WELCOME FROM FRENCH

Legionnaires in Paris Resemble those of De Gaulle's Legionnaires Walk Streets

Leve Extends Greeting Throng On Hand at Cherbourg As Leviathan Comes In

Paris, Sept. 16.—(INS)—American legion was officially welcomed to Paris today.

Arrival of General P. Pershing, commander in chief of the American Expeditionary Forces during war, from Cherbourg, where he arrived this morning aboard the S. S. Leviathan.

General Pershing, who in the past has been warmly welcomed to France on June 17, 1917, and again in 1918, is now returning to France as commander of the American Expeditionary Forces.

Moye To Dynamite Mine Is Foiled By Machine Gun Play

ATHENS, O., Sept. 16.—(INS)—Machine gun bullets were brought into play early today at the Hick run mine property at Nelsonville, near here, when three mine guards foiled an attempt to dynamite the mine, it was reported by Don McGill, manager of the property.

Six men were discovered on the mine property early today, McGill reported. Shots were exchanged and the men fled, he said, leaving behind several sticks of dynamite with fuses already attached.

SUSPICION POINTS TO DOCTOR'S WIFE IN SHOOTING CASE

Widow Says Husband Killed As He Attempted To Protect Her From Attack By Negro; No Evidence Attack Found

HAMMONTON, N. J., Sept. 16.—(INS)—Further mystery was added today to the slaying of Dr. William Lillendahl, Vineland physician, when state police detailed his widow, Margaret, 40, and began a systematic check-up of her story that her husband's murderer was a negro hoodlum.

Police said Mrs. Lillendahl had not suffered bodily injury, as they were led to believe. Mrs. Lillendahl's request that she be permitted to return home was refused by the state troopers. Her clothing was taken for a minute examination, although the authorities declined to explain this move.

Several negro suspects were questioned by police in connection with the crime. A detective was sent to Mt. Carmel, N. Y., today to investigate the past life of the physician. His life in Mount Carmel, N. J., also was being checked.

According to his widow's story, Dr. Lillendahl was shot by two negroes when he attempted to rescue Mrs. Lillendahl, who told police the negroes beat her and took her jewelry. The shots severed the physician's jugular vein. Mrs. Lillendahl has been hysterical and incoherent each time she attempted to tell the details of the attack, police officials reported.

Police reported that Mrs. Lillendahl to the scene of the shooting as she had described it. Search of the woods where the physician was killed, today brought forth the gold wrist watch which Mrs. Lillendahl said was included in the loot taken by the negroes.

A swamp near the scene of the crime was to be dragged in the belief that the revolver from which fatal shots were fired may have been thrown into it. The posse continued their search for the negro bandits mentioned in Mrs. Lillendahl's story.

Governor Federal Reserve Board To Be Named Shortly

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16 (INS)—A successor to D. R. Crissinger of Ohio as governor of the Federal Reserve Board is expected to be announced shortly by President Coolidge, it was said at the White House today.

Crissinger submitted his resignation to the President on Monday and it became effective yesterday. He will become chairman of the executive committee of the F. R. B. Smith company, a real estate and mortgage investment house.

Edmund Platt of New York, vice governor, is acting in Crissinger's place until a permanent appointment is made.

Crissinger emphatically denied that he had resigned "under fire," as a result of the row kicked up by the board's action in forcing a reduction from 4 to 3 1/2 percent in the Chicago bank's re-discount rate. Officers of the Chicago bank opposed the reduction.

One of the sharpest fights in history over the Federal Reserve System was threatened because of the forced reduction. Opponents charged that it was part of a move to create an all-powerful central banking system, with the policies directed from Washington rather than by the 12 Federal Reserve banks. Crissinger stoutly defended the board's action.

SHERIFF SAYS HAYES COUPLE DRANK POISON

Has Affidavits Which Show James And Amos Both Met Death By Strychnine Poisoning; To Exhume Bodies Amos' Wife Was Also Given Poison

Discovery Insurance Carried By Trio Was Insignificant Blasts First Theory Police

BLAKLEY, Ga., Sept. 16.—(INS)—Sheriff Sid Howell announced today he has affidavits from two leading physicians here, purporting to show that Amos Hayes, formerly of Detroit and his brother, James, came to their deaths by strychnine poisoning.

This was the basis for his demand that the bodies of the two men be exhumed for chemical analysis, the sheriff said. The exhumation will be made some time tomorrow. Dr. Edward L. Everhart, state chemist, is enroute here to take charge of the examination.

It was Dr. Everhart and Dr. A. J. Ayers, Atlanta pathologist, who discovered traces of poison in the body of Mrs. Gladys Hayes, young wife of Amos, and resulted in a coroner's verdict of homicidal death by strychnine poisoning.

Meanwhile, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Hayes, parents of Amos and James, are held on murder warrants, charging them with the death of Mrs. Hayes. Hayes, 63, is in the county jail, apparently unconcerned at the charges against him, while Mrs. Hayes, 47, is held in the Catholic jail.

A theory by police that the parents poisoned their offspring to collect insurance policies, led to the discovery that the total insurance carried by their sons and daughter-in-law reached only $3,450.

