

Coal Contract

(Continued from Page One) with the 3:00 P. M. shifts, a union official said, provided the formal signing takes place on schedule at United Mine Workers headquarters at 10:00 A. M.

Reluctantly but surely, the operators of the South, Midwest and Far West were expected to follow. But their mines probably will stay closed a day or so longer while owners examine the 21-page contract, calling for a boost in the miner's basic hourly pay from $1.18 1/2 to $1.63. The actual document was not made public immediately.

Coal prices are due to go up between 67 cents and $1 a ton. Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the U. S. Steel Corporation, who helped break the contract deadlock a week ago by capitulating to Lewis' full wage demands, hailed the new pact as likely to result in "industrial peace in the bituminous industry for a long time to come."

It was Fairless' company which earlier this year negotiated a two-year agreement with CIO President Philip Murray for the steel industry calling for a 15-cent hourly pay increase. "This (coal settlement) should prove to be highly beneficial to the whole economy of the nation," Fairless said in a statement. "In my judgment, a coal strike at this time would have paralyzed the industry of the entire country, and might also have had an adverse effect upon the international situation."

Under the contract ratified last night by the union's 200-man policy committee, the miner now will get $1.65 for an eight-hour day. He has been receiving $1.18 1/2 for nine hours underground. By absorbing former overtime rates for two of those nine hours the new terms hike the basic hourly pay 44 1/2 cents—from $1.18 1/2 to $1.63. Lewis also won a 10-cent royalty for the union welfare and retirement fund, capable of yielding more than $50,000,000 annually if all the operators accept the contract. The collection has been five cents a ton, or half that amount.

The contract provides for operator acceptance of the federal mine safety code—superceding the varied regulations of the bituminous coal states.

The contract, effective until July 1, 1948, provides: 1. A 44 1/2 cent basic hourly wage increase, raising miners' pay to $1.65 a day, far above 1947's second-round "pattern" of wage increases in other industries.

2. An eight-hour day, including portal-to-portal time, instead of a nine-hour day; also, a half-hour instead of 15 minutes for lunch.

3. A 10-cent-a-ton royalty, instead of 5 cents, to support the miners' welfare fund. The fund will be governed by a three-man board of trustees made up of Ezra Van Horn, Cleveland coal operator; UMW President Lewis; and a neutral member to be chosen jointly.

4. Agreement that the contract covers the soft coal miners "during such time as such persons are willing and able to work." This immunizes the union from Taft-Hartley Act penalties for work stoppages in violation of contract.

5. Withdrawal of no-strike clauses and penalties for illegal stoppages from all local and district contracts.

6. The union abandons—for the year—its old demand for recognition of foremen and supervisory employes.

7. Federal mine safety standards will apply in all affected mines, replacing a variety of state safety codes.

8. The check-off of union dues

LET'S GO FISHING

ALL you need is a pencil to catch fish in this game. Each of the following sentences conceals the name of a fish. In each case the name is found by joining two or more consecutive words or parts of words.

Tax Cut Bill

make no statement of his attitude prior to action on the legislation.

Republican leaders claimed certain Senate approval for the plan to unify the Army, Navy and Air Forces despite protests that it would "create a vast new military empire."

Senator Gurney (R-S.D.), floor manager for the legislation, told a reporter:

"I'm certain we will pass it. Maybe on Wednesday but certainly by Thursday."

Senator Wherry (Neb), the Republican Whip, agreed but added "there may be some amendments."

Actual debate was suspended today while the Senate considers other matters. Senator Robertson (R-Wyo.) told a reporter he will complete a lengthy opposition speech tomorrow and press for a series of changes in the bill recommended by the armed services committee.

Robertson did not dispute claims that the Senate will approve the Unification Bill but said he "has some definite Senate support" for his amendments.

Patronage — Senator McGrath (D-R.I.) lashed out in the Senate at delays in action on presidential nominations for important federal jobs. Specifically McGrath referred to a six-month-old nomination of Joe B. Dooley of Amarillo to be a federal judge in Texas and of the nomination of Philip B. Perlman of Baltimore to be solicitor general. The Senate is considering the Dooley nomination and scheduled a vote at 3 P. M. (EST). Dooley is supported by Senator Connally and opposed by Senator O'Daniel, Texas Democrat. McGrath urged Dooley's confirmation.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

IT PAY TO BE GOOD. PAY-MENT STARTS IMMEDIATELY,
BUT DIVIDENDS CONTINUE PERPETUALLY. He shall be a tree planted by the rivers of water.—Psalm 1:3

A circuit judge in Arcadia has held that the law enacted by the recent Legislature opening the St.
Johns and Lake Okechobee to commercial fishing is unconstitutional.
The sooner the matter gets to the Supreme Court where a final decision can be rendered, the better, for all parties concerned.

President Truman paints a very gloomy picture of Europe's Displaced Persons in appealing to Congress for legislation to admit them into this country. They are not Communists, they are not disease ridden, and they have ample funds for their own support. However, he still hasn't said where they are going to find the houses in which to live.

It looks as if Congress will pass the bill providing for the immediate cashing of terminal pay bonds, but our advice to the ex-Gs would be to hang on to these bonds for a few years at least when they will need the money a bit more than they do now and when they will find a lot better products on the nation's bargain counters.

One group of Florida banks reports over $343,000,000 in deposits. There are others no doubt which are larger. But $343,000, 000 is a lot of money in any group of banks at any time. There is the foundation there for all the credit expansion necessary to bring Florida prosperous times for many years to come if risk-taking becomes popular again in business and investment circles and the rewards of such risks properly conducted are reasonably generous.

Greatest need among municipalities in the nation, according to the U. S. Public Health Service, is improved water supplies and sewage disposal facilities. We have repeatedly pointed out the importance of installing a sewage disposal system in Sanford where it has long been the practice to dump the waste from our homes into beautiful Lake Monroe. This may have been a satisfactory method in our grandfathers' day when the population was limited to a few scattered hundreds, but for thousands of people, and perhaps scores of thousands to continue such a practice is courting a disastrous epidemic.

Spotting "flying saucers" seems to have taken the place of that former national pastime of flag pole sitting. In Jacksonville the other day a newspaper reporter went out in Hemming Park and began pointing toward the sky at absolutely nothing at all in particular. Immediately two or three other people stopped to see what he was pointing at. In a minute or two there were a score or more of people all standing around staring intently at the sky. Pretty soon one old lady screamed, "I see them! I see them!" and then another shouted, "There they are!
four of them, all in a row!" and the band was on. Before it ended at least a dozen persons had seen the "flying saucers." And the reporter, who started it all, slipped away, muttering to himself about all not being dead yet.

