper to list on the invitations the things (brand names and colors) she needs the most, and ask the guests to please specify with their R.S.V.P. which gift they chose?

This would eliminate any duplicates at the party, and she could get the things she really needs for the baby.

PERPLEXED

DEAR PERPLEXED: It's not proper to ask for anything specific with an invitation, but if anyone should inquire, it's proper to offer suggestions.

If you hate to write letters because you don't know what to say, send for Abby's complete booklet on letter-writing. Send $2 and a long, stamped (37 cents), self-addressed envelope to Abby, Letter Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.

Popular Diagnosis For Hypoglycemia

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm 61 years old, working and have a mild case of hypoglycemia. I'm under a doctor's care. I would like to double check with you. Why do I have to go every six to eight weeks for a blood test and urine test? Can hypoglycemia be cured? I get no medication or needles, just diet and I have to carry a candy bar or sugar at all times, in case of weakness or dizziness. My blood pressure is mostly on the low side. Please explain this disease and send me a diet.

DEAR READER — Since only about one in 50 people running around with a diagnosis of low blood sugar really have hypoglycemia, I am reluctant to assume that you do.

It is a popular diagnosis with the public and with some doctors. I am afraid it is often used as a wastebasket for ill-defined symptoms that the doctor needs a diagnosis for and the patient demands an explanation for. And usually the patient demands a diagnosis other than anxiety — even when that is the real cause.

For some reason people are much more comfortable in believing those sweaty palms, fast heart beat and faint feelings are all because of low blood sugar rather than a reaction to stress or anxiety.

There are some people who have weakness, dizziness, sweating and may even collapse from a very low blood sugar level. In rare cases this is caused by a tumor producing too much insulin. It can also occur in a diabetic who takes too much insulin. In a small number of people it is caused by a faulty release or overproduction of insulin in response to eating sweets and starches.

And once you have achieved your goal doing those exercises once a week will maintain your muscles in that state. This applies to all muscles. But it applies only to the use of exercises to enlarge and strengthen muscles. If you are exercising to use calories or develop endurance then you need to follow a different schedule. Too much exercise may even slow the optimal rate of muscle development.

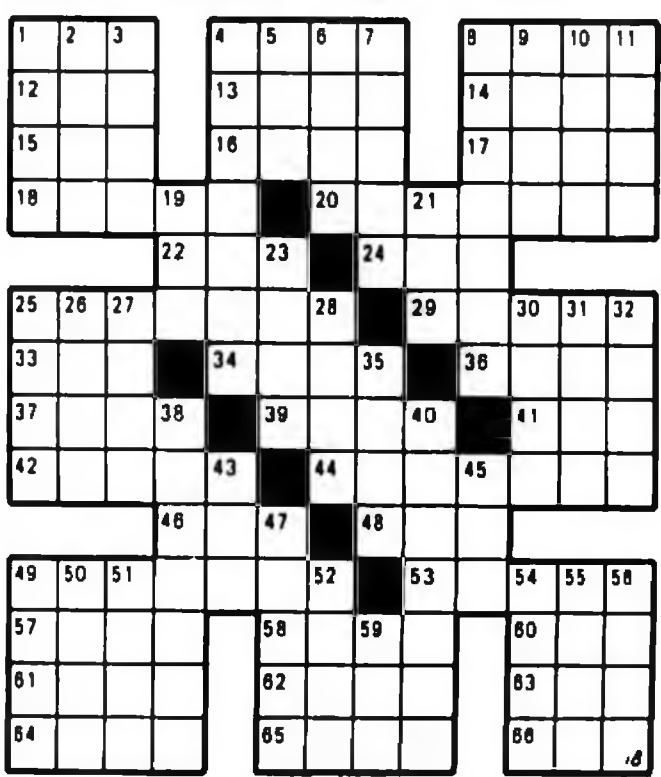

This is all very complicated and I am sending you The Health Letter number 18-B, Hypoglycemia: The Low Blood Sugar Problem, to give you more details.

