Lie Hopes For Deadlock To Break In U.N.

Head Of World Group
Declares Russia
Has Confidence
In United Nations

LAKE SUCCESS, May 26 (AP)—Secretary General Trygve Lie said today he hopes for a definite break by June or July in the United Nations deadlock over China.

Lie made his statement at his first news conference since returning from talks with Prime Minister Stalin, Prime Minister Attlee, Premier Bidault and President Truman.

Lie also declared Russia still has confidence in the United Nations and wants it restored to its normal functioning. It was disrupted by the Soviet walk-out—strikes which started Jan. 10 over the China representation question.

The secretary general said he had not taken any proposals from President Truman to Stalin or brought any message back to Mr. Truman. He expects to see the president and secretary of state in London next week.

Lie expressed hope any details of his talks with the big power leaders but said he had left with them some memoranda. He would not disclose the contents.

Lie said he would have a high-level security council meeting which he held this summer with foreign ministers.

Among the organizations which will attend the service are the United Spanish - American War Veterans, the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Disabled American Veterans.

"Internationally these are very trying times," said Mr. Householder, "and it is believed only quiet proper that all veterans of all of our country's wars should join to worship Almighty God."

Poppy Day Will Be Observed In Sanford

"Poppy Day" will be observed Saturday in Sanford by the American Legion Auxiliary of Sanford Post No. 53, and members will be aided by students in selling poppies at tables in the downtown sections.

Mrs. B. Baker, president of the Auxiliary, announced today.

An attractive window display at Yowell's depicts disabled veterans making the poppies that the Legion Auxiliary members sell each year, thus giving confidence and self support to men in hospitals and elsewhere, said Mrs. Baker.

Mrs. Beth Woodruff, in special uniform, shows Mrs. Baker, a "sunshine lady," as she serves as a hostess to the men in the hospitals. Ladies of the Auxiliary are especially trained for this work.

Mrs. Beth Woodruff, on behalf of the Auxiliary, furnished the materials for the display which was set up by "Bud" Weber, using the wax figures furnished by Yowell's.

Hits Lewis Switch

EX-PRESIDENT of a United Mine Workers local at Canton, Ill., Lloyd Sidener testified in Washington before a night session of a House Labor subcommittee. Sidener charged that U.M.W. chief John L. Lewis publicly called on the miners to obey a Federal Court back-to-work order but secretly passed the word along that no coal was to be dug by the miners. (International)

Senators To Fight FEPC In Any Form

Dixie Solons Agree
With Truman That Voluntary Bill Is Not Acceptable

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—Southern Democratic leaders made it unanimous with President Truman today in opposing a voluntary Fair Employment Practices Commission (FEPC).

Senator Russell (D-Ga.) told a reporter that those who joined in a Senate filibuster against a compulsory FEPC bill are just as much opposed as the President is to having an anti-job discrimination group with no enforcement powers.

The House has passed such a bill. The difference, Russell added, is that the President wants an FEPC with authority to enforce its orders against race, color and creed discriminations and the southern bloc wants no FEPC at all.

Mr. Truman told yesterday's White House news conference he won't accept the voluntary proposal as a substitute for the compulsory bill on which the Senate leadership is marking time for a few weeks after failing in its first attempt to break a Dixie filibuster.

The President's opposition to the voluntary bill left Senator Graham (D-N.C.) on something of a political limb in a North Carolina primary Saturday in which Graham's Senate seat is at stake.

Graham has said he opposes the compulsory, but favors the voluntary approach to FEPC. Graham's two opponents in Saturday's primary, Willis Smith, Raleigh attorney and former Senator Robert R. Reynolds have attacked all FEPC proposals.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, told a reporter he will not offer the voluntary proposal as a compromise in the Senate.

Chairman of the GOP policy committee, said he doesn't think the voluntary plan has any more chance of breaking through a southern filibuster than the compulsory plan. Taft supports the former and opposes the latter.

Aside from the FEPC issue, Mr. Truman declined to say at his news conference whether he will go into Ohio to oppose Taft's reelection. Taft said he doesn't care much one way or the other whether the President speaks against him in the state.

Taft's opponent, State Auditor Joseph Ferguson, got some political support from Vice President Barkley. Barkley posted for pictures with Ferguson, prints of which are likely to turn up in the campaign.

Edward Lindsey Instantly Killed In Highway Crash

Edward F. Lindsey, brother-in-law of Assistant First Chief Reynolds Thomas, was instantly killed today when he drove his automobile into a concrete abutment on the Oviedo highway at Soldier Creek.

The motor was torn completely out of the car and parts of the 1946 Tudor Ford were thrown more than 100 feet down the road. There were no witnesses to the accident and Mr. Lindsey was dead when found by C. R. Lambert of Winter Park driving for the Dixie Distributing Co. of Orlando.