Rising Prices

It is beginning to look as if there is a conspiracy developing between Big Business and Big Labor to bilk the American public. Big labor is demanding higher and higher wages, entirely out of line with the services rendered, and Big Business is more and more inclined to grant these demands, in order to avoid strikes and prolonged industrial paralysis, and then to pass the costs along to the consumers in the form of higher prices.

Not only is Big Labor demanding, and getting, higher and higher wages, but it is also demanding, and getting, special old age pensions, paid for by the American people, and in addition to their government pensions, also paid for by the American people, as well as welfare funds, unnecessarily short work weeks, and many similar privileges for which the consuming public has to pay.

It is conceivable that the time may come when Big Labor will demand, and Big Business will grant, $100 a day for its members, and Big Business, in order to cover its costs, will charge $10,000 for a $1,000 automobile, $500 for a $50 radio, and $100 for a $10 pair of shoes. Under such circumstances, no doubt the prices of eggs would go to $5 a dozen and bread to $1 a loaf.

This might not seriously inconvenience either Big Business or Big Labor since the latter would be receiving wages commensurate with the new price level, and the latter would always be able to increase prices to meet rising costs. But for the one hundred odd million people who belong neither to Big Business or Big Labor, and who could not arbitrarily increase their incomes proportionately, it might prove an onerous hardship.

To show that such a development is not too fantastic to contemplate, one has only to review the industrial history of this country for the past few years.

Sisu

We call it intestinal fortitude, or stick-to-itiveness;
old-fashioned writers called it pluck; possessors of it do not know when they are beaten, and keep plugging on, even in the face of defeat. The people of Finland wrap all this up in one word and call it "Sisu".

Finland has earned a reputation for international integrity by strict payment of her debt, and is now applying the same principles to the payment of reparations to Russia. William McGuffin, writing from Helsinki, says that in two years the Finns have paid a third of the total of 300 million gold dollars which Russia demands as part of their reparations. This is, as McGuffin says, pretty good for a country the size of Montana, with a population of four million.

Besides gold, Russia demands, and will get, Finland says, huge shipments of machinery, ships, and wood products. They have also turned over to Russia the province of Karelia, the scene of bloody engagements during the war.
This is fertile agricultural region, and was evacuated by 450,000 Finns when Russia took it over.

It is to be hoped that with all their national "Sisu",
the Finns can manage this huge reparations program, and at its completion they will be allowed many years of peace in which to build up their country for their own benefit.

Why Rush?

The Queen Elizabeth recently arrived at New York's harbor entrance four days, eight hours and three minutes after she left Bishop's Rock, England. This crossing beat her previous record for the westward voyage.

It makes one wonder a bit why this isn't good enough time for the average transoceanic traveler. Why, except in the case of war or some extreme personal emergency, should anybody want to get there any faster? Isn't a lot of this zooming about in airplanes indulged in simply for the sake of speed?

Of course there may be those who don't enjoy a trip on a fine ocean liner. But if so, what's the matter with them? There are a lot of people who'd just as soon have the trip last longer, if they're aboard, than that one the Queen Elizabeth is so proud of.

TAX CUT

Freedom Of The Press

By ERICK BRANDIS

In the United States of America
no government official has any right to tell any newspaper or any writer what to write and what not to write.

If a government official were to come into a newspaper office and try to exert the slightest influence or pressure he would be thrown out into the street just like any American citizen would throw out anyone who came into his home or into his business office and told him how to conduct himself.

You may have been told by those who like to malign America and belittle it in your eyes that the press, while not being controlled by the government, is under the thumb of its large advertisers and of banks and capitalists.

I can tell you that; there is no truth in that at all. In my own column I have often ridiculed advertisements and criticized advertisers when they exaggerated the merit of their product.

Among the very large advertisers in American newspapers are the Hollywood movie producers.
They naturally reach publications of entirely different political views and entirely different social and economic opinions.

Yet I have seen, time and again, that a newspaper, let us say of definitely Republican leanings, pub-of our young men into the teaching them the Bible and things that are good instead of making them go to war and fight against the things that God tells us to do. If we all would bend our knees and ask God's help, we wouldn't even need to have an army. God would fight our battles for us. Please let's get our Bibles off the shelf, wipe off the dust and turn to Matthew, 23rd chapter, and see just what little we have to get our hearts ready to meet our Savior. Listen, dear

BOOKED FOR MURDER

LOS ANGELES, July 9, (AP)— Antonio Mondragon, 28-year-old sheet metal worker, was booked on suspicion of murder at University Division Jail early today in the slaying of his estranged wife, youthful Rosenda Mondragon.

The nude and battered body of 20-year-old Mrs. Mondragon, who had been strangled with a silk stocking, was found yesterday in a gutter a few blocks from the city hall.

Potato wart, a disease of potatoes, was brought into Pennsylvania by immigrant coal miners who sought to introduce plant varieties from the "old country."

Strangely enough, at the same time, a Czechoslovak source in Prague was quoted as suggesting that Russia herself might try to back into the conference. Simultaneously in London British Foreign Minister Bevin indicated that the door still was open to Russia. He expressed joy that Czechoslovakia would attend the conference and declared that the Marshall program was a step toward "a great unity of peoples throughout the world."

Thus the eyes of the world are centered on the Czechoslovakian development. Probably we shall not know its meaning until the Paris conference has demonstrated it by words and needs.

However, there are some additional interesting facts relating to the situation. We know that not only Czechoslovakia but all other countries in Russia's zone of influence, are anxious to become beneficiaries of Uncle Sam's bounty.

At least some of them have been hoping to secure loans and other material assistance without reciprocity.

Russia's announced objection to the Marshall program has been the claim that it would place European countries under an obligation to the United States and so impinge upon their sovereignty.
But there has been no indication that Moscow would object to the plan if it were all give and no take on America's part.

Naturally the Western Allies would like nothing better than wholehearted, all-out cooperation by Russia. Observers note, however, that there is another kind of "cooperation" which can result in the scuttling of a program, the sort of "cooperation" shown in the constant employment of the veto for the purpose of obstruction.
The Western Allies don't want that kind of "cooperation."

Having assumed control of the building located on the northeast corner of First Street and Park Avenue, Sanford, Florida, known as the Brunley-Puleston Building, I desire to make the following announcement:

The entire first floor will be combined and remodeled into one store room and will be occupied by Roumillat & Anderson, Inc., Druggists. They have occupied the corner room since the erection of the building some 25 years ago. This firm will equip the new store room with modern fixtures and appliances to enable them to better serve their customers. We expect to begin work on the alterations and improvements at once and hope to have everything completed by early fall and ready for occupancy of their new super drug store.

The lobby entrance to the second floor will continue to be occupied by J. B. Lawson, Jeweler and Watch Repair.

