Sheriff wants stricter nudity law

By Russ White

Staff Writer

SANFORD - Sheriff Don Elsinger is taking one more step in an attempt to make it illegal to co-mingle the sale of alcohol with nudity in Seminole County adult clubs - Shakespeare theatre or what have you.

On Tuesday, Eslinger will tell the Board of County Commissioners why they should adopt a proposed amendment to the county's anti-nudity ordinance - one that complies with a law enacted by the City of Casselberry in January.

The proposal follows so-called "legitimate theater" performances by three nude dancers at Club Juana in Casselberry. Sheriff's deputies made no arrests at the club but crime-scene films reviewed by the State Attorney's office may lead to action.

When Seminole County adopted its tougher adult club rules and an public decency ordinance, officials knew that there was a potential for glitches that would allow adult bars to avoid prosecution of their dancers and employees.

Club Juana owner Mike Pinter purposely took the laws to the ultimate test on Friday, May 28. He invited 20 or more TV and newspaper reporters to the club for a show named "Femmes Fatale." A half-dozen deputies also attended two performances at 8:25 p.m. and at 11 p.m.

Although no arrests were made at the club, Lt. Sammy Gibson of the Sheriff's. Office, said that this did not mean no action would be taken. County and Casselberry law enforcement officials are waiting for comment from the State Attorney.

Happy Trails

County officials will host a celebration for the one-year anniversary of the Cross Seminole Trail Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon.

County trail system celebrates first year

WINTER SPRINGS - Seminole County is having a celebration to mark the opening of Cross Seminole Trail on Saturday.

Saturday is one-year anniversary of the opening of the 3.7-mile Cross Seminole Trail. When complete, Cross Seminole Trail will eventually be 14-miles long. The county will mark the anniversary with a celebration on Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon on the trail near the Black Hammock Trail Head.

The celebration will be held within brief walking distance of the Black Hammock Trail Head, west of State Road 417.

County staff will be on-hand to seek input for future trail planning. Commemorative water bottles will be distributed while supplies last.

"Staff will be there to find out how people are using the trail," Amanda Smith, a planner for the county, said. "There will be a display of where the trails will go.

The organizations participating in Saturday's activities include the Mid-Florida

Town digs deep for water

Staff Writer

LAKE MARY - Two test wells are being installed in Lake Mary in an attempt to prevent water shortages. The 550-foot deep wells will reveal the size of caverns below the surface and help researchers determine to potable water needs of the city, Rick Diaz, director of public works for Lake Mary, said. Diaz said constructing a small test well at potential well sites can help confirm subsurface and water quality conditions within the aquifer. The information collected during the test well drilling can be used to pursue the construction of a large well at the same location. The test well can also provide information that eliminates sites with poor water quality and conditions below the surface, Diaz said.

The total cost for the pair of four-inch test wells is $38,810. The test wells will be drilled near Rinehart Road.

Diaz said the wells will save money for the city by identifying sites that will most likely be able See Water, Page 3A spending $94,000 for the paving. "I know a lot of citizens are concerned about this," Lake Mary Mayor David Mealor said.

Rick Diaz, Lake Mary's public works director, said that most residents polled are in favor of the paving project. "Only five to six citizens we polled are not in favor of the paving," Diaz said. The 56 trees on Frederick Avenue will not be effected by the project. Diaz said. "It's a very unique street in our city," Diaz said. "Trees do enhance it quite a bit."

Public Works personnel will be. preparing the sub-base of the road by mixing clay and shell into the existing dirt road. The preparation will ensure that soft spots do not cause an installation or future maintenance problem.

Tutoring program heats up for summer

Staff Writer

SANFORD - Several hundred students are expected to participate in summer enrichment classes beginning Monday at the Sanford Housing Authority.

Taught by certified teachers in math, reading, English, and drama, there are tutorial classes for students at all grade levels, ranging from kindergarten through high school. The classes will run Monday through Friday until July 16.

"We're trying to raise the graduation levels of children here in the housing authority," program coordinator Sharon Stallworth said. "We want to give children an alternative to drugs, streets or idle time."

Some of the 11 certified teachers in the program are also active in the school system, and others have retired. Two retired educators are serving as Principals in the program. In addition, there are eight instructional aides.

The high school students will be taught at the W.O.R.T.H. Resource Center at Castlebrewer Court. Elementary and middle school students will be taught at William Clark Court. High school, elementary, and middle school students will be taught at Edward Higgins Terrace.

A school tutorial program is being held at the Harbor Tutorial Center in Castlebrewer Court. Students will work on computers to receive help on subjects they are taking in school.

The School Board is helping to provide two nutritious meals per day, plus a snack.

The academic courses are held during the week from 8:45 to 11:45 a.m. Breakfast is provided at 8 a.m. After lunch, at 1 p.m., students are taking part in activities sponsored by the Police Athletic League.

The housing authority is funding the summer enrichment program with help from a federal drug elimination grant.

