LEFT OVER NOTES FROM AN ELECTION . . . There are 12,886 registered Democratic voters . . . Tuesday, only 8,671 went to the polls . . . we repeat only 5,671 went to the polls . . . that's 44 percent of the registered . . . well, no use battering my head against the wall.

AND SOME MORE . . . canvassing board made up of Supervisor of Registration Camilla Bruce, County Judge Vernon Mize and County Commission Chairman J. C. Hutchison hard at work today canvassing the 68 absentee voters and making the election official . . . Absentee votes won't make any difference in the outcome however . . .

AND SOME MORE . . . Wouldn't it be something if the county published the list of people that were registered but, didn't see fit to vote or, were too busy . . . ?

REPORT FROM THE PRECINCTS . . . At one, there was such a lull that one of the clerks playing the piano . . . that's at the Home Demonstration Center . . . One clerk told us that a man walked into the polling place and said "Is this man Mize up for re-election this time."

CONVERSATION WITH EARL HIGGINBOTHAM: Reporter: The city is considering using the county tax roll. How do you feel about it?

Higginbotham: Well, I'm against it. Especially after I saw those figures in the paper about the assessment cuts in Oviedo.

Reporter: Hmmmmmm. Higginbotham: If it isn't fair and equal throughout the entire county, I won't vote to have this area over-assessed and the southeastern part cut down.

Did you know that John Colbert doesn't get paid as swimming coach. Boosters are really upset about it . . .

The ACLRR crew fixed the spring-busting crossing at 15th and Oak so well that it is hard to understand why it took them so long to get around to a job that helps so many of our car driving citizens.

Now if they can get that same gang to do their stuff at 6th and Elm, they can win a great deal more gratitude from those who travel that way and shudder when they hit that crossing.

And speaking of the ACLRR, have you noticed that the main adornment—with the nice white wall as a background—at their freight station at W. First and Myrtle is a DANDY four foot tall WEED! This is the spot that the Garden Club volunteered to spruce up, if they could get the money for plants from the property owners.

Yes man, and in that neighborhood—and in somewhat of a contrast—have you noticed the wheels of progress of our city making a real thoroughfare from First to Fulton. Scoop is that this important traffic artery will carry on to the lake front. A real forward move.

That property at 15th and Elm on which the pine thicket in its greenery used to be until recently now looks like a warning of Smokey the Bear to "put out your match." Burned over trash. Quite unsightly and not in keeping with the high standards of beauty in our lovely city.

Know what? It may not be that way TOO long. Scuttle-butts has it that the school board will install a nursery there. Nope, not the kind for kids; the kind that grows plants with which to spruce up school property.

Pepper Back In Business Again; Smathers Rolls

MIAMI (UPI) — Former Sen. Claude Pepper rode a vote of confidence for the Kennedy administration to a hairline Democratic primary victory Tuesday night that almost certainly will send him back to Washington after 12 years of frustration.

Pepper held a narrow majority over three opponents for the Democratic nomination to a new 3rd District congressional seat. The district comprises northern Dade (Miami) County.

Sen. George Smathers (D-Fla.), cleared his biggest hurdle for re-election to his third term by crushing two Democratic opponents for the party's nomination by a margin of more than 3 to 1.

Incumbent Democratic Congressman Dante Fascell of Miami, who along with Smathers was endorsed by the President, won an easy victory over his arch conservative Democratic foe, State Sen. David Eldredge.

In the four other Democratic primary races in Florida's 12 newly-aligned congressional districts, two liberals were in runoff and Tampa segregationist Sumter Lowry was second man in a runoff to middle-roader.

Pepper was unseated by Smathers in 1950 after 14 years in Washington. He lost in 1958 when he tried to unseat Sen. Spessard Holland, (D-Fla.).

In November, Pepper faces the winner of a runoff between two Republicans.

Incumbent Democratic Congressman D. R. Billy Matthews of Gainesville had the easiest time, defeating a single opponent overwhelmingly for another term. He faces no GOP opposition in November.

Pepper, 61, won his majority over three other Democrats by the slimmest of margins, and hedged his victory statement to say that "nothing will be official until the votes are canvassed."

But he called the tide of votes for him "the first bell-weather showing the American people are in favor of the Kennedy administration. I've made it very clear that I support the President, and apparently the people feel the same way."

Fascell had the personal endorsement of Kennedy. When Smathers, an easy third term winner in his primary race against two Democratic opponents, relayed word of Fascell's victory to the President in Washington, he reported, the President said he was "extremely gratified."

Complete unofficial returns from the Third District, made up entirely of the northern part of Dade County (Miami), gave Pepper 46,161 votes, State Sen. W. C. Cliff Herrell 24,176, County Commissioner Charles Hall 13,022, and Ernest Busker 2,401.

In November, Pepper faces the winner of a runoff between Robert Peterson, with 4,240 first primary votes, and Paul J. O'Neill, with 2,772.

Fascell defeated outspoken conservative David Eldredge, a state legislator, 37,853 votes to 31,705, in the Fourth District, composed of Southern Dade plus Monroe County. He faces Republican primary winner J. C. McGinn Jr. in November. McGinn defeated Ralph Schmidt 4,361 to 3,013.

In the 10th District race around Tampa, State Sen. Sam Gibbons, considered the middle-roader between Lowry and liberal State Rep. Robert T. Mann, led the way to runoff with 20,195 votes. Lowry had 15,733 and Mann 13,616.

Republican Victor Rule, who had no primary opponent, will run against the winner in November.

In the Ninth District around Tallahassee, Don Fuqua of Altha, tagged the liberal among six Democratic candidates, was assured of a runoff in incomplete returns early today. The margin between Dexter Douglas and Hal Davis was so close that absentee ballots could determine the second runoff spot.

In the 11th District race around Orlando, most cumbersome in the state, John A. Sutton led the way into the runoff with 23,440 votes in nearly complete returns. The second runoff position went to L. B. Vorelle of Vero Beach, who campaigned on his support of Kennedy. He had 16,275 votes.

In a three-way Republican primary in the district, Winter Park Mayor Edward Gurney and John S. Brumback Jr. of Orlando went into a runoff.

In the Eighth District, the final unofficial returns gave Matthews 26,337 votes to 7,638 for Dr. John Marcello.

'Pork Chopper' Toppled

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — State Sen. Turner Davis of Madison was swept out of office along with other stalwarts of the powerful Senate majority bloc.

Davis, a former Senate president who helped weld the so-called "Pork Chop Gang" of small county legislators into a solid voting bloc in the 1955 reapportionment hassle, lost out to Perry banker and timber dealer L. P. (Pete) Gibson.

Gibson, who narrowly lost to Davis four years ago, turned in a stunning upset to carry both Madison and Taylor counties and roll up a 1,300-vote majority with one small precinct to be counted.

Sen. Wayne Ripley, Jacksonville, and Sen. Philip Beall, Pensacola, who have long records of voting with the small-county majority though their counties are among the largest in Florida, were trounced by House members.

State Rep. Reubin Askew beat Beall by 7,000 votes, and Rep. John E. Matthews defeated Ripley and Benedict Kotekci with 4,000 votes to spare.

Three majority bloc leaders, including president-designate Wilson Carraway of Tallahassee, were easy winners in re-election bids. Carraway beat free lance radio writer David Gretsch by more than three to one. Sen. S. D. Clarke, Monticello, dean of the upper chamber, had no trouble eliminating former Rep. Prentice Pruitt and Sen. Harry Stratton, Callahan, beat two opponents.

Sen. G. T. Meilon of Lake City led former Sen. W. E. Bishop by just 24 votes in a race that will be settled by 123 absentee ballots to be counted later today.

Final returns from Lee and Monroe counties gave Pork Chop stalwart Sen. Travis Gresham, Fort Myers, a run for his money but Henry and Collier counties were still to be heard from. On basis of the early vote former County Judge Elmer O. Friday Jr., Fort Myers, led Gresham by nearly 2,000 votes.

In Hillsborough, State Rep. Tom Whitaker, Tampa, had no trouble taking a first primary victory over three opponents for elevation to the Senate seat relinquished by Sam Gibbons, a runoff candidate for Congress.

In Orange County, State Rep. Beth Johnson fooled the oddsmakers to win a 2,000-vote majority over ex-Rep. Jack Inman, Orlando, for the Democratic nomination and a chance to be Florida's first woman state senator. She faces Orlando Republican

Carter, Blanton Set For Runoff

MIAMI (UPI) — Venerable Jerry Carter, firm holder of a seat on the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission for 28 years with votes, cracker-barrel philosophy and sometimes fists, faced another political battle today.

Florida Democrats sent the 74-year-old Carter Tuesday into the May 29 runoff primary against Jim Blanton of St. Augustine.

But Commission Chairman Wilbur C. King of Zolfo Springs out-distanced two rivals to win the nomination, and election because Carter's is no republican opposition in November.

The winner of the Group Two Carter-Blanton contest must go against Republican H. B. (Bob) Foster of Fort Myers in November.

Late returns today showed: In Group One, 2,024 of 2,158 precincts reported: King 298,183 votes; National Democratic Committeeman Bob Johnson of Jacksonville 123,718 and William J. Mason of Miami 85,457.

In Group Two, 2,026 of 2,158 precincts reported: Jerry Carter 231,922, Blanton 152,744, Charles Carter 61,537, Jim Fair 34,882 and George Onett 16,327.

The two races, although involving two of the most pocketbook-affecting jobs in the state, caused little stir among Florida's voters.

Smathers, King, Carter Win Here

Sen. George Smathers rode rough-shod over his two opponents in Seminole County for United States Senator in Tuesday's Democratic Primary.