The second floor, which is maintained for offices, has been refinished, cleaned and painted, and is at present occupied by Ray Hollar, Insurance; John Eick, Commission Merchant; Dr. J.
A. Smith, Physician; and J. G. Shafon, Attorney, who has moved his offices from his former location to rooms in the northwest corner of the building.

The suite of offices formerly occupied by Judge J. G. Sharn and the late J. C. DuBois has been leased by Karlyle and Doris Housholder, who will return to Sanford this summer to establish their offices for the practice of law. I will become associated with them at this location. The six office rooms comprising the suite are being refinished and decorated for occupancy at a date to be announced later.

This building will at all times be kept in the best of repair and condition for the convenience of the public having business with the occupants.

With the rapid growth Sanford is now enjoying we none do-mand will warrant the completion of the third and fourth floors for occupancy. We do not have any office or store rooms for rent.

We solicit your suggestions and good will in the hope that this building, which occupies a key location in the business district, will always be a credit and benefit to a progressive City—Sanford.

HEAT TREATMENT USES RADAR LENGTH WAVES
The device has been tested successfully on dogs, and will be applied to treating humans. Dr. Frank J. Krusen, J. P. Herrick, Ursula Leden and Khalil G. Wakim report in the Proceedings of the Staff Meetings of the Mayo Clinic, a fortnightly bulletin.

Heat machines beam electrical currents or radiation into the body to heat muscles or other internal tissue, producing a kind of artificial fever. Such heat is beneficial in treating sprains, stiffness, and in helping the body fight infections.

The ultra-short radio waves can be focused better, the Mayo researchers said, and permit high internal heating without undue heating of the skin. They can be spotlighted to reach only certain areas.

The heart of the new machine is a tube like that used in radar. In radar this tube, called the magnetron, sends out bursts of radio waves which are reflected or echoed back by the target. In the heat machine, the tube is modified to send out a continuous beam of radio waves.

The machine can be placed very close to the body, but the patient can move away temporarily if the skin temperature becomes uncomfortable, they said.

FIRE PREVENTION RULES GIVEN TO VACATIONISTS
NEW YORK—It is a common suspicion among fire prevention authorities that vacationists leave their common sense at home.

Every summer, many people are killed or injured, hundreds of cottages are destroyed and millions of dollars worth of damage result from fires which, say the experts, are mostly caused by carelessness.

July and August have their own brand of fire hazards, authorities say, because the vacationist, in his spirit of abandon, leaves restraint at home; cottages and summer hotels often are of light low-cost construction; cottages frequently are furnished with worn and old hand-me-downs from city homes; resort areas often are far from organized fire departments, and finally, because the weather is dry.

For the vacationist, who is headed for a small cottage or camp, here are some things to watch out for, as suggested by engineers of the National Board of Fire Underwriters:

1. On arrival, inspect the premises for fire hazards. The roofs, gutters and eaves of a building should be kept free of needles or leaves. Keep the grounds and house clear of such fire-consuming debris as paper, boxes and old clothes.
2. No fireworks, especially where there are any trees.
3. Be careful of stoves, especially makeshift ones. Learn how to use them. Stoves should be placed at least 18 inches from walls. Smoke pipes, unless suitably insulated, should be at least 12 inches from walls or ceilings. Don't use kerosene or gasoline for starting or quickening fires.
4. Gasoline, kerosene and oil should be stored well away from dwellings and in small quantities.
5. Gasoline and kerosene lamps should be placed a safe distance from walls, ceilings, curtains, drapes, etc.
6. Have approved fire extinguishers on hand. Make sure they work and learn how to use them.
7. Outdoor fireplaces should be well away from buildings and overhanging trees.
8. Don't wait until it's too late to learn how to contact the nearest fire warden or fire department.
9. And don't be lazy about putting out cigarettes and matches. Make certain they are completely extinguished.

TEEN TALK
Judy, she looks like a drizzle on the dance floor; others like Grecian goddesses and not like "sticities," as Tex te put it. The handsome, handleader who leads the Miller band says an "eti" is a cutie with dance-floor sets and know-how.

There's a girl with a bird's eye of all the dancers and he's to know the tricks that a girl popular or unpopular on the floor. He watches them he is waving the baton, playing saxophone, or singing.

Tex advises, "save" the dancing until you've left the floor. There's nothing that a Jackson so uncomfortable have his girl friend make floor headlines, her affection.

It's too talkative that you can't hear the beat of the either, advises Benke. Some try to compete with the man first trumpet in the band. "Yah-ta-ta," chirps up the girl, probably loses her dancing who will seek out a girl who will dance in a dignified way.

Katherine Warren Is Dean of Women

TALLAHASSEE, July 9. (Special)—Miss Katherine Warren of Jacksonville has assumed her duties as acting Dean of Women at Florida State University. It was announced by Dr. Charles Campbell, president of FSU. The office of dean of women was created, effective July 1. Under the reorganization of student personnel in the university as a result of the introduction of coeducation, the duties formerly carried by the dean of students have been assigned to the new office.

Miss Warren, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Warren of Jacksonville, has served as assistant dean of students at the college for the past eight years. She was graduated from FSU in 1933 and received her master's degree from Columbia university in 1939. She has also done additional graduate work at FSU, the University of North Carolina and Columbia university. She succeeds Dean Olivia D. Dorman, whose retirement was announced some weeks ago.

Weekly from Home Demonstration Specialist, Tallahassee

FINDING FROZEN FOODS

Confusion confounded and confounded confusion—those are the sentiments of many home freezer owners during the early stages of their experience with this newest method of preserving food at home. Is this mysterious-looking package the duck Henry shot last winter or pork chops? Where are those fish that Uncle Pete caught a couple of months ago and wants to enjoy for his dinner today? And is there a package of strawberries left to serve when company comes, or were they all "went up"?

Undoubtedly, manufacturers will ultimately work out systems that will help keep the contents of the freezer readily available. But until they do, homemakers themselves are evolving ingenious ways to avoid chaos, say household equipment specialists of the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics.

For instance, the importance of clear, durable labels is something that many a homemaker has learned the hard way. Convenient labels tell not only the name of the product, but also the date when it was packed. Other helpful facts on labels are the number of servings the package contains, or the amount and kind of sweetening with a fruit, or the variety of a fruit or vegetable. With this information, the meal planner will know not only whether the package she is opening contains peaches or pork chops, but which are her best products to serve for "special," which are for every day, and which are experiments to try on the family.

Many homemakers have worked out their own systems for locating foods quickly. One way is to use different colored string, paper, or labels. Or mesh bags may be used to hold all the boxes of one product, or plywood or pasteboard partitions arranged to section off the different kinds of goods. A map drawn to indicate the locations of various foods will help a busy meal planner lay her hand on the right box at the right time. The map is placed on the wall near the freezer for quick reference.