Mr. Lindsey was agent for the United Life Insurance Co. and recently moved to Sanford from Ocala where he had lived at 1925 S. Line Street.

The accident was investigated by Justice of the Peace Aurilin Oviedo, Patrolman Harrison, Sheriff Mero and Deputy Charles Beck.

Miami Judge Advises Direct Action Aimed At Underworld

MIAMI, May 26 (AP)—Circuit Judge Stanley Millidge advised the Crime Commission of greater Miami last night to employ more direct action against the underworld. He recommended civil suits and use of aliases in the commission's fight against racketeers and vanguarders who operate in this area.

Judge Millidge also urged adoption of a "blue ribbon" grand jury panel whose members would be "fully qualified in character, civil responsibility and leadership."

"Such a jury, said the judge, is not apt to be led around by the nose and will have the stamina to ignore the political sniping always aimed at an active grand jury."

"Local grand juries have been publicly insulted for daring to assume the public interest in important enough to justify a public report on official conduct. The danger to an honest, competent official of an unfair grand jury report is all right compared to the danger to public interest of muzzling the grand jury," said Millidge.

"It slipped at organized gambling as 'the crime that breeds all other crimes.'" He added: "there can be no organized gambling without political corollary."

Seminole County's March Of Dimes To Praised By Official

The success of the March of Dimes campaign in Seminole County this year, with a gain of more than 95 percent over contributions received last year, was pointed out today in a letter to R. L. Dean, chapter chairman, by Marion T. Jeffries, state representative of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

In the letter, Mr. Jeffries thanked T. E. Tucker and Alvin Gilman, directors of the campaign in Sanford and Seminole County, for their "energetic planning and effort," and commended those who so willingly helped.

"There was personal sacrifice," he stated, "a giving up of other plans to keep constantly arriving and working toward that goal of a bigger and more successful March of Dimes than was ever before held."

"Sometimes when you were very tired, perhaps you thought, 'Our campaign is coming along nicely. It should carry on its own momentum,' and then in your mind's eye you would see a little wheel-chair, or a pair of pathetically little legs, or a useless little arm, and you would know that the campaign needed your very great and sustained effort to make possible the every-increasing help your chapter and all the other chapters in the United States were giving to the victims of the great crippling," wrote Mr. Jeffries.

Bright Pupils Blunder In 23rd Annual Spelling Contest

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—That tricky word "supersede" claimed the first victim in the finals of the 23rd annual national spelling bee today.

The victim: Audrey Mathews, a 13-year-old student from St. Cecilia's school in Washington. She was the District of Columbia's only entrant.

So great was the tension that she was told she had misspelled the word. She tried to spell it "supercede"—and that "C" was wrong.

So expert were the 80 finalists, the nation's best spellers from coast to coast, that Audrey was the only to miss in the first round. There 50 were the survivors of a field of youngsters that originally numbered more than 100.

Only one went down in round two. He was Paul Fikell, an eighth grader from St. Gertrude school in Franklin Park, Ill. Brock, who will graduate with a Bachelor of Science degree in agriculture, participated in numerous campus activities and was elected to the post of treasurer of the student body. He will be received at 105 West Fern Park boulevard Sunday, May 28, from 12 to 2 P. M. for congratulations. Brock is a member of the National Council on Education for the Handicapped.

T-Men Seize 8 In $3 Million Smuggling Plot

Schemers Wanted To Sneak Bills Into
Cuban's Treasury

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—Seven men and an attractive blonde have been seized in a crackdown on an alleged $3,000,000 counterfeit smuggling ring supposedly linked to a Caribbean revolution plot.

The fantastic scheme, according to an authoritative source, was to sneak $3,000,000 in bogus U. S. bills into Cuba's national treasury, exchange them for good Cuban money and then finance a revolution in the Dominican Republic.

The blonde and four men were arrested here and one man was apprehended in Miami. Two Cubans were held in that country.

An indictment returned by a federal grand jury here alleged a conspiracy to buy money from a big American counterfeit ring. They did not mention the reported Dominican revolution connection.

The alleged plan to milk the Cuban treasury was revealed by a U. S. Commissioner James W. McDonnell here in five post-mortem arrests.

"What was to be done with the $3,000,000 in Cuban money?" the commissioner asked. "That's enough to start a revolution."

Assistant U. S. attorney Roy M. Cohn replied: "There has been speculation." But he added that he, Cohn, "will not comment on that."

The speculation to which Cohn referred was about a revolution plot.

Those arrested here were: Charles Whitworth, 26; James M. Roman, 30-year old restaurant worker; Henry Chavarría, 36; Jose Antonio Roche, 50; and Rudolph Schmidt, 63.

Roche's brother, Oscar Roche, 60, was seized in Miami. The Cubans are Dr. Jose Manuel Fernandez Hernandez, 60, and Juan Colon, to be prominent in Cuban politics, and Jesus Mon, 38.