Smathers, winning all 23 precincts by a massive majority polled 4,446 votes as compared to 850 for Roger Davis and 340 for Douglas Yourhee.

Other state races in the county showed Wilbur King winning handily over Bob Johnson and 590 for Mason.

In the group 2 race, Jerry Carter just did nip Jim Blanton in the county race with Carter grabbing 2,034 votes while Blanton had 1,519.

Others in the race, Charles Carter had 605 votes; Jim Fair, 342; and George Onett, 301.

New Promotions Coming Up Soon

Two new promotions for the near future were the subject for discussion at the meeting of the Sanford Merchant's Club, held at the Chamber of Commerce building Tuesday afternoon.

The first, to come off Friday night, June 1 and Saturday, June 2, will be known as Twist Days, with the slogans "Twist Away Profits" and "Twist Away Profits" filling the air.

The teenage dance for June 1, usually held in front of the Civic Center will be moved to First Street, with an Orlando orchestra producing the beat in front of the J. C. Penney Store.

The second promotion discussed will transform First Street into an art gallery, with all the local artists having their pictures on display, and merchants wearing fancy colored berets and smocks. To be known as "Gay Pares Days," the merchandising event will be held on September 7 and 8.

Brown To Speak

Chairman of the Florida Industrial Commission, A. Wesley Brown will speak at the Jaycees noon luncheon meeting Thursday at the Civic Center.

Congress 'Ignores' Tax Cut Request

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress laid to rest without ceremony today President Kennedy's request for standby authority to cut income taxes. Not even a hearing was planned.

"I can't conceive of Congress ever agreeing to such a plan," said Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del. "I think it's fantastic."

Approval Given To Rail Merger

NEW YORK (UPI)—The giant New York Central and Pennsylvania railroads received stockholder approval Tuesday of their proposed merger into a $5 billion, 22,000-mile combine.

It was expected to be at least a year, however, before one of the biggest corporate mergers in American industry could take place.

Company officials awaited a signal for the start of hearings before the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC), which must issue final approval or rejection of the merger proposal.

In a letter to House and Senate leaders late Tuesday Kennedy said he needed the standby tax-cutting power as a weapon to fight recession and promote employment.

The letter, and an accompanying legislative draft, came as a followup to the President's announcement early this year that he would seek the tax cut authority and parallel standby power to spend up to $2 billion in anti-recession public works projects.

The public works request, although approved by the Senate Public Works Committee, also is in trouble. A move will be made, possibly this week, to submit the proposal to further study by the banking committee.

Kennedy also asked for an immediate $600 million public works program, and sentiment in House and Senate appeared to be building for giving him this much or more in the way of an immediate program as a substitute for the standby request.

As for the President's proposal to let him call signals on a temporary tax cut of up to $10 billion, no congressional sources ever have given that a ghost of a chance.

Kennedy was understood to have been told the bad news about this request by his congressional leaders some time ago. Presumably, however, he felt it was necessary to go through the motions of formally submitting his bill.

UAW Sets Big Voting Drive

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI) — The United Auto Workers responded to President Kennedy's call for political trail blazing today by charting plans to elect 20 to 30 more liberal congressmen this fall.

The UAW convention decided to intensify its get-out-the-vote drive this year in an effort to reverse the historic trend that would normally result in a loss of Democratic House seats this November.

"We have a good President, but we need a better Congress," said Walter P. Reuther, UAW chief, following Kennedy's appeal to the union to "help move this country forward" by supporting his legislative proposals.

Kennedy's appearance sparked new enthusiasm for political action among the 2,800 delegates. Roy Reuther, brother of the UAW president and the union's top political expert, said it had a tremendous impact.

Meantime, the convention turned attention this morning to elections within its ranks. Walter Reuther is unopposed for a new two-year term as head of the million-member union.

The convention was to choose three new executive board members-at-large—new posts created this week—and other national officers.

It appeared certain that a Negro, Nelson (Jack) Edwards of Detroit, would be elevated to the JAW executive board for the first time in its history. Edwards is backed by Reuther's caucus for one of the member-at-large spots.

The other two Reuther-supported candidates for the new positions are Ken Bannon, director of the Ford department, and Douglas Fraser, a general assembler from Detroit who is expected to assume top responsibility for dealings with Chrysler.

Business
Briefs

Charlie Gazil, 39, was recently appointed manager of the new Thriftway Store at 25th St. and Park Ave.

Gazil has spent all of his working years in the grocery business except for his time in the service, where he served with the 65th Battalion in the European Theater from 1942 to 1946.

"The key to success in the grocery business," says Gazil, "is good personnel, cleanliness, top quality merchandise at low prices and courteous and friendly customer service."

Senate Pushes To Voting Rights Bill Showdown

Dixie Talkathon Gag Move Slated

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate was set for a showdown today on a leadership move to gag the Southern talkathon against the administration's voting rights bill.

The well-organized Southern forces were confident of blocking the two-thirds margin necessary to curb debate in the first round test on a cloture motion.

But the size of the vote will hold the key to future moves that could prolong the battle. And the Southerners were not sure they could defeat the expected second move.

The two-week-old controversy centers around a bill to outlaw unfair state literacy tests and make a sixth-grade education proof of literacy for voting in federal elections.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., said he and GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., co-sponsors of both the bill and cloture move, would decide on future strategy as the voting progressed.

Mansfield said earlier that if the cloture petition polled less than the needed two-thirds but more than a majority, he would seek an immediate test of Senate sentiment on the bill.

This would involve a motion by Mansfield to table—and thus kill—his own bill. Mansfield would vote against the motion, but it would force an immediate vote under Senate rules.

If the vote is heavily against tabling, Mansfield will let debate continue and make a second cloture try later. Otherwise, he will side-track the issue and let the Senate move on to other business.

The Southern forces picked up unexpected help Tuesday from Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky.), a member of the GOP liberal bloc, who announced he would vote against cloture and also against the bill.

Cooper, a former judge who was the liberal candidate for GOP leader against Dirksen in 1959, said he had supported every previous civil rights bill. But he told the Senate the literacy measure would be unconstitutional and he could not support it.

He said he would support a later cloture try but felt that the bill deserved more than two week's debate because of its constitutional implications.

Stratofanker Down At Takeoff

LIMESTONE, Maine (UPI) — A KC135 jet Stratofanker carrying six crewmen crashed early today during takeoff at Loring Air Force Base. The Air Force said three of the crewmen were known to be dead and the other three were missing.

Identification of the crewmen was withheld pending notification of next of kin. The $3.6 million plane, assigned to the 42nd Air Refueling Squadron, is used to refuel bombers in the Strategic Air Command. The tanker is the military version of the Boeing 707.

Officials said the plane crashed and burned in a wooded area 1,500 feet north of the runway immediately after takeoff.

Probers Look Into Death Of Two In Estes Case

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congressional investigators are looking into the deaths of two Texans who had contacts with Billie Sol Estes and his vast farm and financial operations. The investigators are not satisfied with local decisions on the deaths. One was ruled a suicide and the other from heart disease.

A source on the Senate investigating subcommittee under Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., confirmed an inquiry was under way in the deaths of Henry Marshall and George A. Krutliak.

Marshall, an Agriculture Department official, was found dead June 3, 1961, from five bullet wounds from a rifle that had to be pumped each time it was fired. The body lay near Marshall's pickup truck in a field near his Franklin, Tex., home. The death was called a suicide. Marshall headed the Texas Agriculture Stabilization Service, which approved the arrangements which Estes allegedly used to get around the law prohibiting the sale of cotton allotments.

Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman said Marshall was the key man in the department's investigation of Estes.

The other death—of El Paso accountant George A. Krutliak—is almost equally mysterious. Krutliak was an accountant for several large landholders and farmers in the Pecos, Tex., area who had dealings with Estes. His body was found April 4 in a car near Clint, Tex.

Congressional investigators have not completed their inquiries, and are unable at this time to conclude whether Krutliak might have been able to shed any light on the Estes affair if he had lived.

But they are curious enough about the circumstances surrounding the death to look into it thoroughly.

Officially, pathologist Fred Bornstein ruled April 9 that Krutliak died of heart disease and there was nothing to indicate any violence. But, Bornstein added, the body had deteriorated so badly that a definitive autopsy was impossible.

Sources said Tuesday that two former Agriculture Department officials are under investigation in connection with the Estes case.

Sources said the Senate investigating subcommittee and the House government operations subcommittee both are looking into possible relationships between the two officials and Estes enterprises.

Both men denied they had anything to do with matters pertaining to Estes while they were in government.

They were identified by congressional sources as James A. McConnell, now living at Mansfield, Pa., and Walter C. Berger, Baltimore, Md. McConnell was an assistant secretary of agriculture in the Eisenhower administration and later a consultant to former Secretary Ezra T. Benson.

Berger headed the department's Commodity Stabilization Service office until the Kennedy administration came in. Both had general jurisdiction over farm programs through which Estes built his farm empire.

Berger went on the board of Commercial Solvents, Inc., of New York after he left the government. McConnell has served from time to time as a director and consultant to the firm since 1956, when he resigned as assistant secretary of agriculture.

It was learned that the Agriculture Department had approved an agreement under which Estes assigned any grain storage revenues to Commercial Solvents, Inc., which had advanced him money.

The U. S. Senate, in 1955, rejected President Washington's nomination of John Rutledge, of South Carolina, as chief justice.

Adenauer Lines Up With DeGaulle

BONN, Germany (UPI) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has lined up with French President Charles de Gaulle in the belief that negotiations with the Russians on Berlin now are a sign of weakness.