Two physicians who made the affidavits are Dr. C. H. Barksdale and Dr. S. P. Holland. Both examined the victims during their illness, and found symptoms "very similar to those indicated by poisoning with strychnine or some like substance."

There have been five deaths in the Hayes family under circumstances termed by authorities "suicide."

The first was an 18-year-old daughter died, presumably of self-administered poison. Such was the verdict of the coroner's jury which investigated the case.

In March 1927 Mrs. Mary Ann Hayes, 92, mother of Harris Hayes, died after a 10-day illness. Her death was attributed to old age at the time, but Dr. J. F. Standifer, acting health officer, now recalls that the symptoms were "somewhat similar to those in cases of strychnine poisoning."

In July James Hayes, 18, died after a violent illness of two weeks duration. His oldest brother, Amos, 28, came from Detroit, Mich., to attend the funeral. Hardly had he arrived when he was stricken by the same mysterious malady.

Early in August Amos Hayes died. Then his pretty widow, Gladys came from Detroit with her baby to live with the parents. In a few days she was stricken and died. Physicians demanded an investigation. When the coroner went to the house to interview the parents, she was denied admittance. Later an examination was made of the young woman's stomach and traces of strychnine poisoning found. The coroner's jury then indicated the elderly couple and they were arrested.

SCHILLER TAKES OFF OLD ORCHARD, MAINE, Sept. 16.—(INS)—Pilots Phil Wood and C. H. "Duke" Schiller taxied their monoplane "Royal Windsor" down the beach from Harry Jones' hangar at 9 A. M. E. D. T., and swept into the air for Windsor, Ont., on the last leg of their hop from Harbor Grace, New Foundland.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 16.—(INS)—H. H. Walters, 28, of Norwood, Ohio, was the second victim of the heat wave which has swept this section during the past few days. Walters' death came last night as he started to board a northbound train at the terminal station here.

SENT TO DEATH FRANKFORT, KY., Sept. 16.—(INS)—Raymond C. Davis, of Edgely, Ky., formerly of Toledo, Ohio, went to his death in the electric chair at state prison here early today, paying the penalty for the slaying of William N. Fant, during a poker game holdup in Lexington, on Christmas Eve, 1925.

Ruth Elder Has Not Only Married Once But Also Twice, It Now Develops

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—(INS)—Ruth Elder the pretty 23-year-old aviatix who is here to fly to Paris, is not only married she admitted today, but she has been married twice.

Her present husband is Lyle E. Womack, who lives in Lakeland, Fla. With tears in her eyes she declined to give any details of her first wedding or the name of her first husband.

"It is a closed chapter in my life," she said. She stated she married Womack, an electric sign salesman of Wabcock Heights, Panama, three years ago. "I still love him and he loves me," she declared.

When she flew here Wednesday night she told reporters she was "Miss" Elder. When dispatches from the South revealed she was a "Mrs." she asked: "What of it?" and then revealed her double experience in matrimony.

"Married girls in New York use their maiden names—why shouldn't I?" she asked. "Why, I use my maiden name in the dental office where I work in Lakeland. I have been married two years. We are happy and have faith in each other. My husband knew I had hoped for a chance to fly. He helped pay for my training as a student flyer. And he is coming here to be with me when Captain Haldeman and I hop off for Paris." She thinks she will take off Sunday or Monday. Final preparations for the flight are being made at Roosevelt Field where her plane is undergoing final test.

Following what is believed to have been a prolonged drinking bout, F. M. Bishop, formerly of Manchester, Ga., but a resident of Sanford for the past several days, was found dead in a two-room house on the Lake Jessup road about five miles south of Sanford.

Authorities were notified shortly after the act had been committed and a coroner's jury composed of A. D. Smith, W. L. Tyler, L. T. Bryan, William Moss, William Woodruff and F. Goertz, was summoned. After examining the body, the scene of the suicide and hearing testimony of Evelyn Crosby, who was with the man when he took his life, the jury returned a verdict of suicide.

Officers found the body lying on a porch with a double-barreled shotgun by its side. An examination of the wound revealed that the bullet had penetrated the right side of the chest, shoulder and upper part of the right arm. It is believed that the man pointed the gun toward himself with his left hand, pulling the trigger with his right hand. The nature and location of the wound led officers to believe that the man did not die instantly but succumbed from a loss of blood.

Brooding over his financial condition followed by a protracted drinking spree is believed to have caused the man to kill himself. The Crosby woman testified that she and Bishop had been sitting on the porch for some time when he made the remark that he "was hauled and might as well end it all." As he reached for his gun, the woman said she begged the man not to kill himself. As she looked away in another direction, the woman said she heard the report of the gun and turning she saw Bishop's body slump to the floor.

Neighbors were summoned to the house and the sheriff's office was notified. The suicide was committed shortly after 3 o'clock. Sixty cents were found in the man's pockets. The Crosby woman said Bishop had been in her employ for several months.

Bishop is said to have two children in Manchester, Ga. The body is being held by Miller and Erickson, morticians, who are awaiting instructions from the man's relatives.

FLIERS MAY GO ON TOKIO, Sept. 16.—(INS)—Edward F. Schlee and William Brock, who yesterday announced the abandonment of their contemplated flight across the Pacific in their monoplane "Fride of Detroit," are considering the possibility of a flight from Honolulu to San Francisco, but have not fully decided to make the attempt.