To show how many and what kinds of frozen foods are in the locker, an up-to-date inventory posted nearby is helpful. The homemaker lists the foods that go into the box, then checks them off as they come out.

Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, July 9. (AP)—Charles Chaplin studios, where workers have traditionally talked in whippers, is now resounding to the shouts of a high-powered press agent who had undertaken the chore of selling a "new Chaplin" to the masses.

The busy tub-thumper is Jaipor Russell Birdwell, whose most notable achievement was to make a national figure of Jane Russell. He is being paid a reported $50,000, out of which he pays expenses to breath box office life into the "English comic" "Monsieur Verdoux." The new film was described by variety as "slipping lead" in its only engagement, a six-week run at the Broadway in New York.

"But you can't call it a flop," Birdwell protested. "Just because of one isolated engagement." Birdwell said the pendulum of favor swings wide in Hollywood and at present it is away from the comic. "But it will swing back," said the press agent.

"Chaplin is the greatest pity of our time. That's why he has been misunderstood."

Hollywood broke out its best bib and dusted off its finest chalice to hail the latest British challenge to American film supremacy, "Black Narcissus." The Anglo-American premiere at the Carthage Circle unleashed the most searchlights, the greatest number of stars and the biggest crowd seen at an opening here in many months.

Unused to the Hollywood passion for tardiness, J. Arthur Rank, visiting British film potentate, arrived 40 minutes before the announced curtain time of 8:30. Such other guests as Van Johnson, Norma Shearer, Joan Fontaine, Alan Ladd, Esther Williams, Jimmy Durante, Jack Benny, Walter Bidgen and Santa Hennie trailed in as late as 9 P. M.

After the showing the celebrities adjourned to the swank chateaucade where they tasted sipped champagne and discussed a picture which is as good or better than anything Hollywood has produced this year.

RECEIVE VACATIONS

FRANKFURT, (AP)—Twenty-two thousand teen-aged youngsters from displaced persons camps in the American zone of Germany are getting two weeks' vacations at summer recreational camps. U. S. Army headquarters announced.

The project provides camping opportunities, recreational facilities and a healthful change under complete guidance and counsel for children between the ages of 10 and 18 years. The announcement said: "Each child receives a supplemental ration of 350 calories, bringing the daily individual diet to 3,000 calories."

The program is sponsored by the world YMCA-YWCA, with the cooperation of the U. S. Army and several welfare organizations affiliated with UNRRA.

WASHINGTON, July 9. (AP)—The Queen Elizabeth recently arrived at New York's harbor entrance four days, eight hours and three minutes after she left Plymouth, England.

It makes one wonder a bit why this isn't good enough time for the average transatlantic traveler. Why, except in the case of war or some extreme personal emergency, should anybody want to get there any faster?

Of course there may be those who don't enjoy a trip on a fine ocean liner. But if so, what's the matter with them? There are a lot of people who'd just as soon have the trip last longer, if they're aboard, than that one the Queen Elizabeth is so proud of.

Rising Prices

It is beginning to look as if there is a conspiracy developing between Big Business and Big Labor to bilk the American public.

Not only is Big Labor demanding, and getting, higher and higher wages, but it is also demanding, and getting, special old age pensions, paid for by the American people.

It is conceivable that the time may come when Big Labor will demand, and Big Business will grant, $100 a day for its members.

This might not seriously inconvenience either Big Business or Big Labor since the latter would be receiving wages commensurate with the new price level.

It is not that this development is not too fantastic to contemplate, one has only to review the industrial history of this country for the past few years.

Sisu

We call it intemperate fortitude, or stick-to-itiveness, old-fashioned virtues called it pluck; possessors of it do not know when they are beaten, and keep plugging on.

Finland has earned a reputation for international integrity by sticking to its guns in the payment of reparations to Russia.

It is to be hoped that with all their national "Sisu" the Finns will be able to meet the Russian demands.

Why Rush?

The Queen Elizabeth recently arrived at New York's harbor entrance four days, eight hours and three minutes after she left Plymouth, England.

It makes one wonder a bit why this isn't good enough time for the average transatlantic traveler.

Of course there may be those who don't enjoy a trip on a fine ocean liner.

There are a lot of people who'd just as soon have the trip last longer, if they're aboard, than that one the Queen Elizabeth is so proud of.

Freedom Of The Press

By ERICK BRANDEIS
In the United States of America the government official has no right to tell any newspaper or any writer what to write and what not to write.

Any government official who attempts to do this is guilty of a crime. He is guilty of a crime because he is guilty of a crime.

Under tentative plans, the resolution would put Congress on record as asking the President to direct Warren R. Austin, the American U. N. delegate, to call a general conference to revise the United Nations Charter. The aim would be to make that organization a more effective instrument for world peace.

Mentioned as possible sponsors of such a request include Senators Sparkman (D-Ala.), Byrd (D-Va.), O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), McMahon (D-Conn.), Baldwin (R-Conn.) and Flanders (R-Vt.).

Congress may complete action by nightfall on a bill designating the Speaker of the House as President in the event President Truman should fail to complete his present term. House Republican Leader Hallett (Ind.) announced plans to call up the Senate line of succession and in effect stop the line with the speaker who at present is Joseph W. Martin, Jr. of Massachusetts, a 63-year-old bachelor.

Senator Gurney (R-S.) called for a showdown in the Senate on a proposal to unarm the armed forces under a new Secretary of National Security. He predicted a vote would be reached or expected passage of the bill. But Democratic strategists said they doubted that all of the debate would end before tomorrow.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said the key to stabilization of the nation's economy is rehabilitation of Europe and Asia. Because of this, he said, "there won't be any quick solution" of the problem of reducing prices for food and other commodities in this country. Food exports, O'Mahoney said, are the major reason for high food prices.

Legal Notice

To All Creditors and Persons Having Claims or Demands Against Said Estate: You and each of you are hereby notified and required to present any claims and demands which you, either of you, may have against the estate of Mary C. Wardwell, deceased, late of said county, to the County Judge of Seminole County, Florida, at his office in the court house of said county at Sanford, Florida, within eight calendar months from the time of the first publication of this notice. Each claim or demand shall be in writing, and shall state the place of residence and post office address of the claimant, and shall be sworn to by the claimant, his agent, or his attorney, and any such claim or demand not so filed shall be void.

Miners Return

They were scheduled to return to the pit yesterday after a 10-day vacation but prolonged the holiday an additional day until the union ratification procedure was carried out.

"I hope these wages don't go out the window in the higher cost-of-pork chops," one old miner mused as he waited the signal to enter the shaft.