All the U. S. defendants were charged either with passing or conspiring to pass counterfeit money. All were held in high bail.

The alleged plot, according to Cohn, was to work this way: The ring planned to get in advance of the FBI to buy a second lieutenant and pilot in the United States Air Force.

Cadet Hodgins was selected for multi-engine training and will fly the B-26. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Hodgins, Sr., 2018 Palmetto Avenue, Sanford. He graduated from Seminole High School and later attended the University of Florida for three years. In college he was pledged to the Phi Kappa Tau Social Fraternity. During World War II he served on a mine sweeper in Sasebo and around Yokosuka, Japan.

Big 3 Challenge Reds To Permit Free Reich Vote

Car Insurance Premiums Are Cut In Florida

Insured Floridians
To Save Estimated
2 1/2 Million Dollars

TALLAHASSEE, May 26 (AP)—An overall rate reduction of 17 1/2 percent on automobile fire, theft and collision insurance that will save Floridians an estimated $2,500,000 a year in premiums was announced today.

Ed Larson, state treasurer and insurance commissioner, said he has accepted recommendations of the National Automobile Underwriters Association for the general downward revision of rates.

The reductions are effective on new policies written and policies renewed after May 27.

Larson said the revision affects insurance on from 75 to 80 percent of the private passenger cars in the state. Commercial vehicle insurance rates are not affected.

The greater reductions are for autos in the popular price class. The insurance commissioner said the new rate schedule will cut total premium collections on fire and theft insurance from $12,100,000 a year to about $9,600,000.

The rate revision follows a Larson order of several weeks ago which reduced private auto insurance from $150,000 a year to $125,000 a year by reclassifying the types of coverage on 1950 passenger car models.

200,000 East Germans Jam Capital For Communist Rally This Coming Sunday

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The United States today clamped tight restrictions on the movement of Romanian diplomats in the United States.

BONN, Germany, May 26 (AP)—The three Western powers challenged Russia today to clear the way for uniting Germany by consenting to completely free all-German elections tied in with guarantees of full individual freedoms.

The full element of the statement of the three Western high commissioners of the Russian command in Germany was significant. It was issued while world attention was focused on the rally of 500,000 Communist-led German youth laborers the theme that only Russia is sincerely committed to German unification.

Three identical letters of the United States, British and French commissioners were sent to Gen. A. G. Gherghel, Soviet commander in Germany. Enclosed was a statement of the three Western foreign ministers which said the West was agreed that with formation of an all-German government "the four powers should immediately address themselves to a peace settlement."

The letters proposed this program:

1. A freely elected all-German government.

2. Individual freedom of movement, freedom from arbitrary arrest and detention, freedom of expression.

Sanford Jaycees Issue Letter To City Commission

Mayor Andrew Carraway promised the Jaycees committee that there will be a public meeting held before the City decides whether to sell the new Seagraves fire truck, said E. J. Moughton, Jr., at the Jaycee luncheon yesterday at the yacht club.

Mr. Moughton headed a Jaycees and business men's committee that went before the City Commission recently to request what action the City planned to take on the truck.

"The mayor also promised," said Mr. Moughton, "that there would be a survey made of Sanford by a fine underwriters' company before the truck is offered for sale."

Mr. Moughton, at the request of Stanley Odham, read a letter that the committee delivered to the City Commissioners.

The text of the letter follows: Honorable City Commission, City Hall, Sanford, Florida. Gentlemen:

A regular meeting of the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce on Thursday, May 18, a general discussion was held on the article appearing in the Sanford Herald which stated that the City Commission of Sanford was proposing to sell the new truck.

Ogden Murder Trial Goes To Jury Today

TITUSVILLE, May 26 (AP)—The state rested its first degree murder case against Frederick Ogden today.

The former army intelligence officer is charged with killing his wife and he came back to the stand briefly to say again he remembered nothing that day last September from just before the shooting until he found himself in jail.

Hubert Griggs opened arguments for the state, saying "the evidence clearly shows premeditated murder."

William Kridger for the defense said "if there is the slightest doubt whether Ogden was sane, the burden of proof rests with the state."

Noah Butt for the defense and Murray Overstreet for the state will wind up arguments with the case expected to go to the jury about mid-afternoon.

One nice thing about George Smathers, according to the Tampa Tribune, is that he is only "semi-pro- Truman".

During the past 30 years, the average work week has been reduced from 56 hours to 44, and the number of women gainfully employed has increased from one out of six to one out of three.

Congratulations to Harry Tooke on his appointment to the State Citrus Commission. Mr. Tooke has been a member of the Citrus Advisory Committee and, as such, is well prepared for his duties on the Citrus Commission.

