Senate To Vote On Tax Reduction

WASHINGTON, Mar. 22, (P)- Senator Morse (R-Ore) said today that if world conditions get worse Congress may have to recall a proposed tax cut. With a Senate vote on passage of a $4,800,000,000 tax cutting bill set for 5 P. M. (EST), Morse told the Senate he will support the reduction. But Morse said that if larger military spending becomes necessary, Congress may have to return present tax rates ... if it succeeds in writing the tax-cut bill into law.

Florida Livestock Sales Last Week Reach $191,849.83

JACKSONVILLE, Mar. 2—(Special)—Livestock sold through 10 Florida markets during the last week brought producers $191. 849.83 according to official figures supplied Jacksonville offices of Florida State Markets. The weekly summary of State-wide livestock sales issued today covored operations on 11 markets, for one of which figures on gross cash receipts were unavailable. The 11 reporting markets handled 2.552 cattle and 1,607 hogs during the week.

The demand for cattle continued strong, according to comment of several market managers, with some price increases noted. Offerings of hogs continued their seasonal decline in volume, prices being reported somewhat below the preceding week's levels at several sales centers.

Italy Celebrates

The Italians may be threatened with Communism and chaos, but they are going ahead with plans to celebrate their great past. Two hundred years ago the buried cliy of Pompeli was first unearthed, and all this summer the occasion will be commemorated. The Vergilian Society, composed of both Italians and Americans, with Prof. George E. Duckworth of Princeton University as head of the manag- Arthur was back in the Philliping committee, is in charge. There will be lectures, excursions to Pompell and its neighboring buried cities, Herculaneum and Stabiae, and performances of plays by the ancient Roman dramatists, Plautus and Terence. Excavation the Pacific only some six months is still going on, and will be continued.

Pompeii, covered by the eruption of Mt. Vesuvius, differs from other buried cities because it was not ruined by siege or later depredation. The city, when unearthed, was just as it was when the great eruption came, August 24 to 26, A.D. 79. Temples, houses, inns and other buildings were untouched, making it possible to see what an ancient town untouched, making it possible to see what an ancient town looked like when it was a going concern. On this account Pompeli has always been a prime attraction for tourists to Italy. All will hope that if troubles are around the corner, they will not damage these priceless remains of ancient

"That puts us in a bad position, because we only had two catchers. We now only have one, Len Matte," Grube declared.

"It will probably be four to six weeks beture Martin will be able to return to the squad," Gruber declared.

Yesterday the Sanford skipper put his charges through a lengthy contest and expressed satisfaction with the work out at the end of its completion.

The players have been taking it easy during the past week and are expected to be given the go ahead algual in the next couple of days so that the Giants scouts can begin to assist Manager Gruber in lining up a regular squad for Sanford for the same way as he steps into the big-time.