Sanford May Become Winter Quarters Of Johnny Jones Exposition Shows

Possibilities of Sanford becoming the winter headquarters of the Johnny Jones Exposition Shows are good, according to E. J. Trotter who announces at a meeting today of the Chamber of Commerce that from communications which he had received from the owners there is considerable interest being manifested in Sanford as a location.

Mr. Trotter said a letter from Mr. Jones had expressed his sentiment in favor of this city and that if arrangements can be closed for suitable quarters together with sufficient truckage space for freight cars, Sanford in all probability will be selected over competing cities. The shows employ several hundred people and their earnings would assist local merchants materially, it was pointed out.

Sanford Post Card Week was officially designated as the week of September 26 and arrangements were made for the trade organization to offer prizes for various church bodies for the largest number of cards mailed out. The scheme was described by President S. O. Shinholser as one of the cheapest and most efficient means of advertising a city. Secretary Trotter announced receipt of a letter from the Dry Ice Company of New York in which it was stated that Sanford will be among the cities that will be considered as the site for a (Continued On Page Three)

NEW TRIAL HOP ACROSS OCEAN IS ANNOUNCED

Miss Grayson, Business Woman of Forrest Hills, N. Y. Plans to Try Her Luck in Long Flight Over Atlantic

Air Enthusiast Will Try Amphibian Plane Sikoraky Has Constructed A Boat Especially Built For Safe Long Distant Flights

NEW YORK, Sept. 16 (INS)—Miss Frances Grayson, young business woman and aviation enthusiast of Forest Hills, N. Y., is going to fly the ocean soon, "not for a thrill," she said in an exclusive interview today, but to "help re-establish confidence in aviation," by proving that the ocean can be put on a safe and scientific basis. If the right kind of a plane is used and proper advancement precautions are taken.

Igor Sikoraky, noted airplane designer, has built for her, at a cost of about $40,000, an amphibian plane of radical design which is said to be so well constructed that for the safety of passengers on an ocean flight.

Smartly gowned in tan, and speaking in a refined manner, Miss Grayson sat in the lobby of the Waldorf-Astoria today and in the first interview she has granted, (being adverse to publicity), told of her plans to fly the ocean.

"Caution is necessary in making a flight across the ocean," she said. "The recent disasters have proven that. I'm not making a race of it to be the first woman to do it," she continued. "I don't believe in rushing a thing like this. There will be nothing hasty or haphazard in my flight. I intend to be convinced that every bit of the plane is in tip-top shape. I am sure I have the plane that will take me over, and so is Mr. Sikoraky. This is not to be a stunt."

"I am using an amphibian because an ocean flight is presumed to be a land flight. So I have a plane that will land on either land or sea. The plane is powered with two J-5 Wright whirlwind motors. If one motor goes bad we can use the other. It has a radio, with a sending and receiving apparatus—and an emergency radio, too."

Asked if she was carrying a rubber boat, she replied quickly, "The plane itself is a boat."

The "silent message" that Miss Mildred Dornan and Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim left behind when they flew off to meet their unknown fate, is the "inspiration" that is spurring Miss Grayson on "to show that their sacrifice has not been in vain."

She expressed a lively interest in the proposed New York-to-Paris flight of pretty 23-year-old Ruth Elder, The Florida flyer, saying that of course she wished the southern girl "loads of luck."

Miss Grayson said she has not been discouraged by recent disasters of the air. Women, in her opinion, have a definite place in aviation. She said she saw no reason why a woman with the same flying experience as a man could not handle a ship equally well.

Miss Grayson is associated in the buying of the plane with Mrs. Anne Ancker, of Aiken, S. C., a wealthy sportswoman. They have incorporated under the name of the Ancker-Grayson Aircraft Corporation. One of the unusual features of the plane, which Sikoraky built for them, is the "sesqui" wing. The under half-wing supplies lifting and sustaining area to the plane. The "flying boat" is said to comply with all the United States Navy demands for safe ocean flying.

Captain MacIntosh Hops Off On Ocean Flight To New York

TARIFF PROBLEM IN FRANCE LEFT UP TO COOLIDGE

France's Rejection Of Most-Favored-Nation Basis For Treaty Leaves Only 2 Moves Open For U. S. Government

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Worried by the prospect of a European-American tariff war and by the increase of anti-American sentiment abroad, administration officials have decided to call a halt on the "snooping" activities of tariff commission and treasury investigators in South America and Europe, it was learned today.

The first step was taken by the Tariff Commission when it was decided not to send a board to Argentina for the purpose of inquiring into the cost of producing flax seed and corn. This will be followed by the withdrawal of similar boards and agents now in Europe. It is expected that Congress will be asked to repeal the tariff laws in order to legitimize this procedure.

Those investigating activities, which are intended to produce information upon which to base American tariff duties and to prevent foreign products from entering the country illegally, have created worldwide resentment against the United States. Complaints against the practice have been pouring into the state and commerce departments daily and the grievances of European manufacturers on this score were publicly aired at the Economic Conference in Geneva.

The issue came to a head recently when Argentina flatly refused to assist in an investigation of flax seed and corn production costs. The Argentine government curtly informed the State Department that the investigators "would not be welcome."