The 67-year-old chancellor's views already have forced him to schedule replacement of his ambassador to Washington and are likely to create even more strain with President Kennedy.

The uproar stemmed from remarks Adenauer made Monday and Tuesday during a rare visit to West Berlin—his first trip there in more than eight months.

The chancellor declared the four-month-old U. S.-Russian talks on Berlin were getting "nowhere" and added, "I do not know why they should be continued."

He said this amid the echoes of renewed formal approval by the NATO foreign ministers, including his own, of continued American talks on Berlin with Russia.

In Washington, the State Department reacted violently. A spokesman said Adenauer's objections would not be permitted to block or delay the U. S.-Russian talks. He said the President believed the Berlin crisis potentially so dangerous that he must seek a solution of it.

Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder, reporting to the majority Christian Democratic party Tuesday, used almost the same words as the State Department spokesman.

Schroeder said nothing should be left untried to find a modus vivendi in Berlin.

But Adenauer himself takes the attitude long held by De Gaulle — that an attempt to seek an agreement with Russia now is only a sign of weakness and will lead to a withering of the Western position.

The chancellor said if the Russian-American talks are broken off now he foresees a long pause.

This indicated he still doubts the Russians will actually sign a peace treaty with East Germany as they have threatened to do lacking a new Berlin agreement, and believes that even if they did it would change nothing.

U. S., West Germany Split Over Berlin; New Talks Planned

The United States today was planning new consultations in an effort to mend its dispute with West Germany over how to deal with Russia on the Berlin crisis.

Officials said Allied talks on the rupture could start as soon as Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government puts its objections to U. S. strategy and plans in a formal communication.

The West powers were divided two against two on negotiating strategy following Adenauer's public rejection of a U. S. plan to internationalize Allied access routes to Red-encircled West Berlin.

Adenauer said the plan was unworkable and he saw no reason for the Americans to continue discussing the Berlin crisis with Russia. France backed the German position while Britain fully supported the United States.

The State Department, in an unusually blunt reaction, Tuesday told Adenauer that if he had a better plan to come up with it. The implication in the lengthy U. S. statement was that otherwise it should stop throwing monkey wrenches into the machinery.

American irritation with the aged chancellor stemmed in part from the fact that his news conference statements

Tuesday and the previous day went far beyond anything his foreign minister, Gerhard Schroeder, had said to U. S. officials in private diplomatic discussions.

The new round of Allied talks is expected to be held here, probably at the diplomatic level.

U. S. officials said Secretary of State Dean Rusk, now attending an Anzus Pact meeting in Australia, still plans to meet here within a few weeks with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin to continue their talks on the Berlin crisis. They acknowledged, however, that the dispute with West Germany might delay actual presentation of the U. S. access plan.

Rotarians Hear YWCC Activities

Miss Ruth Schroeder, executive director of the Young Women's Community Club of Orlando, was the speaker at the noon meeting of Rotarians Monday.

Miss Schroeder said that this club is the only organization of its kind in central Florida, where young single girls can find a home away from home, when it is necessary for them to live away from home or alone, in order to work or go to school.

The club was founded in 1920 by the United Missionary Society, Miss Schroeder stated and now has two dormitories housing 135 girls between the ages of 17 and 35 years.

The girls come from many countries, she said, and related stories about girls from Korea, Germany, Poland, England and other lands.

The regulations and requirements of the home are the same as those at any home, Miss Schroeder said. Girls must have good references, must care for their room and abide by the regulations and the set hours.

Miss Schroeder pointed out that young people must be taught several basic things, among them being a knowledge of the value of money, to care for their own things, and to accept authority.

She expressed concern with the young people in the age group between 17 and 21, whom she said have no legal protection of their rights.

"Up to age 17 the juvenile courts protect them," she said, "and up until age 21 their parents are liable for them, but they can still be punished as adults and are held accountable for their actions, under adult rules, even though they are not adults."

"These young people need some legal protection, through the law, until they reach their majority," she said.

Miss Schroeder said that the YWCC dining room is open to the public, the food is good and invited Rotarians to drop in and see the club for themselves.

How About That Casey: Mets Out Of Cellar

The Sanford Herald Page 6—Wed. May 9, '62

By JACK TRIM
Well, the St. Johns River Outboard Marathon literally blew over and while the drivers are patching their bottoms, officials of the race are beginning to work on next year's event.

There were several lively discussions here Saturday and Sunday among people from all over the state about making the marathon one of the best of its kind. The association most likely will take good note of many of the suggestions.

One interesting aspect of this year's race was the small field of entries. Disappointing from the numerical standpoint, the 26 boats entered represented a real gain in another respect.

Every one of these boats represented an individual entry and just about all sections of the state were listed. This actually shows better individual interest in the marathon than in some previous years when many of the boats were entered by engine and boat manufacturers and distributors.

Drivers came from Largo, St. Petersburg, Miami, Ft. Lauderdale, Melbourne, Jacksonville, Starke, Palatka, Holly Hill, Orlando, Winter Park and West Palm Beach.

That's a real good racing center representation — the only trouble was the numbers from each place didn't add up enough. And the gray weather around the state didn't help any either.

It was like being in two different worlds down on the lakefront Sunday morning at 8 a. m. when the marathon started and again at 8 a. m. Monday.

When the racing boats launched Sunday, the lake was all waves and wind—at the same time Monday it looked like a mirror.

But that's the way the gears grind.

Marathon officials were talking after the race about a big pot of prize money next time to lure the best—and most—drivers around.

Figure mentioned was $1,500 and there was a volunteer to put it up if all other factors appear favorable. That kind of kitty could draw so many boats, the lake would sound like a beehive. That'll have to be hashed over plenty, though.

Spectator interest was high for this fourth running of the marathon and that's important too. Boaters on the river said "people were hanging onto every piling between Sanford and Jacksonville. Roger Gilmore of the Deland Sun News noted that many Volusia Countians watched the boats go by at Whitehair Bridge and Ed Stone Park.

A revolving crowd estimated to be from 1,000 to 2,500 persons turned out at Sanford for the start of the race and the finish. Anytime you can get about 800 people up and out at 8 a. m. on Sunday to watch the start of a race, that's interest.

I talked to folks from Orlando, Winter Haven, Leesburg, Clermont, Melbourne and Daytona Beach who came here for the marathon and there probably were spectators from many other cities.

I just looked out the window across Lake Monroe and there's a little rowboat out in the middle with hardly a ripple splatting against its side—Haliph Alderman surely would have set a new speed record for the race Sunday if the water had been like that instead of—ugh!

Moss May Never Recover Use Of Left Arm, Leg

WIMBLEDON, Eng. (UPI)—The mother of Stirling Moss expressed annoyance today that the auto racing star has not been told "that there is any possibility of his being permanently injured."

Doctors at Atkinson Morley Hospital announced Tuesday that Moss may never recover full use of his left arm and leg as a result of injuries suffered in a crash at the Goodwood track on Easter Monday.

"The bulletin was a shock," said Mrs. Aileen Moss, who admitted it was issued without her prior knowledge.

A specialist, whose name was not disclosed, explained in the bulletin that Moss "received serious head injuries involving the right side of his skull and the brain beneath."

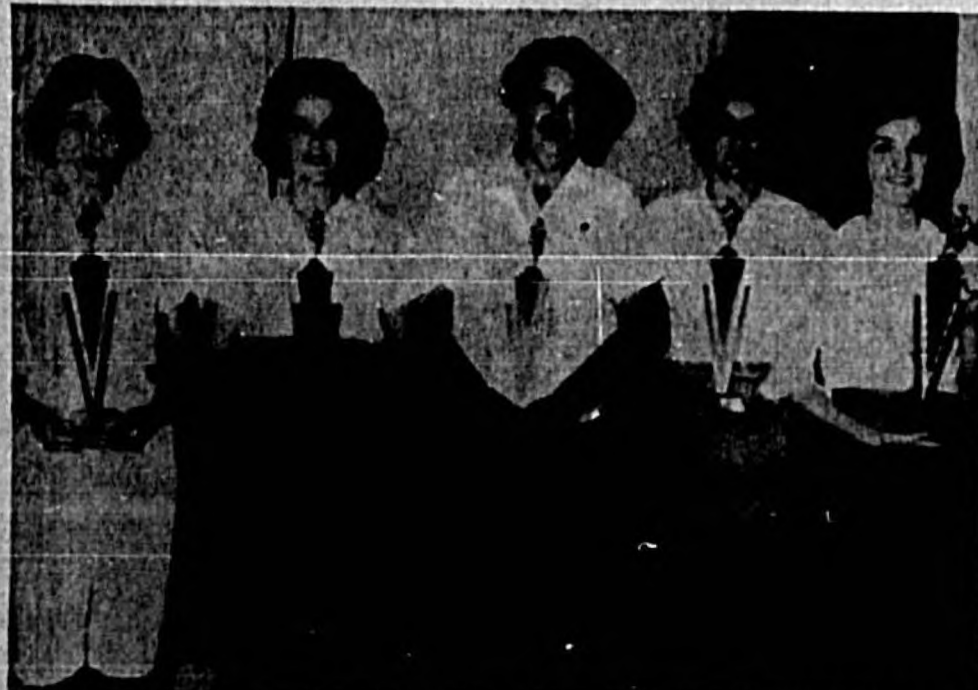

"The effect of the brain injury to his left side will be in the direction of loss of muscle power and loss of sensation," the bulletin continued. "If there is a permanent brain damage, then the effects of this damage also will be permanent."

Yentsch Paces Federal To Easy Win Over Chase

By Ronnie Broadway
Herald Sports Editor
A home run in the third inning by M. Yentsch for First Federal led his team to a 13-0 rampage over Chase in Little League action. A six run fifth inning was the clincher for First Federal. S. Leach was the winning pitcher and G. Maples was the loser.