Meanwhile I would suggest that you wear some support hose or pressure bandages around your legs. If you are dizzy from low blood pressure that may help by preventing pooling of blood in your legs. Also avoid sweets and starches. The candy and sugar is only for an emergency.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I read your column about doing exercises to enlarge the muscles over the chest to increase your bust measurements. You said that once your pectoral muscles are as large as you want you can maintain their size by doing exercises once a week. Why just once a week? I'm sure other readers wonder the same thing. Does this apply to sit ups, leg raises etc.?

DEAR READER — There have been careful studies on how to exercise to build the size and strength of muscles and how to maintain their size and strength. A proper set of strength exercises three times a week, spaced to provide at least one day of rest between exercise periods will produce the maximum development.

And once you have achieved your goal doing those exercises once a week will maintain your muscles in that state. This applies to all muscles. But it applies only to the use of exercises to enlarge and strengthen muscles. If you are exercising to use calories or develop endurance then you need to follow a different schedule. Too much exercise may even slow the optimal rate of muscle development.

YOUR BIRTHDAY
November 19, 1982

Projects or enterprises which you operate free from outside influence should work out successfully for you this coming year. Try to be your own person as much as possible.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You have the ability today to channel your thoughts into positive, productive actions. Focus your attention on important matters which you'd like to tilt in your favor. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph. Send $1 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) There's a possibility you could be privy to some confidential information today which may be materially beneficial. Keep your ears perked for tips.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You should be very good today at heading up committees or special groups organized for a specific purpose. If you're offered the chairperson's role, take it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) In matters which call for strategy today, you're likely to be a few steps ahead of your peers. Use your instincts to anticipate the opposition's moves.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Try to take measures today to bring closer to realization something important for which you are planning. There are ways your timetable can be advanced.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Be prepared to exert a second effort today in order to fulfill your ambitions. You can realize them if your determination is strong enough.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) When dealing with associates on important issues today, some adjustments and compromises may be necessary. Give-and-take will bring all into balance.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Even difficult tasks should go smoothly today if you use your mind as well as your muscles. Think of ways to lessen your burdens.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your secret for getting along today is your ability to understand what motivates others. You'll treat seriously what's important to them.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Much can be accomplished today in areas where your desire is to do for others as well as for yourself. Make being of service your paramount drive.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Instead of standing on the sidelines, personally take charge of situations today which you feel are not being conducted properly.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Stand up for your rights today in situations affecting your self-interests or those of your family. You can get your terms if you stiffen your backbone a bit.

The Professor hates to stop at two no-trump. He wanted to go on to game, but could find no excuse for a further bid. As he had explained to the student, you only stop one trick short of game when you think you are already too high.

He won the heart lead in his own hand and noted he had just six immediate winners and that he could get two more with a 3-3 diamond break (a 36 percent chance) or finding at least one club honor with East (a 76 percent chance).

He started by attacking diamonds after winning the first trick with his ace of hearts. He chucked a spade on the third diamond and noted that West also jettisoned one.

East led a second heart. The Professor was in dummy. He could set up one diamond at this time and come out one trick short, so he led dummy's seven of clubs and let it ride to West's queen. West led another heart to set up two heart tricks, but night had fallen on the defense.

Dummy's 10 of clubs was led and allowed to ride. It held. The eight of clubs came next and the Professor scored his jack and ace for his seventh and eighth tricks and his part-score contract. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

THE SILENT CASH REGISTER

It's ringing up your kilowatthours.

Maybe you've never thought about it this way, but every time you turn on a light or take a hot shower or do the laundry, you're shopping with Florida Power. Buying electricity. And while you may not give these purchases a second thought, the meter outside your house is ringing up those kilowatthours like a silent cash register. It's like any other credit purchase. If you wait until the bill comes at the end of the month to tell you how much you've spent, the total can come as quite a shock to your budget. That's why it makes sense to keep track as you go along. Meter reading puts you right on the money. When you record your meter readings at the same time every week, you can budget for your monthly electric bill the same way you budget for other expenses. It will also help you determine how your energy conservation efforts are working and which ones are really paying off for you.