The Tariff Commission agents were to have sailed for Buenos Aires in June, but they detained upon receipt of the Argentine protest pending a conference between the Commission and President Coolidge.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—The next move in the Franco-American tariff controversy was placed squarely up to President Coolidge today.

Rejection by France of Washington's proposal for a commercial treaty on a most-favored-nation basis left only two courses open to the government. The negotiations could be brought to an end, thus leaving American shippers and manufacturers virtually out in the cold as far as the French market is concerned; or the President could fire the opening shot in the expected tariff war by bringing section 317 of the tariff law into play.

Section 317 gives the President the right to increase by 50 per cent the duties on goods received from any country which discriminates against American goods. If the discrimination continues, the President can put down a complete embargo on the goods of the offending country.

Meanwhile, with Secretary Kellogg speeding in his home in St. Paul for a 10-day vacation, acting Secretary Castle was framing this country's reply to the French rejection.

The answer, which is expected to go forward before the end of the week, will be brief and to the point. It will state without qualification that the Fordney-McCumber Tariff Act makes it impossible for the United States to negotiate a commercial treaty on any but a most-favored-nation basis. The law requires that all countries be treated alike, thereby preventing a special arrangement with France that would give that country preferential rates.

"Princess Xenia" Is Winging Across Atlantic; Last Seen Late This Afternoon

Weather Conditions Are Said To Be Good Plane Carries No Radio But Has Gas For 40 Hours Of Flying

LONDON, Sept. 16.—(INS)—At 4:20 o'clock today the trans-Atlantic plane "Princess Xenia," in which Capt. R. H. MacIntosh and Commandant James C. Fitzmaurice are attempting a non-stop trans-Atlantic flight, was well out over the Atlantic, bearing due west for New Foundland.

The plane had not been sighted since 3:03 o'clock, when it passed over the Ramora coast guard station on the west coast of Ireland. Weather reports indicated the fliers were experiencing good weather.

Over the great circle route, on a course slightly south by west, if favored with good luck, the aviators thought they might probably reach New York in 26 hours.

The "Princess Xenia" carries no wireless equipment. A flare pistol for signaling in case of distress, and a tiny pneumatic rubber boat, were included in the plane's equipment.

With luck, we will do it," Capt. MacIntosh declared just before the start. "We are starting a direct course for New Foundland and expect to reach New York in 26 hours. The weather reports indicate better conditions than have existed for a long time and that is as good as we can expect."

DUBLIN, Sept. 16.—(INS)—Capt. R. H. MacIntosh, British long-distance flyer, hopped off from Baldonnel airdrome at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon on an attempted non-stop flight for New York undeterred by the tragic fates which have overcome the planes. Capt. MacIntosh had gone steadily ahead with plans for his flight, awaiting only favorable weather reports over the Atlantic to take his monoplane, air.

With reports indicating a clearing of the atmosphere over the ocean this morning, the flyer announced that he would take off immediately.

MacIntosh, who plans to pilot the plane on the trans-Atlantic flight, is accompanied by Commandant Fitzmaurice, commander of the Irish Free State Air Force, who will act as navigator.

The monoplane is a Fokker, powered with a 550 horse power Bristol Jupiter, nine cylinder motor. The "Princess Xenia," carried 701 gallons of gasoline when it took its flight, which the flyers estimated would last for 40 hours flying.

With the plane capable of averaging approximately 100 miles an hour, the two aviators expected to reach New York some time this week.

Both MacIntosh and Fitzmaurice had been at the Baldonnel airdrome since early this morning, studying weather reports and ocean charts. They were informed that weather and wind were the most favorable for an east-to-west ocean flight in many weeks. The flyers made instant decision to start as soon as the plane could be made ready.

The big monoplane was pulled out of the hangar, taken to the edge of the flying field and its tanks filled with gasoline and oil. The motor was given its final test. The weather which had been bright and sunny during the morning became slightly overcast at noon but Capt. MacIntosh decided against any further postponement of the flight.

News that the "Princess Xenia" was about to start its dangerous flight spread rapidly and a large crowd gathered at the flying field to witness the start. Ambulances and fire equipment were brought to the edge of the flying field, use in case of emergency.

At 12:30 o'clock, Fitzmaurice bade farewell to his wife and MacIntosh briefly expressed his thanks to the aerodrome authorities for the assistance they had given him. Then the two flyers climbed to the cockpit and a start later the big monoplane roared down the runway on the start of its westward flight.

After taking a little more than a hundred yards, the plane was in a few moments, it was lost in a light misty rain which had commenced falling. A gust wind, west by south-west was blowing at the time the flyers started.

Ben Cantwell Hurls Giants To Victory In 1st Big League Start

Former Sanford Star Yields Twelve Hits But Is Steady When Hits Mean Scores

Big Ben Doubles To Count One Run

World Champion Cards Are Subdued With Ease By 9-3 Score

St. Louis, Sept. 14.—With the first game of a doubleheader tucked away and the opportunity to grab sole possession of the second place, the Cards went into the nightcap Wednesday with Littlejohn in the box against Ben Cantwell of New York. Cantwell had been used solely as relief hurler since joining the Giants from the Jacksonville club and this was his first major league start. The crowd had swelled to 30,000.