In other National League action, Standard Oil romped over Monroe Harbor 14-4. Bill Higginbotham was the winning pitcher while Jim Paterson was the loser. Standard Oil had a total of ten hits in the game.

In the American League, Florida State Bank held off a last inning threat by Perfection Dairies to take an 11-8 victory. Leighty was the winning hurler and Cooper was the loser. A home run by Green of Florida State was no good for technical reasons.

City Softball League action saw Nazarene defeat First Christian in a close game by the score of 12-11. Estridge was the winning pitcher, E. Evans the loser. Nazarene had a total of 20 hits.

Later in the week, First Methodist downed First Christian 13-8. Murray was the winner while E. Evans was again the loser. Witkowski had two home runs for First Christian. Richardson had one. Risner had a round tripper for the losers.

Giants 'Best' Jackson

By United Press International
Juan Marichal and Ed Bailey may never make old fans forget Carl Hubbell and Gus Mancuso but they sure are making San Francisco fans think a National League pennant may be coming their way.

The 24-year-old Marichal from the Dominican Republic and the 31-year-old Bailey from Strawberry Plains, Tenn., give the Giants a battery that currently rates with the best in the majors. Marichal stands 5-2 for the season and Bailey is making a fine comeback with a .286 batting average, seven homers and 18 runs batted in.

Marichal and Bailey combined their talents Tuesday night to give the Giants a 4-3 victory over Larry Jackson and the St. Louis Cardinals, boosting their NL lead to four games. It was the first time in nine decisions that the Giants beat the hard-throwing Jackson.

The New York Mets rose out of last place with a 3-1 win over the Chicago Cubs, the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 6-4, and the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Houston Colt .45s, 10-1, in 10 innings in other NL games.

The Cleveland Indians downed the Minnesota Twins, 6-3, and the Detroit Tigers routed the Los Angeles Angels, 10-1, in the only American League action.

Marichal is making a 1961, yielded six walks but only five hits, including a homer and double by Stan Musial and a ninth-inning homer by Carl Sawatski. Bailey, a disappointment last season after the Giants acquired him from Cincinnati, drove in the winning run with an eighth-inning single. Orlando Cepeda had two doubles and drove in two runs for the Giants.

Jay Hook pitched a four-hitter and scored the tie-breaking run for the Mets on Felix Mantilla's seventh-inning single. The win, Hook's second, put the Mets seven percentage points ahead of the 10th-place Cubs and marked the first time the New York club has been out of the NL cellar.

Billy Klaus had three hits, including a two-run homer, to lead a 10-hit Philadelphia attack that brought Chris Short his first win. The Reds made 15 hits but left 16 runners on base as Jim O'Toole, a 18-game winner last season, suffered his fourth defeat against two triumphs.

Palmer Top Choice In Colonial Play

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—Arnold Palmer, who conquered his Tournament of Champions jinx last weekend, banga heading into another one Thursday when he tries for the eighth time to bag the Colonial National Invitation golf crown.

Colonial Cuntry Club's tortuous, 7,112-yard, par 35-35-70 layout has been a thorn in Palmer's pride since he first tried to master it in the 1955 tournament.

The powerful Pennsylvania

ian, who has won three of his last four tournament starts, shares Colonial's low-round record with a superb 65 matched only by four others—Ben Hogan twice, Chandler Harper, Mike Souchak and Kel Nagle.

But, at the same time, some of the worst golf Palmer has played since turning pro has been extracted by Colonial's long, exacting fairways and rolling greens.

For example, he's had 72-hol scores of 312, 298, 296, 291, 289 (twice) and a 286. He's had such 18-hole rounds as 81, 80, 79, 77 and several 76s and 75s. That 312 was his worst ever as a pro.

The 286 came last year to give him a tie for sixth place, his best finish here. But it also marked a rank departure from his patented finish pattern.

He started the final round in second place, one stroke off the pace, and turned into the final nine holes that steamy afternoon tied for the lead. Then, he flubbed a two-foot putt on No. 11 and was off on the downgrade.

"That course really gets you," Palmer has said of Colonial. "It makes you so made you want to lead & apart. But there are no birdie holes . . . actually, just a couple. And, if you get too anxious, it takes you apart."

"It took me a while to learn how to play it. Colonial is not my type of course because it confines me off the tee. There are only two par fives. And there are several lapp holes."

Byrd-Orona Wedding Solemnized In Ceremony At All Souls Church

Miss Harriette Sue Byrd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry James Byrd, and Richard A. Orona, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Orona, Tucson, Ariz., were married April 25 at 8:30 p.m. at All Souls Catholic Church in Sanford.

Rev. Richard Lyons officiated at the Nuptial Mass ceremony. Church decorations were several arrangements of Easter lilies.

Mrs. F. E. Roumillat Sr., organist, presented a program of wedding music and sang "Ave Maria."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white taffeta with fitted waist, scalloped neckline and long sleeves ending in points at the wrists. Her full skirt ended in a chapel train.

Her veil of silk illusion and lace was attached to a head crown and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and white carnations with floor length satin ribbon streamers.

Bridesmaid, Cynthia LeFils, wore a pink taffeta dress and carried a bouquet of pink roses and white carnations. Best man was John Archambault and Pat Murphy was usher.

The bride's mother wore a pale blue brocade sheath with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a silk print dress with white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 1805 West Third Street. Assisting Mrs. Byrd with the reception were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. P. J. Allen, Mrs. Homer Little and Mrs. Ann Williamson.

The house was decorated with arrangements of white mums and carnations. A three tiered wedding cake and coffee were served to those attending.

Mrs. Orona chose for her going-away outfit a white chiffon dress with matching accessories. After a wedding trip to Cocoa Beach, the couple will reside at 704 West Fourth Street, Sanford.

Out of town guests included the groom's mother, Mrs. Frank Orona, Tucson, Ariz.; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Robbins, Greensboro, N. C., and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Byrd Jr., Winter Park.

Mrs. Robert LeFils and daughter Cynthia honored the bride-elect at a kitchen shower and Mrs. C. E. Chantel hosted a miscellaneous shower for her, prior to the wedding.

Faye Garner Wins Award At Mercer

Miss Faye Garner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Garner, has recently won a very coveted award at Mercer University where she is a student.

She won the Ronah Award, an honorary award given periodically to members of Phi Mu Sorority, for outstanding service and leadership in Phi Mu. This is the highest award the sorority can give its members.

Faye wrote her mother that it was given to her for hard work in the Campus Sing and other services to the sorority.

A quote from the campus newspaper states that "Mercer's 11th annual campus sing was held before a full and enthusiastic house at Willingham Chapel. Phi Mu was chosen the top singing group by judges Dr. Cable and Dr. Snipes, both of the University faculty."

"Phi Mu sang their way to the top under the direction of Faye Garner, soprano." The groups were judged on stage appearance, animation, theme, harmony, interpretation and general musical ability.

Naturally Faye, her parents and friends are all very excited over the award.

Pale pink roses were arranged in other vantage spots and the dining table was overlaid with a pink and white cut-work cloth and centered with a beautiful arrangement of pink and white carnations in a silver epergne.

Refreshments of punch, bell and heart shaped sandwiches, heart shaped mints, petit fours and nuts were served throughout the evening. About 60 guests called during the appointed hours.

Among the guests were Miss Dede Sharon, who is interning at Pinecrest School and will graduate from FSU in June and Miss Susan Johnson, who is interning at Southside School. She will also graduate in June and both girls will be bridesmaids at Miss Kirchhoff's wedding.

Woman's Club Presents Program On Traffic Laws

Members of the Sanford Woman's Club had to take a written examination at the monthly meeting of the group, recently. Vince Smallwood, of the state highway patrol, was guest speaker.

He used "traffic laws" as his subject and after the exam, members decided that they had better study the new drivers' handbook which Mr. Smallwood distributed. The road signs seemed to baffle the ladies most.

Mrs. J. L. Jewell showed some interesting slides of her trip around the world. Among them was Mrs. Jewell riding a camel. Another interesting one was taken during a sand storm in India.

Mrs. Troy Ray invited the club to assist the State Welfare office during open house at the Melich building, on May 23, 2 to 4 p.m.

Mrs. W. L. Gramkow, president, asked for a moment of silent prayer for Mrs. Harry Hooley, a member who died recently.

Mrs. William Stringfield gave a report on the state convention held in Tampa. She stated that 1300 members and delegates were present. Highlight of the convention was the international banquet. Mrs. R. A. Smith, a past state president and member of the Sanford Club, took part in this event, dressed as a Japanese. Her costume was complete from the silk kimono to the black wig.

A covered dish luncheon preceded the monthly meeting with Mrs. B. B. Crumley, Mrs. Effie Durden, Mrs. Charles R. Sims, Mrs. O. M. Harrison, Mrs. Pete Bukur and Mrs. W. L. Kirk serving as hostesses.

The American Home Department is planning a "Roaring Twenties" party, May 17, with their husbands as guests.

Personals

Mrs. William D. Leahy of Guatemala City, Guatemala; Mrs. Dan G. Mitchem, Milwaukee, Wis., and Robert Wilson, New York City, have all returned to their respective homes after a visit with their father, Fred R. Wilson.

Three Seniors Honored At Tea

Mrs. Roy Holler entertained at her home, 2432 Mellonville Ave., with a tea recently honoring three Seminole High School graduates.