A variety of programs were held at the Sanford Housing Authority during the school

One certified counselor, with a master's degree, and another certified therapist, worked with students who were referred by schools as potential dropouts in a tutorial program sponsored by the Juvenile Justice Department.

Hugh Trees: 'You had to like the guy'

Hugh Trees used to come into a courtroom with a smile poorly disguised at times by a

Unlike most attorneys, he wasn't the least bit evasive or unfriendly. Hugh Trees was comfortable with himself and with oth-

He was extremely likable - his most fierce rivals admitted that. Hugh Trees was OK despite the ugly fact he was employed in recent years by adult entertainment industry bosses.

This same splendid chap who helped Orange County write its anti-nudity ordinance in 1983, vigorously challenged Seminole County's decency laws the past two years.

Like Darth Vader, Hugh Trees was accused of crossing over to the dark side.

Now, Hugh Trees is gone. He suffered a stroke and died Tuesday. There's a memorial service Saturday at Sanlando Methodist Church. Hugh Trees was 46. A young man. A fine father. A fine attorney.

"You had to like the guy," attorney Andy Brumby said Thursday. Trees and Brumby worked on opposing sides in the court on the decency cases - which were a unique type of litigation. Brumby defended Seminole County's ordinance - Trees tried to find loopholes.

"There was this different ambience in the courts," Brumby said. "The nature of the litigation allowed for a certain sense of humor. As a result, Hugh and I developed a rapport, a camaraderie."

Stunned by the sudden death by a man his same age, Brumby said, "We were very much alike, you know. I like to think that I have the same boyish enthusiasm that Hugh had - and that's not anything either of us was ashamed of by any means."

Brumby said he used to coach a traveling girls softball team and that Trees coached a traveling boys roller-hockey team. "We often swapped stories about our teams. Hugh's sons played for him. I'm so sorry for them."

Jan Larsen, a paralegal at the Trees law office at 125 South Swoope Avenue in Maitland, said "Hugh's greatest love was for his sons, Philip and Andrew. He was a wonderful father. His kids came first," Larsen said.

In the courtroom or the roller rink with his sons, Hugh Trees maintained a joy for life. Part of that joy was protecting the First Amendment rights of his clients. He was a very talented attorney. And a better man than most.

Parents become proactive with son

DEAR ABBY: As I have watched and cried about the tragedy in Lit-tleton, I have wendered what I could do to help. Teday I am writing in the hope that my family's experience with our teen-age sen may help other parents.

When my sen was a set our previously reasonable boy began acting out in an angry, def-ant and violent way. After several months of this unexplainable behavior, I discovered some hate-type drawings on the desk in his bedroom. I couldn't believe this was the work of my son. My husband and I had worked hard to steads a strong, happy family, and our son had been involved in church, Boosting and sports for years. One evening after an angry episode that left me in heart, it suddenly became clear that our family needed help. I told my heahand we needed counseling to help us understand what was happening, but I did not feel comfortable admitting to our minister or dester that are to our minister er docter that our family was in such trouble.

Long before this happened, I had heard about a local counseler who worked with adelescent beys. We knew our son would be se resistant knew our son would be se red to the idea of counseling that we needed someone who speke his lan-guage and understood the less! high school scene. The next merning I could hardly breathe as I picked up the phone and called the counceler's office. It was the hardest thing I've

My bushand and I met with the soundeler the following week. When we teld our sen what we had done, and that we would be taking him for weekly appointments, he was for weakly appointments, he was very angry, but we did not give in.

After several menths, we again that with the seutneler. He did not disclose the specifics of his sessions with our son, but he did say our son this intimidated and threatened by groups of elder students at his large suburban high school. The counseler also gave us a abort source in medern-day male adolescent development issues in the context of epment issues in the context of teday's high school environment

Gradually we began easing a change in our sen. I just thank God I had heard about that counseler years earlier. He belood save our years carner. He samily. Our sen and from high school of

The organizations participating in Saturday's activities include the Mid-Florida Walkers, Florida Blcycle Association, and Adopta- Greyhound, Smith said.

The anniversary comes at a time when the county is searching for ways recover from Governor Jeb Bush's veto of $200,000 to fund the so-called missing link in the county trail system in Winter

The county is searching for ways to fund the so-called missing link of the trail in Winter Springs, running from Gardenia Avenue to SR 434. Governor leb Bush vetoed $200,000 for the missing link last week.

Ginger Hoke, Sr. Greenways and Trails Planner said that funding the "missing link" is the project's top priority, although specific funds have not been identified.

"It's going to be funded," Hoke said. "We'll find a way."

The 20-year plan for the county's trail system has an estimated cost of $40 million, including the trail heads and overpasses.

The county is planning to have 55-miles of trails that connect to Volusia, Lake, and Orange Counties.

There will be 35 miles of paved trails, and 20 miles of unpaved trails. The county has adopted a master plan for the trail system, although staff is preparing draft additions to the county trail system for the Board of Commissioners' approval.

