City Must Pay Bond Interest Of $11,825.00

Peremptory Writ Is Issued By Court;
Sum Due Is On Old
Waterworks Issue

The City of Sanford must pay $11,825 interest on waterworks bonds issued on Jan. 1, 1924. This is the order handed down by Judge R. Smith, judge of the Seminole County Circuit Court, in a peremptory writ of mandamus signed in his court yesterday.

The final decision was in an action in which the plaintiffs were the State of Florida, ex rel., and Matt T. Wagner, Ralph M. Winters, C. T. Dehl and Kenneth M. Keefe. The defendants named were members of the Sanford City Commission and the City Clerk.

According to the plaintiffs' petition they hold more than 100 interest bearing coupons of the water works issue which have not been paid, and they demanded payment of the $11,825 as "net income, revenues and profits of the water works plant" in this city. Under terms of the bond sale, they contended, all net income and profits were to be used in reducing coupon and principal when due.

The order of the court, directed to the defendants, "sharply commands you forthwith to pay the plaintiffs (plaintiff) herein the sum of $11,825 open account of said interest coupons of said bonds of the City of Sanford." Payment, the peremptory writ of mandamus order, must be within 30 days.

Constitutionality Of AAA Attacked In Five Charges

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(UPI)—Charges of unconstitutional practices were directed at the New Deal farm program in five suits filed yesterday in the Supreme Court by the House majority of 30 senators.

The brief filed to reply to the charges of unconstitutionality of a recent bill to allow one national AAA tax on wheat, and agreed to compete in the constitutional test of the AAA, had originally enacted and as amended in the last session of Congress to bolster the agricultural marketing attacks.

Grounds listed were that the new law violated the constitutional limitations on taxing power.

BANTA BARBARA, Calif., Nov. 30.—(UPI)—James Livermore Jr., 15-year-old son of Wall Street's boomer "plunger," was found near death last night from a bullet wound authorities said was inflicted by his mother after an argument.

"It was an accident," the youth grasped on an epineal was administered. "That's all I wish to say about it. I'm too tired now, my boy."

The mother, divorced second wife of the once famed market manipulator, was held under guard.

Nazi Germany Is Not To Depend On Power Of League

OWN PROTECTION MUST BE PROVIDED BY NA-TION, HITLER WARNS

BERLIN, Nov. 30.—(UPI)—Adolf Hitler advised in a notice on the world banner that the German people will furnish their own protection.

He made the statement in a speech to a local affiliate during a speech to the Berlin Hitler Jugend members.

He said: "Germany is not that kind of nation."

Plainly in a strong mood, Dr. Goebbels excused the own supply of protection if the League of Nations does not help him.

We want our own protection, not that of the League of Nations."

Answering his critics' questions, "What makes a nation popular?" he asserted:

"I become popular by opposing so-called popular ideas."

The Reich leader declared his 16-year struggle to power had made the Nazi movement strong and successful because "we had to swim upstream."

Similarly, he asserted, the difficulties which Germany now faces will only serve to make her stronger.

"The raw material problem will be solved," he promised.

Hilferd pointed at his enemies, who he said first predicted his downfall within six weeks and who now are trying to guess what dark future eventually will succeed him.

Laughter and applause swept the hall as he cited at "these obscure Caesar."

He also told others who he declared, wondered why dictatorship needed a bigger hall than a Democratic government especially with the facilities of nation wide radio.

"Our Democratic predecessors had a radio too, but the people found it too easy to switch them off," he remarked.

PROVINCES EXPECTED TO DECLARE AUTONOMY

TIENTSIN, China, Nov. 30.—The provinces of Hopei and Chahar will declare their autonomy within a few days, it was indicated today.

Gen. Sung Chi-chuan, overseer of the two rich North China provinces, told newspapermen in Peking he was telephoning Nanking that the pressure of autonomy sentiment was becoming overwhelming and that immediate action must be taken.

Rung's declaration followed a conference with Major Gen. Kung-fu Pihku, chief political agent of the Kwantung army, whom he has broken every pledge of the Democratic platform on which he was elected.

Oil Embargo Hint

Franco-British collaboration has in London said today.

Talk of a crisis relations of Great Britain and Italy over the question of an embargo on the Faustini domain by the League of Nations simmered down on the heels of France's warning to Italy against any unprovoked attack on Britain's Meditteranean fleet. One commentator referred to "Mussolini's change of tune," but no war front now evidence around to support the belief that the Italian premier intended anything but a cessation of aggression in Europe to a swift conclusion.

Italy's vacillation well informed London sources, and Mussolini refused to attack the British fleet in the Mediterranean.

Canadian Pact Is able To Become Issue In Campaign

political Dynamite Found In Treaty
By G. O. P. Leaders

By BYRON PRICE
WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(AP)—The two Canadian trade politicians are some of the wiser political stumps.

The agreement is far more limited and involves a far greater number of countries than the proposed convention. It is across political lines in a less confusing manner. The very fact of many leaders is that only one man can be which party will benefit.

Advances reports were that much dynamite was wrapped up in the treaty provisions. That still may be true; but it will require quite a bit of time to get the whole story out.

Monteith, caution and curiosity take the prevailing note. It will take months to test the new in actual operation, and that may take time to provide the solid reliable partick of the silent reaction.

If the aggregate of trade with Canada increases materially, and particularly in this country, Democratic spellbinders may expect to put the treaty high in their "pointing-with-pride" in the 1936 campaign.

If things go well, and certain classes link their troubles are tied up with this sweeping revision of american trade policy, then there'll be plenty of room for the Republicans.

One of the complications is that first adverse criticism has come from those sections where Roosevelt is strongest politically.

Western and Northwestern farm leaders and lumber men are concerned over the prospect of increased imports of Canadian timber and agricultural commodities, including cattle and dairy products.

In calculating the net political situation, however, it must be remembered that the White House is now controlled by the Democrats of the House.

It policies during the coming campaign.

Obviously, the outgoing AAA benefit payments is a factor which can be presented as overshadowing the supposed effect of a treaty which, after all, is a mere symbolic check.

Similarly, in the other country, the reclamation and power policies of the administration take visible form in the form of many minor changes.

It is possible that Democratic leaders may be able to link together in the same way that the Senate and the House did.

They range from a few cents to as much as $100, he said.

As reported, the President asks for another vote on the St. Lawrence pact next week.

It is also being noted that when it is way too early to talk of ratification last session, it shows its chief support, regardless of the fact that the West and Northeast.

However, much of the Republican caution deters is traceable to the fact that the trade agree-

Failure To Apply For Exemption Doesn't Void Owner's Right

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Attorney-General Cary D. Landis ruled today that persons entitled to homestead tax exemption may obtain it even after their property is sold for taxes, provided the tax certificate passes to state ownership.

Failure to make application for exemption need not void owner's right.

Recently, a statistical study was made of the effectiveness of medical literature by many physicians. Its findings are encouraging.

Before we report the findings of the pneumococci, we would like to point out that the disease is a variety of pneumonia which is most effective.

The principal germ cause of pneumonia is the pneumococcus, but rather designate the case as pneumococci caused by germs of type I, type II, type III, type IV, or mixed types.

A serum available, or more strictly speaking, the serums for different types of the pneumococci, require a minimum of 12 months to be effective.