"It's the best contract we ever had but it's likely to hit us right in the breadbasket," said another. "Watch the prices go up now. We'll need all of the raises to make ends meet."

Joe Chebaris, 28, of Bridgeville, provided a diversion in the mine washroom as he hoisted his dress clothes to a ceiling line after changing to work garb.

"Joe's hanging up his vacation," a miner chortled. "Yeah," commented another, "but don't forget that it's the first vacation we ever had. We've been paid for vacations before but we always were too busy to take 'em and money doesn't rest a man."

Outside a string of mules was led into the shaft where they are used for hauling. Their "vacation" never too. One of the onlookers wanted to know if the mules got anything out of the contract. "No," laughed a miner, "not until they sign a union card, and they're too mean and ugly to do that."

The mine, along with many others, shut down prematurely before the men quit work in anger over the Taft-Hartley Labor Law. The miners are now reconciled to working under the measure, but they have not forgotten it.

Race Funds

(Continued from Page One) year. Due to heavy demands for new roads and other improvements, the Commission had to raise the county millage from 8 1/2 to 10 mills last year, said Mr. Herndon.

At the June 3 meeting, he attacked the matter of the race track fund division was discussed, and it was decided that the County was in greater need of the race track money than the schools, particularly for new road construction. It was also pointed out that the previous division of this fund had been made to meet an emergency in connection with payment of salaries to school teachers, and that this emergency had been passed.

It was pointed out that roads in the county were badly in need of repairs, that the County is expanding rapidly, and that the Board would be unable to meet the demands of the citizens out of the present revenue, said Mr. Herndon.

It was further stated that these demands will increase as Seminole County develops, and that in some instances school buses had difficulty in transporting school children over certain roads. At that time the Board was

"According to this plan the revolution was ready to start in Athens at 1 A. M. July 10. Orders already were given for distribution of arms to military units of the Communist party. The entire illegal machinery of the party (that which functions underground) was put into motion."

"The government has many more details concerning the plot, but these details are not made public now because it might interfere with subsequent developments. Those arrests and inquiries which will follow have absolutely no connection with present emergency laws. They are regular arrests made under prevailing civil laws and prosecutions will be carried out in civil courts."

Most of those arrested will be taken out of Athens to islands near the city to facilitate the work of the authorities. Some of the ringleaders, however, will remain in Athens. This transport already has started.

"During the past few days government observers noted many important party members left the vicinity. We are certain these have gone either to the mountains or are hiding in Athens. This transport already has started."

"The Communist party, which in fact has outlawed itself, is not being prosecuted. The government is not arresting persons because they are members of the Communist party, but because they are planning to take advantage of the public school system, whether they are members of the party or not, only plotters were arrested. The majority of them are members of the party, however, some are just tools."

Princess Elizabeth

(Continued from Page One) Louis of Battenberg, a German prince acquired British citizenship in 1903 and was first seen in England at the outbreak of World War I. He changed his name to the less German Mountbatten in 1917.

Thus young Philip, taken into exile at Paris with his family at the age of one, has no Greek blood in his veins. He speaks almost no Greek, and his English has the "upper-class" accent of the public school, so that Americans call it a private school.

Since he was eight, Philip has been brought up in England and Scotland by Viscount Mountbatten, for many years the playboy "Lord Louis" who became one of World War II's top admirals and later Viceroy of India.

Princess Elizabeth and her sister Margaret were among Philip's childhood playmates at the late, usually luxurious Mountbatten home in London's Park Lane.

After schooling at Chelmsford and Gordonstoun in Scotland, Philip entered Portsmouth Naval College in 1937. He made the first football eleven and won the King's cup in the outstanding end of the year.

During the war he served as a midshipman on various cruisers and battleships. He was second in command of the destroyer, Wallace during the Sicily landings and was mentioned in dispatches as senior officer of the battleship Valiant in the Battle of Matapan.

Rumors linking him with Elizabeth first trickled out of royal circles in Athens. They were at first ignored, then denied. But Philip was frequently a house guest of the British royal family, and a widely published photograph of him, wearing with the Princess kept romance, romantically.

Throughout the secure bubble of some Lefteris elements, opposed the match because of Philip's link with the Greek royal house. Philip displayed a talent for keeping out of the limelight that should stand him in good stead as the husband of a reigning queen.

A Prince consort, as well established constitutional tradition, should be seen but has heard in nothing affecting the government of the British Empire. Queen Victoria's husband, Albert, broke the rule and got into trouble. Philip is unlikely to repeat the mistake.

HERO TO RETIRE

WASHINGTON, July 9, (AP)—General Thomas T. Handy, army deputy chief of staff, will succeed General Jonathan M. Wainwright, hero of Corregidor, as commander of the Fourth Army with headquarters at San Antonio, Tex., when Wainwright retires. The War Department said today that Wainwright will doff his uniform Aug. 31. Handy will assume command the next day.

Rifle Company

(Continued from Page One) vices in the National Guard will reduce the requirement of active service in the regular Army at least half or more, he declared.

A model plane meet will be held Sunday at the Municipal Airport, it was announced by William A. Hollyhead, chairman of the model plane committee. All entrants will have planes attached to wires for "U-control." Contestants from all over the state are expected. John Sauls announced that a baseball game would be played

Food Prices

(Continued from Page One) Francis said that food lately has been "getting more than its usual share of the consumer dollar."

"We regard that as a warning signal," he declared. "To us it means that food is in for stiff competition from new automobiles, appliances and housing. In fact, the competition has begun. And higher rents may have some further effect."

Dealing with the role of food processors in the food price picture, Francis said the factors which dictate what the housewife pays "are largely outside the control of the processor."

He added that during the 12 months starting in March, 1946, General Foods had to pay higher prices ranging from 220 percent more for cocoa and 113 percent more for coffee to 36 percent more for sugar, 50 percent for corn and 54 percent for wheat.

"Today we are working on the smallest (profit) margins in the history of the company," Francis said. "If this is true with us, I believe it to be true of the industry."

Emerson P. Schmidt, director of the Chamber of Commerce's Economic Research Department, told the committee the proposed Marshall plan for Europe "will mean that we will have less to consume here with additional upward pressure on our price structure."

Schmidt added that this in turn will set in motion a generalized union wage demand across the economy.

The Chamber witness said he was not arguing against the Marshall plan but that if it is put into effect "the American people will have to recognize that through one means or another their standard of living must shrink."

Such shrinkage, he went on, could be made effective "in several ways or in a combination" of these ways:

- 1. Rationing, price and wage control.
- 2. "Exceedingly heavy" taxation to drain off excess money demand.
- 3. Government borrowing out of savings.

Schmidt said there is a theory prevalent today that "by taking toll of consumers in general, for the benefit of selected groups of organized labor, the total of our purchasing power is somehow increased."