Guests of honor were Misses Anne Crapps, Debbie Scott and Carol Sue Higginbotham. Mrs. A. S. McCollum assisted Mrs. Holler with the entertaining. The refreshment table held an arrangement of red roses and other decor carrying out the class colors of red and white.

Refreshments of chicken sandwiches, cracker dips, small cakes, iced with red and white, candies, nuts and cold drinks were served to those attending.

Guests included Mrs. J. Crapps, Mrs. F. D. Scott, Mrs. Earl Higginbotham, Mrs. A. W. Knox and Mrs. B. Roberts. Also the Misses Kae Adams, Jean Robson, Bonnie Gielow, Allison Blake, Vida Sue Smith, Merritt Phillips, Loretta Fore.

Kreck Family Visiting In North Orlando

By Ginny Skisak
A group of relatives have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Anton Kreck Jr., at their home in North Orlando. They are Mr. Kreck's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. William Anderson and his grandmother, Mrs. Irma Fitzpatrick, all of Lafayette, Ind.

The visitors have been touring central and southern Florida. When they return to Indiana, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Kreck Sr. will go with them. The senior Krecks have been visiting their son and his family during the winter months.

While the entire group was in North Orlando, four generations were together at the Kreck home.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend and I are making plans to marry. Do you think it is proper for him to ask how much money I have in the bank? I did ask him what his financial situation was, and he claims he has a right to know mine, too. He says we should combine all our money into one account. I worked hard for 22 years (I am 40 and he is 42) and I feel that what I have saved should not be divulged. If it were needed I would be glad to share it, but he is the type who would buy a new car every year, as he spends money faster than he makes it. Am I wrong in my thinking?
CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: Your boy friend appears too eager to "combine" your money with his. And you appear properly unwilling to do so. This is a rather shaky foundation on which to build a marriage that should last forever. Don't marry a man with whom you are reluctant to share everything.

DEAR ABBY: Recently my daughter got a corsage made of DOG biscuits! She thought it was very funny and wore it to the dance. What on earth is this world coming to?
DISGUSTED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I'll bite! I don't know what it's coming to, but apparently it is going to the dogs!

DEAR ABBY: I read with amusement the letter from "EX-OTHER-WOMAN," who said if girls got together and compared notes they would learn that two-timing husbands all tell the same story.

Boys get together, too, you know, and the stories told to them by two-timing wives are not very different from their own. "My husband is cold and unaffectionate and he doesn't understand me" is a line many frustrated women use. It's pretty corny, but it still works! BEEN THERE

SUNDAY MAY 13 OVER NBC-TV

Crain To Star In U. S. Steel Hour Show May 16

"The Other Woman," an unusual mystery-drama starring Jeanne Crain, Lloyd Bochner and Hugh Reilly, will be seen "live" on the U.S. Steel Hour, May 16, at 9 p. m. and 10 p. m. in. Written for TV by Richard F. Stockton, the story concerns a police investigation of ominous messages received by a lovely young widow.

Alison Bradmoor (Miss Crain) tells the police that she has been receiving communications from an unknown woman, suggesting that she kill some man whose name is not mentioned. Alison believes, but does not tell the police, that the man referred to is Michael Arson (Bochner), who knows something about her past she would like to remain secret. The police lieutenant, Milt Estes (Reilly), assigned to the case, at first believes that the whole thing is someone's idea of a joke. He changes his mind when Alison receives a key to a post office box in a nearby village, and going there with Alison, finds a pistol in the box. However, he is utterly confused when the postmaster recognizes Alison, although she has told Estes that she has never before been in the village.

Jeanne Crain became a motion picture star with her appearance in "Home in Indiana" in 1943. The strikingly beautiful brunette is the mother of six children, and lists among her films credits, "Second Greatest Sex," "Gentlemen Marry Brunettes," "Fastest Gun Alive" and "The Joker."

Lloyd Bochner appears frequently on television and was last starred on the Steel Hour in "The Bitter Sex."

Hugh Reilly currently stars on the weekly TV series, "Lassie." He was seen on Broadway in "Fair Game" and "Dear Charles."

Bruce Minnick will direct.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

One of the most important things a declarer must remember is that when a finesse works the first time, it may not work the second.

South won the opening heart in his own hand and promptly led a club and finessed dummy's ten. When the ten held South remarked, "Maybe we didn't bid enough." Then he led a spade from dummy and finessed the jack.

This finesse lost and a second heart led knocked out dummy's king.

South returned to his own hand with a diamond, led a second club and finessed dummy's jack.

This time East was ready with the king and three heart tricks set the hand.

South was guilty of plain carelessness. After the ten of clubs held he should have returned to his hand with a high diamond and repeated the club finesse. It would still have lost, but now South would be sure of four club tricks, one spade and two in each red suit.

Furthermore, if the king of clubs had been in the West hand South would still have had plenty of opportunity to go after the spade suit.

We The Women: By Ruth Millet

The older a woman gets, the more important it is for her to remember that:

Immaculate grooming can't make a woman beautiful, but it can make her pleasant to look at.

You may bore others when you talk, but you never bore anyone while listening.

Keeping busy may not make a woman happy, but it will keep her from being miserable.

If you must give others advice, at least don't feel hurt when it isn't followed.

The woman who wants age to soften her face should be careful not to harbor too many hard thoughts about others.

While it is good to have friends who are younger than you are, it is also good to have friends of your own age and friends who are older.

Nothing will make you seem older than being over critical of the young.

No fashion makes a woman look older than one that is too young for her.

Leaning on others before you have to is the biggest mistake you can make.

The more you can find to laugh about, the better company you will be.

The more charitable you are toward others, the more allowances they will make for you.

If you want to look forward to tomorrow, be sure to have some plans for the day.

Don't make comfort your only concern in life unless you are willing to give up all hope of adventure.

Don't let your friendships dwindle in the belief that only old friends are worth having. New friends are important, too.

Highlights TV Time Previews

7:30 - 8:30 p. m. (NBC) Wagon Train. "The Mary Beckett Story." Different from most plots in this series, this one sees Wagonmaster Hale (John McIntyre) trying to solve a murder after a charming but despicable Frenchman (Les Bangers), whose hobby is bilking women of their savings, is slain. Plenty of suspects, among them a beautiful widow (Anna Jeffrays), her beautiful daughter (Carole Wells), and a plain-looking spinster (Joelynn Brando), who had good reason.

8-8:30 p. m. (CBS) Window On Main Street. Tonight's episode might have been a complete bust but for the acting of guest-star Arthur O'Connell. He plays a stranger who gives Cameron Brooks a few confused moments. He rides on a white horse, decked out in a cowboy outfit and proclaims an exhibit of Old West souvenirs in the park. Brooks' biggest trouble is the influence he holds over the youngsters, especially young Roddy Miller. Tim Mathiesen and Marilyn Harvey are featured with star Robert Young.

8:30-9:30 p. m. (CBS) Checkmate. "Rendezvous in Washington." This one has good plot motivation, sustained suspense and better-than-average acting. Our heroes (Anthony George and Sebastian Cabot) fly to Washington at the behest of a foundation executive (MacDonald Carey) to halt the attempt of an unknown killer on the life of the girl he loves (Kathleen Crowley). Suspect is a former auditor (William Alllyn). Further complicating matters is the executive's wife (Anna Lee) and a teenage son (Peter Helm).

8:30-9 p. m. (NBC) The Joey Bishop Show. "The Image." Quite amusing. Now a TV star, Joey Barnes (Joey Bishop) is taken in tow by a network publicist (Peter Leeds), who has grandiose plans to exploit his unwilling new charge. A laugh riot is Nancy Kulp as a society columnist, and getting good laughs are comedians Joe Besser and Herbie Faye.

9-10 p. m. (NBC) The Perry Como Show (Color). Tonight's prima guest is guitarist-singer Caterina Valente, whose recordings have sold millions. Miss Valente's vocal range and presentation are a healthy addition to any show. The State of the Week is North Carolina. Featured in the cast are Don Adams, Kaye Ballard, Jack Duffy and Sandy Stewart.

Longwood Tops Altamonte, 8-6 In LL Game

By Donna Estes

Longwood Little Leaguers topped the Altamonte Springs team 8-6 in a hard played and exciting game held last Saturday after dedication of Altamonte Springs' new J.C. Howell Ball Park.

A transistor radio in the shape of a baseball was presented to George Milwee winning pitcher and Mike Shaw's two doubles brought him the title of Longwood's most valuable player.

Approximately 60 of the first 92 elements in the periodic table have been found in sea water, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Clara Barber Rolls Top Game

In the Holler Motors/Navy Wives League, Clara Barber rolled a 212/494 series for high for the day. Other highs were Donna Jasper, 194/449; Irene Dulek, 188/438; Mary Jane Gorton, 178/472; and Lil Ogden, 171/475. Martha Kinard rolled a 168/431, Sally Basinger a 167/432, and Peg-By Mashburn a 162/468.

The 3-10 split was made by Lil Ogden and Peggy Mashburn. The 5-10 split was made by Ollie Yellick. The 2-7 by Mary Jane Gorton and the 5-7 by Gloria Dove. The 4-7-9 was made by Fran Mackey and the 4-7-8 by Irene Dulek. The 5-7-9 by Cally Basinger.

Turkeys were rolled by Donna Jasper, Irene Dulek, and Sally Basinger. Clara Barber rolled six strikes in a row.

Navy Wives Club No. 211 is still in first place with VAH-7 Wives in second place.

UNION LABEL

INTERNATIONAL LADIES GARMENT WORKERS UNION

Symbol of Decency, Fair Labor Standards and the American Way of Life.

Daily Fashion Show On Main Street

Sinclair Lewis. It's grown up now. People with taste and imagination have given it a new sense of verve and style. People like the women's wear retailer who help make the American woman the best dressed woman in the world.