The teams were struggling with the score at one all at the end of the fourth inning. Holm's single and doubles by Bottomley and Orsatti gave the Cards a run in the first inning. In the second stanza, Hornsby walked, went to third on Terry's double and scored on a fielder's choice.

The Giants unleashed a fierce batting assault in the sixth, hammering out eight hits during a seven run attack which knocked Littlejohn and his successor, Tony Kaufmann, out of the box. Terry's triple drove in two runners, and another triple by Jackson scored Terry and was the end of Littlejohn. Harper singled driving in Jackson. Taylor singled, but Harper was out trying to make third. Cantwell doubled to drive in Taylor. Mueller walked and Lindstrom crashed a double scoring Cantwell and Mueller. Ring then took up the pitching burden for the Cardinals, retiring the side.

In their half of the sixth, the Cardinals scored twice. Schulte batted a homer in to the right field bleachers, scoring behind Lester Bell who had reached first on a single.

Terry's double Jackson's sacrifice and a fielder's choice brought in another run for New York in the seventh.

English Writer Declares Big Fighters Appear To Be Training For British Open

TUNNEY TRAINING CAMP, LAKE ILLA, Ill., Sept. 15.—Ostensibly to avoid being knocked cold by the heat, which is a good trick even if you can't do it, Gene Tunney today will introduce the innovation of twilight training, which probably hasn't anything to do with the fact that twilight sleep leaves the patient conscious but immune to pain. All the writer can vouch for is that nobody in news conscious around this light and the pain of the long, fruitless days has been intolerable.

Dempsey is training under cover of darkness or says he is. Tunney hires a beautiful camp, which he uses for occasional visits, and now he says that only in the tranquil hour of twilight can one achieve one's best.

This decision was reached with the idea of avoiding the heat but it begins to look as though both of these fighters will avoid me unless they return to the old eight hour day of eight to five with an hour for lunch.

However, I am happy to learn that Mr. Tunney means to box this afternoon. It reassures me to some extent on a point I had come to doubt. The boys actually are going to fight on the night of Sept. 22. Judging solely by their training or what it is to date, they might be getting ready for the old junior prom.

"They can't fool me," said Yank Wignall, British writer, today after learning that one man was bagpunching in public and the other in private, the latter being merely oral bagpunching, at that. "No, you can't fool me. These boys are training for the British open."

It is, therefore, with some gratification that I learn of Mr. Tunney's intention to put on the gloves today for purposes other than cringing or moping, as they prefer to say it at the cab drivers local. Yes, indeed, Mr. Tunney is going to work, just as an innovation.

At the crack of dawn he will himself to the open road for five or six miles and, when the day is done and those rich, dark hues begin forming in the gloaming, he will box six rounds for the edification of all those who have both $1.10 and the desire to spend it.

Friday will be an off day, Saturday will be on, or at least that is the present arrangement, which is subject to change without notice particularly if some one gets up a good fourpound at the last minute.

This may sound like the program of a young man with nothing on his mind except a head of hair. It is. Tunney was serene at Stroudsburg before the first Dempsey bout, a condition that was regarded at the time as a mild form of dementia. He is absolutely tranquil here.

He knows he has a fight on for next Thursday, one week from today. He knows the man he is to face is supposed to be a man-ent and knows if he makes one mistake it is likely to be a permanent one.

But Tunney's idea is that he won't make that mistake. It must be admitted, at that, that he is a young man who doesn't make many.

Tagging All Bases

With a winning streak of seven games, a four-game lead over the Cardinals and Giants, who are scheduled for second game, the Pittsburgh Pirates are sitting pretty today in the National League scramble. The pennant chances of the Cards and Giants were badly singed in the boiling sun at St. Louis yesterday when the two teams split a double bill again while the Pirates were smacking the Braves twice.

The Cubs, meanwhile were swamped by Brooklyn again and dropped completely out of the race. The Braves trail the Pirates by 6-12 games. The standing:

Team	W	L	To Play	P. C
Pittsburgh	83	53	18	.610
St. Louis	79	57	18	.581
New York	79	57	18	.581
Chicago	78	61	18	.561

The Cubs, with only 15 games remaining on their schedule, have little chance of overhauling the leaders. The Cardinals do not play Pittsburgh again. The Giants have four games with the Braves but probably will have to sweep the series to stay in the running. Today the New Yorkers and the Cards clash in another double-header, the third in as many days.

Although the Boston Braves have lost 10 straight, they are trying hard to stop Pittsburgh. Manager Bancroft threw his ace, Greenfield, right back at the Bucs again yesterday but the corsairs trimmed him, 6 to 2, for the second time in many days. John Miljus, Pirate rookie, held the bay boys to six hits in the nightcap and blanked them 3 to 0.

Hafey's homer with two on in the tenth staked the Cardinals to a 6 to 3 victory over the Giants. Ben Cantwell, rookie twirler, beat the Cards in the nightcap, 9 to 3, with the Giants murdering three second string St. Louis pitchers.

Max Carey of Brooklyn again beat the Cubs single-handed, clouting a homer with the bases full. Vance pitched for the Robins and won 10 to 6.