He said this is exemplified "by giving consumers less coal for their dollars in order to give the John L. Lewis constituency some $13 a day for digging it."

O'Mahoney, in describing the rehabilitation of Europe and Asia as the key to stabilization of America's economy, said that because of this "there won't be any quick solution" to the problem of reducing prices in this country.

During World War II world exports of cotton goods declined to about two and a half billion yards a year compared with about seven billion yards a year before the war.

Emerson P. Schmidt, director of the Chamber of Commerce's Economic Research Department, told the committee the proposed Marshall plan for Europe "will mean that we will have less to consume here with additional upward pressure on our price structure."

Schmidt added that this in turn will set in motion a generalized union wage demand across the economy.

The Chamber witness said he was not arguing against the Marshall plan but that if it is put into effect "the American people will have to recognize that through one means or another their standard of living must shrink."

Such shrinkage, he went on, could be made effective "in several ways or in a combination" of these ways:

- 1. Rationing, price and wage control.
- 2. "Exceedingly heavy" taxation to drain off excess money demand.
- 3. Government borrowing out of savings.

Schmidt said there is a theory prevalent today that "by taking toll of consumers in general, for the benefit of selected groups of organized labor, the total of our purchasing power is somehow increased."

He said this is exemplified "by giving consumers less coal for their dollars in order to give the John L. Lewis constituency some $13 a day for digging it."

O'Mahoney, in describing the rehabilitation of Europe and Asia as the key to stabilization of America's economy, said that because of this "there won't be any quick solution" to the problem of reducing prices in this country.

During World War II world exports of cotton goods declined to about two and a half billion yards a year compared with about seven billion yards a year before the war.

HERO TO RETIRE

WASHINGTON, July 9, (AP)—General Thomas T. Handy, army deputy chief of staff, will succeed General Jonathan M. Wainwright, hero of Corregidor, as commander of the Fourth Army with headquarters at San Antonio, Tex., when Wainwright retires. The War Department said today that Wainwright will doff his uniform Aug. 31. Handy will assume command the next day.

A model plane meet will be held Sunday at the Municipal Airport, it was announced by William A. Hollyhead, chairman of the model plane committee. All entrants will have planes attached to wires for "U-control." Contestants from all over the state are expected. John Sauls announced that a baseball game would be played

(Continued from Page One) Francis said that food lately has been "getting more than its usual share of the consumer dollar."

"We regard that as a warning signal," he declared. "To us it means that food is in for stiff competition from new automobiles, appliances and housing. In fact, the competition has begun. And higher rents may have some further effect."

Dealing with the role of food processors in the food price picture, Francis said the factors which dictate what the housewife pays "are largely outside the control of the processor."

He added that during the 12 months starting in March, 1946, General Foods had to pay higher prices ranging from 220 percent more for cocoa and 113 percent more for coffee to 36 percent more for sugar, 50 percent for corn and 54 percent for wheat.

"Today we are working on the smallest (profit) margins in the history of the company," Francis said. "If this is true with us, I believe it to be true of the industry."

Czechs Retire From Meet At 'Red Command'

Acceptance To Paris Conclave Reversed By Soviet Dictate; Hungary Bows Out

PRAGUE, July 10, (AP)—Sources close to the government said today Czechoslovakia, by Moscow request, would withdraw her acceptance of the invitation to the European economic conference at Paris.

The cabinet went into hasty special session after hearing by telephone from Moscow, the informants said. It was believed the cabinet heard directly from its Communist Premier, Klement Gottwald, who flew to Moscow yesterday for talks with Prime Minister Stalin.

If Czechoslovakia should withdraw from the Paris conference on the Marshall aid-to-Europe proposal, it would virtually complete the boycott of the talks by Russia and the states within her orbit in Eastern Europe.

The government announced Tuesday it had "decided to accept the invitation and authorize the Czechoslovak ambassador in Paris, Jindrich Nosek, to participate in sessions of the conference."

(Czechoslovakia's Communist Premier and Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk, are conferring with Soviet authorities in Moscow. A Moscow dispatch today said it was indicated that they would leave for Prague Saturday.)

By A. I. GOLDBERG
PARIS, July 10, (AP)—A boycott of the European Economic Conference by virtually all states within the Soviet sphere developed today as Hungary joined Bulgaria, Romania, Yugoslavia and Poland in rejecting a British-French invitation to meet at Paris Saturday.

With today the deadline for replies' attendance by at least 15 of the 22 invited nations was certain. Only two nations in the Russian sphere, Finland and Albania, remained to be heard from.

Albania was expected to follow the lead of Russia, whose foreign minister said today that it would not attend.

With both defense and prosecuting attorneys present, the judge drew a regular panel of 18 names from the jurors' box today. That exhausted the name slips, and he ordered the county commission to put another 250 names in the box before next Tuesday, when he will draw the remaining 75.

State Attorney Orion C. Parker, Jr., and defense lawyers J. Lewis Hall and Weldon G. Stary joined in requesting the extra list of prospective jurors.

Papy was indicted on three counts on alleged attempts to bribe fellow members of the Florida House of Representatives to help defeat a bill which would have denied commercial telegraph and telephone facilities to race track bookmakers.

The indictment followed a grand jury investigation which the House requested after Reps. Hrayley Odham of Sanford and Clarence Camp, II, of Ocala charged on the floor of the House that Papy had offered them cash bribes. Papy, at liberty under bonds of $2,000, has pleaded innocent to the charges.

Discovery Of Red Plot In Athens Puts Dent In Soviet Expansion

Betrothal Announced

Princess Elizabeth of Great Britain whose engagement to Lieut. Philip Mountbatten R. N., former Prince of Greece and Denmark, was announced yesterday by her father King George VI. No date has been announced for the wedding, but it is rumored it will take place in October at Westminster Abbey. Both are great-great grandchildren of Queen Victoria, had been located in New York.

The Greek government's announcement of a Communist plot to overthrow the Athens regime acquires special significance from the fact that a few hours earlier Deputy Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko had charged before the United Nations Security Council that the situation in Greece was due to Anglo-American interference and had demanded that the U. N. order foreign military personnel (meaning U. S. and British) off Greek soil.

It was in the pre-dawn of yesterday that Greek police and military made swift raids which netted close to 3,000 people who were charged with plotting rebellion against the state. Many important Communists reportedly had fled to the mountains or were in hiding. Officials stated that all those arrested would have hearings and that those implicated probably would be exiled on the numerous islands off the Greek coast in the Aegean. The zero hour for the coup is said to have been 1 A. M. today.

One wonders whether Gromyko would have delivered exactly the same speech if he had known that the Greek police were to swing into action against the Reds a few hours later. Anyway, the Soviet delegate's attack on America and Britain and his defense of Communism in the Balkans provided another Gromyko drama for the Security Council at Lake Success.