The defendant in a murder trial at Titusville testifies in his own defense that he had no malice in his heart against his wife, never had any intention of trying to injure her.

It comes as somewhat of a shock to complacent Sanfordites to be told that 2,384 dwellings in Sanford are substandard. Most of us had come to think that Sanford was pretty well equipped with houses.

A new biography has just been published on General Ulysses S. Grant called "Captain Sam Grant" by Lloyd Lewis. There are many interesting details in it about General Grant's life.

President Truman says he will veto the "voluntary" FEPC bill as unwise. That suits us fine. The voluntary bill is wrong in principle as the compulsory one.

Everyone knows that Florida has been making tremendous industrial gains during the past five years. But did you know that Florida has the advantage in the percentage increase in business population?

Bond To A Job

Reports from industrial areas suggest that some of the pension systems which have lately been established, in many instances the pension promised at the end of working years depends on continuous employment with the same concern.

For a long time workers in general have wanted a higher degree of job security, against loss of a job through circumstances completely beyond the worker's control. Various kinds of merit and seniority systems have been set up to provide this sense of security in a job.

It is not easy to reconcile job security, old age security and individual freedom of choice and action. Freedom from the old job bonds was won first, and job security has now been largely established.

Power Saturation

In the old days of the annual auto show, at which the new models were displayed, members of the motoring public used to ask each other each year what could possibly come next. A favorite pastime was speculation on the extent to which streamlining of bodies and increase in engine power could be carried forward.

The lengthening and streamlining of bodies already has reached a peak and begun to backtrack a little as a result of complaints of motorists about the difficulty of maneuvering and the expense of repairing the sleek cars of the immediate post-war years.

The trend toward more powerful engines has depended in part on the development of gasolines of higher octane rating. Now it is said that fuel makers think design cannot go much further in this direction without raising the price of gasoline so much that it will retard consumption.

Be Ready For Luck

Chance comes only to the prepared. Jan Struther's article on this page about being ready to meet good luck halfway, had a very special meaning for me. Again and again experiences in my own life have proved her point.

One such experience came on what is generally regarded as the unluckiest day of all—Friday the Thirteenth. It was in April, 1900, and I was a girl of twenty, sitting in the orchestra of the Opera Comique in Paris, listening to Charpentier's "Louise." I was still a music student, just a little Scotch girl known only to my teachers and a few who had heard me practice.

Suddenly, after the second act, an attendant appeared beside my seat with a message asking me to come backstage. The soprano singing Louise had been taken ill and could not continue.

There was consternation, for none of them had ever heard of me. And then, Andre Messager, the conductor, came up to me and said, "Don't lose your head, Mademoiselle, to which I replied, 'Don't you lose yours, Monsieur.' Then I, who had never stepped on any stage before, went out to sing 'Louise.'"

Yes, luck is important. But also, you must be able to recognize it when it comes your way—and be prepared to make the most of it.

WASHINGTON, May 26—(AP)—This is an explanation of the new contract between General Motors and the CIO Auto Workers' Union.

The contract, signed on Tuesday, goes into effect next Monday. It will last five years. It cannot be re-opened for any reason.

Suppose in that time living costs go up. The workers are protected on that. Suppose living costs go down. GM gets a break on that.

Suppose living costs drop. The workers will lose one cent, but they cannot lose more than a living cost drop in five years.

Suppose living costs go down. 35¢ and the union agrees to abide by the government's thermometer or index, showing the living costs.

Suppose living costs go up. In addition to their flat raise of 40 cents an hour each year for five years, the workers will get one cent an hour more for each rise of one point in living costs.

After a general discussion, a committee, headed by E. J. Moughton, Jr., with Douglas Stenstrom, Gordon Bradley and Malcolm MacNeill were appointed to investigate the facts of this proposed sale and then appear before the City Commission of Sanford with any recommendations that they might find.

In view of the facts that we have been able to obtain, this committee is in favor of retaining this piece of equipment. Listed below are ten reasons that we have found.

1. This truck is a highly mechanized fire fighting unit and is capable of pumping 750 gallons per minute with 6 hoses attached and in an emergency could pump 900 gallons per minute.

2. This committee also has noted that there are many large two-story homes in Sanford and that fires on the roof or around the chimneys could not be easily or effectively reached by ground ladders.

3. This truck was not purchased in haste, but was purchased by a former Commission after extensive study, and at that time the Southeastern Underwriters Association recommended this type of truck as a combined unit of aerial truck and pumper for a city the size of Sanford.

4. This truck is designed to be used with a minimum of man power, and if the city replaced it with two other trucks of smaller size, then this committee believes that it would necessitate hiring a minimum of two additional firemen for each shift, that would mean four men in all, and these men would have combined wages of more than $7,000.00 a year, and that within three years this cost would exceed the purchase price of the present ladder truck.