Bressler tripled in the ninth with the bases loaded as the Reds noxied out Phillies, 7 to 6, for their seventh straight victory.

Will There Be Racing

The Herald in its editorial columns recently reminded its readers that the operators of race tracks in Florida would be back this winter. We had based the assertion upon reports that have come to us and upon a knowledge of the methods pursued by racing promoters.

We don't believe the race track crowd will "get by" with their attempt to operate this winter in Florida. We haven't thought that they could since the supreme court last spring handed down its ruling against pari-mutuel betting.

In this connection it is interesting to note a statement recently made in the Miami News by James M. Carson, prominent Miami attorney which last year was active in the fight which eventually led to the closing of all tracks in the state.

"The story announcing a 45-day race-meet at the Miami Jockey Club this winter, is most amazing. Personally I refuse to believe it because: First—No race track can, as everybody knows, operate for so long a season without gambling.

"Second—The supreme court of Florida has removed any possible doubt (there was never any real doubt) about the law or the remedy for its violation.

"Third—Violation of the law flagrantly carried on, as in the case of race tracks, cannot continue without the consent or co-operation of the county solicitor, the sheriff of the county and the governor of the state.

"Fourth—Besides, the consent of all these officers, if any private citizen brings suit for injunction, the circuit court must either close the tracks or refuse to follow the decision in the Pompano case, which is the law of this state.

"Fifth—To believe that Mr. Smoot's announcement is authentic and justified one must believe that he has received assurances of co-operation or acquiescence from the county solicitor, the sheriff, one or more circuit judges and the governor of Florida, and all of this I refuse to believe—yet.

"Certainly there will be no race-meeting, where gambling is carried on, this winter if the people of Dade county and the state of Florida can prevent it. I propose to do everything in my power to help in that direction."

A Good Fighter

We have all heard a great deal about a number of persons who took a series of hard knocks on the chin during the late lamented Florida real estate boom. Not only did widows and orphans of northern cities lose their Liberty bonds and pensions and a vain endeavor to amass millions, but many native crackers who should have known better suffered too.

Not all were as fortunate as Jack Britton when it came to staging the comeback. Britton, you remember, used to be the welterweight boxing king. He was to the men of his class what Dempsey was to the heavyweights. And Britton had sense besides, horse sense, we mean. He boxed around like a wise man, taking them all on, knocking them loose and putting the money in the bank. Then when he could count his money only on an adding machine, he retired.

But he came to Florida, ostensibly to enjoy our luscious climate, and unexpectedly was bitten by the real estate bug. In a battle with the creature, he hooked and jabbed as best he could, but he couldn't stand the heat and several hundred thousand took the count.

Britton, though forty and well passed the age when men ordinarily do road work well, turned to the only profession he knew anything about. Last week he took on George Levine, twenty-three, a promising fighter who knew how to dance, duck, dodge, block, hook, feint and jab, and also had a stick of dynamite in each hand.

Britton did his best. He got tired but he hit back. He won the decision. Levine met him in the center and congratulated him, "Jack, you're a great old kid." Wasn't he though?

"VIGILANCE MEN" EFFECTIVE

PALM BEACH POST

Shortly after the close of the war organized bands of bank robbers instituted a reign of terror in the Middle West. The large number of Liberty bond holders in the rural sections kept their securities in small country banks and bands of robbers soon saw that this would be a fertile field. It became a regular organized business, with the result that in 1920 there were 28 bank robberies in the state of Iowa, with a loss of $225,000. The next year the number grew to the alarming number of 69, with a loss of more than $250,000.

In one of these sheffs and his son were shot and it was seen that some steps would have to be taken to supplement the police facilities of the state. The governor authorized the swearing in of reliable citizens for the rural communities all over the state, to establishing "vigilance committees" of from four to ten in each, mostly service men who knew how to handle weapons. With state authority and local pride behind them they soon had the situation under control.

Consolidation Means Better Service

LAKE CITY REPORTER

Two electric light plants in a town or two telephone systems would mean that neither would have patronage enough to install equipment or give first class service. This is clear enough. The same rule holds good in the newspaper field. When the business is divided between two or three papers in a limited field it takes twice the publicity and twice the expense to reach the same number of people as when it is done through one medium.

When a newspaper plant prepares its copy, sets the type, makes up the forms and puts them into the press ready for printing, the principal work is already performed. Two thousand copies can be printed or ten thousand, or a hundred thousand. When there is more than one plant each is duplicating the work of the other. With the high cost of publishing a newspaper or operating a printing plant these days the inevitable result in a city of only a few thou-

A Wall of Water. One Million for Two Flats. To Impress Other Nations. Money Helps Science. BY ARTHUR BRISBANE Copyright 1927 by Star Co.

TENS OF THOUSANDS are homeless in Japan, their homes swept away by the typhoon and tidal wave, and thousands are dead. The disaster as described by eye witnesses, was literally awful.

First came a heavy rumbling sound from the ocean, in the midst of a dreadful windstorm. Then a wall of water, 10 feet high, rolled in from the sea, sweeping houses, cattle and men before it, and washing the fishing boats up into the rice fields. Airplanes surveying the disaster report great rice areas covered by the sea.