This, then, is a tribute to the retailer from the members of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union; the 450,000 men and women who make the clothes he sells; the skilled craftsmen who provide the "cast" for his daily fashion show.

Their signature is the union label you see on the right. It is the signature of 450,000 individuals who, through their union, have achieved fair standards, the dignity of a voice in their own conditions of employment and a position of respect in their communities.

Look for the ILGWU label the next time you shop for women's and girls' clothing. It is your guarantee that the clothing you buy is made by skilled craftsmen in a shop reflecting the best American standards and traditions.

Night and day, Summer, fall, winter, spring. Every day, every week, every month of every season there's a fashion show on Main Street—produced and directed by your local women's wear retailer.

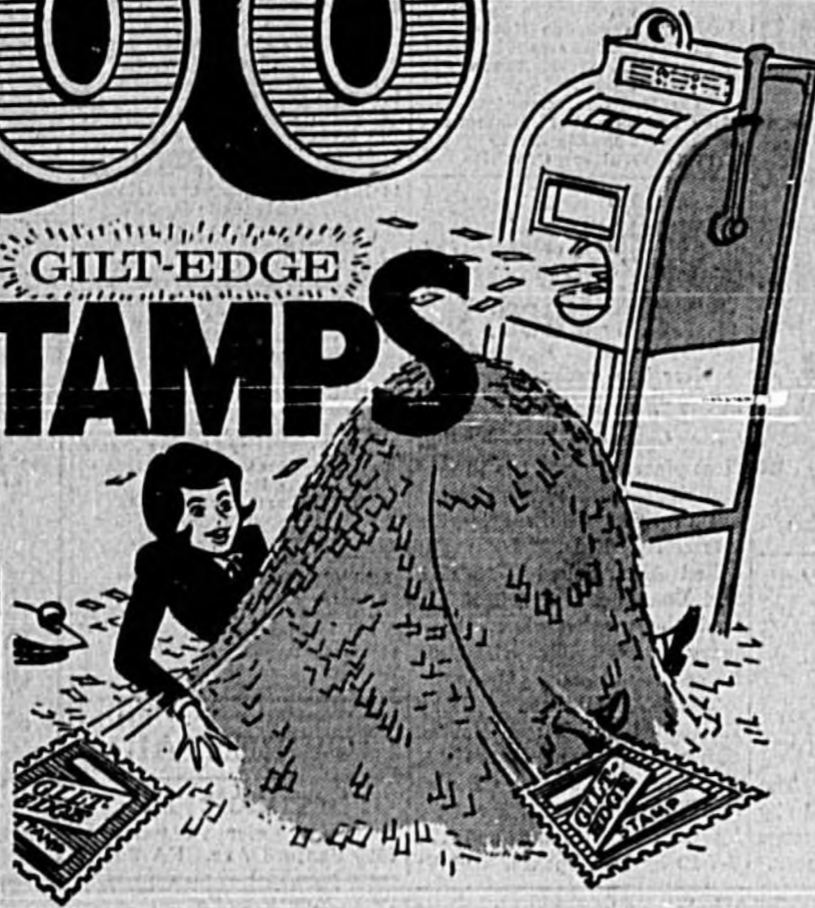

It's a smart, sophisticated show. A hit show that's got everything: from fresh new styles to the classics.

It takes experience, inherent good taste and a sharp buying eye to produce this year-round fashion show. It takes an ability to sense genuine fashion trends from fads. It even takes a dash of good old-fashioned showmanship. These are some of the qualities that make the women's wear retailer—whether chain, specialty, variety, department store or neighborhood shop—unique. This is why he invariably has just what you want, when you want it, at the price you can afford.

And the retailer, the smart retailer, knows that when he carries garments with the union label in them, he carries the best in American style, craftsmanship and quality.

Who's Chiseling?

In popular opinion the relief rolls are crowded with chiselers, dead beats and "no goods" who have found in the government's bounty an easy way to stay alive without working. In the official opinion of the Kennedy Administration (Secretary Ribicoff), the percentage of ineligible is about 1.5 at the most and, hence, relatively insignificant in the light of other welfare problems.

This conflict makes all the more interesting the preliminary results of an intensive piece of detective work in Washington, D. C., where the relief burden has doubled since 1956. The study, incidentally, is headed up by West Virginia's Senator Byrd, who has taken a fearful beating from the "liberal" press for suggesting that the facts might be more interesting and far more valuable than guesswork at random.

The facts, so far, are these: Out of a five per cent sample of the case load in aid to dependent children, the investigating teams have subjected 64 families to close scrutiny. Of these 64 families, 37 or nearly 60 per cent of the sample have been found ineligible for the relief they are receiving.

The fairly typical violations are these—mothers holding down full-time jobs, fathers reported dead, missing or disabled, but living at home and capable of working, off-spring living in foster homes while their parent(s) claim the dependency benefit, welfare mothers living in and profiting from illicit affairs.

Admittedly, this is a nasty business, although not much nastier than the scrutiny the Internal Revenue Service gives on income tax return. Understandably, it has the welfare establishment in an uproar; some of its sacred pretensions are under attack. On the other hand, when relief costs increase by 100 per cent in six years, it cannot hurt much to find out who's getting it and why.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Girls, be sure your frenzy for early marriage is not a selfish desire to gain social status through wearing a ring. True love is unselfish, so test yourself by the questions below. And be honest, for you cast the proxy votes of all your future unborn babies, so don't doublecross them.

CASE 31-415: Leo Sullivan makes it a hobby to help counsel young folks at Peru, Indiana, both in the church, the YMCA and the Miami County Youth Council.

When he brought his delegation of 35 to visit his Bible Class in Chicago, we conversed during our dinner. "Dr. Crane," Leo began, "we find a large number of teen-agers who start going steady and then develop an affair.

states of the U.S.A. till you reach your 21st birthday. By the same token, though you are as tall as your parents, you still should wait till you are 21 before you marry.

In George Washington's day, the average lifespan was only about 42 years, so a girl of 17 could not expect to have more than 25 years of marriage.

But now you modern girls can wait till you are 22 and still expect 30 years of marriage ahead, for the average lifespan of an adult now exceeds 72 years.

As an index on your maturity and likelihood of happy marriage, see how you rate on this brief test:

- (1) Have you a high school diploma and at least one year of college or apprenticeship in a good trade?
- (2) Do you now have a job that pays you enough to finance a home including rent, insurance, groceries, clothes, furniture payments, car payments, etc., without falling back on "papa" for hand-outs?
- (3) Have you dated several others besides this special sweetheart? If not, you are likely infatuated, not really in love.
- (4) Are you rushing into marriage primarily to get away from your present home because of a drunken father, lack of affection from parents, conflicts with parents or a desire just to lead your own life?
- (5) If so, get a job and stay single until you have proved yourself, but don't jeopardize a marriage by using it as an escape from home.

the same church denomination? If not, you have a very great chance of divorce.

(6) Are you pushing for marriage just because many of your friends wear wedding rings or are already engaged? If that's your main reason, and you are not in love but are selfishly using a wedding for social status.

(7) Would your future children vote approvingly for your present choice? Remember, you now cast the proxy votes of all your future children, so keep them in mind when you pick their other parent.

For further advice, send for my 200-Point "Rating Scale for Husands & Wives," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20c. Don't marry anybody who doesn't rate "Superior" on this marriage chart.

Letters

Dear Editor,
Copy of letters written to Judge Vernon Mize and Kenneth McIntosh.

We, the women of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church, Sanford, wish to express our appreciation to you for your recent undertaking to make a jail sentence mandatory for all persons convicted of the charge of drinking-while-intoxicated.

Realizing the danger of being even slightly under the influence of alcohol while driving, we commend and encourage your action against persons who are completely unable to safely operate an automobile on our streets and highways because of the influence of alcohol.

We feel that the possibility of saving one life or of avoiding injury to even one person is well worth the effort of the would-be drinker who must now think before he drinks and decide whether or not he or she wants to be responsible for the drinks consumed and the results it can bring.

We feel the action is a step in the right direction toward making our county a safer county in which to live.

Very truly yours,
Woman's Missionary Society

Escape To Freedom In China Too

The little village of Shataukok lies in an area called the "new territories" on the border dividing Red China and the British crown colony of Hong Kong.

A high wire fence runs all along the border, except at Shataukok where there is a break of about four miles. It is a favorite crossing point for illegal border crossers seeking to escape the hardships of Red China.

One of these last week was a man of about 40 clad in a ragged blue denim uniform of the Chinese Communist People's Liberation Army.

Border police seized him and sent him back. But as he turned back for whatever fate now awaits him, he told the police: "I'll come back again."

The story of the Chinese border crossers has not been so well publicized nor is it as dramatic as the story of divided Berlin and the stream of refugees from Communism who for years poured through it by the thousands until erection of the East Berlin wall last Aug. 13.

Like their German counterparts, the Chinese refugees leave all their possessions behind them. But their story is even more tragic.

For every East German escaping to the West, at least four jobs await him. Efficiently operating refugee organizations take care of him and see that he is re-housed in an area best suited to his skills.

For the refugees from Red China, the future is almost as bleak as the past he was trying to escape.

If he is caught, British authorities will turn him back because Hong Kong already is bursting at the seams with other refugees.

A government official in Hong Kong estimates that 6,000 to 8,000 refugees pour into Hong Kong each month.

"When conditions are poor in China," he said, "we get refugees. And conditions have never been so poor before."

The Human Rights Council of Hong Kong has called on Free World nations to help them solve the problem.