5. The Seagrave Manufacturing Company is an old established manufacturer of fire fighting equipment. They have designed this truck with the knowledge that the wheel base is extra long. Because of this the combined wages of more than $7,000.00 a year, and that within three years this cost would exceed the purchase price of the present ladder truck.

6. Attached is a list of business buildings of two-stories and more. This committee is showing that most of our business buildings have only one stairway leading to their top floor. We believe that

7. All the additional penny-per-cent increase they get when living costs rise can be wiped out if living costs drop. But, if living costs go below what they are now, then—

8. The workers cannot lose more than a total of 3 cents over the five year period. Therefore, the least they can get by the end of five years is 17 cents an hour more than they're making now.

9. In addition to this wage agreement of course the Auto Workers' Union from the company a pension plan, hospital insurance, and other things.

"It is pure hokum to say that a prosecutor or sheriff can receive authority from the people to ignore the laws the people's representatives have adopted."

"The occasional use of the injunction and arrests by editors serves to remind brazen criminals that law and law enforcement are not the private property of any public official, elected or otherwise."

"The use of editors seems to cause even more pain to certain law enforcement officials than to the persons arrested."

"Daniel P. Sullivan, the commission's operating director, referred to the group's request to Gov. Fuller Warren for a probe of groundhug race track ownership in the state as follows:

"It is obvious that if the Capone interests own stock in any race track, that the real person serious fire would have to be fought from the windows and the top of the building."

"7. This committee also has noted that there are many large two-story homes in Sanford and that fires on the roof or around the chimneys could not be easily or effectively reached by ground ladders."

"8. The apparent growth of Sanford has been tremendous since the close of the war and if the city did dispose of this truck that in all probability within ten years it would be necessary for the city then to have to re-purchase an aerial ladder truck. A truck of this type is designed by the manufacturer to last for at least 25 years and that this is not a short term investment by the city and also, that one configuration where this truck would be used to a great advantage would more than offset the cost to the city."

"9. This committee recommends the city commission to have the Southeastern Underwriters Association make a survey of fire fighting needs in the city of Sanford."

"10. The waterfront terminal which we hope to come to a reality in the near future is another far sighted reason that we believe this truck should be kept on our fire fighting force. As this will be an exceptionally large building covering a number of acres, in case of a bad fire this truck would be invaluable."

"11. This committee therefore would recommend to the City Commission that considerable thought be given to keeping this truck. It respectfully submitted, E. J. MOUGHTON, Jr., Chairman Safety Com., Seminole Co. Jaycees."

Herman Morris, principal of the Seminole High School, asked Jaycees members to be his guests next Thursday at a luncheon that will be held in the school cafeteria. Principal Morris will conduct the luncheon through the school after the luncheon showing them the latest equipment being used.

Mr. Odham suggested that the members meet at a kickoff breakfast for the purpose of adding new members to the organization. A motion was made and passed that the board of directors take action on Mr. Odham's proposal when they meet tonight.

"This is the substance of our request: that there is a concealed ownership in these tracks and the information already in the hands of the governor more than justifies an investigation to find out who it is that owns stock in these dog tracks."

Gov. Warren had informed the commission that it had failed to show any violation of the law. Leo Edwards, chairman of the race commission, issued a statement saying his record showed ownership of all tracks and were open for public perusal.

Ball Players Honored At Junior High School

Four popular members of the Sanford Giants Baseball Club, Buddy Lake, Ed Levy, Charlie Tedesco and Fred Chatterton, were guests Wednesday at the chapel program presented at the Junior High School by the seventh grade under the direction of Mrs. Robert Rumbley. It was reported by Barbara Hill today.

After singing by the entire school of "Take Me Out To The Ball Game," Al Phillips introduced the speakers.

Mr. Lake stated that he had been asked to talk about good sportsmanship but that it would be unnecessary because—"You are all good American kids. Good sportsmanship is in your blood. It's part of our American way of life."

The program was then turned over to Ed Levy who promised to try to answer any questions the audience might ask. Among the questions was one that brought a great deal of applause. "How many home runs have you hit already this season?" He answered, "Thirteen."

Mr. Lake was asked to tell the boys and girls about his perfect game. He replied, "Well, there's not much to tell about a perfect game because nothing happens. Twenty-seven men go down. No hits, no runs, no errors. Nothing happens."

The pupils of Junior High were happy because they had spent an afternoon asking questions about their favorite sport and having them answered by players of their favorite team.

Recital Is Presented By Duxbury School

The recital presented by the Duxbury School of Dancing Thursday evening at the High School Auditorium under the sponsorship of the Pilot Club was highly applauded by an enthusiastic audience of approximately 500.

The solo numbers and choruses showed considerable talent of the individual performers and excellent training. Among the solos particularly enjoyed were the divertissements by the advanced students, Ann Whitaker, Jean Humphrey and Joan Saunders.