'We plan to have a network of trails that cover the entire county," Hoke said.

All the schools and parks in the county will have a connection with the trail system, Hoke said.

Parts of the unpaved Flagler Trail are already being used. The trail is in the east of the county, running from Lake Harney to Orange County.

Two miles of the trail on Rinehart Road in Lake Mary are also in use.

The county's trail system will connect with the Sanford Riverwalk at Mellonville Avenue. The trail will link with Orange County at Cady Way. There will be at least two linkages with Volusia County. The trail system will link with lake County at SR 46, Hoke said.

A series of connected bike lanes with be built into the trail sys-

The first two miles of Seminole Wekiva Trail will be built from SR 436 to SR 434 in Altamonte Springs. The next 12 miles of the trail will run from SR 434 to Markham Road and Wekiya Winter Springs is seeking a realignment of the Cross Seminole Trail that is not detrimental to its planned 900 acre-Town Center. The city is obligated to design, build and maintain the relocated portions of the trail within the Town Center develop-approved by Couty Chairman Carlton Henley, we'rev seeking to amend our ordinance to comply what Casselberry did in January," Deputy County Attorney Lonnie Groot said Thursday.

Presently, Seminole County does not have an ordinance prohibiting the sale, use or possession of alcoholic, beverages at establishments where nudity occurs. The Casselberry ordinance prohibits nudity and alcoholic beverages to be comingled at places that are licensed by the State of Florida

If the BCC determines that it desires to consider enactment of the Ordinance, it can that day.

Summer Track Series on tap

Young and older alike will take to the Lake Mary High School Track Complex at Don T. Reynolds Stadium for the 19th Annual Lake Mary Summer Track Series that will be contested over the four Monday evenings in June beginning at 5:30 p.m.

Lake Mary to host 19th year of series on June Mondays

By Dean Smith SPORTS EDITOR

LAKE MARY _ The 19th Annual Lake Mary High School Summer Track Series will take place over the four Monday evenings in June at the Lake Mary High School Track Complex at Don T. Reynolds Stadium.

The meets are open to any and all age groups. both male and female, and has become a regular family affair with several members of a family taking port.

The meets, the brainchild of veteran Lake Mary track and cross country coach Mike Gibson, have become one of the most participated summer events in Seminole County, with well over 100 competitors taking part on some evenings.

Field events (long jump and high jump) will begin at 5:30 p.m. and running events (60-yard low hurdles, 100-meter dash, mile and 400-meter run) will start at 6:30 p.m. and will be run each Monday evening on June 6th, June 13th, June 20th and June 27th.

We tried to streamline the events a little," said Gibson. "Everyone used to try to enter all of the events and got so tired trying to win a ribbon that they would not do any of the events well.

We're also going to try to give a little more in-struction in the high jump and long jump than we used too, like getting their steps correct or how to hit the right take-off point. There's not much you can do with the 100 or 400 other than to tell them to stay in their lane."

ASK DR. GOTT

Check out sudden blood-sugar changes

DEAR DR. GOTT: My 62-year-old diabetic husband takes 20 milligrams of Glipizide two times a day. He checks his own blood sugar twice a day and it consistently runs 150 - 179. Recently, he had a routine determina-tion of 60. This was his first low reading, and when he informed his doc-tor's nurse of the low level, she refused to check it with a venous sample. Since then, the doctor has shown no interest. We are in an HMO and feel as though our concerns are not being addressed. Any advice?

DEAR READER: A sudden change in a diabetic's blood sugar signifies one of two situations: either his needs for medicine have changed or the reading of 60 was in error. In the first case, close supervision

(and an alteration in drug dosage) are mandatory. If his sugars continue to remain low, his medicine should be reduced. In the second instance, your husband's home glucose monitoring machine should be recalibrated or In either situation, the nurse or doctor should have checked a venous blood sample to determine what is is reprehensibly poor medical practice. Here's what I would do. Your hushand should have a fasting blood sugar, as well as a siycosylated hemo-globin (which will indicate the average level of blood sugar for the past two months). Immediately after the blood is drawn, your husband should check his blood sugar with his machine. This will tell if his device is accurate. Once all the information is available, the doctor can make the necessary adjustments. Insist on this. Make a fuss. Your family is as entitled to competent medical care in an HMO as would be available without managed care.

To give you related information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Diabetes Mellitus." Other readers who would like a copy should send $3.00 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to mention the title. DEAR DR. GOTT: Aspirin is used for headsches and fever. How can it also be useful for the pain of arthritis? DEAR READER: Aspirin works by inhibiting a natural body chemical called prostaglandin, which is a fundamental cause of inflammation, fever cramps. Although headaches and arthritis seem worlds apart, they have a common denominator: prestaglandin. This is the reason why an antiinflammatory drug such as aspirin is often useful in a variety of seemingly unrelated conditions.