The occasion was a debate on the majority report of the Balkan Investigating Commission of the Security Council. This report was based on study of the situation on the spot. It placed responsibility for fomenting disorders in Greece upon the neighboring states of Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria -- all communized and satellites of Moscow.

Gromyko said the Greek government was the guilty party, and he demanded that the commission reverse the findings of the commission and rule that Greece was guilty of causing disturbances in Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria. He declared that Russia could not accept an American proposal for the establishment of a semi-permanent U. N. watch along the borders in question.

Mr. Gromyko didn't say how many foreign military he claimed to be on Greek soil. However, a Greek source said there were only about 6,000, mostly British. The rest were American training troops.

But that wasn't all that the Soviet representative had to say. He also called for United Nations supervision of all economic aid to Greece. This was calculated to direct support under international control.

The effect of Gromyko's fiery proposals of course must be to delay the Security Council in making a decision regarding the investigating commission's report. Any delay of this sort obviously would be of advantage to the Red elements which have been slugging at the establishment of a Soviet in Greece. It would permit continuance of such tactics as have been employed by Red elements along the frontiers of Greece's northern neighbors.

The discovery of the plot in Athens presumably has put a dent in the Communist program, but it isn't likely to halt the Red drive. Because of Greece's strategic politico-military position she has been marked down for communitation -- and the only thing which can block it outside intervention, Greece isn't yet capable of defending herself.

Effects Of Coal Pact On Prices Studied

Taft Disagrees With Hartley Over His Interpretation Of New Labor Statute

WASHINGTON, July 10, (AP)—President Truman received from his economic advisory council today a report appraising the possible effects of John L. Lewis' new coal contract on the cost-of-living.

Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, chairman of the three-man council, said the report will be discussed with the entire Cabinet at the White House tomorrow. He said it likely will be made public later.

Nourse declined to indicate the council's findings which were embraced in a mid-year report.

"Does it take into consideration the new coal wage contract and its possible influence on the wage-price spiral?" Nourse was asked.

"Oh yes, we are aware," Nourse replied. "We read the papers."

The question referred to the new contract Lewis has signed with bituminous coal operators in behalf of his 400,000 United Mine Workers. It gives them their highest wages in history.

Mr. Truman himself at his news conference declined comment on the agreement, saying it was a matter between the mine owners and workers.

A reporter asked the President whether he knew of any study being made by the government as to effects of the wage boost on the cost-of-living picture.

Smiling, Mr. Truman told the reporter that Mark Sullivan would probably tell him. He referred to the newspaper columnist.

(In his column today Sullivan discussed the coal-wage agreement saying "The consequences of this contract are not limited to the participants; the effect on them is only beginning. From them the consequences spread to the entire economy of the country and to every citizen.")

(Sullivan concluded by saying: "Labor is to get more wages, industry must charge higher prices, and the public must pay higher prices for goods. Poor picture.")

The authors of the Taft-Hartley Labor Law disagreed, meantime, as to whether the coal contract violated that statute.

Rep. Hartley (R-N.J.) told the House yesterday that a position regarding collection of union initiation fees and assessments was a "clear violation." He demanded that the administration prosecute the mine operators.

But Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said today he didn't think the contract is "in any way a violation of the law."

62 Boys From Seminole To Go To Camp Winona

YMCA Summer Camp At DeLeon Springs Will Open Monday

Camp Winona, near DeLeon Springs, will open for 62 boys of Seminole County on Monday, it was announced today by Herman E. Morris, Seminole High School principal, who is directing activities at the YMCA sponsored camp for the 22nd season.

The purpose of the camp, he said, is to give the boys a happy, wholesome vacation under the best possible environment and leadership.

The camp is a member in good standing of the National Rifle Association and the National Archery Association, and camps also participate in the National Red Cross life saving and swimming program. Each boy is taught how to swim and to care for himself in the water, and lessons are given early in the day so that boys will have the very best methods. All kinds of sports are directed by a qualified athletic director.

Reveille is at 7:00 A. M. and is followed by flag raising, morning exercises and the morning meal with breakfast at 7:30. Cabin cleanup and inspection is at 8:00 o'clock, and the morning activity program starts a half hour later. At 11:00 o'clock there is a swimming instruction for beginners. The noon meal is followed by a rest period.

The afternoon activity program begins at 2:30, the afternoon swim at 4:00, a free period at 5:00, and supper at 6:00 o'clock. Football is at 6:30 and Council fire with stunts and contests at 7:30 o'clock. Cabin devotions follow at 8:30 with lamps and lights out at 9:30 P. M.

The following boys are due to attend the camp session: Donald Kelly, Robert Shoemaker, C. R. Flowers, Richard Phagan, Robert Shaw, Kenneth Hollis, James Hollis, Stanley Katz, Samuel Jacobson, Tommy Speer, Melville Brinson, Jimmy Daly, Robert Baker, Allison Baker, Gene Elsherry, Al Phillip, George Harden, John Fryer, Alfred Stanley, Wade Garner, Ronnie Garner, Nolly Dunn, Buddy Dunn and James Stripling.

Also Curtis Winfrey, Larry Burney, Joseph McDaniel, Walter Routh, J. T. Black, James McKee, Edwin Madden, Mike Welchel, Bobby Park, Wesley Spencer, Charles Marra, Bobby Mitchell, Sammy Dunn, Gerald Covington and Billy Clark.

Also Jeffrey Yates, Robert Poey, Frederico Poey, Robert Gavin, John Eberhardt, Morris Phillip, Monros Pierce, George Putnam, Jimmie Owen, John Fox, Jimmie Fox, Kenneth Raguney, Jimmie Wright, Edward McCall, Edwin Lockett, Walter Graham, Billy Moore, Rodge Garner, Bobby Morris, Ernie Morris, Frank Cranston, Harold Cranston and Clyde Bowen.

The Seminole County Sportsman's Association will have a general meeting tomorrow evening at 8:00 o'clock at the Community house. All sportsmen of the area are urged to be present for the meeting.

Dupont Trustees Prepare to Fight FEC-ACL Merger

JACKSONVILLE, July 10, (AP)—Trustees of the Alfred I. Dupont Estate, in a statement of opinion today, reiterated their determination to resist to the fullest extent consolidation of the Florida East Coast Railway with the Atlantic Coast Line as recently ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The trustees, holding controlling interest, said they would continue the fight for independent operation "regardless of time and cost." The statement was issued by Edward Ball, one of the four trustees.

The ICC consolidation decision, made on 5 to 4 vote, was announced May 20. As FEC is in receivership, the decision must go to federal court for further consideration and approval.