Young Michael Pope as "Chick" drew a heavy round of applause, as did also Glynn and Roger Rodgers in "Simon and the Pin Man" and Irma Jean Corley and Claudette Wats in their portrayal of "Raggy Ann 'N' Andy." The acrobatic dance by Norma Faye Harvey was highly popular.

Evelyn Farrell's singing of the "Indian Love Call," "By the Waters of Minnetonka" sung by Richard Farrell, and a duet danced by Mary Edith Gilbert and Sara Prather, all of Ireland, were outstanding features of the evening.

Other highlights of the program were solos by Nancy Robb, Mary Kay Spaulding, Marie McAndrew, Robb, Rosalind Radford, Dottie Williams, Sally Chase, Mary Helen Washburn, Jeanne Southward, Susan French, Doris Duxbury, Bill Cole, Deanna Nichols and Barbara Bradley.

Chorus numbers which were particularly enjoyed were composed of the following: Laura Chase, Billy Duxbury, Diane Gingles, Sharon Riser, Linda Williams, Donna Young, Judy Herron, Dottie McAlexander, Sandy Martin, Sherlene Shepherd, Joyce Cullum, Marianne Ludwig, June Jennings, Sue Bridge, Marichetta Campbell, Lynette Dragers, Mary June Elyot, Gladys Bondert and Sara Southward, Ethel Lee Riser, Judy Robb, Sandra Kader, Ruthie Carlton, Allyson Lee, Merritt Phillips, Betty Ann Sinton, Angie Stewart, Kay Spaulding, Marie McAndrew, Shirley Walk, Neil Burt, David Brown, Holly Foster, Charles Robinson, Scooter Martin.

Part of the success of the performance was due to the costumes made by Mrs. C. R. Jones, Mrs. P. M. Nichols, Mrs. W. H. Stewart and the mothers. The scenery, designed by Mrs. Mildred Babcock, was an effective background for the dancers.

Mrs. A. B. Duxbury, director of the school, was presented by her pupils with a basket of roses and three large water colors of dancers.

New York Honeymoon Consultant Aids Sixty-Thousand Newlyweds

NEW YORK. — (AP) — After helping 60,000 newlywed couples arrange their honeymoons, Betty White thought she had met every problem that could arise. And then a young couple strolled in and said: "We want to take a dog on our honeymoon—can you fix that?"

"Why not leave him behind?" urged Miss White. "No, I've never been anywhere without my dog—and I'm not going to start now," said the bride. Besides he'd be lonely," she said. He bride said yes, she wanted the dog to go along, too. So Miss White found them a resort where they could amooch with a pooch in tow. In fact, this is one of the less easy experiences she has had in a 15-year career as a honeymoon consultant. One of her recurring tasks is to persuade mothers-in-law not to try to accompany the bride's company on their honeymoon. Somehow fathers-in-law don't seem to want to go. "I don't approve of three on a honeymoon," said Miss White, "but sometimes it is necessary. Usually, in such cases, it's the bride's mother—if she's old or infirm. A problem of another type was the 83-year-old woman preparing to marry a 55-year-old man. Objecting to paying a $25 deposit for her hotel reservation, the dear old bride-to-be said practically: "The wedding isn't for six weeks, and I may not live that long." She finally put up the $25 on being assured it would be paid her heirs if anything went wrong. "Later she wrote me she had had a very enjoyable honeymoon—even sent me a poem she had written," smiled Miss White. She says that brides, rather than bridegrooms, generally select the honeymoon site today. And they don't want a quiet place where they can be alone. She rambled vaguely, finally saying she was paralyzed by a stroke when she was in a hospital for mental observation after a hearing Wednesday. Neighbors filled out the rest of the story. Bornholdt, a 34-year-old waiter, was paralyzed by a stroke last November. His wife, Anna, a hotel chambermaid, slaved away to keep things going. The strain told, and neighbors said she talked of care prowling the apartment of the devil dancing outside the window. Two weeks ago she told one neighbor she had taken Fred to the window to drop him out—but that her nerve failed. "But nobody paid any attention. They said she always talked like that. In Miami City, Fla., a mental hospital inmate stomped a fellow patient to death because he "bothered me all the time."

Lawrence Cain, steward of the Cerro Gordo County Home and Hospital, said Harold Westcott, 37, related he killed Louis Heenkens, 58, Heenkens's body was found in a rooming house on the corner of the door with the head battered Westcott told authorities he "did it with my feet. That's what they're for." James Brown, county attorney, said Westcott would be recommended to the state mental hospital at Cherokee or the insane ward of the men's reformatory at Anamosa.