It's quick and easy.

The dials on your electric meter are like little clocks. They alternately run clockwise and counterclockwise. Reading from right to left, write down the last number the needle has passed. The difference between the new reading and your last one totals your weekly consumption. It's really that simple.

Pick up your free meter reading guides.

To help you keep your records straight, Florida Power will give you a supply of specially designed meter reading guides absolutely free. So pick up yours today and catch up on your reading. After all, since you probably buy electricity more often than anything else, it pays to keep checking out the cash register.

SHOOT 'EM UP

Getting ready and checking out their gear for the third annual Rotary Breakfast Club Turkey Shoot, from left, are Dan Lykens, Steve Letchworth and Lou Temple. The annual Thanksgiving Turkey Shoot will be held Saturday and Sunday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Disabled American Veteran Grounds on U.S. Highway 17-92 in Sanford.

Proceeds from this annual event have been distributed to various local charities and service organizations throughout the area, such as the Boy Scouts, the Ronald McDonald House in Gainesville and the Children's Home Society of Florida.

Real Estate Classes Offered In December

The University of Central Florida Real Estate Institute will offer three courses in December, two of them at the university's South Orlando campus in Central Park and the other at the main campus.

Dec. 13 through Dec. 19 are the inclusive dates for the Real Estate I (salespersons) course with classes from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday and 9 a.m. to noon Dec. 19. Tuition is $95 with books.

The brokers course—Real Estate II—will begin at the South Orlando campus Dec. 3 and run through Dec. 9 with classes from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. through Dec. 8, and 9 a.m. to noon on the final day. Tuition is $150 including book.

The Real Estate Institute also offers the required continuing education course by correspondence for $15, and reminds salespersons and brokers who received their licenses prior to 1981 and whose names begin with N through S must renew by March 31 with a continuing education course.

A State Exam Review course will be conducted Dec. 3-5 at the main campus. Sessions will meet from 8 to 10 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. There is a $40 tuition fee which includes the book.

Information on all real estate courses offered by UCF is available by calling 275-2128.

Madrigals Set At UCF

This year's Madrigal Dinners at the University of Central Florida will be held Dec. 2, 3 and 4 and again on Dec. 10 and 11.

Piltzecker's return visit to UCF Dec. 2 in a free program presented by the Council of Arts and Sciences and sponsored by Westinghouse.

The annual dinners, sponsored by the UCF music department, are colorful salutes to the season with all the pageantry of a 16th century feast, and feature an evening's dining and entertainment that have become a local tradition.

Piltzecker, a graduate of the Eastman School of Music who honed his skills touring the U.S. and Europe with the George Shearing Quintet, will appear at 10 a.m. in the UCF music rehearsal hall with the UCF Jazz Ensemble under the direction of John Whitney.

Each dinner will open with the 7:30 p.m. procession of Madrigal Singers clothed in reproductions of garments worn during the Renaissance to be followed by fanfares and strolling minstrels, the boar's head; the wasaall bowl, and the flaming plum pudding that combine for a memorable evening.

As an active participant in Affiliate Artists Inc., Piltzecker joins a variety of professional performing artists who travel to communities across the country for "informances" sponsored by corporations. Informances are described as informal, informative and entertaining performances where audience and artist get to know each other.

Tickets at $15 each are available now in the UCF music department. For more information call 275-2869.

Piltzecker will appear that evening at Loch Haven Art Center in a paid performance.

TEACHER HONORED

Seminole County School Superintendent Robert Hughes talks with retired teacher W.L. Seig. Seig was honored by school district administrators at a reception for retired educators this week at Lake Mary High School. The 92-year-old Seig began teaching in 1919 at Chuluota and later was honored by the state for his work at Geneva.