The trustees' statement branded as "grossly inaccurate" a "charge in substance" by Senator Claude Pepper that the Dupont estate "has already made $20,000,000 profit on a very small investment" in FEC bonds.

On the other hand, it charged, if ACL was control according to its plan "it would result in an investment profit to the Coast Line of $20,500,000 in the reorganization valuation and $32,833,000 on the rate-making valuation. The Coast Line would make this tremendous profit at the expense of and against the will of the FEC bondholders, without having made any investment and having taken no risk."

MINE UNION CHIEFTAIN John L. Lewis chats with a reporter after leaving the meeting of the United Mine Workers' Policy Committee, in Washington, where an agreement with the northern coal operators had been ratified. High Idealism Is Stressed In Talk At Jaycee Meet

Rep. Bryant Of Ocala And State Jaycee Officers Present

"In our intellectual world of today, high idealism is of paramount importance, and unless our intellectual capabilities are used to the fullest, we cannot hope to survive," Rep. C. Ferris Bryant of Ocala told the Seminole Junior Chamber of Commerce at a noon meeting today at the Mayfair Inn.

"Idealism is the result of the operation of a good heart on a capable mind. Men with these qualities are needed in this country in this period of transition," Rep. Bryant added.

"Your president, Brailey Odham, is an outstanding example of a man with high idealism, a man who has the heart to push to completion those things that his mind tells him that are correct," Rep. Bryant stated as he praised the Sanford State Representative for his work in the recent session of the Legislature.

State Jaycee President Bill Redleston cited the need for the selling of Americanism to Americans in the United States, and the need for the cooperation of the City Sanitary department under E. H. Johnson and Grady Duncan and the County Health Unit represented by Dr. Frank Quillman and W. J. Robbins, sanitary officer with the city health department.

The writer, following in an automobile with Mr. Duncan and Mr. Robbins, saw the fog billow out for at least 100 feet, penetrating weeds, crevices, wood piles, chicken yards and around garbage cans where flies and insects breed. Alleys are covered in two directions, and much interest was excited among residents in the process.

"I am truly satisfied that they are doing a very efficient job of spraying," commented Mr. Duncan. He pointed out that due to the heat process only six five gallon cans of solution are used in an hour, and that where the fog settles, the deadly effect on insects lasts for at least 90 days. The City was nearly rid of flies last year by the ordinary spraying method, he pointed out.

The spraying is designed to eliminate insects carrying polo virus or malarial or typhoid germs or carriers of other diseases.

Rev. Douglas E. Charles will address the regular meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 2283 of Seminole County Monday evening at 7:00 o'clock. Rev. Charles has recently become affiliated with the First Presbyterian Church of Sanford and is assistant to Dr. M. D. Brownlee.

Truman Announces Intent Of Vetoing New Tax Cut Bill

Senator Barkley To Lead Opposition In Discussion On Floor Of Senate

WASHINGTON, July 10, (AP)—President Truman said today that he will veto the new Republican $4,000,000,000 income tax reduction bill.

Mr. Truman made this statement to a news conference shortly before the Senate began consideration of the legislation already passed overwhelmingly by the House.

"The President said he didn't see why there should be any change in his attitude since it is the same tax measure as the one he vetoed before, except for a different effective date."

Mr. Truman first disclosed his decision on the tax bill which would become effective Jan. 1, to Senator Barkley, the Senate Democratic leader. Barkley, telling reporters then of the decision, was asked what his attitude will be when the bill comes up on the Senate floor.

"I'm opposed to it," he said, adding he would fight it on the floor.

Then he said Mr. Truman is opposed to it and will "vote it." Asked if a second veto could be sustained in the Senate, Barkley said "I hope so."

The measure was approved, 10-3 by the Senate Finance Committee yesterday with Barkley, and Senators Lucas (D-Ill.) and Connally (D-Tex.) opposing it. The bill comes up on the Senate floor for consideration today.

Missourian Says President Faces Scandal Threat

Truman Seen Honest But Misted By Pendergast Machine

WASHINGTON, July 10, (AP)—President Truman said today that he isn't worried about a statement of former Rep. Roger Slaughter that a "scandal threatens" the office of the President.

TULSA, Okla., July 10, (AP)—Former Rep. Roger C. Slaughter of Missouri declared today that a scandal threatens the great office of the President of the United States, and will inevitably become an issue in the campaign which will be waged next year.

In an address prepared for delivery before the public affairs forum of the Tulsa Chamber of Commerce, Slaughter, who was defeated for re-nomination in the 1946 Missouri Democratic primary by a Truman-endorsed candidate, expressed his conviction that "the President is personally an honest and honorable man."

Then he added, "however, like Grant and Harding, he has been misled by false friends, and has likewise been the victim of his own impetuosity."

Slaughter assailed the Pendergast Democratic organization of Kansas City, asserting it "finally fell of its own weight" but "like the Phoenix, it managed to arise from the ashes -- helped, in part, by a friendly national administration."

"Its present importance," he asserted, "lies not in its current strength, which is considerably diminished, but rather in the efficiency with which it seeks to trade upon the prestige of the Presidency of the United States."

It brags of the fact that the President of the United States is a dues paying member, and proudly frames his checks from annual dues. It continues, on its letterhead, to list the President of the United States as the vice president of that organization.

Of President Truman's intervention in the 1946 Missouri Democratic primary, Slaughter said: "Earlier I mentioned the impetuosity of the President, which has sometimes gotten him into trouble. Certainly that was the case on the morning of July 18, 1946, when he told the representatives 'from every metropolitan paper of any size in the United States that he had asked my old friend, Jim Pendergast, to help."

That request, Slaughter said, was "the public admission of a partnership that has brought the Presidency into disrepute and (Continued on Page Eight)

Attlee Recommends Indian Dominion Head

LONDON, July 10, (AP)—Mahomed Ali Jinnah, India's Moslem League leader, has been recommended as governor general of the new dominion of Pakistan to be created Aug. 15, and Viscount Mountbatten, present viceroy, as governor general of India, Prime Minister Attlee announced today.

Attlee made his announcement in moving the second, decisive reading in the House of Commons of the government bill to grant a divided dominion status next month.

He said that while the formal announcement could not be made until the act was formally passed, the King had intimated he would be prepared to accept the recommendations of Jinnah and Lord Mountbatten as governors general.

Although Britain has promised to sever all ties with British India by next June, if the Indians insist, Attlee declared: "My hope is that these two new dominions (Pakistan and Hindustan) will continue within this great association (the British Commonwealth), giving and receiving benefits."

C. M. FARNELL DIES - Carl M. Farnell died early this morning at his home in Oviedo. He was reported by the Erickson Funeral Home. Funeral arrangements will be announced later following the arrival of relatives, held in Deland on July 27.