AT ALMOST THE same time, a tidal wave 25 feet high, accompanied, perhaps caused, by a terrific gale, swept the west coast of Mexico. Telegraph and telephone wires are washed away, and no details have been received of this calamity near home. It is conceivable that a great earthquake, at the bottom of the Pacific may have caused disaster on either side of the ocean.

IT WAS REPORTED in New York today that $1,000,000 already has been paid to Tunney as an advance on his fight receipts—the idea being to thwart gentlemen anxious to attach his share of the money for alleged claims.

Tunney enlisted in the Marines "for a chance to fight," never having done any boxing before he went to France. He little thought that boxing for sport, on Uncle Sam's payroll, at $50 a month, would enable him later to make more than $1,000,000 in a few minutes.

BROCK AND SCHLEE, held up by the great typhoon, intend to fly home across the Pacific. It would be a tremendous flight, nearly 5,000 miles from Tokyo to the Midway Islands in the middle of the Pacific ocean, then another long flight to Honolulu, thence a hop of 2,400 miles to the Pacific coast—a total flight over the Pacific of more than 6000 miles.

THE JAPANESE WARN the fliers from Detroit that their attempt would be suicidal for the best of navigators find it difficult to locate the tiny Midway Islands in the Pacific.

But nations that do things impress other nations. Such a flight by two Americans, not dismayed by recent deaths and disaster, would convince Europe and Asia that any hostile planes sent to this country would be answered promptly by American planes going in the other direction.

ANOTHER FORCE GREATER than science in our civilization is working to end war, and that force is organized money.

Money has discovered that war kills more dollars than men, that it creates heavy income taxes, and other troubles. Organized money knows that future wars would result, at the very start, in confiscation of capital to meet expenses. Organized money, which usually gets what it wants, doesn't want war, a cheerful fact.

Funds Flow Freely To Force Call Loan Money To Old Rate

New York Sept. 15.—With the completion of the government's billion-and-a-half dollar financing of notes and certificates of indebtedness, income taxes and the mid-month corporation dividend payments, funds flowed into the speculative district in good volume today and forced the call loan rate back to 3-1/2 per cent.

Cops Hold Georgia Preacher On Charge Of Kidnaping Rival

COLUMBUS, Ga., Sept. 16.—(INS)—Police here today again questioned Rev. A. V. Noble, ousted Pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church here, who is being held charged with the kidnaping of Rev. Willis T. Jordan, his successor.

Noble has denied all knowledge of the mysterious disappearance of Jordan, who came here from Wisconsin a few weeks ago to take charge of the local church, which comes under northern jurisdiction.

Rev. Jordan was last seen Wednesday night. He and his wife had been driven home by friends, and as he was about to enter his house, two men stopped him and asked for a few minutes to discuss church matters. Mrs. Jordan went into the house, as she saw her husband and the two men walk down the street.

Noble was arrested, police announced, after Rev. C. B. Neherland, a retired minister, declared that the ousted preacher had said some time ago that "no man would live to fill the pastorate of this church."

A few days ago Noble was removed from the parish house by court order, he having refused Jordan permission to occupy it.

Alabama Woman Is Attacked By Negro Who Eludes Posse

DORA, Ala., Sept. 16.—(INS)—A posse of police and deputies today are scouring the woods for an unidentified negro who late yesterday, according to the dying statement of his victim, outraged and then brutally beat Mrs. Mary Treece.

Suffering from burns from her face down to her legs, and with her body a mass of bruises, Mrs. Treece, who died late yesterday in a local hospital, was found by her husband about three miles from town according to reports made to police. Her clothes were torn and burned from her body, according to reports, and three pools of blood and a mass of hair was found nearby. Mrs. Treece was in a semi-conscious condition when found and was only able to make a short statement at the hospital, in which she attributed the attack to an unknown negro, before her death.

The brutal attack and beating has aroused the feeling of white people in this section to fever-pitch and police fear mob violence if the negro is found.

Goodrich Tire Co. Among First To Try New Curing Process

Ever since water curing has been employed in the manufacture of inner tubes for automobile tires leading engineers in the rubber industry have been devoting much time and attention to the application of this process in the manufacture of casings.

"The B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company," says C. E. Myers local Goodrich Tire Dealer, "was one of the first to adopt this remarkable process commercially. In their tests and experiments they found that curing tubes by means of hot water under pressure gave a more compact texture to the tube, removed irregularities and virtually prevented possibilities of pin-holes and air seepage. Such things had been common experience with tubes up to that time."

"Another advantage which was noted in the tests with the water cure process was the quick penetration of the heat, which is so essentially important to vulcanization. From this result Goodrich engineers immediately saw the advantages to be gained in tire vulcanizing if they could apply heat by the same means. They set to work on the problem, solved it and several months ago made the necessary equipment installations in their factory at Akron, for manufacturing facturing Silvertowns under this process.

"Today Silvertowns have been brought to even a higher point of perfection through the complete adoption of the water cure process by Goodrich. This process applies the heat to both sides of the tire at the same time during the cure. It provides a more uniform cure to the whole tire—no part is overcooked and no part under-cured. A more powerful bond unites the tread, breaker strip and plies of the canvass."