They have asked the Nationalist Chinese government on Formosa to receive and resettle 100 thousand refugees immigrants during 1962-63.

It also has proposed that countries with vast open spaces, such as Canada and Australia, amend their immigration laws to absorb at least a few thousand each year.

It is estimated that since the Reds took over the mainland in 1949, at least 800 thousand refugees have arrived in Hong Kong.

News World Is Saddened By Death Of Frank Braden

By Lyle C. Wilson
WASHINGTON (UPI) — It is not necessary to have been around long enough to remember Peary at the pole, or the demolition of Fatty Arbuckle in Hollywood, to know the UPI mislabeled Frank Braden the other day when he died in a Providence, R. I., hospital.

I am partial to the news reports of my employer, United Press International. But I am no bigot in that respect in the sense of being obstinate or irrational.

So it was that I winced on reading last week that Frank Braden was the man who convinced the people that the circus was the greatest show on earth.

That simply is not so. I call on my fellow old timers to rise up with me to identify the man who made the circus what it never was. My name is Dexter Follows, if memory serves. And I think it does. Old timers country-wide will agree on that.

Old timer may sputter that the man who really did the job was P. T. Barnum, but I wasn't around when Barnum was doing his stuff. But I met Dexter Follows personally in the city room of the Oklahoma City Times and years later in the news room of United Press in the World Building on Park Row. The old old timers may have Barnum if they want him, I'll take Follows.

Pegler, Runyon, Frank Adams and other hot shots of the 1920s practically got a day off from column writing when Follows came to town. Two days off, in fact. One day would produce a column of what Follows said was new under the big top. The second day's column would be about Follows himself, and why he was the greatest circus press agent ever which, indeed, he was. So much for Frank Braden. No offense meant, of course, because Braden was a good man, too.

Our UPI piece about Braden related that one of his most celebrated publicity stunts for Ringling Bros. & Barnum and Bailey was when he somehow managed to maneuver a midjet in the lap of J. P. Morgan during a Senate committee hearing in 1933. Our UPI piece added: "No one ever knew how Braden pulled it off, but the picture of Morgan and the midjet made front pages that day throughout the world."

"No one ever knew how Braden pulled it off? ? ? ?" For gosh sakes, UPI, I know about that because I was there. And Ray Tucker knows about it because it was Tucker who put Braden up to the gag. Ray is a columnist now out of Washington but then was doing honest work for the New York World Telegram. Ray had a pixie sense of humor.

The key to this mystery, if any, is that this was a girl midjet. She was a cute little trick, about 30 years old.

Certainly I agree with Larry Verabel in indicating that "proof" is necessary before sentence," but what has worried me most about this drinking-driving business is not "proof of guilt" but lack of sentence. Without a doubt Vernon Mize will lose his judgeship if he continues this kind of a program. May the God of Heaven bear him witness that in what he was made judge for, Congratulate to your paper for printing the episode and for a county who has a judge willing to fulfill the responsibility of his office.

Sincerely yours,
Ward A. Scriven

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Humored mass resignation of older State Department foreign service officers to take advantage of higher pensions now available under a special law has failed to develop.

A threatened disruption of diplomatic operations in many United States embassies overseas has thereby been avoided.

The office of Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for Personnel, Herman Pollack, has just announced that fewer than 210 foreign service officers are expected to retire before June 30—at most, only 40 more than the 151 retiring last year.

Early this year it was reported that there might be from 100 to 200 additional retirements and resignations.

Those retiring before May 31 will, under special legislation passed by Congress in 1960, receive an additional 12 per cent annuity. This will make up for their years of service at the lower salary scales before the last foreign service pay increase act went into effect in 1958.

Under the law, an FSO must have served five years in his grade at retirement in order to receive maximum pension.

The way it figures out by a complicated formula is that a career ambassador with 35 years of service whose pay is $20,000 a year will receive a pension of $15,860 a year for retiring now, instead of the $14,000 under normal procedure.

Only five career ambassadors have so far chosen to retire under this special formula. They are:

showed that President Kennedy had recommended to Congress promotion of 711 career diplomats.

It included six promotions from Class Two to Class One, another 25 from Class Two to Class One with the rank of consul general, 60 from Class Three to Class Two. The other 636 promotions were in the five lower grades.

These promotions kept most of the senior officers in the service. But another 16 career ministers and 24 Class One FSOs have chosen to retire to receive the higher pensions and a few more may be received before the deadline on May 31.

Further promotions to fill vacancies caused by these retirements are expected on the next promotion list President Kennedy sends to Congress. A Foreign Service staff review panel to consider promotions was convened March 30. It is not expected to complete its work before the end of May.

Three career ministers were recently promoted to career ambassadors, highest rank in the foreign service. They were: Ambassador to Cayman Frances E. Willis, highest ranking woman in the diplomatic corps; Ambassador to Germany Walter C. Downing, and U. S. Representative to the European Communities in Brussels, Amb. W. Walton Butterworth.

Only one other ambassadorial appointment is reported pending. It would make Jacob D. Beam ambassador to Moscow, succeeding Llewellyn E. Thompson on his transfer or retirement.

Every ambassadorship is now filled. In general the Kennedy appointments have been considered good, with a maximum number of career foreign service officers.

Estes Case Becomes Major Issue Now

EDITORS NOTE: The Billie Sol Estes case in Texas suddenly has mushroomed into a national political issue. Republicans are accusing Democrats of trying to hush up the story of the collapse of Estes' business empire. Here is the first of three dispatches from Texas by the national reporter of United Press International.

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—The eyes of Texas are on Billie Sol Estes.

Estes is the boy wonder who is under federal indictment on fraud charges in connection with a business empire that once was estimated to be worth $160 million. As if he didn't have enough trouble already, he has become in the last few days a national political issue. Republicans are beginning to talk as though they had found something which will swing millions of votes their way in this fall's congressional elections. What they are saying is that there is plenty of dirt in Estes' relationship with the U. S. Department of Agriculture and that the Kennedy administration is trying to sweep it under the rug.

Estes is a Democrat and a witness has testified he told him he contributed $100,000 to the party over the years. Signed photographs of President Kennedy, Vice President Lyndon Johnson and Adlai Stevenson once hung on the walls of his office in the little town of Pecos, some 400 air-line miles southwest of here. Politics probably is the last thing Estes is thinking about these days. He and three of his business associates are under federal indictment on charges of committing $7 overt acts of fraud. His bail was set at $500,000 because federal attorneys insisted he was planning to flee to Brazil or Switzerland, and he spent four days in jail when he couldn't raise it. His lawyer succeeded in getting bail reduced to $100,000. Estes made it and went back to Pecos to try to prop up the walls of his business empire.

The walls were all he could save, because he admitted the roof already had fallen in. He said he had debts of $32 million. At his peak Estes controlled or had an interest in 30 companies, but the three business activities that interest federal and state investigators are his operations in fertilizer tanks, grain storage and cotton allotments. Cotton allotments involve the Department of Agriculture and this is where the political heat is being generated. There is a provision in federal law that when a farmer's land is condemned for certain purposes, such as building a dam, he sometimes can transfer his federal cotton allotment to another farm he purchases. The cotton allotment is a federal device to control production. You cannot plant cotton unless you have an acreage allotment which makes it extremely valuable.

In 1961 Estes succeeded in having 8,123 acres in cotton allotments transferred to land he formerly owned in Reeves and Pecos counties. His lawyers insisted the acquisition of the 8,123 acres was valid, but the Department of Agriculture took the position that it was a device to buy cotton allotments. That is illegal.

A witness has quoted Estes as saying he spent between $100,000 and $200,000 a year on pay-offs, but nobody was named as having received it. The Texas attorney general is trying to trace $40,000 which Estes withdrew from the First National Bank of Pecos shortly before he flew to Washington in January to attend the Kennedy administration's first anniversary celebration.

A CONVERSATION WITH SUPERVISOR OF REGISTRATION CAMILLA BRUCE.
Reporter: How much did the election cost?
Mrs. Bruce: Don't know. We have budgeted $3,500 for the election — with the increase in polling places it's hard to tell.
Reporter: What did you think of the poor turnout?
Mrs. Bruce: It's not printable.

The percentages raised up by the successful candidates in the recent election as related to the 12,855 registered Democrats turned out a little better than I expected. John Alexander was the front-runner with 28.3 percent. Joe Davis is on his way to Tallahassee because 24.8 percent of his party's registration said, "He's my man." Dub Epps squeaked into office contention for the school board post on 20.7 percent who pulled the lever opposite his name and his colleague-to-be on the school group, Dan Wright, tallied 21.2 percent.

Of the 5,105 votes cast for the county commissioner's job in South Seminole Gary caught 34.7 percent, with Varnes getting 23.2. Cameron's 17.3, Bonder's 16.7 and Holder's 8.1 percentages are the votes which Lee Gary and Pitt Varnes will be trying to round up into their coral or second primary time.

You know it doesn't make any difference if only 25 percent of the registered voters put one of the county officers in office, he still represents 100 percent of the 60,000 residents in Seminole. Which means that about five percent of the population selected the persons who will be acting for 100 percent of us.

There will be any political rallies between the runoff candidates for the second primary . . . Might be a good idea if one of our civic groups asked Lee Gary and Pitt Varnes to speak.

Don't forget voters in the Forest City Precinct will vote on a referendum on a fire district primary for a fire district.

Speaking of fire districts, the Lake Monroe people saw the value of having a fire department last night when Herbert Behrens' barn burned down . . . Our correspondent tells us that the people appreciated the Lake Mary Volunteers coming out and the talk is fire protection NOW. Why do people wait?