And in Boston, the state made it easy today for informants to file charges with clues to the famous $1,300,000 cash holdup of Brick's Inc., without fear of underworld reprisals by assuring anonymity and a share in the $100,000 reward. The fair-charge plan for citizens cooperation was announced by Massachusetts Attorney General Francis E. Kelly as police continued relentlessly for their first complete clue in the nation's biggest heist.

Kelly said that under the scheme approved by the citizens reward committee even accomplices to the heist can offer their names and still remain unidentified, thus escaping trial and serving time on the reward.

Kazma Deryevanko's busy recall to Moscow. The head of the Soviet mission in Tokyo and his wife left Saturday. They were accompanied by 50 other members of the Soviet colony including at least two key advisers.

It is believed generally that only urgent business would cause Deryevanko to leave Japan before the Diet's (parliament) upper house elections Saturday. Soviet records had long been kept in the Diet's office of the most important American-Soviet battles of the occupation. The Communists by carefully appealing to nationalism have made large numbers of Japanese feel that they were the American bases here after a peace treaty is signed. That has become a basic issue of the upper house election. The Communists apparently do not expect to win many seats but they are fighting for prestige. Deryevanko's recall if unexplained may cost them some backing. The Communists said they were as mystified as everyone else by the Russian embassy and the Japanese Communist Party said they did not know why the general had left or whether he would return. The Communist newspaper Akahata did not carry the story.

(Continued From Page One) second time to consider the contempt conviction of Louis Edward K. Barsky and 10 other leaders of the joint anti-fascist refugee committee. These convictions were based on the group's refusal to obey a 1940 subpoena from the House Committee for the Refugee. The Barsky outfit has been labeled a Communist front organization by the Justice Department. It claims to be humanitarian organization set up to aid Loyalist victims of the Spanish civil war. In other actions today the high tribunal:

Overturned 6 to 2 a lower court ruling that the food and drug administration acted unlawfully in seizing a preparation called "Dip" for its food supplement. It was sued by a Long Beach, Calif., firm. Upheld for the second time infringement charges brought at Hammond, Ind., by the Linde Air Products Company against three firms. The court split 7 to 2 today after deciding the case unanimously in 1939. A rehearing had been granted on the ground the court had "acted under a misapprehension" in the case dealing with welding patents.

Refused to recede a 4-4 decision of last month which rejected a Justice Department effort to keep secret the FBI files in an unsuccessful anti-trust case brought at Shreveport, La. The Lawson-Trumbo case has attracted wide attention. The U. S. Court of Appeals in upholding the contempt conviction declared Congress has a bridge freedom of speech and freedom to remain silent "when legislating to avert what it believes to be a threat of substantive evil to national welfare."

The supreme court by a 6-2 vote on Apr. 10 denied Lawson and Trumbo a review of the Court of appeals decision. The Hollywood writers then asked the high tribunal to reconsider its refusal. They said, among other points, that they are residents of California which has laws guaranteeing the right to refuse to state political affiliations. Today's vote also was 6-2 in both instances, Justices Black and Douglas favored a hearing, Justice Clark took no part in consideration of the appeal.

Today's second refusal means: 1. The government now will ask the U. S. district court here to order Lawson and Trumbo to pay their fines and go to prison. 2. The way is clear for the district court to dispose of the cases of eight other prominent screen figures similarly charged with contempt.

Survey Shows That Spending By 48 States Is Now On Decline

Spending by the states has been rising swiftly since the end of the war—but there are signs that it may be leveling off now. Legislatures in eight states have completed financial plans for the next fiscal period, a year or two. Six of them decided to spend more money. Two decided to spend less. But that is only a part of the over-all story.

Appropriations in Maryland, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Virginia, Mississippi and Kentucky went up by a total of $118,000,000. But California's budget for the next fiscal year is nearly $193,000,000 under its 1940-41 budget. New York's new budget is $74,000,000 lower than its previous budget.

Thus the cuts in California and New York more than offset the gains in the other six states. Will state spending across the country slide down from record heights? Only 11 legislatures met or are meeting in budget sessions this year. So the question of whether state spending has passed the peak can't be answered until 1951, when most of the legislatures will meet.

There is one big economy in the background. The U. S. Census reports that the 48 states as a whole spent more money than they received in the last fiscal year. Legislatures in seven states have adopted laws aimed at curbing sex crimes. The new statutes in three of them were noteworthy in that they provided for medical attention as well as punishment.

Under the New York law sex offenders could be kept in custody for life. It forbids parole of such prisoners until they are considered "good risks." They will get psychiatric treatment while in the hold. The New Jersey law requires a court to send a man convicted of rape, sodomy or mistreatment of a minor to a state diagnostic center for examination. If found to be in a dangerous mental condition, he will be sent to an institution for treatment. If not, he will go back to court for sentencing. Under California statutes courts can decide whether offenders should go to jail or to a mental institute for treatment.