Growing Children Need Lots of Milk

HAPPY healthy faces and vigorous bodies are childhood's testimony that milk is the most perfect food in the world. Playing the vital part that it does in the health and development of growing children, their milk should be the very best you can get.

When your child drinks Klim, you know his milk is pure, nourishing and absolutely safe. For Klim is milk from the richest dairy sections of America, milk rigidly inspected and pasteurized and turned into powdered snowdrifts a few hours after milking.

Klim is the ideal milk for every purpose. Give the children all they want, cook with it, use it in every way you would use liquid milk. You'll find it economical as it keeps indefinitely without ice and there is no waste through spoilage.

Bite yourself an Alphabet

Mr. Gadder simply must pretzel

The touching scene pictured above shows Mr. Gadder starting on a trip on the steam cars. He is going to Naumkeag, Mass., to buy a barrel. Being a cautious soul, Mr. Gadder is taking plenty of pretzels along to while away the two hour trip. Probably the first letters he will bite out will be the initials of the railroad:

B. & N. R. R.

Which is not so easy. But then think of the fun Mr. Gadder, a P. M. P. (Past Master Pretzeleer) will have biting and eating.

All pretzeleers in good standing eat O-So-Guds are baked brown, baked crispy, baked good to eat and easy to digest by Uneeda Bakers.

They're good with iced drinks and with tea. With soup and with salad and with cheese. With those funny little fish and what nots that folks call hors d'oeuvres.

Give the children Uneeda Bakers' pretzels—plenty of them. Doctors approve. And don't stint your own self. You'll approve.

BERLIN, Sept. 13.—(INS)—The idea of placing at imported traffic centers policemen who speak foreign languages, the carrying out of which was begun in Berlin on a modest scale fifteen years ago, but was interrupted by the war, has again been taken up and so developed that the German capital now has 130 police-linguists on duty.

They wear a red band around their left sleeve, on which are printed the languages which they speak. Many of these policemen learned their languages during residence abroad.

The main foreign tongues spoken are English and French, but there are also many policemen who speak Russian and Polish. Regular courses of instruction are held, and three are so many applicants that a careful selection can be made of the best linguists.

Psychoanalysis, the modern science invented by Professor Freud of Vienna whose teachings have swept the world, is "disgusting, unmanly and milk-soppy," in the opinion of Professor August Bier, Germany's most renowned surgeon.

In place of psychoanalysis he recommends the discipline of the old German army and the tradition of its officers.

Bier was the surgeon who operated on President Ebert and Hugo Stinnes.

The German Army has made up a reparations bill of its own and has presented it to Captain Ehrhardt, German fascist leader, for payment.

The bill is for 6,000,000 gold marks and represents damage suffered by the German army as a result of a while President Ebert and the German government were driven out of Berlin. Ehrhardt was one of the chief leaders of the revolt.

The army made up the bill when the German courts, which contain the most reactionary elements in the country, decreed the Ehrhardt as well as all the other leaders of the Dutch were entitled to full pay for the time they spent in revolt, and were also entitled to a full pension from the government they had tried to overthrow.

The army has now attached these claims for payment of its counter bill.

Direct wireless communication between Germany and the Philippines (Nauen-Manila) has now been opened for commercial use by the Transradio Company.

Ordinary, urgent, half-rate and press radiograms can be handled at any German postoffice or telegraph office for transmission. The rate for ordinary messages is about 77 cents a word.

French Plans For Reciprocal Treaty Will Be Rejected

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—(INS)—The French counter proposal for a reciprocal commercial treaty will be flatly rejected by the United States, it was declared today on behalf of secretary of state Kellogg.

Neither the president nor the state department, the secretary asserted, has any authority to negotiate such a treaty. Therefore, France must accept a treaty giving the United States most favored nation treated or none at all.

Congress alone, Kellogg said, has the power to determine and regulate the American tariff. A reciprocal treaty with France giving that country rates different from those accorded all other countries would clash with congressional authority.

In the meantime the outbreak of a Franco-American tariff war drew closer, it was admitted at the state department. Kellogg pointed out that under section 3171 of the Fordney-McCumber tariff law the president is authorized to increase by 50 percent the rates on goods received from foreign countries whose tariff schedules discriminate against American goods. The state department has already declared its belief that the present French tariff is discriminatory.

If this retaliatory measure fails to remove the discrimination, the president is further empowered to place a full embargo on the goods from the offending country.

Cline Trial Comes To Sudden End With His Court Plea Of Guilty

ROCKVILLE, Conn., Sept. 14.—(INS)—The murder trial of Leonard Cline, New York novelist, came to a sudden end here today. Cline pleaded guilty to manslaughter in connection with the death of Wilfred T. Irwin, of Lexington, Va., and was sentenced to one year in the county jail and to pay a fine of $2,000.

Judge Yeomans had been in conference with Thomas F. Neone, states attorney for Tolland county; Michael D. O'Connell, assistant state's attorney and William A. King, of Willimantic, chief of Cline's counsel. After an hour and twenty-two minutes, the court session was opened formally and Cline made his plea.

There were no statements by either the state or the defense. Judge Yeomans declared the plea had been accepted because of the conflicting testimony that had been given in the preliminary investigation and by the fact circumstantial evidence entered so largely into the case.