By the way, one more item on elections. Did you know the Rep. Reubin Askew, who won the state senate seat in Pensacola is married to a former Sanford girl Miss Donna Lou Harper?

The County Commission will meet in an informal session Monday to interview the five candidates for the engineer's job. Inside track given to Sanford's Bill Bush.

Work on renovating the stockade will be completed in from two to three weeks . . . That's the word from Zoning Director Robert Brown. Cost . . . $5,600 . . . and then the long awaited rearranging job in the courthouse, says Mr. Brown.

Judge B. Vernon Mize's office will be the first to be expanded.

The Hospital Board Tuesday night gave administrator Bob Bessner the okay to "look around" for an x-ray machine.

And speaking of the hospital, is it true what I read in those hospital notes. "Abe Lincoln" admitted . . . Maybe the South will rise again.

P. S. This Lincoln is from DeBary . . . not Illinois.

Just for the record department . . . That giant shopping center south of Sanford will start going up in mid-June.

Vote Tally

The Canvassing Election Board met Wednesday for four hours and certified the first primary election and counted some 60 absentee ballots.

The vote canvass disclosed that in the District 2 County Commission race John Alexander, who won the post, totaled 3,417, while Ted Williams collected 1,817.

In the district 4 county commission race, which will see Oviedo Mayor Lee Gary and W. Pitt Varnes square off in the second primary May 29, Gary polled 1,817 and Varnes, 1,206.

Other candidates were Walter Bonder, 865; Robert Cameron, 909 and George Holder, 421.

In the two school board races, where the incumbents were not candidates, A. W. Epps Jr. won the District 1 seat over Mrs. Kathleen Reynolds 2,710 to 2,359, and J. D. Wright Jr. polled 2,756 votes in District 5 to beat Clarence Clause, 2,092.

Barge Canal Funds Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Charles E. Bennett, (D-Fla.) asked Congress today for funds to begin construction on the long-awaited cross-Florida barge canal from the Gulf of Mexico to the Atlantic Ocean.

Bennett, testifying before the House Public Works Appropriations Subcommittee, did not mention a specific amount for construction work on the proposed canal.

Gov. Farris Bryant was scheduled to join Bennett and other members of the Florida congressional delegation in seeking approval of funds for the barge canal and other Florida projects from the House Appropriations Subcommittee.

President Kennedy, who has endorsed the canal, requested only $205,000 for completion of planning in his fiscal 1963 public works budget.

Bennett pointed out that the current economic study of the canal from Yankeetown to Jacksonville showed a benefit cost ratio of 1.6 to 1 in addition to the high value placed on it by Defense Department strategists.

The Florida delegation endorsed the administration budget recommendations and asked funds for some projects not included by the government.

General investigations: Cedar Keys Harbor, $6,000; East Pass, $14,000; Jacksonville Harbor, $40,000; Johns and Pass-A-Grille Passes, $23,000; Martin County, $60,000; Phillip Creek, $21,000; Satilla-St. Mary, Suwannee, $39,400; St. Lucie Inlet, $38,800; and Tampa Harbor-Hillsborough Bay, $4,000.

Advance engineering and design: Bakers Haulover Inlet, $13,000; St. Petersburg Harbor, $10,000.

Construction: Apalachicola River Channel improvement, $500,000; Central and South Florida Flood Control project, $13,500,000; Intercoastal Waterway, Caloosahatchee River to Aucutt River, $900,000; Intracoastal Waterway, Jacksonville to Miami, $800,000; Lake Worth Inlet, $15,000; Miami Harbor, $400,000; Port Everglades Harbor, $677,000; and St. Marks River, $1,200,000.

The plans for a dining room had been canceled for financial reasons in the new building and the delegation was interested in finding out whether or not there was any possibility of having hot lunch facilities in the "for-sale future."

Supt. R. T. Milwee explained that there is $327,000 up in Tallahassee that can be had if the money or part of it can be matched by the local board.

LONGWOOD VOLUNTEER FIREMEN, already working on their big three-day Fourth of July celebration, put prizes for the event on public display at the Fire Hall Wednesday afternoon. First prize will be a portable 19-inch TV, second prize, an AM-FM transistor radio and third prize, a pocket size transistor set. Meeting to set up the display booth were, from left, Maurice E. Rudolph, John Furina, Ted Waitz and Carl Lommler. (Herald Photo)

Major Blast Disaster Averted As Fire Hits Bulk Oil Plant

Fast work by city firemen stopped a major disaster by the lake front early this morning when the Standard Oil Co. bulk plant on W. Seminole Blvd. was hit by a raging inferno.

One of the men, Jimmy Bell, an employe of Standard Oil was listed in critical condition at Seminole Memorial Hospital today suffering from severe burns.

Another man, Birdie Stanley was treated for shock.

Fire Chief Mack Cleveland Sr. reported that firemen were out at the blaze for three hours and it took 10 regular duty officers and nine off-duty men to control the flames which could have ignited hundreds of thousands of gallons of gasoline.

According to Cleveland the fire started when maintenance men at the company were cleaning out one of the gas tanks when a gas motor by the tank ignited.

Total damage could not be determined at this time, Cleveland said.

'Anna' Satellite 'Fizzles'

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The United States attempted to put a blinking beacon satellite into an earth orbit today but the scientific project failed when the carrier rocket's second stage failed to fire.

It was the fourth failure in three days at the missile test center here. Tuesday a new Atlas Centaur rocket exploded less than a minute after liftoff and Wednesday the Army's Pershing missile blew up after launch and the Navy's Polaris failed to complete a test flight.

None of the difficulties reflected, however, on the Atlas rocket expected to put astronaut Scott Carpenter into a three orbit trip around the earth next week and the man-shot still is scheduled for a week from today.

The 79-foot Thor-Able-Star booster rocket rumbled from launching pad at 7:06 a.m., but the Air Force announced that the rocket's second stage failed to fire.

The three military services and the Civilian Space Agency had planned to send the 353-pound satellite Anna into a 600-mile-high circular orbit, but about 20 minutes after launch the Air Force said the geostatic satellite "has failed to go into orbit."

"The second stage ignition was not achieved. The exact reason for the failure is undetermined."

Scientists from all over the world had hoped to photograph Anna's flashing beacon against the background of the stars to help pinpoint more precisely any spot on earth.

The need for such exact data was established by early Vanguard satellites, which indicated the earth was more pear-shaped than round.

Other experiments disclosed that various islands—among them Bermuda—were several hundred feet from where they were thought to be.

The United States has refined its knowledge of geography, vital in this age of ICBM's when a missile must be able to pinpoint their targets with deadly accuracy, with its transit satellites. Anna's blinking beacons were expected to help refine that knowledge even more.

Anna is roughly the size of a large aluminum beach ball, 36 inches in diameter and wearing a six-inch thick belt of solar cells around her waist.

Rights Bill Junk Pile Bound?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy's voting rights bill, granted a temporary reprieve by the Senate, today appeared headed for the junk pile barring a big shift in legislative sentiment.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., who has led the administration's fight in the two-week-old controversy, said he would favor dropping the issue for this year unless a second attempt to limit debate picks up considerably more support by voting time Monday.

There were no immediate indications that it would.

The next — and probably final — test for the bill will come Monday on Mansfield's second motion to invoke cloture and curb a Southern talkathon against the measure.

"If we fall on Monday—and fall badly," he told the Senate late Wednesday it would be better to move on to other matters long delayed by the civil rights fight.

The bill is aimed at barring discrimination against Negro voters through state literacy tests. It would make a sixth-grade education proof of literacy for voting in federal elections.

Reds Yield To U.S. 'Pressure' On Arms

GENEVA (UPI) — The Soviet Union yielded to American and neutralist pressure today and agreed to go on negotiating in the 17-nation disarmament conference "without a break."

Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin told an informal session of the conference that the Soviets are ready to continue talking here through the summer. He did not make it clear, however, whether this means the Russians are against a three or four week break in mid-summer.

The Russian agreement to continue was a direct switch from their previous position and represented a victory for the United States and the eight neutral conferees — Brazil, Burma, Ethiopia, India, Mexico, Nigeria, Sweden and the United Arab Republic.

The Soviets have spent the last two weeks hinting in private talks that the conference should adjourn after it presents its report to the UN Disarmament Commission June 1, and reconvene in New York in September.

This arrangement would have suited Zorin, who heads not only the Soviet delegation here but also the permanent mission at the United Nations. But it was frowned on by the United States and most of the neutrals.

Today Zorin apparently decided to back off the informal proposal. He announced at the close of the session that the Soviets are ready to go on negotiating "without a break."

Behrens said that he had no idea how the fire started and that when it was discovered by a neighbor boy at about 8:30 p.m., flames already were shooting from the roof.

A rough estimate would set equipment and building losses somewhere between $20,000 and $30,000, he said, excluding damages to the rear of his nearby home.

The Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Dept. answered the call and reported this morning that its motor and pump was in continuous use for more than an hour-and-a-half before the fire was brought under control.

Nuclear Sub, Freighter Collide

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The nuclear submarine USS Permit with 90 men aboard and the freighter Hawaiian Citizen collided late Wednesday night about 40 miles southwest of the Golden Gate.

The Navy said there were no injuries on either vessel and both were proceeding to San Francisco. The Hawaiian Citizen, owned by Matson Navigation Company, carried 47 crewmen. A Navy spokesman said the radio actual of the Permit was broken in the collision and she was unable to contact her base at Mare Island, inside San Francisco Bay. She is commanded by Lt. Cmdr. Ernest R. Barrett of Vicksburg, Va. Communications were being carried on through another submarine, the USS Archerfish, which was accompanying the newly-commissioned Permit on her sea trials.