The Idaho legislation prohibits a pardon or parole or persons convicted of first degree murder in a case involving a sex crime. Georgia lawmakers raised the offense of indecent advances to minors to the felony level, but classification of the grave type of crimes. Texas and South Dakota provide penalties ranging up to 25 years in prison for "indecent molestation" of children.

BEAN DISHES. Dry beans are in bountiful supply now, and home-makers will do well to include them in their meal planning. Beans are highly nutritious, have great appetite appeal, and may be prepared in many ways for the family table. They are high in carbohydrate and protein content and are also rich in iron, calcium and vitamins B, C and E. Quick Baked Beans. Ingredients: 2 slices bacon, 3 tablespoons minced onion, 1 tablespoon molasses, 1 1/2 cups cooked beans, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce (if desired), and 3 cups of cooked or canned dry beans. Fry bacon and remove from pan, then cook onion in bacon fat for a few minutes. Add molasses, catsup, salt, mustard and Worcestershire sauce. Add beans and mix lightly. Pour into baking dish and break bacon into bits and sprinkle over top. Bake 20 minutes in moderate oven. Served: Bean Stew. He also pointed out that anyone or any agency, that accepts money from the federal government will soon come under the control and domination of that government, and explained that if the federal government contributes money toward the school systems of the various states it will soon control those schools, will abolish segregations in the South and determine the course of study which all school children all over the country must follow. Intimately this would result, he continued, in a reflection of the politics, ideas, and theories of the individual and party which happens to be in power upon the national scene.

NEW YORK.—It is expected that when all is said and done and the taking of the 1950 census is completed in this area, it will be disclosed that there are presently about eight million persons living in New York City. Armed with this round figure, American seamen then will proceed as usual to waterfront saloons, where they will seek out British sailors and resume the standing argument as to whether New York or London has more citizens. The approximate moment when the fights will begin will be when the English awab says, "Well, of course, now in Greater London we have some 10,500,000," and the American shouts, "Greater London! I might as well include Hoboken—" and the first right hook to the base of the skull, is thrown.

Meanwhile, however, the census is by no means complete and, all in all, I cannot envy the 8,000,000 lost souls who are taking it here in the big town.

The problems that can arise and already have arisen are beyond counting. In the first place, four out of five New Yorkers live here because they seek privacy, above all, and when someone comes bursting into their dining room between the soup and the lamb chops and starts to count noses, the reaction of some may be a resentful one. I would not say exactly that the New Yorker is un-cooperative, but I would guess that there will be more than one coccy of more than one census taker booed by more than one outraged citizen.

A number of New York residents also are plagued by whimsy and untroubled by a sense of civic responsibility, so it is likely that some of the answers will not be exactly truthful. However, all in all, the biggest headache undoubtedly will be the ferreting out of homes—because New Yorkers live in what can be described, under the pressure of a censoring editorial pencil, as the damndest places. A SMALL COLONY OF INTELLECTUALS, for instance, lives in Milligan Alley. Who can find Milligan Alley? I don't think it can be discovered on any map of New York. I used to have friends living there and the first time I hunted for them it took me three and one-half hours.

It seems you walk down Sixth avenue and, in the direction of Tenth street, you come upon a big wooden fence between a cobler and a florist's. You open the fence and walk into a court-yard and—presto—Milligan Alley. Which, logically, is no alley at all. Then there are the islands of Jamaica Bay, which is the patch of water you seem about to plunge into when your plane is coming into LaGuardia Field, out in Queens. These are marshy little mounds of soil that were used as a bombing range during the war, and it was a known thing that no one lived there. It was known, anyway, until the other day when a census taker flew over them in a Coast Guard helicopter and spilled clothes hanging on clothes lines and people waving up to the plane.

Five census takers, presumably wearing pith helmets and elephant guns, were scheduled to invade the islands to count noses, but it has not been reported whether they succeeded or were swallowed up forever more. The census taker figured that some people who once were summer residents of the islands have moved back there on a year-round basis because of the housing shortage here.

THE EARLY RETURNS FROM THE CENSUS SURVEY have turned up some entertaining facts. According to Dr. Zola Bronson, who is directing it here in New York, indications are that there are some 4,000 farms in the five boroughs of the town. More than 500 of these are in Brooklyn, and the prospect of a man being both a Brooklynite and a farmer is hard to reconcile. Dr. Bronson is also perturbed by the discovery that there are hundreds of islands along the New York coast line that can only be reached by boat.

"The enumerator probably will wonder," he reported, "if it's worth getting sea-sick just to count 10 people on an island." The census already has revealed that Bedloe's Island, the home of the Statue of Liberty, has 13 permanent residents, excluding the old lady herself, who has been there for 63 years. The hero of that fact-finding is Max Hahn, 23, who, like all census takers, gets seven cents a name and thus made 91 cents on his trip across the Upper Bay. He is singularly untroubled.
